Connect with the Foundation:

Dear Academy Member,

The new tax bill could have a major impact on non-profits nation-wide, including your Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation. The bill includes a higher standard deduction that eliminates the financial incentive for most families to itemize deductions, including charitable deductions. It is estimated that more than 28 million fewer Americans could itemize their deductions, possibly leading to a $13B drop in charitable donations.

As many of you know, the new tax bill will take effect January 1, 2018. Even though the tax changes are expected to be implemented by February, most Americans won't feel the effects of the tax reform until spring 2019, when they file taxes for 2018. If you are hoping to take advantage of itemizing your charitable deductions this year, there is still time to make a gift before December 31, 2017. We know the new tax bill will pose some challenges for us in 2018, but we also know Academy members will continue to support their Foundation because of the value we bring to the profession and impact we make annually.

Our success is directly attributable to the generosity of our donors. I can think of no better way to invest in the future of our profession and give back to help future generations. Your gift will help ensure that the Academy's Second Century is one where our new Vision—a world where all people thrive through the transformative power of nutrition—becomes a reality. Have a happy and successful new year!

Sincerely,

Martin M. Yadrick, MS, MBI, RDN, FAND

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

Lucille forwarded me the final draft of the summit statement and asked that I respond on her behalf. Thank you for the opportunity to review the final draft summit statement "Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action." At a minimum the Academy has two suggestions for the paper. It appears the information regarding the Academy's diabetes guidelines has been removed, therefore we ask that brief statement be added about the three papers recently published in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics regarding a diabetes systematic review (1) and guideline (2). The references are included in a comment, please see page five on the attached document. Also, it is important for the authors to use patient centered language. Otherwise it is a "yes" with the understanding it will undergo copyediting prior to joint publication. If you can share the names of the organizations to which the statement is being submitted for publication, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Regarding the list of authors, in an earlier communication you mentioned that the list of the co-authors was based on the significant contribution and representation of the major organizations, and the full list of the group will be added in the footnotes. Please include Lucille, written as: Lucille Beseler, 2016-17 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President, on the co-author list and the list other Academy representatives in the footnotes written as follows.

Donna Martin, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President

Marcy Kyle, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Speaker-elect

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Lucille Beseler, thank you for the opportunity to review the draft summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. Although Lucille will be in attendance at the summit on Saturday, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics offers the following general comments for your consideration in advance of the meeting. We have also attached the Academy's Prevention of Type 2 Diabetes Evidence-based Nutrition Practice Guideline executive summary, which can be found on our Evidence Analysis Library <https://www.andeal.org/topic.cfm?menu=5344>. This document may provide additional insight for nutrition intervention.

We are aware there will be a second draft developed for review and we will be pleased to share more detailed comments at that time.

- Is the focus of the paper global or domestic? GLOBAL
- If it is a global statement perhaps it should address diabetes prevention in general, i.e., including other diabetes prevention strategies. YES
- Intervention is mentioned at the beginning of the paper, is this going to be addressed throughout? YES
- Who is the target audience, the general population, or those at increased risk for Type 2 Diabetes? Health care professionals , however there should be also an executive summary for the decision makers , media and lay people (general population)
- Under the Community design, built environment and food insecurity section, perhaps policy issues can be addressed here. YES , please provide your suggestions
- Has the initiative by the World Health Organization been considered? “The mission of the WHO Diabetes Programme is to prevent type 2 diabetes and to minimize complications and maximize quality of life for all people with diabetes. Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

Lucille forwarded me the final draft of the summit statement and asked that I respond on her behalf. Thank you for the opportunity to review the final draft summit statement “Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action.” At a minimum the Academy has two suggestions for the paper. It appears the information regarding the Academy’s diabetes guidelines has been removed, therefore we ask that brief statement be added about the three papers recently published in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics regarding a diabetes systematic review (1) and guideline (2). The references are included in a comment, please see page five on the attached document. Also, it is important for the authors to use patient centered language. Otherwise it is a “yes” with the understanding it will undergo copyediting prior to joint publication. If you can share the names of the organizations to which the statement is being submitted for publication, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Regarding the list of authors, in an earlier communication you mentioned that the list of the co-authors was based on the significant contribution and representation of the major organizations, and the full list of the group will be added in the footnotes. Please include Lucille, written as: Lucille Beseler, 2016-17 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President, on the co-author list and the list other Academy representatives in the footnotes written as follows.

Jo Jo Dantone, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Treasurer

Marcy Kyle, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Speaker-elect

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thank you again for the opportunity to be part of this collaborative publication!

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Lucille Beseler, thank you for the opportunity to review the draft summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. Although Lucille will be in attendance at the summit on Saturday, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics offers the following general comments for your consideration in advance of the meeting. We have also attached the Academy's Prevention of Type 2 Diabetes Evidence-based Nutrition Practice Guideline executive summary, which can be found on our Evidence Analysis Library <https://www.andeal.org/topic.cfm?menu=5344>. This document may provide additional insight for nutrition intervention.

We are aware there will be a second draft developed for review and we will be pleased to share more detailed comments at that time.

- Is the focus of the paper global or domestic? GLOBAL
- If it is a global statement perhaps it should address diabetes prevention in general, i.e., including other diabetes prevention strategies. YES
- Intervention is mentioned at the beginning of the paper, is this going to be addressed throughout? YES
- Who is the target audience, the general population, or those at increased risk for Type 2 Diabetes? Health care professionals , however there should be also an executive summary for the decision makers , media and lay people (general population)
- Under the Community design, built environment and food insecurity section, perhaps policy issues can be addressed here. YES , please provide your suggestions
- Has the initiative by the World Health Organization been considered? “The mission of the WHO Diabetes Programme is to prevent type 2 diabetes and to minimize complications and maximize quality of life for all people with diabetes. Subject: Online Simulation Program

I am thrilled to share the long anticipated news regarding the launch of the first in the series of online education simulations developed by the Academy to assist practitioners and students. In 2011 the Foundation received funding from the Commission on Dietetic Registration to support the development of this tool. The Academy, through the Research, International and Scientific Affairs team submitted an application and was approved to develop the model program. It is still in the pilot phase but I'm happy to inform you about the soft launch of this exciting new resource for practitioners and students. P.E.D.R.O., (Pactice, Experience, Diabetes, pediatRic, Online) is a pilot simulation that consists of a 3D hospital and conversation simulator that users will be able to access online. We are considering a name change during this pilot phase.

In the simulation, users will meet Pedro, a 13 year-old boy, and his family as they learn of his diagnosis of Type 2 Diabetes and will complete the four steps of the Nutrition Care Process for an inpatient and follow-up outpatient visits with Pedro, contribute in an inter-professional team meeting, and learn about billing and coding. Simulations provide experience with professional practice resources: the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' Evidence Analysis Library (EAL) and Health Informatics Infrastructure (ANDHII) and the openEMR certified electronic health record.

With the aid of a preceptor to evaluate the results, P.E.D.R.O. is intended to assist with supervised practice and competency requirements. If successful, P.E.D.R.O. will serve as the first in a series of online simulations developed by the Academy as part of the eatrightPRO Practice Simulation Series. We are grateful for the support of CDR and the leadership of the Foundation to launch this initial prototype. We will share a demo with you during the next Academy and Foundation Board of Directors meetings. We also plan to demo the tool at the spring Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) regional meetings. We look forward to the feedback.

I hope you agree with me that the launch of this innovative program is another major step in addressing our supervised practice issue!

Tax Bill Passes

The U.S. Senate and House of Representatives have voted to pass the tax plan (H.R. 1). The Academy reiterated our concerns about the legislation in a letter to the tax bill conferees, asking Congress to work in a bipartisan manner to draft common-sense reforms that improve access to high-quality and affordable health care for all.

New Study: Treat and Reduce Obesity Act Could Save Billions

A newly published validated microsimulation model predicts that increasing Medicare beneficiaries' utilization of clinically effective obesity treatments could save Medicare $19 billion to $21 billion over the next 10 years. Academy Urges Congress: Protect Historic Investment in Prevention

The U.S. House of Representatives introduced H.J. Res. 124 to continue government funding through January 19, 2018. The bill includes the Championing Healthy Kids Act, which reauthorizes the Children's Health Insurance Program, among others, but would use the Prevention and Public Health Fund to pay for these programs. The Academy opposes this approach and joined numerous organizations in recommending that Congress find a bipartisan solution to fund these important programs before funding runs out at the end of the year. The Academy will continue to advocate for strong investment in prevention and treatment to improve people's health and nutrition.

Initially Doris, Mary Beth, Jeanne and I discussed if we should respond. We discovered however that the media reported misinformation. Doris can reply back to this member with this draft.

Draft response:

Thank you for your email. This was an erroneous report in the Washington Post. According to the CDC Director Dr. Brenda Fitzgerald, no words have been banned from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's lexicon.

On Monday, Dr. Fitzgerald pushed back against reports that the agency had prohibited use of the words "'evidence-based" and "science-based." She stated, "The CDC remains committed to our public health mission as a science- and evidence-based institution, providing for the common defense of the country against health threats. Science is and will remain the foundation of our work," Fitzgerald said. Here is a link to the story

AAFP Response to Administration's CDC Directive

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Saturday, Dec. 16, 2017

Statement attributable to:

Michael Munger, MD

President

American Academy of Family Physicians

The American Academy of Family Physicians, which represents 129,000 family physicians and medical students, is both surprised and concerned by the Administration's clear disregard for the importance of science and evidence-based medicine.

Recent public reports indicate that the Administration has shackled the CDC with inexplicable rules banning certain terms from the agency's budget requests. This action is an obvious attempt to politicize the most fundamental tenets of medicine and research, which will have a chilling effect on the CDC's ability to rely on science to justify the work it does to protect public health.

While we at the AAFP represent family physicians, our highest priority is improving the health of patients, families and communities. When the top public health agency in the country is -- in an unprecedented move by the Administration -- required to temper its reliance on evidence-based medicine, the health of the public is at risk. We urge the Administration to fully assess the broader implications of this purely political maneuver and reconsider its recent directive to the CDC.

Editor's Note: To arrange an interview with Dr. Munger, contact Leslie Champlin, (800) 274-2237, Ext. 5224, or lchampli@aafp.org(email.prnewswire.com).

School Foodservice Hill Briefing and Advocacy Day was a Success

On Wednesday, December 13, the Academy hosted an advocacy day and Hill briefing with partner organizations on Capitol Hill. Academy President, Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND joined Rodney Taylor, Tony Martino and Academy member Dayle Hayes, MS, RDN on a panel informing policymakers about the importance of retaining funding to expand schools' access to modern kitchen equipment. Following the briefing, Academy members, staff and partner organizations met with congressional offices to advocate for sustainable funding to be specifically allocated for school kitchen equipment. Special thanks to Academy President Donna Martin and members Liz Campbell, MA, RDN, Nancy Farrell, MS, RDN, FAND and Dayle Hayes for their contribution to and leadership of the event. Many thanks to everyone who participated!

Managed Medicaid Provider Enrollment Issue Resolved

Thank you to all of the affiliates that responded to our request for information about your states' Medicaid managed care plan and traditional Medicaid enrollment in your states. This request stemmed from a provision of the 21st Century Cures Act (Section 5005) that requires all Medicaid managed care providers to also enroll as providers in standard Medicaid irrespective of either their intent or ability to actually participate as such.

Thanks to your input, we determined that the potential negative impact of this provision was confined to one state (New York). Working with member leaders and the affiliate lobbyist, a solution was developed whereby CMS allowed the New York Department of Health to exempt from the enrollment mandate those managed care plan providers types (such as RDNs) who cannot enroll in fee-for-service Medicaid.

While we hope this issue does not raise its head in other states, please alert Marsha Schofield or Pepin Tuma to hopefully execute this solution in your state with similar success.

Save the Date - Obesity Care Advocacy Day, February 27, 2018

As we wrap up one advocacy day, we prepare for another. The Academy will be hosting an Obesity Care Advocacy Day and Capitol Hill briefing on February 27, 2018 in Washington, DC. The day's events will be open to all members and the public. For more information, stay tuned to the next issue of PPWN.

Public Policy Weekly News will Resume in 2018

This isn't goodbye, this is see you later. The next PPWN will be sent out the first week of 2018. But in the interim, the Academy's PIA Staff wishes you safe and happy holidays!

News from the Hill

House Introduces Emergency Disaster Aid Package

Last night, House Appropriations Chairman Rodney Frelinghuysen (NJ) introduced a bill (H.R. 4667) that would provide additional emergency funding of $81 billion to combat the recent hurricanes, wildfires and related agriculture losses. A total of $3.8 billion would go towards Department of Agriculture, and includes $24 million for The Emergency Food Assistance Program and $22 million for the Agriculture Research Service to fund buildings and facilities. The funds will allow programs to continue relief and recovery efforts in California, Florida, Louisiana, Texas, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands. In October, the Academy joined national public health organizations in supporting swift passage of an emergency funding bill that would support public health and other health and medical needs in the wake of the recent hurricanes and wildfires. The Academy will continue to monitor this legislation along with the continuing resolution to ensure nutrition services receive vital funding for those communities impacted by the recent natural

Government Shutdown Pending with Looming Friday Deadline

On December 7, Congress passed a continuing resolution to avoid a government shutdown until Friday (the unofficial deadline). The bill included a short-term solution for states to continue to operate the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) through this week. It allows the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) to redistribute leftover CHIP funds to states that run out of money, but does not allocate any additional funds. With the fast approaching deadline, Congress still needs to reauthorize CHIP and other health programs. Follow government shutdown developments, here.

Tax Reform Heads to Final Passage

Congress released the final version of the tax plan (H.R. 1) on Friday evening, which is a compromise bill between versions passed by the U.S. House and the Senate. Among other provisions, it would eliminate the Affordable Care Act's individual health insurance mandate (the tax penalty you pay if you do not have health insurance) that would increase the number of uninsured people by 4 million in 2019 and 13 million in 2027. The House and Senate are expected to vote today on the final tax reform bill, and send the bill to the President's desk to be signed by Christmas. The Academy sent a letter to leadership addressing our concerns with both bills. As always we will continue to update Academy members with any changes in the bill text that would impact Academy members. Learn the details of the tax bill, here. Choose a scenario to see how the tax plan could impact you, here.

Academy Supports Indian Health Services

The Academy signed on to a letter with partner organizations in support of the Indian Health Service (IHS) to receive full funding. The mission of IHS is to raise the physical, mental, social and spiritual health of American Indians and Alaska Natives to the highest level. Compared with the general population, American Indians and Alaska Natives face substantial health disparities and higher mortality and morbidity rates. Many American Indians and Alaska Natives rely on IHS for quality health care. As you may recall, the Academy's key tenets for health care include access to quality health care for all Americans, sufficient resources to be available to ensure optimal health, and stable, sufficient and reliable funding for our health care system. Increased resources are important to improve access to health care for American Indians and Alaska Natives.

The Academy Urges Congress to Protect Historic Investment in Prevention

The U.S. House introduced another short-term funding bill (H.J. Res. 124) to continue government funding through January 19, 2018. The bill will prevent a partial government shutdown that would otherwise occur when the existing continuing resolution expires. The bill also included the Championing Healthy Kids Act, which reauthorizes several federal health programs, including the Children's Health Insurance program, but would reallocate money from Prevention and Public Health Fund to pay for the cost of these programs. The Academy continues to oppose this approach, as the Prevention Fund provides critical support for interventions led by food and nutrition professionals to improve community health. The Academy has partnered with other organizations recommending that Congress find a bipartisan solution to fund these important programs before funding runs out. As always, we will continue to advocate for a strong investment in prevention and treatment to improve the nation's health and nutrition.

Hi, Donna,

As you are aware, the Academy has partnered with SmartBrief to begin sending the new Nutrition and Dietetics SmartBrief on January 2, 2018. During that first week, Academy members will have the option to “opt-out” of the newsletter and credentialed non-member practitioners will have the option to “opt-in” to receiving it. To introduce this new benefit and newsletter, SmartBrief has prepared two sets of letters that will accompany your headshot and signature during the first five days of the launch.

Please confirm with us that you are OK with the attached picture/signature and the two sets of letters. If you have any questions, don't hesitate to ask.

Wishing you and your family all the best this holiday season!

Thank you!

:Shining Examples of Respectful Interaction"? Seriously? ...while I will agree with some of these...

I'm not sure how you came up w/ that over the top description.and it shows a glaring lack of awareness for what has been going on on social media.

-Danielle Omar the Administrator of Dietitians on the Blog who in September allowed 300 comments harassing and slandering me personally to continue for almost a week until I had to have friends write to Facebook and petition Facebook daily for 4 days to have them pull down the post...all the while denying me access to the page. These comments included encouragement to write to my employer to get me to lose my job

-Elisa Zied who I've interviewed 2x on my radio program who nevertheless accused me of being a bully for no reason since I don't interact with her and when I tried to reach out to her privately blocked me on social media and would not return my emails.

I'm amazed you didn't add Andy Bellatti and Melinda Hemmelgarn to this list or maybe Rebecca Subbiah who I had to complain to the NC Academy about harassing me on social media and putting up a YouTube video with my name and photo in 2014.

I am so disappointed with the Academy. I thought this was a professional organization...not a sorority

Ha! I don't think I mentioned to the three Ps (will on the next call) that I requested to be on the 3 Speaker call when discussing the draft motion related to public health-- it was two pages long with tactics and had assignments for staff which is unacceptable. I explained that that kind of a motion opens the HLT to criticism. The final was not much better. I'm asking Joan to include the original and final motions on the next 4Ps agenda.

2017-2018 HOD - RE: Fall HOD Meeting Motion Review Phase 1 View Post Message Meg and Shari edits improve the wording of the motions, but my bigger concern echos Naomi's comment about the motions being vague. This motion seems like a tactical execution of some larger policy issue, but the larger policy issue is not articulated. If the HOD is going to vote on a motion, it should be a policy-level motion, not a tactical plan. So I propose scratching this draft and laddering up a policy or strategic level and re-drafting the motion, eliminating all the tactics. If the HOD can agree on the policy, the tactics can be worked out by execution teams, not micromanaged by the HOD. I don't think that it is correct use of the HOD as a deliberative body for the HOD to be miring in the weeds on tactical issues as detailed in this motion.

Donna,

Thank you for your call today. It was good to speak with you. I hope you have a safe trip and a very productive day of advocacy tomorrow.

I am not sure what transpired concerning the advocacy day to support funding for school nutrition equipment funds, but I am confident something may have been lost in translation. Let's plan a time in the near future for a meeting between the Academy and SNA; ideally Pat, Patti, you, and I can meet to discuss items of mutual agreement where we can collaborate to advocate for school nutrition programs.

If there is a time in February that you and Pat anticipate a trip to DC, we can schedule a time for a face-to-face meeting. After all, we have a lot to talk about and our "presidential clocks are ticking."

Best to you always,

It is time once again for members to indicate their interest in volunteering on national committees and task forces. The "Opportunities to Serve" survey is now available online at:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/YFNYFMR>

Please note that a description of each committee is available via a link in the "Opportunities to Serve" survey. Members appointed to serve on an Academy committee or task force for 2018-2019 do not need to complete the Opportunities to Serve Survey. Instead, we ask that you share this information with colleagues who may be interested in volunteering on an Academy committee or task force.

The information you provide when completing this survey will be critical to Mary K. Russell, MS, RDN, LDN, FAND, President-elect, and Marcy Kyle, RDN, LD, CDE, FAND, Speaker-elect, as they make appointments for the various Academy committees and task forces throughout the 2018-2019 program year. Although we cannot ensure that everyone who completes the survey will be selected to serve, every effort will be made to consider your unique talents during the appointment process.

Please complete this survey by January 10, 2018. If you have any questions or concerns regarding the survey, please contact Charlene Rice (crice@eatright.org or 800/877-1600, ext. 4892).

Please accept our gratitude after you have completed this survey. Your willingness to serve the Academy is greatly appreciated!

Hi Donna. Of course, it was a $500 donation. Thank you for your note, it will be a tough Christmas. I feel like while we have so much to celebrate, we have all (including you) experienced so much loss this year. Looking forward to 2018!

Merry Christmas to you and your beautiful family!

Beth, This is a gift from my friend who came to FNCE and surprised me and then came to the Foundation Dinner. Is there anyway to find out how much his donation to the foundation was? I just wanted to thank him and was interested in how much he donated. If you can't tell me I totally understand. I will not tell him I knew what the amount was, I was just curious. Hope you and your family have a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. I know it will be hard without your Mom. Here's to hoping 2018 is a better year!!!

Hi, Donna: Attached for your review is our draft of your March President's Page. We heard back from three members who were involved in disaster relief, and we quoted all three.

We also thanked each of them, not only for their hard work and dedication (and that of their colleagues) but also for their help with this article. Each of them sent much more information than we could include, and it was all very inspirational!

Please let us know if this text looks OK to you, and we will send it to the Journal. Of course we're glad to make any needed edits. Thank you very much, we'll talk to you soon!

Three options. I kind of like the longest one best because it indirectly demonstrates that Leah is happy to be recognized for causes she supports but doesn't want anyone to be recognized for causes she does not support; however, the shortest one gives her the least meat to chew on.

Liz

SHORTEST AND SWEETEST

Thank you again for your input on the Academy's initiative to support professionalism and civility on social media and its public. We wish you a very happy holiday season.

A LITTLE LONGER

FYI, here was Leah's engagement over the weekend. She also wrote to F&N this morning and requested to be removed from the mailing list as she no longer wants to receive the magazine.

She goes on with a subsequent Facebook update: "I really like being a dietitian but sometimes it is abundantly clear to me that there is WAY too much estrogen/pettiness/mean girlness in this profession. ..please encourage more men to become dietitians...we need them."

This type of belittling and harassment has been going on for quite some time on Twitter and Facebook.

You would think that after the bullying, harassment and threats I was subject to by fellow dietitians on Dietitians on the Blog Facebook page in September that I would be the first one to sign on to the 'Civility Pledge" Professional Civility - Food & Nutrition Magazine introduced by F&N magazine during FNCE. On the surface it sounded good and in fact I have no issue with the "pledge" itself, but when I read the Guiding Principles more closely I had concerns:

1. Why was this a Food and Nutrition Magazine initiative and not something put forth by the Academy?
2. We have a Code of Ethics and a revised one in the works, why do we need a "pledge"?
3. Who reviewed this? Typically the Academy sends out these sorts of things for comments/responses/feedback before making them public - but they didn't do that with the pledge - at least as far as I know.
4. I won't sign a "pledge" that includes this "As a vehicle for engagement and connection, social media should not be used for disrupting fellow colleagues' engagement with their communities. Practitioners who feel compelled to question the content of a fellow colleague should do so in a private message, and to recognize that it is the recipient's choice whether to engage in further conversation" Here's the thing,

* once you post on Twitter your community is the world. Social media encompasses Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat, Instagram, LinkedIn, Pinterest...while there certainly are situations when you could have a restricted "community" on some of these formats, e.g. a closed group on Facebook (like the Dietitians on the Blog page that bullied and threatened me) this is certainly not the case with Twitter. Once you post on Twitter your community is the world.

*You cannot restrict someone's right to free speech

*How would I know if someone is "fellow colleague" if they, like many dietitians, don't identify themselves as such in their profile?

*If someone is posting something that is blatantly incorrect don't we have a responsibility to question this (in a civil, respected manner) so that others watching silently and part of the community are aware that this information may not be correct?

5. free speech

6. Once you "take the pledge" your name is included so now we have a vehicle to belittle those that have not signed it? Is this really productive or a positive way to handle this? Do people know that their names are going to be published?

I appreciate the intent of the Civility Pledge and clearly a discussion on this is needed given what some of our members, like Neva Cochran, Robyn Flipse, Sylvia Klinger and others have been subjected to by members of "Dietitians for Professional Integrity" as well as what vocal advocates of LEAP/MRT have said on-line about members like Milton Stokes and Sherry Coleman Collins. This type of belittling and harassment has been going on for quite some time on Twitter and Facebook.

You would think that after the bullying, harassment and threats I was subject to by fellow dietitians on Dietitians on the Blog Facebook page in September that I would be the first one to sign on to the 'Civility Pledge" Professional Civility - Food & Nutrition Magazine introduced by F&N magazine during FNCE. On the surface it sounded good and in fact I have no issue with the "pledge" itself, but when I read the Guiding Principles more closely I had concerns:

1. Why was this a Food and Nutrition Magazine initiative and not something put forth by the Academy?

2. We have a Code of Ethics and a revised one in the works, why do we need a "pledge"?

3. Who reviewed this? Typically the Academy sends out these sorts of things for comments/responses/feedback before making them public - but they didn't do that with the pledge - at least as far as I know.

4. I won't sign a "pledge" that includes this "As a vehicle for engagement and connection, social media should not be used for disrupting fellow colleagues' engagement with their communities. Practitioners who feel compelled to question the content of a fellow colleague should do so in a private message, and to recognize that it is the recipient's choice whether to engage in further conversation" Here's the thing,

* once you post on Twitter your community is the world. Social media encompasses Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat, Instagram, LinkedIn, Pinterest...while there certainly are situations when you could have a restricted "community" on some of these formats, e.g. a closed group on Facebook (like the Dietitians on the Blog page that bullied and threatened me) this is certainly not the case with Twitter. Once you post on Twitter your community is the world.

*You cannot restrict someone's right to free speech

*How would I know if someone is "fellow colleague" if they, like many dietitians, don't identify themselves as such in their profile?

*If someone is posting something that is blatantly incorrect don't we have a responsibility to question this (in a civil, respected manner) so that others watching silently and part of the community are aware that this information may not be correct?

5. free speech

6. Once you "take the pledge" your name is included so now we have a vehicle to belittle those that have not signed it? Is this really productive or a positive way to handle this? Do people know that their names are going to be published?

Thanks, Donna! I'm very glad we are doing this, too!

One correction, I was thinking that Mary would be in South Carolina on the 20th, but that date was changed so, Mary, if you are interested in taking this one let us know. (With holiday schedules and travelling Joan and I can wait as needed until the new year before corresponding with the affiliate.)

Thanks,

Amy

These grants have been wonderful. Thanks to Pat Babjak for approving the concept and for Amy for doing such a great job promoting the grants. I hope we continue to do this next year. It will be money well spent!

Hi Donna, Lucille and Mary,

I have another affiliate speaker grant request! This one is from the DC Metro Academy for their annual conference on April 20 in Washington DC. Prior to them filling out the form they asked me who was available on that date, and I told them that the three of you are already committed at other events so they completed the request knowing your schedules are already full for April 20. They are asking for Marcy, Manju, Hope or Tammy.

Let me know if you would like to approve the speaker grant pending the attached application.

Thanks!

AAFP Response to Administration's CDC Directive

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Saturday, Dec. 16, 2017

Statement attributable to:

Michael Munger, MD

President

American Academy of Family Physicians

The American Academy of Family Physicians, which represents 129,000 family physicians and medical students, is both surprised and concerned by the Administration's clear disregard for the importance of science and evidence-based medicine.

Recent public reports indicate that the Administration has shackled the CDC with inexplicable rules banning certain terms from the agency's budget requests. This action is an obvious attempt to politicize the most fundamental tenets of medicine and research, which will have a chilling effect on the CDC's ability to rely on science to justify the work it does to protect public health.

While we at the AAFP represent family physicians, our highest priority is improving the health of patients, families and communities. When the top public health agency in the country is -- in an unprecedented move by the Administration -- required to temper its reliance on evidence-based medicine, the health of the public is at risk. We urge the Administration to fully assess the broader implications of this purely political maneuver and reconsider its recent directive to the CDC.

Speaker Message 14 Draft Fall HOD Motion for Review

This is the last Speaker Message for 2017. We'll see you in 2018!

Fall HOD Meeting Motion Process Begins

Thank you again for the rich dialogue at the fall meeting. The HLT spent much time reviewing the HOD workbooks and interviews, and drafted the HOD Electronic Motion #1 Championing Nutrition and Dietetics Practitioners in Roles of Leadership in Public Health for review and vote by delegates.

Current Action

As noted in today's discussion post, we are currently beginning the period that is considered the motion review phase of conducting business electronically.

- Delegates should review the motion and offer any suggested edits to clarify the motion on this discussion post.

- Delegates can also ask additional questions with the intent of clarifying the motion.

This period allows you, the delegates, to provide direct input to the final motions to be presented. Later in the process you'll have the opportunity to speak for or against the motions. Right now the goal is to ensure the language of the motion is clear. You do not need to indicate whether you support/don't support the motion or vote. Your opportunity to do so will come later, as noted in the timeline below.

Motion Timeline

•Review Phase: Thursday, December 14 – Tuesday, December 19

- 2nd Review Phase: Monday, January 8 – Thursday, January 11
- Deliberation Phase: Wednesday, January 17 – Friday, January 19
- Voting Phase: Friday, January 19 – Wednesday, January 24

All phases end at noon (CT) on the last day listed. Please make a note of all dates.

- Be prepared to engage in these activities from December 14 – January 24.
- If you are unable to participate, inform hod@eatright.org of your proxy.
- Also proxies who attended the fall meeting in place of delegates and were designated to vote should participate in this full process.

Mega Issue Updates

We heard your feedback and will continue to work to provide concise updates from the past mega issues. Today we begin by sharing a few updates on recent mega issues.

Wellness and Prevention (Fall 2016/Spring 2017)

- We are currently continuing to gather updates from the individuals working on Wellness and Prevention Pilot projects and look forward to sharing the information in the new year.
- Coming soon—a new online Assess and Learn module on The Role of Nutrition in Health Promotion and Prevention from CDR.

Future Practice (Spring 2017)

- We are finalizing a document that contains a snapshot of existing future practice resources categorized by each area (People, Personal, Workplace, and Applied Knowledge) identified in the All-Member Call to Action for Future Practice.
- Delegates should continue to discuss and share the All-Member Call to Action for Future Practice during your delegate updates.

Technological Innovations that Impact Food and Nutrition (Spring 2016)

- There is a new Certificate of Training Program: Informatics in Nutrition. The Academy's Center for Lifelong Learning, planned with the Nutrition Informatics Committee, the NIC Consumer Health Informatics Workgroup, and the Interoperability and Standards Committee, offers this program to ensure nutrition professionals stay up-to-date with the latest methods of processing and using data in all areas of the profession. The three to five letters of support should include a summary spanning your career, since the Medallion is a lifetime achievement award; you need not focus on the last 10 years for instance. Nominees generally review their packet before it is submitted, so be sure to ask to see it. In your case, in addition to spokesperson, research, and academia, please have the submitters include elected and/or appointed positions at the:

- National
- DPGs/MIGs
- State/district levels.

I have also attached wedding photos from Doris. I wish you and your family a wonderful Thanksgiving!

I just wanted to let you all know how much your time and work on the school foodservice equipment modernization is appreciated. We had a very tight schedule and I recognize we had challenges along the way. There were many moving parts to the project and although it's not always easy to work without having every detail defined, the end result was a really great day with our mission accomplished.

The briefing was well organized and was effective in telling the story. Thank you for being flexible and stepping up to the plate to lead in areas without being asked and for working so well together as a team.

We look forward to speaking with you all on Friday's debriefing call.

In the mean time, stay warm and enjoy your grits

Thank you again!!

Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND; President-elect Mary Russell, MS, RDN, LDN, FAND; and Academy members Nancy Z. Farrell, MS, RDN, FAND, and Dayle Hayes, MS, RD. Congress Approves Continuing Resolution Averting Government Shutdown

Congress passed a two-week continuing resolution December 7 to fund the government at current levels through December 22. The short-term bill averts a government shutdown and allows time for Congress to agree on a bipartisan budget agreement to raise caps set by sequestration. The bill also included a short-term solution for states to continue to operate the Children's Health Insurance Program through December 22. The Academy asked Congress to ensure any bipartisan budget agreement allows for increased investment in nutrition and health programs.

Congress also still needs to reauthorize CHIP and other health programs. The Academy will continue to provide updates in the coming weeks.

Academy Supports Research to Improve Prevention Communication Tools

The Academy received positive feedback from the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion on recent comments on prevention communication formative research. News from the Hill & Beyond

Government Shutdown Averted, for Now

Congress passed a continuing resolution on the evening of Thursday, December 7 to avoid a government shutdown until December 22 (the unofficial deadline). The bill also included a short-term solution for states to continue to operate the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) through December 22. It allows the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) to redistribute leftover CHIP funds to states that run out of money, but does not allocate any additional funds. Congress also still needs to reauthorize CHIP and other health programs. The Academy will continue to provide updates.

Tax Reform Still Ticking

It looks like the House will not vote this week on a final tax bill. However, negotiations are still being made in conference to reconcile differences between the House and Senate versions (read a comparison of the two bills, here). The tax conference committee will meet publicly for this first time tomorrow. The House will be working through the week of December 18th (despite the Congressional calendars stating they will be in recess) to help expedite the process. The Academy shared our concerns with the House and Senate tax bills. We will continue to update Academy members with any changes in the bill text.

Two-Year Spending Cap Increases Excepted to be Over $200 Billion

Members of Congress are in discussions on how much to raise discretionary spending caps in a two-year budget deal. As a reminder, sequestration was created by lawmakers as a way to reduce the nation's deficit by enacting the Budget Control Act of 2011 (BCA). The BCA put caps on discretionary spending, and cuts to these caps via "sequestration." Sequestration is a process of automatic, typically uniform spending reductions where budget resources are permanently cancelled. Sequestrations return in 2018 and will further cut public health programs by another $3 billion, unless an agreement is made to raise the spending levels. Challenges to reach a budget deal remain high as a bipartisan solution is needed to reach an agreement on how high to raise the caps. The Academy continues to urge Congress to come to an agreement that will allow investment in evidence-based nutrition programs to improve the health and well-being of Americans.

Academy Supports Research to Improve Prevention Communication Tools

The Academy received a positive response from the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (ODPHP) on recent comments submitted on prevention communication formative research. In the comments, the Academy highlighted the importance of collaboration with other agencies and with Academy members to reduce duplicative research. ODPHP also recognized the importance of focusing on communication that addresses diverse populations to reduce health disparities, and with testing products and plans with health professionals and consumer audiences. ODPHP expressed its appreciation and looks forward to continuing to collaborate on important initiatives.

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND[®]) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the December Standards Update is posted on the ACEND webpage: Monthly Standards Update. In this issue there is a comparison between the 2017 and Future Education Model Accreditation Standards and a call for the second cohort of demonstration program applications is issued.

The monthly Virtual Town Hall meetings are held on the second Thursday of the month at 1 PM Central Time. The town hall provides a time for ACEND to share updates on its standards work and for stakeholders to ask questions. Information on joining the town hall can be found at www.eatrightpro.org/FutureModel. Starting on January 17, 2018, the virtual town halls will be held on the 3rd Wednesday of the month at 3:00 pm CT.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

So far we have about 12 hill visits confirmed for tomorrow and I know that you wanted us to hand out fresh grits you will be flying in with as a gift for congress members we meet with. I would say that we need no more than 20-25 packages of grits, given the number of appointments we have and people we want to give them away to. I also know they are heavy to lug around in a suitcase, so no need to bring too many!

Hello all,

I am disappointed to just open and see these comments from Strategic Communications.

Liz, I did the VO and I am sorry you feel it is amateurish. The hired video team and I did the best job we could do in a limited school sound environment on a one day shoot with little time.

The Illinois based Videographer and I were put in a position to work very late into the nights, and this past weekend to produce a video in the past 5 days. There were plenty of obstacles in this project caused by numerous delays and lack of timely communication. If desired, I can address your other comments in an evaluation of this project.

This is not the final video, but unfortunately your edits, while much appreciated and noteworthy, come in very late in the process. This video was to be used tomorrow morning.

At this point, I think the Academy Leadership should determine the best course of action for it's use tomorrow; and then please let me know.

Sincerely,

Hi Jeanne,

Overall pretty good, but a couple of concerns. My feedback below:

- Your video producer needs a better VO narrator. The current VO sounds very amateurish and doesn't stand up to the quality of the video. Do you need a professional VO? I can get you one who is affordable and would be much, much better.
- Donna's chyron: The organization name is Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (never &)
- At 01:25 please ask the editor to cut around the "got milk?" bin (Academy videos should not include food brands or trademarked campaigns).
- Don't abbreviate titles and institutions in the chyrons. Spell out fully. (re: Rachel Murphy)
- Remove the production title on the final frame. Unless this was a pro bono project and the production title was a condition in the agreement, it very unprofessional and creates a terrible precedent. Please remove.

I'm here to talk through any questions!

Hi,

First, no need to panic when you read the subject line, as this email serves as an FYI, not a call to action. I was just informed that unfortunately Cindy Kanarek Culver resigned from APC due to her professional workload and other leadership responsibilities. In addition to serving on APC, she serves this year as chair of the School Nutrition Services DPG. Since APC is currently undergoing an evaluation, in speaking with the Academy staff partner we don't see a need to replace Cindy at this time. Her term was currently set to end May 31, 2018.

Best wishes,

Dear Donna,

I am angry at the position paper just published on food insecurity. The opener states that adequate food is a fundamental right. This is not true. Since humans left the garden of Eden, mankind has had to work for its food. The failure of parents to feed their children is their failing...not society's failing. To call it a right is to politicize charity; to insist the government provide SNAP benefits for all.

I donate to our local food bank: I don't want anyone to starve. However, we are usurping power we do not have if we mandate meals. Should we be able to sue families who do not provide good food for their kids? After all, you are saying it is their "right" akin to the rights to a free publicly funded education. Parents who do not send their children to school are breaking the law. Would you penalize poor families who are depriving their kids of the "right" to dinner?

Dear Donna,

I am angry at the position paper just published on food insecurity. The opener states that adequate food is a fundamental right. This is not true. Since humans left the garden of Eden, mankind has had to work for its food. The failure of parents to feed their children is their failing...not society's failing. To call it a right is to politicize charity; to insist the government provide SNAP benefits for all.

I donate to our local food bank: I don't want anyone to starve. However, we are usurping power we do not have if we mandate meals. Should we be able to sue families who do not provide good food for their kids? After all, you are saying it is their "right" akin to the rights to a free publicly funded education. Parents who do not send their children to school are breaking the law. Would you penalize poor families who are depriving their kids of the "right" to dinner?

Dear NDEP Members –

NDEP is pleased to announce the 2018 Outstanding Dietetic Educator Award nominations are now being accepted! The purpose of the Outstanding Dietetics Educator Award (ODEA) is to recognize the teaching, mentoring, and leadership activities of faculty in ACEND-accredited dietetics education programs. One educator can be selected from each of the four program types in each geographic region (a maximum of four awardees from each of the six geographic regions for a total of 24).

In addition to publishing the list of outstanding educators in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and NDEP-line, each awardee will receive a certificate and congratulatory letter from the Academy President. Awards will be presented at the 2018 NDEP regional meetings.

Eligibility

- Nominees must be a current member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, but are not required to be an NDEP member for consideration for this award.
- Preceptors are not eligible for this award as there is a separate award given to Outstanding Preceptors.
- Active NDEP Council members are not eligible for this award. For a listing of the current NDEP Council members go to www.ndepnet.org.
- Previous ODEA winners cannot be nominated for the same program award again; however, they could be nominated for an award for a different program type, if applicable.

Criteria for Selection of Outstanding Educators

- Member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics
- Educator and/or Program Director in an ACEND-accredited dietetics education program:
- Coordinated Program in Dietetics (CP)

- Dietetic Internship (DI)
- Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD)
- Dietetic Technician Program (DT)
- Demonstrated innovative teaching skills and techniques.
- Demonstrated mentoring of students.
- Demonstrated leadership; e.g., national, state, or district dietetic association activities, community service, honors received, scientific and professional presentations, publications, etc.

Selection Procedure and Submission Dates

Nominations from peers and/or students will be sent to the Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) Regional Director in the corresponding geographic area by January 12, 2018. Each Regional Director will select no more than one educator for each type of dietetics education program (CP, DI, DPD, DT) in the region (maximum four).

Each nomination application will be a single PDF that includes the ODEA Data Sheet, curriculum vitae (or resume), and three reference letters. Nominations must be sent electronically. Jpeg documents or individual documents will not be accepted. Additional materials beyond the requested materials (data sheet, CV, letters) will not be reviewed.

Award Winners will be announced in March 2018!

For more information, please visit the NDEP website at www.ndepnet.org and refer to the attached documents for criteria and data sheets!

Join us on December 13 at 10am to learn about the need for modernized foodservice equipment in schools!

Dear Colleague,

As director of the Burke County, Ga., school nutrition program, I have seen firsthand how challenging it is to prepare healthy, appealing and economical meals when you don't have the equipment you need. I have heard from other school nutrition professionals across the country that the lack of proper equipment and outdated kitchens hinders schools' ability to adapt to the nutritional needs of the nation's students.

I invite you to join me Wednesday, December 13 in Washington, D.C., for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' advocacy day for the School Foodservice Modernization Equipment Project and congressional briefing.

Your participation will help inform policymakers about the importance of grants to expand schools' access to modern kitchen equipment and to advocate for funding that currently has been included in current Congressional funding proposals.

Schedule at a glance:

9 a.m. - 10 a.m.: Meeting for those participating in Hill visits, Dirksen Senate Building, Room SD-G50

10 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.: Congressional briefing, Dirksen Senate Building, Room SD-G50

Noon - 3:30 p.m.: Capitol Hill visits

The advocacy day and congressional briefing are open at no cost to all partners and allies in the field and friends of the nutrition and dietetics community. Register here for the event.

Please do not hesitate to contact Jeanne Blankenship with questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND

Academy President, 2017-2018

Hello, everyone ...

At our last NDEP Council meeting, we approved a description of the eligibility requirements and responsibilities of our NDEP Public Member, and also agreed that the NDEP Public Member would hold a voting role on NDEP Council. This position has been unfilled since the resignation of our last public member, Sandra Gill. When faced with replacing Sandra, I found that NDEP did not have an official position description for our public member, and thus Council members having been working on determining what the requirements and responsibilities should include.

Attached is the NDEP Public Member position description. Please take some time to review it, and then let me know if you have someone in mind that you would like us to consider as a candidate for our next NDEP Public Member for a two year term. I would like to be able to contact individuals who have been suggested by our NDEP members between now and the end of January so that we can determine their interest and eligibility.

Please contact me with the names and contact information of anyone that you have in mind as a candidate for this important position by January 15, 2018. Don't hesitate to let me know if you have any questions at all, and thank you for your assistance in this process.

Best regards,

Nutrition Standards in School Meals: USDA Releases Interim Final Rule

The U.S. Department of Agriculture released an interim final rule November 29 allowing school nutrition directors more flexibility to serve 1-percent flavored milk and refined grains instead of whole grains in school meals. The rule also revises sodium targets for school breakfasts and lunches. The Academy has been at the forefront of these issues during previous debates and negotiations on child nutrition reauthorization with constant input from member leaders and dietetic practice groups. The Academy continues to support school nutrition directors who to lead in planning and serving nutritious school meals.

