Martha, I am glad I asked, because I have not stayed at that hotel before. I might have just told the cab driver to take me to the Burnham. Thanks and hope to see you Wednesday if travels and weather allows!

Donna.

You are correct about the staff time. However, we don't allocate the time of staff to the project. The costs would not go away, but staff could get other work done if the process was changed. I am not sure too much would drop off of their plate, but something would.

Donna,

I am truly sorry that I did not see this e-mail. I know it is too late, but, if you this issue comes up going forward, you will have the answer. The cost of the election is very minor. Most of the costs we incur are for the travel and meetings of the nominating committee (and candidate interviews). Last year, we had $37,000 in expense for the election process, of which, $23,412 was for travel and $12,090 was for meeting services (AV and food). So, if you assume you would still need to meet to address the candidates before selecting a non-competitive ballot, I don't think you would save very much. Technology today is very cheap and it is easy to run the election. I hope this helps for the next time. Again, I am truly sorry for missing this e-mail.

Paul, I am going to be on a conference call today to discuss the nominating process. One of the things I want us to talk about is a non-competitive ballot. Could you give me a ball park figure on how much money you think we could save by not having an election? I don't want you to spend a lot of time on it, but maybe a gross figure of what we might save? If you do not have time this morning I totally understand. Thanks in advance!

I think we are making significant progress in addressing the issues at hand. Although we cannot change the past, we can certainly learn from it. Agree with all edits and comments so far. Mary to respond to one of your concerns, I would think that all HOD representatives from a DPG would definitely be on their executive board. I also would think that if someone heads up a major initiative for a DPG that they would probably be being groomed to be on the board.

Mary Pat, I for one want to thank you so much for all the hard work that went into getting this amazing bill passed. The students in my county benefit tremendously from the Fresh Fruits and Vegetable Grant, so I am thrilled to see that it was left in the final bill. I agree that this bill gives the Academy members many opportunities to do very meaningful things for our members to help us optimize health through food and nutrition. Go Team Washington!

The 2013 Farm Bill has been signed, sealed and delivered as Stevie Wonder would say. In the next few weeks, we will detail the outcomes of this nearly one trillion dollar Act.

But in the meantime, a quick analysis shows that we our guiding principles of more jobs, better health and more leadership opportunities have been met. ANDPAC support also contributed to the successful outcome giving us access to key influential leaders of the Senate and House Agriculture Committees.

The highlights of the newly signed law include-

- Restoring the devastating cuts to SNAP-Ed of nearly 30% in early 2013. All 50 states now have SNAP-Ed programs where our members have a very visible role in leading these programs.
 - Maintaining the fresh fruit and vegetable programs in schools. Many state coordinators are RDNs and many of our SNS DPG members implement this outcome-based programs in their schools.
 - Farm to School programs funded at higher levels
 - Seniors Farmers Market funding retained
 - Major new dollars going to food, agriculture and nutrition research. This will provide significant new opportunities for our members to conduct useful research to improve the diets of Americans.
- Please share in a virtual glass of champagne and our big shout out of thanks to you! You have all been an important leader in this journey which is much appreciated.

On to the Older Americans Act!

Attachment: Farm Bill signing.jpg

The 2013 Farm Bill has been signed, sealed and delivered as Stevie Wonder would say. In the next few weeks, we will detail the outcomes of this nearly one trillion dollar Act.

But in the meantime, a quick analysis shows that we our guiding principles of more jobs, better health and more leadership opportunities have been met. ANDPAC support also contributed to the successful outcome giving us access to key influential leaders of the Senate and House Agriculture Committees.

The highlights of the newly signed law include-

- Restoring the devastating cuts to SNAP-Ed of nearly 30% in early 2013. All 50 states now have SNAP-Ed programs where our members have a very visible role in leading these programs.
- Maintaining the fresh fruit and vegetable programs in schools. Many state coordinators are RDNs and many of our SNS DPG members implement this outcome-based programs in their schools.
- Farm to School programs funded at higher levels

- Seniors Farmers Market funding retained
- Major new dollars going to food, agriculture and nutrition research. This will provide significant new opportunities for our members to conduct useful research to improve the diets of Americans. Please share in a virtual glass of champagne and our big shout out of thanks to you! You have all been an important leader in this journey which is much appreciated.

On to the Older Americans Act!

Thanks again,

Mary Pat

I agree with the changes made by Ellen and Neva. On the second page where it discusses the composition of the ten members I think we said that those with affiliate/DPG/MIG experience should also be Chairmanship or at least Executive board experience...didn't want to change unless that was what we were suggesting.

Donna.

You are correct about the staff time. However, we don't allocate the time of staff to the project. The costs would not go away, but staff could get other work done if the process was changed. I am not sure too much would drop off of their plate, but something would.

Donna,

I am truly sorry that I did not see this e-mail. I know it is too late, but, if you this issue comes up going forward, you will have the answer. The cost of the election is very minor. Most of the costs we incur are for the travel and meetings of the nominating committee (and candidate interviews). Last year, we had $37,000 in expense for the election process, of which, $23,412 was for travel and $12,090 was for meeting services (AV and food). So, if you assume you would still need to meet to address the candidates before selecting a non-competitive ballot, I don't think you would save very much. Technology today is very cheap and it is easy to run the election. I hope this helps for the next time. Again, I am truly sorry for missing this e-mail.

Paul, I am going to be on a conference call today to discuss the nominating process. One of the things I want us to talk about is a non-competitive ballot. Could you give me a ball park figure on how much money you think we could save by not having an election? I don't want you to spend a lot of time on it, but maybe a gross figure of what we might save? If you do not have time this morning I totally understand. Thanks in advance!

Good morning. I wanted to share one of our Everyday Hero spotlights. This is a great example of young members supporting the Academy and Foundation. California members Dorothy Chen and Debra Hook attended the event on behalf of the Foundation.

Thank you all for the reports. I especially enjoyed the mini- grants report on Hunger. A $200.00 grant may not seem like much. But to a person working in a community of need, it can be very helpful in implementing programs.

Again thank you for the reports.

Donna,

I am truly sorry that I did not see this e-mail. I know it is too late, but, if you this issue comes up going forward, you will have the answer. The cost of the election is very minor. Most of the costs we incur are for the travel and meetings of the nominating committee (and candidate interviews). Last year, we had $37,000 in expense for the election process, of which, $23,412 was for travel and $12,090 was for meeting services (AV and food). So, if you assume you would still need to meet to address the candidates before selecting a non-competitive ballot, I don't think you would save very much. Technology today is very cheap and it is easy to run the election. I hope this helps for the next time. Again, I am truly sorry for missing this e-mail.

Paul, I am going to be on a conference call today to discuss the nominating process. One of the things I want us to talk about is a non-competitive ballot. Could you give me a ball park figure on how much money you think we could save by not having an election? I don't want you to spend a lot of time on it, but maybe a gross figure of what we might save? If you do not have time this morning I totally understand. Thanks in advance!

The Senate just voted 68-32 to pass a $956 billion farm bill that will be sent to the President for signage.

Thanks for all your support. I will send a summary chart that details our recommendations and successful outcomes.

More to come as I am waiting to board a plane. :-)

You might be surprised at how your representative voted. Once it was known the bill would pass with votes needed, then the "no or nay" votes came in. These included members who wanted to make statements that no cuts to SNAP were acceptable or subsidies reform did not go far enough. (SNAP benefits are reduced by $8.5 billion, much different than the original $40 billion passed earlier)

We have done a comparison of our recommendations to the bill language that is attached. Hopefully this is an easy way to digest the outcomes versus our recommendations. We still have a few gaps as we continue to go through the 959 pages of the bill.

This bill includes restored funding for SNAP-ED, a program that had zero visibility with members of Congress three years ago. This made it an easy target to reduce funding. After we realized all fifty states had at least three different names for their local programs, we used a targeted marketing approach for messaging. We also sought out partners including the land grant universities and Share Our Strength, SOS. Both of these groups are large employers of our members and committed to our mission. They also have different reaches which strengthened our impact.

There is also a small but impactful change for home bound seniors receiving SNAP. This population will be able to use their benefits with nonprofit shopping services. This gives this population access to healthy affordable food. The Academy led the efforts in getting this new program in the final bill.

On the research side, we have a very strong title with many opportunities for our members. This includes a new Foundation for Food and Agriculture research.

We are very grateful to our Congressional champions that took our recommendations and included them in the conference bill. We are also grateful to our partners who helped leverage our resources and made our voice stronger. LPPC and ANDPAC showed their leadership during this process. Karen Ehrens has been a sought out expert by not only her Senator but also the media.

Finally we are grateful for all your help, expertise and support!

Next round is in the Senate and more virtual cork popping.

Your questions are welcome.

PS I want to give kudos to Jenn Foillard our staff whose portfolio covers this bill. She tirelessly worked on our efforts and with a smile and humor! I have had influential members of the Ag Committee and their staff let me know how much they respect her. Quite the compliments.

Subject: General comments about the issues of time for the Child and Adolescent Wt. Managment Certificate Course

Hi, Pearlie,

You may send my few suggestions to the faculty. I only saw comments from 1 speaker who volunteered to reduce her talk. My thoughts are:

1. For the longer presentations of 1.5-2 hours or more, each speaker could reduce his or hers by 15-20 minutes,
2. Re-evaluate each day of the program and set the begin time and then end time for each day; then allocate the break(s) and divide what is left for the number of presentations.
3. Each speaker could be given their final amount of time, e.g., 1 or 1.25 or 1.5 hours and the speaker could allocate $\frac{3}{4}$ of their presentation time for evidence-based data and $\frac{1}{4}$ for practical application. This might mean removing some of the pictures, side-bars and dialogue.
4. The MI presentation before the 'counseling' demo is now added back (which added time) and reflects what we had several years ago; yet some of the breakout groups did not practice the scenarios. We seem to have converted to more 'presentation' than practice. May need to rethink this area again.

Thank you,

Gail

Paul, I am going to be on a conference call today to discuss the nominating process. One of the things I want us to talk about is a non-competitive ballot. Could you give me a ball park figure on how much money you think we could save by not having an election? I don't want you to spend a lot of time on it, but maybe a gross figure of what we might save? If you do not have time this morning I totally understand. Thanks in advance!

I am still running into trouble with some of your emails going into my junk mail account. Please accept my apologies for the delayed response.

The file cabinet is in HR and easily accessible by you anytime.

I will wait to hear from you and Mary on next steps relating to the CEO compensation study. I will alert PRM this is coming as I am certain the first step will be to setup up a call with PRM to discuss scope, pricing, etc.

Thank you again for your assistance with finding a secure place for the BOD, CEO Compensation Committee and President's confidential information. Materials are now locked in the cabinet and I understand the 2-drawer will be located in the HR office.

We are moving forward with hiring a consulting firm to assist with the CEO Compensation process this year. The CEO Compensation Committee recommended we use PRM as they are familiar with the Academy and there are timeline constraints. Mary Russell and I will be contacting you this week regarding the next steps and details pertaining to the Academy's procedure for securing the consulting firm.

Hello all,

You all have been receiving a lot of emails from me lately! There seems to be a lot happening in the world of nutrition policy and specifically school nutrition policy. Last Thursday the USDA released its proposed rule on professional standards for school nutrition service professionals.

The rule can be found here: <http://www.fns.usda.gov/sites/default/files/CN2014-0130.pdf> It has a 60 day comment period.

During the passage of the Healthy Hunger-Free Kids Act the Academy played a vital role in the professional standards provision of the law. We plan to take an equally critical part in the regulatory comment process.

Please feel free to contact us, or respond to this email with any thoughts or concerns regarding this provision.

Very best,

Donna,

I did talk to Milton on Friday. He was looking for the information because his colleagues are a little concerned and anxious about the new standards. He was hoping to provide something that might give them some frame of reference and timing. I have connected him with Mary Ann Taccona. I would imagine there are many institutions that might be concerned about the new standards and she might have something that could help.

So, all is good. I hope you had a great weekend. We had to dig out of about 6 inches of snow on Saturday morning. We are expecting another 6 inches tomorrow and possibly 10 on top of that Friday night. IT JUST WON'T END!!

In celebration of Registered Dietitian Nutritionist Day on Wednesday, March 12, and in appreciation for all you do to improve the nutritional health of Americans and people around the world, the Academy is hosting a special contest to feature a member in Times Square in New York City. This contest is all about YOU our members.

To enter, send an email to contest@eatright.org with the word "RDN Day" in the subject line, and in the body of the email include your 1) name; 2) member number; and 3) a short response (100 words or less) to the question: How do you help clients enjoy the taste of eating right?

One winner will be selected for the exclusive opportunity to have their photo on a Times Square banner in New York City, and also highlighted in our member electronic newsletter Eat Right Weekly.

The contest will run until February 21, 2014 (one submission per person will be entered into the contest). One very lucky winner will be announced on or around March 12, 2014, in honor of RDN Day.

Subject: RE: Finance and Audit Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 28th at 1 p.m. CST

All,

The new year has begun and we have another Finance Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 28th at 1 p.m. CST. I hope everyone had a great holiday season!! This month, our meeting will focus on the Final November, Preliminary December results. I have also added to the agenda the Investment results through November, 2013 for the Academy and the Foundation portfolios. The Academy information was presented to the Academy Board earlier this month. I have not scheduled much time to address this information. This is more of an “FYI”. However, if you feel you would like to talk to Al Bryant, our investment advisor, before our April meeting, we can have him attend our call next month. Just let me know. Now, onto the financial summary.

I. Investments

Two things I want to point out; 1) December’s results and 2) what January looks like. In December, the investment markets did rally like we thought they might. When we met in December, the combined portfolios were down about $600,000 for the month. Well, I am happy to tell you that the rally resulted in the combined portfolios gaining over $826,400!! Not a bad turnaround. This gain will bring our total combined return for the Fiscal Year to approximately $4,471,600.

As is always the case, I have taken a peak at the investment returns for the current month (Okay Mary, you are right, I watch it every day!! J). Just like December, January has started off very slowly. Through yesterday, our combined returns are relatively flat. The market has not found any footing yet this year. The good news is we haven’t seen it drop much. Especially with the large gains across all of the equity markets in 2013. Today (Thursday), the markets are dropping due to concerns about earnings. It is difficult to say if this will continue or stop. The market is due for a correction of 10% or more. It is long overdue. No one knows when it will happen. Once it does, there should be a natural progression upward if the economy continues to improve. On another note; Also, keep an eye on February 7th when the “Debt Ceiling” needs to be raised. Congress could cause problems if this becomes a political pawn once again!!

II. Reserves and Cash

As you are aware, I felt it would be necessary to move another $500,000 out of our reserve funds into operational cash in January. Last week, I made this move. Even with the adjustment, the Academy has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve at the end of December. In your December package, I removed the $500,000 in anticipation of a future move. So, the number on A15 is a good representation of the reserves after the removal of $500,000 (at least through yesterday J). This $500,000 was on top of another $500,000 that we removed in December.

Operating cash depletion is a normal situation for the Academy during Jan, Feb, and March. Some years it is easier to get through than others. This year, it looks like the Academy's increased budgeted spending, increased capital, and reduced revenue coupled with the operating deficits for CDR, DPGS and MIGs are causing the additional cash requirements. As I look at cash today as compared to last year, we are nearly on target with quite a few Sponsorship payments that are past due. If they pay over the next few weeks, we may not need another transfer. I will keep you informed as we move forward.

III. Academy November Financials

There were a couple of changes to the November preliminary financial package. The Academy expenses went up $2,739 due to a few miscellaneous invoices. In addition, CDR revenue went up $25,397 for the RD/DTR exam fees. The RD/DTR revenue increased because one of the processes for revenue recognition did not complete before we provided to you the preliminary numbers. This was mentioned during our meeting in December and is reflected in the minutes. So, overall, the package for November we originally discussed has not changed dramatically.

IV. Academy preliminary December Financials (A10)

In December, the Academy's finances from operations took a step backwards. The month ended with an Operating Deficit of ($452.8K) and a Net Deficit of ($113.7K). The Operating deficit was larger than the budget driven primarily by lower revenue. Revenue for the month of December missed our budget target by $171.8K. Expenses helped offset this under-run with an under-run as well. Expenses were $46.7K below budget. Once again, in December, investments helped out a great deal. Our investment returns for December were $339.1K. This was $231.2K higher than our budget. Even though we still had a Net Deficit, it was $106,108 lower (better) than our budget.

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Deficit of ($598.9K). This is $71.5K lower (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $336.7K while expenses for the year are lower by $408.2K. So, with seven months down, we are a little better than our operating target. The investments made a big difference. To date, the Academy investments have now gained $1,775,866. This is more than $1M higher than our budget. Our Net Income, through December, is $1,176,964. This is nearly $1.1M higher than our budget. So, factoring in Investment returns, our results for the year are very good. The Academy also has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve. So, the Academy is in a very good financial position.

The following is a breakdown of the various categories for November:

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $33,995 in December and is under budget by $104,362 for the year. Even with the under-run in revenue there are a couple of good news items coming out of Membership Dues. First, Membership is growing!! This should have a positive effect as we move forward. Secondly, Membership revenue is up, year to date, when compared to last year. If we look just at the pure Membership Dues (eliminating fees and the Fellow program), revenue is up nearly $55,000. So, we are moving in the right direction. We believe the reason the revenue is not meeting the budget is due to the number of people within the various membership rate categories. I also think some of the budget under-run will be due to timing. One last positive note; the Membership team is aggressively marketing membership at the moment and are making changes from what has been previously done. If they are successful, we will see positive results over the next few months.

b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $1,565 in December and is under budget by $52,331 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the last of the refund requests for FNCE resulting in a $1.7K reduction. This is standard. We get request for refunds due to illness or family tragedies each year and we review each one. This is offset by higher Professional Development revenue (up $0.1K).

c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $44,252 in December and is under budget by $10,161 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $15.7), lower Traditional Publications (down $39.1K) and lower miscellaneous projects (down $0.8K), offset by higher List Rental (up $3.9K) and higher QM/Guides sales (up $7.4K).

d. Subscriptions – This area is under budget by $15,972 in December and is under budget by $45,233 for the year. The under-run for December is due to lower NCM and related products (down $12.8K) and lower EAL (down $3.2K).

e. Advertising – This area is under budget by $24,945 in December and under budget by $47,125 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.

f. All grants - This area is under budget by $32,512 in December and is under budget by $2,330 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants for Research (down $30.5K), lower recognition of ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $9.5K), Carry the Flame (up $7.7K) and lower for all other (down $0.2K).

g. Sponsorships – This area is under budget by $20,000 in December and is under budget by $90,183 for the year. This continues our expectation that the sponsorship revenue will be lower than budget for the fiscal year.

h. Other – This area was over budget by $1,467 in December and is over budget by $14,951 for the year. The over-run in December is across various projects with none having any significant amount.

B. Expenses

a. Personnel – This area is over budget by $15,814 in December and over budget by $27,223 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to one-time expenses for vacation pay-outs and severance for people leaving the business.

b. Publications – This area is over budget by $11,411 in December and over budget by $13,629 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to higher Journal costs (up $8.1K), higher Traditional Publications costs (up $3.0K) and higher across all other projects (up $0.3K).

c. Travel – This area was over budget by $6,421 in December and under budget by $118,682 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to the timing of FNCE expense reimbursements across all areas of the business.

d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $43,643 in December and is under budget by $133,750 for the year. The under-run in December is being driven the reconciliation of final FNCE bills (down $20.3K), lower Journal (down $13.3K), Lower Research (down $13.8K), lower Membership (down $2.7K), lower Marketing (down $3.1K), lower List Rental (down $1.3K), lower Informatics (down $1.3K) and lower across all other (down $2.3K), offset by higher Public Policy (up $5.2K) and higher IT/web (up $9.3K).

e. Postage and Mailing Service – This area is under budget by $3,085 in December and under budget by $7,531 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Membership (down $6.6K), lower Traditional Publications (down $4.1K), and lower across all other (down $0.9K). This is offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $7.0K) and higher Public Policy (up $1.5).

f. Office Supplies and Equipment – This area is under budget by $347 in December and under budget by $10,873 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.

- g. Rent and utilities - This area is under budget by $3,378 in December and over budget by $2,186 for the year. The under-run in December is due to the lower utility costs.
- h. Telephone and communications – This is over budget by $3,691 in December and over budget by $15,732 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher telecommunication's costs in the Washington and Chicago offices.
- i. Commissions – This area is under budget by $5,736 in December and is under budget by $7,825 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.
- j. Computer Expenses – This area is under budget by $11,267 in December and under budget by $34,382 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower IT and web costs.
- k. Advertising and Promotion – This area is under budget by $510 in December and under budget by $1,925 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.
- l. Insurance – This area is over budget by $797 in December and is over budget by $3,967 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.
- m. Depreciation – This area is on target in December and on target for the year.
- n. Bank and trust fees – This area is over budget by $9,051 in December and over budget by $38,040 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to Investment management fees (up $7.5K) and higher credit card fees for normal operations (up $1.6K).
- o. Other – This area is under budget by $4,692 in December and under budget $30,846 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reclassification of expenses for the Food and Nutrition magazine (down $18.3K), offset by higher Corporate Sponsorship (up $9.3K), higher Public Relations (up $1.2K) and higher across all other projects (up $3.1K).
- p. Expense allocation – This area is over budget by $3,036 in December and is over budget by $21,254 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.
- q. Meeting services – This area is under budget by $1,471 in December and is under budget for the year by $72,718. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reconciliation of final FNCE bills across all projects.
- r. Legal and Audit – This area is under budget by $4,024 in December and is under budget by $6,207 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower legal costs.

s. Printing – This area is under budget by $12,711 in December and is under budget by $63,026 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower expenses for Membership (down $6.2K), and lower for FNCE bill reconciliation (down $6.5K).

We do have a few “one time” expenses for December that have driven some of the over-runs. Our revenue has some risks going forward. However, the Academy staff continues to manage expenses effectively helping to offset the revenue shortfalls. If we are able to continue our expense under-runs and the investments continue their climb, FY14 is shaping up to be a strong year for the Academy.

V. Foundation Preliminary December Financials (A8)

The Foundation had a fantastic month in December. The revenue was $1,427,900. This is $1,229,459 higher than the budget!! Most of the over-run is due to the $1.125M in General Mills Grants which were not budgeted. Not only did the Foundation secure money that they were not certain would continue in FY14, they were able to get General Mills to double the grants. This is a great coup for the Foundation! Not only was the revenue higher in December, but, the expenses were lower by $48,807. So, overall, the Foundation is clicking on all cylinders!! Investment Income enjoyed the party as well. Investment returns of $292,912 were more than twice the budgeted amount.

On a year to date basis, the Foundation has generated Net Income of $2,264,386. This is more than $2.6M higher than the budget. So, there really isn't any bad news here! Even though we know the General Mills grants will be distributed later this year, they still are going into the Foundation's Net Assets. At the end of December, the Foundation's Net Assets exceeded $22.5M (A9). The Foundation is in a very strong financial position.

VI. CDR's Preliminary December Financials (A11)

CDR had a good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $23,244. This was offset by expenses exceeding the budget by $19,805. None-the-less, CDR did have an operating surplus of $60,162 in December. This was $3,440 higher than the budget. As was the case with the Academy and the Foundation, Investment results were very positive resulting in Net Income for CDR of $161,549. This was $104,826 higher than the budget.

On a year to date basis, CDR is performing better on revenue and expense. Revenue is higher than budget by $78,130 while expenses are lower than budget by $281,823. Once you factor in the investment returns, CDR has Net Income of $15,259. Since CDR had budgeted a Net Deficit of over $927K, I think it is safe to say CDR is having a strong financial year as well.

VII. DPGs/MIGs Preliminary December Financials (A12)

The DPGs/MIGs did not have a great month in December. This is primarily driven by the final FNCE bills. Expenses over-ran the budget by $125,916. Revenue was also disappointing; falling short of the budget by $20,756. As I mentioned before, it is difficult to determine when all of the DPG/MIG revenues and expenses will materialize. So, often we are a little off on the monthly distributions. Therefore, we like to focus on the Year to date numbers.

Year to date, the DPGs/MIGs revenues are down $292,840. Most of this is from Grants (down $258,708). However, the expenses for the DPGs/MIGs are down $493K, more than enough to offset the revenue shortfall. Once you factor in the Investment returns, the combined DPGS/MIGs have Net Income of $370,243. This is nearly $745K better than the budget. To determine if a DPG/MIG is in good financial condition, you have to look to their reserves (A16). All of the DPGS/MIGS are above the 50% minimum and none are even in the "Watch" category. So, for the moment, the DPGs/MIGs are doing well and growing their reserves.

VIII. ACEND Preliminary December Financials (A13)

ACEND had a very good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $15,981 while expenses were slightly higher than budget (up $2,200). The expense were up due to the timing of FNCE travel reimbursements. ACEND did have a Net Deficit of $4,308 in December. However, it was $13,780 smaller (better) than the budget.

On a year to date basis, everything is working well for ACEND. Revenue is up, expenses are down and above all else, ACEND's reserves continue to grow. ACEND's reserves have now approached $314K putting them in a solid financial footing.

IX. ANDPAC Preliminary December Financials (A14)

ANDPAC had a very good month in December. Revenue was slightly higher than budget (up by $533) while expenses were slightly lower than budget (down $3,799). Some of the final FNCE bills have not been recorded in December for the PAC. We want to keep the PAC financials each month correlated to the FEC filings. Unfortunately, the FEC filings are “cash based”. Even though the final FNCE bills came through, they did not do so until early January. Therefore, we did not record them here. They will show up in January when the bills are paid. Everyone else within the Academy are “accrual based”. That means you record the revenue and expense when the benefit occurs. That is why we record the budgets in November for FNCE wherever we can if we don’t have the bills. Managing the PAC different from the rest of the organization causes a little confusion at times, but, since the PAC is so small we are able to manage it.

Year to date, the PAC is doing well with revenue exceeding the budget by $4,311 and expense under-running the budget by $14,034. Even though the PAC has a Net Deficit of $44K, it is $18.3K smaller (better) than the budget. The net result is the PAC reserves still remain healthy with $238.9K available.

I will stop here because this is a very long e-mail. Maria will post to the portal all of the documents for our call. You should also receive an webinar invitation from Eric Hayes. If you have not, please let us know. Have a great weekend and stay warm!!

Paul

Even with the under-run in revenue there are a couple of good news items coming out of Membership Dues. First, Membership is growing!! This should have a positive effect as we move forward. Secondly, Membership revenue is up, year to date, when compared to last year. If we look just at the pure Membership Dues (eliminating fees and the Fellow program), revenue is up nearly $55,000. So, we are moving in the right direction. We believe the reason the revenue is not meeting the budget is due to the number of people within the various membership rate categories. I also think some of the budget under-run will be due to timing. One last positive note; the Membership team is aggressively marketing membership at the moment and are making changes from what has been previously done. If they are successful, we will see positive results over the next few months.

b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $1,565 in December and is under budget by $52,331 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the last of the refund requests for FNCE resulting in a $1.7K reduction. This is standard. We get request for refunds due to illness or family tragedies each year and we review each one. This is offset by higher Professional Development revenue (up $0.1K).

c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $44,252 in December and is under budget by $10,161 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $15.7), lower Traditional Publications (down $39.1K) and lower miscellaneous projects (down $0.8K), offset by higher List Rental (up $3.9K) and higher QM/Guides sales (up $7.4K).

- d. Subscriptions – This area is under budget by $15,972 in December and is under budget by $45,233 for the year. The under-run for December is due to lower NCM and related products (down $12.8K) and lower EAL (down $3.2K).
- e. Advertising – This area is under budget by $24,945 in December and under budget by $47,125 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.
- f. All grants - This area is under budget by $32,512 in December and is under budget by $2,330 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants for Research (down $30.5K), lower recognition of ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $9.5K), Carry the Flame (up $7.7K) and lower for all other (down $0.2K).
- g. Sponsorships – This area is under budget by $20,000 in December and is under budget by $90,183 for the year. This continues our expectation that the sponsorship revenue will be lower than budget for the fiscal year.
- h. Other – This area was over budget by $1,467 in December and is over budget by $14,951 for the year. The over-run in December is across various projects with none having any significant amount.

B. Expenses

- a. Personnel – This area is over budget by $15,814 in December and over budget by $27,223 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to one-time expenses for vacation pay-outs and severance for people leaving the business.
- b. Publications – This area is over budget by $11,411 in December and over budget by $13,629 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to higher Journal costs (up $8.1K), higher Traditional Publications costs (up $3.0K) and higher across all other projects (up $0.3K).
- c. Travel – This area was over budget by $6,421 in December and under budget by $118,682 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to the timing of FNCE expense reimbursements across all areas of the business.
- d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $43,643 in December and is under budget by $133,750 for the year. The under-run in December is being driven the reconciliation of final FNCE bills (down $20.3K), lower Journal (down $13.3K), Lower Research (down $13.8K), lower Membership (down $2.7K), lower Marketing (down $3.1K), lower List Rental (down $1.3K), lower Informatics (down $1.3K) and lower across all other (down $2.3K), offset by higher Public Policy (up $5.2K) and higher IT/web (up $9.3K).

- e. Postage and Mailing Service – This area is under budget by $3,085 in December and under budget by $7,531 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Membership (down $6.6K), lower Traditional Publications (down $4.1K), and lower across all other (down $0.9K). This is offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $7.0K) and higher Public Policy (up $1.5).
- f. Office Supplies and Equipment – This area is under budget by $347 in December and under budget by $10,873 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.
- g. Rent and utilities - This area is under budget by $3,378 in December and over budget by $2,186 for the year. The under-run in December is due to the lower utility costs.
- h. Telephone and communications – This is over budget by $3,691 in December and over budget by $15,732 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher telecommunication's costs in the Washington and Chicago offices.
- i. Commissions – This area is under budget by $5,736 in December and is under budget by $7,825 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.
- j. Computer Expenses – This area is under budget by $11,267 in December and under budget by $34,382 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower IT and web costs.
- k. Advertising and Promotion – This area is under budget by $510 in December and under budget by $1,925 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.
- l. Insurance – This area is over budget by $797 in December and is over budget by $3,967 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.
- m. Depreciation – This area is on target in December and on target for the year.
- n. Bank and trust fees – This area is over budget by $9,051 in December and over budget by $38,040 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to Investment management fees (up $7.5K) and higher credit card fees for normal operations (up $1.6K).
- o. Other – This area is under budget by $4,692 in December and under budget $30,846 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reclassification of expenses for the Food and Nutrition magazine (down $18.3K), offset by higher Corporate Sponsorship (up $9.3K), higher Public Relations (up $1.2K) and higher across all other projects (up $3.1K).

- p. Expense allocation – This area is over budget by $3,036 in December and is over budget by $21,254 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.
- q. Meeting services – This area is under budget by $1,471 in December and is under budget for the year by $72,718. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reconciliation of final FNCE bills across all projects.
- r. Legal and Audit – This area is under budget by $4,024 in December and is under budget by $6,207 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower legal costs.
- s. Printing – This area is under budget by $12,711 in December and is under budget by $63,026 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower expenses for Membership (down $6.2K), and lower for FNCE bill reconciliation (down $6.5K).

We do have a few “one time” expenses for December that have driven some of the over-runs. Our revenue has some risks going forward. However, the Academy staff continues to manage expenses effectively helping to offset the revenue shortfalls. If we are able to continue our expense under-runs and the investments continue their climb, FY14 is shaping up to be a strong year for the Academy.

V. Foundation Preliminary December Financials (A8)

The Foundation had a fantastic month in December. The revenue was $1,427,900. This is $1,229,459 higher than the budget!! Most of the over-run is due to the $1.125M in General Mills Grants which were not budgeted. Not only did the Foundation secure money that they were not certain would continue in FY14, they were able to get General Mills to double the grants. This is a great coup for the Foundation! Not only was the revenue higher in December, but, the expenses were lower by $48,807. So, overall, the Foundation is clicking on all cylinders!! Investment Income enjoyed the party as well. Investment returns of $292,912 were more than twice the budgeted amount.

On a year to date basis, the Foundation has generated Net Income of $2,264,386. This is more than $2.6M higher than the budget. So, there really isn't any bad news here! Even though we know the General Mills grants will be distributed later this year, they still are going into the Foundation's Net Assets. At the end of December, the Foundation's Net Assets exceeded $22.5M (A9). The Foundation is in a very strong financial position.

VI. CDR's Preliminary December Financials (A11)

CDR had a good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $23,244. This was offset by expenses exceeding the budget by $19,805. None-the-less, CDR did have an operating surplus of $60,162 in December. This was $3,440 higher than the budget. As was the case with the Academy and the Foundation, Investment results were very positive resulting in Net Income for CDR of $161,549. This was $104,826 higher than the budget.

On a year to date basis, CDR is performing better on revenue and expense. Revenue is higher than budget by $78,130 while expenses are lower than budget by $281,823. Once you factor in the investment returns, CDR has Net Income of $15,259. Since CDR had budgeted a Net Deficit of over $927K, I think it is safe to say CDR is having a strong financial year as well.

VII. DPGs/MIGs Preliminary December Financials (A12)

The DPGs/MIGs did not have a great month in December. This is primarily driven by the final FNCE bills. Expenses over-ran the budget by $125,916. Revenue was also disappointing; falling short of the budget by $20,756. As I mentioned before, it is difficult to determine when all of the DPG/MIG revenues and expenses will materialize. So, often we are a little off on the monthly distributions. Therefore, we like to focus on the Year to date numbers.

Year to date, the DPGs/MIGs revenues are down $292,840. Most of this is from Grants (down $258,708). However, the expenses for the DPGs/MIGs are down $493K, more than enough to offset the revenue shortfall. Once you factor in the Investment returns, the combined DPGS/MIGs have Net Income of $370,243. This is nearly $745K better than the budget. To determine if a DPG/MIG is in good financial condition, you have to look to their reserves (A16). All of the DPGS/MIGS are above the 50% minimum and none are even in the "Watch" category. So, for the moment, the DPGs/MIGs are doing well and growing their reserves.

VIII. ACEND Preliminary December Financials (A13)

ACEND had a very good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $15,981 while expenses were slightly higher than budget (up $2,200). The expense were up due to the timing of FNCE travel reimbursements. ACEND did have a Net Deficit of $4,308 in December. However, it was $13,780 smaller (better) than the budget.

On a year to date basis, everything is working well for ACEND. Revenue is up, expenses are down and above all else, ACEND's reserves continue to grow. ACEND's reserves have now approached $314K putting them in a solid financial footing.

IX. ANDPAC Preliminary December Financials (A14)

- ANDPAC had a very good month in December. Revenue was slightly higher than budget (up by $533) while expenses were slightly lower than budget (down $3,799). Some of the final FNCE bills have not been recorded in December for the PAC. We want to keep the PAC financials each month correlated to the FEC filings. Unfortunately, the FEC filings are "cash based". Even though the final FNCE bills came through, they did not do so until early January. Therefore, we did not record them here. They will show up in January when the bills are paid. Everyone else within the Academy are "accrual based". That means you record the revenue and expense when the benefit occurs. That is why we record the budgets in November for FNCE wherever we can if we don't have the bills. Managing the PAC different from the rest of the organization causes a little confusion at times, but, since the PAC is so small we are able to manage it.

Year to date, the PAC is doing well with revenue exceeding the budget by $4,311 and expense under-running the budget by $14,034. Even though the PAC has a Net Deficit of $44K, it is $18.3K smaller (better) than the budget. The net result is the PAC reserves still remain healthy with $238.9K available.

I will stop here because this is a very long e-mail. Maria will post to the portal all of the documents for our call. You should also receive an webinar invitation from Eric Hayes. If you have not, please let us know. Have a great weekend and stay warm!!

Hi, Paul & Donna.

Clearly I did not make it yesterday. My son's better today. I am sorry for missing!

While I have your attention, can either of you help point me to the place on the portal where we have the ACEND request for money to develop graduate standards? I would like to see that request again and the details of the ACEND plan as presented to the FAC.

Thank you,

Milton

Subject: RE: Finance and Audit Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 28th at 1 p.m. CST

All,

The new year has begun and we have another Finance Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 28th at 1 p.m. CST. I hope everyone had a great holiday season!! This month, our meeting will focus on the Final November, Preliminary December results. I have also added to the agenda the Investment results through November, 2013 for the Academy and the Foundation portfolios. The Academy information was presented to the Academy Board earlier this month. I have not scheduled much time to address this information. This is more of an "FYI". However, if you feel you would like to talk to Al Bryant, our investment advisor, before our April meeting, we can have him attend our call next month. Just let me know. Now, onto the financial summary.

I. Investments

Two things I want to point out; 1) December's results and 2) what January looks like. In December, the investment markets did rally like we thought they might. When we met in December, the combined portfolios were down about $600,000 for the month. Well, I am happy to tell you that the rally resulted in the combined portfolios gaining over $826,400!! Not a bad turnaround. This gain will bring our total combined return for the Fiscal Year to approximately $4,471,600.

As is always the case, I have taken a peak at the investment returns for the current month (Okay Mary, you are right, I watch it every day!! J). Just like December, January has started off very slowly. Through yesterday, our combined returns are relatively flat. The market has not found any footing yet this year. The good news is we haven't seen it drop much. Especially with the large gains across all of the equity markets in 2013. Today (Thursday), the markets are dropping due to concerns about earnings. It is difficult to say if this will continue or stop. The market is due for a correction of 10% or more. It is long overdue. No one knows when it will happen. Once it does, there should be a natural progression upward if the economy continues to improve. On another note; Also, keep an eye on February 7th when the "Debt Ceiling" needs to be raised. Congress could cause problems if this becomes a political pawn once again!!

II. Reserves and Cash

- As you are aware, I felt it would be necessary to move another $500,000 out of our reserve funds into operational cash in January. Last week, I made this move. Even with the adjustment, the Academy has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve at the end of December. In your December package, I removed the $500,000 in anticipation of a future move. So, the number on A15 is a good representation of the reserves after the removal of $500,000 (at least through yesterday J). This $500,000 was on top of another $500,000 that we removed in December.

Operating cash depletion is a normal situation for the Academy during Jan, Feb, and March. Some years it is easier to get through than others. This year, it looks like the Academy's increased budgeted spending, increased capital, and reduced revenue coupled with the operating deficits for CDR, DPGS and MIGs are causing the additional cash requirements. As I look at cash today as compared to last year, we are nearly on target with quite a few Sponsorship payments that are past due. If they pay over the next few weeks, we may not need another transfer. I will keep you informed as we move forward.

III. Academy November Financials

- There were a couple of changes to the November preliminary financial package. The Academy expenses went up $2,739 due to a few miscellaneous invoices. In addition, CDR revenue went up $25,397 for the RD/DTR exam fees. The RD/DTR revenue increased because one of the processes for revenue recognition did not complete before we provided to you the preliminary numbers. This was mentioned during our meeting in December and is reflected in the minutes.

So, overall, the package for November we originally discussed has not changed dramatically.

IV. Academy preliminary December Financials (A10)

In December, the Academy's finances from operations took a step backwards. The month ended with an Operating Deficit of ($452.8K) and a Net Deficit of ($113.7K). The Operating deficit was larger than the budget driven primarily by lower revenue. Revenue for the month of December missed our budget target by $171.8K. Expenses helped offset this under-run with an under-run as well. Expenses were $46.7K below budget. Once again, in December, investments helped out a great deal. Our investment returns for December were $339.1K. This was $231.2K higher than our budget. Even though we still had a Net Deficit, it was $106,108 lower (better) than our budget.

