Hello Ashley,

I will place the meeting on Donna Martin's calendar. Please know according to policy the expenses of Academy representatives asked to attend meetings and events at the invitation of other organizations will be reimbursed by that organization, whenever possible. Since Donna resides in Georgia the expenses should be minimal. Is this acceptable by your organization?

Good afternoon-

It was a pleasure to meet you at the dietetic meeting in Alabama in March. I admire your role for all of us as dietitians working in the Child Nutrition realm!

I would like to invite you to attend the Alabama School Nutrition Association in Alabama on March 16-17, 2018. We would love to have you speak with our group!

As I know your calendar is extremely busy, please consider meeting with us in Alabama!

Many thanks~

I hope you both had a good weekend and were able to spend some time at home after your travels. We finally have found a date/time for the Spring Committee Chairs Open Forum: April 30, 12:00 pm – 1:00 pm Central/1:00 pm – 2:00 pm Eastern. We'll send out calendar invitations to everyone this week, including Mary and Marcy so they can get exposed to this activity.

As noted before, the group generated a great list of topics for discussion. Considering we only have 1 hour, now comes the hard part. Which ones would you like to include on the agenda? I'm happy to reach out to any of the committee chairs to invite them to introduce/address any of the items. So please let me know by the end of this week so I can work on the agenda.

Good morning,

Time for a quick update on the Spring Committee Chairs Open Forum. Let me just start by saying it's been like herding cats. After multiple reminders, we finally got 14 committee chairs to complete the survey. However, we had to do another round of outreach to 8 of the 14 as they did not indicate the times they were available for the call. I don't get it, but the goal now is to have them complete that part of the survey by tomorrow so we can nail down a date/time.

We've received several suggestions for topics, some of which are offers to speak to a topic by a specific committee chair:

1. FNCE/PPW Integration; Affiliate public policy leader survey (From Mike Glasgow, LPPC)
2. Updates on policy areas and participation in action alerts; feedback on ongoing progress with ACEND transition to the masters curriculum for entry level RDN's; General trends committee chairs are hearing about in the various specialty areas that impact FNCE programming in future years (From Chris Weithman, Committee for Lifelong Learning)
3. The Diversity committee recently proposed an additional National Award around Diversity. It was submitted to the Awards committee. We would be willing to discuss where the idea for the award came from and why we proposed it. I don't think the Award committee will have had time to review the proposal by the time the forums are in place. (From Joseph Quinlan, Diversity Committee)
4. Communication strategies to help members recognize all of the work being done on their behalf. And really, the work we do benefits non-member RDNs and NDTRs too. (From Wendy Phillips, Consumer Protection and Licensure Subcommittee)
5. 1) How Mega Issues and/or topics the HOD discusses get determined 2) Academy Committee structure and liaisons - how it's determined which committees have liaisons or a representative from/on another committee as crossover; for example I know of committees that have a CDR liaison, or perhaps a member of QMC is a liaison member on NIC...in my past history this structure has changed over time and I'm curious as to why or how this gets determined 3) How FNCE sessions get selected - in the past there have been opportunities for the DPGs to submit specifically for DPG Spotlight sessions, but is there also opportunity for Academy Committees to be put into a specific consideration "bucket" instead of put into the entire FNCE proposal mix? There is great working coming out of all of the Academy Committees, so it may be nice to have some special consideration for FNCE sessions (From Sherri Jones, Quality Management)

I'll confirm a date/time with you both later this week. In the meantime, you can be thinking about whether you want to include any of the above topics on the agenda for the forum. As a reminder, Dianne had previously tossed out the following ideas:

Update on what happening at the national level in regards to strategic plan projects, (maybe even an update on national wellness projects), industry relations, public policy activities. Another random brainstorm idea, let them volunteer to give the entire group an update on their most significant committee event/action so far this year. (time limit of course)

Have a good day and I'll be back in touch.

In addition to the days and times you know about (HLT calls, meetings, BOD calls, meetings, LPPC) I am not available at on April 11-14, and April 18-19th. Most other days I could change things around. Time and day of week is up to you. My only other non changeable time would be April 16 and May 21 at 4:30 p.m. (My work board meetings.)

Good evening,

While we are all sitting in cold temperatures, let's take a break and turn our thoughts toward spring (which will actually be here before we know it). As a reminder, in our work to support the Chairs of the Academy Committees, our plan includes 2 opportunities for them to "meet" with both of you in a structured, open forum space. These telephone forums are designed to strengthen communication amongst Academy leaders, provide an opportunity for them to ask you questions around specific topics, and offer a networking opportunity for these committee leaders. We conducted the first open forum in September and focused the conversation on the Academy's new Strategic Plan and "Helping One Another Succeed." Knowing everyone has busy lives, now would be a good time to start planning the second event.

Based on our previous conversations, you tossed out the idea of conducting a Doodle Poll to identify a good date/time for this forum rather than us just selecting one. I'm open to that plan and would just need from you some options so I can create and push out the Poll. Doing something in April or May might be good timing, recognizing we'll want to navigate around the HOD meeting and BOD meeting. We will also need to identify 1-2 topics for discussion. If you'd like, we could solicit input from the Committee Chairs. To get your wheels turning, last spring we provided an update on the Second Century Strategy and discussed potential implications for committee work/opportunities for collaboration (at that time the BOD had approved the vision/mission/principles). For the second topic we talked about effective communication between committees and the President/Speaker/BOD – what worked well and what could be improved.

So give it some thought and I look forward to your input on how you'd like to proceed. If you can let me know by January 29 I can get the ball rolling. I know both of you, as well as the Committee Chairs, enjoy the opportunity for interaction.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Good morning,

I hope you are both doing well. I wanted to take a moment to circle back around on this topic. As an FYI, last Friday we shared the following announcement with the Committee Chairs:

The survey offers them the following options for the forum:

After the survey closes I'll confirm with you the date/time as well as share any suggested topics. So be on the lookout for a message from me the week of February 12.

Thank you,

Love the idea of them giving a short update on what they think their most significant accomplishment was. Good job Dianne!

As you probably know by now, I like asking folks for their ideas, but if nothing is suggested then maybe something like: Update on what happening at the national level in regards to strategic plan projects, (maybe even an update on national wellness projects), industry relations, public policy activities. Another random brainstorm idea, let them volunteer to give the entire group an update on their most significant committee event/action so far this year. (time limit of course) OK, I will keep thinking.

Marsha and Donna,

In addition to the days and times you know about (HLT calls, meetings, BOD calls, meetings, LPPC) I am not available at on April 11-14, and April 18-19th. Most other days I could change things around. Time and day of week is up to you. My only other non changeable time would be April 16 and May 21 at 4:30 p.m. (My work board meetings.)

Subject: Spring Committee Chairs Open Forum - input needed by January 29

Good evening,

While we are all sitting in cold temperatures, let's take a break and turn our thoughts toward spring (which will actually be here before we know it). As a reminder, in our work to support the Chairs of the Academy Committees, our plan includes 2 opportunities for them to "meet" with both of you in a structured, open forum space. These telephone forums are designed to strengthen communication amongst Academy leaders, provide an opportunity for them to ask you questions around specific topics, and offer a networking opportunity for these committee leaders. We conducted the first open forum in September and focused the conversation on the Academy's new Strategic Plan and "Helping One Another Succeed." Knowing everyone has busy lives, now would be a good time to start planning the second event.

Based on our previous conversations, you tossed out the idea of conducting a Doodle Poll to identify a good date/time for this forum rather than us just selecting one. I'm open to that plan and would just need from you some options so I can create and push out the Poll. Doing something in April or May might be good timing, recognizing we'll want to navigate around the HOD meeting and BOD meeting. We will also need to identify 1-2 topics for discussion. If you'd like, we could solicit input from the Committee Chairs. To get your wheels turning, last spring we provided an update on the Second Century Strategy and discussed potential implications for committee work/opportunities for collaboration (at that time the BOD had approved the vision/mission/principles). For the second topic we talked about effective communication between committees and the President/Speaker/BOD – what worked well and what could be improved.

So give it some thought and I look forward to your input on how you'd like to proceed. If you can let me know by January 29 I can get the ball rolling. I know both of you, as well as the Committee Chairs, enjoy the opportunity for interaction.

Warm regards,

Marsha

The School Nutrition Association (SNA) has been advised of alleged impropriety in voting conduct in up to two school districts in Ohio during the 2018 SNA Election. The SNA Board of Directors has initiated an immediate investigation into the circumstances. At this point in the investigation, the votes in question do not appear to have affected the results of the election for any of the successful candidates.

The Board of Directors will inform SNA members of the results of the investigation when it is completed.

SNA is conducting an internal review of election voting procedures, which will include exploring options to further secure access to online voting. Our goal is to ensure the integrity of future Association elections for SNA members.

March 16, 2018

The School Nutrition Association (SNA) has been advised of alleged impropriety in voting conduct in up to two school districts in Ohio during the 2018 SNA Election. The SNA Board of Directors has initiated an immediate investigation into the circumstances. At this point in the investigation, the votes in question do not appear to have affected the results of the election for any of the successful candidates.

The Board of Directors will inform SNA members of the results of the investigation when it is completed.

SNA is conducting an internal review of election voting procedures, which will include exploring options to further secure access to online voting. Our goal is to ensure the integrity of future Association elections for SNA members.

Hi Donna,

I'm glad that you are interested in attending the Dietitians of Canada conference. Due to conflicting schedules we had Marty be our representative at their recent conferences. We shared our schedule with Canada to help avoid a scheduling conflict, so this year we do have the opportunity to attend. Mary and I also received the invite, and it would be great if you could join us to show the new DC Board and CEO our collegiality and ongoing alliance. Marty will be there also but representing his employer, Computrition. I know that we can obtain some free registrations, since we reciprocate for FNCE. Since Terri is next door in Seattle, what do you think about inviting her to join us? Dante will register all of us. I am inclined to arrive Wednesday, June 6 and depart the morning of Saturday, June 9. Attached is the program. Let me know your thoughts.

Speaker Message 20 Spring Meeting April 21 and Culture Survey

Spring HOD Meeting - Only 1 Day - Saturday, April 21

The House Leadership Team has determined that the spring HOD virtual meeting is going to be only one day on Saturday, April 21. You will need to be available from 11:30 am CT - 5:00 pm CT. The agenda and other technology logistics will be released in the coming weeks.

Proxy Identification

If you cannot attend the Spring Virtual HOD meeting, please contact hod@eatright.org with your proxy information as soon as possible. Review policy G.14, item #11 for more information.

Workplace Genome® Culture Survey Launching Friday, March 16

We wanted to let you know about an important project we are starting related to the Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics House of Delegate's culture. We believe strongly that culture matters to this crucial governing and strategic body, and we also believe that we are more likely to succeed if we develop our culture intentionally and clearly. To that end, we've subscribed to WorkXO's Culture Management Platform, the Workplace Genome®, to measure our culture, to give us the tools to analyze it, and to help us then activate the things that are going to contribute most to our collective success.

The first step is for each of you to complete their culture measurement survey. An invitation to take the digital survey will arrive in your email on Friday, March 16. It will come directly from Charlie Judy at WorkXo. It might help to set up "cjudy@workxo.com" as a contact in your system (whitelist) so it doesn't erroneously get caught in spam filters. It takes, on average, 15 minutes to complete and can be accessed from your desktop, tablet or smartphone. It will tell us a lot about what you experience as volunteers with the House of Delegates –the distinct actions and behaviors that characterize its unique culture. We'll have quantitative data and benchmarks on things like how we make decisions, distribute control, manage change, take risks, innovate, create ownership, communicate, solve problems, etc. The survey doesn't measure 'good' and 'bad', so there are no right or wrong answers. Simply answer them based on how you experience your role as a member of the House of Delegates with the Academy. WorkXO will keep your answers completely confidential! Data will be reported back only in the aggregate and no one from the Academy will ever see how you answered individually.

Once the survey is complete, WorkXO will help us create an internal team that will dig into the data in preparation for our spring HOD meeting where we'll develop our own set of cultural priorities, followed by a clear and prioritized action plan to align our culture with what drives success. More information on that process will be coming at a later date.

The higher survey participation by delegates, the more meaningful the results will be; so thanks in advance for your efforts. And thanks for all that you continue to do for the Academy, our members, the community, and each other. If you have any questions at all, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Volunteers Needed: HOD Culture Team - Respond by March 23

As part of the culture assessment process, we are looking for 3-4 delegates to join a Culture Team. This group is charged with helping to keep the process moving over the next year.

Time Commitment:

- In the two weeks leading up to the spring HOD meeting, there will be at least a 4 hour time commitment. During the week of April 9, there will be 1.5 hour training on the survey platform, then time for you to personally review the data from the survey. Lastly, there will be another one hour call for the group to review the data to help determine priority areas before the spring meeting. These dates will be scheduled after the group is confirmed.
- Throughout the rest of the year (May 2018-March 2019), you will need to be available at least 4 hours per month, with at least one hour for a monthly conference call. This commitment may be slightly higher in the months leading up to and immediately following HOD meetings.
- Strong technology skills are a requirement for participation. Examples include the use of a computer/internet, a survey platform, WebEx, an online project management system (website), and others.
- Please email Anna at ashlachter@eatright.org before Friday, March 23, if you are interested in being considered for selection to serve on the HOD Culture Team.

CMS Promotes MNT Benefit during National Nutrition Month®

For the 10th consecutive year, we collaborated with the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services to share a message to providers promoting the Medicare MNT benefit during National Nutrition

Month®. The Help Your Patients Go Further With Food information encourages physicians to help their Medicare patients to make informed food choices in 2018 to help prevent or reduce nutrition-related health conditions by encouraging use of Medicare-covered nutrition-related services, including medical nutrition therapy.

