Hi everyone!

I want to share a webinar that I think is really excellent. I hope the link will work. The title is Diverse and Successful Pathways to Your Career and Leadership!

· Access a link to the recording of the webinar:

Hello 5Ps!

I am sending a background summary sheet that explains the history leading up to the current CPHCN Action Plan. This history includes the beginning from the HOD Mega Issue Discussion Spring 2013: Food and Nutrition Insecurity, through a Food and Nutrition Security Implementation Task force , to the current CPHCN recommendations and questions about this committee's ability and approval to oversee an action plan. I will try to explain the steps with the help of Marsha, who developed this summary for today's call. Don't worry if you don't have time to review this. I will talk you through it, as I believe it will add some clarity to our discussion.

Overall, I believe that the CPHCN is seeking clarity on where their oversight authority begins and ends in relationship to their action plan.

Talk to you soon :)

Subject: RE: Heart Health talks

Hi Pat,

After thinking about this more and talking with Diane E (who I'm copying in), I'd like to propose that I reach out by phone to the education chair and conference planning chair from each of the below affiliates to give them a heads up about the feedback we've been receiving about Painter's comments. Given our current relationship with the affiliates that limits us from dictating their decisions and knowing they can provide their own CPE directly through CDR our hands are a bit tied. I think that a heads up to give these affiliates a chance to closely monitor and moderate the sessions may help us control his statements.

Let me know how this sounds and if there are any other recommendations I can do from my end.

The Indiana meeting is taking place now so not much we can do there. The next meeting is Vermont in a little over a week.

Thanks,

Amy

Hi all,

I took a look at the list of affiliate meetings that have not taken place yet this spring/early summer. I went to their websites to find the agenda of speakers for their meetings. Below is a list of meetings that I see Jim Painter on the agenda.

Note: this information is based on what I found on the affiliate websites. Affiliates are not required to send me their conference speakers so I do not track a comprehensive list.

Subject: Heart Health talks

Lucille and Patricia

I gave a talk last week to MoAND, afterwards many came up and thanked me but my students said that a few of the dietitians were upset. When I asked why they said people were talking about the sat fat part of the talk and more so about my statements about the Academy's position about SF.

So when I gave the talk to CAND I tried to make it more positive and asked if they agreed with the outline I presented to write both of you and express their views. I am not sure any of them did.

My goal has been to get the most current data to the Academy but as I have thought and prayed about it I am not sure I have taken the right approach. I asked members to email you and that may have been more of an aggravation than a help. For any problems it created I do apologize.

I have a few more Academy meetings this year and I am going to give the heart health talk as I have for more than 20 years with all the data and no mention of my work on the NCM or suggestions to email both of you. I leave for a talk at IAND in a couple hours. At this point I don't know if I can be of any service to the Academy in this area. I am actually for the Academy and if I can be of service I would be willing to be involved in the discussion. Again I apologize for any inconvenience I caused in my approach to getting the information across. I would be interested in talking with either of you if you have time. 217-549-3275.

JP

Donna,

Good morning, last November, I was invited to speak at Tim Lang's UK Food Research Collaborative on nutrition incentives and Veggie R/x programs.

Professor Tim Lang and his colleagues at City University of London continue to do terrific work policies to improve sustainable diets.

Wonder if the Academy might explore inviting Tim or one his colleagues to join us in June in Chicago?

Gus

Food Thinkers “How can we make progress on normalising Sustainable Diets?”

Speakers: Tim Lang, Professor of Food Policy, City, University of London; Tara Garnett, Director, (FCRN) Food Climate Research Network and Modi Mwatsama, Director of Policy and Global Health, UK Health Forum

When: Wednesday 24 May 2017, 4pm – 6pm

Where: A130, College Building, City University of London

RSVP here

About the talk:

This Food Thinkers seminar is an opportunity to discuss the issue of sustainable diets. This simple phrase sometimes seems to cover a vast range of issues shaping how and what we eat, from the environment to ethics, from the labour process to the content of foods. Three researchers will lead off discussion: Dr Tara Garnett of Oxford University who set up the Food Climate Research Network which has been a key global source of data and thinking over the last 11 years; Dr Modi Mwatsama of the UK Health Forum, which has been preparing a new report on how Health Sustainable Diets policy options in the UK; and Prof Tim Lang, of the Centre for Food Policy, whose new book Sustainable Diets (with Pamela Mason) offers an overview of the topic.

About the Speakers:

Tim Lang

Tim Lang has been Professor of Food Policy at City University London's Centre for Food Policy since 2002. After a PhD in social psychology at Leeds University, he became a hill farmer in the 1970s which shifted his attention to food policy, where it has been ever since. For over 35 years, he's engaged in academic and public research and debate about its direction, locally to globally. His abiding interest is how policy addresses the environment, health, social justice, and citizens. He has been a consultant to the World Health Organisation (eg. auditing the Global Top 25 Food Companies on food and health). He has been a special advisor to four House of Commons Select Committee inquiries (food standards x 2, globalisation and obesity), and a consultant on food security to the Royal Institute of International Affairs (Chatham House). He was a Commissioner on the UK Government's Sustainable Development Commission (2006-11), reviewing progress on food sustainability. He was on the Council of Food Policy Advisors to the Dept for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs (2008-10), and was appointed to the Mayor of London's Food Board in 2010

Tara Garnett

Tara Garnett initiated and runs the Food Climate Research Network (FCRN), based at the Environmental Change Institute.

Her work focuses on the contribution that the food system makes to greenhouse gas emissions and the scope for emissions reduction, looking at the technological options, at what could be achieved by changes in behaviour and how policies could help promote both these approaches. She is particularly interested in the relationship between emissions reduction objectives and other social and ethical concerns, particularly human health, livelihoods, and animal welfare. Much of her focus is on livestock, since this represents a nodal point where many of these issues converge.

Tara is keen to collaborate through the FCRN with other organisations to undertake research, organise events and build and extend interdisciplinary, intersectoral knowledge in this field.

Dear Senator Harris,

As your California constituent and a member leader for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, I am asking for your support to celebrate the Academy's Centennial. Please co-sponsor S. Res. 75, a bi-partisan resolution recognizing the 100th anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

Our Academy (then known as the American Dietetic Association) was founded in Cleveland, Ohio in 1917, by a visionary group of members, dedicated to helping the government improve the public's health and nutrition during World War I. One hundred years later, I am proud to share that the Academy remains strongly connected to our origins: committed to helping solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges of the day through the transformational power of nutrition.

Because of our Ohio birthplace, Senator Rob Portman has introduced the resolution as the lead sponsor with Senator Sherrod Brown (Ohio) as the first co-sponsor.

The easiest way to be a co-sponsor to S. Res 75 is to contact the office of Senator Rob Portman.

Thank you for your support. I welcome your questions!

Donna,

I have received approval for UAB to pay for your flight from Augusta to Birmingham and then from Birmingham to Tulsa! Our Office Associate, Sarah Peek, will need your date of birth, cell phone number, how your name appears on your license and an example of a flight you would like for UAB to book for you. I've included her on this email so that you can send the requested information to her directly.

For the keynote speech, really any topic that would encourage the interns, motivate them to do great things, fulfill their full potential...something along those lines. Maybe even sharing some advice on starting out a career in dietetics. I'll probably talk about dreaming big. Were there any moments in your career where an opportunity scared you but you took on the challenge and it changed your career? Feel free to call me if you'd like to discuss this further. I'll also have the Chair of the Department, Tim Garvey, and the Vice Chair of the Education Mission within the Department talk for a little bit.

I had previously mentioned that the UAB School of Health Professions Office of Student Recruitment, Engagement and Success is very interested in having you speak with our program alumni outside of the DI Certificate Ceremony. Would you be interested in also doing a separate talk for alumni, students, and faculty in the Department of Nutrition Sciences that Friday, August 11th? We were thinking possibly 7:30-8:15 or 8-8:45 that morning before the ceremony; a 30-minute talk and 15-minutes for questions? If you are interested, we were thinking of the below ideas as topics:

- Your work with the School system in Georgia – focused on athletes performance, addressing nutrition in a low income population and food desserts
- Involvement with national organization – vision for nutrition in the future, importance of involvement on a policy avenue

Again, thank you so much for accepting our invitation. We look forward to having you return to UAB!

Carleton, I would love to come and be the keynote speaker for the UAB Dietetic Intern graduation. Do you all think you would be willing to pay for half of my airline ticket that I am going to make from Augusta to Birmingham and then Birmingham to Tulsa and then Tulsa to Augusta? I think it would only be about $350 for your share. I would not need an hotel room as I can stay at my son's home in Birmingham. If that would work out, then all I need from you is some idea of what you would like me to talk about so I can work on the presentation. Just some idea of what direction to go in for the presentation would be great. Look forward to hearing back from you. Thanks!

How long would you like me to speak for if I can work it out? I need to get with the Academy to check my schedule because of another potential speaking engagement that I might have on the 12th. I may have to go to Oklahoma City on Saturday, August 12th to speak so I would then need to fly to Birmingham on Thursday and then fly to Oklahoma City on Friday night. Hello Donna,

I hope you are doing well. It was so wonderful to hear you speak at the ALDA Annual Meeting this month. I'm very excited about where the Academy is moving! I am contacting you today to invite you to be the keynote speaker at the UAB Dietetic Internships certificate ceremony on Friday, August 11th. The ceremony will be from 9 to 10:30am with a small reception following.

If this date does not work for you, would you be interested in visiting UAB at another time during the summer or fall? I have been in communication with the UAB School of Health Professions alumni department and we are all very interested in having you visit UAB during the Academy's centennial year to speak to current students and faculty as well as our alumni family within the Department of Nutrition Sciences. I have included Amanda Martin, a representative from the SHP Office of Student Recruitment, Engagement and Success, on this email if you would like to discuss the alumni speaking opportunity in more detail.

Leigh Ann and Debbie, I will not be in DC on May 9th. The only day in May right now that I am scheduled to be there is May 1.

The areas we will be focusing on for the Second Century are:

FOOD AND NUTRITION SECURITY

Ensure all people have reliable access to culturally appropriate, nutrient-dense food and clean water now and in the future by building resilient food systems and prioritizing actions to prevent and divert wasted food throughout the value chain.

PREVENTION AND HEALTH CARE

Improve health outcomes and decrease health disparities by accelerating the shift to a preventive health care model and using new technologies to individualize nutrition care.

ENVIRONMENT, BEHAVIOR AND CHOICE

Create a culture and environment that support health and wellness through relevant and appealing solutions for all places where people spend their time – home, work, schools and communities.

RESEARCH AND STANDARDS

Implement models of trusted, public-private collaboration to accelerate high-quality nutrition research, metrics and standards creation and open-access platforms for curating research and reporting outcomes.

GLOBAL WORKFORCE CAPACITY

Grow the number of trained nutrition professionals and dietitians globally and embed nutrition knowledge broadly to increase nutrition capacity and reach global health goals.

INVESTMENT

Accelerate progress and explore collaborations to drive investment in nutrition outcomes.

- The Innovation projects for the Second Century that are currently being considered for further development include:
 - Sustainable Food and Nutrition - We will create a cadre of change agents in food systems, nutrition and health across sectors and interest groups
 - Eat the Truth - We will focus on communicating accurate and scientific food and nutrition information
 - The $1 Trillion Nutrition Impact Investment Fund - We will mobilize the world's most influential investors to commit funds to malnutrition solutions and initiatives
 - Nutrition in Population Health Fellowship Program - We will transform our health system by emphasizing the fundamental prevention strategies of food, nutrition and lifestyle.
 - Healthy Schools, Healthy Communities - We will create a future where nutrition and wellness interventions are integrated into school culture.
 - LEAN, or Leaders Elected and Appointed to Advance Nutrition - We will increase the number of elected officials with a deep understanding of food, nutrition and health to positively impact public policy.
 - Lifestyle First - We will create a future where nutrition and lifestyle interventions are universally prioritized.

- Preserving Credibility and Integrity in Food, Nutrition and Health Research - We will increase the quality of food and nutrition research and restore public trust in research findings.
- The Global Nutrition Collaborative - We will accelerate progress in improving health by building a global coalition of credentialed food and nutrition practitioners.

Let me know how you want to proceed and if we can do the podcast from my office in Georgia or if I need to come to DC.

Supermarket Victory: Optimizing Sports Performance through Step-by-Step Shopping Guides

Date: Friday, April 21, 2017, 12 PM CST (1 hour event)

CPE Level: 2

A supermarket tour guide developed for dietetic professional peer-on-peer training has been implemented as a part of successful strategies to improve fruit and vegetable consumption among college students. Sports nutrition-specific guides can streamline the implementation of a comprehensive, outcome-focused program designed to address the specific needs of collegiate and professional athletes. Through a step-by-step guided tour, we address all areas of the supermarket that are critical to athlete needs in both performance and recovery. Our research explores the adaptability, reproducibility and scalability of a guided supermarket tour specific to athletes.

Learning Objectives

1. Describe evidence-based research for a sports-specific supermarket tour training kit.
2. Identify critical components of programming that result in improved sports nutrition knowledge and behaviors.
3. Explain importance of sports-specific supermarket tour implementation as a component of collegiate and professional athlete's nutrition education.

Speakers:

Nyree Dardarian, MS, RD, CSSD, FAND, LDN is the Director of the Center for Nutrition & Performance (CNP), and Assistant Clinical Faculty at Drexel University in the Department of Nutrition Sciences. With the CNP, Nyree provides nutrition needs for the Philadelphia Union, (MLS soccer team) and the Philadelphia Flyers (NHL team). Jessica Liu will graduate with a Masters in Human Nutrition from Drexel University in June 2017. Her research is focused on the development and implementation of a sports nutrition supermarket training toolkit for dietetic professionals, which involves working with the Philadelphia Union and Drexel ISPP dietetic interns. Leah Tsui is currently at Drexel University to complete the Didactic Program in Dietetics, and will graduate with a Masters in Human Nutrition in June 2017. Donna,

Good morning, last November, I was invited to speak at Tim Lang's UK Food Research Collaborative on nutrition incentives and Veggie R/x programs.

Professor Tim Lang and his colleagues at City University of London continue to do terrific work policies to improve sustainable diets.

Wonder if the Academy might explore inviting Tim or one his colleagues to join us in June in Chicago?

Gus

Food Thinkers “How can we make progress on normalising Sustainable Diets?”

Speakers: Tim Lang, Professor of Food Policy, City, University of London; Tara Garnett, Director, (FCRN) Food Climate Research Network and Modi Mwatsama, Director of Policy and Global Health, UK Health Forum

When: Wednesday 24 May 2017, 4pm – 6pm

Where: A130, College Building, City University of London

RSVP here

About the talk:

This Food Thinkers seminar is an opportunity to discuss the issue of sustainable diets. This simple phrase sometimes seems to cover a vast range of issues shaping how and what we eat, from the environment to ethics, from the labour process to the content of foods. Three researchers will lead off discussion: Dr Tara Garnett of Oxford University who set up the Food Climate Research Network which has been a key global source of data and thinking over the last 11 years; Dr Modi Mwatsama of the UK Health Forum, which has been preparing a new report on how Health Sustainable Diets policy options in the UK; and Prof Tim Lang, of the Centre for Food Policy, whose new book Sustainable Diets (with Pamela Mason) offers an overview of the topic.

About the Speakers:

Tim Lang

Tim Lang has been Professor of Food Policy at City University London's Centre for Food Policy since 2002. After a PhD in social psychology at Leeds University, he became a hill farmer in the 1970s which shifted his attention to food policy, where it has been ever since. For over 35 years, he's engaged in academic and public research and debate about its direction, locally to globally. His abiding interest is how policy addresses the environment, health, social justice, and citizens. He has been a consultant to the World Health Organisation (eg. auditing the Global Top 25 Food Companies on food and health). He has been a special advisor to four House of Commons Select Committee inquiries (food standards x 2, globalisation and obesity), and a consultant on food security to the Royal Institute of International Affairs (Chatham House). He was a Commissioner on the UK Government's Sustainable Development Commission (2006-11), reviewing progress on food sustainability. He was on the Council of Food Policy Advisors to the Dept for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs (2008-10), and was appointed to the Mayor of London's Food Board in 2010

Tara Garnett initiated and runs the Food Climate Research Network (FCRN), based at the Environmental Change Institute.

Her work focuses on the contribution that the food system makes to greenhouse gas emissions and the scope for emissions reduction, looking at the technological options, at what could be achieved by changes in behaviour and how policies could help promote both these approaches. She is particularly interested in the relationship between emissions reduction objectives and other social and ethical concerns, particularly human health, livelihoods, and animal welfare. Much of her focus is on livestock, since this represents a nodal point where many of these issues converge.

Tara is keen to collaborate through the FCRN with other organisations to undertake research, organise events and build and extend interdisciplinary, intersectoral knowledge in this field.

Did You Know?

The Quality Management Committee has collaborated with the Commission and other Academy organization units/ teams to develop a Definition of Terms resource for the dietetics profession.

The Definition of Terms policy and background information is available at the following link:

- Definition of Terms Policy

The Academy's Definition of Terms list was updated in January 2017. The Academy definitions serve as standardized language for RDNs and NDTRs to apply in various practice settings. Terms that have statutory, accrediting, or regulatory implications for the profession of nutrition and dietetics or that affect the Scope of Practice are included in the Definition of Terms.

- Definition of Terms List

CDR credentialed practitioners may request that a new term be added to the definition of terms document or that an existing definition be revised by completing the form available at the following link

Practice Competencies Initiative

The CDR Competency Assurance Panel collaborated with the Academy's Quality Management Committee on the development of dietetics practice competencies and performance indicators. These competencies and performance indicators will replace the current learning need codes for the Professional Development Portfolio recertification system in 2015 beginning with new registrants whose registration begins on or after June 2nd, 2015 and current registrants beginning their June 1, 2016 recertification cycle. An article describing the development and validation of the practice competencies was published in the June 2015 Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics..

The CDR website has been updated to include a Practice Competencies page, <https://www.cdrnet.org/competencies>, which includes several practitioner resources including recordings of webinar presentations made during 2016-2017.

CDR has scheduled webinars on the following dates to introduce CDR credentialed practitioners and students to the new Professional Development Portfolio practice competencies. All webinars will be recorded and placed on the CDR website.

Senator Kamala Harris c/o Nathan Barankin

Dear Senator Harris,

As your California constituent and a member leader for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, I am asking for your support to celebrate the Academy's Centennial. Please co-sponsor S. Res. 75, a bi-partisan resolution recognizing the 100th anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

Our Academy (then known as the American Dietetic Association) was founded in Cleveland, Ohio in 1917, by a visionary group of members, dedicated to helping the government improve the public's health and nutrition during World War I. One hundred years later, I am proud to share that the Academy remains strongly connected to our origins: committed to helping solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges of the day through the transformational power of nutrition.

Because of our Ohio birthplace, Senator Rob Portman has introduced the resolution as the lead sponsor with Senator Sherrod Brown (Ohio) as the first co-sponsor.

The easiest way to be a co-sponsor to S. Res 75 is to contact the office of Senator Rob Portman.

Thank you for your support. I welcome your questions!

Sincerely,

Lorri Holzberg, MA, RDN

Hi Donna and Dianne,

Happy Wednesday! Thank you for agreeing to serve as the speakers for the First PPW session for all PPW attendees. The session is titled: What's In it for Me? Making your impact on policy makers". The intent of the session is to motivate the attendees and build the enthusiasm before they arrive in DC. The session is a time for you to tell your "story" and successes. We would like to see you talk about more than PPW. This session is not about the nuts and bolts, it is about the reason that policy is important to you, what you have gained from your policy work and the reasons you work to pave the way for the Academy members....

You will each have 25 minutes to speak – we would like to see the picture, reduce the written words on the slides and enjoy your presentation as if you were the keynoters to a room full of more than 400 members.

Here are objectives – open for edits or revisions – they are not cast in stone... So feel free to edit.

- i. Describe your value and communicate it to elected officials during visits with elected officials on the Hill and in the home state
- ii. Utilize effective connecting and developing relationships with their legislators
- iii. Identify techniques to effectively communicating Academy messages with elected officials

iv. Utilize proven advocacy strategies for successfully and effectively connecting and developing relationships with their legislators

I would like to set up a call to discuss the session – any chance you have time next week for the three of us to be on the same phone line? I know you are both busy people.

I know Donna has a headset.

Dianne, do you have a headset? Or should we have one shipped to you?

I think if we can talk on the phone, you can share your creative ideas....

LPPC chair Lorri Holzberg will be the moderator for the session.

Thanks,

Teresa

Hi Donna and Dianne,

Happy Wednesday! Thank you for agreeing to serve as the speakers for the First PPW session for all PPW attendees. The session is titled: What's In it for Me? Making your impact on policy makers". The intent of the session is to motivate the attendees and build the enthusiasm before they arrive in DC. The session is a time for you to tell your "story" and successes. We would like to see you talk about more than PPW. This session is not about the nuts and bolts, it is about the reason that policy is important to you, what you have gained from your policy work and the reasons you work to pave the way for the Academy members....

You will each have 25 minutes to speak – we would like to see the picture, reduce the written words on the slides and enjoy your presentation as if you were the keynoters to a room full of more than 400 members.

Here are objectives – open for edits or revisions – they are not cast in stone... So feel free to edit.

- i. Describe your value and communicate it to elected officials during visits with elected officials on the Hill and in the home state
- ii. Utilize effective connecting and developing relationships with their legislators
- iii. Identify techniques to effectively communicating Academy messages with elected officials
- iv. Utilize proven advocacy strategies for successfully and effectively connecting and developing relationships with their legislators

I would like to set up a call to discuss the session – any chance you have time next week for the three of us to be on the same phone line? I know you are both busy people.

I know Donna has a headset.

Dianne, do you have a headset? Or should we have one shipped to you?

I think if we can talk on the phone, you can share your creative ideas....

LPPC chair Lorri Holzberg will be the moderator for the session.

Thanks,

Teresa

Dear NDEP Members,

There is still time to celebrate National Preceptor Month!

National Preceptor Month is an occasion to recognize and thank the practitioners who take the time and make the effort to create the next generation of professionals by teaching students in their workplace. In order to help recognize the importance of preceptors and to take part in the festivities of National Preceptor Month, we are asking everyone to show their appreciation for preceptors throughout the entire month!

We want to continue the tradition and share some great stories and pictures of how some of you thanked your wonderful preceptors this year! We are asking program directors to send in pictures and/or stories of how you will be celebrating National Preceptor Month and we will post your stories on the Academy's Facebook page, on ACEND's Preceptor Website, in email blasts and even in Eat Right Weekly! We want to show off all you and your students are doing in April for your amazing preceptors! Send your stories and pictures to preceptor@eatright.org

Need some ideas for how you can thank your preceptors:

- Send a little note- just a few words to say 'thank you' goes a long way
- Thank your preceptor's boss for allowing her/him be a preceptor
- Make a sign to hang on your preceptor's office door so everyone knows they are helping to create tomorrow's leaders
- Bring them a homemade present or healthy goodie
- Treat them to lunch or a coffee
- The best thank-you gift of all – have your students tell their preceptors that they are going to become one after they receive their RDN or NDTR credential!

Make sure you present your preceptors with the 2017 Certificate of Appreciation which is posted in the ACEND Portal (<http://education.webauthor.com>) under Accreditation Forum, then click Library, then Other Information and Resources.

We are still actively recruiting preceptors in our Find-a-Preceptor Database! We have recruited many practitioners to be preceptors, but we always need more! Our goal this year is 100 new preceptors!! Encourage those you know to register to be a preceptor! If you are in need of preceptors, make sure to use the database as a resource and check back often as there are new preceptors added every day!

To learn more about the Find-a-Preceptor Database and National Preceptor Month visit www.eatright.org/preceptors

The 2017 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™ (FNCE®) will be held October 21-24 in Chicago, Illinois preceded by the House Leadership Team (HLT) meeting on October 19 and the House of Delegates meeting October 20-21. You will remember that you all agreed last year to discontinue our Board meeting immediately following FNCE. I am attaching the most recent Board meetings calendar for your reference.

Housing

The Executive Office staff will make your reservations at the FNCE® headquarters hotel, Hyatt Regency Chicago, 151 East Wacker Drive, Chicago, IL, for arrival on Thursday, October 19 and departure on Tuesday, October 24. For members of the HLT (Speaker, Speaker-elect, Immediate Past Speaker, HOD Directors), we will make your hotel reservations for arrival on Wednesday, October 18. If business or personal reasons require you to extend your stay, please notify me. Your hotel room will be master-billed; you will be asked to pay for incidentals.

Registration

Complimentary FNCE® registration is open Tuesday, May 2 through Friday, September 8.

Registration instructions follow:

- Complete your registration online by going to <http://eatrightfnce.org/attend/registration/>
- o Select the Registration link
- o In the New Registration section on the left side, enter the registration code “password” under your name
- § Continue and complete the required registration information.
- Registration questions, please contact Rebecca McHale at 312/899-4851.

Travel

You are approved to make your travel arrangements for FNCE®; see instructions below. If you wish to book your travel on your own, please submit your expenses for reimbursement after the conclusion of the meeting.

Booking Your Travel Online:

- 1) Book your travel whenever possible Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:30am and 7:00pm EST
- 2) Go online to: www.atcmeetings.com/Academy
- 3) Login to your account using your User ID (email address) and the password you created when you activated your account. (If you have forgotten your login, click “Forgot password” and enter your email address on file with Deem in the USERNAME field. You will immediately receive a reset password email.)
- 4) Search for and select your flights (book “non-refundable” fares only)
- 5) When you reach the Purchase Trip page, select 2017 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo from the drop down menu and enter the GL Code 1032430.

We would like to see you talk about more than PPW. This session is not about the nuts and bolts, it is about the reason that policy is important to you, what you have gained from your policy work and the reasons you work to pave the way for the Academy members....

You will each have 25 minutes to speak – we would like to see the picture, reduce the written words on the slides and enjoy your presentation as if you were the keynoters to a room full of more than 400 members.

Here are objectives – open for edits or revisions – they are not cast in stone... So feel free to edit.

- i. Describe your value and communicate it to elected officials during visits with elected officials on the Hill and in the home state
- ii. Utilize effective connecting and developing relationships with their legislators
- iii. Identify techniques to effectively communicating Academy messages with elected officials
- iv. Utilize proven advocacy strategies for successfully and effectively connecting and developing relationships with their legislators

I would like to set up a call to discuss the session – any chance you have time next week for the three of us to be on the same phone line? I know you are both busy people.

I know Donna has a headset.

Dianne, do you have a headset? Or should we have one shipped to you?

I think if we can talk on the phone, you can share your creative ideas....

LPPC chair Lorri Holzberg will be the moderator for the session.

Thanks,

Teresa

Treat and Reduce Obesity Act Reintroduced

Great news from Congress: The Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 has been introduced in both the Senate and House with bipartisan support from Sens. Bill Cassidy (La.) and Tom Carper (Del.) and Reps. Erik Paulsen (Minn.) and Ron Kind (Wis.). TROA is a critical step in addressing the obesity epidemic by providing better treatment options including intervention and counseling by registered dietitian nutritionists and safe, innovative medications approved for obesity management. More than 175 representatives and senators sponsored this legislation in the previous Congress; the Academy is working hard to push this bill over the finish line. Encourage your representatives to sponsor this important initiative to expand professional opportunities for Academy members.

April 17 Deadline: How Important Are Federal Programs to You?

As soon as Congress returns from its recess, it will need to pass legislation to fund the federal government for Fiscal Year 2017. In March, the Trump administration released a "skinny budget," setting a broad budget blueprint for FY 2018, which begins October 1, and a more detailed budget is expected in early May. The Academy needs your stories and anecdotes expressing how important federally funded food safety, nutrition assistance, public health nutrition and nutrition education programming are to you and the populations and clients you serve. Please reply by April 17 by to Jennifer Folliard at jfolliard@eatright.org and Stefanie Rinehart at swinston@eatright.org.

April 17 Application Deadline: ANDPAC Student Representative

Are you a Student member with an interest in the link between nutrition policy and the profession? The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee's Student Representative serves a one-year term on the ANDPAC board and on the Academy's Student Advisory Committee. Submit an application, letter of interest, resume and letter of recommendation from a faculty member by April 17.

Leigh Ann and Debbie, I will not be in DC on May 9th. The only day in May right now that I am scheduled to be there is May 1.

The areas we will be focusing on for the Second Century are:

FOOD AND NUTRITION SECURITY

Ensure all people have reliable access to culturally appropriate, nutrient-dense food and clean water now and in the future by building resilient food systems and prioritizing actions to prevent and divert wasted food throughout the value chain.

PREVENTION AND HEALTH CARE

Improve health outcomes and decrease health disparities by accelerating the shift to a preventive health care model and using new technologies to individualize nutrition care.

ENVIRONMENT, BEHAVIOR AND CHOICE

Create a culture and environment that support health and wellness through relevant and appealing solutions for all places where people spend their time – home, work, schools and communities.

RESEARCH AND STANDARDS

Implement models of trusted, public-private collaboration to accelerate high-quality nutrition research, metrics and standards creation and open-access platforms for curating research and reporting outcomes.

GLOBAL WORKFORCE CAPACITY

Grow the number of trained nutrition professionals and dietitians globally and embed nutrition knowledge broadly to increase nutrition capacity and reach global health goals.

INVESTMENT

Accelerate progress and explore collaborations to drive investment in nutrition outcomes.

The Innovation projects for the Second Century that are currently being considered for further development include:

- Sustainable Food and Nutrition - We will create a cadre of change agents in food systems, nutrition and health across sectors and interest groups
- Eat the Truth - We will focus on communicating accurate and scientific food and nutrition information
- The $1 Trillion Nutrition Impact Investment Fund - We will mobilize the world's most influential investors to commit funds to malnutrition solutions and initiatives
- Nutrition in Population Health Fellowship Program - We will transform our health system by emphasizing the fundamental prevention strategies of food, nutrition and lifestyle.
- Healthy Schools, Healthy Communities - We will create a future where nutrition and wellness interventions are integrated into school culture.
- LEAN, or Leaders Elected and Appointed to Advance Nutrition - We will increase the number of elected officials with a deep understanding of food, nutrition and health to positively impact public policy.
- Lifestyle First - We will create a future where nutrition and lifestyle interventions are universally prioritized.
- Preserving Credibility and Integrity in Food, Nutrition and Health Research - We will increase the quality of food and nutrition research and restore public trust in research findings.
- The Global Nutrition Collaborative - We will accelerate progress in improving health by building a global coalition of credentialed food and nutrition practitioners.

Let me know how you want to proceed and if we can do the podcast from my office in Georgia or if I need to come to DC.

Teresa, Pepin and Stefani, I just finished listening to the Nutrition and Prevention in Healthcare Webinar in preparation for our Hill visits on May 1. I thought you all did an excellent job and I wanted to tell you how much I got out of the webinar. It was very well done and I think did a great job of preparing me for the Advocacy Days. Thanks for putting this together. I wish all our Academy members would listen to these webinars, because they would get so much out of them. Thanks again and see you in DC May 1st when we storm the Hill!

I did a little research on congress.gov, and while Rep. I will see what else could be the issue, but just wanted to share these for consideration!

H. Res. 591: commends the cooperative owners and employees of the Farm Credit System for their work in meeting needs of rural communities

H. Res. 464: affirming the role of private equity & private-equity business owners, and their contribution to the economy

And I just found this one interesting...

Katie,

A few weeks ago, I requested your support of resolution S. Res. 75/H. Res.161 a bi-partisan resolution recognizing the 100th anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. I am following up to see what questions you might have and again ask for Rep. Rick Allen's support. I am excited to be part of this wonderful celebration and a group that focuses on nutrition health on an individual and community level. Some of my colleagues and your constituents in our community are doing some impactful things to improve and maintain health that include-

- Providing nutrition counseling to over 40,000 families to help them understand how diet can help manage chronic disease.
- Leading farm to school programs in our communities to teach lifelong healthy eating habits.
- Helping employers reduce health care costs by providing engaging effective nutrition and wellness programs
- Working in retail stores to help grocers and consumers maximize shopping dollars.
- Developing a nutrition feeding plan for premature infant in the ICU.

I am proud to share that the Academy remains strongly connected to our origins: committed to helping solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges of the day through the transformational power of nutrition.

Please see if you can get Rep. Rick Allen to support the resolution in Congress and let me know if you I need to answer any questions for you?

Hi Donna,

I have you down for speaking during our gala (May 11th at 7PM) seeing as this is our 75th year and the academy's 100th, we thought it would be opportune for you to just briefly mention 'the past 100 years' and the academy's vision moving forward. I do not anticipate this would need to be more than 15 minutes as our historian will also be speaking and we want to provide ample time for than as well as our awards.

There are two airports (one very close), the Huntington - Tri-state airport, and one in Charleston, WV (1 hour away). There are also airports in nearby cities (Columbus, Cincinnati) that some folks prefer direct flights to/from.

Donna,

Good morning, last November, I was invited to speak at Tim Lang's UK Food Research Collaborative on nutrition incentives and Veggie R/x programs.

Professor Tim Lang and his colleagues at City University of London continue to do terrific work policies to improve sustainable diets.

Wonder if the Academy might explore inviting Tim or one his colleagues to join us in June in Chicago?

Gus

Food Thinkers “How can we make progress on normalising Sustainable Diets?”

Speakers: Tim Lang, Professor of Food Policy, City, University of London; Tara Garnett, Director, (FCRN) Food Climate Research Network and Modi Mwatsama, Director of Policy and Global Health, UK Health Forum

When: Wednesday 24 May 2017, 4pm – 6pm

Where: A130, College Building, City University of London

RSVP here

About the talk:

This Food Thinkers seminar is an opportunity to discuss the issue of sustainable diets. This simple phrase sometimes seems to cover a vast range of issues shaping how and what we eat, from the environment to ethics, from the labour process to the content of foods. Three researchers will lead off discussion: Dr Tara Garnett of Oxford University who set up the Food Climate Research Network which has been a key global source of data and thinking over the last 11 years; Dr Modi Mwatsama of the UK Health Forum, which has been preparing a new report on how Health Sustainable Diets policy options in the UK; and Prof Tim Lang, of the Centre for Food Policy, whose new book Sustainable Diets (with Pamela Mason) offers an overview of the topic.

About the Speakers:

Tim Lang

Tim Lang has been Professor of Food Policy at City University London's Centre for Food Policy since 2002. After a PhD in social psychology at Leeds University, he became a hill farmer in the 1970s which shifted his attention to food policy, where it has been ever since. For over 35 years, he's engaged in academic and public research and debate about its direction, locally to globally. His abiding interest is how policy addresses the environment, health, social justice, and citizens. He has been a consultant to the World Health Organisation (eg. auditing the Global Top 25 Food Companies on food and health). He has been a special advisor to four House of Commons Select Committee inquiries (food standards x 2, globalisation and obesity), and a consultant on food security to the Royal Institute of International Affairs (Chatham House). He was a Commissioner on the UK Government's Sustainable Development Commission (2006-11), reviewing progress on food sustainability. He was on the Council of Food Policy Advisors to the Dept for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs (2008-10), and was appointed to the Mayor of London's Food Board in 2010

Tara Garnett

Tara Garnett initiated and runs the Food Climate Research Network (FCRN), based at the Environmental Change Institute.

Her work focuses on the contribution that the food system makes to greenhouse gas emissions and the scope for emissions reduction, looking at the technological options, at what could be achieved by changes in behaviour and how policies could help promote both these approaches. She is particularly interested in the relationship between emissions reduction objectives and other social and ethical concerns, particularly human health, livelihoods, and animal welfare. Much of her focus is on livestock, since this represents a nodal point where many of these issues converge.

Tara is keen to collaborate through the FCRN with other organisations to undertake research, organise events and build and extend interdisciplinary, intersectoral knowledge in this field.

I did a little research on congress.gov, and while Rep. Allen has not signed on to many resolutions, I found a few from the 114th Congress that could question the assertion that the office has a general rule to not sign on to these types of resolutions. I will see what else could be the issue, but just wanted to share these for consideration!

H. Res. 591: commends the cooperative owners and employees of the Farm Credit System for their work in meeting needs of rural communities

H. Res. 464: affirming the role of private equity & private-equity business owners, and their contribution to the economy

And I just found this one interesting...

H.Res. 564: protecting Christmas

Thank you for your leadership and persistence!

Rick Allen is going to age you. So my suggestion is that you run for his seat in two years. You will be Academy Past President and it would be perfect timing. J

Katie,

A few weeks ago, I requested your support of resolution S. Res. 75/H. Res.161 a bi-partisan resolution recognizing the 100th anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. I am following up to see what questions you might have and again ask for Rep. Rick Allen's support. I am excited to be part of this wonderful celebration and a group that focuses on nutrition health on an individual and community level. Some of my colleagues and your constituents in our community are doing some impactful things to improve and maintain health that include-

- Providing nutrition counseling to over 40,000 families to help them understand how diet can help manage chronic disease.
- Leading farm to school programs in our communities to teach lifelong healthy eating habits.
- Helping employers reduce health care costs by providing engaging effective nutrition and wellness programs
- Working in retail stores to help grocers and consumers maximize shopping dollars.
- Developing a nutrition feeding plan for premature infant in the ICU.

I am proud to share that the Academy remains strongly connected to our origins: committed to helping solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges of the day through the transformational power of nutrition.

Please see if you can get Rep. Rick Allen to support the resolution in Congress and let me know if you I need to answer any questions for you?

Best to you!

Hi, Donna: Below is a link to download our draft of a historical presentation for the West Virginia meeting.

<https://spaces.hightail.com/receive/3XAk6>

Can you please review it and let us know if it looks OK to you, or if you'd like us to make any edits, which we're glad to do.

Thank you very much, talk to you soon!

Tom, Do you all think you could get something together for this presentation I have in West Virginia? I thought I was going to do the regular Academy update, but she wants me to do something on the history of the Academy also. She has not been good about letting me know what she wanted me to do so I finally just emailed her and found this out! See below. It is only 15 minutes, but I would love some pictures and history stuff that I know you all have been gathering. Thanks!!!!!!

Hi Donna,

I have you down for speaking during our gala (May 11th at 7PM) seeing as this is our 75th year and the academy's 100th, we thought it would be opportune for you to just briefly mention 'the past 100 years' and the academy's vision moving forward. I do not anticipate this would need to be more than 15 minutes as our historian will also be speaking and we want to provide ample time for than as well as our awards.

There are two airports (one very close), the Huntington - Tri-state airport, and one in Charleston, WV (1 hour away). There are also airports in nearby cities (Columbus, Cincinnati) that some folks prefer direct flights to/from.

Please feel free to call if you have any questions. 304.633.0675

Lacy, I am writing to make sure you still want me to come speak at your annual meeting May 11th? I am happy to do whatever you want, but need dates and times so I can make flights. What airport should I fly into, etc.? Thanks!

We will find out but I wonder if the staffer really digested the information. The interesting thing is that one of our sponsors has a rule never to sign on or sponsor any bills! J

Rick Allen is going to age you. So my suggestion is that you run for his seat in two years. You will be Academy Past President and it would be perfect timing. J

Katie,

A few weeks ago, I requested your support of resolution S. Res. 75/H. Res.161 a bi-partisan resolution recognizing the 100th anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. I am following up to see what questions you might have and again ask for Rep. Rick Allen's support. I am excited to be part of this wonderful celebration and a group that focuses on nutrition health on an individual and community level. Some of my colleagues and your constituents in our community are doing some impactful things to improve and maintain health that include-

- Providing nutrition counseling to over 40,000 families to help them understand how diet can help manage chronic disease.
- Leading farm to school programs in our communities to teach lifelong healthy eating habits.
- Helping employers reduce health care costs by providing engaging effective nutrition and wellness programs
- Working in retail stores to help grocers and consumers maximize shopping dollars.
- Developing a nutrition feeding plan for premature infant in the ICU.

I am proud to share that the Academy remains strongly connected to our origins: committed to helping solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges of the day through the transformational power of nutrition.

Please see if you can get Rep. Rick Allen to support the resolution in Congress and let me know if you I need to answer any questions for you?

Best to you!

To the Academy's amazing Spokespeople:

It was a pleasure for me to be with you this past weekend for the 2017 Nutrition News Forecast in Denver. Each of you demonstrated, once again, that you are the incomparable face and voice of our organization and our profession.

I want to echo Lucille Beseler's words: You are a fantastic resource for the Academy and our entire profession. I am proud to know and work with you, and even more proud that you represent all that is special about our Academy to the media.

Thank you again for your service, your dedication and your willingness to go far beyond the call of duty to tell our story to the world. On behalf of the Board of Directors, we appreciate all you do to promote the registered dietitian nutritionist and to help the public become and stay healthy through nutrition.

My best wishes for a wonderful 2017-2018, and I look forward to seeing you in October at the Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo in Chicago!

Many thanks,

Dear LPPC Members,

I am reaching out to you again to ask for your help in contacting your Members of Congress – this time your Representative and your two Senators. This has been a busy and confusing time for the legislators and our ask for co-sponsorship of H Res 161 and now S Res 75 has likely been put down to the bottom of priorities. It is up to us to bring it to the forefront for these legislators. I am suggesting that you contact their district offices as they will be on break from April 8-23rd. This is a good time to make contact with the staffers in the district offices of your Representative and two Senators. Asking for them to co-sponsor this resolution is an easy ask and easy for them to do.

You can modify the attached message by saying to the Rep and Senators that this is your second request and emphasizing what a busy time this has been. The DC contact information for your Members of Congress (MOC) is also attached.

Thanks for your persistence in pushing through this legislation. It will only move forward if the legislators are asked by their constituents. Below is the original email sent by Mary Pat.

Warmly,

Lorri

Currently, there are no new sponsors for this resolution to recognize our 100th Anniversary. These types of resolutions only move forward by constituents' requests which is unlike other legislation which has a different type of lobbying.

Please send your email and also reach out to your colleagues, friends and others to complete the Action Alert. To date, there has been little activity by members in this area. Here is the link to the Action Alert.

Attention students! Are you interested in getting more involved and becoming a leader in public health and community nutrition? The Public Health/Community Nutrition Practice Group (PHCNPG) is excited to announce a leadership opportunity for students! The Student Committee

Chair serves as a liaison between student members and the PHCNPG leadership, and serves as a non-voting member of the Executive Committee. Read more about the position and apply today!

Applications are now being accepted to serve for the 2017-2018 Academy Year (June 1-May 31). Download the application form here and submit it along with your résumé or CV to phcnpgmembers@gmail.com by April 30, 2017.

Be sure to check out the PHCNPG Student Members page for more information about the Student Committee as well as other opportunities and resources for students. Questions? Please email us at phcnpgstudents@gmail.com.

Our Mentorship Program Needs Students and Interns!

PHCNPG's Mentoring Program connects members who are nutrition professionals with students and interns with the aim to promote growth in specialty practice areas, general career and personal growth. We currently have more mentors (with experience in WIC, wellness program coordination & clinical dietetics, and conducting community nutrition programs & National Diabetes Prevention Programs) than mentees.

Read more about the mentoring program here (includes the form for signing up).

Thank you to everyone who has signed up for this program!

NEW Action Alert: Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

Dear Colleague, To honor National Nutrition Month 2017, a congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial was introduced on March 1, in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives. Help build more support in Congress for our resolution. Ask your members of Congress to sign on and recognize our Academy and our profession. The Academy's Centennial website contains a wealth of background information that may be helpful in gaining their support. Each of the resolution's original sponsors is from Ohio, where our Academy was founded in 1917. The Senate sponsors are Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi.

Special Note for Ohio: Instead of asking these members of Congress to co-sponsor, please edit the action alert message to thanking them for their support! Click here to take action. It takes only a few minutes! The Academy is counting on you to send a letter today.

Open Action Alert for Treat and Reduce Obesity Act

Dear Colleague, If you have not taken the action alert that opened on February 24 please take action today! It takes only a few minutes!

Please assist the Academy with continuing to urge Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 that will allow registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients. Medicare recipients deserve access to obesity counseling from Registered Dietitian Nutritionists who have the expertise and training to provide quality care.

It is urgent that members of the 115th Congress hear from you.

We Want to Hear Your Ideas!

Are you a public health dietitian with a great idea for a webinar? Are you or someone you know an expert in your field? The Public Health and Community Nutrition Dietetic Practice Group education committee is soliciting ideas for topics and speakers for 2017. If you have a great idea or know an expert that would be a great presenter, please email your suggestions to phcnpg@cableone.net.

Registration is Now Open: Public Policy Workshop 2017

Attend the world's largest food and nutrition policy and advocacy summit, the Academy's Public Policy Workshop, June 25 to 26 in Washington, D.C. Exciting changes make this year's PPW the "go-to" event to sharpen your communication skills, advocate for the profession and develop new high-level personal and professional relationships. Dear LPPC Members,

I am reaching out to you again to ask for your help in contacting your Members of Congress – this time your Representative and your two Senators. This has been a busy and confusing time for the legislators and our ask for co-sponsorship of H Res 161 and now S Res 75 has likely been put down to the bottom of priorities. It is up to us to bring it to the forefront for these legislators. I am suggesting that you contact their district offices as they will be on break from April 8-23rd. This is a good time to make contact with the staffers in the district offices of your Representative and two Senators. Asking for them to co-sponsor this resolution is an easy ask and easy for them to do.

You can modify the attached message by saying to the Rep and Senators that this is your second request and emphasizing what a busy time this has been. The DC contact information for your Members of Congress (MOC) is also attached.

Thanks for your persistence in pushing through this legislation. It will only move forward if the legislators are asked by their constituents. Below is the original email sent by Mary Pat.

Warmly,
Lorri

Subject: Resolution Information

Good morning!

Attached is the sample email to send your member of Congress and staff to co-sponsor the resolution celebrating our 100th Anniversary. Also included is the spreadsheet that has the email addresses to send these persons.

Currently, there are no new sponsors for this resolution to recognize our 100th Anniversary. These types of resolutions only move forward by constituents' requests which is unlike other legislation which has a different type of lobbying.

Please send your email and also reach out to your colleagues, friends and others to complete the Action Alert. To date, there has been little activity by members in this area. Here is the link to the Action Alert.

Many thanks,

Mary Pat

My name is Corrie Staff and I am a dietetic intern from UW-Stout at WAND this year. You were asking for ideas for a title rather than "eat the truth". It sounded like a creative and fun project and what I came up with was "Fork the Facts".

If I do come up with more I will let you know. Thank you for the presentation!

Update from Capitol Hill

From April 8-23, Members of Congress are back in district for the Easter recess, finishing a busy six-week work period in Washington D.C. We wanted to highlight key issues that impact Academy members, and preview what to expect when Congress returns.

Academy's Centennial Resolution in Congress Gains Co-sponsors!

Thanks to the grassroots advocacy of Academy members, support is growing for the Congressional Resolutions celebrating the Academy's Centennial and honoring the work of Academy members across the country. In the House, Reps. DeGette (Colo.), McGovern (Mass.), and Tim Ryan (Ohio) are now cosponsors for H. Res. 161. In the Senate, Senator Cassidy (La.) is now a cosponsor for S. Res. 75. Be sure to reach out with our action alert to contact your member of Congress to share this opportunity to celebrate the past, present and future of the Academy's members.

March Madness for Federal Budget Process – Tell US How Important Programs Are to YOU!

When Congress returns, a critical issue will be passing legislation to fund the federal government for the current Fiscal Year (FY 2017). The government is currently operating under a Continuous Resolution (CR) passed by Congress in December, which expires on April 28th. A CR maintains the funding levels for federal programs as the past year. Now Congress is working to pass spending bill to fund government programs through the end of the fiscal year, which expires on September 30, 2017. While negotiations on the details of the bill continue, the Academy continues to advocate for funding of evidence-based federal nutrition programs.

Once Congress completes funding for FY 2017, then work will begin on Fiscal Year 2018 (FY 2018). In March, the Administration released a “skinny budget,” which set a broad budget blueprint for FY 2018 (which begins October 1, 2017). A more detailed budget from the Administration is expected in early May.

The Academy PIA team continues to meet with House and Senate appropriations offices to discuss the Academy’s priorities to be considered in committee discussions. Academy staff also worked with the House Diabetes Caucus and with champions of Senior Nutrition programs, and the National WIC Association to gain sponsors for Dear Colleague letters for specific funding requests. Dear Colleague letters are authored by Members of Congress to gain support among colleagues for specific programs or issues.

We will continue to provide resources on the effectiveness of these evidence-based programs, and stay tuned for opportunities to engage with your members of Congress.

We are looking for stories that will express how important federally funded food safety, nutrition assistance, public health nutrition and nutrition education programming are to you and the populations and clients you serve. As part of the Academy’s efforts to tell this story we need to hear from you by April 17! Please email Jennifer Folliard jfolliard@eatright.org and Stefanie Rinehart swinston@eatright.org

Chronic Care Legislation Reintroduced in the Senate

On April 7, the Creating High-Quality Results and Outcomes Necessary to Improve Chronic (CHRONIC) Care Act of 2017 was introduced in the Senate as S. 870. The legislation builds upon bipartisan work of the Senate Chronic Care Working Group in the 114th Congress, and aims to improve health outcomes for Medicare beneficiaries with chronic conditions. The Academy has provided comments and continued collaboration with the bill sponsors, and will continue to work with the bill sponsors to ensure that critical nutrition services are included in this important legislation.

Academy School Nutrition Leaders Present on Policy Options

The Pew Charitable Trust Kids Safe and Healthful Kids Project, which lead efforts to improve access and funding to school kitchen equipment grants, held a capstone event which featured many Academy school nutrition leaders. Academy President-Elect Donna Martin EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND, hosted a panel on successes of school nutrition directors over the past five years. Beverly Girard Ph.D., M.B.A., R.D., Linette Dodson PhD RD FAND and Cheryl Johnson MS, RD,

LD expressed support for providing more fruits, vegetable and whole grains in school meals and emphasized the importance of providing nutrition education with the recent change in the school meal patterns.

Treat and Reduce Obesity Act Reintroduced!

The Academy is excited to announce that the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 (S. 830, H.R. 1953) was introduced last week in both the Senate and House with the bipartisan support of Senators Bill Cassidy (La.) and Tom Carper (Del.) and Representatives Erik Paulsen (Minn.) and Ron Kind (Wis.). The Treat and Reduce Obesity Act is a critical step in addressing the obesity epidemic in the United States by providing better treatment options for healthcare professionals including intervention and counseling by RDNs, and safe, innovative medications approved for obesity management. More than 175 congresspersons and senators sponsored this legislation in the previous congressional term, and the Academy is working hard to push this bill over the finish line! Take action now to encourage your representatives to sponsor this important initiative to expand professional opportunities for our members!

Action Alert Update

We need your immediate assistance to increase member action alert participation for the Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. The action alerts for the Resolution Recognizing the Academy's 100th Anniversary and the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 will remain open. Here is what you can do:

1. Take the action alert and encourage all affiliate, DPG and MIG leaders and public policy team members to do the same.
2. Send an eblast message to your affiliate, DPG or MIG membership asking them to send letters to their Senators and Representatives and post the message to your electronic mailing list. The follow approved message should be used:

Dear Colleague,

We need your help to build more support in Congress for the congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial! Please ask your members of Congress to sign on and recognize the Academy and our profession.

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the action alerts are posted in the Public Policy Panel COI. The reports are located in the April 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 April subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the Public Policy Coordinator COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

Hello!

My name is Corrie Staff and I am a dietetic intern from UW-Stout at WAND this year. You were asking for ideas for a title rather than "eat the truth". It sounded like a creative and fun project and what I came up with was "Fork the Facts".

If I do come up with more I will let you know. Thank you for the presentation!

Update from Capitol Hill

From April 8-23, Members of Congress are back in district for the Easter recess, finishing a busy six-week work period in Washington D.C. We wanted to highlight key issues that impact Academy members, and preview what to expect when Congress returns.

Academy's Centennial Resolution in Congress Gains Co-sponsors!

Thanks to the grassroots advocacy of Academy members, support is growing for the Congressional Resolutions celebrating the Academy's Centennial and honoring the work of Academy members across the country. In the House, Reps. DeGette (Colo.), McGovern (Mass.), and Tim Ryan (Ohio) are now cosponsors for H. Res. 161. In the Senate, Senator Cassidy (La.) is now a cosponsor for S. Res. 75. Be sure to reach out with our action alert to contact your member of Congress to share this opportunity to celebrate the past, present and future of the Academy's members.

March Madness for Federal Budget Process – Tell US How Important Programs Are to YOU!

When Congress returns, a critical issue will be passing legislation to fund the federal government for the current Fiscal Year (FY 2017). The government is currently operating under a Continuous Resolution (CR) passed by Congress in December, which expires on April 28th. A CR maintains the funding levels for federal programs as the past year. Now Congress is working to pass spending bill to fund government programs through the end of the fiscal year, which expires on September 30, 2017. While negotiations on the details of the bill continue, the Academy continues to advocate for funding of evidence-based federal nutrition programs.

Once Congress completes funding for FY 2017, then work will begin on Fiscal Year 2018 (FY 2018). In March, the Administration released a “skinny budget,” which set a broad budget blueprint for FY 2018 (which begins October 1, 2017). A more detailed budget from the Administration is expected in early May.

The Academy PIA team continues to meet with House and Senate appropriations offices to discuss the Academy’s priorities to be considered in committee discussions. Academy staff also worked with the House Diabetes Caucus and with champions of Senior Nutrition programs, and the National WIC Association to gain sponsors for Dear Colleague letters for specific funding requests. Dear Colleague letters are authored by Members of Congress to gain support among colleagues for specific programs or issues.

We will continue to provide resources on the effectiveness of these evidence-based programs, and stay tuned for opportunities to engage with your members of Congress.

We are looking for stories that will express how important federally funded food safety, nutrition assistance, public health nutrition and nutrition education programming are to you and the populations and clients you serve. As part of the Academy’s efforts to tell this story we need to hear from you by April 17! Please email Jennifer Folliard jfolliard@eatright.org and Stefanie Rinehart swinston@eatright.org

On April 7, the Creating High-Quality Results and Outcomes Necessary to Improve Chronic (CHRONIC) Care Act of 2017 was introduced in the Senate as S. 870. The legislation builds upon bipartisan work of the Senate Chronic Care Working Group in the 114th Congress, and aims to improve health outcomes for Medicare beneficiaries with chronic conditions. The Academy has provided comments and continued collaboration with the bill sponsors, and will continue to work with the bill sponsors to ensure that critical nutrition services are included in this important legislation.

Academy School Nutrition Leaders Present on Policy Options

The Pew Charitable Trust Kids Safe and Healthful Kids Project, which lead efforts to improve access and funding to school kitchen equipment grants, held a capstone event which featured many Academy school nutrition leaders. Academy President-Elect Donna Martin EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND, hosted a panel on successes of school nutrition directors over the past five years. Beverly Girard Ph.D., M.B.A., R.D., Linette Dodson PhD RD FAND and Cheryl Johnson MS, RD, LD expressed support for providing more fruits, vegetable and whole grains in school meals and emphasized the importance of providing nutrition education with the recent change in the school meal patterns.

Treat and Reduce Obesity Act Reintroduced!

The Academy is excited to announce that the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 (S. 830, H.R. 1953) was introduced last week in both the Senate and House with the bipartisan support of Senators Bill Cassidy (La.) and Tom Carper (Del.) and Representatives Erik Paulsen (Minn.) and Ron Kind (Wis.). The Treat and Reduce Obesity Act is a critical step in addressing the obesity epidemic in the United States by providing better treatment options for healthcare professionals including intervention and counseling by RDNs, and safe, innovative medications approved for obesity management. More than 175 congresspersons and senators sponsored this legislation in the previous congressional term, and the Academy is working hard to push this bill over the finish line! Take action now to encourage your representatives to sponsor this important initiative to expand professional opportunities for our members!

Action Alert Update

We need your immediate assistance to increase member action alert participation for the Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. The action alerts for the Resolution Recognizing the Academy's 100th Anniversary and the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 will remain open. Here is what you can do:

1. Take the action alert and encourage all affiliate, DPG and MIG leaders and public policy team members to do the same.
2. Send an eblast message to your affiliate, DPG or MIG membership asking them to send letters to their Senators and Representatives and post the message to your electronic mailing list. The follow approved message should be used:

Dear Colleague,

We need your help to build more support in Congress for the congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial! Please ask your members of Congress to sign on and recognize the Academy and our profession.

Click here to take action. The Academy is counting on you to send a letter today!

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the action alerts are posted in the Public Policy Panel COI. The reports are located in the April 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 April subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the Public Policy Coordinator COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

Impact the Future of Nutrition as a Preceptor!

Having trouble viewing this e-mail? View it in your browser.

Connect with the Academy:

April is National Preceptor Month, and as the experts that make the biggest impact on future generations of registered dietitian nutritionists, we ask you to recognize the importance preceptors have in nutrition and dietetics. We also ask that you consider becoming a preceptor to help to shape the leaders of tomorrow.

Preceptors were vital in guiding you to reach your dream of becoming a registered dietitian nutritionist. By registering yourself as a preceptor, not only are you helping a student to fulfill that same dream, but you are helping to reverse the preceptor shortage this means the development of more registered dietitian nutritionists to positively influence the world's nutrition!

In celebration of the Academy's Centennial, our hope is to recruit 100 more preceptors than last year! Help us meet our goal!

We invite you to learn more or sign up to be a preceptor today!

Dont forget about CDRs FREE Preceptor Training Course!

Participants can earn 8 CPEUs. Click here for more information.

Dear Stephanie,

I hope this note finds you well. I wanted to reach out to you and sincerely thank you for your recent gift and your generous support of the Foundation. We know that you have many choices when it comes to your philanthropic dollars, and we wanted you to know how much we appreciate your decision to support the Foundation. Your support will help ensure the strength of our specialty for years to come. You might enjoy an update on what we have been doing:

FOCUS ON FAMILIES

Kids Eat Right

The Kids Eat Right initiative was developed to ensure that sound nutrition recommendations are part of childhood obesity prevention. One of the great features of Kids Eat Right is a consumer website, www.kidseatright.org which is filled with age-appropriate, Academy-approved tips, articles, recipes, and videos to help families shop smart, cook healthy and eat right.

Support allows for new tips, articles and recipes on the consumer site www.kidseatright.org each Monday. Toolkits on the member site www.kidseatright.org/volunteer provide resources for campaign volunteers to educate the public on a variety of important topics.

USDA's Healthier US School Challenge awards

Over the past several years, the Foundation has collaborated with the Iowa Department of Education through their Team Nutrition grants to implement RDN expertise to over 70 schools in Iowa to assist in applying for USDA's Healthier U.S. School Challenge awards.

RD Parent Empowerment Program

The Academy Foundation's RD Parent Empowerment program brings the expertise of registered dietitian nutritionists into school and community settings to educate and empower parents to improve their families' eating and physical activity habits and to influence their peers to do the same. The program has been implemented in Indianapolis, San Francisco, Washington, DC, Chicago, Johnson City, Tennessee, New York, and Houston. Materials are available to all Kids Eat Right members to download through the Kids Eat Right member site, in English, Spanish, and Chinese.

HUNGER INITIATIVES

Future of Food initiative

Since 2012, the Future of Food initiative has strived to bring awareness and education to Academy members about food insecurity and agriculture. Six new actions and resources were added to the Kids Eat Right member site for campaign members to take action at the local level to get involved in efforts to reduce food insecurity in their communities. Resources developed as part of the project include two new toolkits, mini-grants and over 12 free live CPEU webinars.

Second Century Vision

In 1917, when Lenna Cooper and Lulu Graves founded what is now the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, they had a powerful vision to create a profession that would change the course of nutrition and health in America. Now we have the opportunity to look ahead again and set as bold a vision.

This new vision should elevate the profession, expand our reach, and do more to improve nutrition and health in the U.S. and around the world, beyond the areas in which we're already strong. The biggest goal involves elimination of malnutrition, primarily through the education of women.

FUNDS AND DEADLINES

Annual Fund – Unrestricted Gifts

The Foundation depends on unrestricted gifts to continue its grant-making and fundraising activities and initiatives such as Kids Eat Right and Future of Food. Unrestricted gifts ensure that the Foundation has a secure basis of funding to sustain itself and address the ever-changing needs of the public.

Scholarship and Awards

The Foundation is the leading funder of scholarships and fellowships for the dietetics profession. In the last 5 years the Foundation has provided over $1 million in educational support. The Foundation can direct donations to the general scholarship fund or over 150 named scholarship/award funds.

Foundation Grants

The Foundation offers several grants throughout the year. Following are a list of deadlines:

- Professional Development, Recognition and Leadership Awards – Aug 1st, Nov 1st, Feb 1st and May 1st
- Home Food Safety Grant – December 1st
- Awards – February 1st
- Scholarships – March 18th
- Named Research Grants – April 1st

DONOR RECOGNITION

Donor Recognition

The Foundation Eat Right Society recognizes donors who make annual gifts of $250 or more to any Foundation initiative. The Early Professionals Eat Right Society recognizes donors who have been in practice five years or less who make annual gifts of $50 or more to the Scholarships, Research, Kids Eat Right or the Annual Fund.

I WILL Legacy Society

The Foundation also encourages members to join the Foundation's I WILL Legacy Society. The Legacy Society celebrates those individuals who have made provisions for the Foundation in their estate plans. All that is need is for you to communicate your intent by filling out a Declaration of Intent Form.

Best regards,

Sylvia

GCNF Adesina Press Release for Distribution.pdf

Dear Friends,

I can hardly believe I've been retired from USDA for two years. Where does time go? I had such wonderful opportunities and experiences there and could not have had a better way to end my career in child nutrition than to serve as Deputy Under Secretary for Food, Nutrition and Consumer Services. It certainly gave me opportunities to see the issues of under nutrition as well as malnutrition both in this country and abroad.

Being retired, I have even more time to devote to the Global Child Nutrition Foundation (GCNF) and now have the pleasure of serving on the Gene White Lifetime Achievement Award Planning Committee. The award is given to acknowledge and celebrate outstanding champions of child nutrition. Now in its 14th year, the award reception has become a signature Washington event with high caliber honorees and speakers. The ceremony will take place at a luncheon on Tuesday, June 13, 2017 at the Hyatt Regency Capitol Hill in Washington, DC. Exact time to follow.

The annual event raises funds for GCNF's efforts to end child hunger by assisting countries to establish sustainable, nutritious school meals programs sourced when possible from local farmers. At this moment, 368 million children – 1 in 5 – are fed daily when they are at school. An additional 1.5 billion children are not. School meal programs draw more children into school, provide them with the nutrition they need to concentrate, and build local jobs and economies that allow families to thrive.

Among other initiatives, your donation helps us to host an annual Forum that pulls together country leaders from developing countries to discuss, share and learn how they might best utilize their resources to cultivate a plan to ensure their children are fed. We've seen throughout the years that not only are these countries now feeding more children, we're hearing testimonies that more children are attending school not just to learn, but also to receive nourishing food.

The highlight of the luncheon will be the presentation of this year's award to Dr. Akin Adesina, President of the African Development Bank, for his lifelong commitment to advance agricultural development across Africa (Press Release attached).

The award reception provides sponsors an opportunity to help make a difference and an opportunity to engage with and honor Dr. Adesina. I would like to talk with you about your association's support and ways GCNF can recognize your commitment to ending child hunger. We appreciate all you do to promote healthy meals in schools both in the US and around the world. We hope that you'll consider supporting GCNF in our efforts to assist countries worldwide in developing sustainable school feeding programs.

I have attached an overview of Sponsorship Opportunities so that you can see the benefits at each contribution level. I hope you will join us in supporting GCNF efforts to ensure hunger is not a barrier to learning for any child.

Warm Regards,

Janey

Good afternoon, Deb-

I hope this email finds you well. We are in the process of finalizing the educational program for the October 2017 program and were wondering if you had any additional insight about the status of the invitation sent to Mrs. Obama regarding the Opening Keynote in Chicago, IL. As you can imagine, it would be such an honor to have Mrs. Obama join our 2017-2018 President, Donna Martin for this Centennial event.

If you need any further details, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Importance: High

March 3, 2017

Mrs. Michelle Obama
The Office of Barack and Michelle Obama
scheduling@obamaoffice44.org

Dear Mrs. Obama:

During the Obama Administration and in particular with the creation and remarkable success of your Let's Move! Initiative, it was my personal and professional honor to work with you and your team to improve the nutritional health of our nation's children. Your visits to the Burke County schools and your kind invitation for me to attend the Let's Move! celebratory event last October proved that we agree: There is no greater calling in life than to be able to teach children to live a healthier life. It was a joy and a privilege for eight years for our country to have a First Lady who shares the same passions as the registered dietitian nutritionists of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

As a parent, grandparent, taxpayer and RDN, I could not have been happier to see what we can do – and are doing – for children. Nutrition and health for kids is a nonpartisan issue, and one that all of us can get behind and celebrate. We share your passion for molding a future for our children that will endure for their lifetimes. Healthier children really do make a healthier nation.

In June, I will have the distinct honor of beginning my one-year term as President of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. This honor is made even more special because 2017 is our Academy's Centennial year. We are celebrating our past and planning for our Second Century as the leaders in food and nutrition. Since the Academy's beginning, food and health systems have continued to evolve, becoming more global and complex. These challenges also create unprecedented opportunities for innovation and collaboration,

The Academy's Board recently adopted as our new vision: "A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition." And we have dedicated ourselves to the new mission: "Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition."

In October of this year, the Academy will officially celebrate our 100th birthday in our organization's hometown – and yours – of Chicago, at our Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo. We can think of no individual who would be more appropriate than you to be the Keynote Speaker at our conference of more than 12,000 food and nutrition professionals.

On behalf of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Board of Directors, it is my pleasure to invite you to present the 2017 Opening Keynote Lecture on October 21, 2017. The Opening Session will be from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. Central Time McCormick Place-West in the Skyline Ballroom.

The Opening Keynote Lecture annually focuses on an issue that is important for the future of the dietetics profession. I have personally experienced how you have moved the needle in terms of school nutrition and positively affected the health of millions of children. Academy members want to keep this momentum going, and you are the perfect person to speak to these dedicated professionals for whom nutrition and health are like oxygen! We are not yet where we need to be, but together we will get there.

Academy members would be honored to hear your remarks and learn from your expertise on this important topic. I hope your schedule permits you to serve as our Keynote Speaker. Your scheduling staff can contact Diane Enos, the Academy's Vice President of Lifelong Learning and Professional Engagement, at 312/899-1767 or denos@eatright.org.

I look forward to working with you in the years to come, and to seeing you at our conference in October.

Respectfully,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND

Just heard that the dairy industry keen to work with Congress on the upcoming farm bill to join and then expand the SNAP EBT Food Insecurity Nutrition Incentive program for dairy products to be added to SNAP EBT nutrition incentives for Fruits and Vegetables.

Your guidance on this testimony yesterday by the dairy industry in Congress to add dairy products to SNAP incentives, (mainly at retail) most welcome.

On the domestic side, Dykes noted that only 1 out of every 10 Americans consumes the three daily servings of dairy recommended by the 2015 Dietary Guidelines. To address this shortfall and encourage more dairy consumption, Dykes advocated for voluntary incentives under the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) and more school milk options.

Donna,

Would be wonderful to have dinner on April 30th--Sunday--Le Chaumiere is closed on Sunday's, but we can find a place with some healthy, nutritious food near your hotel--shall we say 6:30 pm on April 30th with a restaurant to be confirmed.

Just heard that the dairy industry keen to work with Congress on the upcoming farm bill to join and then expand the SNAP EBT Food Insecurity Nutrition Incentive program for dairy products to be added to SNAP EBT nutrition incentives for Fruits and Vegetables.

Your guidance on this testimony yesterday by the dairy industry in Congress to add dairy products to SNAP incentives, (mainly at retail) most welcome.

On the domestic side, Dykes noted that only 1 out of every 10 Americans consumes the three daily servings of dairy recommended by the 2015 Dietary Guidelines. To address this shortfall and encourage more dairy consumption, Dykes advocated for voluntary incentives under the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) and more school milk options.

Advocacy Day Preparation - Nutrition and Prevention in Health Care

Tuesday, April 11, 2017

2 – 3:00 pm Eastern

(11 am – 12:00 pm Pacific; 1 – 2:00 pm Central)

The Advocacy Day Preparation - Nutrition and Prevention in Health Care webinar will be held tomorrow, April 11, 2017! This webinar will be recorded and the recording will be sent to everyone later this week. The handout for this webinar will also be sent out with the recording.

Here is an alternate connection option:

*MAC/APPLE Product Users: In order for WebEx audio to correctly stream on your computer, please click the following link and follow the steps to install the update. This must be done PRIOR to connecting for the live event. http://www.intercall.com/downloads/rpvoip_mac.pkg

*Connecting to WebEx: For the convenience of all, please see the attached pdf: Connecting to WebEx Events for instructions to accessing/connecting to WebEx.

Alternative Connection Option:

You can connect 15 minutes prior to the event via an alternative pathway:

1. Go to <https://eatright.webex.com/eatright>
2. Under Meeting Center tab (upper left), browse meetings to find the Advocacy Day Preparation - Nutrition and Prevention in Health Care meeting listed.
3. Select Join on the far right

4. It will have you enter your name, email and the event password. This password is case sensitive so you would enter the word policy (all letters are lowercase)
5. Agree to allow it to connect to the audio conference and it will pull you into the event.

NEW! - Mobile Device Users:

You are welcome to connect via the free iTunes App Store or Google Play Store Cisco WebEx App. Be sure to download and install the free app. To connect, simply open the app and join the event via Meeting Number by entering the following:

- Meeting Number: 743 175 139
- Meeting Password: policy (all letters are lowercase)

NEW Feature: The WebEx platform allows participants to take notes along with the live presentation during the meeting, and at the conclusion of the meeting, you will have the ability to save or print your personal notes if using this feature. This is an optional feature for participants.

Handouts:

- Instructions to Connect to WebEx

I expect more cases of harm, including additional deaths, will be the unfortunate pre-requisite to more states adopting meaningful professional practice legislation.

Joan, Thanks for the kind words. My sisters and I are at peace about his death, but my Mom is struggling. We are trying to support her now. We had Dad cremated and plan to bury Mom and Dad at the same time when my mother passes. We are going to have a service at the facility my Mom is in because she cannot travel to a funeral. It will just be for the residents of Brandon Wilde where she lives. All the family will attend.

Here is what you can send out to the board. Do not want a big deal made out of this. Please do not send flowers or anything. Save the Academy's money!

Entered into rest Sunday, April 9, 2017, Mr. William (Bill) Fredrick Schleicher, Jr., 87, loving husband to Elizabeth (Liz) Mizrahi Schleicher. Bill and Liz were married 67 years.

Services are not scheduled yet, but will be private.

Hello!

Thank you for reaching out to your members of Congress (MOC) to support our 100th Anniversary celebration. As you know, these type of requests take follow-up to make sure action is taken. And most important it needs to come from constituents.

Below is a sample email to follow-up with them. Now that you have given them the facts, it is time to do some emotional based marketing. It will help build your personal relationship and trust with these MOC which is vital to the success of the Academy's advocacy efforts. Please feel free to tailor with your own examples. Highlight your colleagues work and your own contributions!

This is a very winnable request with no funding from Congress needed. Once you do that please reach out to your colleagues, friends, affiliate and DPG to respond to the action alert. We are at only 2.9% response for an issue that is non-controversial. This is an exciting year for us and this might also help our members get engaged in the celebration at all levels of membership.

MOC will be in their district offices for the next two weeks so it should be a great time to reach staff.

Many thanks!

Sample email

A few weeks ago, I requested your support of resolution S. Res. 75/H. Res.161 a bi-partisan resolution recognizing the 100th anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. I am following up to see what questions you might have and again ask for your support.

I am excited to be part of this wonderful celebration and a group that focuses on nutrition health on an individual and community level. Some of my colleagues and your constituents in our community are doing some impactful things to improve and maintain health that include-

- Providing nutrition counseling to over 40,000 families to help them understand how diet can help manage chronic disease.
- Leading farm to school programs in our communities to teach lifelong healthy eating habits.
- Helping employers reduce health care costs by providing engaging effective nutrition and wellness programs
- Working in retail stores to help grocers and consumers maximize shopping dollars.
- Developing a nutrition feeding plan for premature infant in the ICU.

My job which I love is XXX

I am proud to share that the Academy remains strongly connected to our origins: committed to helping solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges of the day through the transformational power of nutrition.

Please support the resolution in Congress and let me know if you would like to visit any of my colleagues to see them in action!

It is so unfortunate that he has taken this tone but he needs to be stopped. I had forgotten that he asked Missouri members to visit his website for the handout that should be shared w/the Academy.

Such a shame that you have to spend time with this.

Hi Jean,

I am wondering why the Dairy Council is sponsoring someone to present at affiliate meetings who blatantly and consistently attacks the Academy. He was on one agenda as the opening speaker which set a very negative tone. Staff are spending time which should be directed at meaningful activities to do damage control related to an individual who lacks data, references and credibility. His peers denied his "opinion" for inclusion in our NCM. We are hearing from top leadership (below is the most recent example) asking us to remove him from affiliate agendas. As you know affiliates are legal entities and although I will share the feedback with our affiliate manager, at this point we will forward the complaints to the Dairy Council for a response. I am aware that he is presenting at the West Virginia affiliate where Donna will be in attendance. Any help you can provide will be appreciated. As you can imagine, this does not help fundraising efforts. Thanks!

He was unbelievable. Actually called out the CEO, president and someone else. He asked people to write letters to complain. He is certainly an odd duck. Hear him a few years ago on portion control and he was good. This time on fats---citing studies with n's of 12, 13, 16. Not really showing references. Complaining about the US Dietary Guidelines—I guess he knows everything! Even a knock about women at the end!

Hi Donna-

We have your original flights cancelled on our end, but since it is within 24-48 hours, the system may not update in time to remove the notifications.

Don't check in or worry about the original flights as we will resolve those credits on the back end with the travel store.

Thanks for letting us know and safe travels!

Praying for you and your family!

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND[®]) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the April Standards Update is posted on the ACEND website www.eatrightpro.org/acend in the Public Notices and Announcements section.

The April Update features the draft criteria and guidelines for the future education model demonstration programs. ACEND requests that input on these draft criteria and guidelines be sent to acend@eatright.org.

The public comment period on the revised Future Education Model Accreditation Standards will end on April 28, 2017. Comments can be made at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/RevFEMComments>. ACEND values your input.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

Mary B. Gregoire, PhD, RD

You guys are the best. I would rather spend the evening with you all instead of in a hotel in Milwaukee by myself. Is there anyway I can be the first head shot in the morning? I have an 11 am flight to try and get home.

