Donna,

PPW was not on the books when we picked the Foundation BOD meeting dates.

But, now Beth is looking at locations close to DC so that those that need to can attend both meetings.

Also, PPW does not begin until 4 pm on June 23. The Foundation meeting will have ended by then.

Thanks!

Martha

TO: Academy Board of Directors

FROM: Council on Research

RE: Process for Alignment with the Scientific Integrity Principles

During the last program year, the Board of Directors requested that the Council on Research develop a set of Scientific Integrity Principles (SIP) to guide scientific activities at the Academy. These were approved by the Board of Directors in March 2015 and published in the Journal in September of 2015. The six principles are broad and are designed to allow Academy units and committees to fill in the details as relevant and practical for their areas and activities. We are now asking for your support in filling in these details.

To assist with this process, the Council has outlined 5 steps to a self-assessment of the scientific activities and related policies. Please review these instructions (attachment 1.0), the SIP (attachment 1.1), and the example form (attachment 1.2) carefully; we expect this process will impact most Academy units. Your committee may not conduct research, however, if you fund grants or provide education, you are engaged in a scientific activity and therefore your participation is requested.

We are requesting that Academy committees begin this process in the 2015-2016 program year. DPGs and MIGs will be asked to complete the same process during the next program year. Academy affiliates are independent and are welcome to use this process next year but are not required to do so.

The timeline for committees to complete this process is as follows:

February 4, 2016; 12 noon central time—Optional webinar to learn more about the process from committee chairs on the Council on Research and have the opportunity to ask questions. Register here to attend the webinar. The recording will be distributed to committee chairs and staff partners.

March 1, 2016—Committees return this form to the Council on Research

May 15, 2016—Council on Research response

2016/2017 Program Year—Committees will include revision and/or development of relevant policies to their Plan of Work for the new program year, and submit to the Council for review. As policies are completed, the Council on Research will approve and forward to BOD for approval or will request further revisions.

August 2016—Process begins for DPGs, MIGs, and affiliates, if interested. The Council on Research will send these groups an email with further details and host another webinar when the process begins for them.

The Council on Research is available throughout this process for questions or concerns. We look forward to working with you on unifying the Academy's policies under these principles. Please contact Rosa Hand, staff partner for this project with your completed self-assessment or any questions.

Public Policy Workshop Save the Date – Important Announcement

Drum roll please! We know you have been waiting for information about the 2016 Public Policy Workshop – please save June 23—24, 2016 for this exclusive event!

Exciting changes have been made to the format of the meeting to make attending easier for affiliates, DPGs, MIGs and member leaders.

- New format that focuses on current issues (1/2 day) and a full day of Hill visits
- Emphasis on pre-meeting web-based preparation
- Reduced registration rate and deep discount for student attendees
- ANDPAC signature breakfast for contributors prior to storming the Hill

We are planning other impressive changes to the Academy's professional education surrounding policy as well! Watch for an expanded policy track at FNCE®, quarterly advocacy days in Washington, D.C. and in your state and additional on-line training opportunities.

The Academy is pleased to continue to offer scholarships for the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) in each affiliate and the Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) for each DPG/MIG. More information will be provided regarding the PPC and PAL scholarship.

We look forward to seeing you in Washington, D.C. in June!

January Public Policy Forum - Join Today

Hear from policy leaders who have worked effectively with others on the public policy panel to improve payment/coverage of nutrition services within your affiliate. Please join our speakers, Sandi Morris, RDN CD, Patty Marincic, PhD RD, LD, CLE and John Gobble, DrPH RDN LD MCHES for the next Public Policy Open Forum.

Working Together to Improve Nutrition Services Coverage: How Public Policy Panels Do It! Tuesday, January 19 2016 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Register today for the January Public Policy Open Forum . All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend ( please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Strategic Measures Webinar Recordings and Handouts for Affiliates, DPGs and MIGs

The Strategic Measures webinar recordings and handouts for public policy leaders are available on the Public Policy Panel COI. Once you have listened to the recording, please send an email to Paulina. The Code 175 CPEU certificate and an evaluation survey will be returned to you.

All affiliate, DPG and MIG public policy leaders should listen to the recording of the Strategic Measures webinar. If you have questions, let me know.

Tune In on Wednesday: Senate Hearing on Child Nutrition Programs

On Wednesday, Jan. 20, the Senate Agriculture Committee will hold a hearing to discuss the Improving Child Nutrition Integrity and Access Act of 2016. This hearing is an important initial step regarding Child Nutrition Authorization, which funds programs such as Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC), School Meals, Summer Food Service Program, Child and Adult Care Food Program, Farm to School and the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program.

The Academy is reviewing the details of the bill, to see how they compare to the Academy's recommendations. From an initial review, many of the Academy's recommendations have been included.

When we determine the Academy's position on the bill, we will provide you additional information in Public Policy Weekly News. Once the CNR bill is on the Senate Floor, we anticipate activating the Academy membership. Watch for additional information next week.

Date: Wednesday, Jan. 20, 2016

Time: 10 a.m. (Eastern Time)

2016 Award for Grassroots Excellence

Have you considered nominating one of your outstanding public policy leaders for the Academy's award? It is time to start thinking about who you would like to nominate for the 2016 Award for Grassroots Excellence. The form is available in the awards topic folder on the Public Policy Panel COI. The deadline for submitting nominations is Friday, January 22, 2016.

2016 Public Policy Leadership Award

The Academy is seeking nominations to recognize member(s) of Congress who have demonstrated or have the potential to demonstrate outstanding service and support for nutrition and health issues of importance to the Academy and the public. The deadline for submitting nominations is Friday, January 22, 2016. To nominate a Representative or Senator, simply have the affiliate leadership complete the nomination form. The form is available in the Public Policy Panel COI.

Action Alerts Reports

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPC) will find the action alert participation reports posted last week in the 2016 PPC reports topic folder of the PPC COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for you to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

The action alert metrics reports for affiliate, DPG and MIG leaders are posted on the Public Policy Panel COI. The updated participation percentage information for each affiliate, DPG and MIG for all eight action alerts will be posted later today. The reports are located in the 2016 Participation Reports topic folder in the Public Policy Panel COI. These reports are also available in the position communities of interest as well.

Opportunities to Serve -- Important Information

It is time once again for members to indicate their interest in volunteering on national committees and task forces. The "Opportunities to Serve" survey is now available online.

Please note that a description of each committee is available via a link in the "Opportunities to Serve" survey. Members appointed to serve on an Academy committee or task force for 2016-2017 do not need to complete the Opportunities to Serve Survey. Instead, we ask that you share this information with colleagues who may be interested in volunteering on an Academy committee or task force.

The information you provide when completing this survey will be critical to Lucille Beseler, MS, RDN, LDN, CDE, President-elect, and Linda Farr, RDN, LD, FAND, Speaker-elect, as they make appointments for the various Academy committees and task forces throughout the 2016-2017 program year. Although we cannot ensure that everyone who completes the survey will be selected to serve, every effort will be made to consider your unique talents during the appointment process.

Members should complete this survey by February 11, 2016. If you have any questions or concerns regarding the survey, please contact Charlene Rice ( crice@eatright.org or 800/877-1600, ext. 4892).

Please accept our gratitude after you have completed this survey. Your willingness to serve the Academy is greatly appreciated!

Academy DPG Experts Needed

The Academy is considering commenting on a number of proposed regulations, regulatory guidance and information/data collections in the next two months. If you are interested in contributing to the Academy's responses to these regulatory initiatives, please work through your Dietetic Practice Groups (DPGs) to submit input on behalf of the DPG. Many of these information collections are seeking strategies and input for improving research and program structure on the listed topics.

To read more about the proposed rules, click on the links below. The dates noted are the deadline for DPGs to submit input to the Academy's Regulatory Affairs team.

Thanks Donna. Also, I know you informed me that Debbie Kibbe can serve as a back-up for you. Wanted to let you know that Gail Frank also volunteered to serve as a back-up for your presentation. Gail provided this background:

I have School Nutrition and Child Care Food Program hands on experience, working with them to design and implement salad bars, modified menus, training staff on lowering sodium, fat and sugar, developing complete programs to train foodservice staff, conducting 2-week long training programs for 3 years, writing the white paper on nutritional content of school breakfast and lunch program, and designed the methodology for the first national evaluation by USDA of the National School Lunch Program and Directing the first Child Nutrition (school and Child Care Food Program Management Center (PROMc) in CA from 1990-1994. For the past 26 years, I have contracts with 4-5 large school districts to set-up the training experiences for the school foodservices and interns. This requires that I keep up-to-date on the USDA requirements, nutrient analysis programs, taste tests with kids and staff training.

Pearlie, I am definitely willing to serve as a back up for Kathy Cobb. I would love to do what she does! In terms of the person you are emailing me about I need to do some more checking on him. He is very active in the Academy and very visible, but I have heard some ethics complaints from another Academy spokesperson about him and I would like to check him out a little further with that person before I give him the OK. He certainly is enthusiastic and probably would make an outstanding back-up. What is puzzling to me is that if he has heard people talk about how much they like the Child and Adolescent Weight Management Program, why did he not ask them if there was a School Nutrition Speaker? I promise to get back to you on that subject.

Hi there,

My name is Wesley Delbridge and I am a Registered Dietitian and Media Spokesperson for the Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics. I have been hearing great things from my colleagues and peers about the Child & Adolescent Weight Management Conferences. My passion is in school nutrition and how we can get school nutrition programs to get kids to eat healthier. I am the director of a food & nutrition department in a school district myself and I am always trying to get our message out.

My question is to you have guest speakers at these Child & Adult Weight Management Conferences? If you do, I think that a session on school nutrition and the innovative ways we are getting kids to eat healthier at school would be a great topic. I would like to let you that I would love to be one of your guest speakers at any of the upcoming conferences if that is something you are interested in.

Thank for all you do for our profession and for the Academy. Have a great day!

Pearlie, I am definitely willing to serve as a back up for Kathy Cobb. I would love to do what she does! In terms of the person you are emailing me about I need to do some more checking on him. He is very active in the Academy and very visible, but I have heard some ethics complaints from another Academy spokesperson about him and I would like to check him out a little further with that person before I give him the OK. He certainly is enthusiastic and probably would make an outstanding back-up. What is puzzling to me is that if he has heard people talk about how much they like the Child and Adolescent Weight Management Program, why did he not ask them if there was a School Nutrition Speaker? I promise to get back to you on that subject.

Hi there,

My name is Wesley Delbridge and I am a Registered Dietitian and Media Spokesperson for the Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics. I have been hearing great things from my colleagues and peers about the Child & Adolescent Weight Management Conferences. My passion is in school nutrition and how we can get school nutrition programs to get kids to eat healthier. I am the director of a food & nutrition department in a school district myself and I am always trying to get our message out.

My question is to you have guest speakers at these Child & Adult Weight Management Conferences? If you do, I think that a session on school nutrition and the innovative ways we are getting kids to eat healthier at school would be a great topic. I would like to let you that I would love to be one of your guest speakers at any of the upcoming conferences if that is something you are interested in.

Thank for all you do for our profession and for the Academy. Have a great day!

Thanks Donna. Also, I know you informed me that Debbie Kibbe can serve as a back-up for you. Wanted to let you know that Gail Frank also volunteered to serve as a back-up for your presentation. Gail provided this background:

I have School Nutrition and Child Care Food Program hands on experience, working with them to design and implement salad bars, modified menus, training staff on lowering sodium, fat and sugar, developing complete programs to train foodservice staff, conducting 2-week long training programs for 3 years, writing the white paper on nutritional content of school breakfast and lunch program, and designed the methodology for the first national evaluation by USDA of the National School Lunch Program and Directing the first Child Nutrition (school and Child Care Food Program Management Center (PROMc) in CA from 1990-1994. For the past 26 years, I have contracts with 4-5 large school districts to set-up the training experiences for the school foodservices and interns. This requires that I keep up-to-date on the USDA requirements, nutrient analysis programs, taste tests with kids and staff training.

Connect with the Academy:

January 19, 2016

To my fellow members:

As you know, the Board of Directors has been reviewing the Academy's sponsorship program.

On behalf of the entire Board, thank you to all members individuals, Affiliates, Dietetic Practice Groups, Member Interest Groups, the House of Delegates, the Foundation Board of Directors and to the members of the Sponsorship Advisory Task Force (SATF). We appreciate the considerable thought and hard work that went into your feedback and excellent recommendations. Your input has helped shape the Boards action plan.

The Board received the SATF report at our January 13 meeting and found it to be thoughtful, balanced and helpful. The Board voted to implement a pilot program encompassing many of the SATFs recommendations. The one-year pilot program includes appointing a Sponsorship Committee to review national-level sponsor opportunities and to develop assessment tools that will support the sponsorship process.

The Board of Directors approved the following newly revised sponsorship guidelines, which take effect immediately for all Academy organizational units. Dietetic Practice Groups and Member Interest Groups will be required to adhere to these guidelines and Affiliates are encouraged to adopt them.

Sponsorship approval requires that:

- The sponsors vision and mission align with the Academys Vision, Mission and Strategic Goals.
- The sponsors product portfolio is broadly aligned with the Academys Vision: Optimizing health through food and nutrition.

- The sponsor relationship and sponsor product portfolio are broadly aligned with official Academy positions.
- All aspects of the sponsorship (such as research, consumer messaging or professional education for members) align with the Academys Scientific Integrity Principles.
- The Academy does not endorse any company, brand or company products, nor does the Academys name or logo appear on any product. Such endorsement is neither actual nor implied.
- The Academy maintains final editorial control and approval of all content in materials bearing the Academy name or logo.
- There is clear separation of Academy messages and content from brand information or promotion.
- Relevant facts and important information are included.

The Board is confident that these revised guidelines and the new Sponsorship Committee pilot program will enable the Academy to better serve the organization and our members.

The Board is committed to transparency in our processes and we welcome member feedback. Please send an email to president@eatright.org.

Again, a special thank you to everyone who contributed to this important effort.

Dear Board of Directors:

Pat mentioned to you this past week that staff would schedule webinars on topics of interest in between Board meetings. She asked that we begin first with a webinar on the Academy's grassroots advocacy program. Darchele will be sending you a poll to determine your availability for January 29th.

The webinar will provide an overview of the Academy's grassroots advocacy program and highlight important changes in the professional development component of the program. Notably, the Public Policy Workshop (PPW) will be realigned to better meet the needs of attendees and to further advance the policy and advocacy goals of the Academy. Exciting changes have been made to the format of the meeting to make attending easier for affiliates, DPGs/MIGs and member leaders. An update on the implementation efforts related to strategic measures for grassroots advocacy will also be included in the presentation.

I look forward to the discussion and your feedback and ideas.

Best Regards,

Jeanne

Subject: Child & Adolescent Weight Management Conference 2015

Hi there,

My name is Wesley Delbridge and I am a Registered Dietitian and Media Spokesperson for the Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics. I have been hearing great things from my colleagues and peers about the Child & Adolescent Weight Management Conferences. My passion is in school nutrition and how we can get school nutrition programs to get kids to eat healthier. I am the director of a food & nutrition department in a school district myself and I am always trying to get our message out.

My question is to you have guest speakers at these Child & Adult Weight Management Conferences? If you do, I think that a session on school nutrition and the innovative ways we are getting kids to eat healthier at school would be a great topic. I would like to let you that I would love to be one of your guest speakers at any of the upcoming conferences if that is something you are interested in.

Thank for all you do for our profession and for the Academy. Have a great day!

Subject: Grassroots Advocacy Update -- Webinar January 29

Dear Board of Directors:

Pat mentioned to you this past week that staff would schedule webinars on topics of interest in between Board meetings. She asked that we begin first with a webinar on the Academy's grassroots advocacy program. Darchele will be sending you a poll to determine your availability for January 29th.

The webinar will provide an overview of the Academy's grassroots advocacy program and highlight important changes in the professional development component of the program. Notably, the Public Policy Workshop (PPW) will be realigned to better meet the needs of attendees and to further advance the policy and advocacy goals of the Academy. Exciting changes have been made to the format of the meeting to make attending easier for affiliates, DPGs/MIGs and member leaders. An update on the implementation efforts related to strategic measures for grassroots advocacy will also be included in the presentation.

I look forward to the discussion and your feedback and ideas.

Best Regards,

Jeanne

Joan, Thanks for the heads up. I much prefer the Mar 10-11 dates as my daughters 2nd baby is due March 3. I agreed to do the Alabama talk because it was after her due date and I felt like she would not go past her due date. This would definitely be a help to me to come March 10-11 instead of March 3-4.

I reached out to the Alabama meeting organizer Tammy Beasley to see what day had been scheduled for your presentation and she said although it would be either of those days they would be willing to have their president share the Academy Update PPT should the BOD meeting conflict. We did have a few adjustments in cash inflows this year versus last year. So, if the money isn't coming in, then we need the money from reserves. That is the bad news. The good news is most of the shortfall is timing. Money would come into our accounts in December and January and go out by the end of May. So, this year, we won't see the money going out in May. That should allow me to put some of the money back into reserves. For example, if I had $1,000,000 coming into the Academy and Foundation in December historically and going out on May 31st, the impact to our cash is essentially $0. So, if the money didn't come in this past December, then it won't be going out in May. Again, the impact is $0. Therefore, if nothing changes, we will have more cash in May than usual. This should allow me to put back money into the investment reserves at that time. If the cash shift we are experiencing this year continues, this may become our "new normal". If so, then we may want to increase our borrowing ability since it should remain short term, just a little larger than we now have available. We will have a better understanding as we move into February.

> If the investments don't rebound in January, we will see a large drop in our reserves. Since the money I am taking out is currently in cash, it should not have any impact on our investment gains or losses. However, it may have an impact on AI's ability to purchase new stocks and bonds as we move forward.

Mary Pat, the School Nutrition Association send out what the changes are supposed to be in the new bill. I support all of them. The 80% might be a little difficult to monitor, but I think it was a great compromise. I am supposed to come to DC with Pew Feb 22 to help support the changes.

Hopefully, I can talk to you then.

This campaigning has me running wide open. Sonya and Lucille said it is worse than being president. I hope they are correct because it is much more than I thought! Thanks for the email. It means a lot! If I wind up winning this, I will have to say it is due a lot to your support and making me so visible in the SNP arena and to the membership. I know you have my back and I have yours. Thanks again!

Good morning!

I am so sorry to have missed the BOD and seeing you. I am sure it went well.

I would have updated you on Child Nutrition Reauthorization Act and the Academy's recommendations. The bill will introduced on Tuesday. As you might remember, we had many suggestions covering a broad range of issues including school meals but also WIC, Child and Adult Care and nutrition education. We worked very closely with the Senate authors on the language which was very bipartisan.

In our small meetings with the Senate, we are pleased to learn of the proposed language. We have not shared any information broadly as groups have been asked to hold off until the full Senate sees the bill. We certainly understand that request and are respectful of the situation.

We will share an official announcement after the mark-up on Wednesday.

I wanted to thank you in person for all your help and support in this process!

Take care,
Mary Pat

Happy Holidays from the Academy!

Here is the sponsorship communication that will be posted to the HOD community on Monday, January 18, and shared with all members on Tuesday, January 19. Please keep this information confidential until Monday, January 18.

Thank you very much.

January 19, 2016

To my fellow members:

As you know, the Board of Directors has been reviewing the Academy's corporate sponsorship program.

On behalf of the entire Board, thank you to all members – individuals, Affiliates, Dietetic Practice Groups, Member Interest Groups, delegates, the Foundation Board of Directors and to the members of the Sponsorship Advisory Task Force (SATF). We appreciate the considerable thought and hard work that went into your feedback and excellent recommendations. Your input has helped shape the Board's action plan.

The Board received the SATF report at our January 13 meeting and found the report to be thoughtful, balanced and helpful. The Board voted to implement a pilot program encompassing many of the SATF's recommendations. The one-year pilot program includes appointing a Sponsorship Committee to review national-level sponsor opportunities and to develop assessment tools that will support the sponsorship process.

The Board of Directors approved the following newly revised sponsorship guidelines, which take effect immediately for all Academy organizational units. Dietetic Practice Groups and Member Interest Groups will be required to adhere to these guidelines and Affiliates are encouraged to adopt them.

Sponsorship approval requires that:

- The sponsor's vision and mission align with the Academy's Vision, Mission and Strategic Goals.
- The sponsor's product portfolio is broadly aligned with the Academy's Vision: Optimizing health through food and nutrition.
- The sponsor relationship and sponsor product portfolio are broadly aligned with official Academy positions.

- All aspects of the sponsorship (such as research, consumer messaging or professional education for members) align with the Academy's Scientific Integrity Principles.
- The Academy does not endorse any company, brand or company products, nor does the Academy's name or logo appear on any product. Such endorsement is neither actual nor implied.
- The Academy maintains final editorial control and approval of all content in materials bearing the Academy name or logo.
- There is clear separation of Academy messages and content from brand information or promotion.
- Relevant facts and important information are included.

The Board is confident that these revised guidelines and the new Sponsorship Committee pilot program will enable the Academy to better serve the organization and our members.

The Board is committed to transparency in our processes and we welcome member feedback. Please send an email to president@eatright.org.

Again, a special thank you to everyone who contributed to this important effort.

Below are statements from the president-elect candidates

Donna Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND

As we move past the holidays into a new year, I am thankful for the numerous professional opportunities I had in 2015. As I run for President-elect, I also have the opportunity to reflect on the rich legacy and history of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. Nearly 100 years ago, a group of courageous women set out to position us as the leaders in nutrition and public health. Today, I am dedicated to our opportunities to continue that leadership and share our nutrition expertise with communities, policy makers and families across America. My professional opportunities directly impact the health of my rural Georgia school district and surrounding county, and I know each of you plays a unique and positive role in the health of your communities. It would be a great honor to represent you as we work together for the Academy's success in our next 100 years.

Nancy Lewis, PhD, RDN, FADA, FAND

Connecting members, internally and externally, is a key to our continued success. Growing up in a family with five brothers, I learned at an early age how to stand my ground while at the same time being a team player, a good listener and a negotiator. In every position I have held in my career, I have worked toward win-win solutions promoting mutual respect, integrity and effective communication. This is a critical time to protect and promote respect of the RDN and NDTR as the nutrition experts. I worked as past chair of Nutrition Care Process and Terminology Committee, developing the process and terminology that now make it possible for us to collect outcomes data and show the impact of our interventions. My leadership experience, including that as a member of the Board of Directors and the Research Council, has prepared me to lead at this time.

Hi there,

My name is Wesley Delbridge and I am a Registered Dietitian and Media Spokesperson for the Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics. I have been hearing great things from my colleagues and peers about the Child & Adolescent Weight Management Conferences. My passion is in school nutrition and how we can get school nutrition programs to get kids to eat healthier. I am the director of a food & nutrition department in a school district myself and I am always trying to get our message out.

My question is to you have guest speakers at these Child & Adult Weight Management Conferences? If you do, I think that a session on school nutrition and the innovative ways we are getting kids to eat healthier at school would be a great topic. I would like to let you that I would love to be one of your guest speakers at any of the upcoming conferences if that is something you are interested in.

Thank for all you do for our profession and for the Academy. Have a great day!

Dear Board of Directors:

Pat mentioned to you this past week that staff would schedule webinars on topics of interest in between Board meetings. She asked that we begin first with a webinar on the Academy's grassroots advocacy program. Darchele will be sending you a poll to determine your availability for January 29th.

The webinar will provide an overview of the Academy's grassroots advocacy program and highlight important changes in the professional development component of the program. Notably, the Public Policy Workshop (PPW) will be realigned to better meet the needs of attendees and to further advance the policy and advocacy goals of the Academy. Exciting changes have been made to the format of the meeting to make attending easier for affiliates, DPGs/MIGs and member leaders. An update on the implementation efforts related to strategic measures for grassroots advocacy will also be included in the presentation.

I look forward to the discussion and your feedback and ideas.

Best Regards,

Jeanne

All,

I want to let you know that we will need to take another $500,000 out of reserves by next week. As I may have mentioned before, the timing of cash flows is critical. We did have a few adjustments in cash inflows this year versus last year. So, if the money isn't coming in, then we need the money from reserves. That is the bad news. The good news is most of the shortfall is timing. Money would come into our accounts in December and January and go out by the end of May. So, this year, we won't see the money going out in May. That should allow me to put some of the money back into reserves. For example, if I had $1,000,000 coming into the Academy and Foundation in December historically and going out on May 31st, the impact to our cash is essentially $0. So, if the money didn't come in this past December, then it won't be going out in May. Again, the impact is $0. Therefore, if nothing changes, we will have more cash in May than usual. This should allow me to put back money into the investment reserves at that time. If the cash shift we are experiencing this year continues, this may become our "new normal". If so, then we may want to increase our borrowing ability since it should remain short term, just a little larger than we now have available. We will have a better understanding as we move into February.

If the investments don't rebound in January, we will see a large drop in our reserves. Since the money I am taking out is currently in cash, it should not have any impact on our investment gains or losses. However, it may have an impact on AI's ability to purchase new stocks and bonds as we move forward.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know. I can be reached at 800-877-1600, ext. 4730.

Just to be clear. I want to make sure I did not do anything wrong in sending out that email? It would only be a problem if a member leader sent something out using their position? The people I sent it to I thought all knew they could not endorse anyone, but some of them wanted to see what I was sending out. I think all of us are clear on that point that we cannot campaign for others.

Hi Donna,

Thanks for your message. The committee will closely review the guidelines after the election and welcome any additional thoughts you have on how to improve them. As requested, attached is the directory list found on the following page

<http://www.eatrightpro.org/~media/eatrightpro%20files/leadership/volunteering/committees%20and%20task%20forces/leadershipdirectory.ashx> .

A member shared a copy of your campaign message below, mentioning it was sent to an Academy member leader. As you know according the campaign guidelines you may of course “enlist friends and colleagues to campaign on your behalf by sending emails, making phone calls, posting on their personal social media outlets, etc.” And, member leaders may show support for a candidate as an individual without mentioning their leadership position. However, just as reminder in case a member leader may ask, they cannot state they represent an Academy organizational unit while campaigning for, promote, or create the appearance of favoritism towards individual candidates.

Regarding Meet the Candidates Forum, one of the speaker-elect candidates is not available to participate in the Speaker-elect forum on Monday, February 1 but is available Tuesday. Are you still available to participate on the President-elect Forum on Monday, February 1 if we switch the dates?

Thank you again!

Dear

I am reaching out to my closest friends to ask for your support in my campaign to become the next President-elect of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. You have mentored me, encouraged me and supported me in this quest – and I am incredibly grateful. Now I need your help in getting my message out to your friends and colleagues. Academy members tend to vote for a candidate because they know them personally – or because a friend encourages them to vote for that specific person. I hope you can help me by reaching out to your Academy friends and colleagues with the following information posted below. I will be eternally grateful if you can copy and paste this message and send it to at least ten Academy members in the next week.

As you probably know Donna Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND, is a candidate for President-Elect of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. I am honored to support her 2016 candidacy for this leadership position at a critical time in our professional.

I am asking you to support Donna too – and hope you will take the time to check out her vision for the future of the Academy. As part of her campaign, Donna has set up a website at www.donnamartinrdn.com/. If you do not know Donna well, this site can help you learn more about her expertise in advocacy, her ability to think outside the box, and her platform, as well as her supporters, awards and other biographical information.

I encourage you to vote for Donna when the election website opens on February 1. I also hope that you will support Donna's campaign by:

- Liking her on Facebook at www.facebook.com/donnamartinforpresidentelect
- Following her on Twitter at @donnamartinrd
- Encouraging your Academy friends/colleagues to vote beginning February 1st.
- Please follow the #eatrightPRO National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines at <http://www.eatrightpro.org/resource/leadership/nominations-and-elections/elections-process/national-campaign-and-social-media-guidelines>

Thanks so much for supporting Donna in any way you can. She would love to hear your suggestions or comments before, during or after the election – you can reach her at donnasmartinforpresidentelect@gmail.com

Joan, I do not have a way to send out eblasts to a group because I was under the impression that we couldn't. I have not signed up for any eblast services. I would like to see the list you mentioned in your email to see who all she sent her mail chimp eblast to? I got one from her also! When I clicked on the link you sent it took me to the Academy website, but it said "oops" sorry page is not here. Could you send me the list in an excel file or any type of file so I could just see how extensive the group was she mailed out to? Then I guess I can make a decision about whether or not I join an eblast service to send out one eblast to this group. Probably not going to do that. I don't want people thinking I am not following the rules. Thanks for keeping me informed. Why can't anything be easy and people just do what they are told to do?

Donna –

I received a campaign email in my Spam box from Nancy Lewis yesterday. I spoke with her to ask who it was sent to and remind her about the guideline prohibiting blast emails to DPGs, affiliates and other Academy members. She said the campaign email was sent only to those in the leadership directory, which is the same directory list/link I sent to you below. Although blast emails are not allowed, since Nancy sent out a campaign email to the full list you are entitled to do so also. At its annual election debriefing meeting the Nominating Committee will review the elections processes and the campaign guidelines which will include looking at better defining the term “blast email” within the guidelines.

As always, please let me know if you have any questions.

Hi Donna,

I was contacted by another candidate regarding sending emails to member leaders. I wanted to share the following response to her with you.

Yes, you may send an email to member leaders asking for their vote, but please keep in mind the campaign guidelines (attached) state member leaders can campaign on a personal level but not as an officer on behalf of a group. Member leaders representing Academy organizational units may not campaign for, promote, or create the appearance of favoritism towards individual candidates, for example, "As your Delegate, I encourage you to vote for candidate X." The email addresses for the member leaders are available in the Leadership Directory found at <http://www.eatrightpro.org/~media/eatrightpro%20files/leadership/volunteering/committees%20and%20task%20forces/leadershipdirectory.ashx> .

The guidelines changed last year not allowing blast emails unless sent by the Academy; one reason behind the change was to limit the number of campaign messages members receive so they are not inundated. Please be cognizant of this when campaigning to member leaders.

I hope this helps. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks!

Dear

I am reaching out to my closest friends to ask for your support in my campaign to become the next President-elect of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. You have mentored me, encouraged me and supported me in this quest – and I am incredibly grateful. Now I need your help in getting my message out to your friends and colleagues. Academy members tend to vote for a candidate because they know them personally – or because a friend encourages them to vote for that specific person. I hope you can help me by reaching out to your Academy friends and colleagues with the following information posted below. I will be eternally grateful if you can copy and paste this message and send it to at least ten Academy members in the next week.

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LDN, SNS, FAND

School Nutrition Director

Burke County Public Schools

789 Burke Veterans Parkway

Waynesboro, GA 30830

As you probably know Donna Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND, is a candidate for President-Elect of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. I am honored to support her 2016 candidacy for this leadership position at a critical time in our professional.

I am asking you to support Donna too – and hope you will take the time to check out her vision for the future of the Academy. As part of her campaign, Donna has set up a website at www.donnamartinrdn.com/. If you do not know Donna well, this site can help you learn more about her expertise in advocacy, her ability to think outside the box, and her platform, as well as her supporters, awards and other biographical information.

I encourage you to vote for Donna when the election website opens on February 1. I also hope that you will support Donna's campaign by:

- Liking her on Facebook at www.facebook.com/donnamartinforpresidentelect
- Following her on Twitter at @donnamartinrd
- Encouraging your Academy friends/colleagues to vote beginning February 1st.
- Please follow the #eatrightPRO National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines at <http://www.eatrightpro.org/resource/leadership/nominations-and-elections/elections-process/national-campaign-and-social-media-guidelines>

Thanks so much for supporting Donna in any way you can. She would love to hear your suggestions or comments before, during or after the election – you can reach her at donnasmartinforpresidentelect@gmail.com

Joan, I do not have a way to send out eblasts to a group because I was under the impression that we couldn't. I have not signed up for any eblast services. I would like to see the list you mentioned in your email to see who all she sent her mail chimp eblast to? I got one from her also! When I clicked on the link you sent it took me to the Academy website, but it said "oops" sorry page is not here. Could you send me the list in an excel file or any type of file so I could just see how extensive the group was she mailed out to? Then I guess I can make a decision about whether or not I join an eblast service to send out one eblast to this group. Probably not going to do that. I don't want people thinking I am not following the rules. Thanks for keeping me informed. Why can't anything be easy and people just do what they are told to do?

Donna –

I received a campaign email in my Spam box from Nancy Lewis yesterday. I spoke with her to ask who it was sent to and remind her about the guideline prohibiting blast emails to DPGs, affiliates and other Academy members. She said the campaign email was sent only to those in the leadership directory, which is the same directory list/link I sent to you below. Although blast emails are not allowed, since Nancy sent out a campaign email to the full list you are entitled to do so also. At its annual election debriefing meeting the Nominating Committee will review the elections processes and the campaign guidelines which will include looking at better defining the term “blast email” within the guidelines.

As always, please let me know if you have any questions.

Hi Donna,

I was contacted by another candidate regarding sending emails to member leaders. I wanted to share the following response to her with you.

Yes, you may send an email to member leaders asking for their vote, but please keep in mind the campaign guidelines (attached) state member leaders can campaign on a personal level but not as an officer on behalf of a group. Member leaders representing Academy organizational units may not campaign for, promote, or create the appearance of favoritism towards individual candidates, for example, "As your Delegate, I encourage you to vote for candidate X." The email addresses for the member leaders are available in the Leadership Directory found at <http://www.eatrightpro.org/~media/eatrightpro%20files/leadership/volunteering/committees%20and%20task%20forces/leadershipdirectory.ashx> .

The guidelines changed last year not allowing blast emails unless sent by the Academy; one reason behind the change was to limit the number of campaign messages members receive so they are not inundated. Please be cognizant of this when campaigning to member leaders.

I hope this helps. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks!

Hi Donna,

No, you are following the guidelines. Like you mention, it would only be an issue if the member leader sent something out stating their leadership position. I was sharing with you just in case a member leader would ask, and to see if you have any questions . Thanks for your support!

Yes, I am available.

Just to be clear. I want to make sure I did not do anything wrong in sending out that email? It would only be a problem if a member leader sent something out using their position? The people I sent it to I thought all knew they could not endorse anyone, but some of them wanted to see what I was sending out. I think all of us are clear on that point that we cannot campaign for others.

