Donna,

First, when did Sandra provide you with this information? I can assure you her message was shared on the COI column. Sandra's Delegate posted the information below on the HOD COI days before the HOD meeting so her concerns and comments were taken into account by all Delegates and BOD that attended the meeting.

I personally spent quite a bit of time at the ANDPAC Signature event meeting discussing the outcomes of the HOD meeting as well.

I will follow-up with her again if needed and as you know all of the COI comments will be taken into account by the Designer team.

Thanks for sharing,

Marcy

Marcy and Marcia, I wanted to forward this information that was sent to me from Sandra Parker (Nominating Committee Member) during FNCE. Since she was on the nominating committee with me she was not able to attend the HOD. She had concerns that the message she had sent her delegates was not being shared in the manner she had hoped and asked if I could get her message to the right people. I told her I would be glad to and feel like the two of you are the right people. I think she makes some excellent points from several different perspectives. Thanks for listening to her.

Dear Tricia, Michele, and Julie,

I am writing to share my thoughts about the HOD. I am sharing this letter with all of you since you are my state delegate and my delegates of the DCE DPG and Weight Management DPG.

I believe it is time for a major change. I will share my experience and observations with the HOD and suggestions for the future.

I first attended the HOD meetings as a guest and observer in 2004-2006 when I was state president-elect and president. It was the “old” style with area coordinators and multiple delegates per state. During that time, I observed much energy at the meetings. In our state, the three delegate positions were “coveted” because they were recognized as being important and key to leadership advancement. Our delegates traveled the state throughout the year giving reports and obtaining feedback at district meetings.

With the new HOD structure, I was an observer a few times during my DPG chair term. I served three years as a professional issues delegate (PID) and voiced the need for professional delegates for each DPG and MIG rather than a PID representing multiple DPGS/MIGs because it really didn't work. If you were assigned to a DPG that you were not a member, there was resentment from the leadership because they felt they should be represented by one of their own. It also was cumbersome to communicate with multiple DPGs.

I served as a state delegate more recently. Part of the reason I was on the ballot, was because no one else wanted the position. (This is part of the problem and maybe a result of the problem?)

I believe the HOD is no longer relevant to most members. I have observed that it is very difficult to engage members in most mega issues. Is it because they really aren't “mega” issues?

The Academy is a treasure trove of valuable resources. We do excellent work with the many areas of professional practice: position papers; publications including books, the Journal, the Nutrition Care manual,; Webinars and Certificates of Learning; Research; the EAL; our DPGs and MIGs.

I propose that the HOD structure end. It needs to be replaced, however, with a vehicle that is a voice and a communicator for every member. I believe that our members want to hear about and have a voice with organizational issues as well as professional practice issues.

Dietitians are brilliant when it comes to solutions. I believe that if the change I suggest happens, a workable alternative will be created.

I did brainstorm a possible solution. First of all, I don't really think that there needs to be a vehicle to discuss professional practice issues. I feel that the areas and committees that exist in our organization already tackle those practice issues well.

The Board of Directors (BOD) could always appoint a task force if needed.

There does need to be a two way communications vehicle for our members. Consider adding 4 positions to the BOD—2 would represent state affiliates and 2 would represent DPGs and MIGs. These 4 BOD directors would need considerable staff support for communications. I envision the 2 affiliate directors would be communicating with the leadership of all affiliates and the 2 DPG/MIG directors with leadership of all the DPGs and MIGs. These four positions would be nationally elected positions and come from the ranks of affiliates and DPGs/MIGs.

I feel this would be a step forward in transparency and would be more inclusive and representative of our members. The back and forth communications with affiliates, DPGs, and MIGs would be critical. I feel that does not happen now when it comes to the dealings of the Board of Directors. With this change, the four individuals would be accountable and in touch with members.

Please feel free to call me. I am pretty much available over the next few days. I'm in the Eastern time zone. I will be arriving at FNCE on Friday around 5 pm and available that evening. I'll be at the headquarters hotel. I will be in meetings starting Saturday morning. My cell phone is 616-453-8182.

Thank you for reaching out for input on this topic.

The Gut Microbiome: Hype vs. Health

Date: Tuesday, November 13, 12 PM CST (1 hr. event)
CPEU: 1 credit

It's well known that what we eat and drink can affect the composition of the gut microbiome. However, with probiotics now widely available and a growing number of products marketed toward "improving gut health", are hype and hope outpacing the science? This webinar will highlight public understanding and consumer insights as they relate to the gut microbiome and nutrition, and discuss the current state of the evidence on the connection between the microbiome, food, and health.

Learning Objectives:

1. Identify public awareness and market trends related to the gut microbiome and gut health.
2. Discuss definitions and proposed mechanisms of action for pre/pro/synbiotics.
3. Discuss clinical evidence for nutritionally-focused means of modulating the gut microbiome to support gut health.

Speaker

Dr. Gail Cresci is full-staff at the Cleveland Clinic Pediatric Institute & Lerner Research Institute, where her role is to conduct and organize her NIH-funded basic and translational research program focusing on the gut microbiome and its metabolome in health and pathological states with a focus in pediatrics. Additionally, she assists with the development and implementation of clinical nutrition research for the Center for Human Nutrition.

Joan, I could only find 17 applications to rate in the portal. Is that correct? Surely we have more than that? I talked to Roberta Anding and texted David Grotto, but have not heard back from him. May try and call him also.

Foundation News

See How the Foundation is Helping Fellow Academy Members in Their Time of Need

The Foundation's Disaster Relief Fund is helping your fellow Academy members in their time of need. See how your support has helped Kalyn Cryer, MS, RDN, LDN, CDE, and Martin Hugo Roman overcome devastating losses in this Foundation video.

The Foundation is proud to offer disaster relief funding to Academy members, nutrition professionals and students impacted by disasters. The Foundation's Disaster Relief Fund provides up to $2,500 through the Life Rebuilding Fund for personal rebuilding efforts and up to $500 through the CDR Professional Rebuilding fund for professional and continuing education activities.

Applications are currently being accepted for victims of Hurricane Michael, Hurricane Lane and the California Wildfires. Applications must be received within three months of the disaster to qualify for assistance. APPLY HERE

NOW AVAILABLE: SUSTAINABLE, RESILIENT, AND HEALTHY FOOD AND WATER SYSTEMS DIETETIC INTERNSHIP CURRICULUM

The Foundation is excited to share that its new curriculum for dietetic interns on Sustainable, Resilient, and Healthy Food and Water Systems (SRS) is now available. This free resource is designed to prepare interns to become new practitioners with strong foundational knowledge in the nutritional, social, environmental, and economic drivers of sustainable and resilient food systems. The SFS curriculum includes 12 activities that encompasses the seven sectors of the food system and is expected to take approximately 120 supervised practice hours total. To learn more and download the curriculum - VISIT HERE.

FNCE® 2018: OVERALL EVALUATION

Thank you for attending the 2018 Food and Nutrition Conference and Expo™ (FNCE®)! We hope that your experience over the past few days exceeded your expectations. To help us improve FNCE® in the future, we kindly ask that you take a few minutes to evaluate your experience at the conference. Please click the "Begin Evaluation" button at the bottom of this email to access the evaluation.

Here are some additional details you may find helpful as you wrap up FNCE® 2018:

LOGGING CONTINUING PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION UNITS

1. In your Professional Development Portfolio, select the appropriate three-digit activity code – 170 Lecture; 130 Exhibits; 180 Posters; or 150 Interactive Workshops. Each session must be logged individually rather than the conference as a whole.
  2. Enter the date of completion
  3. Choose the appropriate performance indicator or learning need code from the drop-down box. Suggested Learning Need Codes (LNCs) and Performance Indicators (PIs) for each session are listed in the FNCE® online program. Visit www.eatrightfnce.org/program for more information.
  4. Enter the Activity Provider: Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics
  5. Enter the activity title and CPE hour(s).
  6. Briefly explain how you used or will use the knowledge or skill acquired from the activity
- * CPE Certificates for FNCE® education sessions, poster, and exhibits can be found online at <https://eatrightfnce.org/program/fnce-certificates/>

FNCE® ON-DEMAND: SESSION AUDIO RECORDINGS

Session recordings were included in the cost of registration. Verified FNCE® attendees will receive on-demand access to the recordings for all sessions (as released for inclusion) based on the day(s) of their verified attendance. An email with personalized instructions on how to access 2018 sessions will be sent approximately three weeks post-FNCE®. Please log the session recordings under activity type 175 (Recorded Pre-Approved CPE) in your Professional Development Portfolio.

Thank you again for attending FNCE® and for taking the time to complete this important evaluation. Your feedback is greatly appreciated. We hope to see you again at FNCE® 2019 in Philadelphia, PA!

Sincerely,

The Academy Committee for Lifelong Learning

October 26, 2018

Dear PPW Attendees,

Public Policy Workshop this year at FNCE® was a huge success thanks to you! With over 1,400 registrants, it was the largest PPW to date. Congratulations to everyone who attended PPW and brought the voice of the Academy and the profession to policy makers regarding malnutrition. Your efforts and participation set the stage for future advocacy by developing and strengthening relationships with members of Congress.

As we wrap up from another exciting Public Policy Workshop, here are a few final action items and important information to share with you:

Hill Visit Reports

We need to hear about your meetings with your members of Congress! This information is important to the Academy's advocacy work in Washington, D.C. and will help us to follow-up where needed.

If you were a team lead or assigned to complete a legislative tracking form for your Hill visit, please send it to your PPC or get the link from them to fill out an online hill visit report. Only one team member for each meeting needs to complete a report for that meeting.

PPW Evaluation for ALL Attendees

In an effort to learn and build on the successes of PPW 2018, we ask that you complete the following Public Policy Workshop 2018 Evaluation Survey. It will take ~10 minutes to complete. Your responses truly mean a lot to us and they will help shape future PPWs by giving us input on what we can do better going forward.

CPEUs (!!!)

1.5 CPEUs for the in-person Public Policy Workshop that took place from 4-5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, October 23, are available here. The final presentation slides will be uploaded early next week for your reference.

This year, we were able to secure up to 2 CPEUs for Hill Visits, with each hill visit worth 0.5 CPEUs. The CPEU form can be found here on the Public Policy Workshop Community, in the PPW Resources folder under PPW 2018.

Thank you for your participation throughout PPW 2018 - we couldn't have done it without you! We look forward to seeing you next summer at PPW 2019!

Above: PPW 2018 attendees at the U.S. Capitol on Wednesday morning, October 24, ready to storm congressional offices to advocate for malnutrition treatment and prevention!

All the best,

FNCE/Public Policy Workshop

Public Policy Workshop Draws Record Number of Registrants!

Above: PPW attendees at the U.S. Capitol on Wednesday morning, October 24, ready to storm congressional offices to advocate for malnutrition treatment and prevention.

With over 1,400 registrants, PPCs and PALs were asked to manage the largest number of attendees in the history of PPW. A huge thank you to these dedicated leaders for demonstrating leadership and guiding their affiliates each step of the way. Public policy panel leaders in every position stepped up to make the event a success -- the efforts of all were appreciated!

Congratulations to everyone who attended PPW and brought the voice of the Academy and the profession to policy makers regarding malnutrition. Your efforts and participation set the stage for future advocacy by developing and strengthening relationships with members of Congress.

Watch for a full edition of PPWN next week!

Hi Donna,

It was so great to see you at FNCE! I just wanted to let you know I really enjoyed the conference. The sessions were great and I felt like there were many more sessions this year that seemed applicable to my non-traditional RD journey. I talked to several people who had similar feedback. We all credited your influence. Thanks for all you've done to make the Academy stronger and more inclusive to all dietitians.

XOXO,

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Largest-Ever PPW: Advocating for Malnutrition Prevention and Treatment

More than 1,400 members attended the Academy's largest-ever Public Policy Workshop in Washington, D.C., this week, coming together to encourage members of Congress to include the diagnosis and treatment of malnutrition as a component of high-quality health care. A rally at the Capitol brought attention to food and nutrition issues through social media, prior to attendees' visits to congressional offices. All Academy members are asked to send a message to Congress conveying the role of registered dietitian nutritionists and nutrition and dietetics technicians, registered in comprehensive malnutrition care.

Academy Works with CMS on Expanding MNT Coverage, Renal Therapeutic Diets

In two separate meetings, the Academy engaged with the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services on strategies for improving patient outcomes through enhanced care delivery by registered dietitian nutritionists. Members of the Academy's Headquarters Team met with CMS' Coverage & Analysis Group to discuss the process for initiating a National Coverage Determination process that could allow RDNs to be reimbursed by Medicare for additional disease states and conditions. Members of the Renal Dietitians dietetic practice group met with CMS's Survey

Hi Donna,

Just a friendly reminder to submit your revised PowerPoint presentation for the November 1-3, 2018 Certificate of Training in Childhood Weight Management program. To include in the participant manual, I need to receive it by end of day on Monday, October 21, 2018. If you need me to print the copy from May 2018 in the participant packets for, you can send me your updated version by October 30. I can distribute the new version onsite.

If you are including polling questions in your presentation, be sure to add the questions and options in different text boxes. Please see attached sample.

You can email me your updated presentation if it is not too large or upload it following these instructions.

It is with sadness that I inform you Kevin Concannon's oldest brother passed away on Thursday. Kevin said his brother was in failing health but was not expected to pass at this time. Kevin is attending the service today in Boston and will be back Tuesday for FNCE and PPW. I have a sympathy card for Kevin if you wish to sign it when I see you.

Donna,

I'm happy to track these attendees if you'd like, but it occurs to me some may reply just to you and I'll need you to forward those to me. Thank you!

SNS Friends, Brandon Lipps at the USDA asked if it were possible to find a time at FNCE or PPW where we could set up a listening session for him to hear from about 20 Academy members/leaders about issues we're encountering in school nutrition. We have scheduled that meeting to be held Wednesday morning at 10:00 am at the Academy Public Policy office. You are being invited as one of the SNS leadership and folks with their finger on the pulse of school nutrition who will still be in DC for PPW or otherwise. Please let me know if you can come so we can let Brandon know who will be attending. If you know of anyone else who would be a good person to include please let me know and I will invite them. This is an incredible opportunity for us. The address of the Public Policy office is 1120 Connecticut Ave. NE

Dear Authors:

After checking in to the convention I looked at the two staircases and thought the grand staircase (blue one), standing at the bottom next to the wall would be our best location. I will insert the photo below.

You are welcome to come to either of the times listed below (but not both) and you do not need to let me know in advance which one you plan to come to. I will have you "sign in" to help identify who is in each photo. I will also send a reminder each day.

Sunday's time is 11:45 a.m.

Monday's time is 12:15 p.m.

See you soon!

Barb

Jill,

Can you please extend an invite to Donna's school foodservice session at 1:30 pm? This is our project (and advocacy) that focused on USDA foodservice equipment modernization grants.

ACTION ALERT:

Urge Your Members of Congress to Support Malnutrition Treatment and Prevention

At FNCE® and Public Policy Workshop 2018 in Washington, D.C. and back home in-district, Academy members are mobilizing to make their members of Congress aware of the malnutrition crisis affecting our nation.

TAKE ACTION TODAY!

Malnutrition is a leading cause of morbidity and mortality, especially among older adults, and is associated with significant health care costs. Up to half of adults age 65 and older may be malnourished or at risk for malnourishment. This results in an estimated economic burden of disease-associated malnutrition in the United States valued at $157 billion. RDNs and NDTRs can effectively identify, treat and prevent malnutrition and are a critical part of the interdisciplinary health care team.

We can make a difference but only with your help. Take action today to build support with congressional members for:

- Adoption of meaningful malnutrition quality measures
- Inclusion of malnutrition in chronic disease legislation
- Increasing public access to malnutrition screening and services provided by RDNs and NDTRs. Invest in ANDPAC to help build relationships with members of Congress that make our priorities their priorities.

Thank you in advance for taking action and establishing our profession as the nations food and nutrition leaders.

President, 2018-2019

Hi Donna,

Just a friendly reminder to submit your revised PowerPoint presentation for the November 1-3, 2018 Certificate of Training in Childhood Weight Management program. To include in the participant manual, I need to receive it by end of day on Monday, October 21, 2018. If you need me to print the copy from May 2018 in the participant packets for, you can send me you updated version by October 30. I can distribute the new version onsite.

If you are including polling questions in your presentation, be sure to add the questions and options in difference text boxes. Please see attached sample.

You can email me your updated presentation if it is not too large or upload it following these instructions.

If possible, we are requesting that you send one PowerPoint for the participants to print and one to show on screen. The PowerPoint to print should only include text and not any unnecessary animations /graphics. We have received complaints regarding the fact that the animations/graphics often time cover up text. Here are the instructions to upload your files. However, if the file is not too large, you can email it to me. I will acknowledge receipt of the e-mail. Please provide your revised presentation by .

1. Go to www.cdrnet.org
2. To login choose the "Login" option on the upper right-hand side of the page.
1. Sign-in using your Academy/CDR username and password.

2. Click on the “House” icon on left side of the purple bar
3. On the purple banner, hover over the “Portal” option on the right-hand side and choose the “Library” option from the drop-down menu.
4. Click on the “2018 Childhood Faculty PowerPoint Files and Handouts” link located to the left.
5. Click on the “Upload Multiple Files” link located in the gray menu bar.
6. Scroll down to the bottom of the grey area and click on “add files” button (lower left side)
7. Browse for your file.
8. Click open.
9. To add another file choose “Add Files” button again to add another file to the list.
10. When you have all the files that you would like to add, click on the “Start Upload” button (lower left side). When upload had finished press “Continue.”
11. Don’t pay attention to the list of folder. Just stroll down to the bottom of the page and click on “Complete Upload” bar.
12. When you are done, please logout (upper right hand corner).

Thank you.

We could do elsewhere of course, there are plenty of good options if that doesnt work.

Dear Donna,

I am working with Michelle Obama's office on a video project around her upcoming memoir, BECOMING.

We are looking to record a short interview with you, as an individual who's personal story touched Michelle Obama, and who was a part of her story as First Lady.

We would work with you on the best location and date to do this in the coming weeks, and the interview would take approximately 30 minutes.

The video content we are collecting will be used at live events during Mrs. Obama's book tour this fall, and over social media.

BECOMING comes out on November 13th.

The questions we'd ask you to consider leading up to our discussion would be:

- What does 'owning your story' mean to you?
- Tell us, in as much detail as you can recall, about time you have spent with Ms. Obama?
- What do you expect from yourself, i.e. how are you striving and working to be your best self?
- What are you BECOMING right now, at this point in your life? (This is Ms. Obama's book title, and this answer could only be a few words, "I am becoming ____")
- What is your favorite Michelle Obama moment?
- One of the Mrs. Obama talks about a lot in this book is helping others tell their own stories. What are most important things people should know about your story?
- What has Ms. Obama's impact been on you and your life.

If you are unable to meet up with us in person, I'd like to discuss how we can get you to record yourself with the technology in your life (phone, webcam, etc..) as we'd still like for you to participate!

Let us know what you think asap so we can plan accordingly!

Here is a bit about Mrs. Obama's book:

Becoming is an involving, fascinating epic of an evolving life, where every story plays a part in exploring and explaining the challenges and the triumphs, the surprises and the losses that made Michelle Obama who she is.

She describes her life as extraordinarily ordinary, full of love and great role models...ordinary working people that she saw get up every day and do what they were supposed to and serve as role models and work in their communities and help others. She grew up in a family of generosity and kindness...in a home of many strong men – and women - who loved and respected her.

Dear Public Policy Workshop Attendees,

We are looking forward to seeing you on Tuesday, October 23 for another exciting year in Washington, D.C.!

PPW Agenda and Handouts

The final agenda, leave-behinds, social media toolkit and other handouts for PPW 2018 are posted to the community of interest as a combined easy-to-use master document. PPW is a paperless conference, so if you would like physical copies of these handouts, please print them at home. These resources are also available on your mobile device on the FNCE App, located in the PPW folder under Event Information. Additional hill day resources may be found in the 2018 resources folder.

Action Alerts for FNCE® and PPW Open today!

Please take action today so that your members of Congress know our issues are important. Every letter counts!

Meeting Reminder – PPW Kick-off on Tuesday, October 23 from 4-5:30 p.m.

The PPW Kick Off for all PPW attendees will take place on Tuesday, October 23 in WEWCC, Ballroom A from 4-5:30 p.m. following the closing session of FNCE. Be sure to make your way there promptly, as the session will begin at 4 p.m.

Public Policy Workshop attendees, including students, will be seated by the voting state that attendees provided at registration. Each section will be labeled with the name of the state or states that should be seated there.

ANDPAC Signature Event on Tuesday Evening, October 23 – Limited Space Still Available!

Spend a night on the town and kick off the Public Policy Workshop while supporting the Academy's Political Action Committee. Come dressed to impress in cocktail attire; drinks and hors d'oeuvres will be served. This signature event will also feature a member of Congress as the guest of honor and will provide excellent photo opportunities of the U.S. Capitol.

The event will be held from 7-9 p.m. on Tuesday, October 23 at the Top of the Hill Club.

Participation is secured with a $125 contribution to ANDPAC for this exclusive event. To register for the event, you can RSVP to andpac@eatright.org while space is still available.

Morning Meet-ups on Wednesday, October 24

PPCs will be organizing and scheduling morning meet-ups with their affiliate team on October 24 from 7-8:30 a.m., only if necessary. PPCs will plan and communicate with affiliates teams where and when to meet if they are holding a meet-up. The Academy is not organizing face time for your affiliate at any time.

Rally at the U.S. Capitol

Arrive at the U.S. Capitol Building Union Square – Grant Memorial Statue adjacent to Third Street NW/SW – by 9:00 a.m. on Wednesday, October 24 for a rally at the Capitol steps before your Hill visits. A photograph will be taken at 9:15 a.m. sharp. Come wearing red, white and blue!

Hill Visits

As a reminder, the Public Policy Coordinators (PPCs) or designated Alternate for each affiliate will schedule all of the Hill visits for your affiliate team. Attendees do not need to schedule their own visits, unless this has been agreed upon with or requested by your PPC. If you have not connected with your PPC and are still planning to attend Hill visits, please let me know.

Hill visits are planned from ~9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on October 24. A few reminders:

- Red, white and blue professional attire is recommended – and if you have an ANDPAC flag scarf, don't forget to wear it proudly
- Wear comfortable shoes
- Bring your business cards

Hi Diane,

I wanted to say hello and thank the AND team for the complimentary registration to FNCE.

Donna has mentioned all the great work and innovative formats that you and your team have put into the conference and I'm really looking forward to the sessions. Last year, SNA also started offering shorter session formats and social learning – both have been incredibly well received by our members and we will be exploring this area much more at the annual conference.

I understand all the work that goes into a conference like FNCE and that you will be running in many different directions, but hope we can meet in person to say a quick hello.

Best of luck with the conference and see you in a few days,

Jen

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Academy Submits Nominations for Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee

The Academy has nominated a slate of highly qualified members with extensive experience for appointments to the 2020 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee. Academy members, leaders, affiliates, dietetic practice groups and other stakeholders made recommendations. Next, members are needed to serve on Academy's workgroups to provide feedback and expertise on topics expected to be addressed by the DGACs. Email Nathaniel Stritzinger at nstritzinger@eatright.org if you are interested.

To FDA: Academy Supports Nutrition Education, Product Innovation, Truthful Labeling

The Academy has offered its strong support to the Food & Drug Administration's new Nutrition Innovation Strategy, a framework for improving health by empowering consumers to make healthful dietary choices and giving industry incentives to develop and market healthful products. With a science-based process for simplifying ingredient lists and enabling modernization of antiquated standards of identity, the FDA can help improve health and reduce the incidence of chronic disease. Registered dietitian nutritionists and nutrition and dietetics technicians, registered who work in settings across the continuum of care will play a central role in developing and implementing this strategy, and the Academy will continue to be extremely engaged in fleshing out the substance of this policy framework.

Weekly News for Academy Policy Leaders

Public Policy Weekly News

October 17, 2018

FNCE/Public Policy Workshop

PPW is one week away! Here are important updates for PPCs and PALs. Be sure to read all of the following information:

- Action required this week: confirm meetings with congressional offices
- Send an email to the congressional staff contact, indicating who will be at the meeting and which members are constituents
- Attach the leave behind to the email
- Note that if you are unable to schedule a meeting, you can still drop off Hill visit packets at member offices. We will have extra packets printed for you.
- Hill meetings schedules are now past due
- Insert meeting information on the Google Doc (PPC COI)
- You do not need to email your list of meetings.
- Additional resource documents have been posted to the COIs this week with information regarding restaurants, the metro and maps of the Congressional office buildings. You can find these in the PPW Resources folder. Please print these as needed, as we will not be making copies of most documents.
- Hill visit reports
- Submissions will be coordinated by the PPC
- A survey link will be available for online submission
- Paper forms will be provided to take notes during meetings and can be used to complete the online survey after FNCE or scanned and returned via email
- The process will be explained during the final boot camp session.

Reminders:

- PPCs and PALs: Register today for PPW Boot Camp Session 3 – Leading the Charge the in-person session on October 23 from 10 a.m. to noon at FNCE®.

- This is a closed session for PALs and PPCs only
- The agenda for the meeting is available on the PPC and PAL COIs
- Hill visit folders will be distributed during the meeting.
- PPCs should have removed anyone on the list that has not responded to communications and planned meetings
- Only plan for meetings and teams based on your confirmed list of attendees
- We do not need a confirmed list of your attendees.
- PPCs should organize a meet up with their teams for an informal no host breakfast on October 24 from 7-8:30 a.m if necessary. The Academy is not organizing face time for your affiliate at any time.
- Meet ups must be scheduled by the PPC and communicated to your constituents
- Plan to meet in one of the hotels, the cafeterias on the Senate or House side or perhaps at Union station depending on the size of your group. Check out the PPW Resources folder on the COI for potential meet-up spots.

If you have a question regarding PPW, make sure to reach out to Academy staff! We are here to help!

Senate Recess Begins without Farm Bill Compromise

Most Senators have joined their House colleagues back in their home states for final campaigning before the mid-term elections. Leaders of the Farm Bill Conference also return home, but reports suggest that staff members are continuing to meet to work out differences between the two chambers' versions of the bill. Negotiators are deliberating issues in the commodity and conservation titles — two of the major hang-ups across the bill. The House version of the bill includes stricter work requirements for SNAP participants, also a point of contention. A new report from the Brookings Institution suggests the requirements would likely have a minimal impact on workforce entry. The conference leaders continue to suggest a deal may be achievable in the lame duck session following the mid-term elections.

Maternal and Infant Nutrition Addressed by Global Malnutrition Initiative

USAID Advancing Nutrition, has been launched by the Agency as part of its Multi-sectoral Nutrition Strategy. The five-year global project will work to improve the health and nutritional status of vulnerable populations through addressing the root causes of malnutrition. According to USAID, "Each year, malnutrition costs the global economy an estimated $3.5 trillion in health care costs and lost productivity. Yet nutrition interventions offer some of the highest returns on investment - with every $1 invested resulting in up to $35 in economic gain."

Consumers Know Difference Between Milk and Plant-based Alternatives

The FDA has been under pressure to provide clarity on labeling of plant-based alternatives to milk and dairy products. Consumer confusion and standards of identity have been cited by industry-led advocates as reasons to enforce stricter labeling. A recent survey by the International Food Information Council Foundation shows a low level of consumer confusion over different forms of milk and plant-based alternatives. The survey did not measure consumer confusion regarding the nutrition profiles of the various alternatives in contrast to milk and dairy, but rather examined whether consumers could identify whether the products actually contained milk. The Academy plans to offer comments to FDA on the issue.

Mission Readiness Report: Unhealthy and Unprepared

Mission: Readiness released a new national report at the United States Army Annual Meeting and Exposition that highlights how childhood obesity impacts national security. The report indicates that as obesity rates increase in America, military service eligibility decreases, with 31% of youth disqualified from military service due to obesity in 2018 alone. Beyond physical activity programs, the report notes the importance of nutrition programs, particularly in early habit development, for obesity prevention.

DPG PAL Monthly Call Update

The next DPG PAL call will be held in November. Mark your calendar for November 29, which is later in the month due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Regulatory Roundup

A list of regulatory items, ordered by date, are available here. Check out the calendar for relevant meetings with remote access and open to the public.

View Regulatory Roundup

PALs, please plan to review the regulatory opportunities section each week and share the information with your executive board or team.

Advocacy and Action Center

An action alert is now open for the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act. Encourage your members to take action today! As a reminder, this bill allows for RDNs to independently provide and bill for intensive behavioral counseling for obesity in settings outside of primary care.

Another action alert will open prior to FNCE for malnutrition. We anticipate sending an all-member email on October 18 and sharing language that PPCs and PALs can post in their respective communication channels.

Take Action

Advocacy Tip: Use Facebook Town Hall to Connect with Members of Congress

Connecting with members of Congress on social media is a great way to broaden advocacy efforts by amplifying your message, expanding your reach and continuing your conversation on a digital platform. Facebook Town Hall is one tool you can use to influence your elected officials one-on-one by finding, following and contacting them directly. Mark yourself as a constituent by turning on the "Constituent Badge" function so that when mentioning a representative in a post or comment, or commenting on their page or profile, your legislators know you live in their district. Give it a try today to strengthen the Academy's messaging around health and nutrition and to continue building a relationship with your legislators to as the go-to nutrition expert.

Professional Development & Networking Events

Policy and Advocacy Forums Offer Peer to Peer Networking

Achieving Your Goals through Advocacy

- November 27, 2018, 2-3 p.m. Eastern Time.

Measuring Up - FY2018 Strategic Measures Report

- Tuesday, December 18, 2018, 2-3 p.m. Eastern Time.

State Obesity Advocacy Initiative will Focus on Access to Care

State Advocacy Training: Putting Advocacy into Action

- Thursday, November 29, 2018, 3:30-4:30 p.m. Eastern Time

This webinar will launch a collaborative effort between the Academy and partner organizations designed to increase access to obesity care. SPRs, SRSs and RR along with other interested panel leaders are asked to attend. The initiative will be introduced at the Policy and Advocacy Forums at FNCE®.

Nomination Notices

Advisory Committee on Training in Primary Care Medicine and Dentistry, Due November 15

The Health Resources and Services Administration seeks nominees for membership on the Advisory Committee on Training in Primary Care Medicine and Dentistry. Since this committee implements performance measures for training in professions which may refer to RDNs, it's important that the Academy be a visible participant.

Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest and basis for nomination Mark Rifkin.

PALs, please plan to review the nomination opportunities section and share the information with your executive board or team.

ANDPAC Corner

ANDPAC Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals

You can help build the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals" by supporting ANDPAC and your profession in a new campaign that will be on display at FNCE®.

Members who contribute in advance of FNCE® will have a commemorative "brick" on the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals." The bricks can be inscribed with the donor's name, signed in memory or in honor of someone, or can be an inscription of choice limited to space available and will be placed on the walkway display at FNCE® this year. Suggested donations are $20 per brick, $35 for two bricks, or $50 for three bricks. Visit the Nutrition Policy and Advocacy Center to see the display.

Donate today and help build the pathway to nutrition policy goals!

I highlighted some in yellow that I know have expertise, but have not had time to research others. The ones in yellow have expertise and the ones in green do not. Maybe with your help we can get a group of 20 people for the listening session. Thanks!

Hi Jeanne,

We're scheduled at 10am on Wednesday At the Academy's office. The timing could somewhat tight given the uncertainty of the photo timing (scheduled for 9:15 sharp) but we should have more than enough time (12 minute drive without traffic; could be 25 though).

I would like to defer to you all to select who attends, but please share their names and whatever criteria you use? I encourage you to seek a balance of regions, roles, and perspectives if possible, and while I won't share much with Brandon in advance, I would like to distribute a list of attendees with locations.

Thank you and let me know if you think this is ok.

Thank you, Dale and Donna for your times. We pulled the list of SNS members who have registered for the Public Policy Workshop, knowing this group was planning (at least when they registered for FNCE) to stay through Wednesday in DC. If there's a high-quality group of members on this list who would make for a good listening session, I think it might be easier for FNS to do Wednesday morning.

We are looking to record a short interview with you, as an individual whose personal story touched Michelle Obama, and who was a part of her story as First Lady.

We would work with you on the best location and date to do this in the coming weeks, and the interview would take approximately 30 minutes.

The video content we are collecting will be used at live events during Mrs. Obama's book tour this fall, and over social media.

BECOMING comes out on November 13th.

The questions we'd ask you to consider leading up to our discussion would be:

- What does 'owning your story' mean to you?
- Tell us, in as much detail as you can recall, about time you have spent with Ms. Obama?

- What do you expect from yourself, i.e. how are you striving and working to be your best self?
- What are you BECOMING right now, at this point in your life? (This is Ms. Obama's book title, and this answer could only be a few words, "I am becoming _____")
- What is your favorite Michelle Obama moment?
- One of the Mrs. Obama talks about a lot in this book is helping others tell their own stories. What are most important things people should know about your story?
- What has Ms. Obama's impact been on you and your life.

If you are unable to meet up with us in person, I'd like to discuss how we can get you to record yourself with the technology in your life (phone, webcam, etc..) as we'd still like for you to participate!

Let us know what you think asap so we can plan accordingly!

Here is a bit about Mrs. Obama's book:

Becoming is an involving, fascinating epic of an evolving life, where every story plays a part in exploring and explaining the challenges and the triumphs, the surprises and the losses that made Michelle Obama who she is.

She describes her life as extraordinarily ordinary, full of love and great role models...ordinary working people that she saw get up every day and do what they were supposed to and serve as role models and work in their communities and help others. She grew up in a family of generosity and kindness...in a home of many strong men – and women - who loved and respected her.

Hi, Adam,

We are happy to help coordinate the video recording of Donna Martin for Ms. Obama's upcoming memoir, BECOMING. The morning of Friday, October 19, works well for Donna – preferably around 9 or 10 a.m., if possible. We will have a media taping room (#210) at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center in D.C. that should work great for your needs.

Please let me know what time works best for you and anything else you may need.

Thank you,

The Mega Issue will be Leading Together for Good Governance where the delegates will be engaging in conversation about who we need and want to be in the future as a HOD. Delegates will be architects of our future, challenged with designing a governance approach that is fast, fluid and flexible, produces visionary and meaningful outcomes, and utilizes new ways to engage members and other key stakeholders.

ACADEMY RESEARCH AND RESOURCES AT FNCE®

Research in Action!

Visit the Academy Research in Action booth (#2447) to learn about Academy research initiatives and resources. Speak with Academy staff regarding current topics of interest including evidence-based resources (EAL, systematic reviews, guidelines and position papers); Nutrition Informatics 'Genius Zone'; Malnutrition Clinical Characteristics (MCC) study participation information; and volunteer opportunities. Find out how to access and incorporate these resources into your area of practice.

ANDHII®—Advancing Nutrition Practice with the Power of Data

ANDHII® is an online data collection tool designed specifically around the Nutrition Care Process. It uses eNCPT to record and track outcomes. RDNs and DTRs enter de-identified data directly into ANDHII and can submit the case into the Dietetics Outcomes Registry (DOR). Aggregated, anonymous data from the DOR supports outcomes research, quality improvement projects and comparative effectiveness research. Visit the Academy Research in Action booth (#2447) in the Expo Hall for more information on how you can use ANDHII and contribute to the DOR!

Do You Use Informatics?

You may not think so at first, but informatics impacts all areas of nutrition practice. In fact, the future direction of health care is being transformed by data and technology. Keep up with the latest trends and learn all about the intersection of information, nutrition and technology by visiting the Genius Zone at the Academy Research in Action booth (#2447) in the Expo Hall.

Write high quality PES statements and track nutrition care outcomes using eNCPT and ANDHII®

The recently released 2018 edition of the eNCPT (electronic Nutrition Care Process terminology) provides the most current terminology and reference sheets. The eNCPT now exceeds 1700 terms and is available in English and seven more languages! Use the wealth of information in the eNCPT and take advantage of ANDHII® (Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Health Informatics Infrastructure), the perfect tool to capture and track your data and client outcomes. Visit booth #2438 in the Expo Hall for live demonstrations and learn how these resources are essential for your practice and research.

DPG and MIG Member Events

Maximize your networking opportunities during FNCE® by participating in the DPG and MIG Member events. From member breakfasts to receptions to food tours and professional development, the DPGs and MIGs offer a great way to connect with your peers and enhance your FNCE® experience. Access a full list of events. Are you not a member and want to participate in a DPG or MIG? Contact the Academy's Membership team at membership@eatright.org or 800/877-1600, ext. 5000. You can also join through your MyAcademy profile.

SUPPORT YOUR FOUNDATION AT FNCE®

Your support of these events allows the Academy Foundation to offset operating expenses associated with providing scholarships, fellowships, awards, research grants and public nutrition education programs.

To register ahead of time for Foundation Symposiums or purchase a ticket to the Foundation Gala, please log into your Registration Dashboard and add these events to your registration.

Great - lets plan on 10am! Let's be in touch closer to the date to confirm, and I may have a few questions on best access points to the room via the outside/parking.

Hi, Adam,

We are happy to help coordinate the video recording of Donna Martin for Ms. Obama's upcoming memoir, BECOMING. The morning of Friday, October 19, works well for Donna – preferably around 9 or 10 a.m., if possible. We will have a media taping room (#210) at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center in D.C. that should work great for your needs.

Please let me know what time works best for you and anything else you may need.

Thank you,

Will you be staying in a hotel - we may be able to use a conference room there - so let me know if you have that booked and I can inquire with the hotel

We could do elsewhere of course, there are plenty of good options if that doesnt work.

Dear Donna,

I am working with Michelle Obama's office on a video project around her upcoming memoir, BECOMING.

We are looking to record a short interview with you, as an individual whose personal story touched Michelle Obama, and who was a part of her story as First Lady.

We would work with you on the best location and date to do this in the coming weeks, and the interview would take approximately 30 minutes.

The video content we are collecting will be used at live events during Mrs. Obama's book tour this fall, and over social media.

BECOMING comes out on November 13th.

The questions we'd ask you to consider leading up to our discussion would be:

- What does 'owning your story' mean to you?
- Tell us, in as much detail as you can recall, about time you have spent with Ms. Obama?
- What do you expect from yourself, i.e. how are you striving and working to be your best self?
- What are you BECOMING right now, at this point in your life? (This is Ms. Obama's book title, and this answer could only be a few words, "I am becoming _____")
- What is your favorite Michelle Obama moment?
- One of the Mrs. Obama talks about a lot in this book is helping others tell their own stories. What are most important things people should know about your story?
- What has Ms. Obama's impact been on you and your life.

If you are unable to meet up with us in person, I'd like to discuss how we can get you to record yourself with the technology in your life (phone, webcam, etc..) as we'd still like for you to participate!

Let us know what you think asap so we can plan accordingly!

Here is a bit about Mrs. Obama's book:

Becoming is an involving, fascinating epic of an evolving life, where every story plays a part in exploring and explaining the challenges and the triumphs, the surprises and the losses that made Michelle Obama who she is.

She describes her life as extraordinarily ordinary, full of love and great role models...ordinary working people that she saw get up every day and do what they were supposed to and serve as role models and work in their communities and help others. She grew up in a family of generosity and kindness...in a home of many strong men – and women - who loved and respected her.

Thank you, Dale and Donna for your times. We pulled the list of SNS members who have registered for the Public Policy Workshop, knowing this group was planning (at least when they registered for FNCE) to stay through Wednesday in DC. If there's a high-quality group of members on this list who would make for a good listening session, I think it might be easier for FNS to do Wednesday morning.

Your ANDPAC contribution helps us make a difference in improving our nation's health and nutrition.

Dear Donna,

Thank you for your contribution in September of $225 to the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC). You have contributed $495 to ANDPAC in 2018 so far. As a reminder, ANDPAC contributions are totaled over a calendar year (January 1 – December 31). You can now check your donation online. Simply go to ANDPAC, sign in and click on Donation Summary.

ANDPAC donor levels in a calendar year are as follows:

- Champions donate $1000 or more
- Eagles contribute $500 to $999
- President's Circle donors contribute $250 to $499
- Capitol Club donors contribute $100 to $249
- Student Stars are student members who donate $25 or more

The funds we receive from generous members like you make it possible for the Academy to articulate its legislative objectives directly with members of Congress and to engage in a dialogue with the elected officials who lead our country. This provides us with a seat at the table to advocate for prevention and well being, food and nutrition safety and security, and health care and health systems issues the Academy cares about.

As members of the Academy, we have the opportunity to support food, nutrition and health initiatives at federal, state and local levels. Your donation to ANDPAC helps the Academy achieve its vision of optimizing the nation's health through food and nutrition.

Thank you again for your support and contribution to ANDPAC! We look forward to seeing you at FNCE and PPW in Washington, DC next week!

Sincerely,

Trisha Fuhrman, MS, RDN, LD, FAND, FASPEN

I have arranged my travel schedule to be in DC on Wednesday AM.

- Do we have any details as to location and timing?
- I need to be at SNA HQ on Wednesday PM for a webinar.

Do you me to do anything about recruiting other SNS DPG members? I know that Jeanne Reilly is available for sure.

All, we have already run a list of SNS members and have that. Pepin is coordinating the meeting with USDA, so if we can include him on the emails that would be great. We are not opening this up broadly but hope to have about 25 people max.

Pepin, can you give an update on the details?

Attached is the current post-test. Please review and update as necessary based on your revised presentation. Also, we are requesting that you change all true/false questions to multiple choice questions to be in compliance to CDR's self-study criteria.

I have included the performance from the May 2018 program. Questions should perform at 70% or above. I have noted the poor performing questions in red.

Please return any changes to me by Monday, October 22, 2018.

Hi, Donna:

Attached are copies of your speeches, scripts and other remarks for FNCE. We worked with the applicable Academy Headquarters Teams as needed to develop these remarks. Mackenzie will bring hard copies of these files for you at the rehearsal next Friday.

Attached are:

- General talking points for leaders (Joan may have sent this to you already; is going to all BOD members)
- Remarks at Former Presidents and Foundation Chairs lunch
- Member Showcase script.

Have a great time at FNCE, I hope I'll see you there. Please let us know if you need anything else.

Thanks very much!

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics is proud to announce two new Pocket Guides, just in time for FNCE!

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Pocket Guide to Spanish for the Nutrition Professional, Third Edition, by Peggy Durbala, MA, and Mary Jo Kurko, MPH, RD, LDN, CPXP, is written to help readers become more comfortable with conversational Spanish related to food, nutrition, eating, and health, and to improve understanding of Latino culture. Practitioners will learn how to have an introductory conversation in Spanish; become familiar with typical Latino eating habits, foods, and meal times; and discover common questions and phrases in Spanish for use with clients.

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Pocket Guide to Parenteral Nutrition, Second Edition, edited by Pamela Charney, PhD, RD, is an easy-to-understand, evidence-based guide for determining the need for parenteral nutrition, ordering nutrient solutions, monitoring patient response to therapy, and coordinating care with patients, caregivers, and other members of the healthcare team.

As a member of the Board of Directors, we have automatically granted you access to the eBook. You may access this eBook using the Academy's eatright eReader app or any internet browser.

You can download the free eReader app for your smartphone or tablet from the iTunes Store or Google Play.

You can read The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Pocket Guide to Spanish for the Nutrition Professional, Third Edition, on your web browser here.

Hi, Donna,

I hope all is going well as you are preparing for another big week at FNCE®. Over the last couple of weeks I have given a lot of thought to your request to review your responses for the taping. First, you did a wonderful job, as always. But, more importantly, I was hesitant to even comment because, although you are a Past President of the Academy, this is your personal experience with Mrs. Obama, and your answers depict how you felt in those moments.

However, I did do what you asked J and I have made suggested comments on the attached word doc on items that may resonate more with the direction I imagine their producers going with this project. Please let me know if you need anything else. We will be there to support and assist.

I am going to reach out to Adam Garber on Monday (and will cc: you) to confirm logistics.

We are so excited for you on this opportunity. You always fantastically represent the Academy and the profession; this will be no different.

Sincerely,

Mac and Doris, Would you all have time to look over my answers to the questions Michelle Obama's video team sent me for the video taping we will do at FNCE? I want to make sure what I say is OK with you all and also that it has a good chance of being used for her book tour. You guys know what they are looking for so much better than I do. Any help and suggestions would be greatly appreciated. I know you are busy getting ready for FNCE, but your input would be invaluable for me. Thanks in advance.

Hello,

Ground transportation to and from the Marriott Marquis Washington DC hotel has been arranged for you. Once you arrive, the driver will meet you by the baggage claim area of your airline with a sign displaying your name. For departures, the dispatcher will meet you in the lobby of the Marriott Marquis hotel at the "L" street entrance.

Attached is the confirmation for your transportation which includes the dates and times of service. All charges, including gratuity, are prepaid. In the event there is a change in your itinerary while you are on-site, please contact me at 847/337-3082 or Erin Cannon at 847/809-4500.

Please let me know if you need anything else.

Safe travels and see you soon!

The 2019 Election will run February 1–15, 2019.

Submit nominations to nominations@eatright.org.

Positions to be filled are:

- Three (3) Registered Dietitians—3 year term
- One (1) CDR Nominating Committee Registered Dietitian Representative (Must have CDR experience within the past ten (10) years)—3 year term

Nominations are due October 26, 2018. Learn more about the criteria for the CDR positions by clicking here.

Nominations may be submitted by an online form or by emailing nominations@eatright.org.

Did You Know?

CDR has established several grant and fellowship funds administered by the Academy Foundation. These include a Grassroots Marketing Fund, Leadership Grant Fund, Advanced Practice Residency Grant, and most recently four $10,000 Fellowships to provide support for PhDs who are planning to become RDs. For more information please visit the Academy Foundation website at the following link: <https://eatrightfoundation.org/why-it-matters/awards/>.

CDR News Highlights

Advanced Practitioner in Clinical Nutrition Certification Update

- Fifty-three registered dietitians have successfully completed the Advanced Practice in Clinical Nutrition examination.