As stipulated in the estate, one third of the donation will be directed to the Foundation's scholarship program. Staff will explore some options and bring forward for our approval for directing the remaining dollars towards diabetes research and education that align with existing funds and our Second Century efforts. We appreciate Elsie remembering the Foundation in her estate plans.

Dear Nourish to Flourish participants:

Thank you very much for your attendance and participation at last week's school meals summit. From the numerous emails I have received it is clear to me that this was much more than just a one-time meeting, but will serve as a launching-point to scale-up excellence in the school meals experience that's vital to fueling every child's success. A small group has been busy mapping the path forward in order to keep the momentum going and this email is the first step in that process.

In this email you will find:

1. A link to a brief survey so you can provide feedback regarding the recently completed school meals summit ... Nourish to Flourish School Meals Summit Please complete the survey by Sunday, April 9
2. A thank you note from the Urban School Food Alliance and National Dairy Council leaders Eric Goldstein and Jean Ragalie-Carr
3. The Aspirational Statements from the 16 work-groups that were formed
4. A digital version of the incredible visuals from our graphic illustrator Ryan Robinson
5. A list of the summit participants and their contact info

Additionally, we have already begun assembling the building blocks for our work. You may have received (or will be receiving soon) an invitation to join a "slack" channel from Nourish to Flourish attendee (and CEO of Gourmet Gorilla) Jason Weedon. He has created an online tool for us to use collectively as we communicate information, compile and share documents and plan future activities. Please sign-up when you receive the invitation.

Finally, I will be emailing a "doodle poll" to the project team leaders this week in order to find a date and time for an introductory call to discuss and formulate a process for moving forward. We are trying to move as quickly as we can while being thoughtful in our planning. We very much appreciate your commitment, patience and suggestions moving forward.

Sincerely,

David

Hi, Donna:

We have created a widescreen version of the Academy Update PPT for your use if desired. Below is a link to download it:

<https://spaces.hightail.com/receive/St02D>

We have also sent it to Lucille and asked Joan to post it to the BOD portal as well.

This is the same presentation, with the slides re-formatted and with most bullet points and images made larger. Otherwise the presentation is unchanged from the regular-size screen version you already have, and the slides should look fine if combined with the Second Century slides, for example.

Please let us know if you need anything else. Thanks very much, talk to you soon!

Hello!

Thank you for reaching out to your members of Congress (MOC) to support our 100th Anniversary celebration. As you know, these type of requests take follow-up to make sure action is taken. And most important it needs to come from constituents.

Below is a sample email to follow-up with them. Now that you have given them the facts, it is time to do some emotional based marketing. It will help build your personal relationship and trust with these MOC which is vital to the success of the Academy's advocacy efforts. Please feel free to tailor with your own examples. Highlight your colleagues work and your own contributions!

This is a very winnable request with no funding from Congress needed. Once you do that please reach out to your colleagues, friends, affiliate and DPG to respond to the action alert. We are at only 2.9% response for an issue that is non-controversial. This is an exciting year for us and this might also help our members get engaged in the celebration at all levels of membership.

MOC will be in their district offices for the next two weeks so it should be a great time to reach staff.

Many thanks!

Sample email

A few weeks ago, I requested your support of resolution S. Res. 75/H. Res.161 a bi-partisan resolution recognizing the 100th anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. I am following up to see what questions you might have and again ask for your support.

I am excited to be part of this wonderful celebration and a group that focuses on nutrition health on an individual and community level. Some of my colleagues and your constituents in our community are doing some impactful things to improve and maintain health that include-

- Providing nutrition counseling to over 40,000 families to help them understand how diet can help manage chronic disease.
- Leading farm to school programs in our communities to teach lifelong healthy eating habits.
- Helping employers reduce health care costs by providing engaging effective nutrition and wellness programs
- Working in retail stores to help grocers and consumers maximize shopping dollars.
- Developing a nutrition feeding plan for premature infant in the ICU.

My job which I love is XXX

I am proud to share that the Academy remains strongly connected to our origins: committed to helping solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges of the day through the transformational power of nutrition.

Please support the resolution in Congress and let me know if you would like to visit any of my colleagues to see them in action!

I think the concern with Jim – from my perspective was twofold.

1. He stated that he was on the dyslipidemia guidelines committee for NCM and that when he submitted his information they decided they didn't want it. He implied that he was not given a reason and that they therefore were ignoring new evidence related to SFA's and – dairy. My experience with the SNCM is that when the content is reviewed by Academy staff and reviewers the content will come back with requests for evidence to support a section or requests for changes to be made. If you cannot provide the science or you refuse to make the changes, then the Academy has the right to ignore your content and go with the science or dismiss you from writing for that section. Very appropriate process. It sounded like this happened, he didn't agree, and the Academy dismissed him from the project. He should not be misleading members that the Academy isn't following current science, which was the impression he gave.

2. When he spoke about lipids and CVD he presented studies that do not reflect the body of evidence, they were cherry-picked. He is very clearly in the camp that believes SFA's are fine and PUFA's don't have the evidence. Again, this is not the current accepted body of evidence. To present both sides in a fair and balanced way and then discuss the difference – that would be appropriate – but to leave the impression that AHA, NLA and the Academy are wrong, and that he has the right evidence, is not what I would consider appropriate professional performance.

I suspect the key is what is speaking about since he does a wide variety of topics. The above might not even come up.

Pat,

Greatly appreciate your help on this. It sounds like the communication with CDR might not have been the best. The Missouri program chair said – they submitted 5 weeks ahead – I have no idea if that is an appropriate amount of time or not – and that they did not hear anything until the day before when they were told it was approved.

Mary and I wondered what type of training was still occurring so I am glad to hear that there is quite a bit. It was a very unfortunate experience for a meeting that was otherwise well-planned.

Dear Connie,

It is a shame that what should have been an educational and informative experience turned out this way!

I reached out to CDR this morning about the CPE approval for this weekend's event. The request was approved by CDR, although the criterion requiring a bio for all speakers was not met—the affiliate representative said the individual was a PhD, RD, and unfortunately an exception was made. Chris Reidy is meeting with staff tomorrow to underscore that if all CDR criteria are not met by the provider, then the program is denied. I expect that we will get nasty comments if hard-lined about PhD, RDs, where the assumption is made regarding professional competence.

The Missouri Affiliate has been contacted regarding its breach of policy of not allowing the promotion of products. CDR is now cautioned about this speaker and has noted it for future approval requests. I saw that comments were made on social media related to his lack of evidence and references.

Thank you for your offer to help the Missouri Affiliate in program planning. The Academy provides program planning resources to all DPG, MIG, and Affiliate leaders. Amy Biedendharn, Senior Manager of Affiliate Relations/MIG Relations, Lori Granich, Director of Lifelong Learning and Engagement and Mary Wolski, Director of Conference and Event Services, provided training webinars for leaders this year to help put information into practice.

Affiliate leaders are encouraged to use the Affiliate Manual. Essentially, it includes templates, how-tos, guidelines, toolkits, etc. Within that manual is a section from CDR on information about CPE approval processes and links to resources from CDR. Also included is an event planning section providing information about how to work with speakers. You can access the portal here. Please use your usual login username and password. Pat, Jennifer and Mary,

Thanks for your help on sorting this out. In addition to these comments by Jim another speaker was of very questionable nature. Mary may have already talked with you about Jeffrey Smith. He was speaking as an anti-GMO speaker but his information was anecdotal, not referenced and very onion focused. Mary and I were very concerned as to how this was approved for CE's given the lack of science-based content.

I told the Missouri planning committee that I would help them sort through how to reply to the comments they received, how to avoid future issues and how to explain the CE's – is this something to take to Chris Reidy? After these egregious issues he proceeded to hold up his book and say you can buy this from me out in the hall, so he self-promoted throughout and flagrantly tried to sell his book in a session.

Is it possible to have a system to caution other affiliates or DPG's from inviting this speaker?

In honor of Veterans Day, we wanted to share an article posted in the Food and Nutrition Stone Soup blog. It shows the reality of food insecurity among our active duty military and veterans and highlights how Academy members are on the front lines to improve nutrition assistance. We will continue to work with our Congressional champions to address this issue in the 115th Congress.

Tom, thanks for staying on top of the president's page deadlines. I was thinking since it this will be the July issue, and I always think of the 4th of July, we could do something on the role of Dietitians in National Security. I thought we could interview someone in the armed services serving overseas, someone working in School Nutrition helping keep our children stay fit so they could serve in the armed services (this has become a hot issue with the armed services and recruitment) and we could talk with a RDN working with returning vets and their recovery (evidently a lot of them are on feeding tubes).

Mary Pat and Jenn said they know some people working in these areas they could help with and also might have some information they could share for the narrative part.

How does this sound as a beginning and do you have any further ideas that could work with this theme?

Greatly appreciate your help on this. It sounds like the communication with CDR might not have been the best. The Missouri program chair said – they submitted 5 weeks ahead – I have no idea if that is an appropriate amount of time or not – and that they did not hear anything until the day before when they were told it was approved.

Mary and I wondered what type of training was still occurring so I am glad to hear that there is quite a bit. It was a very unfortunate experience for a meeting that was otherwise well-planned.

Dear Connie,

It is a shame that what should have been an educational and informative experience turned out this way!

I reached out to CDR this morning about the CPE approval for this weekend's event. The request was approved by CDR, although the criterion requiring a bio for all speakers was not met—the affiliate representative said the individual was a PhD, RD, and unfortunately an exception was made. Chris Reidy is meeting with staff tomorrow to underscore that if all CDR criteria are not met by the provider, then the program is denied. I expect that we will get nasty comments if hard-lined about PhD, RDs, where the assumption is made regarding professional competence.

The Missouri Affiliate has been contacted regarding its breach of policy of not allowing the promotion of products. CDR is now cautioned about this speaker and has noted it for future approval requests. I saw that comments were made on social media related to his lack of evidence and references.

Thank you for your offer to help the Missouri Affiliate in program planning. The Academy provides program planning resources to all DPG, MIG, and Affiliate leaders. Amy Biedendharn, Senior Manager of Affiliate Relations/MIG Relations, Lori Granich, Director of Lifelong Learning and Engagement and Mary Wolski, Director of Conference and Event Services, provided training webinars for leaders this year to help put information into practice.

Affiliate leaders are encouraged to use the Affiliate Manual. Essentially, it includes templates, how-tos, guidelines, toolkits, etc. Within that manual is a section from CDR on information about CPE approval processes and links to resources from CDR. Also included is an event planning section providing information about how to work with speakers. You can access the portal here. Please use your usual login username and password. The table of contents follows.

Pat, Jennifer and Mary,

Thanks for your help on sorting this out. In addition to these comments by Jim another speaker was of very questionable nature. Mary may have already talked with you about Jeffrey Smith. He was speaking as an anti-GMO speaker but his information was anecdotal, not referenced and very onion focused. Mary and I were very concerned as to how this was approved for CE's given the lack of science-based content.

I told the Missouri planning committee that I would help them sort through how to reply to the comments they received, how to avoid future issues and how to explain the CE's – is this something to take to Chris Reidy? After these egregious issues he proceeded to hold up his book and say you can buy this from me out in the hall, so he self-promoted throughout and flagrantly tried to sell his book in a session.

Is it possible to have a system to caution other affiliates or DPG's from inviting this speaker?

Here is a good snapshot of the issue. In case you get asked we did not take an official stance/position on the legislation.

But we did support the Senate Ag Work on this. Jacquelyn and Julian tried to at least make a reasonable effort on this. The bill passed and is law.

Tom, thanks for staying on top of the president's page deadlines. I was thinking since it this will be the July issue, and I always think of the 4th of July, we could do something on the role of Dietitians in National Security. I thought we could interview someone in the armed services serving overseas, someone working in School Nutrition helping keep our children stay fit so they could serve in the armed services (this has become a hot issue with the armed services and recruitment) and we could talk with a RDN working with returning vets and their recovery (evidently a lot of them are on feeding tubes).

Mary Pat and Jenn said they know some people working in these areas they could help with and also might have some information they could share for the narrative part.

How does this sound as a beginning and do you have any further ideas that could work with this theme?

Hi, Donna: In preparation for your July Journal President's Page, would you have time in the next few days to talk briefly about the topic you'd like to cover, and any members we can spotlight in the page? I won't be at the Nutrition News Forecast but will be available to talk by phone at any time that is good for you. Or if you would like to email your thoughts, of course that would be great, too. Hello MIDAN members,

Member Survey Deadline Extension

Help your leaders shape the future of your MIG Community!

The goals and member benefits offered by the Academy's Member Interest Communities (MIGs) are determined based on the needs and interest of you – our members. We want your feedback about how we are doing and how we can continue to improve.

Please take a few moments to submit your feedback via survey. Your responses will help to determine:

- What you value most
- How your MIG can help you be more successful in your career
- What resources you need
- How to improve diversity efforts within the Academy and the profession

Access the survey - <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/SNGPGW3>

The survey deadline has been extended to Friday, April 7. Your feedback is valued and appreciated!

Thanks,

Amy

ANDPAC Student Representative Position

Do you know a student who is interested in the link between nutrition policy and the profession? Encourage them to apply now for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC) Student Representative Position!

Student members of the Academy with strong leadership skills and an avid interest in advancing the Academy's public policy priorities and legislative agenda by strengthening relationships with members of Congress are encouraged to apply to be the ANDPAC Student Representative. The ANDPAC Student Representative serves a one-year term on the ANDPAC Board and also on the Academy's Student Advisory Committee (SAC). The ANDPAC Student Representative will fulfill responsibilities designated by the SAC and ANDPAC, as well as participate in all meetings and conference calls. Applications along with a letter of interest, resume and letter of recommendation from a faculty member are due by April 17, 2017; submit to ANDPAC@eatright.org.

Note: To be eligible, students must have at least six months remaining in an ACEND-accredited or approved program during the term of office: June 1, 2017 – May 31, 2018.*

Please use the following approved language below to share this information in your communications to encourage students to apply for the ANDPAC Student Representative Position.

ANDPAC Student Representative Position

Do you have an interest in the link between nutrition policy and the profession? Apply now for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC) Student Representative Position! The ANDPAC Student Representative serves a one-year term on the ANDPAC Board and also on the Academy's Student Advisory Committee (SAC). Please submit your application, letter of interest, resume and letter of recommendation from a faculty member to ANDPAC@eatright.org by April 17, 2017.

ANDPAC is Counting on YOU!

Hear all the chatter in DC these days? Health related legislation, and regulations, will impact public health and your livelihood as an RDN. Stay informed on the Academy legislative priorities and donate to ANDPAC; the only PAC that represents the Academy's food, nutrition and health professionals. Please share this video with members; and it would be most helpful if you would show it at your annual affiliate meetings, or district meetings. This video is the first in a series that the ANDPAC Board of Directors is distributing to generate an understanding, interest and engagement in the Academy's public policy efforts on Capitol Hill. Your voice and support is needed now more than ever.

Please share this "ANDPAC is Counting on You!" message with your affiliate, DPG and MIG membership.

Read this Special Note Carefully: The ANDPAC video is a solicitation for member donations. As a remind affiliates, DPGs and MIGs cannot post the video to twitter or link to it since it is a solicitation to Academy members. Second, it can only be posted to Facebook if the group is closed and available to members only.

Register Now for PPW

There has never been a better time to show the important role food and nutrition play in our nation's health: Attend the world's largest food and nutrition policy and advocacy summit, the Academy's Public Policy Workshop, June 25 to 26, in Washington, D.C. Exciting changes make this year's PPW the "go-to" event to sharpen your communication skills, advocate for the profession and develop new high-level personal and professional relationships.

Public Policy Workshop – PPC and PAL Updates

As of today, 48 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. As of today, 22 DPGs and 4 MIGs have submitted the name of the Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG PAL whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017.

Please contact me if questions.

Action Alert Update

We need your immediate assistance to increase member action alert participation for the Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. The action alerts for the Resolution Recognizing the Academy's 100th Anniversary and the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 will remain open. Here is what you can do:

1. Take the action alert and encourage all affiliate, DPG and MIG leaders and public policy team members to do the same.
2. Send an eblast message to your affiliate, DPG or MIG membership asking them to send letters to their Senators and Representatives and post the message to your electronic mailing list. The follow approved message should be used:

Dear Colleague,

We need your help to build more support in Congress for the congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial! The resolution was introduced on March 1, in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives.

Please ask your members of Congress to sign on and recognize the Academy and our profession. Each of the resolution's original sponsors is from Ohio, where our Academy was founded in 1917. The Senate sponsors are Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi.

Special Note for Ohio: Instead of asking these members of Congress to co-sponsor, please edit the action alert message to thanking them for their support!

Click here to take action. The Academy is counting on you to send a letter today!

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the action alerts are posted in the Public Policy Panel COI. The reports are located in the April 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 April subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the Public Policy Coordinator COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

Subject: RE: Query from Irish NUtrition and Dietetic Institute on American Dietetic Association Partnerships

As the Academy develops its strategic plan for the Second Century, partnerships and collaborations are central to advancing our new mission and vision.

New Vision

A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition

New Mission

Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition

The Academy's current collaborations with organizations through the alliance program and with industry through the sponsorship program help the Academy and its collaborators fulfill their specific missions in the following ways:

- Delivering messages to a wider consumer audience than the Academy and collaborators could reach using their own resources
- Providing educational tools and materials to Academy members and stakeholders that are useful in their professional work with the public
- Creating consumer nutrition education messages and communications programs to make them consistent with sound science.

In terms of criteria, from the Academy's perspective, the collaboration should allow for combining skills and assets while contributing social value. Due diligence, structured frameworks, disclosures, adherence to codes of ethics, conflicts of interest policies, and operating with transparency are needed as safeguards. While these accountability mechanisms seem obvious, both the challenge and success is in upfront strategic thinking, assessing fit, and planning to avoid unanticipated or unintended consequences. Accountability mechanisms assist nonprofits in ensuring both service delivery and alignment with social value missions needed to maintain integrity and public trust. Factors that should discourage collaboration include opposing missions and organizational cultures.

In its relations with corporate organizations, the Academy is mindful of the need to avoid a perception of conflict of interest and to act at all times in ways that will only enhance the credibility and professional recognition of the Academy and its members. Collaborations positively enhance partners' brands, recognition, and reputation, provided both partners maintain integrity.

Due diligence and disclosure are key components of the collaboration. The Academy's procedures and formal agreements with external organizations are designed to prevent any undue influence particularly where there is a possibility that self-interest might tend to conflict with sound science or Academy positions, policies and philosophies. Here is a link to the Academy Guidelines for Corporate Sponsors <http://www.eatrightpro.org/resource/about-us/advertising-and-sponsorship/about-sponsorship/academy-guidelines-for-corporate-relations-sponsors>, which provide examples of criteria when considering a suitable partner.

The Academy also adheres to the following principles in its relationships with sponsors:

<http://www.eatrightpro.org/resource/about-us/advertising-and-sponsorship/about-sponsorship/guiding-principles-of-the-academys-corporate-sponsorship-program>

The Academy's Scientific Integrity Principles ensure the high quality and objectivity of scientific activities conducted at or funded by the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and its Foundation http://www.andjrnl.org/article/S2212-2672\(15\)01081-3/fulltext01081-3/fulltext). Transparency helps the collaboration ensure that public-interests are met rather than self-interest.

I hope this helps. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Pat

Dear Professor Dwyer ,

My dietetic colleague, Dr Clare Corish has shared your contact details as she felt you may be in a position to share some information on the American Dietetic Association experience of partnership.

The Irish Nutrition and Dietetic Institute, the professional body for Irish Dietitians, is looking to develop a strategic engagement plan with an old estate house (Airfield Estate) which among many other things is an urban working farm, has a restaurant, recreational areas, promotes growing your own food, eating healthy food, education on animals, gardens etc. See www.airfield.ie.

I am a member of a team tasked with developing a specific engagement strategy and work plan for activities to partner with Airfield Estate.

This strategy is to work towards our goal of improving the health of the nation, while simultaneously enhancing the value and visibility of Dietitians in Ireland.

My reason for contacting you is to enquire whether or not the American Dietetic Association have ever engaged in any formal stakeholder strategy partnership with a similar organisation?

If so, for what purpose?

Who with?

What level of stakeholder engagement have you achieved?

What considerations did you make before considering them as a suitable partner?

How did you undertake the engagement process?

What are the benefits of the partnership to the American Dietetic Association, and what value does your association offer to the stakeholder?

I appreciate you taking the time to read this mail and any information you can supply will be greatly appreciated.

Many thanks

Subject: DM Outcome Studies

Hi Donna,

It was good to have you here at the ALDA meeting this past week. Always very energizing to hear you speak. You did a fantastic job showcasing the profession for our students as I received very positive feedback there.

I know folks have mentioned our DM outcome studies here in Alabama. The pilot will be out in the next JAND.

Diabetes Self-Management Education and Medical Nutrition Therapy improve Patient Outcomes: A Pilot Study Documenting the Efficacy of Registered Dietitian Nutritionist Interventions through Retrospective Chart Review

We are in the process of finalizing the manuscript for the multisite study and getting my graduate student out the door to a DI. While I think JAND would of course be interested in this again, I do feel we are preaching to the choir there and I would like to give some thought where it might gain higher visibility. This is retrospective chart review (a weakness) but definitely shows what happens when the rubber hits the road. We are also trying to include some cost savings information (through comparison with cost saving studies and extrapolation of some mathematical models).

I would love to chat to pick your brain on thoughts to increase visibility. I am on “the cause” and a mission here well beyond publication, but where to publish for maximum visibility is a question.

If you would have time for a conversation I can be reached for the most part today at 334-844-3271 or my cell at 320-291-1387.

ANDPAC Student Representative Position

Do you know a student who is interested in the link between nutrition policy and the profession? Encourage them to apply now for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC) Student Representative Position!

Student members of the Academy with strong leadership skills and an avid interest in advancing the Academy's public policy priorities and legislative agenda by strengthening relationships with members of Congress are encouraged to apply to be the ANDPAC Student Representative. The ANDPAC Student Representative serves a one-year term on the ANDPAC Board and also on the Academy's Student Advisory Committee (SAC). The ANDPAC Student Representative will fulfill responsibilities designated by the SAC and ANDPAC, as well as participate in all meetings and conference calls. Applications along with a letter of interest, resume and letter of recommendation from a faculty member are due by April 17, 2017; submit to ANDPAC@eatright.org.

Note: To be eligible, students must have at least six months remaining in an ACEND-accredited or approved program during the term of office: June 1, 2017 – May 31, 2018.*

Please use the following approved language below to share this information in your communications to encourage students to apply for the ANDPAC Student Representative Position.

ANDPAC Student Representative Position

Do you have an interest in the link between nutrition policy and the profession? Apply now for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC) Student Representative Position! The ANDPAC Student Representative serves a one-year term on the ANDPAC Board and also on the Academy's Student Advisory Committee (SAC). Please submit your application, letter of interest, resume and letter of recommendation from a faculty member to ANDPAC@eatright.org by April 17, 2017.

ANDPAC is Counting on YOU!

Hear all the chatter in DC these days? Health related legislation, and regulations, will impact public health and your livelihood as an RDN. Stay informed on the Academy legislative priorities and donate to ANDPAC; the only PAC that represents the Academy's food, nutrition and health professionals. Please share this video with members; and it would be most helpful if you would show it at your annual affiliate meetings, or district meetings. This video is the first in a series that the ANDPAC Board of Directors is distributing to generate an understanding, interest and engagement in the Academy's public policy efforts on Capitol Hill. Your voice and support is needed now more than ever.

Please share this "ANDPAC is Counting on You!" message with your affiliate, DPG and MIG membership.

Read this Special Note Carefully: The ANDPAC video is a solicitation for member donations. As a remind affiliates, DPGs and MIGs cannot post the video to twitter or link to it since it is a solicitation to Academy members. Public Policy Workshop – PPC and PAL Updates

As of today, 48 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. As of today, 22 DPGs and 4 MIGs have submitted the name of the Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG PAL whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017.

Please contact me if questions.

Action Alert Update

We need your immediate assistance to increase member action alert participation for the Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. The action alerts for the Resolution Recognizing the Academy's 100th Anniversary and the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 will remain open. Here is what you can do:

1. Take the action alert and encourage all affiliate, DPG and MIG leaders and public policy team members to do the same.
2. Send an eblast message to your affiliate, DPG or MIG membership asking them to send letters to their Senators and Representatives and post the message to your electronic mailing list. The follow approved message should be used:

Dear Colleague,

We need your help to build more support in Congress for the congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial! The resolution was introduced on March 1, in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives.

Please ask your members of Congress to sign on and recognize the Academy and our profession. Each of the resolution's original sponsors is from Ohio, where our Academy was founded in 1917. The Senate sponsors are Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi.

Special Note for Ohio: Instead of asking these members of Congress to co-sponsor, please edit the action alert message to thanking them for their support!

Click here to take action. The Academy is counting on you to send a letter today!

Your RDN friend,

Insert your name and title

Insert your affiliate or DPG name

Special Note: The Academy's action alert center has a new look. The browser is a very important component to the optimal functioning of the action center. Currently, the vendor indicates that the following browsers optimize the performance of the action center: Internet Explorer 9.0+, Firefox 5.0+, and Chrome 17.0+.

1. Please encourage all board members, committee members, colleagues and friends to complete the action alert. Thank you for activating your membership.

Here is a chart identifying the action alert statistics as of today:

Action Alert Title

Number of Members Participating

Percentage Participation

Number of Legislators Contacted

Number of Letters Sent

Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary

Treat and Reduced Obesity Act of 2017

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the action alerts are posted in the Public Policy Panel COI. The reports are located in the April 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 April subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the Public Policy Coordinator COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

April Public Policy Forum

Join the open forum to hear about the "Changing the Rules: Impacting Regulations through the Public Comment Process" The April Public Policy Forum will be held on Tuesday, April 18, 2017 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Register today for the April Public Policy Open Forum. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend (please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Attend the Academy's Third Advocacy Day on May 1, 2017

The Academy and invited partners will host its third quarterly advocacy day on Monday, May 1 in Washington, D.C. The event will focus on advocacy on nutrition and prevention in health care. The event will include Hill visits and an ANDPAC hosted reception focused on obesity. Prior to the event, a webinar (live and recorded), will be offered to prepare you to advocate for this important topic on the Hill.

Tentative Schedule:

9:30 to 10 a.m. Required pre-meeting Capitol Hill

10:30 a. m. – 12 p.m. Hill Visits

12 – 1 p.m. Lunch (on your own)

1 – 3:30 p.m. Hill Visits

3:30 – 5 p.m. Reception with Congressional Champions

The event is open to all Academy members and there is no charge to participate. Registration will close on April 17, please make your plans to attend now.

Subject: RE: Query from Irish NUtrition and Dietetic Institute on American Dietetic Association Partnerships

As the Academy develops its strategic plan for the Second Century, partnerships and collaborations are central to advancing our new mission and vision.

New Vision

A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition

New Mission

Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition

The Academy's current collaborations with organizations through the alliance program and with industry through the sponsorship program help the Academy and its collaborators fulfill their specific missions in the following ways:

- Delivering messages to a wider consumer audience than the Academy and collaborators could reach using their own resources
- Providing educational tools and materials to Academy members and stakeholders that are useful in their professional work with the public
- Creating consumer nutrition education messages and communications programs to make them consistent with sound science.

In terms of criteria, from the Academy's perspective, the collaboration should allow for combining skills and assets while contributing social value. Due diligence, structured frameworks, disclosures, adherence to codes of ethics, conflicts of interest policies, and operating with transparency are needed as safeguards. While these accountability mechanisms seem obvious, both the challenge and success is in upfront strategic thinking, assessing fit, and planning to avoid unanticipated or unintended consequences. Accountability mechanisms assist nonprofits in ensuring both service delivery and alignment with social value missions needed to maintain integrity and public trust. Factors that should discourage collaboration include opposing missions and organizational cultures.

In its relations with corporate organizations, the Academy is mindful of the need to avoid a perception of conflict of interest and to act at all times in ways that will only enhance the credibility and professional recognition of the Academy and its members. Collaborations positively enhance partners' brands, recognition, and reputation, provided both partners maintain integrity.

Due diligence and disclosure are key components of the collaboration. The Academy's procedures and formal agreements with external organizations are designed to prevent any undue influence particularly where there is a possibility that self-interest might tend to conflict with sound science or Academy positions, policies and philosophies. Here is a link to the Academy Guidelines for Corporate Sponsors <http://www.eatrightpro.org/resource/about-us/advertising-and-sponsorship/about-sponsorship/academy-guidelines-for-corporate-relations-sponsors>, which provide examples of criteria when considering a suitable partner.

The Academy also adheres to the following principles in its relationships with sponsors:

<http://www.eatrightpro.org/resource/about-us/advertising-and-sponsorship/about-sponsorship/guiding-principles-of-the-academys-corporate-sponsorship-program>

The Academy's Scientific Integrity Principles ensure the high quality and objectivity of scientific activities conducted at or funded by the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and its Foundation http://www.andjrnl.org/article/S2212-2672\(15\)01081-3/fulltext01081-3/fulltext). Transparency helps the collaboration ensure that public-interests are met rather than self-interest.

I hope this helps. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Pat

Dear Professor Dwyer ,

My dietetic colleague, Dr Clare Corish has shared your contact details as she felt you may be in a position to share some information on the American Dietetic Association experience of partnership.

The Irish Nutrition and Dietetic Institute, the professional body for Irish Dietitians, is looking to develop a strategic engagement plan with an old estate house (Airfield Estate) which among many other things is an urban working farm, has a restaurant, recreational areas, promotes growing your own food, eating healthy food, education on animals, gardens etc. See www.airfield.ie.

I am a member of a team tasked with developing a specific engagement strategy and work plan for activities to partner with Airfield Estate. This strategy is to work towards our goal of improving the health of the nation, while simultaneously enhancing the value and visibility of Dietitians in Ireland.

My reason for contacting you is to enquire whether or not the American Dietetic Association have ever engaged in any formal stakeholder strategy partnership with a similar organisation?

If so, for what purpose?

Who with?

What level of stakeholder engagement have you achieved?

What considerations did you make before considering them as a suitable partner?

How did you undertake the engagement process?

What are the benefits of the partnership to the American Dietetic Association, and what value does your association offer to the stakeholder?

I appreciate you taking the time to read this mail and any information you can supply will be greatly appreciated.

Many thanks

Good Morning!

We are looking forward to the BOD Webinar today and have two additional documents to include in the meeting materials.

First, we received a request to provide an update on the Therapeutic Diet Order Regulation change. A one-page summary of the progress is attached for your review. The information will also be discussed on today's call.

Second, comments that were submitted to the Federal Trade Commission by the International Association for Health Coaches that specifically address dietetic licensure are also attached. This document helps frame the rationale for the development of a stance related to MNT and Health Coaches.

Please let me know if you have any questions, we will make sure we address those in the presentation in addition to any that we get during the meeting itself.

Subject: Commissioner Gary Black on "School Feeding in Georgia"

Donna, '

Your Commissioner of Ag, Gary Black, gave an excellent keynote this morning in DC, featuring "Feed the Schools" and also "Georgia Grown". He was particularly passionate on Feed the Scholls with his 2020 vision to have 20% of healthy school food come from the local county.

I was able to ask him a query--and asked if he knew you, with key leaders Sonny Perdue and also Zippy Duval in DC from the Peach State and I mentioned that another leader, Donna Martin from GA, was now heading up the Academy.

My sense from his response was that your name didn't jump right out--I'll send a note to him with an introduction to you--well worth stopping by his office.

Gus

Georgia Agriculture Commissioner Gary Black speaks to the Local Foods Impact Conference at George Washington University today. (Jerry Hagstrom/The Hagstrom Report)

Georgia ag commissioner: Aggies should be 'booster club' for school nutrition

The agriculture community throughout the country should become boosters for school nutrition, Georgia Agriculture Commissioner Gary Black told the Local Foods Impact Conference at George Washington University today.

Noting that there are booster clubs for school bands and sports teams, Black asked “Who is the booster club for school nutrition? It is my personal quest for the agriculture community to rise up across the country and be the booster club for school nutrition.”

As Georgia agriculture secretary, Black has promoted a program called “Georgia Grown” that existed when he took office. It includes “Feed My School,” which encourages the use of foods grown in Georgia and even within the individual counties of the state.

But Black told the conference, which gathered local food production advocates from 34 states and 10 more online, not to limit their definition of local production to only small farmers.

Gary Black

“If we want to make a difference, don’t discriminate,” Black said, noting that he is proud when the label “Georgia Grown” is on bales of cotton that are exported, and is even encouraging utilities to put “Georgia Grown” on utility poles made from trees grown in his state.

The word “Georgia” is the feminine form of George, but its origins go back to a Greek word meaning farmer, he said. Black wants Georgia Grown to be the No. 1 state brand in America and also to be known all over the world.

Georgia Grown, he said, is designed like a commodity checkoff, and everyone from fruit and vegetable growers to cotton farmers to foresters “invest in a license” and get information on how create “brand impressions” for the term.

When he took office in 2011, Black said he could see that, with the development of local food and farmers markets, “there has never been a time people have been more excited about farms. I am sure that the local nature of this is not a fad, it is not going to come and go. This is a new paradigm.”

But in what appeared to be a reference to large-scale conventional farming, he added that people “get confused about farming. It is a big portfolio.”

In an interview afterward, Black said what people mean by “local” gets into “terminology.”

Even though his state is known for large-scale cotton, peanut and peach production, Black said that products grown by small farmers in hoop houses are just as popular in Georgia as they are in Massachusetts, which does not have large-scale conventional food production.

“Agriculture is a reality atmosphere that people are discovering,” Black said, explaining his view that people spend so much time on their smartphones they like to put them down and buy tomatoes from the farmers who produced them.

Conventional agriculture is the largest segment and has the advantage of being able to feed large numbers of people, he said, while organics, gluten-free and other smaller production are a part of the “portfolio” that his agency tries to make profitable.

Too often the niche markets are viewed as “a social issue,” he said, but noted his agency views them as an economic issue.

Black described federal agencies as “our partners,” and said the Georgia Agriculture Department has gotten $5.7 million in specialty block grants and value-added grants in the last few years to create jobs and expand processing facilities.

“Every time we make an investment in a local community, it is in a community that needs it,” Black said.

The Georgia Department of Agriculture can do three things, Black said: regulate business, put people out of business or help people pursue their dreams.

Black said he has to sign orders every week penalizing people who do not follow Georgia regulations but “our objective ought to be to help people stay in business rather than what people blame government for — putting people out of business.”

Black said he certifies organic growers and takes growers to New York each year to a James Beard conference to connect them with brokers in the Northeast.

But Black sounded the most proud of the Feed My School effort, which has included programs to try to serve as much locally food grown as possible for a week, and by the the start of the 2020 school year, will require that at least 20 percent of the required menu for student meals will comprise “Georgia Grown” products.

Black, who interned for Sen. Herman Talmadge. D-Ga., said he came into office just as former governor Sonny Perdue, a Republican, was leaving, and therefore he could not really speak to how the nominee for Agriculture secretary views the programs he has been implementing in the last few years.

But Black said he has known Perdue for years, is “very excited” about Perdue becoming secretary, and is sure he would be open to a message about healthy, locally produced school food.

Info Collection: Data Collection Materials for the Evaluation of the ACL's American Indian, Alaska Natives, and Native Hawaiian Programs (OAA Title VI)

The Evaluation of the Administration for Community Living's American Indian, Alaska Natives and Native Hawaiian Programs will allow ACL/AoA to document the value of the Title VI programs for individuals, families, communities and Tribes/Tribal Organizations. Such data could be particularly useful in the budget discussions underway in Congress. For reference, additional program details are here.

Please comment on:

- (1) Whether the proposed collection of information is necessary for the proper performance of ACL's functions, including whether the information will have practical utility;
- (2) the accuracy of ACL's estimate of the burden of the proposed collection of information, including the validity of the methodology and assumptions used;
- (3) ways to enhance the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected; and
- (4) ways to minimize the burden of the collection of information on respondents, including through the use of automated collection techniques when appropriate, and other forms of information technology.

Student Leadership Opportunity within PHCNPG!

Attention students! Are you interested in getting more involved and becoming a leader in public health and community nutrition? The Public Health/Community Nutrition Practice Group (PHCNPG) is excited to announce a leadership opportunity for students! The Student Committee Chair serves as a liaison between student members and the PHCNPG leadership, and serves as a non-voting member of the Executive Committee. Read more about the position and apply today!

Applications are now being accepted to serve for the 2017-2018 Academy Year (June 1-May 31). Download the application form here and submit it along with your résumé or CV to phcnpgmembers@gmail.com by April 30, 2017.

Be sure to check out the PHCNPG Student Members page for more information about the Student Committee as well as other opportunities and resources for students. Questions? Please email us at phcnpgstudents@gmail.com.

Our Mentorship Program Needs Students and Interns!

PHCNPG's Mentoring Program connects members who are nutrition professionals with students and interns with the aim to promote growth in specialty practice areas, general career and personal growth. We currently have more mentors (with experience in WIC, wellness program coordination & clinical dietetics, and conducting community nutrition programs & National Diabetes Prevention Programs) than mentees.

Read more about the mentoring program here (includes the form for signing up).

Thank you to everyone who has signed up for this program!

NEW Action Alert: Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

Dear Colleague, To honor National Nutrition Month 2017, a congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial was introduced on March 1, in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives. Help build more support in Congress for our resolution. Ask your members of Congress to sign on and recognize our Academy and our profession. The Academy's Centennial website contains a wealth of background information that may be helpful in gaining their support. Each of the resolution's original sponsors is from Ohio, where our Academy was founded in 1917. The Senate sponsors are Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi.

Special Note for Ohio: Instead of asking these members of Congress to co-sponsor, please edit the action alert message to thanking them for their support!

Click here to take action. It takes only a few minutes! The Academy is counting on you to send a letter today.

Dear Colleague, If you have not taken the action alert that opened on February 24 please take action today! It takes only a few minutes!

Please assist the Academy with continuing to urge Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 that will allow registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients. Medicare recipients deserve access to obesity counseling from Registered Dietitian Nutritionists who have the expertise and training to provide quality care.

It is urgent that members of the 115th Congress hear from you.

We Want to Hear Your Ideas!

Are you a public health dietitian with a great idea for a webinar? Are you or someone you know an expert in your field? The Public Health and Community Nutrition Dietetic Practice Group education committee is soliciting ideas for topics and speakers for 2017. If you have a great idea or know an expert that would be a great presenter, please email your suggestions to phcnpg@cableone.net.

Registration is Now Open: Public Policy Workshop 2017

Attend the world's largest food and nutrition policy and advocacy summit, the Academy's Public Policy Workshop, June 25 to 26 in Washington, D.C. Donna, '

Your Commissioner of Ag, Gary Black, gave an excellent keynote this morning in DC, featuring "Feed the Schools" and also "Georgia Grown". He was particularly passionate on Feed the Scholls with his 2020 vision to have 20% of healthy school food come from the local county.

I was able to ask him a query--and asked if he knew you, with key leaders Sonny Perdue and also Zippy Duval in DC from the Peach State and I mentioned that another leader, Donna Martin from GA, was now heading up the Academy.

My sense from his response was that your name didn't jump right out--I'll send a note to him with an introduction to you--well worth stopping by his office.

Georgia Agriculture Commissioner Gary Black speaks to the Local Foods Impact Conference at George Washington University today. (Jerry Hagstrom/The Hagstrom Report)

Georgia ag commissioner: Aggies should be 'booster club' for school nutrition

The agriculture community throughout the country should become boosters for school nutrition, Georgia Agriculture Commissioner Gary Black told the Local Foods Impact Conference at George Washington University today.

Noting that there are booster clubs for school bands and sports teams, Black asked "Who is the booster club for school nutrition? It is my personal quest for the agriculture community to rise up across the country and be the booster club for school nutrition."

As Georgia agriculture secretary, Black has promoted a program called "Georgia Grown" that existed when he took office. It includes "Feed My School," which encourages the use of foods grown in Georgia and even within the individual counties of the state.

But Black told the conference, which gathered local food production advocates from 34 states and 10 more online, not to limit their definition of local production to only small farmers.

Gary Black

"If we want to make a difference, don't discriminate," Black said, noting that he is proud when the label "Georgia Grown" is on bales of cotton that are exported, and is even encouraging utilities to put "Georgia Grown" on utility poles made from trees grown in his state.

The word "Georgia" is the feminine form of George, but its origins go back to a Greek word meaning farmer, he said. Black wants Georgia Grown to be the No. 1 state brand in America and also to be known all over the world.

Georgia Grown, he said, is designed like a commodity checkoff, and everyone from fruit and vegetable growers to cotton farmers to foresters "invest in a license" and get information on how to create "brand impressions" for the term.

But in what appeared to be a reference to large-scale conventional farming, he added that people "get confused about farming. It is a big portfolio."

In an interview afterward, Black said what people mean by "local" gets into "terminology."

Even though his state is known for large-scale cotton, peanut and peach production, Black said that products grown by small farmers in hoop houses are just as popular in Georgia as they are in Massachusetts, which does not have large-scale conventional food production.

Hi Donna and Lucille,

We are beginning to put together the teams for the advocacy day. I wanted to ask if you both feel comfortable leading a team? We may not need you to do so, but wanted to gauge your interest before we start assigning folks and making appointments. It is completely fine if you would prefer not to do this, we can make it work either way!

We are really grateful to have you both attending!

Hi Donna and Lucille,

We are beginning to put together the teams for the advocacy day. I wanted to ask if you both feel comfortable leading a team? We may not need you to do so, but wanted to gauge your interest before we start assigning folks and making appointments. It is completely fine if you would prefer not to do this, we can make it work either way!

We are really grateful to have you both attending!

April 2017 Chair Monthly Message

from Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation Chair
Jean Ragalie-Carr, RDN, LDN, FAND

How Our Next Generation Can Get Involved!

I recently had the opportunity to attend the Illinois Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Annual Meeting as a member and I was so proud of the great turn out we had, how active we are as members and how passionate we are about our profession. Many of my colleagues on the Academy and Foundation boards have also been attending their affiliate annual meetings and even sharing our Second Century and Foundation messages when given the opportunity. What has impressed us the most is the number of students, interns and young professionals that are attending, who are as equally passionate about our profession, excited about their future and looking for ways to forge a career and make a difference in their own unique way.

That is a big part of what our Second Century initiative is all about, how the next generation of registered dietitian nutritionists will make an impact and how will we, as an Academy, and individually, accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition. Our Academy Foundation has been helping this happen over the last fifty years, and looks forward to continuing to evolve through our Second Century, providing opportunities and resources for members, students, interns and young professionals to take charge of their career, get involved in their community and also give back by making a difference in their own unique and creative way.

- Our Foundation is the largest world-wide provider of dietetic scholarships and offer opportunities at all levels of education. Our scholarship application is open until April 17 and I encourage anyone who is eligible to apply or pass this message along to others who would be interested.
- Our Foundation's public education programs, Kids Eat Right and Future of Food, have so many free resources at your disposal to help deliver these programs in your communities and establish yourself as an expert in helping people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition. Our Everyday Heroes can show you how they have utilized these programs and resources in their communities to help get you started.
- If you are a student and would like to make a difference and impact in your chosen profession, consider holding a special event fund raiser on your campus like Keshia Okorie and get highlighted on the Foundation website, or young professionals can get creative and start a GoFundMe page on the Foundation's behalf and utilize your social media network to help spread the word about what you are passionate about and why.

Our Foundation works on behalf of all members, including students, interns and young professionals, get involved and utilize our resources, and don't forget generous donors make all of this possible! As our Affiliates convene through their annual meetings over the course of the next several months, I would like to thank all the volunteer state Fundraising Champions at the affiliate level who are holding special events during their meetings to benefit our Foundation. The IL

Affiliate held their annual gift basket drawing that raised close to $1,000 to benefit our Foundation. In fact, the PA volunteer Fundraising Champion, Jessica Bachman, PhD, MPH, MS, RD is a previous Foundation scholarship recipient and is compelled to give back by volunteering, just recently utilizing a creative t-shirt website to sell shirts and raise money on the Foundation's behalf , great job Jessica!

Let's all have a great Spring and get involved with our local affiliates, the energy, enthusiasm and passion you will experience at your local level will remind you why you chose this great profession of ours!

Warm Regards,

Jean Ragalie-Carr, RDN, LDN, FAND

Good Morning!

We are looking forward to the BOD Webinar today and have two additional documents to include in the meeting materials.

First, we received a request to provide an update on the Therapeutic Diet Order Regulation change. A one-page summary of the progress is attached for your review. The information will also be discussed on today's call.

Second, comments that were submitted to the Federal Trade Commission by the International Association for Health Coaches that specifically address dietetic licensure are also attached. This document helps frame the rationale for the development of a stance related to MNT and Health Coaches.

Please let me know if you have any questions, we will make sure we address those in the presentation in addition to any that we get during the meeting itself.

Best Regards,

Jeanne

Hello CADN Members,

Member Survey Deadline Extension

Help your leaders shape the future of your MIG Community!

The goals and member benefits offered by the Academy's Member Interest Communities (MIGs) are determined based on the needs and interest of you – our members. We want your feedback about how we are doing and how we can continue to improve.

Please take a few moments to submit your feedback via survey. Your responses will help to determine:

- What you value most
- How your MIG can help you be more successful in your career
- What resources you need
- How to improve diversity efforts within the Academy and the profession

Access the survey - <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/D2PW8JT>

The survey deadline has been extended to Friday, April 7. Your feedback is valued and appreciated!

Thank you,

I also agree with Donna's suggestion regarding activities/initiatives for Second Century.

Good afternoon,

As I mentioned in a previous email, the other letter I need for you to review is the one we send out to the individuals not appointed to committees. The attached document has been updated for basic changes for this year and is now ready for you to offer any edits you'd like to see made. If you would please review and share any suggested changes with me by April 15 that will give us plenty of time to get them ready to send out. I know it's a busy time for both of you so if you need more time please let me know.

The letters look fine to me, but also agree that we should remove the old mission.

I like your commitment to the Academy will help lead us into our Second Century OR your commitment to the Academy supports our goal of transforming the next century of dietetics practitioners and positioning the Academy as the food and nutrition leaders on a global scale (or alternatively in the world)

Good morning,

In preparation for sending out letters next month to everyone who will be serving on an Academy committee next program year, I've updated the letters used in the past. Attached are drafts of the 3 letters for your review:

1. Committee chair
2. Committee vice chair
3. Committee member

Based on the specific committee we will adjust the term of office, so don't worry about that part. What I'd like you to do is review and let me know if you'd like to make any changes to any of the letters. You'll see that they all currently reference our previous mission about empowering members to be leaders. I expect you'll want to change that part, although I'm not sure the new mission fits the purpose of the letter quite as well:

Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition

Here are some options for rewording that sentence for your consideration:

- a. Your commitment to the Academy will help lead us into our Second Century!
- b. Your commitment to the Academy will help us fulfill our new mission to accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition.
- c. Your commitment to the Academy will help us create world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition.
- d. Your commitment to the Academy supports our goal of transforming the next century of dietetics practitioners and positioning the Academy as the food and nutrition leaders on a global scale.

I look forward to receiving your feedback on the letters by April 7.

Thank you for the important work you are doing to create successful committees.

Donna, '

Your Commissioner of Ag, Gary Black, gave an excellent keynote this morning in DC, featuring "Feed the Schools" and also "Georgia Grown". He was particularly passionate on Feed the Scholls with his 2020 vision to have 20% of healthy school food come from the local county.

I was able to ask him a query--and asked if he knew you, with key leaders Sonny Perdue and also Zippy Duval in DC from the Peach State and I mentioned that another leader, Donna Martin from GA, was now heading up the Academy.

My sense from his response was that your name didn't jump right out--I'll send a note to him with an introduction to you--well worth stopping by his office.

Gus

Georgia Agriculture Commissioner Gary Black speaks to the Local Foods Impact Conference at George Washington University today. (Jerry Hagstrom/The Hagstrom Report)

Georgia ag commissioner: Aggies should be 'booster club' for school nutrition

The agriculture community throughout the country should become boosters for school nutrition, Georgia Agriculture Commissioner Gary Black told the Local Foods Impact Conference at George Washington University today.

Noting that there are booster clubs for school bands and sports teams, Black asked "Who is the booster club for school nutrition? It is my personal quest for the agriculture community to rise up across the country and be the booster club for school nutrition."

As Georgia agriculture secretary, Black has promoted a program called "Georgia Grown" that existed when he took office. It includes "Feed My School," which encourages the use of foods grown in Georgia and even within the individual counties of the state.

But Black told the conference, which gathered local food production advocates from 34 states and 10 more online, not to limit their definition of local production to only small farmers.

Gary Black

"If we want to make a difference, don't discriminate," Black said, noting that he is proud when the label "Georgia Grown" is on bales of cotton that are exported, and is even encouraging utilities to put "Georgia Grown" on utility poles made from trees grown in his state.

The word “Georgia” is the feminine form of George, but its origins go back to a Greek word meaning farmer, he said. Black wants Georgia Grown to be the No. 1 state brand in America and also to be known all over the world.

Georgia Grown, he said, is designed like a commodity checkoff, and everyone from fruit and vegetable growers to cotton farmers to foresters “invest in a license” and get information on how create “brand impressions” for the term.

When he took office in 2011, Black said he could see that, with the development of local food and farmers markets, “there has never been a time people have been more excited about farms. I am sure that the local nature of this is not a fad, it is not going to come and go. This is a new paradigm.”

But in what appeared to be a reference to large-scale conventional farming, he added that people “get confused about farming. It is a big portfolio.”

In an interview afterward, Black said what people mean by “local” gets into “terminology.”

Even though his state is known for large-scale cotton, peanut and peach production, Black said that products grown by small farmers in hoop houses are just as popular in Georgia as they are in Massachusetts, which does not have large-scale conventional food production.

“Agriculture is a reality atmosphere that people are discovering,” Black said, explaining his view that people spend so much time on their smartphones they like to put them down and buy tomatoes from the farmers who produced them.

Conventional agriculture is the largest segment and has the advantage of being able to feed large numbers of people, he said, while organics, gluten-free and other smaller production are a part of the “portfolio” that his agency tries to make profitable.

Too often the niche markets are viewed as “a social issue,” he said, but noted his agency views them as an economic issue.

Black described federal agencies as “our partners,” and said the Georgia Agriculture Department has gotten $5.7 million in specialty block grants and value-added grants in the last few years to create jobs and expand processing facilities.

“Every time we make an investment in a local community, it is in a community that needs it,” Black said.

The Georgia Department of Agriculture can do three things, Black said: regulate business, put people out of business or help people pursue their dreams.

Black said he has to sign orders every week penalizing people who do not follow Georgia regulations but “our objective ought to be to help people stay in business rather than what people blame government for — putting people out of business.”

Black said he certifies organic growers and takes growers to New York each year to a James Beard conference to connect them with brokers in the Northeast.

But Black sounded the most proud of the Feed My School effort, which has included programs to try to serve as much locally food grown as possible for a week, and by the the start of the 2020 school year, will require that at least 20 percent of the required menu for student meals will comprise “Georgia Grown” products.

Black, who interned for Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., said he came into office just as former governor Sonny Perdue, a Republican, was leaving, and therefore he could not really speak to how the nominee for Agriculture secretary views the programs he has been implementing in the last few years.

But Black said he has known Perdue for years, is “very excited” about Perdue becoming secretary, and is sure he would be open to a message about healthy, locally produced school food.

Pat,

Greatly appreciate your help on this. It sounds like the communication with CDR might not have been the best. The Missouri program chair said – they submitted 5 weeks ahead – I have no idea if that is an appropriate amount of time or not – and that they did not hear anything until the day before when they were told it was approved.

Mary and I wondered what type of training was still occurring so I am glad to hear that there is quite a bit. It was a very unfortunate experience for a meeting that was otherwise well-planned.

Thanks

Dear Connie,

It is a shame that what should have been an educational and informative experience turned out this way!

I reached out to CDR this morning about the CPE approval for this weekend's event. The request was approved by CDR, although the criterion requiring a bio for all speakers was not met—the affiliate representative said the individual was a PhD, RD, and unfortunately an exception was made. Chris Reidy is meeting with staff tomorrow to underscore that if all CDR criteria are not met by the provider, then the program is denied. I expect that we will get nasty comments if hard-lined about PhD, RDs, where the assumption is made regarding professional competence.

The Missouri Affiliate has been contacted regarding its breach of policy of not allowing the promotion of products. CDR is now cautioned about this speaker and has noted it for future approval requests. I saw that comments were made on social media related to his lack of evidence and references.

Thank you for your offer to help the Missouri Affiliate in program planning. The Academy provides program planning resources to all DPG, MIG, and Affiliate leaders. Amy Biedendharn, Senior Manager of Affiliate Relations/MIG Relations, Lori Granich, Director of Lifelong Learning and Engagement and Mary Wolski, Director of Conference and Event Services, provided training webinars for leaders this year to help put information into practice.

Affiliate leaders are encouraged to use the Affiliate Manual. Essentially, it includes templates, how-tos, guidelines, toolkits, etc. Within that manual is a section from CDR on information about CPE approval processes and links to resources from CDR. Also included is an event planning section providing information about how to work with speakers. You can access the portal here. Please use your usual login username and password. Pat, Jennifer and Mary,

Thanks for your help on sorting this out. In addition to these comments by Jim another speaker was of very questionable nature. Mary may have already talked with you about Jeffrey Smith. He was speaking as an anti-GMO speaker but his information was anecdotal, not referenced and very onion focused. Mary and I were very concerned as to how this was approved for CE's given the lack of science-based content.

I told the Missouri planning committee that I would help them sort through how to reply to the comments they received, how to avoid future issues and how to explain the CE's – is this something to take to Chris Reidy? After these egregious issues he proceeded to hold up his book and say you can buy this from me out in the hall, so he self-promoted throughout and flagrantly tried to sell his book in a session.

Is it possible to have a system to caution other affiliates or DPG's from inviting this speaker?

The letters look fine to me, but also agree that we should remove the old mission.

I like your commitment to the Academy will help lead us into our Second Century OR your commitment to the Academy supports our goal of transforming the next century of dietetics practitioners and positioning the Academy as the food and nutrition leaders on a global scale (or alternatively in the world)

Good morning,

In preparation for sending out letters next month to everyone who will be serving on an Academy committee next program year, I've updated the letters used in the past. Attached are drafts of the 3 letters for your review:

1. Committee chair
2. Committee vice chair
3. Committee member

Based on the specific committee we will adjust the term of office, so don't worry about that part. What I'd like you to do is review and let me know if you'd like to make any changes to any of the letters. You'll see that they all currently reference our previous mission about empowering members to be leaders. I expect you'll want to change that part, although I'm not sure the new mission fits the purpose of the letter quite as well:

Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition

Here are some options for rewording that sentence for your consideration:

- a. Your commitment to the Academy will help lead us into our Second Century!
- b. Your commitment to the Academy will help us fulfill our new mission to accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition.
- c. Your commitment to the Academy will help us create world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition.
- d. Your commitment to the Academy supports our goal of transforming the next century of dietetics practitioners and positioning the Academy as the food and nutrition leaders on a global scale.

I look forward to receiving your feedback on the letters by April 7.

Thank you for the important work you are doing to create successful committees.

Hi,

I have what I believe is the last piece of information you need regarding committee appointments. For the ISC, I have confirmed that we will move forward with increasing the size of the committee to include the past-chair as well as 1 new member. So Dianne can add to her list contacting the following individuals:

Donna Quirk

current Chair who will be asked to extend her term by 1 year to serve as past-chair on the committee

Phone: (803)791-2248 (office)

Email: dlquirk@lexhealth.org

Sue Kent

Sue was identified as your back-up person for this committee

Phone: (216)444-3644 (office)

Email: KENTS@ccf.org

Please let me know what else you need from me. We're entering the home stretch!

I second Donna's praise declaration to you Marsha. We are nearly finished, and as you said, earlier than usual!! I am only waiting back for the two new interoperability and standards committee acceptances and Margaret Garner's acceptance to the Quality Management committee. (If she for some odd reason declines, I have two back up suggestions for replacement.) Everyone else is on board! By the way, Moira accepted the Member services committee within 5 minutes of my email!

Hi,

I have what I believe is the last piece of information you need regarding committee appointments. For the ISC, I have confirmed that we will move forward with increasing the size of the committee to include the past-chair as well as 1 new member. So Dianne can add to her list contacting the following individuals:

Donna Quirk

current Chair who will be asked to extend her term by 1 year to serve as past-chair on the committee

Phone: (803)791-2248 (office)

Email: dlquirk@lexhealth.org

Sue Kent

Sue was identified as your back-up person for this committee

Phone: (216)444-3644 (office)

Email: KENTS@ccf.org

Please let me know what else you need from me. We're entering the home stretch!

Hi Mary,

All good questions and important concerns. The affiliates are independent legal entities but frankly often more aligned to Academy processes than DPGs. I'll ask Diane Enos to update me on Monday morning on what kind of resources we provide to the affiliates in planning meetings. I'll place this topic on the 4Ps agenda for Monday.

Safe travels home!

Jennifer called and we had an excellent discussion. Updated Connie.

Later in the program an anti GMO guy spoke-very associational talk often w/o references, and with lots of sensationalized animal data-- and at the end he touted his books and video/upcoming movie in blatant violation of the speaker agreement I signed which assume is the same for all speakers.

The organizers were apparently pressured to include this "anti" topic by someone on the MOAND planning committee (Connie knows her name) who was not even present. Apparently the committee tried to find a different anti GMO speaker w/o success.

There was a speaker in support of GMO later on the program who was in his session and was very upset.

Can someone please help me better understand the CE approval process for controversial, limited evidence sessions at state meetings?

And also to understand what should happen when a speaker may be violating his contract? (I do remember that affiliates don't have the same relationship as DPGs/MIGs with the Academy so maybe not an Academy concern?)

Not the organizer's "fault" when people present sketchy evidence but really leaves folks (and me) wondering.

Have a very good rest of the weekend-look forward to the call late Monday pm!

Hello Donna, Linda, Courtney, Karen and Sarah,

At FNCE 2016 in Boston, you agreed to be interviewed for our ANDPAC Video project. The first of a five-video series has been completed. Below you will find the link to our "Donate" video. Since you appear in this first video, we wanted to be sure you saw the final product.

The ANDPAC Communication Workgroup has developed a message that the Academy DC staff will include, with the video link, into this upcoming week's PPWNewsletter and EatRightWeekly.

This video was a joint project between ANDPAC BOD, the Academy DC office and the Academy Strategic Communications office.

<https://drive.google.com/file/d/0BwRo2x-vDxXpTzRUVmc3MjBOY2c/view>

Please help us deliver the importance of Public Policy, and of member ANDPAC donations by sharing this video with your Public Policy Coordinator. Ask that this first video be played at your affiliate annual meeting (if it hasn't already occurred) or district meetings. Suggest it be posted on affiliate websites.

Your voices speak loud and clear in this video - thank you so much for your help with the project! And stay tuned for more ANDPAC videos through-out the year.
Stand Up, Speak Up, Nutrition Matters!

Subject: Happy National Preceptor Month!!
Attachment:

Dear Program Directors,

Hooray! It's once again time to celebrate National Preceptor Month!

National Preceptor Month is an occasion to recognize and thank the practitioners who take the time and make the effort to create the next generation of professionals by teaching students in their workplace. In order to help recognize the importance of preceptors and to take part in the festivities of National Preceptor Month, we are asking everyone to show their appreciation for preceptors throughout the entire month!

We had some great stories and pictures of how some of you thanked your wonderful preceptors last year and we would love to continue the tradition and share more stories! We are asking program directors to send in pictures and/or stories of how you will be celebrating National Preceptor Month and we will post your stories on the Academy's Facebook page, on ACEND's Preceptor Website, in email blasts and even in Eat Right Weekly! We want to show off all you and your students are doing in April for your amazing preceptors! Send your stories and pictures to preceptor@eatright.org

Need some ideas for how you can thank your preceptors:

- Send a little note- just a few words to say 'thank you' goes a long way
- Thank your preceptor's boss for allowing her/him to be a preceptor
- Make a sign to hang on your preceptor's office door so everyone knows they are helping to create tomorrow's leaders
- Bring them a homemade present or healthy goodie
- Treat them to lunch or a coffee
- The best thank-you gift of all -- tell your preceptor that you're going to become one after you receive your RDN or DTR credential!

Make sure you present your preceptors with the 2017 Certificate of Appreciation which is posted in the ACEND Portal (<http://education.webauthor.com>) under Accreditation Forum, then click Library, then Other Information and Resources.

We are still actively recruiting preceptors in our Find-a-Preceptor Database! We have recruited many practitioners to be preceptors, but we always need more! Encourage those you know to register to be a preceptor! If you are in need of preceptors, make sure to use the database as a resource and check back often as there are new preceptors added often!

To learn more about the Find-a-Preceptor Database and National Preceptor Month visit www.eatright.org/preceptors

We are all very excited about the upcoming projects and events this year, so get involved today!

If you have any questions or for more information, please visit the Preceptor Page located at www.eatright.org/preceptors or contact preceptor@eatright.org

Hello, this is Rhys Saunders, the media relations manager for the Academy. I hope you've had a great week so far.

We have an exciting opportunity to participate in a media campaign about the benefits of breakfast for schoolchildren that will be featured in USA Today in late June. Mediaplanet, the company that is spearheading this project, has asked the Academy to write a 400-word article about the benefits of children eating breakfast and how not eating breakfast can affect academic performance. They're also looking for some tips on key components of a healthy breakfast.

Because of your expertise in this subject, would you be OK with having your name attached to the article as the author, representing the Academy? If so, we can draft the article and send it to you for review and approval. We would be glad to make any needed edits after you review it.

This is an upcoming meeting of CEOs and Presidents of the Academy, ASN, IFT, and IFIC where we will be discussing potential collaboration projects. It will be the second one for Lucille and I this year. If we go with a Wasted Food collaborative, a component should be working with industry on solutions and bigger impact.

Donna,

As the Founder of Gastro Girl, I'm pleased to share that we are the official patient education partner of the American College of Gastroenterology (ACG). It's on the basis of that partnership, and the roughly 26 million patients with digestive symptoms, conditions, and diseases represented by ACG's 13,500 gastroenterologists, that I wanted to reach out to you. We have identified a potential strategic partnership opportunity with A.N.D. that would have significant impact on your members' ability to gain access to new clients. To this point, I would like to schedule a discussion with you to provide you with more details. It would prove to be a powerful catalyst for RDs to maintain their membership in A.N.D.

Is there a specific day and time next week that works best for you for a brief initial call?

Thank you in advance.

Hi Donna

I wanted to get your thoughts on the following speaker as a possible option for Opening Session IF we don't get a commitment from Michelle. Tasha is incredibly profound with a strong command of the stage and her content is so applicable to some of the struggles we have been dealing with at the Academy/members and how to leverage expertise for the better good of the organization as we move into the second century.

She just presented at a meeting I am attending and she has to be one of the best speakers I have seen in years...and I am a pretty tough critic after all these years.

Let me know your thoughts.

Good morning,

In preparation for sending out letters next month to everyone who will be serving on an Academy committee next program year, I've updated the letters used in the past. Attached are drafts of the 3 letters for your review:

1. Committee chair
2. Committee vice chair
3. Committee member

Based on the specific committee we will adjust the term of office, so don't worry about that part. What I'd like you to do is review and let me know if you'd like to make any changes to any of the letters. You'll see that they all currently reference our previous mission about empowering members to be leaders. I expect you'll want to change that part, although I'm not sure the new mission fits the purpose of the letter quite as well:

Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition

Here are some options for rewording that sentence for your consideration:

- a. Your commitment to the Academy will help lead us into our Second Century!
- b. Your commitment to the Academy will help us fulfill our new mission to accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition.
- c. Your commitment to the Academy will help us create world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition.
- d. Your commitment to the Academy supports our goal of transforming the next century of dietetics practitioners and positioning the Academy as the food and nutrition leaders on a global scale.

I look forward to receiving your feedback on the letters by April 7.

Thank you for the important work you are doing to create successful committees.

Best,

Marsha

Marsha, My only suggestion for the letter would be in the last paragraph.

We say "More information will be shared with members on the Academy's Second Century in the coming months. Could we add something behind Century like activities or initiatives? It sounds awkward to just say Second Century. My thoughts, take it or leave it. Thanks for allowing us to review.

Good morning,

Of course we can make this change. I was looking at that sentence and thinking it needed some tweaking but had not come up with a recommendation. If Dianne agrees, I'm happy to make the change.

Marsha, My only suggestion for the letter would be in the last paragraph.

We say "More information will be shared with members on the Academy's Second Century in the coming months. Could we add something behind Century like activities or initiatives? It sounds awkward to just say Second Century. My thoughts, take it or leave it. Thanks for allowing us to review.

Good afternoon,

At Dianne's request, I went back to the committee staff partner for the Member Services Advisory Committee for input on the names tossed out by Dianne for consideration. Here is the input I received:

Based on the input that Jim provided as well as the member surveys, it looks as though Moira Faris most closely meets the criteria. She is a more experienced member, has practiced in many different areas of practice and would be an asset to MSAC.

Laura Gollins had previously worked with the Academy's membership committee at one time and Kathleen Benson is a newer professional. A number of the returning committee members are newer professionals and it would be good to have a member with more practical experience to help provide a balanced perspective.

Feel free to use this information as you wish in making your decision. If you need contact information for anyone, just let me know.

Thanks,

Paula Macris turned down our offer to serve on the Member Services Advisory Committee. She was elected to serve on the executive board of her DPG and does not want to over commit. All the other folks on that committee accepted. I did not have an alternate listed.

Other names that I scored highly included: Laura Gollins, Kathleen Benson and Barb Pyper (but staff wasn't overly supportive of Barb). I just noticed Moira Faris also applied for this committee and we ended up taking her off the diversity. What are your thoughts?

Paula's note:

Hi Dianne,

After much thought, I've decided to decline the appointment to the Member Services Advisory Committee. As I shared, I have been elected to serve as treasurer of the ON DPG and want to be sure I have adequate time to fully serve the practice group.

Thank you,

Paula

We will reach out to her. We were contacted recently to get our members involved in their telehealth network. They have a partnership with ACG and their 13,000 members, who will be using the Gastro Girl platform to refer patients to RDNs. They promote 30-minute counselling sessions with an RDN for $49.95. We are asking Marsha Schofield to setup a call with other individuals who know about the telehealth guidelines.

Jacqueline Gaulin is a certified health coach and was previously the Director of Communications and Digital Engagement for the American College of Gastroenterology. We have dialogue going with ACG already.

Donna,

As the Founder of Gastro Girl, I'm pleased to share that we are the official patient education partner of the American College of Gastroenterology (ACG). It's on the basis of that partnership, and the roughly 26 million patients with digestive symptoms, conditions, and diseases represented by ACG's 13,500 gastroenterologists, that I wanted to reach out to you. We have identified a potential strategic partnership opportunity with A.N.D. that would have significant impact on your members' ability to gain access to new clients. To this point, I would like to schedule a discussion with you to provide you with more details. It would prove to be a powerful catalyst for RDs to maintain their membership in A.N.D.

Is there a specific day and time next week that works best for you for a brief initial call?

Thank you in advance.

Subject: Per Our Partnership with the American College of Gastroenterology

Donna,

As the Founder of Gastro Girl, I'm pleased to share that we are the official patient education partner of the American College of Gastroenterology (ACG). It's on the basis of that partnership, and the roughly 26 million patients with digestive symptoms, conditions, and diseases represented by ACG's 13,500 gastroenterologists, that I wanted to reach out to you. We have identified a potential strategic partnership opportunity with A.N.D. that would have significant impact on your members' ability to gain access to new clients. To this point, I would like to schedule a discussion with you to provide you with more details. It would prove to be a powerful catalyst for RDs to maintain their membership in A.N.D.

Is there a specific day and time next week that works best for you for a brief initial call?

Thank you in advance.

Template Ltr Vice Chair Appts - 2017 - 032817.docx

Good morning,

In preparation for sending out letters next month to everyone who will be serving on an Academy committee next program year, I've updated the letters used in the past. Attached are drafts of the 3 letters for your review:

1. Committee chair
2. Committee vice chair
3. Committee member

Based on the specific committee we will adjust the term of office, so don't worry about that part. What I'd like you to do is review and let me know if you'd like to make any changes to any of the letters. You'll see that they all currently reference our previous mission about empowering members to be leaders. I expect you'll want to change that part, although I'm not sure the new mission fits the purpose of the letter quite as well:

Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition

Here are some options for rewording that sentence for your consideration:

- a. Your commitment to the Academy will help lead us into our Second Century!
- b. Your commitment to the Academy will help us fulfill our new mission to accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition.

c. Your commitment to the Academy will help us create world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition.

d. Your commitment to the Academy supports our goal of transforming the next century of dietetics practitioners and positioning the Academy as the food and nutrition leaders on a global scale.

I look forward to receiving your feedback on the letters by April 7.

Thank you for the important work you are doing to create successful committees.

Best,

Marsha

Think Outside the Meat and Potatoes Box With Lamb!

Plus, if you submit feedback + pics by April 7, you'll be entered to win an incredible Mauviel 7-piece copper & stainless steel cookware set valued at $1,275!

Lamb hits all the high notes of a nourishing meal: a delicious, good-for-you protein that conveniently offers exciting meal possibilities.

Gather your loved ones at the table for a nourishing, wholesome meal featuring flavorful lamb with these few cooking tips.

In a hurry?

- Choose lamb chops, de-boned leg of lamb, kabobs, or ground lamb cuts which can be grilled in minutes!
- Quick-cooking lamb loin and rib chops are also the perfect small portion of meat around 3 ounces of satisfying protein and rich flavor! A 3-ounce portion of lamb provides half your daily protein needs and 40% of the fat in lean lamb is heart healthy monounsaturated fat.

Enhance the flavor.

- Sauces and dips like tahini, tzatziki, chutneys, and pomegranate dressing make lamb even more enticing for first-timers.
- Aromatics are lambs' best friend. Onions, garlic, spices, and lemon juice enhance the natural sweet flavor in lamb.
- Marinades make lamb even more succulent and quick to cook.

Feeling intimidated? Dont!

- Lamb is easy to prepare and incredibly versatile it's just as simple as cooking beef, chicken, or pork.
- Choose high heat and short cooking times for kabobs, chops, leg steaks.
- Choose "slow and low" cooking methods (such as braising, stewing, or slow cooking) for roasts and shanks.

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

House Cancels Vote on ACA Replacement Bill

Speaker of the House Paul Ryan and President Trump pulled the American Health Care Act from consideration by the House on March 24, effectively killing the bill. Ryan said for the foreseeable future the Affordable Care Act will remain law and the House will move to other priorities. The Academy opposed the AHCA and joined in advocacy efforts with partners across the health spectrum to voice concerns with the bill's impact on prevention and access to nutrition services. The Academy will continue to work with both parties in Congress to enact evidence-based solutions to improve health care and ensure nutrition services are included in comprehensive care. Hi,

Well good for her but too bad for us. But I'm glad she gave it serious consideration and is being mindful of her overall commitments. As you think about potential alternates, please let me know if you want me to go back to the committee staff partner to run any of these names past them. It's not a required step, but can be done if desired.

Paula Macris turned down our offer to serve on the Member Services Advisory Committee. She was elected to serve on the executive board of her DPG and does not want to over commit. All the other folks on that committee accepted. I did not have an alternate listed.

Other names that I scored highly included: Laura Gollins, Kathleen Benson and Barb Pyper (but staff wasn't overly supportive of Barb). I just noticed Moira Faris also applied for this committee and we ended up taking her off the diversity. What are your thoughts?

Paula's note:

Hi Dianne,

After much thought, I've decided to decline the appointment to the Member Services Advisory Committee. As I shared, I have been elected to serve as treasurer of the ON DPG and want to be sure I have adequate time to fully serve the practice group.

Thank you,

Paula

Hi Donna and Lucille,

Hope you are having a great week. I am writing to ask if you would be willing to be the speakers for the first PPW webinar for all attendees on Wed. May 10 from 2 – 3 pm. The first webinar title is “What’s In it for Me? Making your impact on policy makers”. The intent of the session is to motivate the attendees and build the enthusiasm before they arrive in DC.

If this works, then we work with you on slides – pictures mostly.

Let me know if the date works and if you are willing to be the speakers.

Thank you for considering.

PENNSYLVANIA AFFILIATE HOLDS A FUNDRAISER FOR THE ACADEMY FOUNDATION AND JESSICA BACHMAN VOLUNTEERS TO GIVE BACK!

The Pennsylvania Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (PAND) and Jessica Bachman, PhD, MPH, MS, RD, the Academy Foundation's volunteer Fundraising Champion for PA, recently held a very creative T-Shirt Fundraiser through the online resource Ink to the People, a website that allows you to design your own t-shirts and sell them to raise funds that benefit a charity. Donors could choose one of four t-shirts with the PAND logo and the effort sold 55 t-shirts, raising $355.60 on behalf of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation. Donors who participated in the event are encouraged to wear their t-shirts at the PAND Annual Meeting & Exhibition from April 21st – 23rd for the group picture.

Bachman is an Assistant Professor at the University of Scranton in the Department of Exercise Science and was a previous Foundation Award Recipient, "I enjoy being a fundraising champion for the Foundation because receiving an award from the Foundation when I was a student was an empowering moment for me. It not only was very helpful financially but, it confirmed that I was following the right career path and it was encouraging that I was being recognized for my hard work and dedication to my studies. I want to ensure that as many students as possible can continue to have the same wonderful experience that I had thanks to the Foundation."

The Academy Foundation does not receive a portion of any member dues and relies on donations to thrive. Affiliate Fundraising Champions, like Jess, who have a passion for giving back to their chosen profession and an appreciation of the great work the Foundation does as the only charitable organization devoted exclusively to nutrition and dietetics are critical to our success. The Academy Foundation would like to thank Jess, and all PAND donors for participating!

FYI – we are also moving forward with the contract for Second City for all three keynotes to help bridge messaging with custom scenes, so Doris and I are already in discussions about how to really tie it all together for a grand impact with attendees.

I will defer to Doris (when she comes back from a well deserved vacation) as to how she would like to move forward with next steps.

There was not a dry eye as this young girl told her story. And how wonderful to realize it was school lunch that changed her life. Access to these meals led by our school nutrition leaders.

