Dear Jon

I am so sorry to learn of your [REDACTED].

Please take care. Please don't worry about this now. Lets discuss when you get home
All the best,
Pam

Pam,

[REDACTED]

My recollection of what you agreed to is at odds with yours as I wrote to you previously. I clearly recall to you agreeing to be part of the board and head the initial board. The only issue at the time was that I had not constituted the board as we were not fully separated from STATS but were in the process of forming our 501c3. You were enthusiastic and supportive in fact. There is no question in my mind that you agreed to this.

As a courtesy to you and in deference to your recollection of the events, when I am settled back in [REDACTED] I will contact the IRS to try to amend the documents try to remove you from the state and IRS filings (which I believe to be accurate). I will certainly address it within the first half of September.

Regards,

Jon

Dear Jon,

Before you submit your annual report, please write an email to all your directors and copy me stating that you used my name without my consent and that in fact, I never consented to serve on the board of directors and never served on the board of directors and that you will correct the IRS and state filings in the next 2 weeks. You can do this today and then write to the IRS and state entities when you return.

It is better that they hear this from you than me.

It is important that you make this statement to all concerned.

Thank you

All the best,
Pam

PS. Please remove my photos from your annual letter. I also did not consent to have my image used.

Pam,

I was working on our annual meeting and our board meeting and am now [REDACTED] and am fully scheduled the week I return. I will address it after that.

I will send the letters as you requested. I cannot guarantee that either the state or the federal government will remove you from the documents; that will be up to them. But I will do my best.

BTW, here is the copy of our first annual report. It's still in draft form.

Regards,

Jon

Dear Jon,

Please let me know if you have written to the IRS to inform them that you used my name without my consent, that I never consented or served as a director and that my name should be removed from all documents. Please remove my name from state filings (and any other government (state, federal etc) filings where you used my name) and copy me on those letters too.

Please copy me today on the letters to the IRS and other entities so I know that this has been done.

Thank you
All the best,
Pam

Dear Jon,

It has come to my attention that I am listed as a director of the board of the science literacy project (please see attached). I did not serve on this board and did not give permission for my name to be listed. Please take immediate action to notify the IRS that my name was listed without consent.

Thank you
All the best,

Pam