- The next examination administrations will be in November 2018 and April 2019.
- The examination fee is $450.
- Exam dates and deadlines are available at the following link: cdrnet.org/advanced-practice-examination-dates-and-fee-schedule

New Specialist Certification

CDR recently developed the Board Certified Specialist in Pediatric Critical Care Nutrition credential. This new certification addresses practice in critical care units for the pediatric population. The designation for this new specialist certification is CSPCC. Applications are now available. For more information, please visit this link: cdrnet.org/cspcc.

New Online Assess and Learn Module

A new online Assess & Learn module, entitled The Role of Nutrition in Health Promotion and Prevention, is now available at www.cdrcampus.com. In this module there are five case scenarios, each addressing one of the five levels of the social ecological model. The scenarios are interrelated to reinforce the concept that CDR credentialed practitioners can address primary prevention of overweight and obesity through many diverse approaches. The scenarios also demonstrate the interconnectedness of RDs' work across a community and the need for RDs to be players and leaders at all levels and in all sectors of society. The content provided for any one level is not intended to be a comprehensive assessment of competencies for that level, but the knowledge, competencies and skills assessed across all five levels will give CDR credentialed practitioners a good sense of their role in the social ecological approach to nutrition in health promotion and disease prevention. Cost: $64.99, 7 CPEUs.

Questions? Please email cdrcampus@eatright.org

Ethics Toolkit

The joint Academy/CDR Ethics Committee has updated the Ethics Education Facilitator's Guide to educate CDR credentialed practitioners and Academy members on the 2018 Code of Ethics for the Nutrition and Dietetics Profession.

This Guide offers an overview of the Academy/CDR Code of Ethics along with guided discussion. It is not intended to be an in depth study of professional ethics. Although facilitators are welcome to adapt time frames to their individual schedules, the script, activities and handouts in this Guide have been designed for a two hour presentation.

•Ethics Education PowerPoint Presentation

•Facilitator's Script for the Ethics Education PowerPoint Presentation

•Facilitator's Guide Handouts

The ethics resources may be downloaded and used by all nutrition and dietetics practitioners for personal use only and are not available for resale or any commercial use.

Dietetic Technician, Registered Marketing Initiative

CDR has implemented a marketing initiative to promote the value of the DTR credential to employers and didactic program in dietetics (DPD) program directors.

During focus groups with educators and dietetic technicians, DPD program directors were identified as a primary target audience for the bachelor degreed, DPD program graduate dietetic technician. A promotional poster highlighting the practice role options for DTRs was sent to all ACEND accredited DPD program directors in April/May. Promotional brochures highlighting the DTR's role in different practice settings, such as school nutrition, public health, acute care, long-term care and retail were recently sent to RD employers in these practice sectors.

Please visit CDR's website to view these materials: cdrnet.org/opportunities.

Continuing Professional Education Approval Criteria

CDR has revised the current continuing professional education approval criteria to require that all continuing professional education activity types (excluding academic coursework) addressing diet and nutrition topics, include an RD or DTR in program planning.* This policy change is effective for continuing professional activities offered on or after June 1, 2018 and for CDR credentialed practitioners recertifying beginning a new recertification cycle on or after June 2, 2018.

*Academic Coursework, and CPE activities offered by American Board of Medical Specialties (ABMS), American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP), American Academy of Nurse Practitioners (AANP), American Academy of Physician Assistants (AAPA), Organizations accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), Organizations accredited by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), American Psychiatric Association (APA), American Psychological Association (APA), American Public Health Association (APHA), pharmacy, dentistry, and speech language pathology societies and associations are excluded from this requirement.

Online Dietetics Preceptor Training Program

The online Dietetics Preceptor Training program, has been reformatted to allow course participants to complete either the full eight (8) hour course or to complete any one of three course segments offering either two (2) or three (3) continuing professional education units. This formatting change was made to encourage greater participation in this course. The course can be found here: cdrcampus.com

Dear Authors:

If you receive this email it is because you indicated on the survey that you are attending FNCE, or, you are on my list of "unknowns." Several people answering the survey did not include their names. Therefore, to prevent missing someone who is attending, I am sending this to everyone except the 11 authors I know for sure are not. If you receive this and are not attending, please reply to me (not all) and I will remove you from this list to prevent you from getting further reminders.

The attached document shows our tentative location for the group photos with a map and a reminder of your 2 options for being in the photo. My thanks for selecting the "ideal" photo spot goes to Academy member Maria McConville, who attended another conference at the convention center this week and scoped it out for us. I will check it out again once I arrive and will be back in touch as a reminder and confirmation of the location. Please be on the lookout for further information.

See you soon!

Can you share the name of the meeting so I can add it to the President's calendar? I didn't have anything listed and am afraid I may have overlooked it.

All Board members are requested to be at the Honors Breakfast scheduled for Sunday, October 21 from 7:00 am – 8:30 am in the Marquis Ballrooms 8-10 of the Marriott Marquis Washington DC hotel. Thank you to those of you who are participating in our partner program. Attached is a current 2018 partners list. If you haven't done so already, please initiate contact with your respective partner(s) prior to FNCE, offering congratulations and asking if she requires any assistance; the contact information is attached.

The script introducing the recipients during the recognition breakfast is attached. The opening and closing remarks are provided by Donna as current chair of the Honors Committee.

The introductions follow the script.

- Donna Martin/Moderator
- Sharon Cox/Wahida Karmally
- Kevin Sauer/Paula Kellogg Leibovitz
- Jo Jo Dantone/Nancy M. Lewis
- Mary Russell/Christine M. Palumbo
- Dianne Polly/Demetra “Dee” F. Pratt
- Susan Brantley/Susan R. Roberts
- Catherine Christie/Linda G. Snetselaar
- Kevin Concannon/Angela M. Tagtow
- Donna Martin/Closing Remarks

Please review your portion of the script. The introductions were drafted by the nominators and have been approved by each recipient. A paper copy of the script will be included in your on arrival packet. Medallion recipients will be seated with their families and colleagues. As presenters, you will be seated together at one designated table, unless you were asked to be a guest of a Medallion recipient. Please proceed to the podium during the applause for the previous recipient. Once the presentation is completed, proceed back to your seat. Each recipient has been asked to present for one (1) minute. If your schedule allows, please remain in the room immediately following the reception as we will be taking photographs. A table is also reserved for Board members not presenting, but you of course have the option to sit with your colleagues.

If you have any questions regarding the Honors Breakfast, please do not hesitate to contact me or Matthew Novotny at mnovotny@eatright.org or 1-800/877-1600, ext. 4827.

Subject: Board FNCE Materials

Attached is the final draft of the Board schedule highlighting FNCE activities which require and/or encourage Board attendance. For those of you who have been assigned to DPG/MIG events, we have notified the DPG or MIG chair. You will be greeted by the chair; if not, please introduce yourself. Attached are general FNCE 2018 leader remarks and a list of DPG and MIG chairs and chairs-elect for reference.

The Board FNCE schedule lists times to extend your appreciation to our exhibitors and sponsors. Attached are your designated assignments for thanking our exhibitors. The assignments are made to ensure all the exhibitors are covered, but it doesn't preclude you from thanking others for their generous support of the Academy's meetings and programs, including FNCE, especially the 10 sponsors who have booths on the exhibit floor. The sponsor booth names and locations are included on the attachments.

A paper copy of the final Board FNCE schedule will be included in your on-arrival packet which will be delivered to your hotel room the day you arrive in Washington, DC. Also included in your packet will be your FNCE badge, ribbon(s), House of Delegates meeting agenda, a copy of your exhibitor assignments and the FNCE 2018 leader remarks. A paper copy of the script will also be included with instructions for those Board members (Donna Martin, Susan Brantley, Cathy Christie, Kevin Concannon, Sharon Cox, Jo Jo Dantone-DeBarbieris, Dianne Polly, Mary Russell, Kevin Sauer) introducing Medallion recipients during the Honors Breakfast on Sunday, October 21.

If you have any questions, please contact me.

See you soon!

Pearlie, I am not in the office today because of hurricanes and do not have power at my house. I am going out of town and will not be back until Monday, but can get it to you by then. Thanks.

Pearlie, That would at least get me home that night. Do you think there is any way that Dana would switch times with me? We have a dinner party to go to that night and that would get me home in time for that. If that does not work I will just skip the dinner. Thanks for your efforts and I hate being a pain. I did not know we have shifted times so my talk would not be over before lunch like usual.

Can you check to see if someone could switch with me so that I do not have to spend another night? The earlier in the day the better for me. Thanks for checking.

Have You Thought About Running?

A good pair of running shoes is helpful, both for exercise and for another kind of running: for political office. Registered dietitian nutritionists serving in elected positions is good for the profession and good for the public's health. At the Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo session "Run Like a Girl: Getting Elected to Public Office," you can hear from Academy members such as Felicia D. Stoler, DCN, MS, RD, FACSM, ACSM-HFS, FAND, who is running for the U.S. House of Representatives in New Jersey. Her story, told in the recent article "Is There a Dietitian in the House of Representatives?" may inspire you to consider how you can make a difference.

Academy Addresses Use of Liquids and Soft Foods for Drug Delivery

The Academy recently supported draft guidance issued by the Food and Drug Administration on the standardization of medication preparation and delivery using foods and fluids. The Academy supports FDA's tube feeding medication administration guidance, but encourages alignment of liquids and solids intended as drug delivery vehicles with the International Dysphagia Diet Standardization Initiative. The Academy also suggested the FDA include information regarding feeding tube size and medications, placement of feeding tubes and medication delivery, and labeling of ingredients in light of allergies and metabolic conditions.

Agriculture Advocates Ask Congress: Delay NIFA Relocation

In a recent letter to Appropriations Committee leaders in both the House and Senate, the Academy and other organizations asked Congress to convey to the U.S. Department of Agriculture that no action should be taken to implement relocation or realignment of the Economic Research Service or the National Institute of Food and Agriculture prior to a final spending bill agreement. The letter asked the committees to examine the rationale and consequences of the proposed relocation and reorganization, consistent with the Academy's earlier statement.

FDA Encouraged to Administer Food Safety, Health and Diet Survey

The Academy encouraged the Food and Drug Administration to continue gathering data on food safety, health and diet, to measure consumer understanding and response to the revised Nutrition Facts Panel, menu labeling and the practice of effective food safety measures. The Academy recommended the FDA ensure representation from diverse populations in the survey sample, and that consumer understanding of specific food safety topics - such as rinsing of raw meat products and thermometer use - be included.

Academy Urges Clarification: Added Sugar Information Recommended for Labels

Honey, maple syrup and other single-ingredient sweeteners are exempt from new Food and Drug Administration requirements that products list "Added Sugars" on the Nutrition Facts Panel. To help consumers understand the information, the Academy and other public health organizations asked the FDA to maintain clear and specific labeling requirements for the percent daily value on the "Total Sugars" line and to use the term "Sugars" in place of "Total Sugars."

Grassroots Excellence and Public Policy Leadership Award Winners

Academy member Lesley L. McPhatter, MS, RDN, CSR, of Lynchburg, Va., has been named the recipient of the Academy's 2018 Award for Grassroots Excellence, and U.S. Rep. Betty McCollum (Minn.) was named as the recipient of the Public Policy Leadership Award. The awards will be presented during the Public Policy Workshop in Washington, D.C.

Donate a "Brick": Build the Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals through ANDPAC

It's not too late to help build the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals." The agenda for the meeting is available on the PPC and PAL COIs. Hill visit folders will be distributed during the meeting.
- An updated registration list will be posted this week
- As a reminder, PPCs should remove anyone on the list that has not responded to communications and planned meetings. Only plan for meetings and teams based on your confirmed list of attendees. We do not need a confirmed list of your attendees.
- Hill meetings schedules are now due. Simply insert your meeting information on the google documents on the PPC COI. You do not need to email your list of meetings.
- All of the webinars have been recorded and posted to the COI. Make sure you and your teams have listened to the information before arriving in D.C.
- Resource documents will be posted to the COIs this week with information regarding restaurants, the metro and maps of the Congressional office buildings. Please print these as needed as we will not be making copies of most documents.
- PPCs should organize a meet up with their teams for an informal no host breakfast on October 24 from 7-8:30 a.m if necessary. The Academy is not organizing face time for your affiliate at any time. Meet ups must be scheduled by the PPC and communicated to your constituents. Plan to meet in one of the hotels, the cafeterias on the Senate or House side or perhaps at Union station depending on the size of your group.

- Hill visit reporting instructions will be shared next week and will be explained during the final bootcamp session.

If you have a question regarding PPW, make sure to reach out to Academy staff! We are here to help!

News from the Hill and Beyond

Things are Quiet in the House, Senate Remains in Session

Member of the House are back in district and continuing their campaigns. This is a perfect time to watch for a town hall or other events that yield an opportunity to ask about important health and nutrition issues. We are focused on PPW, but there is something to be said for in district meetings and events. The U.S. Senators are in D.C. until the end of the month -- but look for their supporters to host events and gatherings in their home states.

Farm Bill Compromise Continues to Elude Conference Leadership

The outlook on the Farm Bill discussions has not changed since last week. There are reports that the "Big Four," -- not a popular music ensemble, but rather the House and Senate Agriculture Committee leaders, have still not reached consensus reportedly over SNAP work requirements but also other aspects of the bill. There have been reports in local media that campaigns are feeling the effects back home where farmers and other groups are expressing frustration over the stalled progress. If an agreement can not be reached, Congress will need to make provisions for several programs to continue to be funded when they reconvene after the mid-term elections.

Weight Management DPG Leads Efforts During Obesity Care Week

The 4th Annual National Obesity Care Week kicked off on Sunday October 7th and runs through Saturday October 13th. The intent is to ignite a national movement to ensure anyone affected by obesity receives respectful and comprehensive care. The Academy is proud to join the Campaign as a champion, led by our colleagues in the Weight Management DPG. WMDPG PAL, Nina Crowley PhD, RDN, LD and her executive team have set the wheels in motion to highlight the role RDNs and NDTRs play in obesity and weight management throughout the week. You can help! Be sure to like and share on social media and to sign up to take action during the week. You can follow the DPG at @WtMgmtDPG or follow the group on Facebook.

Obesity RDNs and Academy Member Experts Needed

The Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR) is recruiting Subject Matter Experts (SME) in obesity as well as expert facilitators to assist with the development and presentation of instructional content and adult learning-focused strategies for the Certificate of Training in Obesity Interventions for Adults.

Applications have rolling deadlines but applicants are encouraged to apply by October 28, 2018 to be considered for Winter/Spring 2018/2019 programs. Please click here to access the online recruitment application. In order to access the application, you will need to register by clicking on the green "register" tab in the upper right hand corner. Contact CRD for more information.

DPG PAL Monthly Call Update

The next DPG PAL call will be held in November, mark your calendar for November 29th which is later in the month due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Regulatory Roundup

A list of regulatory items, ordered by date, are available here. Check out the calendar for relevant meetings with remote access and open to the public.

View Regulatory Roundup

PALs, please plan to review the regulatory opportunities section each week and share the information with your executive board or team.

Action Center

An action alert is now open for the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act as part of National Obesity Care Week. Encourage your members to take action today! As a reminder, this bill allows for RDNs to independently provide and bill for intensive behavioral counseling for obesity in settings outside of primary care.

Another action alert will open prior to FNCE for malnutrition. We anticipate sending an all-member email on October 15 and sharing language that PPCs and PALs can post in their respective communication channels.

Thumbs Up

North Dakota Affiliate, ANDPAC Support Heitkamp

It's no surprise that the North Dakota affiliate has a great relationship with Senator Heidi Heitkamp -- they work hard to support her and to let her know she can rely on their expertise. Heitkamp, whose mother spent her career in school foodservice, has supported Academy initiatives such as SNAP and SNAP education and school food service equipment modernization to name a few.

"It is so good to know this support is there for such a strong supporter of nutrition programs, rural hospitals, SNAP and SNAP Education in the Farm Bill, prevention and other issues important to women," stated Karen Ehrens, RD, LRD, former LPPC chair and past candidate for the North Dakota legislature who is pictured with the senator at an event this week.

The affiliate asked for and received ANDPAC support to attend the event, an opportunity that is open to all Academy affiliates. Way to go!

The 2018 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™ (FNCE®) in Washington, D.C. is just around the corner! Thank you for agreeing to serve as a Moderator at our 2018 event, we hope your preparations are going well.

Below you will find the Moderator script that will be used to introduce your session and session speaker(s). IMPORTANT: if there is no speaker bio included below, or the one provided is too long, please contact that speaker or the session's program planner for an updated version.

MODERATOR SCRIPT

Please print and bring this script for use on-site.

SESSION INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the 2018 FNCE® Session titled: 265. The Journey to TEDx: From Expert Speaker to Inspirational Thought Leader

Please access the FNCE® Mobile app to view the session handouts, details and speaker information. Here, you will also respond to the session polling questions, if any, and submit your questions for the session's Question & Answer period. You may submit questions at any time throughout the presentation by selecting the ARS/Polling icon at the bottom of the session page within the mobile app.

- Optional - If your session will use polling, please read: “This presentation will ask polling questions. Once the polling question is activated, participate by selecting the ARS/Polling icon in the footer of this session’s page on the mobile app and select your answer choice”.

- Optional - If attendees are standing in the aisles or back of the room, please read: “due to D.C. fire code, all attendees must be seated; if you are sitting or standing near a wall or door, please find an available seat”.

SPEAKER INTRODUCTIONS

First, complete a brief introduction of yourself. Then proceed to the speaker(s) introduction below.

“It is now my pleasure to introduce today’s speaker(s) ... “

Name: Jill Castle

Bio: Jill Castle is one of the nation's premier childhood nutrition experts. Known as a paradigm shifter who blends current research, practical application and common sense, Jill makes audiences think differently about feeding kids. Jill takes a “whole-child” approach to showcase food, feeding and childhood development as the secret ingredients to raising a healthy child. A sought-after speaker and media contributor, Jill has inspired audiences including TEDx, American Academy of Pediatrics, WIC, university groups, and other nutrition, medical, government and parent audiences. Off the stage, Jill is the author and co-author of Eat Like a Champion and Fearless Feeding, respectively. She pens The Nourished Child blog, hosts a podcast of the same name, and contributes to US News & World Report’s For Parents blog. As a go-to resource for the media, she serves as nutrition advisor to Parents magazine and has appeared in The New York Times, WebMD, Fast Company, USA Today, CNN, the Wall Street Journal, Parents, and Parenting Magazine.

Name: Clancy Harrison

Bio: As a registered dietitian, TEDx speaker, and food justice advocate, Clancy Harrison challenges the way food insecurity is approached in the United States. Her mission to demolish the stigma surrounding food assistance programs places her on the cutting edge of advocacy. Clancy is a consultant and the creator of Ignite, a strategic program for organizations who want to shift how they approach nutrition education by making food access a priority for their clients. She has transformed the lives of thousands of people through her work with healthcare professionals, non-profit organizations, and universities. She has also served as a Food Service Director for Aramark and as the President of the West Side Food Pantry. She currently teaches at the Pennsylvania State University.

Clancy's humor, humility, honesty, and practical strategies combined with her research-based expertise make her a highly sought after speaker for Congressional Briefings, TV segments, and national keynotes. Clancy's ability to fuse real life experiences with statistics gives her audiences "permission" to experience profound shifts in their perceptions of hunger and poverty.

Subject: RE: Dayle's availability and plans for DC FNCE-PPW

Thank you, Dale and Donna for your times. We pulled the list of SNS members who have registered for the Public Policy Workshop, knowing this group was planning (at least when they registered for FNCE) to stay through Wednesday in DC. If there's a high-quality group of members on this list who would make for a good listening session, I think it might be easier for FNS to do Wednesday morning.

Dear SNS and Academy Colleagues:

Greetings from SC where We are trying to figure out our hurricane Michael plans!

I will be in DC starting in Thursday. Basically if Donna is available, so am I.

I have made plans to leave DC on Wednesday afternoon ... so Wednesday morning WILL work for me. (Jeanne ... I am working on hotel.)

Let me know how I can help with listening session.

Dear LAHIDAN Students and Members,

We are happy to invite you to join the 2018-2019 Mentoring Program. You will need to complete a quick form online; links are listed below.

Mentoring is accomplished through the mutually preferred means of communication between mentor and mentee throughout the academic year. The LAHIDAN Mentoring Program is intended to help both students and experienced professionals make the most of their careers.

This year, we will be providing 2 tracks of the program:

Internship Application Track: This track is for students who are applying for internships this year, 2018-2019. With guidance and a short document providing suggestions, the mentor will serve as an accountability partner and provide feedback on the personal statement and resume. Please find the guidance document provided for more details and explanations. This mentoring relationship is short-term, but many be continued beyond February if both individuals choose to do so.

Career Development Track: This track is for students, interns or new professionals. The mentor will provide the mentee guidance on how to enhance their skills and experiences to be more competitive for internships or future employment. As a mentor, you may share how you chose your first job or how you enhanced your skills through opportunities in your company or professional organization.

To sign up, complete the corresponding profile provided through the links below:

Mentor Profile

FNCE® 2018 is just around the corner!

Please be sure to stop by the LAHIDAN booth #3134.

DPG/MIG Showcase

Walter E. Washington Convention Center, Expo Hall B

Monday, October 22 from 9am - Noon

We've got a really great giveaway just waiting for you!

And then later that evening, come catch up with friends and network with peers at the LAHIDAN MIG Member Reception.

Hi Donna,

Looking forward to seeing you at FNCE and your session! We are working to set up the USDA listening session for child nutrition, which may be on Wednesday – we definitely want you there. Once we know the time and location, we will also work with SNS to get them at the table.

Clare Miller is transitioning off of the LPPC and I was wondering if you could make a recommendation for someone that would be able to cover USDA and child nutrition programs. We are looking at the interested parties list, but I thought I would check with you as well.

Talk to you soon!

Hi Lucille,

I am responding to your text, it got too long so I am emailing you instead. We also listened in on the Weight Watchers rebranding announcement and found the messaging to be just another opportunity to promote themselves in the wellness arena and move away from "weight" association. Since they employ many RDNs who work behind the scenes, we are always interested in the company's direction.

Many believe WW is trying to reach people regardless of how they are approaching wellness because the branding changes are in response to groups advocating for body positivity. This shift is being criticized as merely cloaking a weight-loss program in the language of wellness.

Here is what investors are saying:

- Weight Watchers growth could soon plateau and that explains why it is undertaking this metamorphosis.
- The new name also ruins decades' worth of brand building in exchange for generic messaging that might have little practical positive impact on membership growth and financial performance.
- WW is trying to make its programs resonate with those seeking health rather than weight loss and is still encouraging people to diet and use its programs to do so. By trying to please everyone, it might satisfy no one.

We will continue to keep an eye on WW, while working with them to employ more RDNs.

Pat

Ye gads! As I was reviewing your presentation for the Honors breakfast I noticed an anomaly in the awards for Excellence in Practice. NDTR is not a practice area but credential. I'm asking Barbara and Matthew to develop a recommendation to go from you to the Honors Committee and then to the Board. We can always do a mail Board vote. I'll talk with you about this when I see you.

Thanks!

Pat:

Thanks for letting Donna know. Please remember the practice areas, settings, and focus areas are all revised (we are testing them now that the BOD edited them at their May BOD meeting).

Thus there would actually be many more Excellence in Practice Awards if we follow the new practice areas/setting/focus. I'll leave that up to Honors Committee. Barbara

Thank you for the forwarding the letter. It is not about what you say, "changing it back," it is about moving it forward by aligning it with current practice areas, an update which has fallen through the cracks and is overdue. Please develop a recommendation for the Honors Committee (I'll inform Donna that it is coming) to change the Excellence in Practice award areas. As I look at the Compensation and Benefits Survey 2017 article, we ought to be consistent with the practice areas listed: clinical nutrition (acute care/inpatient, ambulatory care, long term care), community, food and nutrition management, consultation and business, and education and research. The committee obviously could further break these down, i.e., separate education and research.

In reference to the NDTR - - I note in the criteria for the current awards that the NDTR and RDN are eligible for all practice areas so separating out the NDTR poses a dilemma beyond the use of a credential. As I read the criteria, you are going against policy since the award was actually approved as Dietetic Technician, Registered and you are using NDTR. This is an issue on multiple levels since the NDTR was not initiated until 2013.

Pat:

Below is what Corinne received. As you can see below, Corrine has been notified of the award title "Excellence in Practice-Dietetic Technician," as it also appears in the Honors Breakfast script, the Journal, the award display at FNCE, the framed certificate already packed for FNCE, FNCE app, and in the online submission system.

We are more than happy to lead Honors Committee in changing it back for the 2019 award recipients. I attached the BOD agenda item of August 15-16, 2009 when the title was changed—Marty was the chair. I pulled the reason out of the attachment. It says: "The Excellence in Dietetic Technology Award title, in addition to some of the nomination form wording, was identified as ambiguous and a possible disincentive to qualified dietetic technicians, registered (DTRs) who would be potential candidates for the award. Committee members recommended renaming the award to Dietetic Technician, Registered Excellence in Practice Award and revising the nomination form to clarify the specificity of the award for excellence of service as a DTR".

Marty may remember further details more than I do.

Will you tell Donna you want the award title changed back to Dietetic Technology or should I reach out to her? My haste is that we need Honors Committee to agree to change this award title asap so that when we promote 2019 honors submission in November we would want to use the new title. Also it would need to be changed in the online submission system, website, etc.

Let me know, Barbara

Academy Honors and Awards

May 17, 2018

Dear Corinne,

On behalf of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' Board of Directors, we are pleased to inform you that you have been selected to receive the Academy's 2018 Excellence in Practice – Dietetic Technician, Registered award. This award recognizes an outstanding nutrition and dietetics technician, registered who has demonstrated excellence and leadership in this specific area of practice.

Your award will be presented at the Academy's 2018 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™ in Washington, D.C., at the "Summer Nutrition for Children: We All Have a Role to Play!" session on Sunday, October 21, 2018, 1:30 p.m. – 3 p.m. in the Walter E. Washington Convention Center, Room 144 ABC. Please prepare a 60-second acceptance speech in advance of the presentation. Additionally, we will provide one (1) complimentary guest pass for a non-member-eligible guest to attend your award presentation.

Additional information regarding FNCE® is attached for your review and more information will follow as it becomes available. The attached document also includes the specifications for a high-resolution color photo that we hope you will be able to provide for use on the FNCE® Digital Honors Display by June 15.

On behalf of the Academy's Board of Directors, congratulations on receiving this prestigious award.

Sincerely,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND President, 2017-2018

Mary Russell, MS, RDN, LDN, FAND

Hi Lucille,

I am responding to your text, it got too long so I am emailing you instead. We also listened in on the Weight Watchers rebranding announcement and found the messaging to be just another opportunity to promote themselves in the wellness arena and move away from “weight” association. Since they employ many RDNs who work behind the scenes, we are always interested in the company’s direction.

Many believe WW is trying to reach people regardless of how they are approaching wellness because the branding changes are in response to groups advocating for body positivity. This shift is being criticized as merely cloaking a weight-loss program in the language of wellness.

Here is what investors are saying:

- Weight Watchers growth could soon plateau and that explains why it is undertaking this metamorphosis.
- The new name also ruins decades’ worth of brand building in exchange for generic messaging that might have little practical positive impact on membership growth and financial performance.

Thanks so very much Donna. Just got news that she is out of surgery, everything went well & she was stable throughout after a partial hip replacement.

Amazing what they can do in less than 90 mins!!

The data on after effects of this surgery related to dementia (which she already has) is not encouraging and yet we will be positive and are so grateful for the success of the procedure!

Mary, I am so so sorry to hear about your Mom's fall. That is terrible news. It is never good timing for something like that to happen, but I am grateful it did not happen while you were at FNCE. I will pray for your Mom and you that everything goes as well as it can in this kind of situation.

Thanks for replying Donna-although my email address is correct for some reason I either overlooked or did not get Pat's message.

My mom fractured her hip in a fall yesterday so the day was rather fraught to say the least.

Hi Lucille,

I am responding to your text, it got too long so I am emailing you instead. We also listened in on the Weight Watchers rebranding announcement and found the messaging to be just another opportunity to promote themselves in the wellness arena and move away from “weight” association. Since they employ many RDNs who work behind the scenes, we are always interested in the company’s direction.

Many believe WW is trying to reach people regardless of how they are approaching wellness because the branding changes are in response to groups advocating for body positivity. This shift is being criticized as merely cloaking a weight-loss program in the language of wellness.

Here is what investors are saying:

- Weight Watchers growth could soon plateau and that explains why it is undertaking this metamorphosis.
- The new name also ruins decades’ worth of brand building in exchange for generic messaging that might have little practical positive impact on membership growth and financial performance.
- WW is trying to make its programs resonate with those seeking health rather than weight loss and is still encouraging people to diet and use its programs to do so. By trying to please everyone, it might satisfy no one.

We will continue to keep an eye on WW, while working with them to employ more RDNs.

Best regards,

Pat

Pearlie, That would at least get me home that night. Do you think there is any way that Dana would switch times with me? We have a dinner party to go to that night and that would get me home in time for that. If that does not work I will just skip the dinner. Thanks for your efforts and I hate being a pain. I did not know we have shifted times so my talk would not be over before lunch like usual.

Dear Donna Martin,

On behalf of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation's Board of Directors, thank you for your purchase of a Foundation Gala ticket (1) at 110. Your generous purchase of a gala ticket enables the Foundation to continue to provide scholarships, awards, research grants and public education campaigns such as Kids Eat Right.

Your ticket for the event will be under your name at the Foundation Booth located in the Grand Lobby at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center. You may pick up your ticket beginning Saturday, October 20th until Monday, October 22 at 12 noon. After that time, tickets will be held at the entrance to the event.

The event is taking place in the Marquis Ballroom from 8:00-10:00 pm and is a reception style format. You will enjoy hors d'oeuvres, live music and dancing. Cocktail attire is encouraged.

If you need additional information contact Martha Ontiveros at the Foundation at 1-800-877-1600 or foundation@eatright.org.

Sincerely,
Martin M. Yadrick, MBI, MS, RDN, FAND

Hi Pat,

The book is scheduled to come out October 30 and we requested an advance copy but may not get it because as you know, Marion is one of our biggest critics. This will again stir up the industry funded research and disclosure issue.

Here is an advance review:

<https://www.kirkusreviews.com/book-reviews/marion-nestle/unsavory-truth/>

Nestle (Emerita, Nutrition, Food Studies, and Public Health/New York Univ.; Big Soda Politics: Taking on Big Soda (and Winning), 2015, etc.), who has a doctorate in molecular biology and a master's degree in public health nutrition and has conducted decades of research into food producers, is perfectly positioned for this topic. She makes the convincing case that because so much of the research is paid for by industries that benefit from the results, buyers should interpret the results skeptically. Many of Nestle's previous books, articles, and academic studies focused on specific types of food. Here, the author turns her attention to large corporations, investigating why they pay for supposedly independent researchers, why the quality of the research might be compromised by conflicts of interests, how consumers can separate reliable science from compromised science, and why consumers should lobby legislators, government regulatory agencies, and universities for reforms regarding the disclosure of conflicts. Nestle emphasizes research paid for and disseminated by the sugar/candy industry, producers of dairy foods, marketers of meat, and—in its own chapter, “A Case Study in Itself”—the soda giant Coca-Cola. Since the author is a prolific nutrition researcher who has accepted funding that could involve conflicts of interest, she admirably scrutinizes her own policies of funding and how she discloses it. Ultimately, researchers must act as ethicists as well as scientists. When her own studies and those of fellow researchers become marketing tools for multinational conglomerates, the author admits that she feels queasy about how consumers might be misled by the marketing. On the other hand, she writes, some studies paid for by industry can be trusted scientifically—and be marketed and advertised responsibly.

Hello again!

Unsavory Truth: How Food Companies Skew the Science of What We Eat

by Marion Nestle

Publication release expected 10/30/18 by Basic Books

Milton called me to bring this book to our attention-I believe I have heard about it before and would appreciate a "refresh" if we have discussed.

He said they have discussed at his job.

Industry and the Academy do not fare well in the book, he says. He does not have a copy and laughed off my question if he has been a reviewer (!! ) or had seen the book. Apparently the messages are not new

He suggested that we try to obtain an advance copy so we are ready when this item (which apparently is a pre-release best seller) hits the "shelves" and can be purchased online.

He is not asking for a specific action by us.

Thanks Doris and Pat for any heads up you can offer us.

On Tuesday, October 2, you received a communication from Marcy Kyle regarding a Designer Team charged with developing model(s) based on the outputs of the HOD meeting. HLT will designate the HLT BOD member to be included on this team composed of 7-9 members. Mary Russell has appointed Cathy Christie and Kevin Sauer to represent the Board; both Cathy and Kevin were excited to accept. Cathy's participation as treasurer-elect will add value as the cost of the model(s) will be addressed by the team. The Designer Team will submit a written report with initial proposed option(s) to the House Leadership Team by January 2, 2019. The final recommendation, after further House discussion, will be forwarded to the Board for approval.

Subject: House of Delegates Evolution Designers: Please Complete Survey

Importance: High

A communication from Marcia A Kyle, RDN, LDN, CDE, FAND, Speaker for the Academy House of Delegates follows below.

The House Leadership Team (HLT) is looking forward to the upcoming dialogue at the fall HOD meeting around designing a governance approach that is fast, fluid and flexible, produces visionary and meaningful outcomes and utilizes new ways to engage members and other key stakeholders. What an exciting opportunity to be architects of the future of the HOD! At the end of the meeting we expect to have come to consensus on the features of a model for further exploration that position the HOD to best execute its desired role. The outputs of the meeting will be turned over to a team of “Designers” charged with developing model(s) for further vetting by the HOD.

What are we looking for in Designers?

- Members of the Academy Board of Directors (will include at least 1 member of the HLT)
- Current Delegates
- Diversity/inclusivity
- Individuals available to meet by conference call every other week or weekly October 29 – January 3, and continue thereafter until at least the spring HOD meeting.
- Individuals were able to attend the entire HOD Fall Meeting Dialogue on Leading Together for Good Governance

We want to hit the ground running immediately following the HOD meeting. So please let us know if you are interested in serving as a Designer by completing the following survey by October 12:

HOD Evolution Designers Application

The HLT will review all applications and appoint Designers by the fall HOD meeting. Questions? Contact hod@eatright.org. I look forward to having some of you apply to help us with this important work. -Marcy

Pat:

Thanks for letting Donna know. Please remember the practice areas, settings, and focus areas are all revised (we are testing them now that the BOD edited them at their May BOD meeting).

Thus there would actually be many more Excellence in Practice Awards if we follow the new practice areas/setting/focus. I'll leave that up to Honors Committee. Barbara

Thank you for the forwarding the letter. It is not about what you say, "changing it back," it is about moving it forward by aligning it with current practice areas, an update which has fallen through the cracks and is overdue. Please develop a recommendation for the Honors Committee (I'll inform Donna that it is coming) to change the Excellence in Practice award areas. As I look at the Compensation and Benefits Survey 2017 article, we ought to be consistent with the practice areas listed: clinical nutrition (acute care/inpatient, ambulatory care, long term care), community, food and nutrition management, consultation and business, and education and research. The committee obviously could further break these down, i.e., separate education and research.

In reference to the NDTR - - I note in the criteria for the current awards that the NDTR and RDN are eligible for all practice areas so separating out the NDTR poses a dilemma beyond the use of a credential. As I read the criteria, you are going against policy since the award was actually approved as Dietetic Technician, Registered and you are using NDTR. This is an issue on multiple levels since the NDTR was not initiated until 2013.

Pat:

Below is what Corinne received. As you can see below, Corrine has been notified of the award title "Excellence in Practice-Dietetic Technician," as it also appears in the Honors Breakfast script, the Journal, the award display at FNCE, the framed certificate already packed for FNCE, FNCE app, and in the online submission system.

We are more than happy to lead Honors Committee in changing it back for the 2019 award recipients. I attached the BOD agenda item of August 15-16, 2009 when the title was changed—Marty was the chair. I pulled the reason out of the attachment. It says: "The Excellence in Dietetic Technology Award title, in addition to some of the nomination form wording, was identified as ambiguous and a possible disincentive to qualified dietetic technicians, registered (DTRs) who would be potential candidates for the award. Committee members recommended renaming the award to Dietetic Technician, Registered Excellence in Practice Award and revising the nomination form to clarify the specificity of the award for excellence of service as a DTR".

Marty may remember further details more than I do.

Will you tell Donna you want the award title changed back to Dietetic Technology or should I reach out to her? My haste is that we need Honors Committee to agree to change this award title asap so that when we promote 2019 honors submission in November we would want to use the new title. Also it would need to be changed in the online submission system, website, etc.

Let me know, Barbara

Academy Honors and Awards

Dear Corinne,

On behalf of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' Board of Directors, we are pleased to inform you that you have been selected to receive the Academy's 2018 Excellence in Practice – Dietetic Technician, Registered award. This award recognizes an outstanding nutrition and dietetics technician, registered who has demonstrated excellence and leadership in this specific area of practice.

Your award will be presented at the Academy's 2018 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™ in Washington, D.C., at the "Summer Nutrition for Children: We All Have a Role to Play!" session on Sunday, October 21, 2018, 1:30 p.m. – 3 p.m. in the Walter E. Washington Convention Center, Room 144 ABC. Please prepare a 60-second acceptance speech in advance of the presentation. Additionally, we will provide one (1) complimentary guest pass for a non-member-eligible guest to attend your award presentation.

Additional information regarding FNCE® is attached for your review and more information will follow as it becomes available. The attached document also includes the specifications for a high-resolution color photo that we hope you will be able to provide for use on the FNCE® Digital Honors Display by June 15.

On behalf of the Academy's Board of Directors, congratulations on receiving this prestigious award.

Sincerely,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND President, 2017-2018

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

A Message from President Mary Russell, MS, RDN, LDN, FAND

The recently published Global Leadership Initiative on Malnutrition diagnostic approach has been met with global excitement, as clinicians around the world are recognizing this effort will allow a uniform approach to diagnosing malnutrition. The GLIM approach includes a set of readily available criteria that can be used in combination with existing diagnostic approaches including the Academy/ASPEN malnutrition consensus characteristics. The GLIM approach does not replace the Academy/ASPEN methodology at this time, but may be used in conjunction with it. Efforts are underway to conduct validation studies of the GLIM construct using existing global databases. Academy and ASPEN members will be kept up to date as this important work continues.

HHS Announces Plans to Divert Public Health and Medical Research Funds

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services plans to transfer $266 million to accommodate cost increases associated with unaccompanied children and their families at the Office of Refugee Resettlement. Funds will be directed from public health and medical research to respond to the number of unaccompanied children created by the administration's family separation policy. The Academy and other organizations are urging HHS Secretary Alex Azar to make public the funding plan for the family separation policy; and we encourage Congress to provide funding to ensure the health and well-being of children and families in HHS's care.

Proposed DHS Rule Restricts Nutrition and Health Programs for Immigrants

The Department of Homeland Security issued its anticipated "Public Charge" proposed rule, which would restrict immigrant families (including citizen children) from using essential public services including non-emergency Medicaid, Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, Medicare Part D Low-Income Subsidy and housing assistance, such as public housing or Section 8 housing vouchers and rental assistance. The Women, Infant and Children Program was not included in the proposed restrictions which will be subject to public comment before being finalized.

President Signs Spending Package

President Trump has signed the Labor-HHS/Defense/CR minibus spending package. The bill includes a continuing resolution through December 7 for seven unfinished spending bills: Agriculture-FDA; Commerce-Justice-Science; Financial Services; Homeland Security; Interior-Environment; State and Foreign Operations; and Transportation-HUD. The Labor-HHS/Defense/CR bill includes increased funding for health-related agencies that house nutrition programs including the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the Prevention and Public Health Fund and the Administration on Community Living.

USDA Offers Assurances after Farm Bill Expires

House and Senate Agriculture Committee leaders were unable to reach a compromise on a new farm bill before the current bill expired September 30. USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue offered assurance that key programs and services such as SNAP benefits will remain in place despite the end of the fiscal year, but questions remain about how more than 40 programs that no longer have funding will be managed. The House is in recess until after the midterm elections; however, speculation is that Congress may pass a compromise during the post-election lame duck session.

Pledge to Take Action: Obesity Care Week

The fourth annual National Obesity Care Week, October 7 to 13, seeks to ignite a national movement to ensure anyone affected by obesity receives respectful and comprehensive care. The Academy is proud to join the campaign, which was founded by the Obesity Action Coalition, American Society for Metabolic and Bariatric Surgery, Obesity Medicine Association, The Obesity Society and Strategies to Overcome and Prevent Obesity Alliance. Academy members are encouraged to sign up and take action during the week.

A communication from Marcia A Kyle, RDN, LDN, CDE, FAND, Speaker for the Academy House of Delegates follows below.

The House Leadership Team (HLT) is looking forward to the upcoming dialogue at the fall HOD meeting around designing a governance approach that is fast, fluid and flexible, produces visionary and meaningful outcomes and utilizes new ways to engage members and other key stakeholders. What an exciting opportunity to be architects of the future of the HOD! At the end of the meeting we expect to have come to consensus on the features of a model for further exploration that position the HOD to best execute its desired role. The outputs of the meeting will be turned over to a team of "Designers" charged with developing model(s) for further vetting by the HOD.

What are we looking for in Designers?

- Members of the Academy Board of Directors (will include at least 1 member of the HLT)
- Current Delegates
- Diversity/inclusivity
- Individuals available to meet by conference call every other week or weekly October 29 – January 3, and continue thereafter until at least the spring HOD meeting.
- Individuals were able to attend the entire HOD Fall Meeting Dialogue on Leading Together for Good Governance

We want to hit the ground running immediately following the HOD meeting. So please let us know if you are interested in serving as a Designer by completing the following survey by October 12:

HOD Evolution Designers Application

The HLT will review all applications and appoint Designers by the fall HOD meeting. Questions? Contact hod@eatright.org. I look forward to having some of you apply to help us with this important work. -Marcy

Best regards,

Any time Pat - good strategy is needed - there are some great choices. I assume that Kevin is available as he was not on the nomination interview list?

A communication from Marcia A Kyle, RDN, LDN, CDE, FAND, Speaker for the Academy House of Delegates follows below.

The House Leadership Team (HLT) is looking forward to the upcoming dialogue at the fall HOD meeting around designing a governance approach that is fast, fluid and flexible, produces visionary and meaningful outcomes and utilizes new ways to engage members and other key stakeholders. What an exciting opportunity to be architects of the future of the HOD! At the end of the meeting we expect to have come to consensus on the features of a model for further exploration that position the HOD to best execute its desired role. The outputs of the meeting will be turned over to a team of "Designers" charged with developing model(s) for further vetting by the HOD.

What are we looking for in Designers?

- Members of the Academy Board of Directors (will include at least 1 member of the HLT)
- Current Delegates

- Diversity/inclusivity
- Individuals available to meet by conference call every other week or weekly October 29 – January 3, and continue thereafter until at least the spring HOD meeting.
- Individuals were able to attend the entire HOD Fall Meeting Dialogue on Leading Together for Good Governance

We want to hit the ground running immediately following the HOD meeting. So please let us know if you are interested in serving as a Designer by completing the following survey by October 12:

HOD Evolution Designers Application

The HLT will review all applications and appoint Designers by the fall HOD meeting. Questions? Contact hod@eatright.org. I look forward to having some of you apply to help us with this important work. -Marcy

A communication from Marcia A Kyle, RDN, LDN, CDE, FAND, Speaker for the Academy House of Delegates follows below.

The House Leadership Team (HLT) is looking forward to the upcoming dialogue at the fall HOD meeting around designing a governance approach that is fast, fluid and flexible, produces visionary and meaningful outcomes and utilizes new ways to engage members and other key stakeholders. What an exciting opportunity to be architects of the future of the HOD! At the end of the meeting we expect to have come to consensus on the features of a model for further exploration that position the HOD to best execute its desired role. The outputs of the meeting will be turned over to a team of "Designers" charged with developing model(s) for further vetting by the HOD.

What are we looking for in Designers?

- Members of the Academy Board of Directors (will include at least 1 member of the HLT)
- Current Delegates
- Diversity/inclusivity
- Individuals available to meet by conference call every other week or weekly October 29 – January 3, and continue thereafter until at least the spring HOD meeting.
- Individuals were able to attend the entire HOD Fall Meeting Dialogue on Leading Together for Good Governance

We want to hit the ground running immediately following the HOD meeting. So please let us know if you are interested in serving as a Designer by completing the following survey by October 12:

Hi Donna,

Are you available Thursday, October 11th to join us for an exclusive driving experience at Autobahn Country Club? I wanted to personally reach out and make sure you got an invitation before the event fills up as this tends to fill up quickly.

We are bringing together RingCentral customers and leaders from the Chicago metro area to network, share stories, and rip around the track like Dale Earnhardt in the exotic car of your choice. In addition, we'll share how RingCentral's unified cloud communications solve managing multiple vendors, connecting mobile employees and optimizing communication costs.

When:

Thursday, October 11th at 10:00am CST

Where:

Autobahn Country Club
3795 Centerpoint Way
Joliet, IL 60436

Please let me know if this is something you would like to attend as we only have 5 spots remaining.

RSVP by replying to this message.

We look forward to connecting!

Cheers,

Dan

Marsha,

Is there a limit to how many designers are sought from BOD members? “ At least one member of HLT “ is a Board member so please clarify. Thanks.

USDA Offers Assurance after Farm Bill Expires

House and Senate Agriculture Committee leaders were unable to reach a compromise on a new farm bill before the expiration of the current bill on September 30. Agriculture Secretary Sonny Perdue offered assurance that key programs and services such as SNAP benefits will remain in place despite the end of the fiscal year, but many are questioning how over 40 programs that no longer have funding will be managed. The House is in recess until after the mid-terms elections, however there is speculation that Congress may pass a compromise during the lame duck session.

Labor-HHS/ Defense Spending Bill Signed into Law

The Labor-HHS/Defense/CR minibus spending package has been signed into law by President Trump. The bill included a continuing resolution through December 7 for seven unfinished spending bills: Agriculture-FDA; Commerce-Justice-Science; Financial Services; Homeland Security; Interior-Environment; State and Foreign Operations; and Transportation-HUD. The Labor-HHS/Defense/CR bill includes increased funding for health-related agencies that house nutrition programs including the CDC, the Prevention and Public Health Fund, and the Administration on Community Living.