She also shared later that her dream is to finish high school, go to Notre Dame and study nutrition. And be a nutrition professional and change lives.

Donna –

While we've not had the pleasure of meeting, I know you've recently collaborated with my colleagues Share Our Strength on a few fronts – many thanks for the time, energy and talents you are sharing!

In my recent exchanges with Mary Pat, Jenn Folliard and Katie Brown your name came up as a great voice to join an upcoming episode of our founder, Billy Shore's new podcast: Add Passion Stir. It brings a variety of stakeholders to the table to share their perspectives on the central influence of food. There are so many directions I could see the conversation going given your background, but think the Second Century work and updated vision, mission and principles for the Academy are a particularly exciting frame for the conversation.

By way of this email, I'm introducing you to Share Our Strength co-founders and siblings, Billy and Debbie, who I know are eager for your reactions to this idea. If you agree with this thinking, ideally, your schedule will bring you to DC in the near future for an in-person recording, but remote recording is an option if not.

Please let us know your thoughts!

Sincerely,

Leigh Ann

Thanks, Lucille. For those of you who may not know John Courtney, he is the CEO of the American Society for Nutrition (ASN). This is an upcoming meeting of CEOs and Presidents of the Academy, ASN, IFT, and IFIC where we will be discussing potential collaboration projects. It will be the second one for Lucille and I this year. If we go with a Wasted Food collaborative, a component should be working with industry on solutions and bigger impact.

Dear Farida,

Thank you for the draft agendas and the opportunity for providing feedback. I would like to add under agenda (CEOs/Presidents) item 2 another alternative for collaboration. Our organizations could collectively align our educational efforts for reducing food loss and waste in the United States and to provide access to information on best practices for preventing, recovering and recycling food loss and waste. I am attaching one such resource, The State of America's Wasted Food & Opportunities to Make A Difference.

Best regards,

Dear All,

Thank you for approving the proposed structure for the meeting at ASN. Please find attached draft agenda for each meeting for your review/feedback/approval.

The first half of the meeting (12:30 -1:30 pm CST) will be devoted to the discussion on joint project and include Elected leadership, CEOs and staff of each organization, Eric Decker, Julie Jones, and Barbara Ivens. The second half of the meeting (1:30-2:30 pm CST) will include the above participants and current members of the Task Force, in addition to Eric, Julie, and Barbara.

Please provide feedback on the attached agendas by Friday, March 31st.

Best regards,

I love this idea!

FYI – we are also moving forward with the contract for Second City for all three keynotes to help bridge messaging with custom scenes, so Doris and I are already in discussions about how to really tie it all together for a grand impact with attendees.

I will defer to Doris (when she comes back from a well deserved vacation) as to how she would like to move forward with next steps.

There was not a dry eye as this young girl told her story. And how wonderful to realize it was school lunch that changed her life. Access to these meals led by our school nutrition leaders.

She also shared later that her dream is to finish high school, go to Notre Dame and study nutrition. And be a nutrition professional and change lives.

She is a eloquent and engaging speaker.

Dear Farida,

Thank you for the draft agendas and the opportunity for providing feedback. I would like to add under agenda (CEOs/Presidents) item 2 another alternative for collaboration. Our organizations could collectively align our educational efforts for reducing food loss and waste in the United States and to provide access to information on best practices for preventing, recovering and recycling food loss and waste. I am attaching one such resource, The State of America's Wasted Food & Opportunities to Make A Difference.

Dear All,

Thank you for approving the proposed structure for the meeting at ASN. Please find attached draft agenda for each meeting for your review/feedback/approval.

The first half of the meeting (12:30 -1:30 pm CST) will be devoted to the discussion on joint project and include Elected leadership, CEOs and staff of each organization, Eric Decker, Julie Jones, and Barbara Ivens. The second half of the meeting (1:30-2:30 pm CST) will include the above participants and current members of the Task Force, in addition to Eric, Julie, and Barbara.

Please provide feedback on the attached agendas by Friday, March 31st.

Best regards,

Farida

American Health Care Act

On March 24, Speaker of the House Paul Ryan and President Trump pulled the American Health Care Act (AHCA) from consideration by the House. Speaker Ryan stated that for the foreseeable future the Affordable Care Act will remain the law of the land, and the House will move to other priorities. The Academy will continue to work with Congress on evidence-based solutions to improve health care and ensure nutrition services are included in comprehensive care. The action alert was closed on March 24. Action alert reports were posted to the Public Policy Communities of Interest on Friday, March 24.

Pre-PPW Webinar Training Dates Set PPCs and PALs

Below you will find the dates for the three PPW Boot Camp webinars for Affiliate PPCs and DPG/MIG PALs. Specific registration information will be sent next week. Participants will receive 1 CPEU for each session. All webinars will be recorded. The PPCs and the PALs are required to participate in the boot camp sessions or view the recording.

Public Policy Workshop – PPC and PAL Updates

As of today, 47 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. As of today, 22 DPGs and 4 MIGs have submitted the name of the Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG PAL whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017.

Please contact me if questions.

Action Alert Update

We need your immediate assistance to increase member action alert participation for the Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. The action alerts for the Resolution Recognizing the Academy's 100th Anniversary and the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 will remain open. Here is what you can do:

1. Take the action alert and encourage all affiliate, DPG and MIG leaders and public policy team members to do the same.
2. Send an eblast message to your affiliate, DPG or MIG membership on Wednesday, March 15 asking them to send letters to their Senators and Representatives and post the message to your electronic mailing list. The follow approved message should be used:

Dear Colleague,

We need your help to build more support in Congress for the congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial! The resolution was introduced on March 1, in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives.

Please ask your members of Congress to sign on and recognize the Academy and our profession. Each of the resolution's original sponsors is from Ohio, where our Academy was founded in 1917. The Senate sponsors are Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi.

Special Note for Ohio: Instead of asking these members of Congress to co-sponsor, please edit the action alert message to thanking them for their support!

Click here to take action. The Academy is counting on you to send a letter today!

Your RDN friend,

Insert your name and title

Insert your affiliate or DPG name

Special Note: The Academy's action alert center has a new look. The browser is a very important component to the optimal functioning of the action center. Currently, the vendor indicates that the following browsers optimize the performance of the action center: Internet Explorer 9.0+, Firefox 5.0+, and Chrome 17.0+.

1. Please encourage all board members, committee members, colleagues and friends to complete the action alert. Thank you for activating your membership.

Here is a chart identifying the action alert statistics as of today:

Action Alert Title

Number of Members Participating

Percentage Participation

Number of Legislators Contacted

Number of Letters Sent

20,173

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the action alerts were posted in the Public Policy Panel COI last Friday. The reports are located in the March 2017

subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 March subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the Public Policy Coordinator COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

April Public Policy Forum

Join the open forum to hear about the "Changing the Rules: Impacting Regulations through the Public Comment Process" The April Public Policy Forum will be held on Tuesday, April 18, 2017 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Register today for the April Public Policy Open Forum. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend (please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

March Public Policy Forum Recording Available

The Public Policy Open Forum for March, "Success Stories for Increasing Member Engagement" was recorded. The recording is available in the library topic Public Policy Forums, subtopic 2017 public policy forums on the public policy communities of interest. If you were not available to listen to the live event, we recommend that all affiliate, DPG and MIG policy leaders listen to the recording.

Attend the Academy's Third Advocacy Day on May 1, 2017

The Academy and invited partners will host its third quarterly advocacy day on Monday, May 1 in Washington, D.C. The event will focus on advocacy on nutrition and prevention in health care. The event will include Hill visits and an ANDPAC hosted reception focused on obesity. Prior to the event, a webinar (live and recorded), will be offered to prepare you to advocate for this important topic on the Hill.

Tentative Schedule:

9:30 to 10 a.m. Required pre-meeting Capitol Hill

10:30 a. m. – 12 p.m. Hill Visits

12 – 1 p.m. Lunch (on your own)

Hello!

Sorry we have not connected but I know how busy schedules are!

I am in Chicago this week so hopefully next week might work.

I got in an email loop that included you on the dairy incentive idea. Just as a FYI, we have a member led Farm Bill work group that analyzes these types of issues and makes recommendations. This is similar to the discussion in the last Farm Bill on expanding the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program to include all forms. I will share their recommendations when complete.

Our lead issue is nutrition education funding that always seem to have looking to shift the funding.

We did host a great field trip for House Ag staff to see Snap-ed in action and the intersection with school meals. It was quite successful!

Looking forward to connecting! In the meantime, have a great week.

American Health Care Act

On March 24, Speaker of the House Paul Ryan and President Trump pulled the American Health Care Act (AHCA) from consideration by the House. Speaker Ryan stated that for the foreseeable future the Affordable Care Act will remain the law of the land, and the House will move to other priorities. The Academy will continue to work with Congress on evidence-based solutions to improve health care and ensure nutrition services are included in comprehensive care. The action alert was closed on March 24. Action alert reports were posted to the Public Policy Communities of Interest on Friday, March 24.

Public Policy Workshop – PPC and PAL Updates

As of today, 47 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. As of today, 22 DPGs and 4 MIGs have submitted the name of the Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG PAL whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017.

Please contact me if questions.

Action Alert Update

We need your immediate assistance to increase member action alert participation for the Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. The action alerts for the Resolution Recognizing the Academy's 100th Anniversary and the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 will remain open. Here is what you can do:

1. Take the action alert and encourage all affiliate, DPG and MIG leaders and public policy team members to do the same.
2. Send an eblast message to your affiliate, DPG or MIG membership on Wednesday, March 15 asking them to send letters to their Senators and Representatives and post the message to your electronic mailing list. The follow approved message should be used:

Dear Colleague,

We need your help to build more support in Congress for the congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial! The resolution was introduced on March 1, in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives.

Please ask your members of Congress to sign on and recognize the Academy and our profession. Each of the resolution's original sponsors is from Ohio, where our Academy was founded in 1917. The Senate sponsors are Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi.

Special Note for Ohio: Instead of asking these members of Congress to co-sponsor, please edit the action alert message to thanking them for their support!

Click here to take action. The Academy is counting on you to send a letter today!

Your RDN friend,

Insert your name and title

Insert your affiliate or DPG name

Special Note: The Academy's action alert center has a new look. The browser is a very important component to the optimal functioning of the action center. Currently, the vendor indicates that the following browsers optimize the performance of the action center: Internet Explorer 9.0+, Firefox 5.0+, and Chrome 17.0+.

1. Please encourage all board members, committee members, colleagues and friends to complete the action alert. Thank you for activating your membership.
- Here is a chart identifying the action alert statistics as of today:

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the action alerts were posted in the Public Policy Panel COI last Friday. The reports are located in the March 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 March subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the Public Policy Coordinator COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

April Public Policy Forum

Join the open forum to hear about the "Changing the Rules: Impacting Regulations through the Public Comment Process" The April Public Policy Forum will be held on Tuesday, April 18, 2017 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Register today for the April Public Policy Open Forum. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend (please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

March Public Policy Forum Recording Available

The Public Policy Open Forum for March, "Success Stories for Increasing Member Engagement" was recorded. The recording is available in the library topic Public Policy Forums, subtopic 2017 public policy forums on the public policy communities of interest. If you were not available to listen to the live event, we recommend that all affiliate, DPG and MIG policy leaders listen to the recording.

Attend the Academy's Third Advocacy Day on May 1, 2017

The Academy and invited partners will host its third quarterly advocacy day on Monday, May 1 in Washington, D.C. The event will focus on advocacy on nutrition and prevention in health care. The event will include Hill visits and an ANDPAC hosted reception focused on obesity. Prior to the event, a webinar (live and recorded), will be offered to prepare you to advocate for this important topic on the Hill.

Tentative Schedule:

9:30 to 10 a.m. Required pre-meeting Capitol Hill

10:30 a. m. – 12 p.m. Hill Visits

12 – 1 p.m. Lunch (on your own)

Our Mentorship Program Needs Students and Interns!

PHCNPG's Mentoring Program connects members who are nutrition professionals with students and interns with the aim to promote growth in specialty practice areas, general career and personal growth. We currently have more mentors (with experience in WIC, wellness program coordination & clinical dietetics, and conducting community nutrition programs & National Diabetes Prevention Programs) than mentees.

Read more about the mentoring program here (includes the form for signing up).

Thank you to everyone who has signed up for this program!

Dear Maternal and Child Health/Public Health Leader:

We are requesting your help in identifying emerging Maternal and Child Health (MCH)/public health nutritionists to participate in the Emerging Leaders in MCH Nutrition Training Institute. Do you know a nutritionist who is employed with a state or local public health agency or in a community-based program that you feel will be a future leader in the field of MCH/public health nutrition? To qualify for the program, the nutritionist must meet the following qualifications:

- Be identified as an emerging nutrition leader, which is defined as someone who has been employed as a community/public health nutritionist for not less than three and not more than ten years;

- A Registered Dietitian/ Registered Dietitian Nutritionist, or licensed/certified nutritionist/dietitian;
- Work in the area of MCH within a state or local public health agency or a community-based organization;
- Work in a state or territory east of the Rocky Mountains; and,
- Demonstrated leadership at work, within a professional organization or in the community.

Please encourage future nutrition leaders to apply for this year-long training program. The application packet and more Institute details are available online at <http://media.mchtraining.net/nutrition/emerging-leaders/>. If you have any questions, please contact Heidi Church at 773-459-3700 or heidird@gmail.com. Applications are due March 31, 2017.

NEW Action Alert: Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

Dear Colleague,

To honor National Nutrition Month 2017, a congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial was introduced on March 1, in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives.

Help build more support in Congress for our resolution. Ask your members of Congress to sign on and recognize our Academy and our profession. The Academy's Centennial website contains a wealth of background information that may be helpful in gaining their support.

Each of the resolution's original sponsors is from Ohio, where our Academy was founded in 1917. The Senate sponsors are Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi.

Special Note for Ohio: Instead of asking these members of Congress to co-sponsor, please edit the action alert message to thanking them for their support!

Click here to take action. It takes only a few minutes! The Academy is counting on you to send a letter today.

Open Action Alert for Treat and Reduce Obesity Act

Dear Colleague,

If you have not taken the action alert that opened on February 24 please take action today! It takes only a few minutes!

Please assist the Academy with continuing to urge Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 that will allow registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients. Medicare recipients deserve access to obesity counseling from Registered Dietitian Nutritionists who have the expertise and training to provide quality care.

It is urgent that members of the 115th Congress hear from you.

We Want to Hear Your Ideas!

Are you a public health dietitian with a great idea for a webinar? Are you or someone you know an expert in your field? The Public Health and Community Nutrition Dietetic Practice Group education committee is soliciting ideas for topics and speakers for 2017. If you have a great idea or know an expert that would be a great presenter, please email your suggestions to phcnpg@cableone.net.

Registration is Now Open: Public Policy Workshop 2017

Attend the world's largest food and nutrition policy and advocacy summit, the Academy's Public Policy Workshop, June 25 to 26 in Washington, D.C. Exciting changes make this year's PPW the "go-to" event to sharpen your communication skills, advocate for the profession and develop new high-level personal and professional relationships. Thanks for the update. What a wide range of experiences making phone calls! In terms of that person for the Committee for Lifelong Learning, let me know if we need to check contact information to make sure you have the correct phone number/email. Alison Steiber and I are playing phone tag about the Interoperability & Standards Committee but I hope to have an answer for you this week about whether or not to appoint the extra folks.

I have five still remaining to confirm. One has to get final permission from her supervisor and does not think it will be a problem. Another was elected as a DPG delegate and may not have time. I gave everyone until Thursday to get back with me.

One lady yelled at me for calling at 8:50 p.m. Thursday night. It was 7:50 my time and she was really nasty. I did not even say who I was or why I was calling; she hung up. I sent an email two days ago and tried to call again today. Someone answered "Hey, what.... I told her who I was and she said she did not live there. She gave me another phone number. Just saying..... We may need another person for Committee for lifelong learning.

Everyone has graciously accepted and were honored to have been asked.

Dear Academy members and Registered Dietitian Nutritionists,

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics is working with the Diabetes Care and Education (DCE) Dietetic Practice Group (DPG) to assess RDNs knowledge of diabetes and practice. We emailed you about this survey approximately 2 weeks ago. If you have already taken the survey, please ignore this email. Due to the anonymous nature of the survey, we cannot limit this message to those who have not yet completed the survey.

We are looking for RDNs in ALL practice areas and at ALL experience levels that counsel patients with diabetes. This anonymous survey will take approximately 15-20 minutes to complete and will ask questions about your knowledge of RDN scope of practice in diabetes, medical nutrition therapy and its application to diabetes practice, and identification of professional development needs for the RDN. Your responses will help to inform the development of a certificate of training program in diabetes.

The survey will be open until April 3, 2017, and we would appreciate your responses. This survey can be completed in multiple sittings but you must return using the same computer. Complete the survey at: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/DCE2017CoT>

At the conclusion of this survey, you will have the opportunity to enter into a drawing for one of four $100 American Express gift cards.

Please direct any questions to dpbrn@eatright.org.

Thank you for your participation.

Donna –

While we've not had the pleasure of meeting, I know you've recently collaborated with my colleagues Share Our Strength on a few fronts – many thanks for the time, energy and talents you are sharing!

In my recent exchanges with Mary Pat, Jenn Folliard and Katie Brown your name came up as a great voice to join an upcoming episode of our founder, Billy Shore's new podcast: Add Passion Stir. It brings a variety of stakeholders to the table to share their perspectives on the central influence of food. There are so many directions I could see the conversation going given your background, but think the Second Century work and updated vision, mission and principles for the Academy are a particularly exciting frame for the conversation.

By way of this email, I'm introducing you to Share Our Strength co-founders and siblings, Billy and Debbie, who I know are eager for your reactions to this idea. If you agree with this thinking, ideally, your schedule will bring you to DC in the near future for an in-person recording, but remote recording is an option if not.

Please let us know your thoughts!

Sincerely,

Leigh Ann

All,

Due to the demands on everyone's schedules this week, the Finance and Audit Committee call we have scheduled for this afternoon has been cancelled. I apologize for any inconvenience this may cause you.

If you have any questions about the financial information that has been provided, either via email or on the portal, please let me know. I will be happy to answer any and all questions.

Finally, our next meeting is the FY18 budget meeting. It is critical that you attend. It is from 8:00-11:30 CDT on Tuesday, April 25th and Wednesday, April 26th. Linda will send out an email invitation to ensure it gets put onto your calendars.

Have a great day.

Subject: RE: Finance and Audit Committee call on Tuesday, March 28th, 2017 at 1 p.m. CDT

All,

We have our monthly Finance and Audit Committee call next week on Tuesday, March 28th at 1 p.m. CDT. If you can't attend and have not yet informed us, please do so as soon as possible. Also, you should have received the webinar invitation from the Academy IT department as well as notification from Maria that the documents have been loaded onto the portal. If you are missing either, please check your spam folder and/or let me know and we will get the information to you. The only thing the portal is currently missing is the January final overview provided by Christian. This should be done by tomorrow.

The call on Tuesday will focus on the January final results and the February preliminary results. We did not have any changes to the preliminary January results.

The Academy's February preliminary financial results look good on the very bottom line; Net income (after investments). Unfortunately, that is due to the investments returns. Investment returns were $379,178 in February. This is $275,011 higher than the budget. For the year, investments have returned $1,200,725. This is $263,222 higher than the budget. At this moment, it doesn't look like March will continue our winning streak. However, we have another week.

I will not go into any further detail on February. I am attaching the summary for the Academy for you to review. It should help with “high level” explanations for the variances of each financial line item. If you have any questions, don't hesitate to send me an email and I will get you an answer.

Have a great day.

Paul

I do not feel that we should exhibit for a few different reasons:

1. The alliance is not providing equal ROI. We provide a solid investment and they provide little to nothing for a return. I was there last year and it wasn't nearly at the level or standard I would want the Academy to continue unless the overhead was low (local with minimal travel, etc). I was able to get GES to waive shipment costs back to HQ from the meeting last year because the GES rep knew my name from FNCE. Basically, I called in a favor.
2. ANFP is trying to go around the Academy HQ-level and work directly with DHCC DPG to commit to a 40K investment of a collaborative meeting in Dallas in FY18. It is a HUGE risk to the DPG and I haven't let it go through on their POW yet as I am awaiting further clarification from ANFP meeting services to verify budget numbers. The ROI is to ANFP to drive attendance and very low to DHCC. It is a personal, pet project of the Chair Elect and many other DHCC leaders are not in agreement since it doesn't benefit their larger membership.

Happy to explain more if needed.

I am conflicted about this request since ANFP has not consistently been exhibiting at FNCE and considering the transportation cost to send the exhibit this year to Vegas. Last year was an anomaly because you both brought a lot of the material yourself, however in years prior the cost was around $1500 with no tangible ROI expect collegiality. What are your thoughts?

Hi Karen,

I am a long-standing constituent of Rep. Eshoo, living in Menlo Park. I also am an active public policy leader in my professional organization – the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (formerly known as the American Dietetic Association).

As Rep Eshoo's constituent and a member leader for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (Academy), I am asking for her support in celebrating the Academy's Centennial. Please co-sponsor H. Res. 161, a bi-partisan resolution recognizing the 100th anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

Our Academy (then known as the American Dietetic Association) was founded in Cleveland, Ohio in 1917, by a visionary group of members, dedicated to helping the government improve the public's health and nutrition during World War I. One hundred years later, I am proud to share that the Academy remains strongly connected to our origins: a commitment to helping solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges of the day through the transformational power of nutrition.

Because of our Ohio birthplace, Congress members Patrick Tiberi and Marci Fudge have introduced the resolution as the lead sponsors. The easiest way to be a co-sponsor to H. Res. 161 is to contact-

- ? Felix Muniz at felix.muniz@mail.house.gov, staff member for Representative Fudge, or
- ? Abigail Finn at Abigail.finn@mail.house.gov, staff member for Representative Tiberi

I really hope that Rep. Eshoo will sign on to this bi-partisan important House Resolution.

Thank you for your support. I welcome your questions!

Sincerely,

Lorri

Attached are the agenda and attachments for the Board Webinar scheduled for Tuesday, April 4 at 12:00pm ET/ 11:00am CT/ 10:00am MT/ 9:00am PT.

In response to your evaluations we realize time constraints may not allow for discussion of additional items not on the agenda. Lucille has allotted time at the end of the April 4 webinar for open discussion. Please submit topics for consideration by March 31 to Dante Turner dturner@eatright.org. We plan to have open dialogue on four-five topics submitted.

As a confirmed participant, the following information should be used to connect to both the Audio and Web components of the meeting.

Step 1: Connect to Web

- Join WebEx meeting (or online at <https://eatright.webex.com/eatright/j.php?MTID=m1a67c7e2ce540e0d7f89b8e3c9ff7519>)
- Enter your Name and Email when prompted; Click Join
- Enter meeting password BOD17April when prompted

Step 2: Connect to Audio

- The phone bridge connection will come up on your computer screen once logged into the web portion of the event. Please follow the three steps show on your screen to (1) dial in, (2) enter conference code, and (3) once connected, enter your unique attendee ID from your audio connection box in WebEx to sync your phone and computer
- If you do not show this pop up screen on your computer, alternative phone bridge information follows:

Phone: 866-477-4564

Conference Code: 47 06 63 11 73#

To add this meeting to your calendar program (for example Microsoft Outlook), please click the following:

Add to Calendar

When it's time, join the meeting.

To check whether you have the appropriate players installed for UCF (Universal Communications Format) rich media files, go to <https://eatright.webex.com/eatright/systemdiagnosis.php>.

Alternative Connection Option:

1. Go to <https://eatright.webex.com/eatright> Under Meeting Center tab (upper left), browse meetings to find the Board of Directors Webinar meeting listed.
2. Select Join on the far right
3. It will have you enter your name, email and the event password. This password is case sensitive so you would enter BOD17April

4. Follow the prompts to connect to the Audio on the screen (or via Step 2 above) and it will pull you into the event.

NEW! - Mobile Device Users:

You are welcome to connect via the free iTunes App Store or Google Play Store Cisco WebEx App. Be sure to download and install the free app. To connect, simply open the app and join the event via Meeting Number by entering the following:

- Meeting Number: 746 078 912
- Meeting Password: BOD17April

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,
Joan

I agree that the concept is a good one. As a working President elect I think she would welcome this change. The only down side I see for this year is the June meeting of the Foundation where its strategic plan will be developed. Not all President elects have been Treasurers so keeping a Foundation position open and filling it each year based on need and expertise may make sense. Mary would be on LPPC, Committee for Lifelong Learning, Executive Committee, and Compensation Committee. There may be other opportunities to serve as we develop workgroups and task forces throughout the year.

Pat, Based on the bylaws we probably will have to let Mary do both the FAC and Foundation. It just seemed like it might have been helpful for her to not have to do those two committee since she has been on both. The good news is that if she has to miss a call due to scheduling it won't be as big a deal since she has been on the committee, unless they then don't have a quorum!

Paul, I attended and talked at the meeting last week. They did do a wine pull to raise money and I think it was very successful. I had already gotten the information from Beth on scholarship winners and money that was sent back to the state. I always ask people that received scholarships or awards to stand up.

Subject: Your Affiliate Annual Meeting

Hi Donna,

I am sending this email out today to all Foundation Board Members, I know you are set with the Affiliate information and your meeting presentations, please let me know if I have missed anything and thanks for all your help!

Dear Donna,

Will you be attending your Affiliate Annual Meeting this year? If so, I wanted to provide you with the contact information for the GA Affiliate volunteer State Fundraising Champion (below) so you can reach out to her and encourage them to fund raise for the Foundation and participate in the Affiliate Second Century Challenge. A number of Affiliates hold a fund raiser or have a booth with Foundation information at their annual meeting, reaching out them is another touchpoint and opportunity to connect.

You can remind them of the Affiliate Challenge we introduced at FNCE last year.

THE ACADEMY FOUNDATION AFFILIATE SECOND CENTURY CHALLENGE

1. Provide a gift to the Second Century from your budget/reserves. It's an important time and deserves your thoughtful consideration.
2. Organize a committee that includes membership of all ages and hold an event to raise money for the Second Century.
3. Encourage your members, through your communications, to give to the Second Century while remembering to contribute to the annual fund when renewing their dues through the online process.

Below you will see the impact our Foundation has had in the state from 2012 to 2106. Please feel free to share this information with the State Fundraising Champion and if you would like I can put together a Foundation Update PPT if you have the opportunity to present at any point during the meeting. I have also attached a one-page Foundation and Second Century Fund Messages for you to use as background information.

I look forward to helping you in any way to encourage your Affiliate to fund raise for the Foundation, please pass along any feedback you might receive from these individuals, including any request for hand-outs and contribution forms and we can get them right out to them. Don't forget to show your Second Century pride and wear your lapel pin while attending the meeting. Thanks for your help!

Dear NDTR Program Director or Educator,

As a NDTR Program Director or Educator, we are sure that you are aware of the importance of promoting our credentials and profession in the nutrition and dietetic field. That being the case, we would like to invite you to encourage your students to join the Dietetic Technicians in Practice DPG through the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

With that membership they will get access to quarterly newsletters highlighting recent news and activities in the NDTR community, continuing education options, opportunities to network with other NDTRs already working in the field, as well as access to the DTP DPG website, allowing them an insider look at archived newsletters as well as communications and policies that relate to the NDTR practice. As a Student they are eligible to join the DTP DPG at the significantly reduced rate of only $10.

Be sure to share this great opportunity with your students and invite them to visit us at www.dtpdpg.org for more information or to join today at www.eatright.org. We also invite any questions to be directed to us via email at dtpdpg@yahoo.com.

Thank you for your time and continued support of the DTP DPG and for all that you do to promote the NDTR profession!

Sincerely,

Christine Gosch, DTR

Hello, this is Rhys Saunders, the media relations manager for the Academy. I hope you've had a great week so far.

We have an exciting opportunity to participate in a media campaign about the benefits of breakfast for schoolchildren that will be featured in USA Today in late June. Mediaplanet, the company that is spearheading this project, has asked the Academy to write a 400-word article about the benefits of children eating breakfast and how not eating breakfast can affect academic performance. They're also looking for some tips on key components of a healthy breakfast.

Because of your expertise in this subject, would you be OK with having your name attached to the article as the author, representing the Academy? If so, we can draft the article and send it to you for review and approval. We would be glad to make any needed edits after you review it.

Please let us know if you would like us to proceed with this opportunity. Thank you very much.

Paul, if you find you really need me for a quorum I can talk to Jean to see if I can bow out of the meeting to be on the call. I am assuming Jean will be at this meeting since it is sponsored by the dairy council and there are 200 people attending. She may not have noticed about the FAC call conflict yet.

Paul and Margaret, I know you all will not believe me, but I will be in Chicago at the Nourish to Flourish meeting with Jean Ragalie Carr, Mary Pat Raimondi and I am sure several other Academy members for a three day meeting starting Tuesday. Therefore, I will not be able to be on the call. This is getting to be a bad habit! The good news is that the Dairy Council is paying for me to attend, so this is not on the Academy's dime. All,

We have our monthly Finance and Audit Committee call next week on Tuesday, March 28th at 1 p.m. CDT. If you can't attend and have not yet informed us, please do so as soon as possible. Also, you should have received the webinar invitation from the Academy IT department as well as notification from Maria that the documents have been loaded onto the portal. If you are missing either, please check your spam folder and/or let me know and we will get the information to you. The only thing the portal is currently missing is the January final overview provided by Christian. This should be done by tomorrow.

The call on Tuesday will focus on the January final results and the February preliminary results. We did not have any changes to the preliminary January results.

The Academy's February preliminary financial results look good on the very bottom line; Net income (after investments). Unfortunately, that is due to the investments returns. Investment returns were $379,178 in February. This is $275,011 higher than the budget. For the year, investments have returned $1,200,725. This is $263,222 higher than the budget. At this moment, it doesn't look like March will continue our winning streak. However, we have another week.

I will not go into any further detail on February. I am attaching the summary for the Academy for you to review. It should help with "high level" explanations for the variances of each financial line item. If you have any questions, don't hesitate to send me an email and I will get you an answer.

Have a great day.

Paul

FITNESS MATTERS!

Spring signals the return of warmer weather and longer days. Its also the best time to plan fitness events such as walks, 5K races and bike-a-thons and other programs to celebrate National Nutrition Month®. Here are some additional ideas:

- Organize a sports nutrition education session after school or during gym class.
- Conduct a series of healthy weight and fitness sessions at your workplace. Recruit a local fitness or yoga instructor to assist you. Give each participant a National Nutrition Month® t-shirt, pedometer or water bottle plus healthy eating handouts.
- Ask a local health club if you could host a Put Your Best Fork Forward event at their facility. This event could be promoted along with a free pass to the gym for a day.

This is a reminder to make your flight arrangements for the May Board meeting which convenes on Friday, May 19 at 12:00 pm and adjourns on Saturday, May 20 at 1:00 pm. Please try to make your reservations for arrival as early as possible on Thursday, May 18 so you can attend the Ohio Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (OAND) conference. Lucille and Donna will be representing the Board at the OAND Opening Keynote Address scheduled for 8:00-9:30 am on Thursday. Please be sure to attend the Foundation's Second Century Reception which takes place on Thursday at 5:30 pm. Again, the Board meeting convenes at noon on Friday so you have the option to attend the OAND meeting on Thursday.

The OAND meeting, Second Century reception and Academy Board meeting will be held at the Hilton Cleveland Downtown hotel. The Cleveland Hopkins International Airport (CLE) is about 12 miles from the hotel, approx. 15 minute by taxi. We will register Board members for the OAND meeting.

To book your travel through the Academy's travel service please click on www.atcmeetings.com/Academy and login using your email address and the password you created when you activated your account. Paul and Margaret, I know you all will not believe me, but I will be in Chicago at the Nourish to Flourish meeting with Jean Ragalie Carr, Mary Pat Raimondi and I am sure several other Academy members for a three day meeting starting Tuesday. Therefore, I will not be able to be on the call. This is getting to be a bad habit! The good news is that the Dairy Council is paying for me to attend, so this is not on the Academy's dime. I will miss you all, feel free to talk about me!

All,

We have our monthly Finance and Audit Committee call next week on Tuesday, March 28th at 1 p.m. CDT. If you can't attend and have not yet informed us, please do so as soon as possible. Also, you should have received the webinar invitation from the Academy IT department as well as notification from Maria that the documents have been loaded onto the portal. If you are missing either, please check your spam folder and/or let me know and we will get the information to you. The only thing the portal is currently missing is the January final overview provided by Christian. This should be done by tomorrow.

The call on Tuesday will focus on the January final results and the February preliminary results. We did not have any changes to the preliminary January results.

The Academy's February preliminary financial results look good on the very bottom line; Net income (after investments). Unfortunately, that is due to the investments returns. Investment returns were $379,178 in February. This is $275,011 higher than the budget. For the year, investments have returned $1,200,725. This is $263,222 higher than the budget. At this moment, it doesn't look like March will continue our winning streak. However, we have another week.

I will not go into any further detail on February. I am attaching the summary for the Academy for you to review. It should help with "high level" explanations for the variances of each financial line item. If you have any questions, don't hesitate to send me an email and I will get you an answer.

Have a great day.

Paul

Hi Donna,

I understand the potential confusion. Originally you had a back-up person for this committee, but when I learned that instead of NDEP appointing this position that you and Dianne needed to do so, it switched the back-up plan to an action plan. So thanks for calling her.

Good morning,

Thanks for the update. And if the 2 of you want to ask Milton to serve on the Diversity Committee, you have my support. So to clarify, Susan Brantley will not be asked to be a liaison to any committees, is that correct? I don't ask the question to indicate it's a problem, but rather just to make sure I have my information straight.

And from my end, here is an update on the Dietetics Practice Based Research Network Oversight Committee:

I discovered on Friday that I had received some incorrect information from the committee staff partner. My records indicated that there is a NDEP representative on that committee. I learned it is not an NDEP representative, but rather an educator. Which gives you one more person to appoint to the committee. But never fear! For this committee you had a back-up person (who happens to be an educator), pending whether or not Bonnie Jortberg was selected to be the Academy's AMA RUC HCPAC representative. Bonnie ended up being runner-up for that position, so you can appoint her to this committee. And then you can appoint your back-up person, Christine County, as well to fill the educator slot.

I expect to have an update for you later this week about the potential additional new “seats” on the Interoperability & Standards Committee, so stay tuned.

Thanks for all of your efforts and I look forward to your updates as members accept your invitations to serve.

Best,

Marsha

4. Brenda will be on the finance committee.

To replace Michele on the diversity committee, how about Milton?

Good morning,

Thanks for the update. And if the 2 of you want to ask Milton to serve on the Diversity Committee, you have my support. So to clarify, Susan Brantley will not be asked to be a liaison to any committees, is that correct? I don't ask the question to indicate it's a problem, but rather just to make sure I have my information straight.

And from my end, here is an update on the Dietetics Practice Based Research Network Oversight Committee:

I discovered on Friday that I had received some incorrect information from the committee staff partner. My records indicated that there is a NDEP representative on that committee. I learned it is not an NDEP representative, but rather an educator. Which gives you one more person to appoint to the committee. But never fear! For this committee you had a back-up person (who happens to be an educator), pending whether or not Bonnie Jortberg was selected to be the Academy's AMA RUC HCPAC representative. Bonnie ended up being runner-up for that position, so you can appoint her to this committee. And then you can appoint your back-up person, Christine County, as well to fill the educator slot.

I expect to have an update for you later this week about the potential additional new “seats” on the Interoperability & Standards Committee, so stay tuned.

Thanks for all of your efforts and I look forward to your updates as members accept your invitations to serve.

Best,

Marsha

Hi Donna,

I understand the potential confusion. Originally you had a back-up person for this committee, but when I learned that instead of NDEP appointing this position that you and Dianne needed to do so, it switched the back-up plan to an action plan. So thanks for calling her.

Best,

I am excited to announce Donna received an affirmative response from Kevin Concannon to serve as public member on the Board of Directors! His appointment begins June 1, 2017 and his term expires May 31, 2020. The welcome letter from Donna is attached.

Kevin Concannon, MSW

Former Under Secretary for Food, Nutrition, and Consumer Services (FNCS), USDA

Education:

- BA, Saint Francis Xavier University—Nova Scotia
- MSW, Saint Francis Xavier University—Nova Scotia

Overview:

- Led FNCS during the deepest economic recession in 70 years while promoting better access to anti-hunger program, implementing stronger nutrition science-based meal and food package programs in WIC and child nutrition, supported improved administration and staffing, and elevating nutrition education and job training through the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program
- Previously served as Director of State Health and Human Services departments in Maine, Oregon, and Iowa, President of American Public Welfare Association, National Association of State Mental Health Program Directors, trustee of American Public Human Services Association, and board member of American Humane Association

I just hung up from talking with Marsha about 1/2 hour ago. Susan Brantley will serve on bylaws committee.

I am recommending Catherine Austin for finance and audit. She is the Food and Nutrition service Director at the VA, retired Colonel in the military, past Treasurer of Tennessee and Memphis. She did apply for other committee positions, she adopted two Chinese children. She would not be afraid to ask questions. She was a delegate elect this year and did more than anyone has done recently. Her contact information is catherine.austin@va.gov 901-230-7244

Milton Stokes - Diversity

Michelle Lites - AND PAC

William Van Hook - Student Advisory

Matthew Landry - Student Delegate

I have contacted everyone and everyone on the corrected list said yes!

The only person I am waiting on is the Delegate position for Finance and Audit which is Diane Polly's decision. Diane if you want to call to discuss I am happy to weigh in or I am happy to take your recommendation and I will contact the person after you decide.

Totally your choice.

Marsha, let me know if there is anything else I need to do?

Marsha and Diane,

Attached is my updated list of committee appointments. Changes are as follows:

Milton Stokes - Diversity

Michelle Lites - AND PAC

William Van Hook - Student Advisory

Matthew Landry - Student Delegate

I have contacted everyone and everyone on the corrected list said yes!

The only person I am waiting on is the Delegate position for Finance and Audit which is Diane Polly's decision. Diane if you want to call to discuss I am happy to weigh in or I am happy to take your recommendation and I will contact the person after you decide.

Totally your choice.

Marsha, let me know if there is anything else I need to do?

It was a pleasure working with you all!

President Releases Budget Blueprint

The Trump administration has released its proposed Fiscal Year 2018 budget blueprint. It would reduce funding for the Department of Health and Human Services by 17.9 percent and the Department of Agriculture by 21 percent. The blueprint contains little detail, and a president's budget is rarely enacted by Congress, which is likely to have different priorities. Until a complete budget is proposed and enacted, the full implications of these and other provisions cannot be anticipated. The Academy team continues to work with Congress to fund important federal nutrition programs, which enjoy wide support among members from both parties.

Subject: Kevin Concannon said yes!!!

Pat and Lucille, Just wanted to let you know I just got off the phone with Kevin Concannon and he said he would be honored to serve! He really is excited. Went over the calendar a little with him. Would you please maybe get Joan (or whomever you choose) to reach out to him to set up his travel information in the travel store? I told him to call me with questions and that we will see him in Cleveland. He was just talking about seeing Pepin at a meeting and that he was afraid to say anything to him about the appointment, but was excited to work with him.

Hi Donna and Mary Pat:

Hope you're both well. Thanks again for helping out with the panel, Donna!

We took a first stab at questions for the implementer panel so I wanted to share with you both.

- 1) Could you take a look and make sure you're comfortable with them? Happy to tweak if you think anything is off-base or we're missing something. I think there's probably more than we'll have time for here so we can play by ear. Once you have approved – I'll email to all the panelists and make sure they are comfortable with all the questions (cc'ing you).
- 2) Would you like to do a prep call with the panelists to make sure everyone is on the same page? I want to be respectful of everyone's time and I know finding time could be challenging so I have no preference – but want to offer if it would be helpful.
- 3) I'm attaching the draft run of show for reference. Since we don't have a ton of time – I think I'll do very brief bios of the panelists (will have their bios printed out for folks to save time) and introduce you, Donna, and then you can take it from there.

Please let me know if you have any questions, and thank you again!

Let's talk about the role celebrities play ensuring the health of our youth

Making the Healthy Choice the Easy Choice with Cindy Crawford

Register now to hear from Cindy and our growing list of esteemed speakers

Entrepreneur, media influencer, super model, star. Cindy Crawford has used her global fame to fight for causes such as mental health, anti-bullying, women's empowerment and – as a member of Team FNV – the health of our children and young adults. Cindy's staying power in a notoriously fickle industry can be credited to her professionalism, business savvy and dedication to every endeavor. In today's social media culture, health advocates like Cindy Crawford are needed more than ever.

Join us on May 10-12 at the 2017 Building a Healthier Future Summit to hear insights from Cindy on the role celebrities play ensuring the health of our nation's children, and her experience with making the healthy choice the easy choice as a working mother.

Cindy joins a growing roster of esteemed speakers, including Dr. Nadine Burke Harris of the Center for Youth Wellness, Julia Belluz of Vox.com and Karin Gillespie of Novo Nordisk. Click here to learn more about Summit speakers and read more about this year's sessions here.

May 1 Quarterly Advocacy Day ReigstrationQuarterly Advocacy Hill Day

Capitol Hill
Washington, DC
May 1, 2017

Thank you for registering to attend the Advocacy Hill Day hosted by the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and its invited partners. We will be advocating for nutrition and prevention in health care on May 1, 2017.

This e-mail serves as confirmation of your registration.

Things to do:

1. Attend the advocating for nutrition and prevention in health care webinar. Registration for the webinar will be sent in a follow-up email. The webinar will be recorded for listening at a later date. The recording and materials will be sent in a separate email following the live webinar.
2. Plan your transportation to the event. The closest metro stop to the Senate side is Union Station (Red Line) and Capitol SW (Orange/Blue/Silver) for the House side. Please be reminded that there is significant work being done on the metro lines that may lengthen travel time. Parking is available at Union Station if you plan to drive.
3. We will convene at 9:30 a.m. to break into teams. Additional details will be provided in a follow-up email.
4. Hill visits are planned for the day. There will be approximately 8 teams of 4- 5 individuals. You may be meeting with members of Congress who are not your personal Congressional leaders. We will target key committees for the advocacy work of the coalition. We hope that you will be able to follow up with your members of Congress in district during May if they are not part of the visits on Monday.
5. A list of Hill visits and team assignments will be sent out prior to the Hill Day.
6. Following the Hill visits, you are invited to a reception at the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Offices hosted by the Academy's Political Action Committee (ANDPAC). Light refreshments will be served. We will send a separate invitation for the reception.

Updated Action Center

The action alert system used by the Academy has been updated by the service provider. An upgrade was planned but was not expected to occur immediately. We apologize for not providing you with advance notice.

Changes to the process are sometimes challenging, but we hope you will assist us with the implementation of this upgrade. As many of you will recall, we have experienced issues with some internet browsers. The browser is a very important component to the optimal functioning of the action center. Currently, the vendor indicates that the following browsers optimize the performance of the action center: Internet Explorer 9.0+, Firefox 5.0+, and Chrome 17.0+. Please recommend that your members using the action alert system utilize one of these three browsers when taking action. Unfortunately, we cannot control this issue and are aware of the impact not being able to use Safari has for those of you using mobile devices. Thank you for your patience as we work through the issues!

Action Alert: American Health Care Act

An action alert eblast message was sent yesterday to all Academy members. We anticipate the U.S. House will vote on the American Health Care Act this Thursday, March 23. The action alert will close on Thursday, March 23rd.

If your member notification system allows you send an immediate notification to members, please use the following message:

Subject: Action Alert: Immediate Attention

Dear Colleague,

Your help is needed! Urge your legislators to prioritize nutrition services to address chronic disease prevention and treatment in any health care legislation that is passed by Congress. Please stand with the Academy to oppose the American Health Care Act in its current form which eliminates funding and coverage requirements for preventive services.

Please complete the action alert before the anticipated vote this Thursday, March 23rd.

Click on this link to take action. It takes only a few minutes! As a reminder, please use Google Chrome or Firefox when using the Action Center.

12 – 1 p.m. Lunch (on your own)

1 – 3:30 p.m. Hill Visits

3:30 – 5 p.m. Reception with Congressional Champions

The event is open to all Academy members and there is no charge to participate. Registration will close on April 17, please make your plans to attend now.

Register to attend the May 1 Advocacy event today or contact the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy Team for more information.

ANDPAC Student Representative Position

Do you know a student who is interested in the link between nutrition policy and the profession? Encourage them to apply now for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC) Student Representative Position!

Student members of the Academy with strong leadership skills and an avid interest in advancing the Academy's public policy priorities and legislative agenda by strengthening relationships with members of Congress are encouraged to apply to be the ANDPAC Student Representative. The ANDPAC Student Representative serves a one-year term on the ANDPAC Board and also on the Academy's Student Advisory Committee (SAC). The ANDPAC Student Representative will fulfill responsibilities designated by the SAC and ANDPAC, as well as participate in all meetings and conference calls. Applications along with a letter of interest, resume and letter of recommendation from a faculty member are due by April 17, 2017; submit to ANDPAC@eatright.org.

Note: To be eligible, students must have at least six months remaining in an ACEND-accredited or approved program during the term of office: June 1, 2017 – May 31, 2018.*

Please use the following approved language below to share this information in your communications to encourage students to apply for the ANDPAC Student Representative Position.

Action Alert Updates

An all-member eblast was sent out on March 20th regarding American Health Care Act and the Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. The action alerts for the Resolution Recognizing the Academy's 100th Anniversary and the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 will remain open. As stated above the American Health Care Act action alert will close at the end of the week.

Please encourage all affiliate, DPG and MIG leaders and public policy team members to take the Action Alerts. Please encourage all board members, committee members, colleagues and friends to complete the action alert.

Here is a chart identifying the action alert statistics:

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the action alerts will be posted in the Public Policy Panel COI later this week. The reports are located in the March 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 March subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the PPC COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

Register Now: Public Policy Workshop

As of today, 38 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

As of today, 18 DPGs and 4 MIGs have submitted the name of the Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG PAL whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017. Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

ANDPAC Student Representative Position

Do you know a student who is interested in the link between nutrition policy and the profession? Encourage them to apply now for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC) Student Representative Position!

Student members of the Academy with strong leadership skills and an avid interest in advancing the Academy's public policy priorities and legislative agenda by strengthening relationships with members of Congress are encouraged to apply to be the ANDPAC Student Representative. The ANDPAC Student Representative serves a one-year term on the ANDPAC Board and also on the Academy's Student Advisory Committee (SAC). The ANDPAC Student Representative will fulfill responsibilities designated by the SAC and ANDPAC, as well as participate in all meetings and conference calls. Applications along with a letter of interest, resume and letter of recommendation from a faculty member are due by April 17, 2017; submit to ANDPAC@eatright.org.

Note: To be eligible, students must have at least six months remaining in an ACEND-accredited or approved program during the term of office: June 1, 2017 – May 31, 2018.*

Please use the following approved language below to share this information in your communications to encourage students to apply for the ANDPAC Student Representative Position.

Action Alert Updates

An all-member eblast was sent out on March 20th regarding American Health Care Act and the Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. The action alerts for the Resolution Recognizing the Academy's 100th Anniversary and the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 will remain open. As stated above the American Health Care Act action alert will close at the end of the week.

Please encourage all affiliate, DPG and MIG leaders and public policy team members to take the Action Alerts. Please encourage all board members, committee members, colleagues and friends to complete the action alert.

Here is a chart identifying the action alert statistics:

Action Alert Title

Number of Academy Members Participating

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the action alerts will be posted in the Public Policy Panel COI later this week. The reports are located in the March 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 March subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the PPC COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

Register Now: Public Policy Workshop

As of today, 38 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

As of today, 18 DPGs and 4 MIGs have submitted the name of the Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG PAL whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017. Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

Dear LPPC Leaders:

Agenda items for Friday's meeting have been uploaded to the LPPC Community of Interest which can be accessed here. The following items are still outstanding and will be available no later than COB tomorrow:

4.0(a) February LPPC Meeting Minutes

4.0(e) YTD Regulatory Comments Submission

4.0(f) Regulatory Comments

5.0(a) PIA Update

As a reminder, the information needed to access the meeting is detailed below:

Step 1: Log into the webinar via the personalized link provided here.

The meeting password is: LPPC17

Step 2: Follow the audio prompts to use the "CALL ME" feature to have the Web-Ex system dial you in the audio portion of the meeting. This will sync your computer and the audio together accordingly. Do not dial into the meeting directly when connecting to Web-Ex unless you do not have a direct dial phone number (If you do not have a direct dial phone number, please select the option to dial-in from the drop-down menu – the number will be provided). By using the Call Me feature, the system will sync your web and audio connections together under your attendee name in Web-Ex.

Note: For those individuals unable to participate in the web portion of the meeting and/or do not have a direct dial phone number, you can dial in to the meeting as follows:

Dial In: 866-477-4564

Conference Code: 271-642-5619

Dear Board of Directors,

Last week we shared the communication the Academy sent to Congressional committee chairs regarding the American Health Care Act. On Monday, we issued an action alert to encourage Congress to include nutrition service coverage in any legislation that it passes. Please complete the action alert before the anticipated vote this Thursday.

The next quarterly advocacy day will be held on May 1st in Washington, DC and will be focused on nutrition services in health care. Please plan to participate in the webinar and join your affiliate in local efforts. Register for the advocacy day if you are able to attend, however we did not budget for travel to the event.

We will continue to provide updates on our advocacy efforts and welcome your questions and feedback.

Good morning,

As an FYI, I think the challenge you ended up facing with the Finance and Audit Committee is that only 1 person who indicated an interest is currently a delegate (Denise Anderson). Becky Dörner and Tracey Bates have served in the HOD. If you need any lists of current or past delegates, just let me know.

Thanks,

OK friends, I just got my first no! Domonique Noel, who we were going to ask to be Student Delegate, is dropping out of dietetics next semester! So I suggest we go back and add back in William VanHook who was a person the staff recommended and we axed. I would also suggest Matthew Landry from Texas as the delegate. He has already accepted to be on the committee, but I could call him back and ask him to be the delegate. Thoughts?

Hi,

My apologies as I spoke a little too soon. For the Finance & Audit Committee, you need one general person to fill the rest of Manju's term and then another person to represent the HOD. Right now I have Christina Rollins down to fill Manju's term. Brenda Richardson currently does not serve in the HOD and I don't believe she has ever served as a Delegate. Also, as far as I can tell, Christina has never served in the HOD. So would you prefer to identify a current or past delegate to serve in this role? I do think it is important for the HOD to be directly connected to the FAC through either a current or past delegate. Would it help to provide a list of the current delegates?

After talking with Donna this afternoon, we have a couple changes to make. Michele Lites will be our board liaison to ANDPAC. (She did not want the diversity committee appointment.)

2. Bylaws rep will be Susan Brantley.
3. Catherine Austin is the mentor/mentee program chair
4. Brenda will be on the finance committee.

To replace Michele on the diversity committee, how about Milton?

Subject: Your Affiliate Annual Meeting

Hi Donna,

I am sending this email out today to all Foundation Board Members, I know you are set with the Affiliate information and your meeting presentations, please let me know if I have missed anything and thanks for all your help!

Dear Donna,

Will you be attending your Affiliate Annual Meeting this year? If so, I wanted to provide you with the contact information for the GA Affiliate volunteer State Fundraising Champion (below) so you can reach out to her and encourage them to fund raise for the Foundation and participate in the Affiliate Second Century Challenge. A number of Affiliates hold a fund raiser or have a booth with Foundation information at their annual meeting, reaching out them is another touchpoint and opportunity to connect.

You can remind them of the Affiliate Challenge we introduced at FNCE last year.

THE ACADEMY FOUNDATION AFFILIATE SECOND CENTURY CHALLENGE

1. Provide a gift to the Second Century from your budget/reserves. It's an important time and deserves your thoughtful consideration.
2. Organize a committee that includes membership of all ages and hold an event to raise money for the Second Century.
3. Encourage your members, through your communications, to give to the Second Century while remembering to contribute to the annual fund when renewing their dues through the online process.

Below you will see the impact our Foundation has had in the state from 2012 to 2106. Please feel free to share this information with the State Fundraising Champion and if you would like I can put together a Foundation Update PPT if you have the opportunity to present at any point during the meeting. I have also attached a one-page Foundation and Second Century Fund Messages for you to use as background information.

I look forward to helping you in any way to encourage your Affiliate to fund raise for the Foundation, please pass along any feedback you might receive from these individuals, including any request for hand-outs and contribution forms and we can get them right out to them. Don't forget to show your Second Century pride and wear your lapel pin while attending the meeting. Thanks for your help!

Donna –

While we've not had the pleasure of meeting, I know you've recently collaborated with my colleagues Share Our Strength on a few fronts – many thanks for the time, energy and talents you are sharing!

In my recent exchanges with Mary Pat, Jenn Folliard and Katie Brown your name came up as a great voice to join an upcoming episode of our founder, Billy Shore's new podcast: Add Passion Stir. It brings a variety of stakeholders to the table to share their perspectives on the central influence of food. There are so many directions I could see the conversation going given your background, but think the Second Century work and updated vision, mission and principles for the Academy are a particularly exciting frame for the conversation.

By way of this email, I'm introducing you to Share Our Strength co-founders and siblings, Billy and Debbie, who I know are eager for your reactions to this idea. If you agree with this thinking, ideally, your schedule will bring you to DC in the near future for an in-person recording, but remote recording is an option if not.

Please let us know your thoughts!

Sincerely,

Leigh Ann

Dear Donna,

We have some important Academy membership information for you. As you enter your term as President in the upcoming year (June 1, 2017 – May 31, 2018), the Academy will begin providing you with a Life category membership ($0 dues amount). Also, during your year as President (2017/2018), you will also receive complimentary membership in all DPGs, MIGs and Academy Groups. Your Life membership and complimentary DPG, MIG, Academy Groups have already been processed, therefore, you will not receive a renewal invoice in the mail this year.

If you would like to donate to the Foundation and/or ANDPAC, you are welcome to contact either myself, or Laura Soto, Lead Membership Representative, at 800/877-1600, ext. 4776 / lsoto@eatright.org. We would be happy to personally process any donations you wish to make or create an invoice if you would prefer to submit donations by check. You may also submit donations online by visiting the ANDF website and/or ANDPAC website

For your reference, I am including additional information on membership renewal procedures for Academy Presidents below:

Academy dues renewal procedure for President, President-elect, Immediate Past President, and Former Presidents:

To clarify potential questions regarding why you receive a 2017/2018 dues bill, the chart below summarizes the procedure for Academy dues bills (and “complimentary” dues) for Presidents (current, elect, past, and former). Dues bills are mailed to Academy Presidents so that they have the option to donate to the Academy Foundation or ANDPAC, or join DPGs, MIGs and/or Academy Groups (though DPGs, MIGs and Academy Groups are complimentary for the current President and President-elect). Once you move from President-elect to the office of President, your membership status will be transferred to the “Life” category and you will never again pay national dues. However, even when you become a “Life” member you may want to donate to the Foundation and ANDPAC or join a DPG, MIG or Academy Group:

Hi Donna and Mary Pat:

Hope you're both well. Thanks again for helping out with the panel, Donna!

We took a first stab at questions for the implementer panel so I wanted to share with you both.

- 1) Could you take a look and make sure you're comfortable with them? Happy to tweak if you think anything is off-base or we're missing something. I think there's probably more than we'll have time for here so we can play by ear. Once you have approved – I'll email to all the panelists and make sure they are comfortable with all the questions (cc'ing you).
- 2) Would you like to do a prep call with the panelists to make sure everyone is on the same page? I want to be respectful of everyone's time and I know finding time could be challenging so I have no preference – but want to offer if it would be helpful.
- 3) I'm attaching the draft run of show for reference. Since we don't have a ton of time – I think I'll do very brief bios of the panelists (will have their bios printed out for folks to save time) and introduce you, Donna, and then you can take it from there.

Please let me know if you have any questions, and thank you again!

I think there's probably more than we'll have time for here so we can play by ear. Once you have approved – I'll email to all the panelists and make sure they are comfortable with all the questions (cc'ing you).
- 2) Would you like to do a prep call with the panelists to make sure everyone is on the same page? I want to be respectful of everyone's time and I know finding time could be challenging so I have no preference – but want to offer if it would be helpful.
- 3) I'm attaching the draft run of show for reference. Since we don't have a ton of time – I think I'll do very brief bios of the panelists (will have their bios printed out for folks to save time) and introduce you, Donna, and then you can take it from there.

Please let me know if you have any questions, and thank you again!

Hi Donna,

I am sending this email out today to all Foundation Board Members, I know you are set with the Affiliate information and your meeting presentations, please let me know if I have missed anything and thanks for all your help!

Dear Donna,

Will you be attending your Affiliate Annual Meeting this year? If so, I wanted to provide you with the contact information for the GA Affiliate volunteer State Fundraising Champion (below) so you can reach out to her and encourage them to fund raise for the Foundation and participate in the Affiliate Second Century Challenge. A number of Affiliates hold a fund raiser or have a booth with Foundation information at their annual meeting, reaching out them is another touchpoint and opportunity to connect.

You can remind them of the Affiliate Challenge we introduced at FNCE last year.

THE ACADEMY FOUNDATION AFFILIATE SECOND CENTURY CHALLENGE

1. Provide a gift to the Second Century from your budget/reserves. It's an important time and deserves your thoughtful consideration.
2. Organize a committee that includes membership of all ages and hold an event to raise money for the Second Century.

3. Encourage your members, through your communications, to give to the Second Century while remembering to contribute to the annual fund when renewing their dues through the online process.

Below you will see the impact our Foundation has had in the state from 2012 to 2106. Please feel free to share this information with the State Fundraising Champion and if you would like I can put together a Foundation Update PPT if you have the opportunity to present at any point during the meeting. I have also attached a one-page Foundation and Second Century Fund Messages for you to use as background information.

I look forward to helping you in any way to encourage your Affiliate to fund raise for the Foundation, please pass along any feedback you might receive from these individuals, including any request for hand-outs and contribution forms and we can get them right out to them. Don't forget to show your Second Century pride and wear your lapel pin while attending the meeting. Thanks for your help!

OK friends, I just got my first no! Domonique Noel, who we were going to ask to be Student Delegate, is dropping out of dietetics next semester! So I suggest we go back and add back in William VanHook who was a person the staff recommended and we axed. I would also suggest Matthew Landry from Texas as the delegate. He has already accepted to be on the committee, but I could call him back and ask him to be the delegate. Thoughts?

Hi,

My apologies as I spoke a little too soon. For the Finance & Audit Committee, you need one general person to fill the rest of Manju's term and then another person to represent the HOD. Right now I have Christina Rollins down to fill Manju's term. Brenda Richardson currently does not serve in the HOD and I don't believe she has ever served as a Delegate. Also, as far as I can tell, Christina has never served in the HOD. So would you prefer to identify a current or past delegate to serve in this role? I do think it is important for the HOD to be directly connected to the FAC through either a current or past delegate. Would it help to provide a list of the current delegates?

Thanks,

After talking with Donna this afternoon, we have a couple changes to make. Michele Lites will be our board liaison to ANDPAC. (She did not want the diversity committee appointment.)

2. Bylaws rep will be Susan Brantley.
3. Catherine Austin is the mentor/mentee program chair
4. Brenda will be on the finance committee.

To replace Michele on the diversity committee, how about Milton?

Good morning,

As an FYI, I think the challenge you ended up facing with the Finance and Audit Committee is that only 1 person who indicated an interest is currently a delegate (Denise Anderson). Becky Dörner and Tracey Bates have served in the HOD. If you need any lists of current or past delegates, just let me know.

Thanks,

Marsha

OK friends, I just got my first no! Domonique Noel, who we were going to ask to be Student Delegate, is dropping out of dietetics next semester! So I suggest we go back and add back in William VanHook who was a person the staff recommended and we axed. I would also suggest Matthew Landry from Texas as the delegate. He has already accepted to be on the committee, but I could call him back and ask him to be the delegate. Thoughts?

Also, as far as I can tell, Christina has never served in the HOD. So would you prefer to identify a current or past delegate to serve in this role? I do think it is important for the HOD to be directly connected to the FAC through either a current or past delegate. Would it help to provide a list of the current delegates?

After talking with Donna this afternoon, we have a couple changes to make. Michele Lites will be our board liaison to ANDPAC. (She did not want the diversity committee appointment.)

2. Bylaws rep will be Susan Brantley.
3. Catherine Austin is the mentor/mentee program chair
4. Brenda will be on the finance committee.

To replace Michele on the diversity committee, how about Milton?

Dear LPPC Members,

Your help is needed! Say yes to health care that includes nutrition services! We need your voice on two issues important to Academy members!

1. Urge your legislators to prioritize nutrition services to address chronic disease prevention and treatment in any health care legislation that is passed by Congress. Please stand with the Academy to oppose the American Health Care Act in its current form which eliminates funding and coverage requirements for preventative services. Please complete the action alert before the anticipated vote this Thursday, March 23rd.

2. In celebration of the Academy's 100th anniversary, both houses of Congress have introduced a resolution to recognize our historic milestone. Ask your members of Congress to sign on to the resolution that celebrates both our past and our future!

Please be sure to support our efforts by taking the Action Alert! Click on this link to take action. It takes only a few minutes!

Now is the time for meeting the goal of improving the quality of patient care – don't you agree?

Let's have 100% participation from our committee to show support for this two important issues!

Please join me in saying yes for nutrition services and yes for our Academy! Let's have 100% participation.

Respectfully,
Lorri

OK friends, I just got my first no! Domonique Noel, who we were going to ask to be Student Delegate, is dropping out of dietetics next semester! So I suggest we go back and add back in William VanHook who was a person the staff recommended and we axed. I would also suggest Matthew Landry from Texas as the delegate. He has already accepted to be on the committee, but I could call him back and ask him to be the delegate. Thoughts?

Hi,

My apologies as I spoke a little too soon. For the Finance & Audit Committee, you need one general person to fill the rest of Manju's term and then another person to represent the HOD. Right now I have Christina Rollins down to fill Manju's term. Brenda Richardson currently does not serve in the HOD and I don't believe she has ever served as a Delegate. Also, as far as I can tell, Christina has never served in the HOD. So would you prefer to identify a current or past delegate to serve in this role? I do think it is important for the HOD to be directly connected to the FAC through either a current or past delegate. Would it help to provide a list of the current delegates?

2. Bylaws rep will be Susan Brantley.
3. Catherine Austin is the mentor/mentee program chair
4. Brenda will be on the finance committee.

Time is running out to register for the Central Region NDEP meeting in Louisville. Registration deadline is March 22nd. Space is also running out so if you plan to attend and haven't registered yet, please do so before Wednesday.

This year the meetings will be conducted a little differently. In an effort to provide more focus on discussions and working sessions, the Academy Leadership presentations are provided as videos/audio recordings in advance. Please view them before attending and be sure to bring your questions to discuss with the representatives at the meeting. The recordings can be found at the following links:

<https://ndep.webauthor.com> NDEP Community >Library >NDEP 2017 Regional Meeting Materials and <http://www.ndepnet.org/>

The slides for all presentations and other handouts relevant to the Academy Leadership video presentations will also be provided on the NDEP Regional Meeting website:

<https://sites.psu.edu/ndep/>

The website will be password protected and the password will be sent to all people that have registered. Stay tuned for that email.

Plus, Marty Yadrick, former Academy President will be presenting on the topic of Culture Competency and how educators can make sure their students are prepared to handle health literacy. Plus the Chairman for the NDEP Interprofessional Committee, Katie Eliot, will be presenting on Creating Interprofessional Experiences for your students. Don't want to miss these two.

In the event that you cannot attend this year, you can still listen to the audio information for the Leadership Panel and Future Education Model. Should you have any questions, please contact ndep@eatright.org.

Anxious to see many of you in Louisville!

Dear Pat,

I hope you are doing well. Sorry we have not had a chance to connect since I saw you last fall, the time passes too quickly. I am in Graz, Austria this week for Special Olympics World Winter Games. Evelyn Crayton is going us next week and I am sure we will send lots of pictures and information. This year I am working with the students and faculty from the Nutrition and Dietetics Program at FH Joanneum University of Applied Sciences in Graz. They have a great program and wonderful students.

I am writing to confirm that you recently received a notification to Save the Date on May 9, 2017 to participate in Special Olympics' Inclusive Health Forum in Washington, DC. As a follow up to that notice, it is my pleasure to extend the attached official invitation to you to participate along with other senior health leaders from a cross section of national organizations in this unique one day event. We are also inviting Donna Martin, as the incoming President of the Academy.

Over the past 20 years, Special Olympics, as the largest public health program for people with intellectual disabilities (ID), has identified and addressed the unmet health needs of individuals with ID through health screenings, education, and referrals for follow-up care, and fitness. One of the many challenges that individuals with ID face is in achieving and sustaining a healthy weight – a reality which not only has significant health implications, but also resulting in cost implications.

Special Olympics along with its partners recognizes the health disparities that people with ID face requires collective effort to overcome and is best addressed by working together with influential health leaders such as yourself. We feel that there will be mutual benefit from a forum in which we can share knowledge, ideas, evidence, tools and strategies which will help motivate you to join us in this inclusive health movement to ensure that all efforts in the field of healthy weight are inclusive of individuals with intellectual disabilities.

We would welcome the opportunity to talk with you directly about the Forum and answer any questions that you might have. As such we would appreciate your suggestions on a date and time towards the end of March that would be most convenient for you.

We hope that you're as excited about this opportunity as we are and look forward to receiving your confirmation of participation. Should you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out. We look forward to hearing back from you

Hi,

My apologies as I spoke a little too soon. For the Finance & Audit Committee, you need one general person to fill the rest of Manju's term and then another person to represent the HOD. Right now I have Christina Rollins down to fill Manju's term. Brenda Richardson currently does not serve in the HOD and I don't believe she has ever served as a Delegate. Also, as far as I can tell, Christina has never served in the HOD. So would you prefer to identify a current or past delegate to serve in this role? I do think it is important for the HOD to be directly connected to the FAC through either a current or past delegate. Would it help to provide a list of the current delegates?

Thanks,

2. Bylaws rep will be Susan Brantley.
3. Catherine Austin is the mentor/mentee program chair
4. Brenda will be on the finance committee.

To replace Michele on the diversity committee, how about Milton?

I received an invite too. It really should be Lucille but I'm sure EC told Alice about how she feels about our attendance so they went to you. It's not the large annual event so I will have staff see who attends and what happens at this one. Perhaps a Board member close to DC? I'll get back to you on this one.

Dear Pat,

I hope you are doing well. Sorry we have not had a chance to connect since I saw you last fall, the time passes too quickly. I am in Graz, Austria this week for Special Olympics World Winter Games. Evelyn Crayton is going us next week and I am sure we will send lots of pictures and information. This year I am working with the students and faculty from the Nutrition and Dietetics Program at FH Joanneum University of Applied Sciences in Graz. They have a great program and wonderful students.

I am writing to confirm that you recently received a notification to Save the Date on May 9, 2017 to participate in Special Olympics' Inclusive Health Forum in Washington, DC. As a follow up to that notice, it is my pleasure to extend the attached official invitation to you to participate along with other senior health leaders from a cross section of national organizations in this unique one day event. We are also inviting Donna Martin, as the incoming President of the Academy.

Over the past 20 years, Special Olympics, as the largest public health program for people with intellectual disabilities (ID), has identified and addressed the unmet health needs of individuals with ID through health screenings, education, and referrals for follow-up care, and fitness. One of the many challenges that individuals with ID face is in achieving and sustaining a healthy weight – a reality which not only has significant health implications, but also resulting in cost implications.

Special Olympics along with its partners recognizes the health disparities that people with ID face requires collective effort to overcome and is best addressed by working together with influential health leaders such as yourself. We feel that there will be mutual benefit from a forum in which we can share knowledge, ideas, evidence, tools and strategies which will help motivate you to join us in this inclusive health movement to ensure that all efforts in the field of healthy weight are inclusive of individuals with intellectual disabilities.

We would welcome the opportunity to talk with you directly about the Forum and answer any questions that you might have. As such we would appreciate your suggestions on a date and time towards the end of March that would be most convenient for you.

We hope that you're as excited about this opportunity as we are and look forward to receiving your confirmation of participation. Should you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out. We look forward to hearing back from you

Sincerely,

Good morning,

Thanks for the update. And if the 2 of you want to ask Milton to serve on the Diversity Committee, you have my support. So to clarify, Susan Brantley will not be asked to be a liaison to any committees, is that correct? I don't ask the question to indicate it's a problem, but rather just to make sure I have my information straight.

And from my end, here is an update on the Dietetics Practice Based Research Network Oversight Committee:

I discovered on Friday that I had received some incorrect information from the committee staff partner. My records indicated that there is a NDEP representative on that committee. I learned it is not an NDEP representative, but rather an educator. Which gives you one more person to appoint to the committee. But never fear! For this committee you had a back-up person (who happens to be an educator), pending whether or not Bonnie Jortberg was selected to be the Academy's AMA RUC HCPAC representative. Bonnie ended up being runner-up for that position, so you can appoint her to this committee. And then you can appoint your back-up person, Christine County, as well to fill the educator slot.

I expect to have an update for you later this week about the potential additional new "seats" on the Interoperability & Standards Committee, so stay tuned.

Thanks for all of your efforts and I look forward to your updates as members accept your invitations to serve.

Best,

Marsha

As in previous years, data shows that the majority of members prefer to use the electronic Journal when researching topics versus the print Journal when reading articles. According to Journal reader surveys, our Student members mainly use the Journal for research, whether it be for school work or when writing research papers. This is consistent with the shift in schools from traditional textbooks and paper to electronic resources. This knowledge led to negotiations with Journal publisher Elsevier, enabling the Academy to offer the electronic only Journal option to all Student members. We believe this is a good strategic decision.

Whether using the Journal's iOS and Android apps, electronic access offers Academy members exclusive digital and mobile functionality as well as online exclusives such as new content alerts, Articles in Press (online ahead of print), Editor's Podcasts and author podcasts, educational slides, curated topic collections, flipbooks, and fully searchable issues dating back to 1993.

My recommendations:

Board Liaison for ANDPAC: Susan Brantley

Quality Management: Keep Alexandra Kazaks and remove Moira Farris

Bylaws Rep: Linda Farr

Mentor/Mentee Program Co-chair: Catherine Austin (I was thinking of Catherine for Treasurer since she manages a huge VA, started a internship and was treasurer of TN, but decided she could serve this role effectively also.)

Finance: Brenda Richardson.

As a reminder, although Board members may receive invitations to attend national or international meetings or participate in projects of other organizations, in order track the invitations and examine the cost vs benefit of Academy representation, Board members must first receive approval to attend. Submission of the Board Representation at Meetings form after the event provides measurable outcomes to help determine the impact of the meeting and inform future opportunities.

Subject: Board Representation At Meetings

We ask that you share information with us about invitations you have accepted to present at affiliate, DPG, MIG and/or other organization meetings as Board members speaking on Academy activities and Academy-related business. In order to track the presentations, we request you please communicate to us any meetings you attend on behalf of the Academy by submitting the Board Representation at Meetings form. This electronic form can be completed by accessing the following link http://academybod.webauthor.com/go/form/form.cfm?xm_form_id=192 and is found on the Board portal in the black menu bar. The meeting reports on the portal can be viewed by clicking here and entering your Academy website username and password. Report recommendations have been forwarded to the appropriate organizational units and staff.

Board policies related to Board member representation at meetings are attached. Board members attending affiliate, DPG, MIG and/or other organization meetings should have all expenses reimbursed by the affiliate, DPG, MIG and/or other organization. In accordance with policy, Board members may not accept an honorarium or fee for representing the Academy or for presenting on Academy-related business or initiatives. You may, however, ask that the honorarium be sent in your name to the Foundation or PAC. Board members who present a continuing professional development session are entitled to receive compensation; the amount is of course negotiated between the organization and you.

If you are requested to present on a topic representing your expertise/practice area, you may want to suggest to the meeting organizers that you are also available to provide a separate Academy Update presentation. This update covers the Academy's initiatives and accomplishments on behalf of members and is refreshed after the first of the year. Also available is the Second Century Update presentation providing an overview of the Academy's Second Century initiative. You can access and download the new 2017 Academy Update presentation and the standalone Second Century Update from the Board portal by clicking here.

Subject: RE: Board Representation At Meetings

As a reminder, although Board members may receive invitations to attend national or international meetings or participate in projects of other organizations, in order track the invitations and examine the cost vs benefit of Academy representation, Board members must first receive approval to attend. Submission of the Board Representation at Meetings form after the event provides measurable outcomes to help determine the impact of the meeting and inform future opportunities.

We ask that you share information with us about invitations you have accepted to present at affiliate, DPG, MIG and/or other organization meetings as Board members speaking on Academy activities and Academy-related business. In order to track the presentations, we request you please communicate to us any meetings you attend on behalf of the Academy by submitting the Board Representation at Meetings form. This electronic form can be completed by accessing the following link http://academybod.webauthor.com/go/form/form.cfm?xm_form_id=192 and is found on the Board portal in the black menu bar. The meeting reports on the portal can be viewed by clicking here and entering your Academy website username and password. Report recommendations have been forwarded to the appropriate organizational units and staff.

Board policies related to Board member representation at meetings are attached. Board members attending affiliate, DPG, MIG and/or other organization meetings should have all expenses reimbursed by the affiliate, DPG, MIG and/or other organization. In accordance with policy, Board members may not accept an honorarium or fee for representing the Academy or for presenting on Academy-related business or initiatives. You may, however, ask that the honorarium be sent in your name to the Foundation or PAC. Board members who present a continuing professional development session are entitled to receive compensation; the amount is of course negotiated between the organization and you.

Good afternoon, CLL Leaders-

Due to the continued growth and success of the Nutrition Focused Physical Examination (NFPE) and Lifelong Learning (LL) areas at the Academy, along with the ongoing growth and evolution of responsibilities within the LL area, there has been a change in staff roles and responsibilities to best support Academy members.

Please join me in congratulating Lori Granich, MBA, RDN in her promotion to Director, Lifelong Learning and Engagement! Lori continues to demonstrate her value and impact within the Academy and we look forward to her continued success in this expanded role. Congratulations Lori!

A revised organizational chart is provided below to showcase the reporting structure within the Lifelong Learning area. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Good morning,

For the 9th consecutive year, we collaborated with the Centers for Medicare &Medicaid Services to share a message to providers promoting the Medicare MNT benefit during National Nutrition Month®. The message (below and attached), published in yesterday's Provider e-newsletter, encourages physicians to help their Medicare patients adopt a healthy lifestyle in 2017 by encouraging use of Medicare-covered nutrition-related services, including medical nutrition therapy. We will be sharing the message with our members through Eat Right Weekly, the communication platforms of our organizational units, and social media. The full message is posted on the Academy's website at <http://www.eatrightpro.org/resources/news-center/in-practice/quality-and-coverage>.