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Deficit of ($598.9K). This is $71.5K lower (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $336.7K while expenses for the year are lower by $408.2K. So, with seven months down, we are a little better than our operating target. The investments made a big difference. To date, the Academy investments have now gained $1,775,866. This is more than $1M higher than our budget. Our Net Income, through December, is $1,176,964. This is nearly $1.1M higher than our budget. So, factoring in Investment returns, our results for the year are very good. The Academy also has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve. So, the Academy is in a very good financial position.

The following is a breakdown of the various categories for November:

A. Revenues

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $33,995 in December and is under budget by $104,362 for the year. Even with the under-run in revenue there are a couple of good news items coming out of Membership Dues. First, Membership is growing!! This should have a positive effect as we move forward. Secondly, Membership revenue is up, year to date, when compared to last year. If we look just at the pure Membership Dues (eliminating fees and the Fellow program), revenue is up nearly $55,000. So, we are moving in the right direction. We believe the reason the revenue is not meeting the budget is due to the number of people within the various membership rate categories. I also think some of the budget under-run will be due to timing. One last positive note; the Membership team is aggressively marketing membership at the moment and are making changes from what has been previously done. If they are successful, we will see positive results over the next few months.

- b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $1,565 in December and is under budget by $52,331 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the last of the refund requests for FNCE resulting in a $1.7K reduction. This is standard. We get request for refunds due to illness or family tragedies each year and we review each one. This is offset by higher Professional Development revenue (up $0.1K).
- c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $44,252 in December and is under budget by $10,161 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $15.7), lower Traditional Publications (down $39.1K) and lower miscellaneous projects (down $0.8K), offset by higher List Rental (up $3.9K) and higher QM/Guides sales (up $7.4K).
- d. Subscriptions – This area is under budget by $15,972 in December and is under budget by $45,233 for the year. The under-run for December is due to lower NCM and related products (down $12.8K) and lower EAL (down $3.2K).
- e. Advertising – This area is under budget by $24,945 in December and under budget by $47,125 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.
- f. All grants - This area is under budget by $32,512 in December and is under budget by $2,330 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants for Research (down $30.5K), lower recognition of ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $9.5K), Carry the Flame (up $7.7K) and lower for all other (down $0.2K).
- g. Sponsorships – This area is under budget by $20,000 in December and is under budget by $90,183 for the year. This continues our expectation that the sponsorship revenue will be lower than budget for the fiscal year.
- h. Other – This area was over budget by $1,467 in December and is over budget by $14,951 for the year. The over-run in December is across various projects with none having any significant amount.

B. Expenses

- a. Personnel – This area is over budget by $15,814 in December and over budget by $27,223 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to one-time expenses for vacation pay-outs and severance for people leaving the business.
- b. Publications – This area is over budget by $11,411 in December and over budget by $13,629 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to higher Journal costs (up $8.1K), higher Traditional Publications costs (up $3.0K) and higher across all other projects (up $0.3K).

c. Travel – This area was over budget by $6,421 in December and under budget by $118,682 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to the timing of FNCE expense reimbursements across all areas of the business.

d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $43,643 in December and is under budget by $133,750 for the year. The under-run in December is being driven the reconciliation of final FNCE bills (down $20.3K), lower Journal (down $13.3K), Lower Research (down $13.8K), lower Membership (down $2.7K), lower Marketing (down $3.1K), lower List Rental (down $1.3K), lower Informatics (down $1.3K) and lower across all other (down $2.3K), offset by higher Public Policy (up $5.2K) and higher IT/web (up $9.3K).

e. Postage and Mailing Service – This area is under budget by $3,085 in December and under budget by $7,531 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Membership (down $6.6K), lower Traditional Publications (down $4.1K), and lower across all other (down $0.9K). This is offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $7.0K) and higher Public Policy (up $1.5).

f. Office Supplies and Equipment – This area is under budget by $347 in December and under budget by $10,873 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.

g. Rent and utilities - This area is under budget by $3,378 in December and over budget by $2,186 for the year. The under-run in December is due to the lower utility costs.

h. Telephone and communications – This is over budget by $3,691 in December and over budget by $15,732 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher telecommunication's costs in the Washington and Chicago offices.

i. Commissions – This area is under budget by $5,736 in December and is under budget by $7,825 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.

j. Computer Expenses – This area is under budget by $11,267 in December and under budget by $34,382 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower IT and web costs.

k. Advertising and Promotion – This area is under budget by $510 in December and under budget by $1,925 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.

l. Insurance – This area is over budget by $797 in December and is over budget by $3,967 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.

- m. Depreciation – This area is on target in December and on target for the year.
- n. Bank and trust fees – This area is over budget by $9,051 in December and over budget by $38,040 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to Investment management fees (up $7.5K) and higher credit card fees for normal operations (up $1.6K).
- o. Other – This area is under budget by $4,692 in December and under budget $30,846 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reclassification of expenses for the Food and Nutrition magazine (down $18.3K), offset by higher Corporate Sponsorship (up $9.3K), higher Public Relations (up $1.2K) and higher across all other projects (up $3.1K).
- p. Expense allocation – This area is over budget by $3,036 in December and is over budget by $21,254 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.
- q. Meeting services – This area is under budget by $1,471 in December and is under budget for the year by $72,718. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reconciliation of final FNCE bills across all projects.
- r. Legal and Audit – This area is under budget by $4,024 in December and is under budget by $6,207 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower legal costs.
- s. Printing – This area is under budget by $12,711 in December and is under budget by $63,026 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower expenses for Membership (down $6.2K), and lower for FNCE bill reconciliation (down $6.5K).

We do have a few “one time” expenses for December that have driven some of the over-runs. Our revenue has some risks going forward. However, the Academy staff continues to manage expenses effectively helping to offset the revenue shortfalls. If we are able to continue our expense under-runs and the investments continue their climb, FY14 is shaping up to be a strong year for the Academy.

V. Foundation Preliminary December Financials (A8)

The Foundation had a fantastic month in December. The revenue was $1,427,900. This is $1,229,459 higher than the budget!! Most of the over-run is due to the $1.125M in General Mills

Grants which were not budgeted. Not only did the Foundation secure money that they were not certain would continue in FY14, they were able to get General Mills to double the grants. This is a great coup for the Foundation! Not only was the revenue higher in December, but, the expenses were lower by $48,807. So, overall, the Foundation is clicking on all cylinders!! Investment Income enjoyed the party as well. Investment returns of $292,912 were more than twice the budgeted amount.

On a year to date basis, the Foundation has generated Net Income of $2,264,386. This is more than $2.6M higher than the budget. So, there really isn't any bad news here! Even though we know the General Mills grants will be distributed later this year, they still are going into the Foundation's Net Assets. At the end of December, the Foundation's Net Assets exceeded $22.5M (A9). The Foundation is in a very strong financial position.

VI. CDR's Preliminary December Financials (A11)

CDR had a good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $23,244. This was offset by expenses exceeding the budget by $19,805. None-the-less, CDR did have an operating surplus of $60,162 in December. This was $3,440 higher than the budget. As was the case with the Academy and the Foundation, Investment results were very positive resulting in Net Income for CDR of $161,549. This was $104,826 higher than the budget.

On a year to date basis, CDR is performing better on revenue and expense. Revenue is higher than budget by $78,130 while expenses are lower than budget by $281,823. Once you factor in the investment returns, CDR has Net Income of $15,259. Since CDR had budgeted a Net Deficit of over $927K, I think it is safe to say CDR is having a strong financial year as well.

VII. DPGs/MIGs Preliminary December Financials (A12)

The DPGs/MIGs did not have a great month in December. This is primarily driven by the final FNCE bills. Expenses over-ran the budget by $125,916. Revenue was also disappointing; falling short of the budget by $20,756. As I mentioned before, it is difficult to determine when all of the DPG/MIG revenues and expenses will materialize. So, often we are a little off on the monthly distributions. Therefore, we like to focus on the Year to date numbers.

Year to date, the DPGs/MIGs revenues are down $292,840. Most of this is from Grants (down $258,708). However, the expenses for the DPGs/MIGs are down $493K, more than enough to offset the revenue shortfall. Once you factor in the Investment returns, the combined DPGS/MIGs have Net Income of $370,243. This is nearly $745K better than the budget. To determine if a DPG/MIG is in good financial condition, you have to look to their reserves (A16). All of the DPGS/MIGS are above the 50% minimum and none are even in the "Watch" category. So, for the moment, the DPGs/MIGs are doing well and growing their reserves.

VIII. ACEND Preliminary December Financials (A13)

ACEND had a very good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $15,981 while expenses were slightly higher than budget (up $2,200). The expense were up due to the timing of FNCE travel reimbursements. ACEND did have a Net Deficit of $4,308 in December. However, it was $13,780 smaller (better) than the budget.

On a year to date basis, everything is working well for ACEND. Revenue is up, expenses are down and above all else, ACEND's reserves continue to grow. ACEND's reserves have now approached $314K putting them in a solid financial footing.

IX. ANDPAC Preliminary December Financials (A14)

- ANDPAC had a very good month in December. Revenue was slightly higher than budget (up by $533) while expenses were slightly lower than budget (down $3,799). Some of the final FNCE bills have not been recorded in December for the PAC. We want to keep the PAC financials each month correlated to the FEC filings. Unfortunately, the FEC filings are "cash based". Even though the final FNCE bills came through, they did not do so until early January. Therefore, we did not record them here. They will show up in January when the bills are paid. Everyone else within the Academy are "accrual based". That means you record the revenue and expense when the benefit occurs. That is why we record the budgets in November for FNCE wherever we can if we don't have the bills. Managing the PAC different from the rest of the organization causes a little confusion at times, but, since the PAC is so small we are able to manage it.

Year to date, the PAC is doing well with revenue exceeding the budget by $4,311 and expense under-running the budget by $14,034. Even though the PAC has a Net Deficit of $44K, it is $18.3K smaller (better) than the budget. The net result is the PAC reserves still remain healthy with $238.9K available.

I will stop here because this is a very long e-mail. Maria will post to the portal all of the documents for our call. You should also receive an webinar invitation from Eric Hayes. If you have not, please let us know. Have a great weekend and stay warm!!

Subject: RE: Finance and Audit Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 28th at 1 p.m. CST

All,

The new year has begun and we have another Finance Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 28th at 1 p.m. CST. I hope everyone had a great holiday season!! This month, our meeting will focus on the Final November, Preliminary December results. I have also added to the agenda the Investment results through November, 2013 for the Academy and the Foundation portfolios. The Academy information was presented to the Academy Board earlier this month. I have not scheduled much time to address this information. This is more of an "FYI". However, if you feel you would like to talk to Al Bryant, our investment advisor, before our April meeting, we can have him attend our call next month. Just let me know. Now, onto the financial summary.

I. Investments

Two things I want to point out; 1) December's results and 2) what January looks like. In December, the investment markets did rally like we thought they might. When we met in December, the combined portfolios were down about $600,000 for the month. Well, I am happy to tell you that the rally resulted in the combined portfolios gaining over $826,400!! Not a bad turnaround. This gain will bring our total combined return for the Fiscal Year to approximately $4,471,600.

As is always the case, I have taken a peak at the investment returns for the current month (Okay Mary, you are right, I watch it every day!! J). Just like December, January has started off very slowly. Through yesterday, our combined returns are relatively flat. The market has not found any footing yet this year. The good news is we haven't seen it drop much. Especially with the large gains across all of the equity markets in 2013. Today (Thursday), the markets are dropping due to concerns about earnings. It is difficult to say if this will continue or stop. The market is due for a correction of 10% or more. It is long overdue. No one knows when it will happen. Once it does, there should be a natural progression upward if the economy continues to improve. On another note; Also, keep an eye on February 7th when the "Debt Ceiling" needs to be raised. Congress could cause problems if this becomes a political pawn once again!!

II. Reserves and Cash

As you are aware, I felt it would be necessary to move another $500,000 out of our reserve funds into operational cash in January. Last week, I made this move. Even with the adjustment, the Academy has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve at the end of December. In your December package, I removed the $500,000 in anticipation of a future move. So, the number on A15 is a good representation of the reserves after the removal of $500,000 (at least through yesterday J). This $500,000 was on top of another $500,000 that we removed in December.

Operating cash depletion is a normal situation for the Academy during Jan, Feb, and March. Some years it is easier to get through than others. This year, it looks like the Academy's increased budgeted spending, increased capital, and reduced revenue coupled with the operating deficits for CDR, DPGS and MIGs are causing the additional cash requirements. As I look at cash today as compared to last year, we are nearly on target with quite a few Sponsorship payments that are past due. If they pay over the next few weeks, we may not need another transfer. I will keep you informed as we move forward.

III. Academy November Financials

There were a couple of changes to the November preliminary financial package. The Academy expenses went up $2,739 due to a few miscellaneous invoices. In addition, CDR revenue went up $25,397 for the RD/DTR exam fees. The RD/DTR revenue increased because one of the processes for revenue recognition did not complete before we provided to you the preliminary numbers. This was mentioned during our meeting in December and is reflected in the minutes. So, overall, the package for November we originally discussed has not changed dramatically.

IV. Academy preliminary December Financials (A10)

In December, the Academy's finances from operations took a step backwards. The month ended with an Operating Deficit of ($452.8K) and a Net Deficit of ($113.7K). The Operating deficit was larger than the budget driven primarily by lower revenue. Revenue for the month of December missed our budget target by $171.8K. Expenses helped offset this under-run with an under-run as well. Expenses were $46.7K below budget. Once again, in December, investments helped out a great deal. Our investment returns for December were $339.1K. This was $231.2K higher than our budget. Even though we still had a Net Deficit, it was $106,108 lower (better) than our budget.

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Deficit of ($598.9K). This is $71.5K lower (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $336.7K while expenses for the year are lower by $408.2K. So, with seven months down, we are a little better than our operating target. The investments made a big difference. To date, the Academy investments have now gained $1,775,866. This is more than $1M higher than our budget. Our Net Income, through December, is $1,176,964. This is nearly $1.1M higher than our budget. So, factoring in Investment returns, our results for the year are very good. The Academy also has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve. So, the Academy is in a very good financial position.

The following is a breakdown of the various categories for November:

A. Revenues

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $33,995 in December and is under budget by $104,362 for the year. Even with the under-run in revenue there are a couple of good news items coming out of Membership Dues. First, Membership is growing!! This should have a positive effect as we move forward. Secondly, Membership revenue is up, year to date, when compared to last year. If we look just at the pure Membership Dues (eliminating fees and the Fellow program), revenue is up nearly $55,000. So, we are moving in the right direction. We believe the reason the revenue is not meeting the budget is due to the number of people within the various membership rate categories. I also think some of the budget under-run will be due to timing. One last positive note; the Membership team is aggressively marketing membership at the moment and are making changes from what has been previously done. If they are successful, we will see positive results over the next few months.

b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $1,565 in December and is under budget by $52,331 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the last of the refund requests for FNCE resulting in a $1.7K reduction. This is standard. We get request for refunds due to illness or family tragedies each year and we review each one. This is offset by higher Professional Development revenue (up $0.1K).

c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $44,252 in December and is under budget by $10,161 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $15.7), lower Traditional Publications (down $39.1K) and lower miscellaneous projects (down $0.8K), offset by higher List Rental (up $3.9K) and higher QM/Guides sales (up $7.4K).

d. Subscriptions - This area is under budget by $15,972 in December and is under budget by $45,233 for the year. The under-run for December is due to lower NCM and related products (down $12.8K) and lower EAL (down $3.2K).

e. Advertising - This area is under budget by $24,945 in December and under budget by $47,125 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.

- f. All grants - This area is under budget by $32,512 in December and is under budget by $2,330 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants for Research (down $30.5K), lower recognition of ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $9.5K), Carry the Flame (up $7.7K) and lower for all other (down $0.2K).
- g. Sponsorships - This area is under budget by $20,000 in December and is under budget by $90,183 for the year. This continues our expectation that the sponsorship revenue will be lower than budget for the fiscal year.
- h. Other - This area was over budget by $1,467 in December and is over budget by $14,951 for the year. The over-run in December is across various projects with none having any significant amount.

B. Expenses

- a. Personnel - This area is over budget by $15,814 in December and over budget by $27,223 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to one-time expenses for vacation pay-outs and severance for people leaving the business.
- b. Publications - This area is over budget by $11,411 in December and over budget by $13,629 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to higher Journal costs (up $8.1K), higher Traditional Publications costs (up $3.0K) and higher across all other projects (up $0.3K).
- c. Travel - This area was over budget by $6,421 in December and under budget by $118,682 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to the timing of FNCE expense reimbursements across all areas of the business.
- d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $43,643 in December and is under budget by $133,750 for the year. The under-run in December is being driven the reconciliation of final FNCE bills (down $20.3K), lower Journal (down $13.3K), Lower Research (down $13.8K), lower Membership (down $2.7K), lower Marketing (down $3.1K), lower List Rental (down $1.3K), lower Informatics (down $1.3K) and lower across all other (down $2.3K), offset by higher Public Policy (up $5.2K) and higher IT/web (up $9.3K).
- e. Postage and Mailing Service - This area is under budget by $3,085 in December and under budget by $7,531 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Membership (down $6.6K), lower Traditional Publications (down $4.1K), and lower across all other (down $0.9K). This is offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $7.0K) and higher Public Policy (up $1.5).
- f. Office Supplies and Equipment - This area is under budget by $347 in December and under budget by $10,873 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.
- g. Rent and utilities - This area is under budget by $3,378 in December and over budget by $2,186 for the year. The under-run in December is due to the lower utility costs.
- h. Telephone and communications - This is over budget by $3,691 in December and over budget by $15,732 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher telecommunication's costs in the Washington and Chicago offices.

- i. Commissions - This area is under budget by $5,736 in December and is under budget by $7,825 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.
- j. Computer Expenses - This area is under budget by $11,267 in December and under budget by $34,382 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower IT and web costs.
- k. Advertising and Promotion - This area is under budget by $510 in December and under budget by $1,925 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.
- l. Insurance - This area is over budget by $797 in December and is over budget by $3,967 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.
- m. Depreciation - This area is on target in December and on target for the year.
- n. Bank and trust fees - This area is over budget by $9,051 in December and over budget by $38,040 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to Investment management fees (up $7.5K) and higher credit card fees for normal operations (up $1.6K).
- o. Other - This area is under budget by $4,692 in December and under budget $30,846 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reclassification of expenses for the Food and Nutrition magazine (down $18.3K), offset by higher Corporate Sponsorship (up $9.3K), higher Public Relations (up $1.2K) and higher across all other projects (up $3.1K).
- p. Expense allocation - This area is over budget by $3,036 in December and is over budget by $21,254 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.
- q. Meeting services - This area is under budget by $1,471 in December and is under budget for the year by $72,718. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reconciliation of final FNCE bills across all projects.
- r. Legal and Audit - This area is under budget by $4,024 in December and is under budget by $6,207 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower legal costs.
- s. Printing - This area is under budget by $12,711 in December and is under budget by $63,026 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower expenses for Membership (down $6.2K), and lower for FNCE bill reconciliation (down $6.5K).

We do have a few "one time" expenses for December that have driven some of the over-runs. Our revenue has some risks going forward. However, the Academy staff continues to manage expenses effectively helping to offset the revenue shortfalls. If we are able to continue our expense under-runs and the investments continue their climb, FY14 is shaping up to be a strong year for the Academy.

V. Foundation Preliminary December Financials (A8)

The Foundation had a fantastic month in December. The revenue was $1,427,900. This is $1,229,459 higher than the budget!! Most of the over-run is due to the $1.125M in General Mills Grants which were not budgeted. Not only did the Foundation secure money that they were not certain would continue in FY14, they were able to get General Mills to double the grants. This is a great coup for the Foundation! Not only was the revenue higher in December, but, the expenses were lower by $48,807. So, overall, the Foundation is clicking on all cylinders!! Investment Income enjoyed the party as well. Investment returns of $292,912 were more than twice the budgeted amount.

On a year to date basis, the Foundation has generated Net Income of $2,264,386. This is more than $2.6M higher than the budget. So, there really isn't any bad news here! Even though we know the General Mills grants will be distributed later this year, they still are going into the Foundation's Net Assets. At the end of December, the Foundation's Net Assets exceeded $22.5M (A9). The Foundation is in a very strong financial position.

VI. CDR's Preliminary December Financials (A11)

CDR had a good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $23,244. This was offset by expenses exceeding the budget by $19,805. None-the-less, CDR did have an operating surplus of $60,162 in December. This was $3,440 higher than the budget. As was the case with the Academy and the Foundation, Investment results were very positive resulting in Net Income for CDR of $161,549. This was $104,826 higher than the budget.

On a year to date basis, CDR is performing better on revenue and expense. Revenue is higher than budget by $78,130 while expenses are lower than budget by $281,823. Once you factor in the investment returns, CDR has Net Income of $15,259. Since CDR had budgeted a Net Deficit of over $927K, I think it is safe to say CDR is having a strong financial year as well.

VII. DPGs/MIGs Preliminary December Financials (A12)

The DPGs/MIGs did not have a great month in December. This is primarily driven by the final FNCE bills. Expenses over-ran the budget by $125,916. Revenue was also disappointing; falling short of the budget by $20,756. As I mentioned before, it is difficult to determine when all of the DPG/MIG revenues and expenses will materialize. So, often we are a little off on the monthly distributions. Therefore, we like to focus on the Year to date numbers.

Year to date, the DPGs/MIGs revenues are down $292,840. Most of this is from Grants (down $258,708). However, the expenses for the DPGs/MIGs are down $493K, more than enough to offset the revenue shortfall. Once you factor in the Investment returns, the combined DPGS/MIGs have Net Income of $370,243. This is nearly $745K better than the budget. To determine if a DPG/MIG is in good financial condition, you have to look to their reserves (A16). All of the DPGS/MIGS are above the 50% minimum and none are even in the "Watch" category. So, for the moment, the DPGs/MIGs are doing well and growing their reserves.

VIII. ACEND Preliminary December Financials (A13)

ACEND had a very good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $15,981 while expenses were slightly higher than budget (up $2,200). The expense were up due to the timing of FNCE travel reimbursements. ACEND did have a Net Deficit of $4,308 in December. However, it was $13,780 smaller (better) than the budget.

On a year to date basis, everything is working well for ACEND. Revenue is up, expenses are down and above all else, ACEND's reserves continue to grow. ACEND's reserves have now approached $314K putting them in a solid financial footing.

IX. ANDPAC Preliminary December Financials (A14)

ANDPAC had a very good month in December. Revenue was slightly higher than budget (up by $533) while expenses were slightly lower than budget (down $3,799). Some of the final FNCE bills have not been recorded in December for the PAC. We want to keep the PAC financials each month correlated to the FEC filings. Unfortunately, the FEC filings are "cash based". Even though the final FNCE bills came through, they did not do so until early January. Therefore, we did not record them here. They will show up in January when the bills are paid. Everyone else within the Academy are "accrual based". That means you record the revenue and expense when the benefit occurs. That is why we record the budgets in November for FNCE wherever we can if we don't have the bills. Managing the PAC different from the rest of the organization causes a little confusion at times, but, since the PAC is so small we are able to manage it.

Year to date, the PAC is doing well with revenue exceeding the budget by $4,311 and expense under-running the budget by $14,034. Even though the PAC has a Net Deficit of $44K, it is $18.3K smaller (better) than the budget. The net result is the PAC reserves still remain healthy with $238.9K available.

I will stop here because this is a very long e-mail. Maria will post to the portal all of the documents for our call. You should also receive an webinar invitation from Eric Hayes. If you have not, please let us know. Have a great weekend and stay warm!!

Dear FAC Committee:

It feels completely surreal to be sitting in my brother's computer on a drop-dead warm/sunny day and reading about the terrible winter that continues to grip North America. All the locals here in my home town were talking this morning about what a lovely day this is! Like Donna over in Savannah, news from Auburn is that the University has already decided to close in anticipation of snow/ice (don't laugh you northerners, we have no equipment to deal with this), and everyone is hunkering down. Here I am in dressed in capri's, t-shirt and sandals, with one outdoor, summer wedding down (it was a fairy-tale wedding in wonderful weather), and one to go next week.

I will not be on the January call, but I have read everything that has been posted for it. I don't have anything to say about the investment situation, except that the portfolio seems to be in good shape for the times in which we are navigating. I know we have talked about the need to withdraw from reserves, and have no qualms about doing that at this point. I found a couple of typos in the Minutes, as follows:

page 2, CDR section, 3rd line toward the end, "...and additional..." probably should be "...AN additional..."

page 2, DPG/MIG section, 1st line "...was better..." should be "...WERE better..."

Then on page 3, in the ANDPAC section, 2nd line, I mentally tripped over the minus sign in front of the over-budget figures, and could not decide whether that was correct as written, or whether the minus sign should be removed. Please somebody, check that out.

Please stay safe and warm. Give thanks for the snow-plough drivers, the de-icers, the first responders, the utility crews who have to work in the weather to keep things going.

Donna,

This has been the "craziest winter" I can recall. I did make it back from Detroit; 7.5 hrs on snow covered, icy roads!! I have made the drive in 4 hrs flat. So, nearly twice as long!! On the road we travel, last Thursday night, there was a fatality accident caused by the ice and snow; 15 semis, a couple of flat bed trucks and 26 cars. Unfortunately 3 people died. Need-less-to say, I was driving very cautiously. Even at the slower speeds, it never feels safe!!

Stay warm everyone.

Paul, We are expecting extremely bad weather here in the South also. It doesn't happen very often, but when it does, it shuts us down for a long time. We are canceling after school activities tomorrow and do not expect to be at work Wednesday and Thursday. I plan to be at work for the call, but will let you know if things deteriorate to the level that I have to leave. If I leave, I will get in touch to see what I can work out. For us, the problem is we loose typically lose power when we get the amount of snow predicted. Yet, then again, it could all be wishful thinking for all the children in my area who want it to snow!!!! I will stay in touch. Glad you made it back from Detroit for all the fun weather.

You may have heard that due to the extreme cold, we will be shutting the office tomorrow. However, our call will go on!! We are working the “webinar logistics” as we speak. I will keep you posted throughout the day tomorrow.

Subject: RE: Finance and Audit Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 28th at 1 p.m. CST

All,

The new year has begun and we have another Finance Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 28th at 1 p.m. CST. I hope everyone had a great holiday season!! This month, our meeting will focus on the Final November, Preliminary December results. I have also added to the agenda the Investment results through November, 2013 for the Academy and the Foundation portfolios. The Academy information was presented to the Academy Board earlier this month. I have not scheduled much time to address this information. This is more of an “FYI”. However, if you feel you would like to talk to Al Bryant, our investment advisor, before our April meeting, we can have him attend our call next month. Just let me know. Now, onto the financial summary.

I. Investments

Two things I want to point out; 1) December's results and 2) what January looks like. In December, the investment markets did rally like we thought they might. When we met in December, the combined portfolios were down about $600,000 for the month. Well, I am happy to tell you that the rally resulted in the combined portfolios gaining over $826,400!! Not a bad turnaround. This gain will bring our total combined return for the Fiscal Year to approximately $4,471,600.

As is always the case, I have taken a peak at the investment returns for the current month (Okay Mary, you are right, I watch it every day!! J). Just like December, January has started off very slowly. Through yesterday, our combined returns are relatively flat. The market has not found any footing yet this year. The good news is we haven't seen it drop much. Especially with the large gains across all of the equity markets in 2013. Today (Thursday), the markets are dropping due to concerns about earnings. It is difficult to say if this will continue or stop. The market is due for a correction of 10% or more. It is long overdue. No one knows when it will happen. Once it does, there should be a natural progression upward if the economy continues to improve. On another note; Also, keep an eye on February 7th when the "Debt Ceiling" needs to be raised. Congress could cause problems if this becomes a political pawn once again!!

II. Reserves and Cash

As you are aware, I felt it would be necessary to move another $500,000 out of our reserve funds into operational cash in January. Last week, I made this move. Even with the adjustment, the Academy has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve at the end of December. In your December package, I removed the $500,000 in anticipation of a future move. So, the number on A15 is a good representation of the reserves after the removal of $500,000 (at least through yesterday J). This $500,000 was on top of another $500,000 that we removed in December.

Operating cash depletion is a normal situation for the Academy during Jan, Feb, and March. Some years it is easier to get through than others. This year, it looks like the Academy's increased budgeted spending, increased capital, and reduced revenue coupled with the operating deficits for CDR, DPGS and MIGs are causing the additional cash requirements. As I look at cash today as compared to last year, we are nearly on target with quite a few Sponsorship payments that are past due. If they pay over the next few weeks, we may not need another transfer. I will keep you informed as we move forward.

III. Academy November Financials

There were a couple of changes to the November preliminary financial package. The Academy expenses went up $2,739 due to a few miscellaneous invoices. In addition, CDR revenue went up $25,397 for the RD/DTR exam fees. The RD/DTR revenue increased because one of the processes for revenue recognition did not complete before we provided to you the preliminary numbers. This was mentioned during our meeting in December and is reflected in the minutes. So, overall, the package for November we originally discussed has not changed dramatically.

IV. Academy preliminary December Financials (A10)

In December, the Academy's finances from operations took a step backwards. The month ended with an Operating Deficit of ($452.8K) and a Net Deficit of ($113.7K). The Operating deficit was larger than the budget driven primarily by lower revenue. Revenue for the month of December missed our budget target by $171.8K. Expenses helped offset this under-run with an under-run as well. Expenses were $46.7K below budget. Once again, in December, investments helped out a great deal. Our investment returns for December were $339.1K. This was $231.2K higher than our budget. Even though we still had a Net Deficit, it was $106,108 lower (better) than our budget.

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Deficit of ($598.9K). This is $71.5K lower (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $336.7K while expenses for the year are lower by $408.2K. So, with seven months down, we are a little better than our operating target. The investments made a big difference. To date, the Academy investments have now gained $1,775,866. This is more than $1M higher than our budget. Our Net Income, through December, is $1,176,964. This is nearly $1.1M higher than our budget. So, factoring in Investment returns, our results for the year are very good. The Academy also has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve. So, the Academy is in a very good financial position.

The following is a breakdown of the various categories for November:

A. Revenues

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $33,995 in December and is under budget by $104,362 for the year. Even with the under-run in revenue there are a couple of good news items coming out of Membership Dues. First, Membership is growing!! This should have a positive effect as we move forward. Secondly, Membership revenue is up, year to date, when compared to last year. If we look just at the pure Membership Dues (eliminating fees and the Fellow program), revenue is up nearly $55,000. So, we are moving in the right direction. We believe the reason the revenue is not meeting the budget is due to the number of people within the various membership rate categories. I also think some of the budget under-run will be due to timing. One last positive note; the Membership team is aggressively marketing membership at the moment and are making changes from what has been previously done. If they are successful, we will see positive results over the next few months.

- b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $1,565 in December and is under budget by $52,331 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the last of the refund requests for FNCE resulting in a $1.7K reduction. This is standard. We get request for refunds due to illness or family tragedies each year and we review each one. This is offset by higher Professional Development revenue (up $0.1K).
- c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $44,252 in December and is under budget by $10,161 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $15.7), lower Traditional Publications (down $39.1K) and lower miscellaneous projects (down $0.8K), offset by higher List Rental (up $3.9K) and higher QM/Guides sales (up $7.4K).
- d. Subscriptions – This area is under budget by $15,972 in December and is under budget by $45,233 for the year. The under-run for December is due to lower NCM and related products (down $12.8K) and lower EAL (down $3.2K).
- e. Advertising – This area is under budget by $24,945 in December and under budget by $47,125 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.
- f. All grants - This area is under budget by $32,512 in December and is under budget by $2,330 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants for Research (down $30.5K), lower recognition of ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $9.5K), Carry the Flame (up $7.7K) and lower for all other (down $0.2K).
- g. Sponsorships – This area is under budget by $20,000 in December and is under budget by $90,183 for the year. This continues our expectation that the sponsorship revenue will be lower than budget for the fiscal year.
- h. Other – This area was over budget by $1,467 in December and is over budget by $14,951 for the year. The over-run in December is across various projects with none having any significant amount.

B. Expenses

- a. Personnel – This area is over budget by $15,814 in December and over budget by $27,223 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to one-time expenses for vacation pay-outs and severance for people leaving the business.
- b. Publications – This area is over budget by $11,411 in December and over budget by $13,629 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to higher Journal costs (up

$8.1K), higher Traditional Publications costs (up $3.0K) and higher across all other projects (up $0.3K).

c. Travel – This area was over budget by $6,421 in December and under budget by $118,682 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to the timing of FNCE expense reimbursements across all areas of the business.

d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $43,643 in December and is under budget by $133,750 for the year. The under-run in December is being driven the reconciliation of final FNCE bills (down $20.3K), lower Journal (down $13.3K), Lower Research (down $13.8K), lower Membership (down $2.7K), lower Marketing (down $3.1K), lower List Rental (down $1.3K), lower Informatics (down $1.3K) and lower across all other (down $2.3K), offset by higher Public Policy (up $5.2K) and higher IT/web (up $9.3K).

e. Postage and Mailing Service – This area is under budget by $3,085 in December and under budget by $7,531 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Membership (down $6.6K), lower Traditional Publications (down $4.1K), and lower across all other (down $0.9K). This is offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $7.0K) and higher Public Policy (up $1.5).

f. Office Supplies and Equipment – This area is under budget by $347 in December and under budget by $10,873 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.

g. Rent and utilities - This area is under budget by $3,378 in December and over budget by $2,186 for the year. The under-run in December is due to the lower utility costs.

h. Telephone and communications – This is over budget by $3,691 in December and over budget by $15,732 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher telecommunication's costs in the Washington and Chicago offices.

i. Commissions – This area is under budget by $5,736 in December and is under budget by $7,825 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.

j. Computer Expenses – This area is under budget by $11,267 in December and under budget by $34,382 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower IT and web costs.

k. Advertising and Promotion – This area is under budget by $510 in December and under budget by $1,925 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.

l. Insurance – This area is over budget by $797 in December and is over budget by $3,967 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.

- m. Depreciation – This area is on target in December and on target for the year.
- n. Bank and trust fees – This area is over budget by $9,051 in December and over budget by $38,040 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to Investment management fees (up $7.5K) and higher credit card fees for normal operations (up $1.6K).
- o. Other – This area is under budget by $4,692 in December and under budget $30,846 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reclassification of expenses for the Food and Nutrition magazine (down $18.3K), offset by higher Corporate Sponsorship (up $9.3K), higher Public Relations (up $1.2K) and higher across all other projects (up $3.1K).
- p. Expense allocation – This area is over budget by $3,036 in December and is over budget by $21,254 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.
- q. Meeting services – This area is under budget by $1,471 in December and is under budget for the year by $72,718. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reconciliation of final FNCE bills across all projects.
- r. Legal and Audit – This area is under budget by $4,024 in December and is under budget by $6,207 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower legal costs.
- s. Printing – This area is under budget by $12,711 in December and is under budget by $63,026 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower expenses for Membership (down $6.2K), and lower for FNCE bill reconciliation (down $6.5K).

We do have a few “one time” expenses for December that have driven some of the over-runs. Our revenue has some risks going forward. However, the Academy staff continues to manage expenses effectively helping to offset the revenue shortfalls. If we are able to continue our expense under-runs and the investments continue their climb, FY14 is shaping up to be a strong year for the Academy.

V. Foundation Preliminary December Financials (A8)

The Foundation had a fantastic month in December. The revenue was $1,427,900. This is $1,229,459 higher than the budget!! Most of the over-run is due to the $1.125M in General Mills

Grants which were not budgeted. Not only did the Foundation secure money that they were not certain would continue in FY14, they were able to get General Mills to double the grants. This is a great coup for the Foundation! Not only was the revenue higher in December, but, the expenses were lower by $48,807. So, overall, the Foundation is clicking on all cylinders!! Investment Income enjoyed the party as well. Investment returns of $292,912 were more than twice the budgeted amount.

On a year to date basis, the Foundation has generated Net Income of $2,264,386. This is more than $2.6M higher than the budget. So, there really isn't any bad news here! Even though we know the General Mills grants will be distributed later this year, they still are going into the Foundation's Net Assets. At the end of December, the Foundation's Net Assets exceeded $22.5M (A9). The Foundation is in a very strong financial position.

VI. CDR's Preliminary December Financials (A11)

CDR had a good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $23,244. This was offset by expenses exceeding the budget by $19,805. None-the-less, CDR did have an operating surplus of $60,162 in December. This was $3,440 higher than the budget. As was the case with the Academy and the Foundation, Investment results were very positive resulting in Net Income for CDR of $161,549. This was $104,826 higher than the budget.

On a year to date basis, CDR is performing better on revenue and expense. Revenue is higher than budget by $78,130 while expenses are lower than budget by $281,823. Once you factor in the investment returns, CDR has Net Income of $15,259. Since CDR had budgeted a Net Deficit of over $927K, I think it is safe to say CDR is having a strong financial year as well.

VII. DPGs/MIGs Preliminary December Financials (A12)

The DPGs/MIGs did not have a great month in December. This is primarily driven by the final FNCE bills. Expenses over-ran the budget by $125,916. Revenue was also disappointing; falling short of the budget by $20,756. As I mentioned before, it is difficult to determine when all of the DPG/MIG revenues and expenses will materialize. So, often we are a little off on the monthly distributions. Therefore, we like to focus on the Year to date numbers.

Year to date, the DPGs/MIGs revenues are down $292,840. Most of this is from Grants (down $258,708). However, the expenses for the DPGs/MIGs are down $493K, more than enough to offset the revenue shortfall. Once you factor in the Investment returns, the combined DPGS/MIGs have Net Income of $370,243. This is nearly $745K better than the budget. To determine if a DPG/MIG is in good financial condition, you have to look to their reserves (A16). All of the DPGS/MIGS are above the 50% minimum and none are even in the "Watch" category. So, for the moment, the DPGs/MIGs are doing well and growing their reserves.

VIII. ACEND Preliminary December Financials (A13)

ACEND had a very good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $15,981 while expenses were slightly higher than budget (up $2,200). The expense were up due to the timing of FNCE travel reimbursements. ACEND did have a Net Deficit of $4,308 in December. However, it was $13,780 smaller (better) than the budget.

On a year to date basis, everything is working well for ACEND. Revenue is up, expenses are down and above all else, ACEND's reserves continue to grow. ACEND's reserves have now approached $314K putting them in a solid financial footing.

IX. ANDPAC Preliminary December Financials (A14)

ANDPAC had a very good month in December. Revenue was slightly higher than budget (up by $533) while expenses were slightly lower than budget (down $3,799). Some of the final FNCE bills have not been recorded in December for the PAC. We want to keep the PAC financials each month correlated to the FEC filings. Unfortunately, the FEC filings are "cash based". Even though the final FNCE bills came through, they did not do so until early January. Therefore, we did not record them here. They will show up in January when the bills are paid. Everyone else within the Academy are "accrual based". That means you record the revenue and expense when the benefit occurs. That is why we record the budgets in November for FNCE wherever we can if we don't have the bills. Managing the PAC different from the rest of the organization causes a little confusion at times, but, since the PAC is so small we are able to manage it.