The bill increases funding by $10 million for the Older Americans Act Title IIIC nutrition programs for FY2019, including $5 million respectively for congregate and home-delivered meals. Funding for USDA nutrition programs is included in the continuing resolution at FY 2018 levels.

DHS Proposed Rule Restricts Nutrition and Health Programs for Immigrants

The Department of Homeland Security issued the anticipated "Public Charge" proposed rule, which would restrict immigrant families (including citizen children) from using essential public services including non-emergency Medicaid, Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), Medicare Part D Low Income Subsidy, and housing assistance, such as public housing or Section 8 housing vouchers and rental assistance. The Women, Infant and Children Program was not included in the proposed restrictions which will be subject to public comment, including those of the Academy, before being finalized.

Food Loss and Waste Solutions Examined

A Congressional briefing last week hosted by the Council for Agricultural Science and Technology highlighted a new issue paper— Food Loss and Waste, part of 'The Need For Agricultural Innovation to Sustainably Feed the World by 2020" series.

The topic was timely considering the recent release of the SDG Target 12.3 On Food Loss and Waste 2018 Progress Report. The report examines efforts toward the United Nations General Assembly 17 Sustainable Development Goals adopted in 2015 which include halving food waste and reducing food losses worldwide by 2030. The United Kingdom recently announced it will also dedicate more funding to addressing food loss and waste.

Further discussion on the topic of food loss and waste will occur on October 17th, when the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine's Science and Technology for Sustainability program will host a workshop.

The Academy continues to collaborate with Further with Food to advocate for reduced food loss and waster. Sign up to receive a newsletter and updates on resources.

Malnutrition Week Receives Support from Members of Congress

Several members of Congress including Senators Patty Murray (Wash.) and Bob Casey (Pa.) and Tim Kaine (Va.) issued public statements during Malnutrition Awareness Week. Representatives Suzanne Bonamici (Ore.), Rosa De Lauro (Conn.), Lynn Jenkins (Kan.), Norma Torres (Calif.) also offered statements in the Congressional Record supporting the need for increased awareness.

The Academy will focus on malnutrition during the upcoming Public Policy Workshop and recently conducted a spotlight on the issue

PCOS Awareness Increased During Bipartisan Congressional Briefing

Rep. Roger Marshall, MD an obstetrician (Kan.), and Rep. David Scott (Ga.) hosted a Congressional briefing to raise public awareness about polycystic ovary syndrome, which affects 5 to 10% of women many of whom are undiagnosed. An expert panel noted that PCOS increases the risk of obesity, metabolic syndrome, diabetes, infertility, depression and other associated diagnoses. Nutrition counseling by registered dietitian nutritionists and screening for diabetes and pre-diabetes were noted as the first line of defense at the event attended by the Academy. Improved access to care and additional research were identified by the speakers as opportunities for advocacy.

Member Updates

Advocacy Day Promotes Treat and Reduce Obesity Act

The Academy once again joined with members of the Obesity Care and Advocacy Network to advocate for intensive behavioral therapy to be accessible outside of primary care physicians offices and for RDNs and other CMS providers to be able to independently bill for the service. The Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, HR 1953 and S 830, also would allow for coverage of obesity medications through Medicare Part D. A recent analysis suggests that the bill would generate between $18 and $23 billion in savings over the next 10 years.

National Academies Workshop on the Global Obesity Pandemic - Register

On October 9, the Roundtable on Obesity Solutions will host a workshop to explore the current state of obesity globally, global prevention and treatment efforts, and the complexity of the global approach to managing the obesity epidemic. The workshop, available as a webcast, will include perspectives on the implications of obesity as a global problem for prevention and treatment efforts in the US, with an emphasis on reducing disparities.

Pledge to Take Action During Obesity Care Week

The 4th Annual National Obesity Care Week will take place Sunday October 7th through Saturday October 13th, and seeks to ignite a national movement to ensure anyone affected by obesity receives respectful and comprehensive care. The Academy is proud to join the Campaign, which was founded by the Obesity Action Coalition, the American Society for Metabolic and Bariatric Surgery, the Obesity Medicine Association, The Obesity Society (TOS) and Strategies to Overcome and Prevent Obesity Alliance. Members are encouraged to sign up to take action during the week.

Obesity RDNs and Academy Member Experts Needed

The Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR) is recruiting Subject Matter Experts (SME) in obesity as well as expert facilitators to assist with the development and presentation of instructional content and adult learning-focused strategies for the Certificate of Training in Obesity Interventions for Adults.

Applications have rolling deadlines but applicants are encouraged to apply by October 28, 2018 to be considered for Winter/Spring 2018/2019 programs. Please click here to access the online recruitment application. In order to access the application, you will need to register by clicking on the green "register" tab in the upper right hand corner. Contact CRD for more information.

Therapeutic Diet Order Information Now Available

The Academy's consumer protection and licensure website now includes an interactive map for therapeutic diet orders indicating relevant statutes and regulations along with a brief analysis for each state. CPCs are encouraged to become familiar with their relevant state regulations and statutes, including the interpretation of the extent of their scope of practice and to share the information with other policy panel leaders and members.

Have You Considered Running? Maybe You Should

We aren't talking about exercise, but you may need a good pair of running shoes nonetheless. Having dietitians in high level positions and in public office is good for the profession and good for public health. This year at FNCE, attend the Run Like a Girl: Getting Elected to Public Office session to hear from members who are stepping up to represent.

One candidate, Felicia Stoler, is running for the U.S. House of Representatives in New Jersey. Her story shared in the article "Is There a Dietitian in the House of Representatives?" may inspire you to consider how you can make a difference.

Join ANDPAC at an open house and reception at the hub of nutrition policy and advocacy – the Academy's Washington, D.C. office, on October 20th from 1 – 3 p.m. Eastern Time. Guests of honor include registered dietitian nutritionists, including Stoler, who are running for public office or who have worked on Capitol Hill. Sign up through your FNCE® 2018 registration and by making a $50 ANDPAC contribution or contact us to RSVP.

Regulatory Roundup

DPG PAL Monthly Call Update

The next DPG PAL call will be held in November. PALs should plan to attend the DPG Policy and Advocacy Forum on Monday, October 22 from 8 - 9:30 a.m. at FNCE® in the WEWCC Room 101.

Regulatory Roundup

The Academy has an opportunity to shape and revise regulations by submitting comments to federal agencies. A list of regulatory items, ordered by date, are available here.

Additionally, starting this month we've added calendar containing all relevant meetings with remote access. All meeting are open to the public. You will find the calendar with hyperlinked events at the end of the Regulatory Roundup.

View Regulatory Roundup

PALs, please plan to review the regulatory opportunities section each week and share the information with your executive board or team.

Action Center

Action Alerts Planned for FNCE and Public Policy Workshop

Watch for action alert to open next week for malnutrition and other important legislation. PPCs and PALs, please alert your communication teams to plan for the campaign. Communication language will be shared for posting to your web pages and communication channels.

Nomination Notices

Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee

CDC is seeking nominations for membership on the Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee. The HICPAC was chartered to provide advice and guidance to CDC regarding the practice of infection control and strategies for surveillance, prevention, and control of healthcare-associated infections, antimicrobial resistance, and related events in United States healthcare settings.

Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest and basis for nomination Mark Rifkin.

PALs, please plan to review the nomination opportunities section and share the information with your executive board or team.

FNCE/Public Policy Workshop

Consumer Protection and Licensure Coordinators – RSVP Now for FNCE Event

The annual Consumer Protection and Licensure Forum will once again be held at FNCE. Representatives from each affiliate gather for a discussion around timely issues or initiatives, network with other affiliate policy leaders, and ask questions of Academy staff at the event.

The session, Protecting the Public and Enhancing Care: Resources for Licensure Challenges and Opportunities in 2018, will be held Sunday, October 21 from 8 – 9:30 a.m. in WEWCC Room 101. Receive the first access to new resources to support your important CPC work, and brainstorm how to use these tools in your state.

CPCs are asked to RSVP for the event; those CPCs not able to attend this session are asked to designate an alternate from your affiliate public policy panel and have them RSVP.

Award for Grassroots Excellence and Public Policy Leadership Award Winners Announced

The Academy's board of directors recently named Lesley McPhatter, MS, RDN, CSR, as the recipient of the 2018 Award for Grassroots Excellence. She is a member of the Virginia Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and has significant volunteer leadership experience in policy and advocacy.

Betty McCollum (Minn.) was named as the recipient of the 2018 Public Policy Leadership Award. Rep. McCollum has a long history of support for Academy issues, including child nutrition, health care, and senior nutrition. She has long been in support of federal nutrition programs and nutrition education programs. Rep. McCollum was nominated by the Minnesota affiliate.

The awards will be presented as part of PPW 2018.

PPW Bootcamp: Prep for Policy Leaders

One bootcamp session remains and will be an in-person session on October 23 from 10 a.m. to noon at FNCE®. P PCs and PALs: Register today for PPW Boot Camp Session 3 – Leading the Charge.

The agenda for the meeting is available on the COI. Hill visit folders will be distributed during the meeting.

PPC and PAL Check In -- Wednesday, October 3 at 12 Noon (Eastern Time)

A question and answer session has been scheduled to assist PPCs and PALS with PPW preparation. Lines will be muted upon joining the call. Enter questions in the chat box or use the "raise your hand" function and your line will be unmuted.

Wednesday, October 3 from 12 Noon to 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Tip: Click on the Webex link to add the meeting to your calendar.

Join Webex meeting

Meeting number: 745 396 236

Meeting password: PPW2018

Important Note: PPCs should plan to meet up with their teams for an informal breakfast on October 24 from 7-8:30 a.m if necessary. These must be scheduled by the PPC and communicated to your constituents. Plan to meet in one of the hotels, the cafeterias on the Senate or House side or perhaps at Union station depending on the size of your group. As a reminder, we do not have face time with your affiliate's attendees scheduled into the PPW agenda.

Prep Sessions for PPW Attendees Completed -- Advanced Readings Offered

The two online preparatory webinars have been recorded and are available on the PPW COI. In addition to the webinars, an advanced reading packet is available for download. The advanced reading materials offer 2.5 hours of CPEU.

All members who have signed up for PPW through the FNCE® registration process are expected to attend PPW prep sessions. PPCs will be actively removing members who are not engaging in PPW preparation.

You don't want to miss this.

Dear Donna,

Congratulations on being a top ANDPAC donor! We are very excited to announce that we are offering our top donors "VIP treatment" at FNCE®.

As a President's Circle level donor, we thank you for your generous contribution to ANDPAC! We are offering the following perks especially for you!

VIP Suite:

You will receive access to a VIP suite reserved for ANDPAC and Academy Foundation Top Donors where you can kick back, relax and enjoy complementary snacks and beverages in the Walter E. Washington Convention Center (WEWCC), East Overlook. The suite will also have computers, printing, internet, TV and couches. Top donors are allowed to bring one friend or colleague with them to the VIP suite.

VIP Suite Operating Hours:

Saturday: 1 -- 4 pm

Sunday: 8 am -- 5 pm

Monday: 8 am – 5 pm

Tuesday: 8 am – 4 pm

ANDPAC Top Donor Reception:

On Sunday October 21, we will be offering a complimentary reception from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. in WEWCC room 301 to say thank you for your generous support of ANDPAC. Join us for an exclusive meet and greet with the ANDPAC Board and members of the Academy's Board of Directors.

ANDPAC Events at FNCE:

It's not too late to register for ANDPAC events at FNCE. Join us for an Open House and Reception at the Academy's Washington Office on Saturday, October 20 from 1 to 3 p.m. with a $50 contribution.

For a night on the town, meet me at the ANDPAC Signature Event at the Reserve Officers Association to celebrate the largest-ever Public Policy Workshop. The semi-formal reception will be held on Tuesday, October 23, 2018 in Washington, D.C at the Reserve Officers Association, with views of the Capitol, located near the senate office buildings and requires advanced registration. Tickets are still available for the event with a $125 contribution to ANDPAC.

Please let me know if you need additional information! ANDPAC has done exceptional things this year, your support truly does make a difference!

See you in Washington, D.C!

Sincerely,

Trisha Fuhrman, MS, RDN, LD, FAND, FASPEN
2018 Chair, ANDPAC Board of Directors

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee is a separate segregated fund of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics used to support candidates and elected officials. Academy members are not required to contribute to ANDPAC and there is no reprisal for not contributing. Amounts recommended for contribution in Academy publications are merely suggestions and there is no minimum contribution level.

Federal law requires political committees to report to Federal Election Commission the name, mailing address, occupation and name of employer for each individual whose contributions aggregate in excess of $200.00 in a calendar year. Corporate contributions are prohibited by law. Individuals can not contribute more than $5000 per calendar year to the same political action committee. Donations to ANDPAC are not tax deductible.

Dear Marsha,

Could you go through the article published via the link below. I think the Academy should look into the write up.

I believe it should also be of interest to members of ICDA.

Residency and specialties training in nutrition:a call for action

Residency and specialties training in nutrition: a call for action

Despite evidence that nutrition interventions reduce morbidity and mortality, malnutrition, including obesity, remains highly prevalent in hospitals and plays a major role in nearly every major chronic disease that afflicts patients. Physicians recog

At this point there are under 10 comments on the HOD community, and the delegates seem open to discussing change. All of the comments received to date are attached. I have requested that Marsha send me the document from which Joan Frank is quoting. I'm thinking it is from their orientation packet, and hoping it is out of context. Governing the profession is confusing enough without this statement. I'll share the document with you prior to our call tomorrow.

Have a good day!

Subject: Two comments from HoD dialogue

Good morning,

These two comments, part of the discussion re the HoD Mega Issue, caught my attention.

"Thank you for reaching out Laurie and thank you Shelly for bringing up issues related to the HOD and concerns of the membership.

Laurie - you ask...

- In what way(s) do you want to share your input for use by the HOD as it addresses issues facing the profession?

In the Academy's "Overview of the HOD," under the "representative of" description as referred to by Shelly...the very last line states:

"Elected leaders who are part of national governance bodies (i.e. board of directors) have a clear understanding of this distinction. Effective leaders in the HOD represent the best interests of the organization."

This is the conflict...the HOD is asking for input on "issues facing the profession;" however, ultimately, the HOD "represent(s) the best interests of the organization."

The membership's concern is that decisions are made in the best interest of the organization and not in the best interest of us, the membership and our profession."

Respectfully,

Joan Frank

"Dear Phyllis et al.,

Respectfully, I think that by connecting the ADA/AND and RDN/RD you/we do not increase clarity, but rather add to the muddiness of an organization that continues to struggle to make its brand known to the public at large. There is no reason that you - or any of us for that matter - should have to demystify, decode, define our professional organization or our professional credentials. In my limited opinion, that is charge #1 for our professional organization.

Sincerely,

Shelly"

This is to let you know that contracts for the November 1-3, 2018 program will be distributed by the end of next week. The program will be held at Wyndham Grand Pittsburgh Downtown, located at 600 Commonwealth Place, Pittsburgh, PA 15222. Attached is a draft agenda. Please note that we will be beginning the program at 1:00 pm on Thursday, November 1, 2018 to allow participant's to travel in on November 1 due to Halloween.

You have been authorized to book your flight to Pittsburgh. Instructions to book travel is located below. The hotel is 17 miles from Pittsburgh International Airport.

As we discussed on the teleconference, we will plan to have a group dinner meeting on Friday, November 2, 2018 to discuss the program objectives. We will provide additional hotel accommodations to allow all faculty members to attend this meeting if you are available to come in early or remain an extra night. Please inform me of your travel plans once they have been finalized so I can make sure you have proper hotel accommodations.

In order for your airfare to be charged to the Academy credit card on file, you must have an active Traveler Profile in Deem@work® (formerly aXiom), the online booking tool for the Academy Travel Desk. Instructions to book travel are included below.

If you do NOT have a traveler profile, please let me know, and I will request for an activation email to be sent to you from Deem@work within two (2) business days prompting you to complete your profile.

If you do not wish to create a profile, you will have to book your travel on your own and submit your expenses for reimbursement after the program. NOTE: Any ticket purchase that is over the Academy Limit of $600 will still need to be receive prior approval or you might not be reimbursed for your travel.

Dear Contributing Authors:

It's time for another update regarding a group photo at FNCE. To date, I have heard from all but 7 of you, so if you haven't yet completed the survey, please do so:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/RSKNHDP>

A total of 35 of those responding are planning to attend the conference and would like to participate in a photo. Three times are most convenient: Sunday at 11:45 a.m., Monday at 9:40 a.m., and Monday at 12:15 p.m. (with this day and time selected the most). There are only two people who did not indicate availability at one of those times. I am proposing that we reserve two times to take a photo and ask everyone to come to one or the other time and we will use both photos, potentially putting them together.

Please put these times on your FNCE schedule:

Sunday, October 21st at 11:45 a.m.

Monday, October 22nd at 12:15 p.m.

If you did not indicate that you would be available at one of these times, please recheck your availability and let me know if either one might work. We do not want to leave anyone out.

I will plan to send reminders as well as provide you with the specific location for the photo shoot before and during FNCE.

All the best,

Barb Mayfield

Dear Contributing Authors,

I want to give you an update on the survey about the group photo at FNCE. As of this morning, 38 of you have completed the survey. Of these 38, 27 are attending FNCE. Everyone is interested in a group photo if the day and time are convenient. So far, three days/times are in front, but just barely. Sunday @ 11:45 a.m. works for 16 people, and Monday at 9:40 or at 12:15 both work for 15 people. It is our hope that we could get at least half of all of the authors in the photo, which would be a total of 28. If you haven't yet completed the survey, please do so today or tomorrow if possible. It takes just a couple of minutes. Here is the link:

Subject: Group Photo for Nutrition Communication Authors at FNCE

Dear Contributing Authors:

It is our hope that a large enough group will be able to gather this year at FNCE to take a group photo, which we will put in the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Guide to Nutrition Communication when it is published next year. I have created a short survey to find out if you are attending (or will be in the area) and if so when you could be available for a group photo. Please complete the survey even if you are NOT attending so that we know we have complete information.

This survey will take you only a couple of minutes to complete. I have listed several times each day that have the fewest conflicts with other events. We will select a location in the convention center in which a badge will not be required and is also accessible to other sessions within 10 minutes or less. If everyone is timely, taking the photo should take less than 15 minutes, allowing you to make it to your next event. Please respond within the next 5-7 days so that we can move forward with setting it up. As soon as we know the details we will send out another email for you to put it on your calendar.

Here is the survey link. Please let me know if you encounter any problems or if you have any questions.

Meet the Academy Foundation Fellows at FNCE

Join us on Sunday, October 21 from 10:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. ET at session 343:
Expanding Horizons: RDN Fellows Advancing Strategies to Address Global Malnutrition (Room 143 ABC) to hear how two Foundation Fellows are accelerating progress in ending malnutrition in Guatemala.

Immediately following the session, join us for light refreshments in room 156 for an opportunity to meet and hear from all of our current Foundation Fellows about the exciting work they are doing both here in the U.S. and globally. This event will highlight the powerful work that Foundation fellows are doing and how the Foundation is collaborating with various funders and partners to create and offer fellowship opportunities for current and future credentialed food and nutrition practitioners at all career levels. These fellowships are accelerating improvements in the health of the public, including prevention and well-being, health care and health systems, and food and nutrition safety and security, and demonstrating the value of credentialed practitioners and nutrition interventions in a variety of settings and areas of practice, both in the U.S. and globally. Additionally, Foundation Chair, Marty Yadrick, MBI, MS, RDN, FAND, will share the impact of the Foundation's scholarships, awards, and grant programs and details on how members, including students, can apply for funding.

This special event provides a wonderful opportunity for you to meet our fellows and explore ways to further engage with the Foundation. We hope to see you there! Please RSVP HERE to confirm your attendance.

Hi, Donna:

We have scheduled you to rehearse your Member Showcase remarks on Friday, October 19, from 4:30 to 4:45 p.m. in Hall D of the Walter E. Washington Convention Center. You will be introducing the Medallion Award winners...your text is below.

Your onsite contact will be Mackenzie Allen (cell phone 312/451-9926), and Doris Acosta will also be available (cell phone 312/415-2999).

We hope this helps, thank you very much. Please let us know if you need anything else. Have a great time at FNCE!

Tom

Member Showcase text:

Thank you, Mary.

Each year since 1975, the Academy honors a select group of members who have demonstrated a lifetime of service and leadership to our Academy and to our profession. Medallion Awards celebrate the excellence we find in every facet of nutrition and dietetics. Let's meet our 2018 Medallion Award recipients:

- Wahida Karmally.

For more than 30 years, Wahida was the director of nutrition at the Irving Institute for Clinical and Translational Research at Columbia University Medical Center.

- Paula Kellogg Leibovitz.

Paula is the technical assistant lead at the Stanford Diabetes and Chronic Disease Self-Management programs at the Connecticut Department of Public Health and Department of Social Services.

- Nancy Lewis.

Nancy is professor emerita at the University of Nebraska's College of Education and Human Sciences.

- Christine Palumbo.

Christine is a widely published author, corporate and communications consultant and former adjunct faculty member at Benedictine University.

- Dee Pratt.

Dee is the president, CEO and co-owner of Dietitian Associates in Memphis, Tennessee.

- Susan Roberts.

Susan is area clinical director and the dietetic internship director at Baylor University Health Center in Dallas, Texas.

- Linda Snetselaar.

Linda is the director of the department of epidemiology's Nutrition Center at the University of Iowa College of Public Health, and the editor-in-chief of the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

And ...

- Angela Tagtow.

Angie is a nutrition consultant and formerly the executive director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Center for Nutrition Policy and Promotion.

(PAUSE AND SMILE!)

What an amazing group! Please join me in congratulating the Academy's 2018 Medallion Award recipients!

Attached for your review is a draft schedule highlighting FNCE activities which require and/or encourage Board attendance. The schedule is not intended to reflect all the sessions you attend. We recognize that most of you hold multiple DPG and MIG memberships and that you will be attending affiliate, DPG and MIG business meetings and receptions. Please let me know if an activity/session requiring Board representation is not reflected or if you have a conflict and are unable to attend an activity or session to which you were assigned. Since rooms and times may still change, a final copy of the schedule will be sent with your October meeting packet. Your packet will also include the FNCE 2018 leader remarks and talking points, the Honors script for those presenting Medallion awards to their Board partners at the Honors Breakfast and your designated assignments from the Corporate Relations Team for thanking our exhibitors.

Tickets for the Academy Foundation's annual Gala on Monday evening, October 22, are purchased directly by you. To buy tickets please contact Martha Ontiveros at 1-800/877-1600, ext. 4773.

A Board get-together is scheduled for Thursday, October 18 from 7:00 pm – 9:00 pm in the Presidential Suite at the Marriott Marquis Washington DC, 901 Massachusetts Avenue NW, allowing for a relaxing and fun evening. A light buffet will be served.

Best regards,

Bill Reauthorizing Medicaid Program Advances in House

The Ensuring Medicaid Provides Opportunities for Widespread Equity, Resources and Care (or EMPOWER Care) Act has been advanced in Congress by the House Energy and Commerce Committee. The bill (HR 5306) would reauthorize a Medicaid program that helps older Americans and people with disabilities move out of skilled nursing facilities. Despite bipartisan support, it is unlikely the one-year reauthorization, requiring $450 million, will be considered until after the 2018 elections.

ANDPAC Signature Event Promises Iconic View of U.S. Capitol

Supporters of the Academy's Political Action Committee, ANDPAC will celebrate the largest-ever Public Policy Workshop October 23 with views of the U.S. Capitol in Washington, D.C. The semi-formal reception will be held at the Reserve Officers Association, near the Senate office buildings, and requires advanced registration. Tickets are available at ANDPAC@eatright.org with a $125 contribution to ANDPAC.

Panel of Experts Considers Impact of USDA Research Relocation

The Academy recently joined several organizations to sponsor a webinar on "USDA Research Relocation and Reorganization: Perspectives from Former USDA Chief Scientists and Administrators." More than 300 attendees heard expert panelists address the proposed relocation and concerns expressed by stakeholders, including the Academy.

Collaborative to Make Recommendations on Meal Benefit for Seniors

The Academy, Meals on Wheels America, Avalere Health, Atena and other key organizations recently met for a collaborative dialogue "Creating a Pathway to Address Social Determinants of Health Through Flexible Benefits." Access to nutrition assessment and education and expanding the duration of the meal benefit were fundamental considerations of the discussion. The group intends to submit recommendations to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, which allows Medicare Advantage plans to offer meals as supplemental benefits under limited circumstances.

Academy to CMS: Include RDNs in Merit-Based Incentive Payment System

The Academy recently advocated for recognition of registered dietitian nutritionists as eligible clinicians in the Merit-Based Incentive Payment System, which would open the door for annual pay-for-performance payments to RDNs. The Academy also continued to make the case to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services on the cost-effectiveness of medical nutrition therapy for a wide range of chronic conditions, again urging CMS to expand the current Medicare Part B MNT benefit. Additional comments focused on telehealth services and further integration of nutrition care, including recognition and treatment of malnutrition, into Medicare's Quality Payment Program.

Be Our Guest...

Dear Donna,

In appreciation of your generosity and trust you put in our Foundation as a donor, we would like to thank you and invite you to enjoy a number of benefits at this year's FNCE®:

- Donor Lounge – Enjoy a place to relax, have light refreshments and check your luggage during the conference. Located in the Walter E. Washington Convention Center, East Overlook, Level 2

Donor Lounge Daily Schedule

Saturday: 1 pm - 4 pm

Sunday: 8 am - 5 pm

Monday: 8 am - 5 pm

Tuesday: 8 am - 4 pm

- Donor Reception – Monday, October 22, 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., Morrison-Clark Historic Inn & Restaurant If you have not already had an opportunity to confirm your attendance at this special event for Foundation Donors, you can RSVP HERE

- Meet the Foundation Fellows Event - Sunday, October 21 from 10:00 a.m. – 11:30 a.m., Room 143 ABC, Expanding Horizons: RDN Fellows Advancing Strategies to Address Global Malnutrition - Hear how two Foundation Fellows are accelerating progress in ending malnutrition in Guatemala. Immediately following the session, join us for light refreshments in room 156 for an opportunity to meet and hear from all of our current Foundation Fellows about the exciting work they are doing both here in the U.S. and globally. You can RSVP here to confirm your attendance. <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/RSVP-Meet-Fellows>
- VIP Seating – Enjoy VIP seating at the Opening and Closing Ceremonies as well as Member Showcase (Section D – Look for Signage)
- Donor Ribbon – We appreciate your support and want to highlight you as a donor, be sure to pick up your donor ribbon at the Foundation booth located in the Grand Lobby at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center and wear it with pride!

We hope that you will take advantage of these great benefits and the opportunity for you to relax during the conference in the Donor's Lounge. The Lounge will be stocked with light refreshments, comfortable places to sit and offer you a chance to network with fellow Foundation donors.

Another great benefit will be the opportunity to store your luggage in the Donor Lounge on Tuesday, giving you the chance to enjoy the last day of the conference without you having to worry about leaving your bags at the hotel. The Lounge will be staffed with volunteers so your belongings will be safe. We appreciate your annual support and hope you will take advantage of this space.

Have you registered for the Foundation's Symposia on Saturday, October 20? Each Symposium is a $10 donation to attend and earns you 2 CPUEs. Full information can be found here. Also, be sure to purchase your tickets to THE social event of FNCE®, our 2018 FNCE Foundation Gala! To purchase tickets for any of these events, please log into your Registration Dashboard and add these events to your registration.

We are looking forward to seeing you next month and celebrating all the great accomplishment of the Foundation this past year. Your generosity is helping change lives, thank you!

Sincerely,

Martin M. Yadrick, MS, MBI, RDN, FAND

Farm Bill Negotiations Continue with Conference Leadership

The four ranking chairs of the Farm Bill Conference met today in hopes of continuing to move the Farm Bill forward before this weekend's expiration of the current bill. House Ag Chairman Mike Conaway (Texas) has not commented on whether the current law should be extended if a bicameral deal on H.R. 2 (115) cannot be reached this week. The House is currently scheduled to be in session for the next two weeks which may change due to pressure from lawmakers to campaign prior to the mid-term elections. The House leaders, Conaway and Ranking Member Rep. Collin Peterson (Minn.), have indicated a willingness to remain in Washington in order to see the bill progress.

House and Senate lawmakers Work to Pass FY 2019 Spending Bills Before Fiscal Year Ends

Congress has sent President Trump three of the nine spending bills planned for enactment before the September 30th deadline. The House Rules Committee met yesterday afternoon on the conference report for the Labor-HHS/Defense/CR spending package (HR 6157) with a vote set for today. A successful vote in the House would send the bill to President Trump to sign into law. The remaining four-bill package, including Interior-Environment/Ag-FDA/Financial Services/T-HUD spending package (Minibus II), is still in the final stages of conference negotiations.

HHS Announces Plans to Divert Public Health and Medical Research Funds

The Department of Health and Human Services' (HHS) plans to transfer $266 million from other accounts in the Department's budget to accommodate the recent increase in costs associated with unaccompanied children and their families at the Office of Refugee Resettlement. Funds will be directed from public health and medical research to respond to the number of unaccompanied children created by the Administration's family separation policy.

While the need to care for children in the Department's custody is imminent, the transfer of funds will not meet the need for funding and will leave public health programs increasingly underfunded. The Academy and other organizations are urging HHS Secretary Azar to make the funding plan for the family separation policy public and encouraging Congress to provide the funding necessary-through annual or supplemental appropriations legislation-to ensure the health and wellbeing of children and families in the Department's care.

Impact of USDA Research Relocation and Relocation Considered by Panel of Experts

The Academy recently joined several organizations to sponsor a webinar “USDA Research Relocation and Reorganization: Perspectives from Former USDA Chief Scientists and Administrators.” The webinar attracted more than 300 attendees and featured USDA Deputy Secretary Stephen Censky and panelists who addressed the proposed relocation and concerns expressed by stakeholders, including those of the Academy. USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue recently responded to a letter from the chairs of the Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry who posed several questions about the move.

Medicaid Program for Seniors and those Living with Disabilities Advances

The EMPOWER Care Act (HR 5306), a measure that would reauthorize a Medicaid program that helps older Americans and people with disabilities move out of skilled nursing facilities, was advanced by the House Energy and Commerce Committee. Funding for the program officially expired in 2016, and states have been using reserve funds since then, but must stop accepting new participants by the end of this year and can only use remaining funds to help existing enrollees through 2020. It is unlikely that the one-year reauthorization, requiring $450 million annually, will be considered until after the election despite bipartisan support.

Collaborative to Make Recommendations for Senior Meal Benefit

The Academy, Meals on Wheels America, Avalere Health, Atena and other key organizations recently convened for a collaborative dialogue “Creating a Pathway to Address Social Determinants of Health Through Flexible Benefits.” The group intends to submit recommendations to the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services which currently allows Medicare Advantage plans to offer meals as supplemental benefits under limited circumstances. Access to nutrition assessment and education and expanding the duration of the meal benefit were fundamental considerations of the discussion.

Food Waste and Food Loss Advocacy Continues

The Council for Agricultural Science and Technology is hosting a seminar on Food Loss and Waste September 28, 2108 on Capitol Hill. There are two options to attend in person, however a recording will be posted following the event. CAST will release an issue paper following the presentations that will be available as a free download.

Last March, the Academy highlighted food waste and food loss during National Nutrition Month and continues to partner with Further with Food Center for Food Loss and Waste Solutions to advocate for this issue. Academy members are encouraged to submit resources and events for inclusion in the resources offered and to sign up for the newsletter.

Member Updates

Fraud Alert: GoFundMe Scam

A fraudulent email message containing the eatrightPRO logo linking to a fake GoFundMe campaign is encouraging Academy members to donate to raise money for a young girl's medical treatment. This campaign is associated with neither the Academy nor GoFundMe; be on the lookout for any suspicious emails in your inbox. Learn more about the scam and how to protect yourself.

National Academies Workshop on the Global Obesity Pandemic - Register

On October 9, the Roundtable on Obesity Solutions will host a workshop to explore the current state of obesity globally, global prevention and treatment efforts, and the complexity of the global approach to managing the obesity epidemic. The workshop will include perspectives on the implications of obesity as a global problem for prevention and treatment efforts in the US, with an emphasis on reducing disparities.

Calling All Current and Former Licensure Board Members - Register

Are you a current or former state licensure or certification board member? The Academy will be hosting a networking event for former and current licensure/certification board members at FNCE® this year. The facilitated event will allow attendees to network with colleagues, exchange ideas and share best practices.

Please note that while the Academy is providing the opportunity for the event, it will be independently run by licensure/certification board leaders.

CPLS Explores Feasibility of Developing a Dietetic Licensure Compact

Modern healthcare delivery requires that dietetics practice be dynamic and fluid across state boundaries, but the current licensure model in some states may not be sufficiently flexible, adaptable or manageable to best meet this need. The Academy's Consumer Protection and Licensure Subcommittee has created a Compact Taskforce to evaluate a potential solution: Development of a Dietitian Licensure Compact (DLC) which would increase access to care while maintaining public protection at the state level. Such an agreement would allow RDNs to have one multi-state license, with the privilege to practice in their home state and other member states via either physical presence or HIPAA-qualified technology. Interstate compacts are contracts between two or more states adopting minimum standards to cooperate on policy issues. This provides a state-developed structure for collaborative action, while building consensus among states and federal partners. The task force will make recommendations to the Academy's board of directors during the current fiscal year.

September Spotlight on Malnutrition

During its September Spotlight on Malnutrition, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics continues to raise awareness of malnutrition, promote the crucial role of registered dietitian nutritionists and nutrition and dietetic technicians, registered in identifying and treating this serious medical condition, and provide educational resources for the public and Academy members. Look for opportunities in this section to get involved!

Global Malnutrition Emphasized during Awareness Week

On September 27 at 12 p.m. (Central Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the International Affiliate and the Hunger and Environmental Nutrition DPG. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat. As a reminder, Academy members can participate in the American Society for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition's Malnutrition Awareness Week. Academy members will receive complimentary access to programming during Malnutrition Awareness Week. Register using the discount code MAW-Academy.

**Twitter chat questions were sent to all DPG PALs. Please share the information with your social media coordinators and participate using your DPG's handle.

Regulatory Roundup

DPG PAL Monthly Call on Thursday, September 27

Interested in learning more about the Academy's upcoming regulatory comment opportunities? Join the next call on Thursday, September 23 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time).

All PALs strongly encouraged to attend

Regulatory Roundup

The Academy has an opportunity to shape and revise regulations by submitting comments to federal agencies. A list of regulatory items, ordered by date, are available here.

Additionally, starting this month we've added calendar containing all relevant meetings with remote access. All meeting are open to the public. You will find the calendar with hyperlinked events at the end of the Regulatory Roundup.

View Regulatory Roundup

PALs, please plan to review the regulatory opportunities section each week and share the information with your executive board or team.

Action Center

Action Alerts Closing September 30

There are three action alerts available that need your attention. These action alerts will be closing soon, so if you haven't already taken action, take action today! We will open new action alerts next week in advance of PPW -- stay tuned!

- Preventative Health Savings Act, H.R. 2953/S. 2164
- The Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act, H.R. 3124/S. 1299
- The Expanding Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training in Medicare Act, H.R. 5768

PPCs/PALs, please share with your communication channels!

Nomination Notices

Nomination Call: CDC Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee, Due October 1

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention seeks nominees for membership on the Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee. It is important that the Academy be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to food safety concerns with implications for public health.

Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest and basis for nomination Mark Rifkin.

Nomination Call: CDC Board of Scientific Counselors, Due October 1

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has issued a call for nominations for membership on the Board of Scientific Counselors, Office of Public Health Preparedness and Response. This committee issues recommendations for disaster response and the Academy's participation could influence provision of critical food supplies during emergencies, including types of food and suitable mechanisms for storage and safety.

Additionally, the CDC seeks nominees for membership on the Board of Scientific Counselors, Office of Infectious Diseases. Through participation on this board, members have an opportunity to address antimicrobial resistance and foodborne illnesses, both of which have implications for public health in areas Academy members work in.

Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest and basis for nomination Mark Rifkin.

PALs, please plan to review the nomination opportunities section and share the information with your executive board or team.

ANDPAC Corner

ANDPAC Signature Event Promises Iconic Views of the US Capitol

Supporters of the Academy's Political Action Committee, ANDPAC, will celebrate the largest-ever Public Policy Workshop with views of the Capitol on Tuesday, October 23, 2018 in Washington, D.C. The semi-formal reception will be held at the Reserve Officers Association located near the senate office buildings and requires advanced registration. Tickets are still available for the event with a $125 contribution to ANDPAC.

Other ANDPAC events offered at FNCE include:

Walking Tour of DC Monuments, October 20, 9-11 a.m.

PPW Bootcamp: Prep for Policy Leaders

PPCs and PALs should be well on their way planning for PPW 2018. Communications have been sent to the leaders who are charged with organizing Hill visits and affiliate meetings. Two bootcamp sessions have been held and the recordings are available on the COI. One bootcamp session remains and will be an in-person session on October 23 from 10 a.m. to noon at FNCE®.

P PCs and PALs: Register today for PPW Boot Camp Session 3 – Leading the Charge.
PPC and PAL Check In

Checklists are available on the COI for both PPCs and PALs to guide your PPW planning efforts.

Important Note: PPCs should plan to meet up with their teams for an informal breakfast on October 24 from 7-8:30 a.m if necessary. These must be scheduled by the PPC and communicated to your constituents. Plan to meet in one of the hotels, the cafeterias on the Senate or House side or perhaps at Union station depending on the size of your group. As a reminder, we do not have face time with your affiliate's attendees scheduled into the PPW agenda.

PPCs: the updated registration lists by state for PPW is posted on the COI. Check weekly for any updates and continue reaching out to your affiliate PPW team. You may begin scheduling Hill visits for your affiliate at this time.

PALs: Refer to the PPC and PAL list by state located on the COI to connect with your PPC and begin assisting in PPW planning for your affiliate.

Prep Sessions for PPW Attendees Completed -- Advanced Readings Offered

The two online preparatory webinars have been recorded and are available on the PPW COI. In addition to the webinars, an advanced reading packet is available for download.

All members who have signed up for PPW through the FNCE® registration process are expected to attend PPW prep sessions. PPCs will be actively removing members who are not engaging in PPW preparation.

Dear PPW 2018 Attendee --

PPW is only 30 days away! We are looking forward to seeing you at PPW 2018!

PPW Prep Session 2: Addressing Malnutrition Through Advocacy

Join us today for the second (and final) online preparation session from 2 – 3 p.m. Eastern Time or plan to listen to the recorded version.

This session will provide an overview of malnutrition, describe the malnutrition quality improvement initiative and explore efforts to expand prevention and treatment. Attendees will gain knowledge regarding discussing malnutrition policy recommendations with Congressional offices. The steps needed to tell a compelling story about malnutrition and the role of RDNs and NDTRs in prevention and treatment across all care settings will be emphasized.

PPW Prep Session 1: Ready, Set, Charge! Available

The recording of this webinar is now available for online viewing.

Note: The webinar viewing will require a live internet connection to play as it will stream directly via the WebEx system.

The webinar has also been converted to an mp4 and is loaded on the PPW Community of Interest, PPW topic, PPW 2018 Recorded Webinars subtopic and finally by session number and title in the subtopic.

PPW Agenda and Handouts

The final agenda is posted on the COI. Remember that PPW is a paperless conference. There will be access to PPW information on the FNCE® app as well as the COI.

Meeting Location

Walter E. Washington Convention Center

Ballroom A

801 Mt. Vernon Place NW

Washington, D.C., USA, 20001

October 23, 2018
4 – 5:30 p.m.

Note: There will be Wi-Fi in the Ballroom.

Registration Hours:

For those attending FNCE®, stop by the Registration Desk to pick up your badge which will be the same one used for PPW. The Registration Desk will close at 12 Noon Eastern Time on October 23, 2018.

If you arrive after this time, check in for PPW from 3:15 to 4 p.m. outside of Ballroom A. Please stop by registration at your earliest convenience to avoid the rush! Important Note: Please arrive at least 30 minutes in advance of the start of the program.

PPW Community of Interest

The community of interest (COI) is an online forum that will help all PPW attendees get up-to-date information about the conference, download handouts and presentations, view recorded webinars, link up with other PPW registrants and discover fun PPW activities! To log in enter your Academy username and your Academy password (which you use to log into the member area of eatrightpro.org). If you need assistance, please contact us.

Get a head start, be prepared for PPW!

All PPW attendees are expected to participate in the PPW Prep session and communicate with your public policy coordinator. Please respond to the communications you receive and plan to participate in the meetings your affiliate schedules to make final plans. Unlike other PPWs, there will not be time dedicated during the limited agenda to meet as an affiliate. Watch for details from your team about when and where you will meet. Registrants who do not participate will be removed from the Hill visit meetings.

PPW Advanced Reading

The resource materials for the malnutrition topic have been posted to the PPW COI. To prepare for PPW, please review the issue brief, leave behind and complete the advanced reading assignments. CPEU will be available upon completion of the reading and will be posted in the COI as soon as the certificate is available.

We will add additional resources in the near future.

Please note that we will not provide printed copies at PPW.

ANDPAC Invitation

ANDPAC's Chair Trish Fuhrman personally invites you to the ANDPAC Signature Event on Tuesday, October 23rd at 7 p.m. The event will be held at the prestigious Reserve Officers Association, Top of the Hill. Make an advanced reservation today or add to your FNCE registration. Making your donation for the $125 reception (ticket required) provides Academy members the opportunities to speak with members of Congress and candidates on your behalf.

Making a donation now will allow you to focus on your leadership and advocacy efforts during your short stay in Washington DC. ANDPAC funds raised help to recognize the RDN as THE nutrition expert, encourage RDN presence at the decision-making policy table, protect RDN jobs, and help to make for a healthier world.

Do You Use Informatics?

You may not think so at first, but Informatics impacts all areas of nutrition practice. In fact, the future direction of health care is being transformed by data and technology. Keep up with the latest trends and learn all about the intersection of information, nutrition and technology.

Visit the Genius Zone at the Academy Research in Action booth #2447 in the Expo Hall at FNCE®.

Write high quality PES statements and track nutrition care outcomes using eNCPT and ANDHII®

The recently released 2018 edition of the eNCPT (electronic Nutrition Care Process terminology) provides the most current terminology and reference sheets. The eNCPT now exceeds 1700 terms and is available in English and seven more languages. Use the wealth of information in the eNCPT and take advantage of ANDHII® (Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Health Informatics Infrastructure), the perfect tool to capture and track your data and client outcomes.

Visit booth #2438 in the Expo Hall for live demonstrations and learn how these resources are essential for your practice and research.

Dear Contributing Authors,

I want to give you an update on the survey about the group photo at FNCE. As of this morning, 38 of you have completed the survey. Of these 38, 27 are attending FNCE. Everyone is interested in a group photo if the day and time are convenient. So far, three days/times are in front, but just barely. Sunday @ 11:45 a.m. works for 16 people, and Monday at 9:40 or at 12:15 both work for 15 people. It is our hope that we could get at least half of all of the authors in the photo, which would be a total of 28. If you haven't yet completed the survey, please do so today or tomorrow if possible. It takes just a couple of minutes. Here is the link:

Subject: Group Photo for Nutrition Communication Authors at FNCE

Dear Contributing Authors:

It is our hope that a large enough group will be able to gather this year at FNCE to take a group photo, which we will put in the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Guide to Nutrition Communication when it is published next year. I have created a short survey to find out if you are attending (or will be in the area) and if so when you could be available for a group photo. Please complete the survey even if you are NOT attending so that we know we have complete information.

This survey will take you only a couple of minutes to complete. I have listed several times each day that have the fewest conflicts with other events. We will select a location in the convention center in which a badge will not be required and is also accessible to other sessions within 10 minutes or less. If everyone is timely, taking the photo should take less than 15 minutes, allowing you to make it to your next event. Please respond within the next 5-7 days so that we can move forward with setting it up. As soon as we know the details we will send out another email for you to put it on your calendar.

Here is the survey link. Please let me know if you encounter any problems or if you have any questions.

Dear Donna,

The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy office is specifically seeking your input on this comment opportunity. You are a key Academy stakeholder on this topic. The deadline by which we seek input back to the Academy is Tuesday, September 21, 2018. Apologies for the very short timeline.

Our comment form is now a Google Document where you can add comments. We hope this is easier and more useful than the previous Word template. The agency's specific questions on the Google document.

Through this proposal, the FNS seeks comment on their survey of State Child Nutrition Program officials on the adequacy and utility of the Allocation Formula.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to email me.

Thanks again for your interest and I look forward to hearing back from you.

Dear Donna,

The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy office is specifically seeking your input on this comment opportunity. You are a key Academy stakeholder on this topic. The deadline by which we seek input back to the Academy is Tuesday, September 21, 2018. Apologies for the very short timeline.

Our comment form is now a Google Document where you can add comments. We hope this is easier and more useful than the previous Word template. The agency's specific questions on the Google document.

Through this proposal, the FNS seeks comment on their survey of State Child Nutrition Program officials on the adequacy and utility of the Allocation Formula.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to email me.

Thanks again for your interest and I look forward to hearing back from you.

Malnutrition is a common occurrence among IBD patients. Lack of or delayed identification can lead to poor patient outcomes, but little is known about the role of nutritional assessment and management in IBD care. RDNs can play a crucial role in the management of IBD patients, improving patient outcomes and decreasing healthcare costs through identification and implementation of strategies to correct under- and over-nutrition.

Every day we make decisions about what to eat, but why we choose certain foods and beliefs about those foods are often rooted in mystery. For example, why did kale achieve celebrity status when many don't even like it? Why do people avoid MSG when they admit they don't know that much about it? Join us to take a critical look at the psychological underpinnings of how we make food decisions.

696. FW: HOD Backgrounder - E-Team Feedback

I reached out to Marsha Schofield to ask if the backgrounder went to the House on Friday. She told me Marcy wanted to mull over a few items and that it's going out today. I am attaching the revision with track changes made by the Executive team; I hear "tweaks" were made by the HLT.