I apologize for my delay! Thanks for the introduction Glenna and thank you, Donna, for connecting me with Emily. I second Glenna's compliment on your recent article in the February edition of the Journal.

I heard you speak at both the National Dairy Council meeting in Arizona last year and again at our AZAND annual meeting and I was so inspired by your school nutrition programs which integrate local produce. I frequently refer to your work when working with my interns and students. There is actually a current NDEP thread in which DI Directors have also shared some interesting rotations they do in their programs- this is quite timely!

I will follow up with Emily and if it is okay with you, I may be reaching out to you for some additional insight down the line.

Dear President Martin (Donna);

Your February 2018 article in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, President's Page - "Academy Members and Agriculture: A Winning Combination" was excellent! A very important topic ... as we continue to bridge between the profession of nutrition and the field of agriculture/ food production.

In December 2017, Ashlee Linares-Gaffer, MS, RDN (University of Arizona Assistant Professor of Practice, ISPP Dietetic Internship Director) and I were invited to attend the Arizona Agribusiness Roundtable. Director Mark Killian of the Arizona Department of Agriculture talked with us regarding the importance of including Ag-related classes/experiences in our DPD/ISPP programs so a stronger bond and greater communication between agriculture and nutrition could be enhanced. Ashlee is in a strategic role with UofA to help facilitate this, but would be glad to know other educators/DPD directors/ISPP Internship Directors, who might be taking steps in this director. With your recent journal article, I thought you could help.

So let me introduce Ashlee Linares-Gaffer, MS, RDN to you, with the hopes the two of you can discuss potential networking opportunities and ag-related resources in our profession.

Hi Donna-

Thank you for your email. I am seeing in the NetForum system that she lives in Fort McNair, DC and is a member of the Virginia Affiliate. Our recommendation is for her to engage with her Virginia affiliate and local district as they actively volunteer in the state and local levels. Here is a link we can provide her if she has not engaged with her affiliate district:

We are always open to having members propose a new MIG for consideration. I am attaching a short form for review and completion if she is interested in proposing a new group.

I am also copying Amy Biedenharn as the Director of the DPG/MIG/Affiliate Relations area in case I missed anything.

Hello Donna,

I enjoyed reading your article in March AND journal about disaster relief. It is a topic I've been exploring for the last few years...giving back to the community.

I'm in the 2nd chapter of my life, being 56 y.o. and a "seasoned" RDN for 33 years. I am searching for some meaningful volunteer opportunities with organizations having to do with nutrition, food, fitness, etc.

I am wondering if there is a database within the Academy of reputable organizations that RDNs can or have volunteered with. Maybe there is a resource where RDNs have shared their volunteer experiences or where other prospective volunteers can see what is available? There are so many, many charitable organizations that it is difficult to navigate the maze of possibilities but connecting with other RDNs who have been with an organization would help.

What about a MIG for volunteers in Food & Nutrition? Is this something that could be a possibility?

Thank you for all you do for our wonderful Academy!

There is no shortage of opportunities for our talented members to volunteer! My contacts with these groups are all at the national level but I'm happy to talk to her about who and what I know regarding each of these groups if you want to send her my way. She did not mention global but we have a member, Jen Brewer, who is trying to organize a MIG for members who have experiences or are looking for experiences as global volunteers so that is another contact I can make. Feel free to just forward this information and I can chat with Maria.

Hi Donna-

Thank you for your email. I am seeing in the NetForum system that she lives in Fort McNair, DC and is a member of the Virginia Affiliate. Our recommendation is for her to engage with her Virginia affiliate and local district as they actively volunteer in the state and local levels. Here is a link we can provide her if she has not engaged with her affiliate district:

We are always open to having members propose a new MIG for consideration. I am attaching a short form for review and completion if she is interested in proposing a new group.

I am also copying Amy Biedenharn as the Director of the DPG/MIG/Affiliate Relations area in case I missed anything.

Hello Donna,

I enjoyed reading your article in March AND journal about disaster relief. It is a topic I've been exploring for the last few years...giving back to the community.

I'm in the 2nd chapter of my life, being 56 y.o. and a "seasoned" RDN for 33 years. I am searching for some meaningful volunteer opportunities with organizations having to do with nutrition, food, fitness, etc.

I am wondering if there is a database within the Academy of reputable organizations that RDNs can or have volunteered with. Maybe there is a resource where RDNs have shared their volunteer experiences or where other prospective volunteers can see what is available? There are so many, many charitable organizations that it is difficult to navigate the maze of possibilities but connecting with other RDNs who have been with an organization would help.

What about a MIG for volunteers in Food & Nutrition? Is this something that could be a possibility?

Thank you for all you do for our wonderful Academy!

Dear President Martin (Donna);

Your February 2018 article in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, President's Page - "Academy Members and Agriculture: A Winning Combination" was excellent! A very important topic ... as we continue to bridge between the profession of nutrition and the field of agriculture/ food production.

In December 2017, Ashlee Linares-Gaffer, MS, RDN (University of Arizona Assistant Professor of Practice, ISPP Dietetic Internship Director) and I were invited to attend the Arizona Agribusiness Roundtable. Director Mark Killian of the Arizona Department of Agriculture talked with us regarding the importance of including Ag-related classes/experiences in our DPD/ISPP programs so a stronger bond and greater communication between agriculture and nutrition could be enhanced. Ashlee is in a strategic role with UofA to help facilitate this, but would be glad to know other educators/DPD directors/ISPP Internship Directors, who might be taking steps in this director. With your recent journal article, I thought you could help.

So let me introduce Ashlee Linares-Gaffer, MS, RDN to you, with the hopes the two of you can discuss potential networking opportunities and ag-related resources in our profession.

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Academy Urges Congress: Invest in Health and Nutrition

The Academy sent a letter to U.S. House of Representatives and Senate Appropriations committee chairs and ranking members, urging them to include funding for labor, health and human services agencies in the Fiscal Year 2018 spending bill. Congress has until March 23 to pass a bill to fund the government for the rest of the fiscal year; the letter asked the committees to restore funding that had been approved in last month's Bipartisan Budget Act.

House Expected to Release Farm Bill Text

The U.S. House of Representatives is expected March 14 to release the text of its version of the farm bill, and the Agriculture Committee is tentatively scheduled to mark up the bill on March 20. Ranking Member Collin Peterson (Minn.) has expressed concerns with the bill if it is introduced in its current form, which includes stricter work requirements that would affect 8 million beneficiaries of the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program.

Academy Advocates for Nutrition Program Funding

The Academy has been deeply engaged in advocating to Congress for increased funding for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's nutrition programs for Fiscal Year 2019. Highlights include the importance of funding for the Agricultural Research Service's Human Nutrition Research Program, National Institute of Food and Agriculture's Agriculture and Food Research Initiative and the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children. WIC serves more than 7.5 million people, providing food, health care referrals and nutrition education. The human nutrition research centers examine a wide spectrum of challenges, inform USDA's policies and programs and provide resources for other federal agencies. The Agriculture and Food Research Initiative provides competitive grants for fundamental and applied research, extension and education.

Bipartisan Policy Center Recommendations to Strengthen SNAP

The Bipartisan Policy Center's Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Task Force has released "Leading with Nutrition: Leveraging Federal Programs for Better Health." The recommendations are a culmination of a nine-month effort focused on four priorities: prioritizing nutrition in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, including eliminating sugar-sweetened beverages from SNAP benefits; strengthening the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program - Education, including enhancing technical assistance from U.S. Department of Agriculture regional offices; aligning SNAP and Medicaid; and coordinating federal and state agencies and programs.

Academy Joins Call: #FundHealth

Advocates from more than 90 health organizations including Academy representatives met recently with congressional offices to tell Congress to invest in federal programs. The Academy is a member of the Coalition for Health Funding, who organized the March 6 Capitol Hill advocacy day. Federally funded research programs and public health initiatives work to protect and enhance the lives of all Americans.

Member Honored for Leadership: National Diabetes Prevention Program

Academy member Ann Albright, PhD, RD, received the YMCA Lifetime Achievement Award March 7 during the organization's national advocacy day. Albright leads the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's National Diabetes Prevention Program and has been instrumental in the program's successful implementation and expansion. The Academy partners with the YMCA in the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance; this award recognizes Albright's leadership in improving access to care for people with diabetes.

Partnership for Food Safety Education Supports National Nutrition Month

The Partnership for Food Safety Education highlighted National Nutrition Month in a message to partners and BAC fighters. The message highlighted materials that can be used by food safety educators to spread the message of good nutrition and the importance of an overall healthy lifestyle for people of all ages, genders and backgrounds. A March 21 PFSE webinar will focus on long-term health effects of foodborne illness.

Hi Donna, Mary and Lucille:

Below is a link to download an updated version of the Academy Update speech, which reflects an edit on slide 14 – we've changed the dollar figure by the coffee cup graphic to reflect the Academy's 2018-2019 Active member dues (plus the processing fee) to $0.75 per day.

<https://spaces.hightail.com/receive/apbHD4zm7l>

FYI, if you'd prefer to make this change on your current copy of the speech without downloading the whole thing, nothing else has changed from the previous version.

We have asked Joan and Dante to put an updated copy of the entire PPT on the Board portal.

Thanks very much, please let us know if you need anything else.

Donna:

Happy RDN day to you too.

We sent that FAND campaign to non-members who we feel would qualify for the FAND, in hopes they will rejoin and also become a FAND.

To address her questions:

1. First she must rejoin in order to be eligible to apply for the FAND
2. The $75 is an application/processing fee and is non-refundable

3. Once she completes the application and achieves the 100 point minimum and submits the 2 letters of support—then she pays the remaining $125 fee and becomes a FAND.

Let me know if you have any other questions or if you want to refer her to Matthew Novotny for further assistance.

Dear President Martin (Donna);

Your February 2018 article in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, President's Page - "Academy Members and Agriculture: A Winning Combination" was excellent! A very important topic ... as we continue to bridge between the profession of nutrition and the field of agriculture/ food production.

In December 2017, Ashlee Linares-Gaffer, MS, RDN (University of Arizona Assistant Professor of Practice, ISPP Dietetic Internship Director) and I were invited to attend the Arizona Agribusiness Roundtable. Director Mark Killian of the Arizona Department of Agriculture talked with us regarding the importance of including Ag-related classes/experiences in our DPD/ISPP programs so a stronger bond and greater communication between agriculture and nutrition could be enhanced. Ashlee is in a strategic role with UofA to help facilitate this, but would be glad to know other educators/DPD directors/ISPP Internship Directors, who might be taking steps in this director. With your recent journal article, I thought you could help.

So let me introduce Ashlee Linares-Gaffer, MS, RDN to you, with the hopes the two of you can discuss potential networking opportunities and ag-related resources in our profession.

The Role of Medical Nutrition Therapy and Registered Dietitians Nutritionists in the Prevention and Treatment of Prediabetes and Type 2 Diabetes

Date: Thursday, March 29, 12 noon – 1:00 p.m. CST

CPEU: 1 credit

Increasing evidence demonstrates that medical nutrition therapy administered by RDNs effectively aids in the management of obesity, prediabetes, and type 2 diabetes. Despite the evidence of effectiveness of RDN services, barriers to access exist and underutilization of RDN services is evident. Learn the importance of MNT in the management of prediabetes and type 2 diabetes, and how RDNs can effectively apply this knowledge into their daily practice.

Learning Objectives:

1. State evidence for the effectiveness of MNT provided by RDNs for prediabetes and type 2 diabetes, including cost-effectiveness

2. Define roles and responsibilities of RDNs in prediabetes, diabetes management, and diabetes education/support
3. Identify steps to increase patient access and utilization of RDN services

Join Us - Farm Bill Advocacy Day, April 24

Your participation is needed! The Academy is partnering with the American Society for Nutrition and the Society for Nutrition Education and Behavior for a farm bill advocacy day on April 24. The Capitol Hill day will focus on nutrition education and nutrition research in the farm bill.

Step 1: Register today for the advocacy day in Washington, D.C. The event is free of charge and open to all members and the public.

Step 2: Register for the Advocacy for Nutrition Education and Research in the Farm Bill Webinar on April 13 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time) to prepare for the advocacy day.

If you cannot join us on Capitol Hill, we will share opportunities to engage in advocacy efforts in your own backyard during the webinar. Contact Tenášha Ebrahimkhel for more information.

Mark Your Calendar for the Next Farm Bill Monthly Call, March 27

Want to be engaged with the farm bill? The Academy's PIA staff is hosting a monthly call to discuss the latest news from Capitol Hill and share how you can get involved with our advocacy efforts. The next call will be March 27 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time). Please RSVP to Nicole Burda, director, legislative and government affairs, if you would like to join the call and stay informed.

Solutions and Programs Highlighted for Reducing Waste and Loss in Child Nutrition Programs

We mentioned last week that during National Nutrition Month's "Go Further with Food" is a perfect time to talk about food loss and waste and share opportunities to address hunger and food insecurity through innovative programs and policy change. The Academy has been a leader in efforts to impact regulations and policies that reduce food loss and waste in feeding assistance programs including child nutrition programs. If you are looking for information on reducing waste in the National School Lunch Program, check out Further with Food's resources for educators, including tips from the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Donating and Receiving Wholesome, Excess Food in School Meals Programs. Or consider the Green Lunchroom Challenge, a voluntary pledge program for schools to improve the sustainability of their food service operations. Local and state policies on waste and loss reduction initiatives can be improved and represent an opportunity for Academy members to engage in advocacy. Public policy panel leaders can provide leadership and the Academy Policy Initiatives and Advocacy Team is here to help.