U.S. Senators Ben Cardin (Md.), Mike Crapo (Idaho), and Angus King (Maine) introduced S. 2164, the Preventive Health Savings Act, which would allow policymakers to more accurately analyze cost savings from legislation that would prevent chronic disease. The Academy has supported this bill in past congressional sessions; it is critical to gaining support for legislation that would improve access to nutrition services provided by Academy members.

Involvement in ANDPAC Doesn't Require Making a Large Donation

It's a common myth that the only way to get involved in the Academy's political action committee is to donate lots of money. In reality, all member contributions of any level can go directly into the ANDPAC fund for direct political contributions and there is no minimum donation. Your annual donation, no matter how big or small, is combined with thousands of fellow members, unified in support of ANDPAC. There are many ways to get involved that don't require a financial contribution to participate: Organize an ANDPAC booth at your affiliate, dietetic practice group, member interest group or local association meetings; speak about ANDPAC at a member meeting; or attend an ANDPAC-sponsored fundraiser for a federal congressional candidate in your hometown.

Hi Donna, Mary and Lucille,

I'm writing to share an update regarding the Affiliate Speaker Grants.

- Grants we have already approved – Main, Vermont, North Dakota, Iowa and Alaska
- Affiliates who were offered a grant and have expressed an interest in submitting – DC, Massachusetts, Nebraska
- Our latest speaker grant application came in from Utah. The application is attached. Let me know if you would like to approve it.

When we initially launched the grants, I split the affiliates into tiers. During October and November I extended offers to the first and second tier. I have not extended to the third and fourth tier. (Indiana and Tennessee are in the fourth tier and did request a Board member to attend without knowing about the grants.). I will continue to follow up with those states who expressed an interest. I'd like to know from you if you'd like me to continue to extend the offer to beyond the first and second tier.

First Tier - combination of "last visit" more than 5 years & year ended surplus under $10,000 & reserves under $100,000

Pat, Lucille, Donna and Mary,

Wow. Thank you so very much for your kindness. The flowers you sent are a gorgeous arrangement. It means so much to have your thoughts and support.

My dad was a very inspiring person. I learned so, so much from him and will miss him every day. A parting story that will stick with me is one that a family friend told me at the funeral. The woman who cut my dad's hair for years and years said she had to tell me a story that will always stick with her. One day my dad was in, and she said she was going on and on about her yard work. She's the type who spends a lot of effort into making sure the grass is kept and trimmed. And tending to all of the bushes and trees. She said she was complaining about how much work and time it took for the up keep. After a while of what she called rambling, my dad looked at her and said, "ya know, it's just grass". She said she took that to heart and ever since then stopped stressing about how the yard looks.

So if you ever find yourself in a situation that you need some perspective, remember the saying "it's just grass".

XO

I appreciate the intent of the Civility Pledge and clearly a discussion on this is needed given what some of our members, like Neva Cochran, Robyn Flipse, Sylvia Klinger and others have been subjected to by members of "Dietitians for Professional Integrity" as well as what vocal advocates of LEAP/MRT have said on-line about members like Milton Stokes and Sherry Coleman Collins. This type of belittling and harassment has been going on for quite some time on Twitter and Facebook.

You would think that after the bullying, harassment and threats I was subject to by fellow dietitians on Dietitians on the Blog Facebook page in September that I would be the first one to sign on to the 'Civility Pledge" Professional Civility - Food & Nutrition Magazine introduced by F&N magazine during FNCE. On the surface it sounded good and in fact I have no issue with the "pledge" itself, but when I read the Guiding Principles more closely I had concerns:

1. Why was this a Food and Nutrition Magazine initiative and not something put forth by the Academy?
2. We have a Code of Ethics and a revised one in the works, why do we need a "pledge"?
3. Who reviewed this? Typically the Academy sends out these sorts of things for comments/responses/feedback before making them public - but they didn't do that with the pledge - at least as far as I know.
4. I won't sign a "pledge" that includes this "As a vehicle for engagement and connection, social media should not be used for disrupting fellow colleagues' engagement with their communities. Practitioners who feel compelled to question the content of a fellow colleague should do so in a private message, and to recognize that it is the recipient's choice whether to engage in further conversation" Here's the thing,
 - * once you post on Twitter your community is the world. Social media encompasses Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat, Instagram, LinkedIn, Pinterest...while there certainly are situations when you could have a restricted "community" on some of these formats, e.g. a closed group on Facebook (like the Dietitians on the Blog page that bullied and threatened me) this is certainly not the case with Twitter. Once you post on Twitter your community is the world.
 - *You cannot restrict someone's right to free speech
 - *How would I know if someone is "fellow colleague" if they, like many dietitians, don't identify themselves as such in their profile?
 - *If someone is posting something that is blatantly incorrect don't we have a responsibility to question this (in a civil, respected manner) so that others watching silently and part of the community are aware that this information may not be correct?
5. free speech
6. Once you "take the pledge" your name is included so now we have a vehicle to belittle those that have not signed it? Is this really productive or a positive way to handle this? Do people know that their names are going to be published?

News from the Hill

Update on Federal Spending Debate and Children's Health Insurance Program

As a reminder, the current continuing resolution (CR) that provides funding for the federal government expires on December 8. The U.S. House Appropriations Committee introduced a short-term CR to continue current funding levels until December 22, and also includes a short-term solution for states that would run out of money for the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) by December 31.

This short-term measure allows time for Congress to agree on a bipartisan budget agreement to raise the caps set by sequestration. Last week's planned meeting on the budget is postponed until December 7. The Academy continues to work with more than 800 national, state and local organizations in urging Congress to ensure that any bipartisan budget agreement allows for increased investment in nutrition and health programs.

Tax Reform Update

The tax reform debate continues on Capitol Hill, with the U.S. Senate passing a revised version of their tax reform proposal on December 2. Due to differences with the U.S. House of Representatives' version of the bill, a conference committee will now be formed to reconcile the bills, and the final bill must be voted on again in both chambers of Congress. The Academy reiterated our concerns in a letter to the Senators before the vote. The House narrowly passed the motion to proceed to conference on Monday evening.

The Academy will continue to monitor the tax reform legislation as it moves through the conference committee process. We will send an updated letter to Congressional leadership urging Congress to work in a bipartisan manner to draft common-sense reforms that would improve access to quality and affordable health care for all Americans. To learn more about why tax reform must go to conference, check out this video.

Friday's Funding Deadline

Congress must pass a bill by Friday to keep the government open. As of last week, congressional leaders have not come to a consensus on developing a long-term deal. " There's not going to be a government shutdown," Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell said. A stopgap spending measure would extend government funding through December 22, but would need bipartisan support.

USDA Publishes New School Meals Rule

Formalizing plans revealed in May, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) published an interim final rule last Wednesday that makes changes to standards for meals, specifically on whole grains, flavored one-percent milk and sodium requirements, provided under USDA's National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs. USDA's Food and Nutrition Service administers 15 nutrition assistance programs which include the National School Lunch Program, School Breakfast Program, Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC), and the Summer Food Service Program. The Academy expects to provide comments to USDA on the rule by January 29, 2018, and members are encouraged to work through their DPG Policy Advocacy Leader to provide input for our submission.

Prevention Fund not set in Stone

At the end of October, there were talks of the Prevention and Public Health Fund (Prevention Fund) being used to pay for the Community Health Centers program, the National Health Service Corps and other health care programs. While the Academy supports these vital programs, redirecting $6.35 billion (a 57 percent cut) to the Prevention Fund over eight years (FY 2019 - FY 2026) will have harmful consequences on the lifesaving investments made in states. Last month, the Academy wrote a letter urging members of Congress to oppose the Prevention Fund as an offset and instead find a bipartisan solution to fund the programs. This week, it appears the prevention fund was not set in stone. The Academy and coalition allies are recirculating the sign-on letter expressing our concerns about the Prevention Fund as an offset and asking for meetings with members on the hill.

(PPCs/PALs, Please Post this Message to Your Communication Channels)

Important Congressional Issues Require Your Action!

As a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, please urge your policymakers to support legislation that protects and values nutrition services in areas of prevention and treatment (including treatment and reduction of obesity and diabetes prevention) and in the role of nutrition education as highlighted in the Farm Bill. It is important for members of Congress to hear from their constituency. As vital decisions are made regarding health care in the upcoming weeks, the voice of every member is critical. Take action today!

Hi, Donna. I know that you are attending the FUTP60 Gala in New York. Please give (former) President Clinton my regards :). I'm enjoying the trip down memory lane with the Monica Lewinsky story being revisited on HLN. Probably best not to go there if you get a chance to chat with him.

I'm actually reaching out to give you a heads up to let you know the Foundation and the Academy made a donation to FUTP60 in honor of former Agriculture Secretary Vilsack who will be honored that night. He should have received the notice of our contribution in his name and in case he mentioned it to you I didn't want you to be surprised.

Hope you have a wonderful time. I'm sure you look gorgeous! New York is so beautiful this time of year with all the lovely holiday decorations.

Hello, Holly:

Thank you so much for your thoughts and perspectives on the Academy's 2017 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™, particularly our Member Showcase keynote speaker Kimbal Musk.

Our goal each year with all FNCE® speakers, and especially with major keynote presentations, is to bring speakers who will engage our members with thought-provoking insights that will help us look at ourselves and our profession in new and different ways. I strongly believe we accomplished this admittedly lofty goal with Kimbal Musk.

As you may know, I live and work in a rural area of Georgia and am in daily contact with farmers and members of the agriculture community in our area. I understand how strong a backbone farmers are to a safe, nutritious food supply. Plus, getting Academy members talking about agriculture and sustainability aligns perfectly with our new Strategic Plan. I hope you will read my upcoming February President's Page article in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, in which I will profile two farmers who are Academy members and further discuss the need for a close relationship between dietetics and agriculture. It was in that spirit of a close dietetics/agriculture relationship that we invited Kimbal Musk to speak at FNCE®.

I completely respect your reaction to portions of Kimbal's presentation, although I feel his talk was not unbalanced. Will every member agree with every statement made by a speaker, especially at a session so well-attended as our 2017 Member Showcase (5,000-plus attendees – the largest Member Showcase audience in our Academy's history)? Of course not, and I hope that will never happen. Ours is an independent-minded, free-thinking profession, and I expect that a keynote presentation would provoke a wide variety of responses among our members, including strong disagreements.

We have heard from other members, including from a segment of the Iowa affiliate, who said they enjoyed hearing Kimbal Musk and his ideas, and that they appreciated the opportunity to hear about differing viewpoints and opportunities for RDNs. This diversity of views is, to me, is a strength of our profession and of the speakers we ask to appear at FNCE®. We also received positive feedback from many members, including Iowa affiliate members, stating they enjoyed having a few vendors showcasing an assortment of non-related food services and items. We realize that some individuals will appreciate the access to these vendors and others may not be interested. It's all a matter of preference. As an organization serving all of our members, we do our best to provide a variety of options on the Expo floor.

Thank you again for your email and for your commitment to the success of our Academy and profession.

Sincerely,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND

Our goal each year with all FNCE® speakers, and especially with major keynote presentations, is to bring speakers who will engage our members with thought-provoking insights that will help us look at ourselves and our profession in new and different ways. I strongly believe we accomplished this admittedly lofty goal with Kimbal Musk.

As you may know, I live and work in a rural area of Georgia and am in daily contact with farmers and members of the agriculture community in our area. I understand how strong a backbone farmers are to a safe, nutritious food supply. Plus, getting Academy members talking about agriculture and sustainability aligns perfectly with our new Strategic Plan. I hope you will read my upcoming February President's Page article in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, in which I will profile two farmers who are Academy members and further discuss the need for a close relationship between dietetics and agriculture. It was in that spirit of a close dietetics/agriculture relationship that we invited Kimbal Musk to speak at FNCE®.

I completely respect your reaction to portions of Kimbal's presentation, although I feel his talk was not unbalanced. Will every member agree with every statement made by a speaker, especially at a session so well-attended as our 2017 Member Showcase (5,000-plus attendees – the largest Member Showcase audience in our Academy's history)? Of course not, and I hope that will never happen. Ours is an independent-minded, free-thinking profession, and I expect that a keynote presentation would provoke a wide variety of responses among our members, including strong disagreements.

We have heard from other members, including from a segment of the Iowa affiliate, who said they enjoyed hearing Kimbal Musk and his ideas, and that they appreciated the opportunity to hear about differing viewpoints and opportunities for RDNs. This diversity of views is, to me, is a strength of our profession and of the speakers we ask to appear at FNCE®.

Thank you again for your email and for your commitment to the success of our Academy and profession.

Sincerely,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND

Good morning,

As national leaders, your responsibilities include helping to identify others within the association who possess leadership skills and talents that support the work of the association and help move our Strategic Plan forward. With that role in mind, it is time once again for members to indicate their interest in volunteering on national committees and task forces. The "Opportunities to Serve" survey is now available online at:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/YFNYFMR>

Individuals interested in volunteering to serve must complete this survey by January 10, 2018. A description of each committee is available via a link in the "Opportunities to Serve" survey.

Members already appointed to serve on an Academy committee or task force for 2018-2019 do not need to complete the Opportunities to Serve Survey. Instead, we ask that you share this information with colleagues who may be interested in volunteering on an Academy committee or task force or that you would like to encourage to do so. Also, if you are completing your term of service on the Board of Directors and wish to be considered for one of these positions, please complete the survey.

The information provided when completing this survey will be critical to Mary and Marcy as they make appointments for the various Academy committees and task forces throughout the 2018-2019 program year. Although we cannot ensure that everyone who completes the survey will be selected to serve, every effort will be made to consider their unique talents during the appointment process.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding the survey, please contact me at mschofield@eatright.org or 1-800-877-1600 ext. 1762. Thank you for helping to identify individuals for consideration for these important appointments.

Attn:

Ms. Patricia M. Babjak

CEO, Board of Directors

Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

Dear Ms. Babjack,

The Salt Institute is working with AND on the Sodium Project and your organization was kind enough to invite us to attend the Academy Foundation Donor Reception at The London House Hotel during the recent FNCE meeting in Chicago.

The Salt Institute is organizing the Tenth World Salt Symposium to be held in Park City, Utah, on June 19-21, 2018. It will be the latest in a series of international symposia, conducted since 1962, specifically dedicated to the subject of salt. The extended period between these conferences ensures a far-reaching and inclusive technical content. This is, without doubt, the most important international meeting focused on the subject of salt. All the information on the Salt Symposium can be found at the following website: <http://www.worldsaltsymposium.org/next-symposium/>

During the Academy Foundation Donor Reception, I had the opportunity to meet Donna Martin and asked her if she would accept the Salt Institute's invitation to be a keynote speaker at the World Salt Symposium in Park City next year. Donna responded positively and asked me to contact you so that we may start making arrangements for her participation. We will be pleased to cover all transportation and meeting expenses.

Within the framework of Salt and Health, we would be very pleased if her address might deal with the need to rigorously pursue sound science rather than accepting opinion (expert or institutional). Of course, this relates to the 100-year-old salt controversy, which has been characterized by far more heat than light, more dispute than resolution. Myth-information serves neither the cause of consumers, nor that of science.

The dates for the World Salt Symposium in Park City are June 19-21, 2018. I would very much like Donna to be one of the leading keynote speakers (25-30 minutes), so the June 19 opening date seems best for the address. Alternatively, the June 21 closing can be considered. The decision will be Donna's, depending upon her requirements.

Subject: Follow up on ANDHII Webinar

Dear Pam,

Your email with some concerns regarding ANDHII and the recent webinar on using ANDHII in clinical practice found its way to me. First of all, I am so glad you were able to be on the webinar and to express your concerns. We are hoping to continually get input and feedback from experts in informatics such as yourself.

The development and improvements to ANDHII have been and will continue to be ongoing as we try to balance ease of use with the best practice in informatics. Term selection in ANDHII has been designed to allow the user to search the complete NCP terminology including domains and classes. Search and matching logic is employed to present the user with all potential term matches. The term selection menus use the NCPT as well as its Nutrition Assessment and Nutrition Diagnosis Etiology matrices to choose the order of the terms. As I am sure you are aware, we have been leveraging our member experts for more than 10 years to develop the NCPT and thus to create those drop-downs.

There are certainly challenges in User Interface design that any terminology service function must consider. For instance, there are trade-offs in design in ANDHII that allow for reuse of a UI element structure and model to fit an evolving and extensible terminology without requiring new software modifications. As with any software tool, user familiarity and competency is key to entry of good data. Can you select the first choice in a drop-down every time? Sure. But in the case of ANDHII, based on the user input that terminology query may return slightly different matches, or the user can scroll down through the hierarchy to find the desired term. Just like in any professional service documentation software tool, the user needs to be both trained and engaged.

You of course know that in NCP we use a “Problem Statement” (which the NCPT states may be used interchangeably with “Diagnosis”), which is indeed selected from standardized terminology, with a “Nutrition Diagnosis”, which is, of course, described by the combination of nutrition problem, etiology, and signs and symptoms.

We are definitely aware and agree that we need to add more data validation checks into ANDHII to prevent and warn users who might mistakenly enter erroneous data. This might be an opportunity to partner with academics such as yourself who have expertise in informatics and would be interested in doing validation projects with graduate students. Please let me know if this is something you might be interested in.

Our new ANDHII project manager, Margret Dittloff, is a huge proponent of human-centered design methodologies and applying design thinking to evolve products, services and information. She and our team at the Academy’s Food and Nutrition Data Center are in a continuous quality improvement mode. We do have an ANDHII workgroup, which Margret staff’s, and with their input and that of real-world users like our webinar presenters and our participants in DPBRN projects, we have an opportunity to apply our own research analysis on the direct observation of those users. This is what will inform and help drive usability improvements and innovation. It’s also why we use an agile software development approach (“fail fast and often”). Users today are sophisticated and their expectations are high. We need to continue to evolve ANDHII to reach these target customers.

ANDHII is a tool to support the clinician and (hopefully) make it easier for them to document and keep track of the many inputs that go into making their diagnosis. One of the key aspects of enabling collection of outcome data from multiple sources (API to pull data from EHRs, read in C-CDA documents with both coded and narrative summaries) is that our “registry” becomes more representative of actual practice. Additionally, we have been working on a few research projects where we use expert members to develop NCP chains that reflect EBPG recommendations from the EAL and then compare the chains with real world practice data from ANDHII. These types of projects will allow us to see how our clinicians are actually practicing and allow for better understanding of their educational needs as it relates to ANDHII and the EBPGs.

I hope you will continue to engage with ANDHII and use it with your students. We would love to get your feedback as you trial our programing updates and feel free to reach out to Margret, Tina or I for any questions or concerns you may have.

Warm regards

Alison

I know that Pam has had concerns for some time and do not know the history of her involvement with the project.

She, like others, has informatics training which I completely lack.

I have heard informatics people at places I have worked make the same comments about "drop downs"-but free text is not appropriate either as it is not "searchable"

Look forward to thoughts on how/if to reply.

Would think she would have written to Alison and will??

Subject: Question Again

Howdy!

Me again.

I'm sitting in on a webinar for the ANDHII thingie.

I have some serious concerns from an informatics standpoint. I raised these concerns when the thing was in draft format and it looks like nothing was done.

Problems begin when presenters say stuff like "We used lots of drop downs" and "Select your diagnosis".

There is a science to creating drop down menus. Did an expert consult with the Academy for that work? There is a known bias when using drop down menus.... folks choose the top items, especially when in a hurry.

Diagnosticians don't select a diagnosis. They diagnose a health problem. There's a huge difference.

Who is validating the data entered? Given that many RDs still “select” terms “from intake” instead of actually diagnosing nutrition problems, I fear that we will be way off track and introduce a lot of noise when we think we are creating music.

C'est la vie, I guess.

Dear Ms. Babjack,

The Salt Institute is working with AND on the Sodium Project and your organization was kind enough to invite us to attend the Academy Foundation Donor Reception at The London House Hotel during the recent FNCE meeting in Chicago.

The Salt Institute is organizing the Tenth World Salt Symposium to be held in Park City, Utah, on June 19-21, 2018. It will be the latest in a series of international symposia, conducted since 1962, specifically dedicated to the subject of salt. The extended period between these conferences ensures a far-reaching and inclusive technical content. This is, without doubt, the most important international meeting focused on the subject of salt. All the information on the Salt Symposium can be found at the following website: <http://www.worldsaltsymposium.org/next-symposium/>

During the Academy Foundation Donor Reception, I had the opportunity to meet Donna Martin and asked her if she would accept the Salt Institute's invitation to be a keynote speaker at the World Salt Symposium in Park City next year. Donna responded positively and asked me to contact you so that we may start making arrangements for her participation. We will be pleased to cover all transportation and meeting expenses.

Within the framework of Salt and Health, we would be very pleased if her address might deal with the need to rigorously pursue sound science rather than accepting opinion (expert or institutional). Of course, this relates to the 100-year-old salt controversy, which has been characterized by far more heat than light, more dispute than resolution. Myth-information serves neither the cause of consumers, nor that of science.

The dates for the World Salt Symposium in Park City are June 19-21, 2018. I would very much like Donna to be one of the leading keynote speakers (25-30 minutes), so the June 19 opening date seems best for the address. Alternatively, the June 21 closing can be considered. The decision will be Donna's, depending upon her requirements.

Please let me have your comments and advise on how to proceed. I will immediately set things in motion with our meeting coordinator.

Thank you and very best regards,

All the information on the Salt Symposium can be found at the following website: <http://www.worldsaltsymposium.org/next-symposium/>

During the Academy Foundation Donor Reception, I had the opportunity to meet Donna Martin and asked her if she would accept the Salt Institute's invitation to be a keynote speaker at the World Salt Symposium in Park City next year. Donna responded positively and asked me to contact you so that we may start making arrangements for her participation. We will be pleased to cover all transportation and meeting expenses.

Within the framework of Salt and Health, we would be very pleased if her address might deal with the need to rigorously pursue sound science rather than accepting opinion (expert or institutional). Of course, this relates to the 100-year-old salt controversy, which has been characterized by far more heat than light, more dispute than resolution. Myth-information serves neither the cause of consumers, nor that of science.

The dates for the World Salt Symposium in Park City are June 19-21, 2018. I would very much like Donna to be one of the leading keynote speakers (25-30 minutes), so the June 19 opening date seems best for the address. Alternatively, the June 21 closing can be considered. The decision will be Donna's, depending upon her requirements.

Please let me have your comments and advise on how to proceed. I will immediately set things in motion with our meeting coordinator.

Thank you and very best regards,

Mort

I am pleased to share that starting in January 2018, the Academy will be working with SmartBrief, the nation's leading digital media publisher, to provide Academy members with the most relevant food and nutrition news from major media outlets, regional newspapers, trade publications and blogs.

Nutrition and Dietetics SmartBrief will be delivered daily to Academy members' email boxes. Members will be able to opt-out and non-member professionals will be able to subscribe. This allows us to reach a broader health professional audience to promote Academy events, webinars, research studies, new books and resources to members and nonmembers alike. The electronic brief will also contain marked advertising sections. We will be sharing this information with members in upcoming issues of Eat Right Weekly, postings on eatrightPRO and via social media channels.

SmartBrief also provides digital media services for the American Association for Family Physicians, American Nurses Association, Society of Critical Care Medicine, the Association of Bariatric Endoscopy, American Physical Therapy Association and many more associations, industries and businesses.

We are always looking for ways to keep our members informed about the news that matters to most to them and I hope you are as excited as we are about Nutrition and Dietetics SmartBrief.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Dear Ms. Babjack,

The Salt Institute is working with AND on the Sodium Project and your organization was kind enough to invite us to attend the Academy Foundation Donor Reception at The London House Hotel during the recent FNCE meeting in Chicago.

The Salt Institute is organizing the Tenth World Salt Symposium to be held in Park City, Utah, on June 19-21, 2018. It will be the latest in a series of international symposia, conducted since 1962, specifically dedicated to the subject of salt. Myth-information serves neither the cause of consumers, nor that of science.

The dates for the World Salt Symposium in Park City are June 19-21, 2018. I would very much like Donna to be one of the leading keynote speakers (25-30 minutes), so the June 19 opening date seems best for the address. Alternatively, the June 21 closing can be considered. The decision will be Donna's, depending upon her requirements.

Please let me have your comments and advise on how to proceed. I will immediately set things in motion with our meeting coordinator.

Thank you and very best regards,

Mort

Dear Ms. Babjack,

The Salt Institute is working with AND on the Sodium Project and your organization was kind enough to invite us to attend the Academy Foundation Donor Reception at The London House Hotel during the recent FNCE meeting in Chicago.

The Salt Institute is organizing the Tenth World Salt Symposium to be held in Park City, Utah, on June 19-21, 2018. It will be the latest in a series of international symposia, conducted since 1962, specifically dedicated to the subject of salt. The extended period between these conferences ensures a far-reaching and inclusive technical content. This is, without doubt, the most important international meeting focused on the subject of salt. All the information on the Salt Symposium can be found at the following website: <http://www.worldsaltsymposium.org/next-symposium/>

During the Academy Foundation Donor Reception, I had the opportunity to meet Donna Martin and asked her if she would accept the Salt Institute's invitation to be a keynote speaker at the World Salt Symposium in Park City next year. Donna responded positively and asked me to contact you so that we may start making arrangements for her participation. We will be pleased to cover all transportation and meeting expenses.

Within the framework of Salt and Health, we would be very pleased if her address might deal with the need to rigorously pursue sound science rather than accepting opinion (expert or institutional). Of course, this relates to the 100-year-old salt controversy, which has been characterized by far more heat than light, more dispute than resolution. Myth-information serves neither the cause of consumers, nor that of science.

The dates for the World Salt Symposium in Park City are June 19-21, 2018. I would very much like Donna to be one of the leading keynote speakers (25-30 minutes), so the June 19 opening date seems best for the address. Alternatively, the June 21 closing can be considered. The decision will be Donna's, depending upon her requirements.

Gus was so passionate and supportive about our strategic direction to eliminate all forms of malnutrition. He asked Mary Beth and I to work with the World Bank, and thanks to Lucille, we now have the connection and have two meetings planned. Gus is smiling down on us regarding our progress.

Yesterday was Gus's memorial with a wonderful turnout of the food, Ag and nutrition communities. Mark came with me. At my retirement he and Gus realized they had a fun connection. Mark's band played at a club on Cape Cod summers long ago. Gus, growing up on the Cape, remembers the club and Mark's band!

The tributes were perfect. Dan Glickman, an Academy honorary member and former USDA Secretary, described a Gus we all could laugh about remembering the volume of Gus's emails.

Kevin's was a beautiful tribute to a colleague. Kevin also gave mention to their current work together with the Academy and how he will be missed. It made me proud of the commitment of our public members.

His last email to me was to ask if I would work with the World Bank on malnutrition. He was the great connector. He invited Jenn and I to lunch there before she left. It was an amazing time and I was moved that everyone knew Gus from the head of the Bank to the person checking IDs.

I would be glad to share his wife's email if that was not available to you.

I am glad we all worked with him. He will be missed.

Hope you all have a great week!

Thanks Doris. I am not sure what they are really wanting us to speak on exactly, but when I looked at who their speakers usually are, it makes me very nervous. They have world renown speakers and I am to be the closing keynote? Hopefully, we can get more information from them on what exactly they want.

Pat, I will not be President then, so do you think they would prefer to have Mary speak? Neither of us are experts in sodium. Thanks!

Dear Ms. Babjack,

The Salt Institute is working with AND on the Sodium Project and your organization was kind enough to invite us to attend the Academy Foundation Donor Reception at The London House Hotel during the recent FNCE meeting in Chicago.

The Salt Institute is organizing the Tenth World Salt Symposium to be held in Park City, Utah, on June 19-21, 2018. It will be the latest in a series of international symposia, conducted since 1962, specifically dedicated to the subject of salt. The extended period between these conferences ensures a far-reaching and inclusive technical content. This is, without doubt, the most important international meeting focused on the subject of salt. All the information on the Salt Symposium can be found at the following website: <http://www.worldsaltsymposium.org/next-symposium/>

During the Academy Foundation Donor Reception, I had the opportunity to meet Donna Martin and asked her if she would accept the Salt Institute's invitation to be a keynote speaker at the World Salt Symposium in Park City next year. Donna responded positively and asked me to contact you so that we may start making arrangements for her participation. We will be pleased to cover all transportation and meeting expenses.

Within the framework of Salt and Health, we would be very pleased if her address might deal with the need to rigorously pursue sound science rather than accepting opinion (expert or institutional). Of course, this relates to the 100-year-old salt controversy, which has been characterized by far more heat than light, more dispute than resolution. Myth-information serves neither the cause of consumers, nor that of science.

The dates for the World Salt Symposium in Park City are June 19-21, 2018. I would very much like Donna to be one of the leading keynote speakers (25-30 minutes), so the June 19 opening date seems best for the address. Alternatively, the June 21 closing can be considered. The decision will be Donna's, depending upon her requirements.

Please let me have your comments and advise on how to proceed. I will immediately set things in motion with our meeting coordinator.

Thank you and very best regards,

Will's comments to Pam's email

The term selection menus use the NCPT as well as its Nutrition Assessment and Nutrition Diagnosis Etiology matrices to choose the order of the terms. So yes, we consulted with our member experts for more than 10 years to create those drop-downs.

In response to the diagnosis comment. Pam appears to be making the very common mistake of confusing the “Problem Statement” (which the NCPT states make be used interchangeably with “Diagnosis”), which is indeed selected from standardized terminology, with a “Nutrition Diagnosis”, which is, of course, described by the combination of problem, etiology, and signs and symptoms.

As for her concerns about whether dietitians will use the NCPT appropriately, as an educator, I’m sure she knows that this is a competency which must be met in order to gain registration status and use ANDHII in patient care. If she has concerns that her program is not adequately preparing students in this area, we could assist her in locating resources from the eNCPT and ACEND.

Of course we also have this validation research demonstrating that ANDHII use does capture coherent descriptions of patient care using NCPT that can be compared with EBNPGs (see posters attached)

Tina’s comments:

The overall approach is that we continue to want to improve the quality in these exact ways. It is always a matter of putting the funding in these specific directions, including validation.

I know that Pam has had concerns for some time and do not know the history of her involvement with the project.

She, like others, has informatics training which I completely lack.

I have heard informatics people at places I have worked make the same comments about “drop downs”-but free text is not appropriate either as it is not “searchable”

Look forward to thoughts on how/if to reply.

Would think she would have written to Alison and will??

Me again.

I'm sitting in on a webinar for the ANDHII thingie.

I have some serious concerns from an informatics standpoint. I raised these concerns when the thing was in draft format and it looks like nothing was done.

Problems begin when presenters say stuff like “We used lots of drop downs” and “Select your diagnosis”.

There is a science to creating drop down menus. Did an expert consult with the Academy for that work? There is a known bias when using drop down menus.... folks choose the top items, especially when in a hurry.

Diagnosticians don't select a diagnosis. They diagnose a health problem. There's a huge difference.

Who is validating the data entered? Given that many RDs still "select" terms "from intake" instead of actually diagnosing nutrition problems, I fear that we will be way off track and introduce a lot of noise when we think we are creating music.

C'est la vie, I guess.

It is very interesting who Pam copied on this. She believes she's an expert on informatics and both the committee and staff have had issues regarding her perspectives. I'm forwarding this to Alison and have given her a heads up that it's coming; she welcomes the opportunity to respond. It is unfair to put you in the middle, Mary, so I recommend that you simply say that you've forwarded her comments to the Data Center Team at headquarters.

See below and note who was included on the "to" list.

I know that Pam has had concerns for some time and do not know the history of her involvement with the project.

She, like others, has informatics training which I completely lack.

I have heard informatics people at places I have worked make the same comments about “drop downs”-but free text is not appropriate either as it is not “searchable”

Look forward to thoughts on how/if to reply.

Would think she would have written to Alison and will??

Subject: Question Again

Howdy!

Me again.

I'm sitting in on a webinar for the ANDHII thingie.

I have some serious concerns from an informatics standpoint. I raised these concerns when the thing was in draft format and it looks like nothing was done.

Problems begin when presenters say stuff like “We used lots of drop downs” and “Select your diagnosis”.

There is a science to creating drop down menus. Did an expert consult with the Academy for that work? There is a known bias when using drop down menus.... folks choose the top items, especially when in a hurry.

Diagnosticians don't select a diagnosis. They diagnose a health problem. There's a huge difference.

Who is validating the data entered? Given that many RDs still "select" terms "from intake" instead of actually diagnosing nutrition problems, I fear that we will be way off track and introduce a lot of noise when we think we are creating music.

C'est la vie, I guess.

Donna:

As I read it:

- There is no change from the May proclamation.
 - Districts will still have to ask for waivers.
 - Holding steady at Sodium Target is not permanent but will relay further research. IMHO ... for your and Jeanne's eyes only.

 - This could have been so much worse.
 - This is not a rollback; it is flexibility moving forward.
 - So far in my discussions out in the field:
 - I have only seen 1% flavored milk in Indiana.
 - Districts that asked for whole grain waivers will continue to do so. Districts that have whole grain products that are working will continue to do so. (BTW ... many very good districts serve non-creditable grains as an extra. Example: They offer/serve a whole grain, like a breadstick or roll, with regular pasta.)
 - Most people are relieved not to be forced to move to Target 2 Sodium Levels.
- Happy to chat more anytime,

Dayle

Dear School Health Policy Consortium members:

As you may have seen, today the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced a new “School Meal Flexibility Rule” that will weaken school nutrition standards aimed at reducing sodium and increasing whole grains, as well as allow schools to now serve 1% flavored milk.

Healthier Generation believes this change fails to account for the tremendous progress seen in thousands of schools nationwide that are successfully implementing healthier meal standards. You can find a statement from our CEO, Dr. Howell Wechsler, below (and on our website).

Please let us know if your organization is planning to respond with a statement or during the public comment period. We'd love to try to align on messaging!

Thank you!

Join us on December 13th in Washington D.C. to advocate for better foodservice equipment and infrastructure in schools!

Dear Colleague,

As school nutrition professionals, we know that old and outdated kitchen equipment hinders schools' ability to adapt to the nutritional needs of our nation's students. I have seen firsthand how challenging it is to prepare healthy, appealing and economical meals when you don't have the equipment you need.

We have captured video and images of the need for equipment upgrades and we listened to your stories – now we want to share them with members of Congress.

I invite you to join me for the Academy's advocacy day for the School Foodservice Modernization Equipment Project and congressional briefing on Wednesday, December 13 in Washington, D.C. We need SNS members to participate and help us deliver our messages to Congressional leaders who determine if the grants and loans will be funded now and in the future.

The advocacy day and congressional briefing are open to all members, partners and allies in the field and friends of the dietitian community at no cost.

Register here for the event.

Schedule at a glance:

- 9 – 10 a.m. Meeting for those participating in Hill visits
- 10 – 11:30 a.m. Congressional briefing
- Noon – 3:30 p.m. Capitol Hill visits

Please do not hesitate to contact Jeanne Blankenship with any questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND

Subject: USDA School Meal Flexibility Rule

Hi Jeanne,

As you may have seen, today the U.S. Department of Agriculture announced a new "School Meal Flexibility Rule" that will weaken school nutrition standards aimed at reducing sodium and increasing whole grains, as well as allow schools to now serve 1% flavored milk.

Healthier Generation believes this change fails to account for the tremendous progress seen in thousands of schools nationwide that are successfully implementing healthier meal standards. You can find a statement from our CEO, Dr. Howell Wechsler, below (and on our website).

Please let us know if your organization is planning to respond with a statement or during the public comment period. We'd love to try to align on messaging!

Thank you!

Nancy

USDA Waters Down Nutrition Standards with School Meal Flexibility Rule

(November 29, 2017) – The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) published today a new School Meal Flexibility Rule (Flexibility Rule) that will weaken nutrition standards aimed at reducing sodium and increasing whole grains for meals provided under the USDA's National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs. Additionally, schools will now have the discretion to serve 1 percent flavored milk, a move that unnecessarily allows more sugar and calories to be added to our children's diets. The changes proposed by the Flexibility Rule do not reflect the tremendous progress and success we have seen from schools across the country in meeting or exceeding national guidelines for healthier school meals.

Healthier Generation's Healthy Schools Program has worked with schools to implement healthier meals that meet federal nutrition standards required by the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010, which were derived from the best scientific evidence of our children's dietary needs. The success we've witnessed at the school level demonstrates that schools can serve nutritious and appealing meals while meeting the original timeline for meal pattern requirements. This success runs contrary to U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue's recent statement that "schools need flexibility in menu planning so they can serve nutritious and appealing meals." Tens of thousands of schools are already doing just that – serving up nutritious and delicious meals.

Additionally, the data does not support the need for additional flexibility. The USDA's 2016 press release indicated that 99 percent of schools nationwide reported meeting the existing nutrition standards. Further, the former Kids' Safe and Healthful Foods Project of The Pew Charitable Trusts found that near the end of the 2014-15 school year, 6 in 10 directors said they faced few or no ongoing obstacles to meeting updated school breakfast requirements. We have seen this data come to life through meals planned and served by schools across the country.

Every child deserves a healthy future – now is not the time to reverse progress toward that reality. Instead of lowering standards, we need to provide additional training and resources to the minority of schools that have difficulty meeting sodium targets and whole grain requirements. Schools need our support to continue offering meals that keep kids healthy, an investment in our children's health that will best prepare the next generation for success.

Empower RDNs to Identify and Diagnose Malnutrition

Research shows that nutrition intervention of a patient with, or at risk for, malnutrition can decrease length of hospital stay, falls, pressure ulcers, infections, complications, re-admissions, and overall health care costs.

Registered Dietitian Nutritionists (RDNs) can perform a nutrition focused physical exam (NFPE) to more accurately provide individuals with a nutrition diagnosis of malnutrition. The Academy offers a Hands-On Training Workshop designed to provide the RDN with the skills to perform an NFPE, empowering the RDN to accurately identify and diagnosis patients with malnutrition.

Host an NFPE Hands-On Training Workshop and enjoy these benefits:

- No fee for hosting!
- One complimentary workshop registration for host site (when hosting an open workshop)
- Complimentary NFPE Pocket Guides for facility RDNs
- Learn NFPE techniques in the comfort of your own facility and practice on your patient population

Attendees receive the following benefits:

- 1:6 trainer-to-participant ratio for personalized instruction
- 10 hours of continuing professional education
- Ongoing support from Academy staff and trainer(s)
- Peer Champion resources for implementation with RDNs at home facility

The Academy is scheduling facility host sites for the NFPE Hands-on Training Workshop. If your facility is interested in being a host site, learn more here or contact nfpe@eatright.org.

Tara,

Thank you for your email to the Academy about today's online Washington Post blog post. We are in complete agreement that abusive online behavior – whatever the cause and whoever is the perpetrator – is unprofessional and reflects poorly on all of us.

It is not possible, or legal, for the Academy to censor or attempt to silence people online; we have no right to control individuals' free speech. When and where freedom of speech crosses the line into abusive and actionable behavior is a different issue, and one that virtually every organization and profession with an online presence grapples with daily.

The Academy has taken, and continues to take, steps to encourage all nutrition and dietetics practitioners to engage with civility and professionalism while using social media; the new Pledge of Professional Civility is an optional statement that Academy members and non-members alike can take to demonstrate their commitment to civil online discourse and, by example, to encourage others to do the same.

In addition, the Academy has taken (and continues to take) specific steps to address abusive behavior without infringing on freedom of speech and while relying – as we must – on each individuals' ability to know what is appropriate to say, and when.

The Academy's practice paper Social Media and the Dietetics Practitioner: Opportunities, Challenges, and Best Practices clearly states that, when using social media, nutrition and dietetics practitioners must remember that they are governed by the same Code of Ethics for the Profession of Dietetics that guides all other aspects of practice. All practitioners must be aware of, and follow, the Code of Ethics for the Profession of Dietetics. The Code contains a mechanism for reporting allegations of unprofessional or unethical behavior by practitioners.

As the Social Media practice paper points out, there are legal ramifications for unprofessional online behavior, which are also reportable to the appropriate authorities:

In addition, it is critical to have a thorough understanding of all the factors related to social media professionalism, including disclosure rules from the Federal Trade Commission, patient/client privacy and confidentiality as covered by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, and copyright laws that protect intellectual property. In today's digital age, it is essential for nutrition and dietetics practitioners to recognize the professional opportunities and challenges of social media. Failing to effectively and ethically use social media can reflect poorly on the individual practitioner and the profession. Certain violations may have legal implications.

As you can see, we walk a fine line between free speech and actionable abuse, between encouraging everyone to act in a civil manner befitting adults and enforcing the Academy's Code of Ethics that is appropriate for a respected health profession.

Our work in this area goes on, and the Academy appreciates your input and concern as a valued member. Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Subject: Washington Post article- Time to act AND

Good morning,

I woke up this morning to the Washington Post article, exposing the personal and career abuse and humiliation that some RDs are inflicting on others via social media. How deeply embarrassing for our professional community that this story is relevant enough to be reported at this level. This threatens to undermine all the good that we do in the community and the way the public sees us and respects us.

This has been going on far too long and I know that the Academy is well aware. I know this because I've witnessed countless threads on Facebook practice group pages commiserating on the emotional and professional pain and damage that these people have caused. The end of the thread usually ends in the victim being encouraged to report the abuse and then agrees to do so. There are several perpetrators, one in particular, Leah McGrath, whose abusive behavior has gone unchecked. It is cruel. It is hurtful. It is wildly unprofessional. And for some reason, for some of these practitioners, these attacks are extremely personal.

So I ask, when is the Academy going to do more than put out a statement or position paper on social media etiquette? In any profession, there are codes and standards that members must abide in order to maintain their credentials and status. It is time to establish a code of ethics and appropriate disciplinary action for this kind of behavior. This cannot continue. It is destroying the fabric of our profession and our credibility.

On behalf of myself and so many other RD, I ask, PLEASE DO SOMETHING NOW.

Sincerely,

Tara Noseck, RD

Request for Photos, Videos and Stories for School Foodservice Equipment Modernization Project

The Academy recently received a grant from the Pew Charitable Trusts to advocate for school food modernization as part of its Kids' Safe and Healthful Foods Project. We are asking our members who work in school nutrition services to submit their photos, videos and stories that showcase the challenges and successes of equipment and infrastructure in school kitchens. Share with us how past funding has affected the ability to serve healthy meals in schools and how additional resources could improve a kitchen's functionality.

Please fill out this survey or send stories (limited to 3 paragraphs), photos or videos to Nate Stritzinger. The deadline for submissions has been extended to COB Friday, December 1.

There's a bonus: The person with the best submission will have the opportunity to share in-person at the Congressional Briefing on December 13, in conjunction with the Academy's advocacy day on school foodservice modernization.

Policy leaders, please share this information with your members.

The Academy and partner organizations are organizing this day.

Schedule at a glance:

Noon – 3:30 p.m. Hill visits

The event is open to all members (and guests) at no cost. Register here.