Year to date, the PAC is doing well with revenue exceeding the budget by $4,311 and expense under-running the budget by $14,034. Even though the PAC has a Net Deficit of $44K, it is $18.3K smaller (better) than the budget. The net result is the PAC reserves still remain healthy with $238.9K available.

I will stop here because this is a very long e-mail. Maria will post to the portal all of the documents for our call. You should also receive an webinar invitation from Eric Hayes. If you have not, please let us know. Have a great weekend and stay warm!!

Donna,

This has been the “craziest winter” I can recall. I did make it back from Detroit; 7.5 hrs on snow covered, icy roads!! I have made the drive in 4 hrs flat. So, nearly twice as long!! On the road we travel, last Thursday night, there was a fatality accident caused by the ice and snow; 15 semis, a couple of flat bed trucks and 26 cars. Unfortunately 3 people died. Need-less-to say, I was driving very cautiously. Even at the slower speeds, it never feels safe!!

Stay warm everyone.

Paul, We are expecting extremely bad weather here in the South also. It doesn't happen very often, but when it does, it shuts us down for a long time. We are canceling after school activities tomorrow and do not expect to be at work Wednesday and Thursday. I plan to be at work for the call, but will let you know if things deteriorate to the level that I have to leave. If I leave, I will get in touch to see what I can work out. For us, the problem is we loose typically lose power when we get the amount of snow predicted. Yet, then again, it could all be wishful thinking for all the children in my area who want it to snow!!!! I will stay in touch. Glad you made it back from Detroit for all the fun weather.

All,

You may have heard that due to the extreme cold, we will be shutting the office tomorrow. However, our call will go on!! We are working the "webinar logistics" as we speak. I will keep you posted throughout the day tomorrow.

All,

The new year has begun and we have another Finance Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 28th at 1 p.m. CST. I hope everyone had a great holiday season!! This month, our meeting will focus on the Final November, Preliminary December results. I have also added to the agenda the Investment results through November, 2013 for the Academy and the Foundation portfolios. The Academy information was presented to the Academy Board earlier this month. I have not scheduled much time to address this information. This is more of an “FYI”. However, if you feel you would like to talk to Al Bryant, our investment advisor, before our April meeting, we can have him attend our call next month. Just let me know. Now, onto the financial summary.

I. Investments

Two things I want to point out; 1) December's results and 2) what January looks like. In December, the investment markets did rally like we thought they might. When we met in December, the combined portfolios were down about $600,000 for the month. Well, I am happy to tell you that the rally resulted in the combined portfolios gaining over $826,400!! Not a bad turnaround. This gain will bring our total combined return for the Fiscal Year to approximately $4,471,600.

As is always the case, I have taken a peak at the investment returns for the current month (Okay Mary, you are right, I watch it every day!! J). Just like December, January has started off very slowly. Through yesterday, our combined returns are relatively flat. The market has not found any footing yet this year. The good news is we haven't seen it drop much. Especially with the large gains across all of the equity markets in 2013. Today (Thursday), the markets are dropping due to concerns about earnings. It is difficult to say if this will continue or stop. The market is due for a correction of 10% or more. It is long overdue. No one knows when it will happen. Once it does, there should be a natural progression upward if the economy continues to improve. On another note; Also, keep an eye on February 7th when the “Debt Ceiling” needs to be raised. Congress could cause problems if this becomes a political pawn once again!!

As you are aware, I felt it would be necessary to move another $500,000 out of our reserve funds into operational cash in January. Last week, I made this move. Even with the adjustment, the Academy has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve at the end of December. In your December package, I removed the $500,000 in anticipation of a future move. So, the number on A15 is a good representation of the reserves after the removal of $500,000 (at least through yesterday J). This $500,000 was on top of another $500,000 that we removed in December.

Operating cash depletion is a normal situation for the Academy during Jan, Feb, and March. Some years it is easier to get through than others. This year, it looks like the Academy's increased budgeted spending, increased capital, and reduced revenue coupled with the operating deficits for CDR, DPGS and MIGs are causing the additional cash requirements. As I look at cash today as compared to last year, we are nearly on target with quite a few Sponsorship payments that are past due. If they pay over the next few weeks, we may not need another transfer. I will keep you informed as we move forward.

III. Academy November Financials

- There were a couple of changes to the November preliminary financial package. The Academy expenses went up $2,739 due to a few miscellaneous invoices. In addition, CDR revenue went up $25,397 for the RD/DTR exam fees. The RD/DTR revenue increased because one of the processes for revenue recognition did not complete before we provided to you the preliminary numbers. This was mentioned during our meeting in December and is reflected in the minutes. So, overall, the package for November we originally discussed has not changed dramatically.

IV. Academy preliminary December Financials (A10)

In December, the Academy's finances from operations took a step backwards. The month ended with an Operating Deficit of ($452.8K) and a Net Deficit of ($113.7K). The Operating deficit was larger than the budget driven primarily by lower revenue. Revenue for the month of December missed our budget target by $171.8K. Expenses helped offset this under-run with an under-run as well. Expenses were $46.7K below budget. Once again, in December, investments helped out a great deal. Our investment returns for December were $339.1K. This was $231.2K higher than our budget. Even though we still had a Net Deficit, it was $106,108 lower (better) than our budget.

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Deficit of ($598.9K). This is $71.5K lower (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $336.7K while expenses for the year are lower by $408.2K. So, with seven months down, we are a little better than our operating target. The investments made a big difference. To date, the Academy investments have now gained $1,775,866. This is more than $1M higher than our budget. Our Net Income, through December, is $1,176,964. This is nearly $1.1M higher than our budget. So, factoring in Investment returns, our results for the year are very good. The Academy also has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve. So, the Academy is in a very good financial position.

The following is a breakdown of the various categories for November:

A. Revenues

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $33,995 in December and is under budget by $104,362 for the year. Even with the under-run in revenue there are a couple of good news items coming out of Membership Dues. First, Membership is growing!! This should have a positive effect as we move forward. Secondly, Membership revenue is up, year to date, when compared to last year. If we look just at the pure Membership Dues (eliminating fees and the Fellow program), revenue is up nearly $55,000. So, we are moving in the right direction. We believe the reason the revenue is not meeting the budget is due to the number of people within the various membership rate categories. I also think some of the budget under-run will be due to timing. One last positive note; the Membership team is aggressively marketing membership at the moment and are making changes from what has been previously done. If they are successful, we will see positive results over the next few months.

b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $1,565 in December and is under budget by $52,331 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the last of the refund requests for FNCE resulting in a $1.7K reduction. This is standard. We get request for refunds due to illness or family tragedies each year and we review each one. This is offset by higher Professional Development revenue (up $0.1K).

c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $44,252 in December and is under budget by $10,161 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $15.7), lower Traditional Publications (down $39.1K) and lower miscellaneous projects (down $0.8K), offset by higher List Rental (up $3.9K) and higher QM/Guides sales (up $7.4K).

d. Subscriptions – This area is under budget by $15,972 in December and is under budget by $45,233 for the year. The under-run for December is due to lower NCM and related products (down $12.8K) and lower EAL (down $3.2K).

- e. Advertising – This area is under budget by $24,945 in December and under budget by $47,125 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.
- f. All grants - This area is under budget by $32,512 in December and is under budget by $2,330 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants for Research (down $30.5K), lower recognition of ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $9.5K), Carry the Flame (up $7.7K) and lower for all other (down $0.2K).
- g. Sponsorships – This area is under budget by $20,000 in December and is under budget by $90,183 for the year. This continues our expectation that the sponsorship revenue will be lower than budget for the fiscal year.
- h. Other – This area was over budget by $1,467 in December and is over budget by $14,951 for the year. The over-run in December is across various projects with none having any significant amount.

B. Expenses

- a. Personnel – This area is over budget by $15,814 in December and over budget by $27,223 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to one-time expenses for vacation pay-outs and severance for people leaving the business.
- b. Publications – This area is over budget by $11,411 in December and over budget by $13,629 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to higher Journal costs (up $8.1K), higher Traditional Publications costs (up $3.0K) and higher across all other projects (up $0.3K).
- c. Travel – This area was over budget by $6,421 in December and under budget by $118,682 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to the timing of FNCE expense reimbursements across all areas of the business.
- d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $43,643 in December and is under budget by $133,750 for the year. The under-run in December is being driven the reconciliation of final FNCE bills (down $20.3K), lower Journal (down $13.3K), Lower Research (down $13.8K), lower Membership (down $2.7K), lower Marketing (down $3.1K), lower List Rental (down $1.3K), lower Informatics (down $1.3K) and lower across all other (down $2.3K), offset by higher Public Policy (up $5.2K) and higher IT/web (up $9.3K).
- e. Postage and Mailing Service – This area is under budget by $3,085 in December and under budget by $7,531 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Membership (down $6.6K), lower Traditional Publications (down $4.1K), and lower across all other (down $0.9K). This is offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $7.0K) and higher Public Policy (up $1.5).

- f. Office Supplies and Equipment – This area is under budget by $347 in December and under budget by $10,873 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.
- g. Rent and utilities - This area is under budget by $3,378 in December and over budget by $2,186 for the year. The under-run in December is due to the lower utility costs.
- h. Telephone and communications – This is over budget by $3,691 in December and over budget by $15,732 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher telecommunication's costs in the Washington and Chicago offices.
- i. Commissions – This area is under budget by $5,736 in December and is under budget by $7,825 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.
- j. Computer Expenses – This area is under budget by $11,267 in December and under budget by $34,382 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower IT and web costs.
- k. Advertising and Promotion – This area is under budget by $510 in December and under budget by $1,925 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.
- l. Insurance – This area is over budget by $797 in December and is over budget by $3,967 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.
- m. Depreciation – This area is on target in December and on target for the year.
- n. Bank and trust fees – This area is over budget by $9,051 in December and over budget by $38,040 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to Investment management fees (up $7.5K) and higher credit card fees for normal operations (up $1.6K).
- o. Other – This area is under budget by $4,692 in December and under budget $30,846 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reclassification of expenses for the Food and Nutrition magazine (down $18.3K), offset by higher Corporate Sponsorship (up $9.3K), higher Public Relations (up $1.2K) and higher across all other projects (up $3.1K).
- p. Expense allocation – This area is over budget by $3,036 in December and is over budget by $21,254 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.

q. Meeting services – This area is under budget by $1,471 in December and is under budget for the year by $72,718. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reconciliation of final FNCE bills across all projects.

r. Legal and Audit – This area is under budget by $4,024 in December and is under budget by $6,207 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower legal costs.

s. Printing – This area is under budget by $12,711 in December and is under budget by $63,026 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower expenses for Membership (down $6.2K), and lower for FNCE bill reconciliation (down $6.5K).

We do have a few “one time” expenses for December that have driven some of the over-runs. Our revenue has some risks going forward. On a year to date basis, everything is working well for ACEND. Revenue is up, expenses are down and above all else, ACEND's reserves continue to grow. ACEND's reserves have now approached $314K putting them in a solid financial footing.

IX. ANDPAC Preliminary December Financials (A14)

- ANDPAC had a very good month in December. Revenue was slightly higher than budget (up by $533) while expenses were slightly lower than budget (down $3,799). Some of the final FNCE bills have not been recorded in December for the PAC. We want to keep the PAC financials each month correlated to the FEC filings. Unfortunately, the FEC filings are "cash based". Even though the final FNCE bills came through, they did not do so until early January. Therefore, we did not record them here. They will show up in January when the bills are paid. Everyone else within the Academy are "accrual based". That means you record the revenue and expense when the benefit occurs. That is why we record the budgets in November for FNCE wherever we can if we don't have the bills. Managing the PAC different from the rest of the organization causes a little confusion at times, but, since the PAC is so small we are able to manage it.

Year to date, the PAC is doing well with revenue exceeding the budget by $4,311 and expense under-running the budget by $14,034. Even though the PAC has a Net Deficit of $44K, it is $18.3K smaller (better) than the budget. The net result is the PAC reserves still remain healthy with $238.9K available.

I will stop here because this is a very long e-mail. Maria will post to the portal all of the documents for our call. You should also receive an webinar invitation from Eric Hayes. If you have not, please let us know. Have a great weekend and stay warm!!

Paul, We are expecting extremely bad weather here in the South also. It doesn't happen very often, but when it does, it shuts us down for a long time. We are canceling after school activities tomorrow and do not expect to be at work Wednesday and Thursday. I plan to be at work for the call, but will let you know if things deteriorate to the level that I have to leave. If I leave, I will get in touch to see what I can work out. For us, the problem is we loose typically lose power when we get the amount of snow predicted. Yet, then again, it could all be wishful thinking for all the children in my area who want it to snow!!!! I will stay in touch. Glad you made it back from Detroit for all the fun weather.

Subject: RE: Finance and Audit Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 28th at 1 p.m. CST

All,

The new year has begun and we have another Finance Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 28th at 1 p.m. CST. I hope everyone had a great holiday season!! This month, our meeting will focus on the Final November, Preliminary December results. I have also added to the agenda the Investment results through November, 2013 for the Academy and the Foundation portfolios. The Academy information was presented to the Academy Board earlier this month. I have not scheduled much time to address this information. This is more of an "FYI". However, if you feel you would like to talk to Al Bryant, our investment advisor, before our April meeting, we can have him attend our call next month. Just let me know. Now, onto the financial summary.

I. Investments

Two things I want to point out; 1) December's results and 2) what January looks like. In December, the investment markets did rally like we thought they might. When we met in December, the combined portfolios were down about $600,000 for the month. Well, I am happy to tell you that the rally resulted in the combined portfolios gaining over $826,400!! Not a bad turnaround. This gain will bring our total combined return for the Fiscal Year to approximately $4,471,600.

As is always the case, I have taken a peak at the investment returns for the current month (Okay Mary, you are right, I watch it every day!! J). Just like December, January has started off very slowly. Through yesterday, our combined returns are relatively flat. The market has not found any footing yet this year. The good news is we haven't seen it drop much. Especially with the large gains across all of the equity markets in 2013. Today (Thursday), the markets are dropping due to concerns about earnings. It is difficult to say if this will continue or stop. The market is due for a correction of 10% or more. It is long overdue. No one knows when it will happen. Once it does, there should be a natural progression upward if the economy continues to improve. On another note; Also, keep an eye on February 7th when the "Debt Ceiling" needs to be raised. Congress could cause problems if this becomes a political pawn once again!!

II. Reserves and Cash

As you are aware, I felt it would be necessary to move another $500,000 out of our reserve funds into operational cash in January. Last week, I made this move. Even with the adjustment, the Academy has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve at the end of December. In your December package, I removed the $500,000 in anticipation of a future move. So, the number on A15 is a good representation of the reserves after the removal of $500,000 (at least through yesterday J). This $500,000 was on top of another $500,000 that we removed in December.

Operating cash depletion is a normal situation for the Academy during Jan, Feb, and March. Some years it is easier to get through than others. This year, it looks like the Academy's increased budgeted spending, increased capital, and reduced revenue coupled with the operating deficits for CDR, DPGS and MIGs are causing the additional cash requirements. As I look at cash today as compared to last year, we are nearly on target with quite a few Sponsorship payments that are past due. If they pay over the next few weeks, we may not need another transfer. I will keep you informed as we move forward.

III. Academy November Financials

There were a couple of changes to the November preliminary financial package. The Academy expenses went up $2,739 due to a few miscellaneous invoices. In addition, CDR revenue went up $25,397 for the RD/DTR exam fees. The RD/DTR revenue increased because one of the processes for revenue recognition did not complete before we provided to you the preliminary numbers. This was mentioned during our meeting in December and is reflected in the minutes. So, overall, the package for November we originally discussed has not changed dramatically.

IV. Academy preliminary December Financials (A10)

In December, the Academy's finances from operations took a step backwards. The month ended with an Operating Deficit of ($452.8K) and a Net Deficit of ($113.7K). The Operating deficit was larger than the budget driven primarily by lower revenue. Revenue for the month of December missed our budget target by $171.8K. Expenses helped offset this under-run with an under-run as well. Expenses were $46.7K below budget. Once again, in December, investments helped out a great deal. Our investment returns for December were $339.1K. This was $231.2K higher than our budget. Even though we still had a Net Deficit, it was $106,108 lower (better) than our budget.

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Deficit of ($598.9K). This is $71.5K lower (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $336.7K while expenses for the year are lower by $408.2K. So, with seven months down, we are a little better than our operating target. The investments made a big difference. To date, the Academy investments have now gained $1,775,866. This is more than $1M higher than our budget. Our Net Income, through December, is $1,176,964. This is nearly $1.1M higher than our budget. So, factoring in Investment returns, our results for the year are very good. The Academy also has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve. So, the Academy is in a very good financial position.

The following is a breakdown of the various categories for November:

A. Revenues

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $33,995 in December and is under budget by $104,362 for the year. Even with the under-run in revenue there are a couple of good news items coming out of Membership Dues. First, Membership is growing!! This should have a positive effect as we move forward. Secondly, Membership revenue is up, year to date, when compared to last year. If we look just at the pure Membership Dues (eliminating fees and the Fellow program), revenue is up nearly $55,000. So, we are moving in the right direction. We believe the reason the revenue is not meeting the budget is due to the number of people within the various membership rate categories. I also think some of the budget under-run will be due to timing. One last positive note; the Membership team is aggressively marketing membership at the moment and are making changes from what has been previously done. If they are successful, we will see positive results over the next few months.

b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $1,565 in December and is under budget by $52,331 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the last of the refund requests for FNCE resulting in a $1.7K reduction. This is standard. We get request for refunds due to illness or family tragedies each year and we review each one. This is offset by higher Professional Development revenue (up $0.1K).

c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $44,252 in December and is under budget by $10,161 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $15.7), lower Traditional Publications (down $39.1K) and lower miscellaneous projects (down $0.8K), offset by higher List Rental (up $3.9K) and higher QM/Guides sales (up $7.4K).

d. Subscriptions - This area is under budget by $15,972 in December and is under budget by $45,233 for the year. The under-run for December is due to lower NCM and related products (down $12.8K) and lower EAL (down $3.2K).

e. Advertising - This area is under budget by $24,945 in December and under budget by $47,125 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.

f. All grants - This area is under budget by $32,512 in December and is under budget by $2,330 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants for Research (down $30.5K), lower recognition of ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $9.5K), Carry the Flame (up $7.7K) and lower for all other (down $0.2K).

g. Sponsorships - This area is under budget by $20,000 in December and is under budget by $90,183 for the year. This continues our expectation that the sponsorship revenue will be lower than budget for the fiscal year.

h. Other - This area was over budget by $1,467 in December and is over budget by $14,951 for the year. The over-run in December is across various projects with none having any significant amount.

B. Expenses

a. Personnel - This area is over budget by $15,814 in December and over budget by $27,223 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to one-time expenses for vacation pay-outs and severance for people leaving the business.

b. Publications - This area is over budget by $11,411 in December and over budget by $13,629 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to higher Journal costs (up $8.1K), higher Traditional Publications costs (up $3.0K) and higher across all other projects (up $0.3K).

c. Travel - This area was over budget by $6,421 in December and under budget by $118,682 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to the timing of FNCE expense reimbursements across all areas of the business.

d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $43,643 in December and is under budget by $133,750 for the year. The under-run in December is being driven the reconciliation of final FNCE bills (down $20.3K), lower Journal (down $13.3K), Lower Research (down $13.8K), lower Membership (down $2.7K), lower Marketing (down $3.1K), lower List Rental (down $1.3K), lower Informatics (down $1.3K) and lower across all other (down $2.3K), offset by higher Public Policy (up $5.2K) and higher IT/web (up $9.3K).

e. Postage and Mailing Service - This area is under budget by $3,085 in December and under budget by $7,531 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Membership (down $6.6K), lower Traditional Publications (down $4.1K), and lower across all other (down $0.9K). This is offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $7.0K) and higher Public Policy (up $1.5).

f. Office Supplies and Equipment - This area is under budget by $347 in December and under budget by $10,873 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.

g. Rent and utilities - This area is under budget by $3,378 in December and over budget by $2,186 for the year. The under-run in December is due to the lower utility costs.

h. Telephone and communications - This is over budget by $3,691 in December and over budget by $15,732 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher telecommunication's costs in the Washington and Chicago offices.

i. Commissions - This area is under budget by $5,736 in December and is under budget by $7,825 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.

j. Computer Expenses - This area is under budget by $11,267 in December and under budget by $34,382 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower IT and web costs.

k. Advertising and Promotion - This area is under budget by $510 in December and under budget by $1,925 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.

l. Insurance - This area is over budget by $797 in December and is over budget by $3,967 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.

m. Depreciation - This area is on target in December and on target for the year.

n. Bank and trust fees - This area is over budget by $9,051 in December and over budget by $38,040 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to Investment management fees (up $7.5K) and higher credit card fees for normal operations (up $1.6K).

o. Other - This area is under budget by $4,692 in December and under budget $30,846 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reclassification of expenses for the Food and Nutrition magazine (down $18.3K), offset by higher Corporate Sponsorship (up $9.3K), higher Public Relations (up $1.2K) and higher across all other projects (up $3.1K).

p. Expense allocation - This area is over budget by $3,036 in December and is over budget by $21,254 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.

q. Meeting services - This area is under budget by $1,471 in December and is under budget for the year by $72,718. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reconciliation of final FNCE bills across all projects.

r. Legal and Audit - This area is under budget by $4,024 in December and is under budget by $6,207 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower legal costs.

s. Printing - This area is under budget by $12,711 in December and is under budget by $63,026 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower expenses for Membership (down $6.2K), and lower for FNCE bill reconciliation (down $6.5K).

We do have a few "one time" expenses for December that have driven some of the over-runs. Our revenue has some risks going forward. However, the Academy staff continues to manage expenses effectively helping to offset the revenue shortfalls. If we are able to continue our expense under-runs and the investments continue their climb, FY14 is shaping up to be a strong year for the Academy.

The Foundation had a fantastic month in December. The revenue was $1,427,900. This is $1,229,459 higher than the budget!! Most of the over-run is due to the $1.125M in General Mills Grants which were not budgeted. Not only did the Foundation secure money that they were not certain would continue in FY14, they were able to get General Mills to double the grants. This is a great coup for the Foundation! Not only was the revenue higher in December, but, the expenses were lower by $48,807. So, overall, the Foundation is clicking on all cylinders!! Investment Income enjoyed the party as well. Investment returns of $292,912 were more than twice the budgeted amount.

On a year to date basis, the Foundation has generated Net Income of $2,264,386. This is more than $2.6M higher than the budget. So, there really isn't any bad news here! Even though we know the General Mills grants will be distributed later this year, they still are going into the Foundation's Net Assets. At the end of December, the Foundation's Net Assets exceeded $22.5M (A9). The Foundation is in a very strong financial position.

VI. CDR's Preliminary December Financials (A11)

CDR had a good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $23,244. This was offset by expenses exceeding the budget by $19,805. None-the-less, CDR did have an operating surplus of $60,162 in December. This was $3,440 higher than the budget. As was the case with the Academy and the Foundation, Investment results were very positive resulting in Net Income for CDR of $161,549. This was $104,826 higher than the budget.

On a year to date basis, CDR is performing better on revenue and expense. Revenue is higher than budget by $78,130 while expenses are lower than budget by $281,823. Once you factor in the investment returns, CDR has Net Income of $15,259. Since CDR had budgeted a Net Deficit of over $927K, I think it is safe to say CDR is having a strong financial year as well.

VII. DPGs/MIGs Preliminary December Financials (A12)

The DPGs/MIGs did not have a great month in December. This is primarily driven by the final FNCE bills. Expenses over-ran the budget by $125,916. Revenue was also disappointing; falling short of the budget by $20,756. As I mentioned before, it is difficult to determine when all of the DPG/MIG revenues and expenses will materialize. So, often we are a little off on the monthly distributions. Therefore, we like to focus on the Year to date numbers.

Year to date, the DPGs/MIGs revenues are down $292,840. Most of this is from Grants (down $258,708). However, the expenses for the DPGs/MIGs are down $493K, more than enough to offset the revenue shortfall. Once you factor in the Investment returns, the combined DPGS/MIGs have Net Income of $370,243. This is nearly $745K better than the budget. To determine if a DPG/MIG is in good financial condition, you have to look to their reserves (A16). All of the DPGS/MIGS are above the 50% minimum and none are even in the "Watch" category. So, for the moment, the DPGs/MIGs are doing well and growing their reserves.

VIII. ACEND Preliminary December Financials (A13)

ACEND had a very good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $15,981 while expenses were slightly higher than budget (up $2,200). The expense were up due to the timing of FNCE travel reimbursements. ACEND did have a Net Deficit of $4,308 in December. However, it was $13,780 smaller (better) than the budget.

On a year to date basis, everything is working well for ACEND. Revenue is up, expenses are down and above all else, ACEND's reserves continue to grow. ACEND's reserves have now approached $314K putting them in a solid financial footing.

IX. ANDPAC Preliminary December Financials (A14)

ANDPAC had a very good month in December. Revenue was slightly higher than budget (up by $533) while expenses were slightly lower than budget (down $3,799). Some of the final FNCE bills have not been recorded in December for the PAC. We want to keep the PAC financials each month correlated to the FEC filings. Unfortunately, the FEC filings are "cash based". Even though the final FNCE bills came through, they did not do so until early January. Therefore, we did not record them here. They will show up in January when the bills are paid. Everyone else within the Academy are "accrual based". That means you record the revenue and expense when the benefit occurs. That is why we record the budgets in November for FNCE wherever we can if we don't have the bills. Managing the PAC different from the rest of the organization causes a little confusion at times, but, since the PAC is so small we are able to manage it.

Year to date, the PAC is doing well with revenue exceeding the budget by $4,311 and expense under-running the budget by $14,034. Even though the PAC has a Net Deficit of $44K, it is $18.3K smaller (better) than the budget. The net result is the PAC reserves still remain healthy with $238.9K available.

I will stop here because this is a very long e-mail. Maria will post to the portal all of the documents for our call. You should also receive an webinar invitation from Eric Hayes. If you have not, please let us know. Have a great weekend and stay warm!!

III. Academy November Financials

- There were a couple of changes to the November preliminary financial package. The Academy expenses went up $2,739 due to a few miscellaneous invoices. In addition, CDR revenue went up $25,397 for the RD/DTR exam fees. The RD/DTR revenue increased because one of the processes for revenue recognition did not complete before we provided to you the preliminary numbers. This was mentioned during our meeting in December and is reflected in the minutes. So, overall, the package for November we originally discussed has not changed dramatically.

IV. Academy preliminary December Financials (A10)

In December, the Academy's finances from operations took a step backwards. The month ended with an Operating Deficit of ($452.8K) and a Net Deficit of ($113.7K). The Operating deficit was larger than the budget driven primarily by lower revenue. Revenue for the month of December missed our budget target by $171.8K. Expenses helped offset this under-run with an under-run as well. Expenses were $46.7K below budget. Once again, in December, investments helped out a great deal. Our investment returns for December were $339.1K. This was $231.2K higher than our budget. Even though we still had a Net Deficit, it was $106,108 lower (better) than our budget.

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Deficit of ($598.9K). This is $71.5K lower (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $336.7K while expenses for the year are lower by $408.2K. So, with seven months down, we are a little better than our operating target. The investments made a big difference. To date, the Academy investments have now gained $1,775,866. This is more than $1M higher than our budget. Our Net Income, through December, is $1,176,964. This is nearly $1.1M higher than our budget. So, factoring in Investment returns, our results for the year are very good. The Academy also has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve. So, the Academy is in a very good financial position.

The following is a breakdown of the various categories for November:

A. Revenues

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $33,995 in December and is under budget by $104,362 for the year. Even with the under-run in revenue there are a couple of good news items coming out of Membership Dues. First, Membership is growing!! This should have a positive effect as we move forward. Secondly, Membership revenue is up, year to date, when compared to last year. If we look just at the pure Membership Dues (eliminating fees and the Fellow program), revenue is up nearly $55,000. So, we are moving in the right direction. We believe the reason the revenue is not meeting the budget is due to the number of people within the various membership rate categories. I also think some of the budget under-run will be due to timing. One last positive note; the Membership team is aggressively marketing membership at the moment and are making changes from what has been previously done. If they are successful, we will see positive results over the next few months.

b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $1,565 in December and is under budget by $52,331 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the last of the refund requests for FNCE resulting in a $1.7K reduction. This is standard. We get request for refunds due to illness or family tragedies each year and we review each one. This is offset by higher Professional Development revenue (up $0.1K).

c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $44,252 in December and is under budget by $10,161 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $15.7), lower Traditional Publications (down $39.1K) and lower miscellaneous projects (down $0.8K), offset by higher List Rental (up $3.9K) and higher QM/Guides sales (up $7.4K).

d. Subscriptions – This area is under budget by $15,972 in December and is under budget by $45,233 for the year. The under-run for December is due to lower NCM and related products (down $12.8K) and lower EAL (down $3.2K).

e. Advertising – This area is under budget by $24,945 in December and under budget by $47,125 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.

f. All grants - This area is under budget by $32,512 in December and is under budget by $2,330 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants for Research (down $30.5K), lower recognition of ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $9.5K), Carry the Flame (up $7.7K) and lower for all other (down $0.2K).

g. Sponsorships – This area is under budget by $20,000 in December and is under budget by $90,183 for the year. This continues our expectation that the sponsorship revenue will be lower than budget for the fiscal year.

h. Other – This area was over budget by $1,467 in December and is over budget by $14,951 for the year. The over-run in December is across various projects with none having any significant amount.

B. Expenses

a. Personnel – This area is over budget by $15,814 in December and over budget by $27,223 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to one-time expenses for vacation pay-outs and severance for people leaving the business.

b. Publications – This area is over budget by $11,411 in December and over budget by $13,629 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to higher Journal costs (up $8.1K), higher Traditional Publications costs (up $3.0K) and higher across all other projects (up $0.3K).

c. Travel – This area was over budget by $6,421 in December and under budget by $118,682 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to the timing of FNCE expense reimbursements across all areas of the business.

d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $43,643 in December and is under budget by $133,750 for the year. The under-run in December is being driven the reconciliation of final FNCE bills (down $20.3K), lower Journal (down $13.3K), Lower Research (down $13.8K), lower Membership (down $2.7K), lower Marketing (down $3.1K), lower List Rental (down $1.3K), lower Informatics (down $1.3K) and lower across all other (down $2.3K), offset by higher Public Policy (up $5.2K) and higher IT/web (up $9.3K).

e. Postage and Mailing Service – This area is under budget by $3,085 in December and under budget by $7,531 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Membership (down $6.6K), lower Traditional Publications (down $4.1K), and lower across all other (down $0.9K). This is offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $7.0K) and higher Public Policy (up $1.5).

f. Office Supplies and Equipment – This area is under budget by $347 in December and under budget by $10,873 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.

- g. Rent and utilities - This area is under budget by $3,378 in December and over budget by $2,186 for the year. The under-run in December is due to the lower utility costs.
- h. Telephone and communications – This is over budget by $3,691 in December and over budget by $15,732 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher telecommunication's costs in the Washington and Chicago offices.
- i. Commissions – This area is under budget by $5,736 in December and is under budget by $7,825 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.
- j. Computer Expenses – This area is under budget by $11,267 in December and under budget by $34,382 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower IT and web costs.
- k. Advertising and Promotion – This area is under budget by $510 in December and under budget by $1,925 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.
- l. Insurance – This area is over budget by $797 in December and is over budget by $3,967 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.
- m. Depreciation – This area is on target in December and on target for the year.
- n. Bank and trust fees – This area is over budget by $9,051 in December and over budget by $38,040 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to Investment management fees (up $7.5K) and higher credit card fees for normal operations (up $1.6K).
- o. Other – This area is under budget by $4,692 in December and under budget $30,846 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reclassification of expenses for the Food and Nutrition magazine (down $18.3K), offset by higher Corporate Sponsorship (up $9.3K), higher Public Relations (up $1.2K) and higher across all other projects (up $3.1K).
- p. Expense allocation – This area is over budget by $3,036 in December and is over budget by $21,254 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.
- q. Meeting services – This area is under budget by $1,471 in December and is under budget for the year by $72,718. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reconciliation of final FNCE bills across all projects.
- r. Legal and Audit – This area is under budget by $4,024 in December and is under budget by $6,207 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower legal costs.

s. Printing – This area is under budget by $12,711 in December and is under budget by $63,026 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower expenses for Membership (down $6.2K), and lower for FNCE bill reconciliation (down $6.5K).

We do have a few “one time” expenses for December that have driven some of the over-runs. Our revenue has some risks going forward. However, the Academy staff continues to manage expenses effectively helping to offset the revenue shortfalls. If we are able to continue our expense under-runs and the investments continue their climb, FY14 is shaping up to be a strong year for the Academy.

V. Foundation Preliminary December Financials (A8)

The Foundation had a fantastic month in December. The revenue was $1,427,900. This is $1,229,459 higher than the budget!! Most of the over-run is due to the $1.125M in General Mills Grants which were not budgeted. Not only did the Foundation secure money that they were not certain would continue in FY14, they were able to get General Mills to double the grants. This is a great coup for the Foundation! Not only was the revenue higher in December, but, the expenses were lower by $48,807. So, overall, the Foundation is clicking on all cylinders!! Investment Income enjoyed the party as well. Investment returns of $292,912 were more than twice the budgeted amount.

On a year to date basis, the Foundation has generated Net Income of $2,264,386. This is more than $2.6M higher than the budget. So, there really isn't any bad news here! Even though we know the General Mills grants will be distributed later this year, they still are going into the Foundation's Net Assets. At the end of December, the Foundation's Net Assets exceeded $22.5M (A9). The Foundation is in a very strong financial position.

VI. CDR's Preliminary December Financials (A11)

CDR had a good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $23,244. This was offset by expenses exceeding the budget by $19,805. None-the-less, CDR did have an operating surplus of $60,162 in December. This was $3,440 higher than the budget. As was the case with the Academy and the Foundation, Investment results were very positive resulting in Net Income for CDR of $161,549. This was $104,826 higher than the budget.

On a year to date basis, CDR is performing better on revenue and expense. Revenue is higher than budget by $78,130 while expenses are lower than budget by $281,823. Once you factor in the investment returns, CDR has Net Income of $15,259. Since CDR had budgeted a Net Deficit of over $927K, I think it is safe to say CDR is having a strong financial year as well.

VII. DPGs/MIGs Preliminary December Financials (A12)

The DPGs/MIGs did not have a great month in December. This is primarily driven by the final FNCE bills. Expenses over-ran the budget by $125,916. Revenue was also disappointing; falling short of the budget by $20,756. As I mentioned before, it is difficult to determine when all of the DPG/MIG revenues and expenses will materialize. So, often we are a little off on the monthly distributions. Therefore, we like to focus on the Year to date numbers.

Year to date, the DPGs/MIGs revenues are down $292,840. Most of this is from Grants (down $258,708). However, the expenses for the DPGs/MIGs are down $493K, more than enough to offset the revenue shortfall. Once you factor in the Investment returns, the combined DPGS/MIGs have Net Income of $370,243. This is nearly $745K better than the budget. To determine if a DPG/MIG is in good financial condition, you have to look to their reserves (A16). All of the DPGS/MIGS are above the 50% minimum and none are even in the "Watch" category. So, for the moment, the DPGs/MIGs are doing well and growing their reserves.

VIII. ACEND Preliminary December Financials (A13)

ACEND had a very good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $15,981 while expenses were slightly higher than budget (up $2,200). The expense were up due to the timing of FNCE travel reimbursements. ACEND did have a Net Deficit of $4,308 in December. However, it was $13,780 smaller (better) than the budget.

On a year to date basis, everything is working well for ACEND. Revenue is up, expenses are down and above all else, ACEND's reserves continue to grow. ACEND's reserves have now approached $314K putting them in a solid financial footing.

IX. ANDPAC Preliminary December Financials (A14)

- ANDPAC had a very good month in December. Revenue was slightly higher than budget (up by $533) while expenses were slightly lower than budget (down $3,799). Some of the final FNCE bills have not been recorded in December for the PAC. We want to keep the PAC financials each month correlated to the FEC filings. Unfortunately, the FEC filings are “cash based”. Even though the final FNCE bills came through, they did not do so until early January. Therefore, we did not record them here. They will show up in January when the bills are paid. Everyone else within the Academy are “accrual based”. That means you record the revenue and expense when the benefit occurs. That is why we record the budgets in November for FNCE wherever we can if we don’t have the bills. Managing the PAC different from the rest of the organization causes a little confusion at times, but, since the PAC is so small we are able to manage it.

Year to date, the PAC is doing well with revenue exceeding the budget by $4,311 and expense under-running the budget by $14,034. Even though the PAC has a Net Deficit of $44K, it is $18.3K smaller (better) than the budget. The net result is the PAC reserves still remain healthy with $238.9K available.

I will stop here because this is a very long e-mail. Maria will post to the portal all of the documents for our call. You should also receive an webinar invitation from Eric Hayes. If you have not, please let us know. Have a great weekend and stay warm!!

Hello Mary:

We had a very productive meeting on Friday and I look forward to sharing an update with you. I wanted to check with you though, as the agenda and dialogue with ANFP has changed and I will be at headquarters Monday late afternoon and evening. The meeting has been extended until around 8:30pm. Instead of meeting at the Burnham, would it be possible for us to meet at headquarter instead a little later? I'm also willing to come across the street, as I know you live nearby.

Please let me know if this will work for youJ

Many thanks,

Glenna

I hope you are having a great day. I want to follow up on the need for money from our reserves. As you may recall, back in December, I thought I would need $1M. We moved $500,000 in December. Well, we are now in need of an additional $500,000. So, please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

The good news is we will have 82.5% ($20,463,618) in reserve even after the removal of the $500,000. I am not sure if this will be last of the money we will need. I will let you know. Incoming cash is very light these days. I know we have nearly $900,000 in invoices outstanding to our Sponsors. If they come in over the next few weeks, it will be a huge benefit.

Again, let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

The Certificate of Training in Childhood and Adolescent Weight Management Program evaluation summary is attached for your review. In reviewing the participant comments we have noted several negative comments regarding the late end times, especially on day 1. Please review the program agenda to assist us in identifying ways that we can address this concern. If at all possible we would like to avoid extending day three later than currently scheduled because this would cause additional expense for both the attendees and us as the likelihood of an additional hotel night and meal expenses would increase due to flight availability.

Please forward any suggestions you have to address this issue to me.

Good Morning,

I hope everybody is surviving the cold weather. In response to Chris's request for suggestions to shorten the first day, I think it may be beneficial to focus on how we could shorten some of the longer presentations and discontinue the last afternoon break. I would like to volunteer to reduce our talk to 30 minutes.

Hello Academy Board of Directors and Academy staff!

I am proud and honored to be a candidate for Speaker-elect of the Academy and am writing to ask for your vote. J

My three years of experience on the HLT and six years as a Texas affiliate delegate have prepared me to move smoothly into the role and to continue on with the admirable leadership of other Speakers and HLT members.