CMS Promotes MNT Benefit during National Nutrition Month

For the last 10 years, the Academy has collaborated with the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services to share a message to providers promoting the Medicare MNT benefit during National Nutrition Month®. This year's message encourages physicians to help their Medicare patients make informed food choices to help prevent or reduce nutrition-related health conditions by encouraging use of Medicare-covered nutrition-related services, including medical nutrition therapy.

Help Your Patients Go Further With Food

March is National Nutrition Month® - "Go Further with Food" and discuss the numerous benefits of healthy eating habits. Talk to your patients about making informed food choices to help prevent or reduce nutrition-related health conditions, including diabetes, chronic kidney disease and obesity. Encourage your patients to take advantage of appropriate Medicare-covered preventive services:

- Medical Nutrition Therapy
- Diabetes Screening
- Diabetes Self-Management Training
- Intensive Behavioral Therapy for Obesity
- Intensive Behavioral Therapy for Cardiovascular Disease
- Annual Wellness Visit

For More Information:

- Medicare Preventive Services Educational Tool
- National Nutrition Month webpage

For additional information, visit the Preventive Services website to learn more about Medicare-covered services.

Academy Member Honored for Leadership in National Diabetes Prevention Program

Academy member Ann Albright, PhD, RD received the YMCA Lifetime Achievement Award at the YMCA's National Advocacy Day on March 7. Albright leads the Center for Disease Control and Prevention's National Diabetes Prevention Program, and she has been instrumental in the successful implementation and expansion of the program. This award recognizes her leadership in the field to improve access to care for people with diabetes. The Academy partners with the YMCA in the Diabetes Advocacy Alliance.

AIDS United Advocacy Day, March 26-27

AIDS United is celebrating its 25th anniversary of AIDSWatch, an advocacy day that brings together hundreds of people living with HIV and their allies to Capitol Hill to educate members of Congress about the important issues at stake for people living with HIV/AIDS. AIDSWatch is implemented as a partnership between AIDS United, the Treatment Access Expansion Project and the US People Living With HIV Caucus. Join other HIV advocates at AIDSWatch to urge Congress to create policies and programs that ensure that HIV prevention, care, treatment and support services are widely available.

AIDSWatch will be held on March 26 and 27 in Washington D.C. Register to attend AIDSWatch today. Contact Stefanie Rinehart for additional information.

National Farm to Cafeteria Conference, April 25-27

The National Farm to School Network is hosting the 9th National Farm to Cafeteria Conference in Cincinnati, Ohio from April 25 to 27. The event will bring more than 1,000 stakeholders from across the farm to cafeteria movement to help advance community health, build economic opportunities for farmers and producers and ensure long-term sustainability for local food efforts nationwide. Visit farmtocafeteriaconference.org to learn more.

News from the Hill and Beyond

Academy Urges Congress to Invest in Health and Nutrition

The Academy sent a letter to the U.S. Senate and House Appropriations Committee Chairs and Ranking Members, urging them to include funding for the Labor, Health and Human Services agencies in the Fiscal Year 2018 spending bill. Congress has until March 23 to pass a bill to fund the government for the rest of the fiscal year. The letter called on the Committee to restore funding that had been approved in last month's Bipartisan Budget Act. The Academy expects Congress to introduce funding legislation this week. Stay tuned for updates in the News Center.

Academy Advocates for Fiscal Year 2019 Funding for Nutrition Programs

The Academy has been highly engaged in advocating to Congress for increased funding for Fiscal Year 2019 for U.S. Department of Agriculture nutrition programs. The Academy has highlighted the importance of funding for the Agricultural Research Service's Human Nutrition Research Program, National Institute of Food and Agriculture's Agriculture and Food Research Initiative and the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children. WIC serves more than 7.5 million women, infants and children to provide supplemental foods, health care referrals and nutrition education. The human nutrition research centers research a wide spectrum of human nutrition challenges, which inform USDA policies and programs and provide resources for other federal agencies. The NIFA Agriculture and Food Research Initiative provides extramural competitive grants for fundamental and applied research, extension and education to address food and agricultural sciences.

Farm Bill Update

The U.S. House of Representatives is expected to release the legislative text of their version of the farm bill on March 14. The House Agriculture Committee is tentatively scheduled to markup the bill on March 20. Rep. Collin Peterson, the Committee ranking member, has already expressed concerns with the farm bill if it is introduced in its current form given disagreements over the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program proposal. Concerns include stricter work requirements that would impact 8 million SNAP beneficiaries.

Bipartisan Policy Center Recommendations to Strengthen SNAP

The Bipartisan Policy Center's Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Task Force released their recommendations, Leading with Nutrition: Leveraging Federal Programs for Better Health, on March 12. The recommendations are a culmination of a nine-month effort by a 13-member task force and focused on four overarching priorities: prioritizing nutrition in SNAP, including eliminating sugar-sweetened beverages from SNAP benefits; strengthening Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Education, including enhancing technical assistance from U.S. Department of Agriculture regional offices; aligning SNAP and Medicaid; and coordinating federal and state agencies and programs.

Action Alerts

Action Required: Farm Bill and Treat and Reduce Obesity Act

There are two action alerts now open (note: the TROA Action Alert will be closing soon):

- Farm Bill: Congress is currently working on the 2018 farm bill, which is the primary legislation that authorizes many of our nation's food and nutrition programs. The farm bill includes nutrition assistance programs that help people access nutritious food; nutrition education programs that empower people to make lasting, healthy choices; and nutrition research that addresses the nutrition-related health concerns we face as a nation. We are asking Academy members to take action and urge Congress to support the important nutrition programs in the farm bill that contribute to the health of all, especially those most susceptible to experiencing insecurity. Learn more about the Academy's farm bill priorities here.
- Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, H.R. 1953/S.830: According to IHS Markit's whitepaper, a newly validated microsimulation model predicts that increasing Medicare beneficiaries' utilization of these clinically effective obesity treatments could save Medicare $19 to $21 billion over the next 10 years. Also, the CDC has estimated that one-third of U.S. adults have obesity. These stunning statistics are another reminder of the importance of intervention and counseling from RDNs. There are several ways you can get involved. Congress will be going into recess at the end of the month. But before they go, the Academy encourages you to contact your Senators and Representative today and ask them to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, a bill which will help address the obesity epidemic by providing better treatment options from health professional such as RDNs.

Important Congressional Issues Require Your Action!

•As a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, please urge your policymakers to support legislation that protects and values nutrition programs in the farm bill and nutrition services in areas of prevention and treatment, including treatment and reduction of obesity and diabetes prevention. It is important for members of Congress to hear from their constituency. As vital decisions are made regarding health care in the upcoming weeks, the voice of every member is critical. Take action today!

Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025, Call for Experts

Experts needed! The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee. Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

“Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma to learn more.

Workshop on Diseases with Special Nutritional Requirements

The Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine is holding a two-day workshop on April 2 to 3 to examine special nutritional requirements in disease states and medical conditions, including those with metabolic conditions, burns or surgical trauma, cancer and traumatic brain injury. The free event will be webcast and is open to the public. Register here.

Register for the Next SNAP to Skills Webinar on SNAP E&T and Career Pathways

Learn more about how SNAP participants can upgrade their skills, advance to higher-paying jobs and obtain credentials in industries with strong employment opportunities, via career pathways programs. SNAP to Skills will host the webinar, Better Jobs and Increased Incomes: Integrating SNAP E&T into Career Pathways Programs, on March 22 at 1 p.m. (Eastern Time). Webinar participants will learn how these programs leverage other sources of funding to expand career opportunities. Hear from specific communities about how they integrated SNAP E&T with career pathways to help participants obtain better jobs and increase their earnings.

Register for the webinar here.

Academy Members Present During Webinar on Importance of Nutrition Research in the Farm Bill

Academy members Sarah Ohlhorst, MS, RD, Cathie Woteki, PhD, and Lauren Au, PhD, RD will highlight the importance of nutrition research programs in the 2018 farm bill in a webinar hosted by the American Society for Nutrition. The April 10 webinar, from 1- 2 p.m. (Eastern Time), will feature an overview of the farm bill and the nutrition-related provisions and show how advocacy efforts can help these important programs. RSVP here.

Dear NDEP Members,

The NDEP Professional Development Committee is hosting a complimentary webinar titled: "IPE 101 For the Dietetic Educator" on April 12th!

Team based healthcare improves patient outcomes and provides for efficient use of resources. To positively impact future practice, training to become an effective member of the healthcare team has to begin during the educational process. If you are interested in understanding best practices to design interprofessional experiences, this webinar will provide invaluable information to dietetic educators in all settings. Three current dietetic educators will walk you through the use of evidence-based resources and explore the role of dietetics within interprofessional education.

Learning Objectives:

1. Describe the evidence supporting the incorporation of interprofessional education into health professions education
2. Identify and use resources to foster strong interprofessional curricula
3. Engage in best practices for implementing and evaluating interprofessional education in dietetics education programs.

Speakers: Katie Eliot, PhD, RDN, FAND; Marcia Nahikian-Nelms, PhD, RDN, LD, FAND; Debi Silverman, MS, RDN, FADA, FAND

Date: Thursday, April 12th, 2018 from 11:00 am – 12:00 pm CT.

Participants will receive 1 CEU. Registration is required to attend the webinar.

To register, click here:

After your request has been approved, you'll receive instructions for joining the meeting.

If you are unable to attend the webinar during this time, it will be recorded and made available via an email blast as well as through the NDEP Portal library. You can obtain 1 CEU for listening to the recorded webinar as well.

Tom, Here is the information on the Idaho talk. I have started a presentation, but it could use some work. I am attaching it. Below is what they told me they wanted me to talk on. I am available Monday anytime after about 9 am to talk. Just give me a time.

We have you down from 9:00-10:00 as the opening session for Friday. We would love to hear about your career in school food service, and how you successfully built relationships over the years. How do you address the changing role of the Dietitian in today's marketplace and how do you believe relationship-building plays an integral role in where your career can take you? We would love for RDN's to be able to take away from your presentation tidbits/advice to help them advance in their own careers. Does this sound like a topic that you would be willing to cover? As we have mentioned before, we would love for presentations to be interactive, fun and focus on telling stories.

I can't stress enough that the planning committee expects you to offer more than a Power Point presentation. We want you to focus more on facilitating discussion and opportunities for interaction rather than lecturing to the audience. The conference theme is, "Building Bridges: Celebrating 70 Years of the Idaho Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics"--this year's event is a celebration! We're hopeful sessions will be lively and engaging.

Request for Comments: Behavioral Weight Loss Interventions to Prevent Obesity-Related Morbidity and Mortality

The US Preventive Services Task Force (USPSTF) is seeking feedback on their draft statement recommending that patients be “offered or referred” to behavior-based interventions for weight loss. The Academy PIA office is noting the use of the word “offer” instead of a stronger word and the lack of a stipulation on providers.

The USPSTF found adequate evidence that behavior-based weight loss interventions in adults with obesity can lead to clinically significant improvements in weight status and reduced incidence of type 2 diabetes and interventions are associated with less weight gain after the cessation of interventions compared with control groups. They also found adequate evidence the harms of intensive, multicomponent behavioral interventions (i.e., behavior-based weight loss and weight loss maintenance interventions) in adults with obesity as small to none.

They have therefore concluded with moderate certainty that offering or referring [emphasis is mine]adults with obesity to intensive, multicomponent behavioral interventions (i.e., behavior-based weight loss and weight loss maintenance interventions) has a moderate net benefit."

Upcoming Webinar: USDA CACFP Meal Patterns and Nutrition Resources

When: Thursday, April 19th at 1 PM (CDT)

Agenda: This webinar will provide an overview of the new USDA Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) nutrition standards that went into effect on October 1, 2017 and will highlight the USDA Team Nutrition resources available to support successful implementation. Dietetics professionals and dietetic interns will be able to learn about the new standards and resources, and identify ways they can help support the new meal pattern implementation. The USDA CACFP program is operated in a wide variety of settings, and on a daily basis serves 3.3 million children and 120,000 adults who are chronically impaired. To learn more about the CACFP, please visit the USDA FNS website.

Objectives:

1. Learn about the new nutrition standards for the CACFP program that went into effect October 1, 2017
2. Learn about the new Team Nutrition resources available to support implementation and nutrition education
3. Learn how RDNs, DTRs and dietetic interns can support the new nutrition standards

Pending 1 CPEU for live presentation. PHCNPG members have two CPEU options (1) live (2) recording to be posted on the PHCNPG member page.

International Malnutrition Member Interest Group (MIG):

At FNCE this past year, there were several people who were interested in international malnutrition, but didn't know quite how to get involved. A handful of RDs currently working in the international arena met up at one point and talked about their experiences of going at it alone, and each felt like they were needing to fend for themselves in the international nutrition realm. They decided to band together and get a group in the works to help be a 'landing place' for those who are already working specifically to fight malnutrition in developing countries, as well as those who would like to get into this field but have no idea how to.

There have been some email talks over the past few months about starting a Member Interest Group (MIG) about this topic. If you are interested in joining this movement, they would love to have you join and get you in on the email loop with the MIG formation. If you are interested, please send an email to Jen Brewer at jenb@mycookkitchen.com and she will provide you with more details.