World AIDS Day December 1

Friday is World AIDS Day, a day of awareness for those individuals impacted by HIV/AIDS. This year's theme is "Increasing Impact through Transparency, Accountability, and Partnerships." More than 1.1 million Americans live with AIDS and one out of seven people do not know. The Academy continues to advocate for the provision of essential food and nutrition services for people living with HIV through the Ryan White program. Learn why nutrition is vital to those living with HIV/AIDS.

News from the Hill

HHS Secretary Nomination Hearing Wednesday

The Senate Health, Education Labor and Pensions Committee (HELP) is holding a hearing 9:30 a.m. ET Wednesday for the nomination of Alex Michael Azar II to serve as Health and Human Services (HHS) Secretary. The position has been vacant since September. Watch the hearing here.

Congressional Leaders Near Agreement on Budget Deal

Congressional leaders continue to negotiate an agreement on federal spending levels for Fiscal Year 2018, which would then allow the Appropriations Committees to draft a spending bill for the remainder of the fiscal year. As a reminder, the current continuing resolution (CR) spending bill expires December 8, and a short-term funding extension may be needed to keep the federal government operating beyond December 8. The Academy will continue to monitor these negotiations and is working to ensure that vital nutrition programs receive sufficient federal funding. Stay tuned for more information as it becomes available!

Tax Bill Update

The Senate debates the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act this week, with a vote on the final bill expected Thursday or Friday. The Academy expressed our concerns in a letter to U.S. Senate and House of Representatives leadership on November 20. We also joined 60 organizations in sending a sign-on letter to leadership addressing concerns that legislative proposals being considered by Congress that would make significant changes to the tax code could result in increased deficits and reduced resources to fund vital government services, including public health services.

December to be Busy on Capitol Hill

Members of the House and Senate return to Capitol Hill for a busy several weeks before adjourning for the holidays on December 15. Before the end of the year, Congress must enact a budget deal to raise the spending caps and pass legislation to fund the federal government. Congress must also pass emergency spending for natural disasters and tax reform. Additionally, Congress is working to re-authorize the Children's Health Insurance Program, Community Health Centers and the National Health Service Corps.

Make sure to follow PPWN for ways to take action during this busy time!

Preventive Health Savings Act Introduced in the Senate

Senators Ben Cardin (MD), Mike Crapo (ID) and Angus King (ME) re-introduced the Preventive Health Savings Act on November 28, which would allow policymakers to more accurately assess legislation that would prevent chronic disease. This legislation allows the Congressional Budget Office (CBO) to evaluate the cost-saving potential of prevention programs over a longer time frame, which will enable the CBO to provide Congress with a more accurate assessment of the long-term budgetary effects of preventive health programs. This analysis is critical to gaining support for the Academy's legislative priorities, including the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act and the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act. The Academy has supported this bill in prior congressional sessions, and we will have updated resources for Academy members available on the website soon.

It is important for members of Congress to hear from their constituency. As vital decisions are made regarding health care in the upcoming weeks, the voice of every member is critical. Take action today!

Yes, that doesn't surprise me. I know she's very vigorous about questioning the science behind many events, programs, and individual stances and social media posts. I think her heart is in the right place.

To me, it's high time the science-based folks "fought back" on social media because the non-science-based folks got such a big head start. Of course, I wouldn't want any true bullying to take place. I'm sure I'm not aware of all the issues here...

I am sorry I need to cancel the call this morning. I am home sick with Strep and feel miserable. Can we reschedule for Thursday? I am contagious so I most likely will not be at work tomorrow. Here is some information about my district. I am a K-8 school district. To answer a few of the questions below, I would need to get approval through my superintendent on selecting a parent. We don't have too many involved parents, so this may be a challenge to get someone during the day on short notice. Most of our parents work multiple jobs. The shooting in the classroom would also be a challenge. I would have to identify an elementary school and principal/teacher that would be willing to allow us to film in the school, which will be hard at this time of year. They are protective of their time and distractions to students during the day. I would also need to work with my director of communications and we need to notify all the parents at the elementary level that filming would take place in the school.

I am sorry, not trying to be difficult, I was just assuming the filming would be more in the kitchen and dining areas. Once we go out of these areas there are several more layers to address.

Thanks, sorry about the last minute cancellation, I was slow to get out of bed and get to the doctor this morning.

Hello all,

In case I can't get on the phone call in time this morning. Here are some of my questions:

My flight arrives at O'Hare 710AM and I depart O'Hare 6PM so I have a full day in Chicago.

1. I need the name and address for our morning school location. I could arrive at the first location about 8AM.
2. Sandy – can I have your cell phone number?
3. Can we get some filming done at both breakfast and lunch times? An elementary school in the AM and a middle or high school for noon?
4. We need a couple parent and student interviews. Sandy – would you able to select a parent and 1-2 students (MS or HS levels)? Student(s) would need a media release signed.
5. Is there a chance we could get some B roll filming – a) of a teacher at the blackboard with only students backs present (no faces)? b) Or if they have media releases, shots of kids interacting in class – hanging up book bags, settling into desks, listening at story time in the library (ES level) ?
6. Can I have the contact info – name and cell number of the videographer please?

Appreciate the answers to these questions. Many thanks!!

Sandy,

We are hoping you are still able to accommodate a site visit on the 5th. Would you be able to have a call next Monday or Tuesday to discuss logistics? Mary Russell, President-elect and Nancy Farrell who is the project lead for this site would be onsite for the tour and to guide the videographer. I am attaching a site visit summary to give you an idea of what we are trying to accomplish but we can discuss that more early next week and then I will work with Nancy to develop a specific agenda after we talk.

Thank you and I look forward to speaking!

We have purchased two Combi ovens on federal grant dollars at our central kitchen and I have 11 satellite sites that we are in some cases literally working out of closets :) If you think we would be a good fit for your video, I would be happy to help. Sandy, The Academy Public Policy Office is working with me on trying to help get some Federal equipment grant money for School Nutrition Programs. We have a little seed money to go out and videotape in school districts around the country that either need equipment or have gotten a grant in the past to showcase the need. Would we be able to interview you and do some videotaping in one of your schools either December 4th or 5th? If one of those dates work for you I will get back to you with more details. Thanks!

Hi Carrolyn and Demetrius-

I just wanted to let you know that Amy B's dad passed away around 4am on Sunday morning after a near 11 year brain cancer battle. She went to Ohio to visit her family for the holiday weekend, so she is staying there for the week and working remote Monday/Tuesday and will be on bereavement Wednesday – Friday. I will share the funeral/wake details once those are finalized this afternoon.

I am not sure if the Academy normally sending something from her work "family" or if that is something we should do personally from the LLPE team. I am fine handling however you prefer.

Thanks,

Hi Donna and Dianne,

Thank you for a productive call yesterday for the appointments to ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS. I appreciate your flexibility in rescheduling the call to allow you the time needed to review the binder of information. I do feel a little bit like Santa, making my list and checking it twice. Good thing I did so as it looks like we have an extra person for LPPC (see Current 2017 and Open Slots 2018 document). If you agree with my assessment, would you like to consider Laura Purdue a back-up person? I'm also awaiting confirmation from Pat that there are no issues with asking Mary Pat to serve on ANDPAC. I'll let you know as soon as I hear from her.

The following items are provided for your use in making contact with the individuals being appointed to ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS:

1. Contact Information for Appointees (email address and phone number) – I have included terms of office as well as your assignments for contacting the appointees.
2. Appointments for 2018 for ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS
3. Template email for committee member and committee vice chair—simply fill in the blanks noted in yellow.
4. Committee descriptions for ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS—you can copy and paste this information into the template email.

Please make contact with these individuals as soon as possible after the Thanksgiving holiday. It would be great to have all the appointments confirmed by December 8—please keep this as our goal. Dianne – we can also discuss whether you want to rotate off LPPC as of December 31, 2017 and let Marcy rotate on as we discussed this summer. Jeanne was fine with whatever we'd like to do.

Let me know who accepts and who declines—I will keep track of this information. Once everyone accepts (I'm being optimistic), I'll take care of sending out official appointment letters from you (similar to the other appointment letters) as well as our standard "rejection" letter that outlines other opportunities to serve the Academy.

We are hoping you are still able to accommodate a site visit on the 5th. Would you be able to have a call next Monday or Tuesday to discuss logistics? Mary Russell, President-elect and Nancy Farrell who is the project lead for this site would be onsite for the tour and to guide the videographer. I am attaching a site visit summary to give you an idea of what we are trying to accomplish but we can discuss that more early next week and then I will work with Nancy to develop a specific agenda after we talk.

Thank you and I look forward to speaking!

Sandy, The Academy Public Policy Office is working with me on trying to help get some Federal equipment grant money for School Nutrition Programs. We have a little seed money to go out and videotape in school districts around the country that either need equipment or have gotten a grant in the past to showcase the need. Would we be able to interview you and do some videotaping in one of your schools either December 4th or 5th? If one of those dates work for you I will get back to you with more details. Thanks!

Hi Donna and Dianne,

Thank you for a productive call yesterday for the appointments to ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS. I appreciate your flexibility in rescheduling the call to allow you the time needed to review the binder of information. I do feel a little bit like Santa, making my list and checking it twice. Good thing I did so as it looks like we have an extra person for LPPC (see Current 2017 and Open Slots 2018 document). If you agree with my assessment, would you like to consider Laura Purdue a back-up person? I'm also awaiting confirmation from Pat that there are no issues with asking Mary Pat to serve on ANDPAC. I'll let you know as soon as I hear from her.

The following items are provided for your use in making contact with the individuals being appointed to ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS:

1. Contact Information for Appointees (email address and phone number) – I have included terms of office as well as your assignments for contacting the appointees.
2. Appointments for 2018 for ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS
3. Template email for committee member and committee vice chair—simply fill in the blanks noted in yellow.
4. Committee descriptions for ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS—you can copy and paste this information into the template email.

Please make contact with these individuals as soon as possible after the Thanksgiving holiday. It would be great to have all the appointments confirmed by December 8—please keep this as our goal. Dianne – we can also discuss whether you want to rotate off LPPC as of December 31, 2017 and let Marcy rotate on as we discussed this summer. Jeanne was fine with whatever we'd like to do.

Let me know who accepts and who declines—I will keep track of this information. Once everyone accepts (I'm being optimistic), I'll take care of sending out official appointment letters from you (similar to the other appointment letters) as well as our standard "rejection" letter that outlines other opportunities to serve the Academy.

Member's Tour: School Kitchens in North Dakota

Academy member Dayle Hayes, MS, RD, met with school leaders in Fargo, N.D., to highlight the importance of updating school kitchens as part of a grant from Pew Charitable Trusts and its Kids' Safe and Healthful Food Project, which advocate for school foodservice modernization. As part of the project, The Academy asks members who work in school foodservice to submit photos, videos and stories that show the challenges at schools that have inadequate kitchen equipment and infrastructure, as well as success stories from schools that were able to upgrade their kitchens.

Academy Opposes Threats to Vital Nutrition Programs

The Academy joined 60 organizations to send a letter to U.S. Senate and House of Representatives leaders expressing serious concerns about proposals that would reduce resources for vital government services, including public health. The changes to the tax code that are under consideration could result in increased deficits and elimination of programs that fund critical nutrition programs. According to the Congressional Budget Office, the proposals would result in complete elimination of the Social Services Block Grant and the Prevention and Public Health Fund, which fund vital nutrition services. The House passed H.R. 1, the Tax Cuts and Job Creation Act of 2017, on November 16, and the Senate is planning to vote on separate tax reform legislation after the Thanksgiving holiday.

December 4 Webinar: National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines

The Academy's Nominating Committee will host a National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines webinar on December 4 from 1-2 p.m. CT. The interactive webinar will provide details and clarification on the campaign guidelines and how you can take an active role in the election process. Committee Members Bethany Thayer, MS, RDN, FAND and Kris Clark, PhD, RDN will be presenting. If you are interested in viewing the webinar, register here. Request for Photos, Videos and Stories for School Food Modernization Project

As mentioned in last week's PPWN, the Academy recently received a grant from the Pew Charitable Trusts to advocate for school food modernization as part of its Kids' Safe and Healthful Foods Project. We are asking our members who work in school nutrition services to submit their photos, videos and stories that showcase the challenges and successes of equipment and infrastructure in school kitchens. Share with us how past funding has affected the ability to serve healthy meals in schools and how additional resources could improve a kitchen's functionality.

Please fill out this survey or send stories (limited to 3 paragraphs), photos or videos to Nate Stritzinger. The deadline for submissions is 5 p.m. EST November 28.

The person with the best submission will have the opportunity to share in-person at the Congressional Briefing on December 13 which is being held in conjunction with the Academy's advocacy day focusing on school foodservice modernization.

Policy leaders, please share this information with your members.

Register for the Advocacy Day held on December 13

The Academy is hosting an advocacy day and congressional briefing with partner organizations on December 13 from 9 a.m. – 3:30 p.m. EST in Washington, DC. Academy members will have the opportunity to inform policymakers about the importance of food service modernization in schools and to advocate for the School Food Modernization Act (H.R. 3006/ S. 1402).

The Advocacy Day schedule is as follows:

9 a.m. – 10 a.m. Meeting for those participating in Hill visits

10 a.m. – 11:30 a.m. Congressional briefing

Noon – 3:30 p.m. Hill visits

Registration is now open to all Academy members and there is no cost to attend.

News from the Hill

The House and Senate are out until after the holiday. Happy Thanksgiving!

Academy Reviewing Impact of Tax Reform Proposals on Health Care

As promised, we wanted to provide you with an update on the tax proposal. Under consideration last week by the Senate Finance Committee is a provision that would repeal the Affordable Care Act individual mandate to obtain health insurance coverage. The most recent Congressional Budget Office (CBO) analysis concludes that enacting this provision into law would result in an estimated 13 million more uninsured Americans by 2027, which does not align with the Academy's health care tenets.

The Academy expressed our concerns in a letter to U.S. Senate and House of Representatives leadership on November 20. We also joined 60 organizations in sending a sign-on letter to leadership addressing concerns that legislative proposals being considered by Congress that would make significant changes to the tax code could result in increased deficits and reduced resources to fund vital government services, including public health services.

On November 16, the House passed their version of the bill, which does not contain the repeal of the individual mandate. A full vote by the Senate is expected after the Thanksgiving recess. Due to the differences in the House and Senate versions, it is likely that there will be a conference committee to reconcile the differences after the Senate votes. If you have additional questions, please contact Stefanie Winston Rinehart.

New CDC Report on Adult Fruit and Vegetable Consumption

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recently released its Morbidity and Mortality Weekly report (MMWR) on Disparities in State-Specific Adult Fruit and Vegetable Consumption. According to the report, only nine percent of adults eat enough vegetables and only 12 percent get the recommended amount of daily fruit. The report said "continued efforts are needed to identify and address barriers to fruit and vegetable consumption." The report is another example of the needed role of dietitians in the health care community and should be used as a resource when advocating for nutrition and dietetics.

Nomination Hearing for HHS Secretary scheduled for November 29

Last week, President Trump nominated Alex Michael Azar II to be the Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS). The Senate Health, Education Labor and Pensions Committee (HELP) will hold a nomination hearing November 29. The Secretary position has been vacant since Tom Price resigned in September. The Academy will work with partners to once again submit hearing questions.

Hi Donna and Dianne,

Thank you for a productive call yesterday for the appointments to ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS. I appreciate your flexibility in rescheduling the call to allow you the time needed to review the binder of information. I do feel a little bit like Santa, making my list and checking it twice. Good thing I did so as it looks like we have an extra person for LPPC (see Current 2017 and Open Slots 2018 document). If you agree with my assessment, would you like to consider Laura Purdue a back-up person? I'm also awaiting confirmation from Pat that there are no issues with asking Mary Pat to serve on ANDPAC. I'll let you know as soon as I hear from her.

The following items are provided for your use in making contact with the individuals being appointed to ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS:

1. Contact Information for Appointees (email address and phone number) – I have included terms of office as well as your assignments for contacting the appointees.
2. Appointments for 2018 for ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS
3. Template email for committee member and committee vice chair—simply fill in the blanks noted in yellow.
4. Committee descriptions for ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS—you can copy and paste this information into the template email.

Please make contact with these individuals as soon as possible after the Thanksgiving holiday. It would be great to have all the appointments confirmed by December 8—please keep this as our goal. Dianne – we can also discuss whether you want to rotate off LPPC as of December 31, 2017 and let Marcy rotate on as we discussed this summer. Jeanne was fine with whatever we'd like to do.

Let me know who accepts and who declines—I will keep track of this information. Once everyone accepts (I'm being optimistic), I'll take care of sending out official appointment letters from you (similar to the other appointment letters) as well as our standard "rejection" letter that outlines other opportunities to serve the Academy.

If you need any assistance with this process, please let me know. We are happy to assist as needed. Thanks!!

Sandy,

We are hoping you are still able to accommodate a site visit on the 5th. Would you be able to have a call next Monday or Tuesday to discuss logistics? Mary Russell, President-elect and Nancy Farrell who is the project lead for this site would be onsite for the tour and to guide the videographer. I am attaching a site visit summary to give you an idea of what we are trying to accomplish but we can discuss that more early next week and then I will work with Nancy to develop a specific agenda after we talk.

Thank you and I look forward to speaking!

We have purchased two Combi ovens on federal grant dollars at our central kitchen and I have 11 satellite sites that we are in some cases literally working out of closets :) If you think we would be a good fit for your video, I would be happy to help. I have some meetings scheduled for Monday,

Sandy, The Academy Public Policy Office is working with me on trying to help get some Federal equipment grant money for School Nutrition Programs. We have a little seed money to go out and videotape in school districts around the country that either need equipment or have gotten a grant in the past to showcase the need. Would we be able to interview you and do some videotaping in one of your schools either December 4th or 5th? If one of those dates work for you I will get back to you with more details. Thanks!

Traditional food drives often result in lots of highly processed, canned food donations -- much of which turns into waste and does little to promote good health.

The #GiveHealthy Movement, or Food Drive 2.0, is designed to heighten public awareness that hunger is a health issue, and to make it easy for people to donate fresh fruits, vegetables, and other healthy food.

Companies, schools, civic groups, faith-based organizations, and teams can easily conduct food drives to raise healthy food. #GiveHealthy drives are conducted online and then delivered to hunger-relief organizations -- when and where they need it! It's finally possible to get fresh, healthy food to the people who need it most -- with zero waste!

The #GiveHealthy Movement is a great way for Academy members to boost their efforts to elevate the eating habits of millions of Americans, particularly those most in need.

What you can do:

- Introduce #GiveHealthy to groups planning food drives
- Connect food pantries and food banks to #GiveHealthy so they can register to receive healthy food donations (#GiveHealthy is FREE to hunger-relief organizations)
- Become a #GiveHealthy Ambassador and help spread the word!

Hi Judy

Good to chat yesterday.

Follow-up comment: A few years ago I suggested that the Academy create some guidelines or criteria for dietary supplement companies who exhibit. I know they banned supplement companies for years, and then allowed them to exhibit. Some companies are clearly better than others, and some deserve to exhibit.

I suggested that the quality or content of materials being distributed be reviewed or approved. I mentioned this to Diane or someone she referred me to, and they replied that they didn't do that.

At present, dietitians are given the same information that is given to consumers and used in marketing. Is it quality information and evidence based? Who knows. Are they providing materials to RDNs that is marketing hype and misleading? Yes. Maybe not all of the companies but basing practice decisions on marketing hype is a problem. RDNs are not trained to know the difference, and if the Academy allows these materials to be distributed, doesn't that infer they are credible?

I know of major trade shows – not academic meetings – that approve all the materials that are distributed.

I put effort into reaching the right people on this years ago, and nothing happened. It needs to be addressed.

Hi Donna,

We are contacting the reporter and talking with her this afternoon and we will clarify that there wasn't any single event or individual that initiated the pledge, but the undercurrents of general negativity in today's social media culture were becoming disheartening for many of the Academy's members. Since she addressed the media inbox, I will reply back to Leah and copy you.

Thank you and wishing you and your family a very Happy Thanksgiving!

Best regards,

I just received this email on my business e-mail. I don't give this email out so I can only wonder it was provided to this reporter by someone at the Academy. This is totally unacceptable and disappointing that my "fellow dieticians" are communicating this to the media. This is the 2nd email I have gotten on this subject - I referred the other one to you as well.

I have communicated to the Academy as to why I do not support the Civility Pledge. It seems apparent to me that running this through the Food and Nutrition Magazine subverted due process. This whole "pledge" is both objectionable and unnecessary. I will refer you to the Marketplace of Ideas Theory. Marketplace of Ideas Theory I have not spoken out about this publicly but if I am continued to be pushed in this way I will.

Hi Leah,

My name is Caitlin Dewey and I'm a reporter covering food policy at the Washington Post. I'm working on a story about the social media civility pledge that the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics recently began promoting, and I hoped you'd have some time today to talk to me about it.

A number of dieticians have told me that they believe the pledge was instituted because of complaints they made to AND about your behavior on Twitter. They claim that you have harassed them and unfairly called their reputations into question.

I'd like to hear how you see your social media advocacy, the state of nutrition discourse online, and what you think of the AND pledge. Please let me know when you get a chance.

Thanks,
Caitlin

Erin, Here is the filled out form. If you could send it to the Hyatt that would be great. If they could send me a receipt for Delia Peel's room that would be helpful. The board will reimburse me for that room. Sorry for the confusion, but I tried my best to get them to put this on my credit card right off the bat. Thanks for handling this.

Ok I thought he had changed his plans and could be there earlier. We will need to go back and adjust the time of the briefing as we had changed it to 10 thinking he was on an earlier flight.

We have not scheduled the reception - what is feasible for you to get here? We will adjust according to your time.

Hi Donna,

Thanks for letting me know! Yes, I thought you said you had submitted something before FNCE. I checked with my event manager yesterday, and it sounds like the front desk did not apply any credit card to their rooms. Sorry about this!

Can you see the attachment now? Feel free to send directly to me so that I can forward to my event manager. Or if you feel more comfortable you can send directly to the event manager: Rachelle Meo at rachelle.meo@hyatt.com I can give her the heads up to look for it.

Good Morning Donna,

Hope all is well!

There was some confusion at the Hyatt Regency Chicago regarding two of your guests' stays: Delia Peel and Dusty Avery. Were you paying for their guest room charges or were they?

Dusty stayed two nights for a total of $638.60.

Delia stayed for three nights for a total of $957.90

If they are to pay I will have them charge their credit card they gave when they checked in. But if you are paying please fill out this credit card authorization form.

Thank you and enjoy your thanksgiving with your family!

Dear NDEP Members,

In order to provide clarification regarding the intent of the Outstanding Dietetics Educator Award, the NDEP Council amended the wording for one of the eligibility criteria for nominees. Under Criteria for Selection of Outstanding Educators, #2 now reads

1. Educator and/or Program Director in an ACEND-accredited dietetics education program:
 1. Coordinated Program in Dietetics (CP)
 2. Dietetic Internship (DI)
 3. Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD)
 4. Dietetic Technician Program (DT)

This replaces language that would apparently limit nominations only to educators with academic appointments, meaning that those educators not affiliated with university or college programs would not be eligible for consideration. No other changes have been made.

The updated criteria and procedures for the 2018 Outstanding Dietetic Educator Award are attached and are also available on the NDEP website at www.ndepnet.org. If you have any questions, please contact your Regional Director.

So glad we got these great RDN's to participate. Very articulate. Thank you for another wonderful piece. Happy Thanksgiving to you and your family. I am grateful this thanksgiving for you and your team that supports me so well.

Good evening Donna and Dianne,

Thank you for your patience as I worked with the staff in the Washington, DC office to obtain their valuable input on their committee appointments. As a reminder, we will be convening on Tuesday, November 21 at 2:00 pm CT/3:00 pm ET to discuss the appointments for LPPC, ANDPAC and CPLSc. You can anticipate this meeting lasting 1 hour. In order to prepare for the call, please review the attached pdf binder, which contains all the necessary materials with the exception of staff input for CPLS. I will send that information under separate cover as soon as it is received. The materials included are: committee descriptions for LPPC, ANDPAC and CPLSc; current members of LPPC, ANDPAC and CPLSc and the open slots for these three groups; and for each committee staff recommendations and rationale along with the names and information from the Opportunities to Serve survey of those individuals who selected one of these committees as a first or second choice. Jeanne and her team asked for resumes on the LPPC side in an effort to get more information about the top candidates before they were ranked by the current committee leaders with staff input. They strived to provide their recommendations solely from the results of the Opportunities to Serve survey, although at times you'll find recommendations from outside the survey respondent list with a rationale for doing so.

There are bookmarks within the PDF file to help you move from section to section. While the list of names from the survey for some of the committee is long, you'll also see that the same name may appear more than once due to their general interest in getting involved in the policy and advocacy work of the Academy in some way. If you need any other information from me in advance of the call, just let me know.

We have a little seed money to go out and videotape in school districts around the country that either need equipment or have gotten a grant in the past to showcase the need. Joan, thanks for the update on the timeline and knowledge of academy's timely follow through. It was helpful for me to see what was suggested by the practice groups as well as RISA teams comments in the document they provided several months back. Cant understand why most suggestions and references weren't added. Maybe too many emails. Communication is always a struggle when working on joint documents!

To help clarify the review process, on June 19 Dr. Ibrahim sent the second draft of the statement which was then sent to staff and WM and DCE DPG for review. Their suggestions were shared with you for review and the combined recommendations, attached, were sent to Dr. Ibrahim on July 4. We requested that he send the final draft to the Academy so that we could see if our recommendations were incorporated. Dr. Ibrahim sent the final draft just last week, which was shared for review. Although Dr. Ibrahim mentions "no major changes are allowed," staff review notes that all information on the Academy's diabetes guidelines has been removed and recommends a statement about the recently published EAL papers be added. Otherwise it is a "yes" with the understanding it will undergo copyediting prior to joint publication.

I will summarize the points and concerns and send our combined comments, also attached, to Dr. Ibrahim. Please let me know if you have any additional comments or questions.

Thank you, again!

Hi Joan,

I hope you are having a great week.

I spoke with Alison and Marsha, and at minimum we have two suggestions for the paper. The author has removed all information on the Academy's diabetes guidelines so we added a brief statement about three papers recently published in the journal on an EAL diabetes systematic review (1) and guideline (2). I added the references in a comment (page 5), please see attached. Also, it is very important for the authors to use patient centered language.

Prior to publication, the paper will likely require an extreme amount of copyediting and could greatly benefit from re-organization. It is lacking a clear introduction with an objective, as well as a conclusion.

In the future, it would be greatly beneficial to have upfront conversations on outline, and expectations for joint publications.

Thank you so much for the opportunity to review.

Please let me know if I can provide anything further.

Hello Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Immediate Past President Lucille Beseler, thank you again for providing the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics the opportunity to contribute to the summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. The Academy reviewers were pleased that many of our suggestions to strengthen content around MNT, the role/value of RDNs and an action step around referrals to qualified health care providers were incorporated into the second draft. Assuming the copy editing will happen prior to joint publication, the paper with general edits is attached. The overall feedback follows below.

- 1) Because the paper is national and global, recommend to mention the WHO Diabetes Program and how this paper supports it.
- 2) Exact content from the Evidence Analysis Library (EAL) Prevention of Type 2 Guideline is used, specifically the MNT and Physical Activity recommendations. According to EAL reprinting policies, when recommendations are cited they need to be used in their entirety and referenced. The polices can be viewed by clicking here<<https://www.anddeal.org/citing-content>>.

Please forward a copy of the final draft of the paper so that it can be considered for the Academy's approval to be jointly published. Also, if you can share the names of the organizations it's being submitted to, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Thank you, again!

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Lucille Beseler, thank you for the opportunity to review the draft summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. Although Lucille will be in attendance at the summit on Saturday, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics offers the following general comments for your consideration in advance of the meeting. We have also attached the Academy's Prevention of Type 2 Diabetes Evidence-based Nutrition Practice Guideline executive summary, which can be found on our Evidence Analysis Library <https://www.andeal.org/topic.cfm?menu=5344>. This document may provide additional insight for nutrition intervention.

We are aware there will be a second draft developed for review and we will be pleased to share more detailed comments at that time.

- Is the focus of the paper global or domestic? GLOBAL

- If it is a global statement perhaps it should address diabetes prevention in general, i.e., including other diabetes prevention strategies. YES
- Intervention is mentioned at the beginning of the paper, is this going to be addressed throughout? YES
- Who is the target audience, the general population, or those at increased risk for Type 2 Diabetes? Health care professionals , however there should be also an executive summary for the decision makers , media and lay people (general population)
- Under the Community design, built environment and food insecurity section, perhaps policy issues can be addressed here. YES , please provide your suggestions
- Has the initiative by the World Health Organization been considered? “The mission of the WHO Diabetes Programme is to prevent type 2 diabetes and to minimize complications and maximize quality of life for all people with diabetes. Our core functions are to set norms and standards, promote surveillance, encourage prevention, raise awareness and strengthen prevention and control.” <http://www.who.int/diabetes/en/> , We are aware of it , I guess the draft matches with its main contents but it could be also considered as a reference

Thank you again for including the Academy in the development of this important statement paper. We will be pleased to submit the paper for consideration for co-publication in our Journal, along with others including Endocrine Practice, Diabetes Care and Diabetes and Metabolism. We look forward to continued collaboration. Sure , your journal is very important considering the huge number of members and potential readers .

Best regards,

Joan

Hi, Donna: We received information from Alison Steiber about an RDN who volunteered in Puerto Rico, whose story might be good for your March page. Please see below, her name is Carla Huebner, and while she was not an Academy member when she first went to Puerto Rico, she has since joined. (A benefit of membership: You might be written about in a President's Page...!)

If you would like, we can add her to the list of possible interview subjects for the disaster relief page. Please let us know, thanks very much. Talk to you soon!

Thank you so much for your review and comments.

To help clarify the review process, on June 19 Dr. Ibrahim sent the second draft of the statement which was then sent to staff and WM and DCE DPG for review. Their suggestions were shared with you for review and the combined recommendations, attached, were sent to Dr. Ibrahim on July 4. We requested that he send the final draft to the Academy so that we could see if our recommendations were incorporated. Dr. Ibrahim sent the final draft just last week, which was shared for review. Although Dr. Ibrahim mentions "no major changes are allowed," staff review notes that all information on the Academy's diabetes guidelines has been removed and recommends a statement about the recently published EAL papers be added. Otherwise it is a "yes" with the understanding it will undergo copyediting prior to joint publication.

I will summarize the points and concerns and send our combined comments, also attached, to Dr. Ibrahim. Please let me know if you have any additional comments or questions.

Thank you, again!

Hi Joan,

I hope you are having a great week.

I spoke with Alison and Marsha, and at minimum we have two suggestions for the paper. The author has removed all information on the Academy's diabetes guidelines so we added a brief statement about three papers recently published in the journal on an EAL diabetes systematic review (1) and guideline (2). I added the references in a comment (page 5), please see attached. Also, it is very important for the authors to use patient centered language.

Prior to publication, the paper will likely require an extreme amount of copyediting and could greatly benefit from re-organization. It is lacking a clear introduction with an objective, as well as a conclusion.

In the future, it would be greatly beneficial to have upfront conversations on outline, and expectations for joint publications.

Thank you so much for the opportunity to review.

Please let me know if I can provide anything further.

Hello Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Immediate Past President Lucille Beseler, thank you again for providing the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics the opportunity to contribute to the summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. The Academy reviewers were pleased that many of our suggestions to strengthen content around MNT, the role/value of RDNs and an action step around referrals to qualified health care providers were incorporated into the second draft. Assuming the copy editing will happen prior to joint publication, the paper with general edits is attached. The overall feedback follows below.

- 1) Because the paper is national and global, recommend to mention the WHO Diabetes Program and how this paper supports it.
- 2) Exact content from the Evidence Analysis Library (EAL) Prevention of Type 2 Guideline is used, specifically the MNT and Physical Activity recommendations. According to EAL reprinting policies, when recommendations are cited they need to be used in their entirety and referenced. The polices can be viewed by clicking here<<https://www.andean.org/citing-content>>.

Please forward a copy of the final draft of the paper so that it can be considered for the Academy's approval to be jointly published. Also, if you can share the names of the organizations it's being submitted to, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Thank you, again!

Hi,

I could move my 1:00 pm CT/2:00 pm ET appointment if you want to use that time slot in case you have the opportunity to start your holiday break early. Dianne – would that be OK for you?

Thanks,

Marsha

Marsha, That would be 3 pm Eastern time not 1 pm. The earlier the better for me. I hope the superintendent lets us go early that day.

Hi Dianne,

Thanks for letting us know about your work commitment. I'm fine with shifting the call ½ hour later if it works for Donna. In terms of how long it takes, it all depends on how prepared you both come to the meeting and whether or not your individual selections align. If you are both in agreement, it goes quickly. If you have differing opinions, then obviously you'll need time to talk through those selections. You can easily accomplish in 1 hour, and possibly less.

Hi,

I have asked Charlene to move our meeting back ½ hour to 2:30 pm – 3:30 pm Central time/3:30 pm – 4:30 pm Eastern time, so you should receive an updated calendar invitation. I'm still awaiting materials from Jeanne. Depending on when I receive materials from her, please let me know if you will have adequate time to review or if we need to reschedule the meeting. Please feel free to call me to discuss.

Thank you,

Marsha

Hi Dianne,

Thanks for letting us know about your work commitment. I'm fine with shifting the call ½ hour later if it works for Donna. In terms of how long it takes, it all depends on how prepared you both come to the meeting and whether or not your individual selections align. If you are both in agreement, it goes quickly. If you have differing opinions, then obviously you'll need time to talk through those selections. You can easily accomplish in 1 hour, and possibly less.

Thanks,

Marsha

Good afternoon,

I hope you are both doing well and fully recuperated from FNCE. As a reminder, we are scheduled to meet via WebEx next Thursday, November 16, 2:00 – 3:00 pm, so you can make appointments for ANDPAC, LPPC, and the Consumer Protection and Licensure Subcommittee for the 2018 calendar year. While my goal was to provide you with documents for that call yesterday, I am still awaiting staff input from the Washington office. As soon as I receive their input I will pass it along with the other materials you need so you can do your homework in advance of the call.

Thanks and you'll hear from me soon!

I will certainly try to have it reviewed, but was just informed that my board would like me to be present at 1:00 CST for an important citywide meeting. If we could make our call 1/2 hour later it might work better for me. How long does it usually take?

Good morning,

Just another quick update. I just spoke with Jeanne and she has indicated she will be sending me materials this evening, so I will pass them along to you ASAP. Please let me know if you do not have enough time to review before our call on Thursday as the intent was to give you 1 week to do so. If you need more time I am happy to reschedule the call so you can make informed decisions.

Thank you,

Marsha

Subject: Committee Appointments

Good afternoon,

I hope you are both doing well and fully recuperated from FNCE. As a reminder, we are scheduled to meet via WebEx next Thursday, November 16, 2:00 – 3:00 pm, so you can make appointments for ANDPAC, LPPC, and the Consumer Protection and Licensure Subcommittee for the 2018 calendar year. While my goal was to provide you with documents for that call yesterday, I am still awaiting staff input from the Washington office. As soon as I receive their input I will pass it along with the other materials you need so you can do your homework in advance of the call.

Thanks and you'll hear from me soon!

Survey for SNS DPG Members - Food Service Modernization Project

The Academy recently received a grant from the Pew Charitable Trusts to advocate for school food service modernization as part of its Kids' Safe and Healthful Foods Project. We are working with a team, including Academy President Donna Martin EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND, to demonstrate the status of school infrastructure and food service equipment across the country. As part of the project we are asking our members who work in the school food service environment to submit their photos, videos and stories that show the challenges and successes school kitchens face when it comes to the equipment and infrastructure they have to work with. Policy leaders, please share this survey.

The person who submits the best story/photos will have the opportunity to share in-person at the Congressional Briefing during our School Foodservice Equipment Modernization Advocacy Day on Wednesday, December 13th! The deadline for submissions is Tuesday, November 28th at 5PM EST.

Save the Date –Advocacy Day to be Held on December 13

The Academy is hosting an advocacy day and Congressional briefing with partner organizations on December 13. These Capitol Hill events are a great opportunity for Academy members to inform policymakers about the importance of food service equipment modernization in our nation's schools and to have registered dietitian nutritionists and the school nutrition community advocate for the School Food Modernization Act (H.R. 3006/S. 1402).

Information will be sent to policy leaders in the local area to share with members to encourage attendance. Registration will be open to all Academy members and there is not a cost to attend the event. We will update members as soon the Registration link becomes available.

Menu-label law Moves Forward

A provision in the Affordable Care Act that requires restaurants, supermarkets, convenience stores and pizza delivery chains to post calorie counts nationwide by next year is moving forward. The FDA recently posted a draft guidance to help businesses comply with the law. The Academy will work with Affiliates to draft comments on the final version to be submitted by the January 2018 deadline.

Academy Shares Key Nutrition Priorities during Public Health Fair

The Academy educated policymakers from Capitol Hill, federal agencies, and national health care organizations on key nutrition issues, including MyPlate resources, food insecurity among active duty military and veterans and the public health benefit of continued support for breastfeeding moms and babies during the annual Coalition for Health Public Fair. Congressional Public Health Caucus Co-Chair Rob Wittman (Va.), a champion of the Academy, spoke about the importance of investing in public health research. The Academy was a sponsor of the Public Health Fair, and collaborated with the Committee on Public Health and Community Nutrition.

Senate Passes Resolution Designating November 9 as National Diabetes Heart Health Awareness Day

As highlighted in last week's PPWN, the Academy recently signed on to a letter supporting PFCD's initiative and its resolution to designate November 9th National Heart Health Awareness Day. The Senate passed S. Res. 324 on November 9th, and Representative Etsy (Conn.) spoke at a Hill briefing last week about H. Res. 610, the companion resolution in the U.S.

House of Representatives. The Academy is a partner organization of the Partnership to Fight Chronic Disease (PFCD) which raises awareness of the toll taken by diabetes, cardiovascular disease, obesity and others. PFCD supports the Academy's goal of encouraging the co-treatment of diabetes and cardiovascular disease in order to reduce the overall burden of illness. Members are encouraged to thank the co-sponsors of the legislation for their continued support.

Academy Reviewing Impact of Tax Reform Proposals on Health Care

The Academy continue to monitor tax reform debate in Congress and plans to communicate with key leaders later this week on sections that impact health care. The House is expected to vote this week and the Senate Finance Committee added an amendment to the bill last night that included a repeal to the Affordable Care Act's individual mandate. The Academy is analyzing the bill to determine the impact on health care programs and services and will post an updated summary on the Academy's News Center.

Yesterday, the Congressional Budget Office also published a report that shows the impact of the tax bill on other federal health programs including a 4 percent cut in Medicare payments, and elimination of both the Social Services Block Grant and the Prevention and Public Health Fund. Resources are available here on the budget from our partners in the Coalition for Health Funding

Alex Michael Azar II Nominated to serve as Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS)

On Monday, November 13, President Trump nominated Alex Azar, a former pharmaceutical executive, to serve as Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS). Azar was the Deputy Secretary of HHS and served as the General Counsel under George W. Bush, but recently led the Biomedicine business unit of Eli Lilly and Company. This position has been vacant since former Secretary Tom Price resigned in September. Azar's confirmation hearings have not been finalized.

National Obesity Care Week a Success

Thank you for joining the Academy's efforts in making National Obesity Care Week, Oct. 29 – Nov. 4, a success. The Academy joined national stakeholders to promote the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act (H.R. 1953/S.830) and to ensure anyone affected by obesity receives respectful and comprehensive care. Academy members interested in this critical practice are invited to join the Weight Management DPG.

ANDPAC Members attend Rep. Eshoo's 25th Anniversary

LPPC Chair and Vice President of Public Policy for the California Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Lorri Holzberg, MA, RDN attended the 25th Anniversary Celebration in honor of Academy champion Rep. Anna Eshoo (CA) on November 11 with ANDPAC support. More than 400 guests attended, including House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi; Rep. Doris Matsui, Rep. Eric Swalwell, Rep. Mike Thompson, Rep. Zoe Lofgren and former Congressman George Miller. Rep. Eshoo is on the Energy & Commerce Committee. Thanks to the California affiliate for partnering with ANDPAC!

Hi Joan,

I hope you are having a great week.

I spoke with Alison and Marsha, and at minimum we have two suggestions for the paper. The author has removed all information on the Academy's diabetes guidelines so we added a brief statement about three papers recently published in the journal on an EAL diabetes systematic review (1) and guideline (2). I added the references in a comment (page 5), please see attached. Also, it is very important for the authors to use patient centered language.

Prior to publication, the paper will likely require an extreme amount of copyediting and could greatly benefit from re-organization. It is lacking a clear introduction with an objective, as well as a conclusion.

In the future, it would be greatly beneficial to have upfront conversations on outline, and expectations for joint publications.

Thank you so much for the opportunity to review.

Please let me know if I can provide anything further.

Hello Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Immediate Past President Lucille Beseler, thank you again for providing the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics the opportunity to contribute to the summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. The Academy reviewers were pleased that many of our suggestions to strengthen content around MNT, the role/value of RDNs and an action step around referrals to qualified health care providers were incorporated into the second draft. Assuming the copy editing will happen prior to joint publication, the paper with general edits is attached. The overall feedback follows below.

- 1) Because the paper is national and global, recommend to mention the WHO Diabetes Program and how this paper supports it.
- 2) Exact content from the Evidence Analysis Library (EAL) Prevention of Type 2 Guideline is used, specifically the MNT and Physical Activity recommendations. According to EAL reprinting policies, when recommendations are cited they need to be used in their entirety and referenced. The polices can be viewed by clicking here.

Please forward a copy of the final draft of the paper so that it can be considered for the Academy's approval to be jointly published. Also, if you can share the names of the organizations it's being submitted to, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Thank you, again!

Subject: FW: WCPD9: Workshop Presentation and Draft Summit Statement

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Lucille Beseler, thank you for the opportunity to review the draft summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. Although Lucille will be in attendance at the summit on Saturday, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics offers the following general comments for your consideration in advance of the meeting. We have also attached the Academy's Prevention of Type 2 Diabetes Evidence-based Nutrition Practice Guideline executive summary, which can be found on our Evidence Analysis Library <https://www.andeal.org/topic.cfm?menu=5344>. This document may provide additional insight for nutrition intervention.

We are aware there will be a second draft developed for review and we will be pleased to share more detailed comments at that time.