Publication of this message represents one of the many ways in which we collaborate with CMS to promote our members and the valuable services they provide to the Medicare population. We also had the opportunity last month to promote National Nutrition Month® at the CMS' Caregivers Workgroup Meeting. This group represents approximately 1600 organizations that reach a broad segment of population caregivers, patient advocate groups, communities of faith, and provider organizations.

Improve Health during National Nutrition Month®

During National Nutrition Month, talk to your patients about making informed food choices to help prevent or reduce nutrition-related health conditions, including diabetes, chronic kidney disease, and obesity. Empower your patients to adopt a healthy lifestyle by encouraging them to take advantage of appropriate Medicare-covered preventive services:

- Medical Nutrition Therapy
- Diabetes Screening
- Diabetes Self-Management Training

Good afternoon, CLL Leaders-

Due to the continued growth and success of the Nutrition Focused Physical Examination (NFPE) and Lifelong Learning (LL) areas at the Academy, along with the ongoing growth and evolution of responsibilities within the LL area, there has been a change in staff roles and responsibilities to best support Academy members.

Please join me in congratulating Lori Granich, MBA, RDN in her promotion to Director, Lifelong Learning and Engagement! Lori continues to demonstrate her value and impact within the Academy and we look forward to her continued success in this expanded role. Congratulations Lori!

A revised organizational chart is provided below to showcase the reporting structure within the Lifelong Learning area. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Hello Donna,

It's unfortunate Asheville didn't work with our dates for the BOD retreat. We are looking at other retreat locations and a brief overview follows below.

- Puerto Rico: The hotel costs in San Juan are comparable to the other locations, yet flights costs can be more expensive and not as frequent. There may be a concern with the Zika virus; the CDC says public health officials have reported that mosquitoes in Puerto Rico are infected with the Zika virus and are spreading it to people (report updated March 10, 2017).
- Amelia Island: The Omni is available - Chirag provided the following links below for photos and things to do there. The shuttle would be approx. 40-45 minutes, the airport is 29 miles from the hotel. He said there are plenty of flights to/from Jacksonville (most likely connections for those not near a major airport).
- Charleston: A reasonable option available is the Marriott <http://www.marriott.com/hotels/travel/chsmc-charleston-marriott/> at $189 a night. Flights in/out of Charleston were comparable to Jacksonville (most likely connections for those not near a major airport). Many tours and activities available.
- Austin (just an idea as another possibility): In July averages between high 95 and low 74 in mid-July. Again, there are plenty of flights in/out of Austin (most likely connections for those not near a major airport). Chirag will look into hotel availability and activities and get back to us if you are interested.

A few links from Chirag for the Omni Amelia Island:

For our excursion and possibly dinner, we can just stay at the Omni and view their "The Sprouting Project" and I'll have to look into tours of this space and how we can possibly do something dinner wise attached to it, watch the video: <https://www.omnihotels.com/hotels/amelia-island-plantation/things-to-do/resort-activities/sprouting-project>. It's run by a chef who actually started at TRU restaurant in Chicago <https://www.omnihotels.com/hotels/amelia-island-plantation/dining/meet-our-chefs>.

They also have an art studio run by the local artists, so another idea would be to possibly do a fun just cocktail & arts class: <https://sites.google.com/site/paggamelia/contact-us>, so I can look into this further

Shopping wise the plantation has many options <https://www.omnihotels.com/hotels/amelia-island-plantation/things-to-do/shopping>

We would basically be sticking to the resort for everything, but there's plenty to do.

Right now we have snow on the ground in Chicago so any place warm looks good! Please let me know your preference and we will firm up the plans. If you need any additional information or would like to talk, just let me know.

Thanks so much!

Good afternoon, CLL Leaders-

Due to the continued growth and success of the Nutrition Focused Physical Examination (NFPE) and Lifelong Learning (LL) areas at the Academy, along with the ongoing growth and evolution of responsibilities within the LL area, there has been a change in staff roles and responsibilities to best support Academy members.

Please join me in congratulating Lori Granich, MBA, RDN in her promotion to Director, Lifelong Learning and Engagement! Lori continues to demonstrate her value and impact within the Academy and we look forward to her continued success in this expanded role. Congratulations Lori!

A revised organizational chart is provided below to showcase the reporting structure within the Lifelong Learning area. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Subject: Lifelong Learning Group Structure (Exciting Update!)

Importance: High

Good afternoon, CLL Leaders-

Due to the continued growth and success of the Nutrition Focused Physical Examination (NFPE) and Lifelong Learning (LL) areas at the Academy, along with the ongoing growth and evolution of responsibilities within the LL area, there has been a change in staff roles and responsibilities to best support Academy members.

Please join me in congratulating Lori Granich, MBA, RDN in her promotion to Director, Lifelong Learning and Engagement! Lori continues to demonstrate her value and impact within the Academy and we look forward to her continued success in this expanded role. Congratulations Lori!

A revised organizational chart is provided below to showcase the reporting structure within the Lifelong Learning area. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Good morning,

For the 9th consecutive year, we collaborated with the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services to share a message to providers promoting the Medicare MNT benefit during National Nutrition Month®. The message (below and attached), published in yesterday's Provider e-newsletter, encourages physicians to help their Medicare patients adopt a healthy lifestyle in 2017 by encouraging use of Medicare-covered nutrition-related services, including medical nutrition therapy. We will be sharing the message with our members through Eat Right Weekly, the communication platforms of our organizational units, and social media. The full message is posted on the Academy's website at <http://www.eatrightpro.org/resources/news-center/in-practice/quality-and-coverage>.

Publication of this message represents one of the many ways in which we collaborate with CMS to promote our members and the valuable services they provide to the Medicare population. We also had the opportunity last month to promote National Nutrition Month® at the CMS' Caregivers Workgroup Meeting. This group represents approximately 1600 organizations that reach a broad segment of population caregivers, patient advocate groups, communities of faith, and provider organizations.

Improve Health during National Nutrition Month®

During National Nutrition Month, talk to your patients about making informed food choices to help prevent or reduce nutrition-related health conditions, including diabetes, chronic kidney disease, and obesity. Empower your patients to adopt a healthy lifestyle by encouraging them to take advantage of appropriate Medicare-covered preventive services:

- Medical Nutrition Therapy
- Diabetes Screening
- Diabetes Self-Management Training
- Intensive Behavioral Therapy for Obesity

As a reminder, although Board members may receive invitations to attend national or international meetings or participate in projects of other organizations, in order track the invitations and examine the cost vs benefit of Academy representation, Board members must first receive approval to attend. Submission of the Board Representation at Meetings form after the event provides measurable outcomes to help determine the impact of the meeting and inform future opportunities.

We ask that you share information with us about invitations you have accepted to present at affiliate, DPG, MIG and/or other organization meetings as Board members speaking on Academy activities and Academy-related business. In order to track the presentations, we request you please communicate to us any meetings you attend on behalf of the Academy by submitting the Board Representation at Meetings form. This electronic form can be completed by accessing the following link http://academybod.webauthor.com/go/form/form.cfm?xm_form_id=192 and is found on the Board portal in the black menu bar. The meeting reports on the portal can be viewed by clicking here and entering your Academy website username and password. Report recommendations have been forwarded to the appropriate organizational units and staff.

Board policies related to Board member representation at meetings are attached. Board members attending affiliate, DPG, MIG and/or other organization meetings should have all expenses reimbursed by the affiliate, DPG, MIG and/or other organization. In accordance with policy, Board members may not accept an honorarium or fee for representing the Academy or for presenting on Academy-related business or initiatives. You may, however, ask that the honorarium be sent in your name to the Foundation or PAC. Board members who present a continuing professional development session are entitled to receive compensation; the amount is of course negotiated between the organization and you.

If you are requested to present on a topic representing your expertise/practice area, you may want to suggest to the meeting organizers that you are also available to provide a separate Academy Update presentation. This update covers the Academy's initiatives and accomplishments on behalf of members and is refreshed after the first of the year. Also available is the Second Century Update presentation providing an overview of the Academy's Second Century initiative. You can access and download the new 2017 Academy Update presentation and the standalone Second Century Update from the Board portal by clicking here.

Welcome to the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation Board of Directors! This relationship will deepen our efforts in the upcoming Farm Bill and other opportunities ahead.

We are excited to have you as an advocate for maintaining SNAP-Ed funding as the Farm Bill moves forward. As you know, most of these programs are led by RDNs in a variety of settings including Extension and Public Health departments.

I am hoping to launch a survey soon with SNAP-Ed leaders to highlight how FINI and SNAP-Ed are working together to improve health in communities. Moving forward, the opportunities only can expand. With this information, we can help promote these ideas to others.

Someone mention you hired Josh Wachs recently. I have loved working with him in the past, so am hoping this is true.

Please reach out to me if you have any ideas or suggestions.

Again welcome and thank you for your commitment to the Academy and our members!

Well that makes more sense. I'm sure as a student it is easy to get things confused when it comes to the various "branches" of our organization.

Good morning,

For the 9th consecutive year, we collaborated with the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services to share a message to providers promoting the Medicare MNT benefit during National Nutrition Month®. The message (below and attached), published in yesterday's Provider e-newsletter, encourages physicians to help their Medicare patients adopt a healthy lifestyle in 2017 by encouraging use of Medicare-covered nutrition-related services, including medical nutrition therapy. We will be sharing the message with our members through Eat Right Weekly, the communication platforms of our organizational units, and social media. The full message is posted on the Academy's website at <http://www.eatrightpro.org/resources/news-center/in-practice/quality-and-coverage>.

Publication of this message represents one of the many ways in which we collaborate with CMS to promote our members and the valuable services they provide to the Medicare population. We also had the opportunity last month to promote National Nutrition Month® at the CMS' Caregivers Workgroup Meeting. This group represents approximately 1600 organizations that reach a broad segment of population caregivers, patient advocate groups, communities of faith, and provider organizations.

Improve Health during National Nutrition Month®

During National Nutrition Month, talk to your patients about making informed food choices to help prevent or reduce nutrition-related health conditions, including diabetes, chronic kidney disease, and obesity. Empower your patients to adopt a healthy lifestyle by encouraging them to take advantage of appropriate Medicare-covered preventive services:

- Medical Nutrition Therapy
- Diabetes Screening
- Diabetes Self-Management Training
- Intensive Behavioral Therapy for Obesity
- Intensive Behavioral Therapy for Cardiovascular Disease
- Annual Wellness Visit

For More Information:

- Medicare Preventive Services Educational Tool
- National Nutrition Month website
- National Diabetes Education Program website
- National Kidney Disease Education Program website
- Million Hearts® website

I received an invite too. It really should be Lucille but I'm sure EC told Alice about how she feels about our attendance so they went to you. It's not the large annual event so I will have staff see who attends and what happens at this one. Perhaps a Board member close to DC? I'll get back to you on this one.

Subject: Follow up-invitation to attend Special Olympics Inclusive Health Forum

Dear Pat,

I hope you are doing well. Sorry we have not had a chance to connect since I saw you last fall, the time passes too quickly. I am in Graz, Austria this week for Special Olympics World Winter Games. Evelyn Crayton is going us next week and I am sure we will send lots of pictures and information. This year I am working with the students and faculty from the Nutrition and Dietetics Program at FH Joanneum University of Applied Sciences in Graz. They have a great program and wonderful students.

I am writing to confirm that you recently received a notification to Save the Date on May 9, 2017 to participate in Special Olympics' Inclusive Health Forum in Washington, DC. As a follow up to that notice, it is my pleasure to extend the attached official invitation to you to participate along with other senior health leaders from a cross section of national organizations in this unique one day event. We are also inviting Donna Martin, as the incoming President of the Academy.

Over the past 20 years, Special Olympics, as the largest public health program for people with intellectual disabilities (ID), has identified and addressed the unmet health needs of individuals with ID through health screenings, education, and referrals for follow-up care, and fitness. One of the many challenges that individuals with ID face is in achieving and sustaining a healthy weight – a reality which not only has significant health implications, but also resulting in cost implications.

Special Olympics along with its partners recognizes the health disparities that people with ID face requires collective effort to overcome and is best addressed by working together with influential health leaders such as yourself. We feel that there will be mutual benefit from a forum in which we can share knowledge, ideas, evidence, tools and strategies which will help motivate you to join us in this inclusive health movement to ensure that all efforts in the field of healthy weight are inclusive of individuals with intellectual disabilities.

We would welcome the opportunity to talk with you directly about the Forum and answer any questions that you might have. As such we would appreciate your suggestions on a date and time towards the end of March that would be most convenient for you.

We hope that you're as excited about this opportunity as we are and look forward to receiving your confirmation of participation. Should you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out. We look forward to hearing back from you

Sincerely,

We ask that you share information with us about invitations you have accepted to present at affiliate, DPG, MIG and/or other organization meetings as Board members speaking on Academy activities and Academy-related business. In order to track the presentations, we request you please communicate to us any meetings you attend on behalf of the Academy by submitting the Board Representation at Meetings form. This electronic form can be completed by accessing the following link http://academybod.webauthor.com/go/form/form.cfm?xm_form_id=192 and is found on the Board portal in the black menu bar. The meeting reports on the portal can be viewed by clicking here and entering your Academy website username and password. Report recommendations have been forwarded to the appropriate organizational units and staff.

Board policies related to Board member representation at meetings are attached. Board members attending affiliate, DPG, MIG and/or other organization meetings should have all expenses reimbursed by the affiliate, DPG, MIG and/or other organization. In accordance with policy, Board members may not accept an honorarium or fee for representing the Academy or for presenting on Academy-related business or initiatives. You may, however, ask that the honorarium be sent in your name to the Foundation or PAC. Board members who present a continuing professional development session are entitled to receive compensation; the amount is of course negotiated between the organization and you.

If you are requested to present on a topic representing your expertise/practice area, you may want to suggest to the meeting organizers that you are also available to provide a separate Academy Update presentation. This update covers the Academy's initiatives and accomplishments on behalf of members and is refreshed after the first of the year. Also available is the Second Century Update presentation providing an overview of the Academy's Second Century initiative. You can access and download the new 2017 Academy Update presentation and the standalone Second Century Update from the Board portal by clicking here.

Hi,

To assist you in making the decision about the At-Large Student Delegate, I reached out to Hannah Phelps Proctor, the Committee Staff Partner for the Student Advisory Committee. Below are excerpts from our email conversation:

My understanding is that in the past the Vice Chair and delegate positions have been held by separate individuals. However, there is nothing in the Student Advisory Committee's operating procedure that would prevent this from happening.

My only concern about combining the Vice Chair and delegate positions is that it may be a large level of commitment for Students, who are more than likely new to volunteering with a national organization, such as the Academy, while still studying and completing their degree programs. There is some additional time commitment associated with the Student Advisory Committee Vice Chair role, along with the newly updated Vice Chair training. However, if this is the direction that the President-elect and Speaker-elect would like to move forward in, I don't see a problem with making it work.

The Vice Chair's role is to assist the Chair in carrying out his or her duties. The Vice Chair may be called upon to perform the duties of the Chair if the Chair is absent, or unable to complete his/her term. As such the Vice chair is asked to attend all pre-meeting phone calls to review the agenda and talking points for the upcoming meeting. The Vice Chair receives all preparatory and post-meeting drafts that are sent to the Chair for review. The Vice Chair is also encouraged to participate in the Vice Chair training each year.

Hope this helps you in deciding if you want to ask the Vice Chair to also serve as Delegate or not. Just let me know what you'd like to do.

Thank you,

Marsha

Marsha, Thanks for all your hard work in keeping us straight on this important task of committee appointments. I feel good about what we accomplished. I got home safe and sound and have spoken to the school board and have spoken to the Georgia Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and now am back at work.

To answer your questions:

1. In terms of the Quality Management committee I would suggest we remove Alexandra Kazaks as she was someone we picked that the Committee did not pick. Kimi McAdam is Asian and Nancy Walters is someone who lost from the ballot. Moira Faris I liked because she does malnutrition work, but my vote would be Moira or Alexandra. Alexandra had EAL background. Diane, you can choose between those two please.
2. Why don't we choose the vice-chair of the Student Advisory Committee to be the delegate so she will have a better perspective to chair the committee? Tatiana Munez and she is also Hispanic.
3. We can contact the interoperability committee once you find out answers on how many slots we have to fill.
4. I think this could easily be done over the phone also. With Mary Russell being from Chicago she could come to headquarters and they would just have to conference in Marcy Kyle. Marcy would appreciate not having to travel. I also agree with Penny that we do not need the Nominating Committee chair, as long as we have the list of who did not get elected.

Let me know if you need any more help.

Marsha:

Thanks for your hospitality and the special efforts of you and Charlene providing nourishments throughout the day. My return trip was uneventful and I am enjoying my Garrett treat!

I have no suggestions on modifying the process. My only comment would be do you really need to have the Nominating Committee Chair participate? She is a source of input on the candidates but the listing from the NC could just be shared with the President-elect and Speaker-elect for consideration. I think the process could be completed via a conference call considering everyone's full schedules at this time of the year. I think the actual input from staff in person was helpful but as Donna stated this could be done via telephone. Just some thoughts.

I enjoyed visiting and working with Donna and Dianne on this important task. I wish you both continued success with your efforts to complete this task but more important your upcoming office commitments. You will do a great job!

Hope you made it home safely and Donna I know your School Board meeting went well.

Best wishes to all.

Penny

Good afternoon,

A huge thank you to all three of you for weathering the storms to come to Chicago for an extremely productive and efficient Committee Appointments Meeting. I appreciate everyone taking the time to come to the meeting prepared with your recommendations. As one piece of housekeeping related to the meeting, please submit your expense reports for the meeting within the next week to your appropriate staff partner:

Penny: submit to Joan (Nominating Committee)

Donna: submit to Joan (Board of Directors)

Dianne: submit to Marsha/Anna (House Leadership Team)

If you ended up with your hotel room being charged to your personal credit card, please know that was a mistake and has already been corrected. So you don't need to submit for reimbursement of that expense as it is now being paid directly by the Academy. Our apologies for an mix-ups on that end.

So now Penny can stop reading as the remaining information is for Donna and Dianne.

I have checked, double-checked, and triple-checked the appointments listing before preparing Donna and Dianne to embark on contacting your identified appointees to invite them to serve. In doing so, I want to highlight a few appointments that require special attention:

1. BOD Liaison to ANDPAC: While the committee members serve January 1 – December 31, the BOD Liaison serves on the standard Academy program year (June 1 – May 31). So you do need to identify now a new BOD Liaison as the current person, Denice Ferko-Adams, is rotating off the Board. Perhaps this is an opportunity to use Milton Stokes, but obviously that is your decision to make.
2. Quality Management Committee: While officially you needed to appoint 6 individuals, since you decided to appoint someone rotating off the committee to serve as Vice Chair, you only need to appoint 5 people (yes, it does get confusing). Essentially you kept someone on the committee who was going to come off. So please review the list to determine who you want to shift to perhaps a back-up slot in case someone declines the invitation. Your choices are: Kimi McAdam, Nancy Walters, Alexandra Kazaks, and Moira Farris. This situation is exactly why we check everything before sending you off to make phone calls J.
3. Interoperability and Standards Committee: You'll see I noted to wait to contact anyone until later next week as hopefully I will be able to confirm whether it has been approved to add 2 slots to the committee (past chair, 1 new member).
4. HOD Bylaws Representative: Dianne needs to select someone
5. HOD Mentor/Mentee Program Co-Chair: Dianne needs to select someone
6. Student Advisory Committee: 1 person needs to be identified to serve as the At-Large Delegate, Student.

The following items are provided for your use in making contact with the individuals being appointed:

1. Contact Information for Appointees (email address and phone number) including length of each term of office and the position (Vice Chair, Member, BOD Liaison). Please remember that while the Vice Chair term is noted as 1 year, they will be expected to serve as Chair of the committee the following year (the only exception is for Student Advisory Committee). There are also some other notes that I thought might help you. I have attached the master list to show how I divided up the contact assignments. From there, Charlene created a separate excel spreadsheet for each of you with the contact information.
2. Template email for committee member and committee vice chair—simply fill in the blanks noted in yellow. You don't have to use this method for reaching out to individuals based on your preferred communication style. But it's offered as a tool in case you need it.
3. Committee descriptions: you can copy and paste this information into the template email or refer to it when calling individuals. If they ask you questions you cannot answer, feel free to refer them to the appropriate Committee Staff Partner (refer to the attached list).

Please make contact with these individuals as soon as possible. It would be great to have all the appointments confirmed by April 24—please keep this as our goal.

Let me know who accepts and who declines as I will keep track of this information. It's fine to send me emails as the results come in rather than waiting to do so all at once. Once everyone accepts (I'm being optimistic), I'll take care of sending out official appointment letters from you. I'll provide a sample letter for your edits/approval.

If you need any assistance with this process, please let me know. We are happy to assist as needed. Thanks!!

Marsha

Dear Donna,

We have received an invitation to the Dietitians of Canada National Conference scheduled for June 7-10 in St. Johns, NL. We don't attend every year but Lucille and I did go last year to Winnipeg. Their reps also do not attend FNCE on an annual bases but I'm sure they will come to celebrate our anniversary. Looking at your schedule, I do know you have a conflict because you will be speaking at the Arizona Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics affiliate meeting. It would mean 10+ travel hours for you to go. I am not attending at this point since it's a $1600 ticket.

Hi,

Thanks to both Donna and Penny for your input. The work never ends for busy leaders! I appreciate your feedback on both my specific questions as well as the process itself. I always support adjusting processes to meet current needs. I never operate under the premise of “that’s the way it has always been done.” Sometimes there is good reason for the way it has always been done and we want to respect those reasons. But sometimes it is just habit.

Thanks again,

Marsha

Marsha, Thanks for all your hard work in keeping us straight on this important task of committee appointments. I feel good about what we accomplished. I got home safe and sound and have spoken to the school board and have spoken to the Georgia Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and now am back at work.

To answer your questions:

1. In terms of the Quality Management committee I would suggest we remove Alexandra Kazaks as she was someone we picked that the Committee did not pick. Kimi McAdam is Asian and Nancy Walters is someone who lost from the ballot. Moira Faris I liked because she does malnutrition work, but my vote would be Moira or Alexandra. Alexandra had EAL background. Diane, you can choose between those two please.
 2. Why don't we choose the vice-chair of the Student Advisory Committee to be the delegate so she will have a better perspective to chair the committee? Tatiana Munez and she is also Hispanic.
 3. We can contact the interoperability committee once you find out answers on how many slots we have to fill.
 4. I think this could easily be done over the phone also. With Mary Russell being from Chicago she could come to headquarters and they would just have to conference in Marcy Kyle. Marcy would appreciate not having to travel. I also agree with Penny that we do not need the Nominating Committee chair, as long as we have the list of who did not get elected.
- Let me know if you need any more help.

Thanks for your hospitality and the special efforts of you and Charlene providing nourishments throughout the day. My return trip was uneventful and I am enjoying my Garrett treat!

I have no suggestions on modifying the process. My only comment would be do you really need to have the Nominating Committee Chair participate? She is a source of input on the candidates but the listing from the NC could just be shared with the President-elect and Speaker-elect for consideration. I think the process could be completed via a conference call considering everyone's full schedules at this time of the year. I think the actual input from staff in person was helpful but as Donna stated this could be done via telephone. Just some thoughts.

I enjoyed visiting and working with Donna and Dianne on this important task. I wish you both continued success with your efforts to complete this task but more important your upcoming office commitments. You will do a great job!

Hope you made it home safely and Donna I know your School Board meeting went well.

Best wishes to all.

Good afternoon,

A huge thank you to all three of you for weathering the storms to come to Chicago for an extremely productive and efficient Committee Appointments Meeting. I appreciate everyone taking the time to come to the meeting prepared with your recommendations. As one piece of housekeeping related to the meeting, please submit your expense reports for the meeting within the next week to your appropriate staff partner:

Penny: submit to Joan (Nominating Committee)

Donna: submit to Joan (Board of Directors)

Dianne: submit to Marsha/Anna (House Leadership Team)

If you ended up with your hotel room being charged to your personal credit card, please know that was a mistake and has already been corrected. So you don't need to submit for reimbursement of that expense as it is now being paid directly by the Academy. Our apologies for an mix-ups on that end.

So now Penny can stop reading as the remaining information is for Donna and Dianne.

I have checked, double-checked, and triple-checked the appointments listing before preparing Donna and Dianne to embark on contacting your identified appointees to invite them to serve. In doing so, I want to highlight a few appointments that require special attention:

1. BOD Liaison to ANDPAC: While the committee members serve January 1 – December 31, the BOD Liaison serves on the standard Academy program year (June 1 – May 31). So you do need to identify now a new BOD Liaison as the current person, Denise Ferko-Adams, is rotating off the Board. Perhaps this is an opportunity to use Milton Stokes, but obviously that is your decision to make.

2. Quality Management Committee: While officially you needed to appoint 6 individuals, since you decided to appoint someone rotating off the committee to serve as Vice Chair, you only need to appoint 5 people (yes, it does get confusing). Essentially you kept someone on the committee who was going to come off. So please review the list to determine who you want to shift to perhaps a back-up slot in case someone declines the invitation. Your choices are: Kimi McAdam, Nancy Walters, Alexandra Kazaks, and Moira Farris. This situation is exactly why we check everything before sending you off to make phone calls J.
3. Interoperability and Standards Committee: You'll see I noted to wait to contact anyone until later next week as hopefully I will be able to confirm whether it has been approved to add 2 slots to the committee (past chair, 1 new member).
4. HOD Bylaws Representative: Dianne needs to select someone
5. HOD Mentor/Mentee Program Co-Chair: Dianne needs to select someone
6. Student Advisory Committee: 1 person needs to be identified to serve as the At-Large Delegate, Student.

The following items are provided for your use in making contact with the individuals being appointed:

1. Contact Information for Appointees (email address and phone number) including length of each term of office and the position (Vice Chair, Member, BOD Liaison). Please remember that while the Vice Chair term is noted as 1 year, they will be expected to serve as Chair of the committee the following year (the only exception is for Student Advisory Committee). There are also some other notes that I thought might help you. I have attached the master list to show how I divided up the contact assignments. From there, Charlene created a separate excel spreadsheet for each of you with the contact information.
2. Template email for committee member and committee vice chair—simply fill in the blanks noted in yellow. You don't have to use this method for reaching out to individuals based on your preferred communication style. But it's offered as a tool in case you need it.
3. Committee descriptions: you can copy and paste this information into the template email or refer to it when calling individuals. If they ask you questions you cannot answer, feel free to refer them to the appropriate Committee Staff Partner (refer to the attached list).

Please make contact with these individuals as soon as possible. It would be great to have all the appointments confirmed by April 24—please keep this as our goal.

Let me know who accepts and who declines as I will keep track of this information. It's fine to send me emails as the results come in rather than waiting to do so all at once. Once everyone accepts (I'm being optimistic), I'll take care of sending out official appointment letters from you. I'll provide a sample letter for your edits/approval.

If you need any assistance with this process, please let me know. We are happy to assist as needed. Thanks!!

Good Morning!

Our final quarterly advocacy day will be held on May 1st in Washington, DC. We are planning to focus on health care and advocating for the inclusion of nutrition services in the AHCA.

Of course we would greatly benefit from your presence! Please let me know if you are able to attend. I would love to do a meet and greet with our members and all of you at the beginning of the day.

We anticipate a smaller group for this event that is focused on nutrition issues.

Thanks!

Dear Registered Dietitian Nutritionist:

Two weeks ago, we emailed you regarding a survey to examine registered dietitian nutritionists current practices and need for ongoing education/training on documenting the malnutrition diagnosis and performing nutrition focused physical exam. We will compare the responses received about two years ago in a similar survey. Whether or not you previously participated in the similar survey two years ago, you are eligible to participate in this survey.

We would like to remind you that the survey will be open for one more week, until Friday, March 24th, 2017. If you have not completed the survey, we would appreciate your responses. Marsha:

Thanks for your hospitality and the special efforts of you and Charlene providing nourishments throughout the day. My return trip was uneventful and I am enjoying my Garrett treat! I have no suggestions on modifying the process. My only comment would be do you really need to have the Nominating Committee Chair participate? She is a source of input on the candidates but the listing from the NC could just be shared with the President-elect and Speaker-elect for consideration. I think the process could be completed via a conference call considering everyone's full schedules at this time of the year. I think the actual input from staff in person was helpful but as Donna stated this could be done via telephone. Just some thoughts.

I enjoyed visiting and working with Donna and Dianne on this important task. I wish you both continued success with your efforts to complete this task but more important your upcoming office commitments. You will do a great job!

Hope you made it home safely and Donna I know your School Board meeting went well.

Best wishes to all.

Penny

Ms. Raimondi,

Good morning! Thank you so much for sharing this information with me. The first part of our assignment was due around March 3rd, so I'd actually already submitted it. But the great news is, the link you shared below is also where I'd found a significant portion of the information that I included in my position paper. Also, after spring break, we will receive feedback on our assignment with an opportunity to correct and improve our grades; once I receive that feedback, I'll be sure to contact you again with any questions or concerns I may have.

I apologize about the delayed response, but I did want to inform you that I had received your email and to thank you for sharing the links. I'm at least grateful to know that the information I used was suggested and accurate.

Thank you again for everything Ms. Raimondi and I'll be in touch very soon.

Good afternoon,

A huge thank you to all three of you for weathering the storms to come to Chicago for an extremely productive and efficient Committee Appointments Meeting. I appreciate everyone taking the time to come to the meeting prepared with your recommendations. As one piece of housekeeping related to the meeting, please submit your expense reports for the meeting within the next week to your appropriate staff partner:

Penny: submit to Joan (Nominating Committee)

Donna: submit to Joan (Board of Directors)

Dianne: submit to Marsha/Anna (House Leadership Team)

If you ended up with your hotel room being charged to your personal credit card, please know that was a mistake and has already been corrected. So you don't need to submit for reimbursement of that expense as it is now being paid directly by the Academy. Our apologies for an mix-ups on that end.

So now Penny can stop reading as the remaining information is for Donna and Dianne.

I have checked, double-checked, and triple-checked the appointments listing before preparing Donna and Dianne to embark on contacting your identified appointees to invite them to serve. In doing so, I want to highlight a few appointments that require special attention:

1. BOD Liaison to ANDPAC: While the committee members serve January 1 – December 31, the BOD Liaison serves on the standard Academy program year (June 1 – May 31). So you do need to identify now a new BOD Liaison as the current person, Denice Ferko-Adams, is rotating off the Board. Perhaps this is an opportunity to use Milton Stokes, but obviously that is your decision to make.
2. Quality Management Committee: While officially you needed to appoint 6 individuals, since you decided to appoint someone rotating off the committee to serve as Vice Chair, you only need to appoint 5 people (yes, it does get confusing). Essentially you kept someone on the committee who was going to come off. So please review the list to determine who you want to shift to perhaps a back-up slot in case someone declines the invitation. Your choices are: Kimi McAdam, Nancy Walters, Alexandra Kazaks, and Moira Farris. This situation is exactly why we check everything before sending you off to make phone calls J.
3. Interoperability and Standards Committee: You'll see I noted to wait to contact anyone until later next week as hopefully I will be able to confirm whether it has been approved to add 2 slots to the committee (past chair, 1 new member).
4. HOD Bylaws Representative: Dianne needs to select someone
5. HOD Mentor/Mentee Program Co-Chair: Dianne needs to select someone
6. Student Advisory Committee: 1 person needs to be identified to serve as the At-Large Delegate, Student.

The following items are provided for your use in making contact with the individuals being appointed:

1. Contact Information for Appointees (email address and phone number) including length of each term of office and the position (Vice Chair, Member, BOD Liaison). Please remember that while the Vice Chair term is noted as 1 year, they will be expected to serve as Chair of the committee the following year (the only exception is for Student Advisory Committee). There are also some other notes that I thought might help you. I have attached the master list to show how I divided up the contact assignments. From there, Charlene created a separate excel spreadsheet for each of you with the contact information.
2. Template email for committee member and committee vice chair—simply fill in the blanks noted in yellow. You don't have to use this method for reaching out to individuals based on your preferred communication style. But it's offered as a tool in case you need it.

3. Committee descriptions: you can copy and paste this information into the template email or refer to it when calling individuals. If they ask you questions you cannot answer, feel free to refer them to the appropriate Committee Staff Partner (refer to the attached list).

2612. NDEP Eastern Region Meeting - Hotel Accommodation Change

Subject: NDEP Eastern Region Meeting - Hotel Accommodation Change
Attachment: unknown_name_gyxof

Dear NDEP Members Registered or Planning to Register for the EASTERN REGION MEETING:

We have just been notified that the Embassy Suites Baltimore Inner Harbor will be undergoing extensive renovations during our NDEP Eastern Region Meeting. These renovations include all sleeping rooms, but not meeting space which is at The Grand (225 N. Charles St.).

The Embassy Suites has agreed to move all of our hotel reservations to the brand new Delta by Marriott Baltimore Inner Harbor Hotel (1 E Redwood St.). This hotel recently opened in January as an upscale Marriott brand, and is located just 2 blocks away from The Grand.
www.deltahotelsbaltimore.com Please see attached document for details regarding amenities offered at The Grand.

The Delta will be honoring all the benefits you would have received at the Embassy Suites - providing the same breakfast and evening reception service, and of course honoring the NDEP sleeping room rate. Although the hotel is only 2 blocks from the meeting space at The Grand, the Delta will be providing NDEP attendees complimentary shuttle service to and from The Grand.

Lastly, we know how important your hotel points are to you. The Delta will give you either Hilton (Embassy Suites) or Marriott (Delta) points – please let them know at check-in. By the end of the week your reservation will be transferred to the Delta and you will receive a new confirmation email.

Please contact ndep@eatright.org with any questions or concerns.

Thank you!

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Academy Announces Opposition to American Health Care Act

The Academy announced on March 13 that it opposes the American Health Care Act now being considered by Congress. In a letter to the chairmen and ranking members of the House Ways and Means and Energy and Commerce Committees, President Lucille Beseler, MS, RDN, LDN, CDE, FAND, said the current version of the bill "fails to improve the health of all Americans" and will "worsen patient care and public health."

New Report and March 22 Webinar: Members Making Schools Into Community Nutrition Hubs

Share Our Strength's "No Kid Hungry" campaign highlighted many Academy school nutrition leaders in a new report, including President-elect Donna Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND; Marla Caplon, RD, LD; Lora Gilbert, MS, RD, FADA, SNS; and Jill Kidd, MS, RD, SNS. The report, Schools as Nutrition Hubs, notes school nutrition directors' successes providing children with access to the full range of programs including breakfast, food served after the bell, lunch, after-school suppers and summer meals. Schools at Community Nutrition Hubs are particularly critical in low-income neighborhoods, where students rely heavily on school meals to meet basic nutrition needs. A March 22 interactive webinar will provide more information on these efforts.

Camille Range asked that I share this article she wrote with future public member, Gus Schumacher. They have been working on this project for the past few months and wanted to share the final product with the Board. I have attached the link where the article is published (Farmers Market Coalition) and the word document. Thanks.

DC's Greenline Real Estate LLC Backs Petworth Farmers Market

By Gus Schumacher and Camille Range

DC's GreenLine

Real Estate LLC has found a unique way to attract customers in the District of Columbia's fast-growing Ward 4.

They have set up a vendor's tent at the popular Petworth Community Farmers Market.

"It's great for our business," says Hassan Symes, one of the agents that mans the tent. The agents get a chance to meet more potential customers—more than 15,000 came by in 2016 to buy fresh-picked, local fresh fruits and vegetables.

But the GreenLine agents aren't just drumming up business, but trying to boost the neighborhood too. They provide all kinds of support at the market, from promotion and outreach efforts to helping manage programs for low-income and elderly shoppers.

Symes said participating in the local farmers market is one way GreenLine believes it can increase community involvement in the greater Petworth community. The real estate firm also donates its new homeowner administrative fees to local community health organizations, including Mary's Center and Green Door Mental Health Clinic.

Ellen Root, Chief Development Officer at Mary's Center complimented GreenLine Real Estate as "a hands-on, community-minded organization who's donations to Mary's Center help move the needle in providing comprehensive healthcare, education and social services to the children and families of the Petworth community."

The DC metro area is known for its active and innovation collaborations with local farmers, government, non-profit groups, health organizations and residents to operate its 55 farmers markets. For instance, there is a robust VeggieRX prescription program for at risk residents to get a "prescription" from their doctor for free fruits and vegetables at a farmer's market.

There's also an innovative DC Produce Plus program, that provides weekly $10 checks to eligible shoppers to spend at the markets.

The latter program was particularly popular at Petworth last year, with long lines when the market opened for $10 weekly produce checks. In just ten weeks, some 1,600 DC Produce Plus clients used their cards to purchase $16,075 in fresh fruits and vegetables at the Petworth Farmers Market.

Farmers were pleased with the extra income. Petworth customers also invested money from federal nutrition programs like SNAP and WIC, adding some $4,300 to farmers bank accounts.

Despite sporadic partnerships like GreenLine's tent, participation from for-profit companies like developers and real-estate agents remains low at area markets.

As the District of Columbia rapidly changes – with construction cranes rising monthly and new developments happening across the city—it is critical to consider how food is included as neighborhoods evolve. It is also imperative that local governments and developers consider how low-income residents fit into that planning.

The Greater Petworth area is one example, as it is growing rapidly due to construction of high-rise condominiums and offices. But there remains limited accessibility to stores providing quality, affordable healthy food options for low-income families.

In Ward 5 and Ward 7, Community Foodworks, a DC non-profit organization (www.cfwdc.org) has leveraged the interest and funding from local DC Real Estate developers to increase their impact in the community, to serve hundreds of low-income residents making affordable, healthy accessible food available to them.

As farmers prepare for another fruitful season in 2017, neighborhood groups like Petworth Community Market Inc., GreenLine Real Estate LLC, and real estate developers supporting Community Food Works farmers markets are examples other real-estate firms and developers in DC and around the country could emulate in providing access to healthy, affordable local produce in underserved neighborhoods and strengthening community bonds.

The Academy's publications staff evaluated usage of the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (Journal) in late 2016. As in previous years, data shows that the majority of members prefer to use the electronic Journal when researching topics versus the print Journal when reading articles. According to Journal reader surveys, our Student members mainly use the Journal for research, whether it be for school work or when writing research papers. This is consistent with the shift in schools from traditional textbooks and paper to electronic resources. This knowledge led to negotiations with Journal publisher Elsevier, enabling the Academy to offer the electronic only Journal option to all Student members. We believe this is a good strategic decision.

As you may know, Student membership with the Academy includes electronic access to the Journal. Whether using the Journal's iOS and Android apps, electronic access offers Academy members exclusive digital and mobile functionality as well as online exclusives such as new content alerts, Articles in Press (online ahead of print), Editor's Podcasts and author podcasts, educational slides, curated topic collections, flipbooks, and fully searchable issues dating back to 1993.

By evaluating the marketplace and negotiating with our vendor, the Academy was able to maintain student dues as the lowest possible level while providing an e-Journal platform for their use.

Beginning in the 2017-2018 membership year, Students wishing to receive a mailed, hard copy Journal in addition to their existing electronic subscriptions may upgrade to a new Student Plus option for an additional cost of $22 per year (a total of $80). This shift will save the Academy nearly $100,000 annually.

You are correct, we do not encourage attendance. The leadership presence is there to impress Porter Novelli clients and to promote their products or to seek your and or spokesperson (hopefully past spokespersons) input. I am not attending.

Greetings,

For two decades, Food 3000 - Porter Novelli's signature annual meeting designed specifically for food and nutrition communicators - has been the premier forum to examine trends, policies, and research that impact the food and nutrition industries. Each year, this extraordinary event brings together seasoned professionals from nutrition, culinary, food retail and food technology perspectives to drive discussion and ultimately inspire positive change.

Food 3000's 20th anniversary meeting will focus on the theme of Food Futurecasting—The Exciting, The Innovative and The Yet-To-Be with The Future Hunters' Edie Weiner guiding us through this stimulating conversation. Together, we will explore how the world of food and nutrition has evolved over 20 years, and where we will go from here.

On its 20th anniversary, Food 3000 will disrupt and inspire while we are immersed in the food-centric, sustainable and innovative culture in Copenhagen, Denmark, August 11-15, 2017. Join us while we greet the future of food – with forks and spoons at the ready.

Please do not hesitate to reach out with any questions.

Hi Lucille, Donna and Mary,

Hope you are all doing well. Here is Porter Novelli's invitation to attend Food 3000 in Copehagen. This meeting is independent of the Academy and you are invited to attend as an RDN.

Please let me know if you are interested in attending by March 17. Also, please do not hesitate to let me know have any questions or need additional information.

Best regards,

Doris

Greetings,

For two decades, Food 3000 - Porter Novelli's signature annual meeting designed specifically for food and nutrition communicators - has been the premier forum to examine trends, policies, and research that impact the food and nutrition industries. Each year, this extraordinary event brings together seasoned professionals from nutrition, culinary, food retail and food technology perspectives to drive discussion and ultimately inspire positive change.

Food 3000's 20th anniversary meeting will focus on the theme of Food Futurecasting—The Exciting, The Innovative and The Yet-To-Be with The Future Hunters' Edie Weiner guiding us through this stimulating conversation. Together, we will explore how the world of food and nutrition has evolved over 20 years, and where we will go from here.

On its 20th anniversary, Food 3000 will disrupt and inspire while we are immersed in the food-centric, sustainable and innovative culture in Copenhagen, Denmark, August 11-15, 2017. Join us while we greet the future of food – with forks and spoons at the ready.

Please do not hesitate to reach out with any questions.

Subject: Electronic Journal of Student Members Announcement
Attachment: image001.png

The Academy's publications staff evaluated usage of the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (Journal) in late 2016. As in previous years, data shows that the majority of members prefer to use the electronic Journal when researching topics versus the print Journal when reading articles. According to Journal reader surveys, our Student members mainly use the Journal for research, whether it be for school work or when writing research papers. This is consistent with the shift in schools from traditional textbooks and paper to electronic resources. This knowledge led to negotiations with Journal publisher Elsevier, enabling the Academy to offer the electronic only Journal option to all Student members. We believe this is a good strategic decision.

As you may know, Student membership with the Academy includes electronic access to the Journal. Whether using the Journal's iOS and Android apps, electronic access offers Academy members exclusive digital and mobile functionality as well as online exclusives such as new content alerts, Articles in Press (online ahead of print), Editor's Podcasts and author podcasts, educational slides, curated topic collections, flipbooks, and fully searchable issues dating back to

By evaluating the marketplace and negotiating with our vendor, the Academy was able to maintain student dues as the lowest possible level while providing an e-Journal platform for their use.

Beginning in the 2017-2018 membership year, Students wishing to receive a mailed, hard copy Journal in addition to their existing electronic subscriptions may upgrade to a new Student Plus option for an additional cost of $22 per year (a total of $80). This shift will save the Academy nearly $100,000 annually.

Pat

Dear OCAN Advocacy Day Attendees,

A big thank you for your advocacy work on February 27 on Capitol Hill! The day was a huge success because of your work. As we continue to look at increased advocacy efforts, we are asking for your assistance with evaluating the advocacy day. We have developed an evaluation survey to collect your comments which will be used to improve future advocacy days, click here to take the survey which should take no more than 5 minutes to complete..

A thank you video has also been creating using the pictures from the day. Enjoy viewing the OCAN Advocacy Day Thank You Video! Please share the video with others.

If you have not sent a personal message your Senators and Representative about the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, please consider sending a letter today. Each of the attendees are welcome to use the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics action alert center. The action alert message can be edited if you would like to add your personal message, change the name of the organization you represent or thank your member of Congress for agreeing to be a co-sponsor. Click on Action Center to begin the process.

We cannot thank you enough for your advocacy efforts! If you have any questions, please let us know.

We look forward to working with you again.

NEW Action Alert: Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

The Academy opened an action alert today asking members of Congress to Please Co-Sponsor a Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. Here is what you can do:

1. Take the Action Alert and encourage all affiliate, DPG and MIG leaders and public policy team members to do the same.
2. Send an eblast message to your affiliate, DPG or MIG membership on Wednesday, March 15 asking them to send letters to their Senators and Representatives and post the message to your electronic mailing list. The follow approved message should be used:

Dear Colleague,

To honor National Nutrition Month 2017, a congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial was introduced on March 1, in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives.

Help build more support in Congress for our resolution. Ask your members of Congress to sign on and recognize our Academy and our profession. The Academy's Centennial website contains a wealth of background information that may be helpful in gaining their support.

Each of the resolution's original sponsors is from Ohio, where our Academy was founded in 1917. The Senate sponsors are Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi.

Special Note for Ohio: Instead of asking these members of Congress to co-sponsor, please edit the action alert message to thanking them for their support!

Click here to take action. It takes only a few minutes! The Academy is counting on you to send a letter today.

Your RDN friend,

Insert your name and title

Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Announces Opposition to American Health Care Act

On March 13, the Academy sent a press release to the media regarding its opposition to the American Health Care Act. Last Friday, the Academy sent a letter to the leaders of the U.S. House Energy and Commerce and Ways and Means Committees. The press release can be found by clicking here.

Social media will follow this issue so if you are connected to the various platforms, please be sure to share the information. Please use these tweets to share the position of the Academy on the American Health Care Act.

.@eatrightPRO cannot support a healthcare law that doesn't include disease prevention and care throughout life for all Americans. #AHCA

.@eatrightPRO opposes healthcare legislation that would reverse disease prevention & chronic care management. <http://sm.eatright.org/AHCApr> #AHCA

Our next steps include:

1. A communication to members of Congress sharing the Academy's position.
2. An action alert campaign, watch for more information next week.
3. A template letter for each affiliate board of Directors to send to members of Congress. Watch for details next week.

Treat and Reduce Obesity Act – Action Alert Remains Open!

As of today, 4,479 Academy members sent 14,765 letters to Members of Congress. In the last 2 weeks Academy members have reached 534 Members of Congress. This is great work! Please continue to urge your affiliate, DPG and MIG membership to take action by utilizing the Action Center.

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 action alert are posted in the Public Policy Panel COI. The reports are located in the March 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 March subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the PPC COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

Scheduling Your Meetings with Members of Congress

Affiliate policy leaders, DPG/MIG PALs and other members will be meeting with members of Congress in their district staff during the month of March and April. The webinar recording will assist policy leaders and members for these important Congressional in-district visits. The Leave Behind, Issue Brief and Talking Points are included in the tool kit for the Obesity Quarterly Advocacy Day. You will find these resources in the Obesity Advocacy Day subtopic folder in the Quarterly Advocacy Days topic. A new obesity info-graphic for each state is also available in the Obesity Info-graphic subtopic folder.

The reports of the number of Academy members by state who have responded to the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 action alert is posted in the Public Policy Panel COI library in the 2017 Participation Reports subtopic in the Participation topic.

Can we count on you to join the affiliate policy team momentum to fight obesity by meeting with your U.S. members of Congress or their district/state staff in March and April? Please be sure to submit your pictures and meeting reports to me.

Here is a thank you video that was created and will be shared with the attendees of the February 27th Obesity Advocacy Day in Washington, D.C. Click here to enjoy the pictures from the event!

Registration Open for OAC's 6th Annual Your Weight Matters National Convention

The Obesity Action Coalition (OAC) is excited to announce that registration for the 6th Annual Your Weight Matters National Convention is now open! Set for New Orleans, August 10-13, YWM2017 promises to once again deliver an incredible agenda designed to help people wanting to learn more about their weight and health. With topics such as, "Changing My Weight Destiny: Can I Choose a Diet that Better Matches My Biology?," "The Secret Life of Pets and Human Obesity" and much more, the YWM2017 program agenda is sure to captivate all those in attendance. In addition to an amazing agenda, the OAC will also offer up to 18 CE credits for nurses and some health professionals. Learn more about YWM2017 and register today by visiting www.YWMConvention.com!

Register Now: Public Policy Workshop

There has never been a better time to show the important role food and nutrition play in our nation's health: Attend the world's largest food and nutrition policy and advocacy summit, the Academy's Public Policy Workshop, June 25 to 26, in Washington, D.C. Exciting changes make this year's PPW the "go-to" event to sharpen your communication skills, advocate for the profession and develop new high-level personal and professional relationships. Click here to learn more about Public Policy Workshop.

As of today, 36 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

As of today, 17 DPGs and 3 MIGs have submitted the name of the Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG PAL whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017. Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

Greetings,

For two decades, Food 3000 - Porter Novelli's signature annual meeting designed specifically for food and nutrition communicators - has been the premier forum to examine trends, policies, and research that impact the food and nutrition industries. Each year, this extraordinary event brings together seasoned professionals from nutrition, culinary, food retail and food technology perspectives to drive discussion and ultimately inspire positive change.

NEW Action Alert: Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

The Academy opened an action alert today asking members of Congress to Please Co-Sponsor a Resolution Recognizing 100th Anniversary of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. Here is what you can do:

1. Take the Action Alert and encourage all affiliate, DPG and MIG leaders and public policy team members to do the same.
2. Send an eblast message to your affiliate, DPG or MIG membership on Wednesday, March 15 asking them to send letters to their Senators and Representatives and post the message to your electronic mailing list. The follow approved message should be used:

Dear Colleague,

To honor National Nutrition Month 2017, a congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial was introduced on March 1, in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives.

Help build more support in Congress for our resolution. Ask your members of Congress to sign on and recognize our Academy and our profession. The Academy's Centennial website contains a wealth of background information that may be helpful in gaining their support.

Each of the resolution's original sponsors is from Ohio, where our Academy was founded in 1917. The Senate sponsors are Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi.

Special Note for Ohio: Instead of asking these members of Congress to co-sponsor, please edit the action alert message to thanking them for their support!

Click here to take action. It takes only a few minutes! The Academy is counting on you to send a letter today.

Your RDN friend,

Insert your name and title

Insert your affiliate or DPG name

1. Please encourage all board members, committee members, colleagues and friends to complete the action alert. Thank you for activating your membership.
2. Tweets of the Week! Please thank our champions, Reps Tiberi and Fudge, and Senators Portman and Brown for introducing a resolution to celebrate the Academy's Centennial. Please retweet or create your own THANK YOU to these members of Congress. Check out the Thank You Photos!

1. We will provide action alert participation reports next Tuesday.

Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Announces Opposition to American Health Care Act

On March 13, the Academy sent a press release to the media regarding its opposition to the American Health Care Act. Last Friday, the Academy sent a letter to the leaders of the U.S. House Energy and Commerce and Ways and Means Committees. The press release can be found by clicking here.

Social media will follow this issue so if you are connected to the various platforms, please be sure to share the information. Please use these tweets to share the position of the Academy on the American Health Care Act.

.@eatrightPRO cannot support a healthcare law that doesn't include disease prevention and care throughout life for all Americans. #AHCA

.@eatrightPRO opposes healthcare legislation that would reverse disease prevention & chronic care management. <http://sm.eatright.org/AHCApr> #AHCA

Our next steps include:

1. A communication to members of Congress sharing the Academy's position.
2. An action alert campaign, watch for more information next week.
3. A template letter for each affiliate board of Directors to send to members of Congress. Watch for details next week.

Treat and Reduce Obesity Act – Action Alert Remains Open!

As of today, 4,479 Academy members sent 14,765 letters to Members of Congress. In the last 2 weeks Academy members have reached 534 Members of Congress. This is great work! Please continue to urge your affiliate, DPG and MIG membership to take action by utilizing the Action Center.

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 action alert are posted in the Public Policy Panel COI. The reports are located in the March 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 March subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the PPC COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

Scheduling Your Meetings with Members of Congress

Affiliate policy leaders, DPG/MIG PALs and other members will be meeting with members of Congress in their district staff during the month of March and April. The webinar recording will assist policy leaders and members for these important Congressional in-district visits. The Leave Behind, Issue Brief and Talking Points are included in the tool kit for the Obesity Quarterly Advocacy Day. You will find these resources in the Obesity Advocacy Day subtopic folder in the Quarterly Advocacy Days topic. A new obesity info-graphic for each state is also available in the Obesity Info-graphic subtopic folder.

The reports of the number of Academy members by state who have responded to the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 action alert is posted in the Public Policy Panel COI library in the 2017 Participation Reports subtopic in the Participation topic.

Can we count on you to join the affiliate policy team momentum to fight obesity by meeting with your U.S. members of Congress or their district/state staff in March and April? Please be sure to submit your pictures and meeting reports to me.

Here is a thank you video that was created and will be shared with the attendees of the February 27th Obesity Advocacy Day in Washington, D.C. Click here to enjoy the pictures from the event!

March Public Policy Forum

Join the open forum to hear public policy coordinators share their "Success Stories for Increasing Member Engagement". Our speakers will be Susan Scott, MS, RDN, LD from Alabama, Lesley McPhatter, MS, RD, CSR from Virginia and Lacey McCormack PhD, MPH, RD, LN, EP-C from South Dakota. The March Public Policy Forum will be held on Tuesday, March 21, 2017 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Register today for the March Public Policy Open Forum. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend (please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Registration Open for OAC's 6th Annual Your Weight Matters National Convention

The Obesity Action Coalition (OAC) is excited to announce that registration for the 6th Annual Your Weight Matters National Convention is now open! Set for New Orleans, August 10-13, YWM2017 promises to once again deliver an incredible agenda designed to help people wanting to learn more about their weight and health. With topics such as, "Changing My Weight Destiny: Can I Choose a Diet that Better Matches My Biology?," "The Secret Life of Pets and Human Obesity" and much more, the YWM2017 program agenda is sure to captivate all those in attendance. In addition to an amazing agenda, the OAC will also offer up to 18 CE credits for nurses and some health professionals. Learn more about YWM2017 and register today by visiting www.YWMConvention.com!

Register Now: Public Policy Workshop

There has never been a better time to show the important role food and nutrition play in our nation's health: Attend the world's largest food and nutrition policy and advocacy summit, the Academy's Public Policy Workshop, June 25 to 26, in Washington, D.C. Exciting changes make this year's PPW the "go-to" event to sharpen your communication skills, advocate for the profession and develop new high-level personal and professional relationships. Click here to learn more about Public Policy Workshop.

As of today, 36 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

As of today, 17 DPGs and 3 MIGs have submitted the name of the Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG PAL whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017. Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

We are ready to go! The resolution in Congress to recognize our 100th Anniversary has now been introduced in both chambers. I am asking you as member leader to send a personal email to your members of Congress asking their support. A draft email is attached along with a spreadsheet with the contact names and email addresses.

Please feel free to revise the email in any way realizing that many of you have personal relationships with your member.

I would appreciate if you would forward the responses you receive from your members

If you have any questions, please let me know. Thank you for your leadership!

Hi Lucille, Donna and Mary,

Hope you are all doing well. Here is Porter Novelli's invitation to attend Food 3000 in Copehagen. This meeting is independent of the Academy and you are invited to attend as an RDN.

Please let me know if you are interested in attending by March 17. Also, please do not hesitate to let me know have any questions or need additional information.

Best regards,

Doris

March 10, 2017

Greetings,

For two decades, Food 3000 - Porter Novelli's signature annual meeting designed specifically for food and nutrition communicators - has been the premier forum to examine trends, policies, and research that impact the food and nutrition industries. Each year, this extraordinary event brings together seasoned professionals from nutrition, culinary, food retail and food technology perspectives to drive discussion and ultimately inspire positive change.

Food 3000's 20th anniversary meeting will focus on the theme of Food Futurecasting—The Exciting, The Innovative and The Yet-To-Be with The Future Hunters' Edie Weiner guiding us through this stimulating conversation. Together, we will explore how the world of food and nutrition has evolved over 20 years, and where we will go from here.

On its 20th anniversary, Food 3000 will disrupt and inspire while we are immersed in the food-centric, sustainable and innovative culture in Copenhagen, Denmark, August 11-15, 2017. Join us while we greet the future of food – with forks and spoons at the ready.

Please do not hesitate to reach out with any questions.

Sincerely,

Michael DeAngelis

The Academy is exploring the need for a new text/professional resource that addresses Nutrition Communication—from assessing audience needs, to crafting meaningful, evidence-based messages, to selecting and utilizing appropriate channels.

To help determine the content areas and depth of coverage needed by educators, we are asking for your input, as well as your interest in being involved as a contributor and/or reviewer. The survey should take no more than 10-15 minutes. Please feel free to share this survey with any colleagues involved in nutrition communication.

The Coding and Billing Handbook

A Guide for Program Directors and Preceptors

Has Been Updated!

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Nutrition Services Coverage Committee is happy to announce that the Coding and Billing Handbook – A Guide for Program Directors and Preceptors has been updated. This electronic resource (free to Academy members and $40 for non-members) has been widely utilized and is designed to be used in a wide variety of clinical practice settings.

Reviewed and tested by educators, preceptors and dietetic interns, the Handbook serves as a tool to:

- * Help supervised practice programs meet the DI/CP Standard: participate in coding and billing of dietetic/nutrition services to obtain reimbursement for services from public and private insurers.

- * Provide the foundation knowledge and basic terms for coding and billing for nutrition services, sample case studies and recommended resources for use with dietetic interns. Visit eatrightSTORE to download your free copy of this valuable resource. If you have not had an opportunity to use this resource—now is the time!

We value your continued input and look forward to hearing back from you regarding your experience with using this tool. Please make sure to complete the survey that is noted at the end of the Handbook. For questions about the Handbook, please contact reimburse@eatright.org.

Hello AIND Members,

The goals and member benefits offered by the Academy's Member Interest Communities (MIGs) are determined based on the needs and interest of you – our members. We want your feedback about how we are doing and how we can continue to improve.

Please take a few moments to submit your feedback via survey. Your responses will help to determine:

- What you value most,
- How your MIG can help you be more successful in your career,
- What resources you need, and
- How to improve diversity efforts within the Academy and the profession.

Access the survey - <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/D2PW8JT>

AIND, CADN and FADAN share a common goal of meeting the needs of cultural communities in the Asian and Pacific Islands region. The Academy and MIG leaders are planning for the groups to collaborate together as one community in the future. Your feedback will help identify ways to leverage the similarities between the groups to achieve stronger communities together.

Our MIGs exist because of you and we appreciate your time and engagement. The survey will be open until Friday, March 31. If you have any questions please contact Manju Karkare, manjukarkare@gmail.com.

Hi Donna,

We received your file with a note stating "no pictures." Do you plan to submit a second version with the pictures or should we have this one to show in the room and to release to the participants? Have a good weekend.

Instructions to upload your presentation file is included below.

1. Go to www.cdrnet.org
2. To login choose the "Login" option on the upper right-hand side of the page.
 1. Sign-in using your Academy/CDR username and password.
 2. On the purple banner, hover over the "Portal" option on the right-hand side and choose the "Library" option from the drop-down menu.

3. Click on the “2017 Childhood Faculty PowerPoint Files and Handouts” link located to the left.
4. Click on the “Upload Multiple Files” link located in the gray menu bar.
5. Scroll down to the bottom of the grey area and click on “add files” button (lower left side)
6. Browse for your file.
7. Click open.
8. To add another file choose “Add Files” button again to add another file to the list.
9. When you have all the files that you would like to add, click on the “Start Upload” button (lower left side). When upload had finished press “Continue.”
10. Don’t pay attention to the list of folder. Just stroll down to the bottom of the page and click on “Complete Upload” bar.
11. When you are done, please logout (upper right hand corner).

Thank you.

Hey Donna,

I know that you are bringing your PowerPoint with you to the program. Did you include any polling questions? If so, would it be possible for you to get those to me now? I would need time to get those up in the polling system.

Thank you.

ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS members,

I wanted to give you an update regarding the American Health Care Act and the Academy's statement. Last Friday, a letter was sent to leaders of the Energy and Commerce and Ways and Means Committees as was outlined on my previous communication. I am attaching the letter for your review.

In addition, this information has been translated into a press release that was sent out this morning to the media. We will have information in this week's PPWN and Eat Right Weekly communications including a link to the press release. Social media will follow so if you are connected to the various platforms, please be sure to share the information.

Our next steps include:

1. A communication to members of Congress sharing the letter and our position.
2. An action alert campaign.
3. A template letter for affiliates to send to members of Congress.

We are in the process of asking members to participate on the health reform task force. If you have recommendations, please share those with Lorri or me as soon as possible.

Please let me know if you have any questions!

Best Regards,
Jeanne

Dear Academy members and Registered Dietitian Nutritionists,

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics is working with the Diabetes Care and Education (DCE) Dietetic Practice Group (DPG) to assess RDNs knowledge of diabetes and practice. We are looking for RDNs in ALL practice areas and at ALL experience levels that counsel patients with diabetes. This anonymous survey will take approximately 15-20 minutes to complete and will ask questions about your knowledge of RDN scope of practice in diabetes, medical nutrition therapy and its application to diabetes practice, and identification of professional development needs for the RDN. Your responses will help to inform the development of a certificate of training program in diabetes.

The survey will be open until April 3, 2017, and we would appreciate your responses. This survey can be completed in multiple sittings but you must return using the same computer. Complete the survey at: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/DCE2017CoT>

At the conclusion of this survey, you will have the opportunity to enter into a drawing for one of four $100 American Express gift cards.

Please direct any questions to dpbrn@eatright.org.

Thank you for your participation.

Lucille and Donna:

As you know, I have been representing the Academy on the Alliance for a Healthier Generations' Voices for Healthy Kids School Health Policy Consortium Steering Committee and Nutrition Workgroup.

They have just invited the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics to join them as a partner in the #WellnessWins campaign during April. The different levels of partner commitment are outline below and in the attachment.

- I vote in favor of the engaging at the GOLD level.
- I am willing to take responsibility for the social media aspects of the program, including hosting a Twitter chat.
- I am also willing to write about items to share with Academy members as appropriate.

Just let me know how you would like to proceed and we can go from there.

Best from Brazil ... slowly making my way home from an incredible African vacation!

Hi Dayle,

I hope you are doing well! As you know from the February SHPC meeting, we previewed the Wellness Wins campaign launching on April 17. We would love to engage the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics as a campaign partner/supporter. The attached brief provides an overview of the campaign, and outlines the three different levels of partner commitment. We hope partners can find an engagement level/activity that works best for them. In addition to the traditional engagement strategies, some unique engagement ideas for AND might include:

- Share campaign over social media/utilizing Dayle's very robust/active following
- Feature on the parents sections of the EatRight website
- Other ideas unique to AND?

Please let me know if you have any questions after reviewing the brief. We are open to all engagement ideas. Lastly, please let me know your organizations' commitment level by Friday, March 17.

Thank you,

Renee

Donna this is a conversation with a long time friend looking for a new path. She is very engaged Academy member, past affiliate president, DPG chair and innovative and creative. Here is my response that might be a win for Gus and us. :-) maybe reach out to Gus? Seems like wholesome wave is doing great but I think they could use a RDN?

MP says...

Response...

Interesting. I work very closely with Wholesome Wave and my contact there has told the team I would like to be their contact on the ground in Northern New England. They like the idea but need to find funding. I can reach out to Gus, where were you thinking they needed an RDN? In the policy area or the program area?

MP response...

He just hired Josh Wach for policy. Nice guy who I worked with.

But with Gus now on our Foundation Board and increasing funding, it would make sense to have a RDN. Who develops any nutrition education materials? Is that a gap? Can a RDN help be the link to the health community?

Or to promote research in this area and work with other researchers

I know you know him well so you would be the ideal person to be on their staff. I would go to him directly

Donna, I will keep you posted on this front. Could be a nice win/win!

Hope all is well.

Dear Academy Leaders,

Thank you very much for participating in the selection process for the 2017-2020 Academy Spokespeople. Our Spokesperson appointments for 2017-2020 ensure that the Academy will be represented in the news media by registered dietitian nutritionists who are experts at conveying the Academy's healthful eating messages.

Here are the seven Spokespeople who are returning to the program for another three-year term:

- Torey Jones Armul, MS, RD, CSSD, LDN (Columbus, Ohio)
- Marina Chaparro, MPH, RD, CDE, LDN (Miami, FL. – Latino Nutrition)
- Jessica Crandall, RDN, CDE, AFAA (Denver, Colo.)
- Wesley Delbridge, RD (Phoenix, Ariz.)
- Isabel Maples, MEd, RD (Washington, D.C.)
- Vandana Sheth, RDN, CDE (Los Angeles, Calif.)
- Lauri Wright, PhD, RDN LDN (Tampa, FL.)

Nine new Spokespeople will officially join the program in June:

- Sandra Arevalo, MPH, RDN, CDN, CDE, CLC (New York, NY)
- Rahaf Al Bochi, RD, LD (Atlanta, Ga.)
- Mascha Davis, MPH, RDN (Los Angeles, Calif.)
- Ginger Hultin, MS, RDN, CSO (Seattle, Wash. - Cancer Nutrition)
- Malina Linkas Malkani, MS, RD, CDN (New York, NY)
- Melissa Majumdar, RD, LDN, CPT (Boston, Mass.)
- Cordialis Msora-Kasago, MA, RD (Los Angeles, Calif. – African American Nutrition)
- Melissa Majumdar, RD, LDN, CPT (Boston, Mass.)
- Kristen Smith, MS, RD, LD (Atlanta, Ga.)

On behalf of the entire strategic communications team, thank you for your hard work. We know you are all very busy so we truly appreciate your hard work.

Please keep this information confidential until all notifications have been made to those who were not selected. We hope to make an official announcement on March 17. Please let me know if you have any questions or need any additional information.

Hi Dayle-

As the Academy liaison for the Alliance for a Healthier Generations' Voices for Health Kids School Health Policy Consortium Steering Committee and Nutrition Workgroup, thank you for bringing this opportunity forward for review. We are pleased to confirm that the Academy would like to move forward partnering at the Gold level for the April 2017 #WellnessWins campaign. You are welcome to share this commitment with Renee and indicate that she will be contacted by the Academy Creative Media team to discuss the Twitter chat and social media efforts. The Academy staff will copy you on those communications to keep you apprised of next steps. As the official partner, the Academy will take the lead in the posting of information to our social media channels, so we ask that you retweet and repost the Academy messages accordingly.

Thank you for your ongoing advocacy and support of this important relationship. If you need anything further, please feel free to connect with Marsha Schofield and me as we are happy to assist!

Best regards and safe travels home,

Diane

Lucille and Donna:

As you know, I have been representing the Academy on the Alliance for a Healthier Generations' Voices for Healthy Kids School Health Policy Consortium Steering Committee and Nutrition Workgroup.

They have just invited the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics to join them as a partner in the #WellnessWins campaign during April. The different levels of partner commitment are outline below and in the attachment.

- I vote in favor of the engaging at the GOLD level.
- I am willing to take responsibility for the social media aspects of the program, including hosting a Twitter chat.

•I am also willing to write about items to share with Academy members as appropriate.

Just let me know how you would like to proceed and we can go from there.

Best from Brazil ... slowly making my way home from an incredible African vacation!

Hi Dayle,

I hope you are doing well! As you know from the February SHPC meeting, we previewed the Wellness Wins campaign launching on April 17. We would love to engage the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics as a campaign partner/supporter. The attached brief provides an overview of the campaign, and outlines the three different levels of partner commitment. We hope partners can find an engagement level/activity that works best for them. In addition to the traditional engagement strategies, some unique engagement ideas for AND might include:

- Share campaign over social media/utilizing Dayle's very robust/active following
- Feature on the parents sections of the EatRight website
- Other ideas unique to AND?

Please let me know if you have any questions after reviewing the brief. We are open to all engagement ideas. Lastly, please let me know your organizations' commitment level by Friday, March 17.

Thank you,

Renee

Good Morning Board of Directors!

Things are moving fast here in Congress with repeal of the Affordable Care Act. I wanted to provide you with an update on our current strategy.

Staff members have been reviewing the proposed legislation to identify areas that are not consistent with the recently reaffirmed stances regarding health care. Stef Reinhart will be analyzing the prevention and wellness components and Pepin Tuma will be analyzing the Medicare and Medicaid as well as payment and coverage components.

Consistent with our other legislative initiatives our team will be preparing the following:

1. A statement/press release by the Academy regarding the proposed legislation and highlighting our stances early next week.
2. An issue brief that can be shared with our policy leaders and members regarding our stances.
3. A leave behind communication that will be used for meetings with members of Congress.
4. An advocacy plan that delineates key meetings for staff lobbyist in Washington, D.C. as well as grassroots initiatives.

Attached you will find a slide that summarizes key aspects of the legislation that was proposed. It gives a quick review of the new legislation that may answer some of your questions. We anticipate that the bill will be voted on in approximately 35-40 days or near the Easter break.

As you know one of the key components for our members is the Prevention Fund. Mary Pat and Stef have been working with our external partners to maintain funding. Stef learned late last night that Representatives Cardenas (CA) and Green (TX) are willing to offer an amendment preventing any funding changes. They have drafted a support letter from Lucille that will help our efforts with other members. The letter is attached.

Please let us know if you have any questions!

Best Regards,

Jeanne

Hi Dayle-

As the Academy liaison for the Alliance for a Healthier Generations' Voices for Health Kids School Health Policy Consortium Steering Committee and Nutrition Workgroup, thank you for bringing this opportunity forward for review. We are pleased to confirm that the Academy would like to move forward partnering at the Gold level for the April 2017 #WellnessWins campaign. You are welcome to share this commitment with Renee and indicate that she will be contacted by the Academy Creative Media team to discuss the Twitter chat and social media efforts. The Academy staff will copy you on those communications to keep you apprised of next steps. As the official partner, the Academy will take the lead in the posting of information to our social media channels, so we ask that you retweet and repost the Academy messages accordingly.

Thank you for your ongoing advocacy and support of this important relationship. If you need anything further, please feel free to connect with Marsha Schofield and me as we are happy to assist!

Lucille and Donna:

As you know, I have been representing the Academy on the Alliance for a Healthier Generations' Voices for Healthy Kids School Health Policy Consortium Steering Committee and Nutrition Workgroup.

They have just invited the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics to join them as a partner in the #WellnessWins campaign during April. The different levels of partner commitment are outline below and in the attachment.

- I vote in favor of the engaging at the GOLD level.
 - I am willing to take responsibility for the social media aspects of the program, including hosting a Twitter chat.
 - I am also willing to write about items to share with Academy members as appropriate.
- Just let me know how you would like to proceed and we can go from there.

Best from Brazil ... slowly making my way home from an incredible African vacation!

Hi Dayle,

I hope you are doing well! As you know from the February SHPC meeting, we previewed the Wellness Wins campaign launching on April 17. We would love to engage the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics as a campaign partner/supporter. The attached brief provides an overview of the campaign, and outlines the three different levels of partner commitment. We hope partners can find an engagement level/activity that works best for them. In addition to the traditional engagement strategies, some unique engagement ideas for AND might include:

- Share campaign over social media/utilizing Dayle's very robust/active following
- Feature on the parents sections of the EatRight website
- Other ideas unique to AND?

Please let me know if you have any questions after reviewing the brief. We are open to all engagement ideas. Lastly, please let me know your organizations' commitment level by Friday, March 17.

Thank you,

Renee

All,

We definitely can commit to engaging on the Gold Level, but the Creative Media team will manage all Academy social media through the official profiles. The member who's on that steering committee MAY NOT represent the Academy in social media (it's a liability and she isn't a Spokesperson or the President). She can certainly represent herself from her own profiles, though. Note: This would need to be made clear by whomever on staff is her liaison; I don't want my managers to get caught up in any message control struggles, which unfortunately happens sometimes. It's best to all begin on the same page.

However, although she is not a Stone Soup blogger, I'm open to inviting her to contribute the blog deliverable via FoodandNutrition.org if she's interested. Or she can help select a blogger if she doesn't want to write it.

Once we have the go-ahead, Lauren or I will touch base with Renee.

Thank you!

Liz

Hi Doris-

Can you and your amazing strategic comm team review the alliance rep request below for our relationship with the Alliance for Healthier Generations? There doesn't appear to be a fee associated with this engagement initiative, but it is social media and online promotional "heavy" during the April timeframe.

Any insight is appreciated (FYI – Dayle is also the Cooper lecturer for 2017 FNCE®).

Lucille and Donna:

As you know, I have been representing the Academy on the Alliance for a Healthier Generations' Voices for Healthy Kids School Health Policy Consortium Steering Committee and Nutrition Workgroup.

They have just invited the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics to join them as a partner in the #WellnessWins campaign during April. The different levels of partner commitment are outline below and in the attachment.

- I vote in favor of the engaging at the GOLD level.
 - I am willing to take responsibility for the social media aspects of the program, including hosting a Twitter chat.
 - I am also willing to write about items to share with Academy members as appropriate.
- Just let me know how you would like to proceed and we can go from there.

Best from Brazil ... slowly making my way home from an incredible African vacation!

Hi Dayle,

I hope you are doing well! As you know from the February SHPC meeting, we previewed the Wellness Wins campaign launching on April 17. We would love to engage the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics as a campaign partner/supporter. The attached brief provides an overview of the campaign, and outlines the three different levels of partner commitment. We hope partners can find an engagement level/activity that works best for them. In addition to the traditional engagement strategies, some unique engagement ideas for AND might include:

- Share campaign over social media/utilizing Dayle's very robust/active following
- Feature on the parents sections of the EatRight website
- Other ideas unique to AND?

Please let me know if you have any questions after reviewing the brief. We are open to all engagement ideas. Lastly, please let me know your organizations' commitment level by Friday, March 17.

Thank you,

Renee

Hi Donna,

We received your file with a note stating "no pictures." Do you plan to submit a second version with the pictures or should we have this one to show in the room and to release to the participants? Have a good weekend.

Instructions to upload your presentation file is included below.

1. Go to www.cdrnet.org

2. To login choose the “Login” option on the upper right-hand side of the page.
1. Sign-in using your Academy/CDR username and password.
2. On the purple banner, hover over the “Portal” option on the right-hand side and choose the “Library” option from the drop-down menu.
3. Click on the “2017 Childhood Faculty PowerPoint Files and Handouts” link located to the left.
4. Click on the “Upload Multiple Files” link located in the gray menu bar.
5. Scroll down to the bottom of the grey area and click on “add files” button (lower left side)
6. Browse for your file.
7. Click open.
8. To add another file choose “Add Files” button again to add another file to the list.
9. When you have all the files that you would like to add, click on the “Start Upload” button (lower left side). When upload had finished press “Continue.”
10. Don’t pay attention to the list of folder. Just stroll down to the bottom of the page and click on “Complete Upload” bar.
11. When you are done, please logout (upper right hand corner).