Malnutrition Quality Improvement Initiative (MQii):

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and Avalere Health are enrolling participants for the 2018 MQii Learning Collaborative, and invite you to join us in advancing malnutrition care across our nation. This collaborative brings together leading hospitals and health systems across the U.S. to support acceleration and dissemination of malnutrition best practices for hospitalized patients. Learning Collaborative participants undertake a data-driven, patient-centered, malnutrition quality improvement project at their respective hospitals using a best practices Toolkit, and can use clinically meaningful measures to track and monitor improvement. If you are interested in learning more about how your organization can participate in the MQii Learning Collaborative, please email: MalnutritionQuality@avalere.com

PHCNPG Student Mentor Program:

PHCNPG's Mentoring Program seeks to connect members with the aim to promote growth in specialty practice areas, general career and personal growth. We are currently in need of more mentors to meet the demand of mentees!

We are looking for mentors from a wide variety of backgrounds to mentor students and other young professionals. If interested, please complete the online application.

The Mentor Program follows the same timeline as the DPG membership year and begins and ends in June each year. At the end of your term (June) you will have the option to continue your mentor/mentee relationship through the next membership year. If you have questions or feedback please email Kayla Fitzgerald, Membership Committee Chair, at phcnpgmembers@gmail.com or Gabby Headrick, Student Committee Chair, at phcnpgstudents@gmail.com.

We Want to Hear Your Ideas!

Are you a public health dietitian with a great idea for a webinar? Are you or someone you know an expert in your field? The Public Health and Community Nutrition Dietetic Practice Group education committee is soliciting ideas for topics and speakers for 2017. If you have a great idea or know an expert that would be a great presenter, please email your suggestions to phcnpg@cableone.net

Hi Donna,

Hope you don't mind my professional persistence, but I didn't see a response to the email below so want to follow up quick.

Would you accept a 15 minute meeting Wednesday or Thursday?

You're busy so I'll be brief - Are you currently working on wrapping up 2017 and getting your AP department off to a solid start in 2018? At Concur, we understand this time can be very busy, taking your team away from the strategic role of their duties. The good news: there is a better way to manage a manual AP invoice process.

Want to see for yourself? I would love to show you if you have 15 minutes next week?

Dear Donna and Linette,

You may be aware the FNS recently published their new regulatory item Hiring Flexibility Under Professional Standards, which would add flexibilities to the hiring standards for new school nutrition program directors in small LEAs and new school nutrition program State directors.

We would like to schedule a conference call on this topic anytime during Monday March 19 or Wednesday March 21 or Friday March 23.

Please let us know your time preferences.

Thanks so much for your time and attention to these important issues.

Hi, Donna:

Attached is our draft of your Idaho PPT. We kept the content the same, with a few small edits here and there, and put the PPT on the Academy's template along with a few images (some borrowed from your Facebook page). Can you please let us know if this will work for you, or if there is anything else you'd like us to do on this presentation?

Thanks very much, talk to you soon!

Tom, Here is the information on the Idaho talk. I have started a presentation, but it could use some work. I am attaching it. Below is what they told me they wanted me to talk on. I am available Monday anytime after about 9 am to talk. Just give me a time.

We have you down from 9:00-10:00 as the opening session for Friday. We would love to hear about your career in school food service, and how you successfully built relationships over the years. How do you address the changing role of the Dietitian in today's marketplace and how do you believe relationship-building plays an integral role in where your career can take you? We would love for RDN's to be able to take away from your presentation tidbits/advice to help them advance in their own careers. Does this sound like a topic that you would be willing to cover? As we have mentioned before, we would love for presentations to be interactive, fun and focus on telling stories.

I can't stress enough that the planning committee expects you to offer more than a Power Point presentation. We want you to focus more on facilitating discussion and opportunities for interaction rather than lecturing to the audience. The conference theme is, "Building Bridges: Celebrating 70 Years of the Idaho Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics"--this year's event is a celebration! We're hopeful sessions will be lively and engaging.

Donna,

Great question. The reason that we include those cities as open markets is because we don't have a guarantee that the spokespeople will reapply. Jennifer McDaniel, for example, decided not to this year for personal reasons, which means that if we didn't open up the market, we wouldn't have anyone in St. Louis. This is used as a precautionary matter. We fully expect these spokespeople to reapply, but in the event that they decide not to, we want to make sure we have those markets covered.

Thanks!

Rhys, I do not understand the open market concept in like San Francisco? Sonya Angelone is up for renewal , but this is an open market. Does that mean we usually have two spokespersons in San Francisco or are we not going to renew Sonya? Like wise Libby Mills, who is up for renewal in Philadelphia, but it still says – Open Market? And again Pittsburgh spokesperson: Caroline Passerello, who is up for renewal in 2019 says Open Market. Is it because we need two in those areas or do we not plan on renewing those people. Sorry to bother you, but want to make sure I get it right.

Thank you so much for participating in the spokesperson selection process this year. We greatly valued your input. I have attached a document that lists the open markets for next year, as well as a list of spokespeople who will be rolling off (those who have served three consecutive terms) and those who are up for renewal.

Additionally, we have provided information about the spokespeople who are in the states that you will be visiting this spring and summer. Please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Again, thank you so much!

Dear Fellow NDEP Member,

We as dietetics educators are constantly striving to balance professional trends and changes within our healthcare system with accreditation standards and the demands of our respective colleges and universities. The 2017 standards emphasize critical thinking and communication skills and interprofessional practice, which necessitates a closer look at our curriculum ideological views and pedagogical techniques. I am requesting your participation in an online survey. Your responses will provide valuable insights into how dietetics educators view these relevant aspects of teaching and learning. In order to participate, you must meet the following criteria: be currently employed part- or full-time as an Adjunct/Instructor/Lecturer; Assistant professor; Associate professor; or Professor in a Coordinated Program in Dietetics (CPD) or an undergraduate and/or graduate Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD).

After reading the informed consent, you may either proceed with the survey or exit the browser. The estimated time for survey completion is 20 minutes. Participation is completely voluntary; you may decline to participate at any point during the survey by simply exiting the browser. Your responses will be completely anonymous. You have the opportunity to provide your contact information for a follow-up interview and to be enrolled in a random drawing for (2) twenty-five dollar gift cards to Amazon. If you elect to provide your contact information, this will be recorded separately and not be linked in any way to the survey data to protect anonymity. There are no known risks of participation.

Thanks much Rhys and team.

Because of a work meeting I am co-leading I will be able to attend only Saturday night and Sunday.

The meeting (at a hotel near ORD) ends Saturday at 4 so I anticipate arriving the London House by 6 at the latest.

Look forward to this event, and so sorry to be available only part of the time.

Best regards,
Mary

Good morning,

Time for a quick update on the Spring Committee Chairs Open Forum. Let me just start by saying it's been like herding cats. After multiple reminders, we finally got 14 committee chairs to complete the survey. However, we had to do another round of outreach to 8 of the 14 as they did not indicate the times they were available for the call. I don't get it, but the goal now is to have them complete that part of the survey by tomorrow so we can nail down a date/time.

We've received several suggestions for topics, some of which are offers to speak to a topic by a specific committee chair:

1. FNCE/PPW Integration; Affiliate public policy leader survey (From Mike Glasgow, LPPC)
2. Updates on policy areas and participation in action alerts; feedback on ongoing progress with ACEND transition to the masters curriculum for entry level RDN's; General trends committee chairs are hearing about in the various specialty areas that impact FNCE programming in future years (From Chris Weithman, Committee for Lifelong Learning)
3. The Diversity committee recently proposed an additional National Award around Diversity. It was submitted to the Awards committee. We would be willing to discuss where the idea for the award came from and why we proposed it. I don't think the Award committee will have had time to review the proposal by the time the forums are in place. (From Joseph Quinlan, Diversity Committee)
4. Communication strategies to help members recognize all of the work being done on their behalf. And really, the work we do benefits non-member RDNs and NDTRs too. (From Wendy Phillips, Consumer Protection and Licensure Subcommittee)

5. 1) How Mega Issues and/or topics the HOD discusses get determined 2) Academy Committee structure and liaisons - how it's determined which committees have liaisons or a representative from/on another committee as crossover; for example I know of committees that have a CDR liaison, or perhaps a member of QMC is a liaison member on NIC...in my past history this structure has changed over time and I'm curious as to why or how this gets determined 3) How FNCE sessions get selected - in the past there have been opportunities for the DPGs to submit specifically for DPG Spotlight sessions, but is there also opportunity for Academy Committees to be put into a specific consideration "bucket" instead of put into the entire FNCE proposal mix? There is great working coming out of all of the Academy Committees, so it may be nice to have some special consideration for FNCE sessions (From Sherri Jones, Quality Management)

I'll confirm a date/time with you both later this week. In the meantime, you can be thinking about whether you want to include any of the above topics on the agenda for the forum. As a reminder, Dianne had previously tossed out the following ideas:

Update on what happening at the national level in regards to strategic plan projects, (maybe even an update on national wellness projects), industry relations, public policy activities. Another random brainstorm idea, let them volunteer to give the entire group an update on their most significant committee event/action so far this year. (time limit of course)

Have a good day and I'll be back in touch.

Good evening,

While we are all sitting in cold temperatures, let's take a break and turn our thoughts toward spring (which will actually be here before we know it). As a reminder, in our work to support the Chairs of the Academy Committees, our plan includes 2 opportunities for them to "meet" with both of you in a structured, open forum space. These telephone forums are designed to strengthen communication amongst Academy leaders, provide an opportunity for them to ask you questions around specific topics, and offer a networking opportunity for these committee leaders. We conducted the first open forum in September and focused the conversation on the Academy's new Strategic Plan and "Helping One Another Succeed." Knowing everyone has busy lives, now would be a good time to start planning the second event.

Based on our previous conversations, you tossed out the idea of conducting a Doodle Poll to identify a good date/time for this forum rather than us just selecting one. I'm open to that plan and would just need from you some options so I can create and push out the Poll. Doing something in April or May might be good timing, recognizing we'll want to navigate around the HOD meeting and BOD meeting. We will also need to identify 1-2 topics for discussion. If you'd like, we could solicit input from the Committee Chairs. To get your wheels turning, last spring we provided an update on the Second Century Strategy and discussed potential implications for committee work/opportunities for collaboration (at that time the BOD had approved the vision/mission/principles). For the second topic we talked about effective communication between committees and the President/Speaker/BOD – what worked well and what could be improved.

So give it some thought and I look forward to your input on how you'd like to proceed. If you can let me know by January 29 I can get the ball rolling. I know both of you, as well as the Committee Chairs, enjoy the opportunity for interaction.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Good morning,

Time for a quick update on the Spring Committee Chairs Open Forum. Let me just start by saying it's been like herding cats. After multiple reminders, we finally got 14 committee chairs to complete the survey. However, we had to do another round of outreach to 8 of the 14 as they did not indicate the times they were available for the call. I don't get it, but the goal now is to have them complete that part of the survey by tomorrow so we can nail down a date/time.

We've received several suggestions for topics, some of which are offers to speak to a topic by a specific committee chair:

1. FNCE/PPW Integration; Affiliate public policy leader survey (From Mike Glasgow, LPPC)
2. Updates on policy areas and participation in action alerts; feedback on ongoing progress with ACEND transition to the masters curriculum for entry level RDN's; General trends committee chairs are hearing about in the various specialty areas that impact FNCE programming in future years (From Chris Weithman, Committee for Lifelong Learning)
3. The Diversity committee recently proposed an additional National Award around Diversity. It was submitted to the Awards committee. We would be willing to discuss where the idea for the award came from and why we proposed it. I don't think the Award committee will have had time to review the proposal by the time the forums are in place. (From Joseph Quinlan, Diversity Committee)
4. Communication strategies to help members recognize all of the work being done on their behalf. And really, the work we do benefits non-member RDNs and NDTRs too. (From Wendy Phillips, Consumer Protection and Licensure Subcommittee)

5. 1) How Mega Issues and/or topics the HOD discusses get determined 2) Academy Committee structure and liaisons - how it's determined which committees have liaisons or a representative from/on another committee as crossover; for example I know of committees that have a CDR liaison, or perhaps a member of QMC is a liaison member on NIC...in my past history this structure has changed over time and I'm curious as to why or how this gets determined 3) How FNCE sessions get selected - in the past there have been opportunities for the DPGs to submit specifically for DPG Spotlight sessions, but is there also opportunity for Academy Committees to be put into a specific consideration "bucket" instead of put into the entire FNCE proposal mix? There is great working coming out of all of the Academy Committees, so it may be nice to have some special consideration for FNCE sessions (From Sherri Jones, Quality Management)

I'll confirm a date/time with you both later this week. In the meantime, you can be thinking about whether you want to include any of the above topics on the agenda for the forum. As a reminder, Dianne had previously tossed out the following ideas:

Update on what happening at the national level in regards to strategic plan projects, (maybe even an update on national wellness projects), industry relations, public policy activities. Another random brainstorm idea, let them volunteer to give the entire group an update on their most significant committee event/action so far this year. (time limit of course)

Have a good day and I'll be back in touch.

Good morning,

I hope you are both doing well. I wanted to take a moment to circle back around on this topic. As an FYI, last Friday we shared the following announcement with the Committee Chairs:

The survey offers them the following options for the forum:

After the survey closes I'll confirm with you the date/time as well as share any suggested topics. So be on the lookout for a message from me the week of February 12.

Thank you,

Marsha and Donna,

In addition to the days and times you know about (HLT calls, meetings, BOD calls, meetings, LPPC) I am not available at on April 11-14, and April 18-19th. Most other days I could change things around. Time and day of week is up to you. My only other non changeable time would be April 16 and May 21 at 4:30 p.m. (My work board meetings.)