- Is the focus of the paper global or domestic? GLOBAL
- If it is a global statement perhaps it should address diabetes prevention in general, i.e., including other diabetes prevention strategies. YES
- Intervention is mentioned at the beginning of the paper, is this going to be addressed throughout? YES
- Who is the target audience, the general population, or those at increased risk for Type 2 Diabetes? Health care professionals , however there should be also an executive summary for the decision makers , media and lay people (general population)
- Under the Community design, built environment and food insecurity section, perhaps policy issues can be addressed here. YES , please provide your suggestions

· Has the initiative by the World Health Organization been considered? “The mission of the WHO Diabetes Programme is to prevent type 2 diabetes and to minimize complications and maximize quality of life for all people with diabetes. Our core functions are to set norms and standards, promote surveillance, encourage prevention, raise awareness and strengthen prevention and control.” <http://www.who.int/diabetes/en/> , We are aware of it , I guess the draft matches with its main contents but it could be also considered as a reference

Thank you again for including the Academy in the development of this important statement paper. We will be pleased to submit the paper for consideration for co-publication in our Journal, along with others including Endocrine Practice, Diabetes Care and Diabetes and Metabolism. We look forward to continued collaboration. Sure , your journal is very important considering the huge number of members and potential readers .

Hi Dianne,

Thanks for letting us know about your work commitment. I'm fine with shifting the call ½ hour later if it works for Donna. In terms of how long it takes, it all depends on how prepared you both come to the meeting and whether or not your individual selections align. If you are both in agreement, it goes quickly. If you have differing opinions, then obviously you'll need time to talk through those selections. You can easily accomplish in 1 hour, and possibly less.

Thanks,

Hello Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Immediate Past President Lucille Beseler, thank you again for providing the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics the opportunity to contribute to the summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. The Academy reviewers were pleased that many of our suggestions to strengthen content around MNT, the role/value of RDNs and an action step around referrals to qualified health care providers were incorporated into the second draft. Assuming the copy editing will happen prior to joint publication, the paper with general edits is attached. The overall feedback follows below.

- 1) Because the paper is national and global, recommend to mention the WHO Diabetes Program and how this paper supports it.
- 2) Exact content from the Evidence Analysis Library (EAL) Prevention of Type 2 Guideline is used, specifically the MNT and Physical Activity recommendations. According to EAL reprinting policies, when recommendations are cited they need to be used in their entirety and referenced. The polices can be viewed by clicking here.

Please forward a copy of the final draft of the paper so that it can be considered for the Academy's approval to be jointly published. Also, if you can share the names of the organizations it's being submitted to, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Thank you, again!

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Lucille Beseler, thank you for the opportunity to review the draft summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. Although Lucille will be in attendance at the summit on Saturday, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics offers the following general comments for your consideration in advance of the meeting. We have also attached the Academy's Prevention of Type 2 Diabetes Evidence-based Nutrition Practice Guideline executive summary, which can be found on our Evidence Analysis Library <https://www.andeal.org/topic.cfm?menu=5344>. This document may provide additional insight for nutrition intervention.

We are aware there will be a second draft developed for review and we will be pleased to share more detailed comments at that time.

- Is the focus of the paper global or domestic? GLOBAL
- If it is a global statement perhaps it should address diabetes prevention in general, i.e., including other diabetes prevention strategies. YES
- Intervention is mentioned at the beginning of the paper, is this going to be addressed throughout? YES
- Who is the target audience, the general population, or those at increased risk for Type 2 Diabetes? Health care professionals , however there should be also an executive summary for the decision makers , media and lay people (general population)
- Under the Community design, built environment and food insecurity section, perhaps policy issues can be addressed here. YES , please provide your suggestions
- Has the initiative by the World Health Organization been considered? “The mission of the WHO Diabetes Programme is to prevent type 2 diabetes and to minimize complications and maximize quality of life for all people with diabetes. Our core functions are to set norms and standards, promote surveillance, encourage prevention, raise awareness and strengthen prevention and control.” <http://www.who.int/diabetes/en/> , We are aware of it , I guess the draft matches with its main contents but it could be also considered as a reference

Thank you again for including the Academy in the development of this important statement paper. We will be pleased to submit the paper for consideration for co-publication in our Journal, along with others including Endocrine Practice, Diabetes Care and Diabetes and Metabolism. We look forward to continued collaboration. Sure , your journal is very important considering the huge number of members and potential readers .

Subject: RE: Statement

Hello Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Immediate Past President Lucille Beseler, thank you again for providing the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics the opportunity to contribute to the summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. The Academy reviewers were pleased that many of our suggestions to strengthen content around MNT, the role/value of RDNs and an action step around referrals to qualified health care providers were incorporated into the second draft. Assuming the copy editing will happen prior to joint publication, the paper with general edits is attached. The overall feedback follows below.

- 1) Because the paper is national and global, recommend to mention the WHO Diabetes Program and how this paper supports it.
- 2) Exact content from the Evidence Analysis Library (EAL) Prevention of Type 2 Guideline is used, specifically the MNT and Physical Activity recommendations. According to EAL reprinting policies, when recommendations are cited they need to be used in their entirety and referenced. The polices can be viewed by clicking here.

Please forward a copy of the final draft of the paper so that it can be considered for the Academy's approval to be jointly published. Also, if you can share the names of the organizations it's being submitted to, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Thank you, again!

Best regards,
Joan

Dear Dr. Ibrahim

Thank you so much for the opportunity to be represented at WCPD9. It was a wonderful conference. My colleagues and I enjoyed speaking and meeting individuals from all over the world. Marcy walked away from the Summit filled with gratitude that nutrition services by RDN's was a strong recommendation. We will review the statement and get back to you as soon as possible. I would like very much to offer my assistance as an advisor in the planning sessions for the next Congress and other initiatives. We agree we would like to collaborate further.

Happy Holidays. Warm regards, Lucille

Dear Lucille and Joan ,

On behalf of the scientific committee and the conference attendees , I would like to thank you so much for your valuable contribution , in this event we collaborated with seven professional organizations , yet the contribution of the Nutrition Academy was unique , we hope we would be able to continue this fruitful collaboration in our future national programs.

As for the proposed statement , please find below the answers for your questions , I also went through the valuable documents you provided and shared them with the writing group , because of the very limited word count , I would appreciate if Lucille and her colleagues could send few paragraphs containing the very important info and data to be considered in the final draft , please include the corresponding references .

your prompt response will be highly appreciated .

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Lucille Beseler, thank you for the opportunity to review the draft summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. Although Lucille will be in attendance at the summit on Saturday, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics offers the following general comments for your consideration in advance of the meeting. We have also attached the Academy's Prevention of Type 2 Diabetes Evidence-based Nutrition Practice Guideline executive summary, which can be found on our Evidence Analysis Library <https://www.andean.org/topic.cfm?menu=5344>. This document may provide additional insight for nutrition intervention.

We are aware there will be a second draft developed for review and we will be pleased to share more detailed comments at that time.

- Is the focus of the paper global or domestic? GLOBAL

- If it is a global statement perhaps it should address diabetes prevention in general, i.e., including other diabetes prevention strategies. YES

- Intervention is mentioned at the beginning of the paper, is this going to be addressed throughout? YES

- Who is the target audience, the general population, or those at increased risk for Type 2 Diabetes? Health care professionals , however there should be also an executive summary for the decision makers , media and lay people (general population)

- Under the Community design, built environment and food insecurity section, perhaps policy issues can be addressed here. YES , please provide your suggestions
- Has the initiative by the World Health Organization been considered? “The mission of the WHO Diabetes Programme is to prevent type 2 diabetes and to minimize complications and maximize quality of life for all people with diabetes. Our core functions are to set norms and standards, promote surveillance, encourage prevention, raise awareness and strengthen prevention and control.” <http://www.who.int/diabetes/en/> , We are aware of it , I guess the draft matches with its main contents but it could be also considered as a reference

Thank you again for including the Academy in the development of this important statement paper. We will be pleased to submit the paper for consideration for co-publication in our Journal, along with others including Endocrine Practice, Diabetes Care and Diabetes and Metabolism. We look forward to continued collaboration. Sure , your journal is very important considering the huge number of members and potential readers .

Best regards,
Joan

Good afternoon,

I hope you are both doing well and fully recuperated from FNCE. As a reminder, we are scheduled to meet via WebEx next Thursday, November 16, 2:00 – 3:00 pm, so you can make appointments for ANDPAC, LPPC, and the Consumer Protection and Licensure Subcommittee for the 2018 calendar year. While my goal was to provide you with documents for that call yesterday, I am still awaiting staff input from the Washington office. As soon as I receive their input I will pass it along with the other materials you need so you can do your homework in advance of the call.

Thanks and you'll hear from me soon!

Hi Donna! Sorry for the delay in response. Glad to hear you had an amazing conference, I was so bummed not to be there - SNA committee days fell on the same weekend.

We have purchased two Combi ovens on federal grant dollars at our central kitchen and I have 11 satellite sites that we are in some cases literally working out of closets :) If you think we would be a good fit for your video, I would be happy to help. I have some meetings scheduled for Monday, Dec 4th, but would be open on Tuesday, Dec 5th.

Thanks.

Sandy, The Academy Public Policy Office is working with me on trying to help get some Federal equipment grant money for School Nutrition Programs. We have a little seed money to go out and videotape in school districts around the country that either need equipment or have gotten a grant in the past to showcase the need. Would we be able to interview you and do some videotaping in one of your schools either December 4th or 5th? If one of those dates work for you I will get back to you with more details. Thanks!

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Compliance with Revised Nutrition Facts Panel Dependent on FDA Finalizing Guidance

The Academy actively worked to create, and strongly supports, the final revisions to Nutrition Facts Panel. The Academy would like to see these implemented without delay. This tremendous benefit to the public would otherwise be denied for more than a year if the FDA's proposed delay is finalized. Regrettably, however, the Academy recognizes that the FDA's delays in finalizing directly relevant, critical guidance related to fiber and added sugars may necessitate delaying the compliance date. The Academy recently urged the FDA to finalize these guidance documents without delay to ensure that there will be no additional delays in implementing revisions to the NFP.

Academy Urges Congress to Protect Historic Investment in Prevention

The House of Representatives recently passed the Championing Healthy Kids Act, which reauthorizes several federal health programs, including the Children's Health Insurance program, that had gone unfunded since September but would use the Prevention and Public Health Fund to pay for the cost of these programs. The Academy continues to oppose this approach as the Prevention Fund provides critical support for interventions led by food and nutrition professionals to improve community health. The Academy urged Congress to find a bipartisan solution to fund these important programs and the Senate is poised to address this issue soon. Thanks to advocacy work from the Academy and its partners, U.S. Rep. Tony Cardenas (Calif.) introduced an amendment to remove the Prevention Fund from the Championing Healthy Kids Act, and the Academy will continue to advocate for a strong investment in prevention and treatment to improve the health and nutrition of the country.

Academy Commends Congress and President for Creating Clinical Care Commission

The Academy is pleased to announce that the president signed the National Clinical Care Commission Act (S. 920) into law to coordinate and leverage various federal programs related to diabetes. The Academy will continue to work with the bill's sponsors and the administration to ensure federal programs provide the most efficient and effective care for people with diabetes and related diseases.

House Hears Testimony on the Importance of Agriculture Research

A panel of experts testified about the value of federal agricultural research and the role it plays in protecting agriculture and the public from biological threats, as well as addressing global food system challenges to feed an ever-growing world population. The Academy's new Strategic Plan echoes the witnesses' statements through principles "focus[ing] on system-wide impact across the food, well-being, and health care sectors and hav[ing] a global impact in eliminating all forms of malnutrition."

Academy Supports Veterans Administration Telehealth Initiative

After careful consideration and discussion with Academy member experts, the Academy wrote to the Department of Veterans Affairs to support its proposal to preempt state licensure laws related to telehealth for VA employees, including RDNs. The proposal will ease practice across state lines while the health and safety of consumers by the VA's policies regarding dietitian hiring.

Academy Endorses Commodity Supplemental Food Program Bill

The Academy joined partner organizations in addressing hunger, aging and malnutrition by supporting the Nourishing Our Golden Years Act, sponsored by U.S. Sen. Robert P. Casey, Jr. (Penn.), which would enable eligible seniors to receive shelf-stable, nutrient-rich USDA foods for a minimum of one year. This effort to ease the administrative burden for those delivering the Commodity Supplemental Food Program to seniors represents a continuing commitment by the Academy to ensure seniors with food insecurity have access to nutritious food to preserve or improve their health and independence.

Dear Donna,

Thank you for joining us at our Second Century FUN-RAISER. An unprecedented energy and record crowd of more than 1,000 helped us enjoy a spectacular night. Academy members of every generation joined in the festivities, celebrating the Foundation's success at Chicago's iconic Navy Pier with Academy and Foundation leaders, distinguished donors, friends and colleagues.

The Fun-Raiser Gala was delightful and a perfect opportunity to support the Foundation (without breaking the bank) and celebrate with friends in an open, social and festive environment. Great band, nice food, wonderful surroundings and plenty of giggles at the photo booth!

Christina C. Lemon, MS, RD, CD, President, Wisconsin Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

I had the opportunity to meet so many colleagues whose lives were touched by the Foundation. Hundreds of members each year receive scholarships, awards, fellowships, and research grants through the Foundation – members of all ages, backgrounds and skill sets. Thousands more participate in our public education programs like Kids Eat Right and Future of Food, utilizing Foundation resources to take these programs into their communities.

Our Foundation is the only charitable organization devoted exclusively to promoting nutrition and dietetics. Although affiliated with the Academy, the Foundation is an independent 501(c)(3) public charity and does not receive any portion of member dues. The success and impact of our programs and services are directly attributed to the generous support of our donors.

Please check out the videos below if you didn't have a chance to see them during the event – these stories told first-hand by our donors and volunteers are what we are all about!

It's Our Donors that Help Us

Please keep in mind this holiday season that support for our Annual Fund is always needed. Thank you again for joining us on a spectacular night! I'm looking forward to seeing everyone at next year's event in Washington, DC!

Sincerely,

Martin M. Yadrick, MS, MBI, RDN, FAND

Hi, Donna,

Leah forwarded me this email in the absence of Doris, but I didn't know she copied you. Since then, I thanked Leah for forwarding. Joe Fassler reached out separately to media@eatright.org and we worked with Joe (reporter), our team and one of our spokespeople to set up an interview. It was scheduled for this morning, but he reached out prior to the call cancelling since his editor killed the story.

If he reaches out, feel free to send to us and we can take care of it on your behalf.

Thank you and talk soon!

(See below) I responded to this gentleman and encouraged him to contact the Academy on the civility pledge and his other questions about division in membership. He said that he had put out a call to the Academy. I did not comment on any of this except to say that dietitians, like any other professionals, have members that reflect a wide range of experience, roles and perspectives. He also asked about sponsorship and seemed to think the civility pledge had something to do with the division between science-based dietitians and those interested more in social justice issues like hunger and nutrition. I again told him that the Academy was best equipped to answer his questions about sponsorship and what safeguards you have in place to prevent undue influence by sponsors but that the Academy, as a group of nutrition professionals, has always been interested and involved with issues of hunger, food insecurity and other economic issues that would effect food supply and nutrition. Leah McGrath

This is Joe Fassler from the New Food Economy, how are you? I'm writing an article about a divide that seems to be growing among dietitians, with people trying to use the field to talk about larger social and economic issues on one side, and others who feel professionals should just stick with the science. As a prominent voice in the field, I wonder if you might have thoughts on this.

I'm also interested in the "professional civility" pledge just issued by the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, and whether you think such a thing might be necessary. Do you think that standards of civility have slipped, and are they important? Or is that the academy's way of trying to encourage its members not steer clear of this debate altogether?

Could we find a few minutes to speak by phone? Hope so—let me know what you think!

Thanks,

Joe

Local Academy Members Invited to Participate in Public Health Fair on Capitol Hill

Just a quick reminder that Academy members are welcome to participate in the Academy's public health fair booth today from noon to 3 p.m. ET. The event sponsored by the Coalition for Health Funding will be held in the foyer of the Rayburn House Office Building in Washington, DC. This is a great opportunity for members to promote their role in public health and highlight the importance of breastfeeding and the MyPlate initiative, among others. To find out more information, contact Stefanie Winston Rinehart.

Championing Health Kids Act Passed in the House

The Championing Healthy Kids Act (combines H.R. 3921 and H.R. 3922) passed the U.S. House of Representatives on November 3. The legislation funds important programs like the state Children's Health Insurance Program, community health centers, and other important public health priorities. Congressman Greg Walden (Ore.) introduced the bill that moved through the House Energy & Commerce Committee (E&C). The bill includes a 5-year reauthorization of the CHIP program, a 2-year reauthorization of the Community Health Center Fund and two years of relief from impending cuts to Disproportionate Share Hospital (DSH) payments that help provide care to low-income and underserved communities. The Academy is in support of these programs, however, as expressed in a letter to the E&C last month, we are opposed to using the Prevention Fund to pay for these programs. The Prevention Fund provides critical support for interventions led by food and nutrition professionals to improve community health. The Academy will continue to advocate for a strong investment in prevention and treatment to improve the health and nutrition of the nation.

House Subcommittee on Research and Technology Heard Testimony on the Importance of Agriculture Research

Ensuring that people have access to healthy food systems is always a priority for the Academy. Academy staff recently attended an event where a panel of experts discussed the value of agriculture research with the U.S. House of Representatives Subcommittee on Research and Technology. This is an important message for Congress to hear. Increases in funding for federal agriculture research will be a critical step to ensuring that safe and nutritious food is available. Federal agriculture research protects agriculture and the public from biological threats, both naturally occurring and deliberate, as well as addressing global food system challenges to feed an ever-growing world population. The Academy will continue to work to spread this message to key members of Congress. Visit the subcommittee webpage to learn more about the hearing and watch the recording.

Academy Supports Designating November 9th as National Diabetes Heart Health Awareness Day

Diabetes impacts over 29 million people in the US and increases the risk of heart failure, heart attack, stroke, or other cardiovascular complications. The Academy is a partner organization of the Partnership to Fight Chronic Disease (PFCD) which raises awareness of the toll taken by diabetes, cardiovascular disease, obesity and others. PFCD supports the Academy's goal of encouraging the co-treatment of diabetes and cardiovascular disease in order to reduce the overall burden of illness. As part of these efforts, the Academy recently signed on to a letter supporting PFCD's initiative and its resolution to designate November 9th National Heart Health Awareness Day.

FDA Proposes Rule to Revoke Claim that Soy Protein Protects the Heart

The Academy is closely monitoring the status of the Food and Drug Administration's claim that soy protein protects the heart. The FDA is considering revoking the claim. Dr. Susan Mayne, director of the FDA's Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition, released a statement saying the FDA is considering revoking the claim "because numerous studies published since the claim was authorized in 1999 have presented inconsistent findings on the relationship between soy protein and heart disease." The Academy is working with our member leaders to develop a response. If you are interested, work through the Dietetic Practice Groups' Policy and Advocacy Leaders (PALs), in either SCAN, Vegetarian Nutrition or DIFM Practice Groups, to submit input relevant to this proposed rule.

Compliance with Revised Nutrition Facts Panel Dependent on FDA Finalizing Guidance

The Academy supports the final revisions to the Nutritional Facts Panel (NFP) that is found on packaged food. The Academy has been working for several years to improve these labels to help consumers make informed food choices. The new panel will be a tremendous benefit to the public, but the FDA is considering extending the compliance dates for the new labeling, a move which would deprive the public of the labels for more than a year. We think this would be a mistake and the Academy submitted comments to the FDA urging it to finalize its process to ensure that there will be no additional delays. The Academy will keep you posted on any updates. To read more, click here.

National Clinical Care Commission Act signed into Law

The president signed the National Clinical Care Commission Act (S. 920) into law on November 3. The Academy worked with the bill's sponsors and the administration to ensure that registered dietitian nutritionists have a seat at the table and to ensure federal programs provide the most efficient and effective care for people with diabetes and related diseases. This bill creates a commission to evaluate and recommend solutions for better coordination and use of federal programs to support care for people with diabetes and metabolic syndromes and disorders. We released a statement commending Congress and the President on the legislation and will continue to work on this issue going forward.

Academy Supports Veterans Administration Telehealth Initiative

The Academy supports a proposal to preempt state licensure laws related to telehealth for Department of Veterans Affairs' employees that includes RDNs. The Academy noted in a letter to the VA that the proposal will ease practice across state lines while the health and safety of consumers is ensured by the VA's strong, applicable policies and rules regarding dietitian hiring and standard practices. Additionally, the proposal would prevent incompetent practice and notify state and federal entities when that practice is noted. We will update Academy members on any movement on this issue.

Academy Endorses Commodity Supplemental Food Program Bill

The Academy we signed on to a letter and partnered with organizations in the hunger, aging, and malnutrition communities in supporting the Nourishing Our Golden Years Act sponsored by Senator Robert P. Casey, Jr. (Penn.), which would enable eligible seniors to receive shelf-stable, nutrient-rich USDA foods for a minimum of one-year before their eligibility must be recertified. This effort to ease the administrative burden for those delivering the Commodity Supplemental Food Program to seniors represents a continuing commitment by the Academy to ensure seniors with food insecurity have access to nutritious food to preserve or improve their health and independence.

Save the Date –December Quarterly Advocacy Day to be Held on December 13, 2017

The Academy has recently received a grant from the Pew Charitable Trust to implement the “School Foodservice Modernization Project”—a project that will advocate for food service modernization in schools as part of its Kids’ Safe and Healthful Food Project. The Foodservice Modernization Project will ensure that key items are included in any child nutrition reauthorization and/or infrastructure bills that both the House and Senate (H.R. 3006/S. 1402) put forth, such as improving school kitchen infrastructure, access to kitchen equipment and funding for the means to create healthy school meals. On December 13th, the Academy is hosting an Advocacy Day with partner organizations which will include a Congressional Briefing on Capitol Hill in Washington, DC. The purpose of these events are to inform policymakers about the importance of food service modernization in our nation’s schools and to have registered dietitian nutritionists and the school nutrition community advocate for H.R. 3006/S. 1402.

Information will be sent to policy leaders in the local area to share with members to encourage attendance. Registration is open to all Academy members and there is not a cost to attend the event.

Stay tuned for next week’s PPWN for information on how to register for the advocacy day.

YOUR INCOME IS THE FUEL THAT DRIVES YOUR FINANCIAL ENGINE.

You need to help protect it.

That's why the Group Disability Income Insurance Plan for members of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics could be critical to your personal financial future.

After all...what would the lost income mean to you, your family, your savings and your lifestyle if an illness or accident took you out of work for 6...9...12 months or more? How quickly would you run through the savings it's taken you a lifetime to build?

This very real financial risk is precisely why the Group Disability Income Insurance Plan was made available. It's designed to provide the income you need to help cover expenses during a disability.

I know it's easy to put off a decision like this, but please don't. Before you do, consider that you could become disabled at any time - and for more than just a few months.

So if you think you're protected from a disability, you should think again. I urge you to take action now.

Plan Features and Advantages:

- Provides own occupation vs. any job
- Pays for covered Sickness or Injuries

- Affordable group rates vs. individual rates
- Benefit checks start quickly, after just 60 days

Subject: Idaho Academy - 2018 Annual Meeting Speaking Engagement

Hi Donna,

We are pleased to include you on the agenda for the Idaho Academy's 2018 Annual Meeting in Sun Valley on Friday, April 20 at the Sun Valley Resort. Your sessions are scheduled at the following times: 7:30am-8:15am (Academy update) and 9:00am-10:00am (opening session)

Please complete our speaker agreement found at the following link no later than Wednesday, November 15: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/N8FMWLC>

Items to note before completing the agreement:

- We would like your session to meet the following criteria: Level II: Assumes that the participant has general knowledge of the literature and professional practice within the area(s) covered. The focus of the activity is to enhance knowledge and application of the participant.
- You will be asked to include information specific to your presentation in the agreement, including: session title, description, and learning objectives. You will want to draft these before starting the agreement.

- I will return a PDF copy of the speaker agreement to you after you have submitted it with all fields completed.

I have attached two documents that will be useful resources as you prepare your presentation*. You will see there is an expectation that speakers will focus more on facilitating discussion and opportunities for interaction rather than lecturing to the audience. The conference theme is, "Building Bridges: Celebrating 70 Years of the Idaho Academy of Nutrition &Dietetics"--this year's event is a celebration! We're hopeful sessions will be lively and engaging.

*TedX talks are much shorter than presentations at the Annual Meeting, but the guidance offered in their speaker guide is something you'll likely find helpful.

If you have any questions, please contact me.

Thanks!

Jill

A report by NDD United titled "Faces of Austerity 2.0: How Budget Cuts Continue to Make Us Sicker, Poorer and Less Secure" highlights federal government programs that help ensure older Americans can eat healthful and nutritious meals. The Older Americans Act creates three major funding streams that support states and tribal organizations in addressing hunger among seniors. Academy Urges Congress to Protect Historic Investment in Prevention

The House of Representatives is expected to vote this week on a bill to reauthorize several federal health programs, including the Children's Health Insurance program, but would use the Prevention and Public Health Fund to pay for the cost of these programs. Senate Approves Centennial Resolution

On Monday, the Senate unanimously approved the centennial resolution (S. Res. 75) which recognizes the 100th anniversary the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. Happy Anniversary and Happy Halloween!

New Report Showcases How Budget Cuts Hurt Hungry Seniors

NDD United recently released a report, "Faces of Austerity 2.0: How Budget Cuts Continue to Make Us Sicker, Poorer, and Less Secure" that highlighted the federal government programs that help ensure older Americans can eat healthy and nutritious meals. The Academy is a member of the NDD United coalition that is working to save programs like the Older Americans Act from devastating budget cuts. The Older Americans Act creates three major funding streams that help support states and tribal organizations that help fight hunger among seniors. The Academy served as a reviewer for the draft document and attended a Capitol Hill briefing following the release of the report.

Senate HELP Committee Heard Mixed Testimony on Corporate Wellness Programs

The Senate Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions (HELP) heard testimony from several Corporate (employee) Wellness Programs. Wellness Programs like the Cleveland Clinic expressed their support for the programs, while others said it was burdensome to provide detailed health and medical information, including weight and blood pressure. The Academy is committed to ensuring that wellness programs enabled by the Affordable Care Act, including those offering incentives for improved health, are designed to be non-discriminatory and demonstrably effective. Registered dietitian nutritionists and nutrition and dietetic technicians, registered, are leaders in delivering preventive services in both clinical and community settings and in facilitating and participating in research in chronic disease prevention and health promotion. Interested in learning more about the hearing, click here. Click here to watch the recorded hearing.

Academy Urges Congress to Protect Historic Investment in Prevention

The House of Representatives is expected to vote this week on a bill to reauthorize several federal health programs (including the National Health Service Corp, Community Health Centers and the Children's Health Insurance Program). The Academy supports the continuation of these vital programs. However, the Academy opposes using the Prevention and Public Health Fund to pay for the programs. The Prevention Fund provides critical support for interventions led by food and nutrition professionals to improve community health. These jobs would disappear without this investment. The Academy has asked Congress to find a bipartisan solution to fund these important programs before funding runs out at the end of the year.

Academy Participates in National Obesity Care Week

This week, the Academy is participating in the third annual National Obesity Care Week which ends Nov. 4. This national awareness campaign is designed to raise awareness of the need for respectful and comprehensive care for anyone affected by obesity. A great way for members to participate in NOCW is by contacting your senators and representatives and asking them to cosponsor the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act (H.R. 1953/S.830).

Wisconsin Event Connects Affiliate with U.S. Senators

Wisconsin Academy of Nutrition and Dietetic members shared information about key nutrition legislation including the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act and Nutrition Education in the Farm Bill with Senators Tammy Baldwin (Wis.) and Elizabeth Warren (Mass.) while attending a local fundraising event. These Academy members also thanked Sen. Warren for co-sponsoring the congressional resolution commemorating the Academy's Centennial during the event which was funded by ANDPAC.

Local Academy Members Invited to Participate in Public Health Fair on Capitol Hill

Academy members are welcome to participate in the Academy's public health fair booth on Wednesday, November 8 from noon to 3 p.m. ET. The event sponsored by the Coalition for Health Funding will be held in the foyer of the Rayburn House Office Building in Washington, DC. This is a great opportunity for members to promote their role in public health and highlight the importance of breastfeeding and the MyPlate initiative, among others. To find out more information, contact Stefanie Winston Rinehart.

Action Alerts Open – Please Post Message

It's not too late to advocate for three important nutrition policy issues. There are currently three action alerts, described in detail below, that require Academy members attention. If you have not already done so, take action on the following:

- 1. Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act, (H.R. 3124/S. 1299) – Medicare provides coverage for testing our nation's seniors for diabetes and pre-diabetes, but until a patient is diagnosed with diabetes MNT is not a covered service. Academy members should reach out to members of Congress to gain support for the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 3124 /S. 1299). The bill, backed by the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance, would reimburse RDNs for medical nutrition therapy provided to patients with pre-diabetes.
- 2. Nutrition Education in the Farm Bill – Congress is currently working on the reauthorization of the Farm Bill, which reauthorizes two important nutrition education programs: SNAP Nutrition Education and Obesity Prevention grants (SNAP-Ed) and the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP). These education programs coordinate to maximize reach and attempt, with limited funding, to meet the need for nutrition education messages that empower families to make healthy choices. We urge Academy members to take action and ask Congress to include SNAP-ED and EFNEP in the Farm Bill. These programs provide targeted effective nutrition education that empowers families to make lasting behavioral change and build skills to manage limited resources towards economic self-sufficiency beyond the short time that a typical SNAP recipient utilizes that benefit.

3. Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, H.R. 1953/S.830 – A new report from the CDC shows that the prevalence of obesity has risen to 40 percent of adults and 19 percent of youth. These stunning statistics are another reminder of the importance of intervention and counseling from RDNs.

There are several ways you can get involved.

Weight Management DPG Chair Eileen Ford, MS, RD encourages you to contact your member of Congress today and ask them to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, a bill which will help address the obesity epidemic by providing better treatment options from health professionals such as RDNs. Eileen invites you to join the Weight Management DPG if you are interested in this critical practice area.

Notable mentions: Please join us during the week of October 29 – November 4 in recognizing National Obesity Care Week. We are excited to participate in the 3rd Annual NOCW, a national awareness campaign to ensure anyone affected by obesity receives respectful and comprehensive care.

Important Congressional Issues Require Your Action!

As a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, urge your policymakers to support legislation that protects and values nutrition services in areas of prevention and treatment (including treatment and reduction of obesity and diabetes prevention) and in the role of nutrition education as highlighted in the Farm Bill. It is important for members of Congress to hear from their constituency. As vital decisions are made regarding health care in the upcoming weeks, the voice of every member is critical. Take action today!

Senate Approves Centennial Resolution

On Monday, the Senate unanimously approved the centennial resolution (S. Res. 75) which recognizes the 100th anniversary the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. Happy Anniversary and Happy Halloween!

New Report Showcases How Budget Cuts Hurt Hungry Seniors

NDD United recently released a report, "Faces of Austerity 2.0: How Budget Cuts Continue to Make Us Sicker, Poorer, and Less Secure" that highlighted the federal government programs that help ensure older Americans can eat healthy and nutritious meals. The Academy is a member of the NDD United coalition that is working to save programs like the Older Americans Act from devastating budget cuts. The Older Americans Act creates three major funding streams that help support states and tribal organizations that help fight hunger among seniors. The Academy served as a reviewer for the draft document and attended a Capitol Hill briefing following the release of the report.

Senate HELP Committee Heard Mixed Testimony on Corporate Wellness Programs

The Senate Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions (HELP) heard testimony from several Corporate (employee) Wellness Programs. Wellness Programs like the Cleveland Clinic expressed their support for the programs, while others said it was burdensome to provide detailed health and medical information, including weight and blood pressure. The Academy is committed to ensuring that wellness programs enabled by the Affordable Care Act, including those offering incentives for improved health, are designed to be non-discriminatory and demonstrably effective. Registered dietitian nutritionists and nutrition and dietetic technicians, registered, are leaders in delivering preventive services in both clinical and community settings and in facilitating and participating in research in chronic disease prevention and health promotion. Interested in learning more about the hearing, click here. Click here to watch the recorded hearing.

Academy Urges Congress to Protect Historic Investment in Prevention

The House of Representatives is expected to vote this week on a bill to reauthorize several federal health programs (including the National Health Service Corp, Community Health Centers and the Children's Health Insurance Program). The Academy supports the continuation of these vital programs. However, the Academy opposes using the Prevention and Public Health Fund to pay for the programs. The Prevention Fund provides critical support for interventions led by food and nutrition professionals to improve community health. These jobs would disappear without this investment. The Academy has asked Congress to find a bipartisan solution to fund these important programs before funding runs out at the end of the year.

Academy Participates in National Obesity Care Week

This week, the Academy is participating in the third annual National Obesity Care Week which ends Nov. 4. This national awareness campaign is designed to raise awareness of the need for respectful and comprehensive care for anyone affected by obesity. A great way for members to participate in NOCW is by contacting your senators and representatives and asking them to cosponsor the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act (H.R. 1953/S.830).

Wisconsin Event Connects Affiliate with U.S. Senators

Wisconsin Academy of Nutrition and Dietetic members shared information about key nutrition legislation including the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act and Nutrition Education in the Farm Bill with Senators Tammy Baldwin (Wis.) and Elizabeth Warren (Mass.) while attending a local fundraising event. These Academy members also thanked Sen. Warren for co-sponsoring the congressional resolution commemorating the Academy's Centennial during the event which was funded by ANDPAC.

Local Academy Members Invited to Participate in Public Health Fair on Capitol Hill

Academy members are welcome to participate in the Academy's public health fair booth on Wednesday, November 8 from noon to 3 p.m. ET. The event sponsored by the Coalition for Health Funding will be held in the foyer of the Rayburn House Office Building in Washington, DC. This is a great opportunity for members to promote their role in public health and highlight the importance of breastfeeding and the MyPlate initiative, among others. To find out more information, contact Stefanie Winston Rinehart.

Action Alerts Open – Please Post Message

It's not too late to advocate for three important nutrition policy issues. There are currently three action alerts, described in detail below, that require Academy members attention. If you have not already done so, take action on the following:

- 1. Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act, (H.R. 3124/S. 1299) – Medicare provides coverage for testing our nation's seniors for diabetes and pre-diabetes, but until a patient is diagnosed with diabetes MNT is not a covered service. Academy members should reach out to members of Congress to gain support for the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 3124 /S. 1299). The bill, backed by the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance, would reimburse RDNs for medical nutrition therapy provided to patients with pre-diabetes.
- 2. Nutrition Education in the Farm Bill – Congress is currently working on the reauthorization of the Farm Bill, which reauthorizes two important nutrition education programs: SNAP Nutrition Education and Obesity Prevention grants (SNAP-Ed) and the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP). These education programs coordinate to maximize reach and attempt, with limited funding, to meet the need for nutrition education messages that empower families to make healthy choices. We urge Academy members to take action and ask Congress to include SNAP-ED and EFNEP in the Farm Bill. These programs provide targeted effective nutrition education that empowers families to make lasting behavioral change and build skills to manage limited resources towards economic self-sufficiency beyond the short time that a typical SNAP recipient utilizes that benefit.

3. Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, H.R. 1953/S.830 – A new report from the CDC shows that the prevalence of obesity has risen to 40 percent of adults and 19 percent of youth. These stunning statistics are another reminder of the importance of intervention and counseling from RDNs.

There are several ways you can get involved.

Weight Management DPG Chair Eileen Ford, MS, RD encourages you to contact your member of Congress today and ask them to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, a bill which will help address the obesity epidemic by providing better treatment options from health professionals such as RDNs. Eileen invites you to join the Weight Management DPG if you are interested in this critical practice area.

Notable mentions: Please join us during the week of October 29 – November 4 in recognizing National Obesity Care Week. We are excited to participate in the 3rd Annual NOCW, a national awareness campaign to ensure anyone affected by obesity receives respectful and comprehensive care.

Doris and Mac, I know you all are just like me and have not had a chance to take a breath from FNCE. I have had several people inquire about how they could get access to pictures that were taken at FNCE with our professional photographer? I told them I had no idea, but would inquire for them. I wanted to get the pictures of my friends who traveled so far of them meeting Sanjay Gupta after his presentation. I thought by getting the picture that was taken that would be a nice thank you to them.

My second question is that I would really love a copy of opening session to share with my mother. As you recall she is bedridden from a stroke and it would mean the world to her to be able to see me talk about her on stage. No rush on these issues, but I wanted to go ahead and check to see what we could do about getting them.

Doris and Mac, I know you all are just like me and have not had a chance to take a breath from FNCE. I have had several people inquire about how they could get access to pictures that were taken at FNCE with our professional photographer? I told them I had no idea, but would inquire for them. I wanted to get the pictures of my friends who traveled so far of them meeting Sanjay Gupta after his presentation. I thought by getting the picture that was taken that would be a nice thank you to them.

My second question is that I would really love a copy of opening session to share with my mother. As you recall she is bedridden from a stroke and it would mean the world to her to be able to see me talk about her on stage. No rush on these issues, but I wanted to go ahead and check to see what we could do about getting them.

Hi Levin,

Thank you for your interest in the Honors Committee and the Diversity Committee. I've provided a short explanation of what each committee entails below.

The Honors Committee recommends to the Board of Directors (BOD) recipients for the Academy's national honors and awards. The committee meets via teleconference call (generally four to five meetings annually). Most of the work occurs in February and March when the awards nominations, which have been submitted online, are reviewed and scored. Committee members are also asked to review the nomination solicitation and review process on an annual basis. The resulting award recipients are given a national Academy spotlight and recognized at FNCE® and in the Journal.

Note: We are always seeking an NDTR to serve on the Honors Committee.

The Diversity Committee recommends policies and strategies to enhance the recruitment and retention of, and leadership development for, individuals from underrepresented groups as identified by the Academy. The committee also serves as a resource or partner with other Academy units working on diversity projects while striving to increase members' understanding and awareness of issues related to diversity and cultural competency through activities that support the Academy's strategic plan. The committee meets via teleconference call (generally four to five meetings annually) and once, in-person, at FNCE®.

<http://www.eatrightpro.org/resources/leadership/volunteering/committees-and-task-forces>

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,

More importantly, please be on the lookout for the link in Eat Right Weekly that will allow you to volunteer to serve on a committee. That link will come out in December 2017. Members will receive the link in Eat Right Weekly to complete an online form indicating a desire to serve on committees and task forces. Please be sure to complete and submit it; the President-elect and Speaker-elect make their yearly nominations using that list. I wish you the best and appreciate your willingness to serve.

Hello Ms. Martin,

My name is Levin Dotimas. I am an NDTR and a member of the AND. I recently graduated from Brigham Young University and am currently working as a dining room supervisor for Sodexo in Maryland. I was hoping to cross paths with you at FNCE, but was unable to due the great number of people in attendance. I am writing you to ask how I can be involved in a committee. I am especially interested in the Diversity Committee. As a male Filipino, I feel that I am in a special position to be able to influence other minorities to join and strengthen our profession. I also recognize the need to increase our diversity. I'd love to speak with you about this when you have time. This email format does not allow me to attach my resume, but maybe later when you reply I'll be able to send it.

“The Academy supports National Obesity Care Week because there are still barriers to cost-effective and clinically effective solutions to treating obesity,” said registered dietitian nutritionist and Academy President Donna Martin. “The Treat and Reduce Obesity Act would allow a variety of qualified practitioners, including registered dietitian nutritionists, to more effectively treat this disease, which impacts more than one-third of our nation.”

Donna, thank you for your time today! Below is the copyedited version of the response. Please let us know if you prefer it come from the President@eatright.org account and we would be happy to take care of it.

Thank you for sharing your experiences and thoughtful questions.

The decision to roll out the pledge via the magazine platform was informed by two key factors: First, Food & Nutrition has a long-standing “SocialPro” series that covers professionalism in social media and cyberbullying. The magazine also hosts the popular guest blogs Stone Soup, Student Scoop and The Feed, which include social media components designed to foster positive engagement and community. Second, launching through the magazine helped reinforce the distinction between the pledge — which is a voluntary commitment to professional and courteous communications — and the Academy’s Code of Ethics for the Profession of Dietetics.

The Pledge of Professional Civility does not replace the Code of Ethics, but complements the Code by supporting the tenet that nutrition and dietetics practitioners demonstrate respect for the values, rights, knowledge and skills of colleagues and other professionals.

Regarding your concern about free speech, the voluntary pledge does not seek to dictate how a nutrition and dietetics practitioner can behave, but provides guiding principles for how we should behave as professionals and colleagues. For example, if an individual believes fellow practitioners may cause patients or consumers harm through their social media content, an appropriate action is to file a complaint with the ethics committee and allow the process to take it from there. Continuously calling out fellow practitioners in a misguided attempt to “correct” them would not be appropriate. Unfortunately, this is the sort of experience reported by Academy members representing many different perspectives and opinions. (You mentioned some examples yourself!)

As you note, there was a clear need for a campaign addressing professional civility in social media among the nutrition and dietetics community. The Board of Directors approved Food & Nutrition's concept during its September meeting and the Pledge of Professional Civility was developed with the support of respected key influencers in the community. It is clearly stated on the site that pledgers "will be listed on this site and/or in Food & Nutrition Magazine® as having made a public declaration of support for respect and civil discourse among the profession."

The Pledge of Professional Civility encourages behavior that is becoming of the profession, and discourages behavior that dishonors the profession. It is a voluntary commitment that has no bearing on the maintenance of one's credential, and one should not feel obligated to take the pledge if it does not align with one's own values.

Thank you again for reaching out.

Thank you for sharing your experiences and thoughtful questions.

The decision to roll out the pledge via the magazine platform was informed by two key factors: First, Food & Nutrition has a long-standing #SocialPro series that covers professionalism in social media and cyberbullying, and the magazine also hosts the popular guest blogs Stone Soup, Student Scoop and The Feed that includes social media components designed to foster positive engagement and community. Second, launching through the magazine helped reinforce the distinction between the pledge — which is a voluntary commitment to professional and courteous communications — and the Academy's Code of Ethics for the Profession of Dietetics.

The Pledge of Professional Civility does not replace the Code of Ethics, but complements the Code by supporting the tenet that nutrition and dietetics practitioners demonstrate respect for the values, rights, knowledge and skills of colleagues and other professionals.

Regarding your concern about free speech, the voluntary pledge does not seek to dictate how a nutrition and dietetics practitioner can behave, but provides guiding principles for how we should behave as professionals and colleagues. For example, if an individual believes fellow practitioners may cause patients or consumers harm through their social media content, an appropriate action is to file a complaint with the ethics committee and allow the process to take it from there.

Continuously calling out fellow practitioners in a misguided attempt to "correct" them would not be appropriate. Unfortunately, this is the sort of experience reported by Academy members representing many different perspectives and opinions. (You mentioned some examples yourself!)

As you note, there was a clear need for a campaign addressing professional civility in social media among the nutrition and dietetics community. The Board of Directors approved Food & Nutrition's concept during its September meeting and the Pledge of Professional Civility was developed with the support of respected key influencers in the community. It is clearly stated on the site that pledgers "will be listed on this site and/or in Food & Nutrition Magazine® as having made a public declaration of support for respect and civil discourse among the profession."

The Pledge of Professional Civility encourages behavior that is becoming of the profession, and discourages behavior that dishonors the profession. It is a voluntary commitment that has no bearing on the maintenance of one's credential, and one should not feel obligated to take the pledge if it does not align with one's own values.