HLT staff tell me they are releasing the backgrounder in two parts. Today delegates will be asked to share the backgrounder, without the options, with members. Delegates will ask constituents to answer questions related to the backgrounder as pre-meeting work. Next, in Thursday's Speaker Message, the delegates will receive the backgrounder with the options.

The Board will also receive the final backgrounder today.

Best regards,

Pat

Yesterday the E-team discussed the backgrounder for a full four hours. All agreed that it lacked focus and didn't embrace change. Today Mary Beth, Doris and I spent another four hours rewriting it. Even so, we are not convinced that our version will be used over their last one. Although we wanted to be more creative, we were constrained out of political sensitivity. Hopefully the options presented will serve as a foundation for the dialogue and a springboard to other innovative ideas.

Dear Contributing Authors,

I want to give you an update on the survey about the group photo at FNCE. As of this morning, 38 of you have completed the survey. Of these 38, 27 are attending FNCE. Everyone is interested in a group photo if the day and time are convenient. So far, three days/times are in front, but just barely. Sunday @ 11:45 a.m. works for 16 people, and Monday at 9:40 or at 12:15 both work for 15 people. It is our hope that we could get at least half of all of the authors in the photo, which would be a total of 28. If you haven't yet completed the survey, please do so today or tomorrow if possible. It takes just a couple of minutes. Here is the link:

Dear Contributing Authors:

It is our hope that a large enough group will be able to gather this year at FNCE to take a group photo, which we will put in the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Guide to Nutrition Communication when it is published next year. I have created a short survey to find out if you are attending (or will be in the area) and if so when you could be available for a group photo. Please complete the survey even if you are NOT attending so that we know we have complete information.

This survey will take you only a couple of minutes to complete. I have listed several times each day that have the fewest conflicts with other events. We will select a location in the convention center in which a badge will not be required and is also accessible to other sessions within 10 minutes or less. If everyone is timely, taking the photo should take less than 15 minutes, allowing you to make it to your next event. Please respond within the next 5-7 days so that we can move forward with setting it up. As soon as we know the details we will send out another email for you to put it on your calendar.

Here is the survey link. Please let me know if you encounter any problems or if you have any questions.

I think some of the other people were educators and not School Nutrition.

USDA Secretary Working to Empower Local School Leaders and Improve the School Meal Programs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21, 2018 – USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue yesterday hosted a roundtable with local school officials to learn more about how USDA can best assist and enable their efforts to serve nutritious meals to our nation's children.

The meeting was part of the Secretary's ongoing efforts to explore reforms that will make school meals more appealing by giving control back to local school food professionals who know the children best.

“School officials have expertise critical to the conversation of school meal reform,” said Perdue. “USDA is committed to giving schools the common sense flexibilities they need to serve nutritious meals kids will want to eat.”

Local officials provided feedback on the role of school meal policy in ensuring their students’ nutrition:

- “Every day, school meals fuel the academic success of America’s future generations. School Nutrition Association welcomes this opportunity to join our partners in discussing ways to strengthen school meal programs and ensure students have access to nourishing, appealing meals. We greatly appreciate Secretary Perdue’s continued dedication to reducing unnecessary burdens and streamlining the complexity of school meal programs so that our members, working in school cafeterias nationwide, can focus on serving students,” said School Nutrition Association President Gay Anderson.
- “School boards have an integral role in implementing school meal programs but we should not be the cupcake police,” said Neil Putnam, National School Boards Association Director and Vice President of the Mitchell Board of Education, South Dakota. “I appreciate U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue’s interest in hearing directly from locally elected school board members who are on the front lines of providing affordable nutritious meals to students. In my view, increased flexibility and decreased regulations will help local school districts reduce food waste and costs and will increase student participation in school meal programs.”
- “As directors of large urban school nutrition programs, we appreciate the opportunity to discuss with U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue ways the Department can simplify federal administrative requirements and help our schools continue to meet current nutrition standards for our nation’s children, design desirable meals, take better advantage of in-season fruits and vegetables, increase student participation, reduce plate waste, and control costs,” said Cincinnati Public Schools Director of Food Services Jessica Shelly and Miami-Dade County Public Schools Food and Nutrition Officer Penny Parham in a joint statement.
- “I believe strongly in serving my students with a well-rounded education, and proper nutrition is a critical piece of that education,” said Mervin Daugherty, Superintendent for Red Clay Consolidated School District, Wilmington, DE. “I understand the importance of nutrition, and work to ensure all students can access healthy meals. In Red Clay, we have worked to find a balance of following federal standards, serving meals that students enjoy, and maintaining costs. I thank the Secretary for calling this meeting and look forward to working with him to find some common-sense regulatory changes to better serve students.”

The Secretary’s roundtable was held in advance of the publication of the final rule on Child Nutrition Programs: Flexibilities for Milk, Whole Grains, and Sodium Requirements, targeted for release later this year. The interim final rule published in November 2017 gave schools flexibilities for the milk, sodium, and whole grain requirements for school year 2018-2019.

“We are looking ahead for more ways to help local operators run world-class school meal programs,” said Perdue. The Secretary added that increasing program efficiency and accountability is a priority for USDA, as it makes the best use of taxpayer dollars.

USDA Acting Deputy Undersecretary for Food, Nutrition, and Consumer Services Brandon Lipps expects to meet with more school meals partners and customers through the remainder of the year. USDA encourages local feedback and seeks to provide the tools and flexibilities school meal programs need to improve customer service.

Patty, It listed some of the people at the meeting and they were all SNA people. Gay Anderson and Jessica Shealy. Neither of them are RDN's. Very disappointing we were not included. I can see Brandon Lipps in the picture and I did meet up with him at SNA this summer and told him not to roll back standards. I think some of the other people were educators and not School Nutrition.

USDA Secretary Working to Empower Local School Leaders and Improve the School Meal Programs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21, 2018 – USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue yesterday hosted a roundtable with local school officials to learn more about how USDA can best assist and enable their efforts to serve nutritious meals to our nation's children.

The meeting was part of the Secretary's ongoing efforts to explore reforms that will make school meals more appealing by giving control back to local school food professionals who know the children best.

"School officials have expertise critical to the conversation of school meal reform," said Perdue.

"USDA is committed to giving schools the common sense flexibilities they need to serve nutritious meals kids will want to eat."

Local officials provided feedback on the role of school meal policy in ensuring their students' nutrition:

- “Every day, school meals fuel the academic success of America’s future generations. School Nutrition Association welcomes this opportunity to join our partners in discussing ways to strengthen school meal programs and ensure students have access to nourishing, appealing meals. We greatly appreciate Secretary Perdue’s continued dedication to reducing unnecessary burdens and streamlining the complexity of school meal programs so that our members, working in school cafeterias nationwide, can focus on serving students,” said School Nutrition Association President Gay Anderson.
- “School boards have an integral role in implementing school meal programs but we should not be the cupcake police,” said Neil Putnam, National School Boards Association Director and Vice President of the Mitchell Board of Education, South Dakota. “I appreciate U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue’s interest in hearing directly from locally elected school board members who are on the front lines of providing affordable nutritious meals to students. In my view, increased flexibility and decreased regulations will help local school districts reduce food waste and costs and will increase student participation in school meal programs.”
- “As directors of large urban school nutrition programs, we appreciate the opportunity to discuss with U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue ways the Department can simplify federal administrative requirements and help our schools continue to meet current nutrition standards for our nation’s children, design desirable meals, take better advantage of in-season fruits and vegetables, increase student participation, reduce plate waste, and control costs,” said Cincinnati Public Schools Director of Food Services Jessica Shelly and Miami-Dade County Public Schools Food and Nutrition Officer Penny Parham in a joint statement.
- “I believe strongly in serving my students with a well-rounded education, and proper nutrition is a critical piece of that education,” said Mervin Daugherty, Superintendent for Red Clay Consolidated School District, Wilmington, DE. “I understand the importance of nutrition, and work to ensure all students can access healthy meals. Mac and Doris, Would you all have time to look over my answers to the questions Michelle Obama's video team sent me for the video taping we will do at FNCE? I want to make sure what I say is OK with you all and also that it has a good chance of being used for her book tour. You guys know what they are looking for so much better than I do. Any help and suggestions would be greatly appreciated. I know you are busy getting ready for FNCE, but your input would be invaluable for me. Thanks in advance.

Thanks Terri for your thoughtful and inspiring words. Really respect and value the effort that went into this consolidated and yes, respectful version.

We are all prepared to work for success and to uncover a new and focused approach to a representative body. I am so excited to be part of the "we can do it" movement at the HoD meeting.

We do need an exciting facilitator. I watched a PBS NewsHour interview with Jose Andres tonight-cooking for masses of folks in PR and Guatemala and N.C. Now that man gets people inspired to action!

Have a lovely evening!

They need an exciting facilitator to push them onward. Sadly they have had consultants and facilitators but it's a challenge for them to "feel" the excitement. Guess we will have to be the cheer leaders that bring positive vibes and a "We can do it"! attitude. A big part will depend on what they decide to send. The longer the backgrounder the easier it will be to lose concentration and focus.

We are all prepared to work for success and to uncover a new and focused approach to a representative body. I am so excited to be part of the "we can do it" movement at the HoD meeting.

We do need an exciting facilitator. I watched a PBS NewsHour interview with Jose Andres tonight-cooking for masses of folks in PR and Guatemala and N.C. Now that man gets people inspired to action!

Have a lovely evening!

They need an exciting facilitator to push them onward. Sadly they have had consultants and facilitators but it's a challenge for them to "feel" the excitement. Guess we will have to be the cheer leaders that bring positive vibes and a "We can do it"! attitude. A big part will depend on what they decide to send. The longer the backgrounder the easier it will be to lose concentration and focus.

Get your rest all! The harvest moon is right around the corner and hopefully it will provide an opportunity to capitalize on the work of Pat and the E-team!

The Academy has been actively engaged with the IOM on the topic of Interprofessional Education (IPE) since the inception of the IOM Global Forum on Innovation in Health Professional Education, a group created to promote IPE discussion among health professions. The Academy became an IPEC member in 2016 and has been actively engaged with the other IPEC members in strengthening interprofessional education and practice.

It is the position of the Academy that RDNs should play a significant role in educating medical students, residents, fellows and physicians in practice. According to the Academy's position paper Interprofessional Education in Nutrition as an Essential Component of Medical Education:

The more physicians learn about the effectiveness of nutrition for the prevention and treatment of non-communicable diseases, the more likely they are to consult with RDNs and refer patients for medical nutrition therapy. The more interprofessional education that occurs between medical students, other health professional students and RDNs, the more likely all health care professionals will understand and value the role of the RDN in improving the quality of care provided to patients. The training and experience of the RDN nutrition professional makes them uniquely qualified for the role of educating medical students about nutrition as it relates to health and disease.

We have an article ready to submit for the November issue ICDA newsletter. We are making some edits to link our position paper and what the Academy and ACEND are doing to be recognized in our role in IPE. Mary Gregoire prepared a brief backgrounder for the Board in 2016 and we are using select portions of that to draft the paper which you can then use to submit to Chika about our experience in the U.S.

Best regards,

Pat

Get a Member – Get a Dues Credit!

As an Academy member, you know that membership provides you with the tools and resources to accelerate your career and thrive in your profession. Now is the perfect time to share this knowledge with your colleagues and encourage them to join the Academy. By recruiting new members, not only will you help bring your colleagues the same access to valuable resources and savings, but you'll also receive a dues credit toward your 2019-2020 Academy membership dues. The more new members you recruit, the greater your credit!

For each qualifying* recruit who joins with the promo code GET19 and enters your first and last name into the "Who referred you to join today?" section of the membership application, you will receive a dues credit toward your 2019-2020 Academy membership dues. The more new and former members you refer who join between now and December 1, 2018, the larger dues credit you will get toward the balance of your Academy membership** dues.

Your recruit will benefit from the savings, resources and opportunities Academy membership offers, and with promo code GET19, their $25 processing fee will also be waived (as applicable). You will gain a broad network of professional peers and a credit toward your membership. It's a win-win offer!

Find more information, including rules and resources on eatrightPRO.org/getamember or email membership@eatright.org.

Happy recruiting,
The Academy Membership Team

* To qualify, your recruit must be a new Academy member or a former member (not a member during the 2017-2018 membership year) joining or rejoining the Academy for the 2018-2019 membership year. New and rejoining members must become Academy members between September 1, 2018-December 1, 2018.

** The total credit amount may not exceed the total cost of your Academy membership dues and cannot be applied toward DPG, MIG or NDEP membership fees.

Pearlie, Here are my objectives. I made very few changes. Thanks!

School Nutrition

- Understand the positive influence the dietitian can have relative to the treatment and prevention of childhood and adolescent overweight in a school setting.
- Identify healthier school nutrition program meal strategies and develop models for replication.
- Discuss emerging school nutrition strategies to promote healthy weight (i.e., grab and go healthy school meals, healthy vending machine options, classroom breakfast, second chance breakfast, healthy ethnic foods, healthy after school snacks, healthy classroom party foods).
- Identify creative funding opportunities and resources to promote nutrition initiatives related to the treatment and/or the prevention of pediatric overweight in school settings (i.e. increase fresh fruits and vegetable consumption, improve eating areas, streamline meal service, utilize existing public domain resources).
- Understand the current implementation of legislated changes in the school lunch programs in relation to the treatment and/or the prevention of pediatric overweight.

It is great speaking to everyone during the teleconference on Wednesday. Attached is a summary of our discussion. I am attaching a word version of the on-site program objectives for you to use to provide me with any changes by Monday, October 1, 2018. Nancy and Marc, I have your changes.

Debbie did not join the call due to a time zone issue. She listened to the audio recording and has provided her comments below.

Others who were unable to join the teleconference can also listen to the audio recording by accessing the link below.

Use the name Christine Reidy and the email address creidy@eatright.org to access the recording.

<https://wp0.teleconferencingcenter.com/playback/register?id=aaa3b137-fbb5-4eda-8252-01b65ea37f95>

Debbie comments:

I listened to the recording this morning. Apologies for messing up the time in my calendar. A few items:

1. I'm absolutely OK with being "voluntold" to review the revised objectives – I deserve this for missing the call and want to be part of the process. I have noted the deadlines!!
2. My point about technology and sedentary behavior was to look at the literature to see if there is any more information linking either of these to excess weight and impact generally. Sounds like Dr. Sothern will take on the technology review. On the sedentary side, it was more to look at the literature on counseling re: sedentary time to see if it has come along any since Len Epstein identified this as a separate counseling issue. I'll look at this.

3. I absolutely agree with the mental health comments and believe Craig would take this up (to update the content on mental health, social media, bullying, and weight).

Hi All,

This is an area of concern that is receiving some attention during this month's focus on Malnutrition. Wondering if Jeanne or someone involved with these programs or with the programs provided by ASPEN next week would have something to offer? I think they used some references, at least in the program that I heard, that were even more current than the reference below.

Erin, Dante, Joan and Mac, I just wanted to thank you all for making sure I don't have to share a room with anyone at FNCE. I am not sure exactly which one of you, or I suspect all of you, helped work this out for me, but it is so much appreciated. While I was happy to share a room, I was also dreading sharing a room since my schedule is so full and I felt like I would always be worrying about waking my roommate up with my comings and goings. You guys felt my pain and jumped into action. I could not be prouder to volunteer for an organization with such caring and capable individuals. Not that all of you don't have enough on your plate, but just like all the staff we have at the Academy, you went the extra mile. From the bottom of my heart, I say thank you! See all of you soon at FNCE and you all deserve a big hug. From, Sleeping Well in DC Donna!

The Academy is convening a Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative in order to regularly communicate about current policy and advocacy opportunities in the breast-feeding space. The intent is to broaden the scope of activities for breast-feeding advocacy and to ensure the ideas and expertise of members are considered.

The collaborative will hold a monthly one-hour call led by the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy team, beginning on October 2 at 3 p.m. (Eastern Time). The calls are open to all interested members; public policy leaders are encouraged to attend. Please RSVP.

Obesity Advocacy Day on September 27 with OCAN - Register

Academy members are encouraged join the Obesity Care Advocacy Network Advocacy Day on Thursday, September 27. The advocacy day will include Capitol Hill meetings from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. (Eastern Time), followed by a PAC reception to honor a member of Congress who has championed efforts to better promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services.

National Academies Workshop on the Global Obesity Pandemic - Register

On October 9, the Roundtable on Obesity Solutions will host a workshop to explore the current state of obesity globally, global prevention and treatment efforts, and the complexity of the global approach to managing the obesity epidemic. The workshop will include perspectives on the implications of obesity as a global problem for prevention and treatment efforts in the US, with an emphasis on reducing disparities.

Calling All Current and Former Licensure Board Members - Register

Are you a current or former state licensure or certification board member? The Academy will be hosting a networking event for former and current licensure/certification board members at FNCE® this year. The facilitated event will allow attendees to network with colleagues, exchange ideas and share best practices.

Please note that while the Academy is providing the opportunity for the event, it will be independently run by licensure/certification board leaders.

Celebrate Food Safety Education Month

The Partnership for Food Safety Education has a new resource that Academy members can use to promote September's Food Safety Education Month. The Story of Your Dinner animated video, available in English and Spanish, is an entertaining way to show consumers their role in the food safety chain of prevention.

Fraud Alert: GoFundMe Scam

A fraudulent email message containing the eatrightPRO logo linking to a fake GoFundMe campaign is encouraging Academy members to donate to raise money for a young girl's medical treatment. This campaign is associated with neither the Academy nor GoFundMe; be on the lookout for any suspicious emails in your inbox. Learn more about the scam and how to protect yourself.

September Spotlight on Malnutrition

During its September Spotlight on Malnutrition, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics will raise awareness of malnutrition, promote the crucial role of registered dietitian nutritionists in identifying and treating this serious medical condition, and provide educational resources for the public and Academy members. Look for opportunities in this section to get involved!

On September 20 at 11 a.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Vegetarian Nutrition, Weight Management, Women's Health, Behavioral Health Nutrition and Oncology Nutrition DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

Spotlight on Global Malnutrition - Register

Recognizing the domestic and global impact of malnutrition and the role Academy members can play in preventing and treating malnutrition, the Academy began advocating for quality measures that would bring malnutrition to the forefront of health care. Learn more in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar, "Going Global: Collaborative Approaches to Solve Malnutrition," on September 26 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

On September 27 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Public Health Community Nutrition and Hunger and Environmental Nutrition DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

Academy Members Receive Complimentary Access to ASPEN's Malnutrition Awareness Week - Register

Academy members are invited to participate in the American Society for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition's Malnutrition Awareness Week, September 24 to 28. Members will receive complimentary access to programming during Malnutrition Awareness Week.

All members who have signed up for PPW through the FNCE® registration process are expected to attend PPW prep sessions.

Regulatory Roundup

Academy Provides Input on Renal Payment System, Therapeutic Diets

The Academy recently advocated for reducing the regulatory burden of excessive reporting measures in dialysis facilities, while highlighting the importance of enabling RDNs to independently order therapeutic diets. Formal regulatory comments regarding the End Stage Renal Disease Prospective Payment System were submitted to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services and included recommendations from the Renal Practice Group.

Regulatory Roundup

The Academy has an opportunity to shape and revise regulations by submitting comments to federal agencies. A list of regulatory items, ordered by date, are available here.

Additionally, starting this month we've added calendar containing all relevant meetings with remote access. All meeting are open to the public. You will find the calendar with hyperlinked events at the end of the Regulatory Roundup.

View Regulatory Roundup

PALs, please plan to review the regulatory opportunities section each week and share the information with your executive board or team.

Next Week: DPG PAL Monthly Call on Thursday, September 27

Interested in learning more about the Academy's upcoming regulatory comment opportunities? Join the next call on Thursday, September 23 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time).

All PALs strongly encouraged to attend

Nomination Notices

Nominees Sought for the 2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee - Due Friday September 21 (closing soon)

The call for nominees to serve on the 2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee is now open. Prospective members of the DGAC should be qualified experts with demonstrated scientific "expertise in human nutrition related to disease prevention and health promotion during different stages of life, such as pediatrics, obstetrics, and geriatrics." Other areas of expertise sought after include those encompassed by refined topics and questions the committee will examine. If you would like to nominate yourself or another qualified expert who meet the criteria for nominations, please submit a nomination package that includes name(s), credentials, contact information, C.V. (<15 pages) and an Advisory Committee Membership Background form due by Friday, September 21, to Academy staff.

Additional information about DGAC Nominations may be found here.

Nomination Call: CDC Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee, Due October 1

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention seeks nominees for membership on the Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee. It is important that the Academy be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to food safety concerns with implications for public health.

Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest and basis for nomination Mark Rifkin.

Nomination Call: CDC Board of Scientific Counselors, Due October 1

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has issued a call for nominations for membership on the Board of Scientific Counselors, Office of Public Health Preparedness and Response. This committee issues recommendations for disaster response and the Academy's participation could influence provision of critical food supplies during emergencies, including types of food and suitable mechanisms for storage and safety.

Additionally, the CDC seeks nominees for membership on the Board of Scientific Counselors, Office of Infectious Diseases. Through participation on this board, members have an opportunity to address antimicrobial resistance and foodborne illnesses, both of which have implications for public health in areas Academy members work in.

Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest and basis for nomination Mark Rifkin.

PALs, please plan to review the nomination opportunities section and share the information with your executive board or team.

ANDPAC Corner

ANDPAC Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals

You can help build the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals" by supporting ANDPAC and your profession in a new campaign that will run through FNCE®.

Members who contribute in advance of FNCE® will have a commemorative brick on the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals." The bricks, made of recycled cardboard, can be inscribed with the donor's name, signed in memory or in honor of someone, or can be an inscription of choice limited to space available. The bricks will be part of a larger brick walkway on display at FNCE® this year. Suggested donations are $20 per brick, $35 for two bricks, or $50 for three bricks.

Donate today and help build the pathway to nutrition policy goals!

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

Erin, Dante, Joan and Mac, I just wanted to thank you all for making sure I don't have to share a room with anyone at FNCE. I am not sure exactly which one of you, or I suspect all of you, helped work this out for me, but it is so much appreciated. While I was happy to share a room, I was also dreading sharing a room since my schedule is so full and I felt like I would always be worrying about waking my roommate up with my comings and goings. You guys felt my pain and jumped into action. I could not be prouder to volunteer for an organization with such caring and capable individuals. Not that all of you don't have enough on your plate, but just like all the staff we have at the Academy, you went the extra mile. From the bottom of my heart, I say thank you! See all of you soon at FNCE and you all deserve a big hug. From, Sleeping Well in DC Donna!

What is COGA? Cultures of Gender and Age Member Interest Group

COGA focuses on providing programming, education, collaboration and networking within three primary sub communities:

- Fifty Plus (FPIND)
- Thirty and Under (TUND)
- Men (NOMIN)

COGA = FPIND + NOMIN + TUND

Each of these communities address needs for education and networking for their own groups while supporting each other to provide a collective voice within the Academy, which is COGA.

COGA membership includes those with seasoned experience in dietetics or those who are new to their career, those re-entering the workforce or changing their career focus, and men in the profession. COGA helps its members to grow professionally and give back to support the Academy's strategic direction.

Find COGA at FNCE® and get more information about joining a community aimed at helping you reach your personal best in dietetics, no matter your age or gender. Stop by Booth #3133 at the DPG/MIG Showcase on Monday, October 22 anytime between 9am - 12pm in the Walter E. Washington Convention Center, Expo Hall B. We would love to talk with you!

I am not sure exactly which one of you, or I suspect all of you, helped work this out for me, but it is so much appreciated. While I was happy to share a room, I was also dreading sharing a room since my schedule is so full and I felt like I would always be worrying about waking my roommate up with my comings and goings. You guys felt my pain and jumped into action. I could not be prouder to volunteer for an organization with such caring and capable individuals. Not that all of you don't have enough on your plate, but just like all the staff we have at the Academy, you went the extra mile. From the bottom of my heart, I say thank you! See all of you soon at FNCE and you all deserve a big hug. From, Sleeping Well in DC Donna!

Dear Contributing Authors:

It is our hope that a large enough group will be able to gather this year at FNCE to take a group photo, which we will put in the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Guide to Nutrition Communication when it is published next year. I have created a short survey to find out if you are attending (or will be in the area) and if so when you could be available for a group photo. Please complete the survey even if you are NOT attending so that we know we have complete information.

This survey will take you only a couple of minutes to complete. I have listed several times each day that have the fewest conflicts with other events. We will select a location in the convention center in which a badge will not be required and is also accessible to other sessions within 10 minutes or less. If everyone is timely, taking the photo should take less than 15 minutes, allowing you to make it to your next event. Please respond within the next 5-7 days so that we can move forward with setting it up. As soon as we know the details we will send out another email for you to put it on your calendar.

Here is the survey link. Please let me know if you encounter any problems or if you have any questions.

All the best,

Well.....can the news get better than this!

We are so very fortunate to have had Donna poised and ready to take advantage of her experience, skills and knowledge about school nutrition when this opportunity arose during her tenure as President of the Academy. Our history continues to unfold, built on the foundation of innovative and courageous leaders, and catapulting us into an exceptional Second Century with our current leaders and those yet to come.

I could not be more awed, proud and optimistic about our future and genuinely humbled to know you all. Okay, yes I have misty eyes over all of this and all of you.

Congratulations Donna. Let the opportunities continue to roll in for all of you, and may our country and the global community reap the benefits of our commitment to quality and service.

In the past couple of years, Donna Martin has developed a special relationship with former First Lady Michelle Obama through her work with the White House Let's Move! team and her innovative work with school nutrition in Burke County, Ga. It is my pleasure to share some exciting news -- Donna has been contacted to record an interview for Michele Obama's memoir BECOMING, to be released on November 13, 2018, "as an individual who's personal story touched Michelle Obama, and who was a part of her story as First Lady."

Congratulations Donna, we are so proud of you!

Here is the link to the story on BuzzFeed:

<https://www.buzzfeednews.com/article/stephaniemlee/salt-institute-sodium-study-prison-funding>.

It mentions the Salt Institute's unrestricted grant to the Academy Foundation. We are glad the reporter used the information we provided and kept the piece factual. Thanks go to Doris for skillfully navigating the conversation with the reporter. As Doris says, her mantra is “to promote and protect.” We will also be sharing the link with the Foundation Board because the issue was discussed during its call last week.

As always, please do not hesitate to contact me with any questions.

Best regards,

Pat

We followed up with the BuzzFeed reporter and as suspected, she is working on a story about disclosing funding in research. We provided her with the background information she requested regarding the Salt Institute unrestricted grant and David McCarron.

We also made it very clear to the reporter that the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics had no part in the development of this paper and did not review it prior to publication. We noted that lack of disclosure is against the Academy's Scientific Integrity Principles, and any questions about why McCarron did not disclose his source of funding are most appropriately directed to him.

The reporter reached out to both Jacobson and McCarron and was waiting to hear back from them. She plans on posting the story this week. I will continue to keep you posted. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,

Pat

Subject: CONFIDENTIAL ... BuzzFeed Media Inquiry

I want to make you aware of a situation that has occurred. Late last Friday, I was contacted by a reporter from BuzzFeed about a research project tied to an unrestricted grant received by the Foundation from the Salt Institute. Although we get contacted by reporters all the time, this one raises concerns because it came from a reporter that was contacted by Michael Jacobson, the founder and retired executive director of the Center for Science in the Public Interest.

The Foundation received an initial unrestricted grant in 2015 from GMA to support an economic modeling project on sodium reduction that would include Academy representation on an expert workgroup consisting of national and international experts with differing perspectives on sodium. The Academy's Research Team would be working with the American Society of Hypertension and the American Society of Nutrition on a project including representatives from UAB, Georgetown University, Arizona State University, UC Davis. The project evolved from this original concept to the development of a concept for a randomized clinical trial on the impact of sodium intake on health outcomes.

Over the past three years, the Foundation has received $50,000 from the Salt Institute. The funding was accepted to support two purposes: 1) fund the development of a study concept that would then be published in a peer review journal with the intent to provide transparency to the work and 2) to support an RDN advisory group that would provide critical input into the concept and eventual protocol. It was our understanding that the draft protocol would be developed by a lead researcher at Duke. The advisory group of RDN experts would critically evaluate the protocol to ensure a balanced and unbiased approach to advancing understanding of the impact of sodium intake on health outcomes. This advisory group has not yet been appointed; it is on hold until a proposal from Duke University is ready for review.

A portion of the unrestricted Salt Institute grant was released to support the efforts of David McCarron, MD, a research associate in the department of nutrition at the University of California-Davis and former head of the nephrology division at Oregon Health & Science University. McCarron and a study group organized with Duke University developed the Call for Dietary Sodium Outcomes Clinical Trial, published in May in Hypertension, the Journal of the American Heart Association (attached).

We believe the reason the reporter contacted the Academy is that McCarron did not to disclose the source of his funding when this journal article appeared. We were not included in the paper, nor did we review it prior to publication. We are disappointed because McCarron's lack of disclosure is against our Scientific Integrity Principles.

Jacobson, a longtime critic of McCarron and his ties to the salt industry, contacted me in July asking about the grant. In the Academy's spirit of transparency, I shared information with Jacobson and invited a member of his team to join the review panel once it is formed.

Instead, Jacobson contacted numerous members of the news media and shared our email exchange with the Buzzfeed reporter. The reporter then contacted the Academy for comment on a story she is preparing.

We have called the reporter and are waiting to hear back. I will continue to keep you posted. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,
Pat

We followed up with the BuzzFeed reporter and as suspected, she is working on a story about disclosing funding in research. We provided her with the background information she requested regarding the Salt Institute unrestricted grant and David McCarron.

We also made it very clear to the reporter that the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics had no part in the development of this paper and did not review it prior to publication. We noted that lack of disclosure is against the Academy's Scientific Integrity Principles, and any questions about why McCarron did not disclose his source of funding are most appropriately directed to him.

The reporter reached out to both Jacobson and McCarron and was waiting to hear back from them. She plans on posting the story this week. I will continue to keep you posted. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Subject: CONFIDENTIAL ... BuzzFeed Media Inquiry

I want to make you aware of a situation that has occurred. Late last Friday, I was contacted by a reporter from BuzzFeed about a research project tied to an unrestricted grant received by the Foundation from the Salt Institute. Although we get contacted by reporters all the time, this one raises concerns because it came from a reporter that was contacted by Michael Jacobson, the founder and retired executive director of the Center for Science in the Public Interest.

The Foundation received an initial unrestricted grant in 2015 from GMA to support an economic modeling project on sodium reduction that would include Academy representation on an expert workgroup consisting of national and international experts with differing perspectives on sodium. The Academy's Research Team would be working with the American Society of Hypertension and the American Society of Nutrition on a project including representatives from UAB, Georgetown University, Arizona State University, UC Davis. The project evolved from this original concept to the development of a concept for a randomized clinical trial on the impact of sodium intake on health outcomes.

Over the past three years, the Foundation has received $50,000 from the Salt Institute. The funding was accepted to support two purposes: 1) fund the development of a study concept that would then be published in a peer review journal with the intent to provide transparency to the work and 2) to support an RDN advisory group that would provide critical input into the concept and eventual protocol. It was our understanding that the draft protocol would be developed by a lead researcher at Duke. The advisory group of RDN experts would critically evaluate the protocol to ensure a balanced and unbiased approach to advancing understanding of the impact of sodium intake on health outcomes. This advisory group has not yet been appointed; it is on hold until a proposal from Duke University is ready for review.

A portion of the unrestricted Salt Institute grant was released to support the efforts of David McCarron, MD, a research associate in the department of nutrition at the University of California-Davis and former head of the nephrology division at Oregon Health & Science University. McCarron and a study group organized with Duke University developed the Call for Dietary Sodium Outcomes Clinical Trial, published in May in Hypertension, the Journal of the American Heart Association (attached).

We believe the reason the reporter contacted the Academy is that McCarron did not disclose the source of his funding when this journal article appeared. We were not included in the paper, nor did we review it prior to publication. We are disappointed because McCarron's lack of disclosure is against our Scientific Integrity Principles.

Jacobson, a longtime critic of McCarron and his ties to the salt industry, contacted me in July asking about the grant. In the Academy's spirit of transparency, I shared information with Jacobson and invited a member of his team to join the review panel once it is formed.

Instead, Jacobson contacted numerous members of the news media and shared our email exchange with the BuzzFeed reporter. The reporter then contacted the Academy for comment on a story she is preparing.

We have called the reporter and are waiting to hear back. I will continue to keep you posted. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,
Pat

Donna, I noticed that you did not insert your polling question slide. Are you still asking this question?

Which of these best describes you?

1. Have received an equipment grant.
2. Applied for grant but did not get.
3. Did not apply for grant.
4. Never heard of grant.

Type just your question on any side where you want the poll inserted. This will be Polling Question #3. Do NOT TYPE THE ANSWERS. I will put the answers in the FNCE Meeting site for them to setup.

I have shortened the answers since there is a limit on 30 characters, including spaces.

Thank you all for the insight and updates. I apologize for not making the call last week but was just able to listen to the recording. I don't believe any of the updated content/topics discussed belong in my presentation, but I'm really excited that they will be included in the program. Screen time, social media and mental health are all so important!

Pearlie, you will have my updated objectives by 10/1.

Looking forward to seeing you all in Pittsburgh!

It is great speaking to everyone during the teleconference on Wednesday. Attached is a summary of our discussion. I am attaching a word version of the on-site program objectives for you to use to provide me with any changes by Monday, October 1, 2018. Nancy and Marc, I have your changes.

Debbie did not join the call due to a time zone issue. She listened to the audio recording and has provided her comments below.

Others who were unable to join the teleconference can also listen to the audio recording by accessing the link below.

Debbie comments:

I listened to the recording this morning. Apologies for messing up the time in my calendar. A few items:

1. I'm absolutely OK with being "voluntold" to review the revised objectives – I deserve this for missing the call and want to be part of the process. I have noted the deadlines!!
2. My point about technology and sedentary behavior was to look at the literature to see if there is any more information linking either of these to excess weight and impact generally. Sounds like Dr. Sothorn will take on the technology review. On the sedentary side, it was more to look at the literature on counseling re: sedentary time to see if it has come along any since Len Epstein identified this as a separate counseling issue. I'll look at this.
3. I absolutely agree with the mental health comments and believe Craig would take this up (to update the content on mental health, social media, bullying, and weight).

On Saturday evening, Mary Russell alerted us to a fraudulent email containing the Academy's eatrightPRO logo and linking to a fake GoFundMe campaign targeting Academy members. On Sunday morning, we contacted PayPal to inform them that the account was fraudulent and we are attempting to shut it down. As of Sunday evening, we have heard from one member who received the email.

The fraudulent email message asks members to donate money for a young girl's medical treatment. This fake campaign is not associated with the Academy or GoFundMe.com. The scam is designed to solicit "donations" from individuals who believe they are contributing to a good cause.

We have posted information on eatrightPRO alerting members to be vigilant in protecting themselves by verifying fundraising communications come from the Academy or its Foundation. We direct members to only eatrightPRO.org or eatrightFoundation.org for donations (never third-party sites such as GoFundMe.com or PayPal). For more information about GoFundMe.com fraud detection visit <https://support.gofundme.com/hc/en-us/articles/115015913668-How-to-Determine-if-a-GoFundMe-is-Legit>.

We are also letting members know that if they received an email with the eatrightPRO logo and Subject: Help Support Susan, they should report the email and its contents to the FBI's Internet Crime Complaint Center at <https://www.ic3.gov/complaint/default.aspx>.

We are doing everything possible to address this issue. We will also be sharing this information with members in this week's Eat Right Weekly.

Pat,

Thanks for your explanation of what Glenn suggested as possibly being perceived as a misguided example that positions the Academy in a poor light and creates the perception that this is a Board power play with the intent to diminish member involvement and engagement.

I would wholeheartedly support a more unbiased approach to listing as a disadvantages your example for Choice B, page 18--- "Board Decisions Made with Council, Committee and Task Force Recommendations."

I think I can speak for the HLT in that we look forward to a dialogue that is based on information that is accurate, succinct and unbiased.

I welcome Beth, Doris and the entire e teams input and am in favor of delaying the release of the backgrounder to the 21st or at the latest the 24th. I will get a consensus from the entire HLT to make a final decision asap.

Sincerely,

Subject: RE: Glenn's Backgrounder

Hi Marsha,

After the discussion yesterday, I agree with Marcy and others that we need to make certain the backgrounder is both informative and brief. One point in particular I need to make—I understand how the advantages/disadvantages list supports a level-3 backgrounder. Currently, however, there is a logical disconnect between the comparisons, and the pros/cons don't correlate, regardless of Glenn's input. A shortened and equal number comparison in both categories and properly worded examples can be a springboard in stimulating a dynamic and productive dialogue at the Fall House meeting.

One example is Choice B, page 18: One could say on the advantage side that the HOD Makes Recommendations to the Board ( I couldn't think of an example in the recent past of shared decision making on an issue). On the disadvantage side, it could say Board Decides, but that's not the full story. Glenn may not be aware that the Board rarely makes sole decisions on issues in a vacuum, but rather, consistently seeks member and external expert input and recommendations on issues impacting the profession and practice. So to be honest and totally transparent, the disadvantage side could be— Board Decisions Made with Council, Committee and Task Force Recommendations. The Board makes knowledge based decisions with input from members and staff. To say the “lost voice of membership” and “trust issues” are misguided examples that position the Academy in a poor light and creates the perception that this is a Board power play with the intent to diminish member involvement and engagement. In order to accomplish the HLT objective of having a constructive dialogue in October, we need to ensure that the information in the backgrounder is accurate, succinct and unbiased.

I will share the backgrounder with Mary Beth and Doris to obtain their input. We are already scheduled to discuss it with the eteam at next week’s meeting.

Yesterday it was mentioned that the release date of the backgrounder may be extended. Is there a new date?

Thank you, and please let me know if you have any questions.

Subject: Glenn's Backgrounder

Good morning Pat,

Thank you for taking the time yesterday afternoon for the joint leadership team call. Marcy and I spoke this morning and she asked me to resend to you the working draft of a Backgrounder developed by Glenn and sent to us during the BOD meeting. She also asked me to share the following thoughts (her thoughts) with you.

As she reflected on the conversations yesterday around the advantages/disadvantages, she thought it important for you to know that many of the ones included in our draft Backgrounder came directly from Glenn. In particular, the ones about all the power being vested in the BOD were his. She heard your concerns about that statement and welcomes input on what statement(s) you think could be used instead. While it seemed the majority opinion on the call was to remove the advantages/disadvantages from the document, based on Glenn's expertise the HLT committed to adhering more closely to the KBSG model by doing a Level 3 Backgrounder for the meeting, which means it would include options along with advantages and disadvantages. The list of advantages/disadvantages is not meant to be exhaustive, but rather is meant to begin to stimulate thinking (avoid the "blank paper" approach). Based on the previous decision at the winter planning meeting with Glenn, along with considering yesterday's conversation with the leaders, Marcy is leaning towards keeping in the document a very short list of equal numbers of advantages/disadvantages for each option. Obviously they need to be carefully selected paying close attention to choice of language. The section would also be set up more strongly to indicate these are "perceived" advantages/disadvantages, are not an exhaustive list, could be differences of opinion, delegates may add/subtract, meant to get the juices flowing, etc.

With this information in hand, do you have any new or different thoughts this morning? And, once again, Marcy welcomes your input on appropriate ones to consider including.

Thank you,

Marsha

Dear Joan,

This is exciting news! I am so appreciative of the group who first thought of the need for representation from a younger member. Secondly I'm so grateful for Molly's leadership to pursue this new position and lastly, grateful to Donna. What inspiring team work!

Thanks to all!!

I have no requested changes Joan!

Sincerely,
Kris

On behalf of Donna, I want to inform you that at its September 6 meeting the Board approved the new position on the Nominating Committee for an Academy member who has been in practice for 15 years or less with experience on an Academy national level committee or taskforce or as a Board member of an affiliate or DPG/MIG within the past eight (8) years. The change is approved to go into effect for the 2019 Election. The Board also asked that the impact of this change be evaluated for next year.

A view of how the positions are listed on the nominations form follows. Please let me know if you approve or would like the wording changed for the new position. Once finalized I will send the notice of the new position to the full committee.

News from the Hill and Beyond

Farm Bill Conference Continues Reconciliation Discussions

The Farm Bill Conference Committee met on September 5 for what is likely their only in-person meeting before they work to finalize a negotiated farm bill that will be voted on in both chambers of Congress and signed into law before the September 30 deadline. The Academy has continued to voice support for the Senate version of the farm bill and share concerns about several provisions of the House version. Most recently, the Academy joined over 60 organizations to advocate for the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program in continuation of our farm bill priorities.

Academy Encourages USDA and Congress to Delay Relocation of NIFA

Last month, USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue released plans to relocate both the Economic Research Service and the National Institute of Food and Agriculture outside of the National Capital Region. The Academy has joined other organizations in voicing concern over the issue and in its own letter to Congress and USDA, respectfully opposed: 1) the USDA's proposed geographic move of ERS and NIFA without further release of the rationale and cost-benefit analysis and a cross-sector stakeholder dialogue and 2) the extraction of both agencies from USDA's Research, Education and Economics mission area. The Academy noted that members heavily rely on the food and nutrition research programs, resources, data and statistical resources provided by ERS and NIFA.

Serve on the 2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee; Informational Webinar on Friday - Register

On Wednesday, September 5, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Department of Health and Human Services issued a call for nominations to serve on the 2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee due to the agencies on October 6, 2018. Prospective members of the DGAC should be qualified experts with demonstrated scientific "expertise in human nutrition related to disease prevention and health promotion during different stages of life, such as pediatrics, obstetrics, and geriatrics." Other areas of expertise sought after include those encompassed by refined topics and questions the committee will examine. If you would like to nominate yourself or another qualified expert who meet the criteria for nominations, please submit name(s), credentials, and contact information by Friday, September 21, to Academy staff.

In addition, on Friday, September 14 from 3-4 p.m. (Eastern Time), we are convening a meeting with interested parties and individuals recommended by others to discuss nominations for the DGAC and involvement with the Academy's dietary guidelines process. Register here for the meeting.

Deadline Looms for Federal Spending Legislation

Congress is back in session and working on the Fiscal Year 2019 spending bills, which must pass before the current fiscal year ends on September 30, to prevent a government shutdown. The U.S. House of Representatives announced that members from the Republican and Democratic conferences will participate in the second Conference Committee, which will consider spending levels for federal health and nutrition programs at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The Academy will continue to provide updates as the legislation moves through the process.

Member Updates

ANDPAC Launches Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals

You can help build the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals" by supporting ANDPAC and your profession in a new campaign that will run through FNCE®.

Members who contribute in advance of FNCE® will have a commemorative brick on the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals." The bricks, made of recycled cardboard, can be inscribed with the donor's name, signed in memory or in honor of someone, or can be an inscription of choice limited to space available. The bricks will be part of a larger brick walkway on display at FNCE® this year. Suggested donations are $20 per brick, $35 for two bricks, or $50 for three bricks.

Donate today and help build the pathway to nutrition policy goals!

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

Calling All Current and Former Licensure Board Members - Register

Are you a current or former state licensure or certification board member? The Academy will be hosting a networking event for former and current licensure/certification board members at FNCE® this year. The facilitated event will allow attendees to network with colleagues, exchange ideas and share best practices.

Please note that while the Academy is providing the opportunity for the event, it will be independently run by licensure/certification board leaders.

Academy Members Invited to Join Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative - RSVP

The Academy is convening a Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative in order to regularly communicate about current policy and advocacy opportunities in the breast-feeding space. The intent is to broaden the scope of activities for breast-feeding advocacy and to ensure the ideas and expertise of members are considered.

The collaborative will hold a monthly one-hour call led by the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy team, beginning on October 2 at 3 p.m. (Eastern Time). The calls are open to all interested members; public policy leaders are encouraged to attend. Please RSVP.

Obesity Advocacy Day on September 27 with OCAN - Register

Academy members are encouraged join the Obesity Care Advocacy Network Advocacy Day on Thursday, September 27. The advocacy day will include Capitol Hill meetings from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. (Eastern Time), followed by a PAC reception to honor a member of Congress who has championed efforts to better promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services.

Celebrate Food Safety Education Month

The Partnership for Food Safety Education has a new resource that Academy members can use to promote September's Food Safety Education Month. The Story of Your Dinner animated video, available in English and Spanish, is an entertaining way to show consumers their role in the food safety chain of prevention.

September Spotlight on Malnutrition

During its September Spotlight on Malnutrition, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics will raise awareness of malnutrition, promote the crucial role of registered dietitian nutritionists in identifying and treating this serious medical condition, and provide educational resources for the public and Academy members. Look for opportunities in this section to get involved!

Spotlight on Adult and Senior Malnutrition - Register

Malnutrition is a leading cause of morbidity and mortality, especially among older adults. Up to half of adults age 65 and older and as many as 39 percent of older adult patients may be malnourished or at-risk for malnutrition. Malnourished adults are five times more likely to die during a hospitalization and 54 percent more likely to be readmitted. Learn more about the transition from hospital to community in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar on September 12 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

On September 13 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Healthy Aging and Dietetics in Health Care Communities DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

Spotlight on Special Populations and Malnutrition - Register

Identifying and treating malnutrition can be especially challenging when assessing special patient populations. Registered dietitian nutritionists with expertise in areas such as obesity and overweight, pregnancy and vegetarian diets, among others, offer important insight to the management of both overnutrition and undernutrition. Learn more about recognizing and treating malnutrition in special populations in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar on September 19 at 11 a.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

On September 20 at 11 a.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Vegetarian Nutrition, Weight Management, Women's Health, Behavioral Health Nutrition and Oncology Nutrition DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)
Spotlight on Global Malnutrition - Register

Recognizing the domestic and global impact of malnutrition and the role Academy members can play in preventing and treating malnutrition, the Academy began advocating for quality measures that would bring malnutrition to the forefront of health care. Learn more in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar, "Going Global: Collaborative Approaches to Solve Malnutrition," on September 26 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

On September 27 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Public Health Community Nutrition and Hunger and Environmental Nutrition DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)
Academy Members Receive Complimentary Access to ASPEN's Malnutrition Awareness Week - Register

Academy members are invited to participate in the American Society for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition's Malnutrition Awareness Week, September 24 to 28. Members will receive complimentary access to programming during Malnutrition Awareness Week.