Subject: Spring Committee Chairs Open Forum - input needed by January 29

Good evening,

While we are all sitting in cold temperatures, let's take a break and turn our thoughts toward spring (which will actually be here before we know it). As a reminder, in our work to support the Chairs of the Academy Committees, our plan includes 2 opportunities for them to "meet" with both of you in a structured, open forum space. These telephone forums are designed to strengthen communication amongst Academy leaders, provide an opportunity for them to ask you questions around specific topics, and offer a networking opportunity for these committee leaders. We conducted the first open forum in September and focused the conversation on the Academy's new Strategic Plan and "Helping One Another Succeed." Knowing everyone has busy lives, now would be a good time to start planning the second event.

Based on our previous conversations, you tossed out the idea of conducting a Doodle Poll to identify a good date/time for this forum rather than us just selecting one. I'm open to that plan and would just need from you some options so I can create and push out the Poll. Doing something in April or May might be good timing, recognizing we'll want to navigate around the HOD meeting and BOD meeting. We will also need to identify 1-2 topics for discussion. If you'd like, we could solicit input from the Committee Chairs. To get your wheels turning, last spring we provided an update on the Second Century Strategy and discussed potential implications for committee work/opportunities for collaboration (at that time the BOD had approved the vision/mission/principles). For the second topic we talked about effective communication between committees and the President/Speaker/BOD – what worked well and what could be improved.

So give it some thought and I look forward to your input on how you'd like to proceed. If you can let me know by January 29 I can get the ball rolling. I know both of you, as well as the Committee Chairs, enjoy the opportunity for interaction.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Dear Donna,

Hope you're well! I really enjoyed sitting next to you at dinner at the Nutrition Impact Summit last year. My current company, a VC-backed startup, Zipongo, is funding the exploration and likely formation of a non-profit organization. The primary purpose of this org is to promote food as medicine - bringing together the medical and clinical nutrition communities to create nutria-clinical guidelines on a condition by condition basis. Key activities will likely include, organizing and funding RCTs, creating guideline committees around the clinical evidence and integrating nutrition guidelines into mainstream clinical practice. Working vision and mission below.

As for my background, I was previously Zipongo's VP New Business and then VP Product & Strategy, and I am now taking on a new role to evaluate the opportunity to stand-up this public charity, procure initial funding, and then serve as the initial Executive Director.

I was hoping you, could offer your guidance and advice as we're honing in on the org's focus and activities. Do you have time for a 30-min call in the coming weeks? (FYI, I've reached out to Marty Yadrick and Marsha Schofield as well)

Thanks!

Eliza

Vision

A world in which food is the first line defense for prevention and treatment of chronic disease globally and food is a validated therapy.

Mission

To advance nutrition science and accelerate the development of clear, validated, open-source nutri-clinical guidelines for disease areas worldwide where there is emerging consensus among the nutrition and medical communities. (Key to the mission is demonstrating cost effectiveness for nutrition as a first-line therapeutic, in addition to efficacy, to ensure adoption by payers and providers.)

Donna, Lucille and Mary,

Thank you again for participating in the RDN Day Contest selection process. This year's winner is Alice Figueroa, MPH, RDN, from New York City. She will be featured next Wednesday on Times Square.

When asked "How do you help your patients or clients go further with food?" Alice responded:

"Eating is universal – it unites us. Regardless of ethnicity, religion, or social class, we can all agree that a delicious and rejuvenating meal brings the purest joy in life. My dedication to nutrition is rooted in my love for food. I am committed to making sustainable, health-supportive, and delicious food accessible to our global community. I encourage my clients to be adventurous and mindful eaters by teaching them how to shop for budget-friendly, seasonal foods and cook nutritious and zesty recipes. I create culturally-rich nutrition programs that empower communities to reduce food waste and improve global food security."

Thank you again for your participation in this process!

All the Best,

Donna, Lucille and Mary,

Thank you again for participating in the RDN Day Contest selection process. This year's winner is Alice Figueroa, MPH, RDN, from New York City. She will be featured next Wednesday on Times Square.

When asked "How do you help your patients or clients go further with food?" Alice responded:

"Eating is universal – it unites us. Regardless of ethnicity, religion, or social class, we can all agree that a delicious and rejuvenating meal brings the purest joy in life. My dedication to nutrition is rooted in my love for food. I am committed to making sustainable, health-supportive, and delicious food accessible to our global community. I encourage my clients to be adventurous and mindful eaters by teaching them how to shop for budget-friendly, seasonal foods and cook nutritious and zesty recipes. I create culturally-rich nutrition programs that empower communities to reduce food waste and improve global food security.”

Thank you again for your participation in this process!

Donna,

You're busy so I'll be brief - Are you currently working on wrapping up 2017 and getting your AP department off to a solid start in 2018? At Concur, we understand this is a very busy time, with transactional activities taking away from the strategic role of your duties. The good news: there is a better way to manage a manual AP invoice process.

Want to see for yourself? I would love to introduce myself and show you if you have 15 minutes next week?

Hi Dianne,

You are correct that we will only send letters via snail mail if they include personal notes. But we are happy to send out letters by mail (either these or to the Delegates), either all or some, if you want to add a personal note. We've learned from experience that we can save a lot of money by sending electronically and we've not heard any objections by recipients when we do so. But first and foremost we want to meet your wishes/styles as leaders as to how you would like it done. There are obviously pros and cons to either method.

Thanks,

Marsha

Marsha, the letters are okay with me also. But I need to clarify one thing.

So these letters will not be sent via snail mail unless I write a note on them? If they were/are only going to be sent out electronically, I would not slow down the process by writing a note. But, as I mentioned to Anna, I would like to write notes on several of the delegates letters.

Thanks,

Dianne

Hi,

I'm taking a break from any new committee appointment to switch gears to the end of the year "thank you" process. Traditionally we have sent Thank You letters to all committee members from the President and Speaker, thanking them for their service. Not that I'm trying to rush the year, but it's a good time to start planning for that project as it takes a bit of time on our end.

Attached are the letters we used last year, updated with your names/signatures. One version is for members completing their term, and the second version is for members continuing to serve. I welcome any revisions you'd like to make to the letters. If you can share that feedback with me by March 23, we can make the necessary changes.

The second thing I need to know is whether you want the opportunity to write any personal notes on the letters. If you wish to do so, we can arrange to have them printed for you to work on while you're in Chicago for the April HOD meeting (Dianne) and the May BOD meeting (Donna). Keep in mind there are 161 letters to go out (that does not include LPPC, ANDPAC, CPLS or Committee for Lifelong Learning based on terms of office). Otherwise, we can send them out electronically to these valued member leaders. Either way is fine with me, I just want to plan accordingly. So, once again, please let me know your preference by March 23.

It's always a nice feeling to be able to say thank you to these individuals. And thanks, to both of you, for all you do to support the committees and their members.

Hi Pat, Donna, Mary and Lucille

A brief update concerning ICDA:

1. There was a board call on 2/22/18, 8 am EST
2. The ICDA Strategic Plan was discussed. Goals are:

Goals:

- Increasingly dietitian-nutritionists meet international competency standards for safe, ethical and evidence-based autonomous practice;
- Improved knowledge transfer;
- Decision makers in health, agriculture and food have readily available advice from dietitian-nutritionists on sustainable food systems that promote healthy diets;
- Health agencies and health professionals are increasingly able to identify that dietitian-nutritionists are key members of the teams for reducing the burden of poor nutrition;
- ICDA is a strong, respected and valued global professional network

3. An application has been received from Membership Application from the Dietitians' Association of Sri Lanka

4. Sheela Krishnaswamy will find out if ICDA can provide representation at the ACD (Asian Congress of Dietetics) in the form of a workshop, abstract or other activity;
 5. Carole Middleton will represent ICDA as EFAD.
 6. Most activities to date revolve around implementing the International Accreditation Process for Education Programs for Dietitian-Nutritionists.
- The May Board face-to-face meeting will be in Lisbon, Portugal 8-10 May 2018, arriving 7 May 2018.

Take Action Today: The 2018 Farm Bill

Congress is working on the 2018 farm bill, the primary legislation that authorizes many of the country's food and nutrition programs. The farm bill includes assistance programs that help people access nutritious food; education programs that empower people to make lasting, healthy choices; and research that addresses nutrition-related health concerns. Academy members are asked to take action to urge Congress to support the important nutrition programs in the farm bill that contribute to health, especially for people most susceptible to food insecurity.

Continuing Committee Members 2017-2018.docx
Outgoing Committee Member.docx

Hi,

I'm taking a break from any new committee appointment to switch gears to the end of the year "thank you" process. Traditionally we have sent Thank You letters to all committee members from the President and Speaker, thanking them for their service. Not that I'm trying to rush the year, but it's a good time to start planning for that project as it takes a bit of time on our end.

Attached are the letters we used last year, updated with your names/signatures. One version is for members completing their term, and the second version is for members continuing to serve. I welcome any revisions you'd like to make to the letters. If you can share that feedback with me by March 23, we can make the necessary changes.

The second thing I need to know is whether you want the opportunity to write any personal notes on the letters. If you wish to do so, we can arrange to have them printed for you to work on while you're in Chicago for the April HOD meeting (Dianne) and the May BOD meeting (Donna). Keep in mind there are 161 letters to go out (that does not include LPPC, ANDPAC, CPLS or Committee for Lifelong Learning based on terms of office). Otherwise, we can send them out electronically to these valued member leaders. Either way is fine with me, I just want to plan accordingly. So, once again, please let me know your preference by March 23.

It's always a nice feeling to be able to say thank you to these individuals. And thanks, to both of you, for all you do to support the committees and their members.

When: Thursday, April 19th at 1 PM (CDT)

Agenda: This webinar will provide an overview of the new USDA Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) nutrition standards that went into effect on October 1, 2017 and will highlight the USDA Team Nutrition resources available to support successful implementation. Dietetics professionals and dietetic interns will be able to learn about the new standards and resources, and identify ways they can help support the new meal pattern implementation. The USDA CACFP program is operated in a wide variety of settings, and on a daily basis serves 3.3 million children and 120,000 adults who are chronically impaired. To learn more about the CACFP, please visit the USDA FNS website.

Objectives:

1. Learn about the new nutrition standards for the CACFP program that went into effect October 1, 2017
2. Learn about the new Team Nutrition resources available to support implementation and nutrition education
3. Learn how RDNs, DTRs and dietetic interns can support the new nutrition standards

PHCNPG Member Survey:

As you may be aware, the Academy has been requesting various DPGs to ask their member's to share their expertise/knowledge to help the Academy submit comments in response to request for comments on regulations, etc. and also to communicate the Academy's position to Congress and other agencies on various issues of importance to dietitians.

They depend on members with expertise/knowledge to help them compose their response/correspondence. Please take a moment to click on the link and answer a short (8 question) survey on your areas of knowledge and practice. This survey is slightly different then the one sent out in 2016, so if you have already responded, we would appreciate it if you could take the survey again. Thanks in advance!

International Malnutrition Member Interest Group (MIG):

At FNCE this past year, there were several people who were interested in international malnutrition, but didn't know quite how to get involved. A handful of RDs currently working in the international arena met up at one point and talked about their experiences of going at it alone, and each felt like they were needing to fend for themselves in the international nutrition realm. They decided to band together and get a group in the works to help be a 'landing place' for those who are already working specifically to fight malnutrition in developing countries, as well as those who would like to get into this field but have no idea how to.

There have been some email talks over the past few months about starting a Member Interest Group (MIG) about this topic. If you are interested in joining this movement, they would love to have you join and get you in on the email loop with the MIG formation. If you are interested, please send an email to Jen Brewer at jenb@mycookkitchen.com and she will provide you with more details.

This collaborative brings together leading hospitals and health systems across the U.S. to support acceleration and dissemination of malnutrition best practices for hospitalized patients. Learning Collaborative participants undertake a data-driven, patient-centered, malnutrition quality improvement project at their respective hospitals using a best practices Toolkit, and can use clinically meaningful measures to track and monitor improvement.

If you are interested in learning more about how your organization can participate in the MQii Learning Collaborative, please email: MalnutritionQuality@avalere.com

PHCNPG Student Mentor Program:

PHCNPG's Mentoring Program seeks to connect members with the aim to promote growth in specialty practice areas, general career and personal growth. We are currently in need of more mentors to meet the demand of mentees!

We are looking for mentors from a wide variety of backgrounds to mentor students and other young professionals. If interested, please complete the online application.

The Mentor Program follows the same timeline as the DPG membership year and begins and ends in June each year. At the end of your term (June) you will have the option to continue your mentor/mentee relationship through the next membership year. If you have questions or feedback please email Kayla Fitzgerald, Membership Committee Chair, at phcnpgmembers@gmail.com or Gabby Headrick, Student Committee Chair, at phcnpgstudents@gmail.com.

Not sure why we are replacing someone whose term runs through May 2018 for a face to face meeting in June 2018?

Good morning,

As I mentioned on the phone yesterday, Holly Raynor had to step down from the Nutrition Care Process and Research Outcomes Committee due to health reasons. So we need to appoint someone to complete Holly's term (as a US representative), which runs through May 31, 2018. Based on this year's Opportunities to Serve survey, staff has put forth the following recommendations:

Leslie Hope Wills

1st choice for NCPRO US rep

Education, Clinical Nutrition

Seasoned NCP educator and clinician; Emphasis on educating students on how to conduct outcomes research
hwills@chla.usc.edu

562-438-1306 (California)

Rena Zelig

2nd choice for NCPRO US rep

Education, Clinical Nutrition

Experienced NCP researcher and educator. Has worked with students to advance NCP and clinical outcomes research in educational settings.
zeligre@shp.rutgers.edu; renazelig@gmail.com

201-914-1887 (NJ)

Mary and Marcy have asked someone else to serve on the committee, so neither of these names interferes with their work. I have attached their bios for your reference along with the committee description. The committee is scheduled for their face-to-face meeting June 4-5 in Chicago and staff is hopeful that whoever you appoint will be able to attend.