Hi Dayle,

I hope you are doing well! As you know from the February SHPC meeting, we previewed the Wellness Wins campaign launching on April 17. We would love to engage the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics as a campaign partner/supporter. The attached brief provides an overview of the campaign, and outlines the three different levels of partner commitment. We hope partners can find an engagement level/activity that works best for them. In addition to the traditional engagement strategies, some unique engagement ideas for AND might include:

- Share campaign over social media/utilizing Dayle's very robust/active following
- Feature on the parents sections of the EatRight website
- Other ideas unique to AND?

Please let me know if you have any questions after reviewing the brief. We are open to all engagement ideas. Lastly, please let me know your organizations' commitment level by Friday, March 17.

Thank you,

Renee

Hi Doris-

Can you and your amazing strategic comm team review the alliance rep request below for our relationship with the Alliance for Healthier Generations? There doesn't appear to be a fee associated with this engagement initiative, but it is social media and online promotional "heavy" during the April timeframe.

Any insight is appreciated (FYI – Dayle is also the Cooper lecturer for 2017 FNCE®).

Hi Jeanne- it may be good to connect the dots in our statement between our tenets and some of the actual provisions of the AHCA. If this is being distributed to staffers and congressmen who may not understand the details, I think more connecting the dots/details would be helpful. I think this is in line with what Donna and Mike said.

I also hope that you connect with Marsha Schofield to view her suggestions about this statement. She has some good recommendations.

I am in agreement with Donna and Lorri's suggestions. I don't know how deep in the weeds we want to get on this, but akin to previous suggestions, do we want one or two examples of successful prevention programs that will be eliminated? If we do not want to get that in depth that's fine. I am cool with the letter as written if that makes most sense.

Hi Jeanne,

Excellent letter and I am so glad we are doing this. Is there anything that could be added about increase in cost in many areas because of increase in premiums and unaffordability for the 50-64 group – this would come under affordable care. Even sending the letter the way it is is good.

Lorri, Nadine and Mike –

Copying Donna and Linda as ex-officios – you both are welcome to weigh in but wanted in the least to have the connection to the HOD and BOD for our proposed language.

As I mentioned in the email to the committees, we have been working on a statement by the Academy for the proposed legislation. Attached is our first draft for your review and comments. If at all possible, I need your feedback by the end of the day in order to get this to strategic communication for their review and edits.

This version is the content of a letter to the committee leaders, we will also work it up as a press release.

Appreciate your feedback!

Hi Dayle,

I hope you are doing well! As you know from the February SHPC meeting, we previewed the Wellness Wins campaign launching on April 17. We would love to engage the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics as a campaign partner/supporter. The attached brief provides an overview of the campaign, and outlines the three different levels of partner commitment. We hope partners can find an engagement level/activity that works best for them. In addition to the traditional engagement strategies, some unique engagement ideas for AND might include:

- Share campaign over social media/utilizing Dayle's very robust/active following
- Feature on the parents sections of the EatRight website
- Other ideas unique to AND?

Please let me know if you have any questions after reviewing the brief. We are open to all engagement ideas. Lastly, please let me know your organizations' commitment level by Friday, March 17.

I am in agreement with Donna and Lorri's suggestions. I don't know how deep in the weeds we want to get on this, but akin to previous suggestions, do we want one or two examples of successful prevention programs that will be eliminated? If we do not want to get that in depth that's fine. I am cool with the letter as written if that makes most sense.

Hi Jeanne,

Excellent letter and I am so glad we are doing this. Is there anything that could be added about increase in cost in many areas because of increase in premiums and unaffordability for the 50-64 group – this would come under affordable care. Even sending the letter the way it is is good.

Lorri, Nadine and Mike –

Copying Donna and Linda as ex-officios – you both are welcome to weigh in but wanted in the least to have the connection to the HOD and BOD for our proposed language.

As I mentioned in the email to the committees, we have been working on a statement by the Academy for the proposed legislation. Attached is our first draft for your review and comments. If at all possible, I need your feedback by the end of the day in order to get this to strategic communication for their review and edits.

This version is the content of a letter to the committee leaders, we will also work it up as a press release.

Appreciate your feedback!

Jeanne

Hi Doris-

Can you and your amazing strategic comm team review the alliance rep request below for our relationship with the Alliance for Healthier Generations? There doesn't appear to be a fee associated with this engagement initiative, but it is social media and online promotional "heavy" during the April timeframe.

Any insight is appreciated (FYI – Dayle is also the Cooper lecturer for 2017 FNCE®).

As you know, I have been representing the Academy on the Alliance for a Healthier Generations' Voices for Healthy Kids School Health Policy Consortium Steering Committee and Nutrition Workgroup.

They have just invited the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics to join them as a partner in the #WellnessWins campaign during April. The different levels of partner commitment are outline below and in the attachment.

- I vote in favor of the engaging at the GOLD level.
- I am willing to take responsibility for the social media aspects of the program, including hosting a Twitter chat.
- I am also willing to write about items to share with Academy members as appropriate.

Just let me know how you would like to proceed and we can go from there.

Hi Dayle,

I hope you are doing well! As you know from the February SHPC meeting, we previewed the Wellness Wins campaign launching on April 17. We would love to engage the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics as a campaign partner/supporter. The attached brief provides an overview of the campaign, and outlines the three different levels of partner commitment. We hope partners can find an engagement level/activity that works best for them. In addition to the traditional engagement strategies, some unique engagement ideas for AND might include:

- Share campaign over social media/utilizing Dayle's very robust/active following
- Feature on the parents sections of the EatRight website
- Other ideas unique to AND?

Please let me know if you have any questions after reviewing the brief. We are open to all engagement ideas. Lastly, please let me know your organizations' commitment level by Friday, March 17.

Thank you,

Renee

March Public Policy Forum

Join the open forum to hear public policy coordinators share their “Success Stories for Increasing Member Engagement”. Our speakers will be Susan Scott, MS, RDN, LD from Alabama, Lesley McPhatter, MS, RD, CSR from Virginia and Lacey McCormack PhD, MPH, RD, LN, EP-C from South Dakota.

The March Public Policy Forum will be held on Tuesday, March 21, 2017 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Register today for the March Public Policy Open Forum. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend (please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Treat and Reduce Obesity Act – Action Alert Remains Open!

As of today, 4,088 Academy members sent 13,179 letters to Members of Congress. We need you to continue to urge your Affiliate, DPG and MIG members to take action by utilizing the Action Center to send letters to members of Congress. There is power in numbers but only if we activate our membership!

Here is a message you can post to your electronic mailing lists. The following approved message should be used.

Dear Colleague,

If you have not taken the action alert that opened on February 24 please take action today! It takes only a few minutes!

Please assist the Academy with continuing to urge Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 that will allow registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients. Medicare recipients deserve access to obesity counseling from Registered Dietitian Nutritionists who have the expertise and training to provide quality care. It is urgent that members of the 115th Congress hear from you.

Action Alert Reports

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 action alert are posted in the Public Policy Panel COI. The reports are located in the March 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 March subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the PPC COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

PPW 2017 Affiliate Important Information

As of today, 29 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW.

It is a big job! The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

PPW 2017 DPG and MIG Important Information

As of today, 13 DPGs and 2 MIGs have submitted the name of the PAL who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017.

Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

The California Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics hosted its state policy workshop on March 6 in Sacramento with an impressive attendance of 215 members. Presentations centered on the theme "New Challenges: New Opportunities; RDNs Lead the Way." Special guests included California Assembly Member Dr. Jim Wood and California State Senator Dr. Ed Hernandez. Both state legislators reinforced the importance of RDNs engagement in matters of health-related policy, as stakeholders. Thumbs Up to the California Academy for hosting a very successful state policy day!

Please let me know if you have questions.

Hi Jeanne,

Excellent letter and I am so glad we are doing this. Is there anything that could be added about increase in cost in many areas because of increase in premiums and unaffordability for the 50-64 group – this would come under affordable care. Even sending the letter the way it is is good.

Lorri, Nadine and Mike –

Copying Donna and Linda as ex-officios – you both are welcome to weigh in but wanted in the least to have the connection to the HOD and BOD for our proposed language.

As I mentioned in the email to the committees, we have been working on a statement by the Academy for the proposed legislation. Attached is our first draft for your review and comments. If at all possible, I need your feedback by the end of the day in order to get this to strategic communication for their review and edits.

This version is the content of a letter to the committee leaders, we will also work it up as a press release.

Appreciate your feedback!

All,

I have reviewed the cash requirements for the business and unfortunately, I will need to take out another $500,000 from the reserves. As always, the cash inflows are just not meeting our cash outflows. The automatic membership renewal that we moved from January was delayed until next week. This should begin the process of replenishing our operating cash. If so, this might be the last time this fiscal year we need to move funds. However, it does depend on many factors. I will keep you posted.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know.

Interprofessional informatics competencies are becoming a necessary component for academic professionals, students, adult learners, and clinicians. Early discovery of nutrition informatics knowledge and skills by the Academy included modeling after the original work of the HIMSS (Healthcare Information and Management Systems Society) TIGER (Technology Informatics Guiding Education Reform) Initiative. A decade later, TIGER and the Academy come together to contrast and compare competencies and examine how nutrition informatics competencies have evolved. 1 CPEU is available for Academy members.

Jeanne, I read the statement and my only suggestion would be to add some example concerning the statement "by removing a basic floor of services that should be provided without cost-sharing to the Medicaid population". Unless they would know exactly what you are talking about here? I certainly don't know what the services are that we would lose, that we don't want to lose. If it is self explanatory, then please ignore. Otherwise, fine!

Copying Donna and Linda as ex-officios – you both are welcome to weigh in but wanted in the least to have the connection to the HOD and BOD for our proposed language.

As I mentioned in the email to the committees, we have been working on a statement by the Academy for the proposed legislation. Attached is our first draft for your review and comments. If at all possible, I need your feedback by the end of the day in order to get this to strategic communication for their review and edits.

This version is the content of a letter to the committee leaders, we will also work it up as a press release.

Appreciate your feedback!

Hi Jeanne,

Excellent letter and I am so glad we are doing this. Is there anything that could be added about increase in cost in many areas because of increase in premiums and unaffordability for the 50-64 group – this would come under affordable care. Even sending the letter the way it is is good.

Jeanne, I read the statement and my only suggestion would be to add some example concerning the statement "by removing a basic floor of services that should be provided without cost-sharing to the Medicaid population". Unless they would know exactly what you are talking about here? I certainly don't know what the services are that we would lose, that we don't want to lose. If it is self explanatory, then please ignore. Otherwise, fine!

All,

I have reviewed the cash requirements for the business and unfortunately, I will need to take out another $500,000 from the reserves. As always, the cash inflows are just not meeting our cash outflows. The automatic membership renewal that we moved from January was delayed until next week. This should begin the process of replenishing our operating cash. If so, this might be the last time this fiscal year we need to move funds. However, it does depend on many factors. I will keep you posted.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know.

Good Morning Board of Directors!

Things are moving fast here in Congress with repeal of the Affordable Care Act. I wanted to provide you with an update on our current strategy.

Staff members have been reviewing the proposed legislation to identify areas that are not consistent with the recently reaffirmed stances regarding health care. Stef Reinhart will be analyzing the prevention and wellness components and Pepin Tuma will be analyzing the Medicare and Medicaid as well as payment and coverage components.

Consistent with our other legislative initiatives our team will be preparing the following:

1. A statement/press release by the Academy regarding the proposed legislation and highlighting our stances early next week.
2. An issue brief that can be shared with our policy leaders and members regarding our stances.
3. A leave behind communication that will be used for meetings with members of Congress.
4. An advocacy plan that delineates key meetings for staff lobbyist in Washington, D.C. as well as grassroots initiatives.

Attached you will find a slide that summarizes key aspects of the legislation that was proposed. It gives a quick review of the new legislation that may answer some of your questions. We anticipate that the bill will be voted on in approximately 35-40 days or near the Easter break.

As you know one of the key components for our members is the Prevention Fund. Mary Pat and Stef have been working with our external partners to maintain funding. Stef learned late last night that Representatives Cardenas (CA) and Green (TX) are willing to offer an amendment preventing any funding changes. They have drafted a support letter from Lucille that will help our efforts with other members. The letter is attached.

Please let us know if you have any questions!

Best Regards,

Jeanne

Hi Donna-

Considering we still haven't heard back from Bahram/Sanjay, let me know your thoughts on this speaker option or Closing. He is a top TED speaker, had multiple award winning programs currently on air, and is truly a profound futurist. I've heard nothing but rave reviews about him and he is about to "go big" on the circuit.

Tammy is awesome! she would be a great spikes person. she is just finishing a term as President of Alabama. She is very knowledgeable and enthusiastic . She has applied before. Hope we can find a place for her.

I evaluated her. She was in the miscellaneous category. Her application was very impressive. She has my vote in whatever way we can use her.

Yes I agree.

Also just had a meeting with Tammy Beasley. I know we don't have eating disorders/disordered eating as a specialty area, BUT now that we have the CEDRD credential, and this remains such a hot and trending topic is it worth a consideration?

March Public Policy Forum

Join the open forum to hear public policy coordinators share their “Success Stories for Increasing Member Engagement”. Our speakers will be Susan Scott, MS, RDN, LD from Alabama, Lesley McPhatter, MS, RD, CSR from Virginia and Lacey McCormack PhD, MPH, RD, LN, EP-C from South Dakota.

The March Public Policy Forum will be held on Tuesday, March 21, 2017 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Register today for the March Public Policy Open Forum. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend (please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Treat and Reduce Obesity Act – Action Alert Remains Open!

As of today, 4,088 Academy members sent 13,179 letters to Members of Congress. We need you to continue to urge your Affiliate, DPG and MIG members to take action by utilizing the Action Center to send letters to members of Congress. There is power in numbers but only if we activate our membership!

Here is a message you can post to your electronic mailing lists. The following approved message should be used.

Dear Colleague,

If you have not taken the action alert that opened on February 24 please take action today! It takes only a few minutes!

Please assist the Academy with continuing to urge Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 that will allow registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients. Medicare recipients deserve access to obesity counseling from Registered Dietitian Nutritionists who have the expertise and training to provide quality care. It is urgent that members of the 115th Congress hear from you.

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 action alert are posted in the Public Policy Panel COI. The reports are located in the March 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 March subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the PPC COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

PPW 2017 Affiliate Important Information

As of today, 29 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW.

It is a big job! The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

PPW 2017 DPG and MIG Important Information

As of today, 13 DPGs and 2 MIGs have submitted the name of the PAL who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017.

Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

Thumbs Up!

The California Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics hosted its state policy workshop on March 6 in Sacramento with an impressive attendance of 215 members. Presentations centered on the theme "New Challenges: New Opportunities; RDNs Lead the Way." Special guests included California Assembly Member Dr. Jim Wood and California State Senator Dr. Ed Hernandez. Both state legislators reinforced the importance of RDNs engagement in matters of health-related policy, as stakeholders. Thumbs Up to the California Academy for hosting a very successful state policy day!

Please let me know if you have questions.

I started the process of donating my milk. I have to have a minimum of 150 oz to donate. I haven't counted mine, but Ginger has 136oz just in her freezer alone.

Anyway, I have submitted my application and questionnaire, so I should hear something in a week after they contact my doctor and Kennedy's doctor. Next step will be bloodwork.

In part of the paperwork, I found this quote:

"It is unethical not to inform your patients of the advantages of breastfeeding and the potential risks of formula feeding (increased risk of infectious disease, necrotizing enterocolitis, and several childhood illnesses such as diabetes and certain cancers), and the increased monetary costs to society of days lost to work because of sick children, and the costs of formula. We inform them of the potential risks of no seatbelts, smoking, and sleeping positions, and we MUST inform them of the potential risks of formula feeding as well.”

Thought that was pretty neat!

Dear ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS Members:

Good Afternoon!

Things are moving fast here in Congress with repeal of the Affordable Care Act. I wanted to provide you with an update on our current strategy.

Staff members have been reviewing the proposed legislation to identify areas that are not consistent with the recently reaffirmed stances regarding health care. Stef Reinhart will be analyzing the prevention and wellness components and Pepin Tuma will be analyzing the Medicare and Medicaid as well as payment and coverage.

Consistent with our other legislative initiatives our team will be preparing the following:

1. A statement by the Academy regarding the proposed legislation and highlighting our stances.
1. An issue brief that can be shared with our policy leaders and members regarding our stances.
1. A leave behind communication that will be used for meetings with members of Congress.
1. An advocacy plan that delineates key meetings for staff lobbyist in Washington, D.C. as well as grassroots initiatives.

Attached you will find a slide that summarizes key aspects of the legislation that was proposed. It gives a quick review of the new legislation that may answer some of your questions. We anticipate that the bill will be voted on in approximately 35-40 days or near the Easter break.

As you know one of the key components for our members is the Prevention Fund. Mary Pat and Stef have been working with our external partners to maintain funding. Stef learned late last night that Representatives Cardenas (CA) and Green (TX) are willing to offer an amendment preventing any funding changes. They have drafted a support letter from Lucille that will help our efforts with other members. The letter is attached.

In addition to health reform, we are planning an action alert for the resolutions that celebrate the Academy's 100 year anniversary. More information will be provided in the near future regarding the action alert.

Please let us know if you have any questions!

Best Regards,

Jeanne

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Board Approves Academy's New Vision, Mission, Principles

At its February 24 meeting, the Board of Directors approved the Academy's new vision, mission and principles. The Academy's new vision: A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition. Our new mission: Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition. Our new principles: The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and our members:

- Integrate research, professional development and practice to stimulate innovation and discovery
- Collaborate to solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges now and in the future
- Focus on system-wide impact across the food, wellness and health care sectors
- Have a global impact in eliminating all forms of malnutrition
- Amplify the contribution of nutrition practitioners and expand workforce capacity and capability.

A great deal of hard work has been done to get the Academy to this point. The Board is grateful to all members who were involved in the process of developing the organization's new vision, mission and principles. More information is available online on these exciting developments for the Academy's future.

The March Public Policy Forum will be held on Tuesday, March 21, 2017 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Register today for the March Public Policy Open Forum. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend (please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Treat and Reduce Obesity Act – Action Alert Remains Open!

As of today, 4,088 Academy members sent 13,179 letters to Members of Congress. We need you to continue to urge your Affiliate, DPG and MIG members to take action by utilizing the Action Center to send letters to members of Congress. There is power in numbers but only if we activate our membership!

Here is a message you can post to your electronic mailing lists. The following approved message should be used.

Dear Colleague,

If you have not taken the action alert that opened on February 24 please take action today! It takes only a few minutes!

Please assist the Academy with continuing to urge Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 that will allow registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients. Medicare recipients deserve access to obesity counseling from Registered Dietitian Nutritionists who have the expertise and training to provide quality care. It is urgent that members of the 115th Congress hear from you.

PPW 2017 Affiliate Important Information

As of today, 29 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW.

It is a big job! The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

PPW 2017 DPG and MIG Important Information

As of today, 13 DPGs and 2 MIGs have submitted the name of the PAL who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017.

Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

Thumbs Up!

The California Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics hosted its state policy workshop on March 6 in Sacramento with an impressive attendance of 215 members. Presentations centered on the theme "New Challenges: New Opportunities; RDNs Lead the Way." Special guests included California Assembly Member Dr. Jim Wood and California State Senator Dr. Ed Hernandez. Both state legislators reinforced the importance of RDNs engagement in matters of health-related policy, as stakeholders. Thumbs Up to the California Academy for hosting a very successful state policy day!

Please let me know if you have questions.

Lucille,

Thank you so much for the email.

Just to clarify, some of the people who are applying this year previously applied for and were not selected to become spokespeople in past years. To ensure that we had a good pool of highly qualified candidates, we went back and asked some of the stronger candidates to consider applying again. To entice them to do so, we asked that they just submit an updated resume since we had all of their materials on file. Because of that, some of these returning applicants have media links that are a couple years old and may no longer work. I believe that is the case with Anita.

Debbie's link goes directly to Dropbox, where you'll find an audio file. It's working for me, but please let me know if it's not working for you.

As far as Isabel is concerned, we didn't require the spokespeople who are reapplying to submit media clips because we're already aware of their abilities on camera.

I hope this helps, and if you find any others, please let me know.

Thanks,

Rhys

Subject: For review: June president's page

Hi, Donna: Attached is our draft of your June President's Page. Can you please review it and let us know if it is OK, or if you would like us to make any edits, which we're happy to do.

Our thought was to include the image you sent of the table (and it's mentioned in the article). Please note the highlighted text in yellow – we thought this could potentially be deleted for space to accommodate a larger picture of the table, if that works with the page layout in the Journal.

Thanks very much, please let us know what you think. Talk to you soon!

Congratulations to our 2017 RDN Day Contest winner, Ilene Smith, MS, RD, of New York City. When asked "Why is it important to be an advocate for advancing the nutritional status of your community?" Ilene responded:

RDNs need to be advocates for the nutrition status of their communities because they represent the only profession with knowledge, skills, training and passion to take on that role. Regardless of what their day-to-day jobs are, RDNs act as stewards and role models for healthy eating for their constituents, their communities, their friends and their families. After all, whether we push for legislation, manage community programs, make media appearances or counsel food companies, RDNs share a singular and common objective to make it easier for every single person to eat a more balanced diet.

Hello Christine,

On behalf of Donna Martin, I am attaching a brief summary of her presentation and copy of her bio. She will need a laptop, projector, screen and podium with mic for her presentation; there are no handouts unless requested. Donna is awaiting confirmation on another scheduled event before making her flight arrangements for the Florida meeting; her itinerary will be forwarded once booked. Please let me know if you need anything else.

Thank you!

Tom and Doris, I am crying as I read this President's page. (literally) You have done such a fantastic job to set the stage for the next 12 months. I love it, love it, love it! No changes what so ever. You guys (or as we say in Georgia - you all) are amazing and I am so grateful for all you support. Thanks for making me look so good. You inspired me and I hope this page will inspire the membership too.

Hi, Donna: Attached is our draft of your June President's Page. Can you please review it and let us know if it is OK, or if you would like us to make any edits, which we're happy to do.

Our thought was to include the image you sent of the table (and it's mentioned in the article). Please note the highlighted text in yellow – we thought this could potentially be deleted for space to accommodate a larger picture of the table, if that works with the page layout in the Journal.

Thanks very much, please let us know what you think. Talk to you soon!

March Public Policy Forum

Join the open forum to hear public policy coordinators share their “Success Stories for Increasing Member Engagement”. Our speakers will be Susan Scott, MS, RDN, LD from Alabama, Lesley McPhatter, MS, RD, CSR from Virginia and Lacey McCormack PhD, MPH, RD, LN, EP-C from South Dakota.

The March Public Policy Forum will be held on Tuesday, March 21, 2017 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Register today for the March Public Policy Open Forum. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend (please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Treat and Reduce Obesity Act – Action Alert Remains Open!

As of today, 4,088 Academy members sent 13,179 letters to Members of Congress. We need you to continue to urge your Affiliate, DPG and MIG members to take action by utilizing the Action Center to send letters to members of Congress. There is power in numbers but only if we activate our membership!

Here is a message you can post to your electronic mailing lists. The following approved message should be used.

Dear Colleague,

If you have not taken the action alert that opened on February 24 please take action today! It takes only a few minutes!

Please assist the Academy with continuing to urge Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 that will allow registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients. Medicare recipients deserve access to obesity counseling from Registered Dietitian Nutritionists who have the expertise and training to provide quality care. It is urgent that members of the 115th Congress hear from you.

Action Alert Reports

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 action alert are posted in the Public Policy Panel COI. The reports are located in the March 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 March subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the PPC COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

PPW 2017 Affiliate Important Information

As of today, 29 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW.

It is a big job! The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

PPW 2017 DPG and MIG Important Information

As of today, 13 DPGs and 2 MIGs have submitted the name of the PAL who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017.

Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

Thumbs Up!

The California Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics hosted its state policy workshop on March 6 in Sacramento with an impressive attendance of 215 members. Presentations centered on the theme "New Challenges: New Opportunities; RDNs Lead the Way." Special guests included California Assembly Member Dr. Jim Wood and California State Senator Dr. Ed Hernandez. Both state legislators reinforced the importance of RDNs engagement in matters of health-related policy, as stakeholders. Thumbs Up to the California Academy for hosting a very successful state policy day!

Please let me know if you have questions.

Join the open forum to hear public policy coordinators share their “Success Stories for Increasing Member Engagement”. Our speakers will be Susan Scott, MS, RDN, LD from Alabama, Lesley McPhatter, MS, RD, CSR from Virginia and Lacey McCormack PhD, MPH, RD, LN, EP-C from South Dakota.

The March Public Policy Forum will be held on Tuesday, March 21, 2017 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Register today for the March Public Policy Open Forum. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend (please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Treat and Reduce Obesity Act – Action Alert Remains Open!

As of today, 4,088 Academy members sent 13,179 letters to Members of Congress. We need you to continue to urge your Affiliate, DPG and MIG members to take action by utilizing the Action Center to send letters to members of Congress. There is power in numbers but only if we activate our membership!

Here is a message you can post to your electronic mailing lists. The following approved message should be used.

Dear Colleague,

If you have not taken the action alert that opened on February 24 please take action today! It takes only a few minutes!

Please assist the Academy with continuing to urge Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 that will allow registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients. Medicare recipients deserve access to obesity counseling from Registered Dietitian Nutritionists who have the expertise and training to provide quality care. It is urgent that members of the 115th Congress hear from you.

Action Alert Reports

The reports listing the number of Academy members who have responded to the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 action alert are posted in the Public Policy Panel COI. The reports are located in the March 2017 subtopic located in the Participation topic on the community of interest.

The Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) will find participation report listing the names of members posted in the 2017 March subtopic located in the participation topic folder of the PPC COI. We will continue to provide this type of information for affiliate presidents and PPCs to use, but ask that you don't post names of members (yours or from another affiliate) for public viewing. PPCs should review the action alert participation list and encourage members to send letters to Congress.

The chart below identifies the action alert totals as of today.

PPW 2017 Affiliate Important Information

As of today, 29 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW.

It is a big job! The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

PPW 2017 DPG and MIG Important Information

As of today, 13 DPGs and 2 MIGs have submitted the name of the PAL who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017.

Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. Please contact me if questions.

Thumbs Up!

The California Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics hosted its state policy workshop on March 6 in Sacramento with an impressive attendance of 215 members. Presentations centered on the theme "New Challenges: New Opportunities; RDNs Lead the Way." Special guests included California Assembly Member Dr. Jim Wood and California State Senator Dr. Ed Hernandez. Both state legislators reinforced the importance of RDNs engagement in matters of health-related policy, as stakeholders. Thumbs Up to the California Academy for hosting a very successful state policy day!

Please let me know if you have questions.

What you need to know about
Professional Liability Insurance

You've worked hard to obtain your license and to get where you are in your career. Don't let a malpractice complaint put all that in jeopardy.

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics has partnered with Mercer Health & Benefits Administration LLC to bring you coverage through proliability.

With proliability you'll have*:

- Extensive coverage with limit options starting at $1 million per claim/$5 million aggregate
- Non-Direct Patient Care coverage is available including life care planning
- Your own defense, including an attorney who will be there to protect your best interests
- Coverage for representation and licensing board reimbursement
- Reimbursement for lost wages due to various activities, including trial attendance and depositions
- And more!

If you have coverage elsewhere, when was the last time you compared plans? Now is a good time to review your coverage to make sure you are covered with insurance that meets your needs.

Check out the other coverages available to Academy members at www.academypersonalinsurance.com.

Hello everyone,

As we near the 2017 Appointment Committee Meeting date, I would like to now make arrangement for your lunch. We will be ordering from a local Freshii restaurant. Indicated below is the link to their menu. Although your meals will be served as a box lunch, you will have to make your main course selection from their salad and wraps, bowls and burritos menus. All box lunches come with an apple or baked chips. You can add as a protein to your selection, tofu, falafel or chicken. Beverages will be available onsite during the entire meeting. I await your soonest response.

Hi Donna-

Thank you for agreeing to record a short renewal message to send to those members who have not yet renewed. The short message is attached.

We will be using a 3rd party telemarketing company, ListeNation, to record and deliver your message. There are three ways to record the message:

1. Call directly into their system using a landline phone: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/>
2. Use an Apple device (iPhone or iPad) to record the message and send it via email: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/iphone/>
3. Use an Android device to record the message and send it via email: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/android/>

If you decide to record the message on your cell phone and email it in, you can email it to me at lsmothers@eatright.org.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need any assistance. If you could please finalize your message by March 24th, that would be great. The message is scheduled to be sent out the week of April 17th.

Instructions to upload your presentation file is included below. The presentations that have been submitted are located at <https://app.box.com/s/tg3zpzh3ieskmx2t92crr59yjdshfev>. Additional presentations will be added as they are submitted.

1. Go to www.cdrnet.org
2. To login choose the "Login" option on the upper right-hand side of the page.
 1. Sign-in using your Academy/CDR username and password.
 2. On the purple banner, hover over the "Portal" option on the right-hand side and choose the "Library" option from the drop-down menu.
 3. Click on the "2017 Childhood Faculty PowerPoint Files and Handouts" link located to the left.
 4. Click on the "Upload Multiple Files" link located in the gray menu bar.
 5. Scroll down to the bottom of the grey area and click on "add files" button (lower left side)
 6. Browse for your file.
 7. Click open.
 8. To add another file choose "Add Files" button again to add another file to the list.
 9. When you have all the files that you would like to add, click on the "Start Upload" button (lower left side). When upload had finished press "Continue."
 10. Don't pay attention to the list of folder. Just stroll down to the bottom of the page and click on "Complete Upload" bar.
 11. When you are done, please logout (upper right hand corner).

Thank you.

Hello everyone,

As we near the 2017 Appointment Committee Meeting date, I would like to now make arrangement for your lunch. We will be ordering from a local Freshii restaurant. Indicated below is the link to their menu. Although your meals will be served as a box lunch, you will have to make your main course selection from their salad and wraps, bowls and burritos menus. All box lunches come with an apple or baked chips. You can add as a protein to your selection, tofu, falafel or chicken. Beverages will be available onsite during the entire meeting. I await your soonest response.

Hi Donna-

Thank you for agreeing to record a short renewal message to send to those members who have not yet renewed. The short message is attached.

We will be using a 3rd party telemarketing company, ListeNation, to record and deliver your message. There are three ways to record the message:

1. Call directly into their system using a landline phone: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/>
2. Use an Apple device (iPhone or iPad) to record the message and send it via email: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/iphone/>
3. Use an Android device to record the message and send it via email: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/android/>

If you decide to record the message on your cell phone and email it in, you can email it to me at lsmothers@eatright.org.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need any assistance. If you could please finalize your message by March 24th, that would be great. The message is scheduled to be sent out the week of April 17th.

Thanks,

Subject: Academy Renewal Recorded Message

Hi Donna-

Thank you for agreeing to record a short renewal message to send to those members who have not yet renewed. The short message is attached.

We will be using a 3rd party telemarketing company, Listenation, to record and deliver your message. There are three ways to record the message:

1. Call directly into their system using a landline phone: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/>
2. Use an Apple device (iPhone or iPad) to record the message and send it via email: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/iphone/>
3. Use an Android device to record the message and send it via email: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/android/>

If you decide to record the message on your cell phone and email it in, you can email it to me at lsmothers@eatright.org.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need any assistance. If you could please finalize your message by March 24th, that would be great. The message is scheduled to be sent out the week of April 17th.

Thanks,

Lilliane

I have copied all of the attachments in this message. I will start looking at the videos this weekend. Is there a file with the pictures of each candidate applying for the same position side by side or in the same file? I have not explored all of the links yet. If so let me know. I will look it up.

Dear Lucille, Donna and Evelyn,

We truly appreciate your participation in the 2017 selection process for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics media spokespeople. The spokespeople selected this year will serve from June 1, 2017, until May 31, 2020. Please note, we have scheduled a conference call to discuss the candidates and final selection on Wednesday, March 8, at 1 p.m. Central time, 866/477-4564, code : 5380206022. The deadline to complete the evaluations is Monday, March 6.

Please review the Academy's Media and Spokesperson Policy<

<http://www.eatrightpro.org/resource/leadership/board-of-directors/academy-policies/media-and-spokesperson-policy>>. The selection process allows for a rigorous evaluation of Spokesperson candidates and their skill sets, as well as qualifications requirements for the volunteer position. To ensure a fair and impartial selection process and to protect the integrity of the process, all applications must be kept confidential - including the identity of applicants and reviewers. Please do not discuss your evaluations with anyone, and please maintain complete objectivity throughout the process. Results of personal and professional contacts or other relationships you may have with any candidate must not enter into your evaluation. Spokespeople are selected solely according to who best meets the qualifications and necessary skill sets.

Minimum criteria to be an Academy Spokesperson:

All Spokesperson applicants must:

- * Be an Academy member.
- * Have been an RD/RDN for at least five years. Advanced degree is preferred. Specialty credentials are desirable, but not required.
- * Have a minimum of two years experience in working with the news media (television, radio, print and/or electronic).
- * Demonstrate strong communication skills and a positive demeanor.
- * Be knowledgeable in food and nutrition science with two or three areas of expertise, current food and nutrition topics and Academy position papers.
- * Be free of conflicts of interest. (See Media and Spokesperson Policy< <http://www.eatright.org/Media/content.aspx?id=2359>>.)
- * Have sufficient flexibility in your work schedule to permit media training, interviews (often on short notice), preparation time, occasional travel and other assignments.
- * Promote, support and attend state, district or national Academy activities.
- * Maintain a working fax machine, an email address and Internet access.
- * Be proficient in electronic and social media communications.

Application packets:

Please download the electronic binder at <https://spaces.hightail.com/receive/excUZ>. Each application contains the following:

- * Completed application
- * Applicant's resume/CV
- * Applicant photo
- * Letters of recommendation
- * Print/Internet clips

At the top left of the screen on the open pdf, you will see an icon that looks like a page with a bookmark hanging over it. If you click this icon, it will allow you to navigate through the pdf by open market or by applicant name.

In addition to a letter of recommendation that we just received via email, attached are the following PDF documents:

- * Application process and timeline
- * Summary sheet of all the applicants
- * Applicants video listings for viewing online

The following spokespeople are reapplying for the program:

Jessica Crandall, RDN, CDE, AFAA - Denver
 Wesley Delbridge, RD - Phoenix
 Vandana Sheth, RDN, CDE - Los Angeles
 Lauri Wright, PhD, RDN LDN - Tampa
 Marina Chaparro, MPH, RD, CDE, LDN - Miami
 Isabel Maples, MEd, RD - Washington, DC

Once you have reviewed the materials and the binder, please complete the process online by filling out the surveys at:

March 2017 Chair Monthly Message

from Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation Chair
Jean Ragalie-Carr, RDN, LDN, FAND

Welcome to National Nutrition Month!

Each March, the Academy provides you with tremendous resources to help you promote the importance of making informed food choices, developing sound eating habits and staying physically active. Let's all be sure to Put Your Best Fork Forward this month. This is also a great time to highlight what our Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation does for you as a member and how you can benefit from what we have to offer.

Our Foundation was established in 1966 and is the only charitable organization devoted exclusively to promoting our profession, nutrition and dietetics. I urge you to learn more about what your Foundation can do for you and become an active participant in our charity. Our Foundation provides members with opportunities for education at all levels through scholarships and awards that promote a diverse workforce, and funds essential research for the profession. The Foundation also has vital programs for the public such as Kids Eat Right and Future of Food. We can all get involved by utilizing the dynamic, free toolkits that include webinars, infographics and PowerPoint presentations with notes to deliver nutrition education in your communities.

One of my favorite days of National Nutrition Month is Registered Dietitian Nutritionist (RDN) Day on March 8, when we take a moment to celebrate all the amazing work dietitians do every day, in so many different settings. RDN Day is a great way to recognize and thank someone who has made a difference in your career or has inspired you to grow as a professional through a tribute gift to our Foundation. I think we all know someone who is working in our profession that is making a difference! A RDN that has inspired me recently is Academy member, scholarship and fellowship recipient Lauren Au, PhD, RDN, who is doing phenomenal research at the National Policy Institute (University of California, division of Agriculture and Natural Resources) to inform nutrition policies.

We work hard to provide all of our Foundation programs and resources that empower you as a professional in the workplace and your community. The Foundation depends on donations from Academy members to thrive. Let's celebrate National Nutrition Month by giving back to our profession and even recognizing someone through a tribute gift, please consider a donation today!

Warm Regards,

Jean Ragalie-Carr, RDN, LDN, FAND

Ms. Thomas,

I made an error on Mrs. Martin's expenses for her trip to Washington. The guest she had for dinner on 2/25 was not to be included on her expenses. The portion of the bill that the Academy is responsible for is $68.20. I mistook her notation at the bottom of the receipt to be $168.20 for the meal. Please adjust her reimbursement to reflect this change. I apologize for any inconvenience and your help in this matter is greatly appreciated.

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND[®]) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the March Standards Update is posted on the ACEND website www.eatrightpro.org/acend in the Public Notices and Announcements section.

The March Update features draft position descriptions for graduates for the Future Education Model associate, bachelor and master degree programs. ACEND requests input on these position descriptions be sent to acend@eatright.org.

The Rationale Document has been updated with the results of the public comment received on the draft Future Education Model Accreditation Standards. The updated Rationale Document can be found at www.eatrightpro.org/FutureModel.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

Hi Donna and Pat-

Due to some property availability issues, it appears that we may need to shift gears from Asheville to another city in order to make the dates work because neither of the properties want to split the weekend for the dates of the meeting. Basically, they have both weddings in the rooms that we would need. Asheville on a Saturday in July is prime wedding season and the space was been booked after the original bids were provided.

Below is information from Chirag about Charleston if we want to relook at that location. We also can look back at Savannah, Memphis, San Juan, and Amelia Island if you are interested as those properties are still available.

Let me know and we will move forward accordingly.

Lucille,

Thank you so much for the email.

Just to clarify, some of the people who are applying this year previously applied for and were not selected to become spokespeople in past years. To ensure that we had a good pool of highly qualified candidates, we went back and asked some of the stronger candidates to consider applying again. To entice them to do so, we asked that they just submit an updated resume since we had all of their materials on file. Because of that, some of these returning applicants have media links that are a couple years old and may no longer work. I believe that is the case with Anita.

Debbie's link goes directly to Dropbox, where you'll find an audio file. It's working for me, but please let me know if it's not working for you.

As far as Isabel is concerned, we didn't require the spokespeople who are reapplying to submit media clips because we're already aware of their abilities on camera.

I hope this helps, and if you find any others, please let me know.

Thanks,

Rhys

Lucille,

Thank you so much for the email.

Just to clarify, some of the people who are applying this year previously applied for and were not selected to become spokespeople in past years. To ensure that we had a good pool of highly qualified candidates, we went back and asked some of the stronger candidates to consider applying again. To entice them to do so, we asked that they just submit an updated resume since we had all of their materials on file. Because of that, some of these returning applicants have media links that are a couple years old and may no longer work. I believe that is the case with Anita.

Debbie's link goes directly to Dropbox, where you'll find an audio file. It's working for me, but please let me know if it's not working for you.

As far as Isabel is concerned, we didn't require the spokespeople who are reapplying to submit media clips because we're already aware of their abilities on camera.

I hope this helps, and if you find any others, please let me know.

Thanks,

Rhys

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND®) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the March Standards Update is posted on the ACEND website www.eatrightpro.org/acend in the Public Notices and Announcements section.

ACEND - eatrightpro.org

www.eatrightpro.org

ACEND is the accrediting agency for education programs for careers as registered dietitian nutritionists (RDN) or nutrition and dietetics technicians, registered (NDTR).

The March Update features draft position descriptions for graduates for the Future Education Model associate, bachelor and master degree programs. ACEND requests input on these position descriptions be sent to acend@eatright.org.

The Rationale Document has been updated with the results of the public comment received on the draft Future Education Model Accreditation Standards. The updated Rationale Document can be found at www.eatrightpro.org/FutureModel.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

Good afternoon,

I'm looking forward to supporting your work at the upcoming Academy Committee Appointments meeting next Monday. As we make final preparations for the meeting, I wanted to share with you the agenda for the day (it's quite basic). Also, I realized that we had agreed to start the meeting at 7:00 am Monday morning yet I had noted in my previous communication a start time of 7:30 am. The correct start time is 7:00 am. Breakfast is available at the Hyatt starting at 6:30 am and it is a quick 6 minute walk from the hotel to the office. So you can probably all meet for breakfast at 6:30 am and start your walk to the office at 6:50 am. If you choose to start the meeting at little after 7:00 am to give you more time for breakfast, that is obviously your choice. We'll have some hot beverages ready for you upon your arrival at the office as it looks like it will be a chilly winter day in Chicago.

Later in the week you'll receive a communication from Charlene about placing your lunch order. In the meantime, if you need anything please reach out to me or Charlene.

Best regards,

Marsha

Deb, Hope you have been getting a much deserved rest. I am sure you feel like you have a years worth of sleep to catch up on.

I wanted to follow up with you to see if you had received this invitation we sent to Michelle Obama's scheduler requesting her to speak at the opening session for FNCE in October? We feel like this is such a great fit for her and the Academy, in that our goals are 100% in sync. Wondered if there was anything we needed to do to see if there is anyway to make this happen?

Look forward to hearing back from you!

March 3, 2017

Mrs. Michelle Obama

The Office of Barack and Michelle Obama

scheduling@obamaoffice44.org

Dear Mrs. Obama:

During the Obama Administration and in particular with the creation and remarkable success of your Let's Move! Initiative, it was my personal and professional honor to work with you and your team to improve the nutritional health of our nation's children. Your visits to the Burke County schools and your kind invitation for me to attend the Let's Move! celebratory event last October proved that we agree: There is no greater calling in life than to be able to teach children to live a healthier life. It was a joy and a privilege for eight years for our country to have a First Lady who shares the same passions as the registered dietitian nutritionists of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

As a parent, grandparent, taxpayer and RDN, I could not have been happier to see what we can do – and are doing – for children. Nutrition and health for kids is a nonpartisan issue, and one that all of us can get behind and celebrate. We share your passion for molding a future for our children that will endure for their lifetimes. Healthier children really do make a healthier nation.

In June, I will have the distinct honor of beginning my one-year term as President of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. This honor is made even more special because 2017 is our Academy's Centennial year. We are celebrating our past and planning for our Second Century as the leaders in food and nutrition. Since the Academy's beginning, food and health systems have continued to evolve, becoming more global and complex. These challenges also create unprecedented opportunities for innovation and collaboration,

The Academy's Board recently adopted as our new vision: "A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition." And we have dedicated ourselves to the new mission: "Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition."

In October of this year, the Academy will officially celebrate our 100th birthday in our organization's hometown – and yours – of Chicago, at our Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo. We can think of no individual who would be more appropriate than you to be the Keynote Speaker at our conference of more than 12,000 food and nutrition professionals.

On behalf of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Board of Directors, it is my pleasure to invite you to present the 2017 Opening Keynote Lecture on October 21, 2017. The Opening Session will be from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. Central Time McCormick Place-West in the Skyline Ballroom.

The Opening Keynote Lecture annually focuses on an issue that is important for the future of the dietetics profession. I have personally experienced how you have moved the needle in terms of school nutrition and positively affected the health of millions of children. Academy members want to keep this momentum going, and you are the perfect person to speak to these dedicated professionals for whom nutrition and health are like oxygen! We are not yet where we need to be, but together we will get there.

Academy members would be honored to hear your remarks and learn from your expertise on this important topic. I hope your schedule permits you to serve as our Keynote Speaker. Your scheduling staff can contact Diane Enos, the Academy's Vice President of Lifelong Learning and Professional Engagement, at 312/899-1767 or denos@eatright.org.

I look forward to working with you in the years to come, and to seeing you at our conference in October.

Respectfully,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND

Susan and Jean,

Very much looking forward to Board discussions this year and over the next 3 years.

Pleased that Agri-Pulse issued this excellent (attached) article on the history of the food stamp program and options for renewal of this critical program for nutrition in the upcoming farm bill.

I checked with the publisher and she indicated that it is a public document and could be circulated. A number of members of the Academy might be interested in the options outlined as nutrition access within SNAP is critical to some 45 million recipients.

Have also attached an article colleagues and I wrote on the evolution of nutrition incentives within the food stamp, now SNAP program.

Both could be circulated to interested members as they are public documents.

Gus

FARM BILL

Lesson #4: Linking farm, food programs is crucial to farm bill success

03/05/17 4:00 PM By Philip Brasher

KEYWORDS BILL O'CONNOR BOB DOLE CONGRESS DEBBIE STABENOW FOOD STAMPS FRANK LUCAS SNAP WELFARE

WASHINGTON, March 5, 2017 – The Republican speaker of the House is committed to reforming welfare programs – including food assistance – to fulfill a campaign promise. But farm-state lawmakers are worried about holding together a fragile urban-rural coalition long seen critical to passing a new farm bill.

That could be 2017, but actually that was 1995. The House speaker was Newt Gingrich, and he was committed to carrying out the GOP's 1994 campaign agenda, the "Contract with America." One of the Republicans' promises was to turn the food stamp program over to the states by converting it into block grants.

Gingrich immediately ran into opposition within his own party – lawmakers from farm districts – including members of the House Agriculture Committee, who were intent on maintaining the longstanding political ties between farm and nutrition programs and their supporters. In early

March 1995, facing that wall of resistance to block grants, the House Agriculture Committee marked up a food stamp reform that would tighten eligibility and add new anti-fraud measures – but leave the program under the federal bill agenda

“We made a decision to keep it (the food stamp program) at the federal level but to reform it,’ the committee’s then-chairman, Pat Roberts, R-Kan., announced as the panel prepared to vote on the bill.

Gingrich would continue to push the block-grant idea over the following months, but that early test demonstrated the power of the farm-and-food-stamp coalition first forged in 1973.

The coalition would pay off in a big way for both farm and anti-hunger groups when successive farm bills in 2002 and 2008 would expand food-stamp eligibility and attract the Democratic support needed to pass agricultural programs.

“It’s worked,” former Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., says of the farm-nutrition coalition that he helped forge for the first time in the 1973 farm bill. “People have benefited from the food program, people who needed it ... and farmers, and not all farmers are rich, have benefited from the farm programs.”

The history of food stamps and the farm bill provides several lessons:

- The combination of the two has led to expansions, and averted cuts, in nutrition assistance that likely wouldn’t have been achieved otherwise;
- Having food stamps in the farm bill has created a place for creating or showing significant overall savings in farm bill spending, not just when the program is cut but also when a strong economy is reducing enrollment;
- The Senate and House Agriculture committees in charge of food stamps ensures that farm groups have a stake in how the program operates. A series of House Agriculture Committee hearings over the past two years focused attention not only on the program’s broad support but also on a number of innovative efforts to improve the lives of recipients.
- And, yes, the combination has generated votes for both farm and nutrition programs that might otherwise not have been there.

But even as the cost of the SNAP program is once again on the decline (see chart below), the farm-nutrition coalition is about to be tested again.

Supporters of food stamps, now known as the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), are worried that the House and Senate Budget Committees will propose a new round of cuts in farm bill spending, including nutrition. And House Speaker Paul Ryan, a longtime advocate for reducing the federal deficit by block-granting SNAP, has proposed a sweeping overhaul of all federal welfare programs.

At the same time, conservative groups led by the Heritage Foundation and its advocacy arm, Heritage Action, are pushing Congress to strip the nutrition title from the farm bill on the theory that it will finally be easier to slash both farm programs and SNAP.

“If they split the nutrition title from the farm bill, I’m willing to bet my house that there will be no farm bill,” said Massachusetts Rep. Jim McGovern, the ranking Democrat on the House Agriculture’s subcommittee on nutrition.

House Agriculture Chairman Mike Conaway, R-Texas, has been warning agribusiness groups that he expects SNAP to get caught up in new welfare reform effort Ryan plans for next year, even as lawmakers try to write a new farm bill. The 2014 farm bill expires in the fall of 2018. What that means for the farm bill is not clear. Conaway says he isn’t sure whether that welfare reform plan will be relatively narrow in focus, unlike what eventually passed in 1996.

Meanwhile, in a new attempt by the farm-food coalition to flex its muscles, more than 500 national, state and local farm, conservation and nutrition organizations signed a Feb. 21 letter urging the House and Senate budget committees not to propose cuts in any farm bill programs, including SNAP.

“With the agriculture and rural economy struggling, and households across the country struggling to meet their basic needs for nutrition, and farm income down 46 percent from only three years ago, it would be perilous to hinder development and passage of the 2018 farm bill with further cuts,” the letter says.

Unlikely partners and a common goal: Put ‘an end to hunger’

SNAP has its roots in the Depression. Under Franklin Roosevelt’s first agriculture secretary, Henry Wallace, USDA allowed needy people to buy two types of stamps for about four years. Orange stamps, like today’s SNAP benefits, could be used to buy any type of food. For every $1 worth of orange stamps that were purchased, people also received 50 cents worth of blue stamps, which would be used to purchase food that the department deemed to be in surplus. At its peak the program served 4 million people at a time.

In the 1960s, with Democrats back in the White House, President John F. Kennedy created a pilot food stamp program that would expand to 40 counties and the cities of Detroit, St. Louis and Pittsburgh. After Kennedy’s assassination, President Lyndon Johnson asked Congress to write the program into law in 1964. By the early 1970s, it had become a national program but not every county offered the benefits. And in many places, food assistance was supplied through commodities, rather than food stamps, which allowed recipients to buy any food they wanted.

By that point, hunger had become a national political issue, thanks in part to a stunning CBS documentary in 1968, Hunger in America, which opened with a baby boy who was dying of starvation. “He was an American,” intoned host Charles Kuralt. “Now, he’s dead.” A year later, President Richard Nixon convened the first White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health.

In a speech opening the conference, Nixon said the event was an “historic milestone” that “set the seal of urgency on our national commitment to put an end to hunger and malnutrition due to poverty in America. At the same time, it marks the beginning of a new, more determined and more concerted drive than ever before, to reduce the malnutrition that derives from ignorance or inadvertence.”

Nixon went on to say that the food stamp program – as it then existed – was “shot through with inequities, notably, that many counties have not participated, and the fact that because food stamps had to be bought with cash, many of the neediest were unable to participate.” (At the time, food stamp recipients had to pay a fee to get the benefits, a requirement that would last until the 1977 farm bill.)

Four years later, with Congress due to write a new farm bill, lawmakers took the decisive and historic step of marrying food stamps with the farm bill. In part, joining nutrition assistance with farm programs just made logical sense, but there was also a political motive – to ensure broader support for farm bills, said Marshall Matz, who at the time was an aide to the Senate’s Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, which had been formed in 1968.

The 1973 farm bill required states to expand the food stamp program to every political jurisdiction in the country by July 1974. The bill also expanded the program to drug addicts and alcoholics, set up a process for adjusting allotments on a semi-annual basis and required the department to establish temporary eligibility standards for disasters.

Dole, who had been elected to the Senate in 1968, said the idea of putting the food stamp program in the farm bill had been kicking around for several years, but it became more urgent as farm-state lawmakers worried that the urbanization of America was making it more and more difficult to pass farm bills in the House. In 1950, 36 percent of Americans still lived in rural areas. By 1970, the rural share of the population had fallen to 26 percent.

“We could pass it through the Senate because almost every senator represented farmers,” Dole, now 93, said in an interview with Agri-Pulse. “When you got to the House you had so many city representatives, whether it’s New York or L.A. or any big city,” and for many of them, voting against the farm bill was “their one conservative vote,” Dole said.

“We needed both programs, so why not put them together? Sometimes you do things to get things done, and this was done on a bipartisan basis.”

The marriage of farm programs and food stamps would pay off big when the farm bill came up for renewal in 1977. Dole would play a critical role, too, as a Republican farm-state champion of the program. After Nixon resigned in 1974, President Gerald Ford almost immediately tried to cut the program, with support from conservatives in Congress.

But Dole began working some of his Democratic colleagues, George McGovern of South Dakota and Humbert Humphrey of Minnesota, on liberalizing the rules to make it easier for the needy to get food stamps, in part by ending the requirement that recipients pay for the benefits. The first Dole-McGovern food-stamp reform bill, introduced in 1975, never went anywhere. But Jimmy Carter became president in 1977, and the Dole-McGovern proposals made it into the farm bill Congress would pass later that year.

At the time, a family of four with a net income of $350 a month would have to pay $95 to get a monthly allotment of food stamps worth $166. With the farm bill pending in 1977, McGovern and Humphrey wrote Carter – appealing to him to support ending the purchase requirement so that recipients could receive the net value of the food stamps without money changing hands. The change would simplify the program while also ensuring that poor people who “can’t afford to ‘buy in’ to participate” in food stamps for the first time, the senators wrote.

The requirement probably wouldn’t have passed unless food stamps had been part of the farm bill, according to Matz as well as Robert Greenstein, who was director of USDA’s Food and Nutrition Service at the time.

In addition to eliminating the purchase requirement, the 1977 farm bill also established outreach efforts to promote the program and set new eligibility rules, including categories of income that could be excluded from eligibility calculations. It also got rid of requirements that households have cooking facilities and that stores must sell a significant amount of staple foods in order to qualify for accepting food stamps.

For the farm-food coalition, that year was historic for another reason as well: The Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, which McGovern had chaired since 1968, was folded into the Senate Agriculture Committee in 1977.

The new committee became known as the Senate Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry Committee, its name to this day. The chairman is a senator from Kansas, Pat Roberts.

The coalition’s ‘Contract’ crisis in 1996

By the middle of the 1990s, spending on food stamps and welfare programs was rising sharply even though the nation had recovered from a deep recession that had helped Bill Clinton win the White House. At the same time, there were reports of scandals in food stamps as well as the country's main welfare program at the time, Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

Participation in food stamps ballooned from 18.8 million people in 1989 to 27.5 million in 1994, and the cost of the program nearly doubled over that period to $24.5 billion. AFDC spending, meanwhile, hit $22.8 billion in 1994, up from $17.5 billion five years earlier, and participation had grown from less than 11 million to more than 14 million.

Clinton campaigned in 1992 on welfare reform, but the issue went nowhere until Republicans won control of both the House and Senate in 1994. Led by Gingrich, House Republicans immediately began carrying out the campaign promises they made in the Contract With America. Gingrich's plan was to radically downsize both AFDC, food stamps and other welfare programs. The overhaul of food stamps was to be carried outside the farm bill – the normal way of altering the program since 1973 – and the program was to be converted into block-grants so that states could run the program as they saw fit.

The idea of block-granting the program quickly ran into opposition from farm-district Republicans as well as Democrats. By late February, as the House Agriculture Committee prepared to vote on the food stamp provisions of the broader welfare reform effort, Republicans dropped the idea of block grants.

Roberts, now the Senate Agriculture Committee chairman, says the block-grant idea raised several concerns. For one, it would remove the program from the Agriculture committees' jurisdiction and make it harder for them to find the savings necessary to reach the targets set by the GOP. And, he says, there were also concerns about allowing states to run the program on their own. "If we block grant it to the states, it will be a hodge-podge of different kinds of things that would be available in each state, so we'd probably have people moving wherever the food stamps were," he said in a recent interview.

Newspaper columnist Carl Rowan was among those celebrating the Agriculture committee's opposition to block grants. Gingrich "hit a speed bump bigger than a month-old bagel, when it comes to plans to wipe out the federal food-stamp program," he wrote.

"It is not that the 27 million poor people who eat off this $23-billion-a-year program have yet staged a violent revolution; it is that the farmers, supermarket chains, bakers and bottlers of soda pop have cried 'Foul!' They want no part of a scheme to abolish the food-stamp and other nutrition programs and fight hunger by substituting block grants to states."

In the end, Congress passed the 1996 farm bill, which re-authorized food stamps for two years, and later in the year agreed with Clinton on a sweeping welfare reform bill, the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunities Reconciliation Act. The block-grant idea was gone –

Clinton had vetoed an earlier version that contained it – but the legislation made substantial reforms to food stamps that would slash participation to 17.8 million people in just two years. That was a stunning reduction of 10 million people from the 1994 enrollment.

Among other things, the bill eliminated eligibility for most legal immigrants, reduced the maximum allotments, required states to start providing the benefits via electronic benefit transfer (EBT) cards by 2002, and set a limit for how long able-bodied adults without dependents (ABAWDs) could receive benefits.

Despite the cuts, the welfare reform bill left food stamps as the foundational federal welfare program. AFDC, unlike food stamps, was converted to block grants and renamed Temporary Assistance to Needy Families.

Roberts also argues that the reforms shored up public support for food stamps. “We did it in a way that it did not look like we were trying to be unfair to the people on food stamps,” Roberts said. “We were in fact saving them on a federal level (by killing the block-grant proposal) “but at the same time achieving reform.”

Rolling back the reforms

After passage of the 1996 reforms, political pressure mounted quickly to roll them back, and the next farm bills, enacted in 2002 and 2008, became key vehicles to do that.

In 2002, George W. Bush was in the White House with a “compassionate conservative” agenda and looking to broaden the GOP base among Hispanic voters. A budget surplus meant there was new money for the farm bill. The result: The farm bill that passed in May 2002 included $51.7 billion in additional spending over six years, about $3 billion of which was put toward increasing nutrition assistance.

The bill restored eligibility for food stamps to legal immigrants who had been in the country for at least five years and also for children and disabled adult immigrants, regardless of how long they had been in the United States. The measure also increased and indexed for inflation the standard deduction used to determine eligibility for payments. And states were offered increased funding if they cut error rates.

Six years later, with Democrats in control of both chambers of Congress, and Bush in his final year in office, the program was expanded again. Democrats were eager to shore up their rural support by boosting funding for the farm bill, and food stamps benefited from that. In the 2008 farm bill, spending on nutrition programs was increased by $10 billion over 10 years. To reduce the stigma associated with food stamps, the program’s name was changed to the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP).

Monthly SNAP benefits were increased in several ways. The minimum benefit and the standard deduction were both raised and a cap on the deduction for child care benefits was eliminated.

The asset limit for SNAP recipients was indexed to inflation.

By the time the 2008 bill became law, participation had already risen rapidly from the 1990s, both because of the liberalized rules as well as efforts by the Bush administration to promote the program. In 2008, more than 28.2 million people were enrolled in the program, exceeding the peak before the 1996 reform bill, at a cost of $34.6 billion.

Starting in 2009, the program's participation and cost would explode, reflecting not just the Great Recession and a temporary boost in benefits provided by the 2009 stimulus bill, but also because of the 2008 farm bill provisions and new outreach efforts by the new Obama administration.

By 2012, as Congress was in the midst of writing a new farm bill, average participation would hit 46.6 million and the program's cost would skyrocket to more than $74 billion. Democrats had lost control of the House in the Tea Party wave that swamped Washington in 2010, driven in part by the stimulus bill and the rapid growth of programs like SNAP.

The table was set for another major test of the farm-food coalition.

The alliance paid off for farmers as well as the needy

At no time in the modern history of farm bills has the urban-rural, farm-nutrition alliance probably been more mutually beneficial, or more obvious, than in 2002 and 2008.

Both bills, which passed Congress with broad, bipartisan support, increased spending on farm programs as well as nutrition assistance, and the 2008 version had to overcome a veto by George W. Bush, whose main objection was to a new revenue-based subsidy program that it created for Midwest growers. (The program, Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) turned out to be far less popular and costly than Bush feared.)

The 2002 farm bill created a new counter-cyclical commodity program to augment the fixed annual payments that were created by the 1996 law but proved insufficient when commodity prices tanked. The bill passed the House, 280-141, with 141 Republicans and 137 Democrats in support, and then cleared the Senate 64-35. Only seven Senate Democrats voted against it.

Six years later, the Senate voted 80-14 to override Bush's veto of the 2008 farm bill, which had to be considered twice because of a legislative error in the initial version. Only two Senate Democrats supported the veto.

The House overrode the veto, 319-109, only 13 House Democrats no votes. House Republicans split on the bill, 99-96.

When the 2008 farm came up for renewal, Democrats in the Senate would be crucial again in pushing the legislation across the line.

The coalition at risk: Demographic shifts and the Tea Party rise

As lawmakers prepared to replace the 2008 farm bill, the urban shift that Dole and his colleagues worried about in the 1960s and 1970s had continued, coupled by an equally dramatic polarization. In 2010, only about 19 percent of Americans lived in rural areas.

When new congressional lines were drawn after the 2010 census, 40 of the 435 House districts were 100 percent urban and more than half the districts were at least 86 percent urban. Just 34 districts nationwide were at least 50 rural, according to an analysis by ProximityOne.

Meanwhile, Democrats and major farm districts were disappearing along with urban Republicans. In 1996, the last time Congress had undertaken major cuts to nutrition programs, there were 44 Republicans representing districts in the Northeast. By the time Congress would start work on a new farm bill in 2012 that number would drop to 26, according to a University of Illinois analysis.

Charts above credited to University of Illinois

The number of House Democrats from the Plains states dropped from 21 to 12 over that period, the number from the Corn Belt fell from 25 to 22, and Democrats continued their Southern decline as well.

In 1996, there was still a sizable number of conservative, rural Democrats, such as Charlie Stenholm of Texas, who supported farm programs and were willing to vote for reforms to the nutrition title. At the same time, there were moderate Republicans who would resist cuts in nutrition spending.

“That placed limitations on how far you go as Republicans, and it gave you a chance to pick up Democratic votes,” said Bill O’Conner, who was GOP policy director for the House Agriculture Committee at the time. “You could count on 50 to 60 Democrats who would die to pass a farm bill because it was important to them,” O’Conner said.

What hadn’t changed is that the Republicans sent to Washington in 2010 and 2012 had recaptured much of the budget-cutting, anti-government fervor that had driven the 1996 Contract With America. As in 1996, they had an ally in the House GOP leadership, Majority Leader Eric Cantor, R-Va., who had his eyes set on reining in SNAP.

In the wake of the Tea Party rebellion, Republicans forced President Obama to cut a deal on a landmark agreement in 2011, the Budget Control Act, to rein in spending and cut the deficit. The agreement created a “super committee” to recommend a grand plan for reducing spending.

The super-committee ultimately failed to reach a deal, but the leaders of the House and Senate Agriculture committees used the process to agree on a plan to make $23 billion in farm bill cuts, which was one of the super-committee’s target. Under the lawmakers’ plan, $15 billion would come out of commodity programs with the rest split between conservation programs and SNAP.

The plan provided the framework for the farm bills that would emerge from the House and Senate Agriculture committees in 2012 and the legislation that would eventually be enacted in 2014. But the cut to nutrition assistance that was proposed during the super-committee process didn’t go nearly as far as many conservatives wanted, and these conservatives increasingly viewed the urban-rural farm bill coalition as an impediment to reform.

Conservatives not only wanted to cut the cost of SNAP they also wanted to tighten or eliminate provisions that they believed allowed too many undeserving people to get benefits or inflated benefits. Their targets included a provision known as “categorical eligibility,” which made people automatically eligible for SNAP if they received other types of public assistance. Also at issue was the SNAP utility allowance. Some states were increasing SNAP benefits by sending just $1 in heating assistance to households, a provision known as “heat and eat.”

Conservatives also were frustrated that the work requirement for able-bodied adults without dependents, or ABAWDs, that was enacted in 1996 had largely been eliminated because of waivers that the welfare reform law permitted governors to issue during economic downturns.

The Heritage Foundation, a think tank that is especially influential with House conservatives, released a report calling for sweeping changes to farm and nutrition policy and decrying the coalition that had historically provided support for the legislation. “Opportunities for reform are hindered by the sprawling scope of previous farm bills, which have encompassed food stamps, child nutrition, forestry, telecommunications, energy, and rural-development. This concentration of special interests constitutes a powerful force for the status quo,” Heritage said.

Progressives were frustrated with the new attack on SNAP spending, but their influence was waning. The benefit increase provided by the 2009 stimulus bill was set to expire, and the Center for Budget and Policy Priorities, run by Robert Greenstein, who was President Carter’s food stamp administrator, argued that about half of the cuts made by the 1996 welfare law were still in place despite the 2002 and 2008 farm bills.

The 2013 farm bill crackup

The House Agriculture Committee's 2012 bill, which was never debated on the floor of the Republican-controlled chamber, would have cut nutrition spending by $16 billion over 10 years, according to estimates at the time, largely by tightening categorical eligibility and the utility allowance. The Democratic-controlled Senate, refused to go that far, passing a bill that was estimated to cut $4 billion from nutrition.

The chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, Frank Lucas, R-Okla., couldn't talk the GOP leadership into finishing the farm bill in 2012, forcing Congress to pass a short-term extension of the 2008 law, and setting up new battle over food stamp spending in the 114th Congress in 2013.

The Congressional Budget Office almost immediately threw a new hurdle in the way by issuing new estimates of the 2012 bills that sharply lowered the estimated savings from nutrition programs. In talking to state welfare directors, CBO analysts decided that tightening the utility allowance wouldn't save nearly as much money as they thought. Their revision wiped out the projected $4 billion SNAP cut in the Senate bill and reduced the estimated nutrition savings in the House bill to $11.7 billion.

Lucas knew he had to sharply increase the cut to SNAP if he had any chance of winning enough GOP support to get the bill through the House by the summer of 2012, with enough time to work out a compromise version with the Senate before the temporary farm bill extension expired. So, in May 2013, his committee passed a new version of the bill that the CBO estimated would slash nutrition spending by more than $20 billion. Savings were primarily achieved by further tightening the eligibility and utility provisions.

But even that wasn't enough. Conservatives were determined to do something to increase the work requirements, and they got a decisive last-minute boost from Majority Leader Eric Cantor. When the bill was headed toward a final vote in the House, Cantor threw his support behind an amendment offered by then-Rep. Steve Southerland, R-Fla., to allow states to impose work requirements on SNAP beneficiaries and to keep some of the money that would be saved.

For the small number of Democrats who were willing to stomach the bill's $20 billion SNAP cut, the Sutherland amendment was the last straw. The farm-SNAP coalition literally snapped. The bill failed, 195-234. Only 24 Democrats voted for it. Sixty-two Republicans, many of them hardline conservatives who were skeptical of farm programs as well as SNAP, voted against it.

The ranking Democrat on the House Agriculture Committee, Collin Peterson of Minnesota, was furious with Cantor. He says he had supported the bill because Lucas assured him the SNAP cut wouldn't be increased. Peterson insists to this day that at least 50 Democrats were ready to vote for the bill before Southerland's amendment was adopted.

Heritage and other conservative groups that had been agitating to slash both farm and nutrition spending seized on the chance to split the urban-rural coalition once and for all.

“Now is the time for the House to recognize what so many others have: The unholy alliance that has long dominated America’s agriculture and nutrition policy must end,” said Michael Needham, CEO of Heritage Action for America.

Lucas and the House GOP leadership saw only one option short of trying to win over Democrats: split nutrition programs from the farm bill and increase the cuts. “We wanted separation, and we got it,” said Rep. Marlin Stutzman, a hardline conservative from Indiana and Farm Bureau member who rejected the idea that farm and nutrition programs should be enacted together.

Lucas says the drive to split the bill was driven both by “my idealistic friends here in D.C.,” who thought that it would produce greater budget savings, and by “people in this town who wanted to kill the farm bill.

“By splitting them up you’d kill both pieces and not have a farm bill,” Lucas said.

In July, Cantor stripped the nutrition title from the bill and put the rest of the legislation on the House floor, despite united opposition from more than 500 farm groups and other organizations. The opponents included the American Farm Bureau Federation, which had seldom bucked congressional Republicans.

The House approved the SNAP-less farm bill, 216-208, over protests from Democrats. And then in September, Republicans forced through, 217-210, a nutrition-only bill that proposed to slash nearly $40 billion from SNAP over 10 years, a cut twice the size of the reduction in the bill that the House rejected in June. No Democrat voted for either bill. “Has our moral compass fallen so low?” asked House Minority Whip Steny Hoyer, D-Md.

But the conservative strategy ultimately failed. The House’s cuts to SNAP were a non-starter in the Senate, a point that Agriculture Chairwoman Debbie Stabenow, D-Mich., had been making clear for months. During the final negotiations on the bill, which culminated in January 2014, the cut to SNAP was reduced to $8 billion, close to what was envisioned in the original 2011 super-committee process, by raising states’ minimum “heat-and-eat” payment to $20 a month.

Southerland’s SNAP work amendment was transformed in a way that appealed to conservatives and progressives alike. With input from USDA and Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack, a provision was added to the final bill to fund a series of pilot projects around the country to test various conservative and progressive approaches to helping SNAP beneficiaries find work or get into better-paying jobs. The 10 projects are now under way.

Can the coalition hold?

The 2014 farm bill is turning out to save more money in nutrition spending than the CBO originally projected at enactment. As of August 2016, the five-year cost projection for SNAP had fallen $24 billion from what was originally projected, in part because an improving economy is reducing demand for the program more than expected.

And that trend is expected to continue: By last November, the latest month for which data are available, enrollment in the program had fallen to 43.2 million, down more than 3 million people from November 2013, when the final negotiations on the 2014 farm bill were under way.

Cost estimates for SNAP are coming down, too. In January 2016, CBO estimated that SNAP would cost taxpayers $73.9 billion for fiscal 2017. CBO has now cut that estimate to under $71 billion. By 2020, CBO estimates the cost will fall below $67 billion. Over 10 years, the reduced SNAP spending is expected to add up to about $80 billion less than that was expected when the 2014 bill was enacted.

Leaders of the House and Senate Agriculture committees have seized on the new estimates to argue against cuts in the next farm bill, due to be passed in 2018.

“The good news ... is that the economy is improving so there is less need for the safety net programs for families, so we’re saving tens of billions of dollars,” said Stabenow.

But Heritage and its allies in Congress still want to break up the farm-food coalition and slash both farm and nutrition spending. The 2016 Republican Party platform, for a time, called for breaking up the farm bill and removing SNAP from USDA. The platform accused Democrats of holding up passage of the 2014 farm bill, a reference to the dispute with the House over the size of the SNAP cuts. “The Democrats play politics with farm security. Much of the Democrats’ delay had nothing to do with the vital role of American agriculture,” the platform read. “It concerned their efforts to expand welfare through the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), which now comprises more than 70 percent of all farm bill spending.”

The Heritage Foundation last year called for phasing out farm subsidies but knows that any major changes in commodity programs or SNAP will require breaking up the political base that supports farm bills.

“If you’re a legislator you can always kind of say, ‘Well I supported this combined farm bill, because I support the ag programs and, yes, I just had to bite the bullet on the fact that nothing is done with food stamps, and vice versa,’ and vice versa,” said Daren Bakst, the group’s research fellow for agricultural policy. “We want legislators to be held accountable to their constituents.”

But several of Heritage's allies in Congress in the 2013 battle are no longer around. Cantor and Southerland lost re-election bids in 2014. Stutzman lost a race for the Senate in 2016. Another rare farm-district advocate for cutting food stamps, Tim Huelskamp of Kansas, was ousted in a GOP primary in 2016. The conservative House Freedom Caucus is still around, but the group has so far been consumed by the debate over what to do with the Affordable Care Act. Freedom Caucus Chairman Mark Meadows, R-N.C., told Agri-Pulse recently he hadn't even thought about the farm bill and SNAP.

President Trump's campaign advisers distanced themselves from the GOP platform language. During an October debate with a surrogate for Hillary Clinton, Trump campaign co-chair Sam Clovis said that nutrition programs should stay in the farm bill and that the best way to reduce the cost of SNAP is to promote economic growth that will put more people to work.

A few farm lobbyists wonder privately whether the farm-food coalition is as relevant as it used to be. SNAP can be routinely extended through appropriations measures. If all a farm bill is going to do is cut the program, there would seem to be less reason for Democrats to support the legislation.

But farm and anti-hunger groups say they're determined to keep their coalition intact, as shown by last month's letter to the congressional Budget committees. "The agricultural community as a whole has little interest in slogging through another farm bill debate without working closely with our colleagues in the nutrition community," said Chuck Conner, a deputy agriculture secretary under George W. Bush who is now president and CEO of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

Conaway, the House Agriculture Committee chairman, plans to move a new farm bill late this year or in early 2018, but he's not sure how extensively Speaker Ryan wants to address SNAP and other welfare programs, or when. And it's not clear that whatever Ryan decides to do would have legs. Unlike in 1996, there's little interest in the Senate for welfare reform, says Roberts, the Senate Agriculture chairman.

O'Conner, the former House Agriculture Committee aide who is now a farm policy consultant with McLeod, Watkinson and Miller, said the public support for welfare reform that existed in the early 1990s is not there now. "Even the ferment about food stamps that was going during the last farm bill did not produce results that would tell you that it's an absolute priority," he said.

When asked about Ryan's plans for welfare reform, a spokeswoman responded, "We haven't said anything publicly." A report issued by Ryan last year called for identifying policies that discourage work-capable SNAP recipients from getting jobs or preparing for employment.

Conaway, meanwhile, faces essentially the same balancing act that Lucas did in finding enough support to get a farm bill through the House. His committee held 16 hearings on SNAP in 2015 and 2016 and issued a report in December last year with a series of relatively modest recommendations. Among its conclusions: Some states need to better enforce their work requirements and enforcement needs to be coupled with better employment and training programs. “Promoting pathways to employment is the best way to help individuals climb the economic ladder out of poverty and into self-sufficiency,” the report said.

Rep. Jackie Walorski, an Indiana Republican who chaired the House Agriculture Committee’s nutrition subcommittee in the last Congress, has since moved to the Ways and Means Committee, which would have the lead role in shaping Ryan’s welfare bill.

Jim Weill, president of the Food Research and Action Center, an anti-hunger advocacy group that signed the February budget letter, says the House Agriculture Committee’s oversight is good for SNAP because it ultimately bolsters the case for maintaining the assistance. “It conveys to Congress how important the program is to all communities, including rural communities,” he said.

Rep. Jim McGovern, the ranking Democrat on the nutrition subcommittee, didn’t have any input into the committee’s report, but he later released a five-page letter quoting the broad array of witnesses who praised the way it functioned.

A second report, released by USDA, raised another issue that the committee may consider: Whether to put restrictions on what types of foods and beverages can be bought with SNAP benefits or whether to provide new incentives for healthful foods. The USDA report found that 20 percent of SNAP benefits are used for sugary beverages and junk food.

Conaway doesn’t rule out the possibility that the farm bill might have to be split again to get it through the House. Peterson, still the ranking Democrat on House Agriculture, is optimistic that won’t happen.