Nomination Notices

Nomination Call: Geriatrics and Gerontology Advisory Committee, Due September 15 (last chance)

The Veterans Administration seeks nominees for membership on the Geriatrics and Gerontology Advisory Committee. This is an opportunity for the Academy to be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to veterans and their short- and long-term health care needs.

Nomination Call: Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee, Due October 1

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention seeks nominees for membership on the Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee. It is important that the Academy be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to food safety concerns with implications for public health.

Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest in being nominated and the basis for the nomination Mark Rifkin.

PALs, please plan to review the nomination opportunities section and share the information with your executive board or team.

Pat,

Thanks for your explanation of what Glenn suggested as possibly being perceived as a misguided example that positions the Academy in a poor light and creates the perception that this is a Board power play with the intent to diminish member involvement and engagement.

I would wholeheartedly support a more unbiased approach to listing as a disadvantages your example for Choice B, page 18--- "Board Decisions Made with Council, Committee and Task Force Recommendations."

I think I can speak for the HLT in that we look forward to a dialogue that is based on information that is accurate, succinct and unbiased.

I welcome Beth, Doris and the entire e teams input and am in favor of delaying the release of the backgrounder to the 21st or at the latest the 24th. I will get a consensus from the entire HLT to make a final decision asap.

Sincerely,

Marcy

Hi Marsha,

After the discussion yesterday, I agree with Marcy and others that we need to make certain the backgrounder is both informative and brief. One point in particular I need to make—I understand how the advantages/disadvantages list supports a level-3 backgrounder. Currently, however, there is a logical disconnect between the comparisons, and the pros/cons don't correlate, regardless of Glenn's input. A shortened and equal number comparison in both categories and properly worded examples can be a springboard in stimulating a dynamic and productive dialogue at the Fall House meeting.

One example is Choice B, page 18: One could say on the advantage side that the HOD Makes Recommendations to the Board ( I couldn't think of an example in the recent past of shared decision making on an issue). On the disadvantage side, it could say Board Decides, but that's not the full story. Glenn may not be aware that the Board rarely makes sole decisions on issues in a vacuum, but rather, consistently seeks member and external expert input and recommendations on issues impacting the profession and practice. So to be honest and totally transparent, the disadvantage side could be— Board Decisions Made with Council, Committee and Task Force Recommendations. The Board makes knowledge based decisions with input from members and staff. To say the "lost voice of membership" and "trust issues" are misguided examples that position the Academy in a poor light and creates the perception that this is a Board power play with the intent to diminish member involvement and engagement. In order to accomplish the HLT objective of having a constructive dialogue in October, we need to ensure that the information in the backgrounder is accurate, succinct and unbiased.

I will share the backgrounder with Mary Beth and Doris to obtain their input. We are already scheduled to discuss it with the eteam at next week's meeting.

Yesterday it was mentioned that the release date of the backgrounder may be extended. Is there a new date?

Thank you, and please let me know if you have any questions.

Good morning Pat,

Thank you for taking the time yesterday afternoon for the joint leadership team call. Marcy and I spoke this morning and she asked me to resend to you the working draft of a Backgrounder developed by Glenn and sent to us during the BOD meeting. She also asked me to share the following thoughts (her thoughts) with you.

As she reflected on the conversations yesterday around the advantages/disadvantages, she thought it important for you to know that many of the ones included in our draft Backgrounder came directly from Glenn. In particular, the ones about all the power being vested in the BOD were his. She heard your concerns about that statement and welcomes input on what statement(s) you think could be used instead. While it seemed the majority opinion on the call was to remove the advantages/disadvantages from the document, based on Glenn's expertise the HLT committed to adhering more closely to the KBSG model by doing a Level 3 Backgrounder for the meeting, which means it would include options along with advantages and disadvantages. The list of advantages/disadvantages is not meant to be exhaustive, but rather is meant to begin to stimulate thinking (avoid the "blank paper" approach). Based on the previous decision at the winter planning meeting with Glenn, along with considering yesterday's conversation with the leaders, Marcy is leaning towards keeping in the document a very short list of equal numbers of advantages/disadvantages for each option. Obviously they need to be carefully selected paying close attention to choice of language. The section would also be set up more strongly to indicate these are "perceived" advantages/disadvantages, are not an exhaustive list, could be differences of opinion, delegates may add/subtract, meant to get the juices flowing, etc.

With this information in hand, do you have any new or different thoughts this morning? And, once again, Marcy welcomes your input on appropriate ones to consider including.

Thank you,

Marsha

It is great speaking to everyone during the teleconference on Wednesday. Attached is a summary of our discussion. I am attaching a word version of the on-site program objectives for you to use to provide me with any changes by Monday, October 1, 2018. Nancy and Marc, I have your changes.

Debbie did not join the call due to a time zone issue. She listened to the audio recording and has provided her comments below.

Others who were unable to join the teleconference can also listen to the audio recording by accessing the link below.

Use the name Christine Reidy and the email address creidy@eatright.org to access the recording.

<https://wp0.teleconferencingcenter.com/playback/register?id=aaa3b137-fbb5-4eda-8252-01b65ea37f95>

Debbie comments:

I listened to the recording this morning. Apologies for messing up the time in my calendar. A few items:

1. I'm absolutely OK with being "voluntold" to review the revised objectives – I deserve this for missing the call and want to be part of the process. I have noted the deadlines!!
2. My point about technology and sedentary behavior was to look at the literature to see if there is any more information linking either of these to excess weight and impact generally. Sounds like Dr. Sothern will take on the technology review. On the sedentary side, it was more to look at the literature on counseling re: sedentary time to see if it has come along any since Len Epstein identified this as a separate counseling issue. I'll look at this.
3. I absolutely agree with the mental health comments and believe Craig would take this up (to update the content on mental health, social media, bullying, and weight).

Dear Donna,

The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy office is specifically seeking your input on this comment opportunity. You are a key Academy stakeholder on this topic. The deadline by which we seek input back to the Academy is Tuesday, September 21, 2018. Apologies for the very short timeline.

Our comment form is now a Google Document where you can add comments. We hope this is easier and more useful than the previous Word template. The agency's specific questions on the Google document.

Through this proposal, the FNS seeks comment on their survey of State Child Nutrition Program officials on the adequacy and utility of the Allocation Formula.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to email me.

Thanks again for your interest and I look forward to hearing back from you.

Sorry I am just getting back to all of you. I have company any at my house so have been busy entertaining. Agree that yesterday's call went well. Appreciate Pat starting the conversation off on the right foot. I think we almost got to where we need to be and the E team will put us over the top. Very excited to hear what the results of Kevin's phone call will be. We need a pipeline which is something I have been talking to the Nominating Committee about. That is another reason we need to get rid of the HLT members on the board to free up spots for more Director like positions. We have over 30 people nominated for director and 3 for treasurer, 3 for president and 3 for speaker. Very telling.

Interesting times. Look forward to future discussions about how we can help facilitate a robust pipeline of future leaders.

The fact that we have many "working leaders" now may be used as one tool to influence key individuals to consider how they can add a major leadership role to their already full "plate".

Yes, I agree. I think the Ss were very sincere in thanking you for the input. Bottom line, I was happy to see that none of the options were deleted altho the strategy used to list the advantages/disadvantages was almost laughable ( not really the word I'm looking for).

It's been a very busy day, so I did want to make sure you received the list of nominees who accepted the nominations for the top ballot positions.

Hi Pat,

I hope all is well. With my head still spinning from our discussion last week, I feel like I'm ready and also owe you a phone visit. How is your schedule looking early next week - I can send some times too if that is easier.

Thanks much - Kevin

I thought the call went very well. Pat you did a great job of starting a “fierce” conversation in a way that opened up positive dialogue with good response. (Sorry I cut you off at the end I was just repeating the obvious.)

It is easy to personalize feedback and comments and I do not think that happened today. They were open, positive and receptive. The energy was good!

Have great trips Mary and Donna. Pat hopefully you will take some time for you.
And above all stay safe!

To my fellow Academy members:

As Hurricane Florence heads toward the East Coast, we encourage everyone in the affected areas – and your families, friends, clients and patients – to exercise caution and above all to stay safe.

The Academy's website offers resources you can use in disaster planning and recovery, including the updated eatright.org article "Food Safety in the Home After a Hurricane and Flooding" and the Food & Nutrition Magazine blog posting "How to Safely Feed Your Family During a Severe Storm."

Follow the Academy's social media platforms for current information:

Facebook: Eat Right Nutrition

The Foundation's Disaster Relief Fund application is now available. The fund provides up to $2,500 through the Life Rebuilding fund for personal rebuilding efforts and up to $500 through the CDR Professional Rebuilding fund for professional and continuing education activities. Applications must be received within three months of the disaster to qualify for assistance.

For additional disaster relief information, visit:

To my fellow Academy members:

As Hurricane Florence heads toward the East Coast, we encourage everyone in the affected areas – and your families, friends, clients and patients – to exercise caution and above all to stay safe.

The Academy’s website offers resources you can use in disaster planning and recovery, including the updated eatright.org article “Food Safety in the Home After a Hurricane and Flooding” and the Food & Nutrition Magazine blog posting “How to Safely Feed Your Family During a Severe Storm.”

Follow the Academy’s social media platforms for current information:

Facebook: Eat Right Nutrition

The Foundation’s Disaster Relief Fund application is now available. The fund provides up to $2,500 through the Life Rebuilding fund for personal rebuilding efforts and up to $500 through the CDR Professional Rebuilding fund for professional and continuing education activities. Applications must be received within three months of the disaster to qualify for assistance.

For additional disaster relief information, visit:

Hi Joan and team,

Given the recent BoD meeting and the Ps/Ss call soon, I suggest that we cancel the 9/18 Ps meeting.

We do a great job of staying in touch as needed and Pat does a superb job of keeping us informed about issues that pop up.

Of course I welcome other ideas!!

Hi, Adam,

We are happy to help coordinate the video recording of Donna Martin for Ms. Obama's upcoming memoir, BECOMING. The morning of Friday, October 19, works well for Donna – preferably around 9 or 10 a.m., if possible. We will have a media taping room (#210) at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center in D.C. that should work great for your needs.

Please let me know what time works best for you and anything else you may need.

Dear Donna,

I am working with Michelle Obama's office on a video project around her upcoming memoir, BECOMING.

We are looking to record a short interview with you, as an individual whose personal story touched Michelle Obama, and who was a part of her story as First Lady.

We would work with you on the best location and date to do this in the coming weeks, and the interview would take approximately 30 minutes.

The video content we are collecting will be used at live events during Mrs. Obama's book tour this fall, and over social media.

BECOMING comes out on November 13th.

The questions we'd ask you to consider leading up to our discussion would be:

- What does 'owning your story' mean to you?
- Tell us, in as much detail as you can recall, about time you have spent with Ms. Obama?
- What do you expect from yourself, i.e. how are you striving and working to be your best self?
- What are you BECOMING right now, at this point in your life? (This is Ms. Obama's book title, and this answer could only be a few words, "I am becoming _____")
- What is your favorite Michelle Obama moment?
- One of the Mrs. Obama talks about a lot in this book is helping others tell their own stories. What are most important things people should know about your story?
- What has Ms. Obama's impact been on you and your life.

If you are unable to meet up with us in person, I'd like to discuss how we can get you to record yourself with the technology in your life (phone, webcam, etc..) as we'd still like for you to participate!

Let us know what you think asap so we can plan accordingly!

Here is a bit about Mrs. Obama's book:

Becoming is an involving, fascinating epic of an evolving life, where every story plays a part in exploring and explaining the challenges and the triumphs, the surprises and the losses that made Michelle Obama who she is.

She describes her life as extraordinarily ordinary, full of love and great role models...ordinary working people that she saw get up every day and do what they were supposed to and serve as role models and work in their communities and help others. She grew up in a family of generosity and kindness...in a home of many strong men – and women - who loved and respected her.

Dear Donna,

I am working with Michelle Obama's office on a video project around her upcoming memoir, BECOMING.

We are looking to record a short interview with you, as an individual who's personal story touched Michelle Obama, and who was a part of her story as First Lady.

We would work with you on the best location and date to do this in the coming weeks, and the interview would take approximately 30 minutes.

The video content we are collecting will be used at live events during Mrs. Obama's book tour this fall, and over social media.

BECOMING comes out on November 13th.

The questions we'd ask you to consider leading up to our discussion would be:

- What does 'owning your story' mean to you?
- Tell us, in as much detail as you can recall, about time you have spent with Ms. Obama?
- What do you expect from yourself, i.e. how are you striving and working to be your best self?
- What are you BECOMING right now, at this point in your life? (This is Ms. Obama's book title, and this answer could only be a few words, "I am becoming _____")
- What is your favorite Michelle Obama moment?
- One of the Mrs. Obama talks about a lot in this book is helping others tell their own stories. What are most important things people should know about your story?
- What has Ms. Obama's impact been on you and your life.

If you are unable to meet up with us in person, I'd like to discuss how we can get you to record yourself with the technology in your life (phone, webcam, etc..) as we'd still like for you to participate!

Let us know what you think asap so we can plan accordingly!

Here is a bit about Mrs. Obama's book:

Becoming is an involving, fascinating epic of an evolving life, where every story plays a part in exploring and explaining the challenges and the triumphs, the surprises and the losses that made Michelle Obama who she is.

She describes her life as extraordinarily ordinary, full of love and great role models...ordinary working people that she saw get up every day and do what they were supposed to and serve as role models and work in their communities and help others. She grew up in a family of generosity and kindness...in a home of many strong men – and women - who loved and respected her.

Hi, Donna,

I will reach out to Adam (keep you cc:ed) to help facilitate the taping ... which we will do in our Media Taping Room #210 at the convention center. It seemed like Friday morning would work for both of you (and before our rehearsal). Do you have a preference of time on Friday morning?

We will also help with any talking points, but this is really all you! Once I hear back from you on timing, I'll reach out to Adam.

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

PPW Registration Closes September 14

Due to the popularity of this year's Public Policy Workshop, the event is near capacity. Registration for PPW will end at noon Central time on Friday, September 14. There will be no opportunity to register after the deadline or at the Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo. Register now for FNCE and add the Public Policy Workshop to your registration for free. If you have already completed your FNCE registration, add PPW to your profile by logging in to your dashboard. PPW will begin October 23, followed by a rally and Capitol Hill visits October 24.

September 13: Spotlight on Adult and Senior Malnutrition

Malnutrition is a leading cause of morbidity and mortality, especially among older adults. Resources, tips and tools for adult malnutrition are available for Academy members. On September 13 at noon Central time, the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Healthy Aging and Dietetics in Health Care Communities dietetic practice groups. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

Farm Bill Conference Committee Continues Reconciliation Discussions

The Farm Bill Conference committee met September 5 for what is likely its only in-person meeting before working to finalize a negotiated farm bill. The bill will be voted on in both chambers of Congress and signed into law before the September 30 deadline. The Academy has continued to voice support for the Senate version of the farm bill and share our concerns about several provisions of the House version. Most recently the Academy joined more than 60 organizations to advocate for the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program in continuation of its Farm Bill activities.

Academy Encourages USDA and Congress: Delay Relocation of NIFA

Agriculture Secretary Sonny Perdue released plans in August to relocate both the Economic Research Service and the National Institute of Food and Agriculture outside of the National Capital Region. The Academy has joined other organizations in voicing concern. The Academy wrote to Congress and USDA respectfully opposing the proposed geographic move of ERS and NIFA without further release of the rationale and cost-benefit analysis and a cross-sector stakeholder dialogue; and the extraction of both agencies from USDA's Research, Education and Economics mission area. The Academy noted that members heavily rely on the food and nutrition research programs, resources, data and statistical resources provided by ERS and NIFA.

Deadline Looms for Federal Spending Legislation

Congress is back in session and working on the Fiscal Year 2019 spending bills, which must pass before the current fiscal year ends September 30 to prevent a government shutdown. The House of Representatives announced the members who will participate in a conference committee to consider spending levels for health and nutrition programs at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The Academy will continue to provide updates as the legislation moves through the process.

Celebrate Food Safety Education Month

The Partnership for Food Safety Education offers a new resource Academy members can use to promote September's Food Safety Education Month. The "Story of Your Dinner" animated video, available in English and Spanish, is an entertaining way to show consumers their role in the food safety chain of prevention.

Pancreatic Enzyme Replacement Therapy in Exocrine Pancreatic Insufficiency

Date: Thursday, September 13, 12 PM CST (1 hr. event)
CPEU: 1 credit

Exocrine pancreatic insufficiency (EPI) inhibits an individual's ability to properly digest food, leading to malabsorption of macro- and micronutrients. EPI is associated with diagnoses including cystic fibrosis, chronic pancreatitis, and pancreatic cancer. Pancreatic enzyme replacement therapy (PERT) is a common treatment for EPI. Successful management of EPI with PERT requires an understanding of digestion and absorption, as well as diet composition.

RDNs are an important resource in equipping a patient or caretaker with the tools needed to effectively manage EPI with PERT. This webinar will provide RDNs with an overview of EPI, key counseling messages, practical guidelines on dosing PERT, and an update on PERT formulations.

Learning Objectives:

1. Define exocrine pancreatic insufficiency and associated symptoms.
2. Identify the role of the RDN in exocrine pancreatic insufficiency management.
3. Demonstrate ability to calculate pancreatic enzyme replacement therapy dose and assess for adequacy.

As we mentioned during the Board meeting in Chicago, due to the popularity of this year's Public Policy Workshop, the Academy is near capacity and will close registration for PPW 2018 this Friday, September 14, at noon CT. After registration closes, there will be no opportunity to enroll after the deadline or onsite at the Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™ in Washington, D.C.

Please share this information with members. Now is the time for them to register for FNCE® and add the Public Policy Workshop for free to registration. If they have already completed a FNCE® registration, they can still add PPW to their FNCE® profile by logging in to their dashboard. Please note: PPW sessions will continue on Tuesday, October 23, followed by a rally and Capitol Hill visits on Wednesday, October 24. Please remind them to plan all travel accordingly.

We will be sharing this information with members in tomorrow's Eat Right Weekly and via all social pro channels, including the FNCE® and eatrightPRO.org websites.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,

Pat

News from the Hill and Beyond

Farm Bill Conference Continues Reconciliation Discussions

The Farm Bill Conference Committee met on September 5 for what is likely their only in-person meeting before they work to finalize a negotiated farm bill that will be voted on in both chambers of Congress and signed into law before the September 30 deadline. The Academy has continued to voice support for the Senate version of the farm bill and share concerns about several provisions of the House version. Most recently, the Academy joined over 60 organizations to advocate for the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program in continuation of our farm bill priorities.

Academy Encourages USDA and Congress to Delay Relocation of NIFA

Last month, USDA Secretary Sonny Perdue released plans to relocate both the Economic Research Service and the National Institute of Food and Agriculture outside of the National Capital Region. The Academy has joined other organizations in voicing concern over the issue and in its own letter to Congress and USDA, respectfully opposed: 1) the USDA's proposed geographic move of ERS and NIFA without further release of the rationale and cost-benefit analysis and a cross-sector stakeholder dialogue and 2) the extraction of both agencies from USDA's Research, Education and Economics mission area. The Academy noted that members heavily rely on the food and nutrition research programs, resources, data and statistical resources provided by ERS and NIFA.

Serve on the 2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee; Informational Webinar on Friday - Register

On Wednesday, September 5, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Department of Health and Human Services issued a call for nominations to serve on the 2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee due to the agencies on October 6, 2018. Prospective members of the DGAC should be qualified experts with demonstrated scientific "expertise in human nutrition related to disease prevention and health promotion during different stages of life, such as pediatrics, obstetrics, and geriatrics." Other areas of expertise sought after include those encompassed by refined topics and questions the committee will examine. If you would like to nominate yourself or another qualified expert who meet the criteria for nominations, please submit name(s), credentials, and contact information by Friday, September 21, to Academy staff.

In addition, on Friday, September 14 from 3-4 p.m. (Eastern Time), we are convening a meeting with interested parties and individuals recommended by others to discuss nominations for the DGAC and involvement with the Academy's dietary guidelines process. Register here for the meeting.

Deadline Looms for Federal Spending Legislation

Congress is back in session and working on the Fiscal Year 2019 spending bills, which must pass before the current fiscal year ends on September 30, to prevent a government shutdown. The U.S. House of Representatives announced that members from the Republican and Democratic conferences will participate in the second Conference Committee, which will consider spending levels for federal health and nutrition programs at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The Academy will continue to provide updates as the legislation moves through the process.

Member Updates

ANDPAC Launches Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals

You can help build the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals" by supporting ANDPAC and your profession in a new campaign that will run through FNCE®.

Members who contribute in advance of FNCE® will have a commemorative brick on the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals." The bricks, made of recycled cardboard, can be inscribed with the donor's name, signed in memory or in honor of someone, or can be an inscription of choice limited to space available. The bricks will be part of a larger brick walkway on display at FNCE® this year. Suggested donations are $20 per brick, $35 for two bricks, or $50 for three bricks.

Donate today and help build the pathway to nutrition policy goals!

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

Calling All Current and Former Licensure Board Members - Register

Are you a current or former state licensure or certification board member? The Academy will be hosting a networking event for former and current licensure/certification board members at FNCE® this year. The facilitated event will allow attendees to network with colleagues, exchange ideas and share best practices.

Please note that while the Academy is providing the opportunity for the event, it will be independently run by licensure/certification board leaders.

Academy Members Invited to Join Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative - RSVP

The Academy is convening a Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative in order to regularly communicate about current policy and advocacy opportunities in the breast-feeding space. The intent is to broaden the scope of activities for breast-feeding advocacy and to ensure the ideas and expertise of members are considered.

The collaborative will hold a monthly one-hour call led by the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy team, beginning on October 2 at 3 p.m. (Eastern Time). The calls are open to all interested members; public policy leaders are encouraged to attend. Please RSVP.

Obesity Advocacy Day on September 27 with OCAN - Register

Academy members are encouraged join the Obesity Care Advocacy Network Advocacy Day on Thursday, September 27. The advocacy day will include Capitol Hill meetings from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. (Eastern Time), followed by a PAC reception to honor a member of Congress who has championed efforts to better promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services.

Celebrate Food Safety Education Month

The Partnership for Food Safety Education has a new resource that Academy members can use to promote September's Food Safety Education Month. The Story of Your Dinner animated video, available in English and Spanish, is an entertaining way to show consumers their role in the food safety chain of prevention.

September Spotlight on Malnutrition

During its September Spotlight on Malnutrition, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics will raise awareness of malnutrition, promote the crucial role of registered dietitian nutritionists in identifying and treating this serious medical condition, and provide educational resources for the public and Academy members. Look for opportunities in this section to get involved!

Spotlight on Adult and Senior Malnutrition - Register

Malnutrition is a leading cause of morbidity and mortality, especially among older adults. Up to half of adults age 65 and older and as many as 39 percent of older adult patients may be malnourished or at-risk for malnutrition. Malnourished adults are five times more likely to die during a hospitalization and 54 percent more likely to be readmitted. Learn more about the transition from hospital to community in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar on September 12 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

On September 13 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Healthy Aging and Dietetics in Health Care Communities DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

Spotlight on Special Populations and Malnutrition - Register

Identifying and treating malnutrition can be especially challenging when assessing special patient populations. Registered dietitian nutritionists with expertise in areas such as obesity and overweight, pregnancy and vegetarian diets, among others, offer important insight to the management of both overnutrition and undernutrition. Learn more about recognizing and treating malnutrition in special populations in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar on September 19 at 11 a.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

On September 20 at 11 a.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Vegetarian Nutrition, Weight Management, Women's Health, Behavioral Health Nutrition and Oncology Nutrition DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)
Spotlight on Global Malnutrition - Register

Recognizing the domestic and global impact of malnutrition and the role Academy members can play in preventing and treating malnutrition, the Academy began advocating for quality measures that would bring malnutrition to the forefront of health care. Learn more in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar, "Going Global: Collaborative Approaches to Solve Malnutrition," on September 26 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

On September 27 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Public Health Community Nutrition and Hunger and Environmental Nutrition DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)
Academy Members Receive Complimentary Access to ASPEN's Malnutrition Awareness Week - Register

Academy members are invited to participate in the American Society for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition's Malnutrition Awareness Week, September 24 to 28. Members will receive complimentary access to programming during Malnutrition Awareness Week.

Register using the discount code MAW-Academy.
Public Policy Trainings & Open Forums
PPW Bootcamp: Prep for PPCs and PALs

During the 2018 Public Policy Workshop, held on October 23 - 24, PPCs and PALs will be spearheading the effort for their affiliate and will need to be well versed on their responsibilities and leadership role.

Note: all PPCs and PALs (or their designated alternate) should attend all Boot Camp sessions.

PPW Boot Camp Session 2 – PPW 2018: Checking In - Register

- September 18 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time)

PPW Boot Camp Session 3 – Leading the Charge - Register

- October 23 from 10 a.m. to noon. This session will be in person at FNCE®.

PPW Prep-Session 1: Ready, Set, Charge! (tomorrow) - Register

- September 12 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time)

All members who have signed up for PPW through the FNCE® registration process are expected to attend PPW prep sessions.

Regulatory Roundup

Regulatory Roundup

The Academy has an opportunity to shape and revise regulations by submitting comments to federal agencies. A list of regulatory items, ordered by date, are available here.

Additionally, starting this month we've added calendar containing all relevant meetings with remote access. All meeting are open to the public. You will find the calendar with hyperlinked events at the end of the Regulatory Roundup.

View Regulatory Roundup

PALs, please plan to review the regulatory opportunities section each week and share the information with your executive board or team.

Action Center

Action Alerts Closing September 30

There are three action alerts available that need your attention. These action alerts will be closing soon, so if you haven't already taken action, take action today!

- Preventative Health Savings Act, H.R. 2953/S. 2164
- The Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act, H.R. 3124/S. 1299
- The Expanding Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training in Medicare Act, H.R. 5768

PPCs/PALs, please share with your communication channels!

Take Action

Having technical difficulties? Contact Nate Stritzinger for any action alert issues.

Nomination Notices

Nomination Call: Geriatrics and Gerontology Advisory Committee, Due September 15 (last chance)

The Veterans Administration seeks nominees for membership on the Geriatrics and Gerontology Advisory Committee. This is an opportunity for the Academy to be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to veterans and their short- and long-term health care needs.

Nomination Call: Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee, Due October 1

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention seeks nominees for membership on the Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee. It is important that the Academy be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to food safety concerns with implications for public health.

Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest in being nominated and the basis for the nomination Mark Rifkin.

PALs, please plan to review the nomination opportunities section and share the information with your executive board or team.

ANDPAC Corner

ANDPAC Events at FNCE® and PPW

Walking Tour of DC Monuments, October 20, 9-11 a.m.

- Register. $25 ANDPAC donation

Academy DC Office Open House and Reception, October 20 from 1-3 p.m.

- Register for the open house and reception when you register for FNCE® 2018. The reception is not included in the registration cost. $50 ANDPAC donation.

ANDPAC Signature Event, October 23 from 7-9 p.m.

- Spend a night on the town and kick off the Public Policy Workshop while supporting ANDPAC. Come dressed to impress in cocktail attire; drinks and hors d'oeuvres will be served. This event will feature a member of Congress as the guest of honor and will provide excellent photo opportunities of the U.S. Capitol.

- Register for the ANDPAC Signature Event when you register for FNCE® 2018. $125 ANDPAC donation.

ANDPAC Accepts Contributions from Academy Members ONLY

It is a common myth that ANDPAC takes money from incorporated entities for candidates. In fact, ANDPAC may only accept contributions for candidate contributions from the Academy members. Donations from incorporated entities can only be used for the ANDPAC administrative fund.

Public Policy Workshop

FNCE®/ PPW - Events

An overview of PPW events for policy leaders can be found here.

***PPW Registration Deadline: Friday, September 14 at 1 p.m. Eastern Time!

Due to the popularity of this year's Public Policy Workshop, the Academy is near capacity and will close registration for PPW 2018 this Friday, September 14, at 1 p.m. Eastern Time. After registration closes, there will be no opportunity to enroll after the deadline or onsite at the Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™ in Washington, D.C. Now is the time to register for FNCE® and add the Public Policy Workshop for free to your registration. If you have already completed your FNCE® registration, you can still add PPW to your FNCE® profile by logging in to your dashboard .

Note: PPW sessions begin on Tuesday, October 23, following closing session, and continue with a rally on the Capitol Steps followed Hill visits on Wednesday, October 24. Please plan all travel accordingly.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

PPW Updates for PPCs and PALs

PPCs: the updated registration lists by state for PPW has been posted on the COI. Please check weekly for any updates and begin reaching out to your affiliate PPW team.

PALs: please refer to the PPC and PAL list by state located on the COI. Connect with the PPC in your state to begin assisting in PPW planning for your affiliate. Keep an eye out for more information regarding your role at PPW this year.

Thumbs Up

Hi Joan and team,

Given the recent BoD meeting and the Ps/Ss call soon, I suggest that we cancel the 9/18 Ps meeting.

We do a great job of staying in touch as needed and Pat does a superb job of keeping us informed about issues that pop up.

Of course I welcome other ideas!!

We followed up with the BuzzFeed reporter and as suspected, she is working on a story about disclosing funding in research. We provided her with the background information she requested regarding the Salt Institute unrestricted grant and David McCarron.

We also made it very clear to the reporter that the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics had no part in the development of this paper and did not review it prior to publication. We noted that lack of disclosure is against the Academy's Scientific Integrity Principles, and any questions about why McCarron did not disclose his source of funding are most appropriately directed to him.

The reporter reached out to both Jacobson and McCarron and was waiting to hear back from them. She plans on posting the story this week. I will continue to keep you posted. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,

Pat

Subject: CONFIDENTIAL ... BuzzFeed Media Inquiry

I want to make you aware of a situation that has occurred. Late last Friday, I was contacted by a reporter from BuzzFeed about a research project tied to an unrestricted grant received by the Foundation from the Salt Institute. Although we get contacted by reporters all the time, this one raises concerns because it came from a reporter that was contacted by Michael Jacobson, the founder and retired executive director of the Center for Science in the Public Interest.

The Foundation received an initial unrestricted grant in 2015 from GMA to support an economic modeling project on sodium reduction that would include Academy representation on an expert workgroup consisting of national and international experts with differing perspectives on sodium. The Academy's Research Team would be working with the American Society of Hypertension and the American Society of Nutrition on a project including representatives from UAB, Georgetown University, Arizona State University, UC Davis. The project evolved from this original concept to the development of a concept for a randomized clinical trial on the impact of sodium intake on health outcomes.

Over the past three years, the Foundation has received $50,000 from the Salt Institute. The funding was accepted to support two purposes: 1) fund the development of a study concept that would then be published in a peer review journal with the intent to provide transparency to the work and 2) to support an RDN advisory group that would provide critical input into the concept and eventual protocol. It was our understanding that the draft protocol would be developed by a lead researcher at Duke. The advisory group of RDN experts would critically evaluate the protocol to ensure a balanced and unbiased approach to advancing understanding of the impact of sodium intake on health outcomes. This advisory group has not yet been appointed; it is on hold until a proposal from Duke University is ready for review.

A portion of the unrestricted Salt Institute grant was released to support the efforts of David McCarron, MD, a research associate in the department of nutrition at the University of California-Davis and former head of the nephrology division at Oregon Health & Science University. McCarron and a study group organized with Duke University developed the Call for Dietary Sodium Outcomes Clinical Trial, published in May in Hypertension, the Journal of the American Heart Association (attached).

We believe the reason the reporter contacted the Academy is that McCarron did not to disclose the source of his funding when this journal article appeared. We were not included in the paper, nor did we review it prior to publication. We are disappointed because McCarron's lack of disclosure is against our Scientific Integrity Principles.

Jacobson, a longtime critic of McCarron and his ties to the salt industry, contacted me in July asking about the grant. In the Academy's spirit of transparency, I shared information with

Jacobson and invited a member of his team to join the review panel once it is formed.

Instead, Jacobson contacted numerous members of the news media and shared our email exchange with the Buzzfeed reporter. The reporter then contacted the Academy for comment on a story she is preparing.

We have called the reporter and are waiting to hear back. I will continue to keep you posted. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,
Pat

Dear Donna,

You asked me to forward the text used with NDEP last year responding to the member that asked about CEO compensation. The piece was embedded in a broader communication related to the Academy advocating for member salaries. It is your call whether you want to include that portion as well in your communication to Board members. Please let me know if you need anything else.

This year's performance review was such a positive experience and I have you to thank for it! It's been a pleasure as well as a blessing to work with you as a colleague and a dear friend!

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND®) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the September ACEND Standards News is posted on the ACEND webpage: Standards News. In this issue there is a discussion on the advantages of Competency-Based Education (CBE).

Two pre-FNCE workshops for program directors are planned, one that covers the 2017 Accreditation Standards and another that covers the Future Education Model (FEM) Accreditation Standards. ACEND has also issued a third call for demonstration programs to be accredited under the FEM Standards; applications are due by 11:00 am CT on January 11, 2019.

The Virtual Town Hall meetings are now held quarterly. The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday September 19 at 3 pm CT. The town hall provides a time for ACEND to share updates on its standards work and for stakeholders to ask questions. Information on joining the town hall can be found at www.eatrightpro.org/FutureModel.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the ACEND Standards News will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

Can you confirm which date I should use as it relates to Pat's increase?

Hi, Donna,

I will reach out to Adam (keep you cc:ed) to help facilitate the taping ... which we will do in our Media Taping Room #210 at the convention center. It seemed like Friday morning would work for both of you (and before our rehearsal). Do you have a preference of time on Friday morning?

We will also help with any talking points, but this is really all you! Once I hear back from you on timing, I'll reach out to Adam.

Thank you!

ok great- lets plan on late morning on the 19th.. so we don't make you hit the ground running in DC.

Will you be staying in a hotel - we may be able to use a conference room there - so let me know if you have that booked and I can inquire with the hotel

We could do elsewhere of course, there are plenty of good options if that doesnt work.

Dear Donna,

I am working with Michelle Obama's office on a video project around her upcoming memoir, BECOMING.

We are looking to record a short interview with you, as an individual whose personal story touched Michelle Obama, and who was a part of her story as First Lady.

We would work with you on the best location and date to do this in the coming weeks, and the interview would take approximately 30 minutes.

The video content we are collecting will be used at live events during Mrs. Obama's book tour this fall, and over social media.

BECOMING comes out on November 13th.

The questions we'd ask you to consider leading up to our discussion would be:

- What does 'owning your story' mean to you?
- Tell us, in as much detail as you can recall, about time you have spent with Ms. Obama?
- What do you expect from yourself, i.e. how are you striving and working to be your best self?
- What are you BECOMING right now, at this point in your life? (This is Ms. Obama's book title, and this answer could only be a few words, "I am becoming _____")
- What is your favorite Michelle Obama moment?
- One of the Mrs. Obama talks about a lot in this book is helping others tell their own stories. What are most important things people should know about your story?
- What has Ms. Obama's impact been on you and your life.

If you are unable to meet up with us in person, I'd like to discuss how we can get you to record yourself with the technology in your life (phone, webcam, etc..) as we'd still like for you to participate!

Let us know what you think asap so we can plan accordingly!

Here is a bit about Mrs. Obama's book:

Becoming is an involving, fascinating epic of an evolving life, where every story plays a part in exploring and explaining the challenges and the triumphs, the surprises and the losses that made Michelle Obama who she is.

She describes her life as extraordinarily ordinary, full of love and great role models...ordinary working people that she saw get up every day and do what they were supposed to and serve as role models and work in their communities and help others. She grew up in a family of generosity and kindness...in a home of many strong men – and women - who loved and respected her.

I want to make you aware of a situation that has occurred. Late last Friday, I was contacted by a reporter from BuzzFeed about a research project tied to an unrestricted grant received by the Foundation from the Salt Institute. Although we get contacted by reporters all the time, this one raises concerns because it came from a reporter that was contacted by Michael Jacobson, the founder and retired executive director of the Center for Science in the Public Interest.

The Foundation received an initial unrestricted grant in 2015 from GMA to support an economic modeling project on sodium reduction that would include Academy representation on an expert workgroup consisting of national and international experts with differing perspectives on sodium. The Academy's Research Team would be working with the American Society of Hypertension and the American Society of Nutrition on a project including representatives from UAB, Georgetown University, Arizona State University, UC Davis. The project evolved from this original concept to the development of a concept for a randomized clinical trial on the impact of sodium intake on health outcomes.

Over the past three years, the Foundation has received $50,000 from the Salt Institute. The funding was accepted to support two purposes: 1) fund the development of a study concept that would then be published in a peer review journal with the intent to provide transparency to the work and 2) to support an RDN advisory group that would provide critical input into the concept and eventual protocol. It was our understanding that the draft protocol would be developed by a lead researcher at Duke. The advisory group of RDN experts would critically evaluate the protocol to ensure a balanced and unbiased approach to advancing understanding of the impact of sodium intake on health outcomes. This advisory group has not yet been appointed; it is on hold until a proposal from Duke University is ready for review.

A portion of the unrestricted Salt Institute grant was released to support the efforts of David McCarron, MD, a research associate in the department of nutrition at the University of California-Davis and former head of the nephrology division at Oregon Health & Science University. McCarron and a study group organized with Duke University developed the Call for Dietary Sodium Outcomes Clinical Trial, published in May in Hypertension, the Journal of the American Heart Association (attached).

We believe the reason the reporter contacted the Academy is that McCarron did not to disclose the source of his funding when this journal article appeared. We were not included in the paper, nor did we review it prior to publication. We are disappointed because McCarron's lack of disclosure is against our Scientific Integrity Principles.

Jacobson, a longtime critic of McCarron and his ties to the salt industry, contacted me in July asking about the grant. In the Academy's spirit of transparency, I shared information with Jacobson and invited a member of his team to join the review panel once it is formed.

Instead, Jacobson contacted numerous members of the news media and shared our email exchange with the Buzzfeed reporter. The reporter then contacted the Academy for comment on a story she is preparing.

We have called the reporter and are waiting to hear back. I will continue to keep you posted. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,
Pat

Seems that non disclosure of funding is a focus these days-it has been going on for a long time but like #MeToo has renewed interest.

I want to make you aware of a situation that has occurred. Late last Friday, I was contacted by a reporter from BuzzFeed about a research project tied to an unrestricted grant received by the Foundation from the Salt Institute. Although we get contacted by reporters all the time, this one raises concerns because it came from a reporter that was contacted by Michael Jacobson, the founder and retired executive director of the Center for Science in the Public Interest.

The Foundation received an initial unrestricted grant in 2015 from GMA to support an economic modeling project on sodium reduction that would include Academy representation on an expert workgroup consisting of national and international experts with differing perspectives on sodium. The Academy's Research Team would be working with the American Society of Hypertension and the American Society of Nutrition on a project including representatives from UAB, Georgetown University, Arizona State University, UC Davis. The project evolved from this original concept to the development of a concept for a randomized clinical trial on the impact of sodium intake on health outcomes.

Over the past three years, the Foundation has received $50,000 from the Salt Institute. The funding was accepted to support two purposes: 1) fund the development of a study concept that would then be published in a peer review journal with the intent to provide transparency to the work and 2) to support an RDN advisory group that would provide critical input into the concept and eventual protocol. It was our understanding that the draft protocol would be developed by a lead researcher at Duke. The advisory group of RDN experts would critically evaluate the protocol to ensure a balanced and unbiased approach to advancing understanding of the impact of sodium intake on health outcomes. This advisory group has not yet been appointed; it is on hold until a proposal from Duke University is ready for review.

A portion of the unrestricted Salt Institute grant was released to support the efforts of David McCarron, MD, a research associate in the department of nutrition at the University of California-Davis and former head of the nephrology division at Oregon Health & Science University. McCarron and a study group organized with Duke University developed the Call for Dietary Sodium Outcomes Clinical Trial, published in May in Hypertension, the Journal of the American Heart Association (attached).

We believe the reason the reporter contacted the Academy is that McCarron did not to disclose the source of his funding when this journal article appeared. We were not included in the paper, nor did we review it prior to publication. We are disappointed because McCarron's lack of disclosure is against our Scientific Integrity Principles.

Jacobson, a longtime critic of McCarron and his ties to the salt industry, contacted me in July asking about the grant. In the Academy's spirit of transparency, I shared information with Jacobson and invited a member of his team to join the review panel once it is formed.

Instead, Jacobson contacted numerous members of the news media and shared our email exchange with the BuzzFeed reporter. The reporter then contacted the Academy for comment on a story she is preparing.

We have called the reporter and are waiting to hear back. I will continue to keep you posted. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,
Pat

Hi Donna-

Thanks for sharing! It is important to note, though, that CDR does not permit any provider to withhold CPE certificates from attendees if they are verified participants who meet qualification of participation/receiving the CPE. Therefore, they technically cannot mandate completion of an evaluation in order to obtain CPE certificates. Here is a bit of clarification since evaluations are needed, but they cannot be tied to giving participants their CPE certs.

Per the CDR Provider book:

Standard 3 – Program Assessment and Outcomes Evaluation

Providers will offer an opportunity for learners to evaluate the CPE activity. Further, Providers will regularly use this important feedback to continually improve the activities/ materials offered. Learners must also be notified that they may submit evaluations of the quality of activities/materials to CDR.

Standard 5 – Operation Policies and Procedures

A certificate of attendance or completion is provided to the learner and records of attendance are maintained for seven (7) years. A certificate of attendance or completion will be provided for each individual who completes the education activity. Records of activities/materials completion will be maintained for seven (7) years. Procedures will be in place so CDR Credentialed Practitioners can receive documentation, in a timely manner, of their attendance or completion of a CPE activity.

Love the out of the box ideas, but we definitely need to check with CDR to see if the aforementioned provider standards have changed beyond their published information in the June 2018 Provider Handbook before we would start implementing such a process.

Thanks,

Diane

Hi Donna- Here is the invite and connection info to do a quick re-record for the wrap up slides (NFPE to end). The QM slides were captured just fine.

Should only take us 5 or so minutes so I scheduled for 3:15 pm EDT.

Thanks!

ok great- lets plan on late morning on the 19th.. so we don't make you hit the ground running in DC.

Will you be staying in a hotel - we may be able to use a conference room there - so let me know if you have that booked and I can inquire with the hotel

We could do elsewhere of course, there are plenty of good options if that doesnt work.

Dear Donna,

I am working with Michelle Obama's office on a video project around her upcoming memoir, BECOMING.

We are looking to record a short interview with you, as an individual who's personal story touched Michelle Obama, and who was a part of her story as First Lady.

We would work with you on the best location and date to do this in the coming weeks, and the interview would take approximately 30 minutes.

The video content we are collecting will be used at live events during Mrs. Obama's book tour this fall, and over social media.

BECOMING comes out on November 13th.

The questions we'd ask you to consider leading up to our discussion would be:

- What does 'owning your story' mean to you?
- Tell us, in as much detail as you can recall, about time you have spent with Ms. Obama?
- What do you expect from yourself, i.e. how are you striving and working to be your best self?
- What are you BECOMING right now, at this point in your life? (This is Ms. Obama's book title, and this answer could only be a few words, "I am becoming _____")
- What is your favorite Michelle Obama moment?
- One of the Mrs. Obama talks about a lot in this book is helping others tell their own stories. What are most important things people should know about your story?
- What has Ms. Obama's impact been on you and your life.

If you are unable to meet up with us in person, I'd like to discuss how we can get you to record yourself with the technology in your life (phone, webcam, etc..) as we'd still like for you to participate!

Let us know what you think asap so we can plan accordingly!

Here is a bit about Mrs. Obama's book:

Becoming is an involving, fascinating epic of an evolving life, where every story plays a part in exploring and explaining the challenges and the triumphs, the surprises and the losses that made Michelle Obama who she is.

She describes her life as extraordinarily ordinary, full of love and great role models...ordinary working people that she saw get up every day and do what they were supposed to and serve as role models and work in their communities and help others. She grew up in a family of generosity and kindness...in a home of many strong men – and women - who loved and respected her.

PPW Updates for Week of September 10, 2018

Greetings New PPW 2018 Attendees!

We are looking forward to seeing you at FNCE® and Public Policy Workshop 2018! It will be our largest PPW ever and we are excited to have you join us in making this year a success.

Each week we will be communicating with you via email and/or on our Communities of Interest (COI). The COI is an online platform that will help all PPW attendees get up-to-date information about the conference, download handouts and presentations, link up with other PPW registrants and discover PPW activities! You can access this community at <https://pia.webauthor.com/> using your Academy username and Academy Password (which you use to log into the member area of eatrightpro.org).

NOTE: the COI will be unavailable until early this coming week once our system updates.

Here are a few reminders and important information to share with you this week:

- 1) Please confirm with us which in-person PPW events you will be attending so we can plan accordingly. Thanks in advance! You can confirm your plans here.
- 2) If you haven't already done so, please register for the upcoming webinar, PPW Prep-session 1: Ready, Set, Charge! The webinar will be held this Wednesday, September 12 from 2-3 p.m. (Eastern Time) and is good for 1 CPE. We strongly encourage you to attend the live webinar, but if you are unable to, a recorded version will be made available on the PPW COI. All PPW attendees are expected to view the webinar.
- 3) Keep an eye out for an affiliate welcome introduction letter, coming your way soon! You will want to communicate regularly with your affiliate's Public Policy Coordinator so you can get organized and ready for meetings with your elected officials. You do not need to schedule any meetings with Congressional leaders at this time.
- 4) Review the PPW 2018 Agenda, below. Any handouts, documents or other information needed will be available on the COI. PPW 2018 is a paperless conference, so if you wish to have handouts with you, please download them to a portable electronic device. Documents will also be available soon on the FNCE® mobile app in the PPW folder.

PPW 2018 Agenda

Pre-Workshop Webinar Series

Hi all, looking forward to the message from Marsha and Joan. I heard 4pm CDT on Thursday 9/13 but this is a bit of "telephone" so confirmation is a great idea.