As a past president of several organizations, including two Texas districts and the Texas affiliate, I have developed the skills needed to lead the HOD, coordinate with Academy organizational units and increase member engagement.

My colleagues describe me as enthusiastic, optimist, creative and poised. I excel at bringing out the best in others and in developing team unity for the greater good.

As Speaker, I will do my best to develop a culture of inclusivity, empowerment, vision and confidence to help our members become the successful health care leaders that all professions will want to emulate.

The Certificate of Training in Childhood and Adolescent Weight Management Program evaluation summary is attached for your review. In reviewing the participant comments we have noted several negative comments regarding the late end times, especially on day 1. Please review the program agenda to assist us in identifying ways that we can address this concern. If at all possible we would like to avoid extending day three later than currently scheduled because this would cause additional expense for both the attendees and us as the likelihood of an additional hotel night and meal expenses would increase due to flight availability.

Please forward any suggestions you have to address this issue to me.

Dear CEO Compensation Committee:

I look forward to the first meeting of our CEO Compensation Committee scheduled for Friday, January 24, 2014 in Chicago. Attached is a DRAFT agenda and I welcome your comments and suggestions. Hotel and meeting room details are still being finalized but at this time Sonja Connor, Donna Martin, Kathy McClusky, and I will be in Chicago; Ethan will be joining via conference call. Mary Russell will not be at the meeting, however the two of us are meeting in Chicago on Monday (January 27th) to update her on the progress of our committee.

According to the CEO Compensation Roles and Responsibilities (5/2013) we are on schedule but have much to do in preparation for our March and May Board of Directors meetings. To assist us with our efforts, I've asked designated staff (Chief Financial Officer, Paul Mifsud and Director of Human Resources, Carrolyn Patterson) to be available on Friday to assist with any questions or needed documentation. We may also have questions for our CEO, Pat Babjak, and I'm glad to inquire as to her availability as well. In addition, Dr. Sandra Gill has been invited (pending) to join us for a portion of the call as we begin our discussions regarding the use of a consulting firm.

I plan to send the final agenda Thursday (January 23rd) before I depart for Chicago. I look forward to your feedback.

All,

The new year has begun and we have another Finance Committee meeting on Tuesday, January 28th at 1 p.m. CST. I hope everyone had a great holiday season!! This month, our meeting will focus on the Final November, Preliminary December results. I have also added to the agenda the Investment results through November, 2013 for the Academy and the Foundation portfolios. The Academy information was presented to the Academy Board earlier this month. I have not scheduled much time to address this information. This is more of an "FYI". However, if you feel you would like to talk to Al Bryant, our investment advisor, before our April meeting, we can have him attend our call next month. Just let me know. Now, onto the financial summary.

I. Investments

Two things I want to point out; 1) December's results and 2) what January looks like. In December, the investment markets did rally like we thought they might. When we met in December, the combined portfolios were down about $600,000 for the month. Well, I am happy to tell you that the rally resulted in the combined portfolios gaining over $826,400!! Not a bad turnaround. This gain will bring our total combined return for the Fiscal Year to approximately $4,471,600.

As is always the case, I have taken a peak at the investment returns for the current month (Okay Mary, you are right, I watch it every day!! J). Just like December, January has started off very slowly. Through yesterday, our combined returns are relatively flat. The market has not found any footing yet this year. The good news is we haven't seen it drop much. Especially with the large gains across all of the equity markets in 2013. Today (Thursday), the markets are dropping due to concerns about earnings. It is difficult to say if this will continue or stop. The market is due for a correction of 10% or more. It is long overdue. No one knows when it will happen. Once it does, there should be a natural progression upward if the economy continues to improve. On another note; Also, keep an eye on February 7th when the "Debt Ceiling" needs to be raised. Congress could cause problems if this becomes a political pawn once again!!

As you are aware, I felt it would be necessary to move another $500,000 out of our reserve funds into operational cash in January. Last week, I made this move. Even with the adjustment, the Academy has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve at the end of December. In your December package, I removed the $500,000 in anticipation of a future move. So, the number on A15 is a good representation of the reserves after the removal of $500,000 (at least through yesterday J). This $500,000 was on top of another $500,000 that we removed in December.

Operating cash depletion is a normal situation for the Academy during Jan, Feb, and March. Some years it is easier to get through than others. This year, it looks like the Academy's increased budgeted spending, increased capital, and reduced revenue coupled with the operating deficits for CDR, DPGS and MIGs are causing the additional cash requirements. As I look at cash today as compared to last year, we are nearly on target with quite a few Sponsorship payments that are past due. If they pay over the next few weeks, we may not need another transfer. I will keep you informed as we move forward.

III. Academy November Financials

- There were a couple of changes to the November preliminary financial package. The Academy expenses went up $2,739 due to a few miscellaneous invoices. In addition, CDR revenue went up $25,397 for the RD/DTR exam fees. The RD/DTR revenue increased because one of the processes for revenue recognition did not complete before we provided to you the preliminary numbers. This was mentioned during our meeting in December and is reflected in the minutes. So, overall, the package for November we originally discussed has not changed dramatically.

IV. Academy preliminary December Financials (A10)

In December, the Academy's finances from operations took a step backwards. The month ended with an Operating Deficit of ($452.8K) and a Net Deficit of ($113.7K). The Operating deficit was larger than the budget driven primarily by lower revenue. Revenue for the month of December missed our budget target by $171.8K. Expenses helped offset this under-run with an under-run as well. Expenses were $46.7K below budget. Once again, in December, investments helped out a great deal. Our investment returns for December were $339.1K. This was $231.2K higher than our budget. Even though we still had a Net Deficit, it was $106,108 lower (better) than our budget.

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Deficit of ($598.9K). This is $71.5K lower (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $336.7K while expenses for the year are lower by $408.2K. So, with seven months down, we are a little better than our operating target. The investments made a big difference. To date, the Academy investments have now gained $1,775,866. This is more than $1M higher than our budget. Our Net Income, through December, is $1,176,964. This is nearly $1.1M higher than our budget. So, factoring in Investment returns, our results for the year are very good. The Academy also has 82.5% of the FY14 budget in reserve. So, the Academy is in a very good financial position.

The following is a breakdown of the various categories for November:

A. Revenues

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $33,995 in December and is under budget by $104,362 for the year. Even with the under-run in revenue there are a couple of good news items coming out of Membership Dues. First, Membership is growing!! This should have a positive effect as we move forward. Secondly, Membership revenue is up, year to date, when compared to last year. If we look just at the pure Membership Dues (eliminating fees and the Fellow program), revenue is up nearly $55,000. So, we are moving in the right direction. We believe the reason the revenue is not meeting the budget is due to the number of people within the various membership rate categories. I also think some of the budget under-run will be due to timing. One last positive note; the Membership team is aggressively marketing membership at the moment and are making changes from what has been previously done. If they are successful, we will see positive results over the next few months.

b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $1,565 in December and is under budget by $52,331 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the last of the refund requests for FNCE resulting in a $1.7K reduction. This is standard. We get request for refunds due to illness or family tragedies each year and we review each one. This is offset by higher Professional Development revenue (up $0.1K).

c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $44,252 in December and is under budget by $10,161 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $15.7), lower Traditional Publications (down $39.1K) and lower miscellaneous projects (down $0.8K), offset by higher List Rental (up $3.9K) and higher QM/Guides sales (up $7.4K).

d. Subscriptions – This area is under budget by $15,972 in December and is under budget by $45,233 for the year. The under-run for December is due to lower NCM and related products (down $12.8K) and lower EAL (down $3.2K).

e. Advertising – This area is under budget by $24,945 in December and under budget by $47,125 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.

f. All grants - This area is under budget by $32,512 in December and is under budget by $2,330 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants for Research (down $30.5K), lower recognition of ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $9.5K), Carry the Flame (up $7.7K) and lower for all other (down $0.2K).

g. Sponsorships – This area is under budget by $20,000 in December and is under budget by $90,183 for the year. This continues our expectation that the sponsorship revenue will be lower than budget for the fiscal year.

h. Other – This area was over budget by $1,467 in December and is over budget by $14,951 for the year. The over-run in December is across various projects with none having any significant amount.

B. Expenses

- a. Personnel – This area is over budget by $15,814 in December and over budget by $27,223 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to one-time expenses for vacation pay-outs and severance for people leaving the business.
- b. Publications – This area is over budget by $11,411 in December and over budget by $13,629 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to higher Journal costs (up $8.1K), higher Traditional Publications costs (up $3.0K) and higher across all other projects (up $0.3K).
- c. Travel – This area was over budget by $6,421 in December and under budget by $118,682 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to the timing of FNCE expense reimbursements across all areas of the business.
- d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $43,643 in December and is under budget by $133,750 for the year. The under-run in December is being driven the reconciliation of final FNCE bills (down $20.3K), lower Journal (down $13.3K), Lower Research (down $13.8K), lower Membership (down $2.7K), lower Marketing (down $3.1K), lower List Rental (down $1.3K), lower Informatics (down $1.3K) and lower across all other (down $2.3K), offset by higher Public Policy (up $5.2K) and higher IT/web (up $9.3K).
- e. Postage and Mailing Service – This area is under budget by $3,085 in December and under budget by $7,531 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower Membership (down $6.6K), lower Traditional Publications (down $4.1K), and lower across all other (down $0.9K). This is offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $7.0K) and higher Public Policy (up $1.5).
- f. Office Supplies and Equipment – This area is under budget by $347 in December and under budget by $10,873 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.
- g. Rent and utilities - This area is under budget by $3,378 in December and over budget by $2,186 for the year. The under-run in December is due to the lower utility costs.
- h. Telephone and communications – This is over budget by $3,691 in December and over budget by $15,732 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher telecommunication's costs in the Washington and Chicago offices.
- i. Commissions – This area is under budget by $5,736 in December and is under budget by $7,825 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales.

- j. Computer Expenses – This area is under budget by $11,267 in December and under budget by $34,382 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower IT and web costs.
- k. Advertising and Promotion – This area is under budget by $510 in December and under budget by $1,925 for the year. The under-run in December is across all projects with no material variances.
- l. Insurance – This area is over budget by $797 in December and is over budget by $3,967 for the year. The over-run in December is due to higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.
- m. Depreciation – This area is on target in December and on target for the year.
- n. Bank and trust fees – This area is over budget by $9,051 in December and over budget by $38,040 for the year. The over-run in December is primarily due to Investment management fees (up $7.5K) and higher credit card fees for normal operations (up $1.6K).
- o. Other – This area is under budget by $4,692 in December and under budget $30,846 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reclassification of expenses for the Food and Nutrition magazine (down $18.3K), offset by higher Corporate Sponsorship (up $9.3K), higher Public Relations (up $1.2K) and higher across all other projects (up $3.1K).
- p. Expense allocation – This area is over budget by $3,036 in December and is over budget by $21,254 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.
- q. Meeting services – This area is under budget by $1,471 in December and is under budget for the year by $72,718. The under-run in December is primarily due to the reconciliation of final FNCE bills across all projects.
- r. Legal and Audit – This area is under budget by $4,024 in December and is under budget by $6,207 for the year. The under-run in December is due to lower legal costs.
- s. Printing – This area is under budget by $12,711 in December and is under budget by $63,026 for the year. The under-run in December is primarily due to lower expenses for Membership (down $6.2K), and lower for FNCE bill reconciliation (down $6.5K).

We do have a few “one time” expenses for December that have driven some of the over-runs. Our revenue has some risks going forward. However, the Academy staff continues to manage expenses effectively helping to offset the revenue shortfalls. If we are able to continue our expense under-runs and the investments continue their climb, FY14 is shaping up to be a strong year for the Academy.

V. Foundation Preliminary December Financials (A8)

The Foundation had a fantastic month in December. The revenue was $1,427,900. This is $1,229,459 higher than the budget!! Most of the over-run is due to the $1.125M in General Mills Grants which were not budgeted. Not only did the Foundation secure money that they were not certain would continue in FY14, they were able to get General Mills to double the grants. This is a great coup for the Foundation! Not only was the revenue higher in December, but, the expenses were lower by $48,807. So, overall, the Foundation is clicking on all cylinders!! Investment Income enjoyed the party as well. Investment returns of $292,912 were more than twice the budgeted amount.

On a year to date basis, the Foundation has generated Net Income of $2,264,386. This is more than $2.6M higher than the budget. So, there really isn't any bad news here! Even though we know the General Mills grants will be distributed later this year, they still are going into the Foundation's Net Assets. At the end of December, the Foundation's Net Assets exceeded $22.5M (A9). The Foundation is in a very strong financial position.

VI. CDR's Preliminary December Financials (A11)

CDR had a good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $23,244. This was offset by expenses exceeding the budget by $19,805. None-the-less, CDR did have an operating surplus of $60,162 in December. This was $3,440 higher than the budget. As was the case with the Academy and the Foundation, Investment results were very positive resulting in Net Income for CDR of $161,549. This was $104,826 higher than the budget.

On a year to date basis, CDR is performing better on revenue and expense. Revenue is higher than budget by $78,130 while expenses are lower than budget by $281,823. Once you factor in the investment returns, CDR has Net Income of $15,259. Since CDR had budgeted a Net Deficit of over $927K, I think it is safe to say CDR is having a strong financial year as well.

VII. DPGs/MIGs Preliminary December Financials (A12)

The DPGs/MIGs did not have a great month in December. This is primarily driven by the final FNCE bills. Expenses over-ran the budget by $125,916. Revenue was also disappointing; falling short of the budget by $20,756. As I mentioned before, it is difficult to determine when all of the DPG/MIG revenues and expenses will materialize. So, often we are a little off on the monthly distributions. Therefore, we like to focus on the Year to date numbers.

Year to date, the DPGs/MIGs revenues are down $292,840. Most of this is from Grants (down $258,708). However, the expenses for the DPGs/MIGs are down $493K, more than enough to offset the revenue shortfall. Once you factor in the Investment returns, the combined DPGS/MIGs have Net Income of $370,243. This is nearly $745K better than the budget. To determine if a DPG/MIG is in good financial condition, you have to look to their reserves (A16). All of the DPGS/MIGS are above the 50% minimum and none are even in the "Watch" category. So, for the moment, the DPGs/MIGs are doing well and growing their reserves.

VIII. ACEND Preliminary December Financials (A13)

ACEND had a very good month in December. Revenue exceeded the budget by $15,981 while expenses were slightly higher than budget (up $2,200). The expense were up due to the timing of FNCE travel reimbursements. ACEND did have a Net Deficit of $4,308 in December. However, it was $13,780 smaller (better) than the budget.

On a year to date basis, everything is working well for ACEND. Revenue is up, expenses are down and above all else, ACEND's reserves continue to grow. ACEND's reserves have now approached $314K putting them in a solid financial footing.

IX. ANDPAC Preliminary December Financials (A14)

- ANDPAC had a very good month in December. Revenue was slightly higher than budget (up by $533) while expenses were slightly lower than budget (down $3,799). Some of the final FNCE bills have not been recorded in December for the PAC. We want to keep the PAC financials each month correlated to the FEC filings. Unfortunately, the FEC filings are "cash based". Even though the final FNCE bills came through, they did not do so until early January. Therefore, we did not record them here. They will show up in January when the bills are paid. Everyone else within the Academy are "accrual based". That means you record the revenue and expense when the benefit occurs. That is why we record the budgets in November for FNCE wherever we can if we don't have the bills. Managing the PAC different from the rest of the organization causes a little confusion at times, but, since the PAC is so small we are able to manage it.

Year to date, the PAC is doing well with revenue exceeding the budget by $4,311 and expense under-running the budget by $14,034. Even though the PAC has a Net Deficit of $44K, it is $18.3K smaller (better) than the budget. The net result is the PAC reserves still remain healthy with $238.9K available.

I will stop here because this is a very long e-mail. Maria will post to the portal all of the documents for our call. You should also receive an webinar invitation from Eric Hayes. If you have not, please let us know. Have a great weekend and stay warm!!

Dear CEO Compensation Committee:

I look forward to the first meeting of our CEO Compensation Committee scheduled for Friday, January 24, 2014 in Chicago. Attached is a DRAFT agenda and I welcome your comments and suggestions. Hotel and meeting room details are still being finalized but at this time Sonja Connor, Donna Martin, Kathy McClusky, and I will be in Chicago; Ethan will be joining via conference call. Mary Russell will not be at the meeting, however the two of us are meeting in Chicago on Monday (January 27th) to update her on the progress of our committee.

According to the CEO Compensation Roles and Responsibilities (5/2013) we are on schedule but have much to do in preparation for our March and May Board of Directors meetings. To assist us with our efforts, I've asked designated staff (Chief Financial Officer, Paul Mifsud and Director of Human Resources, Carrolyn Patterson) to be available on Friday to assist with any questions or needed documentation. We may also have questions for our CEO, Pat Babjak, and I'm glad to inquire as to her availability as well. In addition, Dr. Sandra Gill has been invited (pending) to join us for a portion of the call as we begin our discussions regarding the use of a consulting firm.

I plan to send the final agenda Thursday (January 23rd) before I depart for Chicago. I look forward to your feedback.

Pat:

Thank you for your continued and extensive effort in helping us respond to our colleagues in ACEND. I truly believe as stated in the letter...

“As a member-led organization, our collaborative leadership is vital to the future success of our profession ... what we do, what we say, the challenges we are willing to embrace, the risks we are willing to take, and the leadership we demonstrate together, will impact the health of our nation and determine the opportunities of our profession for generations to come....”

The Honorable Sandra Day O'Connor, Retired Associate Justice, Supreme Court of the United States, shared a wise comment with me last week during a special lunch and I share you. When asked how she was able to work so well with colleagues who did not always share her point of view, she said one of the most important skills we can have today is to learn to “disagree – agreeably, and always being willing to say I’m happy to hear your point of view.” She also said, “the roads we travel – are usually uphill all the way!” J

As wise leaders, I look forward to our next step.

Very nicely done folks. I am so proud of our approach, firm, factual and promoting the spirit of collaboration and cooperation. I am sad that the circumstances led to this. Thanks to Glenna, Pat and all other staff who helped to make this letter and documentation reflect so well on the Board, and the Academy.

Dear CEO Compensation Committee:

I look forward to the first meeting of our CEO Compensation Committee scheduled for Friday, January 24, 2014 in Chicago. Attached is a DRAFT agenda and I welcome your comments and suggestions. Hotel and meeting room details are still being finalized but at this time Sonja Connor, Donna Martin, Kathy McClusky, and I will be in Chicago; Ethan will be joining via conference call. Mary Russell will not be at the meeting, however the two of us are meeting in Chicago on Monday (January 27th) to update her on the progress of our committee.

According to the CEO Compensation Roles and Responsibilities (5/2013) we are on schedule but have much to do in preparation for our March and May Board of Directors meetings. To assist us with our efforts, I've asked designated staff (Chief Financial Officer, Paul Mifsud and Director of Human Resources, Carolyn Patterson) to be available on Friday to assist with any questions or needed documentation. We may also have questions for our CEO, Pat Babjak, and I'm glad to inquire as to her availability as well. In addition, Dr. Sandra Gill has been invited (pending) to join us for a portion of the call as we begin our discussions regarding the use of a consulting firm.

I plan to send the final agenda Thursday (January 23rd) before I depart for Chicago. I look forward to your feedback.

Attached is the letter which has been sent to the full ACEND Board of Directors. Minor revisions have been made to the letter you received during Executive Session reflecting Paula Goedert's input.

Please note the addition from Glenna's July 2013 Letter to Leaders on page five, second to the last paragraph, which beautifully sums up our desire for collaborative leadership.

Dear CEO Compensation Committee:

I look forward to the first meeting of our CEO Compensation Committee scheduled for Friday, January 24, 2014 in Chicago. Attached is a DRAFT agenda and I welcome your comments and suggestions. Hotel and meeting room details are still being finalized but at this time Sonja Connor, Donna Martin, Kathy McClusky, and I will be in Chicago; Ethan will be joining via conference call. Mary Russell will not be at the meeting, however the two of us are meeting in Chicago on Monday (January 27th) to update her on the progress of our committee.

According to the CEO Compensation Roles and Responsibilities (5/2013) we are on schedule but have much to do in preparation for our March and May Board of Directors meetings. To assist us with our efforts, I've asked designated staff (Chief Financial Officer, Paul Mifsud and Director of Human Resources, Carolyn Patterson) to be available on Friday to assist with any questions or needed documentation. We may also have questions for our CEO, Pat Babjak, and I'm glad to inquire as to her availability as well. In addition, Dr. Sandra Gill has been invited (pending) to join us for a portion of the call as we begin our discussions regarding the use of a consulting firm.

I plan to send the final agenda Thursday (January 23rd) before I depart for Chicago. I look forward to your feedback.

Good morning. I wanted to share with you that the Foundation received a $569,125.33 bequest from the estate of Martha Snavelly who passed away on June 8, 2013. She was 96 years of age, a member of the Academy and past donor to the Foundation. As designated in the estate, a named fund will be established to support public education activities of the foundation. These dollars will help advance our work through programs like Kids Eat Right.

Following is some additional information from her obit:

Martha was the daughter of Elizabeth Gordon Keith and Edgar Keith, of Birmingham, Alabama. Martha graduated with a B. S. from Auburn University and completed a dietetic internship at Vanderbilt University. She served her country in WWII as a dietician for the troops in the European Theater. She returned home in 1945 to marry her beloved husband, Dr. John Robert Snavelly, whom she'd met overseas. They lived in New Orleans while Bob taught at Tulane University. Bob and Martha relocated to Jackson when he was asked to participate in establishing a medical school at the University of Mississippi.

Martha was a proud, energetic woman, always ready to take on a challenge, tell a story or offer a smile. Bob passed away too young, in 1964. Martha returned to her roots as a dietitian for the American Heart Association, for whom she had been an active volunteer since 1955. She served on their Board of Directors beginning in 1965. Martha was given an American Heart Association award for distinguished service in advancing their heart program. She was also active with the American Dietetic Association, the American Cancer Society, the Kidney Foundation and other health related groups.

Martha enjoyed many leisure activities, especially golf. She was a member of the Colonial Ladies' Golf Association, the Jackson Ladies' Golf Association, the Senior Women's Golf Association and the Mississippi Women's Golf Association. She held offices, ran tournaments and enthusiastically competed in all. Her interest in music and the arts, including fabric design, brought her joy. She was dearly loved by her family and spent annual vacations with her brother and his family until she was no longer able to travel.

Martha was predeceased by her parents, her husband and a niece, Mary Keith Schwartz. She is survived by her brother, Edward Gordon Keith, niece Joann Keith Jaffey, nephew, Edward Gordon Keith, jr. (Joan), great niece, Cindy Van Geer, (Erik), and three great nephews, David Schwartz, (Alison), Michael Schwartz and Craig Jaffey. She is also survived by many treasured good friends, especially Iola Thomas, Eddie Mural Clerk, A. B. Stewart and John Gibson, whose kindness and support allowed her to live in her own home until her death.

All,

As many of you may be aware, we have an installment billing program that allows our members to pay their dues over a 4 month period. I have met with the Accounting and Membership teams to discuss the value of this program. Currently, we have 533 members enrolled in this program. Unfortunately, 162 (30%) are behind or have refused to make their full payment allotment. We will attempt to get these people to pay the remaining amount of their dues bill. However, if the past is any indication of our success, many will not continue payments. In our discussions, we felt that many of the individuals who do not pay, may do so after getting the discounts they wanted from the products and services we sell. Once they have what they want, they decide the membership isn't necessary anymore and stop the final payments.

The program was implement about 10 years ago and has steadily declined. At our peak, we had over 1,900 members take advantage of this offering. Over the last 3 years, it has declined from 1,600 in FY12, to 1,300 in FY13 and 533 in FY14. Now that we are down to about 1% of our active membership and about 0.7% of all membership, it has become clear that this program has just about run its course.

Given the current number of people who have not completed the program, the amount of time and effort of both the Membership and Accounting teams to collect and, when necessary, terminate the membership of those unwilling to pay, we have decided to discontinue this program with the 2015 Fiscal Year. This will also clear up confusion with the DPGS and Affiliates since this program has impacted them as well.

I would generally bring this to the Finance and Audit Committee to discuss directly. However, in my discussions with Barbara Visocan, Vice President – Member Services, we became concerned about waiting another 10 days for your input. The dues bill is currently in the final stages of development and eliminating this program will require a change to the bill. The good news is, eliminating this program from the dues bill will provide us the additional space we need this year.

Barbara and I have instructed the Membership team to move forward with eliminating this program. If you have any concerns about doing so, I will need your feedback by Monday afternoon. I am sorry for the short turn-around. Again, it is a "timing issue" J. We are always concerned with our members ability to pay their dues bill. However, given the decline of the program, the lack of payments and the costs to manage the programs this is no longer beneficial to the Academy membership overall.

Again, if you have any concerns, let me know by the end of day Monday.

Have a great weekend.

Paul

Hello Pat:

It was great meeting with you last week and as a follow-up to our discussion, I wanted to let you know the members of the CEO Compensation Committee (CCC) will be meeting this Friday, January 24th, to begin the process. I've included Joan in the email as we will need hotel arrangements (prefer the Burnham). In addition, we will need a meeting room at headquarters with conference call access, 12:00noon – 5:00pm (prefer the President's conference room).

Sonja: Will already be in Chicago for another meeting

Glenna: Already had flight arrangements (from another canceled meeting) arriving Thursday, January 23 - departing Saturday, January 25.

Donna: Will contact Joan with her arrival/departure information

Mary: Traveling, but will be joining by conference call (as schedule permits)

Ethan: Will be joining by conference call

In preparation for the meeting, information has been requested from both Carolyn Patterson and Paul Mifsud. We would appreciate if they would be available as additional information may be requested. Also, I know you have suggested updates for the CEO job description and we welcome that input.

Let me know if you have questions or if I can assist in any way.

Now that we are down to about 1% of our active membership and about 0.7% of all membership, it has become clear that this program has just about run its course.

Given the current number of people who have not completed the program, the amount of time and effort of both the Membership and Accounting teams to collect and, when necessary, terminate the membership of those unwilling to pay, we have decided to discontinue this program with the 2015 Fiscal Year. This will also clear up confusion with the DPGS and Affiliates since this program has impacted them as well.

I would generally bring this to the Finance and Audit Committee to discuss directly. However, in my discussions with Barbara Visocan, Vice President – Member Services, we became concerned about waiting another 10 days for your input. The dues bill is currently in the final stages of development and eliminating this program will require a change to the bill. The good news is, eliminating this program from the dues bill will provide us the additional space we need this year.

Barbara and I have instructed the Membership team to move forward with eliminating this program. If you have any concerns about doing so, I will need your feedback by Monday afternoon. I am sorry for the short turn-around. Again, it is a “timing issue” J. We are always concerned with our members ability to pay their dues bill. However, given the decline of the program, the lack of payments and the costs to manage the programs this is no longer beneficial to the Academy membership overall.

Again, if you have any concerns, let me know by the end of day Monday.

Have a great weekend.

Paul

Paul,

Friday's are almost always a great day. Even better when it is a three day weekend! Thanks for letting us know about the continuing cash flow problems. I tend to think that January is typically a cash flow problem month for most Americans, after all their Christmas shopping! I don't have any questions or concerns, as you do such a great job of keeping us informed. On top of that our reserves are amazing.

Hope you and Mary have a great weekend

Donna,
Mary

I hope you are having a great day. I want to follow up on the need for money from our reserves. As you may recall, back in December, I thought I would need $1M. We moved $500,000 in December. Well, we are now in need of an additional $500,000. So, please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

The good news is we will have 82.5% ($20,463,618) in reserve even after the removal of the $500,000. I am not sure if this will be last of the money we will need. I will let you know. Incoming cash is very light these days. I know we have nearly $900,000 in invoices outstanding to our Sponsors. If they come in over the next few weeks, it will be a huge benefit.

Again, let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Paul

I hope you are having a great day. I want to follow up on the need for money from our reserves. As you may recall, back in December, I thought I would need $1M. We moved $500,000 in December. Well, we are now in need of an additional $500,000. So, please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

The good news is we will have 82.5% ($20,463,618) in reserve even after the removal of the $500,000. I am not sure if this will be last of the money we will need. I will let you know. Incoming cash is very light these days. I know we have nearly $900,000 in invoices outstanding to our Sponsors. If they come in over the next few weeks, it will be a huge benefit.

Again, let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Paul

Jenn and All,

I would certainly harken Donna's concerns about the waiver as it appears it would apply to Nutrition Standards for All Foods Sold in Schools. Many states and/or districts already have guidance in place, Iowa's Healthy Kids Act has been in place since 2008; not to mention the HUSSC, and numerous other initiatives addressing food sales during the school day. There has been far too much negative press and concerns raised over the last few years regarding what types of food children have access to at school. Absolutely no reason to postpone any regs relating to Smart Snacks.

Thanks,
Diane

Jennifer, I have some serious reservations about this provision related to delaying the Nutrition Standards for all Foods Sold in Schools.

1. Is the intent of this waiver to mean that if someone other than school food service was selling food that does not meet requirements they could not get a waiver? Only School Nutrition Programs that would be financially hurt could get a waiver?
2. It would not bode well for some programs to get the waivers and then other programs to not get the waivers. What would you would hear is "why do they get to violate the rules and sell unallowable foods"? Why didn't we get a waiver? You told us those rules would start FY 15, was that not true?
3. We have known about this for several years, so we should all be ready. Should the health of our children wait another year?

4. I would be in favor of the waiver for the breakfast program especially in relation to the fruit requirements. We are already having fruit shortages due to the increase fruit requirements at lunch. Growers and packing plants need more time to produce and package fruit. That is a totally unfunded mandate.

Those are my initial thoughts. Contact me if you have more questions. I will be interested to see when you have more details what is really in the bill.

Good Morning!

It was a very busy day in Washington D.C. yesterday. The details of the omnibus appropriations bill, which designates funds to many of the government programs, was released. As we sort through what this 1,500 page bill means for nutrition programs one provision jumped out at us regarding school meals.

The omnibus appropriations bill also has an explanatory document that details the nuances of the bill. Within that report there is a section on the creation of a waiver program by USDA for LEAs.

Exact language from this report on the intent of the proposed waiver program: "... the Secretary (of Agriculture) is directed to establish a waiver approval process within 90 days of enactment for States to grant waivers for the 2014-15 school year to any local educational agency that certifies it cannot operate a food service program without incurring increased costs in order to comply with the interim final rule entitled "National School Lunch Program and School Breakfast Program: Nutrition Standards for All Foods Sold in School" and/or Part 220 of title 7, Code of Federal Regulations as such part relates to establishing new nutrition standards for the school breakfast program. The Secretary is further directed to provide schools that are granted a waiver technical assistance to help with implementation in future years".

We are working to figure out what this means for the meals programs, especially breakfast and possibly competitive foods implementation, as the language in the report is vague. We are working with our partners, but would love your input or thoughts on the impact of the proposed waiver program.

Very best,

A public member position will be vacated by Joe Derochowski in May 2014. At the January Board meeting we will be identifying and prioritizing three nominees to fill Joe's vacancy. A list of potential nominees is attached. Please begin thinking about these and additional candidates who can move forward the Academy's strategic direction. We asked former presidents, speakers and Foundation chairs for public member nominees, and their suggestions are reflected on the attached list.

The role of a public member is to bring a unique perspective and expertise to Board dialogue and deliberations. Public members serve on the Board for up to a three-year staggered term and are afforded the same rights and privileges as directors elected to the Board by the membership. The time commitment of public members is also the same as required of other Board directors, so your nominations need to consider individuals who have the time and willingness to serve on a "working board."

Since he has given much time in support of our profession, in lieu of flowers, is it possible for the Academy (on behalf of the BOD, staff, and our members) to make a contribution? (In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to the John A. Milner Graduate Student Endowment in Nutritional Sciences, Department of Nutritional Sciences, Penn State University, 201 Henderson Bldg., University Park, PA 16802.)

Thank you for keeping us informed.

Every three years the Board and HLT conduct an evaluation of committees to determine if they continue to be relevant and necessary in achieving the Academy's strategic direction, if their charge is complete, and if opportunities exist to improve efficiencies. All Board and HLT committees have been evaluated and a report will be shared with the Board at its upcoming January meeting. This year the Board is also conducting an evaluation of the Nominating Committee, which was last evaluated in 2007. The attachment delineates the purpose and composition of the workgroup charged to conduct the evaluation.

On behalf of President Dr. Glenna McCollum, thank you for your interest in serving on the workgroup and sharing your time and expertise!

Paul, you did not offend me at all. I was just trying to take a look at the list seriously, to see if it needed updating instead of just rubber stamping the list. I was mostly trying to educate myself more on the CEO compensation piece for when it is my responsibility as Past Treasurer. The request for the consultant initially came from Glenna. My point was to say that if she wants to do that, then I will not tell her no. It seemed like the three P's wanted to get back into the "weeds" with the negotiations of Pat's contract. I was not trying to rock the boat or create more work for everyone. I think as usual the ball is in Glenna's court to take this in whatever direction she wants to go. Have a nice weekend and again no need to apologize. Sometimes I think I try too hard. I am truly not trying to create work or problems. Just wanting to make sure I do what I am supposed to do.

On another note, I am in Miami where it is warm for a School Nutrition strategic planning meeting. The consulting company they use is Tecker International They are by far the best group I have ever worked with.

Have a good weekend.

I hope I did not offend you That was not my intent. When we used a consultant the last time, the Board was not happy. What I think would be very helpful is if the consultant helped develop the "compensation structure". For example; Base salary and bonus. How large or small should the bonus be? How would it be administered? What are the quantifiable measures that will determine success? How can we move Pat from X to Y if she is not properly compensated. The consultants will work with us to determine the comparables anyway. When we did this the last time, I believe Carolyn and I worked with them on a list of companies. So, they will take our recommendations and let us know if they are reasonable. Having a consultant work on the structure reduces the "bias" that could be incorporated otherwise.

My only concern with using a consultant to change the comparables would be if they wanted to start from scratch. If they did, then we would not have much control over the outcome. It would be similar to stopping the ball game in the 3rd inning and changing the rules. You also have a great deal on knowledge with HR related elements, especially the HAY compensation work, with both Carolyn and for me. Carolyn is a great resource, so, feel free to tap into her.

Again, I hope I did not offend you. If so, please accept my apologies.

Paul, thanks so much for helping us with the process that was undertaken to come up with the list. and why a lot of these were not included. In looking at the results from all your hard work it does look like there are a few (maybe 3) organizations that are very close in revenue to the Academy that possible could be included, if we wanted to drop some of the smaller organizations. I am perfectly OK with the list we have now and have learned a great deal from this discussion. A consultant to give us a definitive answer would be great though. Thanks for keeping us on track.

Donna and all,

Again, sorry I am late to the party. I wanted to address Donna's concerns about why some "medical organizations" were included and some were not. When we had the original list, we opened it up to the entire universe of Not for Profits of any substance and size. I believe we started with over 300. Naturally, you want to reduce this to a manageable amount. We felt that somewhere in the 25-30 range would be acceptable. Keep in mind, since the companies used would be compiled for an average compensation, adding additional would not impact the overall results significantly. Even with that, I believe we ended up with 38 companies.

A few of the key components that we looked at were;

1. Similar organizations. Being in the healthcare arena was first. However, this could also mean structural similarities.
2. Organization of similar size (we felt a range of $30 - $50 million would appropriate. However, if there were companies larger or smaller that the team felt absolutely needed to be included, they were).
3. Geography. Originally, we focused on the Chicago area. Chicago does have a great deal of healthcare related organizations. However, we quickly realized that we really could not restrict the geography to Chicago. So, it was expanded. I believe we ended up with about 25% coming from Chicago. The highest concentration ended up being in the Washington DC area. That is natural because it has the largest concentration of Non-Profits in the county. The pool of CEO candidates could come from anywhere. So, this made sense.

Each member of the team independently picked companies from the list to see if a common core materialized. Carolyn and I provided input based on our experience with the compensation consultants previously. Carolyn and I compiled the feedback. A core set of companies did materialize from the original list. Naturally, there was some give and take on the remaining.

When the list was completed, we believed it represented a strong sample of the types of companies we should be compared too. If I recall properly, our list was far larger than PRM consulting provided previously, but, some of the same companies were the same.

Now, to the real question of why the companies below were not included. In most cases, it is due to size. Many of the companies below are far larger than the Academy and really would not be considered a comparable company. I have listed the latest revenue CEO compensation for all but American College of Medical Administrators. I haven't found any records on this one yet. Also, the American College of Obstetrics could not be found. However, I did find the American College of Obstetrics And Gynecology.

I applaud looking at getting additional feedback from a consultant or any outside source. Hopefully, whomever you choose will validate the direction we took was correct and only adjustments at the "margin" are necessary.

Paul, I spent some time to see if I could come up with any other companies that I thought might fit into this category, and this is the list I came up with. What I am not sure of is how to get their revenue? I feel like a few of these might be the top three that we eliminated because they paid their CEO's the highest amounts (i.e. American Heart Association, American Diabetes Association, American Hospital Association). Do you know how we could see if we needed to add these organizations? Anybody else have any thoughts on this list?

1. American Hospital Association

2. American Medical Association

Again, sorry I am late to the party. I wanted to address Donna's concerns about why some "medical organizations" were included and some were not. When we had the original list, we opened it up to the entire universe of Not for Profits of any substance and size. I believe we started with over 300. Naturally, you want to reduce this to a manageable amount. We felt that somewhere in the 25-30 range would be acceptable. Keep in mind, since the companies used would be compiled for an average compensation, adding additional would not impact the overall results significantly. Even with that, I believe we ended up with 38 companies.

A few of the key components that we looked at were;

1. Similar organizations. Being in the healthcare arena was first. However, this could also mean structural similarities.
2. Organization of similar size (we felt a range of $30 - $50 million would appropriate. However, if there were companies larger or smaller that the team felt absolutely needed to be included, they were).
3. Geography. Originally, we focused on the Chicago area. Chicago does have a great deal of healthcare related organizations. However, we quickly realized that we really could not restrict the geography to Chicago. So, it was expanded. I believe we ended up with about 25% coming from Chicago. The highest concentration ended up being in the Washington DC area. That is natural because it has the largest concentration of Non-Profits in the county. The pool of CEO candidates could come from anywhere. So, this made sense.

Each member of the team independently picked companies from the list to see if a common core materialized. Carolyn and I provided input based on our experience with the compensation consultants previously. Carolyn and I compiled the feedback. A core set of companies did materialize from the original list. Naturally, there was some give and take on the remaining. When the list was completed, we believed it represented a strong sample of the types of companies we should be compared too. If I recall properly, our list was far larger than PRM consulting provided previously, but, some of the same companies were the same.

Now, to the real question of why the companies below were not included. In most cases, it is due to size. Many of the companies below are far larger than the Academy and really would not be considered a comparable company. I have listed the latest revenue CEO compensation for all but American College of Medical Administrators. I haven't found any records on this one yet. Also, the American College of Obstetrics could not be found. However, I did find the American College of Obstetrics And Gynecology.

I applaud looking at getting additional feedback from a consultant or any outside source. Hopefully, whomever you choose will validate the direction we took was correct and only adjustments at the "margin" are necessary.