The outcome in 2013 “helps us because people got burned. I think they’re going to be reluctant to do it again,” Peterson said. “The Senate is not going to split this bill. No matter what happens in the House, it ain’t going to happen.”

Hi Donna!

So lovely to hear from you. I hope all is well in Burke County and that the school gardens are full of the spring bounty. :)

Yes, Mrs Obama's Scheduling Office has received the invitation. Thank you so much for thinking of her and making the request. It will take some time for the Scheduling Office to respond. If more information is needed, you will be contacted.

Happy Monday!

Importance: High

March 3, 2017

Mrs. Michelle Obama

Dear Mrs. Obama:

During the Obama Administration and in particular with the creation and remarkable success of your Let's Move! Initiative, it was my personal and professional honor to work with you and your team to improve the nutritional health of our nation's children. Your visits to the Burke County schools and your kind invitation for me to attend the Let's Move! celebratory event last October proved that we agree: There is no greater calling in life than to be able to teach children to live a healthier life. It was a joy and a privilege for eight years for our country to have a First Lady who shares the same passions as the registered dietitian nutritionists of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

As a parent, grandparent, taxpayer and RDN, I could not have been happier to see what we can do – and are doing – for children. Nutrition and health for kids is a nonpartisan issue, and one that all of us can get behind and celebrate. We share your passion for molding a future for our children that will endure for their lifetimes. Healthier children really do make a healthier nation.

In June, I will have the distinct honor of beginning my one-year term as President of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. This honor is made even more special because 2017 is our Academy's Centennial year. We are celebrating our past and planning for our Second Century as the leaders in food and nutrition. Since the Academy's beginning, food and health systems have continued to evolve, becoming more global and complex. These challenges also create unprecedented opportunities for innovation and collaboration,

The Academy's Board recently adopted as our new vision: "A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition." And we have dedicated ourselves to the new mission: "Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition."

In October of this year, the Academy will officially celebrate our 100th birthday in our organization's hometown – and yours – of Chicago, at our Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo. We can think of no individual who would be more appropriate than you to be the Keynote Speaker at our conference of more than 12,000 food and nutrition professionals.

On behalf of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Board of Directors, it is my pleasure to invite you to present the 2017 Opening Keynote Lecture on October 21, 2017. The Opening Session will be from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. Central Time McCormick Place-West in the Skyline Ballroom.

The Opening Keynote Lecture annually focuses on an issue that is important for the future of the dietetics profession. I have personally experienced how you have moved the needle in terms of school nutrition and positively affected the health of millions of children. Academy members want to keep this momentum going, and you are the perfect person to speak to these dedicated professionals for whom nutrition and health are like oxygen! We are not yet where we need to be, but together we will get there.

Academy members would be honored to hear your remarks and learn from your expertise on this important topic. I hope your schedule permits you to serve as our Keynote Speaker. Your scheduling staff can contact Diane Enos, the Academy's Vice President of Lifelong Learning and Professional Engagement, at 312/899-1767 or denos@eatright.org.

I look forward to working with you in the years to come, and to seeing you at our conference in October.

Respectfully,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND

Hi, Donna:

We have been discussing ideas for your June President's Page – your self-introduction to the Academy's membership as president, to accompany Dayle Hayes's introductory article (which she has sent us and we're reviewing it now...we'll send our edits to you for review, probably next week).

For your June article, we suggest drawing on the words and ideas in the remarks developed for your White House visit in October (attached). We believe this text, based so deeply on your ideas and themes and priorities you have articulated, would serve as an ideal way to “start the conversation” with Academy members for your term.

And since Dayle's article will include your headshot photo, this page could include one of the photos you mentioned to us when we met in January – the table in the White House garden (as you noted in our meeting: “We're not just at the table...we're setting it.”), or alternatively a photo of you with Michelle Obama from the images you took at the Let's Move! event. If so, can you please email us any (or all) of the images you have?

Please let us know what you think of these ideas, and we can draft the page and send it to you for your review.

In addition, we want to make sure we are emailing you at your preferred address. Would you like us to use donnasmartin@gmail.com, or continue with DMartin@Burke.k12.ga.us? We'll use whichever you prefer.

Thank you again, and we'll talk to you soon!

Hello Donna!

Hope you are well. I was just talking about you the other day when I was speaking with a Dietetic Internship Director - we were planning the local food and farm to school training for late summer.

I was very surprised to hear about this initiative of AND and USDA and I would love to talk to you more about it. As I think I've mentioned, we've been working with DI programs for the past 8 years and have learned a lot from that experience. With DI Directors, we created a resource that aligns the national DI competencies with local food and farm to school. I think we've created a model that other universities could put into place.

Please let me know when a good time to talk might be.

Thanks and be well,

Emily

Importance: High

March 3, 2017

Mrs. Michelle Obama

The Office of Barack and Michelle Obama

scheduling@obamaoffice44.org

Dear Mrs. Obama:

During the Obama Administration and in particular with the creation and remarkable success of your Let's Move! Initiative, it was my personal and professional honor to work with you and your team to improve the nutritional health of our nation's children. Your visits to the Burke County schools and your kind invitation for me to attend the Let's Move! celebratory event last October proved that we agree: There is no greater calling in life than to be able to teach children to live a healthier life. It was a joy and a privilege for eight years for our country to have a First Lady who shares the same passions as the registered dietitian nutritionists of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

As a parent, grandparent, taxpayer and RDN, I could not have been happier to see what we can do – and are doing – for children. Nutrition and health for kids is a nonpartisan issue, and one that all of us can get behind and celebrate. We share your passion for molding a future for our children that will endure for their lifetimes. Healthier children really do make a healthier nation.

In June, I will have the distinct honor of beginning my one-year term as President of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. This honor is made even more special because 2017 is our Academy's Centennial year. We are celebrating our past and planning for our Second Century as the leaders in food and nutrition. Since the Academy's beginning, food and health systems have continued to evolve, becoming more global and complex. These challenges also create unprecedented opportunities for innovation and collaboration,

The Academy's Board recently adopted as our new vision: "A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition." And we have dedicated ourselves to the new mission: "Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition."

In October of this year, the Academy will officially celebrate our 100th birthday in our organization's hometown – and yours – of Chicago, at our Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo. We can think of no individual who would be more appropriate than you to be the Keynote Speaker at our conference of more than 12,000 food and nutrition professionals.

On behalf of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Board of Directors, it is my pleasure to invite you to present the 2017 Opening Keynote Lecture on October 21, 2017. The Opening Session will be from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. Central Time McCormick Place-West in the Skyline Ballroom.

The Opening Keynote Lecture annually focuses on an issue that is important for the future of the dietetics profession. I have personally experienced how you have moved the needle in terms of school nutrition and positively affected the health of millions of children. Academy members want to keep this momentum going, and you are the perfect person to speak to these dedicated professionals for whom nutrition and health are like oxygen! We are not yet where we need to be, but together we will get there.

Academy members would be honored to hear your remarks and learn from your expertise on this important topic. I hope your schedule permits you to serve as our Keynote Speaker. Your scheduling staff can contact Diane Enos, the Academy's Vice President of Lifelong Learning and Professional Engagement, at 312/899-1767 or denos@eatright.org.

I look forward to working with you in the years to come, and to seeing you at our conference in October.

Respectfully,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND
2017-2018 President of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

Susan and Jean,

Very much looking forward to Board discussions this year and over the next 3 years.

Pleased that Agri-Pulse issued this excellent (attached) article on the history of the food stamp program and options for renewal of this critical program for nutrition in the upcoming farm bill.

I checked with the publisher and she indicated that it is a public document and could be circulated. A number of members of the Academy might be interested in the options outlined as nutrition access within SNAP is critical to some 45 million recipients.

Have also attached an article colleagues and I wrote on the evolution of nutrition incentives within the food stamp, now SNAP program.

Both could be circulated to interested members as they are public documents.

FARM BILL

Lesson #4: Linking farm, food programs is crucial to farm bill success

KEYWORDS BILL O'CONNOR BOB DOLE CONGRESS DEBBIE STABENOW FOOD STAMPS
FRANK LUCAS SNAP WELFARE

WASHINGTON, March 5, 2017 – The Republican speaker of the House is committed to reforming welfare programs – including food assistance – to fulfill a campaign promise. But farm-state lawmakers are worried about holding together a fragile urban-rural coalition long seen critical to passing a new farm bill.

That could be 2017, but actually that was 1995. The House speaker was Newt Gingrich, and he was committed to carrying out the GOP's 1994 campaign agenda, the "Contract with America." One of the Republicans' promises was to turn the food stamp program over to the states by converting it into block grants.

Gingrich immediately ran into opposition within his own party – lawmakers from farm districts – including members of the House Agriculture Committee, who were intent on maintaining the longstanding political ties between farm and nutrition programs and their supporters. In early March 1995, facing that wall of resistance to block grants, the House Agriculture Committee marked up a food stamp reform that would tighten eligibility and add new anti-fraud measures – but leave the program under the federal bill agenda

"We made a decision to keep it (the food stamp program) at the federal level but to reform it,' the committee's then-chairman, Pat Roberts, R-Kan., announced as the panel prepared to vote on the bill.

Gingrich would continue to push the block-grant idea over the following months, but that early test demonstrated the power of the farm-and-food-stamp coalition first forged in 1973.

The coalition would pay off in a big way for both farm and anti-hunger groups when successive farm bills in 2002 and 2008 would expand food-stamp eligibility and attract the Democratic support needed to pass agricultural programs.

"It's worked," former Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., says of the farm-nutrition coalition that he helped forge for the first time in the 1973 farm bill. "People have benefited from the food program, people who needed it ... and farmers, and not all farmers are rich, have benefited from the farm programs."

The history of food stamps and the farm bill provides several lessons:

- The combination of the two has led to expansions, and averted cuts, in nutrition assistance that likely wouldn't have been achieved otherwise;
- Having food stamps in the farm bill has created a place for creating or showing significant overall savings in farm bill spending, not just when the program is cut but also when a strong economy is reducing enrollment;
- The Senate and House Agriculture committees in charge of food stamps ensures that farm groups have a stake in how the program operates. A series of House Agriculture Committee hearings over the past two years focused attention not only on the program's broad support but also on a number of innovative efforts to improve the lives of recipients.
- And, yes, the combination has generated votes for both farm and nutrition programs that might otherwise not have been there.

But even as the cost of the SNAP program is once again on the decline (see chart below), the farm-nutrition coalition is about to be tested again.

Supporters of food stamps, now known as the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), are worried that the House and Senate Budget Committees will propose a new round of cuts in farm bill spending, including nutrition. And House Speaker Paul Ryan, a longtime advocate for reducing the federal deficit by block-granting SNAP, has proposed a sweeping overhaul of all federal welfare programs.

At the same time, conservative groups led by the Heritage Foundation and its advocacy arm, Heritage Action, are pushing Congress to strip the nutrition title from the farm bill on the theory that it will finally be easier to slash both farm programs and SNAP.

“If they split the nutrition title from the farm bill, I’m willing to bet my house that there will be no farm bill,” said Massachusetts Rep. Jim McGovern, the ranking Democrat on the House Agriculture’s subcommittee on nutrition.

House Agriculture Chairman Mike Conaway, R-Texas, has been warning agribusiness groups that he expects SNAP to get caught up in new welfare reform effort Ryan plans for next year, even as lawmakers try to write a new farm bill. The 2014 farm bill expires in the fall of 2018. What that means for the farm bill is not clear. Conaway says he isn't sure whether that welfare reform plan will be relatively narrow in focus, unlike what eventually passed in 1996.

Meanwhile, in a new attempt by the farm-food coalition to flex its muscles, more than 500 national, state and local farm, conservation and nutrition organizations signed a Feb. 21 letter urging the House and Senate budget committees not to propose cuts in any farm bill programs, including SNAP.

“With the agriculture and rural economy struggling, and households across the country struggling to meet their basic needs for nutrition, and farm income down 46 percent from only three years ago, it would be perilous to hinder development and passage of the 2018 farm bill with further cuts,” the letter says.

Unlikely partners and a common goal: Put ‘an end to hunger’

SNAP has its roots in the Depression. Under Franklin Roosevelt’s first agriculture secretary, Henry Wallace, USDA allowed needy people to buy two types of stamps for about four years. Orange stamps, like today’s SNAP benefits, could be used to buy any type of food. For every $1 worth of orange stamps that were purchased, people also received 50 cents worth of blue stamps, which would be used to purchase food that the department deemed to be in surplus. At its peak the program served 4 million people at a time.

In the 1960s, with Democrats back in the White House, President John F. Kennedy created a pilot food stamp program that would expand to 40 counties and the cities of Detroit, St. Louis and Pittsburgh. After Kennedy’s assassination, President Lyndon Johnson asked Congress to write the program into law in 1964. By the early 1970s, it had become a national program but not every county offered the benefits. And in many places, food assistance was supplied through commodities, rather than food stamps, which allowed recipients to buy any food they wanted.

By that point, hunger had become a national political issue, thanks in part to a stunning CBS documentary in 1968, Hunger in America, which opened with a baby boy who was dying of starvation. “He was an American,” intoned host Charles Kuralt. “Now, he’s dead.” A year later, President Richard Nixon convened the first White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health.

In a speech opening the conference, Nixon said the event was an “historic milestone” that “set the seal of urgency on our national commitment to put an end to hunger and malnutrition due to poverty in America. At the same time, it marks the beginning of a new, more determined and more concerted drive than ever before, to reduce the malnutrition that derives from ignorance or inadvertence.”

Nixon went on to say that the food stamp program – as it then existed – was “shot through with inequities, notably, that many counties have not participated, and the fact that because food stamps had to be bought with cash, many of the neediest were unable to participate.” (At the time, food stamp recipients had to pay a fee to get the benefits, a requirement that would last until the 1977 farm bill.)

Four years later, with Congress due to write a new farm bill, lawmakers took the decisive and historic step of marrying food stamps with the farm bill. In part, joining nutrition assistance with farm programs just made logical sense, but there was also a political motive – to ensure broader support for farm bills, said Marshall Matz, who at the time was an aide to the Senate’s Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, which had been formed in 1968.

The 1973 farm bill required states to expand the food stamp program to every political jurisdiction in the country by July 1974. The bill also expanded the program to drug addicts and alcoholics, set up a process for adjusting allotments on a semi-annual basis and required the department to establish temporary eligibility standards for disasters.

Dole, who had been elected to the Senate in 1968, said the idea of putting the food stamp program in the farm bill had been kicking around for several years, but it became more urgent as farm-state lawmakers worried that the urbanization of America was making it more and more difficult to pass farm bills in the House. In 1950, 36 percent of Americans still lived in rural areas. By 1970, the rural share of the population had fallen to 26 percent.

“We could pass it through the Senate because almost every senator represented farmers,” Dole, now 93, said in an interview with Agri-Pulse. “When you got to the House you had so many city representatives, whether it’s New York or L.A. or any big city,” and for many of them, voting against the farm bill was “their one conservative vote,” Dole said.

“We needed both programs, so why not put them together? Sometimes you do things to get things done, and this was done on a bipartisan basis.”

The marriage of farm programs and food stamps would pay off big when the farm bill came up for renewal in 1977. Dole would play a critical role, too, as a Republican farm-state champion of the program. After Nixon resigned in 1974, President Gerald Ford almost immediately tried to cut the program, with support from conservatives in Congress.

But Dole began working some of his Democratic colleagues, George McGovern of South Dakota and Humbert Humphrey of Minnesota, on liberalizing the rules to make it easier for the needy to get food stamps, in part by ending the requirement that recipients pay for the benefits. The first Dole-McGovern food-stamp reform bill, introduced in 1975, never went anywhere. But Jimmy Carter became president in 1977, and the Dole-McGovern proposals made it into the farm bill Congress would pass later that year.

At the time, a family of four with a net income of $350 a month would have to pay $95 to get a monthly allotment of food stamps worth $166. With the farm bill pending in 1977, McGovern and Humphrey wrote Carter – appealing to him to support ending the purchase requirement so that recipients could receive the net value of the food stamps without money changing hands. The change would simplify the program while also ensuring that poor people who “can’t afford to ‘buy in’ to participate” in food stamps for the first time, the senators wrote.

The requirement probably wouldn’t have passed unless food stamps had been part of the farm bill, according to Matz as well as Robert Greenstein, who was director of USDA’s Food and Nutrition Service at the time.

In addition to eliminating the purchase requirement, the 1977 farm bill also established outreach efforts to promote the program and set new eligibility rules, including categories of income that could be excluded from eligibility calculations. It also got rid of requirements that households have cooking facilities and that stores must sell a significant amount of staple foods in order to qualify for accepting food stamps.

For the farm-food coalition, that year was historic for another reason as well: The Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, which McGovern had chaired since 1968, was folded into the Senate Agriculture Committee in 1977.

The new committee became known as the Senate Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry Committee, its name to this day. The chairman is a senator from Kansas, Pat Roberts.

The coalition's 'Contract' crisis in 1996

By the middle of the 1990s, spending on food stamps and welfare programs was rising sharply even though the nation had recovered from a deep recession that had helped Bill Clinton win the White House. At the same time, there were reports of scandals in food stamps as well as the country's main welfare program at the time, Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

Participation in food stamps ballooned from 18.8 million people in 1989 to 27.5 million in 1994, and the cost of the program nearly doubled over that period to $24.5 billion. AFDC spending, meanwhile, hit $22.8 billion in 1994, up from $17.5 billion five years earlier, and participation had grown from less than 11 million to more than 14 million.

Clinton campaigned in 1992 on welfare reform, but the issue went nowhere until Republicans won control of both the House and Senate in 1994. Led by Gingrich, House Republicans immediately began carrying out the campaign promises they made in the Contract With America. Gingrich's plan was to radically downsize both AFDC, food stamps and other welfare programs. The overhaul of food stamps was to be carried outside the farm bill – the normal way of altering the program since 1973 – and the program was to be converted into block-grants so that states could run the program as they saw fit.

The idea of block-granting the program quickly ran into opposition from farm-district Republicans as well as Democrats. By late February, as the House Agriculture Committee prepared to vote on the food stamp provisions of the broader welfare reform effort, Republicans dropped the idea of block grants.

Roberts, now the Senate Agriculture Committee chairman, says the block-grant idea raised several concerns. For one, it would remove the program from the Agriculture committees' jurisdiction and make it harder for them to find the savings necessary to reach the targets set by the GOP. And, he says, there were also concerns about allowing states to run the program on their own. “If we block grant it to the states, it will be a hodge-podge of different kinds of things that would be available in each state, so we’d probably have people moving wherever the food stamps were,” he said in a recent interview.

Newspaper columnist Carl Rowan was among those celebrating the Agriculture committee’s opposition to block grants. Gingrich “hit a speed bump bigger than a month-old bagel, when it comes to plans to wipe out the federal food-stamp program,” he wrote.

“It is not that the 27 million poor people who eat off this $23-billion-a-year program have yet staged a violent revolution; it is that the farmers, supermarket chains, bakers and bottlers of soda pop have cried 'Foul!' They want no part of a scheme to abolish the food-stamp and other nutrition programs and fight hunger by substituting block grants to states.”

In the end, Congress passed the 1996 farm bill, which re-authorized food stamps for two years, and later in the year agreed with Clinton on a sweeping welfare reform bill, the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunities Reconciliation Act. The block-grant idea was gone –

Clinton had vetoed an earlier version that contained it – but the legislation made substantial reforms to food stamps that would slash participation to 17.8 million people in just two years. That was a stunning reduction of 10 million people from the 1994 enrollment.

Among other things, the bill eliminated eligibility for most legal immigrants, reduced the maximum allotments, required states to start providing the benefits via electronic benefit transfer (EBT) cards by 2002, and set a limit for how long able-bodied adults without dependents (ABAWDs) could receive benefits.

Despite the cuts, the welfare reform bill left food stamps as the foundational federal welfare program. AFDC, unlike food stamps, was converted to block grants and renamed Temporary Assistance to Needy Families.

Roberts also argues that the reforms shored up public support for food stamps. “We did it in a way that it did not look like we were trying to be unfair to the people on food stamps,” Roberts said. “We were in fact saving them on a federal level (by killing the block-grant proposal) “but at the same time achieving reform.”

Rolling back the reforms

After passage of the 1996 reforms, political pressure mounted quickly to roll them back, and the next farm bills, enacted in 2002 and 2008, became key vehicles to do that.

In 2002, George W. Bush was in the White House with a “compassionate conservative” agenda and looking to broaden the GOP base among Hispanic voters. A budget surplus meant there was new money for the farm bill. The result: The farm bill that passed in May 2002 included $51.7 billion in additional spending over six years, about $3 billion of which was put toward increasing nutrition assistance.

The bill restored eligibility for food stamps to legal immigrants who had been in the country for at least five years and also for children and disabled adult immigrants, regardless of how long they had been in the United States. The measure also increased and indexed for inflation the standard deduction used to determine eligibility for payments. And states were offered increased funding if they cut error rates.

Six years later, with Democrats in control of both chambers of Congress, and Bush in his final year in office, the program was expanded again. Democrats were eager to shore up their rural support by boosting funding for the farm bill, and food stamps benefited from that. In the 2008 farm bill, spending on nutrition programs was increased by $10 billion over 10 years. To reduce the stigma associated with food stamps, the program’s name was changed to the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP).

Monthly SNAP benefits were increased in several ways. The minimum benefit and the standard deduction were both raised and a cap on the deduction for child care benefits was eliminated.

The asset limit for SNAP recipients was indexed to inflation.

By the time the 2008 bill became law, participation had already risen rapidly from the 1990s, both because of the liberalized rules as well as efforts by the Bush administration to promote the program. In 2008, more than 28.2 million people were enrolled in the program, exceeding the peak before the 1996 reform bill, at a cost of $34.6 billion.

Starting in 2009, the program’s participation and cost would explode, reflecting not just the Great Recession and a temporary boost in benefits provided by the 2009 stimulus bill, but also because of the 2008 farm bill provisions and new outreach efforts by the new Obama administration.

By 2012, as Congress was in the midst of writing a new farm bill, average participation would hit 46.6 million and the program’s cost would skyrocket to more than $74 billion. Democrats had lost control of the House in the Tea Party wave that swamped Washington in 2010, driven in part by the stimulus bill and the rapid growth of programs like SNAP.

The table was set for another major test of the farm-food coalition.

The alliance paid off for farmers as well as the needy

At no time in the modern history of farm bills has the urban-rural, farm-nutrition alliance probably been more mutually beneficial, or more obvious, than in 2002 and 2008.

Both bills, which passed Congress with broad, bipartisan support, increased spending on farm programs as well as nutrition assistance, and the 2008 version had to overcome a veto by George W. Bush, whose main objection was to a new revenue-based subsidy program that it created for Midwest growers. (The program, Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) turned out to be far less popular and costly than Bush feared.)

The 2002 farm bill created a new counter-cyclical commodity program to augment the fixed annual payments that were created by the 1996 law but proved insufficient when commodity prices tanked. The bill passed the House, 280-141, with 141 Republicans and 137 Democrats in support, and then cleared the Senate 64-35. Only seven Senate Democrats voted against it.

Six years later, the Senate voted 80-14 to override Bush's veto of the 2008 farm bill, which had to be considered twice because of a legislative error in the initial version. Only two Senate Democrats supported the veto.

The House overrode the veto, 319-109, only 13 House Democrats no votes. House Republicans split on the bill, 99-96.

When the 2008 farm came up for renewal, Democrats in the Senate would be crucial again in pushing the legislation across the line.

The coalition at risk: Demographic shifts and the Tea Party rise

As lawmakers prepared to replace the 2008 farm bill, the urban shift that Dole and his colleagues worried about in the 1960s and 1970s had continued, coupled by an equally dramatic polarization. In 2010, only about 19 percent of Americans lived in rural areas.

When new congressional lines were drawn after the 2010 census, 40 of the 435 House districts were 100 percent urban and more than half the districts were at least 86 percent urban. Just 34 districts nationwide were at least 50 rural, according to an analysis by ProximityOne.

Meanwhile, Democrats and major farm districts were disappearing along with urban Republicans. In 1996, the last time Congress had undertaken major cuts to nutrition programs, there were 44 Republicans representing districts in the Northeast. By the time Congress would start work on a new farm bill in 2012 that number would drop to 26, according to a University of Illinois analysis.

Charts above credited to University of Illinois

The number of House Democrats from the Plains states dropped from 21 to 12 over that period, the number from the Corn Belt fell from 25 to 22, and Democrats continued their Southern decline as well.

In 1996, there was still a sizable number of conservative, rural Democrats, such as Charlie Stenholm of Texas, who supported farm programs and were willing to vote for reforms to the nutrition title. At the same time, there were moderate Republicans who would resist cuts in nutrition spending.

“That placed limitations on how far you go as Republicans, and it gave you a chance to pick up Democratic votes,” said Bill O’Conner, who was GOP policy director for the House Agriculture Committee at the time. “You could count on 50 to 60 Democrats who would die to pass a farm bill because it was important to them,” O’Conner said.

What hadn’t changed is that the Republicans sent to Washington in 2010 and 2012 had recaptured much of the budget-cutting, anti-government fervor that had driven the 1996 Contract With America. As in 1996, they had an ally in the House GOP leadership, Majority Leader Eric Cantor, R-Va., who had his eyes set on reining in SNAP.

In the wake of the Tea Party rebellion, Republicans forced President Obama to cut a deal on a landmark agreement in 2011, the Budget Control Act, to rein in spending and cut the deficit. The agreement created a “super committee” to recommend a grand plan for reducing spending.

The super-committee ultimately failed to reach a deal, but the leaders of the House and Senate Agriculture committees used the process to agree on a plan to make $23 billion in farm bill cuts, which was one of the super-committee’s target. Under the lawmakers’ plan, $15 billion would come out of commodity programs with the rest split between conservation programs and SNAP.

The plan provided the framework for the farm bills that would emerge from the House and Senate Agriculture committees in 2012 and the legislation that would eventually be enacted in 2014. But the cut to nutrition assistance that was proposed during the super-committee process didn’t go nearly as far as many conservatives wanted, and these conservatives increasingly viewed the urban-rural farm bill coalition as an impediment to reform.

Conservatives not only wanted to cut the cost of SNAP they also wanted to tighten or eliminate provisions that they believed allowed too many undeserving people to get benefits or inflated benefits. Their targets included a provision known as “categorical eligibility,” which made people automatically eligible for SNAP if they received other types of public assistance. Also at issue was the SNAP utility allowance. Some states were increasing SNAP benefits by sending just $1 in heating assistance to households, a provision known as “heat and eat.”

Conservatives also were frustrated that the work requirement for able-bodied adults without dependents, or ABAWDs, that was enacted in 1996 had largely been eliminated because of waivers that the welfare reform law permitted governors to issue during economic downturns.

The Heritage Foundation, a think tank that is especially influential with House conservatives, released a report calling for sweeping changes to farm and nutrition policy and decrying the coalition that had historically provided support for the legislation. "Opportunities for reform are hindered by the sprawling scope of previous farm bills, which have encompassed food stamps, child nutrition, forestry, telecommunications, energy, and rural-development. This concentration of special interests constitutes a powerful force for the status quo," Heritage said.

Progressives were frustrated with the new attack on SNAP spending, but their influence was waning. The benefit increase provided by the 2009 stimulus bill was set to expire, and the Center for Budget and Policy Priorities, run by Robert Greenstein, who was President Carter's food stamp administrator, argued that about half of the cuts made by the 1996 welfare law were still in place despite the 2002 and 2008 farm bills.

The 2013 farm bill crackup

The House Agriculture Committee's 2012 bill, which was never debated on the floor of the Republican-controlled chamber, would have cut nutrition spending by $16 billion over 10 years, according to estimates at the time, largely by tightening categorical eligibility and the utility allowance. The Democratic-controlled Senate, refused to go that far, passing a bill that was estimated to cut $4 billion from nutrition.

The chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, Frank Lucas, R-Okla., couldn't talk the GOP leadership into finishing the farm bill in 2012, forcing Congress to pass a short-term extension of the 2008 law, and setting up new battle over food stamp spending in the 114th Congress in 2013.

The Congressional Budget Office almost immediately threw a new hurdle in the way by issuing new estimates of the 2012 bills that sharply lowered the estimated savings from nutrition programs. In talking to state welfare directors, CBO analysts decided that tightening the utility allowance wouldn't save nearly as much money as they thought. Their revision wiped out the projected $4 billion SNAP cut in the Senate bill and reduced the estimated nutrition savings in the House bill to $11.7 billion.

Lucas knew he had to sharply increase the cut to SNAP if he had any chance of winning enough GOP support to get the bill through the House by the summer of 2012, with enough time to work out a compromise version with the Senate before the temporary farm bill extension expired. So, in May 2013, his committee passed a new version of the bill that the CBO estimated would slash nutrition spending by more than $20 billion. Savings were primarily achieved by further tightening the eligibility and utility provisions.

But even that wasn't enough. Conservatives were determined to do something to increase the work requirements, and they got a decisive last-minute boost from Majority Leader Eric Cantor. When the bill was headed toward a final vote in the House, Cantor threw his support behind an amendment offered by then-Rep. Steve Southerland, R-Fla., to allow states to impose work requirements on SNAP beneficiaries and to keep some of the money that would be saved.

For the small number of Democrats who were willing to stomach the bill's $20 billion SNAP cut, the Sutherland amendment was the last straw. The farm-SNAP coalition literally snapped. The bill failed, 195-234. Only 24 Democrats voted for it. Sixty-two Republicans, many of them hardline conservatives who were skeptical of farm programs as well as SNAP, voted against it.

The ranking Democrat on the House Agriculture Committee, Collin Peterson of Minnesota, was furious with Cantor. He says he had supported the bill because Lucas assured him the SNAP cut wouldn't be increased. Peterson insists to this day that at least 50 Democrats were ready to vote for the bill before Southerland's amendment was adopted.

Heritage and other conservative groups that had been agitating to slash both farm and nutrition spending seized on the chance to split the urban-rural coalition once and for all.

"Now is the time for the House to recognize what so many others have: The unholy alliance that has long dominated America's agriculture and nutrition policy must end," said Michael Needham, CEO of Heritage Action for America.

Lucas and the House GOP leadership saw only one option short of trying to win over Democrats: split nutrition programs from the farm bill and increase the cuts. "We wanted separation, and we got it," said Rep. Marlin Stutzman, a hardline conservative from Indiana and Farm Bureau member who rejected the idea that farm and nutrition programs should be enacted together.

Lucas says the drive to split the bill was driven both by "my idealistic friends here in D.C.," who thought that it would produce greater budget savings, and by "people in this town who wanted to kill the farm bill.

"By splitting them up you'd kill both pieces and not have a farm bill," Lucas said.

In July, Cantor stripped the nutrition title from the bill and put the rest of the legislation on the House floor, despite united opposition from more than 500 farm groups and other organizations. The opponents included the American Farm Bureau Federation, which had seldom bucked congressional Republicans.

The House approved the SNAP-less farm bill, 216-208, over protests from Democrats. And then in September, Republicans forced through, 217-210, a nutrition-only bill that proposed to slash nearly $40 billion from SNAP over 10 years, a cut twice the size of the reduction in the bill that the House rejected in June. No Democrat voted for either bill. “Has our moral compass fallen so low?” asked House Minority Whip Steny Hoyer, D-Md.

But the conservative strategy ultimately failed. The House’s cuts to SNAP were a non-starter in the Senate, a point that Agriculture Chairwoman Debbie Stabenow, D-Mich., had been making clear for months. During the final negotiations on the bill, which culminated in January 2014, the cut to SNAP was reduced to $8 billion, close to what was envisioned in the original 2011 super-committee process, by raising states’ minimum “heat-and-eat” payment to $20 a month.

Southerland’s SNAP work amendment was transformed in a way that appealed to conservatives and progressives alike. With input from USDA and Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack, a provision was added to the final bill to fund a series of pilot projects around the country to test various conservative and progressive approaches to helping SNAP beneficiaries find work or get into better-paying jobs. The 10 projects are now under way.

Can the coalition hold?

The 2014 farm bill is turning out to save more money in nutrition spending than the CBO originally projected at enactment. As of August 2016, the five-year cost projection for SNAP had fallen $24 billion from what was originally projected, in part because an improving economy is reducing demand for the program more than expected.

And that trend is expected to continue: By last November, the latest month for which data are available, enrollment in the program had fallen to 43.2 million, down more than 3 million people from November 2013, when the final negotiations on the 2014 farm bill were under way.

Cost estimates for SNAP are coming down, too. In January 2016, CBO estimated that SNAP would cost taxpayers $73.9 billion for fiscal 2017. CBO has now cut that estimate to under $71 billion. By 2020, CBO estimates the cost will fall below $67 billion. Over 10 years, the reduced SNAP spending is expected to add up to about $80 billion less than that was expected when the 2014 bill was enacted.

Leaders of the House and Senate Agriculture committees have seized on the new estimates to argue against cuts in the next farm bill, due to be passed in 2018.

“The good news ... is that the economy is improving so there is less need for the safety net programs for families, so we’re saving tens of billions of dollars,” said Stabenow.

But Heritage and its allies in Congress still want to break up the farm-food coalition and slash both farm and nutrition spending. The 2016 Republican Party platform, for a time, called for breaking up the farm bill and removing SNAP from USDA. The platform accused Democrats of holding up passage of the 2014 farm bill, a reference to the dispute with the House over the size of the SNAP cuts. "The Democrats play politics with farm security. Much of the Democrats' delay had nothing to do with the vital role of American agriculture," the platform read. "It concerned their efforts to expand welfare through the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), which now comprises more than 70 percent of all farm bill spending."

The Heritage Foundation last year called for phasing out farm subsidies but knows that any major changes in commodity programs or SNAP will require breaking up the political base that supports farm bills.

"If you're a legislator you can always kind of say, 'Well I supported this combined farm bill, because I support the ag programs and, yes, I just had to bite the bullet on the fact that nothing is done with food stamps,' and vice versa,'" said Daren Bakst, the group's research fellow for agricultural policy. "We want legislators to be held accountable to their constituents."

But several of Heritage's allies in Congress in the 2013 battle are no longer around. Cantor and Southerland lost re-election bids in 2014. Stutzman lost a race for the Senate in 2016. Another rare farm-district advocate for cutting food stamps, Tim Huelskamp of Kansas, was ousted in a GOP primary in 2016. The conservative House Freedom Caucus is still around, but the group has so far been consumed by the debate over what to do with the Affordable Care Act. Freedom Caucus Chairman Mark Meadows, R-N.C., told Agri-Pulse recently he hadn't even thought about the farm bill and SNAP.

President Trump's campaign advisers distanced themselves from the GOP platform language. During an October debate with a surrogate for Hillary Clinton, Trump campaign co-chair Sam Clovis said that nutrition programs should stay in the farm bill and that the best way to reduce the cost of SNAP is to promote economic growth that will put more people to work.

A few farm lobbyists wonder privately whether the farm-food coalition is as relevant as it used to be. SNAP can be routinely extended through appropriations measures. If all a farm bill is going to do is cut the program, there would seem to be less reason for Democrats to support the legislation.

But farm and anti-hunger groups say they're determined to keep their coalition intact, as shown by last month's letter to the congressional Budget committees. "The agricultural community as a whole has little interest in slogging through another farm bill debate without working closely with our colleagues in the nutrition community," said Chuck Conner, a deputy agriculture secretary under George W. Bush who is now president and CEO of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

Conaway, the House Agriculture Committee chairman, plans to move a new farm bill late this year or in early 2018, but he's not sure how extensively Speaker Ryan wants to address SNAP and other welfare programs, or when. And it's not clear that whatever Ryan decides to do would have legs. Unlike in 1996, there's little interest in the Senate for welfare reform, says Roberts, the Senate Agriculture chairman.

O'Conner, the former House Agriculture Committee aide who is now a farm policy consultant with McLeod, Watkinson and Miller, said the public support for welfare reform that existed in the early 1990s is not there now. "Even the ferment about food stamps that was going during the last farm bill did not produce results that would tell you that it's an absolute priority," he said.

When asked about Ryan's plans for welfare reform, a spokeswoman responded, "We haven't said anything publicly." A report issued by Ryan last year called for identifying policies that discourage work-capable SNAP recipients from getting jobs or preparing for employment.

Conaway, meanwhile, faces essentially the same balancing act that Lucas did in finding enough support to get a farm bill through the House. His committee held 16 hearings on SNAP in 2015 and 2016 and issued a report in December last year with a series of relatively modest recommendations. Among its conclusions: Some states need to better enforce their work requirements and enforcement needs to be coupled with better employment and training programs. "Promoting pathways to employment is the best way to help individuals climb the economic ladder out of poverty and into self-sufficiency," the report said.

Rep. Jackie Walorski, an Indiana Republican who chaired the House Agriculture Committee's nutrition subcommittee in the last Congress, has since moved to the Ways and Means Committee, which would have the lead role in shaping Ryan's welfare bill.

Jim Weill, president of the Food Research and Action Center, an anti-hunger advocacy group that signed the February budget letter, says the House Agriculture Committee's oversight is good for SNAP because it ultimately bolsters the case for maintaining the assistance. "It conveys to Congress how important the program is to all communities, including rural communities," he said.

Rep. Jim McGovern, the ranking Democrat on the nutrition subcommittee, didn't have any input into the committee's report, but he later released a five-page letter quoting the broad array of witnesses who praised the way it functioned.

A second report, released by USDA, raised another issue that the committee may consider: Whether to put restrictions on what types of foods and beverages can be bought with SNAP benefits or whether to provide new incentives for healthful foods. The USDA report found that 20 percent of SNAP benefits are used for sugary beverages and junk food.

Conaway doesn't rule out the possibility that the farm bill might have to be split again to get it through the House. Peterson, still the ranking Democrat on House Agriculture, is optimistic that won't happen.

The outcome in 2013 “helps us because people got burned. I think they’re going to be reluctant to do it again,” Peterson said. “The Senate is not going to split this bill. No matter what happens in the House, it ain’t going to happen.”

Good afternoon Gus. Congratulations on your Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation Board selection. We are thrilled to have your valuable perspective and expertise. Please see the attached welcome letter from Foundation Chair, Jean Ragalie-Carr. It also includes the meeting and call dates for FY18. Although your term begins on June 1, 2017, you are invited to audit the call on May 16th to approve the FY18 Foundation Budget. Please let me know if there is additional information I can provide. Thanks!

Diane, I am not sure who will be working on the board retreat, but I just got off the phone with Emily Jackson and she works in the farm to table, sustainability, restaurant world and knows all the people, places and contacts in Asheville including the Biltmore. She said she would be happy to help you all work up some plans for the afternoon and evening events. She helps get preceptors for interns in School Systems, but is super connected in Asheville. Feel free to use her or not use her!

Hi Donna

Thanks for getting back to me. Why don't we talk on Monday, the 6th, at 10am. I can call you and is the 706-554-5393 the best number to reach you?

Subject: DI and USDA

Hello Donna!

Hope you are well. I was just talking about you the other day when I was speaking with a Dietetic Internship Director - we were planning the local food and farm to school training for late summer.

I was very surprised to hear about this initiative of AND and USDA and I would love to talk to you more about it. As I think I've mentioned, we've been working with DI programs for the past 8 years and have learned a lot from that experience. With DI Directors, we created a resource that aligns the national DI competencies with local food and farm to school. I think we've created a model that other universities could put into place.

Please let me know when a good time to talk might be.

Thanks and be well,
Emily

Hi Donna-

Thank you for agreeing to record a short renewal message to send to those members who have not yet renewed. The short message is attached.

We will be using a 3rd party telemarketing company, ListeNation, to record and deliver your message. There are three ways to record the message:

1. Call directly into their system using a landline phone: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/>
2. Use an Apple device (iPhone or iPad) to record the message and send it via email: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/iphone/>
3. Use an Android device to record the message and send it via email: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/android/>

If you decide to record the message on your cell phone and email it in, you can email it to me at lsmothers@eatright.org.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need any assistance. If you could please finalize your message by March 24th, that would be great. The message is scheduled to be sent out the week of April 17th.

Thanks,

Hi, Donna:

We have been discussing ideas for your June President's Page – your self-introduction to the Academy's membership as president, to accompany Dayle Hayes's introductory article (which she has sent us and we're reviewing it now...we'll send our edits to you for review, probably next week).

For your June article, we suggest drawing on the words and ideas in the remarks developed for your White House visit in October (attached). We believe this text, based so deeply on your ideas and themes and priorities you have articulated, would serve as an ideal way to “start the conversation” with Academy members for your term.

And since Dayle’s article will include your headshot photo, this page could include one of the photos you mentioned to us when we met in January – the table in the White House garden (as you noted in our meeting: “We’re not just at the table...we’re setting it.”), or alternatively a photo of you with Michelle Obama from the images you took at the Let’s Move! event. If so, can you please email us any (or all) of the images you have?

Please let us know what you think of these ideas, and we can draft the page and send it to you for your review.

In addition, we want to make sure we are emailing you at your preferred address. Would you like us to use donnasmartin@gmail.com, or continue with DMartin@Burke.k12.ga.us? We’ll use whichever you prefer.

Thank you again, and we’ll talk to you soon!

Key new features:

- A Real Stories section that focuses on how Academy members were helped through videos and member spotlights.
- Easy access to scholarship, award, and grant applications and resources on Public Education programs, Kids Eat Right, and Future of Food.
- News sections that provide stories about how Academy members work with the Foundation to make a positive impact on food and nutrition.
- A Second Century page that hosts info pertinent to Academy members, including a listing of current Second Century donors and newly created social media badges for donors to download and utilize.

Explore the Foundation's new site to learn about our full spectrum of services!

The Foundation would like to thank the Academy web team for helping us develop such a dynamic and visually appealing site and the Academy marketing team for helping us roll out a promotion plan!

Dear Mrs. Obama:

During the Obama Administration and in particular with the creation and remarkable success of your Let's Move! Initiative, it was my personal and professional honor to work with you and your team to improve the nutritional health of our nation's children. Your visits to the Burke County schools and your kind invitation for me to attend the Let's Move! celebratory event last October proved that we agree: There is no greater calling in life than to be able to teach children to live a healthier life. It was a joy and a privilege for eight years for our country to have a First Lady who shares the same passions as the registered dietitian nutritionists of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

As a parent, grandparent, taxpayer and RDN, I could not have been happier to see what we can do – and are doing – for children. Nutrition and health for kids is a nonpartisan issue, and one that all of us can get behind and celebrate. We share your passion for molding a future for our children that will endure for their lifetimes. Healthier children really do make a healthier nation.

In June, I will have the distinct honor of beginning my one-year term as President of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. This honor is made even more special because 2017 is our Academy's Centennial year. We are celebrating our past and planning for our Second Century as the leaders in food and nutrition. Since the Academy's beginning, food and health systems have continued to evolve, becoming more global and complex. These challenges also create unprecedented opportunities for innovation and collaboration,

The Academy's Board recently adopted as our new vision: "A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition." And we have dedicated ourselves to the new mission: "Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition."

In October of this year, the Academy will officially celebrate our 100th birthday in our organization's hometown – and yours – of Chicago, at our Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo. We can think of no individual who would be more appropriate than you to be the Keynote Speaker at our conference of more than 12,000 food and nutrition professionals.

On behalf of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Board of Directors, it is my pleasure to invite you to present the 2017 Opening Keynote Lecture on October 21, 2017. The Opening Session will be from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. Central Time McCormick Place-West in the Skyline Ballroom.

The Opening Keynote Lecture annually focuses on an issue that is important for the future of the dietetics profession. I have personally experienced how you have moved the needle in terms of school nutrition and positively affected the health of millions of children. Academy members want to keep this momentum going, and you are the perfect person to speak to these dedicated professionals for whom nutrition and health are like oxygen! We are not yet where we need to be, but together we will get there.

Academy members would be honored to hear your remarks and learn from your expertise on this important topic. I hope your schedule permits you to serve as our Keynote Speaker. Your scheduling staff can contact Diane Enos, the Academy's Vice President of Lifelong Learning and Professional Engagement, at 312/899-1767 or denos@eatright.org.

I look forward to working with you in the years to come, and to seeing you at our conference in October.

Dear Registered Dietitian Nutritionist:

We are conducting a survey of registered dietitian nutritionists (RDNs) who work in a healthcare facility to examine their current practices and ongoing need for education/training on documenting the malnutrition diagnosis and performing nutrition focused physical exam. We will compare the responses received about two years ago in a similar survey. Whether or not you previously participated in the similar survey, you are eligible to participate in this survey.

This anonymous survey will take less than 10-15 minutes to complete and will ask questions about documenting the malnutrition diagnosis and performing nutrition focused physical exam.

The survey will be open for 21 days from Friday, March 3rd, 2017 and we would appreciate your responses. Please note that the survey must be completed in one sitting, so please do not click the following link until you have approximately 10-15 minutes.

TAKE SURVEY

If you are not currently practicing as an RDN, please do not answer the survey. If you have received this invitation through multiple organizations, please answer only once. Please direct any questions to bmordarski@eatright.org

Pat and Donna,

I am writing as a follow-up to a conversation Mary Russell, Barbara Visocan and I had about a session that we proposed for FNCE. We submitted a session on ethics which was declined. I understand that issue of too many proposals for limited spots but the topic was ethics and in light of the recent election, and the many real or at least perceived breaches of our Code, the three of us would like to encourage consideration of a Hot Topic session on Ethics.

The topic as a whole is important, since it appears that many members have forgotten that we have a Code of Ethics, and then the component of social media and professional ethics needs to be addressed. Whether this is a session that reports the upcoming task force outcomes or a session that is designed to meet this very large concern about professional ethics, FNCE, and our 100th anniversary, is a perfect time to remind the profession that we do have a Code of Ethics and adhering to it has gotten us to this point and needs to guide us forward.

Thanks for your time.

Hi Donna-

Thank you for agreeing to record a short renewal message to send to those members who have not yet renewed. The short message is attached.

We will be using a 3rd party telemarketing company, ListeNation, to record and deliver your message. There are three ways to record the message:

1. Call directly into their system using a landline phone: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/>
2. Use an Apple device (iPhone or iPad) to record the message and send it via email: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/iphone/>
3. Use an Android device to record the message and send it via email: <http://listenation.com/what-we-do/listenation-call/recordinginstructions/android/>

If you decide to record the message on your cell phone and email it in, you can email it to me at lsmothers@eatright.org.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need any assistance. If you could please finalize your message by March 24th, that would be great. The message is scheduled to be sent out the week of April 17th.

Thanks,

Lilliane

Dear Academy Board,

The Academy Foundation is proud to announce it has launched a new website with Academy member and donor needs in mind. With an updated look and feel, the site will help us reach our goal of advancing public health and nutrition utilizing the expertise of RDNs through scholarships, awards, research grants, and public education.

Key new features:

- A Real Stories section that focuses on how Academy members were helped through videos and member spotlights.
- Easy access to scholarship, award, and grant applications and resources on Public Education programs, Kids Eat Right, and Future of Food.
- News sections that provide stories about how Academy members work with the Foundation to make a positive impact on food and nutrition.
- A Second Century page that hosts info pertinent to Academy members, including a listing of current Second Century donors and newly created social media badges for donors to download and utilize.

Explore the Foundation's new site to learn about our full spectrum of services!

The Foundation would like to thank the Academy web team for helping us develop such a dynamic and visually appealing site and the Academy marketing team for helping us roll out a promotion plan!

Warm Regards,

Jean Ragalie-Carr, RDN, LDN, FAND

Hi, Donna: Attached is the standalone presentation on Second Century, that can accompany or replace Academy Update as needed. We worked with Nicci Brown to develop this PPT. As an FYI, the slides are in wide-screen format, while the regular Academy Update slides are in the standard format. This should pose no problems if/when you give it... to be on the safe side, the meeting organizers should alert the A/V people at their meeting site if you're going to give this presentation with, or instead of, the Academy Update PPT.

Also attached is a PDF of the presentation, if needed for posting to affiliates' websites, etc.

Hope this helps, please let us know if you need anything else. Thanks very much!

Thank you so much for attending our Second Century reception last week. We are all connected through the Academy and Foundation, sharing a passion for our profession. I am honored to call you my colleagues and friends. A special thank you to Mary Abbott Hess for hosting the event in her lovely home.

I truly hope you are now as inspired and excited about the Second Century Initiative as I am. If you have already made a gift, thank you for your support. If you haven't made your gift to the Second Century yet, please join me in making a commitment to the future of our profession by clicking DONATE and select Second Century to make your gift on-line. Please note that pledges over $500 may be paid out over a period of years rather than all at one time. And as I said at the event, the size of the gift is not as important as making a commitment to an annual donation to the Foundation in an amount that is appropriate for you at this time in your career and life. A gift to the Foundation and the Second Century Campaign celebrates the Academy's 100-year anniversary and is an investment in our future.

The Academy and Foundation are charting the course for a bold, new vision where dietitians lead the charge in improving nutritional health worldwide. Together, we are planting the seeds for our Second Century. Thank you for your support!

Sincerely,

Thank you, all.

I will provide OAND with the title Solving the Greatest Food and Nutrition Challenges of Today ... and Tomorrow.

A description for the session follows below. Please let me know if you have any changes.

Solving the Greatest Food and Nutrition Challenges of Today ... and Tomorrow

In the Academy's Centennial year, this unique presentation takes an informative and inspirational look at the Academy and the nutrition and dietetics profession ... past, present and future. Former President Susan Finn, PHD, RDN, FAND, will speak on the ways the Academy is honoring its past in 2017, as the organization embraces our historic anniversary and plans for the next 100 years. President Lucille Beseler, MS, RDN, LDN, CDE, FAND, will celebrate the present – the Academy as we stand today, with members living out the Vision and Mission of the organization. President-elect Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND, will describe the Academy's future, particularly the exciting and ambitious Second Century initiative that aims to accelerate progress towards solving the greatest food and nutrition challenges of the 21st century.

Lastly, please let me know how I can assist with any changes you'd like to make to the attached slide deck for your presentation.

Thank you, again!

I have learned so much over the last few months and I truly value and appreciate my time with you. Not everyone can say they were trained by the Academy's president; that's for sure!

I hope you're not too busy because I would love your support with an assignment.

In one of the courses I am taking this semester, I have to write a reaction paper towards the work of the Academy in advocating for and establishing public policy around hunger and food security.

The instructions are to:

- Describe the advocacy and policy work the Academy is doing regarding hunger and food security.
- Describe what you think and how you feel about the role the Academy plays in representing its members in the public arena on the issue of hunger and food security.

As a student member of the Academy, I have been doing my research on the web (www.eatright.org) to identify at least one example of a policy related to hunger and food security that's been backed by the Academy. Unfortunately, I have been unsuccessful in identifying any; and it could be simply not knowing how to or where to look.

But because I know you and I share similar passions for food security, I wanted to ask if you knew of any policies that I could use to compose this paper? If so, would you be so kind as to share that information with me, along with how I may find it? Or maybe direct me to someone who you feel would be helpful in this matter?

Thank you so much President Martin; as always, it's a pleasure to speak with you. I look forward to hearing from you at your earliest convenience and I hope to see you in a few weeks at the GAND Conference in Savannah.

Thank You,

Hi, Donna: Each year, as one way to encourage members to renew, the Academy's Membership Team sends out a recorded phone message from the incoming president. If you are comfortable recording a short message, the script is attached for your review. With your approval, we will have Membership contact you to arrange the recording.

Thank you very much, talk to you soon.

Pat and Donna,

I am writing as a follow-up to a conversation Mary Russell, Barbara Visocan and I had about a session that we proposed for FNCE. We submitted a session on ethics which was declined. I understand that issue of too many proposals for limited spots but the topic was ethics and in light of the recent election, and the many real or at least perceived breaches of our Code, the three of us would like to encourage consideration of a Hot Topic session on Ethics.

The topic as a whole is important, since it appears that many members have forgotten that we have a Code of Ethics, and then the component of social media and professional ethics needs to be addressed. Whether this is a session that reports the upcoming task force outcomes or a session that is designed to meet this very large concern about professional ethics, FNCE, and our 100th anniversary, is a perfect time to remind the profession that we do have a Code of Ethics and adhering to it has gotten us to this point and needs to guide us forward.

Thanks for your time.

Subject: New Foundation website promotion

Dear Academy Foundation Board,

The Academy Foundation is proud to announce it has launched a new website with Academy member and donor needs in mind. With an updated look and feel, the site will help us reach our goal of advancing public health and nutrition utilizing the expertise of RDNs through scholarships, awards, research grants, and public education.

Key new features:

- A Real Stories section that focuses on how Academy members were helped through videos and member spotlights.
- Easy access to scholarship, award, and grant applications and resources on Public Education programs, Kids Eat Right, and Future of Food.
- News sections that provide stories about how Academy members work with the Foundation to make a positive impact on food and nutrition.
- A Second Century page that hosts info pertinent to Academy members, including a listing of current Second Century donors and newly created social media badges for donors to download and utilize.

Explore the Foundation's new site to learn about our full spectrum of services!

The Foundation would like to thank the Academy web team for helping us develop such a dynamic and visually appealing site and the Academy marketing team for helping us roll out a promotion plan!

Dear Academy Foundation Board,

The Academy Foundation is proud to announce it has launched a new website with Academy member and donor needs in mind. With an updated look and feel, the site will help us reach our goal of advancing public health and nutrition utilizing the expertise of RDNs through scholarships, awards, research grants, and public education.

Key new features:

- A Real Stories section that focuses on how Academy members were helped through videos and member spotlights.
- Easy access to scholarship, award, and grant applications and resources on Public Education programs, Kids Eat Right, and Future of Food.
- News sections that provide stories about how Academy members work with the Foundation to make a positive impact on food and nutrition.
- A Second Century page that hosts info pertinent to Academy members, including a listing of current Second Century donors and newly created social media badges for donors to download and utilize.

Explore the Foundation's new site to learn about our full spectrum of services!

The Foundation would like to thank the Academy web team for helping us develop such a dynamic and visually appealing site and the Academy marketing team for helping us roll out a promotion plan!

Dear Nutrition Impact Summit Participants,

This is an exciting time for the Academy. We are celebrating 100 years and charting our second century grounded in an extraordinary commitment to collaboration, a focus on service and an emphasis on accelerating the progress towards solving the greatest food and nutrition challenges of the 21st century.

We appreciate your participation in the Nutrition Impact Summit. Your feedback helped to shape a set of ideas for collaborative initiatives. We will send a follow up on the status of the proposed projects to you in April.

At its most recent meeting on February 24, the Academy Board of Directors discussed where we saw the biggest opportunities for growth as an organization and how we could increase value to our members while making an impact in the world. I am delighted to share the Academy's new vision, mission and principles with you. They were informed by our collective best thinking and reflect member and stakeholder input.

New Vision

A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition

New Mission

Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition

New Principles

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and our members:

- Integrate research, professional development and practice to stimulate innovation and discovery
- Collaborate to solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges now and in the future
- Focus on system-wide impact across the food, wellness and health care sectors
- Have a global impact in eliminating all forms of malnutrition
- Amplify the contribution of nutrition practitioners and expand workforce capacity and capability.

Our Second Century initiative represents a major milestone in the 100-year history of the Academy. It sets the stage for the next phase of our strategic planning process in July.

Much hard work has been done to get us to this point. The Board is grateful to all the Summit participants. Please stay tuned as we continue to make our Second Century bigger, bolder and better together.

Sincerely,

Lucille Beseler, MS, RDN, LDN, CDE, FAND

Are you a Quality Leader? Apply Today

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' Quality Leader Alliance second year is getting underway and it is seeking individuals experienced in quality to network with each other as well as communicate and educate food and nutrition practitioners on quality management concepts and resources. The individuals selected will be dedicated to a two year term.

All nutrition and dietetics practitioners are encouraged to apply to be a part of the Quality Leader Alliance. More information including the application is available at www.eatrightpro.org/QLA. The application will close March 31, 2017 for review by the Academy's Quality Strategies Workgroup. Appointments to the Alliance will be determined in May 2017.

The topic as a whole is important, since it appears that many members have forgotten that we have a Code of Ethics, and then the component of social media and professional ethics needs to be addressed. Whether this is a session that reports the upcoming task force outcomes or a session that is designed to meet this very large concern about professional ethics, FNCE, and our 100th anniversary, is a perfect time to remind the profession that we do have a Code of Ethics and adhering to it has gotten us to this point and needs to guide us forward.

We have great news to share with you; to celebrate the start of National Nutrition Month, the congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial was introduced in the House of Representatives and the Senate!

All of the original sponsors are from Ohio, where the Academy was founded in 1917. Senate sponsors are Senators Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Reps. Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi.

As a reminder, we will be asking you to reach out to your Members of Congress to support this Centennial resolution. We have drafted a sample email for you to send to your Representative and two Senators, along with contact information to send the message. We will send this information to you next week.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Many thanks for your leadership!

Dear ANDPAC and LPPC members,

Just a reminder that if you haven't already completed and submitted your 2017 In-Person Meeting expense report, please do so as soon as possible. The In-Person Meeting expense report code is 103-6963

Feel free to submit your report using the online system or, if you wish to submit a paper copy, contact me directly in the DC office. For our newest committee members, I have attached a PDF with detailed instructions for submitting expense reports online.

Please keep in mind that the deadline for submitting expense reports is 10:00 a.m. CT on Tuesdays. We will do our best to ensure that reports submitted by the deadline are approved quickly and forwarded to accounting for payment on the following Friday.

Thank you,

Pat and Donna,

I am writing as a follow-up to a conversation Mary Russell, Barbara Visocan and I had about a session that we proposed for FNCE. We submitted a session on ethics which was declined. I understand that issue of too many proposals for limited spots but the topic was ethics and in light of the recent election, and the many real or at least perceived breaches of our Code, the three of us would like to encourage consideration of a Hot Topic session on Ethics.

The topic as a whole is important, since it appears that many members have forgotten that we have a Code of Ethics, and then the component of social media and professional ethics needs to be addressed. Whether this is a session that reports the upcoming task force outcomes or a session that is designed to meet this very large concern about professional ethics, FNCE, and our 100th anniversary, is a perfect time to remind the profession that we do have a Code of Ethics and adhering to it has gotten us to this point and needs to guide us forward.

Thanks for your time.

I am working on the items requested for the Copper lecture and I have a few questions:

* Can you provide me a link to help understand the relationship between Learning Objectives and Anticipated Learning Outcomes/Practice Applications? - since the call for sessions is closed my link doesn't work, but I can tell you that you should develop your over arching Learning Objectives as you are used to doing. The practice applications should reflect the three take aways of actionable items that practitioners should be able to apply to their jobs when they leave the session.

* I am very familiar with the first ... and less so with the second.

* For the color photo:

* Is this meant to be one formal head shot to be used throughout promotional materials? - yes, but see below

* Is there also a more candid shot? I am thinking of the photo of Kathleen Zelman in this article: <http://www.foodandnutrition.org/Kathleen-Zelman/>

-This actually was a professional alternative "headshot". Headshots can be formal (studio) or more reflective of you in a work or environment that reflects you. As long as it is at the quality we need and we can crop it from the waist up, we are good. It is easiest if the photo comes to us cropped exactly as you want us to use the photo.

I will have the written materials completed this week and to you this week. However, I will need a bit more time for a new photo ... since I am on vacation in Africa until March 10. Unless of course, one with a giraffe would be appropriate.

* I plan to have this done to you early the week of March 13.

* If this is too late, I do have the attached formal head shot.

-- We can wait for after your trip...have the most amazing time!

Thanks for your help and patience!

Good evening, Dayle-

Congratulations on being selected to present the 2017 Lenna Frances Cooper Memorial Lecture at FNCE® in Chicago, IL. I am writing because the Cooper Lecture is a featured lecture at FNCE® and we would like to appropriately market and highlight this session. In order to allow for a high level of visibility and attendance at this featured lecture, it is scheduled on Sunday, October 21, 2017 from 10 – 11:30 a.m.

Additionally, we are currently working on gathering information for the Academy FNCE® web site and preview materials, which provides the title and description of each featured lecture/session. We would like to include the following:

1. Color Photo (300 dpi or higher resolution)
2. Session information
 - a. Title
 - b. Description
 - c. 3 Learning Objectives
 - d. 3 Anticipated Learning Outcomes/Practice Applications for attendees at your session
3. Moderator (NOTE: This is on file and approved as Donna Martin)

We would like to have this on the FNCE® web site when we launch the content in March/April, so we will ideally need this information by February 28, 2017. You can email this information to me at denos@eatright.org< mailto:denos@eatright.org>.

Also, all speaker agreements will be sent out in late March/early April via our electronic notification system, but we thought you would find it helpful to know the benefits associated with this lecture that will be included on your agreement. Instructions on how to book travel & housing as well as how to obtain FNCE® registration will be included in the VIP benefits information sent out in April.

- Honorarium: $2500 (sent post-meeting)
- Travel: 1 Round Trip Coach Ticket; transportation to/from airport in your hometown and Chicago
- Housing: 3 nights, single room
- Per diem: 4 days
- Registration: Complimentary for full FNCE® conference

Please let me know if I can offer any assistance or clarification with this process. Again, congratulations on your selection as the 2017 Cooper Lecturer.

Best Regards,
Diane

Academy's Second Quarterly Advocacy Day on Capitol Hill a Huge Success!

Over 120 Academy members and partner organization members visited with more than 150 key members of Congress to highlight obesity and the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act. A Congressional briefing was held in conjunction with the event. Watch for additional information later this week.

As of today, we have had 3,475 Academy members send 11,069 letters to Congress. The lists and additional information will be posted later this week. An email will be sent when the information is posted.

We need you to continue to urge your Affiliate, DPG and MIG members to take action by utilizing the Action Center to send letters to members of Congress. There is power in numbers but only if we activate our membership!

Here is a message you can post to your electronic mailing lists. The following approved message should be used.

Dear Colleague,

Over 120 advocates attended the Obesity Quarterly Advocacy Day. Academy members will be meeting with Senators and Representatives' on Monday, February 27, 2017.

Please assist with continuing to urge Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 that allows registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients. Medicare recipients deserve access to obesity counseling from Registered Dietitian Nutritionists who have the expertise and training to provide quality care.

It is urgent that members of the 115th Congress hear from you. Please take action today! It takes only a few minutes!

Academy's Centennial - Congressional Resolution

To honor National Nutrition Month 2017, a congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial is planned to be introduced tomorrow, March 1, in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives. Each of the resolution's original sponsors is from Ohio, where our Academy was founded in 1917. The Senate sponsors are Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi.

We will share the final language and bill numbers when it is introduced. Academy members will be encouraged to take action and ask their Congressional leaders to sign-on to this resolution. The Academy's Centennial webpage, a wealth of interesting background information may be helpful in gaining their support. Stay tuned for additional information about the action alert.

PPW Boot Camp Session 1 for PPC and PALs

We have received requests to postpone the first PPW Boot Camp session for PPC and PALs since many affiliates, DPGs and MIGs have not yet identified their member leaders for the new year and appreciate the flexibility. We will send you the new timing schedule next week.

PPW 2017 Affiliate Important Information

As affiliates begin to identify their PPW 2017 team, we encourage you to consider sending additional members of your public policy panel such as the SPR, SRS, CPC and RR. PPW provides important training and leadership development for affiliate public policy leaders.

As of today, 28 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. In addition to attending PPW, the affiliate PPC will:

1. Participate in All Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Assist with training his/her affiliate's attendees prior to PPW
3. Setup and coordinate Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her affiliate
4. Assist attendees with setup of meetings with U.S. House of Representatives as appropriate
5. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
6. Submit report prior to PPW with the scheduled meetings (sample will be provided)
7. Serve as table facilitator during PPW

8. Mentor affiliate attendees
9. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill
10. Coordinate in-district Congressional follow up visits

It is a big job! The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

PPW 2017 DPG and MIG Important Information

As of today, 13 DPGs and 2 MIGs have submitted the name of the PAL who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017. In addition to attending PPW, the PAL or alternate PAL will:

1. Participate in Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
3. Assist and work with affiliate Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) as appropriate
4. Setup of meeting with U.S. House of Representative member as appropriate
5. Attend Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her voting state
6. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill on June 24
7. Attend in-district Congressional follow up visits

Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

Hello Lucille, Donna and Susan.

I have provided OAND with your bios and photos, as they requested. I spoke with Strategic Communications team regarding the session title and description for your Opening Keynote address and they suggested possibly using (all or parts of) the attached 2017 Academy Update presentation that includes the new vision, mission and principles that are being announced today. The learning objectives/description are on slide #2 which include the Second Century information.

Susan, I ran your ideas for the title past the Strategic Communications team, and they offered the following suggestions for consideration.

- Transformational Power: Solving Today's Greatest Food and Nutrition Challenges
- Solving the Greatest Food and Nutrition Challenges of Today ... and Tomorrow

Please let me know your thoughts on a title and the presentation description that you'd like me to provide to OAND for their program announcements, or if you need any further information.

Thank you!

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Board Approves Academy's New Vision, Mission, Principles

At its February 24 meeting, the Board of Directors approved the Academy's new vision, mission and principles. The Academy's new vision: A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition. Our new mission: Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition. Our new principles: The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and our members:

- Integrate research, development and practice to stimulate innovation and discovery
- Collaborate to solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges now and in the future
- Focus on system-wide impact across the food, wellness and health care sectors
- Have a global impact in eliminating all forms of malnutrition
- Amplify the contribution of nutrition practitioners and expand workforce capacity and capability.

A great deal of hard work has been done to get the Academy to this point. The Board is grateful to all members who were involved in the process of developing the organization's new vision, mission and principles. More information is available online on these exciting developments for the Academy's future.

March 1: Congressional Resolution to Celebrate Academy's Centennial

To commemorate National Nutrition Month 2017, a congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial is scheduled to be introduced March 1 in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives. Each of the resolution's original sponsors is from Ohio, where the Academy was founded in 1917. The Senate sponsors are Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi. Academy members will be encouraged to take action and ask your Congressional leaders to sign on to this resolution. The Academy's website contains a wealth of interesting background information on our Centennial that may be helpful in gaining their support. More information will be coming soon about the action alert.

Thanks everyone for all the information. I joked with Marsha that I had plenty of reading material on my cross country flights this week!

Seriously, Linda Farr suggested we might develop a game plan prior to meeting. Her suggestion was we might consider evaluating all the candidates and scoring with a 5 highly recommended down to a 1 maybe next time. She said she thought that helped her and Lucille do the job faster. What are your thoughts? Other ideas?

Good morning,

My apologies for failing to include one attachment in my email from last evening. Don't worry, this one is a quick read. I recognize you received volumes of information that is potentially overwhelming. While others, such as Lucille and Linda, may have other advice, I recommend as you look at each committee, that you start by looking at the staff recommendations and associated member bios. You can then expand your review of applicants from there. And as with any application system, while we included all members for whom we deemed their survey responses "complete," some responses are more complete or informative than others. So I suspect you will be able to quickly eliminate some of the individuals from consideration.

Once again, please reach out to me at any time with questions in advance of the meeting. At the meeting we will also have available for you information on individuals not selected for the national ballot but highly recommended by the Nominating Committee, as well as information on individuals who were not elected to national office. Hello!

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and the Diabetes Care and Education (DCE) Dietetic Practice Group (DPG) are collaborating on a research project to determine if a diabetes certificate of training program impacts the practice of Registered Dietitian Nutritionists (RDNs) who counsel patients with diabetes. The Academy and DCE DPG are asking you, RDNs who counsel patients with diabetes, to consider participating in this research project. We are particularly interested in generalist RDNs, or those who see a variety of patients rather than specialize in diabetes, and RDNs from private practice and smaller sites to participate in this research study.

How will this research project benefit you? Here's the Academy's top 10 list!

1. You will receive FREE training on the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Health Informatics Infrastructure (ANDHII), Evidence Analysis Library (EAL) and Nutrition Care Process Terminology (NCPT).
2. You will earn five (5) free CPEUs for attending the ANDHII/ EAL/ NCPT training.
3. You will have access to the diabetes certificate of training program for FREE.
4. You will earn 8-12 FREE CPEUs for completing the diabetes certificate of training program.
5. You will be contributing to research.
6. You will be acknowledged as a research participant in resulting publications.
7. You will have the opportunity to present results at local meetings.
8. You will advance your knowledge of diabetes nutrition care.
9. You will be helping your diabetic patients by providing them with evidence-based nutrition care.
10. You will be helping to advance the profession of nutrition and dietetics!

To learn more about this project, plan to attend a live 30 minute informational webinar on Tuesday, March 7 at 8:30 am PT/ 9:30 am MT/ 10:30 am CT/ 11:30 am ET. Register for the webinar even if you cannot attend the live session so the recording can be emailed to you. At the completion of the webinar, you will be asked to complete a brief survey to indicate your interest and commitment to participating in this research study and upcoming trainings.

Register for the March 7 webinar today!

The Academy and DCE DPG look forward to your participation in this important research initiative.

Dear Academy Leaders,

This is an exciting time for the Academy. We are celebrating 100 years and charting our second century grounded in an extraordinary commitment to collaboration, a focus on service and an emphasis on accelerating the progress towards solving the greatest food and nutrition challenges of the 21st century.

The Academy Board of Directors met in January 2016 to establish a bold vision for the future and to develop a strategic direction that seeks to expand the influence and reach of the nutrition and dietetics profession.

Since that meeting, the Board of Directors has:

- Engaged stakeholders and experts across the food, wellness and health care systems
- Held more than 100 in-depth interviews
- Conducted several working sessions with the Foundation Board
- Gathered intelligence from the three years of visioning work from the Council on Future Practice, and commissioned a report on the global food and nutrition landscape
- Developed a briefing paper to crystallize the challenges, opportunities and unintended consequences
- Hosted the Nutrition Impact Summit, where we engaged almost 200 stakeholders, with thought leaders, innovators and practitioners in the food, wellness and health care system. The Summit helped inform a shared vision for our future and shaped a set of ideas for collaborative initiatives.

Most importantly, members played a key role and were involved throughout the process, providing feedback through surveys, interviews and key discussions at member meetings. They were engaged and helped to create a new vision for the Academy.

A primary responsibility of the Academy Board is to set and monitor the strategic plan. At its most recent meeting on February 24, the Academy Board discussed where we saw the biggest opportunities for growth as an organization and how we could increase value to our members while making an impact in the world. The Academy's new vision, mission and principles were informed by our collective best thinking and reflect member and stakeholder input.

New Vision

A world where all people thrive through the transformative power of food and nutrition

New Mission

Accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition

New Principles

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and our members:

- Integrate research, professional development and practice to stimulate innovation and discovery
- Collaborate to solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges now and in the future
- Focus on system-wide impact across the food, wellness and health care sectors
- Have a global impact in eliminating all forms of malnutrition
- Amplify the contribution of nutrition practitioners and expand workforce capacity and capability.

We will be making the official announcement to members on Wednesday, March 1, just in time for National Nutrition Month and we will continue to promote our new vision, mission and principles throughout the coming months.

Our Second Century initiative represents a major milestone in the 100-year history of the Academy. It sets the stage for the next phase of our strategic planning process in July.

Much hard work has been done to get us to this point. The Board is grateful to all members who were involved in this process. Please stay tuned as we continue to make our Second Century bigger, bolder and better together.

Sincerely,

Lucille Beseler, MS, RDN, LDN, CDE

Academy's Second Quarterly Advocacy Day on Capitol Hill a Huge Success!

Over 120 Academy members and partner organization members visited with more than 150 key members of Congress to highlight obesity and the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act. A Congressional briefing was held in conjunction with the event. Watch for additional information later this week.

As of today, we have had 3,475 Academy members send 11,069 letters to Congress. The lists and additional information will be posted later this week. An email will be sent when the information is posted.

We need you to continue to urge your Affiliate, DPG and MIG members to take action by utilizing the Action Center to send letters to members of Congress. There is power in numbers but only if we activate our membership!

Here is a message you can post to your electronic mailing lists. The following approved message should be used.

Dear Colleague,

Over 120 advocates attended the Obesity Quarterly Advocacy Day. Academy members will be meeting with Senators and Representatives' on Monday, February 27, 2017.

Please assist with continuing to urge Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 that allows registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients. Medicare recipients deserve access to obesity counseling from Registered

Dietitian Nutritionists who have the expertise and training to provide quality care.

It is urgent that members of the 115th Congress hear from you. Please take action today! It takes only a few minutes!

Academy's Centennial - Congressional Resolution

To honor National Nutrition Month 2017, a congressional resolution celebrating the Academy's Centennial is planned to be introduced tomorrow, March 1, in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives. Each of the resolution's original sponsors is from Ohio, where our Academy was founded in 1917. The Senate sponsors are Sherrod Brown and Rob Portman, and the House sponsors are Marcia Fudge and Pat Tiberi.

We will share the final language and bill numbers when it is introduced. Academy members will be encouraged to take action and ask their Congressional leaders to sign-on to this resolution. The Academy's Centennial webpage, a wealth of interesting background information may be helpful in gaining their support. Stay tuned for additional information about the action alert.

PPW Boot Camp Session 1 for PPC and PALs

We have received requests to postpone the first PPW Boot Camp session for PPC and PALs since many affiliates, DPGs and MIGs have not yet identified their member leaders for the new year and appreciate the flexibility. We will send you the new timing schedule next week.

PPW 2017 Affiliate Important Information

As affiliates begin to identify their PPW 2017 team, we encourage you to consider sending additional members of your public policy panel such as the SPR, SRS, CPC and RR. PPW provides important training and leadership development for affiliate public policy leaders.

As of today, 28 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. In addition to attending PPW, the affiliate PPC will:

1. Participate in All Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Assist with training his/her affiliate's attendees prior to PPW
3. Setup and coordinate Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her affiliate
4. Assist attendees with setup of meetings with U.S. House of Representatives as appropriate

5. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
6. Submit report prior to PPW with the scheduled meetings (sample will be provided)
7. Serve as table facilitator during PPW
8. Mentor affiliate attendees
9. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill
10. Coordinate in-district Congressional follow up visits

It is a big job! The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

PPW 2017 DPG and MIG Important Information

As of today, 13 DPGs and 2 MIGs have submitted the name of the PAL who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017. In addition to attending PPW, the PAL or alternate PAL will:

1. Participate in Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
3. Assist and work with affiliate Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) as appropriate
4. Setup of meeting with U.S. House of Representative member as appropriate
5. Attend Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her voting state
6. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill on June 24
7. Attend in-district Congressional follow up visits

Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

My apologies for failing to include one attachment in my email from last evening. Don't worry, this one is a quick read. I recognize you received volumes of information that is potentially overwhelming. While others, such as Lucille and Linda, may have other advice, I recommend as you look at each committee, that you start by looking at the staff recommendations and associated member bios. You can then expand your review of applicants from there. And as with any application system, while we included all members for whom we deemed their survey responses "complete," some responses are more complete or informative than others. So I suspect you will be able to quickly eliminate some of the individuals from consideration.