Reply-To: Leah McGrath <lam1961@yahoo.com>

I appreciate the intent of the Civility Pledge and clearly a discussion on this is needed given what some of our members, like Neva Cochran, Robyn Flipse, Sylvia Klinger and others have been subjected to by members of "Dietitians for Professional Integrity" as well as what vocal advocates of LEAP/MRT have said on-line about members like Milton Stokes and Sherry Coleman Collins. This type of belittling and harassment has been going on for quite some time on Twitter and Facebook.

You would think that after the bullying, harassment and threats I was subject to by fellow dietitians on Dietitians on the Blog Facebook page in September that I would be the first one to sign on to the 'Civility Pledge' Professional Civility - Food & Nutrition Magazine introduced by F&N magazine during FNCE. On the surface it sounded good and in fact I have no issue with the "pledge" itself, but when I read the Guiding Principles more closely I had concerns:

1. Why was this a Food and Nutrition Magazine initiative and not something put forth by the Academy?
2. We have a Code of Ethics and a revised one in the works, why do we need a "pledge"?
3. Who reviewed this? Typically the Academy sends out these sorts of things for comments/responses/feedback before making them public - but they didn't do that with the pledge - at least as far as I know.
4. I won't sign a "pledge" that includes this "As a vehicle for engagement and connection, social media should not be used for disrupting fellow colleagues' engagement with their communities. Practitioners who feel compelled to question the content of a fellow colleague should do so in a private message, and to recognize that it is the recipient's choice whether to engage in further conversation" Here's the thing,

* once you post on Twitter your community is the world. Social media encompasses Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat, Instagram, LinkedIn, Pinterest...while there certainly are situations when you could have a restricted "community" on some of these formats, e.g. a closed group on Facebook (like the Dietitians on the Blog page that bullied and threatened me) this is certainly not the case with Twitter. Once you post on Twitter your community is the world.

*You cannot restrict someone's right to free speech

*How would I know if someone is "fellow colleague" if they, like many dietitians, don't identify themselves as such in their profile?

*If someone is posting something that is blatantly incorrect don't we have a responsibility to question this (in a civil, respected manner) so that others watching silently and part of the community are aware that this information may not be correct?

5. free speech

6. Once you "take the pledge" your name is included so now we have a vehicle to belittle those that have not signed it? Is this really productive or a positive way to handle this? Do people know that their names are going to be published?

Hello Ms. Martin,

My name is Levin Dotimas. I am an NDTR and a member of the AND. I recently graduated from Brigham Young University and am currently working as a dining room supervisor for Sodexo in Maryland. I was hoping to cross paths with you at FNCE, but was unable to due the great number of people in attendance. I am writing you to ask how I can be involved in a committee. I am especially interested in the Diversity Committee. As a male Filipino, I feel that I am in a special position to be able to influence other minorities to join and strengthen our profession. I also recognize the need to increase our diversity. I'd love to speak with you about this when you have time. This email format does not allow me to attach my resume, but maybe later when you reply I'll be able to send it.

Thank you very much for reading and I hope to hear from you soon!

Hi Donna,

I hope you have recovered from a fantastic FNCE! I'm sure that it was exhausting as well as exhilarating. You did an incredible job at the opening session. In fact, it was the best opening session I can remember in the 40 straight FNCEs I've attended! I was nearly in tears listening to Malina sing the National Anthem. I met her on the Nutrition Entrepreneurs DPG EML in 2009 when she was getting her prerequisites to apply for an internship at NYU. She asked a question on the EML and I replied with some references and we continued to communicate. She told me of her transition to a second career after working as a professional actress, singer and model. We stayed in touch and met in person a couple of years later when she came to her first and second FNCEs and sat at my Gala table. I advised her as she applied for her internship, started her first job and then took a second position after staying home with her 3 girls for a few years. She contacted me about applying for the spokesperson position in NYC when it opened this year and I encouraged her to do so and wrote a rec letter. I was so thrilled when she told me she was singing at the opening session. And she did an amazing job.

I also heard that you met my part-time assistant, Adrian Boulter, who told you about one of my other mentees, Tracy Williams, a young member in Chicago with cerebral palsy. I've been working with Tracy virtually since Feb. 2016 and finally met her in person at this FNCE. I also arranged for her to room with one of my former interns! (Those were the two I was having lunch with on Friday at the Hyatt McCormick when you and Mary came in and met them>0 Adrian hasn't told me yet that she spoke to you about Tracy, but Tracy did! When we were out on the dance floor at the Monday fundraiser, Adrian and I got photos with Harriet Cloud and Linda Farr. When I saw you nearby and asked her if she wanted a photo with "the president," she said she already had one. She is my girl!!!! No fear taking opportunities!!

I am just so grateful that you are our president and representing us so well. You have the right approach, communication skills, background and look for the job and you make us, as a profession, look good. Thank you for taking time from your job, life and family to do this job.

Reply-To: Leah McGrath <lam1961@yahoo.com>

I appreciate the intent of the Civility Pledge and clearly a discussion on this is needed given what some of our members, like Neva Cochran, Robyn Flipse, Sylvia Klinger and others have been subjected to by members of "Dietitians for Professional Integrity" as well as what vocal advocates of LEAP/MRT have said on-line about members like Milton Stokes and Sherry Coleman Collins. This type of belittling and harassment has been going on for quite some time on Twitter and Facebook.

You would think that after the bullying, harassment and threats I was subject to by fellow dietitians on Dietitians on the Blog Facebook page in September that I would be the first one to sign on to the 'Civility Pledge" Professional Civility - Food & Nutrition Magazine introduced by F&N magazine during FNCE. On the surface it sounded good and in fact I have no issue with the "pledge" itself, but when I read the Guiding Principles more closely I had concerns:

1. Why was this a Food and Nutrition Magazine initiative and not something put forth by the Academy?
2. We have a Code of Ethics and a revised one in the works, why do we need a "pledge"?
3. Who reviewed this? Typically the Academy sends out these sorts of things for comments/responses/feedback before making them public - but they didn't do that with the pledge - at least as far as I know.
4. I won't sign a "pledge" that includes this "As a vehicle for engagement and connection, social media should not be used for disrupting fellow colleagues' engagement with their communities. Practitioners who feel compelled to question the content of a fellow colleagues should do so in a private message, and to recognize that it is the recipient's choice whether to engage in further conversation" Here's the thing,
 - * once you post on Twitter your community is the world. Social media encompasses Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat, Instagram, LinkedIn, Pinterest...while there certainly are situations when you could have a restricted "community" on some of these formats, e.g. a closed group on Facebook (like the Dietitians on the Blog page that bullied and threatened me) this is certainly not the case with Twitter. Once you post on Twitter your community is the world.
 - *You cannot restrict someone's right to free speech
 - *How would I know if someone is "fellow colleague" if they, like many dietitians, don't identify themselves as such in their profile?
 - *If someone is posting something that is blatantly incorrect don't we have a responsibility to question this (in a civil, respected manner) so that others watching silently and part of the community are aware that this information may not be correct?

5. free speech

6. Once you "take the pledge" your name is included so now we have a vehicle to belittle those that have not signed it? Is this really productive or a positive way to handle this? Do people know that their names are going to be published?

Dear Julianne,

It was wonderful meeting you and all the students at the School Spirit Award reception! You are the future of the Academy and the nutrition and dietetics profession. I appreciate your interest in volunteering your time and expertise for the Academy. A number of ways for you to serve follow.

- Volunteer to be your program's Student Liaison.
- Apply for a scholarship through the Academy Foundation (available in the spring).

- Consider submitting an article for the Student Scoop e-newsletter and blog.
- Get involved with a dietetic practice group, member interest group or your affiliate.
- Create a mentor profile through the eMentoring system to help other students learn from your experiences.

<http://www.eatrightpro.org/resources/leadership/volunteering/volunteer-opportunities>.

In December 2017 members will be receiving a link in Eat Right Weekly to complete an online form indicating a desire to serve on committees and task forces. Please be sure to complete and submit it; the President-elect and Speaker-elect make their yearly nominations using that list. I am also sharing your name with Academy groups who may be looking for students and/or practitioners to serve on their committee, councils, or taskforces. I will remember your initiative and your interest to serve.

Hi Donna,

I appreciate you sharing this. I am surprised because she is always so complimentary and we worked well together when she was Speaker and President. Sylvia is probably not happy with me these days because I won't reimburse her for her non approved international trips she takes. She also asked to be our "International Ambassador" / representative. The same can be said about Bea though. She wanted reimbursement for being Sonja's handler. As our rep to ICDA Sylvia got pushback and was not happy because she never informed the Board about the new international education and accreditation standards . On the other hand she was my staunch supporter when Patti Landers on NDEP attacked me for supporting the NDA and when she questioned my salary. Joan, please have the letter we have re the salary, benchmarking, etc which Lucille used after she received an inquiry as an attachment. Most of my counterparts in the nonprofit sector do not have a related degree but attain the position by experience and outcomes. Joan, please also attach the release related to my background. Perhaps my work with Harvard and national election by my peers to chair of NCCA may count with her. How would Sylvia know what the President's budget is? The whole conversation about Dawn is strange too since then President Darlene Dougherty and Dawn's good friend came to the office and walked her out after one year. I know Mary is not copied on this so I look forward to hearing more (wrong choice of words!).

Hi Mary:

I wanted to take a few minutes of your time in Chicago but it was just not possible & probably not the right time anyway.

If I may, I would like to share my thoughts & feelings regarding a talk with Sylvia. As you know, we do travel together. . I would prefer to keep quiet but I need to share this. The reason is because she told me that she spoke (complain) to you about this.

S is not happy about Pat Babjak. She complained about the $400 K salary and her type of college degree. Also that since her presidency, the AND Presidents' expense budget has increased 4 times. Huh? I don't see anything wrong here.

I believe Pat is doing well, is committed to our cause and deserves our thanks.

When Sylvia said an RDN should be the CEO, like Dawn Treatwell, I really got upset. Pat compared to Dawn? And I told her what I thought.

Dawn came to Dayton, OH from Cornell U. She taught at Cornell while her husband was taking his doctorate. Anyway, I was the president of the Dayton district then, and Dawn, the president elect.

She created so much havoc at work and at the district that included cancelling a member meeting less than 3 hours before w/o Board approval. She used a "talk" as her own, a Readers Digest item. Lots more.

When Dawn became ADA's CEO, some of us in OH joked about giving up our membership!

I have known Pat for a long time. Even before the Philippine Reciprocity (CDR/PRC) Agreement, when she was the CDR Executive Director. I was the one asked to hand deliver the letter to the head of the Philippine RDs at the ICD in Israel (1992).

I like Pat and am so glad she is our CEO. (Once, I even handed her a plaque from FADAN with an RD behind her name. This, she kept till she became an honorary member.) I believe she has done and continues to do what is needed as our CEO. She is committed. I can go on and on but I think you know what I mean.

It has taken a lot for me to share this and the only reason I do is because Sylvia said she talked/complained to you - and that an RD like Dawn should be the president!

Thank you.

Pledge of Professional Civility

As you know, Food & Nutrition Magazine® has launched an initiative to help foster community and constructive discourse among peers: The Pledge of Professional Civility. The pledge was announced during FNCE® by Academy President Donna Martin at the Member Showcase and discussed during the FNCE® session on Cyberbullying, presented by Academy President-elect Mary Russell and Past-President Connie Diekman.

- As professionals who are active in social media and communications, you are no doubt aware of some challenges regarding a shift in the online behavioral landscape. Forums such as social media channels and listservs continue to provide positive opportunities for discussion and connection; however, antagonism and negativity also have become more prevalent. The Pledge of Professional Civility is a voluntary, public commitment to the civil treatment of professional peers, including those with whom we may not agree on all issues. Anyone is welcome to take the pledge.
- As Academy leaders, we encourage all of you to review the Guiding Principles and supporting resources, take the Pledge of Professional Civility, and help demonstrate positive, productive engagement among our community.

Submit National Honors and Awards Nominations

Do you know an outstanding role model who has advanced the nutrition and dietetics profession, exhibited leadership, and shown devotion to serving others in both dietetics and allied fields? If so, recognize their contributions by nominating them for an Academy National Award. Submit an intent to nominate by January 15, 2018 and complete the full online nomination by March 1, 2018. Award recipients will be announced in May 2018 and recognized at the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' 2018 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo in Washington, D.C. Learn More

Hi Donna,

I appreciate you sharing this. I am surprised because she is always so complimentary and we worked well together when she was Speaker and President. Sylvia is probably not happy with me these days because I won't reimburse her for her non approved international trips she takes. She also asked to be our "International Ambassador" / representative. The same can be said about Bea though. She wanted reimbursement for being Sonja's handler. As our rep to ICDA Sylvia got pushback and was not happy because she never informed the Board about the new international education and accreditation standards . On the other hand she was my staunch supporter when Patti Landers on NDEP attacked me for supporting the NDA and when she questioned my salary. Joan, please have the letter we have re the salary, benchmarking, etc which Lucille used after she received an inquiry as an attachment. Most of my counterparts in the nonprofit sector do not have a related degree but attain the position by experience and outcomes. Joan, please also attach the release related to my background. Perhaps my work with Harvard and national election by my peers to chair of NCCA may count with her. How would Sylvia know what the President's budget is? The whole conversation about Dawn is strange too since then President Darlene Dougherty and Dawn's good friend came to the office and walked her out after one year. I know Mary is not copied on this so I look forward to hearing more (wrong choice of words!).

Hi Mary:

I wanted to take a few minutes of your time in Chicago but it was just not possible & probably not the right time anyway.

If I may, I would like to share my thoughts & feelings regarding a talk with Sylvia. As you know, we do travel together. . I would prefer to keep quiet but I need to share this. The reason is because she told me that she spoke (complain) to you about this.

S is not happy about Pat Babjak. She complained about the $400 K salary and her type of college degree. Also that since her presidency, the AND Presidents' expense budget has increased 4 times. Huh? I don't see anything wrong here.

I believe Pat is doing well, is committed to our cause and deserves our thanks.

When Sylvia said an RDN should be the CEO, like Dawn Treatwell, I really got upset. Pat compared to Dawn? And I told her what I thought.

Dawn came to Dayton, OH from Cornell U. She taught at Cornell while her husband was taking his doctorate. Anyway, I was the president of the Dayton district then, and Dawn, the president elect. She created so much havoc at work and at the district that included cancelling a member meeting less than 3 hours before w/o Board approval. She used a "talk" as her own, a Readers Digest item. Lots more.

When Dawn became ADA's CEO, some of us in OH joked about giving up our membership!

I have known Pat for a long time. Even before the Philippine Reciprocity (CDR/PRC) Agreement, when she was the CDR Executive Director. I was the one asked to hand deliver the letter to the head of the Philippine RDs at the ICD in Israel (1992).

I like Pat and am so glad she is our CEO. (Once, I even handed her a plaque from FADAN with an RD behind her name. This, she kept till she became an honorary member.) I believe she has done and continues to do what is needed as our CEO. She is committed. I can go on and on but I think you know what I mean.

It has taken a lot for me to share this and the only reason I do is because Sylvia said she talked/complained to you - and that an RD like Dawn should be the president!

Thank you.

Hi all,

Thank you all for your hard work in planning an exceptional meeting. Our team echoes all of the comments already said. I don't think it's coincidence that we saw the highest attendance on the year the CLL planned a record number of sessions. I've been monitoring the evaluations and I'm confident that many of the CLL planned sessions will score near perfect. I plan on sharing all session scores with you before you start grading proposals. This will give you an opportunity to listen to the recordings to see which sessions scored well and which ones missed the mark.

I will provide the names of the speakers we are reaching out to for anchor sessions next week. In the meantime, please encourage your colleagues and fellow thought leaders to submit proposals for FNCE 2018. The call is open until Nov. 15th. I'm hoping the quality of the program this year can set the bar for proposals for next year (and lessen the burden on the CLL).

You all are amazing! Thanks for making the planning process so enjoyable.

Cindy and Donna:

Here are my thoughts ... and I can certainly come up with more as necessary:

Georgia - Donna has this one covered

North Dakota or Maine

My first choice is Maine ... because of articulate members. Also North Dakota has used oil $$$$ to modernization in many districts. I could provide contacts if you want them.

•Jeanne Reilly: jreilly@windhamraymondschools.org

•SNS DPG and SNA member, director of year, SNA state president

•Has already worked with Pew

•She can help you find more Mainers if you need them.

California or Pennsylvania

My first choice is in Pennsylvania. I do have plenty of California contacts if you want them.

•Amy Virus, PhD, RDN, alvir@philasd.org

•Assistant Director in Philly Schools where they need lots of equipment

•Certainly Academy member, probably SNA member

•I have several other ideas for PA districts if Amy does not work out.

New York

•NYC Schools are an obvious choice and they have RDNs

•However most of the update large cities have terrible problems with aging equipment.

•I can suggest some folks ... but I need a little more information:

•Do you want only self operators or are FSM companies ok?

Illinois

My first choice is the RDN that made the video I showed at the end of my Cooper Lecture.

•Her name is Sandy Voss and she has two adjacent district Marquardt 15 and Glen Ellyn 41 (which I KNOW needs equipment.

•Sandy is definitely an RDN (and I think an Academy member) as is her assistant Stefanie.

•You can reach her at sandy svoss@d15.us

•if you need more Illinois contacts, Chicago Public Schools has significant modernization needs. The new RDN for CPS was at the Lecture ... but she works for FSM.

•Jill Williams, Karen Greathouse and Carol Longley (all SNS members) would certainly have additional ideas.

This should get you started ... let me know about FSM companies and I help fill in the gaps.

SOOOO wonderful to celebrate with you in Chicago ... see you at Golden Radish!

I'm helping Donna by reaching out to you for a list of school districts that may have some stories on the need of equipment for the varying needs that we have (breakfast, lunch, ffvp, Supper, disaster relief, sustainability, farm to school, etc).

The states they wanted to focus on are:

Georgia - Donna has this one covered

California or Pennsylvania

New York

Illinois

Please copy us as I can help in reaching out to our SNS DPG members. AND PAC prefers that the school district is represented by an academy member (and we would live it if they are an SNS member as well.

Congratulations to all.. I was really so sorry to miss this amazing meeting- especially since it's my last year on the Committee for Lifelong learning and I was excitedly awaiting to see how our planned sessions turned out...

Life is always about trying to have a balanced orchestration between our private and professional lives-- A tough task for sure. I missed FNCE because months ago my husband had discretely planned a re-enactment of our honeymoon during this exact FNCE time period. I just didn't have the heart to tell him that I had to cancel his surprise due to FNCE. Seems impossible to believe, but FNCE coincided with the exact date of our anniversary.. So, I am so sorry, but during FNCE I was eating lobsters, ocean front, thinking of you all and our sessions!

So, thank you again to everyone- and to Donna for the kind shout-out. Your presentation was so inspiring and genuine- a true tribute to leadership of the Academy.

Joan- please share my sentiments with the BOD too for me!

Take care everyone,

Hope

Dear Headquarters Team:

As our President Donna Martin says, "Teamwork makes the dream work." No one team can do it alone. Each and every staff member significantly contributed to this year's highly successful 2017 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo! From planning to execution it was par excellence. Member leaders from the Committee for Lifelong Learning, HOD, CDR, ACEND, Quality Management, DPGs, LPPC, Council on Research, Foundation, Honors Committee and many more worked in partnership with staff to develop terrific sessions and events.

On behalf of myself and the Board of Directors, we applaud each and every one of you for making this unprecedented week happen and for your remarkable work on behalf of all attendees, exceeding all expectations. THANK YOU for making our Centennial a memorable experience for members!

As you may already know, this year's FNCE was the most-attended event in the Academy's 100-year history: more than 13,000 registrants, shattering all records. In her Opening Session remarks, President Martin singled out our Headquarters Team as... "incredible and with us every step of the way. I assure you, we are in excellent hands." If you haven't already, I encourage you to read Donna's entire Opening Session speech, and view the inspiring videos highlighting our members in action.

FNCE 2017 was one for the record book. In all my years with the Academy, I have never been as proud of the Headquarters Team as I am today. Thank you for your dedication to our members and the Academy!

Nothing new is being mandated by CDR other than the Masters degree requirement in 2024 for individuals establishing registration eligibility only. Subject: PRC/CDR Reciprocity

Hello Donna:

First, like to let you know how wonderful the FNCE was!

RE: The CDR/PRC Reciprocity, I have all the information and pictures of the signing somewhere here.

Sanirose Orbeta was the PRC representative who signed the document. She was very active & chaired the PRC BOND. Now, Virgith Buena is the Chair of the PRC Board of Nutritionists Dietitians. Two others (Imelda Agdeppa and Joy Buen Viage) were appointed last year by the Philippine President to make up the team.

Virgith and Mel from PRC and Zhenie Velasco, the NDAP (their AND) president met with you. They were at the MIG Reception, too. Like to have you at the NDAP convention in 2019.

The PRC (Professional Regulations Commission) is the licensing arm of the gov't. It also licenses doctors, nurses, lawyers, accountants, etc.

Chris Reidy has already informed (letter) Virgith of the need for MS degrees in 2023. They also know that the baccalaureate grads can take the exams for NDTRs. I told them about it after talking to Chris a while back. Of course, the supervised practice continues.

My role with it? I was asked by CDR (through Karen Lechowich) to hand-deliver the letter to the Philippine representative at the ICD in Israel. Velona Corpuz was the head of the PH team attending the convention. That was in 1982. Been involved as a messenger or reviewer of correspondences from the PH for CDR especially from the start.

I invited the PH ambassador and other Filipino RDs around the US to attend the signing of the Agreement. Sanirose Orbeta and the ambassador were the signatories for PRC. Pat Babjak and Chris Reidy were present. Sue Finn was there, too. Colleen M (I think) signed the agreement, too. I need to check the record & pictures.

I will be sending copies of the signatories and pictures to Virgith as requested.

Please share with Mary Russell? (I don't have her email address.)

As to whoever told you that you are not friendly just want to make you feel bad. It's not true and we all know that. I wish I saw/met her. You bet, I would have given her a piece of my mind.

Again, thank you.

Bea

First thanks for making me look so good at FNCE. My scripts were all great. The HOD presentation was really well received. Your staff are amazing. Tom sorry I never got to see you to give you a big hug.

I thought it might be good to do a president's page on the Dietitians working on disaster relief. For example the Dietitians in Houston who worked in the hospitals over night for days to feed the hospital. The Dietitians that opened their schools to feed the hurricanes victims who had to flee. The Educators that helped the Puerto Rico students get the money together to be able to come to FNCE when the banks were closed. I am not sure how we could bring in the California wildfires, but you might be able to come up with an angle. We could also talk about the $100,000 the Academy gave to the disaster relief fund and ask people to donate. What are your thoughts?

Hi, Donna:

Following up on our emails from this morning, we have checked and Cilia Mir, the educator from Puerto Rico who brought her students to FNCE, is not an Academy member. Our practice has been to feature only members in President's Pages (it's one of the benefits of membership). Would it be all right with you if we postpone a page on disaster relief for a future month, and we could in the meantime locate members who were affected and/or took part in recovery efforts. We can check with Juan L. Cruz Colon, the Puerto Rico affiliate president (and a member...!) for suggestions and potentially profile him as well. We could also seek members' stories via communications like Eat Right Weekly.

So for February, would you be OK with us doing a page that you had earlier suggested on RDNs involved in agriculture? (See below.)

Please let us know your thoughts, and we'll move forward. Thank you very much!

Tom

Agriculture

Based on our Second Century plans and our new strategic plan it is imperative that dietetic professionals learn more about the field of agriculture. All of us need to know where our food comes from and how can we as dietitians make sure we have enough nutritious food to feed the growing populations of the world. Children need to understand that our food does not come from a grocery store, but from hard working farmers. Combining nutrition and agriculture into a profession is a natural fit.

1. Communication in ag is Amy Myrdal Miller of California. Amy grew up on a farm and works extensively in agriculture; all types of crops.

2. Actual Farmer is Jennie Schmidt, Maryland. She's an RD farmer. Tomatoes, soy, corn and wine grapes. Used to also farm organically. Jennie serves on several farm/ag professional society boards and also has been an active Academy member serving on many committees, paper development, etc. She's a rock star.

3. Ag Promotion / promoting fruit/veg and working with farmers, produce retail/supermarkets, schools, and much more is CEO and president of Produce for Better Health, Wendy Reinhardt Kapsak, MS RD. Works with organics and conventional. All types of Ag. All forms fruit and veg.

Hi, Donna:

Following up on our emails from this morning, we have checked and Cilia Mir, the educator from Puerto Rico who brought her students to FNCE, is not an Academy member. Our practice has been to feature only members in President's Pages (it's one of the benefits of membership). Would it be all right with you if we postpone a page on disaster relief for a future month, and we could in the meantime locate members who were affected and/or took part in recovery efforts. We can check with Juan L. Cruz Colon, the Puerto Rico affiliate president (and a member...!) for suggestions and potentially profile him as well. We could also seek members' stories via communications like Eat Right Weekly.

So for February, would you be OK with us doing a page that you had earlier suggested on RDNs involved in agriculture? (See below.)

Please let us know your thoughts, and we'll move forward. Thank you very much!

Tom

Agriculture

Based on our Second Century plans and our new strategic plan it is imperative that dietetic professionals learn more about the field of agriculture. All of us need to know where our food comes from and how can we as dietitians make sure we have enough nutritious food to feed the growing populations of the world. Children need to understand that our food does not come from a grocery store, but from hard working farmers. Combining nutrition and agriculture into a profession is a natural fit.

1. Communication in ag is Amy Myrdal Miller of California. Amy grew up on a farm and works extensively in agriculture; all types of crops.

2. Actual Farmer is Jennie Schmidt, Maryland. She's an RD farmer. Tomatoes, soy, corn and wine grapes. Used to also farm organically. Jennie serves on several farm/ag professional society boards and also has been an active Academy member serving on many committees, paper development, etc. She's a rock star.

3. Ag Promotion / promoting fruit/veg and working with farmers, produce retail/supermarkets, schools, and much more is CEO and president of Produce for Better Health, Wendy Reinhardt Kapsak, MS RD. Works with organics and conventional. All types of Ag. All forms fruit and veg.

Hi, Donna: Thank you very much, and congratulations on a fantastic FNCE. I was at your Opening Session speech and you did an amazing job! We're glad to know we were able to help in any way we could. (And I'll pencil in a delayed hug for the next time we see you...!)

We would be glad to help with a president's page on RDNs involved in disaster relief. It's a great and timely topic and shows what our members can do for people under the most trying of circumstances. Are there specific members you would like us to spotlight? I saw a photo on Facebook of you and Pat meeting at FNCE with an educator from Puerto Rico. If you can please send us the names of anyone you'd like to feature in the article, we will be glad to contact them.

I will be on vacation for two weeks after tomorrow, so we will aim to get the text to you for review by (or before) Thanksgiving, which will give us enough time to make the Journal's deadline.

Thank you and congratulations again, and we will see you soon!

Doris and Tom,

First thanks for making me look so good at FNCE. My scripts were all great. The HOD presentation was really well received. Your staff are amazing. Tom sorry I never got to see you to give you a big hug.

I thought it might be good to do a president's page on the Dietitians working on disaster relief. For example the Dietitians in Houston who worked in the hospitals over night for days to feed the hospital. The Dietitians that opened their schools to feed the hurricanes victims who had to flee. The Educators that helped the Puerto Rico students get the money together to be able to come to FNCE when the banks were closed. I am not sure how we could bring in the California wildfires, but you might be able to come up with an angle. We could also talk about the $100,000 the Academy gave to the disaster relief fund and ask people to donate. What are your thoughts?

Dear Headquarters Team:

As our President Donna Martin says, "Teamwork makes the dream work." No one team can do it alone. Each and every staff member significantly contributed to this year's highly successful 2017 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo! From planning to execution it was par excellence. Member leaders from the Committee for Lifelong Learning, HOD, CDR, ACEND, Quality Management, DPGs, LPPC, Council on Research, Foundation, Honors Committee and many more worked in partnership with staff to develop terrific sessions and events.

On behalf of myself and the Board of Directors, we applaud each and every one of you for making this unprecedented week happen and for your remarkable work on behalf of all attendees, exceeding all expectations. THANK YOU for making our Centennial a memorable experience for members!

As you may already know, this year's FNCE was the most-attended event in the Academy's 100-year history: more than 13,000 registrants, shattering all records. In her Opening Session remarks, President Martin singled out our Headquarters Team as... "incredible and with us every step of the way. I assure you, we are in excellent hands." If you haven't already, I encourage you to read Donna's entire Opening Session speech, and view the inspiring videos highlighting our members in action.

FNCE 2017 was one for the record book. In all my years with the Academy, I have never been as proud of the Headquarters Team as I am today. Thank you for your dedication to our members and the Academy!

Donna Martin,

I ask the favor of your indulgence to hear about why , as I pack my bags for FNCE 2017, I feel so especially joyful. I know that you are more than “very busy” at this moment, so understand if you have no time to read this immediately.

We have 3 generations /5 registered dietitians in our family. For this reason, the lives of our family members have been filled with the enthusiasm that we all share related to this gift. We have all practiced in different settings , savored all of our professional days and look forward to all that the future holds.

Attached is a picture of us all, in order:

- Brian Higginson is a Nutrition Care Clinic Dietitian at Swedish Medical Center in Seattle
- Michelle Higginson is a Clinical Nutrition Specialist at Swedish Medical Center in Seattle. Brian and Michelle are husband and wife , Michelle is my niece
- Ruth Clark is now retired, was one of the first consultant dietitians in long term care , beginning in 1968. Ruth is my Mom
- Kristin Hatch is owner and founder of Nutrition for Life, Inc, a private practice in Lakeville, Ma
- Carolyn Milles is owner and founder of CV Wellbeing , a private practice in Gorham, ME and Carolyn Victoria Brands, working as a brand and marketing consultant primarily for health professionals. Carolyn is our daughter

Michelle, Carolyn and I will actually be at FNCE17. It is also special to us, as my Mom, Ruth, began her internship at the VA Hospital in Chicago in 1944, needed to leave midstream to attend to family concerns and finished her internship at Mount Auburn Hospital in Boston. Given that this is the 100th anniversary of the Academy, it is especially momentous that we will be in Chicago together, where Ruth began her preparation to be a RD.

Thank you for allowing me to share this with you.

Last , but not least, I thank you very much for taking on the immense responsibility of leading our professional organization. The impact we have as an organization is increasingly significant and broad in spectrum. We appreciate your gift of time, talent and expertise.

My cell phone is 508-965-1124 if you should ever wish to contact me.

Sincerely,

Kristin

Hi, Donna: Thank you very much, and congratulations on a fantastic FNCE. I was at your Opening Session speech and you did an amazing job! We're glad to know we were able to help in any way we could. (And I'll pencil in a delayed hug for the next time we see you...!)

We would be glad to help with a president's page on RDNs involved in disaster relief. It's a great and timely topic and shows what our members can do for people under the most trying of circumstances. Are there specific members you would like us to spotlight? I saw a photo on Facebook of you and Pat meeting at FNCE with an educator from Puerto Rico. If you can please send us the names of anyone you'd like to feature in the article, we will be glad to contact them.

I will be on vacation for two weeks after tomorrow, so we will aim to get the text to you for review by (or before) Thanksgiving, which will give us enough time to make the Journal's deadline.

Thank you and congratulations again, and we will see you soon!

Doris and Tom,

First thanks for making me look so good at FNCE. My scripts were all great. The HOD presentation was really well received. Your staff are amazing. Tom sorry I never got to see you to give you a big hug.

I thought it might be good to do a president's page on the Dietitians working on disaster relief. For example the Dietitians in Houston who worked in the hospitals over night for days to feed the hospital. The Dietitians that opened their schools to feed the hurricanes victims who had to flee. The Educators that helped the Puerto Rico students get the money together to be able to come to FNCE when the banks were closed. I am not sure how we could bring in the California wildfires, but you might be able to come up with an angle. We could also talk about the $100,000 the Academy gave to the disaster relief fund and ask people to donate. What are your thoughts?

2017 FNCE was a Success

The 2017 FNCE was a huge success. The PIA staff would like to thank all of the LPPC and ANDPAC members who volunteered their time at the ANDPAC booth to encourage other members to take action on issues that impact the nutrition and dietetics communities. Many thanks! Stay tuned for highlights from the Conference.

FNCE 2018 and Public Policy Workshop Update

FNCE 2018 will be held October 20 – 23 in Washington, D.C. In order to make the most of the Academy’s presence in the nation’s capital, PPW will be integrated into FNCE with Hill visits scheduled for Wednesday, October 24. More information and guidance will follow from the PIA team and from your affiliate and DPG/MIG staff partners including budget considerations. There will be policy activities and events throughout the conference – plan to attend now! Since PPW will not be held in June, the Academy will instead host a quarterly advocacy day.

Strategic Measures Update

This year, we have had 100 percent participation in the data collection for the strategic measures. The PIA staff, Tenasha Williams and Nate Strizinger, are in the process of analyzing and compiling the data in an updated format. The data should be released in early 2018.

Public Policy Panels and State Issues to be reviewed

Mike Glasgow, vice chair of the Legislative and Public Policy Committee is leading a task force that will conduct an environmental scan of state issues and public policy panel positions. The task force will be reaching out to affiliates to solicit information, ideas and feedback. The recommendations of the group will be used to plan future policy initiatives.

2018 National Anti-Hunger Policy Conference Registration Open

The 2018 National Anti-Hunger Policy Conference will be held on February 25-27, 2018 at the Omni Hotel in Washington, DC. Over 1,000 participants are expected to attend the Conference. Please register by January 5 to reserve your spot (you can also take advantage of the Early-Bird rate $350 if you register now).

FDA's Proposed Delay of Nutrition Facts Label Compliance Raises Academy's concerns

The Academy is in the process of reviewing the rationale from the Food and Drug Administration for its proposed delay of the compliance deadline by up to 1 1/2 years for final rules associated with the updated Nutrition Facts Label. As stated by the FDA in its proposal, manufacturers with $10 million or more in annual food sales would have until January 1, 2020 to implement the new label, and manufacturers with less than $10 million in annual food sales would have until January 1, 2021. The Academy will be commenting to the FDA about its proposal and its consistency with the Academy's Principles for Nutrition Labeling. We will keep you updated on more information as it becomes available.

Link Between Worksite Wellness and Cancer, Cardiovascular and Other Chronic Disease Prevention

According to the Bureau Labor of Statistics of 2016, Americans spend 41 percent of every food dollar on food purchased away from home. The Academy encourages the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to recognize worksite food consumption for its expected substantial contribution to overall nutrition and calorie intake and thus its effect on health status. On October 10, 2017, the Academy released comments on the CDC's Draft National Occupational Research Agenda focused on the preventive nature of effective worksite wellness measures, and emphasized the Academy's support for the continuation of funding, research vetting of relevant resources and the sharing of best practices and strategies from successful evidencebased workplace wellness programs.

Action Alerts Open – Please Post Message

It's not too late to voice your concerns. There are currently three action alerts, described in detail below, that require members' attention:

- 1. Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act, (H.R. 3124/S. 1299) – Medicare provides coverage for testing our nation's seniors for diabetes and pre-diabetes, but until a patient is diagnosed with diabetes MNT is not a covered service. Academy members should reach out to members of Congress to gain support for the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 3124 /S. 1299). The bill, backed by the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance, would reimburse RDNs for medical nutrition therapy provided to patients with pre-diabetes.
- 2. Nutrition Education in the Farm Bill – Congress is currently working on the reauthorization of the Farm Bill, which reauthorizes two important nutrition education programs: SNAP Nutrition

Education and Obesity Prevention grants (SNAP-Ed) and the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP). These education programs coordinate to maximize reach and attempt, with limited funding, to meet the need for nutrition education messages that empower families to make healthy choices. We urge Academy members to take action and ask Congress to include SNAP-ED and EFNEP in the Farm Bill. These programs provide targeted effective nutrition education that empowers families to make lasting behavioral change and build skills to manage limited resources towards economic self-sufficiency beyond the short time that a typical SNAP recipient utilizes that benefit.

3. Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, H.R. 1953/S.830 – A new report from the CDC shows that the prevalence of obesity has risen to 40 percent of adults and 19 percent of youth. These stunning statistics are another reminder of the importance of intervention and counseling from RDNs.

There are several ways you can get involved.

Weight Management DPG Chair Eileen Ford, MS, RD encourages you to contact your member of Congress today and ask them to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, a bill which will help address the obesity epidemic by providing better treatment options from health professionals such as RDNs. Eileen invites you to join the Weight Management DPG if you are interested in this critical practice area.

Notable mentions: Please join us during the week of October 29 – November 4 in recognizing National Obesity Care Week. We are excited to participate in the 3rd Annual NOCW, a national awareness campaign to ensure anyone affected by obesity receives respectful and comprehensive care.

Take Action

Cut and past the following message and post to your communication platforms.

(PPCs/PALs, Please Post this Message to Your Communication Channels)

Important Congressional Issues Require Your Action!

As a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, please urge your policymakers to support legislation that protects and values nutrition services in areas of prevention and treatment (including treatment and reduction of obesity and diabetes prevention) and in the role of nutrition education as highlighted in the Farm Bill. It is important for members of Congress to hear from their constituency. As vital decisions are made regarding health care in the upcoming weeks, the voice of every member is critical. Take action today!

Hello, NDEP members –

In order to help keep everyone in the loop, I'd like to share information that NDEP Council and members will be reviewing and discussing as part of the NDEP Council meeting and at the Membership Breakfast Meeting during FNCE in Chicago.

Reports to NDEP have been submitted by ACEND, CDR, Council on Future Practice (CFP), and the Board of Directors (BOD), as well as NDEP Committee reports submitted by each committee's chairperson. ACEND and CDR representatives will also be on hand during the NDEP Membership Breakfast to present their updates and field questions, and have provided their presentation slides for everyone to review ahead of the meeting if desired.

These reports and presentation slides are now available in our NDEP portal library under the heading FNCE Member Meeting 2017. To visit the portal, go to <http://ndep.webauthor.com>

If you're planning on attending FNCE and can join us for the NDEP Membership Breakfast on Monday, October 23 from 6:30 AM to 7:45 AM at the Hyatt Regency McCormick Place, we'll look forward to seeing you there! If you'd like to touch base with me before the membership meeting, please don't hesitate to do so.

If you're not able to attend FNCE and join us for the NDEP Membership Breakfast, please consider taking a look at the reports and presentation slides, and then letting me know if you have any questions or comments.

I'd like to be to provide everyone with an opportunity ask questions and provide comments, including anyone who is unable to attend our Membership Breakfast. This will be followed by compiling the responses of our NDEP Council, committee chairs, and liaisons from CDR, ACEND, CFP, and BOD and sharing them with everyone via our NDEP portal post-FNCE.

Thanks - I'm looking forward to hearing from you.

Hello everyone,

I wanted to take a minute to thank all of you once again for agreeing to present at the upcoming RR training this Saturday.

We have 39 reps in attendance, which is more than we have had for the past 2 years! I know each of them will benefit from your expertise that you have graciously agreed to share with them.

By now, all of you should have gotten the final agenda for the training. Because we have only one day to cover a lot of material, it is important that we try and stick to the time schedule, so please try to arrive a few minutes before you are scheduled to speak. Also, as you approach the end of your allotted time to present, I will be holding a sign saying "5" to indicate that you have 5 minutes to wrap up your presentation. I will then hold up another sign that says "End" to let you know that you will need to quickly complete your presentation so time for Q&A can follow. (I wanted to give you a heads up so you were not surprised when you saw me doing this J).

Thank you again and safe travels to all of you!

See you Saturday,

Karen

I'll add the AODA meeting to the schedule as time TBD, and await the details Mariana provides.

I don't know who told AODA there was a conflict. AODA traditionally holds their exec committee mtg after FNCE and since it's usually an all day meeting, scheduling options would be available.

Subject: New Strategic Plan

In September, the Board of Directors adopted a new Strategic Plan. A copy is attached and can be accessed on the Academy's website by clicking here< <http://www.eatrightpro.org/resource/leadership/board-of-directors/strategic-plan/what-is-the-academys-strategic-plan>>.

The Academy involved thousands of external stakeholders and members in the strategic planning process, including students and Millennial members, general membership, Council on Future Practice, HOD, DPGs, MIGs and the Academy and Foundation boards. Last fall, we hosted the Nutrition Impact Summit where we engaged over 200 stakeholders. The Summit helped shape a collective vision for our future and ideas for collaborative initiatives.

The plan includes a new Vision for the Academy: A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition. Our plan also includes a new Mission for the organization: Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition. We have adopted five Principles that reflect our core commitments. As an organization and as a profession, we will apply the principles to make an impact in three focus areas: prevention and well-being, health care and health systems, and food safety and nutrition security.

The new Strategic Plan expands and builds upon our organizational strengths in research, professional development, workforce capacity, advocacy and communications – all of which translate to opportunities for branding the profession and our organization. The plan is dynamic, future-focused and measureable, and as with previous plans, the Board will regularly review and modify the plan in the context of the evolving environment. Soon we will be introducing our global strategy for standardizing education and elevating practice worldwide. We will also be establishing international opportunities for our members across the continuum from students to professionals in practice.

We have planned an exciting celebration at FNCE this year, highlighted by Donna announcing the new Strategic Plan at Opening Session. The welcome to Chicago began with a display of Academy centennial banners at the airports and throughout the city. This year we have attendees from over 80 countries; truly reaching and impacting the global nutrition community. There are more than 130 cutting-edge nutrition science research and educational presentations, lectures, panel discussions, culinary demonstrations, and hot topic sessions that include nutrigenomics, food fraud, medical marijuana, and career global opportunities.

Thank you for your input and feedback to the Strategic Plan and your leadership and achievements over the years which contributed to our successful centennial! For those of you attending FNCE this year be sure to look at the Academy's timeline and interactive display acknowledging many of these milestones.

Dear Fellow Board Members,

I'm sure you have seen the appeal to members to support the Foundation Disaster Relief Fund. The most recent call to action that was issued yesterday appears at the end of this message. It is truly gratifying how so many of you have stepped up with your support. We thank you for your gifts. Many of our members are contributing as well, doing what they can to support this fund but unfortunately it's simply not enough.

Since the Disaster Relief fund was established by the Academy in 2005 with a $100,000 gift to the Foundation we have helped more than 60 members and have nearly exhausted the fund. Even with the generosity of those who respond to our calls for support the balance is low yet the demand is high and growing. We have an available balance of $18,000 and requests from Irma victims alone that total $47,000. These are incredibly turbulent times and the number of natural disasters seems unprecedented. Beginning with Hurricane Harvey in Texas and the aftermath of Irma that tore through Florida, followed by the devastation of Jose in Puerto Rico and now the historic wildfires that have threatened lives and livelihoods in California, Oregon and Washington - it feels like the time is now for the Academy to replenish this invaluable member relief fund. The Foundation will continue to encourage our members to give what they can but we think it would be a tremendous gesture, in recognition of our 100th anniversary, if the Academy would renew its original gift and provide another $100,000 contribution to the Disaster Relief Fund. So many members need our help.