Hi Donna,

Thanks for your message. The committee will closely review the guidelines after the election and welcome any additional thoughts you have on how to improve them. As requested, attached is the directory list found on the following page

<http://www.eatrightpro.org/~media/eatrightpro%20files/leadership/volunteering/committees%20and%20task%20forces/leadershipdirectory.ashx> .

A member shared a copy of your campaign message below, mentioning it was sent to an Academy member leader. As you know according the campaign guidelines you may of course “enlist friends and colleagues to campaign on your behalf by sending emails, making phone calls, posting on their personal social media outlets, etc.” And, member leaders may show support for a candidate as an individual without mentioning their leadership position. However, just as reminder in case a member leader may ask, they cannot state they represent an Academy organizational unit while campaigning for, promote, or create the appearance of favoritism towards individual candidates.

Regarding Meet the Candidates Forum, one of the speaker-elect candidates is not available to participate in the Speaker-elect forum on Monday, February 1 but is available Tuesday. Are you still available to participate on the President-elect Forum on Monday, February 1 if we switch the dates?

Thank you again!

Member leaders representing Academy organizational units may not campaign for, promote, or create the appearance of favoritism towards individual candidates, for example, "As your Delegate, I encourage you to vote for candidate X." The email addresses for the member leaders are available in the Leadership Directory found at <http://www.eatrightpro.org/~media/eatrightpro%20files/leadership/volunteering/committees%20and%20task%20forces/leadershipdirectory.ashx> .

The guidelines changed last year not allowing blast emails unless sent by the Academy; one reason behind the change was to limit the number of campaign messages members receive so they are not inundated. Please be cognizant of this when campaigning to member leaders.

I hope this helps. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks!

Hi Donna,

Thanks for your message. The committee will closely review the guidelines after the election and welcome any additional thoughts you have on how to improve them. As requested, attached is the directory list found on the following page

<http://www.eatrightpro.org/~media/eatrightpro%20files/leadership/volunteering/committees%20and%20task%20forces/leadershipdirectory.ashx> .

A member shared a copy of your campaign message below, mentioning it was sent to an Academy member leader. As you know according the campaign guidelines you may of course “enlist friends and colleagues to campaign on your behalf by sending emails, making phone calls, posting on their personal social media outlets, etc.” And, member leaders may show support for a candidate as an individual without mentioning their leadership position. However, just as reminder in case a member leader may ask, they cannot state they represent an Academy organizational unit while campaigning for, promote, or create the appearance of favoritism towards individual candidates.

Regarding Meet the Candidates Forum, one of the speaker-elect candidates is not available to participate in the Speaker-elect forum on Monday, February 1 but is available Tuesday. Are you still available to participate on the President-elect Forum on Monday, February 1 if we switch the dates?

Thank you again!

Dear

I am reaching out to my closest friends to ask for your support in my campaign to become the next President-elect of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. You have mentored me, encouraged me and supported me in this quest – and I am incredibly grateful. Now I need your help in getting my message out to your friends and colleagues. Academy members tend to vote for a candidate because they know them personally – or because a friend encourages them to vote for that specific person. I hope you can help me by reaching out to your Academy friends and colleagues with the following information posted below. I will be eternally grateful if you can copy and paste this message and send it to at least ten Academy members in the next week.

As you probably know Donna Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND, is a candidate for President-Elect of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. I am honored to support her 2016 candidacy for this leadership position at a critical time in our professional.

I am asking you to support Donna too – and hope you will take the time to check out her vision for the future of the Academy. As part of her campaign, Donna has set up a website at www.donnamartinrdn.com/. If you do not know Donna well, this site can help you learn more about her expertise in advocacy, her ability to think outside the box, and her platform, as well as her supporters, awards and other biographical information.

I encourage you to vote for Donna when the election website opens on February 1. I also hope that you will support Donna's campaign by:

- Liking her on Facebook at www.facebook.com/donnamartinforpresidentelect
- Following her on Twitter at @donnamartinrd
- Encouraging your Academy friends/colleagues to vote beginning February 1st.
- Please follow the #eatrightPRO National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines at <http://www.eatrightpro.org/resource/leadership/nominations-and-elections/elections-process/national-campaign-and-social-media-guidelines>

Thanks so much for supporting Donna in any way you can. She would love to hear your suggestions or comments before, during or after the election – you can reach her at donnasmartinforpresidentelect@gmail.com

All,

I want to let you know that we will need to take another $500,000 out of reserves by next week. As I may have mentioned before, the timing of cash flows is critical. We did have a few adjustments in cash inflows this year versus last year. So, if the money isn't coming in, then we need the money from reserves. That is the bad news. The good news is most of the shortfall is timing. Money would come into our accounts in December and January and go out by the end of May. So, this year, we won't see the money going out in May. That should allow me to put some of the money back into reserves. For example, if I had $1,000,000 coming into the Academy and Foundation in December historically and going out on May 31st, the impact to our cash is essentially $0. So, if the money didn't come in this past December, then it won't be going out in May. Again, the impact is $0. Therefore, if nothing changes, we will have more cash in May than usual. This should allow me to put back money into the investment reserves at that time. If the cash shift we are experiencing this year continues, this may become our "new normal". If so, then we may want to increase our borrowing ability since it should remain short term, just a little larger than we now have available. We will have a better understanding as we move into February.

If the investments don't rebound in January, we will see a large drop in our reserves. Since the money I am taking out is currently in cash, it should not have any impact on our investment gains or losses. However, it may have an impact on AI's ability to purchase new stocks and bonds as we move forward.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know. I can be reached at 800-877-1600, ext. 4730.

Donna –

I received a campaign email in my Spam box from Nancy Lewis yesterday. I spoke with her to ask who it was sent to and remind her about the guideline prohibiting blast emails to DPGs, affiliates and other Academy members. She said the campaign email was sent only to those in the leadership directory, which is the same directory list/link I sent to you below. Although blast emails are not allowed, since Nancy sent out a campaign email to the full list you are entitled to do so also. At its annual election debriefing meeting the Nominating Committee will review the elections processes and the campaign guidelines which will include looking at better defining the term “blast email” within the guidelines.

As always, please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,

Joan

Joan, Thanks for the information. I am very aware of this change and think it is a good one. I personally appreciate not getting a million emails from any candidate. I am pretty sure I am following all rules, but please let me know if you have any concerns that I am not or if someone complains. I want to stay in the straight and narrow. I do not have any intentions of any complaints being sent to the ethics committee about me!! All help and advice is requested and well received in this area! Thanks again!

Hi Donna,

I was contacted by another candidate regarding sending emails to member leaders. I wanted to share the following response to her with you.

Yes, you may send an email to member leaders asking for their vote, but please keep in mind the campaign guidelines (attached) state member leaders can campaign on a personal level but not as an officer on behalf of a group. Member leaders representing Academy organizational units may not campaign for, promote, or create the appearance of favoritism towards individual candidates, for example, "As your Delegate, I encourage you to vote for candidate X." The email addresses for the member leaders are available in the Leadership Directory found at

The guidelines changed last year not allowing blast emails unless sent by the Academy; one reason behind the change was to limit the number of campaign messages members receive so they are not inundated. Please be cognizant of this when campaigning to member leaders.

I hope this helps. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks!

Joan

Food Politics

Viewpoint: Food-industry Funding of Food and Nutrition Research

Posted: 06 Jan 2016 06:01 AM PST

My latest Viewpoint, "Corporate funding of food and nutrition research: science or marketing," was published yesterday in JAMA Internal Medicine 2016;176 (1):13-14.

doi:10.1001/jamainternmed.2015.6667.

The longstanding influence of food industry funding on nutrition research, researchers, and professional societies<sup>1</sup> threatens the credibility of nutrition science. So much research is sponsored by industry that health professionals and the public may lose confidence in basic dietary advice. Although most journals now require authors to disclose who pays for their work, disclosure—even done diligently—is not sufficient to alert readers to the extent to which industry funding influences research results and professional opinion. As is well established from experimental and observational research, drug company gifts and grants can have substantial effects. To recipients, however, these effects are almost always unconscious, unintentional, and unrecognized, making them especially difficult to prevent.

Medical schools and medical journals have increased efforts to minimize and manage conflicts of interest with industry. But from my observations, nutrition researchers, journals, and professional societies, like medical researchers, often fail to realize that food-industry funding may affect their work and its credibility.

Two recent investigative articles in the New York Times illustrate the concerns about biases introduced by industry funding. The first<sup>3</sup> described the support by Coca-Cola of academic researchers who founded a new organization, the Global Energy Balance Network, to promote physical activity as a more effective method than calorie control (eg, from avoiding sugary sodas) for preventing obesity. The second<sup>4</sup> analyzed emails obtained through open-records requests to document how Monsanto, the multinational agricultural biotechnology corporation, on the one hand, and the organic food industry, on the other, recruited professors to lobby, write, and testify to Congress on their behalf.

Both articles<sup>3,4</sup> quoted the researchers named in these reports as denying an influence of industry funding and lamenting the paucity of university research funds and the competitiveness of federal grants. Despite leaving their organizations open to accusations that they have sold out to industry,<sup>5</sup> officers of nutrition research societies tell me that they cannot function without industry funding of journals and conferences. They have a point. Although the investment by federal agencies in food and nutrition research has increased steadily since the early 1990s, US Department of Agriculture grants are diminishing, and the National Institutes of Health are funding fewer researchers at state agricultural colleges. Investigators have a hard time obtaining grants for projects related to food composition, food technology, nutrients, and nutrient metabolism as federal agencies have understandably shifted priorities toward research on obesity, genetics, and chronic diseases.<sup>6</sup>

Food companies, such as Quaker Oats, used to support basic research conducted by in-house scientists, but Unilever and Nestlé (no relation) are among the very few companies that continue to do so. Instead, food companies outsource research, much of which can appear as designed for marketing purposes. Recently, in preparation for what I intend to be a more systematic analysis of corporate funding of nutrition research, I began collecting a convenience sample of studies funded by food and beverage companies or trade associations as they appear in journals I happen to be reading. I sort them by whether their results do or do not favor the interests of the sponsor, and post examples online at my blog, <http://www.foodpolitics.com>.<sup>7</sup>

Between March and October 2015, I identified 76 industry-funded studies. Of these, 70 reported results favorable to the sponsor's interest. Despite ongoing requests to readers of my blog to help me identify funded studies reporting results contrary to a funder's interest, I have found only 6. [Note: Since writing this, the score has gone to 90:9.] This discrepancy is consistent with the results of systematic investigations of industry sponsorship, such as one on the role of sugar-sweetened beverages in obesity.<sup>8</sup> In general, independently funded studies find correlations between sugary drinks and poor health, whereas those supported by the soda industry do not.<sup>9</sup> In the studies I collected, companies or trade associations promoting soft drinks, dairy foods, eggs, breakfast cereals, pork, beef, soy products, dietary supplements, juices, cranberries, nuts, and chocolates supported the study itself, the investigators, or both. These studies all found significant health benefits or lack of harm from consuming the foods investigated, results that can be useful for deflecting criticism of a company or promoting its products.

Mars Inc, for example, the maker of chocolate candies such as M&Ms, funds studies on the effects of cocoa flavanols on arterial function and blood pressure. One such study, published in September 2015,<sup>10(p1246)</sup> concluded that these compounds "improved accredited cardiovascular surrogates of cardiovascular risk, demonstrating that dietary flavanols have the potential to maintain cardiovascular health even in low-risk subjects." The study investigators,<sup>10</sup> one of whom is employed by Mars, followed well-established scientific protocols in conducting the research. Science is not the issue here. Marketing is the issue. The question is why Mars would fund a study like this and assign one of its employees to help design and write it. In this instance, the answer is obvious. Mars issued a press release “Cocoa flavanols lower blood pressure and increase blood vessel function in healthy people,” and noted these results in a full-page advertisement in the New York Times on September 27, 2015. Neither the press release nor advertisement explained that cocoa flavanols are largely destroyed during all but the most careful processing of chocolate, nor did they mention chocolate at all. They didn’t have to. Uncritical readers are likely to interpret the statements as evidence that chocolate is good for them and that its sugar and calories can be ignored.

The second New York Times article<sup>4</sup> raised more insidious concerns about industry involvement with scientists, using Monsanto and organic food companies as cases in point. Although both industries recruit scientists to speak on their behalf, Monsanto has far greater resources. In 1994, I was a member of the Food Advisory Committee to the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA) when that agency approved genetically modified (GM) foods. I observed how Monsanto-funded scientists convinced the FDA that labeling GM foods would be misleading.

Confronted with increasing public support for labeling foods that are produced with GM ingredients, the biotechnology industry supported—and the House of Representatives passed—H.R. 1599 in July 2015. This bill, expected to be considered by the Senate before the end of 2015, has the Orwellian title, “The Safe and Accurate Food Labeling Act,” but some critics call it the “Denying Americans the Right to Know (DARK) Act.” Proposed by Representative Mike Pompeo (Kansas) on the basis that GM foods are safe and, therefore, acceptable, the act would block states from enacting labeling laws (as Vermont has already done) and permit GM foods to be labeled as “natural.” Opponents question the safety of GM foods. But they also raise additional reasons for full transparency in labeling—patents, control of seed stocks, the widespread application of chemical herbicides to GM crops, and the increasingly widespread resistance of weeds to those herbicides. When evaluating conflicting scientific and policy arguments about GM foods, it is useful to know who funds the researchers and their studies.

Should nutrition researchers and professional societies accept funding from food companies? Not without careful thinking. It’s time that food and nutrition researchers and societies recognize the influence of food-industry sponsorship, take steps to control its effects, and ensure that sponsored studies promote public health, not the marketing of food products. Journal editors should ensure that editors and members of editorial boards are free of industry conflicts, require peer reviewers to note food-industry funding in manuscript evaluations, and be wary of accepting industry-funded publications with evident commercial implications. If food companies and trade associations want to fund research, they should consider pooling resources and setting up an independent foundation to administer the grants. Everyone involved in this system should be doing everything possible to advocate for more research funds from federal granting agencies. Nothing less than the credibility of nutrition research and advice is at stake.

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND®) is writing to keep you informed of our work on the future education model standards. A copy of the January update is posted on the ACEND Standards webpage www.eatrightacend.org/ACEND/Standards.

The January update includes a brief recap of suggestions received for piloting the Future Education Module and addresses questions received at the December 10 Virtual Town Hall Meeting. The virtual town hall meetings are held the second Thursday of each month at 11:30 a.m. Central Time. The next meeting will occur today. Information for connecting to the virtual town hall is posted on the ACEND Standards webpage www.eatrightacend.org/ACEND/Standards.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you so much.

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Comments Due January 26: Policies Proposed to Improve Delivery of Chronic Care

Senators seeking long-term solutions to chronic care management released a bipartisan "Policy Options Document" to generate ideas for policies to improve disease management, streamline care coordination, improve quality and reduce Medicare costs. The document includes the Academy's suggestions to include options for expanding telehealth, eliminate barriers to care coordination, expand access to prediabetes education and expand options for obesity treatment. Input is welcome from dietetic practice groups and member experts. Comments on the document are due January 26.

New Funding Opportunity Available through CMS

The Academy is seeking opportunities to work with the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services' new five-year Accountable Health Communities Model which aims to connect health care providers with social services, including transportation, housing and food services. The initiative aims to coordinate services to reduce food insecurity and encourage provider organizations to treat the holistic needs of patients.

Opportunities to Offer Input on Proposed Regulations and Government Initiatives

Federal agencies continue to be busy issuing multiple proposed regulations affecting everything from food labeling (such as GMOs and use of the term "natural") to successes in the Indian Health Service and technology initiatives. Members are encouraged to work with your dietetic practice groups to submit input on these initiatives, which are detailed in the Public Policy Weekly News and on the Academy's website.

Importance: High

Dear Candidate -

The Academy is hosting the Meet the Candidates Forum again this year. The webinars offer an opportunity for Academy members to meet the president-elect and speaker-elect candidates on the 2016 ballot. A moderator will pose questions to you to help members gain insight to your perspectives and views. The webinars were tentatively scheduled for January 26 and 27 however due to unexpected conflicts with the moderator, instead we are asking if speaker-elect candidates are available to participate on Monday February 1 at 1:00pm CT and president-elect candidates are available to participate on Tuesday, February 2 at 1:00pm CT? A tech run through will be scheduled prior to the live event.

The Forum question/answer format will be similar to last year's, however based on feedback, members requested the webinar be made more engaging. Therefore, specific topics will be provided in advance of the webinar instead of actual questions. The questions, collected from Academy members, that will be posed to the candidates during the webinar are related to the topical areas listed below.

President-elect Topics (one question will be asked from each of the following five topics and two questions will be asked from the audience)

- Visioning
- Competition in the Workplace
- DPG/MIG Support
- Global Climate Change
- Transparency/Communication

Speaker-elect Topics (one question will be asked from each of the following three topics and two questions will be asked from the audience)

- Visioning
- Competition in the Workplace
- Transparency/Communication

Media tips provided by Nominating Committee member and former Academy Spokesperson Marisa Moore to help prepare you to answer questions for the webinar are attached. The committee hopes you find these helpful.

Please let me know your availability for the dates listed above.

Thank you!

2016 Award for Grassroots Excellence

Have you considered nominating one of your outstanding public policy leaders for the Academy's award? It is time to start thinking about who you would like to nominate for the 2016 Award for Grassroots Excellence. The form is available in the awards topic folder on the Public Policy Panel COI. The deadline for submitting nominations is Friday, January 22, 2016.

2016 Public Policy Leadership Award

The Academy is seeking nominations to recognize member(s) of Congress who have demonstrated or have the potential to demonstrate outstanding service and support for nutrition and health issues of importance to the Academy and the public. The deadline for submitting nominations is Friday, January 22, 2016. To nominate a Representative or Senator, simply have the affiliate leadership complete the nomination form. The form is available in the Public Policy Panel COI.

Action Alert Reports

Academy members have sent over 79,525 letters to members of Congress since June 1, 2015. We will continue to need your voice in 2016!

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPC) will find the action alert participation reports posted in the 2016 PPC reports topic folder of the PPC COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for you to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

The action alert metrics chart below shows the participation information for four of the eight action alerts. Additional detailed summary reports including the percentages of Academy members by state and by DPG who have responded to action alerts are located in the 2016 Participation Reports topic folder in the Public Policy Panel COI.

Academy DPG Experts Needed

The Academy is considering commenting on a number of proposed regulations, regulatory guidance and information/data collections in the next two months. If you are interested in contributing to the Academy's responses to these regulatory initiatives, please work through your Dietetic Practice Groups (DPGs) to submit input on behalf of the DPG. Many of these information collections are seeking strategies and input for improving research and program structure on the listed topics.

To read more about the proposed rules, click on the links below. The dates noted are the deadline for DPGs to submit input to the Academy's Regulatory Affairs team.

Dear Candidate -

The Academy is hosting the Meet the Candidates Forum again this year. The webinars offer an opportunity for Academy members to meet the president-elect and speaker-elect candidates on the 2016 ballot. A moderator will pose questions to you to help members gain insight to your perspectives and views. The webinars were tentatively scheduled for January 26 and 27 however due to unexpected conflicts with the moderator, instead we are asking if speaker-elect candidates are available to participate on Monday February 1 at 1:00pm CT and president-elect candidates are available to participate on Tuesday, February 2 at 1:00pm CT? A tech run through will be scheduled prior to the live event.

The Forum question/answer format will be similar to last year's, however based on feedback, members requested the webinar be made more engaging. Therefore, specific topics will be provided in advance of the webinar instead of actual questions. The questions, collected from Academy members, that will be posed to the candidates during the webinar are related to the topical areas listed below.

President-elect Topics (one question will be asked from each of the following five topics and two questions will be asked from the audience)

- Visioning

- Competition in the Workplace
- DPG/MIG Support
- Global Climate Change
- Transparency/Communication

Speaker-elect Topics (one question will be asked from each of the following three topics and two questions will be asked from the audience)

- Visioning
- Competition in the Workplace
- Transparency/Communication

Media tips provided by Nominating Committee member and former Academy Spokesperson Marisa Moore to help prepare you to answer questions for the webinar are attached. The committee hopes you find these helpful.

Please let me know your availability for the dates listed above.

Thank you!

Dear Angie,

Thank you for your email and for including the Academy in the communication rollout of the 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans. Academy spokespeople are on the front lines of reaching consumers with sound, science-based food and nutrition information. We appreciated working closely with your team throughout the entire process. We are committed to assisting in efforts to educate policy makers and the public regarding the value and impact of the Dietary Guidelines for Americans. We value our relationship and look forward to working with the USDA in the future.

Best regards,

Subject: With Gratitude

Good Morning Pat, Evelyn, Mary Pat and Jenn,

On behalf of USDA Center for Nutrition Policy and Promotion - thank you! Thank you for your tireless support, communication, and advocacy efforts regarding the latest iteration of the Dietary Guidelines for Americans. We, along with our colleagues at HHS Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion, are thrilled this important document has been released and we all can move into applying the DGAs to policies, programs and practices. Thank you for keeping members continually informed of engagement opportunities and the development status.

This recent process was the most contentious, controversial, and political. Now that Congress has interjected themselves into the conversation, it becomes more critical than ever for dietitians to be engaged in these public policy discussions. If 2015 is any indication of what is to come in 2020, we look to organizations such as the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics to continue to be at the forefront in educating and informing policymakers of the value and impact of the Dietary Guidelines for Americans.

Kudos to the AND spokespeople. They were essential players in getting accurate messages out the day of the release. Joan Salge Blake went toe-to-toe with journalist Nina Techolz in setting the record straight on the DGAs. See <http://live.huffingtonpost.com/r/segment/new-dietary-guidelines-released/508e9a7978c90a7ea0000120>.

Again, thank you. We are grateful for the collaborative relationship and look forward to working even more closely with you in the coming years.

Best Regards,

--Angie

Shelly has informed us that she will not be presenting her session after the 2016 program year. If you are aware of any individuals who can present the “Developing a Clinical Program for Management of Childhood and Adolescent Obesity” session, please forward me their names and contact information. The individuals must have experience in establishing a clinical program. The objectives are:

- Identify key stages and components when planning a new pediatric weight management program or revising an existing program.
- Assess reimbursement potential for the MNT of pediatric overweight from third party payers to families and other health care providers and/or agencies.

Thank you.

"If your actions inspire others to dream more, learn more, do more and become more, you are a leader." ~John Quincy Adams

Dear Colleague,

These are wise words as we move into a new and exciting time in the field of nutrition and dietetics. I believe that leaders should inspire, dream, and cast vision, yet also have the ability to make things happen. My vision for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics relies on Connecting, Communicating, and Collaborating.

*"Nancy leads with integrity, grace, vision and wisdom."
Dr. Paula Ritter Gooder, RDN, Past Chair, NCPT*

I'm committed to:

- safeguarding professional integrity
- engaging members in strategic communications
- increasing recognition and visibility for our members

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics is our organization, representing a diverse group of professionals with so much to contribute to the health of Americans. I'm excited to work with you to move our profession into the next hundred years where food and nutrition will play a part in the world's health and wellness.

" Nancy has the vision and perspective to lead the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and its members into a bright future."

Dr. Annalynn Skipper, RDN,
Past Chair, Commission on Dietetic Registration

Let's connect via my website, Facebook and Twitter. Tell me what's most important to you as we move into this new year and into the next 5-10 years as a profession. Please vote for me when the election opens on February 1!

One additional thing. During the webinar, any member participating can submit a question to the facilitator. You need to be prepared in the event a sponsorship question comes up. You can generally answer that it was the Board that initiated the Sponsorship Task Force and the dialogue in the HOD. Now the Board is evaluating member input, DPG input and the SPTF recommendations.

Pat, You all have exactly the same thoughts on this subject as I do. There is no way to make them happy by trying to answer their questions. I think you all know me well enough to know that I do not agree with any of their stances. I am going to recommend that we let them know that we could not begin to answer all the questions poised by all the groups that would want to ask candidates questions and that they need to listen to the forums. That while we really do want to encourage voting, this is not the best way to do it because of the limited time we all have during this campaign "season". Other groups would not be happy if they were left out. I do not feel like anything positive could come out of this. The other issue is that we have not even approved the SATF recommendations, so I would not feel comfortable talking about the issue until we do. With me still a member of the board at this point In time it also puts another wrinkle into things because I am privy to information Nancy might not have. I vote no, but will wait to hear what Nancy thinks. Thanks for the quick response. I don't want them getting to far down the road that they really are upset when we say no.

Hi Nancy and Donna,

My personal opinion is that the DFPI questions are biased and inaccurate so no answer will suffice unless you agree with their stance. Further, sponsorship decisions are based on guidelines and group decisions, not personal feelings. The Candidate Forum webinars provide opportunity to Affiliates, MIGs and DPGs to pose questions. The committee, elected by the membership, selects the questions. I also reached out to Doris and Mary Beth for their reaction. Mary Beth has the same perspective as I do, and Doris' thinking follows below. Hope this helps! The decision whether to respond or not is yours of course.

Thoughts:

- Are there campaigning rules regarding candidates replying to questions from members and/or groups? Can affiliates submit questions and expect a direct reply? MIGs, DPGs? Other non-Academy groups, either organized or ad hoc?
- I know I keep saying this, but DFPI really is just 12 people with a Facebook page, and about half of them are not Academy members. Candidates should not be expected to reply to questions from non-members.
- Do people running for office in the AMA or any other membership organization reply to questions (especially loaded questions) that come over the transom from their members and/or non-members? I'm guessing not.
- Thousands of members have Facebook pages like Leah McGrath...should they all get replies from the candidates, too, if they decide to pose questions? Yes, we need to increase voting, but I don't know that this is the way to do it.
- I see no upside to the candidates replying to Andy. He will probably not like the replies and will ream us out, whatever the answers are. I recommend candidates ignore him -- his reaction to being ignored will probably not be appreciably worse than his reaction to any answers candidates provide.

Hope this helps! Please call me if you have any questions or want to talk.

Pat, Doris, Joan and Nancy,

Attached is the information I have received about the DFPI and Build up Dietitians wanting us to answer questions. Both these posts came from Leah McGrath, but it tells us what they are thinking. See below.

DFPI

I imagine you have seen the initial list of questions for your candidates on the Dietitians for Professional Negativity site. They will be narrowing this down to 3 questions vote.

- 1) Over the past few years, the Academy's affiliations with certain companies (i.e.: last year's partnership between the Kids Eat Right Foundation and Kraft Singles) have hurt its credibility. How will you address and resolve these concerns?*
- 2) In light of concerns about AND's ties with the food industry negatively impact on dietitians' public credibility, how will you help support and promote dietitians as food and nutrition experts?*
- 3) Some AND partners/sponsors primarily profit from products that contradict our mission and vision of improving the nation's health. What are your thoughts on this conflict?*
- 4) Some AND partners/sponsors actively lobby against public health initiatives. How do you reconcile this with their public proclamations to be part of the solution?*
- 5) What are your thoughts on the food industry providing continuing education, specifically in light of concerns that continuing education opportunities have the potential be used to diffuse rightful criticism of unhealthy products?*
- 6) Health experts agree that the 2015 Dietary Guidelines are vague, and that the American public would benefit from more forceful messaging (i.e.: "limit sugary drinks", "eat less red and processed meat", "cut back on processed and junk food"). With that in mind, would you suggest AND revise* its 'total diet approach' position paper?

NOTE: Once the final three questions are chosen, their wording may be edited for clarity and effectiveness.

Build up Dietitians

Hi Ladies, I know the candidates can't participate in Facebook or Twitter chats but I guess DFPI (aka the Dietitians for Professional Integrity/Negativity) is collecting questions from their follower to send them. I would like to make the same offer on my page (Build Up Dietitians). I think there are actually more Academy members on my page anyway. 63% of them are 18-34 yrs old so maybe this will help w/ voting. Would your folks be open to be sent questions and if so, where would I send them?

Thoughts:

- Are there campaigning rules regarding candidates replying to questions from members and/or groups? Can affiliates submit questions and expect a direct reply? MIGs, DPGs? Other non-Academy groups, either organized or ad hoc?
- I know I keep saying this, but DFPI really is just 12 people with a Facebook page, and about half of them are not Academy members. Candidates should not be expected to reply to questions from non-members.

- Do people running for office in the AMA or any other membership organization reply to questions (especially loaded questions) that come over the transom from their members and/or non-members? I'm guessing not.
- Thousands of members have Facebook pages like Leah McGrath...should they all get replies from the candidates, too, if they decide to pose questions? Yes, we need to increase voting, but I don't know that this is the way to do it.
- I see no upside to the candidates replying to Andy. He will probably not like the replies and will ream us out, whatever the answers are. I recommend candidates ignore him -- his reaction to being ignored will probably not be appreciably worse than his reaction to any answers candidates provide.

Hope this helps! Please call me if you have any questions or want to talk.

Pat, Doris, Joan and Nancy,

Attached is the information I have received about the DFPI and Build up Dietitians wanting us to answer questions. Both these posts came from Leah McGrath, but it tells us what they are thinking. See below.

DFPI

I imagine you have seen the initial list of questions for your candidates on the Dietitians for Professional Negativity site. They will be narrowing this down to 3 questions vote.

- 1) Over the past few years, the Academy's affiliations with certain companies (i.e.: last year's partnership between the Kids Eat Right Foundation and Kraft Singles) have hurt its credibility. How will you address and resolve these concerns?*
- 2) In light of concerns about AND's ties with the food industry negatively impact on dietitians' public credibility, how will you help support and promote dietitians as food and nutrition experts?*
- 3) Some AND partners/sponsors primarily profit from products that contradict our mission and vision of improving the nation's health. What are your thoughts on this conflict?*
- 4) Some AND partners/sponsors actively lobby against public health initiatives. How do you reconcile this with their public proclamations to be part of the solution?*
- 5) What are your thoughts on the food industry providing continuing education, specifically in light of concerns that continuing education opportunities have the potential be used to diffuse rightful criticism of unhealthy products?*
- 6) Health experts agree that the 2015 Dietary Guidelines are vague, and that the American public would benefit from more forceful messaging (i.e.: "limit sugary drinks", "eat less red and processed meat", "cut back on processed and junk food"). With that in mind, would you suggest AND revise its 'total diet approach' position paper?*

NOTE: Once the final three questions are chosen, their wording may be edited for clarity and effectiveness.

Thank you.

Build up Dietitians

Hi Ladies, I know the candidates can't participate in Facebook or Twitter chats but I guess DFPI (aka the Dietitians for Professional Integrity/Negativity) is collecting questions from their follower to send them. I would like to make the same offer on my page (Build Up Dietitians). I think there are actually more Academy members on my page anyway. 63% of them are 18-34 yrs old so maybe this will help w/ voting. Would your folks be open to be sent questions and if so, where would I send them?

Great advice. I will keep that in mind. Wish we knew what questions we were going to have for the candidate forum. I am not sure they have worked out the details on it yet. Expressed my concern to Joan that we need time to prepare.

One additional thing. During the webinar, any member participating can submit a question to the facilitator. You need to be prepared in the event a sponsorship question comes up. You can generally answer that it was the Board that initiated the Sponsorship Task Force and the dialogue in the HOD. Now the Board is evaluating member input, DPG input and the SPTF recommendations.

Dayle,

I am responding to you, Amber and Leah in this email and copying Nancy.

I discussed this idea with Pat Babjak. She discussed it with Mary Beth Whalen and Doris Acosta. Our thoughts are that we should not try and get into answering questions for a lot of different groups that want to get answers from the candidates. They all agree that if we answer them for one group, then it might open the doors for numerous other groups wanting to pose questions also. Nancy and I already are lined up to do a candidate forum sometime in late January and we have not even received the information on that forum yet.

The other issue that I have is that I am currently on the Board of Directors for the Academy and anything I say will be taken as coming officially from the Board. If I were to answer questions on Sponsorship while we are currently discussing sponsorship on the board is not something I would feel comfortable doing.

Further, sponsorship decisions are based on guidelines and group decisions, not personal feelings. The Candidate Forum webinars provide opportunity to Affiliates, MIGs and DPGs to pose questions. The committee, elected by the membership, selects the questions.

Obviously, if Nancy decides she wants to do this then I will have to look at my options, but for now my opinion is that we do not do this. Encourage them to listen to the candidate forums and to submit questions for us to answer to the nominating committee.

I heard the same from Nancy. She said she would probably have to check with the Academy to see what they would think. I know the rules do not allow them to participate in forums or chats unless both candidates are going to participate.

I know this isn't a live chat or forum, but it does open them up to possible criticism/trolls. We definitely want both candidates to come across as best as possible. I think we should start with them asking the Academy what they think.

I think you could definitely start by making posts that link to the academy's webpage introducing candidates and their bios. I don't see anything wrong with a post like "If you could ask the candidates anything, what would you ask?"

I think probably our common goal is that we want everybody to vote and get involved. It makes me wonder....how many of those people who were so vocal about EatRight on social media this year actually voted in the last election? Ha. It would be great if they were equally as vocal about voting.

I discussed this idea with Pat Babjak. She discussed it with Mary Beth Whalen and Doris Acosta. Our thoughts are that we should not try and get into answering questions for a lot of different groups that want to get answers from the candidates. They all agree that if we answer them for one group, then it might open the doors for numerous other groups wanting to pose questions also. Nancy and I already are lined up to do a candidate forum sometime in late January and we have not even received the information on that forum yet.

The other issue that I have is that I am currently on the Board of Directors for the Academy and anything I say will be taken as coming officially from the Board. If I were to answer questions on Sponsorship while we are currently discussing sponsorship on the board is not something I would feel comfortable doing.

Further, sponsorship decisions are based on guidelines and group decisions, not personal feelings. The Candidate Forum webinars provide opportunity to Affiliates, MIGs and DPGs to pose questions. The committee, elected by the membership, selects the questions.

Obviously, if Nancy decides she wants to do this then I will have to look at my options, but for now my opinion is that we do not do this. Encourage them to listen to the candidate forums and to submit questions for us to answer to the nominating committee.

Pat, You all have exactly the same thoughts on this subject as I do. There is no way to make them happy by trying to answer their questions. I think you all know me well enough to know that I do not agree with any of their stances. I am going to recommend that we let them know that we could not begin to answer all the questions poised by all the groups that would want to ask candidates questions and that they need to listen to the forums. That while we really do want to encourage voting, this is not the best way to do it because of the limited time we all have during this campaign "season". Other groups would not be happy if they were left out. I do not feel like anything positive could come out of this. The other issue is that we have not even approved the SATF recommendations, so I would not feel comfortable talking about the issue until we do. With me still a member of the board at this point In time it also puts another wrinkle into things because I am privy to information Nancy might not have. I vote no, but will wait to hear what Nancy thinks. Thanks for the quick response. I don't want them getting to far down the road that they really are upset when we say no.