Once again, please reach out to me at any time with questions in advance of the meeting. At the meeting we will also have available for you information on individuals not selected for the national ballot but highly recommended by the Nominating Committee, as well as information on individuals who were not elected to national office. Happy National Nutrition Month® ! This years theme, "Put Your Best Fork Forward," serves as a reminder that each one of us holds the tool to make healthier food choices. Making small changes during National Nutrition Month® and over time, helps improve health now and into the future. As nutrition experts, Academy members can help guide the public toward healthier eating styles by promoting NNM activities and messages during March. Join the celebration with ideas and resources from the NNM Celebration Toolkit at www.eatright.org/nnm.

Subject: Thank you

Dear Jeanne

I would like to congratulate you and the D.C. Team on a successful advocacy day. Our visits were interesting and the networking with the other participants from other fields priceless!

In addition, I would like to thank you and the LPPC committee for working on the issue of coaches which has been an important topic in my agenda this year. I believe our membership will be very happy and our stance will encourage dialogue with other health professionals that truly want their patients to have the best care from the best health professional possible.

I truly appreciate the support. Regards, Lucille

Hi

I had a thought (3am is a great thinking time!). If Ivanka can have her Food Evangelist testify before Congress why can't we? It is a perfect time with our Centennial to share our vision for the future with our legislators. Is there a way we can make that happen? It can mirror some of the important points from UN and NASDAQ and today's press release. Is it possible? Lucille

TO: Academy Foundation Board of Directors

Below is an email we received from Hillary Zellner, who presented at Board meeting last week. We are also planning to include the following article in next week's Eat Right Weekly:
<http://eatrightfoundation.org/2017/02/grant-recipients-express-their-appreciation/>

Hello Beth,

It was so great to meet you and everyone on the Foundation Board last Thursday. It was rewarding to share the success and progress we have had thus far on this research grant with those who made it possible. Being able to discuss the possibilities and exciting innovations of research in our field with dietitians and nutrition experts made me very excited to get started on my own path after graduation this May. Thank you again for inviting me to stay for lunch, I enjoyed being able to meet the leaders of our field who have such insight on the future and second century of the Academy.

Best,

Good morning,

My apologies for failing to include one attachment in my email from last evening. Don't worry, this one is a quick read. I recognize you received volumes of information that is potentially overwhelming. While others, such as Lucille and Linda, may have other advice, I recommend as you look at each committee, that you start by looking at the staff recommendations and associated member bios. You can then expand your review of applicants from there. And as with any application system, while we included all members for whom we deemed their survey responses "complete," some responses are more complete or informative than others. So I suspect you will be able to quickly eliminate some of the individuals from consideration.

Once again, please reach out to me at any time with questions in advance of the meeting. At the meeting we will also have available for you information on individuals not selected for the national ballot but highly recommended by the Nominating Committee, as well as information on individuals who were not elected to national office. If you'd like this information in advance of the meeting, I'm happy to share it.

Thank you,

Marsha

Dear Jeanne

I would like to congratulate you and the D.C. Team on a successful advocacy day. Our visits were interesting and the networking with the other participants from other fields priceless!

In addition, I would like to thank you and the LPPC committee for working on the issue of coaches which has been an important topic in my agenda this year. I believe our membership will be very happy and our stance will encourage dialogue with other health professionals that truly want their patients to have the best care from the best health professional possible.

I truly appreciate the support. Regards, Lucille

Subject: Question regarding Health Coaches and non registered professionals

Dear Pat

I hope this email finds you well!

As you might know, the scope of practice for dietitians in South Africa is governed by law and regulated by the regulatory body (Health Professions Council of South Africa - HPCSA). Dietitians and nutritionists need to be registered with the HPCSA and are only allowed to practice in this scope. Any registered professional that practice outside of their scope and be struck from the roll; and if any individuals practice medical nutrition therapy that are not registered there is a process to address this.

The reason for my email is because a colleague that do work for the HPCSA sent us an email to ask how the below (see link) is dealt with in other countries?

http://www.integrativenutrition.com/curriculum?utm_channel=PaidAd&utm_medium=Remarketing&utm_source=Google&utm_campaign=Display%20-%20Remarketing&utm_adgroup=Remarketing%20to%20Users%20-%20Responsive%20Ads&utm_term=&utm_matchtype=&placement=www.dailymaverick.co.za&utm_content=166604354559&device=c&gclid=CJbQ-00KpNICFdQaGwodhB0KfQ

So in short: How do you deal with these type of unofficial terms being used for or professionals that are not registered dietitian-professionals functioning in the medical nutrition therapy / RDN space?

We are in the process of opening a register for a new nutrition professional (Dietitian-Nutritionist) and this type of information will be helpful for us in this process.

Kind Regards

Maryke

Hi, Donna: As you know, the word "training" has been removed from the first of the Academy's new principles. You probably have made this edit on your Academy Update PPT already, but just as reminder, it appears on slide 6 and should read (on the slide and in the notes):

- Integrate research, development and practice to stimulate innovation and discovery

Thanks very much!

Hi, Donna:

In case you need it for your talk in Alabama, below is a link to download the Academy Update PPT with the new mission, vision and principles added (slides 3-6), plus a revised museum exhibit slide (#7). The net length of the PPT has increased by 3 slides. Text for #3-6 is taken from the BOD talking points.

Please let us know if this is OK, or if you need anything else. We are working with the Second Century team to update the standalone presentation, and hope to send that to you very soon.

Thank you very much!

Hi Pat-

Wonderful news and such a positive outcome to the time spent in DC!

Jeanne – I think this would be a GREAT draw for the PIA sessions we currently have held. As a reminder, the number of sessions held were adjusted for 2017 per the final program outcomes selected by the Committee for Lifelong Learning so I am rolling in Lori Granich to connect with you and your team to discuss which session date and time may be the best fit if you go this route. We want to make sure there is minimal topic conflict and that you are positioned in an appropriate room size.

Thanks,

See below. I'm thrilled Hugh made contact. I was planning to contact him and Ross DeVol, the other presenter, at the briefing from the Milken Institute to talk about the staggering cost of obesity. Diane, if we have an open Hot Topic session, this would be a great one to get media coverage and how RDNs offer clinical effectiveness and cost efficiency. We could collaborate with other health providers(psychologists, bariatric surgeons, pharmaceutical company (Novartis), etc.

Thanks!

Release of revised draft Future Education Model Standards for public comment

Having trouble viewing this e-mail? View it in your browser.

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND®) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the February Standards Update is posted on the ACEND website www.eatrightpro.org/acend in the Public Notices and Announcements section.

The February Update features revisions made to the draft Future Education Model Accreditation Standards by the ACEND Board during its January 2017 meeting based on public comments received about the first draft of the Standards. The revised draft Future Education Model Accreditation Standards have been posted to the Future Education Model section (eatrightPRO.org/FutureModel) of the ACEND website. Both track changes and non-track changes (clean) versions are posted there. Also on the site is a webinar detailing key changes made in the revised standards.

Public comments on the revised standards can be made at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/RevFEMComments> until April 28, 2017. We encourage you to provide your input.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

Sharon Schwartz, MS, RD, LDN
ACEND Chair

Subject: Question regarding Health Coaches and non registered professionals

Dear Pat

I hope this email finds you well!

As you might know, the scope of practice for dietitians in South Africa is governed by law and regulated by the regulatory body (Health Professions Council of South Africa - HPCSA). Dietitians and nutritionists need to be registered with the HPCSA and are only allowed to practice in this scope. Any registered professional that practice outside of their scope and be struck from the roll; and if any individuals practice medical nutrition therapy that are not registered there is a process to address this.

The reason for my email is because a colleague that do work for the HPCSA sent us an email to ask how the below (see link) is dealt with in other countries?

http://www.integrativenutrition.com/curriculum?utm_channel=PaidAd&utm_medium=Remarketing&utm_source=Google&utm_campaign=Display%20-%20Remarketing&utm_adgroup=Remarketing%20to%20Users%20-%20Responsive%20Ads&utm_term=&utm_matchtype=&placement=www.dailymaverick.co.za&utm_content=166604354559&device=c&gclid=CJbQ-00KpNICFdQaGwodhB0KfQ

So in short: How do you deal with these type of unofficial terms being used for or professionals that are not registered dietitian-professionals functioning in the medical nutrition therapy / RDN space?

We are in the process of opening a register for a new nutrition professional (Dietitian-Nutritionist) and this type of information will be helpful for us in this process.

Kind Regards

Hi Pat-

Wonderful news and such a positive outcome to the time spent in DC!

Jeanne – I think this would be a GREAT draw for the PIA sessions we currently have held. As a reminder, the number of sessions held were adjusted for 2017 per the final program outcomes selected by the Committee for Lifelong Learning so I am rolling in Lori Granich to connect with you and your team to discuss which session date and time may be the best fit if you go this route. We want to make sure there is minimal topic conflict and that you are positioned in an appropriate room size.

Thanks,

Diane

It was so great to meet you and many members on the Foundation and Academy Boards last Thursday. It was rewarding to share the success and progress we have had thus far on this research grant with those who made it possible. Being able to discuss the possibilities and exciting innovations of research in our field with dietitians and nutrition experts made me very excited to get started on my own path after graduation this May. Thank you again for inviting me to stay for lunch, I enjoyed being able to meet the leaders of our field who have such insight on the future and second century of the Academy.

Thanks, Mary. You are correct: NDEP is not a subunit of ACEND. It is not however a separate organizational unit or legal entity. It is a Council and reports to the Board of Directors. Its budget should not be approved by ACEND but the FAC and ultimately the Academy Board of Directors. It's structure is comparable to the Council on Research and Council on Future Practice. Joan, be sure to change the org chart as per our discussion last week. Thanks.

Hi Donna,

Here is the language of the 4 measures:

- o MUC16-294 (NQF 3087) - Completion of a Malnutrition Screening within 24 Hours of Admission
- o MUC16-296 (NQF 3088) - Completion of a Nutrition Assessment for Patients Identified as At-Risk for Malnutrition within 24 hours of a Malnutrition Screening
- o MUC16-372 (NQF 3089) - Nutrition Care Plan for Patients Identified as Malnourished after a Completed Nutrition Assessment
- o MUC16-344 (NQF 3090) - Appropriate Documentation of a Malnutrition Diagnosis

There are detailed supportive documents that provide more information which I can share if you need them, but I'm thinking for your purposes to know the general focus of each measure will meet your needs.

Let me know what else I can do to support you as you do your presentations to the affiliates.

Good Afternoon,

I am little confused about eligibility requirements for the scholarships for graduate students! The website lists two different requirements:

One section says:

Eligibility Information

- Students must be enrolled in one of the following programs a minimum of four months during the academic year (August 2016 to July 2017):
- The junior or senior year of a baccalaureate or coordinated program in dietetics, or
- The second year of study in a dietetic technician program, a dietetic internship program or a graduate program.

Another section says:

1. Planned or current enrollment in an advanced degree program in a US regionally accredited college or university. Students who are already enrolled in an ACEND-accredited dietetic internship (DI) and will be completing a graduate program in 2016-2017 should apply for a graduate scholarship.

I will be a first year graduate student-- am I eligible to apply? Thank you!

Dear Neva and Mary:

I am writing to both of you today because I know of its importance - the last day of voting before the campaign is over and the next President of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics is announced! I'm sure you've found the campaign challenging (with some unfortunate negativity) - but regardless of who wins, I wanted to personally thank both of you for your willingness to serve in this capacity. You have given GREATLY - of your professional talents and countless hours in volunteer time - all for the betterment of our organization. Thank you!

In anticipation of "what's next," I'm attaching a brief glimpse into what Past-Presidents wished they had known when walking into the role of President for the Academy (Evelyn, Sonja, me, Ethan, Sylvia and Judy) . Recognizing things change from year to year, whomever wins may receive an updated version from those in office now. In the meantime ... enjoy the reading and preparation.

Lastly, one suggestion I have is to take the time to review the history of Presidents' information left by those who have come before you (Confidential President's files housed at the Academy).

There is wisdom there:) and perhaps a few Ah-ha moments (I know I had a few!). These files can give you insight, spare you from repeating old conversations, prevent you from wasting time and assist you in your leadership role as we embrace an exponentially changing global society/economy.

Once again, thank you both for all you have already done - and for your commitment to our professional future! Wishing you the best,

Dr. Glenna McCollum, MPH, RDN, FAND

As long as it is at the quality we need and we can crop it from the waist up, we are good. It is easiest if the photo comes to us cropped exactly as you want us to use the photo.

I will have the written materials completed this week and to you this week. However, I will need a bit more time for a new photo ... since I am on vacation in Africa until March 10. Unless of course, one with a giraffe would be appropriate.

Good evening, Dayle-

Congratulations on being selected to present the 2017 Lenna Frances Cooper Memorial Lecture at FNCE® in Chicago, IL. I am writing because the Cooper Lecture is a featured lecture at FNCE® and we would like to appropriately market and highlight this session. In order to allow for a high level of visibility and attendance at this featured lecture, it is scheduled on Sunday, October 21, 2017 from 10 – 11:30 a.m.

Additionally, we are currently working on gathering information for the Academy FNCE® web site and preview materials, which provides the title and description of each featured lecture/session.

We would like to include the following:

1. Color Photo (300 dpi or higher resolution)
2. Session information
 - a. Title
 - b. Description
 - c. 3 Learning Objectives
 - d. 3 Anticipated Learning Outcomes/Practice Applications for attendees at your session
3. Moderator (NOTE: This is on file and approved as Donna Martin)

We would like to have this on the FNCE® web site when we launch the content in March/April, so we will ideally need this information by February 28, 2017. You can email this information to me at denos@eatright.org <mailto:denos@eatright.org>.

Also, all speaker agreements will be sent out in late March/early April via our electronic notification system, but we thought you would find it helpful to know the benefits associated with this lecture that will be included on your agreement. Instructions on how to book travel & housing as well as how to obtain FNCE® registration will be included in the VIP benefits information sent out in April.

- Honorarium: $2500 (sent post-meeting)
- Travel: 1 Round Trip Coach Ticket; transportation to/from airport in your hometown and Chicago
- Housing: 3 nights, single room
- Per diem: 4 days
- Registration: Complimentary for full FNCE® conference

Please let me know if I can offer any assistance or clarification with this process. Again, congratulations on your selection as the 2017 Cooper Lecturer.

Best Regards,
Diane

Attached are the timeline and Board talking points for the new vision, mission and principles.

We will be sharing this information with members on Wednesday, March 1, just in time for National Nutrition Month (and we will also promote it throughout the coming months). We are updating the web pages and will feature information with links in next week's Eat Right Weekly. Also, please view the video that we will be posting to our website and distributing via our social media PRO channels <https://video214.com/play/ov2oFGnWPrTBIVhfQDa2JQ/s/dark>.

Lucille will be sending an email with information to HOD, DPGs, MIGs, and Affiliate leaders on Tuesday, February 28.

Thank you and please let me know if you have any questions.

Hope all is going well. Pat has reviewed the attached timeline and draft Board talking points for the new vision, mission and principles and she asked me to share them with you.

As you will note, we are planning a big role out on Wednesday, March 1, just in time for National Nutrition Month (and we will also promote it throughout the coming months). We are updating the web pages and will feature information with links in next week's Eat Right Weekly. Also, please view the video that we will be distributing on our social media PRO channels <https://video214.com/play/ov2oFGnWPrTBIVhfQDa2JQ/s/dark>.

Once I hear back from you on the talking points, we will draft messaging for the HOD listserv, DPGs, MIGs, and Affiliate listservs. We will also revise the Academy Update with new slides for your upcoming presentations. Lucille, just a remainder, we will be taping a message from you to for members to be released on RDN day.

Please review and let me know your thoughts. This is very exciting time for the Academy and we will make sure the membership is informed and engaged. We look forward to hearing back from you soon.

Thank you very much.

Attached is a corrected copy of the talking points. I found a couple of typos. I wonder if we wanted to try and include Kay's recommendation on the Training and Development verbage?

I approve if you at least correct the typos.

Greetings,

Hopefully you are enjoying a relaxing weekend after our busy meetings. I want to thank you all for your engagement and commitment. Boards bring together members from all different areas with distinct personalities and talents. In order to have "great" discussions and decision making we need to tap into all that talent. Engaged board members see opportunities to examine issues more carefully and initiate projects to improve process. We witness both of these examples at our meeting. Many thanks to our educators Kay, Hope, Aida, and Tammy that helped me to understand the future education model. Thank you to Tammy and Susan that looked at the evaluation forms and proposed a change. I hope you believed the meeting was productive if not please provide comments for improvement. Each of you generously shared your talents and time, were fully prepared and engaged - my sincere thanks! Thank you to staff that were also well prepared and assisted us through our discussions and deliberations. Food and hotel were super too. I wanted to take some of the yummy pillows home with me but thought better of it!

Warm regards,

Evening BLUE TEAM (Meredith, Teresa, Amy, Donna and Beth-Ann)

On behalf of me and Teresa Nece, MS, RDN, LD, SNS, Director of Grassroots Advocacy for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, we are so excited about the 124 members of the Obesity Care Advocacy Network (OCAN) that will be on Capitol Hill on Monday, February 27th. We are pleased to announce that we have booked over 150 congressional meetings for Monday's OCAN Advocacy Day! As you can imagine, scheduling all these meetings went right down to the wire late last night.

To help you prepare for your meetings on Monday, we have attached the following:

1. Your schedule of congressional visits (see master list of Senate visits for your team color)
2. Two-page leave behind on the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act (TROA)
3. Two-page leave behind on the congressional resolutions regarding National Obesity Care Week (NOCW)

Should you have any questions or require additional information, please feel free to contact me this weekend via email or on my cell at 571-235-6475.

Tom, it is fine and I am sure this is similar to what we send every year. I did wonder if you thought there would be anyway to weave part of the new vision or mission into the letter? Something about as we celebrate our 100th anniversary they can help us solve the greatest food and nutrition challenges of the day through the transformational power of nutrition. Or something along those lines. If you can't, or don't feel like it is appropriate you have my permission to use this. Just thought it might be time to start using the new vision and mission just approved by the board.

Kay, As usual you bring up some very good points that somehow got missed, or would have been glossed over, if you had not raised your hand. I think the education discussion was very productive, timely and definitely gave me a lot of food for thought. I don't think I would have spent near as much time reading about the new model had we not decided to discuss it at the meeting. I think what you, Aida, Tammy and Hope did was well thought through and achieved the desired results. I think all future discussions will always include how this impacts education. I don't think it is too late to change the center name for the second century. We can forward your thoughts to Katie.

I personally am going to miss your voice on the board, so please don't change your phone number because I am going to be calling you!!!

I learned so much from you!

Hello Pat, Lucille, and Donna,

Thank you for incorporating the higher education discussion into the two Board meetings. I really appreciate you allowing time for some thoughtful discussion. An increase in awareness of the proposed changes is so important. The thoughtful movement of change as we step into the future can only be helped by understanding all influencers of those futures. I fear that the NDEP voice (as well as many dietitians with a BS degree) often is based on a protection of current identity and not a vision of the future practitioner. Maybe people will be more secure in 30 years. It is always interesting when we say we are stepping to the table, but we won't set it for 30 years.

On a totally different note, is "training and development" the correct term for the second Center. I kept thinking something bothers me and not, until about three this morning did I know what it was. Training is not the contemporary word used today. All of the Human Resource associations have moved away from it – training is sort of a term for action...ASTD changed its name to Association for Talent Development...I know why we do not want to use Education, but could it be the Center for Learning and Development or Center for Development or Center for Professional Development? I am probably a day too late and I sincerely apologize.

So, thank you for all you do. I am so proud to work with the three of you. I cannot tell you what I have learned from each of you these past three years. I am grateful for the time I had on the board. I deeply believe in this profession and in the people leading it. As my life moves a little differently, know that if I can ever assist any of you, just call. I am a great neutral sounding board!

All of the Human Resource associations have moved away from it – training is sort of a term for action...ASTD changed its name to Association for Talent Development...I know why we do not want to use Education, but could it be the Center for Learning and Development or Center for Development or Center for Professional Development? I am probably a day too late and I sincerely apologize.

So, thank you for all you do. I am so proud to work with the three of you. I cannot tell you what I have learned from each of you these past three years. I am grateful for the time I had on the board. I deeply believe in this profession and in the people leading it. As my life moves a little differently, know that if I can ever assist any of you, just call. I am a great neutral sounding board!

Fondly, Kay

Subject: WM DPG goes to the Obesity Advocacy Day!

Dear WM DPG Members and Attendees to the Obesity Advocacy Day,

I am very excited about our trip Monday for the Obesity Advocacy Day!

As Chair-Elect of the WM DPG, I am thrilled to see the list of members below who will attend this event.

Hopefully we will get a chance to meet all of you at the morning meeting and the afternoon reception.

We hope to cover the event in our next newsletter, Weight Matters. Please feel free send me your thoughts about the day so we can share them with our full membership.

Thank you to everyone who is coming to this important event and to the Academy for coordinating this with OCAN!

Safe travels,
Eileen

Dear Lucille, Donna and Evelyn,

We truly appreciate your participation in the 2017 selection process for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics media spokespeople. The spokespeople selected this year will serve from June 1, 2017, until May 31, 2020. Please note, we have scheduled a conference call to discuss the candidates and final selection on Wednesday, March 8, at 1 p.m. Central time, 866/477-4564, code : 5380206022. The deadline to complete the evaluations is Monday, March 6.

Please review the Academy's Media and Spokesperson Policy. The selection process allows for a rigorous evaluation of Spokesperson candidates and their skill sets, as well as qualifications requirements for the volunteer position. To ensure a fair and impartial selection process and to protect the integrity of the process, all applications must be kept confidential – including the identity of applicants and reviewers. Please do not discuss your evaluations with anyone, and please maintain complete objectivity throughout the process. Results of personal and professional contacts or other relationships you may have with any candidate must not enter into your evaluation. Spokespeople are selected solely according to who best meets the qualifications and necessary skill sets.

Minimum criteria to be an Academy Spokesperson:

All Spokesperson applicants must:

- Be an Academy member.
- Have been an RD/RDN for at least five years. Advanced degree is preferred. Specialty credentials are desirable, but not required.

- Have a minimum of two years experience in working with the news media (television, radio, print and/or electronic).
- Demonstrate strong communication skills and a positive demeanor.
- Be knowledgeable in food and nutrition science with two or three areas of expertise, current food and nutrition topics and Academy position papers.
- Be free of conflicts of interest. (See Media and Spokesperson Policy.)
- Have sufficient flexibility in your work schedule to permit media training, interviews (often on short notice), preparation time, occasional travel and other assignments.
- Promote, support and attend state, district or national Academy activities.
- Maintain a working fax machine, an email address and Internet access.
- Be proficient in electronic and social media communications.

Application packets:

Please download the electronic binder at <https://spaces.hightail.com/receive/excUZ>. Each application contains the following:

- Completed application
- Applicant's resume/CV
- Applicant photo
- Letters of recommendation
- Print/Internet clips

At the top left of the screen on the open pdf, you will see an icon that looks like a page with a bookmark hanging over it. If you click this icon, it will allow you to navigate through the pdf by open market or by applicant name.

In addition to a letter of recommendation that we just received via email, attached are the following PDF documents:

- Application process and timeline
- Summary sheet of all the applicants
- Applicants video listings for viewing online

The following spokespeople are reapplying for the program:

Jessica Crandall, RDN, CDE, AFAA – Denver

Wesley Delbridge, RD – Phoenix

Vandana Sheth, RDN, CDE – Los Angeles

Lauri Wright, PhD, RDN LDN – Tampa

Marina Chaparro, MPH, RD, CDE, LDN – Miami

Isabel Maples, MEd, RD – Washington, DC

Once you have reviewed the materials and the binder, please complete the process online by filling out the surveys at:

Send an email today urging Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act that allows registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients.

As individuals and as an organization, we can make a difference but only with your help.

1. Even if you have sent Academy Action Alerts in the past, please take action today!
2. Make a contribution to ANDPAC. Relationships built through ANDPAC, allow the Academy to actively voice our commitment to improving cost-efficient and quality health care for older Americans.

Thank you in advance for taking action and making our profession the nations food and nutrition leaders.

Hi Donna,

Here is the language of the 4 measures:

- o MUC16-294 (NQF 3087) - Completion of a Malnutrition Screening within 24 Hours of Admission
- o MUC16-296 (NQF 3088) - Completion of a Nutrition Assessment for Patients Identified as At-Risk for Malnutrition within 24 hours of a Malnutrition Screening

- o MUC16-372 (NQF 3089) - Nutrition Care Plan for Patients Identified as Malnourished after a Completed Nutrition Assessment
- o MUC16-344 (NQF 3090) - Appropriate Documentation of a Malnutrition Diagnosis

There are detailed supportive documents that provide more information which I can share if you need them, but I'm thinking for your purposes to know the general focus of each measure will meet your needs.

Let me know what else I can do to support you as you do your presentations to the affiliates.

Best,

Marsha

Dear Obesity Day Attendees,

Please note that the schedule of Hill day meetings and the list of team members will be sent by end of day on Friday, February 24. Each team will have approximately 5 – 6 meetings. The team leaders will be given additional information. Teams will meet at the Capitol Visitors Center. The doors open at 8:30 am. We do know that getting through the security area will take us some time. Please plan your arrival time accordingly.

Before entering the Capitol Visitor Center, all visitors are screened by a magnetometer and all items that are permitted inside the building are screened by an x-ray device. The following items are strictly prohibited in the Capitol Visitor Center:

- Liquid, including water
- Food or beverages of any kind, including fruit and unopened packaged food
- Aerosol containers
- Non-aerosol spray (Prescriptions for medical needs are permitted.)
- Any pointed object, e.g. knitting needles and letter openers (Pens and pencils are permitted.)
- Any bag larger than 18" wide x 14" high x 8.5" deep

For additional information about the prohibited items, click here.

Senator Tom Carper (DE) will be the guest at the Reception on Monday, February 27.

Please watch for one final email tomorrow afternoon. If you have questions, please let us know.

See you soon,

Everyone,

I hope that you are all doing well. Please see attached for the latest version of the Healthy Schools, Healthy Communities: Activating Nutrition and Wellness to Create a Culture of Health project concept note. Our project concept note was submitted by the original deadline and then underwent a round of review and editing by the Second Century review and staff teams. Suggested edits from you all along with their input have been incorporated and the document has been placed into the official template to present to the Academy Board of Directors. Please let us know if you have any questions or need further information.

Thank you all so much for your work on and input into this project. We will keep you posted with any next steps.

Healthy regards,

1. Alert to Open for Treat and Reduce Obesity Act

In preparation for the Quarterly Advocacy Day and your meetings with Congress Members in your state during March, we will open a new action alert on Wednesday, February 22 for the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017. An all-member eblast message will be sent to Academy members on Friday, February 24. We expect this action alert to be open for approximately 6 to 8 weeks.

We need you to urge your Affiliate, DPG and MIG members to take action by utilizing the Action Center to send letters to members of Congress. There is power in numbers but only if we activate our membership! Important Note: Please send an eblast message to your members on Friday, February 24 asking them to send letters to their Senators and Representative. You can also post the message to your electronic mailing list. The following approved message should be used. Please do not send this message to members until Friday, February 24, 2017

Dear Colleague,

Please show your support for your colleagues attending the Obesity Quarterly Advocacy Day. Academy members will be meeting with Senators and Representatives' on February 24. Send an email today urging Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act that allows registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients. Medicare recipients deserve access to obesity counseling from Registered Dietitian Nutritionists who have the expertise and training to provide quality care. It is urgent that members of the 115th Congress hear from you. Please take action today! It takes only a few minutes!

Leadership Approaches to Defending and Advancing Prevention and Public Health

We wanted to share with you a webinar that you might find interesting. The American Public Health Association, Prevention Institute, Public Health Institute, and Trust for America's Health are sponsoring an upcoming webinar, Leadership Approaches to Defending and Advancing Prevention and Public Health. The webinar is scheduled for Tuesday, February 28 from 2:30 - 4:00 p.m. (Eastern Time). For more information and to register.

Public Policy Workshop 2017 Registration – Open!

Please share this message with your affiliate, DPG and MIG membership:

The Public Policy Workshop 2017 registration and housing information is now available. We encourage members to join fellow RDNs, NDTRs and students at the Academy's Public Policy Workshop, June 25 to 26 in Washington, D.C.

Plan to attend this year's workshop, the "go to" event, where you will sharpen your communication skills, advocate for the profession and develop high-level personal and professional relationships. The updated program features:

- A format that focuses on current issues (1/2 day) and a full day of Hill visits
- Pre-meeting web-based preparation to maximize your valuable time

- Reduced registration rate and deep discount for student attendees making this event affordable AND fun!
 - An exclusive ANDPAC signature breakfast for contributors prior to storming the Hill
- Register for PPW 2017 Today! We look forward to seeing you in Washington, D.C., in June!

PPW 2017 Affiliate Important Information

As affiliates begin to identify their PPW 2017 team, we encourage you to consider sending additional members of your public policy panel such as the SPR, SRS, CPC and RR. PPW provides important training and leadership development for affiliate public policy leaders.

As of today, 27 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. In addition to attending PPW, the affiliate PPC will:

1. Participate in All Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Assist with training his/her affiliate's attendees prior to PPW
3. Setup and coordinate Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her affiliate
4. Assist attendees with setup of meetings with U.S. House of Representatives as appropriate
5. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
6. Submit report prior to PPW with the scheduled meetings (sample will be provided)
7. Serve as table facilitator during PPW
8. Mentor affiliate attendees
9. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill
10. Coordinate in-district Congressional follow up visits

It is a big job! The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

PPW 2017 DPG and MIG Important Information

As of today, 13 DPGs and 2 MIGs have submitted the name of the PAL who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017. In addition to attending PPW, the PAL or alternate PAL will:

1. Participate in Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
3. Assist and work with affiliate Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) as appropriate
4. Setup of meeting with U.S. House of Representative member as appropriate

5. Attend Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her voting state
6. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill on June 24
7. Attend in-district Congressional follow up visits

Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

Thumbs Up!

Congratulations to the Utah Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics for hosting very successful “Don’t Skip a Beat - Shop with a Dietitian for a Healthy Heart” event for the spouses of the Utah State Legislators. Utah public policy coordinator Martha Archuleta MS, RD, CNSC, CLE, FAND, reimbursement representative Nikki Kendrick MBA, RDN, CNSC and Harmon’s Grocery Store dietitian Laura Holtrop-Kohl, MS, RD hosted the spouses at this February event. It is well attended and well-received! Thumbs Up to the Utah Academy for connecting with the spouses of state legislators!

> Thank you again for inviting Lucille Beseler, Susan Finn and Donna Martin to present the Keynote address at The Ohio Annual Conference in May. Although we are all set with them presenting at your meeting, just to make it official and according to policy, affiliates need to complete a request form (attached) for Academy Board members (Lucille and Donna) representation at meetings and submit to affiliate@eatright.org<<mailto:affiliate@eatright.org>>. This helps track the invitation and assures the Academy representative has all the details for successful participation. On the form it requests that the affiliate covers Lucille's and Donna's expenses, as Academy Board members, for presenting. The expenses will be minimal since the Academy will cover their travel expenses it would require OAND's reimbursement only of the costs for a room for each the night of May 17. We will take care of booking the room and will be happy to invoice OAND, if that is easiest. Please let me know if you have any questions.

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

New Action Alert: Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017

Send an email today urging the new Congress to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 that allows registered dietitian nutritionists to independently bill for obesity counseling to Medicare patients. Medicare recipients deserve access to obesity counseling from RDNs who have the expertise and training to provide quality care. Please show your support for your colleagues attending the Obesity Quarterly Advocacy Day on February 27, when Academy members will meeting with more than 100 senators and representatives. It is urgent that members of the 115th Congress hear from you today.

RDNs Highlighted at House Agriculture Committee Hearing

The importance of nutrition education and the role of registered dietitian nutritionists were highlighted at a February 16 hearing of the House Agriculture Committee. The hearing covered limiting certain additional items beneficiaries can buy with Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) dollars. Members of Congress from both parties noted the importance of education in driving demand for healthy food purchase and consumption. Witnesses from the Food Trust and the Food Marketing Institute said RDNs are vital to empowering families to make healthy choices. "SNAP Choice" will be an important and complex issue as Congress looks to reauthorize SNAP in the 2018 Farm Bill.

3028. Submissions Needed for Outstanding Preceptor Award

From: ndep@eatright.org
To: DMartin@Burke.k12.ga.us
Sent Date: Feb 22, 2017 08:17:44
Subject: Submissions Needed for Outstanding Preceptor Award
Attachment:

Dear NDEP Members –

Do you know of a deserving preceptor that goes above and beyond your expectations with each student/intern they work with? Someone who somehow finds the time in their busy schedule to continually mentor new students/interns? Someone your students/interns continually praise for their exceptional talents? If so, perhaps you should consider nominating them for NDEP's annual Outstanding Preceptor Award for 2017.

The purpose of the Outstanding Preceptor Award (OPA) is to recognize the exceptional teaching, mentoring, and leadership activities of preceptors in ACEND-accredited dietetics education programs. Active NDEP Council members and previous OPA winners are not eligible for this award.

In addition to publishing the list of outstanding preceptors in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, NDEP-Line, and the NDEP and ACEND websites, each awardee will receive $1,000 to attend the 2017 Food and Nutrition Conference and Expo in Chicago, IL (supported by the Academy's Foundation) and a certificate and congratulatory letter from the Academy President. Awards will be presented during the NDEP member breakfast at FNCE.

Criteria:

- Nominees must be a current member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, but are not required to be a NDEP member for consideration for this award.

- Preceptor in an ACEND-accredited supervised practice program (CP, DI, DT or ISPP). Preceptors do NOT need to reside in the same Area as the Program Director and/or students/interns in order to be nominated.

- Program Directors and educators are not eligible as there is a separate award for Outstanding Educators.

Submission and Selection Procedure:

1. Nominations will be accepted via a survey link which is currently available.

Nominations will be accepted via this survey link:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/PreceptorAwardNomination>

Nomination Process and Survey Sample

2. Nominations will be collected using an online entry system (Survey Monkey), which will close at 5pm CST on March 3, 2017.

3. Nomination applications should be submitted by the Program Director of the program the preceptor is a part of and consist of a completed online entry, which includes two separate focused statements of support (one from peers, program directors, or faculty AND one from students/interns). Incomplete applications and additional materials beyond the online entry will not be reviewed.

a. Nominations will be evaluated upon the exemplary accomplishments of preceptors above what would be considered core preceptor responsibilities based upon the following key areas:

i. Teaching, which should showcase innovative teaching skills and techniques to facilitate student/intern learning.

ii. Mentoring, which should include those behaviors that elevate student learning and level of practice above routine preceptor responsibilities.

iii. Leadership, which should include any membership and participation in local, state, or national organizations, community organizations, workplace committees, public policy, etc.

4. The NDEP Preceptor Director and Preceptor Committee will receive, review, and select the winner from the eligible nominations after the survey has been closed. The committee will select no more than one preceptor from each of the 7 geographical areas. There is a maximum of 7 awards per year. The 2017 OPA's will condense to reflect the realignment of geographic membership areas.

Questions about the submission process or selection procedure to should be directed to NDEP at ndep@eatright.org

Jenn and I attended a meeting at SNA today asking for our support to oppose block grants. We assured them they have our support on this issue. I think they lost some status with their recent requests on flexibility. Congress is now responding by offering block grants as a way to give flexibility.

Jenn has developed some authentic, respectful relationships with both sides and both chambers which will be helpful for them on this issue. I think SNA is aware of how we might help them.

It was a very positive meeting and I know they appreciate our support. And I know they are jealous we have you as our President-elect!

ACEND has completed its in depth review of the 1,200 plus comments received during the public feedback period related to the draft future education model. Please note there are some major changes to the standards, such as the deletion of a specified minimum number of practice hours in favor of a focus on competency based education.

The February Standards Update newsletter summarizing the changes is attached. The revised standards are available for review at www.eatrightpro.org/FutureModel. A webinar describing the revisions can be viewed by clicking the following link. Watch the webinar

These amended standards have been released for another round of public comment at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/RevFEMComments>.

February 21, 2017

Good Morning Obesity Advocacy attendees,

We look forward to connecting with you in Washington, D.C. on Monday! Here are a few important details and reminders:

1. Due to an overwhelming response from the Congressional Hill staff and the meeting room capacity, all attendees need to plan to eat lunch in one of the Congressional cafeterias. Attendance at the briefing will be by invitation only due to the overwhelming response by Hill staff. Each team will have approximately one hour. Here are options on the Hill:

- Longworth Cafeteria - Longworth B-223 in Basement of the Longworth House Office Building on the House side of the Capitol. Hours- 7:30AM- 2:30PM
- Rayburn Cafeteria - B-357 in basement of the Rayburn House Office Building on the House side of the Capitol. Hours- 7:30AM- 2:30PM
- Dirksen Cafeteria - North Side in basement of the Dirksen Senate Office Building on the Senate side of the Capitol. Hours- 7:30AM- 3:00PM

2. We have more than 75 attendees register for the reception with Congressional Champions on Monday, February 27 from 3:30 to 5 p.m. The reception will be held in the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics office at:

Bender Building

1120 Connecticut Ave. N.W.
Suite 460

Washington, D.C. 20036

There are always plenty of cabs in DC so you should be able to hail one. Estimated cost from the US Capitol Buildings to the Academy's office is around $15.00 plus tip. The Metro is also an option. If you are on the Senate side, use the metro stop at Union Station (Red Line) to Grosvenor exit at Farragut North Metro Station. Exit the station by using the Connecticut Ave & L Street NW exit. You will walk approximately 0.1 mile to the Bender Building at the above address.

walk icon

If you RSVP'd for the event and will not be available to attend, please notify me.

1. The doors to the Capital Visitors Center (CVC) do not open until 8:30 a.m. As a note, the security for this building is stricter than both House and Senate Offices buildings and more closely approximates those of air travel. Please do not have liquids, sharp objects or aerosol sprays in your bags. Expect to find a longer than normal security line as we have more than 120 attendees.

1. The first meeting of the day will be held in the Congressional Meeting Room South room CVC 217.

5. If your plans have changed and you will not be available to attend the Obesity Advocacy Day on February 27, please notify me as soon as possible.

1. Hill visits are planned from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. There will be approximately 20 teams of 4-6 individuals. You will likely be meeting with the staff from members of Congress who are not your personal Congressional leaders. The teams and meeting information will be shared on Thursday, February 23. A few additional reminders for Hill visits:

- Wear comfortable shoes
- Bring your business cards
- Pack a snack (granola bar, nuts, etc.)
- Arrange to leave luggage at hotel, Academy office, etc.

1. As a reminder, the closest metro stop to the Senate side is Union Station (Red Line) and Capitol South (Orange/Blue/Silver) for the House side. Please be reminded that there is significant work being done on the metro lines that may lengthen travel time. Parking is available at Union Station if you plan to drive.

<https://eatright.webex.com/eatright/ldr.php?RCID=c96e0ba80130c7dc08f7d7e230ed3f16>

All attendees for the February 27th Hill Day are asked to listen to the webinar. We will not be covering all of the information when we gather on the 27th. Note: The webinar recording/viewing will require a live internet connection to play as it will stream directly via the WebEx system.

9. The recording for the Policy 101 session webinar is below:

<https://eatright.webex.com/eatright/ldr.php?RCID=aeb33006861743e7a2cf587a4056fc49>

Note: The webinar recording/viewing will require a live internet connection to play as it will stream directly via the WebEx system.

10. A copy of Treat and Reduced Obesity Act Leave Behind document is attached. We will have packets for you and the Hill staff. Please review the information prior to arriving in Washington, D.C.

If you have questions, please contact me or Jeanne Blankenship.

See you soon!

Best,

Subject: It's time for AND/CDR to stand with science

To: AND/CDR Leadership,

Thanks, Diane, for the offer of a free waiver for the detox module. However, my questions and concerns go much deeper: throughout all of the modules, and to the legitimacy of AND/CDR support of IFM-related curriculum for RDNs and related information for the public. Why is the organization continuing to promote IFM claims for necessity of tests, and efficacy of treatment without relevant, supportive scientific references?

If this is a serious branch of science that RDNs need to be familiar with, why is the scientific evidence so hidden and hard to find? An RDN should not have to buy a course to see if a series offered by AND/CDR is scientifically accurate. The relevant, supportive studies should be easily found on Pubmed. Relevant and supportive is important because IFM practitioners will state unhelpfully that studies on liver detox or intestinal impermeability are all over Pubmed, without pointing out the specific studies that they use to support the diet, diagnosis, and treatment that they are promoting. The studies I have been provided by practitioners so far have included unrelated dietary restrictions studies on rodents, and other early studies that the study authors state are too early for human application.

This is very serious and needs to be addressed broadly and deeply by AND/CDR. Are we a science-based organization or not?

If we are promoting diseases that are rejected by the American College of Endocrinology such as adrenal fatigue- debunked by the endocrinologists at The Endocrine Society (www.hormone.org/hormones-and-health/myth-vs-fact/adrenal-fatigue) "Adrenal fatigue" is not a real medical condition. There are no scientific facts to support the theory that long-term mental, emotional, or physical stress drains the adrenal glands and causes many common symptoms. This is not science-based. This is promoted however, in a course offered by CEU provider Institute for Functional Nutrition.

If we are promoting a treatment- detox: diet, testing, and supplements, without scientific evidence that shows the need and efficacy for the dietary treatment, the diagnosis of malfunction, the validity of the tests recommended. This is not science-based.

If we are unclear about our commitment to science-based practice- preventing CEUs for LEAP therapy and for the book, The Disease Delusion, by IFM founder Jeffery Bland, but allowing IFM based modules for CEUs and promoting the use of IFM treatments to the public. We need to be robustly transparent about what evidence is science-based and what is speculative and not appropriate to promote as proven.

It's time for AND/CDR to stand with science and clear the decks of courses (offered by AND/CDR and others) and articles/books for the public not meeting a science-based standard of evidence.

By supporting questionable treatments, disease diagnoses and tests, we are harming the legitimacy of the RDN credential, the ability to raise support for the foundation, the motivation for a student to choose dietetics (why bother when they can learn these things and practice without a credential), and the ability to gain/maintain legislative support. It weakens the case for state licensure- as non-RDns can provide the same questionable service.

To be honest, I am surprised I have to write these emails to the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and the Commission for Dietetics Registration- as I assumed maintaining the value of the credential was a major focus of your work for RDN members.

I would appreciate responses from everyone- I need to know what kind of an organization I belong to as I am no longer certain.

Sincerely,

Mary Saucier Choate, M.S., R.D.N., L.D.

Good morning, Mary-

Thank you for your follow up email. Since you have further questions about the Detoxification module, we would be happy to extend a one-time waiver for the registration fee so you can participate in and experience the module in its true context and entirety. The information requested regarding references is included in the module.

If you would like to take advantage of the complementary registration for this module, please notify sbaron@eatright.org and she will process this waiver for you.

Subject: RE: New Online Certificate of Training Program: Integrative and Functional Nutrition

Hi Diane,

Thank you for your email. It left me with far more questions than it answered. I am looking for hard evidence, such as studies that I can find on PubMed, not a circular referral back to an SOP that the DIFM created.

You stated that: The detoxification module in question we have developed does not promote or advocate for “detox diets.” But the module description states: Detoxification diets may have significant value in promoting more effective physiological responses to toxic stressors that come either with the exogenous or endogenous environments.

For the benefit of transparency, please direct me to the research evidence you used that confirms detoxification is necessary for health (barring of course, heavy metal poisoning). If it is not necessary for health, why are we covering it in a module?

I have many such questions about this series. Please, for transparency, provide the science-based research behind:

- The “5R Protocol”(Remove, Replace, Reinoculate, Repair &Rebalance) to restore digestive health-(human studies that show the need for and efficacy of this protocol- not anecdotes).
- The scientific evidence behind the need for: hepatic detoxification, biotransformation, and elimination of endogenous and exogenous toxins.
- The complementary and alternative medicine (CAM) roots of integrative and functional medicine.(Will this explanation of the roots of functional medicine include the 5 time FDA/FTC offenses by IFM founder Jeffery Bland?)

Again, for transparency, please provide the relevant studies you used.

Looking forward to receiving the evidence-

In health,

Mary

Subject: RE: New Online Certificate of Training Program: Integrative and Functional Nutrition

Hi Mary,

Thank you for reaching out to the Academy via email. Here is some detailed information that I hope addresses your concerns.

Detoxification is a topic that many members have requested the Academy address in a professional development learning module. It is also, as you know so well, a challenging topic to address from a science-based perspective. That is why the Academy's Center for Lifelong Learning worked for more than two years with the Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine (DIFM) DPG to develop a comprehensive certificate program that addresses integrative and functional nutrition from the science-based perspective that our members need and expect. Content for this certificate program was reviewed by multiple Academy expert groups including the Center for Lifelong Learning; Research, Scientific and International Affairs; and the Knowledge Center.

The detoxification module in question we have developed does not promote or advocate for "detox diets." Rather, it focuses on the pathophysiology of detoxification in the human body, genetic factors that may play a role and clinical assessment. The module's goal is to increase awareness of the science and to assist RDNs in preparing to help their clients when the topic of detoxification comes up.

Additional application tools are used through the module, such as applying the Nutrition Care Process and ADIME to a case study for practice application. The science-based process includes use of a variety of sources, including the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, Journal of the American Medical Association and Journal of Clinical Pharmacology.

Let me also add that the topic of detoxification is addressed in the published Integrative and Functional Medicine Nutrition Therapy (IFMNT) Radial. The Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine DPG has developed Standards of Practice and Standards of Professional Performance in Integrative and Functional Medicine. The SOP addresses the Nutrition Care Process and activities related to person-centered care; and the SOPP are authoritative statements that describe a competent level of behavior in the professional role. The IFMNT Radial was established as an integrated conceptual framework to assist in IFMNT practice. The SOP, along with the IFMNT Radial, was published in the June 2011 Journal. This link provides full access to the SOP SOPP:

I hope this is helpful, please let me know if you further questions or comments.

Regards,

Diane

New Online Certificate of Training Program: Integrative and Functional Nutrition

Develop competency and earn CPEUs online with a new program on digestive health, detoxification, inflammation and more. This certificate of training program was planned by the Academy's Center for Lifelong Learning and the Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine dietetic practice group. Don't miss out on the opportunity to become an expert in this rapidly growing field.

Learn More

It includes a full module on detoxing, which is completely unnecessary to optimal health.

This is a devastating blow to science-based practice.

I feel this offering devalues my previously science-based credential. As President-elect, please explain how such a course was vetted and allowed to be offered as anything but an example of pseudo- science to avoid? For example, where is the credible research supporting an entire module on detox diets?

Thank you for your assistance with this,

We Want to Hear Your Ideas!

Are you a public health dietitian with a great idea for a webinar? Are you or someone you know an expert in your field? The Public Health and Community Nutrition Dietetic Practice Group education committee is soliciting ideas for topics and speakers for 2017. If you have a great idea or know an expert that would be a great presenter, please email your suggestions to phcnpg@cableone.net.

Are you a Quality Leader? Apply Today

The Quality Leader Alliance second year is getting underway and it's seeking individuals experienced in quality to network with each other as well as communicate and educate food and nutrition practitioners on quality management concepts and resources. The individuals selected will be dedicated to a two year term.

All Academy members and food and nutrition practitioners are encouraged to apply to be a part of the Quality Leader Alliance. The application will open February 15, 2017 and close March 31, 2017 for review by the Quality Strategies Workgroup. Appointments to the Alliance will be determined in May 2017. Go here to apply and for more information.

Attend the Academy's Obesity Advocacy Day on February 27, 2017

Hi Lucille, Donna:

Attached for your review is the current draft of the Second Century standalone PPT, which Nicci created and we have edited. There are 30 slides, of which 5 are transition slides within the presentation.

Slides 19-24 contain placeholders for information that will be available after the BOD meeting.

Please let us know how this looks to you, and we're glad to make any needed edits. Thank you very much!

Hi, Lucille and Donna:

Attached is a revised draft of the Academy Update PPT that contains images of members past and present – it's the last slide in the presentation, adapted from the FNCE Opening Session PPT.

Lucille: Regarding your question about uploading the slides to an affiliates' website – it's an easy matter to create a PDF of the slides for emailing to groups who ask for copies. A sample is attached. This works well since it gives the information on the slides, in a smaller file, without the text in the notes field, and (if we lock the PDF for editing) also prevents anyone from changing the information. We'll be glad to help with that.

And we will send you the Second Century standalone PPT draft for review very soon.

Thanks very much, talk to you soon!

Hi Tom:

Happy Monday! I reviewed the slides deck and I really like it. Packed full of great information in a concise manner. Until I actually give the talk I am never sure of the flow (even when I practice). So I will let you know as I work with it. I do miss the ladies of 1917- how about a slide that is past vs. present with that group and with a present day group of members. I think it's a fun visual. Thanks for all your work on this and please thank the department heads. I know they have so much great work and information to share. I hope they did not feel diminished in anyway when we asked to condense their slides. Thanks, Lucille

P.S. Many of the states want our slides uploaded to their websites prior to the presentation. I do not know a way of sharing a PP without the notes and I really do not think I want to share the note piece. Thoughts?

Subject: For review: Draft of Academy Update 2017 PPT

Hi, Lucille and Donna:

Hope all is going well for you! Attached for your review and edits is our draft of the 2017 Academy Update affiliates speech. We should explain a couple of things that you'll notice on the PPT:

- Following your direction, the speech is substantially shorter than in previous years. The attached PPT contains 24 slides (and no video).
- In almost all cases, each area or department covered in the speech is represented by one slide containing updated information provided by the departments. Exceptions are:
 - o There are 2 Professional Development slides (1 on the range of programming and 1 on FNCE).
 - o There are 3 Policy Initiatives and Advocacy slides (1 on our policy priorities; 1 on our policy initiatives and 1 on PPW and the Quarterly Advocacy Days).
- The yellow box at the bottom of most slides contains a link, which changes with each slide, to a page on eatrightPRO where viewers can visit for more information on that topic.

- Slide 12, on National Nutrition Month, is unfinished because it will feature the winner of the RDN Day contest, who has not been selected yet. We will add that information as soon as we have it.
- Slides 22 and 23 give a brief update on the Centennial and Second Century. Slide 23 is unfinished because it will contain information resulting from the Board meeting. And of course we will add that information as soon as we have it.
- We are working with Nicci and Katie on the separate, standalone Second Century PPT, to accompany or replace this presentation as needed. We expect to have that PPT ready to send you next week.
- We are planning to add 1 or 2 slides on Food & Nutrition magazine and the Academy's social media outreach; information on that is yet to come. These will be placed after slide 11 or 12 in the current PPT.

Please let us know if this PPT matches your needs for the affiliate meetings, and of course we are glad to make any edits. With your approval, we'll work with Joan to place this PPT on the BOD portal.

Thank you very much, talk to you soon!

Leadership Approaches to Defending and Advancing Prevention and Public Health

We wanted to share with you a webinar that you might find interesting. The American Public Health Association, Prevention Institute, Public Health Institute, and Trust for America's Health are sponsoring an upcoming webinar, Leadership Approaches to Defending and Advancing Prevention and Public Health. The webinar is scheduled for Tuesday, February 28 from 2:30 - 4:00 p.m. (Eastern Time). For more information and to register.

Public Policy Workshop 2017 Registration – Open!

Please share this message with your affiliate, DPG and MIG membership:

The Public Policy Workshop 2017 registration and housing information is now available. We encourage members to join fellow RDNs, NDTRs and students at the Academy's Public Policy Workshop, June 25 to 26 in Washington, D.C.

Plan to attend this year's workshop, the "go to" event, where you will sharpen your communication skills, advocate for the profession and develop high-level personal and professional relationships. The updated program features:

- A format that focuses on current issues (1/2 day) and a full day of Hill visits

- Pre-meeting web-based preparation to maximize your valuable time*
 - Reduced registration rate and deep discount for student attendees making this event affordable AND fun!*
 - An exclusive ANDPAC signature breakfast for contributors prior to storming the Hill*
- Register for PPW 2017 Today! We look forward to seeing you in Washington, D.C., in June!

PPW 2017 Affiliate Important Information

As affiliates begin to identify their PPW 2017 team, we encourage you to consider sending additional members of your public policy panel such as the SPR, SRS, CPC and RR. PPW provides important training and leadership development for affiliate public policy leaders.

As of today, 27 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. In addition to attending PPW, the affiliate PPC will:

1. Participate in All Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Assist with training his/her affiliate's attendees prior to PPW
3. Setup and coordinate Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her affiliate
4. Assist attendees with setup of meetings with U.S. House of Representatives as appropriate
5. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
6. Submit report prior to PPW with the scheduled meetings (sample will be provided)
7. Serve as table facilitator during PPW
8. Mentor affiliate attendees
9. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill
10. Coordinate in-district Congressional follow up visits

It is a big job! The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

PPW 2017 DPG and MIG Important Information

As of today, 13 DPGs and 2 MIGs have submitted the name of the PAL who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017. In addition to attending PPW, the PAL or alternate PAL will:

1. Participate in Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
3. Assist and work with affiliate Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) as appropriate

4. Setup of meeting with U.S. House of Representative member as appropriate
5. Attend Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her voting state
6. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill on June 24
7. Attend in-district Congressional follow up visits

Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

Thumbs Up!

Congratulations to the Utah Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics for hosting very successful “Don’t Skip a Beat - Shop with a Dietitian for a Healthy Heart” event for the spouses of the Utah State Legislators. Utah public policy coordinator Martha Archuleta MS, RD, CNSC, CLE, FAND, reimbursement representative Nikki Kendrick MBA, RDN, CNSC and Harmon’s Grocery Store dietitian Laura Holtrop-Kohl, MS, RD hosted the spouses at this February event. It is well attended and well-received! Thumbs Up to the Utah Academy for connecting with the spouses of state legislators!

Ladies,

We are planning an activity for the in person meeting to help LPPC members develop a relationship with their members of Congress. We thought that we would have each of you describe what you have done informally if you are good with it. Just maybe 5 minutes each before we break into small groups for discussion. Let me know if you are ok with that!

Hi, Lucille and Donna:

Attached is a revised draft of the Academy Update PPT that contains images of members past and present – it's the last slide in the presentation, adapted from the FNCE Opening Session PPT.

Lucille: Regarding your question about uploading the slides to an affiliates' website – it's an easy matter to create a PDF of the slides for emailing to groups who ask for copies. A sample is attached. This works well since it gives the information on the slides, in a smaller file, without the text in the notes field, and (if we lock the PDF for editing) also prevents anyone from changing the information. We'll be glad to help with that.

And we will send you the Second Century standalone PPT draft for review very soon.

Thanks very much, talk to you soon!

Tom

Hi Tom:

Happy Monday! I reviewed the slides deck and I really like it Packed full of great information in a concise manner. Until I actually give the talk I am never sure of the flow (even when I practice). So I will let you know as I work with it. I do miss the ladies of 1917- how about a slide that is past vs. present with that group and with a present day group of members. I think it's a fun visual. Thanks for all your work on this and please thank the department heads. I know they have so much great work and information to share. I hope they did not feel diminished in anyway when we asked to condense their slides. Thanks, Lucille

P.S. Many of the states want our slides uploaded to their websites prior to the presentation. I do not know a way of sharing a PP without the notes and I really do not think I want to share the note piece. Thoughts?

Subject: For review: Draft of Academy Update 2017 PPT

Hi, Lucille and Donna:

Hope all is going well for you! Attached for your review and edits is our draft of the 2017 Academy Update affiliates speech. We should explain a couple of things that you'll notice on the PPT:

- Following your direction, the speech is substantially shorter than in previous years. The attached PPT contains 24 slides (and no video).
- In almost all cases, each area or department covered in the speech is represented by one slide containing updated information provided by the departments. Exceptions are:
 - o There are 2 Professional Development slides (1 on the range of programming and 1 on FNCE).
 - o There are 3 Policy Initiatives and Advocacy slides (1 on our policy priorities; 1 on our policy initiatives and 1 on PPW and the Quarterly Advocacy Days).
- The yellow box at the bottom of most slides contains a link, which changes with each slide, to a page on eatrightPRO where viewers can visit for more information on that topic.
- Slide 12, on National Nutrition Month, is unfinished because it will feature the winner of the RDN Day contest, who has not been selected yet. We will add that information as soon as we have it.
- Slides 22 and 23 give a brief update on the Centennial and Second Century. Slide 23 is unfinished because it will contain information resulting from the Board meeting. And of course we will add that information as soon as we have it.
- We are working with Nicci and Katie on the separate, standalone Second Century PPT, to accompany or replace this presentation as needed. We expect to have that PPT ready to send you next week.
- We are planning to add 1 or 2 slides on Food & Nutrition magazine and the Academy's social media outreach; information on that is yet to come. These will be placed after slide 11 or 12 in the current PPT.

Please let us know if this PPT matches your needs for the affiliate meetings, and of course we are glad to make any edits. With your approval, we'll work with Joan to place this PPT on the BOD portal.

Thank you very much, talk to you soon!

Plan to attend this year's workshop, the "go to" event, where you will sharpen your communication skills, advocate for the profession and develop high-level personal and professional relationships. The updated program features:

- A format that focuses on current issues (1/2 day) and a full day of Hill visits
- Pre-meeting web-based preparation to maximize your valuable time
- Reduced registration rate and deep discount for student attendees making this event affordable AND fun!*
- An exclusive ANDPAC signature breakfast for contributors prior to storming the Hill

Register for PPW 2017 Today! We look forward to seeing you in Washington, D.C., in June!

PPW 2017 Affiliate Important Information

As affiliates begin to identify their PPW 2017 team, we encourage you to consider sending additional members of your public policy panel such as the SPR, SRS, CPC and RR. PPW provides important training and leadership development for affiliate public policy leaders.

As of today, 27 affiliates have submitted the name of the Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. One of the most important responsibilities of the PPC or alternate PPC is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. In addition to attending PPW, the affiliate PPC will:

1. Participate in All Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Assist with training his/her affiliate's attendees prior to PPW
3. Setup and coordinate Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her affiliate
4. Assist attendees with setup of meetings with U.S. House of Representatives as appropriate
5. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.

6. Submit report prior to PPW with the scheduled meetings (sample will be provided)
7. Serve as table facilitator during PPW
8. Mentor affiliate attendees
9. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill
10. Coordinate in-district Congressional follow up visits

It is a big job! The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

PPW 2017 DPG and MIG Important Information

As of today, 13 DPGs and 2 MIGs have submitted the name of the PAL who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG and MIG Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017. In addition to attending PPW, the PAL or alternate PAL will:

1. Participate in Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
3. Assist and work with affiliate Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) as appropriate
4. Setup of meeting with U.S. House of Representative member as appropriate
5. Attend Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her voting state
6. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill on June 24
7. Attend in-district Congressional follow up visits

Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

Thumbs Up!

Congratulations to the Utah Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics for hosting very successful "Don't Skip a Beat - Shop with a Dietitian for a Healthy Heart" event for the spouses of the Utah State Legislators. Utah public policy coordinator Martha Archuleta MS, RD, CNSC, CLE, FAND, reimbursement representative Nikki Kendrick MBA, RDN, CNSC and Harmon's Grocery Store dietitian Laura Holtrop-Kohl, MS, RD hosted the spouses at this February event. It is well attended and well-received! Thumbs Up to the Utah Academy for connecting with the spouses of state legislators!

Ladies,

We are planning an activity for the in person meeting to help LPPC members develop a relationship with their members of Congress. We thought that we would have each of you describe what you have done informally if you are good with it. Just maybe 5 minutes each before we break into small groups for discussion. Let me know if you are ok with that!

It is with sadness that I inform you of the death of George L. Blackburn, MD, PhD, who passed away February 20, 2017 after battling cancer. Dr. Blackburn received Honorary membership in the Academy in 1992. He was recognized for his dedication to include the RDN as a vital member of the nutrition support team and his ardent advocacy of the RDN as the nutrition expert both in the hospital and clinical setting.

He was an influential figure in the field of clinical nutrition, recognized internationally for his work on the most complex issues related to nutrition and health. Dr. Blackburn was the S. Daniel Abraham Professor of Nutrition and Associate Director of the Division of Nutrition at Harvard Medical School. He also served as the Chief of the Nutrition/Metabolism Laboratory, and Director of the Center for the Study of Nutrition Medicine, which are affiliated with the Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center in Boston, Massachusetts. He earned his medical degree from the University of Kansas in 1965 and completed his internship and residency at Boston City Hospital, Harvard Medical School. In 1973, he obtained his doctorate in nutritional biochemistry from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Throughout the course of his prestigious career, Dr. Blackburn was the recipient of many awards and grants including the Grace Goldsmith Award by the American College of Nutrition and the Joseph Goldberger Award in Clinical Nutrition. Dr. Blackburn also trained over 100 fellows in applied and clinical nutrition and published widely on various aspects of nutrition, medicine, and metabolism, with over 480 publications.

As an Honorary Member of the Academy, an In Memoriam will be published as a tribute to Dr. Blackburn in an upcoming issue of the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

Hi Donna –

Hoping you had a nice weekend – and that it was an extended one for you! Reaching out this time for one final favor on behalf of Pew. As you know – we are winding down (I think the correct term they'd like us to use is sunset J) and we'll be holding one final capstone event on April 5th. The intent is to bring folks together and reflect on school meal research and policy progress over the six years- plus that KSHF existed but also look forward at what's next – as we are well aware that the work continues.

Given you've been an integral part of our work – we would love if you could not only join us but participate and facilitate a panel of what we are referring to as “the implementers”. We will also have a policy panel. Attached is the draft agenda. All the implementers have been confirmed. Please let me know if you might be free and interested. Hoping it works out because I can't imagine our final meeting without you. (No pressure! J) We will work with you both on coming up with questions – and are hoping to give our panelists some heads up on what we might be discussing but I imagine with this group things will flow fairly easily.

We chose 4/5 as it is the same week as SNA's LAC and thought that might be better logistically for some people to stay and not make a separate trip. Hoping to have invites out in the next week or two but feel free to let folks know if you talk with them. One note though – unfortunately (aside from the participants) we aren't able to cover expenses as we have in the past. No cost to attend, of course, but any travel and hotel will be the responsibility of the attendees. Also aiming to livestream/archive it.

Let me know if you have any questions/concerns and if this might work.

As always, thank you!

Mollie

Subject: RDN Day Contest - Judging Assistance Please

Hello,

I am reaching out today to ask for your judging assistance in the 2017 RDN Day Contest. We have narrowed it down to 3 from the 181 submissions we received from Academy members answering the question "Why is it important to be an advocate for advancing the nutritional status of your community?" Here's where you come in. When you have time today, please read through the three finalists below and send me back your one favorite. I know you are all extremely busy, but if you can get this back to me by EOD tomorrow, February 21, I would really appreciate it. We're on the clock to pick a winner and get the photo shoot done in time for RDN Day on March 8. Thank you!

“Why is it important to be an advocate for advancing the nutritional status of your community?”

1. As an outpatient registered dietitian nutritionist in the Bronx, advocacy becomes my primary role with my patients. Without easy access to high quality healthcare services, my patient population falls to chronic illness. A commitment to improving the nutritional health of the Bronx community is an integral aspect of serving the under-resourced. Nutrition information provided with an innovative approach within a tailored program helps to best serve the needs of our patients.
2. RDNs need to be advocates for the nutrition status of their communities because they represent the only profession with knowledge, skills, training and passion to take on that role. Regardless of what their day-to-day jobs are, RDNs act as stewards and role models for healthy eating for their constituents, their communities, their friends and their families. After all, whether we push for legislation, manage community programs, make media appearances or counsel food companies, RDNs share a singular and common objective — to make it easier for every single person to eat a more balanced diet.
3. Today we live in a world where there are a multitude of unique cultures, ethnicities, and traditions. This speaks volumes to the community I serve at Chino Valley Medical Center. Being in a hospital can be an unsettling experience; however, when it comes to discussing cultural food preferences, likes, and intolerances, it is always comforting for patients to speak to that “Nutrition Expert” and finally make a connection with a clinician. That is one of the reasons why I became a registered dietitian; so I can be that clinician that patients can feel comfortable speaking to.

Sincerely,

Rhys Saunders

Federal Public Policy Issues Update: The New Year

Tuesday, February 21, 2017

2 – 3:00 pm Eastern

(11 am – 12:00 pm Pacific; 1 – 2:00 pm Central)

Thank you for registering for the February Public Policy Open Forum webinar; which will be held on Tuesday, February 21. As a confirmed registrant, you should have already received an email from Teresa Nece with a unique link to the live webinar event.

*MAC/APPLE Product Users: In order for WebEx audio to correctly stream on your computer, please click the following link and follow the steps to install the update. This must be done PRIOR to connecting for the live event.

http://www.intercall.com/downloads/rpvoip_mac.pkg

*Connecting to WebEx: For the convenience of all, please see the attached pdf: Connecting to WebEx Events for instructions to accessing/connecting to WebEx.

Alternative Connection Option:

Since we realize that some email servers may block, or spam, the messages from WebEx, as a registered user for the event, you can connect 15 minutes prior to the event via an alternative pathway:

1. Go to <https://eatright.webex.com/eatright>
2. Under Meeting Center tab (upper left), browse meetings to find the February Public Policy Open Forum meeting listed.
3. Select Join on the far right
4. It will have you enter your name, email and the event password. This password is case sensitive so you would enter the word policy (all letters are lowercase)
5. Agree to allow it to connect to the audio conference and it will pull you into the event.

NEW! - Mobile Device Users:

You are welcome to connect via the free iTunes App Store or Google Play Store Cisco WebEx App. Be sure to download and install the free app. To connect, simply open the app and join the event via Meeting Number by entering the following:

- Meeting Number: 746 444 614
- 1. Meeting Password: policy (all letters are lowercase)

NEW Feature: The WebEx platform allows participants to take notes along with the live presentation during the meeting, and at the conclusion of the meeting, you will have the ability to save or print your personal notes if using this feature. This is an optional feature for participants.

Hello,

I am reaching out today to ask for your judging assistance in the 2017 RDN Day Contest. We have narrowed it down to 3 from the 181 submissions we received from Academy members answering the question “Why is it important to be an advocate for advancing the nutritional status of your community?” Here’s where you come in. When you have time today, please read through the three finalists below and send me back your one favorite. I know you are all extremely busy, but if you can get this back to me by EOD tomorrow, February 21, I would really appreciate it. We’re on the clock to pick a winner and get the photo shoot done in time for RDN Day on March 8. Thank you!

“Why is it important to be an advocate for advancing the nutritional status of your community?”

1. As an outpatient registered dietitian nutritionist in the Bronx, advocacy becomes my primary role with my patients. Without easy access to high quality healthcare services, my patient population falls to chronic illness. A commitment to improving the nutritional health of the Bronx community is an integral aspect of serving the under-resourced. Nutrition information provided with an innovative approach within a tailored program helps to best serve the needs of our patients.

2. RDNs need to be advocates for the nutrition status of their communities because they represent the only profession with knowledge, skills, training and passion to take on that role. Regardless of what their day-to-day jobs are, RDNs act as stewards and role models for healthy eating for their constituents, their communities, their friends and their families. After all, whether we push for legislation, manage community programs, make media appearances or counsel food companies, RDNs share a singular and common objective — to make it easier for every single person to eat a more balanced diet.

3. Today we live in a world where there are a multitude of unique cultures, ethnicities, and traditions. This speaks volumes to the community I serve at Chino Valley Medical Center. Being in a hospital can be an unsettling experience; however, when it comes to discussing cultural food preferences, likes, and intolerances, it is always comforting for patients to speak to that “Nutrition Expert” and finally make a connection with a clinician. That is one of the reasons why I became a registered dietitian; so I can be that clinician that patients can feel comfortable speaking to.

Sincerely,

Rhys Saunders

All,

The attached letter was sent to both the Academy President and Treasurer. Margaret felt it was important for the Finance and Audit Committee to review. I will adjust the agenda to include this under New Business. Pat also felt it would be helpful to have some additional background information. I am attaching this summary below. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Subject: NDEP SOPP Letter to Academy & Finance and Audit Committee

A brief NDEP SOPP background summary follows.

Unfortunately the transfer of knowledge and decision-making doesn't always occur as part of leadership transition. The original came out in 2009 and the previous NDEP leadership was aware that the SOPP needed to be reviewed, reaffirmed, revised or discontinued. In 2013 and again in 2016 the NDEP leadership reaffirmed its SOPP and the Governance Team informed them of the new cost-sharing model to help offset the expenses required to develop new or to revise existing SOPPs. The reaffirmation is in place through December 2018. The cost-sharing model concept was approved by the Board, and the DPGs have been budgeting for reviews and updates.

I approved a new FTE last year (Dana Buelsing) and together with Sharon, a consultant Carol Gillmore (25 hours/week) and Karen Hui (10 hours /week), work on the SOPPs with authors, reviewers, a workgroup and the QM Committee. NDEP has a healthy reserve of $287,538 and its leadership has been counseled to spend it down. CDR also contributes funding to assist with SOPPs. The conversation should be about the cost-sharing process and it's ironic because NDEP monies are Academy monies. In part this is a program management issue requiring prioritization by the QM Committee in partnership with staff. There isn't a business unit within the Academy that couldn't do more with more staff. Even if we had unlimited funds, imagine if priorities weren't identified based on a value proposition and ROI. We also need to consider equity when considering NDEP's request - other groups are seeing the value in cost sharing since it meets the needs of their particular membership. It is my understanding that the Academy assumes a $51,000 annual expense per SOPP.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need additional information.

Best regards,

Pat

Subject: Agenda and Attachments: Joint Academy and Foundation Board Meetings

The agenda and attachments for the Academy and Foundation Board Meetings are now available on both the Academy Board of Directors' and Academy Foundation Board of Directors' communication platforms. PDF copies of the packets for the February 23 Joint Academy and Foundation Board Retreat and the February 24 Academy Board meeting are attached to this correspondence. Academy Board members who requested a paper packet will receive it on Saturday, February 18 via UPS (no signature required). Agenda item 7.0 – Member Sponsorship Review Committee is still awaiting committee approval and will be e-mailed and placed on the communications platform by Monday, February 20.

For Academy Board members, please click here and enter your Academy website username and password to access the agendas and attachments on the Academy Board of Directors' communication platform. The agenda and corresponding attachments for the Foundation Board Meeting on February 22 and 23 have been posted on the Academy Foundation Board of Directors' communication platform. Instructions on how to access these materials were sent to the Foundation Board earlier this week.

In preparation for our discussions regarding the Second Century initiative, two key documents have been posted to the portals and are included in the February 23 meeting packet under Agenda Item 5.0. The At-A-Glance Board pre-read is a four page executive summary of the Second Century Innovation Projects under consideration. The Detailed Concept Notes are also provided. This is a 100-plus page document that makes available to you more complete information regarding the work of the innovation project teams. You are not expected to read the detailed concept notes but they are provided as a courtesy. The individuals who participated in the workgroups that developed these innovation project concepts are very proud of the work they accomplished and pleased to know that this information will be submitted for your review and consideration. Printed copies will be available at the meeting.

We have several guests joining us for the February 23 Joint Academy and Foundation Board Retreat and the February 24 Academy Board meeting. On Thursday, February 23, to foster collaboration and open dialogue, we welcome Kevin Sauer, chair of the Commission on Dietetic Registration, and Linda Snetselaar, editor-in-chief of the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. John Whalen, CEO of Whalen Consulting, and Ellie Moss, consultant for Whalen Consulting, will join us for the Second Century working session. Mary Gregoire, executive director of the Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics, will join us by phone for the Future Education Model discussion. John and Ellie will also be present on Friday, February 24 for continuation of the Second Century dialogue, and joining us by phone will be Lorri Holzberg, chair of the Legislative and Public Policy Committee, to present an update on health care reform, and Cathy Christie, chair of the Member Sponsorship Review Committee, to present a committee report.

Room reservations have been made at the Sofitel Hotel, 20 East Chestnut Street, Chicago, Illinois for arrival on February 23 for one night, unless you requested otherwise; room confirmation numbers for the Academy Board members are attached. For those of you on the Foundation Board, hotel reservations have been made for arrival on February 22; your confirmation numbers were sent in a communication from Martha Ontiveros earlier this week. Your hotel room will be master-billed, but you will be asked to pay for incidentals.

See you soon!

The Foundation Board meeting on Wednesday, February 22 runs from 3:00pm to 5:00pm and will reconvene the next morning with breakfast at 8:00am, adjourning at 11:00am. The Academy and Foundation Boards will meet together beginning with lunch on Thursday, February 23 and adjourning at 6:30pm. A group dinner is planned the evening of the 23rd for Academy Board members and those members of the Foundation Board who are staying that night. The Academy Board of Directors will meet separately the following day on Friday, February 24 from 7:30am – 2:00pm.

Attached for your review and input are the draft agendas for the joint Academy and Foundation Board retreat and the Academy Board meeting. We welcome your feedback.

On Friday materials for the meeting will begin to be posted on the communication platforms for the Academy and Foundation Boards. Paper copies will not be automatically provided to Academy Board members; please contact me by Monday if you want to receive a paper packet. Any attachments for the Academy Board of Directors Executive Session will not be placed on the communication platform but will be e-mailed to Academy Board members prior to the meeting.

Thank you, Lucille! We will add a slide with the past and present members, great idea!

Lucille and Donna: Please let us know if you have further edits and we'll make them and arrange to have the PPT put on the BOD portal.

We are reviewing the Second Century PPT now and will send it to you for review in the next day or so.

Thanks again, talk to you soon!

Hi Tom:

Happy Monday! I reviewed the slides deck and I really like it. Packed full of great information in a concise manner. Until I actually give the talk I am never sure of the flow (even when I practice). So I will let you know as I work with it. I do miss the ladies of 1917- how about a slide that is past vs.

present with that group and with a present day group of members. I think it's a fun visual. Thanks for all your work on this and please thank the department heads. I know they have so much great work and information to share. I hope they did not feel diminished in anyway when we asked to condense their slides. Thanks, Lucille

P.S. Many of the states want our slides uploaded to their websites prior to the presentation. I do not know a way of sharing a PP without the notes and I really do not think I want to share the note piece. Thoughts?