Let me know how you would like to proceed with filling this vacancy. And, of course, let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,

Not sure why we are replacing someone whose term runs through May 2018 for a face to face meeting in June 2018?

Good morning,

As I mentioned on the phone yesterday, Holly Raynor had to step down from the Nutrition Care Process and Research Outcomes Committee due to health reasons. So we need to appoint someone to complete Holly's term (as a US representative), which runs through May 31, 2018. Based on this year's Opportunities to Serve survey, staff has put forth the following recommendations:

Leslie Hope Wills

1st choice for NCPRO US rep

Education, Clinical Nutrition

Seasoned NCP educator and clinician; Emphasis on educating students on how to conduct outcomes research
hwills@chla.usc.edu

562-438-1306 (California)

Rena Zelig

2nd choice for NCPRO US rep

Education, Clinical Nutrition

Experienced NCP researcher and educator. Has worked with students to advance NCP and clinical outcomes research in educational settings.

Mary and Marcy have asked someone else to serve on the committee, so neither of these names interferes with their work. I have attached their bios for your reference along with the committee description. The committee is scheduled for their face-to-face meeting June 4-5 in Chicago and staff is hopeful that whoever you appoint will be able to attend.

Let me know how you would like to proceed with filling this vacancy. And, of course, let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,

Marsha and Dianne, I just got off the phone with Cathy Christie and she said yes to serving on CPLS for the remainder of this year. She is so passionate and really wants to do this. I think she would be amenable to serving on it again next year, but we can give it some time to see how things shake out. She was very excited. I strongly feel like she is the right person, for this job, at this time.

Hello Pat, Donna and Joan,

What a nice surprise to receive a group Get Well card!

My daughter and I are on the mend - doing much better.

Donna - I hope to see you at the PAND annual meeting in April - I will be receiving the highest state award - Outstanding RD Award)

You are presenting on Friday and awards are on Saturday AM - but I think I will be there Saturday too.

I hope all is going smoothly with this year's board and miss seeing everyone.

Take care,

Members' Advocacy Effort Garnered New Congressional Support for TROA

Academy policy leaders joined with Obesity Care Advocacy Network partners for the Obesity Care Advocacy Day on February 27. More than 85 advocates participated in over 80 congressional meetings to gain support for the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act (H.R. 1953/S.830). These advocates already have made a difference in promoting improved patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services, with three new cosponsors as a result of these visits! The Academy asks you to urge your members of Congress to support passage of TROA. Take action today!

Farm Bill Advocacy Day, April 24

The Academy is partnering with American Society for Nutrition and the Society for Nutrition Education and Behavior for an advocacy day on April 24 focusing on nutrition education and nutrition research. Please also register for the webinar on April 13 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time) to prepare you for the day of action. We will also review opportunities to engage in advocacy efforts in your own backyard if you are not able to join us in Washington, D.C. Register for advocacy day today!

Join the Next Farm Bill Monthly Call, March 27

Want to be engaged with the farm bill? The Academy's PIA staff is hosting a monthly call to discuss the latest news from Capitol Hill and share how you can get involved with our advocacy efforts. The next call will be March 27 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time). Please RSVP to Nicole Burda, director, legislative and government affairs, if you would like to join the call and stay informed.

For highlights from the last farm bill call, see below.

Status of Farm Bill in the House and Senate

- The farm bill is a mechanism through which many of the Academy's public policy priorities come to life. It is the primary legislation that authorizes agriculture and food policy in the U.S. It is reauthorized every 5 years and is up for reauthorization this year. However, it is unclear whether the farm bill will be finished by the September 30 deadline.
- The budget deal greased the skids. Congress approved a two-year budget deal in February which included $89 billion in disaster spending. The deal included provisions bolstering cotton and dairy programs that are likely to make developing the farm bill an easier lift. However, at the same time it may lessen the motivation to complete a bill.
- Upcoming elections and challenging issues potentially on the horizon do not bode well for getting a farm bill done on time. However, there is also the public sentiment that Congress is not doing anything which could nudge members of Congress to complete a farm bill and show their voters that they were successful in getting something done.
- House. The better part of the chamber's farm bill is written and has been scored by CBO but they are still working through some pieces. The committee intends to unveil the bill by the end of March. The Academy has major concerns that the House bill could include deep cuts to SNAP and consolidate SNAP-Ed and the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program and shift the mandatory funding to discretionary, which would make the program more vulnerable to future funding cuts.
- Senate. The Senate Agriculture Committee is not quite as far along as the House in terms of drafting a bill, but they continue to push for a springtime markup.

Academy Members Present During Webinar on Importance of Nutrition Research in the Farm Bill

Academy members Sarah Ohlhorst, MS, RD, Cathie Woteki, PhD, and Lauren Au, PhD, RD will highlight the importance of nutrition research programs in the 2018 farm bill in a webinar hosted by the American Society for Nutrition. The April 10 webinar, from 1 to 2 p.m. (Eastern Time), will feature an overview of the farm bill and the nutrition-related provisions and show how advocacy efforts can help these important programs. RSVP here.

ANDPAC Is Bipartisan, Not Directed at Just One Party

It is a common myth that the Academy's political action committee ANDPAC only gives to candidates from certain political parties. In fact, ANDPAC is non-partisan and donates to candidates from all political parties based on a candidate's past and present support for the Academy's public policy agenda. Other considerations include the need for that candidate's support in the future, their leadership or committee assignments, and the nature of the event associated with the contribution.

Further with Food Partnership with Academy Highlighted during National Nutrition Month 2018

The Academy has designated "Go Further with Food" as the theme for National Nutrition Month 2018. It's a perfect time to talk about food loss and waste and opportunities to address hunger and food insecurity through innovative programs and policy change.

Check out Further with Food, a public-private partnership between the Academy and other leading organizations that provides comprehensive information about food loss and waste in the United States. This virtual resource center is a platform to find and share information about proven solutions and innovative new approaches to reduce the volume of surplus food generated, feed hungry people and divert food and scraps to the highest beneficial use. Share your resources, download tools and subscribe to the newsletter today. The March 15 FWF newsletter will explore how reducing food loss and waste promotes a healthier lifestyle and improved nutrition.

Stay tuned to PPWN each week during NNM to learn more about policy efforts to reduce loss and waste.

News from the Hill and Beyond

USDA Proposes Lowering Standards for Hiring School Nutrition Program Directors

Small local educational agencies will be allowed to lower the standards for hiring new school nutrition program directors to expand the pool of candidates, the U.S. Department of Agriculture Deputy Secretary Steve Censky announced March 5. The Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010 strengthened school meal programs by establishing education and training requirements for nutrition professionals. The proposed rule would lower the requirements for school districts with less than 2,500 students. If the proposed rule is finalized, relevant food service experience, including volunteer or unpaid work, would satisfy requirements for new school nutrition program directors in these small settings. In the same announcement, USDA also released a toolkit with the goal to ensure eligible children receive free and reduced-priced meals. The Academy has long advocated for qualified practitioners to serve as school nutrition program directors and it will submit comments on the proposed rules emphasizing the importance of strong education and training requirements and the value of qualified school food service professionals.

President's FY 2019 Budget

While the President's Fiscal Year 2019 budget is said to be "dead on arrival," the details do matter and there are some proposals Congress could pick up. This is an opportunity for us as advocates to educate Congress on the importance of the programs that have been proposed for cuts or elimination.

The budget proposes to:

- Eliminate SNAP-Ed and cut EFNEP by $12 million.
- Cut $17.2 billion from SNAP next year and a total of $213 billion over 10 years, or nearly 30 percent, and proposes major restructuring. Cuts would be achieved through radically restructuring how benefits are delivered, cutting eligibility for at least 4 million people and reducing benefits for many others.
- Harvest box: households that receive more than $90 would receive a portion of their benefits in the form of a USDA foods package, which would include items such as shelf-stable milk, ready to eat cereals, pasta, peanut butter, beans, canned fruit and vegetables and canned meat, poultry or fish. The White House Office of Management and Budget has asked appropriators for $30 million to test a harvest box program. [PIA staffer, Nicole, recommends: Keep your eyes on the ball and don't get too distracted with this proposal.]
- Additional proposed changes to SNAP include restricting time limit waivers impacting people who live in high-unemployment areas; eliminating state flexibility to exempt vulnerable individuals from the time limit; and increase the upper age limit for able-bodied adults without dependents from 49 to 62.
- Eliminate the Commodity Supplemental Food Program and move participants over to SNAP.
- Cut the Agricultural Research Service Human Nutrition Research Centers by $42 million, or by 49 percent.
- Eliminate the Food Insecurity Nutrition Incentive and eliminate the Healthy Food Financing Initiative.

Reminder: the president's budget is his vision and does not carry the force of law. It is up to Congress to actually make legislative changes to programs and to disburse the money.

Congressional Briefing on Nutrition Research Across the Lifespan, March 8

Learn about the return on investment from federal nutrition research on the nation's healthcare costs and the critical role nutrition plays across the lifespan in a congressional briefing hosted by the Jean Mayer USDA Human Nutrition Research Center on Aging at Tufts University, Baylor College of Medicine Children's Nutrition Research Center and the Arkansas Children's Nutrition Center. The briefing will take place at U.S. Capitol Visitor Center Meeting Room, South 217, in Washington, D.C. Presentations and panel discussion with experts will be included.

Lunch will be served. This event is free and open to the public. Register here.

Action Alerts

Action Required: Farm Bill and Treat and Reduce Obesity Act

There are two action alerts now open:

- Farm Bill: Congress is currently working on the 2018 farm bill, which is the primary legislation that authorizes many of our nation's food and nutrition programs. The farm bill includes nutrition assistance programs that help people access nutritious food; nutrition education programs that empower people to make lasting, healthy choices; and nutrition research that addresses the nutrition-related health concerns we face as a nation. We are asking Academy members to take action and urge Congress to support the important nutrition programs in the farm bill that contribute to the health of all, especially those most susceptible to experiencing insecurity. Learn more about the Academy's farm bill priorities here.
- Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, H.R. 1953/S.830: According to IHS Markit's whitepaper, a newly validated microsimulation model predicts that increasing Medicare beneficiaries' utilization of these clinically effective obesity treatments could save Medicare $19 to $21 billion over the next 10 years. Also, the CDC has estimated that one-third of U.S. adults have obesity. These stunning statistics are another reminder of the importance of intervention and counseling from RDNs. There are several ways you can get involved. The Academy encourages you to contact your Senators and Representative today and ask them to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, a bill which will help address the obesity epidemic by providing better treatment options from health professional such as RDNs.

Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025, Call for Experts

Experts needed! The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee. Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

“Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma to learn more.

Workshop on Diseases with Special Nutritional Requirements

The Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine is holding a two-day workshop on April 2 to 3 to examine special nutritional requirements in disease states and medical conditions, including those with metabolic conditions, burns or surgical trauma, cancer and traumatic brain injury. The free event will be webcast and is open to the public. Register here.

- Cut $17.2 billion from SNAP next year and a total of $213 billion over 10 years, or nearly 30 percent, and proposes major restructuring. Cuts would be achieved through radically restructuring how benefits are delivered, cutting eligibility for at least 4 million people and reducing benefits for many others.
- Harvest box: households that receive more than $90 would receive a portion of their benefits in the form of a USDA foods package, which would include items such as shelf-stable milk, ready to eat cereals, pasta, peanut butter, beans, canned fruit and vegetables and canned meat, poultry or fish. The White House Office of Management and Budget has asked appropriators for $30 million to test a harvest box program. [PIA staffer, Nicole, recommends: Keep your eyes on the ball and don't get too distracted with this proposal.]
- Additional proposed changes to SNAP include restricting time limit waivers impacting people who live in high-unemployment areas; eliminating state flexibility to exempt vulnerable individuals from the time limit; and increase the upper age limit for able-bodied adults without dependents from 49 to 62.
- Eliminate the Commodity Supplemental Food Program and move participants over to SNAP.
- Cut the Agricultural Research Service Human Nutrition Research Centers by $42 million, or by 49 percent.
- Eliminate the Food Insecurity Nutrition Incentive and eliminate the Healthy Food Financing Initiative.

Reminder: the president's budget is his vision and does not carry the force of law. It is up to Congress to actually make legislative changes to programs and to disburse the money.

Action Alerts

Action Required: Farm Bill and Treat and Reduce Obesity Act

There are two action alerts now open:

- Farm Bill: Congress is currently working on the 2018 farm bill, which is the primary legislation that authorizes many of our nation's food and nutrition programs. The farm bill includes nutrition assistance programs that help people access nutritious food; nutrition education programs that empower people to make lasting, healthy choices; and nutrition research that addresses the nutrition-related health concerns we face as a nation. We are asking Academy members to take action and urge Congress to support the important nutrition programs in the farm bill that contribute to the health of all, especially those most susceptible to experiencing insecurity. Learn more about the Academy's farm bill priorities here.
- Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, H.R. 1953/S.830: According to IHS Markit's whitepaper, a newly validated microsimulation model predicts that increasing Medicare beneficiaries' utilization of these clinically effective obesity treatments could save Medicare $19 to $21 billion over the next 10 years. Also, the CDC has estimated that one-third of U.S. adults have obesity. These stunning statistics are another reminder of the importance of intervention and counseling from RDNs. There are several ways you can get involved. The Academy encourages you to contact your Senators and Representative today and ask them to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, a bill which will help address the obesity epidemic by providing better treatment options from health professional such as RDNs.