We are fortunate to be days away from a meeting that is breaking attendance records and drawing members from our borders and beyond, even members representing those hard hit areas. It is an important and timely action that would help our nutrition and dietetics family. If you agree respond yes to this message and the motion below and please do so before 9AM CDT tomorrow. Illinois law requires 100% approval for this motion to pass. We are not trying to rush the decision but members need our help now and we have a wonderful opportunity in just a few short days, if the full board agrees, to share the good news. We hope you will help us advance this request. We know you are all busy right now getting ready for the meeting but please take the time to respond. This may be one of the most important votes you cast.

Motion: To approve a donation of $100,000 from the Academy to the Foundation to support the Disaster Relief Fund of the Foundation.

Motion: M. Yadrick

Second: L. Beseler

Hello, NDEP members –

We have received a request from the Public Health/Community Nutrition Practice Group (PHCNPG) of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and the Association of State Public Health Nutritionists (ASPHN) to assist in the review of the following document:

Guide for Developing and Enhancing Skills in Public Health and Community Nutrition

This 2017 document follows the authors' review of and update to the Guidelines for Community Nutrition Supervised Experiences (originally authored in 1995 and revised in 2003).

The authors' request is for 2-3 NDEP members to assist in reviewing the Guide for Developing and Enhancing Skills in Public Health and Community over the next few weeks.

A single consensus document must be submitted to PHCNPG and ASPHN no later than Friday, November 17.

I would like to have comments/input/feedback on the document submitted as a first round by November 3. That will give time for consolidating the feedback and providing it to fellow reviewers, plus allow time for a telephone conference or two as needed, to discuss consensus for a final version in time for the November 17th deadline. Lauren Bozich, our Academy Liaison, will be able to assist in setting up telephone conference calls.

Please let me know of your interest/willingness to review this on behalf of NDEP no later than Monday, October 23. You can contact me at pmk356@aol.com. Please include your vita/resume to assist in designating reviewers- thanks!

Please don't hesitate to let me know if you have any questions – I look forward to hearing from you.

Dear Fellow Board Members,

I'm sure you have seen the appeal to members to support the Foundation Disaster Relief Fund. The most recent call to action that was issued yesterday appears at the end of this message. It is truly gratifying how so many of you have stepped up with your support. We thank you for your gifts. Many of our members are contributing as well, doing what they can to support this fund but unfortunately it's simply not enough.

Since the Disaster Relief fund was established by the Academy in 2005 with a $100,000 gift to the Foundation we have helped more than 60 members and have nearly exhausted the fund. Even with the generosity of those who respond to our calls for support the balance is low yet the demand is high and growing. We have an available balance of $18,000 and requests from Irma victims alone that total $47,000. These are incredibly turbulent times and the number of natural disasters seems unprecedented. Safe travels.

Mary Beth, sorry few corrections, first in paragraph 2, sentence 5:

it was Hurricane Harvey in Texas, then Irma in Florida, and José in Puerto Rico.

And in the 2nd-to-last sentence in that paragraph, should be "its" (original gift) not "it's".

And me being really picky here, it should be 9am CDT, not CST. J

Once those are corrected, it's good to go for me, too!

It is truly gratifying how so many of you have stepped up with your support. We thank you for your gifts. Many of our members are contributing as well, doing what they can to support this fund but unfortunately it's simply not enough.

Since the Disaster Relief fund was established by the Academy in 2005 with a $100,000 gift to the Foundation we have helped more than 60 members and have nearly exhausted the fund. Even with the generosity of those who respond to our calls for support the balance is low yet the demand is high and growing. We have an available balance of $18,000 and requests from Irma victims alone that total $47,000. These are incredibly turbulent times and the number of natural disasters seems unprecedented. Beginning with Hurricane Irma in Texas and the aftermath of Jose that tore through Florida, followed by the devastation in Puerto Rico and now the historic wildfires that have threatened lives and livelihoods in California, Oregon and Washington -- it feels like the time is now for the Academy to replenish this invaluable member relief fund. The Foundation will continue to encourage our members to give what they can but we think it would be a tremendous gesture, in recognition of our 100th anniversary, if the Academy would renew it's original gift and provide another $100,000 contribution to the Disaster Relief Fund. So many members need our help.

We are fortunate to be days away from a meeting that is breaking attendance records and drawing members from our borders and beyond, even members representing those hard hit areas. It is an important and timely action that would help our nutrition and dietetics family. If you agree respond yes to this message and the motion below and please do so before 9AM CST tomorrow. Illinois law requires 100% approval for this motion to pass. We are not trying to rush the decision but members need our help now and we have a wonderful opportunity in just a few short days, if the full board agrees, to share the good news. We hope you will help us advance this request. We know you are all busy right now getting ready for the meeting but please take the time to respond. This may be one of the most important votes you cast.

Motion: To approve the release of $100,000 from the Academy to the Foundation as a donation to support the Disaster Relief Fund of the Foundation.

Motion: M. Yadrick

Second: L. Bessler

Thank you for your consideration and thank you for all that you do to support our members.

Hi, Marty and Donna. Attached is the draft message that we would like to send today under your signatures to the Academy BOD. Because we require a second (beyond the President), Pat has reached out to Lucille to provide her support as well. I will add your appropriate degrees and title before sending but if you could approve the message below at your earliest convenience we can get this done! Thank you both so much for your kindness and your responsiveness. This truly will mean so much to so many.

FNCE Policy and Advocacy Events

Last week we posted information regarding FNCE 2017. Please see attached for a detailed description of FNCE's Advocacy events. Don't forget that policy leaders should RSVP for the networking events! If you have additional questions or concerns, please let me know.

Registration OPEN for the FNCE 2017 ANDPAC Luncheon and Walking Tour

If you are headed to Chicago this weekend, it's not too late to register for the FNCE ANDPAC luncheon and walking tour. The luncheon will take place on Saturday, October 21 11:30 a.m. – 1:30 p.m. At the luncheon, you will hear from a local elected official and be able to network with other policy wonks. Add your name to the RSVP list and pay at the door or register for the event by adding it to your FNCE registration. Following the luncheon, get your 10,000 steps for the day by joining us for a walking tour of the city 1:30 – 3:30 p.m. Register for the walking tour today! The names of those who attend will be entered into a drawing for a chance to win a FitBit. You do not need to attend the luncheon to participate in the walking tour.

Academy Commends Passage of the National Clinical Care Commission Act

We did it! Thanks to all your hard work and continuous support, the President will sign the National Clinical Care Commission Act (S. 920) into law. This bill gives registered dietitian nutritionists a seat at the table to ensure federal programs provide the most efficient and effective care for people with diabetes and related diseases. The Academy will continue to work with the bill sponsors and the Administration to make certain that RDNs are represented as the Commission is established in the coming weeks. Again, thanks to all of the Academy members who made this possible!

Academy Supports Emergency Resources for Puerto Rico

Our hearts go out to Academy members and millions of Puerto Ricans impacted by Hurricane Maria. The Academy's Foundation Disaster Relief Funds are available to support personal and professional life-rebuilding efforts of Academy members and other nutrition and dietetics professionals who have been affected by disasters. To apply, please click here.

The Foundation is accepting donations from Academy members to provide relief to members and their families who need assistance.

The Academy joined national public health organizations in supporting swift passage of an emergency funding bill in the House and Senate that includes SNAP benefits. The House passed a bill last week for public health and other health and medical needs in the wake of the recent hurricanes and wildfires. The bill language specifically includes disaster nutrition assistance of $1.27 billion for Puerto Rico. The Senate is expected to approve the bill.

The Academy Turns 100! Senate to Vote on Centennial Resolution

This year marks our 100th anniversary! To celebrate this historical moment, the Senate is expected to vote on Friday, October 20 on S. Res. 75, the congressional resolution commemorating the Academy's Centennial. We are asking policy leaders to contact your senators today to ask them to cosponsor this tribute to the Academy's Centennial! The House resolution (H. Res. 161) continues to gain co-sponsors. Help us celebrate by reaching out to your representatives to co-sponsor this legislation. Click here to take action.

Kudos to KSAND's Telehealth Initiatives

The Kansas Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics submitted testimony to the Kansas Legislature's Special Committee on Health this week in support of telehealth legislation. This legislation would enable Kansas practitioners to conveniently connect with their patients remotely, resulting in increased efficiencies, greater access to care, better health outcomes, and the assurance that they can be paid for the services they render. Insurance companies often do not cover clinical services provided to patients at a distance through the use of technology in states without telehealth coverage laws, but even when coverage does exist, states without a telehealth parity law is likely to allow insurers to pay significantly reduced rates for services provided remotely. Kudos to KSAND for being in the forefront of recognizing the importance of telehealth in the nutrition and dietetics community. Job well done, KSAND! The Academy continues to engage in conversations at a national level regarding telehealth and dietetic practice.

Florida Licensure Lawsuit

As you may have noted in last week's Eat Right Weekly, the Academy reiterated its strong support of our members and the need for occupational licensing laws – such as dietetics licensure – to protect the public from the risk of harm from incompetent or unqualified individuals. Just recently in Florida, a lawsuit against the state was filed on behalf of a woman who had been practicing without a license by lawyers with a prominent anti-licensure advocacy group. Of course, outside groups like this who oppose all licensure on ideological grounds have long aligned themselves with certain individuals who lack the minimum qualifications to become licensed (but want to anyway) in trying to weaken or dismantle states' regulation of the practice of dietetics and nutrition and the provision of medical nutrition therapy. Academy members should rest assured that the Academy is working tirelessly to defend your license and licensure laws and to ensure they reflect the unparalleled academic and experiential standards represented by the RDN credential.

Action Alerts Open – Please Post Message

There are three action alerts, described in detail below, that require members' attention:

1. Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act, (H.R. 3124/S. 1299) – Medicare provides coverage for testing our nation's seniors for diabetes and pre-diabetes, but until a patient is diagnosed with diabetes MNT is not a covered service. Academy members should reach out to members of Congress to gain support for the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 3124 /S. 1299). The bill, backed by the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance, would reimburse RDNs for medical nutrition therapy provided to patients with pre-diabetes.
1. Nutrition Education in the Farm Bill – Congress is currently working on the reauthorization of the Farm Bill, which reauthorizes two important nutrition education programs: SNAP Nutrition Education and Obesity Prevention grants (SNAP-Ed) and the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP). These education programs coordinate to maximize reach and attempt, with limited funding, to meet the need for nutrition education messages that empower families to make healthy choices. We urge Academy members to take action and ask Congress to include SNAP-ED and EFNEP in the Farm Bill. These programs provide targeted effective nutrition education that empowers families to make lasting behavioral change and build skills to manage limited resources towards economic self-sufficiency beyond the short time that a typical SNAP recipient utilizes that benefit.
1. Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, H.R. 1953/S.830 – A new report from the CDC shows that the prevalence of obesity has risen to 40 percent of adults and 19 percent of youth. These stunning statistics are another reminder of the importance of intervention and counseling from RDNs. There are several ways you can get involved.

Weight Management DPG Chair Eileen Ford, MS, RD encourages you to contact your member of Congress today and ask them to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, a bill which will help address the obesity epidemic by providing better treatment options from health professionals such as RDs. Eileen invites you to join the Weight Management DPG if you are interested in this critical practice area.

And, mark your calendars, and join us in recognizing National Obesity Care Week, Oct. 29 – Nov. 4. We are excited to participate in the 3rd Annual NOCW, a national awareness campaign to ensure anyone affected by obesity receives respectful and comprehensive care.

Important Congressional Issues Require Your Action!

As a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, please urge your policymakers to support legislation that protects and values nutrition services in areas of prevention and treatment (including treatment and reduction of obesity and diabetes prevention) and in the role of nutrition education as highlighted in the Farm Bill. It is important for members of Congress to hear from their constituency. As vital decisions are made regarding health care in the upcoming weeks, the voice of every member is critical. Take action today!

Come Meet Us at the Nutrition Policy Action Center at FNCE

FNCE is a great opportunity to engage Academy members in our policy priorities, and members will be able to take action at computers located at the Nutrition Policy Action Center. Take action (during FNCE 2017) on the three action alerts that are currently open. Our goal is to reach every member of Congress during FNCE on these three issues!

The Academy's policy leaders and PIA staff will be available at the Nutrition Policy Action Center to answer questions and help members take action. We also will have issue briefs about our policy issues. Please stop by! We look forward to celebrating the Academy's Centennial with you all!

Thank you for your wonderful message about the Disaster Relief Fund this week, and for lending your name to this important appeal. I'm so proud that individual leaders like you have stepped forward with contributions. Members are responding, doing what they can to support this fund, but it's simply not enough. Since the Disaster Relief fund was established by the Academy in 2005 with a $100,000 gift to the Foundation we have helped more than 60 members and have nearly exhausted the fund. Even with the generosity of our members who respond to our calls for support like the one you issued today, the balance is low and the demand is high and growing. We have an available balance of $18,000 and requests from Irma victims alone that total $47,000.

These are incredibly turbulent times, and the number of natural disasters seems unprecedented. Beginning with Hurricane Irma in Texas and the aftermath of Jose that tore through Florida, followed by the devastation in Puerto Rico, and now the historic wildfires that have threatened lives and livelihoods in California, Oregon and Washington -- it feels like the time is now for the Academy to replenish this invaluable member relief fund. The Foundation will do what it can do to encourage our members to give what they can, but I think it would be a tremendous gesture, in recognition of our 100th anniversary, if the Academy would renew its original gift and provide another $100,000 contribution to the Disaster Relief Fund. So many members would be helped.

I've discussed this with Pat and Mary Beth and they agree that this would be an important and timely gesture that would help our nutrition and dietetics family. If you agree, a request would be made to the Academy Board and a vote could be taken online. I would be proud to put my name next to yours on this request. By Illinois law It would require 100% approval to pass. I'm not trying to rush the decision, but members need our help now and we have a wonderful opportunity in just a few short days, if the full Board agrees, to share the good news. I hope you will help me advance this request. I know you are incredibly busy right now but I'm happy to jump on a call at your convenience to discuss.

Marty

Continuing Professional Education Approval Criteria

CDR has revised the current continuing professional education approval criteria to require that all continuing professional education activity types (excluding academic coursework) addressing diet and nutrition topics, include an RD or DTR in program planning. This policy change is effective for continuing professional activities offered on or after June 1, 2018 and for CDR credentialed practitioners recertifying beginning a new recertification cycle on or after June 2, 2018.

Practice Competencies Initiative

The CDR Competency Assurance Panel collaborated with the Academics Quality Management Committee on the development of dietetics practice competencies and performance indicators. These competencies and performance indicators will replace the current learning need codes for the Professional Development Portfolio recertification system in 2015 beginning with new registrants whose registration begins on or after June 2, 2015 and current registrants beginning their June 1, 2016 recertification cycle. An article describing the development and validation of the practice competencies was published in the June 2015 Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

The CDR website has been updated to include a Practice Competencies page, <https://www.cdrnet.org/competencies>, which includes several practitioner resources including recordings of webinar presentations made during 2016-2017.

For additional information go to <https://www.cdrnet.org/competencies/webinars>.

Interdisciplinary Specialist Certification

CDRs new interdisciplinary Board Certified Specialist in Obesity and Weight Management examination was administered in March and September 2017. One hundred and seventy-seven professionals now hold the CSOWM specialist credential. The next examination will be administered in March 2018 with a first application deadline of December 5, 2017. You must be totally overwhelmed with FNCE prep. We are all so proud to have you as our Centennial President. Can't wait to see you on stage in a few days.

In considering which national honor would be best for Dr. Cucena, it appears that she would, indeed, qualify for the Medallion. She has been an International category member since 2007 so she would meet the 10 year requirement for membership. I have inserted the qualifications for Medallion below. Let me know if there is anything else to assist, Barbara

Medallion Award Qualifications:

- a. A member of the Academy for a minimum of 10 years
- b. Has contributed to the profession:
 - exceptional service to the Academy at the national, state, dietetic practice and member interest (DPG/MIG) groups and district/local levels
 - exceptional service to other food and nutrition organizations
 - outstanding professional leadership abilities at all levels of the profession and the community
 - instrumental in moving the profession forward
- c. Has demonstrated characteristics such as:
 - dedication to high standards for the profession
 - source of inspiration and outstanding role model
 - promotion of the registered dietitian nutritionist and food and nutrition service to others in allied fields and the community

Barbara, I know you are getting ready for FNCE like I am, but I wanted to check on the qualifications for a medallion award please. The person who I am interested to see if she would qualify would be Marianella Herrera Cucena. She is an MD and a certified nutritionist and currently President of the AODA. She lives in Venezuela and Houston. She is speaking twice at FNCE. She is amazing and I think she would be someone we would want to recognize, but not sure if she fits into the Medallion category? If she doesn't, could you suggest another award please? Amazing does not begin to describe her. Thanks and see you soon!

Glenna,

Thank you for your email. On September 8, I forwarded an all-member email regarding the Academy's efforts on behalf of hurricane relief and recovery. The Academy's Foundation Disaster Relief Fund is here to support personal and professional life-rebuilding efforts of Academy members and other nutrition and dietetics professionals who have been affected by disasters. Updates were also posted on the Academy's social media outlets and in Eat Right Weekly.

The Academy has been in communication with Juan Cruz, president of the Puerto Rico affiliate and several members and leaders in Puerto Rico, including the University of Puerto Rico's internship director Elsa Pinto. Mr. Cruz indicated that he has been working from his cell phone with limited data and no wifi. He isn't able to distribute anything to members as all power grids and most of the cell towers were destroyed.

We have also been communicating with Dr. Celia Mir-Franqui and our CEO and I will personally be meeting with her at FNCE on Sunday, October 22. The group of students from Puerto Rico won the student challenge this year and will be recognized at a reception in their honor at FNCE on Monday, October 23. I will also include a message to all Academy members who have been affected by the hurricanes, storms and fires in my Opening Session remarks.

In addition, the Academy has notified members who live in Puerto Rico that we will issue a full FNCE refund if they are not able to attend. All they need to do is send an email to FNCE@eatright.org. If individuals do not have email capabilities, we will get their names and information and process refunds accordingly.

The Academy continues to support our fellow colleagues in the devastated areas and we are with them in mind, body and spirit.

Dear Academy Leaders and Colleagues:

Over the course of the past couple of weeks, I have been in touch with Dr. Celia Mir from San Juan, Puerto Rico, a territory of the U.S. She is the student advisor for the many Academy students on this island and has always promoted student participation at FNCE. I want to share some of our communication and ask that during FNCE, any encouraging gestures of kindness would be greatly appreciated by her 47 students who will be attending - despite the life/death situations they have survived and endured from Hurricane Maria.

After weeks of not being able to contact her students - not knowing if they were alive or even survived the hurricane, here is her communication:

(TXT.1) Hello Glenna. I have not heard from the Academy, but if they contact me, I can help prepare a plan and procedure to help our AND student members. The 47 students who planned to go with me to the 2017 FNCE, have already paid for their whole trip and events. I don't know if all of them are ok... IF they can go, they will need, at least emotional support. Thanks for your concern... (Then....)

(TXT.2) The only email for me that is working is drmirupr2@gmail.com. If the airport becomes fully functional, I believe we can make it to FNCE - but still waiting. I wish I could get together with all my students just to make sure they are ok! I am flying back to Puerto Rico Oct 9, 2017. We sent boxes of food and medicine to our people. (Then...)

(TXT.3) Thank goodness, my students are safe but they are suffering from the same afflictions as the whole of the population: no water, power, gas. It's the same in more than 3/4 of the island. PR is now entering a period of serious health concerns - infections, contamination, gastroenteritis, etc. People are dying, not only because of the hit of the hurricane but because of the consequences.

(TXT.4) After speaking with the students, we all agreed it would be beneficial to attend FNCE because it will be enriching to all of us. Our students need support and the perception of inclusion and sympathy. Showing signs of concern from the Board and our profession would make a big difference to the students. They would feel supported, encouraged and strengthened by our community. They have been through so much...."

Please know, any effort to reach out, include and embrace these 47 students from Puerto Rico - would be greatly appreciated. Many of our colleagues and students (FL, TX, PR) have suffered at the destruction of hurricanes this season - and we have a great opportunity to show compassion. Thank you!

Though you will be in my thoughts and prayers, unfortunately I will not be able to attend FNCE this year due to my father's ill health. I know I can count on all of you:)

My sincere thanks,

Glenna

The assignments are made to ensure all the exhibitors are covered, but it doesn't preclude you from thanking others for their generous support of the Academy's meetings and programs, including FNCE, especially the 14 sponsors who have booths on the exhibit floor. A list of the sponsor booth names and locations is included in the attachment. We have several engagement opportunity booths for attendees on the exhibit floor, such as Ocean Spray Cranberry Juice and its bog!

We are pleased that you'll be attending the HOD meeting on Friday, October 20 and Saturday, October 21. A copy of the agenda is attached and meeting materials can be accessed on the HOD webpage at www.eatrightpro.org/resources/leadership/house-of-delegates/about-hod-meetings >Fall 2017 Meeting Materials. The Board has reserved VIP seating in the front rows of the meeting rooms for Opening Session, Member Showcase and Closing Session. For early access please promptly come to the VIP entrance of the Skyline Ballroom W375E in McCormick Place West (see map attached) at the times designated below. The best way to get to that location and avoid congestion is by taking the escalator from Room W177 to the VIP entrance. An Academy staff partner wearing a red FNCE vest will meet you there to be escorted to your seats.

- Opening Session: 3:25 pm to 3:35 pm

- Member Showcase: 9:35 am – 9:45 am

- Closing Session: 1:20 pm – 1:30 pm

A paper copy of the final Board FNCE schedule, your exhibitor assignments and the HOD meeting agenda will be included in your on arrival packet which will be hand delivered at the HOUSEwarming Party on Thursday, October 19, from 5:45 pm – 6:45 pm at the Hyatt Regency Chicago Hotel, Plaza Ballroom. If you do not plan to attend the party, your packet will be delivered to your hotel room that evening. Also included in your packet will be your FNCE badge, ribbon(s), Quick Reference Guide, Day-at-a-Glance Program Grid and a paper copy of your FNCE 2017 Leader Remarks and Talking Points. A paper copy of the script will also be included with instructions for those Board members (Lucille, Jo Jo, Linda, Manju, Marcy, Michele, Dianne, Marty) introducing Medallion recipients during the Honors Breakfast on Sunday, October 22.

As Board members staying at the Hyatt Regency Chicago, you have access to the Regency Club (conciierge). Please take advantage of the club's amenities such as breakfast, beverages and snacks. As a reminder, a Board Get-together is scheduled for Friday, October 20, from 7:30 pm – 9:30 pm in Donna's Monarch Suite on the 34th floor. Yes, I find it interesting and disturbing. Doris is "investigating" the PhD. Some of us wonder if the Dr. Mir connection isn't Glenna vying for an adjunct faculty position with PR University.

Dear Academy Leaders and Colleagues:

Over the course of the past couple of weeks, I have been in touch with Dr. Celia Mir from San Juan, Puerto Rico, a territory of the U.S. She is the student advisor for the many Academy students on this island and has always promoted student participation at FNCE. I want to share some of our communication and ask that during FNCE, any encouraging gestures of kindness would be greatly appreciated by her 47 students who will be attending - despite the life/death situations they have survived and endured from Hurricane Maria.

After weeks of not being able to contact her students - not knowing if they were alive or even survived the hurricane, here is her communication:

(TXT.1) Hello Glenna. I have not heard from the Academy, but if they contact me, I can help prepare a plan and procedure to help our AND student members. The 47 students who planned to go with me to the 2017 FNCE, have already paid for their whole trip and events. I don't know if all of them are ok... IF they can go, they will need, at least emotional support. Thanks for your concern... (Then....)

(TXT.2) The only email for me that is working is drmirupr2@gmail.com. If the airport becomes fully functional, I believe we can make it to FNCE - but still waiting. I wish I could get together with all my students just to make sure they are ok! I am flying back to Puerto Rico Oct 9, 2017. We sent boxes of food and medicine to our people. (Then...)

(TXT.3) Thank goodness, my students are safe but they are suffering from the same afflictions as the whole of the population: no water, power, gas. It's the same in more than 3/4 of the island. PR is now entering a period of serious health concerns - infections, contamination, gastroenteritis, etc. People are dying, not only because of the hit of the hurricane but because of the consequences.

(TXT.4) After speaking with the students, we all agreed it would be beneficial to attend FNCE because it will be enriching to all of us. Our students need support and the perception of inclusion and sympathy. Showing signs of concern from the Board and our profession would make a big difference to the students. They would feel supported, encouraged and strengthened by our community. They have been through so much...."

Please know, any effort to reach out, include and embrace these 47 students from Puerto Rico - would be greatly appreciated. Many of our colleagues and students (FL, TX, PR) have suffered at the destruction of hurricanes this season - and we have a great opportunity to show compassion. Thank you!

Though you will be in my thoughts and prayers, unfortunately I will not be able to attend FNCE this year due to my father's ill health. I know I can count on all of you:)

In addition, here is an updated PDF of your HOD presentation. Not much has changed on this. We just added the hot topic session on global opportunities for members and the Strategic Plan website to the slides.

Please let us know if you have any questions. Thank you!

Hi, Donna:

Attached are the most current drafts of the scripts for the three main FNCE sessions. The primary change in the Opening Session from the draft that you practiced in Chicago is the addition of information on the disasters and on students, especially from Puerto Rico.

These texts will be on the teleprompter at the rehearsal on Friday, and of course any edits you'd like can be made then.

Very soon, we will send you drafts of your shorter remarks for meetings such as the School Spirit reception and the joint MIGs reception.

Thank you very much, see you soon!

I hope all is well as we approach FNCE! Dr. Mir will be at the Honors Breakfast with her husband and will sit at my table. I asked Dr. Mir about the student award and she didn't know about it. Is this her group of students who won the award and did I reveal a surprise?

Take care and see you soon!

Glenna,

Thank you for your email. On September 8, I forwarded an all-member email regarding the Academy's efforts on behalf of hurricane relief and recovery. The Academy's Foundation Disaster Relief Fund is here to support personal and professional life-rebuilding efforts of Academy members and other nutrition and dietetics professionals who have been affected by disasters. Updates were also posted on the Academy's social media outlets and in Eat Right Weekly.

The Academy has been in communication with Juan Cruz, president of the Puerto Rico affiliate and several members and leaders in Puerto Rico, including the University of Puerto Rico's internship director Elsa Pinto. Mr. Cruz indicated that he has been working from his cell phone with limited data and no wifi. He isn't able to distribute anything to members as all power grids and most of the cell towers were destroyed.

We have also been communicating with Dr. Celia Mir-Franqui and our CEO and I will personally be meeting with her at FNCE on Sunday, October 22. The group of students from Puerto Rico won the student challenge this year and will be recognized at a reception in their honor at FNCE on Monday, October 23. I will also include a message to all Academy members who have been affected by the hurricanes, storms and fires in my Opening Session remarks.

In addition, the Academy has notified members who live in Puerto Rico that we will issue a full FNCE refund if they are not able to attend. All they need to do is send an email to FNCE@eatright.org. If individuals do not have email capabilities, we will get their names and information and process refunds accordingly.

The Academy continues to support our fellow colleagues in the devastated areas and we are with them in mind, body and spirit.

Donna Martin, President:

I couldn't agree more. Perhaps like me, many have donated to other disaster relief funds, but it became "real and personal" to me after speaking Dr. Celia Mir of Puerto Rico. It is so important that our colleagues and students impacted by these natural disasters know of our care and concern for them. Now, northern CA will be added to the list with the devastating fires. I will be donating to the Foundation's Disaster Relief Fund fund - and will encourage others to do so as well.

Best wishes,

Glenna

Thank you Donna and the Academy for all your efforts in support of those who have been impacted by the hurricanes - and a good reminder for us to donate our support through the Academy as well.

Perhaps one more gesture could be considered, as in my communication with Dr. Mir (Puerto Rico), she thought the traumatized students might find a benefit and comfort in being with others who have survived these devastating hurricanes (TX, FL, PR) and made it to FNCE. Would there be any opportunity to bring these students together where their paths can cross (i.e. Opening Session, be seated together)? There is something very powerful and bonding when you meet those who can truly empathize.

Once again, thank you for all your efforts. Wishing you the best FNCE in our professional history!

Subject: Re: Our Puerto Rico Colleagues and 47 PR students

Thank you Donna and the Academy for all your efforts in support of those who have been impacted by the hurricanes - and a good reminder for us to donate our support through the Academy as well.

Perhaps one more gesture could be considered, as in my communication with Dr. Mir (Puerto Rico), she thought the traumatized students might find a benefit and comfort in being with others who have survived these devastating hurricanes (TX, FL, PR) and made it to FNCE. Would there be any opportunity to bring these students together where their paths can cross (i.e. Opening Session, be seated together)? There is something very powerful and bonding when you meet those who can truly empathize.

Once again, thank you for all your efforts. Wishing you the best FNCE in our professional history!

The Academy has been in communication with Juan Cruz, president of the Puerto Rico affiliate and several members and leaders in Puerto Rico, including the University of Puerto Rico's internship director Elsa Pinto. Mr. Cruz indicated that he has been working from his cell phone with limited data and no wifi. He isn't able to distribute anything to members as all power grids and most of the cell towers were destroyed.

We have also been communicating with Dr. Celia Mir-Franqui and our CEO and I will personally be meeting with her at FNCE on Sunday, October 22. The group of students from Puerto Rico won the student challenge this year and will be recognized at a reception in their honor at FNCE on Monday, October 23. I will also include a message to all Academy members who have been affected by the hurricanes, storms and fires in my Opening Session remarks.

In addition, the Academy has notified members who live in Puerto Rico that we will issue a full FNCE refund if they are not able to attend. All they need to do is send an email to FNCE@eatright.org. If individuals do not have email capabilities, we will get their names and information and process refunds accordingly.

The Academy continues to support our fellow colleagues in the devastated areas and we are with them in mind, body and spirit.

DRAFT FOR REVIEW

Glenna,

This is a great opportunity for former Academy Presidents to show their leadership by donating to the Foundation's Disaster Relief Fund. It is vital that we support the personal and professional life-rebuilding efforts of Academy members, students and other dietetics professionals who have been affected by disasters. If you haven't already done so, I encourage you and everyone on this email list to donate today by visiting the Disaster Relief Fund website.

We look forward to meeting personally with the students at FNCE, offering our assistance and uplifting them in every possible way that we can.

Subject: Our Puerto Rico Colleagues and 47 PR students

Dear Academy Leaders and Colleagues:

Over the course of the past couple of weeks, I have been in touch with Dr. Celia Mir from San Juan, Puerto Rico, a territory of the U.S. She is the student advisor for the many Academy students on this island and has always promoted student participation at FNCE. I want to share some of our communication and ask that during FNCE, any encouraging gestures of kindness would be greatly appreciated by her 47 students who will be attending - despite the life/death situations they have survived and endured from Hurricane Maria.

After weeks of not being able to contact her students - not knowing if they were alive or even survived the hurricane, here is her communication:

(TXT.1) Hello Glenna. I have not heard from the Academy, but if they contact me, I can help prepare a plan and procedure to help our AND student members. The 47 students who planned to go with me to the 2017 FNCE, have already paid for their whole trip and events. I don't know if all of them are ok... IF they can go, they will need, at least emotional support. Thanks for your concern... (Then....)

(TXT.2) The only email for me that is working is drmirupr2@gmail.com. If the airport becomes fully functional, I believe we can make it to FNCE - but still waiting. I wish I could get together with all my students just to make sure they are ok! I am flying back to Puerto Rico Oct 9, 2017. We sent boxes of food and medicine to our people. (Then...)

(TXT.3) Thank goodness, my students are safe but they are suffering from the same afflictions as the whole of the population: no water, power, gas. It's the same in more than 3/4 of the island. PR is now entering a period of serious health concerns - infections, contamination, gastroenteritis, etc. People are dying, not only because of the hit of the hurricane but because of the consequences.

(TXT.4) After speaking with the students, we all agreed it would be beneficial to attend FNCE because it will be enriching to all of us. Our students need support and the perception of inclusion and sympathy. Showing signs of concern from the Board and our profession would make a big difference to the students. They would feel supported, encouraged and strengthened by our community. They have been through so much...."

Please know, any effort to reach out, include and embrace these 47 students from Puerto Rico - would be greatly appreciated. Many of our colleagues and students (FL, TX, PR) have suffered at the destruction of hurricanes this season - and we have a great opportunity to show compassion. Thank you!

Though you will be in my thoughts and prayers, unfortunately I will not be able to attend FNCE this year due to my father's ill health. I know I can count on all of you:)

My sincere thanks,

Glenna

Thanks Glenna for sharing with us. Do you know what hotel the group will be staying? I would be pleased to donate to their student fund at their school to assist them when they return to their home. I have been a guest speaker at their annual meetings. They have several accredited CDR programs.

I have been in touch with Dr. ADA Lourandes. She is a past president of their organization and teaches in one of their programs. I want to help.

Doris, the letter is fine. The only question I had is can non-members apply? If this is only for members we might need to reword a line in the second paragraph where we say and other nutrition and dietetic professionals. If it is for any nutrition and dietetic professional then we can leave it as is. Thanks for sending this.

We have already discussed this internally (Conference &Event Services) and have agreed to refund any attendee from Puerto Rico with no fees assessed as long as they email us at the FNCE@eatright.org address. It appears the email was received (it came in 20 minutes ago) and will reach out confirming the refund approval.

Note that we will also tell this member/attendee that their two colleagues will need to email the request as well. If those individuals do not have email capabilities, we will get their names and information to process accordingly. The response will come from the FNCE@eatright.org email box with the next steps/follow up information.

Dear FNCE team;

On September 19, hurricane Maria ravaged our island, Puerto Rico. It knocked out the entire power grid and caused severe infrastructure damage leaving the whole island paralyzed, in-communicated and in the dark. Today, 24 days later, communications are still shaky, many still have no access to clean water, food or internet...

... but we will rise.

It won't be long before we can call it again "La Isla del Encanto" and because of this we have decided to stay. With my team's, and many others, help #PuertoRicoSeLevanta.

On September 4th myself and 2 other colleagues (first Retail Dietetics Department in the island) registered for FNCE 2017, but because of the current island's situation we have come to realize that, for the next few months, we are needed here, and will not be able to attend.

For this, we humbly request consideration for cancellation and reimbursement of the registration fees.

Roberta's a nice person and she has done a TON for the Academy. I'm happy to help her. Her daughter, Katie is now on my radar and we will be thinking about how we might spotlight her J. That will send her boss into the o-zone!

I checked and according to the company, Mark &Graham, your bracelets were delivered at 1PM on Thursday. So they should be at your home when you return from your Mexico adventure.

Mary Beth, I asked you about this before and the answer you gave me I thought would satisfy Roberta Anding, but it didn't. Would you mind reaching out to her? Please see her Facebook message to me below. She was asking about the Advanced Practice Residency Program at the University of Texas being recognized at the gala. Her email is RobertaAnding@gmail.com. Thanks for your help.

Okay- the back story is that my daughter wrote the APR. Initially, I found out about this from Donna Wicstrom. Katie and I were going to do this together when I was at the Texans. I parted ways with the Texans, I encouraged her to do it on her own. So she did, I reviewed it. She was thrilled because she did this on her own time. Amy Culp -her boss- said she was going because the APR was going to be recognized. Katie asked if she could go- the answer was no. She offered to pay her own way- still no. Amy is a board member of CPSDA and wants this organization to be recognized.

New Academy Strategic Plan

In September, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Board of Directors approved a new Strategic Plan. The Academy engaged thousands of external stakeholders and members in the strategic planning process, including student members, general membership, the Council on Future Practice, HOD, DPGs, MIGs and Academy and Foundation Boards. Every member will find their practice area reflected in the new Strategic Plan, now and in the future.

- New Vision: A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition
- New Mission: Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition
- New Principles: The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and our members:
- Amplify the contribution of nutrition and dietetics practitioners and expand workforce capacity and capability
- Integrate research, professional development, technology, and practice to stimulate innovation and discovery
- Collaborate to solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges now and in the future
- Focus on system-wide impact across the food, well-being and health care sectors
- Have a global impact in eliminating all forms of malnutrition.

The new Strategic Plan expands and builds upon our organizational strengths in research, professional development, workforce capacity, and advocacy and communications – all of which translate to opportunities for branding the profession and the organization. The new Principles reflect the Academy's core commitments and they will be applied to make an impact in three focus areas: prevention and well-being, health care and health systems, and food safety and nutrition security. The Academy's new Strategic Plan is dynamic, future-focused, and measurable. As with previous plans, the Board will regularly review and modify the plan in the context of the evolving environment. Visit www.eatright.org/strategicplan for more information. It is also posted on the HOD platform.

ANDPAC and Foundation

ANDPAC and the Academy Foundation are both providing updates during our HOD meeting. Also, stop by their booths during the HOD Meeting or #FNCE to learn more about their initiatives and make a donation! We have a goal of 100% HOD participation for both ANDPAC and ANDF.

- ANDPAC
- ANDAPC donations follow the calendar year (January-December)
- Anyone who donates $20 (or has this calendar year) will receive a "house" pin! Stop by to donate and pick up your pin at the ANDPAC booth during the HOD Meeting.
- Also, a drawing will be held for all delegates who tweet pictures of themselves and others with their pin during the HOD Meeting. The Hashtags are: #ANDPAC #FNCE.

- See Public Policy Weekly for a list of ANDPAC events during the conference.
- Academy Foundation
- Foundation donations follow the Academy's year (June-May).
- See the various Foundation events, including the FUN-raiser, during the conference.

Expense Reporting Post Meeting

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics has an online expense report system that delegates can use to submit their expense reports following the fall 2017 HOD Meeting. The system is intuitive and receipts need to be scanned and attached to the expense report upon submission. HOD Manual Policy B.5 should be reviewed to determine covered expenses.

- To initiate an online expense report, please visit www.eatright.org/expense. You will need to enter your username and password, which is the same log in you use for the Academy website. Please review these instructions when submitting your online expense report. Contact the HOD Governance Team with any questions or concerns.

We hope to see delegates attending #FNCE at the Centennial Celebration.

Good morning,

As promised, I developed a potential script for each of you for the Committee Chairs/Vice Chairs Networking event at FNCE. I'm sharing your individual scripts with both of you so you can see what the other person might be saying. I tried to keep it brief, meaningful, and hopefully capture your individual styles. Feel free to change them up on our own, or let me know what type of changes you might want to make and I'll do it for you (even a comment to the effect, "I want to say something about X" will work). I also tried to format the documents to make them easy to read. Dianne, I thought about integrating a piece into yours about "voice of the profession" since you're Speaker of the HOD, so let me know if you actually want me to do so.

So if you have changes you'd like me to make, just send them my way by end of day Tuesday and I'll turn them right around for you.

Thanks and see everyone soon!

All Board members are requested to be at the Honors Breakfast scheduled for Sunday, October 22 from 7:00 am – 8:30 am in the Grand Ballroom EF of the Hyatt Regency Chicago hotel. Thank you to those of you who are participating in our partner program. Attached is a current 2017 partners list. If you haven't done so already, please initiate contact with your respective partner(s) prior to FNCE, offering congratulations and asking if she/he requires any assistance; the contact information is attached. The date and location of the Excellence in Practice award presentations are reflected on the list, should you have time to attend. The moderators present the award.

The script introducing the recipients during the recognition breakfast is attached. The opening and closing remarks are provided by Lucille as current chair of the Honors Committee.

The introductions follow the script.

- Lucille Beseler/Opening Remarks

- Manju Karkare/Rita Batheja

- Linda Farr/Ethan Bergman

- Marcy Kyle/Becky Dorner

- Marty Yadrick/Trisha Fuhrman
- Michele Lites/Anne Marie Hunter

- Dianne Polly/Jacqueline B. Marcus

- Jo Jo Dantone/Sandra Parker

- Lucille Beseler/Closing Remarks

Please review your portion of the script. The introductions were drafted by the nominators and have been approved by each recipient. A paper copy of the script will be included in your on arrival packet. Medallion recipients will be seated with their families and colleagues. As presenters, you will be seated together at one designated table, unless you were asked to be a guest of a Medallion recipient. Please proceed to the podium during the applause for the previous recipient. Once the presentation is completed, proceed back to your seat. Each recipient has been asked to present for one (1) minute. If your schedule allows, please remain in the room immediately following the reception as we will be taking photographs. A table is also reserved for Board members not presenting, but you of course have the option to sit with your colleagues.

If you have any questions regarding the Honors Breakfast, please do not hesitate to contact me or Matthew Novotny at mnovotny@eatright.org or 1-800/877-1600, ext. 4827.

Hello Donna, Lucille and Mary,

As discussed at the recent Board Meeting, members of the nutrition and dietetics profession have been experiencing or witnessing inappropriate/unprofessional peer-to-peer social media behavior. This situation, while not new, is starting to rise to the surface via semi-private discussions online and through informal inquiries with staff about the Code of Ethics. To get ahead of the issue—and in anticipation of the revised Code of Ethics due next year—Food & Nutrition Magazine® is launching an initiative called the Pledge of Professional Civility, which Donna will mention during Opening Session and at the Member Showcase and Mary will present more thoroughly at her session on cyberbullying.

We also have a full communications and promotions strategy in the works, but our first order of business is to ask that you three—as principal national leaders of the organization—to be the first names to appear on the pledge list.

At your earliest convenience, please take the pledge (link: <http://foodandnutrition.org/professionalcivility>). Note that the link is live, but that we will NOT be sharing or promoting the page with the public until FNCE.

Donna, I know you are traveling so if you'd prefer that I add your name to the list for you, please let me know.

Thank you very much for your support as we continue to identify strategies for encouraging civility and professionalism in public forums!

Donna,

Hello, I hope you're having a great day so far. I received a call from Cara Frisbie, the CNN reporter you spoke with several months ago. She said her team had a number of projects that came up and that they're now putting together the piece they were originally working on. She's wondering if you might be able to have another conversation with her. Would you be interested in speaking with Cara again?

Thanks,

Scheduled House Vote: National Clinical Care Commission Act

The House of Representatives is scheduled to vote Wednesday, October 11, on final passage of the National Clinical Care Commission Act (S. 920), which would give registered dietitian nutritionists a seat at the table to ensure federal programs provide the most efficient and effective care for people with diabetes and related diseases. The Academy will continue to work with the bill's sponsors and the administration to ensure RDNs are represented on the Commission. The Academy thanks members for your support and efforts in passage of this important bill. The Academy will provide more information including a press release when the bill is signed into law.

Academy Defends Public Safety Laws

The Academy is committed to defending against attacks on state laws that protect the public by ensuring health care practitioners are qualified, competent and effective. The Board of Directors recently underscored that, when it comes to public health and safety, the RDN credential represents the minimum qualifications necessary for providers of medical nutrition therapy and other nutrition care services. The Academy will continue to fight against unqualified individuals and entities who seek to weaken licensure laws and put the public at risk for their own interests or financial gains.