Paul, I spent some time to see if I could come up with any other companies that I thought might fit into this category, and this is the list I came up with. What I am not sure of is how to get their revenue? I feel like a few of these might be the top three that we eliminated because they paid their CEO's the highest amounts (i.e. American Heart Association, American Diabetes Association, American Hospital Association). Hello all,

Happy weekend.

We are having a blizzard here in Chicago--6-12" today and wind chills of 50 below by tonight. Hope things are much better for all of you (except Paul who is also dealing with this).

Attached is the company reference list we have used as a reference for helping to benchmark Pat's compensation. Would you please review it and let me know if there are companies you wish to add or delete? I'd appreciate if you could do that and respond to me by Monday 1/13. If I don't hear from you by then I'll assume that you are fine with the list as it stands.

As Paul has eloquently summarized the goal is not necessarily to select companies exactly like Academy in structure and size since that isn't always representative of the market. The key components are a company's willingness and ability to pay for expertise and knowledge.

The Academy's total structure, with everyone, is now approximately $41M in total revenue and over $67M in total assets. So, if the CEO's position was available and you wanted to attract a new CEO with "talent", you will be competing with companies of a similar size and ability to pay.

Thank you very much.

Mary

Good morning. I wanted to share with you that the Foundation received a $569,125.33 bequest from the estate of Martha Snavelly who passed away on June 8, 2013. She was 96 years of age, a member of the Academy and past donor to the Foundation. As designated in the estate, a named fund will be established to support public education activities of the foundation. These dollars will help advance our work through programs like Kids Eat Right.

Following is some additional information from her obit:

Martha was the daughter of Elizabeth Gordon Keith and Edgar Keith, of Birmingham, Alabama. Martha graduated with a B. S. from Auburn University and completed a dietetic internship at Vanderbilt University. She served her country in WWII as a dietician for the troops in the European Theater. She returned home in 1945 to marry her beloved husband, Dr. John Robert Snavelly, whom she'd met overseas. They lived in New Orleans while Bob taught at Tulane University. Bob and Martha relocated to Jackson when he was asked to participate in establishing a medical school at the University of Mississippi.

Martha was a proud, energetic woman, always ready to take on a challenge, tell a story or offer a smile. Bob passed away too young, in 1964. Martha returned to her roots as a dietitian for the American Heart Association, for whom she had been an active volunteer since 1955. She served on their Board of Directors beginning in 1965. Martha was given an American Heart Association award for distinguished service in advancing their heart program. She was also active with the American Dietetic Association, the American Cancer Society, the Kidney Foundation and other health related groups.

Martha enjoyed many leisure activities, especially golf. She was a member of the Colonial Ladies' Golf Association, the Jackson Ladies' Golf Association, the Senior Women's Golf Association and the Mississippi Women's Golf Association. She held offices, ran tournaments and enthusiastically competed in all. Her interest in music and the arts, including fabric design, brought her joy. She was dearly loved by her family and spent annual vacations with her brother and his family until she was no longer able to travel.

Martha was predeceased by her parents, her husband and a niece, Mary Keith Schwartz. She is survived by her brother, Edward Gordon Keith, niece Joann Keith Jaffey, nephew, Edward Gordon Keith, jr. (Joan), great niece, Cindy Van Geer,(Erik), and three great nephews, David Schwartz, (Alison), Michael Schwartz and Craig Jaffey. She is also survived by many treasured good friends, especially Lola Thomas, Eddie Mural Clerk, A. B. Stewart and John Gibson, whose kindness and support allowed her to live in her own home until her death.

Paul, you did not offend me at all. I was just trying to take a look at the list seriously, to see if it needed updating instead of just rubber stamping the list. I was mostly trying to educate myself more on the CEO compensation piece for when it is my responsibility as Past Treasurer. The request for the consultant initially came from Glenna. My point was to say that if she wants to do that, then I will not tell her no. It seemed like the three P's wanted to get back into the "weeds" with the negotiations of Pat's contract. I was not trying to rock the boat or create more work for everyone. I think as usual the ball is in Glenna's court to take this in whatever direction she wants to go. Have a nice weekend and again no need to apologize. Sometimes I think I try too hard. I am truly not trying to create work or problems. Just wanting to make sure I do what I am supposed to do.

On another note, I am in Miami where it is warm for a School Nutrition strategic planning meeting. The consulting company they use is Tecker International. They are by far the best group I have ever worked with.

Have a good weekend.

Donna,

I hope I did not offend you. That was not my intent. When we used a consultant the last time, the Board was not happy. What I think would be very helpful is if the consultant helped develop the "compensation structure". For example; Base salary and bonus. How large or small should the bonus be? How would it be administered? What are the quantifiable measures that will determine success? How can we move Pat from X to Y if she is not properly compensated. The consultants will work with us to determine the comparables anyway. When we did this the last time, I believe Carolyn and I worked with them on a list of companies. So, they will take our recommendations and let us know if they are reasonable. Having a consultant work on the structure reduces the "bias" that could be incorporated otherwise.

My only concern with using a consultant to change the comparables would be if they wanted to start from scratch. If they did, then we would not have much control over the outcome. It would be similar to stopping the ball game in the 3rd inning and changing the rules. You also have a great deal of knowledge with HR related elements, especially the HAY compensation work, with both Carolyn and for me. Carolyn is a great resource, so, feel free to tap into her.

Again, I hope I did not offend you. If so, please accept my apologies.

Paul, thanks so much for helping us with the process that was undertaken to come up with the list. and why a lot of these were not included. In looking at the results from all your hard work it does look like there are a few (maybe 3) organizations that are very close in revenue to the Academy that possible could be included, if we wanted to drop some of the smaller organizations. I am perfectly OK with the list we have now and have learned a great deal from this discussion. A consultant to give us a definitive answer would be great though. Thanks for keeping us on track.

Good morning. I wanted to share with you that the Foundation received a $569,125.33 bequest from the estate of Martha Snavelly who passed away on June 8, 2013. She was 96 years of age, a member of the Academy and past donor to the Foundation. As designated in the estate, a named fund will be established to support public education activities of the foundation. These dollars will help advance our work through programs like Kids Eat Right.

Following is some additional information from her obit:

Martha was the daughter of Elizabeth Gordon Keith and Edgar Keith, of Birmingham, Alabama. Martha graduated with a B. S. from Auburn University and completed a dietetic internship at Vanderbilt University. She served her country in WWII as a dietician for the troops in the European Theater. She returned home in 1945 to marry her beloved husband, Dr. John Robert Snavelly, whom she'd met overseas. They lived in New Orleans while Bob taught at Tulane University. Bob and Martha relocated to Jackson when he was asked to participate in establishing a medical school at the University of Mississippi.

Martha was a proud, energetic woman, always ready to take on a challenge, tell a story or offer a smile. Bob passed away too young, in 1964. Martha returned to her roots as a dietitian for the American Heart Association, for whom she had been an active volunteer since 1955. She served on their Board of Directors beginning in 1965. Martha was given an American Heart Association award for distinguished service in advancing their heart program. She was also active with the American Dietetic Association, the American Cancer Society, the Kidney Foundation and other health related groups.

Martha enjoyed many leisure activities, especially golf. She was a member of the Colonial Ladies' Golf Association, the Jackson Ladies' Golf Association, the Senior Women's Golf Association and the Mississippi Women's Golf Association. She held offices, ran tournaments and enthusiastically competed in all. Her interest in music and the arts, including fabric design, brought her joy. She was dearly loved by her family and spent annual vacations with her brother and his family until she was no longer able to travel.

Martha was predeceased by her parents, her husband and a niece, Mary Keith Schwartz. She is survived by her brother, Edward Gordon Keith, niece Joann Keith Jaffey, nephew, Edward Gordon Keith, jr. (Joan), great niece, Cindy Van Geer, (Erik), and three great nephews, David Schwartz, (Alison), Michael Schwartz and Craig Jaffey. She is also survived by many treasured good friends, especially Iola Thomas, Eddie Mural Clerk, A. B. Stewart and John Gibson, whose kindness and support allowed her to live in her own home until her death.

Donna,

I hope I did not offend you. That was not my intent. When we used a consultant the last time, the Board was not happy. What I think would be very helpful is if the consultant helped develop the "compensation structure". For example; Base salary and bonus. How large or small should the bonus be? How would it be administered? What are the quantifiable measures that will determine success? How can we move Pat from X to Y if she is not properly compensated. The consultants will work with us to determine the comparables anyway. When we did this the last time, I believe Carolyn and I worked with them on a list of companies. So, they will take our recommendations and let us know if they are reasonable. Having a consultant work on the structure reduces the "bias" that could be incorporated otherwise.

My only concern with using a consultant to change the comparables would be if they wanted to start from scratch. If they did, then we would not have much control over the outcome. It would be similar to stopping the ball game in the 3rd inning and changing the rules. You also have a great deal on knowledge with HR related elements, especially the HAY compensation work, with both Carolyn and for me. Carolyn is a great resource, so, feel free to tap into her.

Again, I hope I did not offend you. If so, please accept my apologies.

Paul, thanks so much for helping us with the process that was undertaken to come up with the list. and why a lot of these were not included. In looking at the results from all your hard work it does look like there are a few (maybe 3) organizations that are very close in revenue to the Academy that possible could be included, if we wanted to drop some of the smaller organizations. I am perfectly OK with the list we have now and have learned a great deal from this discussion. A consultant to give us a definitive answer would be great though. Thanks for keeping us on track.

Donna and all,

Again, sorry I am late to the party. I wanted to address Donna's concerns about why some "medical organizations" were included and some were not. When we had the original list, we opened it up to the entire universe of Not for Profits of any substance and size. I believe we started with over 300. Naturally, you want to reduce this to a manageable amount. We felt that somewhere in the 25-30 range would be acceptable. Keep in mind, since the companies used would be compiled for an average compensation, adding additional would not impact the overall results significantly. Even with that, I believe we ended up with 38 companies.

A few of the key components that we looked at were;

1. Similar organizations. Being in the healthcare arena was first. However, this could also mean structural similarities.
2. Organization of similar size (we felt a range of $30 - $50 million would appropriate. However, if there were companies larger or smaller that the team felt absolutely needed to be included, they were).
3. Geography. Originally, we focused on the Chicago area. Chicago does have a great deal of healthcare related organizations. However, we quickly realized that we really could not restrict the geography to Chicago. So, it was expanded. I believe we ended up with about 25% coming from Chicago. The highest concentration ended up being in the Washington DC area. That is natural because it has the largest concentration of Non-Profits in the county. The pool of CEO candidates could come from anywhere. So, this made sense.

Each member of the team independently picked companies from the list to see if a common core materialized. Carolyn and I provided input based on our experience with the compensation consultants previously. Carolyn and I compiled the feedback. A core set of companies did materialize from the original list. Naturally, there was some give and take on the remaining. When the list was completed, we believed it represented a strong sample of the types of companies we should be compared too. If I recall properly, our list was far larger than PRM consulting provided previously, but, some of the same companies were the same.

Now, to the real question of why the companies below were not included. In most cases, it is due to size. Many of the companies below are far larger than the Academy and really would not be considered a comparable company. I have listed the latest revenue CEO compensation for all but American College of Medical Administrators. I haven't found any records on this one yet. Also, the American College of Obstetrics could not be found. However, I did find the American College of Obstetrics And Gynecology.

I applaud looking at getting additional feedback from a consultant or any outside source. Hopefully, whomever you choose will validate the direction we took was correct and only adjustments at the "margin" are necessary.

Paul, I spent some time to see if I could come up with any other companies that I thought might fit into this category, and this is the list I came up with. What I am not sure of is how to get their revenue? I feel like a few of these might be the top three that we eliminated because they paid their CEO's the highest amounts (i.e. American Heart Association, American Diabetes Association, American Hospital Association). Hello all,
Happy weekend.

We are having a blizzard here in Chicago--6-12" today and wind chills of 50 below by tonight. Hope things are much better for all of you (except Paul who is also dealing with this).

Attached is the company reference list we have used as a reference for helping to benchmark Pat's compensation. Would you please review it and let me know if there are companies you wish to add or delete? I'd appreciate if you could do that and respond to me by Monday 1/13. If I don't hear from you by then I'll assume that you are fine with the list as it stands.

As Paul has eloquently summarized the goal is not necessarily to select companies exactly like Academy in structure and size since that isn't always representative of the market. The key components are a company's willingness and ability to pay for expertise and knowledge.

The Academy's total structure, with everyone, is now approximately $41M in total revenue and over $67M in total assets. So, if the CEO's position was available and you wanted to attract a new CEO with "talent", you will be competing with companies of a similar size and ability to pay.

Thank you very much.

Mary

Hello all,

Happy weekend.

We are having a blizzard here in Chicago--6-12" today and wind chills of 50 below by tonight. Hope things are much better for all of you (except Paul who is also dealing with this).

Attached is the company reference list we have used as a reference for helping to benchmark Pat's compensation. Would you please review it and let me know if there are companies you wish to add or delete? I'd appreciate if you could do that and respond to me by Monday 1/13. If I don't hear from you by then I'll assume that you are fine with the list as it stands.

As Paul has eloquently summarized the goal is not necessarily to select companies exactly like Academy in structure and size since that isn't always representative of the market. The key components are a company's willingness and ability to pay for expertise and knowledge. The Academy's total structure, with everyone, is now approximately $41M in total revenue and over $67M in total assets. So, if the CEO's position was available and you wanted to attract a new CEO with "talent", you will be competing with companies of a similar size and ability to pay.

Thank you very much.

Mary

Good morning. I wanted to share with you that the Foundation received a $569,125.33 bequest from the estate of Martha Snavelly who passed away on June 8, 2013. She was 96 years of age, a member of the Academy and past donor to the Foundation. As designated in the estate, a named fund will be established to support public education activities of the foundation. These dollars will help advance our work through programs like Kids Eat Right.

Following is some additional information from her obit:

Martha was the daughter of Elizabeth Gordon Keith and Edgar Keith, of Birmingham, Alabama. Martha graduated with a B. S. from Auburn University and completed a dietetic internship at Vanderbilt University. She served her country in WWII as a dietician for the troops in the European Theater. She returned home in 1945 to marry her beloved husband, Dr. John Robert Snavelly, whom she'd met overseas. They lived in New Orleans while Bob taught at Tulane University. Bob and Martha relocated to Jackson when he was asked to participate in establishing a medical school at the University of Mississippi.

Martha was a proud, energetic woman, always ready to take on a challenge, tell a story or offer a smile. Bob passed away too young, in 1964. Martha returned to her roots as a dietitian for the American Heart Association, for whom she had been an active volunteer since 1955. She served on their Board of Directors beginning in 1965. Martha was given an American Heart Association award for distinguished service in advancing their heart program. She was also active with the American Dietetic Association, the American Cancer Society, the Kidney Foundation and other health related groups.

Martha enjoyed many leisure activities, especially golf. She was a member of the Colonial Ladies' Golf Association, the Jackson Ladies' Golf Association, the Senior Women's Golf Association and the Mississippi Women's Golf Association. She held offices, ran tournaments and enthusiastically competed in all. Her interest in music and the arts, including fabric design, brought her joy. She was dearly loved by her family and spent annual vacations with her brother and his family until she was no longer able to travel.

Martha was predeceased by her parents, her husband and a niece, Mary Keith Schwartz. She is survived by her brother, Edward Gordon Keith, niece Joann Keith Jaffey, nephew, Edward Gordon Keith, jr. (Joan), great niece, Cindy Van Geer, (Erik), and three great nephews, David Schwartz, (Alison), Michael Schwartz and Craig Jaffey. She is also survived by many treasured good friends, especially Iola Thomas, Eddie Mural Clerk, A. B. Stewart and John Gibson, whose kindness and support allowed her to live in her own home until her death.

She returned home in 1945 to marry her beloved husband, Dr. John Robert Snavelly, whom she'd met overseas. They lived in New Orleans while Bob taught at Tulane University. Bob and Martha relocated to Jackson when he was asked to participate in establishing a medical school at the University of Mississippi.

Martha was a proud, energetic woman, always ready to take on a challenge, tell a story or offer a smile. Bob passed away too young, in 1964. Martha was predeceased by her parents, her husband and a niece, Mary Keith Schwartz. She is survived by her brother, Edward Gordon Keith, niece Joann Keith Jaffey, nephew, Edward Gordon Keith, jr. Donna and all,

Again, sorry I am late to the party. I wanted to address Donna's concerns about why some "medical organizations" were included and some were not. When we had the original list, we opened it up to the entire universe of Not for Profits of any substance and size. I believe we started with over 300. Naturally, you want to reduce this to a manageable amount. We felt that somewhere in the 25-30 range would be acceptable. Keep in mind, since the companies used would be compiled for an average compensation, adding additional would not impact the overall results significantly. Even with that, I believe we ended up with 38 companies.

A few of the key components that we looked at were;

1. Similar organizations. Being in the healthcare arena was first. However, this could also mean structural similarities.
2. Organization of similar size (we felt a range of $30 - $50 million would appropriate. However, if there were companies larger or smaller that the team felt absolutely needed to be included, they were).
3. Geography. Originally, we focused on the Chicago area. Chicago does have a great deal of healthcare related organizations. However, we quickly realized that we really could not restrict the geography to Chicago. So, it was expanded. I believe we ended up with about 25% coming from Chicago. The highest concentration ended up being in the Washington DC area. That is natural because it has the largest concentration of Non-Profits in the country. The pool of CEO candidates could come from anywhere. So, this made sense.

Each member of the team independently picked companies from the list to see if a common core materialized. Carolyn and I provided input based on our experience with the compensation consultants previously. Carolyn and I compiled the feedback. A core set of companies did materialize from the original list. Naturally, there was some give and take on the remaining.

When the list was completed, we believed it represented a strong sample of the types of companies we should be compared too. If I recall properly, our list was far larger than PRM consulting provided previously, but, some of the same companies were the same.

Now, to the real question of why the companies below were not included. In most cases, it is due to size. Many of the companies below are far larger than the Academy and really would not be considered a comparable company. I have listed the latest revenue CEO compensation for all but American College of Medical Administrators. I haven't found any records on this one yet. Also, the American College of Obstetrics could not be found. However, I did find the American College of Obstetrics And Gynecology.

I applaud looking at getting additional feedback from a consultant or any outside source. Hopefully, whomever you choose will validate the direction we took was correct and only adjustments at the "margin" are necessary.

Paul, I spent some time to see if I could come up with any other companies that I thought might fit into this category, and this is the list I came up with. What I am not sure of is how to get their revenue? I feel like a few of these might be the top three that we eliminated because they paid their CEO's the highest amounts (i.e. American Heart Association, American Diabetes Association, American Hospital Association). Do you know how we could see if we needed to add these organizations? Anybody else have any thoughts on this list?

1. American Hospital Association
 - a. Revenue $115,032,000
 - b. CEO Compensation -$2,862,423
2. American Medical Association

Hello all,

Happy weekend.

We are having a blizzard here in Chicago--6-12" today and wind chills of 50 below by tonight. Hope things are much better for all of you (except Paul who is also dealing with this).

Attached is the company reference list we have used as a reference for helping to benchmark Pat's compensation. Would you please review it and let me know if there are companies you wish to add or delete? I'd appreciate if you could do that and respond to me by Monday 1/13. If I don't hear from you by then I'll assume that you are fine with the list as it stands.

As Paul has eloquently summarized the goal is not necessarily to select companies exactly like Academy in structure and size since that isn't always representative of the market. The key components are a company's willingness and ability to pay for expertise and knowledge. The Academy's total structure, with everyone, is now approximately $41M in total revenue and over $67M in total assets. So, if the CEO's position was available and you wanted to attract a new CEO with "talent", you will be competing with companies of a similar size and ability to pay.

Thank you very much.

Mary

Good morning. I wanted to share with you that the Foundation received a $569,125.33 bequest from the estate of Martha Snavely who passed away on June 8, 2013. She was 96 years of age, a member of the Academy and past donor to the Foundation. Following is some additional information from her obit:

Martha was the daughter of Elizabeth Gordon Keith and Edgar Keith, of Birmingham, Alabama. Martha graduated with a B. S. from Auburn University and completed a dietetic internship at Vanderbilt University. She served her country in WWII as a dietician for the troops in the European Theater. She returned home in 1945 to marry her beloved husband, Dr. John Robert Snavely, whom she'd met overseas. They lived in New Orleans while Bob taught at Tulane University. Bob and Martha relocated to Jackson when he was asked to participate in establishing a medical school at the University of Mississippi.

Martha was a proud, energetic woman, always ready to take on a challenge, tell a story or offer a smile. Bob passed away too young, in 1964. Martha returned to her roots as a dietitian for the American Heart Association, for whom she had been an active volunteer since 1955. She served on their Board of Directors beginning in 1965. Martha was given an American Heart Association award for distinguished service in advancing their heart program. She was also active with the American Dietetic Association, the American Cancer Society, the Kidney Foundation and other health related groups.

Martha enjoyed many leisure activities, especially golf. She was a member of the Colonial Ladies' Golf Association, the Jackson Ladies' Golf Association, the Senior Women's Golf Association and the Mississippi Women's Golf Association. She held offices, ran tournaments and enthusiastically competed in all. Her interest in music and the arts, including fabric design, brought her joy. She was dearly loved by her family and spent annual vacations with her brother and his family until she was no longer able to travel.

Martha was predeceased by her parents, her husband and a niece, Mary Keith Schwartz. She is survived by her brother, Edward Gordon Keith, niece Joann Keith Jaffey, nephew, Edward Gordon Keith, jr. (Joan), great niece, Cindy Van Geer, (Erik), and three great nephews, David Schwartz, (Alison), Michael Schwartz and Craig Jaffey. She is also survived by many treasured good friends, especially Iola Thomas, Eddie Mural Clerk, A. B. Stewart and John Gibson, whose kindness and support allowed her to live in her own home until her death.

Hi All,

I have attached the Willamette View, Inc. Board policy and procedure documents related to the CEO evaluation and compensation (in a state of revision) FYI.

Note, in the first paragraph of the procedure document a word is missing. It should read - WVEC will engage the services of a qualified external Human Resources (HR) person or qualified consulting firm to conduct the competitive market analysis and administer the performance appraisal process. There are other word changes to take place such as changing would to will in several instances.

All,

Just a quick note. Carolyn is the right person to help. That being said, we have used an outside firm (PRM consulting) to help with the staff and CEO compensation. PRM is still used for staff evaluation. I believe the CEO review was done in 2008. Carolyn can provide that to you as a basis for moving forward. I can also provide a copy, but, I will let her take the lead. We did not use PRM when Ron left (for Pat) because there was some concern about the work done by PRM in 2008. I believe the board at that time did not like the comparable companies.

Bottom line is Carolyn has all of the history on this and would be a great resource.

Hi Donna and all,

Paula can correct me on this--did we not initially consider organizations that serve primarily MDs (such as 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8)? I believe we thought that we would not be competing with these organizations if we were looking for a new CEO.

We did eliminate the top 3 organizations in terms of CEO pay.

All organizations have to file tax returns that would detail revenue so the information is available if not "easy" to get.

I would love to have a compensation consultant work with us, if not know, in the upcoming year--would be money well spent to get a more detailed framework in place.

Paul, I spent some time to see if I could come up with any other companies that I thought might fit into this category, and this is the list I came up with. What I am not sure of is how to get their revenue? I feel like a few of these might be the top three that we eliminated because they paid their CEO's the highest amounts (i.e. American Heart Association, American Diabetes Association, American Hospital Association). Do you know how we could see if we needed to add these organizations? Anybody else have any thoughts on this list?

Hello all,

Happy weekend.

We are having a blizzard here in Chicago--6-12" today and wind chills of 50 below by tonight. Hope things are much better for all of you (except Paul who is also dealing with this).

Attached is the company reference list we have used as a reference for helping to benchmark Pat's compensation. Would you please review it and let me know if there are companies you wish to add or delete? I'd appreciate if you could do that and respond to me by Monday 1/13. If I don't hear from you by then I'll assume that you are fine with the list as it stands.

As Paul has eloquently summarized the goal is not necessarily to select companies exactly like Academy in structure and size since that isn't always representative of the market. The key components are a company's willingness and ability to pay for expertise and knowledge.

The Academy's total structure, with everyone, is now approximately $41M in total revenue and over $67M in total assets. So, if the CEO's position was available and you wanted to attract a new CEO with "talent", you will be competing with companies of a similar size and ability to pay.

Thank you very much.

Mary

Subject: Re: CEO Compensation reference list--feedback requested

Paul, I spent some time to see if I could come up with any other companies that I thought might fit into this category, and this is the list I came up with. What I am not sure of is how to get their revenue? I feel like a few of these might be the top three that we eliminated because they paid their CEO's the highest amounts (i.e. American Heart Association, American Diabetes Association, American Hospital Association). Do you know how we could see if we needed to add these organizations? Anybody else have any thoughts on this list?

1. American Hospital Association
2. American Medical Association
3. American College of Surgeons
4. American Academy of Pediatrics
5. American College of Obstetrics

6. American College of Radiology
7. American College of Medical Administrators
8. American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons
9. American Diabetes Association

Hello all,

Happy weekend.

We are having a blizzard here in Chicago--6-12" today and wind chills of 50 below by tonight.

Hope things are much better for all of you (except Paul who is also dealing with this).

Attached is the company reference list we have used as a reference for helping to benchmark Pat's compensation. Would you please review it and let me know if there are companies you wish to add or delete? I'd appreciate if you could do that and respond to me by Monday 1/13. If I don't hear from you by then I'll assume that you are fine with the list as it stands.

As Paul has eloquently summarized the goal is not necessarily to select companies exactly like Academy in structure and size since that isn't always representative of the market. The key components are a company's willingness and ability to pay for expertise and knowledge.

The Academy's total structure, with everyone, is now approximately $41M in total revenue and over $67M in total assets. So, if the CEO's position was available and you wanted to attract a new CEO with "talent", you will be competing with companies of a similar size and ability to pay.

Thank you very much.

Mary

All,

Just a quick note. Carolyn is the right person to help. That being said, we have used an outside firm (PRM consulting) to help with the staff and CEO compensation. PRM is still used for staff evaluation. I believe the CEO review was done in 2008. Carolyn can provide that to you as a basis for moving forward. I can also provide a copy, but, I will let her take the lead. We did not use PRM when Ron left (for Pat) because there was some concern about the work done by PRM in 2008. I believe the board at that time did not like the comparable companies.

Bottom line is Carolyn has all of the history on this and would be a great resource.

Hi Donna and all,

Paula can correct me on this--did we not initially consider organizations that serve primarily MDs (such as 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8)? I beleive we thought that we would not be competing with these organizations if we were looking for a new CEO.

We did eliminate the top 3 organizations in terms of CEO pay.

All organizations have to file tax returns that would detail revenue so the information is available if not "easy" to get.

I would love to have a compensation consultant work with us, if not know, in the upcoming year--would be money well spent to get a more detailed framework in place.

Hello all,

Happy weekend.

We are having a blizzard here in Chicago--6-12" today and wind chills of 50 below by tonight. Hope things are much better for all of you (except Paul who is also dealing with this).

Attached is the company reference list we have used as a reference for helping to benchmark Pat's compensation. Would you please review it and let me know if there are companies you wish to add or delete? I'd appreciate if you could do that and respond to me by Monday 1/13. If I don't hear from you by then I'll assume that you are fine with the list as it stands.

As Paul has eloquently summarized the goal is not necessarily to select companies exactly like Academy in structure and size since that isn't always representative of the market. The key components are a company's willingness and ability to pay for expertise and knowledge. The Academy's total structure, with everyone, is now approximately $41M in total revenue and over $67M in total assets. So, if the CEO's position was available and you wanted to attract a new CEO with "talent", you will be competing with companies of a similar size and ability to pay.

Thank you very much.

Mary

Excellent Sonja:

Glad it worked well for you and the large retirement community. I've reached out to Carolyn Patterson (HR) to see if she has a list of companies who provide that service for non-profits in the Chicago area. Back in touch.

Hi Donna and all,

Paula can correct me on this--did we not initially consider organizations that serve primarily MDs (such as 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8)? I beleive we thought that we would not be competing with these organizations if we were looking for a new CEO.

We did eliminate the top 3 organizations in terms of CEO pay.

All organizations have to file tax returns that would detail revenue so the information is available if not "easy" to get.

I would love to have a compensation consultant work with us, if not know, in the upcoming year-- would be money well spent to get a more detailed framework in place.

Attached is the company reference list we have used as a reference for helping to benchmark Pat's compensation. Would you please review it and let me know if there are companies you wish to add or delete? I'd appreciate if you could do that and respond to me by Monday 1/13. If I don't hear from you by then I'll assume that you are fine with the list as it stands.

As Paul has eloquently summarized the goal is not necessarily to select companies exactly like Academy in structure and size since that isn't always representative of the market. The key components are a company's willingness and ability to pay for expertise and knowledge.

The Academy's total structure, with everyone, is now approximately $41M in total revenue and over $67M in total assets. So, if the CEO's position was available and you wanted to attract a new CEO with "talent", you will be competing with companies of a similar size and ability to pay.

Thank you very much.

Hi Donna and all,

Paula can correct me on this--did we not initially consider organizations that serve primarily MDs (such as 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8)? I beleive we thought that we would not be competing with these organizations if we were looking for a new CEO.

We did eliminate the top 3 organizations in terms of CEO pay.

All organizations have to file tax returns that would detail revenue so the information is available if not "easy" to get.

I would love to have a compensation consultant work with us, if not know, in the upcoming year-- would be money well spent to get a more detailed framework in place.

Paul, I spent some time to see if I could come up with any other companies that I thought might fit into this category, and this is the list I came up with. What I am not sure of is how to get their revenue? I feel like a few of these might be the top three that we eliminated because they paid their CEO's the highest amounts (i.e. American Heart Association, American Diabetes Association, American Hospital Association). Do you know how we could see if we needed to add these organizations? Anybody else have any thoughts on this list?

Hello all,

Happy weekend.

We are having a blizzard here in Chicago--6-12" today and wind chills of 50 below by tonight. Hope things are much better for all of you (except Paul who is also dealing with this).

Attached is the company reference list we have used as a reference for helping to benchmark Pat's compensation. Hi Donna and all,

Paula can correct me on this--did we not initially consider organizations that serve primarily MDs (such as 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8)? I beleive we thought that we would not be competing with these organizations if we were looking for a new CEO.

We did eliminate the top 3 organizations in terms of CEO pay.

All organizations have to file tax returns that would detail revenue so the information is available if not "easy" to get.

I would love to have a compensation consultant work with us, if not know, in the upcoming year--would be money well spent to get a more detailed framework in place.

Paul, I spent some time to see if I could come up with any other companies that I thought might fit into this category, and this is the list I came up with. What I am not sure of is how to get their revenue? I feel like a few of these might be the top three that we eliminated because they paid their CEO's the highest amounts (i.e. American Heart Association, American Diabetes Association, American Hospital Association). Do you know how we could see if we needed to add these organizations? Anybody else have any thoughts on this list?

2. American Medical Association

4. American Academy of Pediatrics

Hello all,

Happy weekend.

We are having a blizzard here in Chicago--6-12" today and wind chills of 50 below by tonight. Hope things are much better for all of you (except Paul who is also dealing with this).

Attached is the company reference list we have used as a reference for helping to benchmark Pat's compensation. Would you please review it and let me know if there are companies you wish to add or delete? I'd appreciate if you could do that and respond to me by Monday 1/13. If I don't hear from you by then I'll assume that you are fine with the list as it stands.

As Paul has eloquently summarized the goal is not necessarily to select companies exactly like Academy in structure and size since that isn't always representative of the market. The key components are a company's willingness and ability to pay for expertise and knowledge.

The Academy's total structure, with everyone, is now approximately $41M in total revenue and over $67M in total assets. So, if the CEO's position was available and you wanted to attract a new CEO with "talent", you will be competing with companies of a similar size and ability to pay.

Thank you very much.

Mary

Donna,

It will take a day or two, but, I can get the revenue and CEO compensation for each of these companies. A few on this list will be much bigger than the Academy. That being said, I will get back to you tomorrow.

All,

Here is a high level breakdown of the revenue and expense for FNCE from the last 5 years. I say rough because I have kept the running tab, but, I want to make sure I did not miss anything. Also, we are still processing expenses for Houston. That being said, the breakdown is as follows;

2011

Philadelphia

San Diego

Boston

Denver

Revenues

$ 4,577,671
$ 4,474,911
$ 4,172,715
$ 4,983,674
$ 3,606,855

Expenses

$ 1,769,954
$ 1,932,270
$ 1,996,534
$ 2,221,862
$ 1,738,549

Operating Income/(Deficit)

$ 2,807,717
$ 2,542,641
$ 2,176,181
$ 2,761,812
$ 1,868,306

I will let you know tomorrow if these are good to go.

Thank you for this information and I agree, the list provides good comparative data. Also, since I'm not on the FAC any longer, I would also like the 3 year comparison for FNCE. Perhaps Paul can provide this summary to me – and anyone else who might want the information (Ethan?)

Glenna,

I can provide the 3 year comparison for what I would refer to as "FNCE direct" by tomorrow. FNCE direct are those revenue and expenses that are defined as operational and specific to FNCE. For example, on the revenue side, this would include registration, exhibits, sponsorships, bookstore, etc. (this would be all of the FNCE revenue). On the expense side, it would include those costs to support the meeting. The costs that would not be included would be for specific meetings like the HOD meeting. That would be contained within its own budget area. To break that out would take a little more time. Would be sufficient? If so, I will have the last 3 years to you tomorrow.

Hi Mary, Glenna, Sonja,

It would be good to have this laid out so we can see how we compare over time related to CEO compensation, both salary and total compensation with % of medians at each point. We are trying to reach 50 % and this several year to year comparison would be great to see how we are doing over time.

Take care,

Ethan

Hello Mary:

Thank you for this information and I agree, the list provides good comparative data. Also, since I'm not on the FAC any longer, I would also like the 3 year comparison for FNCE. Perhaps Paul can provide this summary to me – and anyone else who might want the information (Ethan?)

Thanks

Hello all,

Happy weekend.

We are having a blizzard here in Chicago--6-12" today and wind chills of 50 below by tonight. Hope things are much better for all of you (except Paul who is also dealing with this).

Attached is the company reference list we have used as a reference for helping to benchmark Pat's compensation. Would you please review it and let me know if there are companies you wish to add or delete? I'd appreciate if you could do that and respond to me by Monday 1/13. If I don't hear from you by then I'll assume that you are fine with the list as it stands.

As Paul has eloquently summarized the goal is not necessarily to select companies exactly like Academy in structure and size since that isn't always representative of the market. The key components are a company's willingness and ability to pay for expertise and knowledge.

The Academy's total structure, with everyone, is now approximately $41M in total revenue and over $67M in total assets. So, if the CEO's position was available and you wanted to attract a new CEO with "talent", you will be competing with companies of a similar size and ability to pay.

Thank you very much.

Mary

Happy New Year Donna:

I wonder if Burke Schools are closing in advance of the Big Chill?? Was just listening to the closure list for central Ala, and it was a long one. I know Paul will chuckle about what a bunch of softies we are, but he would get a bigger laugh at our feeble attempts to spread sand (make that dirt) on bridges, remove snow (when we have it) and generally deal with problems that occur when Illinois leaves its back door open.

Joking aside, just wanted to remind you that I will not be on the FAC calls in Jan or Feb, on account of my extended time in New Zealand this year. (It's summer. "Brilliant weather" says my brother, so am anxious to get out of this misery. I will be responsive to email, reading minutes and other reports, but will not be part of the phone discussion. I return late on Feb 27, so will be back at the March meeting.

I know that the 3Ps have all of these documents but will send them the list again.

One idea is that each of us separately look at the list and send an annotated document with +/-

Mary,

I think it may also have included Judy Rodriguez as well. However, the team might now include the 3 Ps. If I can be so bold; I would recommend that you ask the 3 Ps to review the list to see if there is a company they think should be added or removed. I also would make the same recommendation of you and Donna. That way, everyone will have ownership of the comparisons. One of the primary reasons we went through a process to determine the comparison companies the last time is because Ron Moen provided the previous one and the Board was not satisfied it was representative of the companies the Academy should be compared too. I believe the list was originally done correctly, but, without input from the stakeholders, it was bound to fail. When we all did it together the last time, I believe everyone felt satisfied it represented a good approximation of the companies the Academy should benchmark the CEO compensation.

There might be a tendency to get Pat's input. That isn't wrong. However, it might give the perception of bias. So, keep that in mind if you choose to do so.

In any event, this is just a suggestion. If you do provide the option of the 3Ps to look at the list, they may look at the companies and want them to be exactly like Academy in structure and size. As you know from the original list, this isn't always representative of the market. Some companies will have a similar structure, some will not. The key component is a company's willingness and ability to pay for expertise and knowledge. The Academy's total structure, with everyone, is now approximately $41M in total revenue and over $67M in total assets. So, if the CEO's position was available and you wanted to attract a new CEO with "talent", you will be competing with companies of a similar size and ability to pay Again, let me know what you want me to do. I am here to serve. I know if you want Carrolyn to look at the list, she would be happy to do so. As would I.

Mary,

I would have the "team" look at the comparison companies to determine if they are still the reasonable to use in the next cycle for Pat. I would hope that at least 80% would stay the same. I can understand that some may change. From that point, you can tell me the companies and I will pull the data for you to use. In early November, I know the 3 Ps were looking for all of Pat's contract. There was an exhibit A missing. No one seems to have it. I actually don't think it ever existed. That is the last I heard about the contract. Let me know if you need anything else from me.

Happy New Year, Paul and Donna!

I have communicated with Glenna (cc Ethan and Sonja) a couple of times over the last few days. I was (as usual) confused about the process and unaware that the 3 Ps had been working on various aspects for some time.

Please see below for Glenna's suggested plan for moving ahead--the red item is of particular interest,

Paul, please refresh my memory about who will collect the comparison data for CEOs? I know you have done it previously--can't recall what we discussed about the most appropriate person to get that info or if we should contract it out.

Thanks very much,
Mary

Quoting Glenna in all following text:

Could I suggest the following:

1. Let's move forward with collecting the CEO Compensation Review information for the necessary comparisons.
2. The CEO evaluation form (completed by the BOD) was reviewed/revised last year, however Pat indicated she wanted to update the job description – appropriate after 5 years. This may require an additional updates on the evaluation form prior to distribution. I will know more after meeting with her January 14th.
3. There was a specific request to Pat during last year's evaluation (letter of May 2012) which the 3Ps are following-up with. We are meeting with Pat on January 30th in DC to finalize the discussion.

I should have provided more information when I stated earlier that we need to coordinate. While the 3Ps are collecting our information for the discussion, please feel free to move forward gathering the data for the compensation review – then we can coordinate a call to Paula Goedert in early February. Let's keep each other posted as we move forward J

Paul, What is not to like about the good news he will be presenting? Everything looks good to me. The only flag that I saw was that Pepsico is one of our top ten stocks. I personally like Pepsico and do not have any problems with us owning it, but I wonder if someone will say something about that. Hopefully they will be happy like they should be! I personally would be OK if we owned Coke stock! I think Diet Coke is far superior to Diet Pepsi!