Hi Nancy and Donna,

My personal opinion is that the DFPI questions are biased and inaccurate so no answer will suffice unless you agree with their stance. Further, sponsorship decisions are based on guidelines and group decisions, not personal feelings. The Candidate Forum webinars provide opportunity to Affiliates, MIGs and DPGs to pose questions. The committee, elected by the membership, selects the questions. I also reached out to Doris and Mary Beth for their reaction. Mary Beth has the same perspective as I do, and Doris' thinking follows below. Hope this helps! The decision whether to respond or not is yours of course.

Thoughts:

- Are there campaigning rules regarding candidates replying to questions from members and/or groups? Can affiliates submit questions and expect a direct reply? MIGs, DPGs? Other non-Academy groups, either organized or ad hoc?
- I know I keep saying this, but DFPI really is just 12 people with a Facebook page, and about half of them are not Academy members. Candidates should not be expected to reply to questions from non-members.
- Do people running for office in the AMA or any other membership organization reply to questions (especially loaded questions) that come over the transom from their members and/or non-members? I'm guessing not.
- Thousands of members have Facebook pages like Leah McGrath...should they all get replies from the candidates, too, if they decide to pose questions? Yes, we need to increase voting, but I don't know that this is the way to do it.
- I see no upside to the candidates replying to Andy. He will probably not like the replies and will ream us out, whatever the answers are. I recommend candidates ignore him -- his reaction to being ignored will probably not be appreciably worse than his reaction to any answers candidates provide.

Hope this helps! Please call me if you have any questions or want to talk.

Pat, Doris, Joan and Nancy,

Attached is the information I have received about the DFPI and Build up Dietitians wanting us to answer questions. Both these posts came from Leah McGrath, but it tells us what they are thinking. See below.

DFPI

I imagine you have seen the initial list of questions for your candidates on the Dietitians for Professional Negativity site. They will be narrowing this down to 3 questions vote.

- 1) Over the past few years, the Academy's affiliations with certain companies (i.e.: last year's partnership between the Kids Eat Right Foundation and Kraft Singles) have hurt its credibility. How will you address and resolve these concerns?*
- 2) In light of concerns about AND's ties with the food industry negatively impact on dietitians' public credibility, how will you help support and promote dietitians as food and nutrition experts?*

- 3) Some AND partners/sponsors primarily profit from products that contradict our mission and vision of improving the nation's health. What are your thoughts on this conflict?
- 4) Some AND partners/sponsors actively lobby against public health initiatives. How do you reconcile this with their public proclamations to be part of the solution?
- 5) What are your thoughts on the food industry providing continuing education, specifically in light of concerns that continuing education opportunities have the potential be used to diffuse rightful criticism of unhealthy products?
- 6) Health experts agree that the 2015 Dietary Guidelines are vague, and that the American public would benefit from more forceful messaging (i.e.: "limit sugary drinks", "eat less red and processed meat", "cut back on processed and junk food"). With that in mind, would you suggest AND revise its 'total diet approach' position paper?

NOTE: Once the final three questions are chosen, their wording may be edited for clarity and effectiveness.

Thank you.

Build up Dietitians

Hi Ladies, I know the candidates can't participate in Facebook or Twitter chats but I guess DFPI (aka the Dietitians for Professional Integrity/Negativity) is collecting questions from their follower to send them. I would like to make the same offer on my page (Build Up Dietitians). I think there are actually more Academy members on my page anyway. 63% of them are 18-34 yrs old so maybe this will help w/ voting. Would your folks be open to be sent questions and if so, where would I send them?

Hi Donna

I am actually traveling on business next week (long standing trip) so I will miss the meeting.

That being said, you can let her know the committee meets the end of this month for final selection and notifications go out in mid/late February.

Any questions, she can feel free to contact me.

Hope you are well!

Pat, Doris, Joan and Nancy,

Attached is the information I have received about the DFPI and Build up Dietitians wanting us to answer questions. Both these posts came from Leah McGrath, but it tells us what they are thinking. See below.

DFPI

I imagine you have seen the initial list of questions for your candidates on the Dietitians for Professional Negativity site. They will be narrowing this down to 3 questions vote.

- 1) Over the past few years, the Academy's affiliations with certain companies (i.e.: last year's partnership between the Kids Eat Right Foundation and Kraft Singles) have hurt its credibility. How will you address and resolve these concerns?*
- 2) In light of concerns about AND's ties with the food industry negatively impact on dietitians' public credibility, how will you help support and promote dietitians as food and nutrition experts?*
- 3) Some AND partners/sponsors primarily profit from products that contradict our mission and vision of improving the nation's health. What are your thoughts on this conflict?*
- 4) Some AND partners/sponsors actively lobby against public health initiatives. How do you reconcile this with their public proclamations to be part of the solution?*
- 5) What are your thoughts on the food industry providing continuing education, specifically in light of concerns that continuing education opportunities have the potential be used to diffuse rightful criticism of unhealthy products?*
- 6) Health experts agree that the 2015 Dietary Guidelines are vague, and that the American public would benefit from more forceful messaging (i.e.: "limit sugary drinks", "eat less red and processed meat", "cut back on processed and junk food"). With that in mind, would you suggest AND revise its 'total diet approach' position paper?*

NOTE: Once the final three questions are chosen, their wording may be edited for clarity and effectiveness.

Thank you.

Build up Dietitians

Hi Ladies, I know the candidates can't participate in Facebook or Twitter chats but I guess DFPI (aka the Dietitians for Professional Integrity/Negativity) is collecting questions from their follower to send them. I would like to make the same offer on my page (Build Up Dietitians). I think there are actually more Academy members on my page anyway. 63% of them are 18-34 yrs old so maybe this will help w/ voting. Would your folks be open to be sent questions and if so, where would I send them?

Pat, Doris, Joan and Nancy,

Thanks Nancy for starting this conversation. I had just called Joan to talk to her about these two issues. I am very concerned about the Dietitians for Professional Integrity/negativity wanting to have us answer questions. I have seen the proposed questions and I am not in favor of answering them at all. Build up dietitians is also wanting us to answer questions. I don't think the Academy would want us to do this because these two groups are not part of the Academy. We are looking for your guidance please. I will send the questions they are proposing in a seperate email.

I am providing you with some additional attachments for review in advance of our meeting next week. These items are all available on the portal but they will not be included in paper packets that were mailed upon request earlier this week. The list of new materials for review includes the following:

- Executive Session agenda (attachments will be provided on Tuesday at the meeting).
- Agenda for the Sponsorship Advisory Task Force (SATF) Report discussion. We worked with Liz Monroe-Cook, our facilitator for the (SATF) portion of the meeting, to develop the discussion and deliberation design. We decided the topic deserves its own agenda to ensure relevant issues are covered and that we remain focused. The agenda is also attached for your reference.
- Questions that were submitted by you in advance of the SATF report. In preparation for the SATF report discussion, we shared your questions with Kathy McClusky to help her prepare the presentation. The questions have been provided to Kathy verbatim - - thank you for your feedback!
- BENEEO background materials. As part of the deliberations, you will have the opportunity to evaluate a new potential sponsor using the proposed evaluation tools developed by the SATF. The sponsor under consideration is BENEEO, a German-based ingredient company.
- Revised Board meeting agenda reflecting the addition of agenda item attachment - 8.4 Sponsor Summit 2015 Attendee Comments.
- The HOD Governance staff identified differences between the DPG comments sent to the Board and the House comments. Attached is a summary of the comparison.

I look forward to seeing you and to the deliberations!

Best regards,

Pat

Subject: Sponsorship Agenda Item

We are looking forward to our meeting next week in Chicago. Hopefully you have had a chance to review the Sponsorship Advisory Task Force Report. We want to help Kathy McClusky prepare for the discussion by sharing with her some of your questions in advance. We have captured a few staff inquiries below. If you have anything in addition that you want us to submit to her please share them with me before Friday. Of course you are not limited to the advance questions at the meeting, we are simply trying to help focus the discussion and prepare our presenter.

- How did the Task Force define "Sponsorship"?
- What is new and different in the proposed guidelines from the guidelines that are already in place?

- The recommendations of the Task Force reflect two recommendations that we are already implementing (removed reference to the Total Diet Approach in sponsorship information materials in November 2014; accepted a Scientific Integrity Policy that also recommends engagement with multiple funders whenever possible.) What additional recommendations require Board discussion, approval and action?
- Is it realistic to ask a committee to review the 100s of DPG and Academy sponsorship opportunities?
- The report makes reference to a detailed environmental scan of like-organizations that the task force conducted. Can you share more of the details regarding this scan? What are these organizations implementing that we are not and vice versa?

We are attaching a combined summary completed by Doris Acosta of the DPG comments sent to the Board. Marsha Schofield and Cecily Byrne are reviewing the HOD comments to identify any substantive or new differences between DPG and House comments. Joan Schwaba is posting on the Board portal today the HOD Workbook Consolidations, which we were not aware were being shared with the Board; the agenda reflects the material as attached.

We will be working with a facilitator Liz Monroe-Cook for the discussion portion of the sponsorship agenda item and will provide you with a breakdown of how the five-hour presentation and discussion led by Liz will flow. It will include an opportunity for you to review a new potential premier sponsor using the SATF proposed tools. This information will be provided to you no later than Friday. Thank you for your engagement on this important topic!

I heard the same from Nancy. She said she would probably have to check with the Academy to see what they would think. I know the rules do not allow them to participate in forums or chats unless both candidates are going to participate.

I know this isn't a live chat or forum, but it does open them up to possible criticism/trolls. We definitely want both candidates to come across as best as possible. I think we should start with them asking the Academy what they think.

I think you could definitely start by making posts that link to the academy's webpage introducing candidates and their bios. I don't see anything wrong with a post like "If you could ask the candidates anything, what would you ask?"

I think probably our common goal is that we want everybody to vote and get involved. It makes me wonder....how many of those people who were so vocal about EatRight on social media this year actually voted in the last election? Ha. It would be great if they were equally as vocal about voting.

I do not know if this would fit with Academy guidelines ... I would check with them. I do know that they are planning at least one Academy forum for the candidates at the end of this month.

Let me know what you find out ... and how you plan to move forward with this idea.

Donna has not heard from DFPI about answering a series of questions. I do see that they have collected lots of ideas from their followers.

Happy Friday,

Dayle

Thanks, Dayle and thank you, Leah for proposing this.

I heard the same from Nancy. She said she would probably have to check with the Academy to see what they would think. I know the rules do not allow them to participate in forums or chats unless both candidates are going to participate.

I know this isn't a live chat or forum, but it does open them up to possible criticism/trolls. We definitely want both candidates to come across as best as possible. I think we should start with them asking the Academy what they think.

I think you could definitely start by making posts that link to the academy's webpage introducing candidates and their bios. I don't see anything wrong with a post like "If you could ask the candidates anything, what would you ask?"

I think probably our common goal is that we want everybody to vote and get involved. It makes me wonder....how many of those people who were so vocal about EatRight on social media this year actually voted in the last election? Ha. It would be great if they were equally as vocal about voting.

Recently a couple of former presidents inquired about the Academy's international outreach and activities. I therefore shared my CEO report on our international efforts with all former Academy presidents and Foundation chairs. In the event you receive any inquiries from them, I am attaching it although it is on the Board portal. The feedback from the past leaders has been highly complimentary regarding the strides made.

Best regards,

Hello Pat,

I realize this may be late in coming as you wanted input before Friday. If still possible, I would like come clarification on:

1. Did the SATF review the Sponsor Summitt Report (see bottom of SATF report, page 7), which was part of the Fall 2015 motion? It is not mentioned later as being one of the items reviewed by the SATF (unless I missed it).

I am wondering since sponsors told us in August that it would be difficult, if not impossible, for them to scrutinize their products based on any type of dietary analysis, especially those companies with thousands of SKUs, which are also constantly reformulated. (Appendix 4, page 29- which SATF provided as an example might be an impossibility for many companies).

2. How does the SATF envision a review of products based on an alignment to position papers? Given that we have over 40 papers, many of which are in the process of being updated or re-written at any one time, this task seems difficult. I wonder what ideas the SATF had about this type of scrutiny of products vs. position papers.

Thank you for the hard work of the SATF and for the opportunity to ask clarifying questions.

We will be working with a facilitator Liz Monroe-Cook for the discussion portion of the sponsorship agenda item and will provide you with a breakdown of how the five-hour presentation and Introducing the Academy's Presidential Candidates!

The Nominating Committee is pleased to introduce Nancy Lewis and Donna Martin candidates for the office of president-elect on the Academy's 2016 national ballot. Read about them in the campaign statements below. Voting will take place February 1 to 22, 2016.

Donna Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND

Happy New Year to you! Did you make a New Year's resolution? My professional resolutions are to increase the amount of farm to school products we serve in our schools, to find ways to expand our summer feeding program and to reach out to more legislators on nutrition issues that impact our profession. Much like you might be doing, I also hope to use the New Year to learn more about the candidates running for President of the United States. It will be quite a year! Piggybacking on that, I would like to encourage you to get involved in finding out more about the candidates who are on the Academy's ballot. The people you elect will have a lot to say about our future. Your voice is integral as we shape a future that is as bold and courageous as our Founding Members' vision nearly 100 years ago.

Nancy Lewis, PhD, RDN, FADA, FAND

This is the most exciting time in history to be a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. Expanding opportunities and increased recognition within our communities, health care system and in the international arena, along with new technologies, make it possible for us to connect like never before. Connecting and communicating are at the heart of my plan for leading our membership. As a member of the Board of Directors, Speaker of the House of Delegates, Chair of the Nutrition Care Process and Terminology Committee and a member of the Research Council, I have effectively demonstrated dedication, balanced decision-making and servant leadership. My calm, collaborative style, developed through years of leadership in education and research, is exactly what we need at this time in our professions history. A vote for me is a vote for proven integrity, leadership and experience.

I reached out to the Academy Positions Committee chair and appropriate staff for the reasoning for a white paper vs a position paper on agriculture and food biotechnology. I am sharing the response from APC chair Mary Ellen Posthauer and APC vice chair Ainsley Malone.

During the October 2015 APC meeting, the topic biotechnology was reviewed. Based on the limited evidence resulting from the completion of the evidence analysis project (the majority of the EAL questions were Grade V indicating insufficient evidence to support the questions), APC passed a motion not to proceed with development of a position paper. The majority of research available on human consumption of genetically engineered plant and animal foods relates to allergenicity and allergenicity research on humans has inherent limitations due to ethical concerns and various testing methodologies. Due to the very limited evidence, APC would not be able to formulate a strong position statement. APC determined that it would be in the best interest of its members, and the profession, to develop a white paper to provide an overview of the evidence related to this topic. The Research, International and Scientific Affairs Team has indicated they could assume the responsibility for developing a White Paper on this topic.

The position paper was criticized because of the limited and weak evidence. The White Paper allows us to go beyond studies including humans. We can look at agriculture, epidemiology and animal studies. The policies of the EAL only allow studies using humans. Please let me know if you have additional questions . I shared your concern with Alison. Perhaps the Research Council should address the issue of using studies beyond humans?

Best,

Pat

Subject: Position Paper on Agriculture and Food Biotechnology

Dear Dr. Crayton, Lucille, Sonya, Jean and Pat,
Happy New Year!

I have a concern that I thought was best addressed to the four of you and Pat.

I would like some clarification on why the Academy does not have a formal position paper on the subject of modern agriculture any more, but is planning just a white paper on the subject? We had a paper on agriculture and food biotechnology and let it expire recently. What is curious about the expiration is that it is still being quoted in things like the sponsorship advisory task force report, even though it is expired. I feel like if the next 100 years theme is going to incorporate agriculture in it that we need to have taken a position on this subject. A position paper is the only way we can help members understand the science, and help affiliates, DPGs and Academy spokespeople communicate about the topic. The Academy should focus on all types of agricultural practices in this paper, including organic, conventional, and biotechnology.

I know this topic is a hot topic and one that there is a lot of disagreement over and misinformation being communicated everywhere. Yet, I feel like it is the role of the Academy to help our members navigate this terrain, and if we can't come up with a position on the subject, how do we expect them to be able to be the nutrition experts in this important area?

Thanks for listening to my concern and I look forward to hearing back from the people who I think can help answer my concerns!

Hi there,

My name is Wesley Delbridge and I am a Registered Dietitian and Media Spokesperson for the Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics. I have been hearing great things from my colleagues and peers about the Child & Adolescent Weight Management Conferences. My passion is in school nutrition and how we can get school nutrition programs to get kids to eat healthier. I am the director of a food & nutrition department in a school district myself and I am always trying to get our message out.

My question is to you have guest speakers at these Child & Adult Weight Management Conferences? If you do, I think that a session on school nutrition and the innovative ways we are getting kids to eat healthier at school would be a great topic. I would like to let you that I would love to be one of your guest speakers at any of the upcoming conferences if that is something you are interested in.

Thank for all you do for our profession and for the Academy. Have a great day!

Subject: Confidential - 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans

Mary Pat Raimondi and I participated in a brief conference call this afternoon with USDA's Under Secretary for Food, Nutrition and Consumer Services Kevin W. Concannon and USDA's Executive Director and Academy member Angie Tagtow. They informed us that the 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans will be released tomorrow, Thursday, January 7, at 7:00 a.m. Eastern Time. The only specific information USDA shared was the new title ... My Plate, My Wins! All of their materials will be posted on their website <http://health.gov/dietaryguidelines/2015/>.

Below is the all-member email from Academy President Evelyn Crayton that will be distributed tomorrow at 7 a.m. Eastern Time. Please keep this information confidential for now.

As always, please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Thank you very much!

Release of the 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans:
A message from the Academy's President

January 7, 2016

To my fellow Academy members:

The 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans have been released. You can download the Guidelines and supporting materials at <http://health.gov/dietaryguidelines/2015/>.

On behalf of the entire Academy, I want to extend special thanks to the five Academy members who served on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee, whose expertise and hard work paved the way for the development of the Dietary Guidelines.

The Dietary Guidelines for Americans represent the U.S. government's cornerstone for nutrition policy and education for the next five years. As such, they affect every Academy member, every registered dietitian nutritionist and every dietetic technician, registered.

In addition, the Dietary Guidelines offer each of us an unequalled opportunity to further position ourselves as leaders – translating nutrition science and government recommendations into practical information for consumers and communities alike.

The Academy supported the committee's evidence-based systematic review of the scientific literature, which is vital in assessing the current and emerging state of the science in food and nutrition. We commend HHS and USDA for their commitment to the Nutrition Evidence Library and their ongoing efforts to strengthen the evidence-based approach for assessing the scientific literature for future dietary recommendations.

The Academy has developed a wealth of online resources at eatrightPRO.org to assist you in working with clients, patients, health professional colleagues and the public. Many of these resources are available now, and more will be added in the coming days. They include:

- Press release containing the Academy's reaction to the release of the Dietary Guidelines
  - Consumer-oriented press release on how individuals and families can apply the Dietary Guidelines to their own individual eating plans
  - Social media opportunities. Please add your authoritative voice to the global conversation Facebook and on Twitter (hashtag #dietaryguidelines).
  - Video
  - Infographic
  - Highlights of news media coverage featuring the Academy's Spokespeople discussing the Dietary Guidelines and their implications for people's nutrition and health.
- I urge all members: Use this opportunity to highlight your expertise and to reinforce your position as the food and nutrition experts.

Yours in helping everyone eat right,

Dr. Evelyn F. Crayton, RDN, LDN, FAND
Academy President, 2015-2016

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Tune In on Friday: Academy at NASDAQ

The Academy has been invited to ring the opening bell in New York City on Friday, January 8, at NASDAQ, the country's largest electronic equities exchange, as part of NASDAQ's fifth annual Fit Week. This is the seventh time in recent years in which the Academy has been invited to be part of NASDAQ's trading day. Academy President Dr. Evelyn Crayton, RDN, LDN, FAND, is scheduled to speak, and will be joined by members who live in the New York area. The Academy's name and logo will also be on NASDAQ's Times Square tower. Be a part of this exciting event - view the opening bell ceremony beginning at 9:15 a.m. Eastern Time.

National Commission on Hunger Releases Report to Congress

The congressionally appointed, bipartisan National Commission on Hunger has released its final report: "Freedom from Hunger: An Achievable Goal for the United States of America, Recommendations of the National Commission on Hunger to Congress and the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture." The commission calls the report "one of the strongest bipartisan affirmations around the solvability of hunger in the United States in decades."

Academy Involvement in Hunger Commission and Report

Academy member Susan Finn, PhD, RD, LD, FAND, served as a member of the National Commission on Hunger, and many Academy members presented testimony at regional meetings. The commission's report recommends the U.S. Department of Agriculture use the Academy's Guide for Effective Nutrition Interventions and Education "to define best practices within SNAP-Ed, develop or modify programs and evaluate outcomes." Academy President Dr. Evelyn F. Crayton, RDN, LDN, FAND, wrote to Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack: "The Academy is ready and able to help in any way to implement the report's recommendations that can lead to decreased hunger." She added that Academy members who work at USDA "will play a crucial role as well in the implementation of the Commission on Hunger's recommendations."

Comments Due January 26: Policies Proposed to Improve Delivery of Chronic Care

Senators seeking long-term solutions to chronic care management released a bipartisan "Policy Options Document" to generate ideas for policies to improve disease management, streamline care coordination, improve quality and reduce Medicare costs. The document includes the Academy's suggestions to include options for expanding telehealth, eliminate barriers to care coordination, expand access to prediabetes education and expand options for obesity treatment. Input is welcome from dietetic practice groups and member experts. Comments on the document are due January 26.

Final Report: White House Conference on Aging

The 2015 White House Conference on Aging has released its final report, documenting the Obama Administration's work to encourage healthy aging and support for long-term services and caregivers as well as actions for the future. Academy members have participated throughout the year and should look for continued opportunities to stay involved.

Study Shows Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act Improves Nutritional Quality of Meals

Students chose healthier foods containing fewer calories per gram for lunch after the U.S. Department of Agriculture updated nutrition standards for school meals, according to a study published in the Journal of the American Medical Association Pediatrics. As Congress considers whether to keep strong nutrition standards for school foods, this study supports the value of updated standards and validates the work of the Academy and its partners in advocating for them.

2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans

Mary Pat Raimondi and I participated in a brief conference call this afternoon with USDA's Under Secretary for Food, Nutrition and Consumer Services Kevin W. Concannon and USDA's Executive Director and Academy member Angie Tagtow. They informed us that the 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans will be released tomorrow, Thursday, January 7, at 7:00 a.m. Eastern Time. The only specific information USDA shared was the new title ... My Plate, My Wins! All of their materials will be posted on their website <http://health.gov/dietaryguidelines/2015/>.

Below is the all-member email from Academy President Evelyn Crayton that will be distributed tomorrow at 7 a.m. Eastern Time. Please keep this information confidential for now.

As always, please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information.

Thank you very much!

Release of the 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans:

A message from the Academy's President

January 7, 2016

To my fellow Academy members:

The 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans have been released. You can download the Guidelines and supporting materials at <http://health.gov/dietaryguidelines/2015/>.

On behalf of the entire Academy, I want to extend special thanks to the five Academy members who served on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee, whose expertise and hard work paved the way for the development of the Dietary Guidelines.

The Dietary Guidelines for Americans represent the U.S. government's cornerstone for nutrition policy and education for the next five years. As such, they affect every Academy member, every registered dietitian nutritionist and every dietetic technician, registered.

In addition, the Dietary Guidelines offer each of us an unequalled opportunity to further position ourselves as leaders – translating nutrition science and government recommendations into practical information for consumers and communities alike.

The Academy supported the committee's evidence-based systematic review of the scientific literature, which is vital in assessing the current and emerging state of the science in food and nutrition. We commend HHS and USDA for their commitment to the Nutrition Evidence Library and their ongoing efforts to strengthen the evidence-based approach for assessing the scientific literature for future dietary recommendations.

The Academy has developed a wealth of online resources at eatrightPRO.org to assist you in working with clients, patients, health professional colleagues and the public. Many of these resources are available now, and more will be added in the coming days. They include:

- Press release containing the Academy's reaction to the release of the Dietary Guidelines
- Consumer-oriented press release on how individuals and families can apply the Dietary Guidelines to their own individual eating plans
- Social media opportunities. Please add your authoritative voice to the global conversation Facebook and on Twitter (hashtag #dietaryguidelines).
- Video
- Infographic
- Highlights of news media coverage featuring the Academy's Spokespeople discussing the Dietary Guidelines and their implications for people's nutrition and health.

I urge all members: Use this opportunity to highlight your expertise and to reinforce your position as the food and nutrition experts.

Yours in helping everyone eat right,

Dr. Evelyn F. Crayton, RDN, LDN, FAND

URGENT

As part of NASDAQ's 5th annual Fit Week, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics has been invited to ring the opening bell on Friday, January 8, at NASDAQ, the largest electronic equities exchange in the United States. This is the seventh time in recent years in which the Academy has been invited to be part of NASDAQ's trading day.

Academy President Evelyn Crayton will be joined by members who live in the New York area. Evelyn will make remarks about the Academy and our members, and our great work in improving the nutritional health of individuals, families, communities and the world.

The NASDAQ opening ceremony on Friday, January 8, will be broadcast live from 9:15 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Eastern Time on NASDAQ's website. The ceremony will also be broadcast on video screens in Times Square. The Academy's name and logo will be on NASDAQ's tower with the message “The Stock Exchange Welcomes the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.”

This is always an exciting opportunity for the Academy, and we are thrilled to be a part of the ceremony. We will share this information with members in today's Eat Right Weekly and via social media. Please share this with colleagues, family and friends so that they can view the video live on Webcast or view it later on Facebook and Twitter.

Webcast:

A live webcast of the NASDAQ Opening Bell will be available on Friday, January 8, at 9:15 a.m.

ET at:

<http://www.nasdaq.com/about/marketsitetowervideo.aspx>

Facebook and Twitter:

<http://www.facebook.com/pages/NASDAQ-OMX/108167527653>

For news tweets, please visit NASDAQ's Twitter page at:

<http://twitter.com/nasdaqomx>

I encourage you to tune in on Friday! Thank you and please let me know if you have any questions or need additional information.

Best regards,

Pat

URGENT

As part of NASDAQ's 5th annual Fit Week, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics has been invited to ring the opening bell on Friday, January 8, at NASDAQ, the largest electronic equities exchange in the United States. This is the seventh time in recent years in which the Academy has been invited to be part of NASDAQ's trading day.

Academy President Evelyn Crayton will be joined by members who live in the New York area. Evelyn will make remarks about the Academy and our members, and our great work in improving the nutritional health of individuals, families, communities and the world.

The NASDAQ opening ceremony on Friday, January 8, will be broadcast live from 9:15 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Eastern Time on NASDAQ's website. The ceremony will also be broadcast on video screens in Times Square. The Academy's name and logo will be on NASDAQ's tower with the message "The Stock Exchange Welcomes the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics."

This is always an exciting opportunity for the Academy, and we are thrilled to be a part of the ceremony. We will share this information with members in today's Eat Right Weekly and via social media. Please share this with colleagues, family and friends so that they can view the video live on Webcast or view it later on Facebook and Twitter.

Webcast:

A live webcast of the NASDAQ Opening Bell will be available on Friday, January 8, at 9:15 a.m. ET at:

<http://www.nasdaq.com/about/marketsitetowervideo.aspx>

Facebook and Twitter:

Subject: Secretary of Agriculture Tom Vilsack Letter on Hunger Report to Congress

As you may know, Past Academy President Susan Finn was appointed to the bipartisan National Commission on Hunger, as part of the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2014 (H.R.3547). The Commission will focus on finding innovative methods to help low income Americans avoid what is known as very low food security. This work aligns nicely with our Child Nutrition Reauthorization. Please see the attached letter from Evelyn to Secretary of Agriculture Tom Vilsack on the National Commission's recently released hunger report to Congress. We will leverage our role and highlight the wonderful expertise of RDNs that work in USDA to lead the implementation.

Please note we are mentioned on page 37 of the report: "In addition, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, using funding from Feeding America, General Mills, the ConAgra foundation, and the National Dairy Council, provides community training tools and educational grants for registered dietitian nutritionists to teach low-income people how to cook for their families."

We are also mentioned on page 45 of the report, where in the Foundation's GENIE tool is a recommended resource! Funding for this tool was made possible by a grant from the ConAgra Foundation; special thanks go to Barbara Ivens for her support with this project.

GENIE is also mentioned on page 53 under recommendation 6 (Reform SNAP Nutrition Education to ensure that efforts are likely to lead to measurable improvements in the health of SNAP recipients): “USDA can use multiple tools, such as the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Guide for Effective Nutrition Interventions and Education (GENIE), to define best practices within SNAP-Ed, develop or modify programs, and evaluate outcomes.” Our GENIE publication is also cited: Abram JK, Hand RK, Parrott JS, Brown K, Ziegler PJ, Steiber AL. What is your nutrition program missing? Finding answers with the guide for Effective Nutrition Interventions and Education (GENIE). J Acad Nutr Diet. 2015;115(1):122-130.

These are great examples of the power of collaboration.

A link to the Vilsack letter and the report will be included in Eat Right Weekly. Please let me know if you have any questions.

National Commission on Hunger Releases Report to Congress

“Hunger is a significant problem that has serious health, education and workforce consequences for our nation.”

Washington DC, January 4, 2015 – The National Commission on Hunger, a congressionally appointed bipartisan commission, released its final report today. (Here is a link to the final report.)

The 9-member commission, launched in June 2014, was co-chaired by Robert Doar, Morgridge fellow in Poverty Studies at the American Enterprise Institute and Mariana Chilton, associate professor at Drexel University School of Public Health and director of the Center for Hunger-Free Communities. Together, they held regular meetings, traveling to eight cities around the country to hold public hearings and visit the government, nonprofit, community and faith-based programs working to alleviate hunger. They also heard testimony from 83 experts and 102 members of the public.

Today’s report is part of the commission’s charge to develop innovative reforms in both public and private food assistance programs to reduce and eliminate hunger. The result, titled “Freedom from Hunger: An Achievable Goal for the United States of America, Recommendations of the National Commission on Hunger to Congress and the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture,” is one of the strongest bipartisan affirmations around the solvability of hunger in the United States in decades. It contains a deep look at potential root causes of hunger as well as clear, actionable recommendations.

“The Commission found that hunger is a significant problem in the United States with consequences on health, education and the strength of our workforce,” said Chilton. “It’s a solvable problem, however, and the federal nutrition assistance programs, such as the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance program and child nutrition programs, provide a strong foundation on which to build.”

“We also found that hunger cannot be solved by food alone. It can’t be solved by government efforts alone,” said Doar. “The solutions to hunger require a stronger economy, robust community engagement, corporate partnerships, stronger families and greater personal responsibility. Synergies between government, nonprofits, industry and individuals will have a greater impact on hunger together than any one of these could alone.”

In 2016, 5.6% of households in America, or 6.9 million households, experienced hunger (also known as “very low food security”) within the past year. The recommendations in this report are meant to identify innovative ways to more effectively use USDA programs and funds to combat hunger without increasing spending. To this end, the report offers 20 specific recommendations for system changes to reduce hunger. These recommendations focus on helping those who are not working to find work, supporting those who are working but at low wages or part-time hours, and helping populations that are most at risk, including veterans, people with disabilities, single-parent families with young children, and seniors. In addition, the report makes recommendations concerning improving SNAP's impact on nutrition.

The new report also acknowledges that the root causes of hunger are many and varied, and many of the consequences of hunger are beyond the reach and effectiveness of nutrition assistance programs alone. Thus, one recommendation proposes the creation of a White House Leadership Council to develop and implement a comprehensive plan to eliminate hunger. The report recommends that this Council should include broad representation from government, corporations, nonprofits, faith-based organizations, community leaders, program beneficiaries, private foundations and other stakeholders.

&#8226; For more information on the root causes of hunger and recommendations for system changes, read the new report.

&#8226; For a list and bios of the other members of the commission, read the full list.

About Robert Doar:

Robert Doar is the Morgridge Fellow in Poverty Studies at the American Enterprise Institute (AEI) where he studies and evaluates how free enterprise and improved federal policies and programs can reduce poverty and provide opportunities for vulnerable Americans. Specifically Mr. Doar focuses on the employment, health, education, and community participation of low income Americans and their children.

Before joining AEI, Mr. Doar was commissioner of New York City's Human Resources Administration where he administered 12 public assistance programs for the largest local social services agency in the United States. Programs included welfare, food assistance, public health insurance, home care for the elderly and disabled, energy assistance, child support enforcement services, adult protective services and domestic violence assistance, as well as help for people living with HIV/AIDS. Prior to joining the Bloomberg administration, Mr. Doar was New York State commissioner of social services where he helped to make New York a model for the implementation of welfare reform. Since joining AEI he has written for the Wall Street Journal, the National Review, and Real Clear Markets.

Mr. Doar has a bachelor degree in history from Princeton University.

About Mariana Chilton:

Mariana Chilton is an Associate Professor at Drexel University School of Public Health. She is the Director of the Center for Hunger-Free Communities and is Co-Principal investigator of Children's HealthWatch, a national research network that investigates the impact of public assistance programs on the health and wellbeing of young children and their caregivers. Dr. Chilton founded Witnesses to Hunger, a participatory action study to increase women's participation in the national dialogue on hunger and poverty. She is Principal Investigator of the Building Wealth and Health Network, which is designed to incentivize entrepreneurship and self-sufficiency in the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program.

Dr. Chilton received her PhD from the University of Pennsylvania, Master of Public Health in Epidemiology from the University of Oklahoma, and Bachelor of Arts degree from Harvard University. She has testified before the U.S. Senate and U.S. House of Representatives on the importance of child nutrition programs and other anti-poverty policies. She has served as an advisor to Sesame Street and to the Institute of Medicine. Her awards include the "Nourish Award" from MANNNA, the "Unsung Hero Award" for Improving the Lives of Women and Girls from Women's Way and the Young Professional Award in Maternal and Child Health from the American Public Health Association. Her work has been featured in the Washington Post, the Philadelphia Inquirer, public radio and CBS National News.