Members' Advocacy Effort Garnered New Congressional Support for TROA

Academy policy leaders joined with Obesity Care Advocacy Network partners for the Obesity Care Advocacy Day on February 27. More than 85 advocates participated in over 80 congressional meetings to gain support for the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act (H.R. 1953/ S.830). These advocates already have made a difference in promoting improved patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services, with three new cosponsors as a result of these visits! The Academy asks you to urge your members of Congress to support passage of TROA. Take action today!

Farm Bill Advocacy Day, April 24

The Academy is partnering with American Society for Nutrition and the Society for Nutrition Education and Behavior for an advocacy day on April 24 focusing on nutrition education and nutrition research. Please also register for the webinar on April 13 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time) to prepare you for the day of action. We will also review opportunities to engage in advocacy efforts in your own backyard if you are not able to join us in Washington, D.C. Register for advocacy day today!

Join the Next Farm Bill Monthly Call, March 27

Want to be engaged with the farm bill? The Academy's PIA staff is hosting a monthly call to discuss the latest news from Capitol Hill and share how you can get involved with our advocacy efforts. The next call will be March 27 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time). Please RSVP to Nicole Burda, director, legislative and government affairs, if you would like to join the call and stay informed.

For highlights from the last farm bill call, see below.

Status of Farm Bill in the House and Senate

- The farm bill is a mechanism through which many of the Academy's public policy priorities come to life. It is the primary legislation that authorizes agriculture and food policy in the U.S. It is reauthorized every 5 years and is up for reauthorization this year. However, it is unclear whether the farm bill will be finished by the September 30 deadline.
- The budget deal greased the skids. Congress approved a two-year budget deal in February which included $89 billion in disaster spending. The deal included provisions bolstering cotton and dairy programs that are likely to make developing the farm bill an easier lift. However, at the same time it may lessen the motivation to complete a bill.
- Upcoming elections and challenging issues potentially on the horizon do not bode well for getting a farm bill done on time. However, there is also the public sentiment that Congress is not doing anything which could nudge members of Congress to complete a farm bill and show their voters that they were successful in getting something done.
- House. The better part of the chamber's farm bill is written and has been scored by CBO but they are still working through some pieces. The committee intends to unveil the bill by the end of March. The Academy has major concerns that the House bill could include deep cuts to SNAP and consolidate SNAP-Ed and the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program and shift the mandatory funding to discretionary, which would make the program more vulnerable to future funding cuts.

- Senate. The Senate Agriculture Committee is not quite as far along as the House in terms of drafting a bill, but they continue to push for a springtime markup.

Academy Members Present During Webinar on Importance of Nutrition Research in the Farm Bill

Academy members Sarah Ohlhorst, MS, RD, Cathie Woteki, PhD, and Lauren Au, PhD, RD will highlight the importance of nutrition research programs in the 2018 farm bill in a webinar hosted by the American Society for Nutrition. The April 10 webinar, from 1 to 2 p.m. (Eastern Time), will feature an overview of the farm bill and the nutrition-related provisions and show how advocacy efforts can help these important programs. RSVP here.

ANDPAC Is Bipartisan, Not Directed at Just One Party

It is a common myth that the Academy's political action committee ANDPAC only gives to candidates from certain political parties. In fact, ANDPAC is non-partisan and donates to candidates from all political parties based on a candidate's past and present support for the Academy's public policy agenda. Other considerations include the need for that candidate's support in the future, their leadership or committee assignments, and the nature of the event associated with the contribution.

The Academy has designated "Go Further with Food" as the theme for National Nutrition Month 2018. It's a perfect time to talk about food loss and waste and opportunities to address hunger and food insecurity through innovative programs and policy change.

Check out Further with Food, a public-private partnership between the Academy and other leading organizations that provides comprehensive information about food loss and waste in the United States. This virtual resource center is a platform to find and share information about proven solutions and innovative new approaches to reduce the volume of surplus food generated, feed hungry people and divert food and scraps to the highest beneficial use. Share your resources, download tools and subscribe to the newsletter today. The March 15 FWF newsletter will explore how reducing food loss and waste promotes a healthier lifestyle and improved nutrition.

Stay tuned to PPWN each week during NNM to learn more about policy efforts to reduce loss and waste.

News from the Hill and Beyond

USDA Proposes Lowering Standards for Hiring School Nutrition Program Directors

Small local educational agencies will be allowed to lower the standards for hiring new school nutrition program directors to expand the pool of candidates, the U.S. Department of Agriculture Deputy Secretary Steve Censky announced March 5. The Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010 strengthened school meal programs by establishing education and training requirements for nutrition professionals. The proposed rule would lower the requirements for school districts with less than 2,500 students. If the proposed rule is finalized, relevant food service experience, including volunteer or unpaid work, would satisfy requirements for new school nutrition program directors in these small settings. In the same announcement, USDA also released a toolkit with the goal to ensure eligible children receive free and reduced-priced meals. The Academy has long advocated for qualified practitioners to serve as school nutrition program directors and it will submit comments on the proposed rules emphasizing the importance of strong education and training requirements and the value of qualified school food service professionals.

President's FY 2019 Budget

While the President's Fiscal Year 2019 budget is said to be "dead on arrival," the details do matter and there are some proposals Congress could pick up. This is an opportunity for us as advocates to educate Congress on the importance of the programs that have been proposed for cuts or elimination.

The budget proposes to:

- Eliminate SNAP-Ed and cut EFNEP by $12 million.
- Cut $17.2 billion from SNAP next year and a total of $213 billion over 10 years, or nearly 30 percent, and proposes major restructuring. Cuts would be achieved through radically restructuring how benefits are delivered, cutting eligibility for at least 4 million people and reducing benefits for many others.

Hi Pat, Donna, Mary and Lucille

A brief update concerning ICDA:

1. There was a board call on 2/22/18, 8 am EST
2. The ICDA Strategic Plan was discussed. Goals are:

Goals:

- Increasingly dietitian-nutritionists meet international competency standards for safe, ethical and evidence-based autonomous practice;
- Improved knowledge transfer;
- Decision makers in health, agriculture and food have readily available advice from dietitian-nutritionists on sustainable food systems that promote healthy diets;
- Health agencies and health professionals are increasingly able to identify that dietitian-nutritionists are key members of the teams for reducing the burden of poor nutrition;
- ICDA is a strong, respected and valued global professional network

3. An application has been received from Membership Application from the Dietitians' Association of Sri Lanka

4. Sheela Krishnaswamy will find out if ICDA can provide representation at the ACD (Asian Congress of Dietetics) in the form of a workshop, abstract or other activity;
5. Carole Middleton will represent ICDA as EFAD.

6. Most activities to date revolve around implementing the International Accreditation Process for Education Programs for Dietitian-Nutritionists.

The May Board face-to-face meeting will be in Lisbon, Portugal 8-10 May 2018, arriving 7 May 2018.

USDA Announces More Local Control for School Meal Operations

WASHINGTON, March 5, 2018 – U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Deputy Secretary Steve Censky today announced two new efforts to provide states and school districts with additional flexibility and support to operate more efficient school meal programs. Censky made the announcement during a speech at the School Nutrition Association Legislative Action Conference in Washington, D.C.

Child Nutrition Hiring Flexibility Rule

In 2015, USDA established education and training requirements for nutrition professionals as part of the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010. While this strengthened many school meal programs, some small school districts faced challenges finding qualified applicants to direct their local food service operation. Today's proposal would provide much-needed relief for school districts with less than 2,500 students, allowing them more flexibility in the hiring of new school nutrition program directors.

"Small and rural school districts will no longer have to overlook qualified food service professionals because of one-size-fits-all standards that don't meet their needs," said Censky. "We trust our local partners to hire talented school nutrition program directors who will manage the meal service in a way that protects the health and well-being of students."

USDA is providing a 60-day public comment period and will then develop a final rule that responds to the needs of partners and stakeholders.

Child Nutrition Food Crediting Request for Information

To support states' efforts to improve program integrity, USDA also rolled out a suite of customizable resources to help local school districts improve the accuracy of their school meal application processes. These resources include support for online applications, evidenced-based materials, and best practices to simplify the process for families and ensure that eligible children receive free and reduced-priced meals.

"USDA's goal to do right and feed everyone starts with our children," said Censky. "We are committed to giving states and school districts more tools and options to build a bright, self-sufficient future for America's children through well-managed school meal programs."

As part of this package, USDA is offering guidance to help schools utilize its award-winning, open-source online school meal application model. USDA developed the application with input from local food service professionals. The customer-friendly design of the model is intended to increase the integrity of the application process by reducing common mistakes families make when applying for free or reduced-priced school meals.

"These tools are the benchmark for future innovation and give schools 21st century resources and strategies to run efficient food service operations, now and into the future," Censky said. "Schools can ensure the proper use of funds for feeding students in need, protecting the taxpayer dollar through high integrity programs."

USDA invites software developers in private industry to join schools in delivering customer service by helping them tailor their own applications.

Today's announcement is the latest in a series of recent USDA actions to expand flexibility and ease challenges for partners and stakeholders who help feed our nation's children. Other actions include:

- Publishing the School Meal Flexibility Rule, which provides local food service professionals the flexibility they need to serve wholesome, nutritious, and tasty meals in schools across the nation.
- Releasing "The Food Buying Guide," a mobile app that puts critical information at the fingertips of food service professionals and makes it easier for them to plan wholesome, nutritious, and tasty school meals.
- Selecting Kansas State University to direct the Center for Food Safety in Child Nutrition Programs , which will help improve food safety across all of USDA's child nutrition programs.
- Inviting the public to submit ideas on food crediting, the system that defines how each food item contributes to meal requirements under the National School Lunch Program and other federal child nutrition programs.

About 100,000 schools and institutions feed 30 million children through the National School Lunch Program and nearly 15 million children through the School Breakfast Program. Many of these children receive their meals at no cost or for a reduced price according to income-based eligibility.

USDA's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) administers 15 nutrition assistance programs, including the National School Lunch and School Breakfast programs, the Child and Adult Care Food Program, the Summer Food Service Program, the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children, and the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, which together comprise America's nutrition safety net.

USDA invites software developers in private industry to join schools in delivering customer service by helping them tailor their own applications.

Today’s announcement is the latest in a series of recent USDA actions to expand flexibility and ease challenges for partners and stakeholders who help feed our nation’s children. Other actions include:

- Publishing the School Meal Flexibility Rule, which provides local food service professionals the flexibility they need to serve wholesome, nutritious, and tasty meals in schools across the nation.

- Releasing “The Food Buying Guide,” a mobile app that puts critical information at the fingertips of food service professionals and makes it easier for them to plan wholesome, nutritious, and tasty school meals.
- Selecting Kansas State University to direct the Center for Food Safety in Child Nutrition Programs , which will help improve food safety across all of USDA’s child nutrition programs.
- Inviting the public to submit ideas on food crediting, the system that defines how each food item contributes to meal requirements under the National School Lunch Program and other federal child nutrition programs.

About 100,000 schools and institutions feed 30 million children through the National School Lunch Program and nearly 15 million children through the School Breakfast Program. Many of these children receive their meals at no cost or for a reduced price according to income-based eligibility.

USDA’s Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) administers 15 nutrition assistance programs, including the National School Lunch and School Breakfast programs, the Child and Adult Care Food Program, the Summer Food Service Program, the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children, and the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, which together comprise America's nutrition safety net.

USDA Announces More Local Control for School Meal Operations

WASHINGTON, March 5, 2018 – U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Deputy Secretary Steve Censky today announced two new efforts to provide states and school districts with additional flexibility and support to operate more efficient school meal programs. Censky made the announcement during a speech at the School Nutrition Association Legislative Action Conference in Washington, D.C.

Child Nutrition Hiring Flexibility Rule

In 2015, USDA established education and training requirements for nutrition professionals as part of the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act of 2010. While this strengthened many school meal programs, some small school districts faced challenges finding qualified applicants to direct their local food service operation. Today's proposal would provide much-needed relief for school districts with less than 2,500 students, allowing them more flexibility in the hiring of new school nutrition program directors.

"Small and rural school districts will no longer have to overlook qualified food service professionals because of one-size-fits-all standards that don't meet their needs," said Censky. "We trust our local partners to hire talented school nutrition program directors who will manage the meal service in a way that protects the health and well-being of students."

USDA is providing a 60-day public comment period and will then develop a final rule that responds to the needs of partners and stakeholders.

Child Nutrition Food Crediting Request for Information

To support states' efforts to improve program integrity, USDA also rolled out a suite of customizable resources to help local school districts improve the accuracy of their school meal application processes. These resources include support for online applications, evidenced-based materials, and best practices to simplify the process for families and ensure that eligible children receive free and reduced-priced meals.

"USDA's goal to do right and feed everyone starts with our children," said Censky. "We are committed to giving states and school districts more tools and options to build a bright, self-sufficient future for America's children through well-managed school meal programs."

As part of this package, USDA is offering guidance to help schools utilize its award-winning, open-source online school meal application model. USDA developed the application with input from local food service professionals. The customer-friendly design of the model is intended to increase the integrity of the application process by reducing common mistakes families make when applying for free or reduced-priced school meals.

"These tools are the benchmark for future innovation and give schools 21st century resources and strategies to run efficient food service operations, now and into the future," Censky said. "Schools can ensure the proper use of funds for feeding students in need, protecting the taxpayer dollar through high integrity programs."

USDA invites software developers in private industry to join schools in delivering customer service by helping them tailor their own applications.