Donna,

On the Board agenda for January is an investment overview by Al Bryant. I had him put together both the Academy's and Foundation's results. However, I told him that the Academy would be his focus for the meeting. Here is the information he will be presenting. Let me know if you have any questions.

Paul, Do you have the list or access to the list? Maybe we could split it up to look at companies and then see how many we need to take off or add?

Mary,

I think it may also have included Judy Rodriguez as well. However, the team might now include the 3 Ps. If I can be so bold; I would recommend that you ask the 3 Ps to review the list to see if there is a company they think should be added or removed. I also would make the same recommendation of you and Donna. That way, everyone will have ownership of the comparisons. One of the primary reasons we went through a process to determine the comparison companies the last time is because Ron Moen provided the previous one and the Board was not satisfied it was representative of the companies the Academy should be compared too. I believe the list was originally done correctly, but, without input from the stakeholders, it was bound to fail. When we all did it together the last time, I believe everyone felt satisfied it represented a good approximation of the companies the Academy should benchmark the CEO compensation.

There might be a tendency to get Pat's input. That isn't wrong. However, it might give the perception of bias. So, keep that in mind if you choose to do so.

In any event, this is just a suggestion. If you do provide the option of the 3Ps to look at the list, they may look at the companies and want them to be exactly like Academy in structure and size. As you know from the original list, this isn't always representative of the market. Some companies will have a similar structure, some will not. The key component is a company's willingness and ability to pay for expertise and knowledge. The Academy's total structure, with everyone, is now approximately $41M in total revenue and over $67M in total assets. So, if the CEO's position was available and you wanted to attract a new CEO with "talent", you will be competing with companies of a similar size and ability to pay Again, let me know what you want me to do. I am here to serve. I know if you want Carolyn to look at the list, she would be happy to do so. As would I.

Mary,

I would have the "team" look at the comparison companies to determine if they are still the reasonable to use in the next cycle for Pat. I would hope that at least 80% would stay the same. I can understand that some may change. From that point, you can tell me the companies and I will pull the data for you to use. In early November, I know the 3 Ps were looking for all of Pat's contract. There was an exhibit A missing. No one seems to have it. I actually don't think it ever existed. That is the last I heard about the contract. Let me know if you need anything else from me.

Happy New Year, Paul and Donna!

I have communicated with Glenna (cc Ethan and Sonja) a couple of times over the last few days. I was (as usual) confused about the process and unaware that the 3 Ps had been working on various aspects for some time.

Please see below for Glenna's suggested plan for moving ahead--the red item is of particular interest,

Paul, please refresh my memory about who will collect the comparison data for CEOs? I know you have done it previously--can't recall what we discussed about the most appropriate person to get that info or if we should contract it out.

Thanks very much,
Mary

Quoting Glenna in all following text:

Could I suggest the following:

1. Let's move forward with collecting the CEO Compensation Review information for the necessary comparisons.
2. The CEO evaluation form (completed by the BOD) was reviewed/revised last year, however Pat indicated she wanted to update the job description - appropriate after 5 years. This may require an additional updates on the evaluation form prior to distribution. I will know more after meeting with her January 14th.
3. There was a specific request to Pat during last year's evaluation (letter of May 2012) which the 3Ps are following-up with. We are meeting with Pat on January 30th in DC to finalize the discussion.

I should have provided more information when I stated earlier that we need to coordinate. While the 3Ps are collecting our information for the discussion, please feel free to move forward gathering the data for the compensation review - then we can coordinate a call to Paula Goedert in early February. Let's keep each other posted as we move forward J

Happy New Year!

We received word on New Year's Eve that USDA had released the final rule on certification and compliance with the new meal standards established under the Healthy Hunger-Free Kids Act (attached). We will be conducting a more thorough review of the rule, but wanted to highlight a major provision in the rule which made permanent the meat and grain flexibility.

More to come, but please let us know if you have any thoughts or concerns.

We received word on New Year's Eve that USDA had released the final rule on certification and compliance with the new meal standards established under the Healthy Hunger-Free Kids Act (attached). We will be conducting a more thorough review of the rule, but wanted to highlight a major provision in the rule which made permanent the meat and grain flexibility.

More to come, but please let us know if you have any thoughts or concerns.

We are now selling yearly subscriptions to Food & Nutrition magazine for $9.99 per year. Subscribers will receive the paper edition, have access to the digital issue and also the APP. We will begin marketing this in January 2014. Starting with the January 2014 issue, we expanded the content and will now have CPE articles, which should please members.

We will be producing a Food & Nutrition FNCE[®] edition in 2014. This special edition will be mailed to members with the July/August 2014 issue to generate excitement about our annual conference. It will not cost us more money because we plan on selling ads to cover the costs of production. In fact, we already have some ads in the pipeline.

Have a great weekend!

Menus of Change

Thank you so much for meeting with me, Scott and Donna on Tuesday. I greatly appreciate your openness and willingness to help. My apologies for not sending a quick email sooner but I have been in meetings nonstop the last two days. I did find the time to email SNA' Executive Team to let them know how great the meeting was and your interest with partnering with SNA and SNF in the future.

As promised, below is the email on that Menus of Change Conference that the Culinary Institute of America is hosting in June.

I hope you all have a very Merry Christmas and get to enjoy some time off with family and friends. Will be in touch in 2014.

Thanks again.

The CIA, Harvard School of Public Health, and our advisory councils are well underway with the planning for the second annual Menus of Change® national leadership summit, which will take place at the Charles Hotel in Cambridge, MA June 9–11, 2014. If you register before January 31, you'll save $600 off the general rate.

If you attended Menus of Change 2013, you'll remember looking at the future of food and the foodservice industry through a new and different lens. You examined the challenges facing our country in terms of health, health care, and our food systems. You were introduced to the Menus of Change Principles of Healthy Menu Design and the Menus of Change Annual Report. There's a lot more to come in 2014!

The five central topics addressed at the June 2014 summit will be:

- Climate Change
- Fruit and Vegetable Production and Consumption
- Protein Sources and Production
- Consumer Attitudes, Values, and Behaviors
- Settled vs. Unsettled Science: Sodium, Antibiotics, and Sugar-sweetened Beverages

Plus we'll release an updated annual report with a dashboard showing our progress on the most important nutrition, environmental and business issues facing the foodservice world today.

These crucial topics—and more—will be discussed and debated by chefs, foodservice executives, research scientists, academics, and policy makers. Register today to add your voice to the conversation and help us take the foodservice industry to a future of sustainability and success.

The Menus of Change website will be updated as speakers and sessions are confirmed. In the meantime, please subscribe to our latest news editorial to keep informed about articles or news of interest at the intersection of health, environmental, and social concerns.

We look forward to seeing you at Menus of Change 2014 in Cambridge in June!

The Board and HLT are conducting an evaluation of committees to determine if all current committees continue to be necessary in achieving the Academy's strategic direction, if their charge is complete, and if opportunities exist to improve efficiencies. The assessment is conducted every three years.

This year the Board will also be conducting an evaluation of the Nominating Committee, which was last evaluated in 2007. We are asking for a few Board member volunteers to participate on a workgroup to review:

- the Nominating Committee's roles and responsibilities in terms of appropriateness, relevance and value,
- the qualifications and skill sets required of Nominating Committee members,
- the structure of the Nominating Committee in managing the nomination and election processes, and
- the Nominating Committee's composition, size and tenure in terms of efficiency and effectiveness.

The Board Nominating Committee evaluation workgroup will meet by teleconference, with its initial call in January, and a report due by the March 2014 Board meeting. Please let me know if you have any questions or are interested in participating on the workgroup.

Pat, Mary Beth, Susie and Katie,

I cannot begin to thank the four of you for all the time and effort you put into the meeting between The Academy Foundation and The School Nutrition Association Foundation (SNAF) yesterday. I was so proud, on so many levels, to be a member of the Academy yesterday. The fact that the four of you were so willing to take so much of your extremely valuable time to share best practices with the SNAF was in itself a very generous offer. Yet, when we arrived and I realized that you flew Susie in to meet with us, had Katie set up to do a presentation, had made packets of information for us, and even thought to plan lunch was way above and beyond anything we could have expected. I love the fact that you had already brain stormed some ideas of ways the two organizations could collaborate on future endeavors. Your willingness to share any and all information that you all have worked so hard to develop was in no way typical of most organizations and their modus operandi. Yesterday was just another example of why the Academy is the leader in optimizing health through food and nutrition and why we have become one of the most respected brands out there. We continue to lead not only in our own association, but we are sharing our wealth of knowledge and expertise with other organizations who have similar visions. You made me so proud yesterday and I know how much Scott and Patti appreciated all you did for them. I think this will be the beginning of great things being accomplished with the two organizations working in tandem. I was honored to be a part of history in the making! I hope you all have a restful and Merry Christmas! You all deserve that and more!

Hi Pat,

We are putting the finishing touches on comparing four elementary schools with the old SMI guidelines to the new Healthy Hunger Free Kids Act guidelines on what the kids selected and consumed. We are preparing it for presentation at FNCE next fall. That might be of interest. HHFKA lunches are generally better than SMI lunches so lunches just keep getting better for kids!

Take care,

Ethan

Thanks so much for your kind words, Donna! We have worked in parallel on similar issues facing us far too long , and we are excited about this new beginning. We thank you for making the connection and introductions. We have similar missions to empower members to improve the nutritional status, health and academic performance of children, offering many opportunities to bring resources together to advance the strategic goals of both. The time was well spent, and I look forward to our next steps!

Merry Christmas to you and yours, and let's toast to our new alliance!

Pat, Mary Beth, Susie and Katie,

I cannot begin to thank the four of you for all the time and effort you put into the meeting between The Academy Foundation and The School Nutrition Association Foundation (SNAF) yesterday. I was so proud, on so many levels, to be a member of the Academy yesterday. The fact that the four of you were so willing to take so much of your extremely valuable time to share best practices with the SNAF was in itself a very generous offer. Yet, when we arrived and I realized that you flew Susie in to meet with us, had Katie set up to do a presentation, had made packets of information for us, and even thought to plan lunch was way above and beyond anything we could have expected. I love the fact that you had already brain stormed some ideas of ways the two organizations could collaborate on future endeavors. Your willingness to share any and all information that you all have worked so hard to develop was in no way typical of most organizations and their modus operandi. Yesterday was just another example of why the Academy is the leader in optimizing health through food and nutrition and why we have become one of the most respected brands out there. We continue to lead not only in our own association, but we are sharing our wealth of knowledge and expertise with other organizations who have similar visions. You made me so proud yesterday and I know how much Scott and Patti appreciated all you did for them. I think this will be the beginning of great things being accomplished with the two organizations working in tandem. I was honored to be a part of history in the making! I hope you all have a restful and Merry Christmas! You all deserve that and more!

The Board and HLT are conducting an evaluation of committees to determine if all current committees continue to be necessary in achieving the Academy's strategic direction, if their charge is complete, and if opportunities exist to improve efficiencies. The assessment is conducted every three years.

This year the Board will also be conducting an evaluation of the Nominating Committee, which was last evaluated in 2007. We are asking for a few Board member volunteers to participate on a workgroup to review:

- the Nominating Committee's roles and responsibilities in terms of appropriateness, relevance and value,
- the qualifications and skill sets required of Nominating Committee members,
- the structure of the Nominating Committee in managing the nomination and election processes, and
- the Nominating Committee's composition, size and tenure in terms of efficiency and effectiveness.

The Board Nominating Committee evaluation workgroup will meet by teleconference, with its initial call in January, and a report due by the March 2014 Board meeting. Please let me know if you have any questions or are interested in participating on the workgroup.

Thanks so much for your kind words, Donna! We have worked in parallel on similar issues facing us far too long , and we are excited about this new beginning. We thank you for making the connection and introductions. We have similar missions to empower members to improve the nutritional status, health and academic performance of children, offering many opportunities to bring resources together to advance the strategic goals of both. The time was well spent, and I look forward to our next steps!

Merry Christmas to you and yours, and let's toast to our new alliance!

Pat, Mary Beth, Susie and Katie,

I cannot begin to thank the four of you for all the time and effort you put into the meeting between The Academy Foundation and The School Nutrition Association Foundation (SNAF) yesterday. I was so proud, on so many levels, to be a member of the Academy yesterday. The fact that the four of you were so willing to take so much of your extremely valuable time to share best practices with the SNAF was in itself a very generous offer. Yet, when we arrived and I realized that you flew Susie in to meet with us, had Katie set up to do a presentation, had made packets of information for us, and even thought to plan lunch was way above and beyond anything we could have expected. I love the fact that you had already brain stormed some ideas of ways the two organizations could collaborate on future endeavors. Your willingness to share any and all information that you all have worked so hard to develop was in no way typical of most organizations and their modus operandi. Yesterday was just another example of why the Academy is the leader in optimizing health through food and nutrition and why we have become one of the most respected brands out there. We continue to lead not only in our own association, but we are sharing our wealth of knowledge and expertise with other organizations who have similar visions. You made me so proud yesterday and I know how much Scott and Patti appreciated all you did for them. I think this will be the beginning of great things being accomplished with the two organizations working in tandem. I was honored to be a part of history in the making! I hope you all have a restful and Merry Christmas! You all deserve that and more!

Donna,

It was great to see you yesterday. These types of meetings are so valuable to both organizations and it is exciting to explore ways that we can work together and continue highlighting the expertise of the RD and RDN. I feel so fortunate to work for such a great organization with so many wonderful members who are so passionate about the profession. Thank you for taking the time to arrange the meeting. I was so proud, on so many levels, to be a member of the Academy yesterday. The fact that the four of you were so willing to take so much of your extremely valuable time to share best practices with the SNAF was in itself a very generous offer. Yet, when we arrived and I realized that you flew Susie in to meet with us, had Katie set up to do a presentation, had made packets of information for us, and even thought to plan lunch was way above and beyond anything we could have expected. I love the fact that you had already brain stormed some ideas of ways the two organizations could collaborate on future endeavors. Your willingness to share any and all information that you all have worked so hard to develop was in no way typical of most organizations and their modus operandi. Yesterday was just another example of why the Academy is the leader in optimizing health through food and nutrition and why we have become one of the most respected brands out there. We continue to lead not only in our own association, but we are sharing our wealth of knowledge and expertise with other organizations who have similar visions. You made me so proud yesterday and I know how much Scott and Patti appreciated all you did for them. I think this will be the beginning of great things being accomplished with the two organizations working in tandem. I was honored to be a part of history in the making! I hope you all have a restful and Merry Christmas! You all deserve that and more!

Thank you for participating in the recent BOD survey regarding the 2014 Presidents' lecture topic. The final results overwhelmingly indicate the topic of "Personalized Medicine" was the preferred choice for the lecture. We have developed a potential list of speakers for review and request that you rank them at <http://fnce.fluidsurveys.com/s/2014PresidentsLecture-SpeakerSelection/> which will be available for your review through January 7, 2014.

Additionally, it was noted by the BOD that there was still an interest to include more on public-private partnerships. We will share those comments with the Committee for Professional Development and thought the BOD would be interested to know that the following sessions have been submitted for committee review and consideration for inclusion on the 2014 FNCE program via the open Call for Educational Sessions:

- Do Food Industry Partnerships Help or Hurt the Public Sector?
- Enhancing School Wellness Climates through Innovative Community Partnerships

- Supporting Child Health through Partnerships: How Parks and Recreation Partnered with a Children's Hospital to Promote Healthy Habits
- Addressing Diet-Related Disease and Food Insecurity through Clinical-Community Partnerships and Interventions
- The Public-Private Partnership: A Workable Model for Improving School Nutrition and Physical Activity
- RD/DTRs and Local Farming Communities Together: Partnering to improve the health and wellbeing of older adults

While the aforementioned sessions should be kept confidential, we thought they would be of interest to the BOD since we are able to cover that topic at the 2014 FNCE.

Diane

All,

As I mentioned on Friday, we have a Finance and Audit Committee meeting on Tuesday, December 17th at 1 p.m. CST. You should have received your webinar invitation from Eric Hayes. In addition, all of the information has been posted onto the portal. We are still waiting on bills from some of our vendors at FNCE. Therefore, some of the November financials still reflect projections based on discussions with the vendors as well as with the Meeting Services team at the Academy. As I have mentioned before, I am always amazed that the vendors don't want their money. Until we have the bills, or have determined their accuracy, they won't get paid. The following is a summary of the November financials;

I. Investments

- As is always the case, I like to peak at the investment returns for the current month. Unfortunately, December has not started off well. Through Friday, December 13th, the combined portfolio is down approximately $700,000 for the month (1.2%). I still have hope for the “Santa Claus rally” everyone talks about. Since today, the market has opened a higher, maybe this is the beginning. Even if it is, we have not seen much growth in December the last two years. Our last good December was in 2010. However, we haven’t lost money either so we have the potential to eliminate the current losses.

Regardless, through November, the combined portfolios have returned $3.65M since the end of May. This provides all of the organizations with a strong financial footing.

II. Reserves and Cash

- As I mentioned last month, I believed we would need to take money out of reserves. My estimate was $1,000,000. In early December, we did move $500,000 out of reserves and into our operational account. I still believe we will need at least another $500,000 soon. That being said, you will see that the Academy Reserves at the end of November were at $20,636,431 or 83.3% (A1). I have “cheated” a little. The end of November value, on schedule A15, already has removed from it the $500,000 I mentioned we took out in December. I want to give you an indication of the health of the Reserves. So, we are in very good shape even with the $500,000 being removed. Taking out the next $500,000 would reduce our reserves (assuming no change in investments) to 81.3%. Still very strong. I will let you know when we need the additional $500,000.

III. Academy October Financials

- We did not make any changes to the October financials you received last month. That is in part due to the bills not being completed from FNCE. Since we have accrued what we think the costs are for most situations, we decided to let the over-runs and under-runs flow through November and possibly December. Keep in mind this is a common occurrence. We have the same issues each year. We did not think keeping October open for changes two months after it ended would be a good financial practice.

IV. Academy preliminary November Financials (A10)

November, overall, was another solid month for the Academy. We ended the month with an Operating deficit of ($301.8K) and a Net Income of $89.3K. The Operating Deficit was a little short of budget ($5.6K short) due to lower revenues. Revenue was short of budget by $56,797. However, Expenses, as they are currently recorded, are $51,162 below budget. As has been the case in recent months, the investment returns have really made a difference. Investments were up $390,849 in November. This turned our overall Net Income positive. The $89,264 in Net Income was $277,240 better than our budget!!

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Deficit of ($143,345). This is $199,269 higher (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $164,998 while expenses for the year are lower by $364,266. So, halfway through our fiscal year, we are ahead, overall, of our budget. Naturally, the investments make a big difference. To date, the Academy investments have gained $1,436,721. This is $788,871 higher than our budget. Our Net Income, through November, is $1,293,376. This is nearly $1M higher than our budget. So, again, overall, through the first half of the fiscal year, the Academy is in a very good financial position. Net Income is strong and Reserves are high.

A. Revenues

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $23,222 in November and is under budget by $70,367 for the year. Membership continues to grow. Unfortunately, at this stage, it is not hitting budget. Some of the shortfall will be due to how the budget is distributed (timing). However, some may be due to the various categories of membership. It may not be lining up with our overall budget. This could result in a budget shortfall for the year. We will continue to monitor the revenue in this area.

b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $7,046 in November and is under budget by $50,766 for the year. The under-run in November is primarily due to refund requests for FNCE resulting in a $10.4K reduction. This is standard. We get request for refunds due to illness or family tragedies each year and we review each one. This is offset by higher Professional Development revenue (up $3.4K).

c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $46,839 in November and is over budget by $34,092 for the year. The under-run in November is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $28.2K), lower List Rental (down $3.4K), lower Traditional Publications (down $26.8K), adjustments for FNCE royalties (down $2.1K) and lower all other (down $1.1K) offset by higher Eatright Careers (up $5.8K) and higher Marketing publications (up $9.0K).

d. Subscriptions – This area is under budget by $4,319 in November and is under budget by $29,261 for the year. The under-run for November is due to lower NCM and related products (down $4.9K) offset by higher EAL (up $0.6K).

e. Advertising – This area is on target in November and under budget by $22,180 for the year. Nothing was sold or budgeted in November.

f. All grants - This area is over budget by $40,198 in November and is over budget by $30,182 for the year. The over-run in November is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants for Research (up $52.8K) offset by lower recognition of ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $10.9K) and Carry the Flame (down $1.5K) and lower for all other (down $0.2K).

g. Sponsorships – This area is under budget by $20,000 in November and is under budget by $70,183 for the year. This continues our expectation that the sponsorship revenue will be lower than budget for the fiscal year.

h. Other – This area was over budget by $4,432 in November and is over budget by $13,485 for the year. The over-run in November is primarily due to the higher FNCE royalties (up $15.0K) and higher Traditional Publication licensing fees (up $4.9K) offset by lower Member Benefit program revenue (down $7.0K), lower Research publication licensing fees (down $4.9K), and lower Malnutrition project revenue (down $3.0K due to timing of the budget) and lower across all other (down $0.6K).

B. Expenses

a. Personnel – This area is under budget by $8,564 in November and over budget by $11,410 for the year. The under-run in November is primarily open positions within the Academy.

b. Publications – This area is over budget by $3,687 in November and over budget by $2,218 for the year. The over-run in November is primarily due to higher Journal costs (up $5.9K) and higher Food and Nutrition magazine costs (up $1.9K), offset by lower Traditional Publications costs (down $1.6K) and lower Research (down $2.6K).

c. Travel – This area was under budget by $13,776 in November and under budget by $125,689 for the year. The under-run in November is primarily due to lower Governance (down $15.3K), lower Research (down $9.6) and lower Marketing (down $3.5). This is offset by higher FNCE direct costs (up $14.1K) and higher across all other (down $0.5K).

d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $13,332 in November and is under budget by $90,107 for the year. The under-run in November is being driven by lower Governance (down $10.1K), lower Journal (down $8.4K), lower Marketing (down $8.0K), lower Research (down $9.5K), lower Traditional Publications (down $2.5K), lower List Rental (down $3.3K), lower FNCE (down $4.0K) and lower across all other (down $4.5K) offset higher Web/IT (up $20.5K) and higher Public Policy (up $16.5K).

e. Postage and Mailing Service – This area is under budget by $11,827 in November and under budget by $4,446 for the year. The under-run in November is primarily due to lower Membership (down $11.1K), and lower across all other (down $0.7K).

f. Office Supplies and Equipment – This area is under budget by $3,685 in November and under budget by $10,526 for the year. The under-run in November is primarily due to FNCE (down $2.5K) and lower across all other areas of the business (down $1.2K).

g. Rent and utilities - This area is under budget by $2,525 in November and over budget by $5,564 for the year. The under-run in November is due to the lower utility costs.

h. Telephone and communications – This is over budget by $3,792 in November and over budget by $12,041 for the year. The over-run in November is due to direct FNCE costs.

i. Commissions – This area is on target in November and is under budget by $2,089 for the year. Nothing was budgeted in November and nothing was expensed.

j. Computer Expenses – This area is over budget by $3,509 in November and under budget by $23,115 for the year. The over-run in November is due to higher IT and web costs.

k. Advertising and Promotion – This area is under budget by $848 in November and under budget by $1,415 for the year. The under-run in November is primarily due to lower Traditional Publication costs (down $0.8K).

l. Insurance – This area is over budget by $797 in November and is over budget by $3,169 for the year. The over-run in November is due to higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.

m. Depreciation – This area is on target in October and on target for the year.

n. Bank and trust fees – This area is over budget by $4,583 in November and over budget by $28,988 for the year. The over-run in November is primarily due to higher credit card fees for normal operations.

- o. Other – This area is over budget by $6,528 in November and under budget $27,492 for the year. The over-run in November is primarily due to higher FNCE costs (up $14.7K) and higher Food and Nutrition magazine costs (up $7.0K), offset by lower Public Policy (down $6.7K), lower Marketing (down $2.0), lower Administrative (down $4.5K) and lower across all other (down $2.0K).
- p. Expense allocation – This area is over budget by $3,036 in November and is over budget by $18,218 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.
- q. Meeting services – This area is under budget by $268 in November and is under budget for the year by $72,063. The under-run in November is primarily due to lower Marketing (down $5.3K), lower research (down $3.4K) lower across all other projects (down $2.0K) offset by higher FNCE costs (up $10.5K).
- r. Printing – This area is under budget by $16,197 in November and is under budget by $50,314 for the year. The under-run in November is primarily due to lower expenses for FNCE (down $7.7K), lower Membership (down $6.0K), lower Marketing (down $1.0) and lower across all other (down $1.5K).

Still quite a few fluctuations. Some of which are due to the FNCE expenses. Year to date is the key at the moment. We are doing well even with the fluctuations. Revenue is 98.7% of the budget and expenses are 97.3% of the budget. So, we are not too far off of our forecasts. The investments are always difficult to budget and it is always nice to be higher. So, if you look at the bottom line; The Academy has Net Income of nearly $1.3M with reserves over $20.6M (83.3%) even after the “accounting removal of the $500,000 we took out in December.

I will stop here send this to you. I will attempt to get additional information on the other organizations within the Academy and read them out to you tomorrow. If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know.

Hello Pat:

I didn't want to miss the opportunity to congratulate you and your outstanding team for the excellent update and report regarding the Academy's Information Technology upgrades. The new computers (Chicago and DC), the storage upgrades, the additional assistance for telecommuters, addressing the challenges with our current phone system, the new spam filter and protection from power outages, and very importantly, the new websites (eatright, eatrightPRO and eatrightSTORE) – the report made me take a deep breath and sigh of relief!

The Academy is moving forward in significant ways – and our technology must support all the efforts. It is exciting to see our progress continue and I can hardly wait to be part of the member testing for the new sites mid-January!

Please share our congratulations with those who are leading this “charge of change” and thank you especially for your leadership!

Time to enjoy a well-deserved holiday season!
Happy holidays,

Subject: Information Technology Update

I am providing you with an update on all that is going on behind the scenes with Information Technology. As you may recall, our current vendor's contract was extended until December 17. In order to perform our due diligence, we prepared and distributed a request for proposal for information technology support to five companies on November 8.

As stated in the proposal, the ideal vendor will provide technical support, assistance, hardware and software troubleshooting, network and system maintenance and training, and documentation of Academy hardware and software inventory in Chicago and Washington, D.C. Bid packets for a one-year contract were submitted on November 25. Select staff along with an independent IT expert will review and assess all of the proposals. A decision will be made this week and two finalists will be asked to present in person. Per the RFP, the selected vendor will execute the contract and have a start date of Wednesday, January 1, 2014, and the contract will go through December 31, 2014.

A summary of current IT projects follows.

New Computers (Chicago and D.C. offices)

New PC rollout continues for 48 units. All equipment upgrades for identified users will be completed by the end of December.

Storage Upgrade/Migration

Systems are being moved to new upgraded storage devices through the end of December. The website will be up and running, however some random systems will not be available for six to eight hours during the maintenance period as they will be moved to the new storage device. The next step is to schedule the majority of the SAN migration. It will take 40 hours to complete the much-needed upgrade and migration. This is the first step in ensuring our systems are reliable and function in real time for all users.

Telecommuters

All VDIs are now on the new Equal Logic SAN and the virtual network has been reconfigured. Some individual speed issues will be resolved with the storage upgrade/migration is completed. The maintenance started on November 23 and will continue through December.

Phone System

The current system is not reliable and has many “gremlins” that cause random problems that nobody can seem to pinpoint. This is not normal for this type of system as it is generally one of the most reliable voice systems available, but it negatively impacts the DC office, telecommuters, and random users in the Chicago office. IT is working with AT&T to determine final costs. There is a licensing discrepancy to get the discounted pricing. Discussions are taking place, and a decision will be made early next week on a phone upgrade.

DC Office

A new printer was installed on November 7 and a computer maintenance trip is being planned for January.

IT Task Team / Super Users Meeting

The internal IT Task Team met on Friday, November 22. Thank you, Glenna, for stopping in to say hi to all of the Super Users. As you may recall, this group was formed so that IT can receive feedback and address any significant tech issues faced by the Academy staff. Meetings are being held bimonthly with this group as well as individual teams.

An overview was provided on the infrastructure changes taking place to improve service to all users, along with updates from the previous team breakout sessions noting common issues between teams. In addition, an all-staff survey on IT services is in progress, and we will have the results of the survey the week of December 9.

New Spam Filter and Power Outage Postmortem

In preparing for the recent power outage, we uncovered that we need to have an emergency plan in place for future events. We verified that we do not use outbound filter for email. Moving email to a secure environment is crucial. Our current provider is costly and does not provide the protection or flexibility needed. IT will be deploying an upgraded spam filter for the Academy that is more cost effective and will provide better protection.

During the power outage, we also experienced a surge that affected our universal power supply unit. No data was lost and it has been repaired, but it is crucial we eliminate any overloads in the future. We are looking into installing a bypass switch to enable our operations to run continuously without having to rely solely on universal power supply units. The good news is the website remained up and running and we did not incur any major problems. We were without email for approximately two hours. Considering our timeframe, the system put into place seemed to work well and the teams will work together to develop a solid plan for future emergencies. We will be notifying the building of future FNCE dates so that they will not schedule power outages during our crucial times.

New Websites Are on Track

Last but certainly not least, the new eatright, eatrightPRO and eatrightSTORE websites are on track and we are transitioning over 54,000 pages of content beginning December 15. In preparation, we have developed a plan to freeze the current website while we migrate all of our content over to our new CMS. Web Strategy has been working with all of the teams to insure a smooth transition. The content that needs to appear during the content freeze (December 15th through mid-January) will be prepared ahead of time so that important messages and communications will not be affected. Member testing will begin in mid January and you will personally be invited to test drive our new sites and provide your feedback. Any changes and tweaking will take place in February, and we are all looking forward to debuting the new websites in March 2014, just in time for National Nutrition Month.

Hi Donna. I have met Patti at several NDC sponsored meetings. I think she is terrific and it is about time they made her CEO! I would be happy to meet with her and you to discuss their Foundation and share some of our best practices. I checked with Pat's assistant and we are both available on December 17 from 9am until 1pm. Would that be enough time? I'm happy to share with Patti our position descriptions for the Foundation Director and Executive Director jobs. Just send me her email address. I will reach out to HR and get this information to pass along.

Thanks for your kind words. We are so proud of what the Foundation has accomplished over the years and it is thanks to the support of committed volunteers like you that we have enjoyed such success.

Subject: Request for Joint Meeting of School Nutrition Association and Academy

Pat and Mary Beth,

Patti Montague, Chief Executive Officer of the School Nutrition Association (SNA) and School Nutrition Foundation, has asked me to contact you, both, to see if we could arrange a possible meeting of the Academy and the SNA in Chicago? Patti is the new CEO of the SNA, after having been on the staff for over 20 years. Their foundation, unlike ours, is struggling to be relevant and is in the infancy of a rebirth under Patti's watch. Patti really looks up to the Academy as the role model of how an Association and Foundation should operate.

The SNA vision, Healthful meals and nutrition education are available to all children, is very much in line with our vision of We All Eat Right. She would very much like to be able to sit down and meet with both of you to explore areas that we could work together on, and also to get some advice on how to re-structure their foundation. The current Director of the SNA Foundation has just resigned to pursue other opportunities that have arisen, and they think this is a perfect time to make some changes in their foundation staff. She has asked me to attend the meeting, if we can arrange one in the near future. When we cross checked our schedules we both had the following dates available for a possible meeting:

December 4

December 9

December 13

December 16

December 17

I hope that we can work this out, so that these two great organizations can pull our collective resources together and further both of our mutual visions. SNA will fund me to attend the meeting, if we can work it out.

I look forward to hearing back from you on this proposal for a meeting. Thanks and have a much deserved great weekend!

PS - She also asked if we would be willing to share our job description for our foundation director, as she is trying to rewrite their job description for the director they are recruiting.

Hi Donna. I have met Patti at several NDC sponsored meetings. I think she is terrific and it is about time they made her CEO! I would be happy to meet with her and you to discuss their Foundation and share some of our best practices. I checked with Pat's assistant and we are both available on December 17 from 9am until 1pm. Would that be enough time? I'm happy to share with Patti our position descriptions for the Foundation Director and Executive Director jobs. Just send me her email address. I will reach out to HR and get this information to pass along. Thanks for your kind words. We are so proud of what the Foundation has accomplished over the years and it is thanks to the support of committed volunteers like you that we have enjoyed such success.

Pat and Mary Beth,

Patti Montague, Chief Executive Officer of the School Nutrition Association (SNA) and School Nutrition Foundation, has asked me to contact you, both, to see if we could arrange a possible meeting of the Academy and the SNA in Chicago? Patti is the new CEO of the SNA, after having been on the staff for over 20 years. Their foundation, unlike ours, is struggling to be relevant and is in the infancy of a rebirth under Patti's watch. Patti really looks up to the Academy as the role model of how an Association and Foundation should operate.

The SNA vision, Healthful meals and nutrition education are available to all children, is very much in line with our vision of We All Eat Right. She would very much like to be able to sit down and meet with both of you to explore areas that we could work together on, and also to get some advice on how to re-structure their foundation. The current Director of the SNA Foundation has just resigned to pursue other opportunities that have arisen, and they think this is a perfect time to make some changes in their foundation staff. She has asked me to attend the meeting, if we can arrange one in the near future. When we cross checked our schedules we both had the following dates available for a possible meeting:

December 3

December 4

December 9

December 13

December 16

December 17

I hope that we can work this out, so that these two great organizations can pull our collective resources together and further both of our mutual visions. SNA will fund me to attend the meeting, if we can work it out.

I look forward to hearing back from you on this proposal for a meeting. Thanks and have a much deserved great weekend!

Please join me in congratulating Diane Moore-Enos, MPH, RDN, FAND, on her promotion to VP of Professional Development and Assessment, effective yesterday, reporting directly to me. Diane previously was the Director of Professional Development under the Member Services Team.

Diane's revised position description includes the planning, development and administration of the Nutrition and Dietetics Associate (NDA) program. I developed a schematic of some of the activities which she will oversee; please see attachment.

The Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) Council will assist the Board of Directors in planning and developing the NDA program. Last month, CDR determined that they could not implement the new NDA curriculum-based assessment for the baccalaureate DPD graduate. This does not come as a surprise considering our discussion at the retreat in July. The natural organization unit to assist the Board in developing the NDA assessment and designation is the NDEP Council working with its educator and preceptor members.

Please join me in congratulating Diane Moore-Enos, MPH, RDN, FAND, on her promotion to VP of Professional Development and Assessment, effective yesterday, reporting directly to me. Diane previously was the Director of Professional Development under the Member Services Team.

Diane's revised position description includes the planning, development and administration of the Nutrition and Dietetics Associate (NDA) program. I developed a schematic of some of the activities which she will oversee; please see attachment.

The Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) Council will assist the Board of Directors in planning and developing the NDA program. Last month, CDR determined that they could not implement the new NDA curriculum-based assessment for the baccalaureate DPD graduate. This does not come as a surprise considering our discussion at the retreat in July. The natural organization unit to assist the Board in developing the NDA assessment and designation is the NDEP Council working with its educator and preceptor members.

The Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) Council will assist the Board of Directors in planning and developing the NDA program. Last month, CDR determined that they could not implement the new NDA curriculum-based assessment for the baccalaureate DPD graduate. This does not come as a surprise considering our discussion at the retreat in July. The natural organization unit to assist the Board in developing the NDA assessment and designation is the NDEP Council working with its educator and preceptor members.

Attachment:

I am providing you with an update on all that is going on behind the scenes with Information Technology. As you may recall, our current vendor's contract was extended until December 17. In order to perform our due diligence, we prepared and distributed a request for proposal for information technology support to five companies on November 8.

As stated in the proposal, the ideal vendor will provide technical support, assistance, hardware and software troubleshooting, network and system maintenance and training, and documentation of Academy hardware and software inventory in Chicago and Washington, D.C. Bid packets for a one-year contract were submitted on November 25. Select staff along with an independent IT expert will review and assess all of the proposals. A decision will be made this week and two finalists will be asked to present in person. Per the RFP, the selected vendor will execute the contract and have a start date of Wednesday, January 1, 2014, and the contract will go through December 31, 2014.

A summary of current IT projects follows.

New Computers (Chicago and D.C. offices)

New PC rollout continues for 48 units. All equipment upgrades for identified users will be completed by the end of December.

Storage Upgrade/Migration

Systems are being moved to new upgraded storage devices through the end of December. The website will be up and running, however some random systems will not be available for six to eight hours during the maintenance period as they will be moved to the new storage device. The next step is to schedule the majority of the SAN migration. It will take 40 hours to complete the much-needed upgrade and migration. This is the first step in ensuring our systems are reliable and function in real time for all users.

Telecommuters

All VDIs are now on the new Equal Logic SAN and the virtual network has been reconfigured. Some individual speed issues will be resolved with the storage upgrade/migration is completed. The maintenance started on November 23 and will continue through December.

Phone System

The current system is not reliable and has many “gremlins” that cause random problems that nobody can seem to pinpoint. This is not normal for this type of system as it is generally one of the most reliable voice systems available, but it negatively impacts the DC office, telecommuters, and random users in the Chicago office. IT is working with AT&T to determine final costs. There is a licensing discrepancy to get the discounted pricing. Discussions are taking place, and a decision will be made early next week on a phone upgrade.

DC Office

A new printer was installed on November 7 and a computer maintenance trip is being planned for January.

IT Task Team / Super Users Meeting

The internal IT Task Team met on Friday, November 22. Thank you, Glenna, for stopping in to say hi to all of the Super Users. As you may recall, this group was formed so that IT can receive feedback and address any significant tech issues faced by the Academy staff. Meetings are being held bimonthly with this group as well as individual teams.

An overview was provided on the infrastructure changes taking place to improve service to all users, along with updates from the previous team breakout sessions noting common issues between teams. In addition, an all-staff survey on IT services is in progress, and we will have the results of the survey the week of December 9.

New Spam Filter and Power Outage Postmortem

In preparing for the recent power outage, we uncovered that we need to have an emergency plan in place for future events. We verified that we do not use outbound filter for email. Moving email to a secure environment is crucial. Our current provider is costly and does not provide the protection or flexibility needed. IT will be deploying an upgraded spam filter for the Academy that is more cost effective and will provide better protection.

During the power outage, we also experienced a surge that affected our universal power supply unit. No data was lost and it has been repaired, but it is crucial we eliminate any overloads in the future. We are looking into installing a bypass switch to enable our operations to run continuously without having to rely solely on universal power supply units. The good news is the website remained up and running and we did not incur any major problems. We were without email for approximately two hours. Considering our timeframe, the system put into place seemed to work well and the teams will work together to develop a solid plan for future emergencies. We will be notifying the building of future FNCE dates so that they will not schedule power outages during our crucial times.

New Websites Are on Track

Last but certainly not least, the new eatright, eatrightPRO and eatrightSTORE websites are on track and we are transitioning over 54,000 pages of content beginning December 15. In preparation, we have developed a plan to freeze the current website while we migrate all of our content over to our new CMS. Web Strategy has been working with all of the teams to insure a smooth transition. The content that needs to appear during the content freeze (December 15th through mid-January) will be prepared ahead of time so that important messages and communications will not be affected. Member testing will begin in mid January and you will personally be invited to test drive our new sites and provide your feedback. Any changes and tweaking will take place in February, and we are all looking forward to debuting the new websites in March 2014, just in time for National Nutrition Month.