Pat, Thanks for the opportunity to send our questions in to you in advance. This will be a very important discussion!

1. Have we completed this scoring on any of our current sponsors and do they pass?
2. Have we checked with any sponsors to see if they will be actually willing to answer all the questions and complete this form?

3. How long do we really think it will take for a potential sponsor to complete all the paperwork we will require?
4. What is a good score on the Harris Poll Reputation Quotient?
5. How would the chair of the committee be determined?
6. Will this committee review sponsorships for affiliates and DPG's?
7. Will this be a totally new committee or can people who served on the SATF committee be a part of the new committee?
8. Can she talk a little more about the difference between US Dietary Guidelines and US Dietary Guidelines food equivalents?

Thanks and I am looking forward to the meeting!

Subject: Sponsorship Agenda Item

We are looking forward to our meeting next week in Chicago. Hopefully you have had a chance to review the Sponsorship Advisory Task Force Report. We want to help Kathy McClusky prepare for the discussion by sharing with her some of your questions in advance. We have captured a few staff inquiries below. If you have anything in addition that you want us to submit to her please share them with me before Friday. Of course you are not limited to the advance questions at the meeting, we are simply trying to help focus the discussion and prepare our presenter.

• How did the Task Force define "Sponsorship"?

- What is new and different in the proposed guidelines from the guidelines that are already in place?
- The recommendations of the Task Force reflect two recommendations that we are already implementing (removed reference to the Total Diet Approach in sponsorship information materials in November 2014; accepted a Scientific Integrity Policy that also recommends engagement with multiple funders whenever possible.) What additional recommendations require Board discussion, approval and action?
- Is it realistic to ask a committee to review the 100s of DPG and Academy sponsorship opportunities?
- The report makes reference to a detailed environmental scan of like-organizations that the task force conducted. Can you share more of the details regarding this scan? What are these organizations implementing that we are not and vice versa?

We are attaching a combined summary completed by Doris Acosta of the DPG comments sent to the Board. Marsha Schofield and Cecily Byrne are reviewing the HOD comments to identify any substantive or new differences between DPG and House comments. Joan Schwaba is posting on the Board portal today the HOD Workbook Consolidations, which we were not aware were being shared with the Board; the agenda reflects the material as attached.

We will be working with a facilitator Liz Monroe-Cook for the discussion portion of the sponsorship agenda item and will provide you with a breakdown of how the five-hour presentation and discussion led by Liz will flow. It will include an opportunity for you to review a new potential premier sponsor using the SATF proposed tools. This information will be provided to you no later than Friday. Thank you for your engagement on this important topic!

Best regards,

Based on our previous discussions, I have developed the attached documentation identifying the primary presenters for each session and the alternate presenter(s) that have been identified to date. An alternate presenter will present only when the primary presenter is unable to present in the event of an emergency. The primary presenter's availability will be requested when scheduling programs. We would like to have one or more alternate presenters for each session. Please provide me with your recommendations by January 22, 2016.

Thank you.

Joan, Thanks for the information. I am very aware of this change and think it is a good one. I personally appreciate not getting a million emails from any candidate. I am pretty sure I am following all rules, but please let me know if you have any concerns that I am not or if someone complains. I want to stay in the straight and narrow. I do not have any intentions of any complaints being sent to the ethics committee about me!! All help and advice is requested and well received in this area! Thanks again!

Subject: Email Addresses for Member Leaders

Hi Donna,

I was contacted by another candidate regarding sending emails to member leaders. I wanted to share the following response to her with you.

Yes, you may send an email to member leaders asking for their vote, but please keep in mind the campaign guidelines (attached) state member leaders can campaign on a personal level but not as an officer on behalf of a group. Member leaders representing Academy organizational units may not campaign for, promote, or create the appearance of favoritism towards individual candidates, for example, "As your Delegate, I encourage you to vote for candidate X." The email addresses for the member leaders are available in the Leadership Directory found at <http://www.eatrightpro.org/~media/eatrightpro%20files/leadership/volunteering/committees%20and%20task%20forces/leadershipdirectory.ashx> .

The guidelines changed last year not allowing blast emails unless sent by the Academy; one reason behind the change was to limit the number of campaign messages members receive so they are not inundated. Please be cognizant of this when campaigning to member leaders.

I hope this helps. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks!

As you may know, Past Academy President Susan Finn was appointed to the bipartisan National Commission on Hunger, as part of the Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2014 (H.R.3547). The Commission will focus on finding innovative methods to help low income Americans avoid what is known as very low food security. This work aligns nicely with our Child Nutrition Reauthorization. Please see the attached letter from Evelyn to Secretary of Agriculture Tom Vilsack on the National Commission's recently released hunger report to Congress. We will leverage our role and highlight the wonderful expertise of RDNs that work in USDA to lead the implementation.

Please note we are mentioned on page 37 of the report: “In addition, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, using funding from Feeding America, General Mills, the ConAgra foundation, and the National Dairy Council, provides community training tools and educational grants for registered dietitian nutritionists to teach low-income people how to cook for their families.”

We are also mentioned on page 45 of the report, where in the Foundation’s GENIE tool is a recommended resource! Funding for this tool was made possible by a grant from the ConAgra Foundation; special thanks go to Barbara Ivens for her support with this project.

GENIE is also mentioned on page 53 under recommendation 6 (Reform SNAP Nutrition Education to ensure that efforts are likely to lead to measurable improvements in the health of SNAP recipients): “USDA can use multiple tools, such as the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Guide for Effective Nutrition Interventions and Education (GENIE), to define best practices within SNAP-Ed, develop or modify programs, and evaluate outcomes.” Our GENIE publication is also cited: Abram JK, Hand RK, Parrott JS, Brown K, Ziegler PJ, Steiber AL. What is your nutrition program missing? Finding answers with the guide for Effective Nutrition Interventions and Education (GENIE). J Acad Nutr Diet. 2015;115(1):122-130.

These are great examples of the power of collaboration.

A link to the Vilsack letter and the report will be included in Eat Right Weekly. Please let me know if you have any questions.

National Commission on Hunger Releases Report to Congress

“Hunger is a significant problem that has serious health, education and workforce consequences for our nation.”

Washington DC, January 4, 2015 – The National Commission on Hunger, a congressionally appointed bipartisan commission, released its final report today. (Here is a link to the final report.)

The 9-member commission, launched in June 2014, was co-chaired by Robert Doar, Morgridge fellow in Poverty Studies at the American Enterprise Institute and Mariana Chilton, associate professor at Drexel University School of Public Health and director of the Center for Hunger-Free Communities. Together, they held regular meetings, traveling to eight cities around the country to hold public hearings and visit the government, nonprofit, community and faith-based programs working to alleviate hunger. They also heard testimony from 83 experts and 102 members of the public.

Today’s report is part of the commission’s charge to develop innovative reforms in both public and private food assistance programs to reduce and eliminate hunger. The result, titled “Freedom from Hunger: An Achievable Goal for the United States of America, Recommendations of the National Commission on Hunger to Congress and the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture,” is one of the strongest bipartisan affirmations around the solvability of hunger in the United States in decades. It contains a deep look at potential root causes of hunger as well as clear, actionable recommendations.

“The Commission found that hunger is a significant problem in the United States with consequences on health, education and the strength of our workforce,” said Chilton. “It’s a solvable problem, however, and the federal nutrition assistance programs, such as the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance program and child nutrition programs, provide a strong foundation on which to build.”

“We also found that hunger cannot be solved by food alone. It can’t be solved by government efforts alone,” said Doar. “The solutions to hunger require a stronger economy, robust community engagement, corporate partnerships, stronger families and greater personal responsibility. Synergies between government, nonprofits, industry and individuals will have a greater impact on hunger together than any one of these could alone.”

In 2016, 5.6% of households in America, or 6.9 million households, experienced hunger (also known as “very low food security”) within the past year. The recommendations in this report are meant to identify innovative ways to more effectively use USDA programs and funds to combat hunger without increasing spending. To this end, the report offers 20 specific recommendations for system changes to reduce hunger. These recommendations focus on helping those who are not working to find work, supporting those who are working but at low wages or part-time hours, and helping populations that are most at risk, including veterans, people with disabilities, single-parent families with young children, and seniors. In addition, the report makes recommendations concerning improving SNAP's impact on nutrition.

The new report also acknowledges that the root causes of hunger are many and varied, and many of the consequences of hunger are beyond the reach and effectiveness of nutrition assistance programs alone. Thus, one recommendation proposes the creation of a White House Leadership Council to develop and implement a comprehensive plan to eliminate hunger. The report recommends that this Council should include broad representation from government, corporations, nonprofits, faith-based organizations, community leaders, program beneficiaries, private foundations and other stakeholders.

&#8226 For more information on the root causes of hunger and recommendations for system changes, read the new report.

&#8226 For a list and bios of the other members of the commission, read the full list.

About Robert Doar:

Robert Doar is the Morgridge Fellow in Poverty Studies at the American Enterprise Institute (AEI) where he studies and evaluates how free enterprise and improved federal policies and programs can reduce poverty and provide opportunities for vulnerable Americans. Specifically Mr. Doar focuses on the employment, health, education, and community participation of low income Americans and their children.

Before joining AEI, Mr. Doar was commissioner of New York City's Human Resources Administration where he administered 12 public assistance programs for the largest local social services agency in the United States. Programs included welfare, food assistance, public health insurance, home care for the elderly and disabled, energy assistance, child support enforcement services, adult protective services and domestic violence assistance, as well as help for people living with HIV/AIDS. Prior to joining the Bloomberg administration, Mr. Doar was New York State commissioner of social services where he helped to make New York a model for the implementation of welfare reform. Since joining AEI he has written for the Wall Street Journal, the National Review, and Real Clear Markets.

Mr. Doar has a bachelor degree in history from Princeton University.

About Mariana Chilton:

Mariana Chilton is an Associate Professor at Drexel University School of Public Health. She is the Director of the Center for Hunger-Free Communities and is Co-Principal investigator of Children's HealthWatch, a national research network that investigates the impact of public assistance programs on the health and wellbeing of young children and their caregivers. Dr. Chilton founded Witnesses to Hunger, a participatory action study to increase women's participation in the national dialogue on hunger and poverty. She is Principal Investigator of the Building Wealth and Health Network, which is designed to incentivize entrepreneurship and self-sufficiency in the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program.

Dr. Chilton received her PhD from the University of Pennsylvania, Master of Public Health in Epidemiology from the University of Oklahoma, and Bachelor of Arts degree from Harvard University. She has testified before the U.S. Senate and U.S. House of Representatives on the importance of child nutrition programs and other anti-poverty policies. She has served as an advisor to Sesame Street and to the Institute of Medicine. Her awards include the "Nourish Award" from MANNNA, the "Unsung Hero Award" for Improving the Lives of Women and Girls from Women's Way and the Young Professional Award in Maternal and Child Health from the American Public Health Association. Her work has been featured in the Washington Post, the Philadelphia Inquirer, public radio and CBS National News.

Based on our previous discussions, I have developed the attached documentation identifying the primary presenters for each session and the alternate presenter(s) that have been identified to date. An alternate presenter will present only when the primary presenter is unable to present in the event of an emergency. The primary presenter's availability will be requested when scheduling programs. We would like to have one or more alternate presenters for each session. Please provide me with your recommendations by January 22, 2016.

Thank you.

Joan, Thanks for the information. I am very aware of this change and think it is a good one. I personally appreciate not getting a million emails from any candidate. I am pretty sure I am following all rules, but please let me know if you have any concerns that I am not or if someone complains. I want to stay in the straight and narrow. I do not have any intentions of any complaints being sent to the ethics committee about me!! All help and advice is requested and well received in this area! Thanks again!

Hi Donna,

I was contacted by another candidate regarding sending emails to member leaders. I wanted to share the following response to her with you.

Yes, you may send an email to member leaders asking for their vote, but please keep in mind the campaign guidelines (attached) state member leaders can campaign on a personal level but not as an officer on behalf of a group. Member leaders representing Academy organizational units may not campaign for, promote, or create the appearance of favoritism towards individual candidates, for example, "As your Delegate, I encourage you to vote for candidate X." The email addresses for the member leaders are available in the Leadership Directory found at <http://www.eatrightpro.org/~media/eatrightpro%20files/leadership/volunteering/committees%20and%20task%20forces/leadershipdirectory.ashx> .

The guidelines changed last year not allowing blast emails unless sent by the Academy; one reason behind the change was to limit the number of campaign messages members receive so they are not inundated. Please be cognizant of this when campaigning to member leaders.

I hope this helps. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks!

Dear Dr. Crayton, Lucille, Sonya, Jean and Pat,
Happy New Year!

I have a concern that I thought was best addressed to the four of you and Pat.

I would like some clarification on why the Academy does not have a formal position paper on the subject of modern agriculture any more, but is planning just a white paper on the subject? We had a paper on agriculture and food biotechnology and let it expire recently. What is curious about the expiration is that it is still being quoted in things like the sponsorship advisory task force report, even though it is expired. I feel like if the next 100 years theme is going to incorporate agriculture in it that we need to have taken a position on this subject. A position paper is the only way we can help members understand the science, and help affiliates, DPGs and Academy spokespeople communicate about the topic. The Academy should focus on all types of agricultural practices in this paper, including organic, conventional, and biotechnology.

I know this topic is a hot topic and one that there is a lot of disagreement over and misinformation being communicated everywhere. Yet, I feel like it is the role of the Academy to help our members navigate this terrain, and if we can't come up with a position on the subject, how do we expect them to be able to be the nutrition experts in this important area?

Thanks for listening to my concern and I look forward to hearing back from the people who I think can help answer my concerns!

Hi Donna –

I had sent Nancy her video in .flv format, like the format in which I sent yours. I have it in .mov and .mp4 format also, however the size is too large to send via standard email. I will send to you via HighTail electronic mailing service. Please let me know if you need anything else.

Many thanks!

Joan, I got the video link you sent me for my campaign video, but I am unable to open it up to view it. Can you see if there is another format that they can send the video in? Dayle Hayes who is helping me with my campaign specifically asked if we could get one that was mac/apple compatible. The one we got could not be opened with any of our computers. Sorry to bother you, but I need the video for campaigning purposes. I saw that Nancy had hers on her website,so I am not sure how she got one that worked, but I thought maybe you could see what you all sent her? Maybe there is a way to copy it off the eatright.pro website that I am not aware of? Sorry to be a bother, but I think the video is a key piece to my campaigning. Thanks for all your help!!!!

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Policy Preview: 2016

The Academy appreciates members' support of the organization's legislative and regulatory issues in 2015. Your involvement will be key in implementing the Academy's priorities in 2016, as well. In January, it is expected that the 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans will be released and Child Nutrition Re-authorization will begin in the Senate. Review key talking points on the Older Americans Re-authorization Act, Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act and Treat and Reduce Obesity Act.

Fight to Preserve Prevention Fund Coming in Early 2016

When Congress returns from winter recess, the House will vote on the Reconciliation bill, which would repeal the Prevention and Public Health Fund. Academy members play a critical role in community-based prevention programs that are supported by the Prevention Fund. The Academy strongly opposes this legislation and members are encouraged to tell your members of Congress to keep the Prevention Fund intact.

Learn More

Support Grows for Providing MNT for Prediabetes

Six new co-sponsors joined the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 1686), increasing the number of sponsors to 31: Reps. Vern Buchanan (Fla.), Doris Matsui (Cali.), Grace Napolitano (Calif.), Eleanor Holmes Norton (D.C.), Lamar Smith (Texas) and Richard Nolan (Minn.). When Congress returns in January, the Academy will renew efforts to pass this important legislation. Materials on the importance of the legislation and an organizational sign-on letter in support of the bill are available.

January 22 Deadline: Nominations for 2016 Public Policy Leadership Award

The Academy seeks nominations for the 2016 Public Policy Leadership Award. Recipients must be members of Congress who demonstrate outstanding service and support for issues of importance to Academy members and the public. Nominations must come from Academy Affiliates. The nomination deadline is January 22.

Learn More

Opportunities to Offer Input on Proposed Regulations and Government Initiatives

Federal agencies continue to be busy issuing multiple proposed regulations affecting everything from food labeling (such as GMOs and use of the term "natural") to successes in the Indian Health Service and technology initiatives. Members are encouraged to work with your dietetic practice groups to submit input on these initiatives, which are detailed in the Public Policy Weekly News and on the Academy's website.

Comments Due January 26: Policies Proposed to Improve Delivery of Chronic Care

Senators seeking long-term solutions to chronic care management released a bipartisan "Policy Options Document" to generate ideas for policies to improve disease management, streamline care coordination, improve quality and reduce Medicare costs. The document includes the Academy's suggestions to include options for expanding telehealth, eliminate barriers to care coordination, expand access to prediabetes education and expand options for obesity treatment options. Input is welcome from dietetic practice groups and member experts. Comments on the document are due January 26.

NEW RELEASE

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics is proud to announce the new release of Hispanic Family Nutrition Complete Counseling Kit by Sylvia Melendez Klinger, MS, RD, LDN, CPT and Kate Brogan, MBA

Hispanic Family Nutrition is an online counseling kit designed to help RDs treat Hispanic patients more effectively through a better understanding of Hispanic culture, family dynamics, and foods. This online toolkit:

- Offers information to help RDNs gain a better understanding of Hispanic families and foods to be able to connect with and treat patients more effectively.
- Includes a comprehensive guide to Hispanic foods, featuring Hispanic “Hero” Foods.
- Provides references illustrating English and Spanish names for foods and a guide to Hispanic produce – including photos, shopping and preparation tips.
- Suggests strategies for changing habits in the kitchen and at the table; including recommendations for healthy alternatives to common cooking techniques or dining habits of Hispanics.

- Includes downloadable client education handouts in English and Spanish to print and distribute.
- Offers 2 hours of Continuing Professional Education credit.

A complimentary eBook has been provided for you and may be accessed using the Academy's eatright eReader app. Download the app to your smartphone or tablet from the Apple App Store or Google Play, or view your eBook through your computer's web browser at http://content.yudu.com/web/2y6m8/0A3ewqc/edition\_list/index.html.

Paul, The feeling is mutual. As I have stated so many times, your team is such a bright spot in the Academy organization. I am excited about the possibility of an extended stay on the FAC. I am gearing up for my campaign, but to be honest I am not going to spend night and day on it.

I hope you enjoy your time in Malta. What I remember most about Malta was all the beautiful two steeple churches (besides the fact they eat rabbit). If you saw all the rabbits in my house you would understand why I don't eat rabbits.

Thanks for all your encouragement, and don't forget that if I win, I will be counting on you for advice!

Merry Christmas to you and your family!

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

January 22 Deadline: Nominations for 2016 Public Policy Leadership Award

The Academy seeks nominations for the 2016 Public Policy Leadership Award. Recipients must be members of Congress who demonstrate outstanding service and support for issues of importance to Academy members and the public. Nominations must come from Academy Affiliates. The nomination deadline is January 22.

Comments Due January 26: Policies Proposed to Improve Delivery of Chronic Care

Senators seeking long-term solutions to chronic care management released a bipartisan "Policy Options Document" to generate ideas for policies to improve disease management, streamline care coordination, improve quality and reduce Medicare costs. The document includes the Academy's suggestions to include options for expanding telehealth, eliminate barriers to care coordination, expand access to prediabetes education and expand options for obesity treatment options. The Academy welcomes input from dietetic practice groups and member experts. Comments on the document are due January 26.

Coming in Early 2016: Fight to Preserve Prevention Fund

House Speaker Paul Ryan (Wis.) intends to move a bill to de-fund the Public Health and Prevention Fund when Congress returns from the winter recess. Academy members play a critical role in community-based prevention programs that are supported by the Prevention Fund. The Academy strongly opposes this legislation, and members are encouraged to tell your members of Congress to keep the Prevention Fund intact.

The agenda and corresponding attachments for the January 12-13 Board meeting have begun to be posted on the Board of Directors' communication platform. Paper copies will not be automatically provided; please contact me by Monday if you want to receive a paper packet. All attachments for agenda items will be e-mailed and placed on the communications platform by Tuesday, January 5. Attachments for the Executive Session will not be placed on the communication platform but will be e-mailed to you by Friday, January 8.

Click here and enter your Academy website username and password to access the agenda and attachments. The committee and task force reports which have been placed on the Board portal can be viewed here. Please reply to all if you have any questions or if a report needs full member discussion at a Board meeting.

The meeting will be held at the Loews Chicago O'Hare Hotel, 5300 North River Road in Rosemont, Illinois. Reservations have been made for arrival on January 12, unless you request otherwise. Your hotel room will be master-billed, but you will be asked to pay for incidentals. The hotel is located two miles from the airport and offers a complimentary airport shuttle to all guests. For domestic flights, pick up is at the Hotel Shuttle Center, Door #2 located by baggage claim; follow the red Shuttle Center signs. Transportation is also available by taxi, just a 10-15 minute ride between the airport and the hotel.

Please contact me if you have any questions.

Best regards,

Joan

Subject: eGrapeVine interest

Dear Past Academy Leaders,
I'm emailing to ascertain interest in an eGrapeVine.

Per my previous email,

The recent "Sad News" postings have made me feel at a loss -- not knowing when someone of our group is quite ill.

So I'll be sending a follow-up email to see if you'd be interested in a way of keeping up w/ one another -- perhaps via an eGrapeVine with sections "On the Mend," Celebrations, Adventures, etc., etc. It would enable us to submit a note to be compiled/distributed monthly or as appropriate. The eGrapeVine wouldn't replace the "Sad News" emails.

So if there is interest in a short eNewsletter, I would volunteer to get it up and running. Then we could rotate its leadership.

I invite ideas for the name of the newsletter itself 'tho GrapeVine is food-related.

Thanks for your feedback,

Nancy Wellman

National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines

Monday, December 21st, 2015

11:00 am Central

(12:00 pm Eastern/9:00 am Pacific)

Thank you for registering for today's webinar on December 21st, 2015. As a confirmed registrant, you should have already received an email from WebEx with a unique link to the live webinar event. This link is valid for ONE computer connection and should not be shared. An additional reminder will be sent to your email approximately 30 minutes prior to the meeting. Please review the following information to ensure a seamless connection and listening process:

NOTE: If you are unable to join the live webinar, you will have access to the CPE and event recording online sent via email

Audio for the Webinar:

- The audio/sound for this webinar is available through VoIP which will play through the speakers on your computer. You need a live internet connection to participate in the webinar.
- There is no dial-in phone number for this event.
- In order to minimize background noise, all computers are MUTED upon entry. Please leave your computer microphone muted as it will not affect your ability to hear the speakers.
- If you have not connected to a WebEx event before, we highly recommend you review the WebEx connection tips included with this email to assist you with any advanced set up and audio testing for the event. Each computer is different and it is best to determine if your computer has any firewall issues that need to be addressed prior to the live event.

**MAC Users: In order for WebEx audio to correctly stream on your computer, please click the following link and follow the steps to install the update. This must be done PRIOR to connecting for the live event.

http://www.intercall.com/downloads/rpvoip\_mac.pkg

Alternative Connection Option:

Since we realize that some email servers may block, or spam, the messages from WebEx, as a registered user for the event, you can connect 15 minutes prior to the event via an alternative pathway:

1. Go to <https://eatright.webex.com/eatright>
2. Under Meeting Center tab (upper left), browse meetings to find National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines
3. Select Join on the far right
4. It will have you enter your name, email and the event password. This password is case sensitive so you would enter the word AND1
5. Agree to allow it to connect to the audio conference and it will pull you into the event.

Mobile Device Users:

You are welcome to connect via the free iTunes App Store or Google Play Store Cisco WebEx App. Be sure to download and install the free app prior to the event. To connect, simply open the app on your device and join the event via Meeting Number by entering the following:

- Meeting Number: 742 742 731
- Meeting Password: AND1

Attached are the current campaign guidelines approved by the Nominating Committee. Please note that the Board's role is to become informed about the candidates and encourage members to vote. No member of the Board of Directors, while serving on the Board, may support an individual candidate through print, electronic or social media communications (e.g., Internet, Facebook, Twitter or Linked In). The guidelines were sent to all candidates on the 2016 ballot.

Nominating Committee Members Martha Peppones, MS, RDN, CD, CSG and Tracy Wilczek, MS, RDN, LDN, are presenting a webinar to all Academy members on December 21 at 11am-12pm CST to provide details regarding the campaign guidelines. If interested in participating please click here to register. The webinar will be recorded and uploaded to the elections website for future playback.

Any questions related to the Nominating Committee process can be sent to me at jschwaba@eatright.org.

Dear Dr. Crayton and Members of the Academy Board of Directors,

On behalf of the Executive Committee (EC) of the School Nutrition Services (SNS) DPG, we certainly appreciate the sponsorship deliberations and discussion held during both the Spring 2015 HOD virtual meeting and Fall 2015 HOD meeting in Nashville. In addition, we value the hard work of the Sponsorship Advisory Task Force which was appointed to review this important issue, provide detailed reports, and facilitate discussion at the fall HOD meeting. Many of our members either work closely with industry or are employed in various capacities within industry. Therefore, our EC felt it was important to express our thoughts to the Academy leadership team regarding this important issue.

We look forward to the task force recommendations and the final decision of the Academy Board of Directors. We are certainly willing to assist in any capacity as needed.

Sincerely,

Diane Duncan-Goldsmith

Strategic Measures Webinar for Affiliate, DPG and MIG Public Policy Leaders

The Legislative and Public Policy Committee, Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee and the Consumer Protection and Licensure Subcommittee have recently developed measures for the Academy's Policy Initiatives and Advocacy efforts. The measures include five engagement measures representing key groups within the organization: Affiliate Advocacy Engagement, Dietetic Practice Group Advocacy Engagement, Academy Committee Advocacy Engagement, Executive Team Engagement, and Employee Advocacy Engagement.

The attached Strategic Measures handout provides an overview for affiliate, DPG and MIG leaders. Training webinars offered in January will assist leaders with understanding the measures and preparing for the release of information. The training webinars will be recorded and posted to the Public Policy Panel COI for future viewing. The live training sessions will be held as follows:

All,

Again, I want to apologize for not having the correct time on my email reminder yesterday. In any event, as you all know, our Finance and Audit Committee meeting will be on Tuesday, December 22nd at 1:00 p.m. CST. Maria has begun to put the information onto the portal and will let you know when everything is completed. The meeting agenda will focus on the following;

1. October final financials
2. November preliminary financials
3. April FAC meeting
4. Follow-up on the Alcohol spending review.

The reason I would like to add back the April FAC call back to the agenda is I would like the Committee to consider having this meeting via webinar instead of in person in Chicago. As I thought about the meeting, I realize that it can be an inconvenience for everyone to travel. That made me look deeper at what we generally discuss;

1. Insurance review by Rob Wessel (from Louisville)
2. Investment review by Al Bryant (from Chicago)
3. Current financials
4. Budget

All of these items generally have “presentations” and PowerPoint's that we go through. These can easily be done via webinars. We have historically scheduled about 1.5 days of work. There are times we can, and do, get done by the end of the first day. I know I hate to sit through a full day of “webinar presentations”. However, we could break the schedule up over two days (4 hours each morning?). Doing this would;

1. Save time for all of you
2. Save around $10,000 for the Academy
3. Allow us to invite incoming FAC leaders without impacting budgets
4. Sets an example for all of the other committees within the organization.

So, between now and Tuesday, I would like all of you to consider whether or not this would be an appropriate choice for the FAC Committee. We will discuss it together on Tuesday.

Now, onto the narrative.

I. October Adjustments

We did make a few adjustments in the financials for October.

1. Academy - We did a deep dive into the Hotel rebates from FNCE with the Meeting's team. They indicated that that we will receive a higher rebate/commission on the hotel rooms than we originally booked. Therefore, we booked an additional $33,600 in revenue for October.
2. CDR – We looked a little closer at the Bank and Trust Fees for CDR and reduced the amount charged to CDR by $9,442.
3. DPGs/MIGs/ACEND – Since we did open the other two areas and were made aware of an additional grant/sponsorship provided to a DPG for FNCE, we recorded an additional $9,229 in revenue for the DPG.

Overall, the changes improved the financial results for October.

II. Investments

Investments have been “rocky” to say the least over the past few months. We had the big rebound in October. This was followed by a small $7,300 gain in November. Not great, but at least an increase. Unfortunately, December has been just as volatile. As of yesterday, the portfolio has lost approximately $776,000 this month. Today, is selling off. So, it appears that we will have to endure the continual ups and downs for the near future.

III. Academy preliminary November Financials (A3 and A10)

The Academy results for November did not meet budget expectations. In November, the Academy missed the revenue target by $36,697. On the expense front, the Academy was over budget by $51,208. If you combine these two numbers, you will see that the Academy missed its operating income target by $87,905. Investments, even though positive, missed the budget target by $97,615 in November. So, after adding everything together, the Academy had a Net Deficit of $255,867. This underperformed the budget by $185,520.

Through November, the Operating Revenues are down by $381,362 while the Operating Expenses are under budget by $120,193. This results in an Operating Deficit of $103,962. This is under-performing to budget by $261,169. Even though this is not great, we are still performing much better than FY15 through November. As you can see, the Academy had an Operational Deficit of $718,082 through November in FY15. Compared to FY16, the Academy is $614,120 better than last year.

The revenue in November continued to under-perform in some of the same areas as we have discussed previously; Membership (down $18.7K), Publications (down $20.5K) and Sponsorships (down $27.1K). These are the recurring categories we have seen all year. Publication's is narrowing the gap on the budgets. This month, the major drivers of the under-run are List Rental (down $6.2K) and Marketing (down $8.4K). Traditional Publications is still down for the month (down $6.2K), but, we are seeing some traction with the new releases that began rolling out in October.

On the expense front, the Academy had a quite a few categories that were up and down. The largest of which was travel (up $29.9K). Some of the travel is due to new initiatives that are funded (Research). However, additional costs for the Board of Directors (up $11.3K) and FNCE ($10.1K) are over-runs. We will keep monitoring the travel, but, it could appear that we may have cut back too much when developing the budgets in FY17. The only other area that jumps out is Legal and Audit (up $5.9K). This is due to higher legal bills. This does fluctuate from month to month and we will see if we can keep these costs down. However, we have an ethics issue that has cost the Academy and CDR a great deal in legal fees. Hopefully, that will not continue.

I am attaching the variance grid for you to review. It should provide to you the detail that you may be looking to review.

IV. Foundation Preliminary November Financials (A2, A8 and A9)

The Foundation had a great month in November thanks to a bequest from Dr. Hertzler's estate ($262,592) and a donation from Alice Wimpfheimer ($100,000) some of which was in honor of her friend, Pakita Erdell who passed away recently. Revenue, overall, was $385,681 over budget. On the expense front, the Foundation was over budget by $30,858. However, Scholarships and Awards was over budget by $43,871. The Scholarships and Awards is a timing issue. So, if you back this out of the equation, the Foundation would have been $13,013 under budget in expense for November.

Year to date, the Foundation's revenue was $360,746 over budget while the expenses are $150,697 under budget. This results in an under-run of their Operating Deficit of $511,443. So, the Foundation is performing well. The only negative at this time is the Investment income. Investment income is now $954,000 below budget.

Even with the under-runs in investment income, the Foundation still retains nearly $23.1 million in reserve (A9).

V. CDR preliminary November Financials (A4 and A11)

CDR , overall, had a good month in November. Even though revenue was under budget by $9.1K, Operating income was over budget by $25.4K. Naturally, the over-run is being driven by under-runs in expense (down $34.6K). The major factor to determine if CDR had a good month is the Operating Income of $71,056. Anytime you have Operating Income, you had a good month. The only negative is the Investment Income. Investment Income fell short of budget by $44,361.

On a year to date basis, CDR is performing very well. Even though revenue is short of budget by $34,932 (primarily due to Weight Management education programs), overall Operating Income is $813,976 higher than the budget. So, the expense under-runs are winning the day. Even after you factor in the investment income shortfall, CDR is still showing Net Income of $39,678. This is $483,622 higher than the budget. CDR is doing very well.

VI. DPGs/MIGS/ACEND Preliminary November Financials (A5 and A12)

The combined DPGs/MIGS/ACEND financial results were below expectations in November. Both revenue (down $27.3K) and expense (up $23.9K) missed the budget targets. However, the final results are still an Operating Income of $96,494. As I mentioned above, it is always good to have a positive result.

On a year to date basis, the combined revenues are under-performing by $54,561 while the combined expenses are under-budget by $433,209. So, as has been the case with the DPGs/MIGS in the past, both revenue and expense have been budgeted higher than what is materializing. However, in the end, they will still do much better on the bottom line than originally anticipate. You will see on page A16, the only DPG/MIG on the “watch list” is Oncology Nutrition (73%) at nearly $182,000 in reserve. So, the DPGS/MIGs are in good financial shape.

VII. ANDPAC Preliminary November Financials (A7 and A14)

ANDPAC did not perform very well in November. Revenue was under-budget by $1,723 while expenses were over-budget by $4,061. Revenue is the biggest concern. ANDPAC's revenue is below budget for the year by $12,437. Most of this is due to lower revenue than budget from the DPGs/MIGs and Affiliates. The PAC has made up for this shortfall by under-running their expense budget by $32,832 for the year. So, even though the PAC has an Operating Deficit of $8.5K, it is still $20,395 better than the budget. In addition, the PAC now has $186,459 in reserve (A18). The PAC is in very good financial shape at the end of November.

I hope this helps a little when going through the November package. As I finish this up, I can see that the stock market continues to move lower. Lets hope it will turn around. If you have any questions, or can't make the call on Tuesday, please let me know. You should have received the webinar invitation from the Academy IT department yesterday. Let us know if you have not. Also, Maria will let you know when everything is on the portal for you to review.

Have a great weekend.

Paul

Dear Dr. Crayton and Members of the Academy Board of Directors,

On behalf of the Executive Committee (EC) of the School Nutrition Services (SNS) DPG, we certainly appreciate the sponsorship deliberations and discussion held during both the Spring 2015 HOD virtual meeting and Fall 2015 HOD meeting in Nashville. In addition, we value the hard work of the Sponsorship Advisory Task Force which was appointed to review this important issue, provide detailed reports, and facilitate discussion at the fall HOD meeting. Many of our members either work closely with industry or are employed in various capacities within industry. Therefore, our EC felt it was important to express our thoughts to the Academy leadership team regarding this important issue.