Protecting Integrity of Federal Nutrition Policy: Academy Questions Proposed USDA Reorganization

Unless significant safeguards are put in place to ensure the integrity and independence of the Center for Nutrition Policy and Promotion and its work, it should not be merged into the Food and Nutrition Service, according to the Academy's formal response to Agriculture Secretary Sonny Perdue's September 7 proposal to realign offices within the USDA. The Academy believes CNPP's role in reviewing nutrition science and developing and promoting the Dietary Guidelines for Americans and other guidance and education tools necessitates having an administrator with substantial, varied academic and professional experience. In addition, the Academy believes Congress must for the first time appropriate sufficient funding for the new requirements of dietary guidelines for individuals from birth to 24 months and implement recommendations of the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering and Medicine for improving the DGA process.

Complying With New Nutrition Facts Label Requirements: Academy Questions Merits of Proposed Delay

The Academy is reviewing the rationale from the Food and Drug Administration for its proposed delay of the compliance deadline by up to 1 1/2 years for final rules associated with the updated Nutrition Facts Label. The Academy noted that the final rule provided manufacturers with more than two years to transition to the new format and that the deadline is more than sufficient for companies whose products are already complying. The Academy will be commenting to the FDA about its proposal and its consistency with the Academy's Principles for Nutrition Labeling.

Members should work through your dietetic practice groups' Policy and Advocacy Leaders before October 24 to help inform the Academy's comments.

Academy Participates in Rural Health Diabetes Meeting

The Academy met recently with other Healthy People 2020 Diabetes stakeholders on diabetes prevention and treatment in rural populations. Ann Albright, PhD, RD, director of the Division of Diabetes Translation at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, explained how the Diabetes Prevention Program is working to address the prevalence of diabetes among rural communities. Maggie Powers, PhD, RD, CDE, spoke about the value of diabetes self-management education. Heather Dimeris, MS, RD, CLC, from the Federal Office of Rural Health at the Health Resources and Services Administration, outlined the Rural Healthy People 2020 report and resources available at the Rural Health Information Hub.

Meal Programs for Older Adults Improve Diet Quality, Food Security and Socialization

The Academy's efforts to ensure federal funding for congregate and home-delivered meal programs for seniors through the Older Americans Act Reauthorization of 2016 received a boost with publication of a recent evaluation report of the Older Americans Act Nutrition Services Program. The report found these cost-effective programs are vital to meeting nutritional needs of seniors, a large and growing demographic with significant unmet food security challenges.

Take Action to Improve Access to Nutrition Services

Academy members can now easily reach out to your members of Congress to gain support for the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 3124/S. 1299), which would reimburse registered dietitian nutritionists for medical nutrition therapy RDNs provide to patients with prediabetes. Numerous representatives and senators have already signed on as cosponsors but we have a long way to go. The support to pass the bill, supported by the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance, really comes when your legislators accede to your polite insistence that they need to co-sponsor this critical bill to improve access to medical nutrition therapy for millions of patients in need.

Congressional Support Grows for Academy's Priority Legislation

The Academy continues to make progress on building support for priority legislation to recognize members for their significant contributions and to create new, compensated professional opportunities. Please contact your federal legislators to seek their support; if they express interest, please alert the Academy's Policy Initiatives and Advocacy Team at swinston@eatright.org.

Celebrate National Seafood Month with New Toolkit

For October's National Seafood Month, the Food and Drug Administration is launching the Fish Advice Social Media Toolkit to support the FDA's and Environmental Protection Agency's recent advice regarding eating fish. The toolkit includes tweets, a Facebook post, a newsletter, web badges and graphics to communicate with health care providers, pregnant women and parents of young children.

Eat Right Weekly

This week's Eat Right Weekly will have important policy updates that we don't want to repeat here since we are focusing on FNCE events. Please be sure to review the information to keep abreast! We do plan to have new action alerts opening in coordination with FNCE – watch for details in next week's PPWN -and communication tools that policy leaders can use.

Policy and Advocacy Training Update

Each year the Academy conducts trainings for those who are new to the public policy positions with DPG/MIGs or affiliates. We have delayed this year's trainings in order to update our modules for each position. Our goal is to record the sessions which will be shorter than in past years and make them available to you by the end of December 2017. In the meantime, if you wish to get a jump start, visit the folder in the Community of Interest (in the "Public Policy Training and Recordings and Handouts" folder) to listen to previously recorded trainings for your position.

FNCE Policy and Advocacy Events

FNCE is just around the corner! Join us for these events to learn more about our current policy efforts. We will provide a PDF of all of the events with next week's issue of PPWN.

The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy and Strategic Communications teams drafted the text below reiterating the Academy's support for licensure and commitment to our members. The statement appears in today's Eat Right Weekly and on our website.

Academy Defends Public Safety Laws

10/10/2017 - The Academy is committed to defending against attacks on state laws that protect the public by ensuring that health care practitioners are qualified, competent and effective. In the field of nutrition and dietetics, the education and training of registered dietitian nutritionists are unparalleled. With this expertise, RDNs are uniquely equipped to help solve the chronic disease crisis by researching, designing, implementing and providing nutrition education and nutrition care services to those in need. RDNs are able to transform lives through food and nutrition working in interdisciplinary medical teams, managing school food service programs and leading teams of health coaches and other laypeople in evidence-based programs — collaborations that support safe and effective care. The Academy's Board of Directors recently underscored the Academy's stance that when it comes to public health and patient safety, the RDN credential represents the minimum qualifications necessary for providers of medical nutrition therapy and other nutrition care services. The Academy will continue to fight against unqualified individuals and entities who seek to weaken licensure laws and put the public at risk for their own ideological interests or financial gains.

Pat

Hello,

Dr. Ibrahim asked that we go ahead and make our flights and Emory University will reimburse the Academy. To book your travel through the Academy's travel service please click on www.atcmeetings.com/Academy and login using your email address and the password you created when you activated your account. When you reach the Purchase Trip page, select Misc Travel from the drop-down menu, enter the GL Code 1032430.

Attached is a revised program schedule (a note that Marcy's and Jo Jo's workshop has been changed to Saturday from 9:30am-11:00am).

As you know Emory University has provided a discounted conference registration rate to members (50% off the $400 regular rate). Jo Jo had a call recently with Dr. Ibrahim regarding the change in schedule for the workshop and he offered a special arrangement for Academy members to attend both Academy sessions for free. I will send a communication to the GA affiliate, WM DPG, DCE DPG and PNPG to announce this to its members.

Dr. Ibrahim also invited you to a social event on Saturday evening, he will send more details later.

As you are preparing your presentations, please let Tom Ryan or me know how we can help. Tom will be away on vacation from Oct 28- Nov 12 but can provide assistance before he leaves.

Thank you!

We know from all of our interviews, surveys and dialogues with members prior to launching the new strategic plan that there is a great deal of interest, particularly from our student and younger members in global opportunities. But as we prepare to meet their needs, and those of our members who are mid-career and later, we want to know more. For this reason we are launching a more comprehensive survey. The information will help guide our grant making and fundraising efforts. Here are some details below.

To gauge interest in global fellowships the Academy is launching two survey vehicles.

- A 14-question survey will be sent to a random sample of Academy members via email on Wednesday, October 11. In addition a link will be included in the October 18 issue of Eat Right Weekly. Please note that the survey will be open until October 25.
- In order to get a quick snapshot of member interest, Member Engagement Zone questions were also developed. The MEZ will be promoted on the main page of the eatrightPRO website starting 10/11 – 10/25. An article will also run in the October 11 issue of Eat Right Weekly.

When you see the survey, please encourage your friends and colleagues to complete it. All input is welcome! The more we know the better we can serve. FNCE countdown 11 days!!!

Hello Ashley,

I will place the meeting on Donna Martin's calendar. Please know according to policy the expenses of Academy representatives asked to attend meetings and events at the invitation of other organizations will be reimbursed by that organization, whenever possible. Since Donna resides in Georgia the expenses should be minimal. Is this acceptable by your organization?

See analysis below.

The bottom line is that, based on the complaint and the current state of the law, the government will likely not be able to successfully defend the law.

The plaintiff is likely to win.

This gives AND an opening to help shape our affiliate's response to the filing. They don't want to go full in backing a losing position. Better to hang back and see where it is going, and only jump in if facts emerge that change the analysis.

Their time would be better spent coming up with alternative wording for the statute that would withstand legal scrutiny. AND can help with that.

Subject: Del Castillo Law Suite and Occupational Regulation of the First Amendment

Good Morning:

Based on our review of the cases referenced in the law review articles "Occupational Speech and the First Amendment," it appears likely that a court would apply strict scrutiny in analyzing the law under the First Amendment due to the content-based nature of the law (restricting unlicensed individuals from speaking on the topic of nutrition and dietetics), thus placing the burden on the government entity to defend the necessity of the law to protect a compelling interest.

Complaint:

In her complaint filed in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida (the "Complaint"), Heather Kokesch Del Castillo seeks declaratory and injunctive relief against the Florida Department of Health (the "Department") in regard to her right to provide health coaching services to her clients without seeking or holding the licensure required by State law. As admitted in the Complaint, Ms. Del Castillo is a "privately certified" health coach; not a nutrition or dietetic professional licensed with the State of Florida. The Complaint alleges that, in violation of the First Amendment's guarantee of free speech, the Department ordered Ms. Del Castillo to "cease giving individualized advice about diet, fined her $754, and threatened her with further legal action if she continues to offer dietary advice to paying customers in Florida.” See Complaint at ¶ 36. As basis for her prayer for relief, Ms. Del Castillo alleges that the Florida statute prohibiting any person from engaging “for remuneration in dietetics and nutrition practice or nutrition counseling” (Fla. Stat. § 468.504) is a content-based restriction on speech subject to strict scrutiny review by the courts.

Application of the Law:

Florida law requires individuals who engage in “dietetics and nutrition practice” and “nutrition assessment” to be licensed by the State if they are being paid for such services.[1] However, the same statutory scheme provides numerous exceptions to this licensure requirement, ranging from particular circumstances that would allow an individual to provide such nutrition and dietetic services for pay[2] and where such services may be provided for free.[3]

Recent Federal First Amendment case law dictates that content-based restrictions on speech are subject to strict scrutiny. See e.g. Sorrell v. IMS Health Inc., 131 S. Ct. 2653, 2668 (2011); Wollschlaeger v. Governor, Florida, 848 F.3d 1293, 1309 (11th Cir. 2017). A content-based restriction on speech exists when the law discriminates against speech based on content. By contrast, a content-neutral restriction on speech is a restriction that applies across the board to all forms of speech or does not concern the content of the speech. Strict scrutiny requires that the entity restricting the speech – here, the Department – demonstrate that the law provides the least-restrictive means by which a compelling government interest may be preserved.

Brief Conclusion:

Based on the case law, it could be argued that the speech of the complainant is being restricted based on content due to its limitation to speech that relates solely to nutrition and dietetics practice and thus strict scrutiny would apply. Although the specific provision of the statute providing the prohibition may potentially be interpreted to be content-neutral on its face (if one is not licensed; one may not engage) in practice, the numerous exceptions to the prohibition could arguably be construed to narrowly restrict the speech of a particular subset of individuals who would not fall into those defined categories.

² See Fla. Stat. § 468.505 (for example, employed by the Federal Government, seeking experiential learning or licensure in the field, or the provision of services in consultation with a licensed professional)

³ See Fla. Stat. § 468.505 (for example, “A person who markets or distributes food, food materials, or dietary supplements, or any person who engages in the explanation of the use and benefits of those products or the preparation of those products, if that person does not engage for a fee in dietetics and nutrition practice or nutrition counseling”).

Case Notes:

Lowe v. SEC – 1985 (S. Ct.)

- Valid Law

- In 2017, the Eleventh Circuit distinguished the facts in Wollschlaeger from the facts in Lowe regarding the framework that should be used to evaluate the speech of those engaged in a particular profession and declined to evaluate the restrictions imposed on the speech of the physicians in Wollschlaeger to rational basis review because such restrictions on speech during the course of professional practice were substantially different from those restrictions imposed on individuals seeking to obtain a particular license to engage in particular practice. Wollschlaeger v. Governor, Florida, 848 F.3d 1293, 1309 (11th Cir. 2017).

- o In Lowe, Justice White’s framework provided that “when a person is exercising judgment with respect to a particular client, he is “engaging in the practice of a profession” and his speech is “incidental to the conduct of the profession,” such that his First Amendment interests are diminished. See Lowe v. S.E.C., 472 U.S. 181, 232 (1985) (White, J., concurring in the judgment). So, if “the government enacts generally applicable licensing provisions limiting the class of persons who may practice [a] profession, it cannot be said to have enacted a limitation on freedom of speech or the press subject to First Amendment scrutiny.” Id. “On the other hand, laws receive heightened First Amendment scrutiny if they reach a professional who does not have a “personal nexus” to a particular client and who is merely speaking generally. See Lowe, 472 U.S. at 232 (White, J., concurring in the judgment).

- The Eleventh Circuit declined to apply Justice White’s framework in Wollschlaeger, stating that “the Supreme Court has never adopted or applied Justice White’s rational basis standard to regulations which limit the speech of professionals to clients based on content.” Wollschlaeger at 848 F.3d 1293, 1310.

Riley v. Nat’l Federation of the Blind of North Carolina, Inc. – 1988 (S. Ct.)

- Valid Law; No relevant challenges post-law review article.

U.S. v. Stevens – 2010 (S. Ct.)

- Valid Law; No challenges impacting interpretation of holding.

Holder v. Humanitarian Law Project – 2010 (S. Ct.)

- Valid law; No challenges impacting interpretation of holding.

Sorrell v. IMS Health Inc. – 2011 (S. Ct.)

- Valid law

- Of Note: In Sorrell, the Court discusses the Vermont law in issue's exceptions to the prohibition on the sale of prescriber-identifying information for marketing purposes and identifies that fact that that sale of such information is allowed under the law under certain conditions/for certain purposes. The Court provides "the explicit structure of the statute allows the information to be studied and used by all but a narrow class of disfavored individuals." Sorrell v. IMS Health Inc., 131 S. Ct. 2653, 2668 (2011). The Court uses these exceptions in the law to conclude that "[r]ules that burden protected expression may not be sustained when the options provided by the State are too narrow to advance legitimate interests or too broad to protect speech." Sorrell, 131 S. Ct. 2653 at 2669. The Complaint appears to assert a similar argument in identifying the restriction in the statute that prohibits unlicensed individuals from engaging in the practice of dietetics and nutrition without a license and then removes a wide breadth of individuals from the application of that prohibition. On balance, however, the Florida law at issue appears to provide for additional exceptions (not discussed in Sorrell with regard to the Vermont law) that permit individuals who do not otherwise meet the exceptions required to receive remuneration in exchange for the provision of nutrition and dietetic services – to provide such services for free without restriction.

Brown v. Entertainment Merchants Association – 2011 (S. Ct.)

- Valid law; No relevant challenges post-law review article.

U.S. v. Alvarez – 2012 (S. Ct.)

- Valid law; No relevant challenges post-law review article.

Edwards v. District of Columbia – 2014 (D.C. Circuit)

- Valid law; no negative treatment of any kind.

King v. Governor of the State of New Jersey – 2014 (3rd Circuit)

- Valid law; No relevant challenges post-law review article.

Wollschlaeger v. Governor of Florida – 2017 (11th Circuit)

- Valid law; approved for en banc review, resulting in a very recent decision by the Eleventh Circuit with regard to the First Amendment.

- This decision overturned the earlier holding described by the law review article and held that the “record-keeping, inquiry, and anti-harassment provisions of the [Firearm Owner’s Privacy Act (“FOPA”)] constitute speaker-focused and content-based restrictions on speech” subject to First Amendment scrutiny. Wollschlaeger at 848 F.3d 1293, 1307. More specifically, “the record-keeping and inquiry provisions expressly limit the ability of certain speakers—doctors and medical professionals—to write and speak about a certain topic—the ownership of firearms—and thereby restrict their ability to communicate and/or convey a message.” Id. Such content-based restrictions trigger strict scrutiny; however the Eleventh Circuit did not reach this issue as the restrictions “fail even under heightened scrutiny” elaborated in Sorrell. The standard for heightened scrutiny requires state officials to “show at least that the [provisions] directly advance [] a substantial governmental interest and that the measure[s] [are] drawn to achieve that interest. There must be a ‘fit between the legislature’s ends and the means chosen to accomplish those ends.’ Id. at 1311-12 (quoting Sorrell v. IMS Health Inc., 131 S. Ct. 2653, 2667).

Good morning,

The countdown to FNCE begins (or continues)! As we finalize plans for the Committee Chairs/Vice Chairs Networking Event on Sunday, I wanted to quickly touch base with both of you. Anna Shlachter and I have been tossing around ideas for an activity that will encourage networking while providing flexibility to accommodate folks who may wander in and out of the event. While we are encouraging everyone to attend for the full hour, you know how that goes. So we are going to do an activity that involves name tags and conversation starters. Basically everyone will get a name tag with their name and the name of their committee, but it will also include a fill in the blank conversation starter question. The goal is to use that question to guide their networking conversations. We hope you like this idea.

Now – here comes my main question. I plan for each of you to welcome the group and make some brief remarks. You know how as staff we want to make things as easy for you as possible. So would you like me to draft some brief talking points for your use? If you are comfortable speaking off the cuff, I'm fine with that plan. If you prefer to have some remarks in hand, I'm happy to do so as well. I know you both have a lot of presentations/remarks to make at FNCE so my goal is to support you in whatever way meets your needs. No need for you each to give me the same answer as I'm flexible.

Please let me know one way or the other by this Thursday so if I need to prepare something I can do so and get it in your hands well in advance of the event.

Thank you,

Marsha

So would you like me to draft some brief talking points for your use? If you are comfortable speaking off the cuff, I'm fine with that plan. If you prefer to have some remarks in hand, I'm happy to do so as well. I know you both have a lot of presentations/remarks to make at FNCE so my goal is to support you in whatever way meets your needs. No need for you each to give me the same answer as I'm flexible.

Please let me know one way or the other by this Thursday so if I need to prepare something I can do so and get it in your hands well in advance of the event.

Thank you,

Marsha

I am on the phone with Ryan and he just confirmed that he was able to get Ellen registered. She was sent a registration confirmation email a few minutes ago and Ryan also emailed her personally to note that she has been registered and the confirmation was sent.

Ryan did submit a ticket to IT Support to research the issue as this is something we have not experience prior to the NetForum upgrade. We don't know if it is tied to that upgrade or not, but that is a possibility based on what was explained to Ryan.

Hi Pat,

To follow-up I did talk to NEP's DPG Manager, Jena, who said she had not been contacted by this person directly nor through the Chair. She did say she had been working with the NEP Chair to resolve some NetForum issues (through Ryan's help). We will make sure she can get into the webinar tomorrow.

Thanks,

Hi Pat-

I am glad to hear that Ryan was looped into the communications and is attempting to assist. We received an email from Ellen to cpd@eatright.org on Thursday, October 5 and Ryan did reply directly from his email box so she had a name and direct contact. He is working with IT to resolve and get her registered. It appears that NEP DPG is hosting this webinar external to any Academy staff team or host and their site lists this as free, but it is requiring a credit card. We think the event was added incorrectly to NetForum as it should not be asking for a credit card for a free webinar. I see that Amy has replied as well and is going to work with Jena (manager) on this.

I am unsure if anyone else replied per her other inboxes she contacted, but Ryan is personally working to resolve this with IT and get her registered.

Donna - I am sorry to use your work email for this reason. I tried using the AND site that allowed me to email you but it cut me off since my email was apparently too long.

Since last week I have been emailing several departments (webstrategy, cpd, accounting, CDR) about my inability to register for tomorrow's FREE NEP 52 webinar at 1 PM EDT without entering my credit card number. I am a member of DEP 52 and my recollection is that previously I have been able to register for FREE webinars without entering my credit card number. In this age of hacking, I don't give out my credit card number frivolously.

I received NO response to my numerous emails until just now, from Ryan Crinnigan, Coordinator, DPG/MIG/Affiliate Relations and Nutrition Focused Physical Exam (NFPE) Program. I don't know if he will be able to allow me to register without entering my credit card number but he stated he'd try.

I must say I am disappointed at the lack of response on AND's part with regard to my many emails. I have been an AND member for over 30 years and this is troubling to me (as well as the need to enter credit card info for a free webinar when in the past it wasn't necessary).

I wanted to share this with you, Donna. And, though I am disappointed at the long time it took for a response from one of the 4 departments I emailed, I appreciate Ryan's response. Again, I apologize for using your work email but I did try to use the AND site first unsuccessfully.

Hi Donna. Thank you so much and we are so happy to have them join us! We will make it a fun night for all. I will send you all menu options ahead of time, so we can be ready for you when you arrive from the big party! We should have your card on file. I will let you know if there is anything else we need.

Beth, I talked to my family and Pat about the possibility of them coming to the Foundation Dinner. My family said that part of the reason they were going to be in Chicago was that they wanted to celebrate with me so they would like to come to the dinner. I would like to make a donation to the Foundation to cover the costs of their meals please? Here are the names of who I would like to include and their relationship to me. Please make a donation from me for $350 to cover the costs of the extra 7 people. The good news is that all of them are a ton of fun!!! If you don't have my credit card on file I can give it to you or Martha again. I am including my daughter's email address as she could coordinate the entrée choices for everyone coming.

Donna,

I spoke with Mary Beth; she said the dinner would be no more than maximum $300 for six people. Your meal would have been paid for anyway, so $250 would completely cover a donation.

Since there will be a lot of back and forth from the convention center to various hotels, we will be providing transportation for the several round trips. To arrange transportation from the Hyatt Regency Chicago hotel, contact Erin Cannon at 847-809-4500; for transportation from McCormick Place West, contact Mary Wolski at 847-894-5736. We have pre-arranged an Uber pick-up for Friday, Sunday and Monday mornings from the Hyatt Regency Chicago to McCormick Place West. The meeting place and time are on the FNCE BOD Schedule. I have added Diane to discuss this tomorrow on our call.

Here are my thoughts on questions for Kimbal. I will take any suggestions for change and to reword or thoughts you all have on what to ask.

1. How did having a mother who was a RDN influence you in your decisions to work in this space?
2. What do you see as the biggest challenges to the world's food security and how can we as RDNs and NDTRs play a role in solving these issues?
3. What keeps you going when things are not going your way?
4. What has surprised you the most about your work with the square roots project or in the food sustainability arena?

5. Do you have any advice on how to get people on board to want to eat healthier and more sustainably?
6. What other agriculture or food related dreams are on your radar for the future?

Subject: Food Waste practice applications

Hello Donna,

I appreciate your August 2017 President's Page on food waste. I've been working "in the trenches" for several years in a child nutrition program in south Mississippi. Food waste is a problem, even in low-income areas such as the southeastern US. While composting and offering leftovers the next day may be helpful, they are not possible in all districts. School gardens are wonderful, but they take extra effort by staff and teachers to maintain. Mississippi schools have been underfunded for years, resulting in no resources for extras like school gardens. Teachers are stretched to the limit and no volunteers exist because people must work two or three jobs just to make ends meet. Serving lines in many instances are not set up to handle extra (leftover) food. There is barely space to serve the daily menu. And offer vs serve does not mean a student must consume a fruit or vegetable - it only means they must take something. Lots of this forced selection goes in the trash. Farm to school produce is nice when it is available. I worked with Carol Shanklin twenty years ago on several food waste projects during my doctoral study at Kansas State. Food waste can be minimized, but it takes a collective effort by ALL stakeholders in the district. Unfortunately support for public education has not kept pace with the need to educate our children and prepare them to be functioning citizens in our society. I encourage you to brainstorm with your colleagues to make child nutrition programs perceived as valuable community resources, as well as excellent career options for food and nutrition professionals.

Sincerely,

Bonnie L. Gerald, PhD, DTR (ret.)

Greetings Mark and all,

First, welcome aboard in your new role in the Academy's DC office and thank you for including me in this request. I'm grateful the Academy is considering providing comment to USDA and I hope the information and recommendations I outline below are beneficial regarding the merger of CNPP into FNS. This is my viewpoint and does not reflect the perspective of any AND unit or USDA. I am responding to all with this email so there is common understanding on the background and history of CNPP< <https://www.cnpp.usda.gov/>> and FNS< <https://www.fns.usda.gov/>>.

Background

CNPP was formed in 1994, and the effort in establishing a new agency dedicated to providing evidence-based nutrition guidance to Americans was spearheaded by Dr. Eileen Kennedy. At that time staff were extracted from other USDA agencies, primarily Agricultural Research Services (ARS) and Economic Research Services (ERS) to form the Center for Nutrition Policy and Promotion. Since 1994, there has always been a politically appointed Executive Director for CNPP. I was the most recent CNPP Executive Director, my tour of duty was from July 2014 to Jan 2017 and I reported to FNCS Under Secretary Kevin Concannon. I was the second dietitian to hold that post in 23 years. I refer to Kevin for elaborating on the history of CNPP and FNS as he served as UnderSecretary for seven years.

When CNPP joined the Food, Nutrition, and Consumer Services mission area, there was no Congressionally appropriated funding to support any of the initiatives within CNPP. So after the passage of the National Nutrition Monitoring and Related Research Act of 1990 that charged USDA and USHHS to develop and revise the Dietary Guidelines for Americans (DGAs) every five years, they did not appropriate any funds to support this work, nor have they ever financially supported the development and revision of the DGAs - until 2016 in which they added a $1M rider to the FY2016 appropriations bill to charge USDA to work with the National Academies to thoroughly evaluate the process of developing the DGAs. The National Academies just completed their review and their final recommendations to USDA can be found here<
<http://www.nationalacademies.org/hmd/Activities/Nutrition/DietaryGuidelinesforAmericans.aspx>>.

Being CNPP did not come to FNCS with direct appropriations, it was agreed in the 1990s that FNS would support CNPP through the FNS Nutrition Program Administration budget. In other words, FNS had to give up some of their $150+M budget<
<https://www.usda.gov/sites/default/files/documents/USDA-Budget-Summary-2018.pdf>> to support CNPP (see page 40). This unique financial arrangement still stands today. Each year, the CNPP budget (base of $4.96M/year FY17) is not determined by Congress, but is allocated by FNS via the NPA account. This sharing of - or competition for - NPA funds has created a tension between the two agencies that continues to today.

Bottom line is the work of CNPP serves as the scientific and nutrition guidance foundation for the programs in FNS. The Dietary Guidelines for Americans; MyPlate, MyWins; Healthy Eating Index; and the USDA food plans are core elements to support FNS and so many other Federal food and nutrition programs. There is no duplication of programs or services between CNPP and FNS - CNPP provides the evidence-based guidance to the programs.

Regarding the merger of CNPP in to FNS...

- * This is a strategy used by this administration to report the "elimination of an agency" to form the perception of making smaller government, when in fact it is shifting an agency into another.
- * There has been an underlying current over the years of merging CNPP into another agency or eliminating CNPP entirely. FNS is the most appropriate agency because of the alignment with the programs and the unique fiscal relationship. There had been discussions of merging CNPP into agencies within the Office of Chief Scientist/Research, Environment, Economics but in light of the controversy around the proposed appointment for Chief Scientist, this decision may protect CNPP from being acquired by another mission area.

* In speaking with other organizations, there are concerns expressed about retaining integrity and the degree of separation between the work of CNPP - especially re the DGAs and the Thrifty Food Plan (which determines benefits for SNAP participants) - and their potential of (perceived) conflict of interest and/or undue influence by FNS on the evidence-based work of CNPP.

* There is also concern that once CNPP is merged into FNS, there will be further changes in the future in which elements of CNPP would become further dismantled and merged into other areas of FNS. It is important to know the differences in audiences served - CNPP directs their initiatives to the general population whereas FNS's programs are designed for very specific populations, many of which are designed for low-resource individuals and families. FNS uses the work of CNPP and adapts them to best meet the needs of their program participants (e.g., MyPlate, MyWins and Team Nutrition)

* Outside organizations are also speculating that the merger is one step in eliminating the development and revision of the DGAs. This is not a far-fetched theory based on the heightened visibility and scrutiny of the 2015-2020 DGAs, as well as the level of involvement by Congress. This would require an act by Congress to amend or eliminate the NNMARRA of 1990. I hope the Academy continues to be engaged in these discussions as I'm not sure we as dietetic professionals know a world without evidence-based dietary guidance for this country and the ripple effect of unintended consequences of such a decision.

My recommendations to the Academy for comments to USDA:

1. Strongly encourage that USDA hire a Senior Executive Service (SES) career staff to serve as the administrator of CNPP, and that person must have credentials in nutrition, medicine, and/or public health. It is essential this leader has a solid background in nutrition science, population health, epidemiology, evaluation, and public policy. The Academy is the ideal organization to propose appropriate qualifications for such a position. This is essential for the integrity of the DGAs and the other initiatives within CNPP.

2. Leveraging the new report from the National Academies and the numerous recommendations made to USDA, FNS must demonstrate that adequate funds are provided to continue to support the rigor, integrity and the additions to the process of developing the DGAs. As the Academy is fully aware, conducting rigorous systematic reviews is complex and expensive and it is an extremely critical step in the DGA development process. Each iteration of the DGAs gets more costly but the funding has not changed. Note - This report could also be leveraged for appropriations via the Farm Bill - if the right sponsors can be found.

3. Request USDA assure Congress, stakeholders, and the public that appropriate degrees of separation will exist to ensure the integrity of "informing processes" that take place between CNPP and FNS and that undue influence would be minimal.

My apologies for the mini-thesis this evening, but grateful for the opportunity to provide a frontline perspective. Thank you for the long-time advocacy and support of the DGAs. I would be happy to have further discussions. I will be off-line/off-the-grid for the next six days, but will get back to email next week.

Best Regards,
—Angie

Dear Linette, Jessica, Judy, Pauline, Lorrie, Linda, Lisa, Courtney, Katie, Phylis, Susan, Angie, Kevin and Donna,

The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy office is specifically seeking your input on this most important comment opportunity. SNS, PN, PHCN, NEP, FCP, DBC, WH and HEN DPGs, as well as the PHCN Committee and several of you individually, are key Academy stakeholders on this topic, so your input will contribute greatly to the Academy's comments. The deadline by which we seek input back to the Academy is Friday, September 29, 2017. Apologies for the very short timeline, but USDA provided less time for comment than usual.

Please find attached a template with questions and issues raised by the USDA in its proposal. Please use the template to record and submit your input.

This particular proposal involves substantial re-alignment of various USDA subdivisions, most notably "merging the Center for Nutrition and Policy Promotion into the Food and Nutrition Service." You may choose to focus on issues of particular interest to your membership.

For DPG PALs, we suggest you share this opportunity as you choose (that is, with specific members, and/or your membership in general) and then consolidate comments on behalf of your respective DPGs to send to me by September 30.

If you or your members choose to submit comments as individuals, and not as an Academy unit, that should be specified on the template document. Given the tight deadline, I apologize that I am not able to extend the deadline on this.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to email me.

Thanks again for your interest and I look forward to hearing back from you.

Hi Donna,

Thank you for getting back with us so quickly. You will not have to go through all of the details of the Strategic Plan, focus areas and strategies because the House will be receiving the materials in a Speaker message and they will also be encouraged to visit the website www.eatright.org/strategicplan to view the plan and download a pdf. So, you will be able to just move through those slides very quickly. Please let me know if you are fine with leaving them in the presentation or if you want them deleted.

Doris and Pat, I think this is a great presentation, but I don't think there is anyway to do it in 10-15 minutes. Can we have more time or do we need to shorten? Looking at all the talking points we have will make it take too long. If we handed out the strategic plan, focus areas and strategies we might could make it work by not having to go through all of those. I welcome your thoughts.

Subject: Question - Dietitian contacts in Jordan and Mozambique

Hi everyone,

I hope this email finds you all doing well. I wanted to let you know that I had the opportunity to present to a delegation from the country of Jordan yesterday on farm to school and school nutrition programs. I presented with my colleague from NC State University/Cooperative Extension/4-H, who co-leads Food Corps in North Carolina. NCSU applied for and received a grant from the USDA Foreign Agricultural Service Cochran Fellowship Program to host the Jordanian delegation. The Jordanian Fellows are policy leaders from the Ministries of Industry, Trade and Supply, Planning and International Cooperation, and Finance along with the Central Bank of Jordan and the National Aid Fund. They are learning about food and nutrition assistance programs. The hope is that they will apply for the McGovern-Dole Food for Education Program to assist in developing school nutrition programs in their country. I was able to provide a similar presentation to a delegation from Mozambique coordinated by NC A&T University with the USDA Foreign Agriculture Service Cochran Fellowship Program earlier. The Mozambique Fellows were heads of the Ministries of Agriculture, Education and Health for the country. For the Mozambique delegation, I presented with my colleague from the NC Department of Agriculture & Consumer Services with whom I share responsibilities for chairing the Farm to School Coalition of NC.

I am reaching out to see if the Academy has any contacts for nutrition and dietetic professionals in Jordan or Mozambique. It might be helpful to offer the local resources of a food and nutrition expert in following up with the Fellows. I was wondering if there might be an American Overseas Dietetic Association member based in one of these countries. I was also wondering if there was a national dietetic association in one of these countries. I did not see Jordan or Mozambique in the list of countries who belong to the International Confederation of Dietetic Associations. The Muslims in Dietetics and Nutrition MIG may also be a source for a contact. Any assistance you could provide would be appreciated. Thanks so much.

Healthy regards,

Academy Says Congress Must Address Health Care System Shortfalls

Congress missed a key September 30 deadline to reauthorize several critical health programs, including Children's Health Insurance Program, the National Health Service Corps and the Maternal, Infant and Early Childhood Home Visiting Program. The Academy and other prominent health care organizations had earlier issued a joint letter urging Congressional leadership to reauthorize these programs before the deadline; our focus now is continuing to ensure reauthorization of these programs before gaps in coverage have an impact. The Senate Finance Committee held an October 4 hearing on CHIP reauthorization legislation (S. 1827) and the House Energy and Commerce Committee has scheduled a hearing this week on similar legislation. The timing of the hearings indicates Congress is likely to reauthorize without additional delay.

Take Action to Improve Access to Nutrition Services

Academy members can now easily reach out to your members of Congress to gain support for the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 3124/S. 1299), which would reimburse registered dietitian nutritionists for medical nutrition therapy they provide to patients with prediabetes.

Numerous representatives and senators have already signed on as cosponsors but we have a long way to go. The support to pass the bill, supported by the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance, really comes when your legislators accede to your polite insistence that they need to co-sponsor this critical bill to improve access to medical nutrition therapy for millions of patients in need

Expanding SNAP-Ed Obesity Prevention Toolkit

In comments to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service, the Academy highlighted several successful SNAP-Ed interventions and offered several dietetic practice groups' suggestions for reducing the data collection burden and reducing bias in the process of including new interventions in the new SNAP-Ed Toolkit. The Academy supports SNAP-Ed and a uniform process for determining which interventions to include when expanding the toolkit.

Support for Healthy People 2030 Framework

The Academy offered its continued support for the proposed Healthy People 2030 framework for the decennial initiative that develops objectives to improve the health of all Americans. In comments to the advisory committee charged with providing recommendations, the Academy noted alignment between the proposed framework and our new Vision and Mission, and between the initiative's foundational and general principles and the Academy's principles for health care. The Academy offered recommendations for enhancing overarching goals, facilitating greater intergovernmental collaboration and making a greater emphasis on oral health.

Academy Calls on Congress to Fully Fund Special Diabetes Program

The Academy joined provider and patient organizations in urging Congress to reauthorize and fund the initiative of the Special Diabetes Program that funds the National Institutes of Health's research on Type 1 diabetes in addition to numerous diabetes education and prevention programs for American Indians and Alaska Native populations. Last week, Congress passed a three-month reauthorization that enables the program to operate, but fails to provide the multi-year renewal necessary for an initiative dedicated to advancing diabetes research.

CHRONIC Care Act Passes the Senate

The Senate unanimously passed S. 870, the Creating High-Quality Results and Outcomes Necessary to Improve Chronic (CHRONIC) Care Act of 2017. The bill allows Medicare Advantage to use varied, improved tools for improving care for beneficiaries with chronic conditions by allowing more flexibility to customize benefits and providing innovative delivery of care to meet the needs of chronically ill Medicare beneficiaries. The Academy has been involved with numerous aspects of the bill throughout the legislative process and will continue working to ensure the essential role of nutrition is properly recognized in the prevention and treatment of chronic disease.

Academy Urges Congress to Protect Historic Investment in Prevention

The Academy sent a letter to the House Energy and Commerce Committee, opposing using the Prevention and Public Health Fund to pay for the reauthorization of federal health workforce programs. The Prevention Fund provides critical support for interventions led by food and nutrition professionals to improve community health; these jobs will disappear without this investment. The Academy recommended that Congress find a bipartisan solution to fund these important programs.

Member Speaks at Capitol Hill Briefing on Adult Nutrient Deficiencies

Academy member Regan Bailey, PhD, MPH, RD, CPH, associate professor at Purdue University and a former nutritional epidemiologist at the Office of Dietary Supplements in the National Institutes of Health's Office of Disease Prevention, spoke at a recent Congressional Dietary Supplement Caucus briefing for Capitol Hill staff titled "Dietary Supplement Use and Nutrient Intakes in U.S. Adults." Bailey spoke on the importance of fortification and diversification in combination with supplementation for meeting nutrient needs and highlighted significant variations in the contribution of strategies for improving intake among racial, ethnic, socioeconomic, sex and age demographics. Legislation recently introduced in the House of Representatives would make multivitamins eligible for purchase using Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits. The Academy is monitoring the legislation and will take a stance on the bill in accordance with an established process that includes scientific review and member engagement.

I cringe to put forth this note because I know there's a lot for everyone to balance so close to FNCE, but here goes ...

My return home flight has been booked for 1230 pm departure on Tuesday 10/24, which means I'd miss the Closing. My hope was to get home in time for my son's 6 pm soccer game and then a post-game family celebration of my birthday (bday happens 10/23). Dear Donna: I'm enclosing your hotel information. Edna and I will receive you at the airport. Marianella Herrera arrives at the same time, and I'm planning to take you both sightseeing at Mexico downtown, we can have lunch there, and I would love to show you the Castillo de Chapultepec, that is the only monarchic castle in the continent. We'll take you to your hotel afterwards. We are making plans for dinner that day and also on Friday with other speakers.

I chose your flight seat at the left window because Mexico City has a very beautiful view when landing. The airport is inside the city so you will have opportunity to see the Castle from the air, you can't miss it, when you start seeing skyscrapers there's a grass area and on top of it is the Castle. The Paseo de la Reforma Avenue is Mexico's more important street, that starts near the Castle. The Emperor Maximiliano from Austria, who inhabited the Castle, ordered its construction to have a direct road from his residence to downtown in the XIX Century. I think you'll enjoy the view as much as I do. The plane makes a turn at the WTC building, that is an impressive black square building, and the next important building you'll see is the Latinoamericana Tower, once Mexico's City tallest building; near from it you'll spot the Cathedral. I will take you to all those places, so you'll have both perspectives.

Please bring comfy shoes for that day. The weather here is around 70 degrees at day.

We have planned 45 minutes for your presentation, that will take place on Friday at 11:15. You can take breakfast at the hotel and we'll arrange for your transportation to the University, that is very close by. I'll have someone to assist you at the Conference venue for anything you might need.

You can bring your presentation in a USB drive.

Please let me know if there's anything I can do to make the best of your visit.

We're also very excited to have you here!

Kind regards,

Gaby Mancera

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND[®]) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the October Standards Update is posted on the ACEND Monthly Standards webpage. Monthly Standards Update In this issue proposed changes to the 2017 Accreditation Standards and the Future Education Model Accreditation Standards are discussed.

This spring several programs chose to be reviewed under the 2017 Accreditation Standards. ACEND has received comments from program directors and reviewers on clarifications that could be made to the wording in the standards; therefore ACEND has made some slight changes to the 2017 Accreditation Standards. The revised documents are available on the ACEND Standards Website at www.eatrightpro.org/2017Standards. Public comments on the revised standards can be made at: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/2017StdComments> until December 4, 2017.

The monthly Virtual Town Hall meetings are held on the second Thursday of the month at 1 PM Central Time. The town hall provides a time for ACEND to share updates on its standards work and for stakeholders to ask questions. Information on joining the town hall can be found at www.eatrightpro.org/FutureModel.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

Monthly Standards Update In this issue proposed changes to the 2017 Accreditation Standards and the Future Education Model Accreditation Standards are discussed.

This spring several programs chose to be reviewed under the 2017 Accreditation Standards. ACEND has received comments from program directors and reviewers on clarifications that could be made to the wording in the standards; therefore ACEND has made some slight changes to the 2017 Accreditation Standards. The revised documents are available on the ACEND Standards Website at www.eatrightpro.org/2017Standards. Subject: Next two President's page ideas

Tom and Doris, Here are my ideas for two more President's pages. Obviously, Doris I will let you choose the Media people to interview, but I did give some suggestions. Thanks!

Agriculture

Based on our Second Century plans and our new strategic plan it is imperative that dietetic professionals learn more about the field of agriculture. All of us need to know where our food comes from and how can we as dietitians make sure we have enough nutritious food to feed the growing populations of the world. Children need to understand that our food does not come from a grocery store, but from hard working farmers. Combining nutrition and agriculture into a profession is a natural fit.

1. Communication in ag is Amy Myrdal Miller of California. Amy grew up on a farm and works extensively in agriculture; all types of crops.
2. Actual Farmer is Jennie Schmidt, Maryland. She's an RD farmer. Tomatoes, soy, corn and wine grapes. Used to also farm organically. Jennie serves on several farm/ag professional society boards and also has been an active Academy member serving on many committees, paper development, etc. She's a rock star.
3. Ag Promotion / promoting fruit/veg and working with farmers, produce retail/supermarkets, schools, and much more is CEO and president of Produce for Better Health, Wendy Reinhardt Kapsak, MS RD. Works with organics and conventional. All types of Ag. All forms fruit and veg.

Media

The influence media has on how people eat has grown extensively. If we want to change the eating habits of people, we must embrace all kinds of media to help get our point across.

1. Print RD is Toby Amidor hands down. New York. Incredibly prolific writer who always quotes RDs.
- 2.. TV RD is Ellie Krieger of NYC. Not gimmicky. No fads. So down to earth. Lovely to work with.
3. TV RD USA and internationally is Sylvia Melendez Klinger, RD. Bilingual. Well known and respected around the world. Resides in Chicago; from Puerto Rico.

4. Social media RD is Melissa Joy Dobbins. She's Chicago based. Her brand is about helping RDs be better communicators. She's also the "guilt-free RD." Has a podcast and tons of followers on Twitter.

Subject: Next two President's page ideas

Tom and Doris, Here are my ideas for two more President's pages. Obviously, Doris I will let you choose the Media people to interview, but I did give some suggestions. Thanks!