15th through mi

Subject: Ethics Opinion "The Impact of Social Media on Business and Ethical Practice in Dietetics" and Ethics Case Studies: Impact of Social Media on the RDN and DTR

The Ethics Committee is pleased to present two new ethics resources: the Ethics Opinion “The Impact of Social Media on Business and Ethical Practice in Dietetics” and Ethics Case Studies: Impact of Social Media on the RDN and DTR.

An ethics opinion is defined as an interpretation or application of the Academy/CDR Code of Ethics for the Profession of Dietetics by the Ethics Committee in response to a specific ethics issue or situation facing dietetics professionals in practice. These opinions are available to all members and credentialed practitioners to serve as an educational guide for their conduct. All ethics opinions are published upon approval in the Journal of the Academy for Nutrition and Dietetics. “The Impact of Social Media on Business and Ethical Practice in Dietetics” is now available in the November 2013 Journal.

The Ethics Committee also developed nine case studies addressing the impact of social media on the RDN and DTR. The purpose of these case studies is to create a discussion platform about ethics and the use of social media. These case studies can be used by educators with students and interns, clinical nutrition managers with their staff members, individual practitioners as well district presidents. In addition to the nine case studies, a handout is provided to use as a supplement for guiding the discussion. The handout presents each case study along with a set of discussion questions. The case studies and handout can be accessed on the Ethics Committee’s Academy website at: <http://www.eatright.org/About/Content.aspx?id=10763>

The ethics opinion, case studies and handout will be disseminated to the larger Academy membership via Eat Right Weekly in the upcoming weeks as well as to other Academy organizational units.

If you should have any questions or concerns related to this memo, please do not hesitate to contact either myself (254/710-6003 or suzy_weems@baylor.edu) or our staff partner, Harold Holler (800/877-1600, ext. 4896 or hholler@eatright.org).

All,

As I mentioned last week, I will need to move cash out of reserves for operational needs. Unless the committee has concerns, I will begin that process today by moving $500,000. I mentioned that we would need $1 million to be moved. We are watching, but unless cash inflow improves, it may be more than $1 million. We will watch the cash and keep you informed.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know.

All,

At our last Finance and Audit Committee meeting, I mentioned I would provide an October update at a later time since we had not yet completed all of the FNCE reconciliations. We are still waiting on some of the bills from vendors, but, we needed to get October completed. Therefore, we estimated the costs by booking the budget in some areas. It may turn out that we are a little high, or a little low, on the estimates. This isn't unusual for FNCE. Hopefully, the numbers will be a little high and we will see the savings as the bills are finally provided to us.

<!--[if !supportLists]--> I. <!--[endif]-->Investments

Since we are nearly at the end of November, I took a look at the investment returns. At the end of yesterday, the combined portfolios were up another $1,050,000. This brings our total for the Fiscal Year to nearly $3.7M. Since we only have 1.5 day of trading left in the month, I would think we should have another very positive month. I met with Al Bryant on Monday to discuss investments and he still thinks we are in a very good position. In addition, he is cautiously optimistic that the markets will continue their rise in 2014.

<!--[if !supportLists]--> II. <!--[endif]-->Reserves and Cash

While I am on the subject of the investment returns, I would like to address our reserves and our cash flow. You will see when the information is posted on the portal that the Academy reserves will be at $20,715,589 or 83.6% (A15). This is a very higher number. One that is impacted by both the gains from investments and the operating income, or operating loss, from CDR, DPGs and MIGs. As you may recall, when CDR, DPGs and MIGs have income or losses, we "reallocate" the reserve balance instead of putting money into reserves or taking it out each month. For example, if CDR has a $100,000 operating profit, we will increase CDR's reserve level by $100,000 and reduce the Academy's reserve level by $100,000. This allows us to increase our operating cash to manage the business. So, with the DPGs, MIGs and CDR having operating deficits in October of approximately $602K, the Academy's investment reserve has gone up an additional $602K (above the normal investment results). That is great. However, since the cash is not coming in, but, going out, the operating losses will result in our operating cash reserves

Last summer, we had a similar situation. I mentioned then that we may need additional money to be moved from the investment reserves into operating cash later in the Fiscal Year. Given the limited amount of cash inflow at the moment and the large cash outflows, I do think we will need another $1M from reserves to be moved within the next few weeks. Taking that into consideration, removing $1M from the Academy reserves will still result in a balance of $19,715,589 or 79.6%. I would anticipate moving the cash in two segments; $500,000 each time. The first will be necessary before the next payroll in two weeks. Depending on the way cash will be flowing, we may need the other $500,000 two weeks after that. Considering the investment returns for November, I would not be surprised to stay above $20M or 80% even with the withdrawal.

This is nothing to be worried about. We are within budget overall. We anticipated the need to reduce reserve levels this year within the budget. If this is confusing, let me know and we can schedule a special call to discuss this further.

<!--[if !supportLists]--> III. <!--[endif]-->Academy October Financials (A10)

October, overall, was another good month for the Academy. We ended the month with an Operating Surplus of $2.05M and a Net Income of over $2.6M. The Operating Surplus was a little short of budget ($63.5K short) due to lower revenues. Revenue was short of budget by $109,974. However, Expenses, as they are currently recorded, are $46,441 below budget. As I mentioned above, we hope that our estimates of expenses for FNCE are a little higher than the final billing. As has been the case in recent months, the investment returns have really made a difference. Investments were up $568,552 in October.

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Surplus of $158,240. This is $204,903 higher (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $108,201 while expenses for the year are lower by $313,104. So, even with the budget fluctuations, it is nice to say we are performing better than budget overall through 5/12ths of the year. The story gets even better once you factor in the investment returns. Investments for the year have returned $1,045,872. This is nearly twice the budgeted amount. This results in Net Income through October of over $1.2M. This is nearly $711K better than the budget. I would expect November Investment returns to give us another lift.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->A. <!--[endif]-->Revenues
<!--[if !supportLists]-->a. <!--[endif]-->Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $12,949 in October and is under budget by $47,145 for the year. Membership continues to grow. Unfortunately, at this stage, it is not hitting budget. Some of the shortfall will be due to how the budget is distributed (timing). However, some may be due to the various categories of membership. It may not be lining up with our overall budget. This could result in a budget shortfall for the year. We will continue to monitor the revenue in this area.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->b. <!--[endif]-->Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $46,102 in October and is under budget by $43,719 for the year. The under-run in October is due to FNCE (down $50.6K), offset by higher professional development (up $4.5K). The primary driven of the FNCE under-run was exhibits.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->c. <!--[endif]-->Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $23,912 in October and over budget by $80,931 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $22.2K), lower List Rental (down $18.4K) and lower all other (down $1.6K) offset by higher Traditional Publications (up $15.5K) and higher Guides for Practice (up $2.8K).

<!--[if !supportLists]-->d. <!--[endif]-->Subscriptions - This area is under budget by $12,296 in October and is under budget by $24,942 for the year. The under-run for October is due to lower NCM and related products (down $7.9K) and lower EAL (down $4.1K).

<!--[if !supportLists]-->e. <!--[endif]-->Advertising - This area is under budget by $2,695 in October and under budget by $22,180 for the year. The under-run in October is due to lower FNCE program book (down $11.7K), offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales (up $9.0K).

<!--[if !supportLists]-->f. <!--[endif]-->All grants - This area is under budget by $4,282 in October and is under budget by $10,015 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants such as ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $8.0K) and Carry the Flame (down $1.7K) offset by higher Research Grants (up $5.4K).

<!--[if !supportLists]-->g. <!--[endif]-->Sponsorships - This area is under budget by $10,183 in October and is under budget by $50,183 for the year. Even though this is under budget, it did have some good news. FNCE sponsorships were higher than budget (up by $31.2K). However, this was offset by the anticipated lower sponsorship revenue for the remainder of the program (down $41.4K). As we have mentioned previously, we are reducing our sponsorship revenue overall because we anticipate that we will be short of budget for the year.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->h. <!--[endif]-->Other - This area was over budget by $2,451 in October and is over budget by $9,052 for the year. The over-run in October was primarily due to the Journal (up $4.3K) and FNCE (up $1.0K), offset by licensure income (down $2.8K).

<!--[if !supportLists]-->B. <!--[endif]-->Expenses

<!--[if !supportLists]-->a. <!--[endif]-->Personnel - This area is under budget by $86 in October and over budget by $19,973 for the year. Even though there are variances, lower salaries, higher benefits, etc, since it is close, we will say it is on target for the month.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->b. <!--[endif]-->Publications - This area is under budget by $10,032 in October and under budget by $1,469 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower Food and Nutrition costs (down $7.2K), lower Traditional Publications costs (down $2.0K) and lower Research (down $2.0K), offset by higher across all other (up $1.2K).

<!--[if !supportLists]-->c. <!--[endif]-->Travel - This area was under budget by $10,043 in October and under budget by $111,913 for the year. Since this fluctuates across all groups and is primarily FNCE related, we will say the saving is due to FNCE.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->d. <!--[endif]-->Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $1,812 in October and is under budget by $76,775 for the year. The under-run in October is being driven by lower Marketing (down $6.1K), lower Research (down $9.2K), lower Traditional Publications (down $3.8K), lower Public Policy (down $1.1K), lower List Rental (down $2.3K), lower Journal (down $8.5K) and lower across all other (down $6.1K) offset higher Web/IT (up $19.1K), higher FNCE (up $6.2K), higher Membership recruitment (up $10.0K).

<!--[if !supportLists]-->e. <!--[endif]-->Postage and Mailing Service - This area is under budget by $803 in October and over budget by $7,381 for the year. This under-run in October is primarily due to lower Membership (down $2.8K), lower FNCE (down $7.2K), lower Administrative (down $1.0K) and lower across all other (down $1.4K) offset by higher Traditional Publications (up $6.9K) and higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $4.7K).

<!--[if !supportLists]-->f. <!--[endif]-->Office Supplies and Equipment - This area is under budget by $2,041 in October and under budget by $6,841 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to FNCE (down $1.3K) and across all areas of the business (down $0.7K).

<!--[if !supportLists]-->g. <!--[endif]-->Rent and utilities - This area is over budget by $17,087 in October and over budget by $8,090 for the year. The over-run in October was due to the costs to mitigate the building power outage while we were at FNCE. We will attempt to get reimbursement from the building management.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->h. <!--[endif]-->Telephone and communications - This is under budget by $1,431 in October and over budget by $8,249 for the year. The under-run in October is due to FNCE.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->i. <!--[endif]-->Commissions - This area is over budget in October by $1,808 and is under budget by $2,089 for the year. The over-run in October is due to higher revenue from Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales. A commission is paid on the sales. If the revenue is higher, the commission will be higher.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->j. <!--[endif]-->Computer Expenses - This area is under budget by $19,361 in October and under budget by $26,624 for the year. The under-run in October is due to lower IT and web costs. One of the largest of which is a delay in hosting the Academy website by an outside vendor which was scheduled to start in October.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->k. <!--[endif]-->Advertising and Promotion - This area is over budget by $3,003 in October and under budget by $566 for the year. The over-run in October is due to higher FNCE costs (up $2.3K) and higher across all other areas of the business (up $0.7K).

<!--[if !supportLists]-->l. <!--[endif]-->Insurance - This area is over budget by $335 in October and is over budget by $2,372 for the year. The over-run in October is due to slightly higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->n. <!--[endif]-->Bank and trust fees - This area is under budget by $8,092 in October and over budget by $24,406 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower credit card fees for FNCE related activity.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->o. <!--[endif]-->Other - This area is under budget by $1,083 in October and under budget $34,021 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower FNCE costs (down $10.2K), lower Research costs (down $3.4K), lower Governance (down $2.1K), lower Membership costs (down $1.8K), lower Administrative costs (down $1.0) and lower across all other (down $2.5K), offset by higher Food and Nutrition costs (up $18.6K) and higher Public Policy costs (up $1.3K).

<!--[if !supportLists]-->p. <!--[endif]-->Expense allocation - This area is over budget by $3,036 in October and is over budget by $15,182 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->q. <!--[endif]-->Meeting services - This area is under budget by $5,146 in October and is under budget for the year by $71,795. The under-run in October is across all areas of the business and related to lower FNCE costs.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->r. <!--[endif]-->Legal and Audit - This area is on target in October and is under budget by $2,183 for the year.

<!--[if !supportLists]-->s. <!--[endif]-->Printing - This area is under budget by $5,709 in October and is under budget by $34,117 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower expenses for FNCE (down $5.9K) offset by higher across all other (down $0.2K)

So, overall, the Academy is doing well. I will hold off addressing any of the other groups today. I hope all of you have a great Thanksgiving. I will have Maria put the October results onto the portal this afternoon. As always, if you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask.

The story gets even better once you factor in the investment returns. Investments for the year have returned $1,045,872. This is nearly twice the budgeted amount. This results in Net Income through October of over $1.2M. This is nearly $711K better than the budget. I would expect November Investment returns to give us another lift.

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $12,949 in October and is under budget by $47,145 for the year. Membership continues to grow. Unfortunately, at this stage, it is not hitting budget. Some of the shortfall will be due to how the budget is distributed (timing). However, some may be due to the various categories of membership. It may not be lining up with our overall budget. This could result in a budget shortfall for the year. We will continue to monitor the revenue in this area.

b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $46,102 in October and is under budget by $43,719 for the year. The under-run in October is due to FNCE (down $50.6K), offset by higher professional development (up $4.5K). The primary driven of the FNCE under-run was exhibits.

c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $23,912 in October and over budget by $80,931 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $22.2K), lower List Rental (down $18.4K) and lower all other (down $1.6K) offset by higher Traditional Publications (up $15.5K) and higher Guides for Practice (up $2.8K).

d. Subscriptions – This area is under budget by $12,296 in October and is under budget by $24,942 for the year. The under-run for October is due to lower NCM and related products (down $7.9K) and lower EAL (down $4.1K).

e. Advertising – This area is under budget by $2,695 in October and under budget by $22,180 for the year. The under-run in October is due to lower FNCE program book (down $11.7K), offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales (up $9.0K).

f. All grants - This area is under budget by $4,282 in October and is under budget by $10,015 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants such as ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $8.0K) and Carry the Flame (down $1.7K) offset by higher Research Grants (up $5.4K).

g. Sponsorships – This area is under budget by $10,183 in October and is under budget by $50,183 for the year. Even though this is under budget, it did have some good news. FNCE sponsorships were higher than budget (up by $31.2K). However, this was offset by the anticipated lower sponsorship revenue for the remainder of the program (down $41.4K). As we have mentioned previously, we are reducing our sponsorship revenue overall because we anticipate that we will be short of budget for the year.

h. Other – This area was over budget by $2,451 in October and is over budget by $9,052 for the year. The over-run in October was primarily due to the Journal (up $4.3K) and FNCE (up $1.0K), offset by licensure income (down $2.8K).

B. Expenses

a. Personnel – This area is under budget by $86 in October and over budget by $19,973 for the year. Even though there are variances, lower salaries, higher benefits, etc, since it is close, we will say it is on target for the month.

b. Publications – This area is under budget by $10,032 in October and under budget by $1,469 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower Food and Nutrition costs (down $7.2K), lower Traditional Publications costs (down $2.0K) and lower Research (down $2.0K), offset by higher across all other (up $1.2K).

c. Travel – This area was under budget by $10,043 in October and under budget by $111,913 for the year. Since this fluctuates across all groups and is primarily FNCE related, we will say the saving is due to FNCE.

d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $1,812 in October and is under budget by $76,775 for the year. The under-run in October is being driven by lower Marketing (down $6.1K), lower Research (down $9.2K), lower Traditional Publications (down $3.8K), lower Public Policy (down $1.1K), lower List Rental (down $2.3K), lower Journal (down $8.5K) and lower across all other (down $6.1K) offset higher Web/IT (up $19.1K), higher FNCE (up $6.2K), higher Membership recruitment (up $10.0K).

e. Postage and Mailing Service – This area is under budget by $803 in October and over budget by $7,381 for the year. This under-run in October is primarily due to lower Membership (down $2.8K), lower FNCE (down $7.2K), lower Administrative (down $1.0K) and lower across all other (down $1.4K) offset by higher Traditional Publications (up $6.9K) and higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $4.7K).

f. Office Supplies and Equipment – This area is under budget by $2,041 in October and under budget by $6,841 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to FNCE (down $1.3K) and across all areas of the business (down $0.7K).

g. Rent and utilities - This area is over budget by $17,087 in October and over budget by $8,090 for the year. The over-run in October was due to the costs to mitigate the building power outage while we were at FNCE. We will attempt to get reimbursement from the building management.

h. Telephone and communications – This is under budget by $1,431 in October and over budget by $8,249 for the year. The under-run in October is due to FNCE.

i. Commissions – This area is over budget in October by $1,808 and is under budget by $2,089 for the year. The over-run in October is due to higher revenue from Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales. A commission is paid on the sales. If the revenue is higher, the commission will be higher.

j. Computer Expenses – This area is under budget by $19,361 in October and under budget by $26,624 for the year. The under-run in October is due to lower IT and web costs. One of the largest of which is a delay in hosting the Academy website by an outside vendor which was scheduled to start in October.

- k. Advertising and Promotion – This area is over budget by $3,003 in October and under budget by $566 for the year. The over-run in October is due to higher FNCE costs (up $2.3K) and higher across all other areas of the business (up $0.7K).
- l. Insurance – This area is over budget by $335 in October and is over budget by $2,372 for the year. The over-run in October is due to slightly higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.
- m. Depreciation – This area is on target in October and on target for the year.
- n. Bank and trust fees – This area is under budget by $8,092 in October and over budget by $24,406 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower credit card fees for FNCE related activity.
- o. Other – This area is under budget by $1,083 in October and under budget $34,021 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower FNCE costs (down $10.2K), lower Research costs (down $3.4K), lower Governance (down $2.1K), lower Membership costs (down $1.8K), lower Administrative costs (down $1.0) and lower across all other (down $2.5K), offset by higher Food and Nutrition costs (up $18.6K) and higher Public Policy costs (up $1.3K).
- p. Expense allocation – This area is over budget by $3,036 in October and is over budget by $15,182 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.
- q. Meeting services – This area is under budget by $5,146 in October and is under budget for the year by $71,795. The under-run in October is across all areas of the business and related to lower FNCE costs.
- r. Legal and Audit – This area is on target in October and is under budget by $2,183 for the year.
- s. Printing – This area is under budget by $5,709 in October and is under budget by $34,117 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower expenses for FNCE (down $5.9K) offset by higher across all other (down $0.2K)

So, overall, the Academy is doing well. I will hold off addressing any of the other groups today. I hope all of you have a great Thanksgiving. I will have Maria put the October results onto the portal this afternoon. As always, if you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask.

This is a great report and an example of the powerful results of an industry partner -in this case it was the National Dairy Council.

If I have this right, this good work would not have been done without the industry funding. Given the recent scrutiny of partnerships and the magnitude and success of the Future of Food partnership it seems like an opportunity we might be able to showcase.

I'm not sure how the Foundation shares this information with members or public, however this example seems like a clear opportunity to illustrate the value of industry partnerships with results that clearly benefit the dietetic profession and Academy members.

I would welcome helping in any way I can.

Paul, It is amazing how much we have in common. My father has Frontal Temporal Dementia and is in an Alzheimer's Unit. My mother dealt with him for years before she finally threw in the towel. The good news is that the Alzheimer's Unit is very nice, and he gets very good care between the nurses and my Mom. I go out there and see him every Sunday and take him a large chocolate milkshake and a large McDonald's Fry. So much for my years of nutrition training. Eating is one of the few pleasures he has had, and lately that is about to be gone too. With his disease he will probably die from not being able to swallow or pneumonia. Getting old is not for sissies.

Donna,

I am glad you enjoyed Thanksgiving with your family. We did the same. Lynne did all of the cooking. It is one of the things she loves to do. I appreciate the compliment. For me, it is about the team always! You represent that team extremely well!

My dad is having some minor surgery today. His dementia is causing some complications because they may want to release him to home care. Unfortunately, he can't take care of himself. He needs 24/7 care until he is healthy (and maybe always). The last time he was released he was back in the hospital in 8hrs. You just can't be with someone every minute of the day. Hopefully, the hospital will keep him for a few days. Stay tuned.

The 3Ps and 3 speakers are having their joint quarterly conference call next Tuesday at 3pmCT next Tuesday. Would you be able to join them for approximately 15min at 3pm to discuss your conversation with Anne Kendall re the funding and lack of support for the new graduate standards? Donna,

In addition to the Audit report to the Foundation Board next week, there is an update on the financial results through October. Since we don't have a great deal of time, I put together a simple summary similar to what the FAC receives each month. Please take a look and let me know if it is good to send to Susan Burns.

If so, since I am out Monday and Tuesday and then in Washington the rest of the week, Linda will print out the information and turn it into a PDF and sent to Susan.

Thanks

Hi Donna. I hope you are doing well, it was nice to see you in Houston last month. I am contacting you on behalf of Kathy McClusky to ask if you would be willing to serve on the Foundation Development Committee. The charge of this committee is to identify ways to increase member support to the Foundation with an emphasis on the current health issue (Kids Eat Right) as a platform for unrestricted giving. In addition the committee is charged with identifying prospects and developing a solicitation implementation plan. Service on the committee will involve participation on 2-3 conference calls and attending one face to face meeting in Chicago (TBD) after the first of the year. Terri Raymond has agreed to serve as Chair of this Committee. We would be thrilled to have you join us. I look forward to hearing from you.

Have a Happy Thanksgiving.

All,

At our last Finance and Audit Committee meeting, I mentioned I would provide an October update at a later time since we had not yet completed all of the FNCE reconciliations. We are still waiting on some of the bills from vendors, but, we needed to get October completed. Therefore, we estimated the costs by booking the budget in some areas. It may turn out that we are a little high, or a little low, on the estimates. This isn't unusual for FNCE. Hopefully, the numbers will be a little high and we will see the savings as the bills are finally provided to us.

I. Investments

- Since we are nearly at the end of November, I took a look at the investment returns. At the end of yesterday, the combined portfolios were up another $1,050,000. This brings our total for the Fiscal Year to nearly $3.7M. Since we only have 1.5 day of trading left in the month, I would think we should have another very positive month. I met with Al Bryant on Monday to discuss investments and he still thinks we are in a very good position. In addition, he is cautiously optimistic that the markets will continue their rise in 2014.

II. Reserves and Cash

- While I am on the subject of the investment returns, I would like to address our reserves and our cash flow. You will see when the information is posted on the portal that the Academy reserves will be at $20,715,589 or 83.6% (A15). This is a very higher number. One that is impacted by both the gains from investments and the operating income, or operating loss, from CDR, DPGs and MIGs. As you may recall, when CDR, DPGs and MIGs have income or losses, we “reallocate” the reserve balance instead of putting money into reserves or taking it out each month. For example, if CDR has a $100,000 operating profit, we will increase CDR’s reserve level by $100,000 and reduce the Academy’s reserve level by $100,000. This allows us to increase our operating cash to manage the business. So, with the DPGs, MIGs and CDR having operating deficits in October of approximately $602K, the Academy’s investment reserve has gone up an additional $602K (above the normal investment results). That is great. However, since the cash is not coming in, but, going out, the operating losses will result in our operating cash reserves being very low.

Last summer, we had a similar situation. I mentioned then that we may need additional money to be moved from the investment reserves into operating cash later in the Fiscal Year. Given the limited amount of cash inflow at the moment and the large cash outflows, I do think we will need another $1M from reserves to be moved within the next few weeks. Taking that into consideration, removing $1M from the Academy reserves will still result in a balance of $19,715,589 or 79.6%. I would anticipate moving the cash in two segments; $500,000 each time. The first will be necessary before the next payroll in two weeks. Depending on the way cash will be flowing, we may need the other $500,000 two weeks after that. Considering the investment returns for November, I would not be surprised to stay above $20M or 80% even with the withdrawal.

This is nothing to be worried about. We are within budget overall. We anticipated the need to reduce reserve levels this year within the budget. If this is confusing, let me know and we can schedule a special call to discuss this further.

Now, onto October financials!!

III. Academy October Financials (A10)

October, overall, was another good month for the Academy. We ended the month with an Operating Surplus of $2.05M and a Net Income of over $2.6M. The Operating Surplus was a little short of budget ($63.5K short) due to lower revenues. Revenue was short of budget by $109,974. However, Expenses, as they are currently recorded, are $46,441 below budget. As I mentioned above, we hope that our estimates of expenses for FNCE are a little higher than the final billing. As has been the case in recent months, the investment returns have really made a difference. Investments were up $568,552 in October.

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Surplus of $158,240. This is $204,903 higher (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $108,201 while expenses for the year are lower by $313,104. So, even with the budget fluctuations, it is nice to say we are performing better than budget overall through 5/12ths of the year. The story gets even better once you factor in the investment returns. Investments for the year have returned $1,045,872. This is nearly twice the budgeted amount. This results in Net Income through October of over $1.2M. This is nearly $711K better than the budget. I would expect November Investment returns to give us another lift.

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $12,949 in October and is under budget by $47,145 for the year. Membership continues to grow. Unfortunately, at this stage, it is not hitting budget. Some of the shortfall will be due to how the budget is distributed (timing). However, some may be due to the various categories of membership. It may not be lining up with our overall budget. This could result in a budget shortfall for the year. We will continue to monitor the revenue in this area.

- b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $46,102 in October and is under budget by $43,719 for the year. The under-run in October is due to FNCE (down $50.6K), offset by higher professional development (up $4.5K). The primary driven of the FNCE under-run was exhibits.
- c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $23,912 in October and over budget by $80,931 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $22.2K), lower List Rental (down $18.4K) and lower all other (down $1.6K) offset by higher Traditional Publications (up $15.5K) and higher Guides for Practice (up $2.8K).
- d. Subscriptions – This area is under budget by $12,296 in October and is under budget by $24,942 for the year. The under-run for October is due to lower NCM and related products (down $7.9K) and lower EAL (down $4.1K).
- e. Advertising – This area is under budget by $2,695 in October and under budget by $22,180 for the year. The under-run in October is due to lower FNCE program book (down $11.7K), offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales (up $9.0K).
- f. All grants - This area is under budget by $4,282 in October and is under budget by $10,015 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants such as ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $8.0K) and Carry the Flame (down $1.7K) offset by higher Research Grants (up $5.4K).
- g. Sponsorships – This area is under budget by $10,183 in October and is under budget by $50,183 for the year. Even though this is under budget, it did have some good news. FNCE sponsorships were higher than budget (up by $31.2K). However, this was offset by the anticipated lower sponsorship revenue for the remainder of the program (down $41.4K). As we have mentioned previously, we are reducing our sponsorship revenue overall because we anticipate that we will be short of budget for the year.
- h. Other – This area was over budget by $2,451 in October and is over budget by $9,052 for the year. The over-run in October was primarily due to the Journal (up $4.3K) and FNCE (up $1.0K), offset by licensure income (down $2.8K).

B. Expenses

- a. Personnel – This area is under budget by $86 in October and over budget by $19,973 for the year. Even though there are variances, lower salaries, higher benefits, etc, since it is close, we will say it is on target for the month.
- b. Publications – This area is under budget by $10,032 in October and under budget by $1,469 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower Food and Nutrition costs (down $7.2K), lower Traditional Publications costs (down $2.0K) and lower Research (down $2.0K), offset by higher across all other (up $1.2K).

- c. Travel – This area was under budget by $10,043 in October and under budget by $111,913 for the year. Since this fluctuates across all groups and is primarily FNCE related, we will say the saving is due to FNCE.
- d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $1,812 in October and is under budget by $76,775 for the year. The under-run in October is being driven by lower Marketing (down $6.1K), lower Research (down $9.2K), lower Traditional Publications (down $3.8K), lower Public Policy (down $1.1K), lower List Rental (down $2.3K), lower Journal (down $8.5K) and lower across all other (down $6.1K) offset higher Web/IT (up $19.1K), higher FNCE (up $6.2K), higher Membership recruitment (up $10.0K).
- e. Postage and Mailing Service – This area is under budget by $803 in October and over budget by $7,381 for the year. This under-run in October is primarily due to lower Membership (down $2.8K), lower FNCE (down $7.2K), lower Administrative (down $1.0K) and lower across all other (down $1.4K) offset by higher Traditional Publications (up $6.9K) and higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $4.7K).
- f. Office Supplies and Equipment – This area is under budget by $2,041 in October and under budget by $6,841 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to FNCE (down $1.3K) and across all areas of the business (down $0.7K).
- g. Rent and utilities - This area is over budget by $17,087 in October and over budget by $8,090 for the year. The over-run in October was due to the costs to mitigate the building power outage while we were at FNCE. We will attempt to get reimbursement from the building management.
- h. Telephone and communications – This is under budget by $1,431 in October and over budget by $8,249 for the year. The under-run in October is due to FNCE.
- i. Commissions – This area is over budget in October by $1,808 and is under budget by $2,089 for the year. The over-run in October is due to higher revenue from Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales. A commission is paid on the sales. If the revenue is higher, the commission will be higher.
- j. Computer Expenses – This area is under budget by $19,361 in October and under budget by $26,624 for the year. The under-run in October is due to lower IT and web costs. One of the largest of which is a delay in hosting the Academy website by an outside vendor which was scheduled to start in October.

- k. Advertising and Promotion – This area is over budget by $3,003 in October and under budget by $566 for the year. The over-run in October is due to higher FNCE costs (up $2.3K) and higher across all other areas of the business (up $0.7K).
- l. Insurance – This area is over budget by $335 in October and is over budget by $2,372 for the year. The over-run in October is due to slightly higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.
- m. Depreciation – This area is on target in October and on target for the year.
- n. Bank and trust fees – This area is under budget by $8,092 in October and over budget by $24,406 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower credit card fees for FNCE related activity.
- o. Other – This area is under budget by $1,083 in October and under budget $34,021 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower FNCE costs (down $10.2K), lower Research costs (down $3.4K), lower Governance (down $2.1K), lower Membership costs (down $1.8K), lower Administrative costs (down $1.0) and lower across all other (down $2.5K), offset by higher Food and Nutrition costs (up $18.6K) and higher Public Policy costs (up $1.3K).
- p. Expense allocation – This area is over budget by $3,036 in October and is over budget by $15,182 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.
- q. Meeting services – This area is under budget by $5,146 in October and is under budget for the year by $71,795. The under-run in October is across all areas of the business and related to lower FNCE costs.
- r. Legal and Audit – This area is on target in October and is under budget by $2,183 for the year.
- s. Printing – This area is under budget by $5,709 in October and is under budget by $34,117 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower expenses for FNCE (down $5.9K) offset by higher across all other (down $0.2K)

So, overall, the Academy is doing well. I will hold off addressing any of the other groups today. I hope all of you have a great Thanksgiving. I will have Maria put the October results onto the portal this afternoon. As always, if you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask.

- f. Office Supplies and Equipment – This area is under budget by $2,041 in October and under budget by $6,841 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to FNCE (down $1.3K) and across all areas of the business (down $0.7K).
- g. Rent and utilities - This area is over budget by $17,087 in October and over budget by $8,090 for the year. The over-run in October was due to the costs to mitigate the building power outage while we were at FNCE. We will attempt to get reimbursement from the building management.
- h. Telephone and communications – This is under budget by $1,431 in October and over budget by $8,249 for the year. The under-run in October is due to FNCE.
- i. Commissions – This area is over budget in October by $1,808 and is under budget by $2,089 for the year. The over-run in October is due to higher revenue from Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales. A commission is paid on the sales. If the revenue is higher, the commission will be higher.
- j. Computer Expenses – This area is under budget by $19,361 in October and under budget by $26,624 for the year. The under-run in October is due to lower IT and web costs. One of the largest of which is a delay in hosting the Academy website by an outside vendor which was scheduled to start in October.
- k. Advertising and Promotion – This area is over budget by $3,003 in October and under budget by $566 for the year. The over-run in October is due to higher FNCE costs (up $2.3K) and higher across all other areas of the business (up $0.7K).

- l. Insurance – This area is over budget by $335 in October and is over budget by $2,372 for the year. The over-run in October is due to slightly higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.
- m. Depreciation – This area is on target in October and on target for the year.
- n. Bank and trust fees – This area is under budget by $8,092 in October and over budget by $24,406 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower credit card fees for FNCE related activity.
- o. Other – This area is under budget by $1,083 in October and under budget $34,021 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower FNCE costs (down $10.2K), lower Research costs (down $3.4K), lower Governance (down $2.1K), lower Membership costs (down $1.8K), lower Administrative costs (down $1.0) and lower across all other (down $2.5K), offset by higher Food and Nutrition costs (up $18.6K) and higher Public Policy costs (up $1.3K).
- p. Expense allocation – This area is over budget by $3,036 in October and is over budget by $15,182 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.
- q. Meeting services – This area is under budget by $5,146 in October and is under budget for the year by $71,795. The under-run in October is across all areas of the business and related to lower FNCE costs.
- r. Legal and Audit – This area is on target in October and is under budget by $2,183 for the year.
- s. Printing – This area is under budget by $5,709 in October and is under budget by $34,117 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower expenses for FNCE (down $5.9K) offset by higher across all other (down $0.2K)

So, overall, the Academy is doing well. I will hold off addressing any of the other groups today. I hope all of you have a great Thanksgiving. I will have Maria put the October results onto the portal this afternoon. As always, if you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask.

Pat, I was going to say that it was nice to see that other people share our concerns about the nominating committee, but the more I thought about it, the more I realized that it was actually pretty sad. We really do have a serious problem. We really do need to fix this. I think the evaluation will be very helpful and a good starting point for reform. Hope your family has a nice Thanksgiving. One of the many things I am thankful for this thanksgiving is, having you as our CEO and counting you as a friend. Happy Thanksgiving to you and your family.

Thank you, Neva. You were correct to share your concerns with Glenna. The Issues Management Committee was disbanded a couple years ago based on an effectiveness evaluation. The last evaluation of the Nominating Committee's structure and qualifications by the Board occurred at minimum five years ago so it may be time to conduct an evaluation again along with other major committees, councils and task forces.

We believe the composition of the nominating committee and the process for selecting ballot candidates needs to be reassessed. Nominating Committee should not be a "starter position" for national leadership. As a past member of the Nominating Committee, I know this is what often happens. However, when you are selecting candidates for important positions like president, speaker and treasurer, knowledge of performance in past positions is critical. While a person can look good "on paper" and even interview well, they can still be a poor candidate. I know this because people I had worked with for years were interviewed for positions while I was on the Nominating Committee. I knew they did not possess the leadership skills necessary for national offices like president and was able to share this with the committee."

Subject: October update

All,

At our last Finance and Audit Committee meeting, I mentioned I would provide an October update at a later time since we had not yet completed all of the FNCE reconciliations. We are still waiting on some of the bills from vendors, but, we needed to get October completed. Therefore, we estimated the costs by booking the budget in some areas. It may turn out that we are a little high, or a little low, on the estimates. This isn't unusual for FNCE. Hopefully, the numbers will be a little high and we will see the savings as the bills are finally provided to us.

I. Investments

- Since we are nearly at the end of November, I took a look at the investment returns. At the end of yesterday, the combined portfolios were up another $1,050,000. This brings our total for the Fiscal Year to nearly $3.7M. Since we only have 1.5 day of trading left in the month, I would think we should have another very positive month. I met with Al Bryant on Monday to discuss investments and he still thinks we are in a very good position. In addition, he is cautiously optimistic that the markets will continue their rise in 2014.

II. Reserves and Cash

- While I am on the subject of the investment returns, I would like to address our reserves and our cash flow. You will see when the information is posted on the portal that the Academy reserves will be at $20,715,589 or 83.6% (A15). This is a very higher number. One that is impacted by both the gains from investments and the operating income, or operating loss, from CDR, DPGs and MIGs. As you may recall, when CDR, DPGs and MIGs have income or losses, we "reallocate" the reserve balance instead of putting money into reserves or taking it out each month. For example, if CDR has a $100,000 operating profit, we will increase CDR's reserve level by $100,000 and reduce the Academy's reserve level by $100,000. This allows us to increase our operating cash to manage the business. So, with the DPGs, MIGs and CDR having operating deficits in October of approximately $602K, the Academy's investment reserve has gone up an additional $602K (above the normal investment results). That is great. However, since the cash is not coming in, but, going out, the operating losses will result in our operating cash reserves being very low.

Last summer, we had a similar situation. I mentioned then that we may need additional money to be moved from the investment reserves into operating cash later in the Fiscal Year. Given the limited amount of cash inflow at the moment and the large cash outflows, I do think we will need another $1M from reserves to be moved within the next few weeks. Taking that into consideration, removing $1M from the Academy reserves will still result in a balance of $19,715,589 or 79.6%. I would anticipate moving the cash in two segments; $500,000 each time. The first will be necessary before the next payroll in two weeks. Depending on the way cash will be flowing, we may need the other $500,000 two weeks after that. Considering the investment returns for November, I would not be surprised to stay above $20M or 80% even with the withdrawal.

This is nothing to be worried about. We are within budget overall. We anticipated the need to reduce reserve levels this year within the budget. If this is confusing, let me know and we can schedule a special call to discuss this further.

Now, onto October financials!!

III. Academy October Financials (A10)

October, overall, was another good month for the Academy. We ended the month with an Operating Surplus of $2.05M and a Net Income of over $2.6M. The Operating Surplus was a little short of budget ($63.5K short) due to lower revenues. Revenue was short of budget by $109,974. However, Expenses, as they are currently recorded, are $46,441 below budget. As I mentioned above, we hope that our estimates of expenses for FNCE are a little higher than the final billing. As has been the case in recent months, the investment returns have really made a difference. Investments were up $568,552 in October.

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Surplus of $158,240. This is $204,903 higher (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $108,201 while expenses for the year are lower by $313,104. So, even with the budget fluctuations, it is nice to say we are performing better than budget overall through 5/12ths of the year. The story gets even better once you factor in the investment returns. Investments for the year have returned $1,045,872. This is nearly twice the budgeted amount. This results in Net Income through October of over $1.2M. This is nearly $711K better than the budget. I would expect November Investment returns to give us another lift.