We look forward to the task force recommendations and the final decision of the Academy Board of Directors. We are certainly willing to assist in any capacity as needed.

Sincerely,

Diane Duncan-Goldsmith

Dear Dr. Crayton and Members of the Academy Board of Directors,

On behalf of the Executive Committee (EC) of the School Nutrition Services (SNS) DPG, we certainly appreciate the sponsorship deliberations and discussion held during both the Spring 2015 HOD virtual meeting and Fall 2015 HOD meeting in Nashville. In addition, we value the hard work of the Sponsorship Advisory Task Force which was appointed to review this important issue, provide detailed reports, and facilitate discussion at the fall HOD meeting. Many of our members either work closely with industry or are employed in various capacities within industry. Therefore, our EC felt it was important to express our thoughts to the Academy leadership team regarding this important issue.

We look forward to the task force recommendations and the final decision of the Academy Board of Directors. We are certainly willing to assist in any capacity as needed.

Sincerely,

Diane Duncan-Goldsmith

The federal government plans to release the 2015 Dietary Guidelines in January, pushing back what many had expected would be an imminent announcement.

"We are making final preparations, and after consideration, determined that the best time to release the new Dietary Guidelines was January, given Americans' focus on healthy eating and exercise around the New Year," Kevin Griffis, a spokesman for the Department of Health and Human Services, said in a statement to POLITICO.

Advocates and industry sources had anticipated the government would release the report to foil a Republican effort to use the appropriations process to address controversial recommendations urging people to eat less red meat and sugar to lower their risk of chronic health problems. But the landscape changed after Congress decided to go with a version of the rider that is less intrusive than originally feared by health advocates.

Top administration officials have also already addressed loud concerns from lawmakers about an advisory panel's recommendation that Americans consider the environmental impact of the food they eat, saying that sustainability and tax policies would not be included in the final document.

The Departments of Agriculture and Health and Human Services, which jointly release the federal nutrition advice, are required to release the guidelines by January 31. The guidelines are updated every five years.

Pat

Dear Donna,

As the year comes to an end, on behalf of the ANDPAC Board of Directors, I would like to thank you for helping the Academy build strong and meaningful relationships with our members of Congress who impact food, nutrition and health policy.

From ensuring children and our seniors have nutritious meals, to the Dietary Guidelines, to obesity and diabetes prevention and treatment – it's been a busy year for the Academy in educating members of Congress. Because of generous donations like yours, this year ANDPAC has strategically supported over 60 members of Congress.

As you reflect on this past year and plan your gifting budget, please consider continuing your support of ANDPAC in 2016 – an important election year. We pledge to continue to work hard to advance the profession through our relationships in Congress.

Thank you again for your continued support. Have a safe and happy holiday season.

Sincerely,

Denise Andersen, MS, RDN, LD, CLC
2015 Chair, ANDPAC Board of Directors

If dietetics is your profession, policy should be your passion!

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee is a separate segregated fund of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics used to support candidates and elected officials. Academy members are not required to contribute to ANDPAC and there is no reprisal for not contributing. Amounts recommended for contribution in Academy publications are merely suggestions and there is no minimum contribution level.

Federal law requires political committees to report to Federal Election Commission the name, mailing address, occupation and name of employer for each individual whose contributions aggregate in excess of $200.00 in a calendar year. Corporate contributions are prohibited by law. Individuals can not contribute more than $5000 per calendar year to the same political action committee. There is no penalty for not contributing. Donations to ANDPAC are not tax deductible.

Subject: School Nutrition Services DPG - Comments on Sponsorship Task Force Recommendations

Dear Dr. Crayton and Members of the Academy Board of Directors,

On behalf of the Executive Committee (EC) of the School Nutrition Services (SNS) DPG, we certainly appreciate the sponsorship deliberations and discussion held during both the Spring 2015 HOD virtual meeting and Fall 2015 HOD meeting in Nashville. In addition, we value the hard work of the Sponsorship Advisory Task Force which was appointed to review this important issue, provide detailed reports, and facilitate discussion at the fall HOD meeting. Many of our members either work closely with industry or are employed in various capacities within industry. Therefore, our EC felt it was important to express our thoughts to the Academy leadership team regarding this important issue.

We look forward to the task force recommendations and the final decision of the Academy Board of Directors. We are certainly willing to assist in any capacity as needed.

Sincerely,

Diane Duncan-Goldsmith

You are receiving this message on behalf of our Marketing Partners at ANFP.

The Association of Nutrition & Foodservice Professionals is offering Academy members a 10% discount on the online course, Food Safety and Technology, during the month of December. One of the most important parts of food service is learning to serve guests safely and effectively. This course provides the standards and common industry practices on how to serve guests safely. Learners will also examine recent developments in technology that help to serve food more safely and effectively.

Upon completion of this course, the following learning objectives should be achieved:

- Be able to identify and recognize the tools used to serve food safely
- Learn the history and reason we use some of the most commonly accepted standards and practices used throughout the industry today.
- Be able to identify comparable practices of keeping food safe that have been developed recently to increase our operational effectiveness.

To purchase this 5-hour SAN CE course, visit HERE and enter ANFPANDDEC to receive the 10% discount, which drops the price from $50 to $45.

Subject: eGrapeVine interest

Dear Past Academy Leaders,

I'm emailing to ascertain interest in an eGrapeVine.

Per my previous email,

The recent "Sad News" postings have made me feel at a loss -- not knowing when someone of our group is quite ill.

So I'll be sending a follow-up email to see if you'd be interested in a way of keeping up w/ one another -- perhaps via an eGrapeVine with sections "On the Mend," Celebrations, Adventures, etc., etc. It would enable us to submit a note to be compiled/distributed monthly or as appropriate.

The eGrapeVine wouldn't replace the "Sad News" emails.

So if there is interest in a short eNewsletter, I would volunteer to get it up and running. Then we could rotate its leadership.

I invite ideas for the name of the newsletter itself 'tho GrapeVine is food-related.

Thanks for your feedback,

Nancy Wellman

Diabetes Update

Over the past 15 years advances in diabetes medicines and treatments have sky rocketed. Scientists have identified several new classes of diabetes medications allowing us to more effectively target the pathology associated with diabetes. More recently the U.S. Food and Drug Administration approved a new class of medications called sodium glucose limiting co-transporter 2 inhibitors (SGLT2) that target the kidney as a means of glycemic control. In the last three years, four new medications - including an injectable, where approved for the management of obesity in people with type 2 diabetes. And in 2013 the American Diabetes Association issued an updated position statement with new nutrition recommendations for the management of adults with diabetes. This rapid pace of research into new medications and nutrition intervention strategies for the management of diabetes, can be challenging for nutrition professionals and diabetes educators, who desire to educate their patients on the most accurate, up-to-date, evidence-based information.

Subject: eGrapeVine interest

Dear Past Academy Leaders,
I'm emailing to ascertain interest in an eGrapeVine.

Per my previous email,

The recent "Sad News" postings have made me feel at a loss -- not knowing when someone of our group is quite ill.

So I'll be sending a follow-up email to see if you'd be interested in a way of keeping up w/ one another -- perhaps via an eGrapeVine with sections "On the Mend," Celebrations, Adventures, etc., etc. It would enable us to submit a note to be compiled/distributed monthly or as appropriate. The eGrapeVine wouldn't replace the "Sad News" emails.

So if there is interest in a short eNewsletter, I would volunteer to get it up and running. Then we could rotate its leadership.

I invite ideas for the name of the newsletter itself 'tho GrapeVine is food-related.

Thanks for your feedback,

Nancy Wellman

Subject: eGrapeVine interest

Dear Past Academy Leaders,

I'm emailing to ascertain interest in an eGrapeVine.

Per my previous email,

The recent "Sad News" postings have made me feel at a loss -- not knowing when someone of our group is quite ill.

So I'll be sending a follow-up email to see if you'd be interested in a way of keeping up w/ one another -- perhaps via an eGrapeVine with sections "On the Mend," Celebrations, Adventures, etc., etc. It would enable us to submit a note to be compiled/distributed monthly or as appropriate.

The eGrapeVine wouldn't replace the "Sad News" emails.

So if there is interest in a short eNewsletter, I would volunteer to get it up and running. Then we could rotate its leadership.

I invite ideas for the name of the newsletter itself 'tho GrapeVine is food-related.

Thanks for your feedback,

Nancy Wellman

December 15, 2015

Today's Public Policy Weekly News:

1. Race to the End of the Year – Update on Dietary Guidelines and Child Nutrition Programs
2. Support Continues to Grow for the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 1686)
3. Threat to Public Health Continue in Congress
4. Action Alert Reports
5. Academy DPG Experts Needed

Important Reminder:

When you register for a WebEx webinar, you will receive a personalized confirmation email. Be sure to save the confirmation email as this is your personal registration link. Use the personal link on the day of the event to log into the webinar. Participants will earn 1 FREE CPEU ($19 value).

Race to the End of the Year - Dietary Guidelines and Child Nutrition Programs

In Congress, reauthorizing child nutrition programs is still a priority this year. The Academy continues to support our Congressional champions working on final negotiations on child nutrition programs, like WIC, School Meals, Farm to School, Child and Adult Care Food Program. To review the Academy's recommendations click here. We also anticipate that the Dietary Guidelines for Americans report will be jointly released from Departments of Health and Human Services and Department of Agriculture this week.

We will still need for you to show your support for Dietary Guidelines to members of Congress, by urging your members to do the action alert and tweet support #SupportDGA.

Support Continues to Grow for the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 1686)

Five new co-sponsors joined the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 1686), increasing the total number of sponsors to 30. The new co-sponsors are Reps. Vern Buchanan (Fla.), Doris Matsui (Calif.), Grace Napolitano (Cali.), Eleanor Holmes Norton (District of Columbia), and Lamar Smith (Texas). Thank you for continuing to promote this important legislation, to expand Medicare coverage of medical nutrition therapy for people with prediabetes. When Congress returns in January 2016, we will renew efforts to pass this important piece of legislation!

Threat to Public Health Continue in Congress

Last week we opened an action alert asking members to contact their members of Congress. We are asking Academy members to take action as soon as possible to tell Congress to keep the Prevention Fund intact. Academy members across the country play a critical role in community-based prevention programs that often receive support from the Prevention Fund. Learn more about these programs here.

Congress will be making decisions in early January. Please continue to ask your members to go the Academy's Action Center to support our profession, protect jobs and keep the Prevention and Public Health Fund intact!

After you have taken the action alert please tweet:

*Why is #Congress eliminating the #PreventionFund that supports nutrition jobs in public health?
#rdchat #eatrightPRO*

*Tell #Congress an ounce of prevention = a pound of cure! Take action:
<http://sm.eatright.org/actionalert> #rdchat #eatrightPRO*

*Urge Congress to protect investments in public health! Vote NO to cutting the #PreventionFund!
#eatrightPRO*

I wrote my Congress members to let them know I support the #PreventionFund. Take action today: <http://sm.eatright.org/actionalert> #rdchat @eatrightpro

Action Alert Reports

Three action alerts are currently open for Academy members. Below find the current action alert information for the Protect the Prevention and Public Health Fund (H.R. 3762), Oppose the Dietary Guidelines Riders, and the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act (S. 1509/H.R. 2404). The participation reports for action alerts will be posted to the COI tomorrow.

Academy DPG Experts Needed

The Academy is considering commenting on a number of proposed regulations, regulatory guidance and information/data collections in the next two months. If you are interested in contributing to the Academy's responses to these regulatory initiatives, please work through your Dietetic Practice Groups (DPGs) to submit input on behalf of the DPG. Many of these information collections are seeking strategies and input for improving research and program structure on the listed topics.

To read more about the proposed rules, click on the links below. The dates noted are the deadline for DPGs to submit input to the Academy's Regulatory Affairs department.

The Academy received notice of the passing of Ken Wear, former Academy Foundation Chair, who died on Wednesday, December 9, 2015. The visitation and service took place this morning, Friday, December 11, in his hometown of Mobile, Alabama. The complete obituary for Ken may be read here. Ken was a dedicated Academy member and RDN who served on a number of Academy committees including the House of Delegates. He wrote the resolution that created National Nutrition Month. Ken also served two terms as Foundation Chair, one in 1988-89 and the other in 2001-2002. His passion for the Academy, the Foundation and the profession was an inspiration to many. The scholarship fund which was established in his name provides support for a minority nutrition and dietetics student. Since the fund was established in 1995, twenty students have been helped. Ken personally requested that anyone wishing to send a memorial donation, to please direct that gift to the Kenneth W. Wear Minority Scholarship fund of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation (just select annual fund if the Ken Wear fund option does not appear, we will recognize this gift from you is to be directed to the Ken Wear fund). George Bernard Shaw must have had Ken Wear in mind when he wrote, “a gentleman is one who puts more into the world than he takes out.” Ken will long be remembered for the many selfless contributions he made to the profession of nutrition and dietetics. He was a gift to all who knew him!

Nancy,

A great idea and I would be glad to share in the effort with others who have expressed interest. I also share these emails with leadership/ friends from the past who are not on the list(e.g. Colleen Mathys and Cheryl Bittle)...not suggesting to add them to the list...I can continue to do my individual sharing.

All the best,

Polly

Subject: eGrapeVine interest

Dear Past Academy Leaders,
I'm emailing to ascertain interest in an eGrapeVine.

Per my previous email,

The recent "Sad News" postings have made me feel at a loss -- not knowing when someone of our group is quite ill.

So I'll be sending a follow-up email to see if you'd be interested in a way of keeping up w/ one another -- perhaps via an eGrapeVine with sections "On the Mend," Celebrations, Adventures, etc., etc. It would enable us to submit a note to be compiled/distributed monthly or as appropriate. The eGrapeVine wouldn't replace the "Sad News" emails.

So if there is interest in a short eNewsletter, I would volunteer to get it up and running. Then we could rotate its leadership.

I invite ideas for the name of the newsletter itself 'tho GrapeVine is food-related.

Thanks for your feedback,

Nancy Wellman

AMEN.....I always enjoy just seeing comments from everyone but it seems to be mostly "sad news".....I truly will enjoy hearing what folks are doing.....trips, family, gardens, weather, jobs...heck, just anything. Nancy, thanks again for suggesting this idea....

Dear Past Academy Leaders,

I'm emailing to ascertain interest in an eGrapeVine.

Per my previous email,

The recent "Sad News" postings have made me feel at a loss -- not knowing when someone of our group is quite ill.

So I'll be sending a follow-up email to see if you'd be interested in a way of keeping up w/ one another -- perhaps via an eGrapeVine with sections "On the Mend," Celebrations, Adventures, etc., etc. It would enable us to submit a note to be compiled/distributed monthly or as appropriate. The eGrapeVine wouldn't replace the "Sad News" emails.

So if there is interest in a short eNewsletter, I would volunteer to get it up and running. Then we could rotate its leadership.

I invite ideas for the name of the newsletter itself 'tho GrapeVine is food-related.

Thanks for your feedback,

Nancy Wellman

The Academy received notice of the passing of Ken Wear, former Academy Foundation Chair, who died on Wednesday, December 9, 2015. The visitation and service took place this morning, Friday, December 11, in his hometown of Mobile, Alabama. The complete obituary for Ken may be read here. Ken was a dedicated Academy member and RDN who served on a number of Academy committees including the House of Delegates. He wrote the resolution that created National Nutrition Month. Ken also served two terms as Foundation Chair, one in 1988-89 and the other in 2001-2002. His passion for the Academy, the Foundation and the profession was an inspiration to many. The scholarship fund which was established in his name provides support for a minority nutrition and dietetics student. Since the fund was established in 1995, twenty students have been helped. Ken personally requested that anyone wishing to send a memorial donation, to please direct that gift to the Kenneth W. Wear Minority Scholarship fund of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation (just select annual fund if the Ken Wear fund option does not appear, we will recognize this gift from you is to be directed to the Ken Wear fund). You can use the link provided or send a check to:

Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation/Ken Wear Fund

120 S. Riverside Plaza, Suite 2000

Chicago, Illinois 60606-6995

We will publish a full page "In Memoriam" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the article.

George Bernard Shaw must have had Ken Wear in mind when he wrote, "a gentleman is one who puts more into the world than he takes out." Ken will long be remembered for the many selfless contributions he made to the profession of nutrition and dietetics. He was a gift to all who knew him!

Best regards,
Pat

Subject: eGrapeVine interest

Dear Past Academy Leaders,
I'm emailing to ascertain interest in an eGrapeVine.

Per my previous email,

The recent "Sad News" postings have made me feel at a loss -- not knowing when someone of our group is quite ill.

So I'll be sending a follow-up email to see if you'd be interested in a way of keeping up w/ one another -- perhaps via an eGrapeVine with sections "On the Mend," Celebrations, Adventures, etc., etc. It would enable us to submit a note to be compiled/distributed monthly or as appropriate.

The eGrapeVine wouldn't replace the "Sad News" emails.

So if there is interest in a short eNewsletter, I would volunteer to get it up and running. Then we could rotate its leadership.

I invite ideas for the name of the newsletter itself 'tho GrapeVine is food-related.

Thanks for your feedback,

Nancy Wellman

Nancy, I totally support your suggestion for using "eGrapevine" as a way to communicate with our group. If "Grapevine" or "eGrapevine" are copyrighted or not available, then we might use "along the Grapevine"!.

Happy holidays everyone!

Subject:Re: Sad News: Ken Wear

I am so sorry to have lost touch with Ken and now it's too late. Ken was such a *sweetheart *and dedicated to our profession. The recent "Sad News" postings have made me feel at a loss -- not knowing when someone of our group is quite ill. So I'll be sending a follow-up email to see if you'd be interested in a way of keeping up w/ one another -- perhaps via an *eGrapeVine* with sections "On the Mend," Celebrations, Adventures, etc., etc. It would enable us to submit a note to be compiled/distributed monthly or as appropriate. The *eGrapeVine* wouldn't replace the "Sad News" emails. So if there is interest, I would volunteer to get it up and running. Then we could rotate its leadership. Subject: eGrapeVine interest

Dear Past Academy Leaders,
I'm emailing to ascertain interest in an eGrapeVine.

Per my previous email,
The recent "Sad News" postings have made me feel at a loss -- not knowing when someone of our group is quite ill.
So I'll be sending a follow-up email to see if you'd be interested in a way of keeping up w/ one another -- perhaps via an eGrapeVine with sections "On the Mend," Celebrations, Adventures, etc., etc. It would enable us to submit a note to be compiled/distributed monthly or as appropriate.
The eGrapeVine wouldn't replace the "Sad News" emails.
So if there is interest in a short eNewsletter, I would volunteer to get it up and running. Then we could rotate its leadership.

I invite ideas for the name of the newsletter itself 'tho GrapeVine is food-related.

Nancy,

A great idea and I would be glad to share in the effort with others who have expressed interest. I also share these emails with leadership/ friends from the past who are not on the list(e.g. Colleen Mathys and Cheryl Bittle)...not suggesting to add them to the list...I can continue to do my individual sharing.

All the best,
Polly

Subject: eGrapeVine interest

Dear Past Academy Leaders,
I'm emailing to ascertain interest in an eGrapeVine.

Per my previous email,
The recent "Sad News" postings have made me feel at a loss -- not knowing when someone of our group is quite ill.
So I'll be sending a follow-up email to see if you'd be interested in a way of keeping up w/ one another -- perhaps via an eGrapeVine with sections "On the Mend," Celebrations, Adventures, etc., etc. It would enable us to submit a note to be compiled/distributed monthly or as appropriate. The eGrapeVine wouldn't replace the "Sad News" emails.
So if there is interest in a short eNewsletter, I would volunteer to get it up and running. Then we could rotate its leadership.

I invite ideas for the name of the newsletter itself 'tho GrapeVine is food-related.
Thanks for your feedback,

Nancy Wellman

I endorse your idea as it's better when we can keep up with each other before the "sad news" arrives!

Subject: eGrapeVine interest

Attachment:

Dear Past Academy Leaders,
I'm emailing to ascertain interest in an eGrapeVine.

Per my previous email,

The recent "Sad News" postings have made me feel at a loss -- not knowing when someone of our group is quite ill.

So I'll be sending a follow-up email to see if you'd be interested in a way of keeping up w/ one another -- perhaps via an eGrapeVine with sections "On the Mend," Celebrations, Adventures, etc., etc. It would enable us to submit a note to be compiled/distributed monthly or as appropriate. The eGrapeVine wouldn't replace the "Sad News" emails.

So if there is interest in a short eNewsletter, I would volunteer to get it up and running. Then we could rotate its leadership.

I invite ideas for the name of the newsletter itself 'tho GrapeVine is food-related.

Thanks for your feedback,

Nancy Wellman

I was truly saddened to read about the passing of Ken and I echo all of your sentiments about this great man. Ken and I served as Area Coordinators together when Colleen Matthys was Speaker and Judy Gilbride was Speaker-Elect. There are special moments I shall always remember from those times, especially when Ken was considered the Senator from Alabama by a maître'd in a Washington DC restaurant who then ushered us into a private dining room for our meal. These are the wonderful moments I shall always cherish.

My thoughts and prayers are with his family.

Best

Becky

We not only lost a Leader in our profession, but we lost a dear friend. When Jackie, his wife called me, to let me know he had died, I told her he was one of the most beloved persons by all in our profession! I just talked to him last week and he seemed somewhat better, so truly this was a shock. Please keep Jackie and his family in our prayers. Audrey

Ken was a dedicated Academy member and RDN who served on a number of Academy committees including the House of Delegates. He wrote the resolution that created National Nutrition Month. Ken also served two terms as Foundation Chair, one in 1988-89 and the other in 2001-2002. His passion for the Academy, the Foundation and the profession was an inspiration to many. Hi Pat! I wanted to reach out to thank you for attending AND committee meetings to personally explain the changes in the organizational structure and to congratulate Harold on his retirement. I believe that your personal presence at these important times demonstrates your commitment to open communications and transparent decision making with our members. I know this must have taken quite of bit of planning to get all of these meetings on your agenda, but I know that the committees I am a part of were very appreciative of your message and offer to answer any questions.

Looking forward to an exciting new year for the Academy!

Sincerely,

Linda

Subject: Sad News: Ken Wear

The Academy received notice of the passing of Ken Wear, former Academy Foundation Chair, who died on Wednesday, December 9, 2015. The visitation and service took place this morning, Friday, December 11, in his hometown of Mobile, Alabama. The complete obituary for Ken may be read here. Ken was a dedicated Academy member and RDN who served on a number of

Academy committees including the House of Delegates. He wrote the resolution that created National Nutrition Month. Ken also served two terms as Foundation Chair, one in 1988-89 and the other in 2001-2002. His passion for the Academy, the Foundation and the profession was an inspiration to many. The scholarship fund which was established in his name provides support for a minority nutrition and dietetics student. Since the fund was established in 1995, twenty students have been helped. Ken personally requested that anyone wishing to send a memorial donation, to please direct that gift to the Kenneth W. Wear Minority Scholarship fund of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation (just select annual fund if the Ken Wear fund option does not appear, we will recognize this gift from you is to be directed to the Ken Wear fund). Now available! 2015 Compensation and Benefits Survey of the Dietetics Profession

The survey has exciting news to report. The median salary for RDNs (now $63,700) and NDTRs (now $42,000) grew more than the inflationary rise of 1.7 since the 2013 survey. As in previous editions, the survey found that RDNs and NDTRs who are members of the Academy earn more per year than non-Academy members ($2,995 and $3,973 respectively*).

Based on the seventh nationwide survey of dietetics professionals, this comprehensive report details the compensation for dozens of core dietitian and dietetic technician jobs, broken down by region, education, experience, supervisory responsibility and much more. The salary calculation worksheet offers users an estimation of what professionals with similar characteristics and similar situations earn, on average. Free for Academy members.

Hi 2015-2016 Champions for Healthy Kids Grant Recipients (Directors and RDNs/DTRs),
I hope your program planning has gone well this summer and your programs are getting off to a great start! Attached is a document with the online survey links and due dates for the required mid-point (due 12-31-15) and final (due 6-30-16) reports. Also attached are the pdf files of the surveys for your convenient viewing of the questions in advance. As many of you may know from past experience, it is likely best to prepare your responses in a Word document and copy and paste them into the survey. You will not be able to access your responses once you complete the survey. Please let me know if I can help you in any way with your program implementation and/or if you have any questions about the reporting process.

Thank you and best wishes for a successful program!

Hi Donna –

The revised campaign guidelines are going through final approval by the Nominating Committee and will be released by next week to the candidates. In the guidelines it states candidates may link their personal campaign website to Academy's election webpage (www.eatright.org/elections) but Academy election webpage (or eblast) cannot link to personal campaign websites.

Hope this helps.

Dear Nancy and Donna,

In order to create a fair, meaningful environment for the Academy's elections, according to the National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines, candidates may not send blast emails to the Academy's entire membership, other than emails that are provided by the Academy. The Academy will publicize the president-elect candidates via three blast emails to voting eligible members. The first eblast is scheduled for Thursday, January 7, the second for Thursday, January 14 and the final on Thursday, January 28. The personal campaign content of three blast emails is of your choice – with a 150 word count. I have attached a mock-up of what the email would look like. The January 14 email will have content of your choice, along with promotion for the Meet the Candidates Forum.

Please save the dates for the Meet the President-elect Candidates Forum which will take place at 1:00pm CST on Wednesday, January 26. Details for the Forum regarding the format and schedule will be sent in late December.

Attached is a basic template which will contain your photo and link to the elections website and candidate biographical information. Please design and draft wording for a brief promotional campaign statement with a maximum of 150 words and provide to me by the following schedule.

Please know the content supplied is subject to approval by Academy staff. The final copy will be sent to you prior to publication for review and approval.

Dear Nancy and Donna,

In order to create a fair, meaningful environment for the Academy's elections, according to the National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines, candidates may not send blast emails to the Academy's entire membership, other than emails that are provided by the Academy. The Academy will publicize the president-elect candidates via three blast emails to voting eligible members. The first eblast is scheduled for Thursday, January 7, the second for Thursday, January 14 and the final on Thursday, January 28. The personal campaign content of three blast emails is of your choice – with a 150 word count. I have attached a mock-up of what the email would look like. The January 14 email will have content of your choice, along with promotion for the Meet the Candidates Forum.

Please save the dates for the Meet the President-elect Candidates Forum which will take place at 1:00pm CST on Wednesday Tuesday, January 26. Details for the Forum regarding the format and schedule will be sent in late December.

Attached is a basic template which will contain your photo and link to the elections website and candidate biographical information. Please design and draft wording for a brief promotional campaign statement with a maximum of 150 words and provide to me by the following schedule. Please know the content supplied is subject to approval by Academy staff. The final copy will be sent to you prior to publication for review and approval.

I asked the Academy's Creative Media team to think of something clever as a tag line why people should vote in Academy elections. The online/social media promotions campaign they created for the committee's consideration follows. I personally love their proposed theme, "Own Tomorrow. Vote Today." Please read below.

Hi Pat,

As promised, the Creative Media team regrouped on this today and below is the online/social media promotions campaign we recommend for your consideration:

Campaign

Academy elections

KPIs

- Increased voting activity in 2016 elections (measurable)
- Positive engagement among members (sentiment is measurable but there's no comparative data; can begin benchmarking in 2016)

Timeline

January 2016 (campaigning), February 2016 (voting)

Audience

Academy members, particularly those who are less-engaged and/or younger members in their first three-four years of membership.

Application

Contemporary umbrella campaign with supporting online creative assets and digital media plus a robust social media program leveraging all engagement communities and influencers.

Rationale

Historically the election promotions have been centered on noble themes of it's your duty, be a leader, have a voice, do it for the profession, etc., using language designed to evoke inspiration, organizational patriotism and a sense of honor and responsibility. This is an extremely effective treatment for “your base,” but that audience is already engaged and voting. We want to reach the members who aren't as engaged or voting, which means coming at it from a completely different angle. In today's environment, we believe that angle is smart, fresh and leverages social media with creative, viral assets. Language should be more contemporary and aggressive, and artwork more edgy and shareable.

In addition, while we certainly can complement the Second Century campaign in the 2016 elections, we don't recommend trying to link the two initiatives too closely as this dilutes both campaigns and risks causing confusion. It would be more effective to push the “Second Century” theme in the 2017 election, when there is more campaign recognition.

Concept

Main Theme (aka tagline): “Own Tomorrow. Vote Today.”

The cornerstone of the Academy elections campaign, this theme evokes immediacy through use of “today” and “tomorrow” (as opposed to “the future”) and powerful, monosyllabic verbs (aggressive and trendy “own” vs. more passive “shape,” “influence” or “impact”). Like any good campaign, it's multidimensional: “Own” not only means driving success, but also being accountable. Creative for the “Own Tomorrow. Vote Today” would include banners, a meme and an animated .gif.

Supporting Slogans (strictly for static memes and animated .gifs in social media):
“Not voting is SO last century.”

This alludes to the upcoming anniversary and Second Century without confusing campaigns, plus it is funny and shareable.

This language is a little more traditional for our base, and accompanies an animated .gif of a paper fortune teller—also very shareable and the perfect retro-80s visual for our younger audience.

“It isn’t who has the most fans and followers. It’s who will get ‘er done.”

This is the rawest of the social media support slogans, but it’s actually a campaigning tool to drive users to the candidate info and bios. (See #1 below). As “non-Academy” as the language is, we believe this would be a highly effective theme in social media. It also speaks to the pervasive undercurrent among many members that elections is “basically a popularity contest” and helps redirect attention from the context of social media to focus on the substance of the candidates’ platforms. Which is ironic for a social media asset, but I digress.

Components

- 1) The Academy elections campaign needs much more robust candidate bios. They need to be more interesting, relevant and relatable to rank-and-file members, in addition to give some sort of insight into their positions and priorities. Recommendations include adding answers to humanizing questions (“What advice would you give your student self?” “What is your vision for the future of the profession?”), in addition to having the President-elect and Speak of the House candidates complete a “priorities poll” that could be turned into a java quiz that members could take. VERY EFFECTIVE. VERY SHAREABLE. Would also present the candidates as their “authentic selves” (a term that basically translates to, “Here’s me in my living room. See? I’m a real person and X, Y and Z is what I’m about.”)
- 2) The Academy elections campaign needs a coordinated social media program. Through the use of memes and animated .gifs along with traditional social media messages, we can develop shareable content that helps spread the word visually and effectively. These will work best through the coordinated messaging with our communities and influencers, including spokespeople, state media reps, affiliates, DPGs/MIGs and leaders.
- 3) The Academy elections campaign needs to refine the “Affiliate Challenge”: I wasn’t sure if we’re even still doing this contest, but if so, we recommend changing the name to something more direct and catchy, and more importantly, updating the data more frequently. Last year we received updates every two or three days; we need updates every two or three hours in order to build any following around it. Otherwise, it’s actually more of a counterproductive distraction to the target audience (again, less-engaged nonvoters).

This is so exciting! I had already put a "rock the vote" slogan on my web page, but will wait to see if we will be allowed to use some of this on our social media campaigns. Another great example of how amazing our media team is. I am so pumped up about all of this. Thanks for keeping me in the loop.

I am continuing to pray for you and your daughters over this holiday season, as I know how tough it is on all of you. My hope is that you will take some time off over the holidays to spend with your girls. Your time with them would be the best Christmas present they could receive.

Your support is one of my best Christmas presents this year!

I asked the Academy's Creative Media team to think of something clever as a tag line why people should vote in Academy elections. The online/social media promotions campaign they created for the committee's consideration follows. I personally love their proposed theme, "Own Tomorrow. Vote Today." Please read below.

Hi Pat,

As promised, the Creative Media team regrouped on this today and below is the online/social media promotions campaign we recommend for your consideration:

Campaign

Academy elections

KPIs

- Increased voting activity in 2016 elections (measurable)
- Positive engagement among members (sentiment is measurable but there's no comparative data; can begin benchmarking in 2016)

Timeline

Audience

Academy members, particularly those who are less-engaged and/or younger members in their first three-four years of membership.

Application

Rationale

Historically the election promotions have been centered on noble themes of it's your duty, be a leader, have a voice, do it for the profession, etc., using language designed to evoke inspiration, organizational patriotism and a sense of honor and responsibility. This is an extremely effective treatment for “your base,” but that audience is already engaged and voting. We want to reach the members who aren't as engaged or voting, which means coming at it from a completely different angle. In today's environment, we believe that angle is smart, fresh and leverages social media with creative, viral assets. Language should be more contemporary and aggressive, and artwork more edgy and shareable.

In addition, while we certainly can complement the Second Century campaign in the 2016 elections, we don't recommend trying to link the two initiatives too closely as this dilutes both campaigns and risks causing confusion. It would be more effective to push the “Second Century” theme in the 2017 election, when there is more campaign recognition.

Concept

Main Theme (aka tagline): “Own Tomorrow. Vote Today.”

The cornerstone of the Academy elections campaign, this theme evokes immediacy through use of “today” and “tomorrow” (as opposed to “the future”) and powerful, monosyllabic verbs (aggressive and trendy “own” vs. more passive “shape,” “influence” or “impact”). Like any good campaign, it's multidimensional: "Own" not only means driving success, but also being accountable. Creative for the "Own Tomorrow. Vote Today" would include banners, a meme and an animated .gif.

Supporting Slogans (strictly for static memes and animated .gifs in social media):

"Not voting is SO last century."

This alludes to the upcoming anniversary and Second Century without confusing campaigns, plus it is funny and shareable.

"It's easier to see the future when you shape the future."

This language is a little more traditional for our base, and accompanies an animated .gif of a paper fortune teller—also very shareable and the perfect retro-80s visual for our younger audience.

"It isn't who has the most fans and followers. It's who will get 'er done."

This is the rawest of the social media support slogans, but it's actually a campaigning tool to drive users to the candidate info and bios. (See #1 below). As "non-Academy" as the language is, we believe this would be a highly effective theme in social media. It also speaks to the pervasive undercurrent among many members that elections is "basically a popularity contest" and helps redirect attention from the context of social media to focus on the substance of the candidates' platforms. Which is ironic for a social media asset, but I digress.