Agriculture

Based on our Second Century plans and our new strategic plan it is imperative that dietetic professionals learn more about the field of agriculture. All of us need to know where our food comes from and how can we as dietitians make sure we have enough nutritious food to feed the growing populations of the world. Children need to understand that our food does not come from a grocery store, but from hard working farmers. Combining nutrition and agriculture into a profession is a natural fit.

1. Communication in ag is Amy Myrdal Miller of California. Amy grew up on a farm and works extensively in agriculture; all types of crops.

2. Actual Farmer is Jennie Schmidt, Maryland. She's an RD farmer. Tomatoes, soy, corn and wine grapes. Used to also farm organically. Jennie serves on several farm/ag professional society boards and also has been an active Academy member serving on many committees, paper development, etc. She's a rock star.

3. Ag Promotion / promoting fruit/veg and working with farmers, produce retail/supermarkets, schools, and much more is CEO and president of Produce for Better Health, Wendy Reinhardt Kapsak, MS RD. Works with organics and conventional. All types of Ag. All forms fruit and veg.

Media

The influence media has on how people eat has grown extensively. If we want to change the eating habits of people, we must embrace all kinds of media to help get our point across.

1. Print RD is Toby Amidor hands down. New York. Incredibly prolific writer who always quotes RDs.

2.. TV RD is Ellie Krieger of NYC. Not gimmicky. No fads. So down to earth. Lovely to work with.

3. TV RD USA and internationally is Sylvia Melendez Klinger, RD. Bilingual. Well known and respected around the world. Resides in Chicago; from Puerto Rico.

4. Social media RD is Melissa Joy Dobbins. She's Chicago based. Her brand is about helping RDs be better communicators. She's also the "guilt-free RD." Has a podcast and tons of followers on Twitter.

Erin, I think the only special request I might have for FNCE is on Thursday when I arrive for FNCE. My husband, sister, daughter and son in law are all flying in with me. So is there anyway we could get a vehicle that would hold the five of us to go to the hotel? If that is not feasible, I would be happy to pay for a cab for the rest of them to follow us to the hotel. They will be returning earlier than I will so they will not be with me for the return trip to the airport. Thanks for assisting with this request.

Hi Donna,

I'm glad to help – no problem! I think doing this makes strides in building relationships with the affiliates.

Pat approved for Idaho and Alaska that the Academy would just cover the full amount for the tickets instead of splitting with the affiliate. So go ahead and submit your reimbursement for the full cost of the Alaska ticket back to the Academy. Joan already knows to keep her eye out for it. I will take care of having that conversation with Alaska and I already have with Idaho.

Thanks!

Amy, Thanks for all your help with this "project/grant". I know it has been extra work, but I think it is going to be great. I booked and paid for the Alaska flights because they said they had budgeted $1200 for a flight and I found one for $750 if I took the red eye home, so I booked it and paid for it. I think they are willing to pay the difference in the $500 grant and the cost of the ticket so I am not sure how you want to handle it? I promise we won't have any more of these issues with other states. These were just super expensive tickets based on having to take 3 flights to get to them and just sheer distance with Alaska. let me know about who to get reimbursement from. I told them could wait until March for the reimbursement if Alaska did it. Sorry for confusion and extra work.

Joan and Amy, I am going to be booking my Idaho flights in the morning. I wanted to give you both a heads up on the ticket. The ticket will be $747. I offered to pay the $247 above the $500 Idaho was given in their grant, because they said they could not afford the extra money above the $500. Pat told me to just let the Academy pay for it and not to pay for it myself. I did not want to communicate all that to the Idaho Academy and that is why I told them to send the $500 check back to the Academy. I feel like any other states will stick to the $500 grant. I have booked my ticket to Alaska and they said they will be happy to pay the amount over the $500. I am taking the red eye back on both trips to help save them the cost of an extra hotel room. I am not sure who will have to approve the ticket when it comes through, but I wanted to let you know what was going on before I booked and you got the ticket cost. Email me if you have questions and if it doesn't work, out I am still glad to reimburse the Academy. Glad to get these two big trips worked out. The rest of the states will be easy.

Dear Judi,

Hope things are getting better on your side after hurricane in your part of the world.

Alice wanted to know as an ICDA board member can you bring it up the following ?

POINT # 1

1) Any possibility of Integrating 2 org's EAL of the Academy &PEN of Canada to help all countries around the world who can benefit from both without paying for 2 org to access to it ?

2) How can you make it possible ?

3) Any way to bring it to ICDA's board's attention since Marsha Sharp is ICDA Chair making it available to ALL countries belonging to ICDA ? Everybody knows that Marsha is retiring from CDA on Oct 18 th ??

4) Would it be better to bring it up since Marsha is familiar with PEN, it belongs to CDA ?

5) Can this point be put on the agenda for the Academy's BOD mtg after FNCE or BEFORE FNCE if it is not too late for Oct ?

POINT # 2. to double check

All along USA was mentioned to start ICDA News letter in 1994 which seem to have removed or been accidently deleted from the website ? Alice felt credit should be given to the right people

Tnx a million.

Rita Batheja,

Hello Kevin,

Good question! The Board has reserved seating in the middle section directly in front of the stage for Opening Session, Member Showcase, and Closing Session. We will be sending out further information soon with details on the time and meet-up location so staff can escort Board members into the session room in advance of general attendees. This allows us to have you in your designated seating zone prior to the main doors opening. There is also a reserved table for Board members at the Honors Breakfast on Sunday morning, however, you are welcome to sit with other colleagues or friends if you so choose.

Best regards,

Pat

Joan and Pat,

As a new Board Member, these are very helpful updates and bits of advice - thank you!
I'm going to ask probably the silliest question of the week in 3....2....1: For some of the mandatory sessions/events, is it preferred that the Board sit or gather in a particular area of the session? I wasn't sure if there were situations where introductions or similar might occur that was assisted by that type of thing.

Thanks in advance, Kevin

Attached for your review is a draft schedule highlighting FNCE activities which require and/or encourage Board attendance. The schedule is not intended to reflect all the sessions you attend. We recognize that most of you hold multiple DPG and MIG memberships and that you will be attending affiliate, DPG and MIG business meetings and receptions. Please let me know if an activity/session requiring Board representation is not reflected or if you have a conflict and are unable to attend an activity or session to which you were assigned. Since rooms and times may still change, a final copy of the schedule will be sent with your October meeting packet. Your packet will also include the FNCE 2017 Leader Remarks and Talking Points, the Honors script for those presenting Medallion awards to their Board Partners at the Honors Breakfast and your designated assignments from the Corporate Relations Team for thanking our exhibitors.

Tickets for the Academy Foundation Second Century FUN-raiser on Monday evening, October 23, are purchased directly by you. To buy tickets please write to Foundation@eatright.org or contact Martha Ontiveros at 1-800/877-1600, ext. 4773.

A Board get-together is scheduled for Friday, October 20 from 7:30 pm – 9:30 pm in the Presidential Suite at the Hyatt Regency Chicago Hotel, 151 E. Wacker Drive, allowing for a relaxing and fun evening. A buffet will be served. Please let me know if you are planning on bringing a family member.

Speaker Message 9 The Countdown Begins

Fall Meeting Updates

We are 3 weeks out from the fall HOD meeting! The HLT looks forward to connecting with you as well as working together on the two dialogue topics:

- Championing Nutrition and Dietetics Practitioners in Roles of Leadership in Public Health
- Draft Code of Ethics: Education and Communication Strategies
- We recommend all delegates review the new Appreciative Inquiry (AI) webinar prior to the HOD meeting. It will be a good review for return delegates and it will also set the stage for using AI for new delegates.
- The HOD backgrounder and fact sheet for Day 1 were released a month ago. We realize some of you may not have had the time to access the documents on the platform, but the great news is that you still have plenty of time to read the documents and prepare for the meeting!
- Organize your calendar for the HOD meeting and FNCE® ! Review the HOD Meeting draft agenda as well as the FNCE® app.

Call for Nominations and the Nominating Committee

We are pleased to have the Nominating Committee join us for the HOUSEWarming Party on Thursday and the HOD meeting on Friday.

- Nominating Committee Chair, Marisa Moore will speak about the nominations during the HOD meeting.
- The committee members will be available to talk with you about the opportunities for leadership positions and accept nominations.
- Consider sharing this Tweet with your members on the nominations.

Centennial Celebration

During outreach to the delegates, the HLT mentioned the Centennial Celebration for those attending FNCE. Here are the details:

FNCE® Centennial Celebration!

Saturday, October 21

6 p.m. – 7:30 p.m.

McCormick Center West Building

- Come ready to honor the Academy's milestone and kick-off FNCE® at the Centennial Celebration, to be held immediately after Opening Session. This Celebration is open to all full-week and Sunday registered attendees and registered guests.
- Rock out to the tunes of Retro Tonic while you enjoy light hors d'oeuvres and cocktails. Experience the history of the Academy through the interactive timeline display. And, network with over 350 exhibitors as they open their booths a day early for this celebration.
- As you make plans to attend this event, please make sure to have your FNCE® registration badge. FNCE® shuttle bus hours will be extended.

The VIP Green room is separate from the green room built behind stage for the keynote sessions. As President, you will be provided with private keys to these rooms (Chirag, Mary and Diane have back up keys). Here are the details:

- Room W376 at MPW (behind Skyline ballroom on Level 3)
 - o Room features include:
 - § Full length mirror
 - § Couches
 - § Private Bathroom
 - o You can access this at any time during the meeting and it will be kept on lock out for your use. Therefore, this is your space to use throughout the meeting to freshen up, have a private conversation, rest or simply get away for a bit.
- Room W177 at MPW (Level 1) – Executive Office Meeting Room
 - o The Academy President and CEO will have access to this room for any impromptu meetings they may have with members, staff, etc.
 - § Room is set for 10 people in a conference style

Joan and Amy, I am going to be booking my Idaho flights in the morning. I wanted to give you both a heads up on the ticket. The ticket will be $747. I offered to pay the $247 above the $500 Idaho was given in their grant, because they said they could not afford the extra money above the $500. Pat told me to just let the Academy pay for it and not to pay for it myself. I did not want to communicate all that to the Idaho Academy and that is why I told them to send the $500 check back to the Academy. I feel like any other states will stick to the $500 grant. I have booked my ticket to Alaska and they said they will be happy to pay the amount over the $500. I am taking the red eye back on both trips to help save them the cost of an extra hotel room. I am not sure who will have to approve the ticket when it comes through, but I wanted to let you know what was going on before I booked and you got the ticket cost. Email me if you have questions and if it doesn't work, out I am still glad to reimburse the Academy. Glad to get these two big trips worked out. The rest of the states will be easy.

I offered to pay the $247 above the $500 Idaho was given in their grant, because they said they could not afford the extra money above the $500. Pat told me to just let the Academy pay for it and not to pay for it myself. I did not want to communicate all that to the Idaho Academy and that is why I told them to send the $500 check back to the Academy. I feel like any other states will stick to the $500 grant. I have booked my ticket to Alaska and they said they will be happy to pay the amount over the $500. I am taking the red eye back on both trips to help save them the cost of an extra hotel room. I am not sure who will have to approve the ticket when it comes through, but I wanted to let you know what was going on before I booked and you got the ticket cost. Email me if you have questions and if it doesn't work, out I am still glad to reimburse the Academy. Glad to get these two big trips worked out. The rest of the states will be easy.

Hi Donna. I apologize regarding the error of the start time on the Foundation Board dinner invitation. Our intent is for the dinner to be following the party and realize that attendees will be trickling in post opening party. We specifically picked a location for the dinner close to McCormick Place to accommodate this. . We are sending out a correction immediately that makes this clear. Hello Donna,

Just as a heads up, I am sharing the email thread below from Penny McConnell and Janey Thornton asking about getting together at FNCE. As you can see Janey's schedule is uncertain and she is not able to commit to a time to see you, but hopes to have the opportunity to say hi at one of the receptions.

Her kind words about you are so impressive;)

Best regards,

Good Morning Joan,

Thanks so much for your offer to help me try and connect with Donna. I'm really so unsure of my schedule while in Chicago as I'll be trying to assist with transportation, etc. of Gene White, a speaker at the conference and the 95 year old president of our Global Child Nutrition Foundation.

I plan on attending several of the receptions where I'm sure Donna will be in attendance. Hopefully I'll have just a moment to give her a big hug and let her know how proud I am of her and thank her for her wonderful leadership.

Thanks again and wishing you the best for a most successful FNCE!

Janey Thornton, an honorary member of AND went to Montreal with me and as we reviewed her FNCE invitations it became apparent that it may be very difficult for her to get "one on one" time with both Michele Obama and Donna Martin due to the crowds that I am sure you anticipate in Chicago and at the functions she has been invited to. Janey was Under Secretary of Agriculture and worked very closely with Michele on many school nutrition projects. She also is a close colleague of Donna's having previously served as a Director in KY.

> Anyhow, would it be possible for Janey to go to the Green Room before the Opening Session on Saturday to have a short visit with both of them? I believe that is when Michele will be recognized as a new Honorary Member of AND and Donna would be there to open the session. I may be wrong on when Michele will be recognized and so then can you correct me on the time and place and I would like the same assistance. It would be easier for Janey to meet with them both at the same time.

What went out from Martha does not reflect Beth's intent and the invite is incorrect. Beth Labrador will be revising/resending the invitations indicating that a wine reception will begin at 7:00pm and dinner will begin to be served around 7:30pm. We absolutely have to be at the Academy centennial celebration following opening session which starts at 6:00pm and runs until 7:30pm. We will receive menus ahead of time and we can arrive to the Foundation dinner around 8:00pm.

We received the following information from Wholesome Wave, the organization that Gus launched and where he served as Founding Board Chair. In keeping with the families wishes, the Foundation will make a donation To Community Kitchen at Cape Cod Village in memory of Gus.

It is with deep sadness that we share the news that Wholesome Wave's Co-founder and Founding Board Chair Gus Schumacher passed unexpectedly of heart failure Sunday night. Wholesome Wave, the good food movement, the agricultural sector, and the world at large have lost one of the most magnificent advocates and change-makers ever known.

Please click here to read about his life and legacy.

Because of the sudden nature of his passing there will be a private family service, followed by a larger memorial in Washington D.C. at a future date. We will share the details as they take shape.

Private church service will be held at: Federated Church of Orleans, 162 Main Street, East Orleans, MA 02643

In lieu of flowers, the Schumacher family requests that donations be made to Community Kitchen at Cape Cod Village, Box 2129, Orleans, MA 02653 (www.capecodvillage.org).

Gus leaves an immeasurable legacy: his vision and work improved the lives of untold numbers of farmers, helped spur growth in markets for farms of all sizes, and made it possible for people of all incomes to put good, healthy food on their tables. The world is a far better place because of Gus.

Hi, Donna:

As we're sure you know, the Academy is working with the Alliance for a Healthier Generation on its America's Healthiest Schools campaign. As part of our involvement, we have drafted the attached posting for the Academy's Stone Soup blog, to be published under your name in early October. The goal for the blog post is to represent "the movement to create a healthy school for every child by inspiring and activating everyone—from school leaders to parents to community change makers—to get involved and support healthy schools." We hope the attached text has done that, in your expert voice.

Could you please review the text and let us know as soon as possible if it is OK, or if you would like to make any edits, which we're glad to do.

Thank you very much, talk to you soon!

Tom, You and your team did an incredible job on this presentation. I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for reworking the presentation. I am so excited to be able to share all this with the HOD and I think this will kick off their meeting on a high note. Thank you for capturing exactly what I wanted to convey to them. I am copying Pat on this so she can make any changes she deems appropriate. I had shared with her what my vision was and she was very supportive. Thanks for working with me. I love all the infographics. Job well done!

Tom and Doris, I took this weekend to think about what I really wanted to convey to the HOD in opening remarks on Friday October 20th. If you don't mind I would like to take a little different stance on what I present? I would like to work the presentation from the angle of how amazed our founding fathers/mothers would have been as to what all we have accomplished in the last 100 years and where we are today. I would like to celebrate our accomplishments by starting out with the fact the founders had a bold vision 100 years ago and we have accomplished the following and wouldn't they be proud of us? Then talk about our new vision and mission. I keep thinking of the theme of communicate, collaborate and celebrate. Some of the things I would like to communicate/celebrate are the following:

1. # of DGG's and MIG's
2. Money we have in the Foundation and # of scholarships and money we gave our last year
3. # of members and total number of credentialed practitioners

4. # of media spokespersons and # of media impressions
5. # of alliances with other organizations (Joan can give you that information)
6. Award winning journal and magazines.
7. 3 Nutrition Care Manuals on line
8. Licensure in X number of states
9. We can now write diet orders in some states
10. Global Fellowships
11. We are doing Nutrition Focused Physical Exams
12. We have the EAL
13. DC office

I would not spend much time on each one of these areas, but mention them.
Do you think we could rework the presentation to be more along these lines?

What do you think?

Thanks!

Not a problem. I asked Jeanne to have her staff do the hotel booking because they know which hotels are good and in proximity to the event. Milton told me there was no hotel designated. Jeanne said she would really appreciate dialoguing with you re the PEW grant.

Dear Milton,

Thank you again for your generous offer of tickets to attend the World Food Program- USA Leadership Awards. Considering the congruence with our strategic plan initiatives , it is a wonderful opportunity for networking.

I checked my schedule and that day I am leading a FNCE all staff meeting. Jeanne Blankenship has responded that she would love to attend and would invite our two spokespeople from the DC area. I am awaiting Donna's response if her schedule allows it.

Again, many thanks for your generosity and for positioning the Academy!

Dear Milton,

What a scary situation! Your proximity to the courthouse makes it so much worse. I'm appalled at how protesters take liberties to terrorize others. I'm glad you made it home safely and are back with your family.

Thank you so much for your generous offer of the tickets to the Leadership Awards. I know several of us would love to be there! I will get back to you by Tuesday at the latest if we can use all six- it's dependent on date availability. Thank you and be safe!

Dear Pat,

Please accept my apologies for departing abruptly today. Around lunch time, the court in St. Louis announced a verdict about a very controversial and racially-charged legal case that involved the shooting and death of a man. Right after the announcement, I started getting alerts and warnings on my phone from Monsanto security and from my kids' school. They were all calling and texting and emailing. The school district cancelled events, including a field trip today and movie night tonight as well as all the sports over the weekend. I felt like I needed to get home asap—especially because the St. Louis airport was suspected a target of protesting. Right now, we have helicopters flying over our house. We live 2 miles from the court. But we do not have any protester activity in our neighborhood.

Here's a link to the story: <http://www.npr.org/2017/09/15/551292324/protests-in-st-louis-after-ex-cop-acquitted-in-anthony-lamar-smith-murder-case>

In more positive news, I have 6 tickets to the World Food Program-USA Leadership Awards. It's a very high end event in DC and a great place to meet decision makers who work to fight global hunger. This sounds like a perfect place for the Academy. It's October 4, which I know is tight timing; coming up fast. Perhaps something for the DC office or the Foundation? Or Allison may have interest depending on her role in the Alliances program, or the Academy President (current, immediate past, president elect, etc.). Past winners are shown at this link below (scroll down). <https://wfpusa.org/about-wfp-usa/awards-and-events/mcgovern-dole-leadership-award/>

Please let me know if you want some or all of the tickets, or if you want me to reach out to anyone on your team to provide more details.

If you decide you will not be able to use the tickets, please let me know. I'm prioritizing the Academy.

Sincerely,

Milton

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Thanks to Members for Making Your Voices Heard on Health Care

The Academy thanks all members who phoned, wrote, or sent Action Alerts to their senators opposing the Graham-Cassidy amendment to the American Health Care Act, culminating September 26 in the Senate canceling the expected vote. The Academy opposed the Graham-Cassidy amendment because of the anticipated cuts in preventive services and patients' reduced access to nutrition services. The Academy will continue working with Congress on bipartisan solutions that improve access to nutrition services delivered by registered dietitian nutritionists and nutrition and dietetics technicians, registered; and working with states to advocate for expanded access to and coverage for preventive services.

Tom, I do not know how you do it every month? You are a genius. I am thrilled with the two who responded. They are very good friends of mine and I would have been shocked if they did not agree. There is only one sentence that I would like to change and it is this one:

Would I be more fulfilled, or make a greater impact, if as an organization and a profession we could increase our ability to conduct even more effective interventions?

Could we change it to something along the lines of this:

Would I be more fulfilled, or make a greater impact if I got involved in an aspect of public policy that could have a significant positive influence on population health?

Feel free to wordsmith. I just don't like the part of the sentence that said "ability to conduct even more effective interventions."

Thank you so much!!!!

What I wanted to talk about is whether you want me to come next week for the World Food Program or maybe for Gus's funeral whenever that is? I only want to come if there are contacts I could meet at the World Food Program or appointments I could do if I came. The same for coming for Gus's funeral. Not sure when that will be. So we can connect whenever, but that was what I wanted to talk to you about. I did not want to do it on the call. Pat said to talk to you about it before I make a decision to come.

Farm groups publish study directly challenging Heritage farm policy

Gus Schumacher, the vice president of policy at the Wholesome Wave Foundation who held many important government positions in agriculture over several decades, died of a heart attack in Washington on Sunday.

Schumacher was a career official at the World Bank, but took leave from the bank to serve as the Massachusetts agriculture commissioner and as the administrator of the Agriculture Department's Foreign Agricultural Service and as undersecretary for farm and foreign agricultural services in the Clinton administration.

Later he and Michel Nischan, an award-winning chef, founded Wholesome Wave to make produce available to low-income people.

A public memorial service will be scheduled, Nischan said Monday evening.

Wholesome Wave has published an appreciation of Schumacher on its website written by Nischan, and asks that friends and associates watch the site for opportunities to add to the appreciation.

To respect the privacy of the Schumacher family, Wholesome Wave has asked that any phone calls be directed to its office at 203-226-1112. Wholesome Wave will share condolences with the family so that they can reach out at the appropriate time.

Farm groups publish study directly challenging Heritage farm policy

Farm Policy Facts, an organization backed by a coalition of farm groups, today will publish a study to refute The Heritage Foundation's blueprint for farm policy that calls for the elimination of many key farm programs.

The study, titled, "How Heritage Foundation's U.S. Farm Policy Proposals Would Put America Last," is written by Brandon Willis, the administrator of the Agriculture Department's Risk Management Agency in the Obama administration.

Brandon Willis

Willis writes that the Heritage Foundation study, entitled "Farms and Free Enterprise: A Blueprint for Agricultural Policy," published in September 2016, is flawed.

"The report selectively uses data in a manner that allows certain conclusions to be drawn about U.S. agriculture and farm policy. The Heritage report's recommendations are based on these conclusions," he says.

Willis maintains that Heritage exaggerates the financial well-being of farmers, that the risk of agriculture is different from other businesses, that farm spending is small and getting smaller, that crop insurance is a success, and that all Americans benefit from farm policy.

Willis focuses on Heritage's analysis of farm income.

"By combining the income of those who do not farm — but who have higher levels of income than the average American — with the income from households that do produce agricultural products on their land, the Heritage Report misleads readers into believing that farm income is both more stable and higher than it actually is.

“Since this approach does not accurately illustrate actual farm income, neither can it illustrate profitability, reliance upon farming for income, nor need of U.S. farm policy. After all, what other sector's financial health is determined based on a measurement under which 70 percent of income is derived from other sectors?”

Willis also maintains, “when all costs are taken into account, a farmer has a profit less than 30 percent of the time.” He adds that, “A safety net is often what stands between continuing to farm and bankruptcy.”

Heritage is also critical of the crop insurance program, but Willis writes “crop insurance has not only proved better for farmers trying to manage risks, but is more cost effective than ad hoc crop loss disaster programs.”

Willis says that the 2012 drought would have cost taxpayers more than $17 billion under an old style disaster program — $3 billion more than the cost of crop insurance in this worst of all years.

“The Heritage report’s crop insurance proposal would increase deductibles and reduce available coverage, reducing participation and coverage levels and jeopardizing the nearly twofold increase in acreage insured that has been achieved since 2000,” he writes.

Willis also sees U.S. agricultural productivity and agricultural policy together as a success.

He writes, “U.S. agricultural output has almost tripled since 1948, 21 million American jobs are owed to agriculture, agriculture constitutes 5.5 percent of U.S. GDP, U.S. consumers are paying lower grocery bills than anywhere else in the world, the United States runs a trade surplus in agriculture, soil erosion has been cut in half since 1985, U.S. farm policy adds up to about one quarter of one percent of the total federal budget.”

“It is difficult to conclude U.S. farm policy is anything other than a success,” Willis maintains.

The study was sponsored by the American Association of Crop Insurers, American Sugar Alliance, Crop Insurance Professionals Association, Minnesota Corn Growers Association, National Cotton Council, Panhandle Peanut Growers Association, South Carolina Peach Council, Southwest Council of Agribusiness, and Western Peanut Growers Association.

Willis presented an initial draft of the paper at the American Sugar Alliance meeting in San Diego in August.

Hi Donna,

Lunch options can also be dinner... dinner ones I'm pretty sure only do dinner. These are just off the top of my head, they are kind of spread-out throughout the city so might have to cab/uber. Also, I'm not much of a Steak guy, so there's those options to consider as well (Chicago Cut, RPM Steak, Mastro's)

Lunch:

Quartino's (Italian style tapas)

Beatrix (3 locations, all good)

Pequod's Pizza (my favorite pizza place)

Piccolo Sogno

The Purple Pig

Au Cheval (doesn't take reservations)

The Budlong

Prime & Provisions (best Old Fashioneds)

Fulton Market Kitchen

Dinner:

Girl & the Goat (one of my wife's favorites)

Duck Duck Goat

Boka

Knife & Tine

Frontera Grill (or Topolobampo right next door... Rick Bayless restaurants)

Bavette's Bar & Boeuf

The Kennison

Chirag, I know you are super busy with FNCE, but would you do me a big favor? Can you give me 5 suggestions for great restaurants for lunch and 5 for dinner for Chicago. My family and friends are coming to FNCE and I need help in making some suggestions to them. They will want nice restaurants (no chain restaurants). It can be more than five, but that would really help me

Good Morning, Donna!

Attached is a speaker request form from South Carolina inviting you to present on April 20, 2018. You are currently scheduled to attend the Idaho affiliate meeting to give the keynote on April 20th. Would you like to recommend another BOD member that I can reach out to and extend the invitation on your behalf? If yes, possibly Manju (NC), Hope (OH) or Kevin S. (KS) – the HLT has its spring retreat April 20-23 so it may be tight for any of the HLT to attend. It's turning into a busy spring!

Thank you for all you do!

ACTION ALERT:

Urge Your Senators to Defend Access to Health Services and Patient Protections

Dear Academy Member,

The Senate is expected to vote this week on another version of the bill to repeal the Affordable Care Act, with an amendment proposed by Sens. Lindsay Graham (S.C.) and Bill Cassidy (La.). The Academy opposes the Graham-Cassidy amendment because it would lead to cuts in preventive services and reduced access to nutrition services for patients.

We are asking Academy members to reach out to your Senators to oppose the bill and to encourage a bipartisan solution to health reform.

Please let the Academys Policy Initiatives and Advocacy Team if you have any questions. Thank you for supporting the Academys policy efforts.

TAKE ACTION TODAY!

As individuals and as an organization, we can make a difference but only with your help.

1. Even if you have sent Academy Action Alerts in the past, please take action today!
2. Make a contribution to ANDPAC. Relationships built through ANDPAC, allow the Academy to actively voice our commitment to improving cost-efficient and quality health care for older Americans.

In this video, listen to Academy President Donna Martin and Past President Lucille Beseler explain why they believe you should support ANDPAC.

Thank you in advance for taking action and making our profession the nations food and nutrition leaders.

Donna Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND
President, 2017-2018

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee is a separate segregated fund of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics used to support candidates and elected officials. Academy members are not required to contribute to ANDPAC and there is no reprisal for not contributing. Amounts recommended for contribution in Academy publications are merely suggestions and there is no minimum contribution level.

Hi Donna, Lucille and Mary,

I received a speaker grant application from Alaska for your review (attached). Let me know if you want to approve this application. Donna and I were anticipating this request and have already worked with Joan on scheduling to see if this request will be feasible and all looks good from that end.

I also sent a reminder this afternoon to the other selected affiliates to encourage them to submit their applications. The deadline they were given was October 1 before we open to other affiliates. (Idaho and Alaska are the only actual applications we received so far.)

Let me know what you think and Joan and I notify Alaska.

Thank you!

Hi Donna,

Sorry for the delay in getting back to you! Tis the season of FNCE, right?!

This speaker grant has been approved so we are good on that front. I have communicated with accounting to process the payment, but it is no problem at all to put a stop to it if you'd rather manage it this way. You can purchase the full ticket and then we can manage the allocation of the $500 on the backend so that the Academy covers that portion on account of the speaker grant.

Works for me! Let me know what you end up doing so I can notify accounting.

Thanks,

Amy, I am wanting to try and book my flights to Idaho to see if I can get the best price on the flights. Right now the cheapest flights I can find are $659. They asked if I would pay the difference between the $500 and the price of the ticket. I told them I would. I wanted to know if this has been approved yet and if we could book the ticket and I would just pay the Academy the difference? Sorry if this is confusing and unusual.

Tom and Doris, I took this weekend to think about what I really wanted to convey to the HOD in opening remarks on Friday October 20th. If you don't mind I would like to take a little different stance on what I present? I would like to work the presentation from the angle of how amazed our founding fathers/mothers would have been as to what all we have accomplished in the last 100 years and where we are today. I would like to celebrate our accomplishments by starting out with the fact the founders had a bold vision 100 years ago and we have accomplished the following and wouldn't they be proud of us? Then talk about our new vision and mission. I keep thinking of the theme of communicate, collaborate and celebrate. Some of the things I would like to communicate/celebrate are the following:

1. # of DGG's and MIG's
2. Money we have in the Foundation and # of scholarships and money we gave our last year
3. # of members and total number of credentialed practitioners
4. # of media spokespersons and # of media impressions
5. # of alliances with other organizations (Joan can give you that information)
6. Award winning journal and magazines.
7. 3 Nutrition Care Manuals on line
8. Licensure in X number of states
9. We can now write diet orders in some states
10. Global Fellowships
11. We are doing Nutrition Focused Physical Exams
12. We have the EAL

13. DC office

I would not spend much time on each one of these areas, but mention them.
Do you think we could rework the presentation to be more along these lines?

What do you think?

Thanks!

Exciting opportunity for pediatric critical care dietitians

CDR would like to take this opportunity to invite you to participate as a subject matter expert (SME) for the development of the new board certified specialist in pediatric critical care nutrition (CSPCC). Participation in the development meetings requires volunteers meet the minimum eligibility criteria for the certification as stated below:

- Current, valid certification as CDR registered dietitian.
- Maintenance of above credential for a minimum of two years.
- Currently practicing (with a minimum of 2,000 hours) in the pediatric critical care specialty area (i.e., NICU, PICU, etc).

Meetings consist of a group of ten-fifteen SMEs from around the country. Pre-work may item writing training, item writing, or reviewing items/questions that would be discussed. If chosen, CDR will reimburse meeting participants coach airfare, hotel, and per diem expenses in accordance with Commission accounting policies. All meetings are held in Chicago and typically last 2- 2 ½ days. When developing a new certification program, there can be at least 3-4 meetings and 3-4 teleconferences in a year. Each chosen participant is required to sign a confidentiality agreement indicating they will not share any information and/or participate in any test preparation courses. CDR considers the following SME characteristics when inviting meeting participants:

- Geographic area
- Demographics (e.g. years of experience, gender, etc)
- Areas of practice/subspecialty (pediatric ICU, NICU, PICU, critical care, etc)
- Practice setting
- Positive attitude
- Works well with group/communication skills/contribution to group process

Not only does participation in item review meetings provide valuable networking time with colleagues, valuable item writing and question editing skills can also be developed. In addition, certain activities also award CPEUs for your efforts.

If you are interested in participating, then please send a letter of interest summarizing your professional experience in pediatric critical care along with your resume or CV to specialists@eatright.org by October 2, 2017.

If you have any questions about this exciting opportunity, then please feel free to contact us at specialists@eatright.org.

In developing this speech, we took information from your Opening Session speech (giving the HOD a kind of preview of parts of the speech), and also Academy Update. Can you please review this and let us know if it is OK or if you would like us to make any edits. With your OK, we will send a copy to Anna Schlachter, who will handle the technical aspects of having it ready for your talk.

Thank you very much, talk to you soon!

Hi Donna,

Circling back to your question about Idaho. I talked with accounting and we can make it work either way (reimbursement through us or Idaho). If you want to go ahead and purchase the full ticket on the Academy travel site, Joan and I can manage the money on the backend.

Let me know me know what you end up doing!

Have a nice weekend,

Amy

Hi Donna,

Sorry for the delay in getting back to you! Tis the season of FNCE, right?!

This speaker grant has been approved so we are good on that front. I have communicated with accounting to process the payment, but it is no problem at all to put a stop to it if you'd rather manage it this way. You can purchase the full ticket and then we can manage the allocation of the $500 on the backend so that the Academy covers that portion on account of the speaker grant.

Works for me! Let me know what you end up doing so I can notify accounting.

Thanks,

Amy

Amy, I am wanting to try and book my flights to Idaho to see if I can get the best price on the flights. Right now the cheapest flights I can find are $659. They asked if I would pay the difference between the $500 and the price of the ticket. I told them I would. I wanted to know if this has been approved yet and if we could book the ticket and I would just pay the Academy the difference? Sorry if this is confusing and unusual.

Good morning,

I'm looking forward to the call next week with the Committee Chairs. I'm attaching some potential talking points for both of you to use for the call. Please consider them a general guide and feel free to personalize to meet your needs. Also, Mackenzie in Strategic Communications dressed up the slides for Donna, inserted a few on the Strategic Plan, and provided more of a full script for that portion. Of course, once again feel free to adapt her script. Donna, do you want to advance your own slides or have me do it for you? Either one works for me.

Thanks, again, and let me know what else you may need.

I hope you had a good week.

Michio's travel staff was unable book any of the time this week we provided and all we have left is this afternoon at 2 or 3 CT which we are still holding. I have asked for a very speedy response for us as soon as possible.

We also offered him additional days of October 10, 12 or 13 at 10 am or 2 CT.

Can you please let me know if you have a conflict with any of this days or times.

Hi Donna,

Sorry for the delay in getting back to you, I was double checking the timing. This should work fine for you to attend right after make-up at 2:00pm on Saturday. Since the SNS reception is located right across the street from the convention center, you'll be able to pop back over for Opening Session (I'm already sooo excited for you!).

We are hoping to get the first draft of the FNCE BOD schedule out to the BOD tomorrow or Monday. As you can imagine, coordinating it takes input and careful review from several staff teams, and we are close to completing.

Please let me know if you need anything else.

Thanks!

Good Morning Donna –

I hope you had a good week.

Michio's travel staff was unable book any of the time this week we provided and all we have left is this afternoon at 2 or 3 CT which we are still holding. I have asked for a very speedy response for us as soon as possible.

We also offered him additional days of October 10, 12 or 13 at 10 am or 2 CT.

Can you please let me know if you have a conflict with any of this days or times.

Thank you for your understanding and patience.

Good morning,

I'm looking forward to the call next week with the Committee Chairs. I'm attaching some potential talking points for both of you to use for the call. Please consider them a general guide and feel free to personalize to meet your needs. Also, Mackenzie in Strategic Communications dressed up the slides for Donna, inserted a few on the Strategic Plan, and provided more of a full script for that portion. Of course, once again feel free to adapt her script. Donna, do you want to advance your own slides or have me do it for you? Either one works for me.

Thanks, again, and let me know what else you may need.

Have a great weekend!

Thank you for looping me in on this communication. I spoke with Katie Gustafson who is the DPG manager for PNPG. I shared with her our reactions and some of the questions we have. She is going to call Pat Becker to get more information and circle back with me so we can discuss. I will keep you all in the loop as the conversation moves along and what exactly the ask of the DPG is here.

Thank you!

I agree that supporting her plan and forthcoming leadership is good. From how I am reading the email, it would be important to stress her discussing her plans with the DPG manager and director to assist with the need for a work group or committee formation in the DPG. There is a formal process for a new committee formation that would require manager support for FY19 (structural and fiscal impact). This would require a DPG EC vote as well.

Thanks,

Diane

As far as I can tell she wants your support for her goal of establishing a working group to work on the DPG's strategic plan for pediatric malnutrition. SCAN also asked for support of its strategic plan and called the 4Ps for input and feedback in the development process. So responding with words of encouragement as she assumes her role and leadership of this worthwhile effort is all that's needed. I think. Diane, what would be good to ascertain is if she has the support of the DPG so that we're not encouraging a personal agenda and/or deviation from a plan underway.

Dear Donna and Mary

As the chair elect for the Pediatric nutrition practice group I would like to engage you in our planning for the next five years of our DPG as part of our strategic plan and in coordination with the Academy's Second Century goals.

I know that the Academy has done a great deal of work in the area of adult malnutrition, and that our Second Century goals include "Prevent all forms of Malnutrition". This is as you may or may not know my area of interest and expertise, as the corresponding author for the Consensus statement on pediatric malnutrition and the chair person for the EAL pediatric malnutrition nutrition risk screening project. One of my goals for our DPG is to create a malnutrition committee to address pediatric malnutrition and to set an agenda and goals for pediatric dietitians related to this topic.

The assistance, guidance and the support of the Academy would be greatly appreciated as we move forward in this endeavor. I look forward to discussing this with members of the academy.

I would like to offer the support and expertise of the pediatric dietitian of the Pediatric Nutrition Practice Group and our malnutrition committee in moving forward forming a strategic plan for the care of pediatric malnutrition. I look forward to working with you in the next five years on this project. Thank you for your thoughtful consideration of this request.

Hi Donna,

Sorry for the delay in getting back to you! Tis the season of FNCE, right?!

This speaker grant has been approved so we are good on that front. I have communicated with accounting to process the payment, but it is no problem at all to put a stop to it if you'd rather manage it this way. You can purchase the full ticket and then we can manage the allocation of the $500 on the backend so that the Academy covers that portion on account of the speaker grant.

Works for me! Let me know what you end up doing so I can notify accounting.

Thanks,

Amy, I am wanting to try and book my flights to Idaho to see if I can get the best price on the flights. Right now the cheapest flights I can find are $659. They asked if I would pay the difference between the $500 and the price of the ticket. I told them I would. I wanted to know if this has been approved yet and if we could book the ticket and I would just pay the Academy the difference? Sorry if this is confusing and unusual.

Subject: Committee Chairs September Forum

Good afternoon,

I hope your committee has had a productive year so far and you are feeling comfortable in your leadership role. As part of the Academy's support to you in your committee leadership role, we are scheduling the first of two Forums with Academy President Donna Martin and Academy Speaker of the House of Delegates Dianne Polly. These telephone forums are designed to strengthen communication amongst Academy leaders, provide an opportunity for you to ask questions of our President and Speaker around specific topics, and offer a networking opportunity for you as committee leaders.

With that purpose in mind, our first Forum is scheduled for Thursday, September 28, 1:00 pm – 2:00 pm Central time. The topics for conversation include:

1. The Academy's new Strategic Plan
2. Helping One Another Success

Attached is the agenda for the Forum, including information on how to connect via WebEx and conference call line.

Charlene Rice, Coordinator for the Governance Team, already sent everyone an Outlook invitation so the event should be on your calendars. If you did not receive an invitation, please contact Charlene at crice@eatright.org. If you are unable to join us for the Forum, notes from the event will be distributed after the call.

I know that each one of you as a leader is supported by a very talented staff partner. In addition to their valuable support, please let me know if there is anything I can do assist you in your leadership journey.

Thank you for serving in your leadership role!

Hi Donna,

Sorry for the delay in getting back to you, I was double checking the timing. This should work fine for you to attend right after make-up at 2:00pm on Saturday. Since the SNS reception is located right across the street from the convention center, you'll be able to pop back over for Opening Session (I'm already sooo excited for you!).

We are hoping to get the first draft of the FNCE BOD schedule out to the BOD tomorrow or Monday. As you can imagine, coordinating it takes input and careful review from several staff teams, and we are close to completing.

Please let me know if you need anything else.

Thanks!

Joan, Can you look at this request from the SNS DPG and let me know if you think based on my schedule if I could go at 2 for a little while? I have not seen the schedule for FNCE yet and I am not sure what I am doing during that time. I know I might be in makeup around that time, but not sure if I could get away? When do you think we will send out the first draft of BOD schedules for FNCE? Milton is asking. Thanks!

Subject: Next two President's page ideas

Tom and Doris, Here are my ideas for two more President's pages. Obviously, Doris I will let you choose the Media people to interview, but I did give some suggestions. Thanks!

Agriculture

Based on our Second Century plans and our new strategic plan it is imperative that dietetic professionals learn more about the field of agriculture. All of us need to know where our food comes from and how can we as dietitians make sure we have enough nutritious food to feed the growing populations of the world. Children need to understand that our food does not come from a grocery store, but from hard working farmers. Combining nutrition and agriculture into a profession is a natural fit.

1. Communication in ag is Amy Myrdal Miller of California. Amy grew up on a farm and works extensively in agriculture; all types of crops.

2. Actual Farmer is Jennie Schmidt, Maryland. She's an RD farmer. Tomatoes, soy, corn and wine grapes. Used to also farm organically. Jennie serves on several farm/ag professional society boards and also has been an active Academy member serving on many committees, paper development, etc. She's a rock star.

3. Ag Promotion / promoting fruit/veg and working with farmers, produce retail/supermarkets, schools, and much more is CEO and president of Produce for Better Health, Wendy Reinhardt Kapsak, MS RD. Works with organics and conventional. All types of Ag. All forms fruit and veg.

Media

The influence media has on how people eat has grown extensively. If we want to change the eating habits of people, we must embrace all kinds of media to help get our point across.

1. Print RD is Toby Amidor hands down. New York. Incredibly prolific writer who always quotes RDs.

2.. TV RD is Ellie Krieger of NYC. Not gimmicky. No fads. So down to earth. Lovely to work with.

3. TV RD USA and internationally is Sylvia Melendez Klinger, RD. Bilingual. Well known and respected around the world. Resides in Chicago; from Puerto Rico.

4. Social media RD is Melissa Joy Dobbins. She's Chicago based. Her brand is about helping RDs be better communicators. She's also the "guilt-free RD." Has a podcast and tons of followers on Twitter.

Based on both of your input I took a stab at revising the agenda. See attached and let me know what you think. I was trying to communicate Donna's intent for the discussion with the positive spin Dianne is seeking. My goal is to share the agenda today, but can defer it to tomorrow if needed to allow you both time to review and provide feedback as I know you're quite busy.

Subject: Re: Committee Chairs September Forum- Response needed by Wednesday

I like the direction this is going and welcome the chance to talk to all the Committee chairs and answer any questions they might have. I understand what Dianne is saying about rewording the question, but the point I want to get at is what can all of us on the call help them with so they have a great year?