We are out buying a new dishwasher since ours decided to quit.

Hope you all are having a relaxing weekend.

It was an outstanding meeting thanks to excellent preparation and across the board engagement.

Get a Member – Get a Dues Credit!

Dear [Name]:

As an Academy member, you know the value of membership firsthand, and your personal recommendations and experiences will have the greatest impact on your colleagues and peers. Help them accelerate their careers and thrive in their professions by referring them to join the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. With the Get a Member – Get a Dues Credit program you'll both benefit.

Here's how it works: for each qualifying* recruit who enters your first and last name into the "Who referred you to join today?" section of the membership application, you will receive a dues credit toward your 2019-2020 Academy membership dues. Your credit amount will be based on the membership category of the recruited member. The more new and former members you refer who join between September 1 and December 1, 2018, the larger dues credit you will get toward the balance of your Academy membership** dues.

To make it even easier to recruit new members, the Academy is offering special pricing on Active category membership dues. Find more information and qualifications for membership online. Be sure to have your recruit use promotion code GET19 to waive the $25 processing fee (as applicable) for additional savings and to ensure participation in the program.

For a full list of guidelines, instructions and a printable PDF handout for the Get a Member – Get a Dues Credit program, visit www.eatrightPRO.org/getamember. Help your colleagues see the value of membership and support the growth of the Academy and profession by pointing them to www.eatrightPRO.org/join today.

Sincerely,

The Academy Membership Team

* To qualify, your recruit must be a new Academy member or a former member (not a member during the 2017-2018 membership year) joining or rejoining the Academy for the 2018-2019 membership year. New and rejoining members must become Academy members between September 1, 2018-December 1, 2018.

** The total credit amount may not exceed the total cost of your Academy membership dues and cannot be applied toward DPG, MIG or NDEP membership fees.

Dear Donna,

I am working with Michelle Obama's office on a video project around her upcoming memoir, BECOMING.

We are looking to record a short interview with you, as an individual who's personal story touched Michelle Obama, and who was a part of her story as First Lady.

We would work with you on the best location and date to do this in the coming weeks, and the interview would take approximately 30 minutes.

The video content we are collecting will be used at live events during Mrs. Obama's book tour this fall, and over social media.

BECOMING comes out on November 13th.

The questions we'd ask you to consider leading up to our discussion would be:

- What does 'owning your story' mean to you?
- Tell us, in as much detail as you can recall, about time you have spent with Ms. Obama?
- What do you expect from yourself, i.e. how are you striving and working to be your best self?
- What are you BECOMING right now, at this point in your life? (This is Ms. Obama's book title, and this answer could only be a few words, "I am becoming _____")
- What is your favorite Michelle Obama moment?
- One of the Mrs. Obama talks about a lot in this book is helping others tell their own stories. What are most important things people should know about your story?
- What has Ms. Obama's impact been on you and your life.

If you are unable to meet up with us in person, I'd like to discuss how we can get you to record yourself with the technology in your life (phone, webcam, etc..) as we'd still like for you to participate!

Let us know what you think asap so we can plan accordingly!

Here is a bit about Mrs. Obama's book:

Becoming is an involving, fascinating epic of an evolving life, where every story plays a part in exploring and explaining the challenges and the triumphs, the surprises and the losses that made Michelle Obama who she is.

She describes her life as extraordinarily ordinary, full of love and great role models...ordinary working people that she saw get up every day and do what they were supposed to and serve as role models and work in their communities and help others. She grew up in a family of generosity and kindness...in a home of many strong men – and women - who loved and respected her.

Earlier this year Marty Yadrick forwarded information regarding a Get a Member campaign used by the Dietitians of Canada who are experiencing membership decline. Their campaign provided cash for each new member. I am pleased to inform you that this week, the Academy's "Get a Member - Get a Dues Credit" membership recruitment campaign was launched by the Academy's Membership Team. Members who recruit a new or rejoining member will receive a credit towards their 2019-2020 Academy membership dues. The credit amounts are based upon the member category of the newly recruited member. As an added incentive to join/rejoin, the $25 processing fee will be waived.

We have conducted lots of member Get a Member campaigns over the years, such as offering discounts on books, CPE, etc., but we have never offered hard cold cash.

Best regards,
Pat

Get a Member – Get a Dues Credit!

Dear [Name]:

As an Academy member, you know the value of membership firsthand, and your personal recommendations and experiences will have the greatest impact on your colleagues and peers. Help them accelerate their careers and thrive in their professions by referring them to join the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. With the Get a Member – Get a Dues Credit program you'll both benefit.

Here's how it works: for each qualifying* recruit who enters your first and last name into the "Who referred you to join today?" section of the membership application, you will receive a dues credit toward your 2019-2020 Academy membership dues. Your credit amount will be based on the membership category of the recruited member. The more new and former members you refer who join between September 1 and December 1, 2018, the larger dues credit you will get toward the balance of your Academy membership** dues.

To make it even easier to recruit new members, the Academy is offering special pricing on Active category membership dues. Find more information and qualifications for membership online. Be sure to have your recruit use promotion code GET19 to waive the $25 processing fee (as applicable) for additional savings and to ensure participation in the program.

For a full list of guidelines, instructions and a printable PDF handout for the Get a Member – Get a Dues Credit program, visit www.eatrightPRO.org/getamember. Help your colleagues see the value of membership and support the growth of the Academy and profession by pointing them to www.eatrightPRO.org/join today.

Sincerely,
The Academy Membership Team

* To qualify, your recruit must be a new Academy member or a former member (not a member during the 2017-2018 membership year) joining or rejoining the Academy for the 2018-2019 membership year. New and rejoining members must become Academy members between September 1, 2018-December 1, 2018.

** The total credit amount may not exceed the total cost of your Academy membership dues and cannot be applied toward DPG, MIG or NDEP membership fees.

We need your help again in 2018 to increase the success of ANDPAC. Help us raise $30,000 to ensure food and nutrition remain important in policy discussions.

You can help build the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals" by supporting ANDPAC and your profession in a new campaign that will run through FNCE®.

Members who contribute in advance of FNCE® will have a commemorative brick on the Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals. The bricks* can be inscribed with your name or in memory or honor of someone along with a short inscription. Together at FNCE® we will build a brick walkway demonstrating the power of the PAC.

Suggested donations are $20 per brick; $35 for two bricks or $50 for three bricks. Donate Today and be one of ANDPACs masons!

Thank you again for your generosity and commitment to the profession of nutrition and dietetics.

Best Regards,

The 2018 ANDPAC Board of Directors

**Bricks will be made of recycled cardboard and on display at FNCE®*

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee is a separate segregated fund of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics used to support candidates and elected officials. Academy members are not required to contribute to ANDPAC and there is no reprisal for not contributing. Amounts recommended for contribution in Academy publications are merely suggestions and there is no minimum contribution level.

Get a Member – Get a Dues Credit!

Dear Donna:

As an Academy member, you know the value of membership firsthand, and your personal recommendations and experiences will have the greatest impact on your colleagues and peers. Help them accelerate their careers and thrive in their professions by referring them to join the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. With the Get a Member – Get a Dues Credit program you'll both benefit.

Here's how it works: for each qualifying* recruit who enters your first and last name into the "Who referred you to join today?" section of the membership application, you will receive a dues credit toward your 2019-2020 Academy membership dues. Your credit amount will be based on the membership category of the recruited member. The more new and former members you refer who join between September 1 and December 1, 2018, the larger dues credit you will get toward the balance of your Academy membership** dues.

To make it even easier to recruit new members, the Academy is offering special pricing on Active category membership dues. Find more information and qualifications for membership online. Be sure to have your recruit use promotion code GET19 to waive the $25 processing fee (as applicable) for additional savings and to ensure participation in the program.

For a full list of guidelines, instructions and a printable PDF handout for the Get a Member – Get a Dues Credit program, visit www.eatrightPRO.org/getamember. Help your colleagues see the value of membership and support the growth of the Academy and profession by pointing them to www.eatrightPRO.org/join today.

Sincerely,

The Academy Membership Team

* To qualify, your recruit must be a new Academy member or a former member (not a member during the 2017-2018 membership year) joining or rejoining the Academy for the 2018-2019 membership year. New and rejoining members must become Academy members between September 1, 2018-December 1, 2018.

** The total credit amount may not exceed the total cost of your Academy membership dues and cannot be applied toward DPG, MIG or NDEP membership fees.

Donna - I am the chair elect of the Foodservice Systems Management Education Council for 2 years and am responsible for planning a conference for the group. We elected to have it in Savannah next March (10-12, Sunday afternoon - Tuesday morning). I am wondering if you would be willing and free to be a guest speaker on one of those days (to talk about school nutrition and about working with dietetic interns)?

I hope all is well with you! I enjoy seeing the FB photos of your farm to school program :)

My summer has been a little busy - finishing up a 300 hour public health practicum, taking a DrPH course, and teaching 2 classes. But my practicum was at a summer camp in Statesboro for special needs students, which was just amazing and a great experience for me! Just 1 more year of coursework (4 classes) and dissertation and then I'll be done!

PS - Ellen Shanley, Kara's Internship Director, is part of this group and will be coming down for the meeting :)

Hi Donna -

Here is your flight confirmation. Your hotel is called the Glidden House (<http://www.gliddenhouse.com/>) right on our campus. You'll like it - it's cute. One of us will pick you up from the airport and take you to your hotel on Thursday to check in and someone will take you back to the airport on Friday. We're full service around here. :)

Detailed itinerary to follow.

Looking forward to hosting you!
Tammy

Subject: You're Invited

Hi, I hope you had a great holiday weekend because I am guessing you are hip deep in getting school up and running. Jean and I would like to invite you to be our guest to attend this year's GENYOUth gala in New York City at the Ziegfeld Theatre on November 27, 2018, which is Giving Tuesday. The theme this year is "Honoring America's Everyday Superheroes: Those Who Dream It, Dare It, Do It!" – it's a salute to the everyday heroes who support and empower a healthy, high-achieving next generation of Americans. As a part of this, we'll include a moment to celebrate the 10-year anniversary of Fuel Up to Play 60, and recognize "Everyday Superheroes" who have contributed to the program's success.

This year's Vanguard honoree is PepsiCo and the PepsiCo Foundation – accepting the Vanguard Award on their behalf is Albert P. Carey, Chief Executive Officer, PepsiCo North America. This award is presented to "the organization or individual whose commitment, passion, and support enable us to empower ever more students to be change agents for health, wellness, and academic achievement."

We're still identifying a hotel, but you can contact Gloria in our travel office at 847-627-3305 to make your flight arrangements. If you prefer, you may email her as well, Gloria.Kargenian@dairy.org. Please be sure to give her your dates of travel, the time you wish to depart or arrive on each date, your name exactly as it appears on your photo I.D., your date of birth, from what city you will be traveling out of and your email contact. It is a good idea to provide her with your cell phone number so she can pass that along to the airlines as well.

We hope you will be able to join us. Let me know. Who knows, maybe you will win another table prize this year.

Hello, everyone:

As anticipated, the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Health and Human Services issued a call today for nominations to serve on the 2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee and submissions are due on October 6. Information on the nominations process and the refined topics and scientific questions that will shape the areas of scientific expertise needed on the DGAC is available for review.

As you know, the Academy has been seeking nominations for the DGAC from our members since the beginning of the year. For example, we recently hosted a call with four of the 10 RDNs who served on previous Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committees to solicit their recommendations. We are convening a meeting September 14 with interested parties and recommended nominees.

The Academy has been working with partner organizations and coalitions to meet with congressional offices, USDA and HHS to highlight important topics that the next Dietary Guidelines for Americans should cover; discuss the strength of nutrition science; and confirm the DGAC process. More information on the Academy's efforts for engaging with the 2020-2025 Guidelines can be found here.

In addition to welcoming your nominations, the Board will be involved as a slate of potential nominees is developed. Your feedback on potential candidates will be valuable to narrowing the submission list. We are requesting all nominations be submitted to the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy Team via email to jblankenship@eatright.org no later than September 21. We will determine the final slate of candidates by the October 6 deadline.

We look forward to working closely with you to identify and nominate expert members who will be the foundation of the 2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines for Americans.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards,

Pat

News from the Hill and Beyond

Farm Bill Conference Committee Commences Talks Today

The farm bill conference committee, led by Sens. Roberts (Kan.) and Stabenow (Mich.) and Reps. Conaway (Texas) and Peterson (Minn.), held its first meeting on September 5, 2018, to begin reconciling differences between the House and Senate version of proposed bills. Members of the committee outlined their priorities for the bill, while stressing the urgency to pass a bipartisan, bicameral bill by September 30, 2018 when the bill expires. The Academy is advocating for the Senate and House to work together to advance a farm bill in a timely fashion that improves health for all Americans, especially those most at risk for experiencing food insecurity. The Academy will continue to monitor farm bill negotiations over the coming weeks.

Call for Nominations!

2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee

Today the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Department of Health and Human Services issued a call for nominations to serve on the 2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee.

Prospective members of the DGAC should be qualified experts with demonstrated scientific "expertise in human nutrition related to disease prevention and health promotion during different stages of life, such as pediatrics, obstetrics, and geriatrics." Other areas of expertise sought after include those encompassed by refined topics and questions the committee will examine.

To nominate yourself or another qualified expert who meet the criteria for nominations, please submit name(s), credentials, and contact information by Friday, September 21, to Academy staff.

More information on the Academy's process for engaging with the 2020-2025 Guidelines can be found here.

Member Updates

ANDPAC Launches Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals

You can help build the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals" by supporting ANDPAC and your profession in a new campaign that will run through FNCE®.

Members who contribute in advance of FNCE® will have a commemorative brick on the “Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals.” The bricks, made of recycled cardboard, can be inscribed with the donor’s name, signed in memory or in honor of someone, or can be an inscription of choice limited to space available. The bricks will be part of a larger brick walkway on display at FNCE® this year. Suggested donations are $20 per brick, $35 for two bricks, or $50 for three bricks.

Donate today and help build the pathway to nutrition policy goals!

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

Spotlight on Special Populations and Malnutrition - Register

Identifying and treating malnutrition can be especially challenging when assessing special patient populations. Registered dietitian nutritionists with expertise in areas such as obesity and overweight, pregnancy and vegetarian diets, among others, offer important insight to the management of both overnutrition and undernutrition. Learn more about recognizing and treating malnutrition in special populations in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar on September 19 at 11 a.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

On September 20 at 11 a.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Vegetarian Nutrition, Weight Management, Women’s Health, Behavioral Health Nutrition and Oncology Nutrition DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

Spotlight on Adult and Senior Malnutrition - Register

Malnutrition is a leading cause of morbidity and mortality, especially among older adults. Up to half of adults age 65 and older and as many as 39 percent of older adult patients may be malnourished or at-risk for malnutrition. Malnourished adults are five times more likely to die during a hospitalization and 54 percent more likely to be readmitted. Learn more about the transition from hospital to community in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar on September 12 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

On September 13 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Healthy Aging and Dietetics in Health Care Communities DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

Academy Members Receive Complimentary Access to ASPEN’s Malnutrition Awareness Week - Register

Academy members are invited to participate in the American Society for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition's Malnutrition Awareness Week, September 24 to 28. Members will receive complimentary access to programming during Malnutrition Awareness Week.

Register using the discount code MAW-Academy.

Calling All Current and Former Licensure Board Members - Register

Are you a current or former state licensure or certification board member? The Academy will be hosting a networking event for former and current licensure/certification board members at FNCE® this year. The facilitated event will allow attendees to network with colleagues, exchange ideas and share best practices.

Please note that while the Academy is providing the opportunity for the event, it will be independently run by licensure/certification board leaders.

Academy Members Invited to Join Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative - RSVP

The Academy is convening a Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative in order to regularly communicate about current policy and advocacy opportunities in the breast-feeding space. The intent is to broaden the scope of activities for breast-feeding advocacy and to ensure the ideas and expertise of members are considered.

The collaborative will hold a monthly one-hour call led by the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy team, beginning on October 2 at 3 p.m. (Eastern Time). The calls are open to all interested members; public policy leaders are encouraged to attend. Please RSVP.

Obesity Advocacy Day on September 27 with OCAN - Register

Academy members are encouraged join the Obesity Care Advocacy Network Advocacy Day on Thursday, September 27. The advocacy day will include Capitol Hill meetings from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. (Eastern Time), followed by a PAC reception to honor a member of Congress who has championed efforts to better promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services.

Public Policy Trainings & Open Forums

PPW Bootcamp: Prep for PPCs and PALs

During the 2018 Public Policy Workshop, held on October 23 - 24, PPCs and PALs will be spearheading the effort for their affiliate and will need to be well versed on their responsibilities and leadership role.

Note: all PPCs and PALs (or their designated alternate) should attend all Boot Camp sessions.

PPW Boot Camp Session 2 – PPW 2018: Checking In - Register

- September 18 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time)

PPW Boot Camp Session 3 – Leading the Charge - Register

- October 23 from 10 a.m. to noon. This session will be in person at FNCE®.

Upcoming Prep Sessions for all PPW Attendees

PPW Prep-Session 1: Ready, Set, Charge! - Register

- September 12 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time)

PPW Prep-Session 2: Addressing Malnutrition through Advocacy - Register

- September 25 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time)

All members who have signed up for PPW through the FNCE® registration process are expected to attend PPW prep sessions.

Regulatory Roundup

Regulatory Roundup

The Academy has an opportunity to shape and revise regulations by submitting comments to federal agencies. A list of regulatory items, ordered by date, are available here.

Additionally, starting this month we've added calendar containing all relevant meetings with remote access. All meeting are open to the public. You will find the calendar with hyperlinked events at the end of the Regulatory Roundup. (new)

Nomination Notices

Nomination Call: Geriatrics and Gerontology Advisory Committee, Due September 15

The Veterans Administration seeks nominees for membership on the Geriatrics and Gerontology Advisory Committee. This is an opportunity for the Academy to be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to veterans and their short- and long-term health care needs.

Nomination Call: Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee, Due October 1

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention seeks nominees for membership on the Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee. It is important that the Academy be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to food safety concerns with implications for public health.

Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest in being nominated and the basis for the nomination Mark Rifkin.

PALs, please plan to review the nomination opportunities section and share the information with your executive board or team.

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

September 12 and 13: Spotlight on Adult and Senior Malnutrition

Malnutrition is a leading cause of morbidity and mortality, especially among older adults. Up to half of adults 65 and older and as many as 39 percent of older adult patients may be malnourished or at risk. Malnourished adults are five times more likely to die during a hospitalization and 54 percent more likely to be readmitted. Learn more about the transition from hospital to community in a September 12 members-only webinar. The webinar begins at noon Central time and offers 1 CPEU. Registration is limited to 1,000 participants; those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version. On September 13 at noon Central time, the Academy will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Healthy Aging and Dietetics in Health Care Communities dietetic practice groups. Join using the hashtag #MalnutritionChat. These events are part of the Academy's September Spotlight on Malnutrition.

September 19 and 20: Spotlight on Special Populations and Malnutrition

Identifying and treating malnutrition can be especially challenging when assessing special patient populations. Learn more in a September 19 members-only webinar. The webinar begins at noon Central time and offers 1 CPEU. Registration is limited to 1,000 participants; those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version. On September 20 at noon Central time, the Academy will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Vegetarian Nutrition, Weight Management, Women's Health, Behavioral Health Nutrition and Oncology Nutrition dietetic practice groups. Join using the hashtag #MalnutritionChat. These events are part of the Academy's September Spotlight on Malnutrition.

Call for Nominations: 2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee

The U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Health and Human Services have issued a call for nominations to serve on the 2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee. Information is available on the nominations process and the refined topics and scientific questions that will shape the areas of expertise needed on the DGAC. Nominations are due October 6; however, members who are interested in either serving on the committee or nominating others are encouraged to contact Nathaniel Stritzinger nstritzinger@eatright.org, who is coordinating the Academy's nominations to the agencies, by September 21. The Academy has been working with partners in the National Alliance for Nutrition and Activity coalition to meet with congressional offices, USDA and HHS to highlight important topics that the Dietary Guidelines for Americans should cover, and to discuss the strength of nutrition science and the upcoming DGA process. Academy members regularly serve on Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committees, work at federal agencies helping to develop and implement the Dietary Guidelines and influence them through the regulatory comment process.

Buy a "Brick": Build the Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals

Academy members can help build a "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals": Support the Academy's political action committee ANDPAC and your profession in a new campaign that will run through the Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo. Members who contribute in advance of FNCE will receive a commemorative "brick" on the walkway. The bricks, made of corrugated fiberboard, can be inscribed with the donor's name, in memory or in honor of another person, or another inscription of your choice depending on space. Suggested donations are $20 for one brick, $35 for two or $50 for three.

Hello Megan,

I have an additional name for you to consider for the Healthy Eating Research Panel of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation or for one of the seven additional spots you have reserved for content expert reviewers. Dr. Crawford brings a wealth of expertise in the area of child nutrition, nutrition education and policy. I think she would be a highly valuable addition to this effort. Her vitae is attached. Thank you again for the opportunity to submit names on behalf of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

Best regards,
Pat

Dear Megan,

Thank you again for inviting the Academy to participate on the Healthy Eating Research Panel of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation to develop a consensus statement for healthy beverage consumption recommendations in early childhood. I am pleased to inform you Lori Bechard, PhD, RDN, and Alison Steiber PhD, RDN, will serve as the Academy's representatives on the panel. Their curriculum vitae are attached, and they both have accepted the appointment. Please communicate directly with Lori and Alison regarding upcoming calls and other expert panel details. Their contact information follows.

Pat,

We are thrilled the Academy will be joining us in this important effort to develop a consensus statement for healthy beverage consumption recommendations in early childhood among key health professional organizations. I wanted to follow up to see if you and Mary Russell have had a chance to determine who will represent AND on the panel.

We look forward to receiving your recommendations. We are hoping to hold our first panel call in September.

Best,
Megan.

Dear Mary,

Thank you for the opportunity to participate on the Healthy Eating Research Panel of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation. President Mary Russell and I will be discussing and selecting two RDNs to appoint which meet your specified expertise and background requirements.

We are excited about collaborating with other organizations in developing a consensus statement on this important issue and thank you for the invitation. We will provide the Academy's appointments early next week.

Best regards,

Pat

Dear Pat,

Attached is an invitation letter inviting the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics to participate in an expert panel convened by Healthy Eating Research (HER), a national program of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF), to develop a consensus statement for healthy beverage consumption recommendations in early childhood among key health professional organizations. The letter provides more details on the project but this email provides a basic summary.

As the world's largest organization of food and nutrition professionals we hope AND will be able to participate. The other organizations involved in the consensus statement will be the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Heart Association, and the American Academy of Pediatric Dentists.

Each organization will appoint up to two individuals to represent their organization on the panel. At least one representative should be an individual who can speak on behalf of the association and the other needs to have issue area expertise. Representatives will participate in approximately 6-8 conference calls between September 2018 and March of 2019 to discuss the evidence base and drafting of the consensus statement. The chair of the expert panel will be Stephen Daniels, MD, PhD, Chairmen and Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Colorado, School of Medicine. HER will conduct a review of existing evidence, standards, and guidelines prior to the first call. HER staff will provide additional support for the panel. We know the expert panel members are busy and we aim to respect their time by having background work done by our staff and conducting efficient calls.

In addition to the expert panel, HER will identify 5-7 individuals with expertise in nutrition, pediatrics, child development, and pediatric dentistry to advise the process and ensure that the resulting consensus statement is grounded in science. Each organization and person will bring unique background experience and expertise to the panel.

More details are in the attached letter and background documents. We hope you can be involved in this project. We are happy to have a call or answer any questions you may have.

Hi Donna,

Absolutely - our eternal task is more nominations! I found an error in the Talking Points I just sent, so please use this attached version.

Thanks!

Committee Teleconference

Matthew, Thanks so much for including the chart. I am shocked at how few nominations we get for these awards. I think we have some work to do. What I would like to do is to reach out to some of the practice groups to make sure they submit some nominations for these awards. Especially some of the ones where we only get 0-1 nominations a year. I definitely want to talk to the committee about this. Talk to you soon!

Hi Donna,

I hope you had a great weekend and thank you for the quick approval! Based on your suggestion, I decided to include the attached chart showing the number of nominations we've received for each award since 2010 and make it attachment 8.2 for reference during the discussion.

I've also updated your Talking Points to accomodate the chart.

Have a great week!

Matthew, Thanks for the very thorough information on the Honors and Awards Committee upcoming teleconference. After reviewing the information I think we should be good to go and I don't see any changes that I would like to make. I am curious if you can tell me if there are any honors or awards that we typically don't get a lot of nominations for that we might need to promote more than other awards? Will we get a list of how many people were nominated for each award last year? Just some random thoughts and questions. Happy Labor Day to you too!

Hi Donna,

I hope you're doing well! Please see the attached agenda and attachments for the upcoming Honors Committee teleconference on Monday, September 10. I've also included your "Talking Points," which is a script to help you lead the discussion.

Can you please have your approval and/or changes to me by 5 p.m. on Tuesday, September 4? I'll send the agenda and attachments to the rest of the committee once you've approved them.

Please let me know if you have any questions or if you'd like to have a pre-call next week to go over anything.

Dear NDEP Members,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND®) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the September ACEND Standards News is posted on the ACEND webpage: Standards News. In this issue there is a discussion on the advantages of Competency-Based Education (CBE).

Two pre-FNCE workshops for program directors are planned, one that covers the 2017 Accreditation Standards and another that covers the Future Education Model (FEM) Accreditation Standards. ACEND has also issued a third call for demonstration programs to be accredited under the FEM Standards; applications are due by 11:00 am CT on January 11, 2019.

The Virtual Town Hall meetings are now held quarterly. The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday September 19 at 3 pm CT. The town hall provides a time for ACEND to share updates on its standards work and for stakeholders to ask questions. Information on joining the town hall can be found at www.eatrightpro.org/FutureModel.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the ACEND Standards News will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

Hello Donna,

Thanks so much for speaking with me this morning. I have completed the work needed to provide you with the draft CEO Performance Evaluation and CEO Salary/Bonus Calculations (see attached). Also attached are the two additional documents you requested be included in the packets (Annual Incentive Plan Design and the updated CEO Markey Pay Letter). As a reminder, the password to the salary/bonus spreadsheet is vacation.

After speaking with you, I realized we prepared packets for the entire Board last year, not just the CEO Compensation Committee as they will need to see how we came up with the salary increase/bonus calculations. Please confirm if you would like me to do the same this year.

I think I've covered everything but please review and let me know if you have questions or additional edits.

Have a wonderful weekend.

Lori and Alison,

We are thrilled to have you as members of this expert panel! We are very much looking forward to getting to know you and to working with you over the next 6+ months. Please save the date for the first expert panel call, scheduled for Wednesday, 9/19 at 12pm ET. If this day/time does not work for you, please let me know ASAP.

Prior to the first call, we are planning to compile and distribute a packet of information for all expert panel members. As such, please send a headshot or photo with your bio by Tuesday, 9/11 if possible. In the meantime, I am also including some background documents to provide you with a bit more context on the goals of this project:

- Project Overview Document (attached)
- Examples of 2 past HER expert panels referenced in the background doc and relevant for this project
- Healthier Beverage Recommendations (Mar 2015)
- Feeding Guidelines for Infants and Young Toddlers (Feb 2017)

Please feel free to reach out to me with any questions.

We will be back in touch with you soon.

Best,
Megan

Pat,

We are thrilled the Academy will be joining us in this important effort to develop a consensus statement for healthy beverage consumption recommendations in early childhood among key health professional organizations. I wanted to follow up to see if you and Mary Russell have had a chance to determine who will represent AND on the panel.

We look forward to receiving your recommendations. We are hoping to hold our first panel call in September.

Best,
Megan.

Dear Mary,

Thank you for the opportunity to participate on the Healthy Eating Research Panel of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation. President Mary Russell and I will be discussing and selecting two RDNs to appoint which meet your specified expertise and background requirements.

We are excited about collaborating with other organizations in developing a consensus statement on this important issue and thank you for the invitation. We will provide the Academy's appointments early next week.

Best regards,

Pat

Dear Pat,

Attached is an invitation letter inviting the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics to participate in an expert panel convened by Healthy Eating Research (HER), a national program of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF), to develop a consensus statement for healthy beverage consumption recommendations in early childhood among key health professional organizations. The letter provides more details on the project but this email provides a basic summary.

As the world's largest organization of food and nutrition professionals we hope AND will be able to participate. The other organizations involved in the consensus statement will be the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Heart Association, and the American Academy of Pediatric Dentists.

Each organization will appoint up to two individuals to represent their organization on the panel. At least one representative should be an individual who can speak on behalf of the association and the other needs to have issue area expertise. Representatives will participate in approximately 6-8 conference calls between September 2018 and March of 2019 to discuss the evidence base and drafting of the consensus statement. The chair of the expert panel will be Stephen Daniels, MD, PhD, Chairmen and Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Colorado, School of Medicine. HER will conduct a review of existing evidence, standards, and guidelines prior to the first call. HER staff will provide additional support for the panel. We know the expert panel members are busy and we aim to respect their time by having background work done by our staff and conducting efficient calls.

In addition to the expert panel, HER will identify 5-7 individuals with expertise in nutrition, pediatrics, child development, and pediatric dentistry to advise the process and ensure that the resulting consensus statement is grounded in science. Each organization and person will bring unique background experience and expertise to the panel.

More details are in the attached letter and background documents. We hope you can be involved in this project. We are happy to have a call or answer any questions you may have.

Hi Donna and Jeanne-

I updated a few notes for Donna as well so there was an understanding of when I am advancing the slides, etc. Also, I am happy to read/present any of the last slides in the deck if Donna so chooses. To make it easy, I created notes pages as a PDF (see attached).

Let me know if you need anything further.

Donna,

Here is the draft of the talking points that I inserts into the PowerPoint. Can you take a look and just see if you are good with the general tone and content? I can shorten the bio part for the speaker if you would like! I sent this yesterday but for some reason the email didn't go through, I just realized that this morning!

Diane, I didn't have Donna close the session, I am not sure if you want to add a CPEU slide or a thank you slide at the end? I can add a closing on the malnutrition twitter chat slide if you would like. I removed a slide or two on the MQii, for future presentations, I think one or two slides on this is more than enough -- they should just be a teaser.

I am worried we may be short on time for the MQii and NFPE slides. Donna may have to cut these down depending on time.

We Have Fixed a Broken Link!

Dear Policy Leaders,

In the most recent issue of Public Policy Weekly News that went out on Tuesday, August 28, 2018, it was brought to our attention that the links to sign up for webinars through WebEx, highlighted in blue, were not taking you to the correct registration pages as intended. This issue has been fixed. Please see below for the updated edition of PPWN, with the corrected registration links to malnutrition webinars and public policy training for Public Policy Workshop.

Thank you!

News from the Hill and Beyond

Senate Success: U.S. Senate Passes Federal Spending Legislation

Late last week, the U.S. Senate passed the funding bill for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services with a vote of 85-7. The Labor-HHS bill was part of a larger “minibus” bill that included military spending. The Senate and House of Representatives will finalize the Fiscal Year 2019 budget over the coming months. The Academy submitted testimony asking Congress to support robust funding for evidence-based nutrition and health programs at HHS.

Farm Bill Conference Committee Convenes on September 5

The farm bill conference committee has scheduled its first meeting for September 5, 2018, at 9:30am Eastern Time and is available for public viewing. The U.S. Senate and House of Representatives each appointed members to serve on the farm bill conference committee who will reconcile differences between the House and Senate version of proposed bills. The Academy is advocating for the Senate and House to work together to advance a farm bill in a timely fashion that improves health for all Americans, especially those most at risk for experiencing food insecurity. The farm bill expires on September 30, 2018.

U.S. Senators Introduce Legislation to Improve Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training

Co-chairmen of the U.S. Senate Diabetes Caucus, Sens. Jeanne Shaheen (N.H.) and Susan Collins (Maine), have introduced the Expanding Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training

Act of 2018 to improve access for Medicare beneficiaries. Companion bipartisan legislation was introduced by Reps. Diana DeGette (Colo.) and Tom Reed (N.Y.) in May. The Senate version of the bill is a welcome addition to the House's, which the Academy and our partners in the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance have worked closely to support; Academy members and partners most recently advocated for the bill during the July Diabetes Prevention and Treatment Advocacy Day.

Spotlight on Adult and Senior Malnutrition - Register

Malnutrition is a leading cause of morbidity and mortality, especially among older adults. Up to half of adults age 65 and older and as many as 39 percent of older adult patients may be malnourished or at-risk for malnutrition. Malnourished adults are five times more likely to die during a hospitalization and 54 percent more likely to be readmitted. Learn more about the transition from hospital to community in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar on September 12 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

On September 13 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Healthy Aging and Dietetics in Health Care Communities DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

Please note that while the Academy is providing the opportunity for the event, it will be independently run by licensure/certification board leaders.

Academy Members Invited to Join Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative - RSVP

The Academy is convening a Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative in order to regularly communicate about current policy and advocacy opportunities in the breast-feeding space. The intent is to broaden the scope of activities for breast-feeding advocacy and to ensure the ideas and expertise of members are considered.

The collaborative will hold a monthly one-hour call led by the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy team, beginning on October 2 at 3 p.m. (Eastern Time). The calls are open to all interested members; public policy leaders are encouraged to attend. Please RSVP.

Obesity Advocacy Day on September 27 with OCAN - Register

Academy members are encouraged join the Obesity Care Advocacy Network Advocacy Day on Thursday, September 27. The advocacy day will include Capitol Hill meetings from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. (Eastern Time), followed by a PAC reception to honor a member of Congress who has championed efforts to better promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services.

Minnesota Affiliate Meets with U.S. Senator's Office In-District

As part of the 'Take Your Congressman to Work' August campaign, the Minnesota Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics met with the office of Sen. Amy Klobuchar (Minn.) in-district last week to discuss the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act and the farm bill. Staff were supportive of the work the Academy is doing and were interested, in particular, in the SuperShelf project. Initially funded by SNAP-Ed and the Duke-UNC USDA Center for Behavioral Economics and Health Food Choice Research and now the NIH, SuperShelf aims to transform the food retail environment of sites that improve access to health foods for communities in need. MNAND members are planning to send a follow-up invite to Sen. Klobuchar for a site visit.

Have You Taken Your Congressman to Work?

U.S. House Representatives are back in their congressional districts for the work period until September 4. Inviting elected officials and their staff to your practice or facility, or meeting with them in-district, helps them understand the important and valuable role RDNs play in improving the health and well-being of the nation. Pat,

We are thrilled the Academy will be joining us in this important effort to develop a consensus statement for healthy beverage consumption recommendations in early childhood among key health professional organizations. I wanted to follow up to see if you and Mary Russell have had a chance to determine who will represent AND on the panel.

We look forward to receiving your recommendations. We are hoping to hold our first panel call in September.

Best,
Megan.

Dear Pat,

Attached is an invitation letter inviting the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics to participate in an expert panel convened by Healthy Eating Research (HER), a national program of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF), to develop a consensus statement for healthy beverage consumption recommendations in early childhood among key health professional organizations. The letter provides more details on the project but this email provides a basic summary.

As the world's largest organization of food and nutrition professionals we hope AND will be able to participate. The other organizations involved in the consensus statement will be the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Heart Association, and the American Academy of Pediatric Dentists.

Each organization will appoint up to two individuals to represent their organization on the panel. At least one representative should be an individual who can speak on behalf of the association and the other needs to have issue area expertise. Representatives will participate in approximately 6-8 conference calls between September 2018 and March of 2019 to discuss the evidence base and drafting of the consensus statement. The chair of the expert panel will be Stephen Daniels, MD, PhD, Chairmen and Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Colorado, School of Medicine. HER will conduct a review of existing evidence, standards, and guidelines prior to the first call. HER staff will provide additional support for the panel. We know the expert panel members are busy and we aim to respect their time by having background work done by our staff and conducting efficient calls.

In addition to the expert panel, HER will identify 5-7 individuals with expertise in nutrition, pediatrics, child development, and pediatric dentistry to advise the process and ensure that the resulting consensus statement is grounded in science. Each organization and person will bring unique background experience and expertise to the panel.

More details are in the attached letter and background documents. We hope you can be involved in this project. We are happy to have a call or answer any questions you may have.

Hello Pat,

As today is my last day, I wanted to thank you again for my time at the Academy. It was a pleasure to work under your leadership and I learned so much from the PIA and Strategic Communications teams. I hope our paths cross again.

I will reach out to you when after I get settled at Porter Novelli. I have also CC'd my personal email.

Please stay in touch.

Hello Donna,

Thanks so much for speaking with me this morning. I have completed the work needed to provide you with the draft CEO Performance Evaluation and CEO Salary/Bonus Calculations (see attached). Also attached are the two additional documents you requested be included in the packets (Annual Incentive Plan Design and the updated CEO Markey Pay Letter). As a reminder, the password to the salary/bonus spreadsheet is vacation.

After speaking with you, I realized we prepared packets for the entire Board last year, not just the CEO Compensation Committee as they will need to see how we came up with the salary increase/bonus calculations. Please confirm if you would like me to do the same this year.

I think I've covered everything but please review and let me know if you have questions or additional edits.

Have a wonderful weekend.

Good Morning Donna,

I'm feeling good, just 10 weeks to go!

I just checked inventory at the Marriott Marquis and unfortunately we are currently sold out of double bedded rooms over the dates you need them. As Past President, you are actually upgraded to a suite. Your suite can come with either a pull out couch or roll-away bed, but not sure if that would be comfortable for Lucille?

I do see that Lucille has already booked herself at the Marriott Marquis in a double bedded room, but I am not able to extend the dates of that reservation at this time due to availability.

Let me know what you decide.

See you next week!

Subject: September 6-7 Board Meeting Attachments

A revised agenda and the remaining attachments for the September 6-7 Board meeting are now available on the Board of Directors' communication platform; a PDF of the full packet is attached to this correspondence. Please click here and enter your Academy website username and password to access the agenda and attachments on the Board portal. A paper meeting packet will be delivered on Saturday, September 1 via UPS (no signature required) to those Board members who requested one.

We have several guests joining us for the meeting. On Thursday, September 6, James Hagestad of Plante Moran will present the FY 2018 Audit findings; Peter Kelly, Divisional Vice President of Reimbursement & Strategic Initiatives, and Amie Heap, Director of Health Policy, Education & Alliances from Abbott Nutrition will present an MQii update; and Rosa Hand, chair of the Evidenced-Based Practice Criteria Task Force, will join us by phone to provide an update on the progress of the task force. Brandon Nichols and Jocelyn Turner, from 3B Nichols Consulting, will lead us in a training on microaggression on Friday, September 7.

On Thursday, the Board meeting will take place in the 8th floor conference room of 10 South Riverside Plaza, across the street from the Academy headquarters office. On Friday, the meeting will be held at Academy headquarters, 120 South Riverside Plaza, in the 14th floor conference room. For security purposes, when you arrive at the Riverside Plaza buildings, you will need to check in at the lobby front desk to pick up your visitor badge. Be prepared to show them a photo ID, if needed. To enter the elevators, please insert your badge in the elevator panel and select the floor number. The valid visitor badge will unlock the floor and indicate which elevator you are to take. The badges are active for the full day.

Hotel arrangements have been made at the Allegro Hotel, 171 W Randolph Street, for arrival on Thursday, September 6 and departure on Friday, September 7, unless you requested otherwise; your room confirmation numbers are listed on the attached travel document. For those of you who wish to ride together to/from the airport, also included on the travel document is a list of itineraries. If you choose to take public transportation to the hotel, directions are also attached.

See you soon!

Matthew, Thanks for the very thorough information on the Honors and Awards Committee upcoming teleconference. After reviewing the information I think we should be good to go and I don't see any changes that I would like to make. I am curious if you can tell me if there are any honors or awards that we typically don't get a lot of nominations for that we might need to promote more than other awards? Will we get a list of how many people were nominated for each award last year? Just some random thoughts and questions. Happy Labor Day to you too!

Academy Honors and Awards

Hi Donna,

I hope you're doing well! Please see the attached agenda and attachments for the upcoming Honors Committee teleconference on Monday, September 10. I've also included your "Talking Points," which is a script to help you lead the discussion.

Can you please have your approval and/or changes to me by 5 p.m. on Tuesday, September 4? I'll send the agenda and attachments to the rest of the committee once you've approved them.

Please let me know if you have any questions or if you'd like to have a pre-call next week to go over anything.

Thank you and have a great Labor Day weekend!

We Have Fixed a Broken Link!

Dear Policy Leaders,

In the most recent issue of Public Policy Weekly News that went out on Tuesday, August 28, 2018, it was brought to our attention that the links to sign up for webinars through WebEx, highlighted in blue, were not taking you to the correct registration pages as intended. This issue has been fixed. Please see below for the updated edition of PPWN, with the corrected registration links to malnutrition webinars and public policy training for Public Policy Workshop.

Thank you!

News from the Hill and Beyond

Senate Success: U.S. Senate Passes Federal Spending Legislation

Late last week, the U.S. Senate passed the funding bill for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services with a vote of 85-7. The Labor-HHS bill was part of a larger “minibus” bill that included military spending. The Senate and House of Representatives will finalize the Fiscal Year 2019 budget over the coming months. The Academy submitted testimony asking Congress to support robust funding for evidence-based nutrition and health programs at HHS.

Farm Bill Conference Committee Convened on September 5

The farm bill conference committee has scheduled its first meeting for September 5, 2018, at 9:30am Eastern Time and is available for public viewing. The U.S. Senate and House of Representatives each appointed members to serve on the farm bill conference committee who will reconcile differences between the House and Senate version of proposed bills. The Academy is advocating for the Senate and House to work together to advance a farm bill in a timely fashion that improves health for all Americans, especially those most at risk for experiencing food insecurity. The farm bill expires on September 30, 2018.

U.S. Senators Introduce Legislation to Improve Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training

Co-chairmen of the U.S. Senate Diabetes Caucus, Sens. Jeanne Shaheen (N.H.) and Susan Collins (Maine), have introduced the Expanding Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training

Act of 2018 to improve access for Medicare beneficiaries. Companion bipartisan legislation was introduced by Reps. Diana DeGette (Colo.) and Tom Reed (N.Y.) in May. The Senate version of the bill is a welcome addition to the House's, which the Academy and our partners in the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance have worked closely to support; Academy members and partners most recently advocated for the bill during the July Diabetes Prevention and Treatment Advocacy Day.

Member Updates

Spotlight on Adult and Senior Malnutrition - Register

Malnutrition is a leading cause of morbidity and mortality, especially among older adults. Up to half of adults age 65 and older and as many as 39 percent of older adult patients may be malnourished or at-risk for malnutrition. Malnourished adults are five times more likely to die during a hospitalization and 54 percent more likely to be readmitted. Learn more about the transition from hospital to community in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar on September 12 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

On September 13 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Healthy Aging and Dietetics in Health Care Communities DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

Spotlight on Pediatric Malnutrition - Register

Did you know pediatric malnutrition is estimated to contribute to approximately 45 percent of all child deaths globally? Learn more in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar, "Lessons Learned from Implementing the Pediatric Malnutrition Criteria," on September 5 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

A live Twitter chat will follow on September 6, beginning at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

Academy Members Receive Complimentary Access to ASPEN's Malnutrition Awareness Week - Register

Academy members are invited to participate in the American Society for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition's Malnutrition Awareness Week, September 24 to 28. Members will receive complimentary access to programming during Malnutrition Awareness Week.

Calling All Current and Former Licensure Board Members - Register

Are you a current or former state licensure or certification board member? The Academy will be hosting a networking event for former and current licensure/certification board members at FNCE® this year. The facilitated event will allow attendees to network with colleagues, exchange ideas and share best practices.

Please note that while the Academy is providing the opportunity for the event, it will be independently run by licensure/certification board leaders.

Academy Members Invited to Join Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative - RSVP

The Academy is convening a Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative in order to regularly communicate about current policy and advocacy opportunities in the breast-feeding space. The intent is to broaden the scope of activities for breast-feeding advocacy and to ensure the ideas and expertise of members are considered.

The collaborative will hold a monthly one-hour call led by the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy team, beginning on October 2 at 3 p.m. (Eastern Time). The calls are open to all interested members; public policy leaders are encouraged to attend. Please RSVP.

Obesity Advocacy Day on September 27 with OCAN - Register

Academy members are encouraged join the Obesity Care Advocacy Network Advocacy Day on Thursday, September 27. The advocacy day will include Capitol Hill meetings from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. (Eastern Time), followed by a PAC reception to honor a member of Congress who has championed efforts to better promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services.

Minnesota Affiliate Meets with U.S. Senator's Office In-District

As part of the 'Take Your Congressman to Work' August campaign, the Minnesota Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics met with the office of Sen. Amy Klobuchar (Minn.) in-district last week to discuss the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act and the farm bill. Staff were supportive of the work the Academy is doing and were interested, in particular, in the SuperShelf project. Initially funded by SNAP-Ed and the Duke-UNC USDA Center for Behavioral Economics and Health Food Choice Research and now the NIH, SuperShelf aims to transform the food retail environment of sites that improve access to health foods for communities in need. MNAND members are planning to send a follow-up invite to Sen. Klobuchar for a site visit.

Have You Taken Your Congressman to Work?

U.S. House Representatives are back in their congressional districts for the work period until September 4. Inviting elected officials and their staff to your practice or facility, or meeting with them in-district, helps them understand the important and valuable role RDNs play in improving the health and well-being of the nation. Visit the COI for helpful tips for planning the visit.

Diane and Donna,

I am happy to write the moderator script for the Sept 5 session.

Diane, will you be introducing the webinar and the housekeeping items — ie. Using the chat box etc. or do you want Donna to include that in her remarks.

If I can get the final slide deck with the front and back end slides I will send the draft script to you by tomorrow.

Thanks — really appreciate your help putting this together.

Jeanne

Hi Donna,

I took a look through old some FNCE sessions. What about Andrew Shakman (<https://www.leanpath.com/team/>) or Kim Kirchherr?

They spoke on a food waste session together and it scored very high.

I can do some more digging if those names don't work.