Components

1) The Academy elections campaign needs much more robust candidate bios. They need to be more interesting, relevant and relatable to rank-and-file members, in addition to give some sort of insight into their positions and priorities. Recommendations include adding answers to humanizing questions ("What advice would you give your student self?" "What is your vision for the future of the profession?"), in addition to having the President-elect and Speak of the House candidates complete a "priorities poll" that could be turned into a java quiz that members could take. VERY EFFECTIVE. VERY SHAREABLE. Would also present the candidates as their "authentic selves" (a term that basically translates to, "Here's me in my living room. See? I'm a real person and X, Y and Z is what I'm about.")

2) The Academy elections campaign needs a coordinated social media program. Through the use of memes and animated .gifs along with traditional social media messages, we can develop shareable content that helps spread the word visually and effectively. These will work best through the coordinated messaging with our communities and influencers, including spokespeople, state media reps, affiliates, DPGs/MIGs and leaders.

3) The Academy elections campaign needs to refine the “Affiliate Challenge”: I wasn’t sure if we’re even still doing this contest, but if so, we recommend changing the name to something more direct and catchy, and more importantly, updating the data more frequently. Last year we received updates every two or three days; we need updates every two or three hours in order to build any following around it. Otherwise, it’s actually more of a counterproductive distraction to the target audience (again, less-engaged nonvoters).

Tell Congress: Protect the Prevention and Public Health Fund

Your Representative needs to hear from you today!

Send a letter asking Congress to keep the Prevention and Public Health Fund!

The Prevention Fund was authorized in the Affordable Care Act to address a critical gap in our nation's investment in public health. Prevention Fund dollars are being used to:

- Enhance community-based preventive health programs at the local level, including obesity and diabetes prevention through CDC grants
- Expand awareness of clinical preventive services and benefits
- Bolster the public health workforce and infrastructure at the state and local level
- Support science and research in chronic disease prevention.

Academy members across the country play a critical role in community-based prevention programs that often receive support from the Prevention Fund.

The Senate passed a measure last week that, in part, repeals the Prevention Fund. Some changes were made to the House version of the bill (H.R. 3762). It will now go back to the House for another vote. This is your chance to stand up for prevention programs and funding.

President Obama has announced that he will veto the bill, if it passes the House.

Heres how you can make a difference:

1. Exercise your voice. Tell Congress to keep the Prevention and Public Health Fund intact. Every contact amplifies our message.

TAKE ACTION TODAY!

2. Make a contribution to ANDPAC. The funds help the Academy support decision makers who understand the critical need for the Prevention Fund.

Thank you in advance for being a leader in the nations efforts toward better health.

Race to the End of the Year - Dietary Guidelines and Child Nutrition Programs

In Congress, reauthorizing child nutrition programs is still a priority this year. The Academy continues to support our Congressional champions working on final negotiations on child nutrition programs, like WIC, School Meals, Farm to School, Child and Adult Care Food Program. To review the Academy's recommendations click here

We also anticipate that the Dietary Guidelines for Americans report will be jointly released from Departments of Health and Human Services and Department of Agriculture this week.

We will still need for you to show your support for Dietary Guidelines to members of Congress, by urging your members to do the action alert and tweet support #SupportDGA.

Threat to Public Health Continue in Congress—Action Needed Today!

We opened an action alert today on the Prevention Fund threats. We are asking Academy members to take action as soon as possible to tell Congress to keep the Prevention Fund intact. Academy members across the country play a critical role in community-based prevention programs that often receive support from the Prevention Fund. Learn more about these programs here.

The Academy will be sending an “all member eblast message” tonight asking members to immediate take action. It is extremely important that Academy members take action as soon as possible!

On Wednesday, December 9, send the following approved message to your members, colleagues and friends:

Subject: Keep the Prevention Fund Intact!

In today's environment, we believe that angle is smart, fresh and leverages social media with creative, viral assets. Language should be more contemporary and aggressive, and artwork more edgy and shareable.

In addition, while we certainly can complement the Second Century campaign in the 2016 elections, we don't recommend trying to link the two initiatives too closely as this dilutes both campaigns and risks causing confusion. It would be more effective to push the "Second Century" theme in the 2017 election, when there is more campaign recognition.

Concept

Main Theme (aka tagline): *"Own Tomorrow. Vote Today."

The cornerstone of the Academy elections campaign, this theme evokes immediacy through use of "today" and "tomorrow" (as opposed to "the future") and powerful, monosyllabic verbs (aggressive and trendy "own" vs. more passive "shape," "influence" or "impact"). Like any good campaign, it's multidimensional: "Own" not only means driving success, but also being accountable. Creative for the "Own Tomorrow. Vote Today" would include banners, a meme and an animated .gif.

Supporting Slogans (strictly for static memes and animated .gifs in social media):

"Not voting is SO last century."

This alludes to the upcoming anniversary and Second Century without confusing campaigns, plus it is funny and shareable.

"It's easier to see the future when you shape the future."

This language is a little more traditional for our base, and accompanies an animated .gif of a paper fortune teller—also very shareable and the perfect retro-80s visual for our younger audience.

"It isn't who has the most fans and followers. It's who will get 'er done."

This is the rawest of the social media support slogans, but it's actually a campaigning tool to drive users to the candidate info and bios. (See #1 below). As "non-Academy" as the language is, we believe this would be a highly effective theme in social media. It also speaks to the pervasive undercurrent among many members that elections is "basically a popularity contest" and helps redirect attention from the context of social media to focus on the substance of the candidates' platforms. Which is ironic for a social media asset, but I digress.

Components

1) The Academy elections campaign needs much more robust candidate bios. They need to be more interesting, relevant and relatable to rank-and-file members, in addition to give some sort of insight into their positions and priorities. Recommendations include adding answers to humanizing questions (“What advice would you give your student self?” “What is your vision for the future of the profession?”), in addition to having the President-elect and Speak of the House candidates complete a “priorities poll” that could be turned into a java quiz that members could take. VERY EFFECTIVE. VERY SHAREABLE. Would also present the candidates as their “authentic selves” (a term that basically translates to, “Here’s me in my living room. See? I’m a real person and X, Y and Z is what I’m about.”)

2) The Academy elections campaign needs a coordinated social media program. Through the use of memes and animated .gifs along with traditional social media messages, we can develop shareable content that helps spread the word visually and effectively. These will work best through the coordinated messaging with our communities and influencers, including spokespeople, state media reps, affiliates, DPGs/MIGs and leaders.

3) The Academy elections campaign needs to refine the “Affiliate Challenge”: I wasn’t sure if we’re even still doing this contest, but if so, we recommend changing the name to something more direct and catchy, and more importantly, updating the data more frequently. Last year we received updates every two or three days; we need updates every two or three hours in order to build any following around it. Otherwise, it’s actually more of a counterproductive distraction to the target audience (again, less-engaged nonvoters).

The Academy is preparing for the release of the 2015 Dietary Guidelines for Americans expected to occur on Thursday, December 10.

An all-member email will be sent from Evelyn immediately following the announcement, informing members that the DGAs have been released. The communication will include links to resources the Academy is making available to members to help them access the DGAs, quickly determine what is new and different from the 2010 Dietary Guidelines, and prepare members to apply the DGAs in their practice settings.

The Academy is also developing communications targeting the media and consumers. These coordinated communications will include press releases, website postings, and social media outreach.

Please let me know if you have any questions or comments.

Best regards,

Pat

Hi Donna,

I had the designer try and crop the new photo you provided to 200x200, which is the size of the field for the photo display on the bio form. Unfortunately, he said it's not possible to show more of your body in the 200x200 space and there would need to be more on the left and right than there currently is. He tried to extend the background but your arm on the right side of the picture gets cropped.

Please let me know if you have another picture of if you'd like to use the current one.

Thanks!

Joan, I can't believe you noticed that. I had tried to put in a new picture that was not cropped, but it would not allow me to change it. I am attaching the picture (not cropped) that I would like to use. Can you replace the cropped one with this one for me? I cannot tell you how excited I am to be on the ballot. I tried to call you a couple of times, but you were not in the office and I did not leave a message. Thanks for all your support!!!!!!

Donna,

I think your picture looks perfect; the pixel resolution for your picture is clear and sharp. Of course, if you wish to use another, all you need to do is just upload it and it will override the previous copy.

Please let me know if you need anything else.

Have a wonderful weekend!

Hi Donna,

I had the designer try and crop the new photo you provided to 200x200, which is the size of the field for the photo display on the bio form. Unfortunately, he said it's not possible to show more of your body in the 200x200 space and there would need to be more on the left and right than there currently is. He tried to extend the background but your arm on the right side of the picture gets cropped.

Please let me know if you have another picture of if you'd like to use the current one.

Thanks!

Well, I have looked at the cash at the end of November and I am happy to say that we have approximately $100,000 more in operating cash at the end of November than we did at the end of November 2014. This is after moving $750,000 less this year from reserves to operating cash when compared to the same period in 2014. So, in short, we are about $850,000 better than last year. A nice accomplishment.

The line of credit will cost approximately 2.25% annualized or $1,875 per month. Pat has agreed to do so.

Also, depending on the spending of all of the Academy organizations (CDR, DPGS, MIGS, ACEND, Academy), I cannot guarantee that we won't need additional funds in January. Please keep in mind that all of the cash in and out from operations are "co-mingled". We have separate cash accounts that role up under the umbrella of the Academy account. Accounting keeps track of all of the cash within our accounting systems. So, if the DPGS spend more money than they take in, it will reduce our operating cash. I mentioned last month that the DPGS were running a collective $387,000 operating deficit. Essentially, this is $387,000 less in cash than we had at the start of the year (there are other variables, but, this will be close) from DPGS. If this continued, then we may eventually need to take money out of reserves to cover the difference.

>Also remember that the collective operating losses of all entities were budgeted to be $3.5M for the Academy organizations and $0.5M for the Foundation. So, if everyone hit their budgets, we would need $4M from reserves. We will have taken out of reserve $1.25M plus the $1.0M in loans. The combined $2.25 million is just a little over 56% of the total potential that was originally budgeted.

>Finally, I felt the loan was more appropriate at this time because the markets seem to be stabilized for the moment and we historically have seen a "Santa Claus" rally at the end of the year. I believe the $1,875 it cost us for the loan would be much less than the actual gains we might experience between now and January. All we would need is 0.1875% (.001875) to break even. That is a low threshold to overcome.

Hi Donna,

I had the designer try and crop the new photo you provided to 200x200, which is the size of the field for the photo display on the bio form. Unfortunately, he said it's not possible to show more of your body in the 200x200 space and there would need to be more on the left and right than there currently is. He tried to extend the background but your arm on the right side of the picture gets cropped.

Please let me know if you have another picture of if you'd like to use the current one.

Thanks!

Joan, I don't have another picture to use. I have attached a word document that shows how I thought the current picture that was attached to the bio was going to look. If this is how it looks, then we can use the current one. If not, can you show me how it is going to look?

Hi Donna,

I had the designer try and crop the new photo you provided to 200x200, which is the size of the field for the photo display on the bio form. Unfortunately, he said it's not possible to show more of your body in the 200x200 space and there would need to be more on the left and right than there currently is. He tried to extend the background but your arm on the right side of the picture gets cropped.

Please let me know if you have another picture of if you'd like to use the current one.

Thanks!

Joan, I can't believe you noticed that. I had tried to put in a new picture that was not cropped, but it would not allow me to change it. I am attaching the picture (not cropped) that I would like to use. Can you replace the cropped one with this one for me? I cannot tell you how excited I am to be on the ballot. I tried to call you a couple of times, but you were not in the office and I did not leave a message. Thanks for all your support!!!!!!

Well, I have looked at the cash at the end of November and I am happy to say that we have approximately $100,000 more in operating cash at the end of November than we did at the end of November 2014. This is after moving $750,000 less this year from reserves to operating cash when compared to the same period in 2014. So, in short, we are about $850,000 better than last year. A nice accomplishment.

> Last year, we moved $1,000,000 from reserves into operating cash during December. As I look at the current cash demands moving forward, I am not comfortable that will have enough money in our operating cash accounts to meet the demands. So, at this stage, I will need to move some additional funds into operations. I have recommended to Pat that we used the line of credit and move $1,000,000 into our operational cash accounts. The line of credit will cost approximately 2.25% annualized or $1,875 per month. Pat has agreed to do so.

> I believe the additional $1,000,000 should get us through December. I did not want to take $500,000 now and $500,000 later. I would prefer to have a little extra now and have a buffer. Also, depending on the spending of all of the Academy organizations (CDR, DPGS, MIGS, ACEND, Academy), I cannot guarantee that we won't need additional funds in January. Please keep in mind that all of the cash in and out from operations are "co-mingled". We have separate cash accounts that roll up under the umbrella of the Academy account. Accounting keeps track of all of the cash within our accounting systems. So, if the DPGS spend more money than they take in, it will reduce our operating cash. I mentioned last month that the DPGS were running a collective $387,000 operating deficit. Essentially, this is $387,000 less in cash than we had at the start of the year (there are other variables, but, this will be close) from DPGS. If this continued, then we may eventually need to take money out of reserves to cover the difference.

> Also remember that the collective operating losses of all entities were budgeted to be $3.5M for the Academy organizations and $0.5M for the Foundation. So, if everyone hit their budgets, we would need $4M from reserves. We will have taken out of reserve $1.25M plus the $1.0M in loans. The combined $2.25 million is just a little over 56% of the total potential that was originally budgeted.

> Finally, I felt the loan was more appropriate at this time because the markets seem to be stabilized for the moment and we historically have seen a "Santa Claus" rally at the end of the year. I believe the $1,875 it cost us for the loan would be much less than the actual gains we might experience between now and January. All we would need is 0.1875% (.001875) to break even. That is a low threshold to overcome.

> I hope this helps. Please feel free to send me an email or give me a call at 800-877-1600, ext. 4730, if you have any questions or concerns.

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND®) is writing to keep you informed of our work on the future education model standards. A copy of the December update is posted on the ACEND Standards webpage www.eatrightacend.org/ACEND/Standards.

The December update includes a brief recap of ACEND related activities at FNCE® and addresses questions received at the November 12 Virtual Town Hall Meeting. The virtual town hall meetings are held the second Thursday of each month at 11:30 a.m. Central Time. The next meeting will occur December 10. Information for connecting to the virtual town hall is posted on the ACEND Standards webpage www.eatrightacend.org/ACEND/Standards.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

The ACEND board and staff hope you have a happy holiday season!

Thank you so much.

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

December 10: Policy Seminar on Interventions for Cancer Survivors

The Academy will co-host a policy seminar December 10 in Washington, D.C., on nutrition and physical activity interventions for cancer survivors. Academy members and staff will participate in the seminar, which is co-hosted by the American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network and the International Health, Racquet and Sportsclub Association.

December 10 Webinar: Managing Diabetes

Join Healthy People 2020 and the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance for a December 10 webinar on "Empowering People to Manage Their Diabetes." The Academy is a co-chair of the Alliance. The webinar will focus on diabetes self-management education. Registration is now open.

Congress Returns, Threats to Dietary Guidelines Remain

As Congress returns to Washington D.C., it will have limited time to fund the government. The short-term spending bill runs out December 11 and Congress is considering options and priorities for a year-long spending bill. The threat remains to limit the scope and funding of the Dietary Guidelines for Americans. Take action now: Tell Congress to support the Dietary Guidelines during discussions on the budget. Tweet your support with the hashtag #SupportDGA.

Academy Urges Congress: Keep Prevention and Public Health Fund

The Senate is tentatively scheduled to begin debate on a modified version of the House's Restoring Americans' Healthcare Freedom Reconciliation Act of 2015 (H.R. 3762). The Academy has joined other organizations to urge Congress not to eliminate the Prevention and Public Health Fund, which funds important work done by Academy members.

All,

I mentioned on our last call, and in the email I sent to you in November, that I would continue to monitor the cash flows of the Academy. Well, I have looked at the cash at the end of November and I am happy to say that we have approximately $100,000 more in operating cash at the end of November than we did at the end of November 2014. This is after moving $750,000 less this year from reserves to operating cash when compared to the same period in 2014. So, in short, we are about $850,000 better than last year. A nice accomplishment.

Last year, we moved $1,000,000 from reserves into operating cash during December. As I look at the current cash demands moving forward, I am not comfortable that will have enough money in our operating cash accounts to meet the demands. So, at this stage, I will need to move some additional funds into operations. I have recommended to Pat that we used the line of credit and move $1,000,000 into our operational cash accounts. The line of credit will cost approximately 2.25% annualized or $1,875 per month. Pat has agreed to do so.

I am attaching the Credit Policy approved last year for reference. You can review the criteria at your leisure. The short version of the requirements are;

1. Notify the Finance Committee
2. Cannot exceed $1,000,000
3. Held for no more than 90 days unless approved by the FAC
4. Staff must provide monthly updates on the loan for the FAC

I believe the additional $1,000,000 should get us through December. I did not want to take $500,000 now and $500,000 later. I would prefer to have a little extra now and have a buffer. Also, depending on the spending of all of the Academy organizations (CDR, DPGS, MIGS, ACEND, Academy), I cannot guarantee that we won't need additional funds in January. Please keep in mind that all of the cash in and out from operations are "co-mingled". We have separate cash accounts that roll up under the umbrella of the Academy account. Accounting keeps track of all of the cash within our accounting systems. So, if the DPGS spend more money than they take in, it will reduce our operating cash. I mentioned last month that the DPGS were running a collective $387,000 operating deficit. Essentially, this is $387,000 less in cash than we had at the start of the year (there are other variables, but, this will be close) from DPGS. If this continued, then we may eventually need to take money out of reserves to cover the difference. Also remember that the collective operating losses of all entities were budgeted to be $3.5M for the Academy organizations and $0.5M for the Foundation. So, if everyone hit their budgets, we would need $4M from reserves. We will have taken out of reserve $1.25M plus the $1.0M in loans. The combined $2.25 million is just a little over 56% of the total potential that was originally budgeted.

Finally, I felt the loan was more appropriate at this time because the markets seem to be stabilized for the moment and we historically have seen a "Santa Claus" rally at the end of the year. I believe the $1,875 it cost us for the loan would be much less than the actual gains we might experience between now and January. All we would need is 0.1875% (.001875) to break even. That is a low threshold to overcome.

I hope this helps. Please feel free to send me an email or give me a call at 800-877-1600, ext. 4730, if you have any questions or concerns.

Hello!

We have a great opportunity to influence nutrition policy at CDC. As you know CDC is a major of nutrition services and interventions which results in millions of dollars for members' employment opportunities. The position of Director of the Division of Nutrition, Physical Activity, and Obesity (DNPAO) in the National Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (NCCDPHP) is soon to be open. The PIA staff works closely with this group and they are aware that we feel an Academy member would make a very qualified leader. Please share with me any names of candidates for this very important position. Self-nominations are welcome! The announcement is attached and short summary of the position is below.

Many thanks!

Mary Pat

Change happens at the speed of trust

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is seeking exceptional candidates for the position of Director of the Division of Nutrition, Physical Activity, and Obesity (DNPAO) in the National Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (NCCDPHP).

NCCDPHP leads national efforts to promote health and well-being through the prevention and control of chronic diseases. The center's strategic priorities are strengthening epidemiology and surveillance, promoting environmental approaches to support healthy behaviors, strengthening health systems to effectively deliver preventive services, and promoting linkages between the community and clinical settings to better manage chronic conditions.

DNPAO provides national and international leadership on chronic disease prevention and control and health promotion in the areas of nutrition, physical activity, and obesity; plans and implements surveillance to track and analyze policy and environmental indicators and behaviors related to nutrition, physical activity, and related risk factors for obesity and other chronic diseases; builds international, national, state, and local expertise and capacity to plan, implement, and evaluate nutrition, physical activity, and obesity prevention programs; conducts epidemiologic and intervention studies related to nutrition, physical activity, and obesity; develops and disseminates new methods, guidelines, and recommendations for effective nutrition, physical activity, and obesity prevention strategies in multiple settings; facilitates the translation and dissemination of practice- and research-tested findings into public health practice for optimal health impact; provides national leadership in health communications to promote nutrition, physical activity, and obesity prevention and control, and integrates health communications with overall program efforts; and collaborates across CDC and with appropriate Federal and state agencies, international/national/community organizations, and others.

House Committee Passes Menu Labeling Bill

Rep. McMorris Rogers' bill H.R. 2017 Common Sense Nutrition Disclosure Act was recently passed out of the Energy and Commerce Committee by a vote of 36-12. The bill would, among other things, relax menu labeling requirements for supermarkets and pizza restaurants. In 2014, the Academy provided comment to FDA that strongly supported the final menu labeling requirements.

Support Dietary Guidelines for Americans Action Alert

We continue to need your assistance with asking Academy members to take action asking Congress to protect the Dietary Guidelines. This action alert was opened on Tuesday, November 17. It is extremely important that Academy members take action as soon as possible! Please note: The only portion of this action alert that a member may edit is the body of the message.

Please send the following approved message to your members:

Dear Colleague,

The Dietary Guidelines for Americans (DGA) impact every area of practice for Academy members. Congress is considering limiting the scope of the DGA, based on political pressures, rather than science. We need you to reach out to your Members of Congress in both the Senate and the House to let them know that this is not acceptable.

It is urgent that your members of Congress hear from you! Congress will be making the decisions in the next few weeks. Please go the Academy's Action Center to support our profession and protect the Dietary Guidelines for Americans.

After you have taken the action alert please tweet:

I wrote to my members of Congress to let them know I #SupportDGA Do you? Take Action TODAY <http://sm.eatright.org/actionalert> #rdchat @eatrightpro

In addition, please tweet your member of Congress the following:

Dietary Guidelines benefit public health. [INSERT Twitter Handle for Member of Congress Here] please #SupportDGA in the final spending bill <http://goo.gl/L1wnqP> @eatrightpro

Example: Dietary Guidelines benefit public health. @DonBeyerVA please #SupportDGA in the final spending bill <http://goo.gl/L1wnqP>

To read more on the details in the bills, click here: Threats to the Dietary Guidelines . Please take action today.

Your RDN friend,

Insert your name and title

Insert your affiliate or DPG name

Threat to Public Health in the Senate as Congress Returns to D.C.

We are monitoring a threat to the Prevention and Public Health Fund ("Prevention Fund") in Congress, as the Senate will soon consider a House measure that in part repeals the Prevention Fund. Academy members across the country play a critical role in community-based prevention programs that often receive support from the Prevention Fund. Learn more about these programs here.

We anticipate opening an action alert early next week. Additional information on the action alert will be posted in next week's Public Policy Weekly News email.

Continuing the Academy's Successes

The Treat and Reduce Obesity Act (S.1509, H.R.2404) has 10 Senate co-sponsors and 121 House co-sponsors.

The new co-sponsors are Rep. Brendan Boyle (Pa.) Rep. Michael Conaway (Texas) and Rep. Lamar Smith (Texas). Visit <https://www.congress.gov> for additional information about each of the legislative issues.

November Public Policy Forum Recording Available

The recording of the Consumer Protection Strategies for Amending Licensure open forum is posted on the Public Policy Panel COI. The folder is titled Public Policy Forums. You will find the recording of the November forum in the November 2015 subtopic folder in the 2015 public policy forums folder. Once you have listened to the recording, please send an email to Paulina . The CPEU certificate and an evaluation survey will be returned to you.

December Public Policy Forum: Strategies for Hosting a Successful State Legislative Day

Hear from policy leaders who know the ins and outs of preparing members for an effective and fun day at the state capitol. The next Public Policy Open Forum is scheduled for Tuesday, December 15, 2015 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Register today for the December Public Policy Open Forum . All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend ( please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

ANDPAC Student Representative Position

Do you know an Academy Student member who may have an interest in the link between nutrition policy and the profession? Please share the following information with students in your affiliate who may be interested in the ANDPAC Student Representative Position.

Do you have an interest in the link between nutrition policy and the profession? Apply now for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC) Student Representative Position!

Student members of the Academy with strong leadership skills and an avid interest in advancing the Academy's public policy priorities and legislative agenda by strengthening relationships with members of Congress, are encouraged to apply to be the ANDPAC Student Representative. The ANDPAC Representative serves a one-year term on the ANDPAC Board and also the Academy's Student Advisory Committee (SAC). The ANDPAC Student Representative will fulfill responsibilities designated by the SAC and ANDPAC as well as participate in all meetings and conference calls.

Please submit your application, letter of interest, resume and letter of recommendation from a faculty member to ANDPAC@eatright.org by December 23, 2015. To obtain an application, please click here to visit the ANDPAC website and click the application link at the end of the news article to download the "2016-17 ANDPAC Student Rep Application" under the "Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC) Student Representative" category. (Note: To be eligible, students must be an Academy Student member and have at least six months remaining in an ACEND-accredited or approved program during the term of office: June 1, 2016 – May 31, 2017).

Looking for a progressive opportunity to be involved in leading the future of dietetics?

The Academy is seeking a Manager, Consumer Protection and Regulations in our Washington, D.C. office to develop and execute state consumer protection and licensure efforts that support the Academy's national strategy. The position will largely (1) develop and implement strategies and tactics for establishing or maintaining licensure or certification laws and (2) manages issue and opportunities related to federal and state regulations by working with internal and external stakeholders.

Leadership Position Opening at CDC

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is seeking exceptional candidates for the position of Director of the Division of Nutrition, Physical Activity, and Obesity (DNPAO) in the National Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (NCCDPHP).

NCCDPHP leads national efforts to promote health and well-being through the prevention and control of chronic diseases. The center's strategic priorities are strengthening epidemiology and surveillance, promoting environmental approaches to support healthy behaviors, strengthening health systems to effectively deliver preventive services, and promoting linkages between the community and clinical settings to better manage chronic conditions.

We are looking for qualified candidates to nominate for this position. If you know of someone or are interested please email Mary Pat Raimondi mraimondi@eatright.org.

Academy DPG Experts Needed

The Academy is considering commenting on a number of proposed regulations, regulatory guidance and information/data collections in the next two months. If you are interested in contributing to the Academy's responses to these regulatory initiatives, please work through your Dietetic Practice Groups (DPGs) to submit input on behalf of the DPG. Many of these information collections are seeking strategies and input for improving research and program structure on the listed topics.

To read more about the proposed rules, click on the links below. The dates noted are the deadline for DPGs to submit input to the Academy's Regulatory Affairs department.

Ensuring Safe and Effective Products

Comment Request; Adverse Event Reporting and Recordkeeping for Dietary Supplements as Required by the Dietary Supplement and Nonprescription Drug Consumer Protection Act (12/04/2015)

Comment Request; Food Additive Petitions and Investigational Food Additive Exemptions (12/04/2015)

Research Changes

Soliciting Input for the National Center for Advancing Translational Sciences (NCATS) Strategic Planning Process (12/22/2015)

Nominations

Request for Nominations for Members for the Medicare Evidence Development & Coverage Advisory Committee (DUE 12/07/2015)

Advisory Panel Nominations: Science Board Advisory Committee (DUE 12/31/2015)

Thumbs Up!

Jill Castle MS, RD, LDN former Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) for the Pediatrics DPG, will be speaking on a panel discussing how accessing child nutrition programs can have a direct link to healthier children. This December 9th panel will be held in Washington DC as part of a preconference hosted by our friends at Share our Strength and the audience is state legislators.

Please let me know if you have questions.

Best Regards,

Teresa

I am so very sorry to have missed the FAC meeting on Tuesday. I know I had said I would try to make it and did not know what service we would have. In Destin with 11 family members in one house, a leaking refrigerator, and unexpected company put me into a tailspin all day and afterwards. I kept meaning to write you to apologize and just did not get it done. We only had wifi in the main living area where of course the best TV was, not available in the bedrooms upstairs. I had planned to just listen in.

Oh, we finally had to disconnect the water to the refrigerator to stop the leak and then no ice.....so taking up space in freezer for ice required daily replacement. It was a great house for that many people, just some unlucky surprises. Facts, no complaints; it was a great week away with all my family, plus unexpected guests—of course on Tuesday in the midst of chaos! We go to the beach every year for the whole Thanksgiving week and have for 30 years.....

My sincere apologies,

Margaret

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

World AIDS Day

World AIDS Day, on December 1, is an opportunity for people worldwide to unite in the fight against HIV. The Academy recognizes members who provide nutrition services to people living with HIV/AIDS, and continues to ask Congress to increase funding for domestic HIV/AIDS services in the 2016 budget.

Organizational Sign-On Letter for HR 1686

The Academy finalized an organizational sign-on letter urging members of Congress to co-sponsor and pass the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 1686). Twenty organizations signed the letter, representing health professionals and patient advocacy groups. The Academy is sending the letter to members of Congress and to House leadership as part of efforts to show the importance of covering medical nutrition therapy for prediabetes in the Medicare population.

On Capitol Hill: Academy Sponsors Public Health 101 Briefing

The Academy sponsored a Capitol Hill briefing titled "Public Health 101," hosted by the Coalition for Health Funding and the Congressional Public Health Caucus. The briefing highlighted the importance of investing in prevention research and practice, including work done by Academy members. For more information, contact Stefanie Winston Rinehart.

USDA Helps Schools Connect with Local Farmers and Ranchers

The U.S. Department of Agriculture will provide $4.8 million in grants assisting 74 projects to support the Farm to School Program. These grants help fund schools, state and local agencies, tribal nations and other programs. The Academy continues to advocate for increased funding and expansion during the Child Nutrition Reauthorization and supports members who work in these programs.

Congressional Hearing on National Commission on Hunger

The House Agriculture Committees November 18 hearing focused on the National Commission on Hunger. Co-chairs focused on issues related to veterans, active-duty military members and their families, people with disabilities, and children, among other vulnerable groups. Academy member Susan Finn, PhD, RD, LD, FAND, is a member of the Commission; many members have presented testimony at regional meetings. A final report is due soon.

What Is at Stake from Threats to Dietary Guidelines?

There is an urgent need for Congress to hear members' voices in support of evidence-based Dietary Guidelines for Americans. Threats include limiting the DGAs' scope and funding. Congress will decide the future of the Dietary Guidelines in the next few weeks. Take action now: Tell your members of Congress what the Dietary Guidelines mean to you. Show your support on Twitter using the hashtag #SupportDGA.

nutrition policy and the profession? Please share the following information with students in your affiliate who may be interested in the ANDPAC Student Representative Position.

Do you have an interest in the link between nutrition policy and the profession? Apply now for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC) Student Representative Position!

Student members of the Academy with strong leadership skills and an avid interest in advancing the Academy's public policy priorities and legislative agenda by strengthening relationships with members of Congress, are encouraged to apply to be the ANDPAC Student Representative. The ANDPAC Representative serves a one-year term on the ANDPAC Board and also the Academy's Student Advisory Committee (SAC). The ANDPAC Student Representative will fulfill responsibilities designated by the SAC and ANDPAC as well as participate in all meetings and conference calls.

Please submit your application, letter of interest, resume and letter of recommendation from a faculty member to ANDPAC@eatright.org by December 23, 2015. To obtain an application, please click here to visit the ANDPAC website and click the application link at the end of the news article to download the "2016-17 ANDPAC Student Rep Application" under the "Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC) Student Representative" category. (Note: To be eligible, students must be an Academy Student member and have at least six months remaining in an ACEND-accredited or approved program during the term of office: June 1, 2016 – May 31, 2017).

Academy DPG Experts Needed

The Academy is considering commenting on a number of proposed regulations, regulatory guidance and information/data collections in the next two months. If you are interested in contributing to the Academy's responses to these regulatory initiatives, please work through your Dietetic Practice Groups (DPGs) to submit input on behalf of the DPG. Many of these information collections are seeking strategies and input for improving research and program structure on the listed topics.

To read more about the proposed rules, click on the links below. The dates noted are the deadline for DPGs to submit input to the Academy's Regulatory Affairs department.

Dear Donna,

Thank you for your contribution in October of $20 to the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC). You have contributed $270 to ANDPAC in 2015. As a reminder, ANDPAC contributions are totaled over a calendar year (January 1 December 31). You can now check your donation online. Simply go to ANDPAC, click on donate, sign in and click on donation summary.

ANDPAC donor levels in a calendar year:

- Champions donate $1000 or more
- Eagles contribute $500 to $999
- Presidents Circle donors contribute $250 to $499
- Capitol Club donors contribute $100 to $249
- Student Stars are student members who donate $25 or more

The funds we receive from generous members like you make it possible for the Academy to articulate its legislative objectives on Capitol Hill and to engage in a dialogue with the elected officials who lead our country. Connecting with members of Congress provides us with the opportunity to advocate for food access and safety, nutrition and health services.

As members of the Academy, we have the opportunity to support food, nutrition and health initiatives at federal, state and local levels. Your donation to ANDPAC helps the Academy achieve its vision of optimizing the nations health through food and nutrition.

Thank you again for your support and contribution to ANDPAC!

Sincerely,

Denise Andersen, MS, RDN, LD, CLC
2015 Chair, ANDPAC Board of Directors

PS: To get the latest ANDPAC news, check us out on Twitter and Facebook!

Federal law requires political committees to report to Federal Election Commission the name, mailing address, occupation and name of employer for each individual whose contributions aggregate in excess of $200.00 in a calendar year. Corporate contributions are prohibited by law. Individuals can not contribute more than $5000 per calendar year to the same political action committee. Donations to ANDPAC are not tax deductible.

I want to tell you how excited I am getting about the election! I am working on a dynamite campaign page that I will show you after January 1. To say I was surprised when the ballot came out was an understatement, but I was certainly pleased with the competition. Not at all who I had expected.

I know these holidays will be tough for your entire family, but I pray that God will wrap his loving arms around all of you and bring you comfort and peace. Know that all of us hold you and your family in our hearts!

All,

We have another Finance and Audit Committee on Tuesday, November 24th at 1 p.m. CDT.

The meeting information will be put onto the portal this afternoon. The meeting agenda will focus on the following;

1. September final financials
2. October preliminary financials
3. 2017 Budget

There may be one other issue that gets added to the agenda. We are still compiling the “alcohol” from FNCE. Eduardo hopes to have it done by Monday. If so, we will add the findings to the agenda and discuss again in December. Hopefully, it will solidify the direction we want to take on this issue.

One other issue has arisen. We have a request to move our April meeting up one day. Currently, it is scheduled for April 27th and April 28th (Wednesday and Thursday) to April 26th and April 27th (Tuesday and Wednesday). It is fine with staff. So, take a look at your calendars and we will discuss the change on Tuesday.

