Dr. Reed Johnson,
Assistant Professor
Department of Entomology
Ohio State University – OARDC
1680 Madison Ave.
Wooster, OH 44619

Dear Dr. Johnson:

Congratulations! You have been chosen as a recipient of a Corn Dust Research Consortium (CDRC) Research Grant. USD$145,000.00 will be awarded for the purpose of the project, Assessing strategies to reduce honey bee exposure to dust emitted during planting of treated corn seeds in Ohio - A research proposal addressing Projects 1, 2, 3, and 4 of the Corn Dust Research Consortium 2015 RFP.

In signing this agreement, you agree to the following criteria:

- To follow requirements outlined in the original CDRC Request for Proposals (http://www.pollinator.org/PDFs/CDRC\_RFP2015.pdf)
- To follow the requirements outlined in Appendix A (attached)
- An initial payment of 50% of the total award will be issued upon receipt of the this signed contract
- A written progress report is due Friday, September 11, 2015 to Kelly Rourke at kr@pollinator.org. Upon approval of the narrative and financial report, the second payment of 30% of the total award will be issued.
- A written final narrative and final financial report is due by Friday, December 4, 2015 with the exception of projects addressing question 2 which will be due March 11, 2016. Submit to kr@pollinator.org. Once approved, the final 20% of the total award will be issued.
- We encourage photography or videography documentation from the onset of methods, experimental plots locations and in field activity for use in explaining the methodology and illustrating observations.

Please sign both copies of this letter. Failure to return one signed copy of the agreement within two weeks will jeopardize the grant. Retain one for your records and return the other copy to:

By signing below, you are agreeing to acknowledge the Corn Dust Research Consortium (CDRC) in all announcements of research results. All press releases need to be preapproved by the Pollinator Partnership.

Additionally, the PI agrees to be available for a conference call with the CDRC members to discuss research results on Wednesday, December 9, 2015 at 2PM EST.

Research data is not to be released outside of the CDRC group without an agreed upon date between P2 and the principal investigator. Our tentative suggested data release date