Subject: For review: Draft of Academy Update 2017 PPT

Hi, Lucille and Donna:

Hope all is going well for you! Attached for your review and edits is our draft of the 2017 Academy Update affiliates speech. We should explain a couple of things that you'll notice on the PPT:

- Following your direction, the speech is substantially shorter than in previous years. The attached PPT contains 24 slides (and no video).
- In almost all cases, each area or department covered in the speech is represented by one slide containing updated information provided by the departments. Exceptions are:

- o There are 2 Professional Development slides (1 on the range of programming and 1 on FNCE).
- o There are 3 Policy Initiatives and Advocacy slides (1 on our policy priorities; 1 on our policy initiatives and 1 on PPW and the Quarterly Advocacy Days).
- The yellow box at the bottom of most slides contains a link, which changes with each slide, to a page on eatrightPRO where viewers can visit for more information on that topic.
- Slide 12, on National Nutrition Month, is unfinished because it will feature the winner of the RDN Day contest, who has not been selected yet. We will add that information as soon as we have it.
- Slides 22 and 23 give a brief update on the Centennial and Second Century. Slide 23 is unfinished because it will contain information resulting from the Board meeting. And of course we will add that information as soon as we have it.
- We are working with Nicci and Katie on the separate, standalone Second Century PPT, to accompany or replace this presentation as needed. We expect to have that PPT ready to send you next week.
- We are planning to add 1 or 2 slides on Food & Nutrition magazine and the Academy's social media outreach; information on that is yet to come. These will be placed after slide 11 or 12 in the current PPT.

Please let us know if this PPT matches your needs for the affiliate meetings, and of course we are glad to make any edits. With your approval, we'll work with Joan to place this PPT on the BOD portal.

Thank you very much, talk to you soon!

Subject: RDN Day Contest - Judging Assistance Please
Attachment: image001.png

Hello,

I am reaching out today to ask for your judging assistance in the 2017 RDN Day Contest. We have narrowed it down to 3 from the 181 submissions we received from Academy members answering the question “Why is it important to be an advocate for advancing the nutritional status of your community?” Here’s where you come in. When you have time today, please read through the three finalists below and send me back your one favorite. I know you are all extremely busy, but if you can get this back to me by EOD tomorrow, February 21, I would really appreciate it. We’re on the clock to pick a winner and get the photo shoot done in time for RDN Day on March 8. Thank you!

“Why is it important to be an advocate for advancing the nutritional status of your community?”

1. As an outpatient registered dietitian nutritionist in the Bronx, advocacy becomes my primary role with my patients. Without easy access to high quality healthcare services, my patient population falls to chronic illness. A commitment to improving the nutritional health of the Bronx community is an integral aspect of serving the under-resourced. Nutrition information provided with an innovative approach within a tailored program helps to best serve the needs of our patients.

2. RDNs need to be advocates for the nutrition status of their communities because they represent the only profession with knowledge, skills, training and passion to take on that role. Regardless of what their day-to-day jobs are, RDNs act as stewards and role models for healthy eating for their constituents, their communities, their friends and their families. After all, whether we push for legislation, manage community programs, make media appearances or counsel food companies, RDNs share a singular and common objective — to make it easier for every single person to eat a more balanced diet.

3. Today we live in a world where there are a multitude of unique cultures, ethnicities, and traditions. This speaks volumes to the community I serve at Chino Valley Medical Center. Being in a hospital can be an unsettling experience; however, when it comes to discussing cultural food preferences, likes, and intolerances, it is always comforting for patients to speak to that “Nutrition Expert” and finally make a connection with a clinician. That is one of the reasons why I became a registered dietitian; so I can be that clinician that patients can feel comfortable speaking to.

Sincerely,

Rhys Saunders

All,

The attached letter was sent to both the Academy President and Treasurer. Margaret felt it was important for the Finance and Audit Committee to review. I will adjust the agenda to include this under New Business. Pat also felt it would be helpful to have some additional background information. I am attaching this summary below. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Cc: Dante Turner; Joan Schwaba; Patricia Babjak
Subject: NDEP SOPP Letter to Academy & Finance and Audit Committee

A brief NDEP SOPP background summary follows.

Unfortunately the transfer of knowledge and decision-making doesn't always occur as part of leadership transition. The original came out in 2009 and the previous NDEP leadership was aware that the SOPP needed to be reviewed, reaffirmed, revised or discontinued. In 2013 and again in 2016 the NDEP leadership reaffirmed its SOPP and the Governance Team informed them of the new cost-sharing model to help offset the expenses required to develop new or to revise existing SOPPs. The reaffirmation is in place through December 2018. The cost-sharing model concept was approved by the Board, and the DPGs have been budgeting for reviews and updates.

I approved a new FTE last year (Dana Buelsing) and together with Sharon, a consultant Carol Gillmore (25 hours/week) and Karen Hui (10 hours /week), work on the SOPPs with authors, reviewers, a workgroup and the QM Committee. NDEP has a healthy reserve of $287,538 and its leadership has been counseled to spend it down. CDR also contributes funding to assist with SOPPs. The conversation should be about the cost-sharing process and it's ironic because NDEP monies are Academy monies. In part this is a program management issue requiring prioritization by the QM Committee in partnership with staff. There isn't a business unit within the Academy that couldn't do more with more staff. Even if we had unlimited funds, imagine if priorities weren't identified based on a value proposition and ROI. We also need to consider equity when considering NDEP's request - other groups are seeing the value in cost sharing since it meets the needs of their particular membership. It is my understanding that the Academy assumes a $51,000 annual expense per SOPP.

Please let me know if you have any questions or need additional information.

Best regards,

Pat

Hi Tom:

Happy Monday! I reviewed the slides deck and I really like it Packed full of great information in a concise manner. Until I actually give the talk I am never sure of the flow (even when I practice). So I will let you know as I work with it. I do miss the ladies of 1917- how about a slide that is past vs. present with that group and with a present day group of members. I think it's a fun visual. Thanks for all your work on this and please thank the department heads. I know they have so much great work and information to share. I hope they did not feel diminished in anyway when we asked to condense their slides. Thanks, Lucille

P.S. Many of the states want our slides uploaded to their websites prior to the presentation. I do not know a way of sharing a PP without the notes and I really do not think I want to share the note piece. Thoughts?

Subject: For review: Draft of Academy Update 2017 PPT

Hi, Lucille and Donna:

Hope all is going well for you! Attached for your review and edits is our draft of the 2017 Academy Update affiliates speech. We should explain a couple of things that you'll notice on the PPT:

- Following your direction, the speech is substantially shorter than in previous years. The attached PPT contains 24 slides (and no video).
- In almost all cases, each area or department covered in the speech is represented by one slide containing updated information provided by the departments. Exceptions are:
 - o There are 2 Professional Development slides (1 on the range of programming and 1 on FNCE).
 - o There are 3 Policy Initiatives and Advocacy slides (1 on our policy priorities; 1 on our policy initiatives and 1 on PPW and the Quarterly Advocacy Days).
- The yellow box at the bottom of most slides contains a link, which changes with each slide, to a page on eatrightPRO where viewers can visit for more information on that topic.
- Slide 12, on National Nutrition Month, is unfinished because it will feature the winner of the RDN Day contest, who has not been selected yet. We will add that information as soon as we have it.
- Slides 22 and 23 give a brief update on the Centennial and Second Century. Slide 23 is unfinished because it will contain information resulting from the Board meeting. And of course we will add that information as soon as we have it.
- We are working with Nicci and Katie on the separate, standalone Second Century PPT, to accompany or replace this presentation as needed. We expect to have that PPT ready to send you next week.
- We are planning to add 1 or 2 slides on Food & Nutrition magazine and the Academy's social media outreach; information on that is yet to come. These will be placed after slide 11 or 12 in the current PPT.

Please let us know if this PPT matches your needs for the affiliate meetings, and of course we are glad to make any edits. With your approval, we'll work with Joan to place this PPT on the BOD portal.

Thank you very much, talk to you soon!

Subject: It's time for AND/CDR to stand with science
Attachment: image001.png

To: AND/CDR Leadership,

Thanks, Diane, for the offer of a free waiver for the detox module. However, my questions and concerns go much deeper: throughout all of the modules, and to the legitimacy of AND/CDR support of IFM-related curriculum for RDNs and related information for the public. Why is the organization continuing to promote IFM claims for necessity of tests, and efficacy of treatment without relevant, supportive scientific references?

If this is a serious branch of science that RDNs need to be familiar with, why is the scientific evidence so hidden and hard to find? An RDN should not have to buy a course to see if a series offered by AND/CDR is scientifically accurate. The relevant, supportive studies should be easily found on Pubmed. Relevant and supportive is important because IFM practitioners will state unhelpfully that studies on liver detox or intestinal impermeability are all over Pubmed, without pointing out the specific studies that they use to support the diet, diagnosis, and treatment that they are promoting. The studies I have been provided by practitioners so far have included unrelated dietary restrictions studies on rodents, and other early studies that the study authors state are too early for human application.

This is very serious and needs to be addressed broadly and deeply by AND/CDR. Are we a science-based organization or not?

If we are promoting diseases that are rejected by the American College of Endocrinology such as adrenal fatigue- debunked by the endocrinologists at The Endocrine Society (www.hormone.org/hormones-and-health/myth-vs-fact/adrenal-fatigue) "Adrenal fatigue" is not a real medical condition. There are no scientific facts to support the theory that long-term mental, emotional, or physical stress drains the adrenal glands and causes many common symptoms. This is not science-based. This is promoted however, in a course offered by CEU provider Institute for Functional Nutrition.

If we are promoting a treatment- detox: diet, testing, and supplements, without scientific evidence that shows the need and efficacy for the dietary treatment, the diagnosis of malfunction, the validity of the tests recommended. This is not science-based.

If we are unclear about our commitment to science-based practice- preventing CEUs for LEAP therapy and for the book, The Disease Delusion, by IFM founder Jeffery Bland, but allowing IFM based modules for CEUs and promoting the use of IFM treatments to the public. We need to be robustly transparent about what evidence is science-based and what is speculative and not appropriate to promote as proven.

It's time for AND/CDR to stand with science and clear the decks of courses (offered by AND/CDR and others) and articles/books for the public not meeting a science-based standard of evidence.

By supporting questionable treatments, disease diagnoses and tests, we are harming the legitimacy of the RDN credential, the ability to raise support for the foundation, the motivation for a student to choose dietetics (why bother when they can learn these things and practice without a credential), and the ability to gain/maintain legislative support. It weakens the case for state licensure- as non-RDns can provide the same questionable service.

To be honest, I am surprised I have to write these emails to the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and the Commission for Dietetics Registration- as I assumed maintaining the value of the credential was a major focus of your work for RDN members.

I would appreciate responses from everyone- I need to know what kind of an organization I belong to as I am no longer certain.

Sincerely,

Hi Diane,

Thank you for your email. It left me with far more questions than it answered. I am looking for hard evidence, such as studies that I can find on PubMed, not a circular referral back to an SOP that the DIFM created.

You stated that: The detoxification module in question we have developed does not promote or advocate for “detox diets.” But the module description states: Detoxification diets may have significant value in promoting more effective physiological responses to toxic stressors that come either with the exogenous or endogenous environments.

For the benefit of transparency, please direct me to the research evidence you used that confirms detoxification is necessary for health (barring of course, heavy metal poisoning). If it is not necessary for health, why are we covering it in a module?

I have many such questions about this series. Please, for transparency, provide the science-based research behind:

- The “5R Protocol”(Remove, Replace, Reinoculate, Repair &Rebalance) to restore digestive health-(human studies that show the need for and efficacy of this protocol- not anecdotes).
- The scientific evidence behind the need for: hepatic detoxification, biotransformation, and elimination of endogenous and exogenous toxins.
- The complementary and alternative medicine (CAM) roots of integrative and functional medicine.(Will this explanation of the roots of functional medicine include the 5 time FDA/FTC offenses by IFM founder Jeffery Bland?)

Again, for transparency, please provide the relevant studies you used.

Looking forward to receiving the evidence-

In health,
Mary

Subject: RE: New Online Certificate of Training Program: Integrative and Functional Nutrition

Hi Mary,

Thank you for reaching out to the Academy via email. Here is some detailed information that I hope addresses your concerns.

Detoxification is a topic that many members have requested the Academy address in a professional development learning module. It is also, as you know so well, a challenging topic to address from a science-based perspective. That is why the Academy's Center for Lifelong Learning worked for more than two years with the Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine (DIFM) DPG to develop a comprehensive certificate program that addresses integrative and functional nutrition from the science-based perspective that our members need and expect. Content for this certificate program was reviewed by multiple Academy expert groups including the Center for Lifelong Learning; Research, Scientific and International Affairs; and the Knowledge Center.

The detoxification module in question we have developed does not promote or advocate for "detox diets." Rather, it focuses on the pathophysiology of detoxification in the human body, genetic factors that may play a role and clinical assessment. The module's goal is to increase awareness of the science and to assist RDs in preparing to help their clients when the topic of detoxification comes up.

Additional application tools are used through the module, such as applying the Nutrition Care Process and ADIME to a case study for practice application. The science-based process includes use of a variety of sources, including the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, Journal of the American Medical Association and Journal of Clinical Pharmacology.

Let me also add that the topic of detoxification is addressed in the published Integrative and Functional Medicine Nutrition Therapy (IFMNT) Manual. The Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine DPG has developed Standards of Practice and Standards of Professional Performance in Integrative and Functional Medicine. The SOP addresses the Nutrition Care Process and activities related to person-centered care; and the SOPP are authoritative statements that describe a competent level of behavior in the professional role. The IFMNT Radial was established as an integrated conceptual framework to assist in IFMNT practice. The SOP, along with the IFMNT Radial, was published in the June 2011 Journal. This link provides full access to the SOP SOPP:

<http://integrativerd.org/wp-content/uploads/2012/04/Instructions-to-access-the-full-SOP.SOPP-revised-Oct-2013.pdf>.

I hope this is helpful, please let me know if you further questions or comments.

Diane

New Online Certificate of Training Program: Integrative and Functional Nutrition

Develop competency and earn CPEUs online with a new program on digestive health, detoxification, inflammation and more. This certificate of training program was planned by the Academy's Center for Lifelong Learning and the Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine dietetic practice group. Don't miss out on the opportunity to become an expert in this rapidly growing field.

It includes a full module on detoxing, which is completely unnecessary to optimal health.

This is a devastating blow to science-based practice.

I feel this offering devalues my previously science-based credential. As President-elect, please explain how such a course was vetted and allowed to be offered as anything but an example of pseudo- science to avoid? For example, where is the credible research supporting an entire module on detox diets?

Donna

I am so sorry that I did not get you this yesterday. The Jeanne and I are the individuals who wrote the content of the presentation for you. Please feel free where we indicate stories, that you add your own stores. Also feel free to edit as you wish. If you see slides that need editing, we are fine with that, just send so we have the final presentation.

Attached find the slides and a word document with script. The slides also have the notes on each slide. Lorri is still working on her portion.

On Tuesday, can you join approximately 30 minutes before the @ pm Eastern time start time? This way we can test the headset and be sure everything is working properly. Let me know if you need anything.

If you have questions, let us know.

Hi, Lucille and Donna:

Hope all is going well for you! Attached for your review and edits is our draft of the 2017 Academy Update affiliates speech. We should explain a couple of things that you'll notice on the PPT:

- Following your direction, the speech is substantially shorter than in previous years. The attached PPT contains 24 slides (and no video).
- In almost all cases, each area or department covered in the speech is represented by one slide containing updated information provided by the departments. Exceptions are:
 - o There are 2 Professional Development slides (1 on the range of programming and 1 on FNCE).
 - o There are 3 Policy Initiatives and Advocacy slides (1 on our policy priorities; 1 on our policy initiatives and 1 on PPW and the Quarterly Advocacy Days).
- The yellow box at the bottom of most slides contains a link, which changes with each slide, to a page on eatrightPRO where viewers can visit for more information on that topic.

- Slide 12, on National Nutrition Month, is unfinished because it will feature the winner of the RDN Day contest, who has not been selected yet. We will add that information as soon as we have it.
- Slides 22 and 23 give a brief update on the Centennial and Second Century. Slide 23 is unfinished because it will contain information resulting from the Board meeting. And of course we will add that information as soon as we have it.
- We are working with Nicci and Katie on the separate, standalone Second Century PPT, to accompany or replace this presentation as needed. We expect to have that PPT ready to send you next week.
- We are planning to add 1 or 2 slides on Food & Nutrition magazine and the Academy's social media outreach; information on that is yet to come. These will be placed after slide 11 or 12 in the current PPT.

Please let us know if this PPT matches your needs for the affiliate meetings, and of course we are glad to make any edits. With your approval, we'll work with Joan to place this PPT on the BOD portal.

Thank you very much, talk to you soon!

Happy Friday SNS DPG EC!

I am working on the POW (plan of work aka our budget) and need some feedback on our decision about financially supporting the second century. I'm attaching a power point that provides you the current Second Century topics that have been put forth; yet, please read in detail the last slide which addresses "Healthy Schools, Healthy Communities: Activating Nutrition and Wellness to Create a Culture of Health".

As we know, the Second Century projects are in the beginning stages (the creative/critical ideas stages, if you will) so these are not final drafts but the updates.

I would like to propose that we include a pledge of 5% of our reserves for the Second Century fund. I have learned that we should be able to designate a specific "bucket" once they have these approved. As stated above, the topic of healthy schools would more than likely be in a "public health bucket".

My apologies if I'm not using the correct terminology, as it may need to come from Bobbie about proposing, but I wanted to get this information to you as we spoke of it at our last EC meeting (phone conference) and I was recently able to retrieve this information which I think will clear up some of the questions/concerns that were discussed.

Feel free to email me with any questions and I'll be happy to find an answer for you.

Bobbie - what is our deadline for the POW so that we can have this decision made by then?

Thank you!!

Have a happy & healthy day!

Greetings EC!

Life in school nutrition is a bit hectic to say the least right now, add life on top of it and all of a sudden we are just a matter of days from our webinar. Time to kick marketing into overdrive to make up for not getting our registration out there sooner than this.

Change in original plan - this webinar will be for our membership only due to time constraints on monetary registrations.

Katie G. - Can you approve the below eblast.

All EC members - Can you please help me out by clicking on the registration link and signing up so I can make sure everything works before I send out to our membership?

Draft Eblast:

Subject Line - Webinar for School Nutrition Professionals - REGISTER HERE.

SNS Members,

We are excited to offer a great webinar by Jean Caton, MS, MBA, RDN - Businesswoman's Coach and author of our spotlight section in the latest Nutrition Link Newsletter. Jean has a wealth of knowledge and experience to help us all in any level of the profession.

An excerpt from Jean's article: "Research shows that confidence trumps competence when it comes to success at work and that career advancement, especially for women, can be significantly diminished by lack of confidence - why so many A students thrive in high school and college but do not fare as well in the adult working world."

Learn valuable steps to help you gain confidence in working with your staff and to communicate with your supervisor or school board - FOR FREE!

When: Tuesday, February 28th @ 1:00 p.m. CT.

Subject: RE: New Online Certificate of Training Program: Integrative and Functional Nutrition

Hi Mary,

Thank you for reaching out to the Academy via email. Here is some detailed information that I hope addresses your concerns.

Detoxification is a topic that many members have requested the Academy address in a professional development learning module. It is also, as you know so well, a challenging topic to address from a science-based perspective. That is why the Academy's Center for Lifelong Learning worked for more than two years with the Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine (DIFM) DPG to develop a comprehensive certificate program that addresses integrative and functional nutrition from the science-based perspective that our members need and expect. Content for this certificate program was reviewed by multiple Academy expert groups including the Center for Lifelong Learning; Research, Scientific and International Affairs; and the Knowledge Center.

The detoxification module in question we have developed does not promote or advocate for "detox diets." Rather, it focuses on the pathophysiology of detoxification in the human body, genetic factors that may play a role and clinical assessment. The module's goal is to increase awareness of the science and to assist RDNs in preparing to help their clients when the topic of detoxification comes up.

Additional application tools are used through the module, such as applying the Nutrition Care Process and ADIME to a case study for practice application. The science-based process includes use of a variety of sources, including the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, Journal of the American Medical Association and Journal of Clinical Pharmacology.

Let me also add that the topic of detoxification is addressed in the published Integrative and Functional Medicine Nutrition Therapy (IFMNT) Radial. The Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine DPG has developed Standards of Practice and Standards of Professional Performance in Integrative and Functional Medicine. The SOP addresses the Nutrition Care Process and activities related to person-centered care; and the SOPP are authoritative statements that describe a competent level of behavior in the professional role. The IFMNT Radial was established as an integrated conceptual framework to assist in IFMNT practice. The SOP, along with the IFMNT Radial, was published in the June 2011 Journal. This link provides full access to the SOP SOPP:

I hope this is helpful, please let me know if you further questions or comments.

Regards,
Diane

Subject: New Online Certificate of Training Program: Integrative and Functional Nutrition

Needless to say I am shocked and very dismayed at this offering.

CPE CORNER

New Online Certificate of Training Program: Integrative and Functional Nutrition

Develop competency and earn CPEUs online with a new program on digestive health, detoxification, inflammation and more. This certificate of training program was planned by the Academy's Center for Lifelong Learning and the Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine dietetic practice group. Don't miss out on the opportunity to become an expert in this rapidly growing field.

Learn More

It includes a full module on detoxing, which is completely unnecessary to optimal health.

This is a devastating blow to science-based practice.

I feel this offering devalues my previously science-based credential. As President-elect, please explain how such a course was vetted and allowed to be offered as anything but an example of pseudo- science to avoid? For example, where is the credible research supporting an entire module on detox diets?

Thank you for your assistance with this,

Mary Saucier Choate, M.S., R.D.N., L.D.

Subject: RE: New Online Certificate of Training Program: Integrative and Functional Nutrition

Hi Mary,

Thank you for reaching out to the Academy via email. Here is some detailed information that I hope addresses your concerns.

Detoxification is a topic that many members have requested the Academy address in a professional development learning module. It is also, as you know so well, a challenging topic to address from a science-based perspective. That is why the Academy's Center for Lifelong Learning worked for more than two years with the Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine (DIFM) DPG to develop a comprehensive certificate program that addresses integrative and functional nutrition from the science-based perspective that our members need and expect.

Content for this certificate program was reviewed by multiple Academy expert groups including the Center for Lifelong Learning; Research, Scientific and International Affairs; and the Knowledge Center.

The detoxification module in question we have developed does not promote or advocate for “detox diets.” Rather, it focuses on the pathophysiology of detoxification in the human body, genetic factors that may play a role and clinical assessment. The module’s goal is to increase awareness of the science and to assist RDNs in preparing to help their clients when the topic of detoxification comes up.

Additional application tools are used through the module, such as applying the Nutrition Care Process and ADIME to a case study for practice application. The science-based process includes use of a variety of sources, including the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, Journal of the American Medical Association and Journal of Clinical Pharmacology.

Let me also add that the topic of detoxification is addressed in the published Integrative and Functional Medicine Nutrition Therapy (IFMNT) Radial. The Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine DPG has developed Standards of Practice and Standards of Professional Performance in Integrative and Functional Medicine. The SOP addresses the Nutrition Care Process and activities related to person-centered care; and the SOPP are authoritative statements that describe a competent level of behavior in the professional role. The IFMNT Radial was established as an integrated conceptual framework to assist in IFMNT practice. The SOP, along with the IFMNT Radial, was published in the June 2011 Journal. This link provides full access to the SOP SOPP:

I hope this is helpful, please let me know if you further questions or comments.

The agenda and attachments for the Academy and Foundation Board Meetings are now available on both the Academy Board of Directors' and Academy Foundation Board of Directors' communication platforms. PDF copies of the packets for the February 23 Joint Academy and Foundation Board Retreat and the February 24 Academy Board meeting are attached to this correspondence. Academy Board members who requested a paper packet will receive it on Saturday, February 18 via UPS (no signature required). Agenda item 7.0 – Member Sponsorship Review Committee is still awaiting committee approval and will be e-mailed and placed on the communications platform by Monday, February 20.

For Academy Board members, please click here and enter your Academy website username and password to access the agendas and attachments on the Academy Board of Directors' communication platform. The agenda and corresponding attachments for the Foundation Board Meeting on February 22 and 23 have been posted on the Academy Foundation Board of Directors' communication platform. Instructions on how to access these materials were sent to the Foundation Board earlier this week.

In preparation for our discussions regarding the Second Century initiative, two key documents have been posted to the portals and are included in the February 23 meeting packet under Agenda Item 5.0. The At-A-Glance Board pre-read is a four page executive summary of the Second Century Innovation Projects under consideration. The Detailed Concept Notes are also provided. This is a 100-plus page document that makes available to you more complete information regarding the work of the innovation project teams. You are not expected to read the detailed concept notes but they are provided as a courtesy. The individuals who participated in the workgroups that developed these innovation project concepts are very proud of the work they accomplished and pleased to know that this information will be submitted for your review and consideration. Printed copies will be available at the meeting.

We have several guests joining us for the February 23 Joint Academy and Foundation Board Retreat and the February 24 Academy Board meeting. On Thursday, February 23, to foster collaboration and open dialogue, we welcome Kevin Sauer, chair of the Commission on Dietetic Registration, and Linda Snetselaar, editor-in-chief of the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. John Whalen, CEO of Whalen Consulting, and Ellie Moss, consultant for Whalen Consulting, will join us for the Second Century working session. Mary Gregoire, executive director of the Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics, will join us by phone for the Future Education Model discussion. John and Ellie will also be present on Friday, February 24 for continuation of the Second Century dialogue, and joining us by phone will be Lorri Holzberg, chair of the Legislative and Public Policy Committee, to present an update on health care reform, and Cathy Christie, chair of the Member Sponsorship Review Committee, to present a committee report.

Room reservations have been made at the Sofitel Hotel, 20 East Chestnut Street, Chicago, Illinois for arrival on February 23 for one night, unless you requested otherwise; room confirmation numbers for the Academy Board members are attached. For those of you on the Foundation Board, hotel reservations have been made for arrival on February 22; your confirmation numbers were sent in a communication from Martha Ontiveros earlier this week. Your hotel room will be master-billed, but you will be asked to pay for incidentals.

See you soon!

Subject: Joint Academy and Foundation Board Meetings

The Foundation Board meeting on Wednesday, February 22 runs from 3:00pm to 5:00pm and will reconvene the next morning with breakfast at 8:00am, adjourning at 11:00am. The Academy and Foundation Boards will meet together beginning with lunch on Thursday, February 23 and adjourning at 6:30pm. A group dinner is planned the evening of the 23rd for Academy Board members and those members of the Foundation Board who are staying that night. The Academy Board of Directors will meet separately the following day on Friday, February 24 from 7:30am – 2:00pm.

Attached for your review and input are the draft agendas for the joint Academy and Foundation Board retreat and the Academy Board meeting. We welcome your feedback.

On Friday materials for the meeting will begin to be posted on the communication platforms for the Academy and Foundation Boards. Paper copies will not be automatically provided to Academy Board members; please contact me by Monday if you want to receive a paper packet. Any attachments for the Academy Board of Directors Executive Session will not be placed on the communication platform but will be e-mailed to Academy Board members prior to the meeting.

Thank you. It was a fun and thrilling event. Thank goodness the NASDAQ market did not crash yesterday! Many thanks to Doris and Pat for their leadership in getting us to be at the "crossroads of the world" to spread the news of our 100th year! It is not easy to get this gig but Doris's tenacity made it possible. Thank you both for dropping everything to be there to tell the world about our Second Century!!! It was an honor to share the stage with both of you, and the members of the NYAND! Remember one of our new mantras...

"Nutrition is a science NOT a fad!"

See you all next week. Lucille

To: Subject: Exciting News - NASDAQ Opening Bell on Thursday, February 16

I am happy to share that the Academy has been invited to ring the opening bell next Thursday, February 16 at NASDAQ, the largest electronic equities exchange in the United States. This is the eighth time in recent years in which the Academy has been invited to be part of NASDAQ's trading day.

Academy President Lucille Beseler will be joined by members who live in the New York area. Lucille's remarks will highlight our centennial, the Second Century initiative, our members and their great work in optimizing the nutritional health of individuals, families, communities and the world.

The NASDAQ ceremony on Thursday, February 16, will be broadcast live from 9:15 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Eastern Time on NASDAQ's website. It will also be broadcast live on video screens in Times Square. The Academy's name and logo will be on NASDAQ's tower with the message "The Stock Exchange Welcomes the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics."

This is always an exciting opportunity for the Academy, and we are thrilled to be a part of the ceremony. We will share this information with members in next week's Eat Right Weekly and via social media. Please share this with colleagues, family and friends so that they can view the video live on Webcast or view it later on NASDAQ's Facebook and Twitter.

Webcast:

A live webcast of the NASDAQ Opening Bell will be available on Thursday, February 16, at 9:15 a.m. ET at:

<http://www.nasdaq.com/about/marketsitetowervideo.aspx>

Attachment: narrative for january 2017 electronic.xlsx

All,

We have our monthly Finance and Audit Committee call next week on Tuesday, February 22nd at 1 p.m. CST. If you can't attend and have not yet informed us, please do so as soon as possible. Also, you should have received the webinar invitation from the Academy IT department. If you do not have it, please check your spam folder and/or let me know and I will resend the invitation. Finally, Maria will add to the portal the documents today. She will notify you as soon as it is completed.

The call on Tuesday will focus on the December final results and the January preliminary results. We did not have any changes to the December results that you were originally provided with one exception; On page A5, the summary for the DPG/MIG/ACEND, the Cumulative Net Income information for December was missing. So, it calculated out to be $0. It should have been $153,466. It is correct on page A12. So, overall the numbers did not change. Only the summary page changed to reflect the correct number. In addition, since A1 is a summary of pages A2-A7, it also changed on the Cumulative Net Income line. Everything else, all of the revenues, expenses and investment income stayed the same.

When you look at the January numbers you will see a few variances or irregularities for the Academy. The “brief” ten thousand foot level explanation is the largest ones reflect the “flow through” of the accounting changes driven by the building move. This can be seen in two specific categories; Rent and utilities and Depreciation.

As many of you may remember, when we were proposing the move, there was an expectation of some “below the line items” associated with the move, if it took place. We did not include them in the original budget because the move was not finalized last April and May when we were completing the budget. The rent and utilities adjustment is due to Accounting rules allowing us to reduce a liability on the balance sheet. Originally, we felt this would be $1.6 million. However, there were variables that required the concurrence from our auditors before we could proceed. Accounting rules are very peculiar. One would think that if you no longer have the lease and space, you would not be required to retain the liability. It no longer exists!!! Had we moved to a new building or a new landlord, that would be the case. Since we didn’t do either, the auditors objected to any reversal of the liability immediately. They wanted us to recognize the benefit over the next 17 years! Well, as many of you know, I don’t take no for an answer. So, we ended up with a negotiated result that has been accepted by the auditors and is consistent with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles. This is why the rent and utility costs for the month of January is - $797,455 or +$903,338 better than the budget. We were able to reduce approximately 50% of the liability. The remaining 50% will be recognized over the next few years. Also, keep in mind, this is over and above the monthly savings we all will continue to recognize over the next 17 years.

In addition, you will notice the large over-run in Depreciation. This is due to the expected “write-off” of the construction costs originally performed at the old office location. Since we are no longer there, any work we had done needed to be “written-off” or eliminated from our balance sheet. Gee, one would think if the rules won’t allow us to recognize the entire benefit, why can’t we just not recognize one of the costs. Heck, why can’t we just continue to depreciate the remaining “build-out” expenses from the previous location over the next few years. Well, if you think that, then you have successfully demonstrated a level of common sense far greater than those who made the Accounting rules. Accounting rules are created to be conservative (in theory). Therefore, they make it difficult to recognize benefits or positive outcomes, but, make it a requirement to recognize anything that reduces a benefit or is a negative outcome. We did anticipate this issue when the impact for the move was considered.

These two line items are providing a big impact on the January results. I will go into more detail on our call on Tuesday. I am attaching the "high-level" summary sheet that may help explain all of the variances for the Academy financial categories. We can discuss this further on Tuesday as well. One last note of good news; as of yesterday, the investments are up $1,332,000 for February. So, we if this holds, we will be way above our budget amount for the year and much higher than the results through February 2016. We can only hope it will continue.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know. I hope everyone has a great weekend.

Paul

The Academy's Policy Initiatives and Advocacy team wish you a very Happy Valentine's Day!

February 2017 Public Policy Forum – Federal Policy Issues: A New Year, A Clean Slate

Please join Academy's President-Elect Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND; and Academy's Legislative and Public Policy (LPPC) Chair Lorri Holzberg, MA, RDN for the Public Policy Open Forum titled, Federal Policy Issues: A New Year, A Clean Slate. The forum is scheduled for Tuesday, February 21, 2017 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time). The speakers will focus on providing an update to the new Congressional Year and the legislative priorities for the 115th Congress.

Register today for the Public Policy Open Forum. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend (please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Leadership Approaches to Defending and Advancing Prevention and Public Health

We wanted to share with you a webinar that you might find interesting. The American Public Health Association, Prevention Institute, Public Health Institute, and Trust for America's Health are sponsoring an upcoming webinar, Leadership Approaches to Defending and Advancing Prevention and Public Health. The webinar is scheduled for Tuesday, February 28 from 2:30 - 4:00 p.m. (Eastern Time). For more information and to register.

Confirmation Process Continues for Health and Human Services Leadership

Leadership at Health and Human Services continues to be discussed in Congress, with the Senate confirming Dr. Tom Price as the 23rd Secretary of Health and Human Services on February 10. On February 16 at 10am EST, the Senate Finance Committee will hold a hearing to consider the nomination of Seema Verma for the Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. The Academy continues to submit questions for the Senate hearings, and will continue to prioritize nutrition services in health care.

Report Addressing Hunger in Older Adults

Meals on Wheels America recently released a new report, funded by the AARP and Caesars Foundations, titled Hunger in Older Adults: Challenges and Opportunities for the Aging Network. This resource explores a variety of available food assistance programs that can be used in combination to more effectively address the needs of seniors in communities across America.

Healthy People 2020 Webinar

Join Healthy People 2020 and the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance for a free webinar on February 21, 2017 at 12:30pm EST to learn about the latest federal efforts to promote diabetes screening and prevention. Speakers will discuss the United States Preventive Services Task Force recommendation on screening, and the importance of referring patients to evidence-based diabetes prevention programs. The Academy is a member of the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance, and members can register here for this webinar. A recording of the webinar will be available on the Healthy People 2020 website after the event.

1. Care Act Repeal....Still Time to Share Your Story!

Thank you to all of the Academy members who submitted stories last week! We are continuing to collect information from our members on the impact of the ACA repeal. Although it is still in the discussion stage of replacement, what concerns do you have moving forward? How has the ACA helped or hurt your practice, your employer and your clients? Please share your stories and other information with Stef Winston Rinehart at swinston@eatright.org. We want to hear from you!

House Agriculture Committee to Discuss Restricting SNAP Choice

The House Agriculture Committee will hold a hearing to discuss the pros and cons of restricting choice in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP). This will be an important and very complex issue as Congress look to reauthorize SNAP in the 2018 Farm Bill. We expect that witnesses and member on the House Agriculture Committee will discuss the need for nutrition education, in this and any conversation relating to improving the health of Americans.

2017 Elections: Own Tomorrow, Vote Today!

Help shape the future of the Academy by exercising your member privilege to vote. Cast your vote and receive a coupon good for $5.00 off your next purchase from the eatright Store! Learn about the candidates and vote in the 2017 Elections. Learn more about the candidates and choose the Academy's next leaders.

Public Policy Workshop 2017 Registration – Open!

The Public Policy Workshop 2017 registration and housing information is now available. An email will be sent to all Academy members on Monday, February 13, 2017. The message will encourage members to join fellow RDNs, NDTRs and students at the Academy's Public Policy Workshop, June 25 to 26 in Washington, D.C.

Plan to attend this year's workshop, the "go to" event, where you will sharpen your communication skills, advocate for the profession and develop high-level personal and professional relationships. The updated program features:

Register for PPW 2017 Today! We look forward to seeing you in Washington, D.C., in June!

PPW 2017 Affiliate Important Information

As of today, 22 affiliates have submitted the name of the PPC who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each Affiliate PPC or the alternate PPC attending will receive a separate email with registration instructions.

One of the most important responsibilities of the affiliate Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. In addition to attending PPW, the affiliate PPC will:

1. Participate in All Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Assist with training his/her affiliate's attendees prior to PPW
3. Setup and coordinate Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her affiliate
4. Assist attendees with setup of meetings with U.S. House of Representatives as appropriate
5. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
6. Submit report prior to PPW with the scheduled meetings (sample will be provided)
7. Serve as table facilitator during PPW
8. Mentor affiliate attendees
9. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill
10. Coordinate in-district Congressional follow up visits

It is a big job! The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

As affiliates begin to identify the PPW 2017 team, we encourage you to consider sending additional members of your public policy panel such as the SPR, SRS, CPC and RR. PPW provides important training and leadership development for affiliate public policy leaders.

PPW 2017 DPG and MIG Important Information

As of today, 10 DPGs and 2 MIGs have submitted the name of the PAL who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG/MIG PAL will receive a separate email with registration instructions.

Each DPG and MIG Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017. In addition to attending PPW, the PAL or alternate PAL will:

1. Participate in Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
3. Assist and work with affiliate Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) as appropriate
4. Setup of meeting with U.S. House of Representative member as appropriate
5. Attend Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her voting state
6. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill on June 24
7. Attend in-district Congressional follow up visits

Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

Thumbs Up!

Last week, the Tennessee Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics achieved a significant victory in getting proposed rule changes related to therapeutic diet orders at the Board for Licensing Healthcare Facilities hearing in Nashville. Before Tennessee RDNs are able to order therapeutic diets, the approved changes must go before the Attorney General, but we are thrilled with this development and are grateful for the ongoing efforts of Tennessee's public policy leaders!

Thumbs Up to the Tennessee Academy!

Congratulations to the Virginia Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics for hosting a very successful lobby day in Richmond on February 8. First Lady of the Virginia Commonwealth, Dorothy McAuliffe spoke to the 100 attendees about childhood obesity and food insecurity. Thumbs Up to the Virginia Academy!

To: Subject: Exciting News - NASDAQ Opening Bell on Thursday, February 16

I am happy to share that the Academy has been invited to ring the opening bell next Thursday, February 16 at NASDAQ, the largest electronic equities exchange in the United States. This is the eighth time in recent years in which the Academy has been invited to be part of NASDAQ's trading day.

Academy President Lucille Beseler will be joined by members who live in the New York area. Lucille's remarks will highlight our centennial, the Second Century initiative, our members and their great work in optimizing the nutritional health of individuals, families, communities and the world.

The NASDAQ ceremony on Thursday, February 16, will be broadcast live from 9:15 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Eastern Time on NASDAQ's website. It will also be broadcast live on video screens in Times Square. The Academy's name and logo will be on NASDAQ's tower with the message "The Stock Exchange Welcomes the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics."

This is always an exciting opportunity for the Academy, and we are thrilled to be a part of the ceremony. We will share this information with members in next week's Eat Right Weekly and via social media. Please share this with colleagues, family and friends so that they can view the video live on Webcast or view it later on NASDAQ's Facebook and Twitter.

Webcast:

A live webcast of the NASDAQ Opening Bell will be available on Thursday, February 16, at 9:15 a.m. ET at:

<http://www.nasdaq.com/about/marketsitetowervideo.aspx>

Facebook and Twitter:

At its October 2016 meeting the Board selected the topic of Big Data and the Future of Precision Medicine for the 2017 Presidents' Lecture. The selected speakers were recommended from a variety of Academy resources: Committee for Lifelong Learning (Professional Development), DPG/MIG Leaders, Academy committee leadership, and internal Academy staff experts.

Please rank the proposed speakers by Wednesday, February 22 using the following link: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/17PresidentsLecture>. We have taken past Board feedback into account and changed the evaluation process to include links to bios, speaker videos (as available), and moving away from a forced ranking. This format allows each speaker to be evaluated independently in four different criteria that will then be quantified during the analysis process.

Thank you for your feedback; we will share the results of the scoring with you before contacting the presenter.

Just in case you missed it, here is a link to photos and the video from today's opening bell ceremony. Lucille, accompanied by Pat, Doris and our New York members, did a great job representing the Academy and the profession at NASDAQ this morning.

Congrats Lucille!

To: Subject: Exciting News - NASDAQ Opening Bell on Thursday, February 16

I am happy to share that the Academy has been invited to ring the opening bell next Thursday, February 16 at NASDAQ, the largest electronic equities exchange in the United States. This is the eighth time in recent years in which the Academy has been invited to be part of NASDAQ's trading day.

Academy President Lucille Beseler will be joined by members who live in the New York area. Lucille's remarks will highlight our centennial, the Second Century initiative, our members and their great work in optimizing the nutritional health of individuals, families, communities and the world.

The NASDAQ ceremony on Thursday, February 16, will be broadcast live from 9:15 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Eastern Time on NASDAQ's website. It will also be broadcast live on video screens in Times

Square. The Academy's name and logo will be on NASDAQ's tower with the message "The Stock Exchange Welcomes the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics."

This is always an exciting opportunity for the Academy, and we are thrilled to be a part of the ceremony. We will share this information with members in next week's Eat Right Weekly and via social media. Please share this with colleagues, family and friends so that they can view the video live on Webcast or view it later on NASDAQ's Facebook and Twitter.

Webcast:

A live webcast of the NASDAQ Opening Bell will be available on Thursday, February 16, at 9:15 a.m. ET at:

<http://www.nasdaq.com/about/marketsitetowervideo.aspx>

Facebook and Twitter:

For multimedia features such as exclusive content, photo postings, status updates and video of bell ceremonies please visit NASDAQ's Facebook page at:

Subject: New Online Certificate of Training Program: Integrative and Functional Nutrition

Hi Donna,

Needless to say I am shocked and very dismayed at this offering.

CPE CORNER

New Online Certificate of Training Program: Integrative and Functional Nutrition

Develop competency and earn CPEUs online with a new program on digestive health, detoxification, inflammation and more. This certificate of training program was planned by the Academy's Center for Lifelong Learning and the Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine dietetic practice group. Don't miss out on the opportunity to become an expert in this rapidly growing field.

Learn More

It includes a full module on detoxing, which is completely unnecessary to optimal health.

This is a devastating blow to science-based practice.

I feel this offering devalues my previously science-based credential. As President-elect, please explain how such a course was vetted and allowed to be offered as anything but an example of pseudo- science to avoid? For example, where is the credible research supporting an entire module on detox diets?

Thank you for your assistance with this,

Mary Saucier Choate, M.S., R.D.N., L.D.

Diane, I think the angle we want to take is that it is a great opportunity for her to further her agenda for teaching children to eat healthy. This is a great way for her to reach 12,000 RDN's who can help get her message out. We are the food and nutrition experts and we have the power to reach millions of children to help spread her message. Tell her I have watched how she has moved the needle in terms of school nutrition and impacted the health of children. We need to keep this topic in front of our members because this new congress may want to role back the nutrition standards she fought so hard to get passed. We need all our dietitians to know about what a difference she is making and how they can help her further her agenda. She can talk about what all have she has accomplished in terms of Let's Move and what can RDN's do to support her. We are not where we want to be yet, but together we can get there.
Does this help?

Do you have a new point of contact that we could reach out to in order to request Michelle Obama to speak at an event? We still would love for her to be the keynote for the Academy's 100th year celebration at our Food and Nutrition Conference in Chicago, October 21, 2017. I was hoping you would be staying on with her, but have absolutely no idea how all that was going to work out? Any help would be appreciated.

Thanks so much!

Linda – thank you for submitting a recommendation for the a possible appointee to the Committee for Public Health/Community Nutrition. I do see that Caroline did complete the Intent to Serve survey and listed CPHCN as her first choice.

The committee chair, vice chair and I are talking next week to discuss possible recommendations and we will definitely review Caroline's information.

Thanks again.

I think it might be good for Deb to be involved as she brings a voice that is positive. And she might offer suggestions for BOD members that are passionate about children's health (not mentioning any names)

I bet andy bellati reached out to them. He is not involved in this as far as I know.

Agee about Marion Nestle always so negative without solutions.

It will be interesting to see what happens with CSPI. I told them I am not sure it is the right climate for a new direction. Jess would be a gift for them with her passion and positive outlook. They someone with strong development skills.

Fingers crossed with First Lady.

They are looking to go in a new direction and I think she could do that. I emailed Deb and got the address of where to send requests for FLOTUS to speak. We will see what happens.

Hi Donna,

Needless to say I am shocked and very dismayed at this offering.

CPE CORNER

New Online Certificate of Training Program: Integrative and Functional Nutrition

Develop competency and earn CPEUs online with a new program on digestive health, detoxification, inflammation and more. This certificate of training program was planned by the Academy's Center for Lifelong Learning and the Dietitians in Integrative and Functional Medicine dietetic practice group. Don't miss out on the opportunity to become an expert in this rapidly growing field.

Learn More

It includes a full module on detoxing, which is completely unnecessary to optimal health.

This is a devastating blow to science-based practice.

I feel this offering devalues my previously science-based credential. As President-elect, please explain how such a course was vetted and allowed to be offered as anything but an example of pseudo- science to avoid? For example, where is the credible research supporting an entire module on detox diets?

Thank you for your assistance with this,

Hello Dianne P, Donna, and Diane J! I know your committee appointments are coming up soon and you have specific needs for each committee. I also know that you try to be on the lookout for new leaders who can bring enthusiasm, fresh ideas and experience to the table. I would like to highlight Caroline Roffidal-Blanco (pronounced with a long i-like "weet Caroline". I have known and worked with Caroline in San Antonio over the past 10 years through SA district presidential leadership and community nutrition volunteerism on the Mayor's Fitness Council and other PH grants that RDNs worked on. She is of India Indian descent and is married to a hispanic man-multicultural couple. Her age group would fall into the Gen-X category.

Caroline is a person who is a coalition builder, super networker, thinks before she speaks, very respectful-not pushy, enjoyable to be around, a great promoter of dietitians and our services, a person who presents well-considered ideas and then volunteers to help get those plans into action. She enjoys public speaking and moving projects/grants into actions with outcomes. I feel she would be a highly self-motivated member of your committee and could provide a strong public/private stakeholder partnership perspective as well. Caroline was the RDN in San Antonio who reached out to the Mayor Julian Castro, when they were at meetings or events and always had his ear. We were so proud of her!

I will provide one "Best of" story I wrote about Caroline for a HOD Appreciate Inquiry project we are working on for the Wellness and Prevention Mega Issue. This is an example of one way Caroline affected continuous PH change and collaborated across a wide range of groups. I will not attach her resumes as I know you have lots of reading to do.

Thanks so much for considering Caroline. I know she will be a great leader for the Academy as she has been in SA.

Dear Policy Leaders,

H.H. 610 is a bill to distribute Federal funds for elementary and secondary education in the form of vouchers for eligible students and to repeal a certain rule relating to nutrition standards in schools. We are aware that this bill has been introduced in the House of Representatives to repeal the nutrition standards in schools. This is not a new bill, it was first introduced in 2012. It has never moved forward in previous years or had more than 3 sponsors.

Some members and DPGs are posting messages on social media asking you to call your member of Congress to weigh in. The Academy asks that you do not promote this message with your affiliate, DPG or MIG membership. Promoting HR 610 only brings attention and encourages more sponsors which is a reverse outcome.

The Academy Policy Initiatives and Advocacy team will continue to work with both chambers and parties to move forward the Child Nutrition Reauthorization Bill. It is, however, unlikely that this will happen in this current Congress. However, we do know that the potential to repeal nutrition standards are a real threat with the new Congress and Administration.

When a serious threat surfaces, we will ask Academy members to contact their members of Congress.

For now, we want to thank you for your policy efforts!

Best Regards,

Hi Donna,

Lovely to hear from you! I hope all is going well in Burke County.

For speaking requests for Mrs. Obama, please feel free to send it to scheduling@obamaoffice44.org and cc me.

Warmly,
Deb

Deb, I hope you are enjoying a much need respite. I also hope you are reconnecting with your husband! I know he is glad to have you back!

Do you have a new point of contact that we could reach out to in order to request Michelle Obama to speak at an event? We still would love for her to be the keynote for the Academy's 100th year celebration at our Food and Nutrition Conference in Chicago, October 21, 2017. I was hoping you would be staying on with her, but have absolutely no idea how all that was going to work out? Any help would be appreciated.

Thanks so much!

Dear Policy Leaders,

H.H. 610 is a bill to distribute Federal funds for elementary and secondary education in the form of vouchers for eligible students and to repeal a certain rule relating to nutrition standards in schools. We are aware that this bill has been introduced in the House of Representatives to repeal the nutrition standards in schools. This is not a new bill, it was first introduced in 2012. It has never moved forward in previous years or had more than 3 sponsors.

Some members and DPGs are posting messages on social media asking you to call your member of Congress to weigh in. The Academy asks that you do not promote this message with your affiliate, DPG or MIG membership. Promoting HR 610 only brings attention and encourages more sponsors which is a reverse outcome.

The Academy Policy Initiatives and Advocacy team will continue to work with both chambers and parties to move forward the Child Nutrition Reauthorization Bill. It is, however, unlikely that this will happen in this current Congress. However, we do know that the potential to repeal nutrition standards are a real threat with the new Congress and Administration.

When a serious threat surfaces, we will ask Academy members to contact their members of Congress.

For now, we want to thank you for your policy efforts!

The Academy wants to hear from you. Please share your stories and other information with Stef Winston Rinehart at swinston@eatright.org.

Academy Urges FDA: Dietary Fiber Should Be Defined to Include All Beneficial Physiological Effects

The Food and Drug Administration has issued guidance for the scientific evaluation to determine whether certain carbohydrates should be classified as dietary fiber. The Academy strongly supports the requirement that all dietary fiber produce a beneficial physiological effect. In addition, the scientific evaluation should be consistent with other items on the Nutrition Facts Panel and should include all relevant studies.

There are just two weeks left for your ACEND-accredited dietetics education program, affiliate, dietetic practice group, member interest group or other recognized Academy group to apply for the Diversity Action Award, recognizing the implementation of successful diversity initiatives. For example, the Texas Department of State Health Services' WIC internship program received the 2015 Diversity Action Award for efforts to recruit and retain interns from underrepresented groups within the dietetics field. Programs like this will have an impact on the future of the profession, but we need more groups to follow suit. The application deadline is March 1.

Dear Ms. Babjak,

I hope this email finds you well. I'm writing today as I'm working with a search committee for the Center for Science in the Public Interest (CSPI) as they recruit a new President. The position is open as their long serving co-founder, Michael Jacobson, steps down. This is an exciting opportunity to build on the important work CSPI has done and propel it into the future with an updated vision and renewed energy. I'm eager to connect to learn about you and share what I know about this search. I have windows for a call tomorrow and much of next-would you have any availability?

I will have many highlights to share when we connect but for now please find the position profile attached to this email. It can be shared widely, along with my contact information.

February 2017 Public Policy Forum – Federal Policy Issues: A New Year, A Clean Slate

Please join Academy's President-Elect Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND; and Academy's Legislative and Public Policy (LPPC) Chair Lorri Holzberg, MA, RDN for the Public Policy Open Forum titled, Federal Policy Issues: A New Year, A Clean Slate. The forum is scheduled for Tuesday, February 21, 2017 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time). The speakers will focus on providing an update to the new Congressional Year and the legislative priorities for the 115th Congress.

Register today for the Public Policy Open Forum. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend (please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Leadership Approaches to Defending and Advancing Prevention and Public Health

We wanted to share with you a webinar that you might find interesting. The American Public Health Association, Prevention Institute, Public Health Institute, and Trust for America's Health are sponsoring an upcoming webinar, Leadership Approaches to Defending and Advancing Prevention and Public Health. The webinar is scheduled for Tuesday, February 28 from 2:30 - 4:00 p.m. (Eastern Time). For more information and to register.

Confirmation Process Continues for Health and Human Services Leadership

Leadership at Health and Human Services continues to be discussed in Congress, with the Senate confirming Dr. Tom Price as the 23rd Secretary of Health and Human Services on February 10. On February 16 at 10am EST, the Senate Finance Committee will hold a hearing to consider the nomination of Seema Verma for the Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. The Academy continues to submit questions for the Senate hearings, and will continue to prioritize nutrition services in health care.

Report Addressing Hunger in Older Adults

Meals on Wheels America recently released a new report, funded by the AARP and Caesars Foundations, titled Hunger in Older Adults: Challenges and Opportunities for the Aging Network. This resource explores a variety of available food assistance programs that can be used in combination to more effectively address the needs of seniors in communities across America.

Healthy People 2020 Webinar

Join Healthy People 2020 and the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance for a free webinar on February 21, 2017 at 12:30pm EST to learn about the latest federal efforts to promote diabetes screening and prevention. Speakers will discuss the United States Preventive Services Task Force recommendation on screening, and the importance of referring patients to evidence-based diabetes prevention programs. The Academy is a member of the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance, and members can register here for this webinar. A recording of the webinar will be available on the Healthy People 2020 website after the event.

Affordable Care Act Repeal....Still Time to Share Your Story!

Thank you to all of the Academy members who submitted stories last week! We are continuing to collect information from our members on the impact of the ACA repeal. Although it is still in the discussion stage of replacement, what concerns do you have moving forward? How has the ACA helped or hurt your practice, your employer and your clients? Please share your stories and other information with Stef Winston Rinehart at swinston@eatright.org. We want to hear from you!

House Agriculture Committee to Discuss Restricting SNAP Choice

The House Agriculture Committee will hold a hearing to discuss the pros and cons of restricting choice in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP). This will be an important and very complex issue as Congress look to reauthorize SNAP in the 2018 Farm Bill. We expect that witnesses and member on the House Agriculture Committee will discuss the need for nutrition education, in this and any conversation relating to improving the health of Americans.

2017 Elections: Own Tomorrow, Vote Today!

Public Policy Workshop 2017 Registration – Open!

The Public Policy Workshop 2017 registration and housing information is now available. An email will be sent to all Academy members on Monday, February 13, 2017. The message will encourage members to join fellow RDNs, NDTRs and students at the Academy's Public Policy Workshop, June 25 to 26 in Washington, D.C.

Plan to attend this year's workshop, the "go to" event, where you will sharpen your communication skills, advocate for the profession and develop high-level personal and professional relationships. The updated program features:

- A format that focuses on current issues (1/2 day) and a full day of Hill visits
 - Pre-meeting web-based preparation to maximize your valuable time
 - Reduced registration rate and deep discount for student attendees making this event affordable AND fun!
 - An exclusive ANDPAC signature breakfast for contributors prior to storming the Hill
- Register for PPW 2017 Today! We look forward to seeing you in Washington, D.C., in June!

PPW 2017 Affiliate Important Information

As of today, 22 affiliates have submitted the name of the PPC who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each Affiliate PPC or the alternate PPC attending will receive a separate email with registration instructions.

One of the most important responsibilities of the affiliate Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) is to coordinate the team activities at PPW. In addition to attending PPW, the affiliate PPC will:

1. Participate in All Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)
2. Assist with training his/her affiliate's attendees prior to PPW
3. Setup and coordinate Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her affiliate
4. Assist attendees with setup of meetings with U.S. House of Representatives as appropriate
5. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
6. Submit report prior to PPW with the scheduled meetings (sample will be provided)
7. Serve as table facilitator during PPW
8. Mentor affiliate attendees
9. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill
10. Coordinate in-district Congressional follow up visits

It is a big job! The affiliate's PPC for 2017 - 2018 will receive a complimentary registration to PPW 2017. Since the job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

As affiliates begin to identify the PPW 2017 team, we encourage you to consider sending additional members of your public policy panel such as the SPR, SRS, CPC and RR. PPW provides important training and leadership development for affiliate public policy leaders.

PPW 2017 DPG and MIG Important Information

As of today, 10 DPGs and 2 MIGs have submitted the name of the PAL who will be serving in the role beginning June 1, 2017. Each DPG/MIG PAL will receive a separate email with registration instructions.

Each DPG and MIG Policy and Advocacy Leader (PAL) whose term begins on June 1, 2017 will receive a complimentary registration to 2017. In addition to attending PPW, the PAL or alternate PAL will:

1. Participate in Pre-PPW webinar trainings (webinars will be recorded and posted to the PPW community of interest for viewing at another time)

2. Attend the Pre-PPW meeting on Sunday, June 25, 2017 from 1 p.m. - 2 p.m.
3. Assist and work with affiliate Public Policy Coordinator (PPC) as appropriate
4. Setup of meeting with U.S. House of Representative member as appropriate
5. Attend Congressional meetings on the Hill for members from his/her voting state
6. Submit reports after Congressional meetings on the Hill on June 24
7. Attend in-district Congressional follow up visits

Since the PAL job requires significant commitment, the scholarship cannot be transferred without approval from Academy staff. For additional information, please contact me.

Thumbs Up!

Last week, the Tennessee Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics achieved a significant victory in getting proposed rule changes related to therapeutic diet orders at the Board for Licensing Healthcare Facilities hearing in Nashville. Before Tennessee RDNs are able to order therapeutic diets, the approved changes must go before the Attorney General, but we are thrilled with this development and are grateful for the ongoing efforts of Tennessee's public policy leaders!

Thumbs Up to the Tennessee Academy!

Congratulations to the Virginia Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics for hosting a very successful lobby day in Richmond on February 8. First Lady of the Virginia Commonwealth, Dorothy McAuliffe spoke to the 100 attendees about childhood obesity and food insecurity.
Thumbs Up to the Virginia Academy!

February 2017 Public Policy Forum – Federal Policy Issues: A New Year, A Clean Slate

Please join Academy's President-Elect Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND; and Academy's Legislative and Public Policy (LPPC) Chair Lorri Holzberg, MA, RDN for the Public Policy Open Forum titled, Federal Policy Issues: A New Year, A Clean Slate. The forum is scheduled for Tuesday, February 21, 2017 from 2 – 3 p.m. (Eastern Time). The speakers will focus on providing an update to the new Congressional Year and the legislative priorities for the 115th Congress.

Register today for the Public Policy Open Forum. All DPG, MIG and Public Policy Panel leaders should attend (please make sure at least one person from your DPG or affiliate participates).

Leadership Approaches to Defending and Advancing Prevention and Public Health

We wanted to share with you a webinar that you might find interesting. The American Public Health Association, Prevention Institute, Public Health Institute, and Trust for America's Health are sponsoring an upcoming webinar, Leadership Approaches to Defending and Advancing Prevention and Public Health. The webinar is scheduled for Tuesday, February 28 from 2:30 - 4:00 p.m. (Eastern Time). For more information and to register.

Confirmation Process Continues for Health and Human Services Leadership

Leadership at Health and Human Services continues to be discussed in Congress, with the Senate confirming Dr. Tom Price as the 23rd Secretary of Health and Human Services on February 10. On February 16 at 10am EST, the Senate Finance Committee will hold a hearing to consider the nomination of Seema Verma for the Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. The Academy continues to submit questions for the Senate hearings, and will continue to prioritize nutrition services in health care.

Report Addressing Hunger in Older Adults

Meals on Wheels America recently released a new report, funded by the AARP and Caesars Foundations, titled Hunger in Older Adults: Challenges and Opportunities for the Aging Network. This resource explores a variety of available food assistance programs that can be used in combination to more effectively address the needs of seniors in communities across America.

Healthy People 2020 Webinar

Join Healthy People 2020 and the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance for a free webinar on February 21, 2017 at 12:30pm EST to learn about the latest federal efforts to promote diabetes screening and prevention. Speakers will discuss the United States Preventive Services Task Force recommendation on screening, and the importance of referring patients to evidence-based diabetes prevention programs. The Academy is a member of the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance, and members can register here for this webinar. A recording of the webinar will be available on the Healthy People 2020 website after the event.

Affordable Care Act Repeal....Still Time to Share Your Story!

Thank you to all of the Academy members who submitted stories last week! We are continuing to collect information from our members on the impact of the ACA repeal. Although it is still in the discussion stage of replacement, what concerns do you have moving forward? How has the ACA helped or hurt your practice, your employer and your clients? Please share your stories and other information with Stef Winston Rinehart at swinston@eatright.org. We want to hear from you!

House Agriculture Committee to Discuss Restricting SNAP Choice

The House Agriculture Committee will hold a hearing to discuss the pros and cons of restricting choice in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP). This will be an important and very complex issue as Congress look to reauthorize SNAP in the 2018 Farm Bill. We expect that witnesses and member on the House Agriculture Committee will discuss the need for nutrition education, in this and any conversation relating to improving the health of Americans.

Are you a Quality Leader? Apply Today

The Quality Leader Alliance second year is getting underway and it's seeking individuals experienced in quality to network with each other as well as communicate and educate food and nutrition practitioners on quality management concepts and resources. The individuals selected will be dedicated to a two year term.

All Academy members and food and nutrition practitioners are encouraged to apply to be a part of the Quality Leader Alliance. The application will open February 15, 2017 and close March 31, 2017 for review by the Quality Strategies Workgroup. Appointments to the Alliance will be determined in May 2017. Go here to apply and for more information.

American Academy of Pediatrics Webinar

The American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) will be hosting the second of their 2-part webinar series on the results of their 2015 AHRQ-funded conference, Evidence-based childhood obesity treatment: Improving access and systems of care. Attached please find a promotional flyer for the 60-minute webinar, scheduled for Thursday, February 16 at 12:00 pm Central time, focusing on payment for obesity care.

Please feel free to share the attached promotional flyer with any colleagues and/or networks that may be interested in this content. To register, click here.

We Want to Hear Your Ideas!

Are you a public health dietitian with a great idea for a webinar? Are you or someone you know an expert in your field? The Public Health and Community Nutrition Dietetic Practice Group education committee is soliciting ideas for topics and speakers for 2017. If you have a great idea or know an expert that would be a great presenter, please email your suggestions to phcnpg@cableone.net.

USDA and Academy Project Provide more Opportunities for Dietetic Interns

"Over the last year, the Academy's Nutrition and Dietetics Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) and USDA has worked to compile resources for dietetic internship experiences in child nutrition programs. The Academy recognizes that these experiences are extremely valuable and can lead to more dietitians employed in child nutrition programs. These resources are available on USDA website and will soon be available on NDEP's website as well."

Attend the Academy's Obesity Advocacy Day on February 27, 2017

"The Academy will host its second quarterly advocacy day on Monday, February 27 in Washington, D.C. in collaboration with partner organizations from the Obesity Care and Advocacy Network (OCAN). The event will include a Congressional briefing, Hill visits and an ANDPAC hosted reception focused on obesity. Register to attend the February 27th Obesity Advocacy today or contact the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy Team for more information."

Registration Is Now Open: Public Policy Workshop 2017

February 2017 Chair Monthly Message

from Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation Chair
Jean Ragalie-Carr, RDN, LDN, FAND

Weour Volunteers and Donors!

The month of February and Valentine's Day go hand-in-hand and is a great opportunity to recognize all the people who make a difference in your life. This month, I would like to express our love and gratitude to our volunteers and donors, the true lifeblood of our organization. Our success is directly attributed to the tireless and passionate work of our volunteers and the generosity of our donors. As the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation Chair, I have the privilege of meeting many Academy members who offer their time, talents and treasure to our Foundation, sharing their passion for what we do to helps us make a difference in the lives of thousands of individuals each year, through Scholarships, Awards, Research Grants and our Public Education Programs.

It all starts with our Board of Directors, leaders throughout our profession who come together to help us advance public health and nutrition by utilizing the expertise and reach of registered dietitian nutritionists, I can't thank you enough for your leadership and generosity, it is an honor working beside you. Our next line of volunteers are the thousands of Academy members who help us deliver our Kids Eat Right and Future of Food Public Education Programs, working with schools and communities to help kids eat better and providing information to support sustainable food systems and a safe and nutritious food supply for the growing world population. Many of these outstanding individuals are recognized monthly as our Every Day Heroes. If you are interested in volunteering and getting involved with our Foundation, please check out the opportunities on our Volunteer Page.

Donors make the true difference, none of our great work would be possible without your support. I would like to thank everyone listed in our 2016 Donor Report, helping us make a difference in the lives of so many last year. Students like Angela Yu, who received the 2016 New Jersey Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Scholarship.

While you are expressing your love and gratitude this month to the people that mean the most to you, please remember to donate to the Academy Foundation when renewing your Academy membership online or donate today to the only charitable organization dedicated to serving to our profession!

Good morning Obesity Advocacy attendees,

We need your assistance with the following items:

1. Will you be attending the Reception with Congressional Champions on Monday, February 27 from 3:30 to 5 p.m.? Please click here to RSVP.
2. Are you a beginner at the policy and advocacy work and want to learn more? Join us for a Policy 101 webinar on Tuesday, February 21 from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. (Eastern Time). The webinar will be recorded and we will send out a link for the recording to attendees. To register for the Policy 101 webinar, click here.

The correct link for the recording for the February 8, Obesity Advocacy Hill Day webinar is below:

<https://eatright.webex.com/eatright/ldr.php?RCID=c96e0ba80130c7dc08f7d7e230ed3f16>

All attendees for the February 27th Hill Day are asked to listen to the webinar. We will not be covering all of the information when we gather on the 27th. Note: The webinar recording/viewing will require a live internet connection to play as it will stream directly via the WebEx system.

If you have questions, please contact me or Jeanne Blankenship.

Best,

Teresa

Denice,

The first step in filing a complaint is to submit an ethics complaint form against the person they feel has done something that is inconsistent with one or more of the ethics principles; the complaint form is attached. The Academy cannot take ethics action against its members, only a member or non-member (individual) can make an ethics complaint. We will look at potential solutions during Executive Session next week. Dianne Polly with her legal background and familiarity with the Ethics Code, having served as chair of the Ethics Committee, will help inform our dialogue.

Hi Pat

One thought - let's request that the 2 Code of Ethics principles you listed be placed on all the DPG MIG and affiliate list Servs

What is the process for the code of ethics infractions - do they receive a warning?

In my opinion, this is not acceptable behavior fr members and we need a firm response fast

Thanks for the notification!

The landscape of “acceptable” behavior and engagement in social media has changed, and sadly we don’t anticipate it improving soon. I am at a loss regarding what is a realistic expectation from the social media audience, including Academy members. We have published multiple articles on social media etiquette, including this one about dealing with online antagonists. The fact is that good manners is losing the fight online, and short of pursuing defamation suits, there isn’t much the Academy can do without an elevated risk of backlash both from its members and potential legal implications.

This weekend we received many complaints regarding disparaging remarks about national candidates that were posted by members to the Academy’s DPG listservs. Each DPG monitors its own listserv and staff does not have the passwords or the capability to take posts down. We contacted the DPG chairs and requested they remove the postings and related messages but it was a losing battle because as soon as they were taken down others would go up.

There are two principles in the Code of Ethics related to conduct that apply here; 1.) “The dietetics practitioner conducts himself/herself with honesty, integrity and fairness,” and 2.) “The dietetics practitioner demonstrates respect for the values, rights, knowledge and skills of colleagues and other professionals.” The Code of Ethics Task Force is looking at a professionalism principle and sanctions associated with bullying, name calling and disparaging remarks.

Regardless, how does one teach civility and when does the Code of Ethics begin to be perceived as censorship? We have to honor the First Amendment when it comes to disparaging remarks directed towards organizations versus individuals. As you know, individuals are free to post virtually anything they want to their personal social media channels without any ramifications.

As we revise our Code of Ethics, I will be contacting Pam Harned, the CEO of the Ethics and Compliance Initiative, headquartered in Arlington, VA, to help us navigate this new horizon and the challenges it brings. I am grateful to Steve Miranda for making this helpful introduction. We will continue to monitor all of our social media channels and encourage members to keep the dialogue professional. Please continue to keep your eyes open and alert us to any inappropriate activity.

I will continue to keep you posted. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Dear Donna:

As we celebrate the Academys 100th anniversary and the successes we have achieved, we also recognize that the new administration has brought with it uncertainty and change. Advancing our profession in its Second Century by paving the way for the next generation has not changed. We must work together to advocate for legislation and policies that build on food, nutrition and the dietetics profession as pillars for health and wellness.

The Academys Public Policy Workshop is the worlds largest food and nutrition policy and advocacy summit, where Academy members and nutrition professionals advocate for the health of the nation with nutrition at center stage.

Join me at the Academys Public Policy Workshop, June 25 to 26 in Washington, D.C. This years workshop is the go-to event where you will sharpen your communication skills, advocate for the profession and develop high-level personal and professional relationships. The updated program features:

- A format that focuses on current issues (1/2-day) and a full day of Hill visits.
 - Pre-meeting web-based preparation to maximize your valuable time.
 - Reduced registration rate and deep discount for student attendees making this event affordable and fun!
 - An exclusive ANDPAC signature breakfast at the National Press Club for contributors prior to storming the Hill.
- Register for PPW 2017 today! Be an advocate for your profession. Together we can make a difference.

See you in Washington, D.C., in June!

Mr. King's bill is asking for the repeal of the HHFKA. It was first introduced in 2012 and got little traction. With the new Administration, his hope is that the President and colleagues will agree on his position. His role on the House Agriculture has been strengthened with the new assignments.

Jenn has already developed a great relationship with the new chairman of the Nutrition Committee's staff which will be very helpful. And we continue to have good relationships with the House Agriculture staff as well.

We expect that there might be more of these bills to roll back the regulations since that is the mantra of the President.

Let me know if you have any more questions.

Hi Kelly and Ellen,

I know Elizabeth is more for state legislation, but do you think she could translate this bill above and let members know more about it? I tried reading it all and got a little confused, but I'm guessing we won't like it.

Either that or who should we reach out to on the national level to notify members about this? I CC'd Donna Martin about this, but she might have a lot going on so I thought I'd reach out to you guys as well.

I get the feeling that we're going to need to work on getting members even more involved on legislation on state and national levels over the next several years.

Thanks for your help!

Subject: member input

Good morning,

A Maryland member asked me to pass along her email. I did my best to address some of her questions. Her biggest ask is for increased transparency, especially in the Treasurer message to HOD. Please see below. Thanks!

-Berit Dockter MPP, RD, LD

Maryland Delegate

It was recently shared with me that our AND Executive Director was awarded a $54,000 bonus for her performance in 2016 – see attachment with URL link - <http://www.ceoupdate.com/articles/compensation/inside-compensation-ceo-salaries-large-associations-2016>; it is not clear from the website explanation which year (2014, 2015, 2016) this data actually came from, and I have been unsuccessful in finding the A.N.D. IRS 990 forms for these periods online. Mrs. Babjak's base of $356,000 does not seem out-of-place with the other non-profit groups listed in this article based on the reported $41,000,000 of revenue – although I am guessing most of the physician associations want MD(s) as exec directors. I found the 2014 version at <http://www.ceoupdate.com/articles/compensation/inside-compensation-ceo-salaries-large-associations-2014> with her base salary listed as $327,710 and no reported bonus with a total organization revenue of $34,000,000. The 2015 version at <http://www.ceoupdate.com/articles/compensation/inside-compensation-ceo-salaries-large-associations-2015> with her base salary listed as $294,469 with a $50,000 bonus with a total organization revenue of $35,000,000. It is not clear why her base salary has fluctuated so much over three years in these online publications nor how the Academy reported revenues went from $35,000,000 in 2015 to $41,000,000 in 2016. Actually Mrs. Babjak's total compensation increased from $344,469 in 2015 to $410,761 in 2016. But as the economy grew so did CEO salaries.

Additionally, what I know or have been told.

1. AND appears to be losing full-paying members that has been masked by increased student numbers. Locally at the MAND meeting this week it was reported in Maryland there are 1100 AND/MAND RD/DTR members and 800 RDs who are not MAND/AND members. So despite our MAND issues with less student members, the real money issue for our national may be the loss of full-paying dues members.
2. AND moved its headquarters to a smaller space in its Chicago building at the first of the year.
3. The educators (having already paid fees to belong to AND and subsequently another fee to belong to NDEP)-- through NDEP have apparently been asked to give another $8000 to underwrite AND staff costs to revise the Educators standard of practice as AND does not have the money itself to pay for this. I assume any publication developed would be sold to members in the AND store for a price that would at least underwrite the printing cost.

So my questions to you

1. Is information shared with HOD as to what goals are set for the Exec Director and how the goals are set for the Exec Director in order to earn a bonus? If not, are you allowed to ask about this? Is HOD allowed to have input on these goals?
2. Is information shared with HOD re: who at the headquarters, beyond Mrs. Babjak, is/are eligible for yearly bonus awarded by the AND Board of Directors? If so, is HOD allowed to learn about the goals and/or have input on these goals?
3. Does the bonus program include all AND employees? If so, does MAND need to look at setting up bonus plan for its Executive Director position – once position is finalized and contract written – to be consistent if AND has all employees on bonus plans?

Other comments and data from AND Annual reports

1. The Academy has an ongoing issue with transparency, e.g. we would most likely not be having a sponsorship discussion at our MAND meeting this week if the AND BOD had not decided to put its logo on Kraft Cheese (without alerting members).

2. Financial issues seem to exist. The Academy annual reports list

- assets as 2014 ($48,688,297), 2015 ($48,251,836) and 2016 ($ 45,026,504);
- operating expenses exceeded revenue in 2014 ($3,110,000), 2015 ($3, 398,000) and 2016 ($2,275, 000) which has been offset in part by asset ROI.
- Gross Membership dues as 2014 ($11,668,496), 2015 ($11,793,554) and 2016 ($11,654,409) – with slightly less in 2016 than prior years.
- Less sponsorship/ grants money in 2016 than prior years – maybe related to new sponsorship policies
- 2016 Financial statement (copied directly). Total revenues for the Academy were $21.2 million and total expenses were $23.4 million in the 2016 Fiscal Year. The investment earnings were $125,000. The Academy continues to invest into the future of the organization by developing new programs, products and services that will benefit members and the profession now and for years to come. This is the primary reason expenses exceeded income in the 2016 Fiscal Year. This, coupled with lower investment earnings than anticipated, resulted in a loss of $2.2 million. IF the stock market has risen over the last year why did investments produce less?

I realize if you have information on these financial details it is most likely required to be confidential, but I would feel a lot better if I knew HOD at least had an understanding of the financials and hopefully have input on behalf of the general membership.

In closure, perception can become reality – any one seeing that CEO bonus and not knowing the details (i.e. goals established to earn the bonus) will most likely assume the worse especially since very few new grads even start at salaries in the range of $50,000. I believe greater transparency can reduce misperception and increase level of trust particularly with young members.

I look forward to your response and understand it may need to be “I am not allowed to share this information.