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $12,949 in October and is under budget by $47,145 for the year. Membership continues to grow. Unfortunately, at this stage, it is not hitting budget. Some of the shortfall will be due to how the budget is distributed (timing). However, some may be due to the various categories of membership. It may not be lining up with our overall budget. This could result in a budget shortfall for the year. We will continue to monitor the revenue in this area.

b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $46,102 in October and is under budget by $43,719 for the year. The under-run in October is due to FNCE (down $50.6K), offset by higher professional development (up $4.5K). The primary driven of the FNCE under-run was exhibits.

c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $23,912 in October and over budget by $80,931 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $22.2K), lower List Rental (down $18.4K) and lower all other (down $1.6K) offset by higher Traditional Publications (up $15.5K) and higher Guides for Practice (up $2.8K).

d. Subscriptions – This area is under budget by $12,296 in October and is under budget by $24,942 for the year. The under-run for October is due to lower NCM and related products (down $7.9K) and lower EAL (down $4.1K).

e. Advertising – This area is under budget by $2,695 in October and under budget by $22,180 for the year. The under-run in October is due to lower FNCE program book (down $11.7K), offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales (up $9.0K).

f. All grants - This area is under budget by $4,282 in October and is under budget by $10,015 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants such as ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $8.0K) and Carry the Flame (down $1.7K) offset by higher Research Grants (up $5.4K).

g. Sponsorships – This area is under budget by $10,183 in October and is under budget by $50,183 for the year. Even though this is under budget, it did have some good news. FNCE sponsorships were higher than budget (up by $31.2K). However, this was offset by the anticipated lower sponsorship revenue for the remainder of the program (down $41.4K). As we have mentioned previously, we are reducing our sponsorship revenue overall because we anticipate that we will be short of budget for the year.

h. Other – This area was over budget by $2,451 in October and is over budget by $9,052 for the year. The over-run in October was primarily due to the Journal (up $4.3K) and FNCE (up $1.0K), offset by licensure income (down $2.8K).

B. Expenses

a. Personnel – This area is under budget by $86 in October and over budget by $19,973 for the year. Even though there are variances, lower salaries, higher benefits, etc, since it is close, we will say it is on target for the month.

b. Publications – This area is under budget by $10,032 in October and under budget by $1,469 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower Food and Nutrition costs (down $7.2K), lower Traditional Publications costs (down $2.0K) and lower Research (down $2.0K), offset by higher across all other (up $1.2K).

c. Travel – This area was under budget by $10,043 in October and under budget by $111,913 for the year. Since this fluctuates across all groups and is primarily FNCE related, we will say the saving is due to FNCE.

d. Professional Fees - This area was under budget by $1,812 in October and is under budget by $76,775 for the year. The under-run in October is being driven by lower Marketing (down $6.1K), lower Research (down $9.2K), lower Traditional Publications (down $3.8K), lower Public Policy (down $1.1K), lower List Rental (down $2.3K), lower Journal (down $8.5K) and lower across all other (down $6.1K) offset higher Web/IT (up $19.1K), higher FNCE (up $6.2K), higher Membership recruitment (up $10.0K).

e. Postage and Mailing Service – This area is under budget by $803 in October and over budget by $7,381 for the year. This under-run in October is primarily due to lower Membership (down $2.8K), lower FNCE (down $7.2K), lower Administrative (down $1.0K) and lower across all other (down $1.4K) offset by higher Traditional Publications (up $6.9K) and higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $4.7K).

f. Office Supplies and Equipment – This area is under budget by $2,041 in October and under budget by $6,841 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to FNCE (down $1.3K) and across all areas of the business (down $0.7K).

g. Rent and utilities - This area is over budget by $17,087 in October and over budget by $8,090 for the year. The over-run in October was due to the costs to mitigate the building power outage while we were at FNCE. We will attempt to get reimbursement from the building management.

- h. Telephone and communications – This area is under budget by $1,431 in October and over budget by $8,249 for the year. The under-run in October is due to FNCE.
- i. Commissions – This area is over budget in October by $1,808 and is under budget by $2,089 for the year. The over-run in October is due to higher revenue from Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales. A commission is paid on the sales. If the revenue is higher, the commission will be higher.
- j. Computer Expenses – This area is under budget by $19,361 in October and under budget by $26,624 for the year. The under-run in October is due to lower IT and web costs. One of the largest of which is a delay in hosting the Academy website by an outside vendor which was scheduled to start in October.
- k. Advertising and Promotion – This area is over budget by $3,003 in October and under budget by $566 for the year. The over-run in October is due to higher FNCE costs (up $2.3K) and higher across all other areas of the business (up $0.7K).
- l. Insurance – This area is over budget by $335 in October and is over budget by $2,372 for the year. The over-run in October is due to slightly higher insurance premiums and will continue for the year.
- m. Depreciation – This area is on target in October and on target for the year.
- n. Bank and trust fees – This area is under budget by $8,092 in October and over budget by $24,406 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower credit card fees for FNCE related activity.
- o. Other – This area is under budget by $1,083 in October and under budget $34,021 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower FNCE costs (down $10.2K), lower Research costs (down $3.4K), lower Governance (down $2.1K), lower Membership costs (down $1.8K), lower Administrative costs (down $1.0) and lower across all other (down $2.5K), offset by higher Food and Nutrition costs (up $18.6K) and higher Public Policy costs (up $1.3K).
- p. Expense allocation – This area is over budget by $3,036 in October and is over budget by $15,182 for the year. This is due to the recognition of expenses for the ANDII database supported by CDR.
- q. Meeting services – This area is under budget by $5,146 in October and is under budget for the year by $71,795. The under-run in October is across all areas of the business and related to lower FNCE costs.
- r. Legal and Audit – This area is on target in October and is under budget by $2,183 for the year.

s. Printing – This area is under budget by $5,709 in October and is under budget by $34,117 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower expenses for FNCE (down $5.9K) offset by higher across all other (down $0.2K)

So, overall, the Academy is doing well. I will hold off addressing any of the other groups today. I hope all of you have a great Thanksgiving. I will have Maria put the October results onto the portal this afternoon. As always, if you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask.

All,

At our last Finance and Audit Committee meeting, I mentioned I would provide an October update at a later time since we had not yet completed all of the FNCE reconciliations. We are still waiting on some of the bills from vendors, but, we needed to get October completed. Therefore, we estimated the costs by booking the budget in some areas. It may turn out that we are a little high, or a little low, on the estimates. This isn't unusual for FNCE. Hopefully, the numbers will be a little high and we will see the savings as the bills are finally provided to us.

I. Investments

- Since we are nearly at the end of November, I took a look at the investment returns. At the end of yesterday, the combined portfolios were up another $1,050,000. This brings our total for the Fiscal Year to nearly $3.7M. Since we only have 1.5 day of trading left in the month, I would think we should have another very positive month. I met with Al Bryant on Monday to discuss investments and he still thinks we are in a very good position. In addition, he is cautiously optimistic that the markets will continue their rise in 2014.

II. Reserves and Cash

- While I am on the subject of the investment returns, I would like to address our reserves and our cash flow. You will see when the information is posted on the portal that the Academy reserves will be at $20,715,589 or 83.6% (A15). This is a very higher number. One that is impacted by both the gains from investments and the operating income, or operating loss, from CDR, DPGs and MIGs. As you may recall, when CDR, DPGs and MIGs have income or losses, we “reallocate” the reserve balance instead of putting money into reserves or taking it out each month. For example, if CDR has a $100,000 operating profit, we will increase CDR’s reserve level by $100,000 and reduce the Academy’s reserve level by $100,000. This allows us to increase our operating cash to manage the business. So, with the DPGs, MIGs and CDR having operating deficits in October of approximately $602K, the Academy’s investment reserve has gone up an additional $602K (above the normal investment results). That is great. However, since the cash is not coming in, but, going out, the operating losses will result in our operating cash reserves being very low.

Last summer, we had a similar situation. I mentioned then that we may need additional money to be moved from the investment reserves into operating cash later in the Fiscal Year. Given the limited amount of cash inflow at the moment and the large cash outflows, I do think we will need another $1M from reserves to be moved within the next few weeks. Taking that into consideration, removing $1M from the Academy reserves will still result in a balance of $19,715,589 or 79.6%. I would anticipate moving the cash in two segments; $500,000 each time. The first will be necessary before the next payroll in two weeks. Depending on the way cash will be flowing, we may need the other $500,000 two weeks after that. Considering the investment returns for November, I would not be surprised to stay above $20M or 80% even with the withdrawal.

This is nothing to be worried about. We are within budget overall. We anticipated the need to reduce reserve levels this year within the budget. If this is confusing, let me know and we can schedule a special call to discuss this further.

Now, onto October financials!!

III. Academy October Financials (A10)

October, overall, was another good month for the Academy. We ended the month with an Operating Surplus of $2.05M and a Net Income of over $2.6M. The Operating Surplus was a little short of budget ($63.5K short) due to lower revenues. Revenue was short of budget by $109,974. However, Expenses, as they are currently recorded, are $46,441 below budget. As I mentioned above, we hope that our estimates of expenses for FNCE are a little higher than the final billing. As has been the case in recent months, the investment returns have really made a difference. Investments were up $568,552 in October.

Taking a look at the year to date numbers, the Academy currently has an Operating Surplus of $158,240. This is $204,903 higher (better) than the budget. Revenue for the year is lower by $108,201 while expenses for the year are lower by $313,104. So, even with the budget fluctuations, it is nice to say we are performing better than budget overall through 5/12ths of the year. The story gets even better once you factor in the investment returns. Investments for the year have returned $1,045,872. This is nearly twice the budgeted amount. This results in Net Income through October of over $1.2M. This is nearly $711K better than the budget. I would expect November Investment returns to give us another lift.

The following is a breakdown of the various categories

a. Membership Dues - This area is under budget by $12,949 in October and is under budget by $47,145 for the year. Membership continues to grow. Unfortunately, at this stage, it is not hitting budget. Some of the shortfall will be due to how the budget is distributed (timing). However, some may be due to the various categories of membership. It may not be lining up with our overall budget. This could result in a budget shortfall for the year. We will continue to monitor the revenue in this area.

b. Programs and Meetings - This area is under budget by $46,102 in October and is under budget by $43,719 for the year. The under-run in October is due to FNCE (down $50.6K), offset by higher professional development (up $4.5K). The primary driven of the FNCE under-run was exhibits.

c. Publications and Materials - This area is under budget by $23,912 in October and over budget by $80,931 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower Research Publication sales (down $22.2K), lower List Rental (down $18.4K) and lower all other (down $1.6K) offset by higher Traditional Publications (up $15.5K) and higher Guides for Practice (up $2.8K).

d. Subscriptions – This area is under budget by $12,296 in October and is under budget by $24,942 for the year. The under-run for October is due to lower NCM and related products (down $7.9K) and lower EAL (down $4.1K).

e. Advertising – This area is under budget by $2,695 in October and under budget by $22,180 for the year. The under-run in October is due to lower FNCE program book (down $11.7K), offset by higher Food and Nutrition Magazine advertising sales (up $9.0K).

f. All grants - This area is under budget by $4,282 in October and is under budget by $10,015 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to the timing of recognition of grants such as ConAgra Home Food Safety (down $8.0K) and Carry the Flame (down $1.7K) offset by higher Research Grants (up $5.4K).

g. Sponsorships – This area is under budget by $10,183 in October and is under budget by $50,183 for the year. Even though this is under budget, it did have some good news. FNCE sponsorships were higher than budget (up by $31.2K). However, this was offset by the anticipated lower sponsorship revenue for the remainder of the program (down $41.4K). As we have mentioned previously, we are reducing our sponsorship revenue overall because we anticipate that we will be short of budget for the year.

h. Other – This area was over budget by $2,451 in October and is over budget by $9,052 for the year. The over-run in October was primarily due to the Journal (up $4.3K) and FNCE (up $1.0K), offset by licensure income (down $2.8K).

Public Policy (down $1.1K), lower List Rental (down $2.3K), lower Journal (down $8.5K) and lower across all other (down $6.1K) offset higher Web/IT (up $19.1K), higher FNCE (up $6.2K), higher Membership recruitment (up $10.0K).

e. Postage and Mailing Service – This area is under budget by $803 in October and over budget by $7,381 for the year. This under-run in October is primarily due to lower Membership (down $2.8K), lower FNCE (down $7.2K), lower Administrative (down $1.0K) and lower across all other (down $1.4K) offset by higher Traditional Publications (up $6.9K) and higher Food and Nutrition Magazine (up $4.7K).

- r. Legal and Audit – This area is on target in October and is under budget by $2,183 for the year.
- s. Printing – This area is under budget by $5,709 in October and is under budget by $34,117 for the year. The under-run in October is primarily due to lower expenses for FNCE (down $5.9K) offset by higher across all other (down $0.2K)

So, overall, the Academy is doing well. I will hold off addressing any of the other groups today. I hope all of you have a great Thanksgiving. I will have Maria put the October results onto the portal this afternoon. As always, if you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask.

Hi Donna. I hope you are doing well, it was nice to see you in Houston last month. I am contacting you on behalf of Kathy McClusky to ask if you would be willing to serve on the Foundation Development Committee. The charge of this committee is to identify ways to increase member support to the Foundation with an emphasis on the current health issue (Kids Eat Right) as a platform for unrestricted giving. In addition the committee is charged with identifying prospects and developing a solicitation implementation plan. Service on the committee will involve participation on 2-3 conference calls and attending one face to face meeting in Chicago (TBD) after the first of the year. Terri Raymond has agreed to serve as Chair of this Committee. We would be thrilled to have you join us. I look forward to hearing from you.

Have a Happy Thanksgiving.

Better Board Decisions – The Power of Critical Thinking

“Critical thinking is thinking about thinking while you’re thinking, in order to make your thinking better.” – Dr. Richard Paul, Chairman, National Center for Excellence in Critical Thinking

By Risa Mish, Senior Lecturer of Management at Cornell University’s Samuel Curtis Johnson Graduate School of Management

One of the things boards of directors must do is ensure that the organization stays true to its stated mission by determining how decisions are framed and approached. A board’s ability to successfully discharge this responsibility depends upon the degree to which its members possess and exercise critical-thinking skills when making decisions. This is because critical thinking — rigorously analyzing, evaluating and synthesizing information in order to guide beliefs and actions — is the foundation of all good decision making.

Engaging the Disengaged Board Member

Regardless of what type of board you have governing your association, effective governance can be severely hampered by disengaged board members. Disengagement can manifest itself in a variety of ways. Board members might not participate in meetings, or they might not choose to attend them at all. With the many challenges facing associations, few boards can afford to have disengaged members. And solving the problem is more complicated than just having bylaw provisions with attendance requirements. By the time you get to that point, you've lost valuable time and potentially a valuable board member, while also setting the wrong tone. Here are some strategies for engaging the disengaged board member.

10 Secrets of Building a Great Team

When building an effective team, there are some often over-looked "secrets" to keep in mind. One rule of thumb is not to look for just smarts when selecting team members, but to also look for social skills. Groups tend to perform better on tasks if the members have strong social skills. Second, the most creative teams tend to feature a mix of old comrades and relative strangers. The article's author uses Broadway as an example.

Mastering the Building Blocks of Strategy

Creating strategy in today's environment of complex, ever-changing priorities and conflicting agendas is a daunting task. Decision makers can greatly increase their odds of building a winning plan of action by investing the necessary time and effort in developing a thorough, thoughtful approach to strategy. One pitfall to avoid is making the creation of strategy a "rigid, box-checking exercise.

Attached is the revised Strategic Plan to share with the affiliates, DPGs, MIGs, committees, task forces and workgroups. The plan is a dynamic framework with no ending date. It is revisited on an annual basis by the Board for relevance and modifications are made, if appropriate, using trend and environmental data. As you develop the 2013-14 program of work for your organizational units and committees, please ensure it aligns with the Strategic Plan.

Please note a new goal with corresponding strategies has been added: "Members collaborate across disciplines with international food and nutrition communities." We have made tremendous strides internationally expanding our reach worldwide with such ground breaking initiatives as the Evidence Analysis Library, the development and introduction of standardized language and the nutrition care process. These efforts provide a natural pathway to building our international vision without compromising our national agenda. The introduction of this international goal builds on that philosophy.

Pat, I think our best recourse is to do the write-in petition, but we don't have much time. If you feel comfortable mentioning that to anyone you talk to, that would help. If they are on board with helping with that ,then they can let me or Diane Heller know.

Will not be on the call today, sorry to say. Grandbabies' schedules will not mesh with FAC. Have read the ACEND proposal and conclude we have no option but to approve. However, we cannot go dipping into reserves forever, and so my 2 cents' worth is that although we have "all that money" available to us, we remember that we are charged with keeping the AND on sound financial footing. There will be other financial needs ahead of us, based on the Visioning Report, and we must keep these in mind. Perhaps some prioritizing of ALL programs should be on our horizon.

That's it. Baby is awake, mom in shower, grandma to rescue!!

Happy Thanksgiving.

Mail 2013-2014 House of Delegates - RE: Dialogue on Diversity- Follow Up to the Fall HOD Meeting Presentation View Post Message Here's my book all :)

- What are you currently doing to promote diversity efforts in your community, workplace ,or academic setting?
 - In my previous role, I had always been a part of a very diverse organization/staff- got to know the cultures and traditions. In my current role there is minimal diversity and it is interesting to pick up on things said that wouldn't bother some but to others would be considered offensive.
 - Through my leadership roles, I have worked to promote a diverse set of leaders getting-under-represented groups on the board and committees based on skillset and comfort. The being said, I have found the district level the hardest. We once had someone ask a male that came to one of our local district meetings if they were in the wrong room. I was mortified and frankly a little put off by the way it went down and I haven't seen the person at another meeting. I was a part of one of the committees and I did discuss it during a follow-up meeting that we won't obtain star leaders with that mentality and I've actually reminded them every year since then (can't help to hear the message more than one time).
 - Frankly, when I joined this same district that was primarily seasoned practitioners, I was an "outcast" as a student/then a young practitioner and some actually resented my leadership roles that I stepped into (saying I hadn't put my time in yet). I could have given up, but pushed forward, managed to recruit and keep others involved. I have also encouraged members to consider applying for the diversity leadership program, but I feel like I "failed" was the follow-up/mentoring. Sometimes we get so involved in our own world and we don't step back to think that some people need little more "push" before taking the leap.
2. What barriers do you encounter when implementing diversity efforts?
- Perception is everything and everyone's is different. Make no assumptions- you know what they say :) Also the way we approach diverse leaders at times- we need them for their skillset- not because they are under-represented (another annoyance of mine) but a hard one to get past at times.

- I feel people don't take diversity seriously, just another buzz word because they think they are already diverse.

- Terminology why is it okay to say “those people” “people like you”-how do we break this stigma? It is used throughout society. I even feel bad for writing it, but this is a common mishap that drives me insane.

- At times when someone doesn't see an issue and you bring it to his/her seems to think you are “making a mountain of a molehill”. That is why people stay quiet, instead of pushing ahead.

3. What could the Diversity Committee do that we are currently not doing?

- First of all, I commend the committee for they are doing; I think it reflects the commitment to the profession.

- It expands even further- the way we “coin” our profession. There is a lack of diversity when we talk about practice and the term "non-traditional" dietitian. I focus on this very topic with dietetic interns as they complete rotations with me. It is another area that RDNs are employed and we use a different skillset. There is nothing non-traditional about that!

- I know diversity goes beyond male/female but how many times at different conferences do people make remarks about the men in the room surrounded by women. Come on it gets old after awhile.

- Work more to recruit diverse dietetics students. Promotion of our profession in a diverse manner.

- The Diversity Team and MIGs could be highlighted through Academy sponsored webinars, articles in Food and Nutrition Magazine, discussed more prominently in the EatRight weekly like other professional issues.

Robin, We will really miss you on the call as you always have such sage advice and really do get what is going on. Do totally understand the grandma thing though, isn't it just the best job? Found the same typo's, so we will make sure we get those put into the minutes and I will give you full credit. The revised minutes had a different 2.2 for new business, but the rest was the same. Please reread 2.2 on new minutes. We have the same concerns about dipping into reserves. Will let you know the outcome of the meeting. I personally think ACEND should fund more than they are, but they think this is the Academy's directive so we should fund it. We will see what we can possibly get them to agree to today in terms of helping fund the project.

Will not be on the call today, sorry to say. Grandbabies' schedules will not mesh with FAC. Have read the ACEND proposal and conclude we have no option but to approve. However, we cannot go dipping into reserves forever, and so my 2 cents' worth is that although we have "all that money" available to us, we remember that we are charged with keeping the AND on sound financial footing. There will be other financial needs ahead of us, based on the Visioning Report, and we must keep these in mind. Perhaps some prioritizing of ALL programs should be on our horizon.

That's it. Baby is awake, mom in shower, grandma to rescue!!

Happy Thanksgiving.

Yes I can, the regulations require that you have 3 different components on your tray and one has to be a fruit or vegetable, in order for the meal to be reimbursable. The milk, fruit and fruit juice are technically two different components. The sausage biscuit and juice are three different components (grain, meat and fruit). The student also has to pick up a fruit or vegetable on their tray and that is why #2 is not reimbursable, because although it has 3 different components, the student did not pick up a fruit or vegetable. If she has more questions she can contact me.

2. Which of these breakfast trays would be a reimbursable meal?

- a) Sausage biscuit and 4 oz juice.
- b) Milk and chicken biscuit.
- c) Milk, 4 oz. juice and ½ cup fruit
- d) 2 slices of toast and ½ cup fruit

I thought there has to have 3 items on the breakfast meals.

Mary, What I was talking about when I said below budget was, if they did not make the $85,000 they had budgeted to make, then we would give them some money. We would not give them money unless they really needed it. I think of being below budget, as being under budget also :).

Good morning and sorry in advance for being a moron and a curmedgeon--if there is no budget for the project how can they go "below" it?

In spite of being treasurer for 2 years I still think of "below" budget as spending less, not more.

I do support the idea that they get more $$ only if there is a need to spend more than the budget created for 2014 on appropriately vetted items. I assume these contractors have scopes of work that are reviewed for appropriateness and adherence to strategic goals etc.

Talk with you soon,

Donna,

I believe the solution you like is the best option. However, since it could be confusing, it could "muddy" the situation. That being said, you could offer it up during discussions as an option for the team to discuss.

If they don't spend it, they won't get it. The FY15 amount would be considered only if ACEND has a need for additional funding and not until that time. This is similar to the "50%" for the two years. That would be $95,705 once you factor in the $34,148 ACEND was expected to fund. So, funding FY14 up to the requested $70,326 would be a better option and be consistent with Anne's comments that they only need, right now, FY14 funded.

I did mention to Pat my option of "guaranteeing ACEND's budgeted FY14 $87,144 surplus, up to the $70,326 requested. She liked it. However, she thought it might be too confusing. I can see that. So, I will have email access tonight. Let me know if you like the option.

Item 2.2 will be changed this afternoon. I apologize. I should have read these before they went out. It should say; The CFO indicated that ACEND will bring forward a proposal for the Academy to consider funding the new Standard's Development for education programs that will result from the new graduate level requirements. The proposal will be forwarded to you for consideration as soon as it is completed.

I do think Sonja made the statement that was put onto the minutes. However, I don't think it is factual and should be eliminated.

Paul and Mary, I guess I was feeling a little disappointed in ACEND's actions and wanted to give them a little of their own medicine, by only funding them if they go below budget. Reality has gotten the best of me, so, I will agree to the recommendation from Pat. I guess we are all in step together, but it would have been nice to have them squirm some. I bet you both are thinking by now that you don't ever want to get on my bad side. My bark is much worse than my bite. Talk to you tomorrow.

Donna,

Mary,

I talked to Pat. Her recommendation is to fund the FY14 up to the $70,326 requested. ACEND would have to incur the expense in order to get the money. That is why it is "up to $70,326". If they don't spend it, they won't get it. The FY15 amount would be considered only if ACEND has a need for additional funding and not until that time. This is similar to the "50%" for the two years.

That would be $95,705 once you factor in the $34,148 ACEND was expected to fund. So, funding FY14 up to the requested $70,326 would be a better option and be consistent with Anne's comments that they only need, right now, FY14 funded.

I did mention to Pat my option of "guaranteeing ACEND's budgeted FY14 $87,144 surplus, up to the $70,326 requested. She liked it. However, she thought it might be too confusing. I can see that. So, I will have email access tonight. Let me know if you like the option.

Donna,

Mary,

Item 2.2 will be changed this afternoon. I apologize. I should have read these before they went out. It should say; The CFO indicated that ACEND will bring forward a proposal for the Academy to consider funding the new Standard's Development for education programs that will result from the new graduate level requirements. The proposal will be forwarded to you for consideration as soon as it is completed.

I do think Sonja made the statement that was put onto the minutes. However, I don't think it is factual and should be eliminated.

OK Mary, Help me craft a response on what more information we need, because they truly think they have given us sufficient information. This is what Anne sent to me:

Donna,

I asked Elaine about more details on the deliverables and she noted that those are in the narrative as part of the timeline on the first two pages of the proposal although they are not explicitly listed with each of the items in the budget itself. What additional detail do you need beyond what is in the timeline?

Yes, thanks Donna--I do have that. It is not a "proposal"--it is a sketch.

I can't imagine that any granting agency would view these points as enough background to justify any kind of grant.

ACEND folks are eminent educators, many with PhDs. Perhaps in light of the item in the 10/22 minutes they assumed that this was already approved and thought that only a high level sketych was needed.

Donna,

Mary,

Item 2.2 will be changed this afternoon. I apologize. I should have read these before they went out. It should say; The CFO indicated that ACEND will bring forward a proposal for the Academy to consider funding the new Standard's Development for education programs that will result from the new graduate level requirements. The proposal will be forwarded to you for consideration as soon as it is completed.

I do think Sonja made the statement that was put onto the minutes. However, I don't think it is factual and should be eliminated.

Mary,

You have what I have. I don't believe there is anything else. I think it is the way we communicate. In ACEND's perspective, the information is there. From the FAC's perspective it may not have the information. I talked to Mary Ann and she says we have all the information.

I asked Elaine about more details on the deliverables and she noted that those are in the narrative as part of the timeline on the first two pages of the proposal although they are not explicitly listed with each of the items in the budget itself. I looked item 2.2. I don't believe the "board" approved the funding. I think it may have been the 4Ps. As a check, do either of you remember voting for this? If not, then it gets back to a process issue. I will have talk to Pat. I don't believe the 4 Ps can agree to anything based upon our policies. I believe it has to be the board. As for the time; if we make it 4 p.m. CST/5 p.m. EST, would that be easier for everyone?

Paul and Donna, so sorry that I missed reviewing these documents before the call. I was not sure, Paul, to what letter you were referring--now I know!

I was on the train and bus till 8:05 CT and did not access email after about 7:40, so did not see these.

Thank you both for your reasoned and thoughtful approach to all of this. Thanks Donna for outreach to Anne. Look forward to hearing more.

I apologize for my tirade about "things" related to the Academy. It is a challenge to be called on the carpet about the Academy's dues structure and "all things to all people" approach by colleagues who, like Donna's, have a very specific focus area. When like-minded people (such as the BoD) are together it is all so clear; out of that context it is a bit different.

Paul and Donna, so sorry that I missed reviewing these documents before the call. I was not sure, Paul, to what letter you were referring--now I know!

I was on the train and bus till 8:05 CT and did not access email after about 7:40, so did not see these.

Thank you both for your reasoned and thoughtful approach to all of this. Thanks Donna for outreach to Anne. Look forward to hearing more.

I apologize for my tirade about "things" related to the Academy. It is a challenge to be called on the carpet about the Academy's dues structure and "all things to all people" approach by colleagues who, like Donna's, have a very specific focus area. When like-minded people (such as the BoD) are together it is all so clear; out of that context it is a bit different.

I was on the train and bus till 8:05 CT and did not access email after about 7:40, so did not see these.

Thank you both for your reasoned and thoughtful approach to all of this. Thanks Donna for outreach to Anne. Look forward to hearing more.

I apologize for my tirade about "things" related to the Academy. It is a challenge to be called on the carpet about the Academy's dues structure and "all things to all people" approach by colleagues who, like Donna's, have a very specific focus area. When like-minded people (such as the BoD) are together it is all so clear; out of that context it is a bit different.

Paul et al:

I am on Grandma-duty in NYC for the next 2 weeks, and with a newborn plus a 2-yr old, I am not at all sure whether I will be able to attend this meeting. If I make it, it will be the conference call part only, since my lap top is dead and I cannot count on having access to a computer. I will try my best to call in, but there are no guarantees. If you will accept my vote by proxy, I designate Donna to cast a vote for me, and if Chairs cannot be proxies, my next choice is Milton as the other HOD rep. In the absence of any evidence to the contrary, my vote would be affirmative for the ACEND request (even though I have not yet seen it).

I fully expect to be on the December call, but not on Jan or Feb, as I will be Down Under enjoying summer in the land of my birth.

Subject: RE: Finance and Audit Committee meeting on Tuesday, November 19th at 1 p.m. CST

All,

Yes, hard to believe, but, we have another Finance and Audit Committee meeting on Tuesday, November 19th at 1 p.m. CST. You will receive the webinar notification either today or Monday. Also, Maria will put the information onto the portal today and let you know when it is available.

We are still processing all of the preliminary October financial information. Therefore we won't be able to provide it to you until next week. Having the FAC meeting a week early has made it difficult to process all of the bills from FNCE. Some of which, still, have not been provided to us. We will record the "budget" on expenses wherever we need to. However, I would prefer to have as many "actual" expenses as possible. On Tuesday, we should have more accurate information and will share with you then our progress and results.

Even with the limited October information, we have a full agenda this month. In addition to the finances, we have to approve the 2015 budget parameters and we have a request from ACEND for funding support. Since the ACEND funding request will require a quorum of the committee to vote, please let me know if you cannot attend the meeting.

Even though I can't provide to you the October financials, I can provide some of our "usual" information.

I. September Changes

There was only one change from the September financial package and it did not affect September. The General Mills grant was originally budgeted to be provided to the Foundation in October. This was moved to January. So, when looking at the budget distribution on page A3, you might notice the October and January 2014 budget revenue changed. Even though General Mills has stepped up to increase the grants from $500,000 to $1,000,000 we did not change the overall budget. So, we should see an over-run in revenue in January for the Foundation.

II. Investments

Even though we are not done with all of October, I can tell you that the investments were very good. Investments returned a combined $1,450,414 in October. Through October, this brings our total to $2,644,229. This is more than double the amount we budgeted through the same period of time. Through yesterday, November 14th, the combined portfolio is up another $735,000. It is hard to say what the rest of the month will bring. I will admit, I am beginning to get a little nervous in the short term. That being said, Al believes stocks still have room to run upward. Given that interest rates are low, there is very limited inflation on the horizon and the FED has signaled it may continue the stimulus, the best place to have money is in equities. I agree with him. However, there will be another "budget fight" in Washington after the beginning of 2014. So, we need to keep our eyes on this situation. Even that may only cause a short term hick-up. I am an "old school" investor. I never like seeing stocks continue to go straight-up without some correction. History would indicate there will be one coming. If it does happen, it should be a short term issue that will allow people to add more money to the market and drive it back upwards.

III. FNCE Update

We don't have October done quite yet. The primary reason is the expenses are not done. On the revenue front, we have most of this completed. Right now it looks like FNCE generated $4,507,234 in revenue. We budgeted $4,524,838. The net result was a shortfall in revenue of.....wait for itdrum roll please$17,604!! Even though some revenue areas did better and some didn't do as well, the overall result comes in at 99.6% of budget. Not too bad!!!

The staff did a great job when the budgets were developed. There will be some adjustments as we go forward. Most of which will be requests for refunds for those registrants who could not make FNCE due to medical or family emergencies. This should be small. We also have factored in the remaining amount of the Houston guarantee. This was requested last week and Houston is reviewing our information. I don't expect any issues with them paying out the final installment.

I would expect that overall, once travel is factored into the equation, the FNCE expenses will be lower than budget as well. Again, there will be some that are over budget and some that are under budget. That happens when you are forecasting 18 months out and things change. If my projection that our overall expenses will be lower comes true, then FNCE should generate more income for the Academy than was budgeted. Hopefully, we can provide an update on Tuesday.

I will stop here with the good news. Robert Miller just informed me he will be sending out the webinar request. So, please look for it in your e-mail. Also, if anyone can't attend, please let me know as soon as possible. Have a great weekend.

Attachment:

All,

Yes, hard to believe, but, we have another Finance and Audit Committee meeting on Tuesday, November 19th at 1 p.m. CST. You will receive the webinar notification either today or Monday. Also, Maria will put the information onto the portal today and let you know when it is available.

We are still processing all of the preliminary October financial information. Therefore we won't be able to provide it to you until next week. Having the FAC meeting a week early has made it difficult to process all of the bills from FNCE. Some of which, still, have not been provided to us. We will record the "budget" on expenses wherever we need to. However, I would prefer to have as many "actual" expenses as possible. On Tuesday, we should have more accurate information and will share with you then our progress and results.

Even with the limited October information, we have a full agenda this month. In addition to the finances, we have to approve the 2015 budget parameters and we have a request from ACEND for funding support. Since the ACEND funding request will require a quorum of the committee to vote, please let me know if you cannot attend the meeting.

Even though I can't provide to you the October financials, I can provide some of our "usual" information.

I. September Changes

- There was only one change from the September financial package and it did not affect September. The General Mills grant was originally budgeted to be provided to the Foundation in October. This was moved to January. So, when looking at the budget distribution on page A3, you might notice the October and January 2014 budget revenue changed. Even though General Mills has stepped up to increase the grants from $500,000 to $1,000,000 we did not change the overall budget. So, we should see an over-run in revenue in January for the Foundation.

II. Investments

- Even though we are not done with all of October, I can tell you that the investments were very good. Investments returned a combined $1,450,414 in October. Through October, this brings our total to $2,644,229. This is more than double the amount we budgeted through the same period of time. Through yesterday, November 14th, the combined portfolio is up another $735,000. It is hard to say what the rest of the month will bring. I will admit, I am beginning to get a little nervous in the short term. That being said, Al believes stocks still have room to run upward. Given that interest rates are low, there is very limited inflation on the horizon and the FED has signaled it may continue the stimulus, the best place to have money is in equities. I agree with him. However, there will be another "budget fight" in Washington after the beginning of 2014. So, we need to keep our eyes on this situation. Even that may only cause a short term hick-up. I am an "old school" investor. I never like seeing stocks continue to go straight-up without some correction. History would indicate there will be one coming. If it does happen, it should be a short term issue that will allow people to add more money to the market and drive it back upwards.

III. FNCE Update

We don't have October done quite yet. The primary reason is the expenses are not done. On the revenue front, we have most of this completed. Right now it looks like FNCE generated $4,507,234 in revenue. We budgeted $4,524,838. The net result was a shortfall in revenue of.....wait for itdrum roll please$17,604!! Even though some revenue areas did better and some didn't do as well, the overall result comes in at 99.6% of budget. Not too bad!!!

The staff did a great job when the budgets were developed. There will be some adjustments as we go forward. Most of which will be requests for refunds for those registrants who could not make FNCE due to medical or family emergencies. This should be small. We also have factored in the remaining amount of the Houston guarantee. This was requested last week and Houston is reviewing our information. I don't expect any issues with them paying out the final installment.

I would expect that overall, once travel is factored into the equation, the FNCE expenses will be lower than budget as well. Again, there will be some that are over budget and some that are under budget. That happens when you are forecasting 18 months out and things change. If my projection that our overall expenses will be lower comes true, then FNCE should generate more income for the Academy than was budgeted. Hopefully, we can provide an update on Tuesday.

I will stop here with the good news. Robert Miller just informed me he will be sending out the webinar request. So, please look for it in your e-mail. Also, if anyone can't attend, please let me know as soon as possible. Have a great weekend.

Paul

I would like to add my thanks and kudos to my colleagues on this publication. We take the wonderful pieces on our Capitol Hill visits to give to Hill staffers. The image of this piece suddenly changes our image as well. It is such a consumer friendly piece that they no longer see our issues as abstract.

The connection of Food and Nutrition as the title suggest then is embedded in these policy makers minds!

Hi All,

I was speaking with the rep from the company that helped us distribute the KER/Hilary Knight PSA. I asked her if she could put our video into perspective against other campaigns so that we could know where we stand and what to work on in the future. I think you'll be pleased with her analysis...

To offer some perspectives, when I personally evaluate how a campaign is doing, I look at the number of stations airing, quality of those stations (markets, as well as network affiliations), audience impressions and media value.

Your campaign, with 62 stations airing, 83.8 million impressions and $1.7 million in media value is definitely on the higher end of the scope when I look at the results of other nonprofits. What's interesting to me, is that its the more well known nonprofit names that tend to garner high results because they are more recognized among public service directors. So first off, I think the Academy did well making it into that circle as a nonprofit that's not as much of a household name.

Looking at the higher end campaigns, one high profile nonprofit garnered 55 stations, with 62.5 million impressions (almost 20 million less!). Another campaign, not necessarily high profile, garnered 38 stations and 13.5 million impressions (although this campaign was released a few

As far as quality of stations, you certainly have great markets. You also have excellent representation among the key networks. As a breakdown, 23% of stations are NBC affiliates, 23% Fox, 21% ABC, and CBS 19%. This leaves only a small balance, 14% for other networks, including independents, CW, My 9, etc. We feel that the acceptance among the Big 5 is a result of the very timely subject matter. Quite honestly, WABC here in New York is a tough nut to crack, yet they are airing your spot.

Finally, I note that you have a higher concentration of airings during the daytime, no doubt reaching moms and parents. Roughly 50% of your airings occurred between 5am and 4pm. In addition, only 22% of your airings were in the overnight hours, whereas normally we see about 30%. And 5% of airings were in prime time. We usually only see 2-3% in prime time. So it looks like airings for your campaign shifted to better play during the day and in prime time.

Subject: Hilary Knight PSA

Hi All,

I was speaking with the rep from the company that helped us distribute the KER/Hilary Knight PSA. I asked her if she could put our video into perspective against other campaigns so that we could know where we stand and what to work on in the future. I think you'll be pleased with her analysis...

To offer some perspectives, when I personally evaluate how a campaign is doing, I look at the number of stations airing, quality of those stations (markets, as well as network affiliations), audience impressions and media value.

Your campaign, with 62 stations airing, 83.8 million impressions and $1.7 million in media value is definitely on the higher end of the scope when I look at the results of other nonprofits. What's interesting to me, is that its the more well known nonprofit names that tend to garner high results because they are more recognized among public service directors. So first off, I think the Academy did well making it into that circle as a nonprofit that's not as much of a household name.

Looking at the higher end campaigns, one high profile nonprofit garnered 55 stations, with 62.5 million impressions (almost 20 million less!). Another campaign, not necessarily high profile, garnered 38 stations and 13.5 million impressions (although this campaign was released a few months after yours). For now, I'd put these results in the low middle range.

As far as quality of stations, you certainly have great markets. You also have excellent representation among the key networks. As a breakdown, 23% of stations are NBC affiliates, 23% Fox, 21% ABC, and CBS 19%. This leaves only a small balance, 14% for other networks, including independents, CW, My 9, etc. We feel that the acceptance among the Big 5 is a result of the very timely subject matter. Quite honestly, WABC here in New York is a tough nut to crack, yet they are airing your spot.

Finally, I note that you have a higher concentration of airings during the daytime, no doubt reaching moms and parents. Roughly 50% of your airings occurred between 5am and 4pm. In addition, only 22% of your airings were in the overnight hours, whereas normally we see about 30%. And 5% of airings were in prime time. We usually only see 2-3% in prime time. So it looks like airings for your campaign shifted to better play during the day and in prime time.

The Food and Drug Administration has tentatively determined that partially hydrogenated oils (PHOs), which are the primary dietary source of industrially produced trans fatty acids, or trans fat, are not generally recognized as safe (GRAS) for any use in food based on current scientific evidence. the Academy plans to comment in support of FDA's effort, which is consistent with the Dietary Guidelines for Americans, to reduce artificial trans fats from the food supply.
