

The agreement is being looked over by our legal group but unfortunately has not come back yet. Hopefully tomorrow.

In the interim, a couple of questions...

- How soon would you be able to arrive?
- How quickly do you need to leave after the talk? Would you have 30-45 min to chat with people after the presentation? We can have you in a taxi or car by 6 pm at the latest.

Many thanks,
Mike

Dear Mike

The schedule sounds fine. My speaker fee is typically $3500 for a seminar plus travel however in this case travel is already being paid by the Danforth. Please feel free to suggest alternative fees that fit your budget. Our publisher provides books at a steep discount. For more information, please contact Amie.Gilchrist@oup.com

Dear Pam.

Thanks for the sample agreement. I am assuming that you can be here 30 min in advance of your 4 pm seminar. However, if you are able to arrive sooner, we'd be delighted to host an informal discussion with you. We expect that your presentation should be 45-50 min followed by a 10-15 min Q&A period until 5 pm. If you are able to stick around for another 30 min or so to answer additional questions, that would be helpful.

Before I send the agreement for internal review, please let us know what your normal speaker fee is for something like I've described above. Re. the book, is there a preferred way to purchase 100 copies of your book? Is there a discounted price for bulk purchases?

Many thanks,
Mike

Dear Mike

Thank you for your kind invitation. It would be a pleasure to join you for a couple hours but I am not sure there will be time during this trip. I have a board meeting before the fall symposium and need to fly home the evening after my talk or the next morning. I am copying Allison to see if she has any suggestions. She is organizing the schedules for the board members and speakers (quite a task!)

Dear Dr. Ronald,

I lead the Scientific Engagement team at Monsanto which is part of an effort to train our scientists to be better "Scientist Ambassadors" while engaging public audiences. We noticed your upcoming presentation at the Donald Danforth Fall Symposium in September and wondered if there might be an opportunity for you to take some time ahead of your stay to give a seminar to our "Ambassador" group. I meant to reach out earlier, so I apologize if this does not give you very much notice. Toni Voelker and Eric Sachs (cc'd) highly recommended you as a speaker, and I have also enjoyed reading your book "Tomorrow's Table" written with your husband, Raoul. We thought that you might be able to address the topic of "Cultivating the Middle Ground on Biotechnology and Food" or a similar topic.

If this is something that you might be willing to do, I'd like to suggest the afternoon of Sept 23rd or morning of Sept 24th as times that might provide the largest audience from our end. Can you let me know if this might be possible or if you have other suggestions on how we might connect during your visit? Several members of the team here at Monsanto would be excited to meet you and I would be delighted to host you at our Creve Coeur facilities which are directly across the road from the Danforth.

Best regards,

Mike

Pam,

Would you consider returning to St. Louis at a later date to address the Monsanto Ambassadors group? It seems that many people would like to see you join the Danforth panel on the 24th and you can't be two places at once!

If you return to STL, we could take more time to introduce you to more of our Corporate Engagement leadership team and have some expanded discussions re. our strategy for academic engagement around food topics.

I'm sorry for the confusion and not being better coordinated at our end. If this is a possibility, can you suggest a window or two that may work for a return trip?

Mike

Michael, with Pam's commitment at the Science Advisory Board and her talk at the Fall Symposium, the only time she would be available would be 4:00 p.m. on the 24th. She has from 4 p.m. on free if that could work out. Unfortunately on the 23rd she has meetings all day, and also the morning of September 24.

Let me know if that could work.

Hi Pam,

We have rescheduled your talk for 9-10 am for the following morning (25th). It would be great if you could arrive 8:15 to 8:30 am at "A Lobby" on our Creve Coeur campus to get you set up for your talk. Call my cell [REDACTED] when you arrive.

We also booked a room for a follow up discussion from 10:30-11:30 am. We will have a cab ready for the airport at 11:45 am.

If you could send us your bio and short abstract + title, we'll be able to send out the invite.

Many thanks for your flexibility!