Now, onto the narrative.

I. September Adjustments

We did not make any adjustments in September.

II. Investments

As we discussed at our last meeting, October results provided a rebound from the continual declines we have seen this fiscal year. The combined Academy and Foundation portfolios gained nearly $2,642,000 in October. This brings our year to date losses to approximately $311,200. It is amazing what one month can do. Even though we are still reflecting losses through October, the amount is small. If we have another month like October, we will be back on track with the budget.

Now that being said, November has been very interesting. Through yesterday, the combined portfolios have lost $33,000. Not too bad. Today the markets are up. So, we could end the month of November with Investment gains.

III. Cash flow

Since we are at the point in the fiscal year that cash flow becomes a very critical issue, I decided it was important for me to add this to the email string. Not to mention adding it early in the string so it doesn't get lost with my long winded narratives. As you all know, we did move $500,000 from reserves to operations early in November (November 6th). We continually monitor the situation.

Last year we moved, though November, $2.0 million from reserves. We also moved another $1.0 million in December. This was driven by the operating needs of all entities (CDR, DPGS, MIGS, ACEND and the Academy). This year, the combined entities have budgeted nearly $3.5 million in operating losses. This does not directly correlate to the cash flow needs. You would have to take the Operating losses or gains and add back into the mix the depreciation and any amortized expenses and subtract out new capital investments. Then of course, to make your heads spin even more, we have to take into account the timing of everything J. Had I known when I was in college that the dependence on "time" would drive decisions, I think would have found another profession. When all is said and done, if the budgets were hit, we would need to move approximately $3.5 million from reserves this fiscal year. I don't believe we will need this much, but, only time will tell.

That being said, I will need to take another $750,000 out of reserve on Monday. Half of this request is due to the DPGS/MIGs increasing their spending. The combined DPGS/MIGS have operating deficits of nearly $387,000. An additional amount is due to the impact from CDR's investment in their new CRMS system which to date has accounted for another $216,000. So, when these types of issues arise, cash goes out the door faster than it comes in.

Keep in mind that when we determine the "value" of the reserves for the each of the entities that invest with the Academy, it is impacted by both the gains and losses of the investments and the operating gains and losses of each entity. So, when the DPGS/MIGs, ACEND or CDR have operating losses, the investment reserve for the Academy goes up. If they have operating gains, the reserves for the Academy could go down. This isn't a big issue when the DPGS/MIGs, ACEND and CDR are generating positive operating results. In those cases, the Academy reserve percentage is "reduced". If the cash flow for these groups is positive, then the cash resides in the operational bank account to be used for all purposes. We are able to use the cash and increase the DPGS, ACEND or CDR reserve balances. It is kind of like taking money out of reserves without ever doing so. (I know confusing). If you need a further explanation on the call, I will be happy to do so. When the opposite is true, it artificially increases the reserves of the Academy, but, leaves us with lower operational cash (since it didn't come in from the DPGS/MIGS, ACEND or CDR). Therefore, we need to move it to operational cash. Essentially, the money is going out and we have to get it from somewhere.

I hope this helps. Overall, we are in a better situation this year than last year. As I mentioned above, through November of last year we removed $2,000,000. Through this November, we will have removed $1.25 million. So, we are $750,000 positive.

When you look at the Academy reserve levels on page A15, it will show that the Academy has 73.2% in reserve. This is after the $1,250,000 is removed. Even though this was not done until November, I made the adjustment for you in October. If this adjustment was not made, then the Academy would be at 78.6% of the budget in reserve. I wanted to make sure you could see where we actually stood.

We will keep monitoring this situation. There is never a guarantee of when cash comes into the business. If it becomes a “timing issue” only, we will tap into the line of credit. If it is something that is driven by operations, in any of the areas, I will come back to you with additional requests to move money from reserve.

Let me know if you have any questions or concerns about this issue.

IV. Academy preliminary October Financials (A3 and A10)

The Academy results for October were, overall, good, but still feel short operationally. In October, the Academy missed the revenue target by $157,946. On the expense front, the Academy was under the budget by $61,001. If you combine these two numbers, you will see that the Academy missed its operating income target by $96,944. As I mentioned above, the investment returns were strong in October. The Academy had $886,923 in gains. This was $782,756 higher than the budget. It would be disingenuous to not focus on the operational side of the equation, since I did not focus on investments previously.

Through October, the operating revenues are down by $378,299 while the operating expenses are under budget by $171,402. This results in our Operating Surplus that is lower than the budget by $206,897. The Academy will continue to work on reducing this shortfall. I will have you note, that compared to FY15, when the Academy had an Operational Deficit of $504,662 through October, the Academy is $629,487 better than last year. This is a good number. Not to mention that the Academy does have an operational surplus.

The revenue in October continued to under-perform in some of the same areas as we have discussed previously; Membership (down $10.7K) and Publications (down $64.7K). In addition, Programs and Meetings was down by $135,856. Even though FNCE registration was higher, it was offset by lower exhibit and workshop revenue. You will see that Sponsorships are higher in October. This is due to higher FNCE sponsors of approximately $106,000. So, when you add up all of the revenue over-runs and under-runs for FNCE, we nearly made the budget for FNCE.

I am concerned about the shortfall from Publications. Not only did it fall short of budget, but, it is significantly lower than October of last year. Some of this is being caused by delays in rolling out new products. Some of it is also being impacted by FNCE. I am working with the Publication's team to put together a "roll-out" schedule. I am hoping we can determine the overall impact of the delays and pick up some of the revenue as we move forward.

On the expense front, the Academy performed well in October in most areas but did have a few that were over budget; Travel (up $7.4K), Advertising (up $4.7K), Meeting Services (up $42.0K) and Legal (up $4.8K). Some of these over-runs may be a timing issue. We will look at each and see if we can determine where this may be the case. The Meeting Services over-runs is due to higher costs in Audio Visual and Food Service for FNCE. That is the bad news. The good news is this is offset by lower costs in Outside services which helps explain the under-run in "Other" of $40,466. So, the over-run in Meeting Services is nearly offset by the under-run in Other.

I am attaching the variance grid for you to review. It should provide to you the detail that you may be looking to review.

I will not provide to you anything on the other entities today. I know you want and need this information. So, I will work on the others over the weekend and get it to you on Monday. Maria will notify you when the information is put onto the portal. Also, as I finish this email the DOW is up 75 points or 0.4%. If this holds, we should turn positive for November.

If you can't make the call, or you have any questions or concerns, please let me know.

Paul

All,

Eduardo was able to pull information from 452 separate expense reimbursement requests that came through our on-line system. Even though this won't be the entire universe, it should be representative sample of the alcohol purchased and reimbursed by the Academy and related groups. I have eliminated the person's name. However, this includes staff as well as volunteers.

The 452 requests for reimbursement contained the following;

$51,266.44 in requested reimbursements

$ 2,381.41 in reimbursement requests for alcohol

This represents 4.6% of the total amount. Maria will put this onto the portal. I am attaching it for your review. We have not completed the work on the meetings that may serve alcohol. We don't have all of the hotel and restaurant bills yet. This part may take a little longer.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

team to put together a “roll-out” schedule. I am hoping we can determine the overall impact of the delays and pick up some of the revenue as we move forward.

On the expense front, the Academy performed well in October in most areas but did have a few that were over budget; Travel (up $7.4K), Advertising (up $4.7K), Meeting Services (up $42.0K) and Legal (up $4.8K). Some of these over-runs may be a timing issue. We will look at each and see if we can determine where this may be the case. The Meeting Services over-runs is due to higher costs in Audio Visual and Food Service for FNCE. That is the bad news. The good news is this is offset by lower costs in Outside services which helps explain the under-run in “Other” of $40,466. So, the over-run in Meeting Services is nearly offset by the under-run in Other.

I am attaching the variance grid for you to review. It should provide to you the detail that you may be looking to review.

I will not provide to you anything on the other entities today. I know you want and need this information So, I will work on the others over the weekend and get it to you on Monday. Maria will notify you when the information is put onto the portal. Also, as I finish this email the DOW is up 75 points or 0.4%. If this holds, we should turn positive for November.

If you can't make the call, or you have any questions or concerns, please let me know.

Subject: RE: Finance and Audit Committee meeting on Tuesday, November 24th, at 1 p.m. CDT

All,

We have another Finance and Audit Committee on Tuesday, November 24th at 1 p.m. CDT. The meeting information will be put onto the portal this afternoon. The meeting agenda will focus on the following;

1. September final financials
2. October preliminary financials
3. 2017 Budget

There may be one other issue that gets added to the agenda. We are still compiling the "alcohol" from FNCE. Eduardo hopes to have it done by Monday. If so, we will add the findings to the agenda and discuss again in December. Hopefully, it will solidify the direction we want to take on this issue.

One other issue has arisen. We have a request to move our April meeting up one day. Currently, it is scheduled for April 27th and April 28th (Wednesday and Thursday) to April 26th and April 27th (Tuesday and Wednesday). It is fine with staff. So, take a look at your calendars and we will discuss the change on Tuesday.

Now, onto the narrative.

I. September Adjustments

We did not make any adjustments in September.

II. Investments

As we discussed at our last meeting, October results provided a rebound from the continual declines we have seen this fiscal year. The combined Academy and Foundation portfolios gained nearly $2,642,000 in October. This brings our year to date losses to approximately $311,200. It is amazing what one month can do. Even though we are still reflecting losses through October, the amount is small. If we have another month like October, we will be back on track with the budget.

Now that being said, November has been very interesting. Through yesterday, the combined portfolios have lost $33,000. Not too bad. Today the markets are up. So, we could end the month of November with Investment gains.

III. Cash flow

Since we are at the point in the fiscal year that cash flow becomes a very critical issue, I decided it was important for me to add this to the email string. Not to mention adding it early in the string so it doesn't get lost with my long winded narratives. As you all know, we did move $500,000 from reserves to operations early in November (November 6th). We continually monitor the situation.

Last year we moved, though November, $2.0 million from reserves. We also moved another $1.0 million in December. This was driven by the operating needs of all entities (CDR, DPGS, MIGS, ACEND and the Academy). This year, the combined entities have budgeted nearly $3.5 million in operating losses. This does not directly correlate to the cash flow needs. You would have to take the Operating losses or gains and add back into the mix the depreciation and any amortized expenses and subtract out new capital investments. Then of course, to make your heads spin even more, we have to take into account the timing of everything J. Had I known when I was in college that the dependence on "time" would drive decisions, I think would have found another profession. When all is said and done, if the budgets were hit, we would need to move approximately $3.5 million from reserves this fiscal year. I don't believe we will need this much, but, only time will tell.

That being said, I will need to take another $750,000 out of reserve on Monday. Half of this request is due to the DPGS/MIGs increasing their spending. The combined DPGS/MIGS have operating deficits of nearly $387,000. An additional amount is due to the impact from CDR's investment in their new CRMS system which to date has accounted for another $216,000. So, when these types of issues arise, cash goes out the door faster than it comes in.

Keep in mind that when we determine the "value" of the reserves for the each of the entities that invest with the Academy, it is impacted by both the gains and losses of the investments and the operating gains and losses of each entity. So, when the DPGS/MIGs, ACEND or CDR have operating losses, the investment reserve for the Academy goes up. If they have operating gains, the reserves for the Academy could go down. This isn't a big issue when the DPGS/MIGs, ACEND and CDR are generating positive operating results. In those cases, the Academy reserve percentage is "reduced". If the cash flow for these groups is positive, then the cash resides in the operational bank account to be used for all purposes. We are able to use the cash and increase the DPGS, ACEND or CDR reserve balances. It is kind of like taking money out of reserves without ever doing so. (I know confusing). If you need a further explanation on the call, I will be happy to do so. When the opposite is true, it artificially increases the reserves of the Academy, but, leaves us with lower operational cash (since it didn't come in from the DPGS/MIGS, ACEND or CDR). Therefore, we need to move it to operational cash. Essentially, the money is going out and we have to get it from somewhere.

I hope this helps. Overall, we are in a better situation this year than last year. As I mentioned above, through November of last year we removed $2,000,000. Through this November, we will have removed $1.25 million. So, we are $750,000 positive.

When you look at the Academy reserve levels on page A15, it will show that the Academy has 73.2% in reserve. This is after the $1,250,000 is removed. Even though this was not done until November, I made the adjustment for you in October. If this adjustment was not made, then the Academy would be at 78.6% of the budget in reserve. I wanted to make sure you could see where we actually stood.

We will keep monitoring this situation. There is never a guarantee of when cash comes into the business. If it becomes a “timing issue” only, we will tap into the line of credit. If it is something that is driven by operations, in any of the areas, I will come back to you with additional requests to move money from reserve.

Let me know if you have any questions or concerns about this issue.

IV. Academy preliminary October Financials (A3 and A10)

The Academy results for October were, overall, good, but still feel short operationally. In October, the Academy missed the revenue target by $157,946. On the expense front, the Academy was under the budget by $61,001. If you combine these two numbers, you will see that the Academy missed its operating income target by $96,944. As I mentioned above, the investment returns were strong in October. The Academy had $886,923 in gains. This was $782,756 higher than the budget. It would be disingenuous to not focus on the operational side of the equation, since I did not focus on investments previously.

Through October, the operating revenues are down by $378,299 while the operating expenses are under budget by $171,402. This results in our Operating Surplus that is lower than the budget by $206,897. The Academy will continue to work on reducing this shortfall. I will have you note, that compared to FY15, when the Academy had an Operational Deficit of $504,662 through October, the Academy is $629,487 better than last year. This is a good number. Not to mention that the Academy does have an operational surplus.

The revenue in October continued to under-perform in some of the same areas as we have discussed previously; Membership (down $10.7K) and Publications (down $64.7K). In addition, Programs and Meetings was down by $135,856. Even though FNCE registration was higher, it was offset by lower exhibit and workshop revenue. You will see that Sponsorships are higher in October. This is due to higher FNCE sponsors of approximately $106,000. So, when you add up all of the revenue over-runs and under-runs for FNCE, we nearly made the budget for FNCE.

I am concerned about the shortfall from Publications. Not only did it fall short of budget, but, it is significantly lower than October of last year. Some of this is being caused by delays in rolling out new products. Some of it is also being impacted by FNCE. I am working with the Publication's team to put together a "roll-out" schedule. I am hoping we can determine the overall impact of the delays and pick up some of the revenue as we move forward.

On the expense front, the Academy performed well in October in most areas but did have a few that were over budget; Travel (up $7.4K), Advertising (up $4.7K), Meeting Services (up $42.0K) and Legal (up $4.8K). Some of these over-runs may be a timing issue. We will look at each and see if we can determine where this may be the case. The Meeting Services over-runs is due to higher costs in Audio Visual and Food Service for FNCE. That is the bad news. The good news is this is offset by lower costs in Outside services which helps explain the under-run in "Other" of $40,466. So, the over-run in Meeting Services is nearly offset by the under-run in Other.

I am attaching the variance grid for you to review. It should provide to you the detail that you may be looking to review.

I will not provide to you anything on the other entities today. I know you want and need this information. So, I will work on the others over the weekend and get it to you on Monday. Maria will notify you when the information is put onto the portal. Also, as I finish this email the DOW is up 75 points or 0.4%. If this holds, we should turn positive for November.

All,

We have another Finance and Audit Committee on Tuesday, November 24th at 1 p.m. CDT. The meeting information will be put onto the portal this afternoon. The meeting agenda will focus on the following;

1. September final financials
2. October preliminary financials
3. 2017 Budget

There may be one other issue that gets added to the agenda. We are still compiling the “alcohol” from FNCE. Eduardo hopes to have it done by Monday. If so, we will add the findings to the agenda and discuss again in December. Hopefully, it will solidify the direction we want to take on this issue.

One other issue has arisen. We have a request to move our April meeting up one day. Currently, it is scheduled for April 27th and April 28th (Wednesday and Thursday) to April 26th and April 27th (Tuesday and Wednesday). It is fine with staff. So, take a look at your calendars and we will discuss the change on Tuesday.

Now, onto the narrative.

I. September Adjustments

We did not make any adjustments in September.

II. Investments

As we discussed at our last meeting, October results provided a rebound from the continual declines we have seen this fiscal year. The combined Academy and Foundation portfolios gained nearly $2,642,000 in October. This brings our year to date losses to approximately $311,200. It is amazing what one month can do. Even though we are still reflecting losses through October, the amount is small. If we have another month like October, we will be back on track with the budget.

Now that being said, November has been very interesting. Through yesterday, the combined portfolios have lost $33,000. Not too bad. Today the markets are up. So, we could end the month of November with Investment gains.

III. Cash flow

Since we are at the point in the fiscal year that cash flow becomes a very critical issue, I decided it was important for me to add this to the email string. Not to mention adding it early in the string so it doesn't get lost with my long winded narratives. As you all know, we did move $500,000 from reserves to operations early in November (November 6th). We continually monitor the situation.

Last year we moved, though November, $2.0 million from reserves. We also moved another $1.0 million in December. This was driven by the operating needs of all entities (CDR, DPGS, MIGS, ACEND and the Academy). This year, the combined entities have budgeted nearly $3.5 million in operating losses. This does not directly correlate to the cash flow needs. You would have to take the Operating losses or gains and add back into the mix the depreciation and any amortized expenses and subtract out new capital investments. Then of course, to make your heads spin even more, we have to take into account the timing of everything J. Had I known when I was in college that the dependence on "time" would drive decisions, I think would have found another profession. When all is said and done, if the budgets were hit, we would need to move approximately $3.5 million from reserves this fiscal year. I don't believe we will need this much, but, only time will tell.

That being said, I will need to take another $750,000 out of reserve on Monday. Half of this request is due to the DPGS/MIGs increasing their spending. The combined DPGS/MIGS have operating deficits of nearly $387,000. An additional amount is due to the impact from CDR's investment in their new CRMS system which to date has accounted for another $216,000. So, when these types of issues arise, cash goes out the door faster than it comes in.

Keep in mind that when we determine the "value" of the reserves for the each of the entities that invest with the Academy, it is impacted by both the gains and losses of the investments and the operating gains and losses of each entity. So, when the DPGS/MIGs, ACEND or CDR have operating losses, the investment reserve for the Academy goes up. If they have operating gains, the reserves for the Academy could go down. This isn't a big issue when the DPGS/MIGs, ACEND and CDR are generating positive operating results. In those cases, the Academy reserve percentage is "reduced". If the cash flow for these groups is positive, then the cash resides in the operational bank account to be used for all purposes. We are able to use the cash and increase the DPGS, ACEND or CDR reserve balances. It is kind of like taking money out of reserves without ever doing so. (I know confusing). If you need a further explanation on the call, I will be happy to do so. When the opposite is true, it artificially increases the reserves of the Academy, but, leaves us with lower operational cash (since it didn't come in from the DPGS/MIGS, ACEND or CDR). Therefore, we need to move it to operational cash. Essentially, the money is going out and we have to get it from somewhere.

I hope this helps. Overall, we are in a better situation this year than last year. As I mentioned above, through November of last year we removed $2,000,000. Through this November, we will have removed $1.25 million. So, we are $750,000 positive.

When you look at the Academy reserve levels on page A15, it will show that the Academy has 73.2% in reserve. This is after the $1,250,000 is removed. Even though this was not done until November, I made the adjustment for you in October. If this adjustment was not made, then the Academy would be at 78.6% of the budget in reserve. I wanted to make sure you could see where we actually stood.

We will keep monitoring this situation. There is never a guarantee of when cash comes into the business. If it becomes a “timing issue” only, we will tap into the line of credit. If it is something that is driven by operations, in any of the areas, I will come back to you with additional requests to move money from reserve.

Let me know if you have any questions or concerns about this issue.

IV. Academy preliminary October Financials (A3 and A10)

The Academy results for October were, overall, good, but still feel short operationally. In October, the Academy missed the revenue target by $157,946. On the expense front, the Academy was under the budget by $61,001. If you combine these two numbers, you will see that the Academy missed its operating income target by $96,944. As I mentioned above, the investment returns were strong in October. The Academy had $886,923 in gains. This was $782,756 higher than the budget. It would be disingenuous to not focus on the operational side of the equation, since I did not focus on investments previously.

Through October, the operating revenues are down by $378,299 while the operating expenses are under budget by $171,402. This results in our Operating Surplus that is lower than the budget by $206,897. The Academy will continue to work on reducing this shortfall. I will have you note, that compared to FY15, when the Academy had an Operational Deficit of $504,662 through October, the Academy is $629,487 better than last year. This is a good number. Not to mention that the Academy does have an operational surplus.

The revenue in October continued to under-perform in some of the same areas as we have discussed previously; Membership (down $10.7K) and Publications (down $64.7K). In addition, Programs and Meetings was down by $135,856. Even though FNCE registration was higher, it was offset by lower exhibit and workshop revenue. You will see that Sponsorships are higher in October. This is due to higher FNCE sponsors of approximately $106,000. So, when you add up all of the revenue over-runs and under-runs for FNCE, we nearly made the budget for FNCE.

I am concerned about the shortfall from Publications. Not only did it fall short of budget, but, it is significantly lower than October of last year. Some of this is being caused by delays in rolling out new products. Some of it is also being impacted by FNCE. I am working with the Publication's team to put together a "roll-out" schedule. I am hoping we can determine the overall impact of the delays and pick up some of the revenue as we move forward.

On the expense front, the Academy performed well in October in most areas but did have a few that were over budget; Travel (up $7.4K), Advertising (up $4.7K), Meeting Services (up $42.0K) and Legal (up $4.8K). Some of these over-runs may be a timing issue. We will look at each and see if we can determine where this may be the case. The Meeting Services over-runs is due to higher costs in Audio Visual and Food Service for FNCE. That is the bad news. The good news is this is offset by lower costs in Outside services which helps explain the under-run in "Other" of $40,466. So, the over-run in Meeting Services is nearly offset by the under-run in Other.

I am attaching the variance grid for you to review. It should provide to you the detail that you may be looking to review.

I will not provide to you anything on the other entities today. I know you want and need this information. So, I will work on the others over the weekend and get it to you on Monday. Maria will notify you when the information is put onto the portal. Also, as I finish this email the DOW is up 75 points or 0.4%. If this holds, we should turn positive for November.

If you can't make the call, or you have any questions or concerns, please let me know.

Paul

Hi Pat

I really enjoyed reading this report. I like the comparison to physical therapist and pharmacist and what they have done and continue to do that ensure higher salaries. The report clearly speaks to why our educational standards must change and the importance of our contributions in improving outcomes not only in patient care but financial outcomes. Thank you for this report. Hopefully our members will read it. Lucille

I will take that responsibility. I like Nancy. She will be a good President as well. However, I think you will make a great President!!

Paul, Keep in mind if this president thing doesn't work out, (by that I mean I do a bad job) it will be on you. It was your encouragement that got me thinking about running to begin with. Would love 3 more years with you, Christian and Maria. And between me and you, if I was betting woman, I think I have a pretty good shot at it. Better than I would have thought if I was running against Becky or Neva. God keeps opening those doors.

See you in January.

I hope you and your wonderful family have a great Thanksgiving. Felling blessed in Augusta!

Donna,

Sorry I did not get back to you yesterday. I took a week off and am behind on my e-mails. You have earned the spot on the ballot. You will make a great President. I know you will not only have my support, but, also the support of everyone else (staff and leaders ) with the exception of Glenna maybe J.

Regarding the face-to-face; I will raise it this on the call. At this point, it may not be a problem at all. The team has plenty of time to adjust their calendars.

Let me know if there is anything I can do for you.

Paul, Well I assume you have seen the ballot? I am humbled, excited and scared all at the same time. I feel like the nominating must have had a lot of faith in me because of who I am running against. Just promise me you will be there to help me every step of the way! I value and respect your opinion so much!

On another note, is there any way to move the FAC face to face meeting up one day? It is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday April 27th and 28th. I really need to be in Augusta on Thursday April 28th. Could we do it Tuesday and Wednesday April 26th and 27th? I know I am being a pain, but the golf tournament that I have all those people come to my house for got moved a week later this year. Obviously not the Masters, but a local golf tournament. Thanks for your consideration of this request and your continual support of me!!!

As I mentioned in my November 10 email, the Academy's Compensation and Benefits Survey is being released and we are in the process of rolling out the information to members and non-members. In the coming weeks we will promote the results throughout Academy communication channels. We will be highlighting retention and recruitment efforts by featuring Academy Members earn more than non-members; drawing attention to Academy membership value; and sharing the good news that salaries are on the rise. You will see promotions in Eat Right Weekly, digital media signage throughout eatrightPRO, and postings on all social pro media channels. The plan is to generate excitement and awareness over the increase in salaries, while also stressing the salary/Academy membership connection. We will also encourage members to visit this page and download the free report. The cost of the report is $250 for non-members.

We have also prepared information on what the Academy is doing to support members in their goal of achieving recognition, respect and remuneration. Please take a moment to review the Academy Member Compensation Report page on the Academy's website.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,

Pat

Donna,

Wow, you're quick! And a big thank you for agreeing to serve in this role as we all feel you are the perfect person to do so. In terms of next steps, I will forward your name and contact information to Nancy Katz at the Alliance for a Healthier Generation and she will be in further contact with you. As an FYI, Nancy is an RDN from the DC area (former affiliate president) who recently started working at the Alliance. I will also share this information with Diane Enos as she oversees the entire Alliance program for the Academy. Any funding to attend meetings will come out of Diane's budget. And I know she will need reports from you related to this consortium. Finally, I will give staff in our DC office a "heads up" about our participation and your role.

Congratulations on being on the national ballot. As you said, we can cross that bridge when we come to it.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Marsha, This is something I can accept without any reservations. This is my passion and I am very comfortable in this arena. I appreciate the sensitivity to the ballot issue, but we can cross that bridge when we get to it. I know plenty of people who could replace me if needed. Let me know where we need to go from here. I am flying to DC Dec 16 and 17 for a PEW meeting on school nutrition, but that is my only constraint as of right now.

Good afternoon Donna,

I am reaching out to you this afternoon to see if you would be willing to serve as the Academy's representative to a new consortium being formed around school health and childhood obesity. By way of background, I serve as the Academy's liaison to the Alliance for a Healthier Generation, an organization formed in 2009 by the William Clinton Foundation and the American Heart Association with the goal of eliminating childhood obesity. The Academy has been a strong partner with their health care component, which includes the Healthier Generation Benefit (provides insurance coverage for 4 visits per year with an RDN for children with overweight or obesity).

The Alliance also has other “arms,” one of which focuses on schools. This arm is involved in a new national public policy advocacy initiative funded by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF), called Voices for Healthy Kids. The Academy has been invited to participate in this consortium (see attached document for more information). I discussed the invitation with Pat and we feel the initiative definitely aligns with our mission, vision and strategic plan. We also feel you would be the perfect person to serve as our representative to this consortium based on your expertise in school nutrition, your familiarity with the work of the Academy, as well as your excellent interpersonal skills. We would like to participate in the consortium at both the Steering Committee and Nutrition Workgroup levels. “Involvement” in the Steering Committee entails attending an annual ½ day meeting in DC and participation in monthly conference calls. The Nutrition Workgroup will meet monthly via conference call. The group is hoping to hold the first meeting of the Steering Committee in December, although that may be an aggressive goal considering it is already mid-November. The hope is that this will be a multi-year initiative, although the funding model from the RWJF is a year-to-year one. Pat and I recognize you are on the national ballot and, if you agree to serve as our representative to this consortium, we may need to shift that plan in the future based on the election results.

I hope you will accept this invitation. If you want to discuss it further before giving me an answer, please feel free to give me a call. If you feel you cannot make this commitment, I would appreciate any recommendations for someone else to ask who is good at making interpersonal connections and has the expertise needed (both in terms of school nutrition and the Academy) to make us a valued contributor.

Thank you for considering this request. If possible, I need a response by Friday (I might be able to stretch it to next week). I apologize for the tight timeline but, as you probably already know, the DC world tends to operate this way.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Paul, Keep in mind if this president thing doesn't work out, (by that I mean I do a bad job) it will be on you. It was your encouragement that got me thinking about running to begin with. Would love 3 more years with you, Christian and Maria. And between me and you, if I was betting woman, I think I have a pretty good shot at it. Better than I would have thought if I was running against Becky or Neva. God keeps opening those doors.

See you in January.

I hope you and your wonderful family have a great Thanksgiving. Felling blessed in Augusta!

Regarding the face-to-face; I will raise it this on the call. At this point, it may not be a problem at all. The team has plenty of time to adjust their calendars.

Let me know if there is anything I can do for you.

Paul, Well I assume you have seen the ballot? I am humbled, excited and scared all at the same time. I feel like the nominating must have had a lot of faith in me because of who I am running against. Just promise me you will be there to help me every step of the way! I value and respect your opinion so much!

On another note, is there any way to move the FAC face to face meeting up one day? It is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday April 27th and 28th. I really need to be in Augusta on Thursday April 28th. Could we do it Tuesday and Wednesday April 26th and 27th? I know I am being a pain, but the golf tournament that I have all those people come to my house for got moved a week later this year. Obviously not the Masters, but a local golf tournament. Thanks for your consideration of this request and your continual support of me!!!

Marsha, This is something I can accept without any reservations. This is my passion and I am very comfortable in this arena. I appreciate the sensitivity to the ballot issue, but we can cross that bridge when we get to it. I know plenty of people who could replace me if needed. Let me know where we need to go from here. I am flying to DC Dec 16 and 17 for a PEW meeting on school nutrition, but that is my only constraint as of right now.

Good afternoon Donna,

I am reaching out to you this afternoon to see if you would be willing to serve as the Academy's representative to a new consortium being formed around school health and childhood obesity. By way of background, I serve as the Academy's liaison to the Alliance for a Healthier Generation, an organization formed in 2009 by the William Clinton Foundation and the American Heart Association with the goal of eliminating childhood obesity. The Academy has been a strong partner with their health care component, which includes the Healthier Generation Benefit (provides insurance coverage for 4 visits per year with an RDN for children with overweight or obesity).

The Alliance also has other "arms," one of which focuses on schools. This arm is involved in a new national public policy advocacy initiative funded by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF), called Voices for Healthy Kids. The Academy has been invited to participate in this consortium (see attached document for more information). I discussed the invitation with Pat and we feel the initiative definitely aligns with our mission, vision and strategic plan. We also feel you would be the perfect person to serve as our representative to this consortium based on your expertise in school nutrition, your familiarity with the work of the Academy, as well as your excellent interpersonal skills. We would like to participate in the consortium at both the Steering Committee and Nutrition Workgroup levels. "Involvement" in the Steering Committee entails attending an annual ½ day meeting in DC and participation in monthly conference calls. The Nutrition Workgroup will meet monthly via conference call. The group is hoping to hold the first meeting of the Steering Committee in December, although that may be an aggressive goal considering it is already mid-November. The hope is that this will be a multi-year initiative, although the funding model from the RWJF is a year-to-year one. Pat and I recognize you are on the national ballot and, if you agree to serve as our representative to this consortium, we may need to shift that plan in the future based on the election results.

I hope you will accept this invitation. If you want to discuss it further before giving me an answer, please feel free to give me a call. If you feel you cannot make this commitment, I would appreciate any recommendations for someone else to ask who is good at making interpersonal connections and has the expertise needed (both in terms of school nutrition and the Academy) to make us a valued contributor.

Thank you for considering this request. If possible, I need a response by Friday (I might be able to stretch it to next week). I apologize for the tight timeline but, as you probably already know, the DC world tends to operate this way.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Pat and fellow Board members,

I will be in Irvine, CA on January 11-12 for an Institute of Medicine Meeting. Since I chair the section on the 12th, I will not be able to arrive in Chicago until very late on that day. I will attend the face-to-face meeting on the 13th. If possible, I'd like to be present for the Sponsorship Advisory Task Force Report if the agenda can be worked to place it on the calendar for the 13th.

I apologize for my inability to attend the entire meeting.

Subject: January Board Meeting

The 4Ps during their call last Friday discussed the upcoming January 2016 Board meeting. The following agenda items will be included:

- Sponsorship Advisory Task Force report recommendations
- Second Century strategic planning
- Membership retention and recruitment and marketing
- Council on Future Practice Visioning Report

The topics require ample deliberation time and we are asking you to shift the January 13 webinar to a face-to-face meeting. Because you already have January 13 open for the webinar, please plan to arrive on Tuesday, January 12 and we will convene the meeting at 3:00pm that day and will adjourn at 4:00pm on the 13th. Since this meeting is unbudgeted, we will be staying at a hotel close to O'Hare Airport to save on expenses.

Hotel reservations will be made for arrival on January 12, unless requested otherwise. You are approved to make your travel arrangements for the meeting. Please go to <https://adatvl.axo20.com/> and select your flights, enter 1032430 for the approval code and indicate that the Academy is paying for travel from the drop down menu below the approval code box.

Thanks for your flexibility!

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Support for Dietary Guidelines: Urgent Action Needed

The Dietary Guidelines for Americans affect every practice area for Academy members. Congress is currently considering limiting the scope of the DGA, based on political pressures rather than science. Congress needs to hear your voice: Take action now to support the Dietary Guidelines.

Webinar with Healthy People 2020

The Academy and our partners in the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance are proud to support a webinar on December 10 titled "Empowering People to Manage their Diabetes." The webinar, hosted by the Office of Health Promotion and Disease Prevention's Healthy People 2020 initiative, will focus on diabetes self-management education. Registration is now open.

Chronic Kidney Disease: Academy Encourages Increase in MNT Utilization

The Academy's comments to the Healthy People 2020 initiative encourage the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to declare it an objective of the program to increase utilization of cost- and clinically effective medical nutrition therapy services for beneficiaries with chronic kidney disease.

This is the time of year when affiliates, DPGs, MIGs, and individual Academy members begin to develop nomination packets for Academy honors and awards. Please encourage your colleagues to submit nominations to recognize individuals who have advanced the profession. To learn more about the awards and honors program, refer to <http://www.eatright.org/nationalawards/>.

Please remember that members of the Board of Directors are not eligible to receive an Academy or Foundation honor or award. Also, no current member of the Academy's Board may provide a letter of support for inclusion in honors and awards nominee packets (see excerpts from Honors and Awards policy below). If you have any questions, please feel free to contact Barbara Visocan at bvisocan@eatright.org.