Lori, do you have any suggestions for Gabriela on someone to speak on food waste? I don't want to recommend Chris Vogliano because he is in New Zealand and I don't have any other thoughts. I thought you might have some thoughts. Thanks.

Barbara would be terrific !! Quiet thoughtful and tremendously focused and effective. Wonder about past Fellows also getting involved-Janice Giddens has a huge variety of experiences, with leadership in all kinds of situations, as does Chris Vogliano and I am sure others as well. If we could get a "steering committee" with at least one member of each "gen" group, wouldn't that be amazing?

The Leadership Institute was always rated as one of the highest benefits by members. If we are looking at a renovation perhaps we can look for one of the featured speakers for next year's FNCE to provide a taste of the program. This year our closing speaker Simon T. Bailey was one of our honored speakers at the Institute and, if we were ready to put out the word, he would be a great salesperson to drop a few comments about the program. He is Mr. Motivation and funny!

I believe that members would be willing to pay or talk their employers into support for the program. And perhaps we could get some scholarships from the Foundation. It's a pretty easy sell when you look at the outcomes for the attendees.

Love it, love it!

When it is "time" there will be so much excitement and enthusiasm!

It;s just thrilling that Kathy raised this point now.

Hi Kathy,

Great random thought! I think there's a need for it with a value proposition for the member and the Academy. There are lessons learned from the former Institute, so I will develop a proposal for consideration. I am also copying Mary and Donna since I would like to add this objective to my performance goals for this year.

This is so exciting on so many levels and look how fast everyone jumped on the idea. We didn't even need a three day retreat. Barbara Ivens might be another good person to get involved with this. Looking forward to seeing this flesh out. We have the talent and maybe when this whole house rework is finished we might be able to find some money there too!

I am taking your enthusiasm as approval to move forward with a proposal. I wrote the original proposal which Ron presented to the Board so am very familiar with the original goals, the Institute's involvement and the challenges. Terri was on the steering committee so her input will be most welcome. I also plan to reach out to Milton to share the ideas he presented at the retreat and to the HLT. It's very satisfying to get another chance to reinvent! Since I'm including it as a goal, please feel free to say we are exploring ways to reintroduce the Leadership Institute.

Mary, I could not agree more. I just wish we could send this request to the HLT members so they would see how much interest there is out there for leadership and how the HOD is not meeting the need for leadership development.

Just had dinner with Hope Warshaw last night in Asheville, NC and she aid Diane was complaining to her about how some of us were acting about the HOD proposed "reboot". She said she felt like Diane has waited so long to do this and has her whole life invested in this and does not want it taken away. Very selfish is what I would say to her.

The Healthy Eating in Practice meeting I spoke at in Asheville was unbelievable. I cannot ell you how honored I was to be speaking amongst the other speakers. Dr. Diest was a speaker so that should give you some idea of the caliber. There were probably 50 RDN's there out of maybe 400 participants. They all told me how empowered they felt and valuable they felt as part of the team. It was a group of Physicians, Nurse Practitioners, Farmers, RDN's, chefs and other health professionals. Totally inspiring about what is going on in hospitals and medical practices all over the country in terms of talking about food as medicine. I will be getting with Diane Enos and Lori to give them suggestions for speakers for FNCE next year. It gives me such hope on what is going on and how the medical practitioners are recognizing the role of eating on health. If you have time check out the meeting schedule and speakers.

Pat,

We are thrilled the Academy will be joining us in this important effort to develop a consensus statement for healthy beverage consumption recommendations in early childhood among key health professional organizations. I wanted to follow up to see if you and Mary Russell have had a chance to determine who will represent AND on the panel.

We look forward to receiving your recommendations. We are hoping to hold our first panel call in September.

Best,
Megan.

Dear Pat,

Attached is an invitation letter inviting the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics to participate in an expert panel convened by Healthy Eating Research (HER), a national program of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF), to develop a consensus statement for healthy beverage consumption recommendations in early childhood among key health professional organizations. The letter provides more details on the project but this email provides a basic summary.

As the world's largest organization of food and nutrition professionals we hope AND will be able to participate. The other organizations involved in the consensus statement will be the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Heart Association, and the American Academy of Pediatric Dentists.

Each organization will appoint up to two individuals to represent their organization on the panel. At least one representative should be an individual who can speak on behalf of the association and the other needs to have issue area expertise. Representatives will participate in approximately 6-8 conference calls between September 2018 and March of 2019 to discuss the evidence base and drafting of the consensus statement. The chair of the expert panel will be Stephen Daniels, MD, PhD, Chairmen and Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Colorado, School of Medicine. HER will conduct a review of existing evidence, standards, and guidelines prior to the first call. HER staff will provide additional support for the panel. We know the expert panel members are busy and we aim to respect their time by having background work done by our staff and conducting efficient calls.

In addition to the expert panel, HER will identify 5-7 individuals with expertise in nutrition, pediatrics, child development, and pediatric dentistry to advise the process and ensure that the resulting consensus statement is grounded in science. Each organization and person will bring unique background experience and expertise to the panel.

More details are in the attached letter and background documents. We hope you can be involved in this project. We are happy to have a call or answer any questions you may have.

Love this idea, Pat.

I am sure it is way too early in the process to announce to members that this possible "re-invention" is under consideration.

When it is "time" there will be so much excitement and enthusiasm!
It;s just thrilling that Kathy raised this point now.

Thanks much,

Pancreatic Enzyme Replacement Therapy in Exocrine Pancreatic Insufficiency

Date: Thursday, September 13, 12 PM CST (1 hr. event)
CPEU: 1 credit

Exocrine pancreatic insufficiency (EPI) inhibits an individual's ability to properly digest food, leading to malabsorption of macro- and micronutrients. EPI is associated with diagnoses including cystic fibrosis, chronic pancreatitis, and pancreatic cancer. Pancreatic enzyme replacement therapy (PERT) is a common treatment for EPI. Successful management of EPI with PERT requires an understanding of digestion and absorption, as well as diet composition.

RDNs are an important resource in equipping a patient or caretaker with the tools needed to effectively manage EPI with PERT. This webinar will provide RDNs with an overview of EPI, key counseling messages, practical guidelines on dosing PERT, and an update on PERT formulations.

Learning Objectives:

1. Define exocrine pancreatic insufficiency and associated symptoms.
2. Identify the role of the RDN in exocrine pancreatic insufficiency management.
3. Demonstrate ability to calculate pancreatic enzyme replacement therapy dose and assess for adequacy.

Hi Kathy,

Great random thought! I think there's a need for it with a value proposition for the member and the Academy. There are lessons learned from the former Institute, so I will develop a proposal for consideration. I am also copying Mary and Donna since I would like to add this objective to my performance goals for this year.

Best regards,
Pat

Senate Legislation Would Improve Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training

U.S. Sens. Jeanne Shaheen (N.H.) and Susan Collins (Maine) have introduced the Expanding Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training Act of 2018 to improve access for Medicare beneficiaries. Companion bipartisan legislation was introduced by Reps. Diana DeGette (Colo.) and Tom Reed (N.Y.) in May. The Academy and our partners in the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance worked closely to support the legislation, which addresses barriers to DSMT that Academy members have identified and advocated to change for many years. Members also recently advocated for the bill during the July Diabetes Prevention and Treatment Advocacy Day.

Farm Bill Conference to Meet September 5

The Senate and House of Representatives have appointed members to serve on the farm bill conference committee to reconcile differences between the House and Senate bills. The committee has scheduled its first meeting for September 5. The Academy is advocating for the Senate and House to work together to advance a farm bill in a timely fashion that improves health for all Americans, especially those most at risk for experiencing food insecurity.

Senate Passes Federal Spending Legislation

The Senate has passed the funding bill for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services as part of a larger "minibus" bill that includes military spending. The Senate and House will finalize the Fiscal Year 2019 budget over the coming months. The Academy submitted testimony asking Congress to support robust funding for evidence-based nutrition and health programs at HHS.

National Nutrition Month 2019

To accommodate the diverse areas in which National Nutrition Month® is celebrated, the 2019 campaign will feature original artwork only. Recognizing National Nutrition Month as its own theme will allow greater flexibility in the promotion of healthful messages and allow the campaign to focus on its original purpose: "To increase the public's awareness of the importance of good nutrition and position Academy members as the authorities in nutrition." Visit the National Nutrition Month website in upcoming months for new and updated resources that will make your celebration a success.

Hi Donna,

Thanks for the edits and I will make the changes accordingly. Also, as soon as I get Pat's portion of the review, I will complete the draft salary/bonus calculations and send to you for review.

I would like to setup a time to talk so that we can coordinate efforts and to make sure I am providing you with everything you need to complete this process.

Thanks,
Carrolyn

News from the Hill and Beyond

Senate Success: U.S. Senate Passes Federal Spending Legislation

Late last week, the U.S. Senate passed the funding bill for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services with a vote of 85-7. The Labor-HHS bill was part of a larger “minibus” bill that included military spending. The Senate and House of Representatives will finalize the Fiscal Year 2019 budget over the coming months. The Academy submitted testimony asking Congress to support robust funding for evidence-based nutrition and health programs at HHS.

Farm Bill Conference Committee Convenes on September 5

The farm bill conference committee has scheduled its first meeting for September 5, 2018, at 9:30am Eastern Time and is available for public viewing. The U.S. Senate and House of Representatives each appointed members to serve on the farm bill conference committee who will reconcile differences between the House and Senate version of proposed bills. The Academy is advocating for the Senate and House to work together to advance a farm bill in a timely fashion that improves health for all Americans, especially those most at risk for experiencing food insecurity. The farm bill expires on September 30, 2018.

U.S. Senators Introduce Legislation to Improve Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training

Co-chairmen of the U.S. Senate Diabetes Caucus, Sens. Jeanne Shaheen (N.H.) and Susan Collins (Maine), have introduced the Expanding Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training Act of 2018 to improve access for Medicare beneficiaries. Companion bipartisan legislation was introduced by Reps. Diana DeGette (Colo.) and Tom Reed (N.Y.) in May. The Senate version of the bill is a welcome addition to the House's, which the Academy and our partners in the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance have worked closely to support; Academy members and partners most recently advocated for the bill during the July Diabetes Prevention and Treatment Advocacy Day.

Member Updates

Spotlight on Adult and Senior Malnutrition - Register

Malnutrition is a leading cause of morbidity and mortality, especially among older adults. Up to half of adults age 65 and older and as many as 39 percent of older adult patients may be malnourished or at-risk for malnutrition. Malnourished adults are five times more likely to die during a hospitalization and 54 percent more likely to be readmitted. Learn more about the transition from hospital to community in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar on September 12 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

On September 13 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time), the Academy's @eatrightPRO channel will host a Twitter chat with experts from the Healthy Aging and Dietetics in Health Care Communities DPGs. To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

(PPCs/PALs, please post this message to your communication channels)

Spotlight on Pediatric Malnutrition - Register

Did you know pediatric malnutrition is estimated to contribute to approximately 45 percent of all child deaths globally? Learn more in an exclusive members-only 1-hour CPEU webinar, "Lessons Learned from Implementing the Pediatric Malnutrition Criteria," on September 5 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Registration is limited to the first 1,000 participants, and those not able to attend live can listen to a recorded version of the event.

A live Twitter chat will follow on September 6, beginning at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). To join, use the hashtag #MalnutritionChat.

Academy Members Receive Complimentary Access to ASPEN's Malnutrition Awareness Week - Register

Academy members are invited to participate in the American Society for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition's Malnutrition Awareness Week, September 24 to 28. Members will receive complimentary access to programming during Malnutrition Awareness Week.

Register using the discount code MAW-Academy.

Calling All Current and Former Licensure Board Members - Register

Are you a current or former state licensure or certification board member? The Academy will be hosting a networking event for former and current licensure/certification board members at FNCE® this year. The facilitated event will allow attendees to network with colleagues, exchange ideas and share best practices.

Please note that while the Academy is providing the opportunity for the event, it will be independently run by licensure/certification board leaders.

Academy Members Invited to Join Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative - RSVP

The Academy is convening a Breast-feeding Policy and Advocacy Collaborative in order to regularly communicate about current policy and advocacy opportunities in the breast-feeding space. The intent is to broaden the scope of activities for breast-feeding advocacy and to ensure the ideas and expertise of members are considered.

The collaborative will hold a monthly one-hour call led by the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy team, beginning on October 2 at 3 p.m. (Eastern Time). The calls are open to all interested members; public policy leaders are encouraged to attend. Please RSVP.

Obesity Advocacy Day on September 27 with OCAN - Register

Academy members are encouraged join the Obesity Care Advocacy Network Advocacy Day on Thursday, September 27. The advocacy day will include Capitol Hill meetings from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. (Eastern Time), followed by a PAC reception to honor a member of Congress who has championed efforts to better promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services.

Public Policy Trainings & Open Forums

Minnesota Affiliate Meets with U.S. Senator's Office In-District

As part of the 'Take Your Congressman to Work' August campaign, the Minnesota Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics met with the office of Sen. Amy Klobuchar (Minn.) in-district last week to discuss the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act and the farm bill. Staff were supportive of the work the Academy is doing and were interested, in particular, in the SuperShelf project. Initially funded by SNAP-Ed and the Duke-UNC USDA Center for Behavioral Economics and Health Food Choice Research and now the NIH, SuperShelf aims to transform the food retail environment of sites that improve access to health foods for communities in need. MNAND members are planning to send a follow-up invite to Sen. Klobuchar for a site visit.

Have You Taken Your Congressman to Work?

U.S. House Representatives are back in their congressional districts for the work period until September 4. Inviting elected officials and their staff to your practice or facility, or meeting with them in-district, helps them understand the important and valuable role RDNs play in improving the health and well-being of the nation. Visit the COI for helpful tips for planning the visit.

Do you have a Thumbs Up submission for PPWN? Send photos and a quick write-up about your recent policy accomplishments to Nate Stritzinger.

Public Policy Workshop

FNCE®/ PPW - Registration

Have you registered yet for FNCE® and PPW 2018?

For this year only, register for the full conference or a Tuesday one-day badge and attend PPW after FNCE® at no additional cost. Members of the Public Policy Panel should register as soon as possible. Early bird registration ends on September 7, 2018.

Learn more and register today!

The proposals are limited to 300 words and deadline for submission is June 15. If could send me your presentation/outline from the talk on school nutrition you gave in Mexico, maybe we could use it as a springboard to prepare the ICD proposal for your review.

Legally, you are just commenting on the science. You are a "friend of the court", informing the court on matters of science, not necessarily a friend of either the plaintiff or defendant..

In an egregious case, someone might tag you with helping one side or the other. You might not want to put in a friend of the court brief if the result would be to help an ax murderer go free. But this brief seems to stick to science and research.

This is quite a document. I am okay with signing on. If we do, do we run the risk of looking like we are taking a stance on the details of the case? I am no lawyer, and this process is new to me. You state below that we are indeed NOT commenting on the case details, but do we run the risk of being associated with the case itself, or is this completely separate; an objective observer commenting solely on the definition and therefore not at all attached to the case itself?

Subject: Amicus Brief Sign On Requested

Mike and Robyn,

We have been asked by our partners, The Obesity Society and the Obesity Action Coalition, whether we would be interested in adding the Academy to the attached amicus brief, which (1) notes the prevailing medical consensus that obesity is a disease and (2) obesity has characteristics that make it an impairment (but not, notably, necessarily a disability) under the ADA. The legal basis for point 2 is very straightforward, and would only mean that the judge erred in finding as a matter of law that obesity could never be an impairment.

Given the fact this is an amicus brief, Pepin and I thought it would be worthwhile to have it reviewed by outside counsel which is currently underway. We don't anticipate that there will be any organizational risk, but if legal counsel does come back with any recommendations we can adjust our intent to move forward accordingly. We need to respond by Monday at 3 p.m. to be included when the brief is filed.

Academy staff feel comfortable with the statement and its focus on obesity as a disease without getting into other aspects of this case. Please review the statement and respond with your approval if granted, with the understanding that should legal counsel advise against our signing on, that we would let you know and not move forward.

As we continue our efforts in other policy initiatives such as consumer protection and licensure, using an amicus brief is a strategy we are considering.

Thank you and I apologize for the fast turn-around needed.

This is quite a document. I am okay with signing on. If we do, do we run the risk of looking like we are taking a stance on the details of the case? I am no lawyer, and this process is new to me. You state below that we are indeed NOT commenting on the case details, but do we run the risk of being associated with the case itself, or is this completely separate; an objective observer commenting solely on the definition and therefore not at all attached to the case itself?

Mike and Robyn,

We have been asked by our partners, The Obesity Society and the Obesity Action Coalition, whether we would be interested in adding the Academy to the attached amicus brief, which (1) notes the prevailing medical consensus that obesity is a disease and (2) obesity has characteristics that make it an impairment (but not, notably, necessarily a disability) under the ADA. The legal basis for point 2 is very straightforward, and would only mean that the judge erred in finding as a matter of law that obesity could never be an impairment.

Given the fact this is an amicus brief, Pepin and I thought it would be worthwhile to have it reviewed by outside counsel which is currently underway. We don't anticipate that there will be any organizational risk, but if legal counsel does come back with any recommendations we can adjust our intent to move forward accordingly. We need to respond by Monday at 3 p.m. to be included when the brief is filed.

Academy staff feel comfortable with the statement and its focus on obesity as a disease without getting into other aspects of this case. Please review the statement and respond with your approval if granted, with the understanding that should legal counsel advise against our signing on, that we would let you know and not move forward.

As we continue our efforts in other policy initiatives such as consumer protection and licensure, using an amicus brief is a strategy we are considering.

Thank you and I apologize for the fast turn-around needed.

Legally, you are just commenting on the science. You are a "friend of the court", informing the court on matters of science, not necessarily a friend of either the plaintiff or defendant..

In an egregious case, someone might tag you with helping one side or the other. You might not want to put in a friend of the court brief if the result would be to help an ax murderer go free. But this brief seems to stick to science and research.

Academy staff feel comfortable with the statement and its focus on obesity as a disease without getting into other aspects of this case. Please review the statement and respond with your approval if granted, with the understanding that should legal counsel advise against our signing on, that we would let you know and not move forward.

As we continue our efforts in other policy initiatives such as consumer protection and licensure, using an amicus brief is a strategy we are considering.

Hi Donna,

I found out today that the deadline for submissions has been extended to September 1!

I still would like to work on your submission for whenever you have a document ready that I can use as starting point.

Thanks!

Hello Donna,

Your joint proposal with Lucille on Childhood Obesity was submitted to the Association for Dietetics in South Africa for ICD 2020. Pat shared with me that you are also interested in submitting a presentation on the state of global school nutrition programs and how they differ from country to country. The proposals are limited to 300 words and deadline for submission is June 15. If could send me your presentation/outline from the talk on school nutrition you gave in Mexico, maybe we could use it as a springboard to prepare the ICD proposal for your review.

Thanks!

Hello,

If you have not yet booked your flight to Washington DC for FNCE, please consider using Reagan National Airport (DCA), unless there are circumstances preventing you from doing so. Dulles International Airport (IAD) and Baltimore/Washington International Airport (BWI) may offer less expensive fares, however IAD is located 27 miles from Washington DC and BWI is 32 miles away, which may result in additional ground transportation costs and travel time.

As a reminder, to book your travel please go to www.atcmeetings.com/academy and log in to your account using the User ID (email address) and Password you created when setting up your profile. When you reach the Purchase Trip page, enter the information below.

Meeting Name (select from dropdown menu)

2018 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™

Meeting Location:

Washington, DC

Dates:

October 18 - 23, 2018 (if staying for PPW, please schedule departure for late afternoon October 24)

GL Code (budget):

Subject: 2018 FNCE and PPW Travel and Registration Information

The 2018 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™ (FNCE®) will be held October 20-23 in Washington, DC preceded by the House Leadership Team (HLT) meeting on October 18 and the House of Delegates meeting October 19-20. Public Policy Workshop (PPW) immediately follows the 2018 FNCE® Closing Session on October 23, concluding with Hill Visits the morning and early afternoon of October 24.

As you begin to plan your FNCE® attendance, please remember that at our FNCE® debriefing last year we agreed about the importance of Board members attending Opening Session, Member Showcase and Closing Session. During the last two years, FNCE® evaluations showed that members noticed the small Board turnout at Closing Session. It is important to not only show our presence at these major sessions but to deliver the attendance numbers we promised to speakers.

We encourage those of you who have not participated in PPW to attend to learn about the policy issues facing the profession and to lead and mentor other members during the workshop and on the Hill. It has been our practice that the president, president-elect, immediate past president, speaker, speaker-elect, immediate past speaker, and CEO attend PPW. All other Board members are welcome to attend the workshop as your schedule permits. This year the Academy will focus on malnutrition policy and will kick off the event with a rally on the steps of our nation's capital. There will be a ticketed Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC) reception on Tuesday evening following the PPW session for those who wish to make a contribution. The Academy appreciates the opportunity to schedule members of the Board for meetings with agency and elected officials in conjunction with PPW. The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy team is pleased to assist you as needed with messaging and communication prior to PPW so that you feel comfortable in this role. Those who plan to attend PPW will be included in two on-line preparatory sessions for PPW that will be recorded for future playback.

Housing

Earlier this week you received a communication from Rebecca McHale regarding your FNCE VIP benefits package with instructions on making your hotel reservations, however please know the Executive Office staff will take care of securing hotel accommodations for you. Reservations will be made at the FNCE® headquarters hotel, Marriott Marquis Washington DC, 901 Massachusetts Avenue NW, for arrival on Thursday, October 18 and departure on Tuesday, October 23. For members of the HLT (Speaker, Speaker-elect, Immediate Past Speaker, HOD Directors), we will make your hotel reservations for arrival on Wednesday, October 17. If you will be staying to attend PPW please notify me of your departure information so we can extend your stay. If business or personal reasons require you to adjust your reservations, please let me know. Your hotel room will be master-billed; you will be asked to pay for incidentals.

Registration

Complimentary registration for FNCE® and PPW is available May 1 through September 7.

- Complete your registration online by going to <http://eatrightfnce.org/attend/registration/>
- Select the Registration link
- In the New Registration section on the left side of your screen, enter the code 2018BOD under your name
- Continue and complete the required registration information

FNCE® and PPW Travel

You are approved to make your travel arrangements for FNCE® and PPW; see instructions below. If you wish to book your travel on your own, please submit your expenses for reimbursement after the conclusion of the meeting.

Booking Your Travel Online:

- 1) Book your travel whenever possible Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:30am and 7:00pm EST
- 2) Go online to: www.atcmeetings.com/Academy
- 3) Login to your account using your User ID (email address) and the password you created when you activated your account. (If you have forgotten your login, click "Forgot password" and enter your email address on file with Deem in the USERNAME field. You will immediately receive a reset password email.)

- 4) Search for and select your flights (book “non-refundable” fares only)
- 5) When you reach the Purchase Trip page, select 2018 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo from the drop down menu and enter the GL Code 1032430.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Dear Pat,

Attached is an invitation letter inviting the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics to participate in an expert panel convened by Healthy Eating Research (HER), a national program of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF), to develop a consensus statement for healthy beverage consumption recommendations in early childhood among key health professional organizations. The letter provides more details on the project but this email provides a basic summary.

As the world's largest organization of food and nutrition professionals we hope AND will be able to participate. The other organizations involved in the consensus statement will be the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Heart Association, and the American Academy of Pediatric Dentists.

Each organization will appoint up to two individuals to represent their organization on the panel. At least one representative should be an individual who can speak on behalf of the association and the other needs to have issue area expertise. Representatives will participate in approximately 6-8 conference calls between September 2018 and March of 2019 to discuss the evidence base and drafting of the consensus statement. The chair of the expert panel will be Stephen Daniels, MD, PhD, Chairmen and Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Colorado, School of Medicine. HER will conduct a review of existing evidence, standards, and guidelines prior to the first call. HER staff will provide additional support for the panel. We know the expert panel members are busy and we aim to respect their time by having background work done by our staff and conducting efficient calls.

In addition to the expert panel, HER will identify 5-7 individuals with expertise in nutrition, pediatrics, child development, and pediatric dentistry to advise the process and ensure that the resulting consensus statement is grounded in science. Each organization and person will bring unique background experience and expertise to the panel.

More details are in the attached letter and background documents. We hope you can be involved in this project. We are happy to have a call or answer any questions you may have.

Dear Mary,

Thank you for the opportunity to participate on the Healthy Eating Research Panel of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation. President Mary Russell and I will be discussing and selecting two RDNs to appoint which meet your specified expertise and background requirements.

We are excited about collaborating with other organizations in developing a consensus statement on this important issue and thank you for the invitation. We will provide the Academy's appointments early next week.

Best regards,

Pat

Dear Pat,

Attached is an invitation letter inviting the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics to participate in an expert panel convened by Healthy Eating Research (HER), a national program of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation (RWJF), to develop a consensus statement for healthy beverage consumption recommendations in early childhood among key health professional organizations. The letter provides more details on the project but this email provides a basic summary.

As the world's largest organization of food and nutrition professionals we hope AND will be able to participate. The other organizations involved in the consensus statement will be the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American Heart Association, and the American Academy of Pediatric Dentists.

Each organization will appoint up to two individuals to represent their organization on the panel. At least one representative should be an individual who can speak on behalf of the association and the other needs to have issue area expertise. Representatives will participate in approximately 6-8 conference calls between September 2018 and March of 2019 to discuss the evidence base and drafting of the consensus statement. The chair of the expert panel will be Stephen Daniels, MD, PhD, Chairman and Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Colorado, School of Medicine. HER will conduct a review of existing evidence, standards, and guidelines prior to the first call. HER staff will provide additional support for the panel. We know the expert panel members are busy and we aim to respect their time by having background work done by our staff and conducting efficient calls.

In addition to the expert panel, HER will identify 5-7 individuals with expertise in nutrition, pediatrics, child development, and pediatric dentistry to advise the process and ensure that the resulting consensus statement is grounded in science. Each organization and person will bring unique background experience and expertise to the panel.

More details are in the attached letter and background documents. We hope you can be involved in this project. We are happy to have a call or answer any questions you may have.

Hi Donna,

Thank you for the kind words. I had a lovely experience at the Academy, but I had an opportunity I couldn't turn down. I will be joining the PR agency, Porter Novelli, and will be working for Mary Christ-Erwin, who I am sure you know as she is an honorary member of the Academy.

Once I am settled at Porter Novelli, I will be sure to reach out with my new contact information, but for now, I am also CC'ing my personal email. Please let me know next time you are in Washington. I would love to take you to lunch or coffee.

Erin

Hi Donna,

Yes, as a best practice, we always have exit interviews with employees when they leave and Carolyn keeps me apprised. She also shared the recent feedback she received with Jeanne. The three of us have had conversations on improvements and next steps. There are also other reasons for the recent departures, including higher-level positions and more compensation with other organizations. Tenasha took a better paying position in the private sector. In her exit interview she mentioned she was seeking a different type of position. Nate, as an RDN, has been working in the DC office and jumped at the opportunity to continue working there and is wanting to advance. Nicole went to AARP and was not happy that we didn't take partisan positions on issues such as immigration reform. She had difficulty taking on LPPC and the interns. Nicole mentioned in her exit interview that she didn't have a good grasp on the public policy vision, and although she met with Jeanne weekly, she never asked for clarification. I'm thrilled and hopeful that our original top candidate will likely (until we sign on the dotted line) join us in January. I have attached Erin's thank-you email she forwarded to me. I personally spoke with her and she was appreciative. She also spoke highly of Jeanne and the team. She wasn't looking for another position but was approached by Mary Christ Erwin at a meeting to go work for Porter Novelli. Erin mentioned that she's always felt that not having worked for a PR agency was a gap on her resume and that Mary C. offered to provide a three-month paid maternity leave when she decides to have a baby. Great benefits and more money, although we are very competitive. Needless to say, it is totally unprofessional for Mary C. to pirate this way. Erin said she hopes to come back after she gets a couple years working at the firm.

Yes, let's talk at the Board meeting or some evening. Tomorrow evening works for me. Sorry I'm going on about this but I am disappointed but not surprised that MP would call you. Just this morning I exchanged emails with her. For some time now, Mary Pat has been transparently trying to get back a paid position. She certainly could have reached out to me stating her concerns and it's telling that she chose this strategy so of course I question her motives. Look forward to talking with you soon!

Regards,

News from the Hill and Beyond

The Senate Returns to the Hill; House Still Out for Recess

After a shorter-than-usual recess, the Senate returned to Washington, D.C. on August 15 to work on key legislation before the midterm elections. This week the Senate began voting on amendments for a spending bill that provides funding for Defense and Labor, Health and Human Services, Education and Related Agencies. Labor-HHS funding includes appropriations for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention; National Institutes of Health; Title V Maternal and Child Health programs; and other important public health and nutrition programs. While the Senate continues to work through the appropriations measure, the House will remain in-district through Labor Day. More updates to come next week.

Important Congressional Issues Require Your Action!

As a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, urge your legislators to support and cosponsor the Preventative Health Savings Act ( H.R. 2953/ S. 2164), the Expanding Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training in Medicare Act ( H.R. 5768), and the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act ( H.R. 3124/ S. 1299). Let them know how this legislation would impact you, the people you serve and your community. The voice of every member is critical as these vital decisions are made regarding the health and nutrition of the nation. We encourage you to take action today!

Take Action

Having technical difficulties? Contact Nate Stritzinger for any action alert issues.

Nomination Notices

Nomination Call: Geriatrics and Gerontology Advisory Committee, Due September 15

The Veterans Administration seeks nominees for membership on the Geriatrics and Gerontology Advisory Committee. This is an opportunity for the Academy to be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to veterans and their short- and long-term health care needs.

Nomination Call: Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee, Due October 1

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention seeks nominees for membership on the Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee. It is important that the Academy be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to food safety concerns with implications for public health.

Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest in being nominated and the basis for the nomination Mark Rifkin.

PALs, please plan to review the nomination opportunities section and share the information with your executive board or team.

Thanks go to Former President, Jessie Pavlinac, a renal nutrition specialist, for informing us of CVS' plan to support early identification of chronic kidney disease and the expansion of home dialysis to optimize care for patients. We sent the attached letter from President Mary Russell to Bruce Culleton, MD, Vice President and Chief Medical Officer of CVS Specialty, to discuss the importance of using RDNs in the intervention for slowing CKD progression and delaying or preventing end-stage renal disease. CVS planned to utilize nurses to educate individuals with kidney disease on their risk, important tests and the need to see a nephrologist.

Mary Beth Whalen, Marsha Schofield and I spoke with Dr. Culleton by phone and asked him to work with RDNs to achieve patient and client outcomes. We noted that while nurses are an important part of the health care team, they lack the expertise needed to manage the nutritional needs of this population. We had an excellent dialogue. Dr. Culleton was very receptive to the idea and expressed his strong appreciation for and the value of working with RDNs. He and another colleague will be coming to headquarters for a face to face follow-up meeting in September to discuss a strategic partnership.

Also attached is a communication sent to Former Academy Presidents regarding the important role they play in bringing opportunities that impact our members and the profession to our attention.

Subject: When You See Something, Say Something

Our Academy Former Presidents play an important role in identifying opportunities for us to advance our Strategic Plan. Thanks go to Former President, Jessie Pavlinac, a renal nutrition specialist, for informing us of CVS' plan to support early identification of chronic kidney disease and the expansion of home dialysis to optimize care for patients. As a result of her alert, we contacted CVS and held a productive introductory call with Dr. Bruce Culleton, Vice President and Chief Medical Officer with CVS Specialty.

You may have read stories in the news about CVS Health Corporation's initiative. CVS planned to utilize nurses to educate individuals with kidney disease on their risk, important tests and the need to see a nephrologist. The attached letter was sent from President Mary Russell to Dr. Culleton promoting the value of RDNs and medical nutrition therapy in the treatment of all stages of renal disease and outlining the benefits of incorporating RDNs into their business model.

Our message fell on friendly ears since Dr. Culleton is a trained kidney specialist with extensive experience working side-by-side with RDNs. Mary Beth Whalen, Marsha Schofield and I spoke with Dr. Culleton by phone and asked him to work with RDNs to achieve patient and client outcomes. We noted that while nurses are an important part of the health care team, they lack the expertise needed to manage the nutritional needs of this population. We had an excellent dialogue and Dr. Culleton was very receptive to the idea and expressed his strong appreciation for and the value of working with RDNs.

An in-person follow-up meeting is scheduled in Chicago in September to more fully explore a strategic partnership. We plan to discuss the numerous benefits the Academy can bring to the table, including opportunities to leverage the new international guidelines for the treatment of CKD patients we developed with the National Kidney Foundation and possible associated training and outcomes research projects.

Such a partnership has the potential to advance our Lifestyles First initiative and position the Academy and our members in a major important market, both nationally and globally. Again, we thank Jessie for bringing CVS' program to our attention. Please let us know when you hear of something that impacts our members and the nutrition and dietetics profession.

Best regards,
Pat

Further potential implication of this change is the decreased service and availability of dollars to land grant institutions (ag colleges, cooperative extension), many of which have dietetic education and/or internship programs which could be impacted.

Hi Kevin and Donna,

I agree with Kevin, pushing scientific agencies further from the inner circle of DC puts them out of site and out of mind. We at FNS/CNPP often felt geographically displaced from what was going on in the Whitten Building (USDA hdqrs).

Funny, you would think these changes were recommended by the HF - https://www.heritage.org/sites/default/files/2017-06/BlueprintforReorganization-DepartmentsandAgencies\_1.pdf but even they did not recommend these changes, just the elimination of the Center for Nutrition Policy and Promotion!

We are moving further and further away from evidence-informed policymaking...

Hi Donna,

My instinct is to question the official justification for this move outside of the Capitol area. I do not recall staffing or vacancy issues at ERS during my time at USDA , and FNS enjoyed a strong interdependence on ERS research and work products. So , I am suspicious of the Administration's real motives for decentralizing ERS and moving it out of the central core of USDA. I am less concerned about putting it under the Chief Economist's Office , which has been traditionally non partisan.

As to moving NIFA out , I suspect it reflects the current Secretary's lack of interest in many of the initiatives that NIFA has pursued and sponsored . My read on the politics of the traditional Ag interests is that they are far more interested in traditional commodity crops and policies , and barely tolerate so-called Specialty Crops , farmers markets , nutrition programs . NIFA has been a midway point between there interests .

By moving it out to “ farm country “ I suspect it is a strategy to narrow and channel it areas of focus .

It is also interesting to note that these significant USDA program divisions are operating without appointed senior political leadership !

That's what I think !

Best wishes,

Kevin

PS I am over my Lyme episode ,thanks to 14 days of antibiotics and a quick blood test. Looking forward to seeing you in Chicago next month.

USDA to Realign ERS with Chief Economist, Relocate ERS &NIFA Outside DC

(Washington, D.C., August 9, 2018) – U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue today announced further reorganization of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), intended to improve customer service, strengthen offices and programs, and save taxpayer dollars. The Economic Research Service (ERS), currently under USDA's Research, Education, and Economics mission area, will realign once again with the Office of the Chief Economist (OCE) under the Office of the Secretary. Additionally, most employees of ERS and the National Institute of Food and Agriculture (NIFA) will be relocated outside of the National Capital Region. The movement of the employees outside of Washington, DC is expected to be completed by the end of 2019.

"It's been our goal to make USDA the most effective, efficient, and customer-focused department in the entire federal government," Perdue said. "In our Administration, we have looked critically at the way we do business, with the ultimate goal of ensuring the best service possible for our customers, and for the taxpayers of the United States. In some cases, this has meant realigning some of our offices and functions, or even relocating them, in order to make more logical sense or provide more streamlined and efficient services."

Realigning ERS with OCE

Moving ERS back together with OCE under the Office of the Secretary simply makes sense because the two have similar missions. ERS studies and anticipates trends and emerging issues, while OCE advises the Secretary and Congress on the economic implications of policies and programs. These two agencies were aligned once before, and bringing them back together will enhance the effectiveness of economic analysis at USDA.

Relocating ERS and NIFA outside National Capital Region

New locations have yet to be determined, and it is possible that ERS and NIFA may be co-located when their new homes are found. USDA is undertaking the relocations for three main reasons:

1. To improve USDA's ability to attract and retain highly qualified staff with training and interests in agriculture, many of whom come from land-grant universities. USDA has experienced significant turnover in these positions, and it has been difficult to recruit employees to the Washington, DC area, particularly given the high cost of living and long commutes.
2. To place these important USDA resources closer to many of stakeholders, most of whom live and work far from the Washington, DC area.
3. To benefit the American taxpayers. There will be significant savings on employment costs and rent, which will allow more employees to be retained in the long run, even in the face of tightening budgets.

No ERS or NIFA employees will be involuntarily separated. Every employee who wants to continue working will have an opportunity to do so, although that will mean moving to a new location for most. Employees will be offered relocation assistance and will receive the same base pay as before, and the locality pay for the new location. For those who are interested, USDA is seeking approval from the Office of Personnel Management and the Office of Management and Budget for both Voluntary Early Retirement Authority and Voluntary Separation Incentive Payments.

"None of this reflects on the jobs being done by our ERS or NIFA employees, and in fact, I frequently tell my Cabinet colleagues that USDA has the best workforce in the federal government," Perdue said. "These changes are more steps down the path to better service to our customers, and will help us fulfill our informal motto to 'Do right and feed everyone.'"

Perdue previously announced other significant changes at USDA. In May 2017, USDA created the first-ever Undersecretary for Trade and Foreign Agricultural Affairs and reconstituted and renamed the new Farm Production and Conservation mission area, among other realignments. In addition, in September 2017, Perdue realigned a number of offices to improve customer service and maximize efficiency. Those actions involved innovation, consolidation, and the rearrangement of certain offices into more logical organizational reporting structures.

I had a good conversation with one of the USDA folks tonight. I'll set up a call with Angie and Kevin on Monday. I have some ideas of what we can and should do. It's utter chaos for the employees, very difficult to hear the impact of this on people's lives.

Further potential implication of this change is the decreased service and availability of dollars to land grant institutions (ag colleges, cooperative extension), many of which have dietetic education and/or internship programs which could be impacted.

Is the Academy preparing a letter to Sec Pedue which outlines the immediate and long-term negative implications of this drastic change to NIFA - specifically addressing nutrition research/science, healthy food access, and nutrition education?

Hi Kevin and Donna,

I agree with Kevin, pushing scientific agencies further from the inner circle of DC puts them out of site and out of mind. We at FNS/CNPP often felt geographically displaced from what was going on in the Whitten Building (USDA hdqrs).

Funny, you would think these changes were recommended by the HF - https://www.heritage.org/sites/default/files/2017-06/BlueprintforReorganization-DepartmentsandAgencies\_1.pdf but even they did not recommend these changes, just the elimination of the Center for Nutrition Policy and Promotion!

We are moving further and further away from evidence-informed policymaking...

Hi Donna,

My instinct is to question the official justification for this move outside of the Capitol area. I do not recall staffing or vacancy issues at ERS during my time at USDA , and FNS enjoyed a strong interdependence on ERS research and work products. So , I am suspicious of the Administration's real motives for decentralizing ERS and moving it out of the central core of USDA.

I am less concerned about putting it under the Chief Economist's Office , which has been traditionally non partisan.

As to moving NIFA out , I suspect it reflects the current Secretary's lack of interest in many of the initiatives that NIFA has pursued and sponsored . My read on the politics of the traditional Ag interests is that they are far more interested in traditional commodity crops and policies , and barely tolerate so-called Specialty Crops , farmers markets , nutrition programs . NIFA has been a midway point between there interests .

By moving it out to “ farm country “ I suspect it is a strategy to narrow and channel it areas of focus

It is also interesting to note that these significant USDA program divisions are operating without appointed senior political leadership !

That's what I think !

Best wishes,

Kevin

During the past year, the Board of Directors has made licensure a major priority, discussing it and related topics in several meetings and noting the need for members' access to accurate information. The Board has recognized the relationship and importance of licensure to the future of the profession.

To meet this need, the Consumer Protection and Licensure Subcommittee and staff members from the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy and Strategic Communications teams have collaborated on a revamped licensure section of the Academy's website. The site features direct access to licensure topics that are prominent within the Advocacy section of eatrightPro. An interactive map allows members to easily find top-level information and to access licensure statutes and regulations in their states.

The next phase of this important project will include adding an “exemptions” map for licensure; reformatting the Therapeutic Diet Orders map to update the status of states; and adding the same interactive feature found on the licensure map.

Please join me in commending the entire Board and the Headquarters Team who developed this valuable member benefit. As this project continues to evolve, we invite you to explore the site and forward your ideas and feedback.

Attached you will find the CEO Performance Objectives with updated goals that Donna sent with my revised/edited competency section. I have also included the original version of the competencies you reviewed during the Board retreat for comparison purposes.

I did my best to scale down the comments in every section including the final "Strengths" and "Areas for Development". Please take a look and let me know your thoughts and if you would like to me to make any additional edits.

Also, Pat is scheduled to begin working on her section of the performance review next week.

During the past year, the Board of Directors has made licensure a major priority, discussing it and related topics in several meetings and noting the need for members' access to accurate information. The Board has recognized the relationship and importance of licensure to the future of the profession.

To meet this need, the Consumer Protection and Licensure Subcommittee and staff members from the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy and Strategic Communications teams have collaborated on a revamped licensure section of the Academy's website. The site features direct access to licensure topics that are prominent within the Advocacy section of eatrightPro. An interactive map allows members to easily find top-level information and to access licensure statutes and regulations in their states.

The next phase of this important project will include adding an "exemptions" map for licensure; reformatting the Therapeutic Diet Orders map to update the status of states; and adding the same interactive feature found on the licensure map.

Please join me in commending the entire Board and the Headquarters Team who developed this valuable member benefit. As this project continues to evolve, we invite you to explore the site and forward your ideas and feedback.

Best regards,

Jeanne

Greetings!

I am serving as Editor-in-Chief for an exciting project: the creation of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Guide to Nutrition Communication. Currently, the book is in its final stages of revision and will be entering the production stage by the end of this year. Refer to the attached document for a brief table of contents for the text.

This fall we hope to pilot book sections with potential end-users, namely instructors and students in undergraduate, graduate, and internship programs, as well as practicing food and nutrition professionals seeking training in nutrition communication. You are receiving this email because you:

- were involved in an interview during the initial planning process prior to developing the book, and/or
- served as an author for one or more chapters, or
- served as a reviewer for one or more book sections, or
- expressed interest in piloting a portion of the book.

One of our goals has been to actively involve the target audience throughout the book's development. As you may be aware, the initial development was informed by surveys and interviews with educators involved in a variety of dietetics education programs, as well as with practitioners in the field. This information directed the breadth and depth of content included, as well as an emphasis on practical application of knowledge. Authors and reviewers throughout the writing process represented both practitioners and educators.

We are now at the stage to solicit further review with instructors, students, and practicing nutrition and dietetics professionals before final production. This will allow us to “practice what we preach” in the book – which is involving the audience in all stages of the development of nutrition communication.

The purpose of this “pilot” is to gain insights into how the book will potentially be used, what its outstanding features are, and to solicit ideas for ideas that may supplement the book in ancillary materials. The primary intent is not to make further revisions, but if someone finds a glaring error, this is an opportunity to correct it.

If you are interested in participating, please reply and you will be sent a document that fully outlines the entire book. You will also receive a list of when each section will be available, which will begin with Section 1 on or before August 27th and be completely ready for piloting by early November. You will be asked to select one or more complete sections to pilot. As described in the attachment, the book contains 8 sections and each section is composed of 3-7 chapters.

Sections will be sent out as PDF proofs that have not gone through the final editing or design process and will still be in manuscript form. Final images and diagrams are still being selected and created. You will have permission to post chapters online or copy for students for the sole purpose of piloting their use.

Participants will be given links to an online survey to complete for each chapter reviewed. The survey asks respondents (both instructors and students) to describe how a chapter was used or could be used; rate readability and content; and suggest potential activities and discussion questions that could be shared with future users.

You are welcome to forward this invitation to other dietetics educators. Please tell them to indicate who they received the invitation from when they send me a request to participate. If you are not interested in participating, there is no need to reply. Please inform me of your interest by September 10th to plan accordingly. Indicating interest does not commit you to participation. You may determine your involvement once you review the documents we will send you upon request. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Barb

Further potential implication of this change is the decreased service and availability of dollars to land grant institutions (ag colleges, cooperative extension), many of which have dietetic education and/or internship programs which could be impacted.

Hi Donna,

My instinct is to question the official justification for this move outside of the Capitol area. I do not recall staffing or vacancy issues at ERS during my time at USDA , and FNS enjoyed a strong interdependence on ERS research and work products. So , I am suspicious of the Administration's real motives for decentralizing ERS and moving it out of the central core of USDA. I am less concerned about putting it under the Chief Economist's Office , which has been traditionally non partisan.

As to moving NIFA out , I suspect it reflects the current Secretary's lack of interest in many of the initiatives that NIFA has pursued and sponsored . My read on the politics of the traditional Ag interests is that they are far more interested in traditional commodity crops and policies , and barely tolerate so-called Specialty Crops , farmers markets , nutrition programs . NIFA has been a midway point between there interests .
By moving it out to " farm country " I suspect it is a strategy to narrow and channel it areas of focus .

It is also interesting to note that these significant USDA program divisions are operating without appointed senior political leadership !

That's what I think !

Best wishes,

Kevin

USDA to Realign ERS with Chief Economist, Relocate ERS & NIFA Outside DC

(Washington, D.C., August 9, 2018) – U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue today announced further reorganization of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), intended to improve customer service, strengthen offices and programs, and save taxpayer dollars. The Economic Research Service (ERS), currently under USDA's Research, Education, and Economics mission area, will realign once again with the Office of the Chief Economist (OCE) under the Office of the Secretary. Additionally, most employees of ERS and the National Institute of Food and Agriculture (NIFA) will be relocated outside of the National Capital Region. The movement of the employees outside of Washington, DC is expected to be completed by the end of 2019.

"It's been our goal to make USDA the most effective, efficient, and customer-focused department in the entire federal government," Perdue said. "In our Administration, we have looked critically at the way we do business, with the ultimate goal of ensuring the best service possible for our customers, and for the taxpayers of the United States. In some cases, this has meant realigning some of our offices and functions, or even relocating them, in order to make more logical sense or provide more streamlined and efficient services."