Board of Directors Eligibility <sup>3/4</sup> No member of the Board of Directors may at the time of honors and awards selection and/or presentation be eligible to receive an Academy honor or award. This includes those on the ballot for the following year; if a Board nominee is elected, he/she is not eligible for an award.

Letters of Support No current members involved in the selection process for an honor or award, including the Board of Directors, may provide a letter of support for Academy and joint Academy/Foundation honors and awards nominations. Academy Staff may not write letters of support for National Honors and Awards nominees.

The 4Ps during their call last Friday discussed the upcoming January 2016 Board meeting. The following agenda items will be included:

- Sponsorship Advisory Task Force report recommendations
- Second Century strategic planning
- Membership retention and recruitment and marketing
- Council on Future Practice Visioning Report

The topics require ample deliberation time and we are asking you to shift the January 13 webinar to a face-to-face meeting. Because you already have January 13 open for the webinar, please plan to arrive on Tuesday, January 12 and we will convene the meeting at 3:00pm that day and will adjourn at 4:00pm on the 13th. Since this meeting is unbudgeted, we will be staying at a hotel close to O'Hare Airport to save on expenses.

Hotel reservations will be made for arrival on January 12, unless requested otherwise. You are approved to make your travel arrangements for the meeting. Please go to <https://adatvl.axo20.com/> and select your flights, enter 1032430 for the approval code and indicate that the Academy is paying for travel from the drop down menu below the approval code box.

Will Congress Cut the Dietary Guidelines?

Congress needs to hear your voice in support of the Dietary Guidelines for Americans.

The Dietary Guidelines for Americans, and the scientific process that is used to create them, provide a crucial basis for federal nutrition policy, identify future research needs and equip health professionals with tools to benefit the public. These Guidelines provide the most up-to-date and consistent messages for consumers to make healthy choices for themselves and their families.

Tell Congress to support the Dietary Guidelines for Americans and allow them to proceed without undue interference by Congress.

Paul, Well I assume you have seen the ballot? I am humbled, excited and scared all at the same time. I feel like the nominating must have had a lot of faith in me because of who I am running against. Just promise me you will be there to help me every step of the way! I value and respect your opinion so much!

On another note, is there any way to move the FAC face to face meeting up one day? It is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday April 27th and 28th. I really need to be in Augusta on Thursday April 28th. Could we do it Tuesday and Wednesday April 26th and 27th? I know I am being a pain, but the golf tournament that I have all those people come to my house for got moved a week later this year. Obviously not the Masters, but a local golf tournament. Thanks for your consideration of this request and your continual support of me!!!

The 4Ps during their call last Friday discussed the upcoming January 2016 Board meeting. The following agenda items will be included:

- Sponsorship Advisory Task Force report recommendations
- Second Century strategic planning
- Membership retention and recruitment and marketing
- Council on Future Practice Visioning Report

The topics require ample deliberation time and we are asking you to shift the January 13 webinar to a face-to-face meeting. Because you already have January 13 open for the webinar, please plan to arrive on Tuesday, January 12 and we will convene the meeting at 3:00pm that day and will adjourn at 4:00pm on the 13th. Since this meeting is unbudgeted, we will be staying at a hotel close to O'Hare Airport to save on expenses.

Hotel reservations will be made for arrival on January 12, unless requested otherwise. You are approved to make your travel arrangements for the meeting. Please go to <https://adatvl.axo20.com/> and select your flights, enter 1032430 for the approval code and indicate that the Academy is paying for travel from the drop down menu below the approval code box.

Thanks for your flexibility!

Best regards,

Pat

Dear Board members,

The online portal log-in features have been enhanced to allow access to all of your portals and Communities of Interest on one page using just one log-in/password. Login to <http://academyportals.webauthor.com/> using your Academy website member login and password. Once logged in you will then see a list of all the portals and communities you are currently a member of. Clicking on a community will open a new window in your current browser session -- there may be a few second delay to access and open. Please note you must have your pop-up blocker turned off. You can open as many communities as you wish at one time no matter what portal you are in.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you!

(Fully hydrogenated oils (FHOs) do not create harmful trans-fats, and could replace partially hydrogenated oils (PHOs) in many applications. However, manufacturers are reluctant to use them because the word hydrogenated has become demonized, argues one expert, who says efforts are underway to find an alternative name for FHOs that will satisfy manufacturers, consumers, and regulators)

Earlier this week at our all-staff meeting we surprised Pat with a cake to celebrate her 40 years with the Academy! It was 1975 when Pat was hired; the same year the Bill Gates launched Microsoft, the Vietnam war ended, disco music blared on 8 track tapes and the fabulous pet rocks were all the rage. We are so fortunate to have her at the helm and to have enjoyed her 40 years of service. Cheers to the next 40!

BTW, Pat shared with everyone a hilarious story about the time she was sent home from work by her boss for dressing inappropriately. Although her halter top, mini-skirt and white boots were all quite fashionable back in 1975 they didn't make for a very professional image J. Wish I had that picture to share. Enjoy the photos from today. Where were you in 1975?

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. We will publish a full page "In Memorandum" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the memorial article.

Sincerely,

Joan

Dear Donna Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND:

Congratulations on being selected as a candidate on the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics 2016 national ballot! We believe an impressive slate was chosen and appreciate your willingness to contribute your time and talents to the Academy and the profession. The results of the slate selection must be kept confidential until the 2016 slate is posted to the Academy's website at www.eatrightPRO.org/elections 3:00 pm central time on Tuesday, November 17. Failure to do so may result in removal from the ballot.

Candidate information from your Nominee Biographical Information Form will be made available to members for voting via the Academy website. The following sections of the Nominee Biographical Information Form will be published:

- Photo
- Name and Credentials - Your name will be published as it appears in the salutation of this email (Please note that only educational degrees, CDR credentials, licensure and fellow designations will be listed in publications)
- Employment - Job Title, Employer Name
- Skills and Attributes and Leadership Achievements (Position, Organization and Term)
- Campaign Statements – Campaign statements will be published with the first statement visible during voting

You may use the following unique link to update any information on your Nominee Biographical Information Form or upload a new photo. Any changes should be made by December 14. Please carefully check the information since the Academy will not edit your response.

Unique Link: <http://elections.webauthor.com/elections/confirm.cfm?guid=229566A8-ADB9-F5A5-26C1CA16482D5A9A>

Candidates may begin campaigning January 1, 2016. The candidate National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines are currently being revised for the 2016 election year. You will be sent a copy of the approved guidelines in early December.

The election begins February 1 and ends February 22, 2016. Candidates will be informed of election results on February 24, pending tabulation of electronic and paper ballots. Terms of office begin June 1, 2016.

Once again, congratulations! If you have any questions, please contact the Nominating Committee staff partner, Joan Schwaba at 1-800/877-1600 ext. 4798 or via e-mail at nominations@eatright.org.

Hi Everyone,

We on the Membership Development Team are very much looking forward to Tuesday's meeting. To help facilitate, we have attached an overview of the Academy's 2015 nonmember recruitment activities. We revise this report annually and throughout the year. As well, we meet with Marketing periodically to update. We thought this overview would be helpful so everyone can see the frequency in nonmember communications as well as the additional communications we've put in place this membership year to close the gap. Again, looking forward to Tuesday's discussion on potential new ways to entice nonmembers to join.

Please let us know if there are any questions.

Input needed on Change Drivers Impacting Nutrition and Dietetics

Having trouble viewing this e-mail? View it in your browser.

Connect with the Academy:

What will the profession of nutrition and dietetics look like in 10-15 years? Now is your opportunity to provide input into the forces or change drivers impacting the profession! After extensive review of the literature and an environmental scan based on the 5 priority categories listed below, the Council on Future Practice (Council) has identified 10 change drivers impacting the profession. The 10 change drivers, their trends and implications are detailed in the document Change Drivers and Trends Driving the Profession: A Prelude to the Visioning Report 2017.

All Academy members and credentialed dietetics practitioners are invited to participate in the Council's visioning process survey to provide feedback on the change drivers and trends as identified by the Council. Your input will be used to identify priorities and shape the recommendations that are developed for the Visioning Report 2017. Complete the survey by December 3 before its too late!

After completing the survey, if there are additional change drivers and trends that you feel need to be considered by the Council, please send the newly identified change driver, rationale and supporting documentation to your Academy organizational unit point person by December 10, 2015. The newly identified change drivers and trends should be related to the Council's identified priority categories for the 2014-2017 visioning process including:

- Translating Evidence-Based Research into Practice and Policy
- Food and Nutrition Systems and Sustainability
- Workforce Projections
- Education/Professional Development
- Economic and Market Forces

Please note that the rationale and supporting documentation must be included for all newly identified change drivers in order to be considered by the Council.

The Council looks forward to your input on the 10 change drivers and trends! For more information, visit www.eatrightpro.org/visioning. Contact futurepractice@eatright.org with any questions or concerns.

It is a sad notice as so many of you have said to have lost a great dietitian and religious beacon. We have been blessed in the Academy to have had exceptional and dedicated leaders. But perhaps no one of us has had the dedication to PEOPLE that Alice had. She truly cared about everyone. I remember as a younger RD when she presided at a committee meeting (can't even remember what committee) and she said to all of us, "We are in a helping profession, so shouldn't we help all the people who need us?" Perhaps she said that because we were bickering about resources....Clearly, she lived that creed as she worked with people through her knowledge and her faith. It is a sad milestone that she is no longer able to help others.

Thanks Marty.

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. We will publish a full page "In Memorandum" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the memorial article.

Sincerely,

Joan

Hi Harold:

Thanks - This is always about business not personal and I don't get my feelings hurt too easily. I understand that the Council has worked hard and I do not want to appear unappreciative of their work but one needs to step back and be objective about the finished product. A report is factual, a video is creative and elicits many opinions and emotions. My concern, we have had problems with our messaging in the past. I believe we want to speak to our members in a more sophisticated manner. Thanks for allowing me to voice my opinion. Lucille

Hi Lucille

I would like to respond to your email message. While my comments may be seen as defensive, I hope you realize that they are not meant to be. As background, the video was reviewed by the Council on Future Practice (10 members), the Visioning Process Workgroup (7 members) and the HOD Leadership Team (6 members) before it was finalized and no one indicated a dislike for the voice. There were comments about the speed of the presenter and we had planned to re-record to replace the video early next week due to the looming deadline. One individual noted a concern about the Gray Tsunami.

At this point, we will remove the video from the message to members and will revise the video for release next week. It is unfortunate that the work of the Council is being re-directed after the amount of work they have done. I hope you will not be offended by my response as it is not my intention to cause you to be upset further.

I finished trying to review this report. We need more time to review it before you send it out to the members. There is no rush to send it out- members are not looking for this report today. The video is terrible! Where should I start-- comments from my office which includes 5 individuals 2 were RDN's 3 admin staff. The voice was annoying high pitched and spoke TOO FAST. The Gray

Tsunami is insulting need to find a more diplomatic way to convey that message. It looks like a bad cartoon and it is patronizing as if our members do not understand diversity and the changing face of the nation.

After a few seconds we wanted to shut it off but did follow to the end. Pull this video it is awful.

E-Blast to Academy Member and Credentialed Dietetics Practitioners- November 12, 2015

What will the profession of nutrition and dietetics look like in 10-15 years? Now is your opportunity to provide input into the forces or change drivers impacting the profession! After extensive review of the literature and an environmental scan based on the 5 priority categories listed below, the Council on Future Practice (Council) has identified 10 change drivers impacting the profession. The 10 change drivers, their trends and implications are detailed in the document "Change Drivers and Trends Driving the Profession: A Prelude to the Visioning Report 2017."

All Academy members and credentialed dietetics practitioners are invited to participate in the Council's visioning process survey to provide feedback on the change drivers and trends as identified by the Council. Your input will be used to identify priorities and shape the recommendations that are developed for the Visioning Report 2017. Complete the survey by December 3 before it's too late!

After completing the survey, if there are additional change drivers and trends that you feel need to be considered by the Council, please send the newly identified change driver, rationale and supporting documentation to your Academy organizational unit point person by December 10, 2015. The newly identified change drivers and trends should be related to the Council's identified priority categories for the 2014-2017 visioning process including:

- Translating Evidence-Based Research into Practice and Policy
- Food and Nutrition Systems and Sustainability
- Workforce Projections
- Education/Professional Development
- Economic and Market Forces

Please note that the rationale and supporting documentation must be included for all newly identified change drivers in order to be considered by the Council.

The Council looks forward to your input on the 10 change drivers and trends! For more information, visit www.eatrightpro.org/visioning. Contact futurepractice@eatright.org with any questions or concerns.

I finished trying to review this report. We need more time to review it before you send it out to the members. There is no rush to send it out- members are not looking for this report today. The video is terrible! Where should I start-- comments from my office which includes 5 individuals 2 were RDN's 3 admin staff. The voice was annoying high pitched and spoke TOO FAST. The Gray Tsunami is insulting need to find a more diplomatic way to convey that message. It looks like a bad cartoon and it is patronizing as if our members do not understand diversity and the changing face of the nation.

After a few seconds we wanted to shut it off but did follow to the end. Pull this video it is awful.

E-Blast to Academy Member and Credentialed Dietetics Practitioners- November 12, 2015

What will the profession of nutrition and dietetics look like in 10-15 years? Now is your opportunity to provide input into the forces or change drivers impacting the profession! After extensive review of the literature and an environmental scan based on the 5 priority categories listed below, the Council on Future Practice (Council) has identified 10 change drivers impacting the profession. The 10 change drivers, their trends and implications are detailed in the document "Change Drivers and Trends Driving the Profession: A Prelude to the Visioning Report 2017."

All Academy members and credentialed dietetics practitioners are invited to participate in the Council's visioning process survey to provide feedback on the change drivers and trends as identified by the Council. Your input will be used to identify priorities and shape the recommendations that are developed for the Visioning Report 2017. Complete the survey by December 3 before it's too late!

After completing the survey, if there are additional change drivers and trends that you feel need to be considered by the Council, please send the newly identified change driver, rationale and supporting documentation to your Academy organizational unit point person by December 10, 2015. The newly identified change drivers and trends should be related to the Council's identified priority categories for the 2014-2017 visioning process including:

- Translating Evidence-Based Research into Practice and Policy
- Food and Nutrition Systems and Sustainability
- Workforce Projections
- Education/Professional Development
- Economic and Market Forces

Please note that the rationale and supporting documentation must be included for all newly identified change drivers in order to be considered by the Council.

The Council looks forward to your input on the 10 change drivers and trends! For more information, visit www.eatrightpro.org/visioning. Contact futurepractice@eatright.org with any questions or concerns.

Attached are notes from the e-team's Second Century vision kick-off meeting. The meeting was facilitated by Erin Sexson, Senior Vice President for Global Sustainability with the Innovation Center for U.S. Dairy. Erin has worked with the Innovation Center on similar projects. A special thank you to Jean Ragalie who made it possible for Erin to assist with the Second Century project! Katie Brown, the Foundation's Chief Global Nutrition Strategy Officer, also spearheaded the discussions. In her new capacity, Katie will serve as the staff lead on the Second Century initiative, while continuing to support the Foundation's national nutrition education activities. Please join me in congratulating Katie. We are proud of all that she has accomplished and look forward to her continue contributions in our efforts to raise the visibility, impact and opportunities for our members worldwide.

As you will see, it was an extremely productive meeting and work streams have been assigned with tasks and timelines. We will define the project scope—determine what we mean by the Second Century vision. We established a renewed sense of team and leadership and today I shared an update at the all-staff meeting. We know the excitement and commitment starts with us and will continue to build and spread throughout the organization and membership.

The 100th year anniversary celebrations will receive a great deal of attention, including an official kick-off at FNCE 2016 in Boston. We are just eleven months away so the headquarters team will be working strategically to draft a compelling vision and organizational strategic plan for the Board to review, discuss and refine at the January meeting. Our focus is on a three-five year plan to create a strong foundation for the Second Century vision that will continue to build into the future. We will look at where we are now, where we want to go in the next three-five years and longer, and how we will get there. The plan will include strategic objectives, strategies, short-term goals and priorities, action plans, and key performance measures. It will be a collaborative process that will involve contributions from a cross-section of the Academy so we will develop a comprehensive communications and member engagement plan. For the Foundation, a fundraising campaign is also a major component of the overall process.

Your continued support for this important initiative is appreciated. Please review this information and let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,

Pat

Subject: Second Century Meeting Update

At the retreat in July, the Board was very enthusiastic about moving forward with developing the second century vision that will transform the next century of nutrition and dietetics practitioners and the Academy as the food and nutrition leaders on a global scale.

I am happy to report that yesterday, the e-team participated in a half-day meeting to discuss ways that we will bring our Board and members' vision to life and advance the profession for generations to come. Please see my attached letter to the e-team. The very productive meeting was facilitated by Erin Sexson, a volunteer who has worked with the dairy industry on a similar strategic planning process that resulted in transforming the organization and the industry toward sustainable goals, and by Katie Brown, the Foundation's Chief Global Nutrition Strategy Officer.

You challenged us to think boldly about the second century. We are working on an initial plan and in the next few months, we will:

- Define the project scope—What do we mean by the second century vision? What will success look like when we have achieved a new vision?
- Envision the future we collectively want for this organization—Building on our past, celebrating the present and looking toward future, what can we achieve going forward?
- Identify project needs such as milestones, engagement opportunities and communications—What key material and knowledge would we need to make informed decisions? Where do we need to engage the membership, industry and staff? When should we communicate about our work?
- Identify resources to support the effort—What people and funding resources could support the Foundation's effort?
- Discuss next steps with our internal teams—How can we involve the entire organization?

The e-team has enthusiastically embraced this challenge. I am looking forward to presenting an update at the January Board meeting. This promises to be an amazing project and when we will look back in a few years, we will know that we were part of building upon our great legacy and securing a sustainable future for the Academy and its members.

Best regards,

Pat

E-Blast to Academy Member and Credentialed Dietetics Practitioners- November 12, 2015

What will the profession of nutrition and dietetics look like in 10-15 years? Now is your opportunity to provide input into the forces or change drivers impacting the profession! After extensive review of the literature and an environmental scan based on the 5 priority categories listed below, the Council on Future Practice (Council) has identified 10 change drivers impacting the profession. The 10 change drivers, their trends and implications are detailed in the document "Change Drivers and Trends Driving the Profession: A Prelude to the Visioning Report 2017."

All Academy members and credentialed dietetics practitioners are invited to participate in the Council's visioning process survey to provide feedback on the change drivers and trends as identified by the Council. Your input will be used to identify priorities and shape the recommendations that are developed for the Visioning Report 2017. Complete the survey by December 3 before it's too late!

After completing the survey, if there are additional change drivers and trends that you feel need to be considered by the Council, please send the newly identified change driver, rationale and supporting documentation to your Academy organizational unit point person by December 10, 2015. The newly identified change drivers and trends should be related to the Council's identified priority categories for the 2014-2017 visioning process including:

- Translating Evidence-Based Research into Practice and Policy
- Food and Nutrition Systems and Sustainability
- Workforce Projections
- Education/Professional Development
- Economic and Market Forces

Please note that the rationale and supporting documentation must be included for all newly identified change drivers in order to be considered by the Council.

The Council looks forward to your input on the 10 change drivers and trends! For more information, visit www.eatrightpro.org/visioning. Contact futurepractice@eatright.org with any questions or concerns.

Thanks Marty.

My recollection of her is "grace under fire"....."steady at the helm".....sterling to her core....she always had the association's back....great smile and a leadership gift.

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. We will publish a full page "In Memorandum" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the memorial article.

Sincerely,

Joan

Subject: Sad News: Sister Alice Smitherman

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. We will publish a full page "In Memorandum" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the memorial article.

Sincerely,

Joan

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Primary Prevention of Childhood Obesity: Academy Works with Let's Move!

Academy representatives recently joined the First Lady's Lets Move! team and other stakeholders for a roundtable on efforts and future recommendations to address childhood obesity. The Academy shared numerous successes by members, including the Alliance for a Healthier Generation's Healthier Generation Benefit and the Foundation's Kids Eat Right program.

Academy Recommends Standards for Nutrition Data in Health IT

The Academy submitted comments to the Office of the National Coordinator of Health Information Technology's 2016 Interoperability and Standards Advisory, which guides U.S. hospitals and health professionals in implementation of health IT including electronic health records. A question for all members to ask at your practice setting: "What nutrition data do we send outside the organization and what nutrition information do we receive?"

Members' Work Highlighted: Early Care Wellness Programs

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and Department of Education's Early Learning Interagency Policy Board held a public listening session November 5 to gather comments on a joint health and wellness promotion policy in early child care settings. Academy member Fern Gale Estrow, MS, RDN, CDN, and Academy staff spoke about the value that registered dietitian nutritionists add to early child care programs.

Congress Recognizes November as American Diabetes Month

U.S. Reps. Tim Ryan (Ohio) and Ed Whitfield (Ky.) introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives to raise awareness about the prevalence of diabetes and to promote the need for additional research and preventive efforts to tackle the diabetes epidemic. Sens. Jeanne Shaheen (N.H.) and Susan Collins (Maine) previously introduced a similar resolution in the Senate. The Academy has highlighted the role of medical nutrition therapy in preventing diabetes and urged Congress to pass the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 1686).

Academy Supports Bipartisan Bill to Improve Nutrition for Young Children

U.S. Reps. Suzanne Bonamici (Ore.) and Elise Stefanik (N.Y.) introduced the bipartisan Early Childhood Nutrition Improvement Act (H.R. 3886) to expand access to nutritious meals for young children. The Academy is driving effective nutrition policy through a number of bills as part of the upcoming Child Nutrition Reauthorization.

Health Affairs: Food and Health Issue

The November issue of Health Affairs focuses on the impact of food on health, and features many Academy members' research. Highlights include an in-depth look at interventions that identify and prioritize primary prevention efforts for policy makers aiming to reduce childhood obesity; the importance of maintaining policies like school meal nutrition standards; and innovative interventions at food banks featuring diabetes-appropriate food for improved glycemic control.

ACADEMY MEMBER UPDATES

On Veterans Day: The Academy's Gratitude

Registered dietitian nutritionists and nutrition and dietetic technicians, registered who serve our country in the military hold a special place in the Academy and in the nutritional health of Americans. The Association was founded during World War I by a visionary group of women in 1917 to consider how the nation's dietitians could help the U.S. government's food conservation program and assist in improving the public's health and nutrition. Dietitians became part of the U.S. Army under a 1947 law, and their service to each of the U.S. Armed Forces continues to this day. With the Academy and the dietetics profession, practice areas of military dietitians have greatly expanded, while their commitment to helping people eat well and live healthy lives has never changed. Especially on Veterans Day, we honor and remember military dietitians. The Academy and all its members are eternally grateful for your service.

Thank you Marty for the eloquent Reflection. I was honored to serve on the Board when Alice was President and pleased when she asked me to serve on the selection committee for a new ADA CEO. It was a sensitive time (to say the least) for the outgoing and for the selection of the new person. Most of us knew what we had to do, but it was Alice that gave it the personal touch (distinctively hers) and smoothed the waters for a successful transition. I learned a lot from that experience and have never forgotten Alice's commitment "to do the right thing" even when it is unpopular. She had a leadership style that was unique and very valuable to the Association. She brought a 'presence' to all meetings over which she presided.

Subject: Sad News: Sister Alice Smitherman

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. We will publish a full page "In Memorandum" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the memorial article.

Sincerely,

Joan

Alice passing saddened me indeed. I have vivid memories of the years we served together in leadership roles and decision-making concerning many challenging issues for the profession. It was a privilege to have had Alice as a colleague. She always exhibited clear insight and a true sense of priority. I valued her presence and always respected her contributions. Alice possessed the attributes of a strong leader and her contributions make a lasting statement.

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. We will publish a full page "In Memorandum" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the memorial article.

Sincerely,

Joan

The seventh administration of the Academy's Compensation and Benefits Survey is nearing completion. A preliminary report is attached. Note that the median salary for RDNs (now $63,700) and NDTRs (now $42,000) grew more than the inflationary rise of 1.7% since the 2013 survey. As in previous reports, the survey found RDNs and NDTRs who are members of the Academy earn more per hour than non-Academy members ($1.44 for RDNs and $1.91 for NDTRs, equating to $2995 and $3,973 annually, respectively). Survey results have consistently shown wide ranges in compensation, most strongly correlated with education, experience, practice area, responsibility level, number supervised, and budget responsibility. We will widely promulgate the differentiation between salaries of members and non-members to both groups.

As we have done previously, a press release announcing results will be distributed and a Journal article is being prepared for early 2016. The full, electronic report is a member benefit; non-members may purchase it for $250.

Pat

Thank you Marty for the eloquent Reflection. I was honored to serve on the Board when Alice was President and pleased when she asked me to serve on the selection committee for a new ADA CEO. It was a sensitive time (to say the least) for the outgoing and for the selection of the new person. Most of us knew what we had to do, but it was Alice that gave it the personal touch (distinctively hers) and smoothed the waters for a successful transition. I learned a lot from that experience and have never forgotten Alice's commitment "to do the right thing" even when it is unpopular. She had a leadership style that was unique and very valuable to the Association. She brought a 'presence' to all meetings over which she presided.

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. We will publish a full page "In Memorandum" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the memorial article.

Sincerely,

Joan

A sad passing indeed.

Alice was special in many ways including what I regarded as her rather regal presence. Alice served as president a few years prior to my term. She surprised many of us when she entered the "convent." Seeing her picture and reading her obituary and other pieces (Thanks, Joan & Marty!) brought back many good memories.

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. Subject: Sad News: Sister Alice Smitherman

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. We will publish a full page "In Memorandum" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the memorial article.

Sincerely,

Joan

The seventh administration of the Academy's Compensation and Benefits Survey is nearing completion. A preliminary report is attached. Note that the median salary for RDNs (now $63,700) and NDTRs (now $42,000) grew more than the inflationary rise of 1.7% since the 2013 survey. As in previous reports, the survey found RDNs and NDTRs who are members of the Academy earn more per hour than non-Academy members ($1.44 for RDNs and $1.91 for NDTRs, equating to $2995 and $3,973 annually, respectively). Survey results have consistently shown wide ranges in compensation, most strongly correlated with education, experience, practice area, responsibility level, number supervised, and budget responsibility. We will widely promulgate the differentiation between salaries of members and non-members to both groups.

As we have done previously, a press release announcing results will be distributed and a Journal article is being prepared for early 2016. The full, electronic report is a member benefit; non-members may purchase it for $250.

Best regards,

Pat

Subject: Sad News: Sister Alice Smitherman

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. We will publish a full page "In Memorandum" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the memorial article.

Sincerely,

Joan

Subject: Sad News: Sister Alice Smitherman

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. We will publish a full page "In Memorandum" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the memorial article.

Sincerely,

Joan

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. We will publish a full page "In Memorandum" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the memorial article.

Sincerely,

Joan

November Public Policy Forum: Consumer Protection Strategies in Amending Licensure

Join the November public policy forum on Tuesday, November 17 from 2:00 – 3:00 p.m. (Eastern Time) to hear Academy affiliate policy leaders as they share strategies to consider when amending state licensure laws and regulations. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend ( please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Register today! for the November public policy open forum .

Looking for a progressive opportunity to be involved in leading the future of dietetics?

The Academy is seeking a Manager, Consumer Protection and Regulations in our Washington, D.C. office to develop and execute state consumer protection and licensure efforts that support the Academy's national strategy. The position will largely (1) develop and implement strategies and tactics for establishing or maintaining licensure or certification laws and (2) manages issue and opportunities related to federal and state regulations by working with internal and external stakeholders.

Congress Recognizes November as Diabetes Month

Last week, Congressmen Tim Ryan (Ohio) and Ed Whitfield (Ky.) introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives to raise awareness about the prevalence of diabetes and to promote the need for additional research and preventative efforts to fight this debilitating disease. Senators Jeanne Shaheen (N.H.) and Susan Collins (Maine) had previously introduced a similar resolution in the Senate. The Academy issued a press release highlighting the role of medical nutrition therapy in preventing diabetes, and urging Congress to pass the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 1686).

Continued Threats to the Dietary Guidelines for Americans

Congress passed the Bipartisan Budget Act last week. The next step is to determine how much money will be allocated to programs; however, lawmakers have also included controversial policy riders, one of which limits the scientific process that creates the Dietary Guidelines for Americans.

Thank you for your leadership and support in the Dietary Guidelines for Americans action alert in June and July 2015. In the coming weeks, Congress may need to again hear what the Dietary Guidelines means to Academy members. Please be prepared to activate your members once we have finalized the details.

Learn more about the DGA policy riders and what they mean for our profession.

Senate and House 2016 Legislative Calendars Released

The calendars reflect the days that the Senate and the House of Representatives will be in session in Washington, D.C. as well as the days for state work periods.

Action Alerts Remain Open

Two action alerts remain open for Academy members to use. Policy Leaders do not need to send requests to members this week. The participation reports for action alerts were posted last week.

Academy DPG Experts Needed

The Academy is considering commenting on a number of proposed regulations, regulatory guidance and information/data collections in the next two months. If you are interested in contributing to the Academy's responses to these regulatory initiatives, please work through your Dietetic Practice Groups (DPGs) to submit input on behalf of the DPG. Many of these information collections are seeking strategies and input for improving research and program structure on the listed topics.

To read more about the proposed rules, click on the links below. The dates noted are the deadline for DPGs to submit input to the Academy's Regulatory Affairs department.

November Public Policy Forum: Consumer Protection Strategies in Amending Licensure

Join the November public policy forum on Tuesday, November 17 from 2:00 – 3:00 p.m. (Eastern Time) to hear Academy affiliate policy leaders as they share strategies to consider when amending state licensure laws and regulations. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend ( please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Register today! for the November public policy open forum .

Looking for a progressive opportunity to be involved in leading the future of dietetics?

The Academy is seeking a Manager, Consumer Protection and Regulations in our Washington, D.C. office to develop and execute state consumer protection and licensure efforts that support the Academy's national strategy. The position will largely (1) develop and implement strategies and tactics for establishing or maintaining licensure or certification laws and (2) manages issue and opportunities related to federal and state regulations by working with internal and external stakeholders.

Congress Recognizes November as Diabetes Month

Last week, Congressmen Tim Ryan (Ohio) and Ed Whitfield (Ky.) introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives to raise awareness about the prevalence of diabetes and to promote the need for additional research and preventative efforts to fight this debilitating disease. Senators Jeanne Shaheen (N.H.) and Susan Collins (Maine) had previously introduced a similar resolution in the Senate. The Academy issued a press release highlighting the role of medical nutrition therapy in preventing diabetes, and urging Congress to pass the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act (H.R. 1686).

Continued Threats to the Dietary Guidelines for Americans

Congress passed the Bipartisan Budget Act last week. The next step is to determine how much money will be allocated to programs; however, lawmakers have also included controversial policy riders, one of which limits the scientific process that creates the Dietary Guidelines for Americans.

Thank you for your leadership and support in the Dietary Guidelines for Americans action alert in June and July 2015. In the coming weeks, Congress may need to again hear what the Dietary Guidelines means to Academy members. Please be prepared to activate your members once we have finalized the details.

Learn more about the DGA policy riders and what they mean for our profession.

Action Alerts Remain Open

Two action alerts remain open for Academy members to use. Policy Leaders do not need to send requests to members this week. The participation reports for action alerts were posted last week.

Academy DPG Experts Needed

The Academy is considering commenting on a number of proposed regulations, regulatory guidance and information/data collections in the next two months. If you are interested in contributing to the Academy's responses to these regulatory initiatives, please work through your Dietetic Practice Groups (DPGs) to submit input on behalf of the DPG. Many of these information collections are seeking strategies and input for improving research and program structure on the listed topics.

To read more about the proposed rules, click on the links below. The dates noted are the deadline for DPGs to submit input to the Academy's Regulatory Affairs department.

Subject: Good News! RDN and NDTR salaries more than keep up with inflation.

The seventh administration of the Academy's Compensation and Benefits Survey is nearing completion. A preliminary report is attached. Note that the median salary for RDNs (now $63,700) and NDTRs (now $42,000) grew more than the inflationary rise of 1.7% since the 2013 survey. As in previous reports, the survey found RDNs and NDTRs who are members of the Academy earn more per hour than non-Academy members ($1.44 for RDNs and $1.91 for NDTRs, equating to $2995 and $3,973 annually, respectively). Survey results have consistently shown wide ranges in compensation, most strongly correlated with education, experience, practice area, responsibility level, number supervised, and budget responsibility. We will widely promulgate the differentiation between salaries of members and non-members to both groups.

As we have done previously, a press release announcing results will be distributed and a Journal article is being prepared for early 2016. The full, electronic report is a member benefit; non-members may purchase it for $250.

The seventh administration of the Academy's Compensation and Benefits Survey is nearing completion. A preliminary report is attached. Note that the median salary for RDNs (now $63,700) and NDTRs (now $42,000) grew more than the inflationary rise of 1.7% since the 2013 survey. As in previous reports, the survey found RDNs and NDTRs who are members of the Academy earn more per hour than non-Academy members ($1.44 for RDNs and $1.91 for NDTRs, equating to $2995 and $3,973 annually, respectively). Survey results have consistently shown wide ranges in compensation, most strongly correlated with education, experience, practice area, responsibility level, number supervised, and budget responsibility. We will widely promulgate the differentiation between salaries of members and non-members to both groups.

As we have done previously, a press release announcing results will be distributed and a Journal article is being prepared for early 2016. The full, electronic report is a member benefit; non-members may purchase it for $250.

Best regards,

Pat

Dear Academy Board, Former Academy Presidents and Former Foundation Chairs,

The Academy has been informed of the passing of Sister Alice Smitherman, former Academy President from 1985-1987, who died November 5, 2015. The complete obituary for Sister Alice may be read here.

A vigil service will be Monday, November 9, in the Mount St. Scholastica monastery chapel in Atchison, Kansas and the Mass of Resurrection will be celebrated there on Tuesday, November 10. Flowers have been sent to the monastery and a donation will be made on behalf of the Academy and Foundation Boards to Mount St. Scholastica. We will publish a full page "In Memorandum" in an upcoming issue of the Journal. You are welcome to share your sentiments with Jennifer Herendeen, Senior Director of Publications and Resources, at jherendeen@eatright.org for inclusion in the memorial article.