Realigning ERS with OCE

Moving ERS back together with OCE under the Office of the Secretary simply makes sense because the two have similar missions. ERS studies and anticipates trends and emerging issues, while OCE advises the Secretary and Congress on the economic implications of policies and programs. These two agencies were aligned once before, and bringing them back together will enhance the effectiveness of economic analysis at USDA.

Relocating ERS and NIFA outside National Capital Region

New locations have yet to be determined, and it is possible that ERS and NIFA may be co-located when their new homes are found. USDA is undertaking the relocations for three main reasons:

1. To improve USDA's ability to attract and retain highly qualified staff with training and interests in agriculture, many of whom come from land-grant universities. USDA has experienced significant turnover in these positions, and it has been difficult to recruit employees to the Washington, DC area, particularly given the high cost of living and long commutes.

2. To place these important USDA resources closer to many of stakeholders, most of whom live and work far from the Washington, DC area.
3. To benefit the American taxpayers. There will be significant savings on employment costs and rent, which will allow more employees to be retained in the long run, even in the face of tightening budgets.

No ERS or NIFA employees will be involuntarily separated. Every employee who wants to continue working will have an opportunity to do so, although that will mean moving to a new location for most. Employees will be offered relocation assistance and will receive the same base pay as before, and the locality pay for the new location. For those who are interested, USDA is seeking approval from the Office of Personnel Management and the Office of Management and Budget for both Voluntary Early Retirement Authority and Voluntary Separation Incentive Payments.

“None of this reflects on the jobs being done by our ERS or NIFA employees, and in fact, I frequently tell my Cabinet colleagues that USDA has the best workforce in the federal government,” Perdue said. “These changes are more steps down the path to better service to our customers, and will help us fulfill our informal motto to ‘Do right and feed everyone.’”

Perdue previously announced other significant changes at USDA. In May 2017, USDA created the first-ever Undersecretary for Trade and Foreign Agricultural Affairs and reconstituted and renamed the new Farm Production and Conservation mission area, among other realignments. In addition, in September 2017, Perdue realigned a number of offices to improve customer service and maximize efficiency. Those actions involved innovation, consolidation, and the rearrangement of certain offices into more logical organizational reporting structures.

I am less concerned about putting it under the Chief Economist's Office , which has been traditionally non partisan.

As to moving NIFA out , I suspect it reflects the current Secretary's lack of interest in many of the initiatives that NIFA has pursued and sponsored . My read on the politics of the traditional Ag interests is that they are far more interested in traditional commodity crops and policies , and barely tolerate so-called Specialty Crops , farmers markets , nutrition programs . NIFA has been a midway point between there interests .
By moving it out to " farm country " I suspect it is a strategy to narrow and channel it areas of focus .

It is also interesting to note that these significant USDA program divisions are operating without appointed senior political leadership !

That's what I think !

Best wishes,

Kevin

USDA to Realign ERS with Chief Economist, Relocate ERS &NIFA Outside DC

(Washington, D.C., August 9, 2018) – U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue today announced further reorganization of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), intended to improve customer service, strengthen offices and programs, and save taxpayer dollars. The Economic Research Service (ERS), currently under USDA's Research, Education, and Economics mission area, will realign once again with the Office of the Chief Economist (OCE) under the Office of the Secretary. Additionally, most employees of ERS and the National Institute of Food and Agriculture (NIFA) will be relocated outside of the National Capital Region. The movement of the employees outside of Washington, DC is expected to be completed by the end of 2019.

"It's been our goal to make USDA the most effective, efficient, and customer-focused department in the entire federal government," Perdue said. "In our Administration, we have looked critically at the way we do business, with the ultimate goal of ensuring the best service possible for our customers, and for the taxpayers of the United States. In some cases, this has meant realigning some of our offices and functions, or even relocating them, in order to make more logical sense or provide more streamlined and efficient services.”

Realigning ERS with OCE

Moving ERS back together with OCE under the Office of the Secretary simply makes sense because the two have similar missions. ERS studies and anticipates trends and emerging issues, while OCE advises the Secretary and Congress on the economic implications of policies and programs. These two agencies were aligned once before, and bringing them back together will enhance the effectiveness of economic analysis at USDA.

Relocating ERS and NIFA outside National Capital Region

New locations have yet to be determined, and it is possible that ERS and NIFA may be co-located when their new homes are found. USDA is undertaking the relocations for three main reasons:

1. To improve USDA’s ability to attract and retain highly qualified staff with training and interests in agriculture, many of whom come from land-grant universities. USDA has experienced significant turnover in these positions, and it has been difficult to recruit employees to the Washington, DC area, particularly given the high cost of living and long commutes.
2. To place these important USDA resources closer to many of stakeholders, most of whom live and work far from the Washington, DC area.
3. To benefit the American taxpayers. There will be significant savings on employment costs and rent, which will allow more employees to be retained in the long run, even in the face of tightening budgets.

No ERS or NIFA employees will be involuntarily separated. Every employee who wants to continue working will have an opportunity to do so, although that will mean moving to a new location for most. Employees will be offered relocation assistance and will receive the same base pay as before, and the locality pay for the new location. For those who are interested, USDA is seeking approval from the Office of Personnel Management and the Office of Management and Budget for both Voluntary Early Retirement Authority and Voluntary Separation Incentive Payments.

“None of this reflects on the jobs being done by our ERS or NIFA employees, and in fact, I frequently tell my Cabinet colleagues that USDA has the best workforce in the federal government,” Perdue said. “These changes are more steps down the path to better service to our customers, and will help us fulfill our informal motto to ‘Do right and feed everyone.’”

Perdue previously announced other significant changes at USDA. In May 2017, USDA created the first-ever Undersecretary for Trade and Foreign Agricultural Affairs and reconstituted and renamed the new Farm Production and Conservation mission area, among other realignments. In addition, in September 2017, Perdue realigned a number of offices to improve customer service and maximize efficiency. Those actions involved innovation, consolidation, and the rearrangement of certain offices into more logical organizational reporting structures.

Further potential implication of this change is the decreased service and availability of dollars to land grant institutions (ag colleges, cooperative extension), many of which have dietetic education and/or internship programs which could be impacted.

Hi Kevin and Donna,

I agree with Kevin, pushing scientific agencies further from the inner circle of DC puts them out of site and out of mind. We at FNS/CNPP often felt geographically displaced from what was going on in the Whitten Building (USDA hdqrs).

Funny, you would think these changes were recommended by the HF - https://www.heritage.org/sites/default/files/2017-06/BlueprintforReorganization-DepartmentsandAgencies\_1.pdf but even they did not recommend these changes, just the elimination of the Center for Nutrition Policy and Promotion!

We are moving further and further away from evidence-informed policymaking...

Hi Donna,

My instinct is to question the official justification for this move outside of the Capitol area. I do not recall staffing or vacancy issues at ERS during my time at USDA , and FNS enjoyed a strong interdependence on ERS research and work products. So , I am suspicious of the Administration's real motives for decentralizing ERS and moving it out of the central core of USDA.

I am less concerned about putting it under the Chief Economist's Office , which has been traditionally non partisan.

The Academy's Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™ helps instill professional practice beliefs, values, attitudes and behaviors in students that will prepare them for practice and lifelong learning. Educators: Give your students the best possible start in dietetics and bring them to FNCE®. The Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™ will be held in Washington, DC on October 20-23, 2018.

The Academy will recognize four dietetics education programs, one for each program type: Didactic Program in Dietetics, Dietetic Internship, Coordinated Program in Dietetics and Dietetic Technician Program. The four education programs that bring the highest percentage of students to FNCE® will receive special recognition at FNCE® with Academy President Mary Russell, MS, RDN, LDN, FAND, and a complimentary self/group study program recording. In case of a tie, a random drawing will be held of the programs with the highest percentage of attendees.

If you are interested in having your program considered for this opportunity, work with your educator to submit your number of total enrollment for your program, number of students attending FNCE and the percentage this represents to education@eatright.org by October 1.

Public Policy Weekly News
August 14, 2018

News from the Hill and Beyond
Academy Supports Senate Farm Bill in Conference Committee

On August 8, the Academy expressed support of the Senate's bipartisan bill in a letter to the Farm Bill Conference Committee members. The Academy applauds the work the Senate put forth to protect the integrity of the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program and encourages greater coordination between SNAP-Ed and the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program.

The Senate's version of the farm bill would also reauthorize the Agriculture and Food Research Initiative and the Food Insecurity Nutrition Incentive grant program that help to improve access to affordable, safe and nutritious foods for Americans. As the farm bill progresses in conference, the Academy is hopeful that sound leadership provided by the Senate will uphold and strengthen nutrition programs and that any harmful amendments proposed will be rejected.

CDC Public Health Grand Round on Childhood Obesity Prevention

On August 21 from 1-2 p.m. (Eastern Time), join the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention for the latest session of Public Health Grand Rounds that will feature cutting-edge work on preventing childhood obesity. An expert panel will explore how early care and education settings and schools can directly impact what children eat and drink, how active they are and how changes in these environments can help build a healthy foundation for all children.

Questions are welcome – email any questions you may have to the speakers before or during the live session.

FDA Nutrition Innovation Strategy – Upcoming NANA Coalition Webinar - Register

Earlier this year, FDA Commissioner Scott Gottlieb announced the agency's Nutrition Innovation Strategy, which aims to address preventable death and disease related to poor nutrition. The Academy has been actively engaged in the process and recently testified at the FDA's public meeting on the importance of consumer education and the role of registered dietitian nutritionists in implementing and disseminating the new nutrition facts panel and menu labeling literacy.

The National Alliance for Nutrition and Activity Coalition will host a webinar to review the NIS on Thursday, August 16, from 12-1 p.m. (Eastern Time). The Academy serves on NANA's steering committee.

As background, the FDA has identified several areas that the NIS will focus on:

- Developing a standard icon or symbol for the claim “healthy”
- Allowing for labeling statements or claims on food products that could facilitate innovation to promote healthful eating patterns
- Implementing the FDA's educational campaign for consumers about the updated Nutrition Facts Label

Past award winners and current members of the Academy's Legislative and Public Policy Committee, Consumer Protection and Licensure Subcommittee or the Academy's Political Action Committee Board of Directors are ineligible.

Nominate a policy leader today! For questions or comments, contact Nate Stritzinger.
Public Policy Leadership Awards, Nominations Due August 24 - Closing Soon

Nominations for the Public Policy Leadership Award are open! Awarded by the Academy, the Public Policy Leadership Award is given to members of Congress for their support of policies that improve the nation's health and advance the profession of dietetics.

Nominate a member of Congress for his or her outstanding support of the Academy's priorities today. Nominations must be received by 5 p.m. (Eastern Time) on Friday, August 24.

Any member of Congress who has received the Public Policy Leadership Award in the last five years is ineligible.

For questions or comments, contact Nate Stritzinger.

Policy leaders: please nominate an Academy member who exemplifies grassroots advocacy and leadership qualities today or a member of Congress who supports the Academy's public policy priorities!

Academy Expands Spotlight on Malnutrition During September

During the month of September, the Academy will shine a spotlight on malnutrition to increase awareness and underscore the role that registered dietitian nutritionists and nutrition and dietetic technicians, registered play in prevention and treatment.

A different topic will be featured during each week leading up to ASPEN's Malnutrition Awareness Week, including: pediatric malnutrition, adult/senior malnutrition, special populations and malnutrition (such as pregnancy, vegetarians and overweight and obesity) and global malnutrition.

Each topic will explore the relationship between hunger, food insecurity and malnutrition and offer guidance and tips for prevention and treatment. Planned activities include a weekly live free webinar offering CPEU, social media events, articles, research and practice resources along with highlights of can't miss FNCE® sessions. Watch for updates on scheduled events and activities.

Academy members will also receive complimentary access to the American Society for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition's Malnutrition Awareness Week programming, September 24 to 28, when members register with the discount code, MAW-Academy.

To find out how your DPG or affiliate can get involved and showcase your products and services during the Academy's spotlight on malnutrition, contact Jeanne Blankenship.

Obesity Advocacy Day with OCAN - Register

In conjunction with its Overcoming Obesity 2018 Conference in Washington, D.C., the Obesity Medicine Association will host its third Obesity Care Advocacy Network Advocacy Day on Thursday, September 27. The Academy is a founding member of OCAN and has hosted two similar advocacy days.

The advocacy day will include Capitol Hill meetings from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. (Eastern Time), followed by a PAC reception to honor a member of Congress who has championed efforts to better promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services.

Prior to the event, registrants will receive briefing materials and access to a recorded webinar that highlight the urgency of passing the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act and more comprehensive coverage for evidence-based obesity treatment services, including intensive behavioral therapy provided by RDNs.

Academy members are encouraged to join the advocacy day to broaden the representation of patients, researchers, health care professionals and community providers at the Obesity Care Advocacy Network Advocacy Day. Register today!

"Take Your Congressman to Work" in August

The Academy encourages you to "Take Your Congressman to Work" this month during the August work period, known as August Recess. Inviting elected officials and their staff to your practice or facility helps them understand the important and valuable role RDNs play in improving the health and well-being of the nation. It is also an opportunity for elected officials to see how federal programs work in their local communities.

Senators are back in their home states for the district work period until August 15, when they return to Washington, D.C. The House of Representatives are back in their congressional districts for the work period until September 4.

The Academy hosted a recent open forum webinar to help members plan their August site visits and provide tips and talking points on the Academy's legislative priorities. The recorded webinar and additional resources, including a helpful checklist, campaign information, tips and legislative meeting forms are available to download on the COI.

Save the Date - Next DPG PAL Monthly Call, August 23 - Join

The PIA team will host monthly PAL calls on the last Thursday of each month. The calls are an opportunity for DPG PALs to learn more about upcoming federal regulatory issues and to offer input on comments. We have heard your feedback and will be structuring the call in a new format to make it as productive as possible.

Interested in learning more about the Academy's upcoming regulatory comments? Join the next call scheduled for Thursday, August 23 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time). For more information, contact Mark Rifkin.

All PALs are strongly encouraged to attend.

Regulatory Roundup

The Academy has an opportunity to shape and revise regulations by submitting comments to federal agencies. A list of regulatory items, ordered by date and open for comment, are available here.

Please note some deadlines are very soon. If you would like to comment on any of these items, please contact the Policy and Advocacy Leader of a relevant DPG; their information can be found on the Academy's Leadership Directory under Dietetic Practice Groups. If you have any questions, contact Mark Rifkin.

PALs, please plan to review the regulatory opportunities section each week and share the information with your executive board or team.

Action Center

Action Required: There are three action alerts available that need your immediate attention. Take action today!

- Preventative Health Savings Act, H.R. 2953/S. 2164: As the chronic disease epidemic continues to worsen, the need is critical for legislation that will allow Congress to accurately assess the full savings of enacting prevention-focused measures. This bill would encourage a sensible economic review of proposed health policies and programs that Congress believes will improve public health.
- The Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act, H.R. 3124/S. 1299 which would allow Medicare coverage of medical nutrition therapy provided by registered dietitian nutritionists for patients with pre-diabetes.

- The Expanding Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training in Medicare Act, H.R. 5768 which would remove existing barriers to Diabetes Self-Management Training and improve utilization.

Take Action!

Cut and past the following message and post to your communication platforms.

(PPCs/PALs, Please Post this Message to Your Communication Channels)

Important Congressional Issues Require Your Action!

As a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, urge your legislators to support and cosponsor the Preventative Health Savings Act ( H.R. 2953/ S. 2164), the Expanding Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training in Medicare Act ( H.R. 5768), and the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act ( H.R. 3124/ S. 1299). Let them know how this legislation would impact you, the people you serve and your community. The voice of every member is critical as these vital decisions are made regarding the health and nutrition of the nation. We encourage you to take action today!

Nomination Notices

Nomination Call: Geriatrics and Gerontology Advisory Committee

The Veterans Administration seeks nominees for membership on the Geriatrics and Gerontology Advisory Committee. The GGAC was chartered to provide advice on all matters pertaining to geriatrics and gerontology, including Clinical Center effectiveness, care quality and projected needs to adequately serve eligible veterans. It is important that the Academy be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to veterans and their short- and long-term health care needs.

Nominations are being sought for individuals who have familiarity and expertise in the following: a) VA and/or non-VA health systems; b) academic geriatric and gerontology programs; c) palliative medicine, home and community-based care, and nursing home care; d) grant-funded academic research; e) clinical and health policies concerning the elderly; f) the partnerships between VA academic programs; g) the history of geriatrics in the VA and in the U.S.; and/or h) VA's Geriatric Research, Education, and Clinical Centers.

Membership Requirements: The Committee holds at least one face-to-face meeting in Washington, D.C. and conducts 4-5 site visits a year. Members may be invited to serve for four-year terms. Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest in being nominated and the basis for the nomination by September 15 to Mark Rifkin.

Nomination Call: Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention seeks nominees for membership on the Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee. The HICPAC was chartered to provide advice and guidance to CDC regarding the practice of infection control and strategies for surveillance, prevention and control of healthcare-associated infections, antimicrobial resistance and related events in U.S. health care settings. It is important that the Academy be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to food safety concerns with implications for public health.

Nominations are being sought for individuals who have expertise and qualifications in the fields of infectious diseases, infection prevention, health care epidemiology, nursing, environmental and clinical microbiology, surgery, internal medicine and public health. Members may be invited to serve for four-year terms. Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest in being nominated and the basis for the nomination by October 1 to Mark Rifkin. PALs, please plan to review the nomination opportunities section and share the information with your executive board or team.

ANDPAC Corner

Quality Management Committee and Staff Make ANDPAC Contribution in Honor of Denise Andersen, Longtime Academy Leader

Seasoned Academy leader and advocate, Denise Andersen, MS, RDN, LD, CDC, passed away unexpectedly earlier this year. In honor of her memory and service to the profession, the Quality Management Committee and Quality Management Staff made a collective contribution to ANDPAC in her name. Denise's contributions to the profession extend beyond her involvement with the Quality Management Committee, having served as the past chair of the Academy Political Action Committee, member of the Academy Positions Committee, past chair of the Women's Health DPG, and past president of the Minnesota Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. Her public policy and advocacy work at the state and national level will be missed. Thank you to the Quality Management Committee and Quality Management Staff for your generosity to supporting ANDPAC in Denise's memory.

If you are interested in honoring Denise with an ANDPAC donation, please consider inscribing an ANDPAC "brick" in memory of Denise.

Buy a "Brick," Build the Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals

You can help build the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals" by supporting ANDPAC and your profession in a new campaign that kicks off today and will run through FNCE®.

Members who contribute in advance of FNCE® will have a commemorative "brick" on the "Pathway to Nutrition Policy Goals." The bricks, made of corrugated fiberboard, can be inscribed with the donor's name or in memory or in honor of someone (or an inscription of choice limited to space), and will be part of a larger brick walkway. Suggested donations are $20 per brick; $35 for two bricks or $50 for three bricks. You can choose the number of bricks from the drop-down menu tab on the donation page.

Donate today and help build the pathway to nutrition policy goals!

You're Invited: ANDPAC Signature Event

Spend a night out on the town and kick off Public Policy Workshop while supporting the Academy's Political Action Committee. This signature event will feature a member of Congress as the guest of honor and will provide a spectacular view with photo opportunities of the U.S. Capitol. The event will be held 7-9 p.m. (Eastern Time) on October 23 at the Top of the Hill Club. Participation is secured with a $125 contribution for this limited-participation event. To register, please add the ANDPAC Signature Event to your FNCE® registration.

ANDPAC Myth

It is a common misconception that a state or local affiliate may contribute directly to the Academy's political action committee ANDPAC. Affiliates may contribute as incorporated entities to ANDPAC's administrative fund, and your affiliate's PAC may contribute to ANDPAC for use in candidates' campaigns.

Donate Today!

Thumbs Up

Do you have a thumbs up submission for PPWN? Contact us today and let us know if you have been making strides in your community (attending ANDPAC events, meeting with policy makers, etc.). Send photos and a quick write-up about your recent policy accomplishments to Nate Stritzinger. We would love to share your story, highlight your achievements and inspire others.

Public Policy Workshop

FNCE® 2018 and PPW Events

The Academy's Public Policy Workshop will immediately follow FNCE® 2018. PPW at FNCE® will feature pre-event training webinars, a face-to-face training session on Tuesday, October 23 (after Closing Session), and a visit to Capitol Hill on Wednesday, October 24.

Features will include:

- Advanced Policy & Advocacy educational track
- Public Policy Workshop beginning after Closing Session on October 23
- Meeting with policy makers on Capitol Hill on October 24

FNCE/PPW Registration

Included in FNCE® 2018 registration, PPW will be an ideal opportunity for members to advance your advocacy skills, gain policy experience and be proficient in the Academy's key policy messages to present during visits to the Hill. We encourage members who plan to attend FNCE® to extend their stay for PPW.

For this year only, register for the full conference or a Tuesday one-day badge and attend the Public Policy Workshop after FNCE® at no additional cost. Registration is now open. Learn more and register today!

Please see important FNCE®/PPW dates for Public Policy Panel Leaders here.

Join ANDPAC for a Walking Tour of DC Monuments, October 20

On October 20 from 9-11 a.m., join ANDPAC for an architectural walking tour of historic Washington, D.C. The multi-mile walk will kick-off at the Marriott Marquis. Participants will walk by the White House, presidential memorials, the Smithsonian and more. There will be a short break for refreshments.

Participation is secured with a $25 contribution for this limited-participation event. Come get your steps in, learn tidbits about the nation's capital and support ANDPAC! Register today.

You're Invited: Academy DC Office Open House and Reception

Come see the hub of the Academy's nutrition policy and advocacy initiatives and meet with RDNs who have been elected to office as mayors, legislators and more, all while supporting ANDPAC. Light refreshments will be served. This event is limited to 125 people. Participation is secured with a $50 ANDPAC donation.

The event will be Saturday, October 20 from 1-3 p.m. (Eastern Time) at 1120 Connecticut Avenue NW, Suite 460, Washington, D.C.

Register for the Open House and Reception when you register for FNCE® 2018. The reception is not included in the registration cost.

*The event is located approximately 1 mile from the headquarters hotel. Attendees will be responsible for travel to and from the event.

In Case You Missed It

Food is Medicine Coalition Survey, Due TODAY August 14!

Academy members, we encourage you to take part in the Food is Medicine Coalition survey. The survey responses will enable FIMC to:

- Quantify the depth, breadth, impact, and geographic reach of our collective programs
- Highlight funding gaps nationally, especially through Ryan White
- Understand who we are serving

You should fill out this survey if:

1. Your food and nutrition services program focuses services specifically on people living with severe or life-altering illnesses such as HIV/AIDS, cancer, kidney disease, Alzheimer's, etc.;

and

2. Your food and nutrition services program in some way tailors its services to the nutritional needs of people living with severe or life-altering illnesses.

Responses are due by August 14, in order to allow the Research Committee to complete analysis in advance of the 2018 FIMC National Symposium - September 24-26.

Complete the survey today.

Nominations for the Academy's 2019 Election

It is never too early to start thinking about the future. The call for nominations for the Academy's 2019 election has begun. Nominations for president-elect, speaker-elect and treasurer-elect close August 31. Nominations for all other positions are due by October 26. The Nominating Committee is looking for leaders with proven skills and vision to further the profession.

Please visit www.eatrightPRO.org/elections to view the positions available on the 2019 ballot and download the nominations form. Mark your calendars for the national Academy election which runs February 1-15, 2019.

Academy Position Changes and Openings

Academy PIA Staff Changes Announced

The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy team is pleased to announce that Nate Stritzinger, MPH, RDN, has been promoted to manager, grassroots and state advocacy. Megan, School started last week. For me things usually settle down once school starts. I talked to Pat Babjak, our CEO, and the Academy is fully on board with this project. I told her to expect a letter from you requesting two people to serve on the RWJF SSB Concensus Project. You are welcome to copy the current President, Mary Russell (pearl02@outlook.com) and the President-elect, Terri Raymond (TJRaymond@aol.com) when you send the letter. You will get our full support on this project. Allison Steiber, our Chief Scientific Officer, is also excited about this project and the Academy's involvement.

Patricia Becker (Patriciajbecker@me.com) is the chair of the Pediatric Dietetic Practice Group and I am sure she would love to discuss being involved in this project with you. She could arrange for you to meet with the practice group at FNCE if you both deem it appropriate. Thanks so much for following up and I look forward to seeing the results of this important project. If I can assist you in any other way please do not hesitate to reach out to me.

Hi Donna,

I hope you're doing well! Has school started back up again in Burke County? If so, I'm sure you're super busy!

When we chatted back in July about this new HER project on SSBs you mentioned that you would be at an AND leadership meeting later in the month and you planned to bring this project and the Academy's engagement up for discussion. I was just wondering if you were able to get support from the current and incoming presidents for prioritizing ANDs engagement in this project? We are currently drafting the formal invitation letter which will go to Pat Babjak soon. Should we also cc: the 3 presidents?

Also, on that call, you mentioned it might be beneficial for me to attend FNCE this year and discuss this project with the pediatric practitioner practice group. I was wondering if you had any advice from me on how to connect with this group at FNCE?

Thanks in advance,
Megan

Dear Donna

I am on the plane to go to Minnesota. I just found out late yesterday afternoon that my mother who is 96 and lives in MN is in rapidly declining health and my family is all coming to be by her side.

Megan Lott is our RWJF Healthy Eating research deputy Director and she was going to be on the call at noon. I won't be able to be on the call but Megan can give you all the background and we can connect later.

Megan can send you her phone number that you can call her.

Thanks for your response, as I wanted to get your perspective so I could share it with the Washington Office. Hi Donna,

My instinct is to question the official justification for this move outside of the Capitol area. I do not recall staffing or vacancy issues at ERS during my time at USDA , and FNS enjoyed a strong interdependence on ERS research and work products. So , I am suspicious of the Administration's real motives for decentralizing ERS and moving it out of the central core of USDA.

I am less concerned about putting it under the Chief Economist's Office , which has been traditionally non partisan.

As to moving NIFA out , I suspect it reflects the current Secretary's lack of interest in many of the initiatives that NIFA has pursued and sponsored . My read on the politics of the traditional Ag interests is that they are far more interested in traditional commodity crops and policies , and barely tolerate so-called Specialty Crops , farmers markets , nutrition programs . NIFA has been a midway point between there interests .

By moving it out to " farm country " I suspect it is a strategy to narrow and channel it areas of focus .

It is also interesting to note that these significant USDA program divisions are operating without appointed senior political leadership !

That's what I think !

Best wishes,

Kevin

PS I am over my Lyme episode ,thanks to 14 days of antibiotics and a quick blood test. Looking forward to seeing you in Chicago next month.

USDA to Realign ERS with Chief Economist, Relocate ERS &NIFA Outside DC

(Washington, D.C., August 9, 2018) – U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue today announced further reorganization of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), intended to improve customer service, strengthen offices and programs, and save taxpayer dollars. The Economic Research Service (ERS), currently under USDA's Research, Education, and Economics mission area, will realign once again with the Office of the Chief Economist (OCE) under the Office of the Secretary. Additionally, most employees of ERS and the National Institute of Food and Agriculture (NIFA) will be relocated outside of the National Capital Region. The movement of the employees outside of Washington, DC is expected to be completed by the end of 2019.

"It's been our goal to make USDA the most effective, efficient, and customer-focused department in the entire federal government," Perdue said. "In our Administration, we have looked critically at the way we do business, with the ultimate goal of ensuring the best service possible for our customers, and for the taxpayers of the United States. In some cases, this has meant realigning some of our offices and functions, or even relocating them, in order to make more logical sense or provide more streamlined and efficient services.”

Realigning ERS with OCE

Moving ERS back together with OCE under the Office of the Secretary simply makes sense because the two have similar missions. ERS studies and anticipates trends and emerging issues, while OCE advises the Secretary and Congress on the economic implications of policies and programs. These two agencies were aligned once before, and bringing them back together will enhance the effectiveness of economic analysis at USDA.

Relocating ERS and NIFA outside National Capital Region

New locations have yet to be determined, and it is possible that ERS and NIFA may be co-located when their new homes are found. USDA is undertaking the relocations for three main reasons:

1. To improve USDA’s ability to attract and retain highly qualified staff with training and interests in agriculture, many of whom come from land-grant universities. USDA has experienced significant turnover in these positions, and it has been difficult to recruit employees to the Washington, DC area, particularly given the high cost of living and long commutes.
2. To place these important USDA resources closer to many of stakeholders, most of whom live and work far from the Washington, DC area.
3. To benefit the American taxpayers. There will be significant savings on employment costs and rent, which will allow more employees to be retained in the long run, even in the face of tightening budgets.

No ERS or NIFA employees will be involuntarily separated. Every employee who wants to continue working will have an opportunity to do so, although that will mean moving to a new location for most. Employees will be offered relocation assistance and will receive the same base pay as before, and the locality pay for the new location. For those who are interested, USDA is seeking approval from the Office of Personnel Management and the Office of Management and Budget for both Voluntary Early Retirement Authority and Voluntary Separation Incentive Payments.

“None of this reflects on the jobs being done by our ERS or NIFA employees, and in fact, I frequently tell my Cabinet colleagues that USDA has the best workforce in the federal government,” Perdue said. “These changes are more steps down the path to better service to our customers, and will help us fulfill our informal motto to ‘Do right and feed everyone.’”

Perdue previously announced other significant changes at USDA. In May 2017, USDA created the first-ever Undersecretary for Trade and Foreign Agricultural Affairs and reconstituted and renamed the new Farm Production and Conservation mission area, among other realignments. In addition, in September 2017, Perdue realigned a number of offices to improve customer service and maximize efficiency. Those actions involved innovation, consolidation, and the rearrangement of certain offices into more logical organizational reporting structures.

Subject: HLT Meeting Agenda and Packet

Good morning,

I'm looking forward to seeing everyone next week for the HLT planning meeting. I know we'll leave that meeting having nailed down lots of plans for the Fall HOD meeting and also having had some fun getting to know one another better. With Anna being out sick this week, we're a little behind in getting the agenda packet out to you. But don't worry as I don't believe you will feel overwhelmed once you receive it.

With that said, I'm attaching the meeting agenda as well as the first draft of the Backgrounder so you can begin preparations. Charlene will share the full packet with you tomorrow. In terms of the Backgrounder, it is intentionally in a very "rough draft" stage as we believe the work done at the meeting will help provide direction needed to take it to its final form. For example, we know the document does not yet adequately integrate information needed about the "mega issue" piece. And, while Glenn Tecker will not be at the Fall HOD meeting, he has agreed to provide us descriptions for some of the options and associated advantages/disadvantages. And the 2 separate documents attached her will be integrated into 1 document for the final piece. So as you begin to review the Backgrounder, the goal is to identify what's missing and what can be removed so we have a document that provides the best foundation for the conversations the Delegates and their constituents will be engaged in. Those conversations will get defined at our meeting.

So stay tuned for more materials from us and feel free to reach out to me with questions as you prepare for the meeting.

Enjoy your weekend and safe travels to Chicago on Thursday!

Subject: Presidents' Lecture

This year the Board of Directors selected Artificial Intelligence and the Impact on a New Workforce as the topic for the FNCE 2018 Presidents' Lecture. I am pleased to notify you that William A. Carter, deputy director of the Technology Policy Program at the Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS), has been selected as the lecturer. Mr. Carter's research at CSIS, a bipartisan nonprofit policy research organization, focuses on international cyber and technology policy issues, including artificial intelligence, surveillance and privacy. He has presented at events and conferences around the world and participated in Track 2 dialogues on cyber and technology policy issues with China, Russia, and Australia.

The Presidents' Lecture is endowed by Mary Lou South, MA, RD, 56th President of the Academy and is scheduled as a featured session on Sunday, October 21 from 1:30 p.m.– 3:00 p.m. at the Walter E. Washington Convention Center, following the Former Presidents' luncheon. I look forward to seeing you there!

Best regards,

Pat

The Academy is familiar with Bonnie as one of the panelists at the 2012 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™ media briefing in Philadelphia where she addressed the topic of “Strong Women: Synergies for a Healthier Future.”

A description of Bonnie’s session follows.

How do we continue to tap into new sources of energy for the innovations, insights and initiatives we need to compete as the pace of today’s global workplace continues to accelerate? Hailed as “One of the five most inspiring women in America” by NBC Nightly News, Bonnie St. John will challenge us to question our own limitations while providing research-based tools and techniques that re-energize our lives to achieve peak performance. A highly sought-after business coach and consultant to Fortune 500 companies, Bonnie will address these challenges by guiding attendees through a series of practical exercises and techniques that enhance our capacity to offset the negative effects of stress, increase resilience and play to win.

FNCE promotional materials will be updated later this week.

We are confident attendees will find great value in the information and techniques Bonnie will share as part of her keynote.

Senate Appoints Farm Bill Conference Committee

The Senate has appointed nine members to serve on the farm bill conference committee that will reconcile differences between the House and Senate bills. The Academy is advocating for the Senate and House to work together to advance a farm bill in a timely fashion that improves health for all Americans, especially those most at risk for experiencing food insecurity.

Farm Bill Advocacy in Action: Roundtable and Site Visit

With the Tisch Center for Food, Education and Policy and the Cornell Cooperative Extension, the Academy organized an August 1 roundtable discussion with U.S. Rep. John Faso (N.Y.) to discuss the farm bill. Among attendees were registered dietitian nutritionists who provided input on the importance of nutrition education programs such as SNAP-Ed and EFNEP; the impact of USDA farmers' market programs; and proposed work requirements for able-bodied adults without dependents.

Congress Continues Work on Federal Spending Legislation

The Senate on August 1 passed the funding bill for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, which must be reconciled with the House's version. Beginning the week of August 13, the Senate is expected to consider the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services spending bill. The Academy will continue to work with Congress to support robust funding for evidence-based nutrition and health programs at USDA and HHS.

RDNs' Involvement: FDA Approves New Drug to Treat Children with Intestinal Failure

The Food and Drug Administration recently approved omegaven for use in treating children and infants with parenteral nutrition-associated cholestasis. Registered dietitian nutritionists at clinical sites including Boston Children's Hospital and Texas Children's Hospital were integral members of the teams that, over the past decade, cared for patients, collected data and demonstrated outcomes that were used by the FDA to approve this treatment of children with intestinal failure.

Subject: Opening Session Keynote: Bonnie St. John

Hi Mary-

I am pleased to formally notify you that Bonnie has accepted our offer for the Opening Session keynote at FNCE®! Thank you for your input and flexibility in the revised direction for this keynote presentation. I will move forward working internally with marketing, web and strategic communications to ensure the various web and communication pieces are updated this week.

Additionally, we will have Bonnie's information in the first edition of the 2018 FNCE® Attendee Newsletter which is scheduled to go out electronically in the next few weeks.

I am awaiting confirmation from her team on the approved session description, but here is the draft information for your files. I have also included the promotional call out and details about advance preparations since you will be included in the keynote speaker advance preparation calls (September timeframe).

Please don't hesitate to reach out with any questions, ideas, concerns, etc as we move forward with the finalization of the session content. We are confident attendees will find great value in the information and techniques Bonnie will share as part of her keynote.

Speaker: Bonnie St. John

Topic: High Performance Resilience

Draft Description: How do we continue to tap into new sources of energy for the innovations, insights and initiatives we need to compete as the pace of today's global workplace continues to accelerate? Hailed as "One of the five most inspiring women in America" by NBC Nightly News, Bonnie St. John will challenge us to question our own limitations while providing research-based tools and techniques that re-energize our lives to achieve peak performance. A highly sought-after business coach and consultant to Fortune 500 companies, Bonnie will address these challenges by guiding participants, from the front lines to the C-suites, through a series of practical exercises and techniques that enhance our capacity to offset the negative effects of stress, increase resilience and play to win.

Speaker Promotional Call-Out: Amputee/Olympian/Rhodes Scholar Bonnie St. John is a keynote speaker and leadership consultant who has guided individuals--from Fortune 500 C-Suites to start-up entrepreneurs--to their performance goals. Her broad media exposure includes People, Forbes, Essence, The NY Times, Today, CNN, CBS News, PBS, and NPR.

Advance Preparations: Bonnie St. John tailors every presentation to meet her clients' specific business focus. Before each event, Bonnie interviews select corporate leaders to understand the issues facing each audience. This preparation is in addition to the call that will happen with Lifelong Learning and the President.

Best,

Diane

News from the Hill and Beyond
Academy Organizes Congressman's Farm Bill Roundtable

On August 1, the Academy led efforts to convene a roundtable discussion with U.S. Rep. John Faso (N.Y.) in Millbrook, N.Y., to discuss the farm bill with 35 community stakeholders, including Academy members and staff. The roundtable was followed by a site visit to the Dover Elementary School in Dover Plains, which hosts the Summer Food Service Program. Partners including the Tisch Center for Food, Education and Policy and the Cornell Cooperative Extension helped to make the event success. The timely roundtable came as the House and Senate will work to reconcile the differences in each of their versions of the farm bill in a conference committee. Senate Leaders Appoint Farm Bill Conference Committee

The Senate appointed nine members on August 1 who will serve on the farm bill conference committee, tasked with reconciling differences between the House and Senate farm bills. The Academy asks the Senate and House to work together to advance a farm bill in a timely fashion that improves health for all, especially those most at risk for experiencing food insecurity. Academy Supports Agriculture Fellowship Program in the Farm Bill

As part of its initiative to support global nutrition efforts, the Academy has joined AgriCorps and other organizations to include a framework for fellowships for U.S. educators to teach agriculture in other countries in the new farm bill. AgriCorps Fellows have generally been early career, skilled agriculture graduates with Future Farmers of America and 4-H experience. Fellows work abroad in developing countries to improve food security and gain skills to advance the healthfulness and economy for their families and communities. The agriculture educator returns to U.S. agriculture enriched by the experience, not only exposed to global agricultural needs, but ready to lead in domestic policy endeavors.

There is currently language in the House version of the farm bill, but not in the Senate version. The Academy joined a letter to Congress to encourage retention of the program as the bill heads to conference. Congress is expected to revisit the farm bill following the August recess. The current farm bill expires on Sept. 30.

Academy Expands Spotlight on Malnutrition During September

During the month of September, the Academy will shine a spotlight on malnutrition to increase awareness and underscore the role that registered dietitian nutritionists and nutrition and dietetic technicians, registered play in prevention and treatment.

A different topic will be featured during each week leading up to ASPEN's Malnutrition Awareness Week, including: pediatric malnutrition, adult/senior malnutrition, special populations and malnutrition (such as pregnancy, vegetarians and overweight and obesity) and global malnutrition.

Each topic will explore the relationship between hunger, food insecurity and malnutrition and offer guidance and tips for prevention and treatment. Planned activities include a weekly live free webinar offering CPEU, social media events, articles, research and practice resources along with highlights of can't miss FNCE sessions. Watch for updates on scheduled events and activities.

To find out how your DPG or affiliate can get involved and showcase your products and services, contact Jeanne Blankenship.

"Take Your Congressman to Work" in August

The Academy encourages you to "Take Your Congressman to Work" this month during the August work period, known as August Recess. Inviting elected officials and their staff to your practice or facility helps them understand the important and valuable role RDNs play in improving the health and well-being of the nation. It is also an opportunity for elected officials to see how federal programs work in their local communities.

Senators are back in their home states for the district work period until August 15, when they return to Washington, D.C. The House of Representatives are back in their congressional districts for the work period until September 4.

The Academy hosted a recent open forum webinar to help members plan their August site visits and provide tips and talking points on the Academy's legislative priorities. The recorded webinar and additional resources, including a helpful checklist, campaign information, tips and legislative meeting forms are available to download on the COI.

Save the Date - Next DPG PAL Monthly Call, August 23

The PIA team will host monthly PAL calls on the last Thursday of each month. The calls are an opportunity for DPG PALs to learn more about upcoming federal regulatory issues and offer feedback on comments.

Interested in learning more about the Academy's upcoming regulatory comments? Join the next call scheduled for Thursday, August 23 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time). For more information, contact Mark Rifkin.

All PALs are strongly encouraged to attend.

Action Center

Action Required: There are three action alerts available that need your immediate attention. Take action today!

- Preventative Health Savings Act, H.R. 2953/S. 2164: As the chronic disease epidemic continues to worsen, the need is critical for legislation that will allow Congress to accurately assess the full savings of enacting prevention-focused measures. This bill would encourage a sensible economic review of proposed health policies and programs that Congress believes will improve public health.

- The Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act, H.R. 3124/S. 1299 which would allow Medicare coverage of medical nutrition therapy provided by registered dietitian nutritionists for patients with pre-diabetes.
- The Expanding Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training in Medicare Act, H.R. 5768 which would remove existing barriers to Diabetes Self-Management Training and improve utilization.

Take Action!

Cut and past the following message and post to your communication platforms.

(PPCs/PALs, Please Post this Message to Your Communication Channels)

Important Congressional Issues Require Your Action!

As a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, urge your legislators to support and cosponsor the Preventative Health Savings Act ( H.R. 2953/ S. 2164), the Expanding Access to Diabetes Self-Management Training in Medicare Act ( H.R. 5768), and the Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act ( H.R. 3124/ S. 1299). Let them know how this legislation would impact you, the people you serve and your community. The voice of every member is critical as these vital decisions are made regarding the health and nutrition of the nation. We encourage you to take action today!

Having technical difficulties taking action? Contact Nate Stritzinger for any action alert issues.

Nomination Notices

Nomination Call: Geriatrics and Gerontology Advisory Committee (new)

The Veterans Administration seeks nominees for membership on the Geriatrics and Gerontology Advisory Committee. The GGAC was chartered to provide advice on all matters pertaining to geriatrics and gerontology, including Clinical Center effectiveness, care quality and projected needs to adequately serve eligible veterans. It is important that the Academy be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to veterans and their short- and long-term health care needs.

Nominations are being sought for individuals who have familiarity and expertise in the following: a) VA and/or non-VA health systems; b) academic geriatric and gerontology programs; c) palliative medicine, home and community-based care, and nursing home care; d) grant-funded academic research; e) clinical and health policies concerning the elderly; f) the partnerships between VA academic programs; g) the history of geriatrics in the VA and in the U.S.; and/or h) VA's Geriatric Research, Education, and Clinical Centers.

Membership Requirements: The Committee holds at least one face-to-face meeting in Washington, D.C. and conducts 4-5 site visits a year. Members may be invited to serve for four-year terms. Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest in being nominated and the basis for the nomination by September 15 to Mark Rifkin.

Nomination Call: Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention seeks nominees for membership on the Healthcare Infection Control Practices Advisory Committee. The HICPAC was chartered to provide advice and guidance to CDC regarding the practice of infection control and strategies for surveillance, prevention and control of healthcare-associated infections, antimicrobial resistance and related events in U.S. health care settings. It is important that the Academy be a visible participant in decision-making processes related to food safety concerns with implications for public health.

Nominations are being sought for individuals who have expertise and qualifications in the fields of infectious diseases, infection prevention, health care epidemiology, nursing, environmental and clinical microbiology, surgery, internal medicine and public health. Members may be invited to serve for four-year terms. Interested candidates should send their CV along with a letter describing their interest in being nominated and the basis for the nomination by October 1 to Mark Rifkin. PALs, please plan to review the nomination opportunities section and share the information with your executive board or team.

ANDPAC Corner

ANDPAC in Action

ANDPAC Chair-elect Elise Smith, MA, RDN, LD, FAND, recently visited Washington, D.C. to attend meetings with Sen. Cindy Hyde-Smith (Miss.) and Michael Guest, who is a candidate in Mississippi's 3rd Congressional District. In both meetings, Elise did an excellent job highlighting the importance of Academy members to improve the health and nutrition for people in Mississippi.

Great job, Elise Smith!

You're Invited: ANDPAC Signature Event

Spend a night on the town and kick off the Public Policy Workshop while supporting the Academy's Political Action Committee. This signature event will feature a member of Congress as the guest of honor and will provide excellent photo opportunities of the U.S. Capitol.

The event will be held 7-9 p.m. (Eastern Time) on October 23 at the Top of the Hill Club. Participation is secured with a $125 contribution for this limited-participation event. To register for the event, please add the ANDPAC Signature Event to your FNCE® registration.

Thumbs Up

Academy Member Karen Ehrens Named 2018 Woman of the Year

The Bismark Tribune recognized Academy member Karen Ehrens, LRD, as the 2018 Woman of the Year for her dedication to ending food insecurity! Karen served as the co-chair of the Academy's Farm Bill Working Group and recently co-authored an op-ed in AgWeek about the intersection of farming and nutrition for consumers.

Kudos to Karen Ehrens!

Academy Member Raises Awareness of SNAP in Op-ed

Academy member Ashley Matthews, MS, RDN, LD, CNSC, PMP, writes in an op-ed published by the Journal Tribune, "[Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program] represents the lifeline for those challenged by working long days at low wages, facing an unexpected health emergency or experiencing job loss or long-term disability."

Great job, Ashley Matthews, for highlighting the importance of nutrition programs in the farm bill! Do you have a thumbs up submission for PPWN? Contact us today and let us know if you have been making strides in your community (attending ANDPAC events, meeting with policy makers, etc.). Send photos and a quick write-up about your recent policy accomplishments to Erin Zumbrun. We would love to share your story, highlight your achievements and inspire others.

Public Policy Workshop

FNCE® 2018 and PPW Events

The Academy's Public Policy Workshop will immediately follow FNCE® 2018. PPW at FNCE® will feature pre-event training webinars, a face-to-face training session on Tuesday, October 23 (after Closing Session), and a visit to Capitol Hill on Wednesday, October 24.

Features will include:

- Advanced Policy & Advocacy educational track
- Public Policy Workshop beginning after Closing Session on October 23
- Meeting with policy makers on Capitol Hill on October 24

Included in FNCE® 2018 registration, PPW will be an ideal opportunity for members to advance your advocacy skills, gain policy experience and be proficient in the Academy's key policy messages to present during visits to the Hill. We encourage members who plan to attend FNCE® to extend their stay for PPW.

For this year only, register for the full conference or a Tuesday one-day badge and attend the Public Policy Workshop after FNCE® at no additional cost. Registration is now open. Learn more and register today.