Today's announcement is the latest in a series of recent USDA actions to expand flexibility and ease challenges for partners and stakeholders who help feed our nation's children. Other actions include:

- Publishing the School Meal Flexibility Rule, which provides local food service professionals the flexibility they need to serve wholesome, nutritious, and tasty meals in schools across the nation.
- Releasing "The Food Buying Guide," a mobile app that puts critical information at the fingertips of food service professionals and makes it easier for them to plan wholesome, nutritious, and tasty school meals.
- Selecting Kansas State University to direct the Center for Food Safety in Child Nutrition Programs , which will help improve food safety across all of USDA's child nutrition programs.
- Inviting the public to submit ideas on food crediting, the system that defines how each food item contributes to meal requirements under the National School Lunch Program and other federal child nutrition programs.

About 100,000 schools and institutions feed 30 million children through the National School Lunch Program and nearly 15 million children through the School Breakfast Program. Many of these children receive their meals at no cost or for a reduced price according to income-based eligibility.

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND[®]) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the March Standards Update is posted on the ACEND webpage: Monthly Standards Update. In this issue there is an overview of the Future Education Model Demonstration Program Application Process. There is also a call for applications for the second cohort of demonstration programs.

The ACEND Board has updated the 2017 Accreditation Standards; those changes will become effective July 1, 2018. Among the changes is the requirement that ACEND-required objectives (Standard 3, Required Element 3.3) must be written verbatim and be evaluated annually using an average of data from the previous three years. The revised standards are available at www.eatrightpro.org/2017Standards.

The monthly Virtual Town Hall meetings are held on the third Wednesday of the month at 3 PM Central Time. The town hall provides a time for ACEND to share updates on its standards work and for stakeholders to ask questions. Information on joining the town hall can be found at www.eatrightpro.org/FutureModel.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

Hello, everyone ...

One of the ways that we're able to represent and advocate for our members is through the position of Graduate Student Member on our NDEP Council. Emily Riddle is currently serving in this role, and her term will end on May 31, 2018. It is time for us to determine who will take on the responsibilities of this two-year position starting June 1, 2018, and we'd like to request nominations from you.

Attached is the NDEP Graduate Student Representative position description. This position description has also been posted on in the Library of our NDEP portal. Please take some time to review it, and then let me know if you have someone in mind that you would like us to consider as a candidate. I would like to be able to contact individuals who have been suggested by our NDEP members between now and the beginning of April so that we can determine their interest and eligibility.

Please contact me with the names and contact information of anyone that you have in mind as a candidate for this important position by March 31, 2018. Don't hesitate to let me know if you have any questions at all, and thank you for your assistance in this process.

Best regards,
Pat

Hi,

I'm reaching out to both of you to coordinate a time for you to speak about appointing the new BOD liaison to the Consumer Protection and Licensure Subcommittee. It's my understanding that next Tuesday is a good day for both of you. So I'd like to propose we meet by phone at 10:30 am Central time/11:30 am Eastern time for this brief and important discussion. Let me know if that works and I'll send out an Outlook invitation with the conference call line. I'll also include a list of current BOD liaisons to committees so you can view current commitments. Hopefully this will be the last appointment for this program year.

Thanks,

Marsha

Dear Donna,

Welcome to the Nominating Committee! Your year on the committee promises to be an exciting one as we continue to enhance the nominations and elections processes.

The Nominating Committee will be holding its 2018 Election debriefing call in April and invites you as an incoming committee member to audit the call, as your schedule permits. The date is being determined and will be shared with you once confirmed.

Members of the Nominating Committee meet several times during the Academy's fiscal year, June 1 – May 31. The following committee meetings are planned for the 2018-19 program year.

- Incoming Member Orientation Teleconference:

In May – Date to be determined.

Orientation materials will be sent prior to the call.

- Summer Planning Meeting (held at Headquarters office in Chicago):

The meeting will begin the first day at 3pm for dinner and adjourn the following day by 1pm.

Please click on the following link to participate in a Doodle Poll to select the dates.

<https://doodle.com/poll/vruziafu3yd35rby>

- Interviews at FNCE (Washington, DC):

October 20-21, 2018

* Begin Interview Meeting: Saturday, October 20 at 8:30am (time tentative)

* End Interview Meeting: Sunday, October 21 at 4pm (pending number of interviews)

- Slate Selection Meeting (held at Headquarters office in Chicago):

November 8-9, 2018

The meeting will begin on Thursday, November 8 at 3pm and adjourn the following day by 1pm.

- Approximately four teleconferences throughout the year

The Academy pays for your travel, lodging and per diem for each of the meetings. For travel you are welcome to make flight arrangements on your own or through the Academy's travel management service. More detailed information will be provided during orientation. Joan Schwaba is the staff partner working with the Nominating Committee and can be reached at jschwaba@eatright.org or 800/877-1600, ext. 4798.

Please let me know if you have any questions. I look forward to a great year and a great ballot!

Best regards,

Molly

Advocacy Day Focuses On Treat and Reduce Obesity Act

The Academy, as part of the Obesity Care Advocacy Network, hosted an advocacy day on February 27 to encourage the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives to pass the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, a critical step in addressing the obesity epidemic. The Academy's registered dietitian nutritionists joined patients, surgeons, endocrinologists and obesity care advocates in visiting congressional offices to ask Congress to support this bipartisan legislation that would allow RDNs and other qualified health care practitioners to provide intensive behavioral counseling services for Medicare beneficiaries with obesity and provide access to additional safe and effective pharmacotherapy solutions.

Members who could not join the Academy in Washington, D.C., can still take action by urging their members of Congress to support this bill to improve health care access and reduce health care costs.

Join the Next Farm Bill Monthly Call, March 1

Want to be engaged with the farm bill? The Academy's PIA staff is hosting a monthly call to discuss the latest news from Capitol Hill and share how you can get involved with our advocacy efforts. The next call is scheduled for tomorrow at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time) – save the date! Please RSVP to Nicole Burda, director, legislative and government affairs, if you would like to join the call and stay informed.

Workshop on Diseases with Special Nutritional Requirements

The Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine is holding a two-day workshop on April 2 to 3 to examine special nutritional requirements in disease states and medical conditions, including those with metabolic conditions, burns or surgical trauma, cancer and traumatic brain injury. The free event will be webcast and is open to the public. Register here.

Plan to Attend the Post-FNCE® Public Policy Workshop

For the first time, the Academy's Public Policy Workshop (PPW) will immediately follow FNCE®. PPW at FNCE® 2018 will feature pre-event training webinars, a face-to-face training session on Tuesday, October 23 (after Closing Session), and a visit to Capitol Hill on Wednesday, October 24.

Included in FNCE® 2018 registration, PPW will be an ideal opportunity to advance your advocacy skills and be prepared with key messages to present during visits to the Hill.

What a wonderful opportunity to experience two meetings at one time!

Note: Registration opens May 1. When registering for FNCE®, please indicate that you will also be attending PPW and make sure to extend your hotel stay to a Wednesday departure.

News from the Hill and Beyond

Academy Letter Urges Sufficient Funding for HHS and USDA

The Academy sent a letter to the U.S. House of Representatives and Senate Appropriations chairs and ranking members calling for proportional relief in the for Fiscal Year 2018 and 2019 302(b) allocations that support the agencies and programs of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Each appropriations subcommittee is provided with a certain amount of funding which is referred to as 302(b) allocations. The 302(b) allocations establish a cap of the spending level for each funding bill. In past years the subcommittees with jurisdiction over funding for USDA and HHS did not receive commensurate relief after budget deals. The most recent bipartisan budget deal offers the opportunity to provide additional funding for important federal nutrition and public health programs, and the Academy has urged Congress to provide at least proportional relief to support nutrition and public health programs.

Academy to Submit Topics and Questions to Guide Development of Dietary Guidelines

The U.S. Department of Agriculture and U.S. Department of Health and Human Services announced that, for the first time, they will seek public comments on proposed priority topics and supporting scientific questions that will guide the development of the 2020-2025 Dietary Guidelines for Americans. The public comment period runs from February 28 to March 30. Proposed topics are based on relevance, importance, potential federal impact and avoiding duplication. The Academy will submit public comments. Members are encouraged to work with policy and advocacy leaders in your dietetic practice groups to provide input regarding USDA's and HHS's topic areas in advance of the March 30 deadline.

Academy Supports Funding for Indian Health Service

The Academy joined partner organizations to support funding for Indian Health Service in the final Fiscal Year 2018 Interior Appropriations bill. The IHS improves access to health care for American Indians and Alaska Natives, and the IHS Nutrition Program works to improve the population's health with nutrition related diseases. The Academy's key tenets for health care include access to quality health care for all Americans, sufficient resources to be available to ensure optimal health and stable, sufficient and reliable funding for our health care system.

Action Alerts

Action Required: Farm Bill and Treat and Reduce Obesity Act

There are two action alerts now open:

- Farm Bill: Congress is currently working on the 2018 farm bill, which is the primary legislation that authorizes many of our nation's food and nutrition programs. The farm bill includes nutrition assistance programs that help people access nutritious food; nutrition education programs that empower people to make lasting, healthy choices; and nutrition research that addresses the nutrition-related health concerns we face as a nation. We are asking Academy members to take action and urge Congress to support the important nutrition programs in the farm bill that contribute to the health of all, especially those most susceptible to experiencing insecurity. Learn more about the Academy's farm bill priorities here.
- Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, H.R. 1953/S.830: According to IHS Markit's whitepaper, a newly validated microsimulation model predicts that increasing Medicare beneficiaries' utilization of these clinically effective obesity treatments could save Medicare $19 to $21 billion over the next 10 years. Also, the CDC has estimated that one-third of U.S. adults have obesity. These stunning statistics are another reminder of the importance of intervention and counseling from RDNs. There are several ways you can get involved. The Academy encourages you to contact your Senators and Representative today and ask them to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, a bill which will help address the obesity epidemic by providing better treatment options from health professional such as RDNs.

Take Action!

Cut and past the following message and post to your communication platforms.

(PPCs/PALs, Please Post this Message to Your Communication Channels)

Important Congressional Issues Require Your Action!

•As a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, please urge your policymakers to support legislation that protects and values nutrition programs in the farm bill and nutrition services in areas of prevention and treatment, including treatment and reduction of obesity and diabetes prevention. It is important for members of Congress to hear from their constituency. As vital decisions are made regarding health care in the upcoming weeks, the voice of every member is critical. Take action today!

Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025, Call for Experts

Experts needed! The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee. Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

“Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma to learn more.

Hi, Donna: Attached is our draft of your post for Feeding America's blog. Nicole Burda in the DC office was very helpful in providing information on SNAP and the other programs mentioned, and she has reviewed and OK'd this text. Could you please review this and let us know if it is OK, or if you would like us to make any edits? We can make any changes you'd like, but the net length of the article can't increase (we're at the 500-word limit already).

Thank you very much!

Ndep Central Region
Spring Meeting
St. Louis, Missouri
Date: April 19th and 20th, 2018
Clayton Plaza Hotel
7750 Carondelet Avenue, Clayton, MO 63105

DON'T MISS OUT on Early Bird Pricing!

Register for the NDEP Central Region Spring Meeting by Friday, March 2nd to save $30.00. April weather is lovely and selection/matching is complete, so join us in St. Louis for the FINAL 2018 NDEP Spring Meeting. This is an exciting and informative conference for both educators and preceptors. In addition to the ever popular NDEP updates and networking opportunities, this year's meeting has some very unique and relevant presentation topics:

- Allison Steiber, PhD, RDN, will present on "Simulation Opportunities in DPD/DI/ISPP Programs".

Dr. Steiber will be introducing the new Eatright PRO Simulation Series: PEDRO. She will describe the development and structure of the first Eatright PRO Simulation, review the ACEND competencies achieved through the use of the PEDRO simulation, demonstrate the use of PEDRO and its user guides, and discuss ways in which to incorporate PEDRO into dietetic education.

- Amy Knoblock-Hahn, PhD, RD will present on "Development of a Sustainable, Resilient, and Healthy Food and Water Systems for Dietetics Education (SRHFWS)".

Dr. Knoblock-Hahn will introduce the new toolkit from the Academy Foundation, which is free to educators, that you can use to help provide SRHFWS education in your programs. She will identify and describe the four foundational components of sustainable, resilient, and healthy food and water systems (SRHFWS), describe perceived gaps in entry level RDN competencies in SRHFWS and explain ways to apply student activities from each of seven different components of the food system to meet SRHFWS competencies as required by ACEND.

- Dena French, EdD, RDN, LD will present on “Failure to Fail in Dietetics Education”.

Dr. French will present her recent research. Failure to fail occurs when educators pass students who are unsuitable for future professional practice. Literature suggests the phenomenon exists in various professional training programs, yet this was the first known research focused solely on dietetics education. After this presentation, you will be able to describe the issue of failure to fail, including contributing factors and implications for dietetics practice and examine personal, programmatic, and institutional policies and practices that may influence failure to fail.

There will also be several terrific Best Practice sessions on service learning experiences, using music and popular songs for learning, updating the internship process with technology and innovation, and Neehr Perfect, a web-based clinical simulation program.

To keep the meeting reasonably priced the heartland is the place to be. The centrally-located Clayton Plaza Hotel has double rooms at $125/night, FREE airport shuttle, FREE full hot breakfast for hotel guests, FREE WIFI in rooms and conference area, FREE gym and heated pool, and there is FREE garage parking to all conference attendees. Plus the metro station is a 4 block walk and there's lots of neighborhood restaurants and shopping!

Friendly reminders:

1. The early bird rate ends March 2nd, 2018. To register:
<https://ams.eatright.org/eweb/StartPage.aspx?Site=ACAD2014>
2. Videos for the CFP/ACEND/CDR and BOD HAVE BEEN POSTED to the PSU websites and the NDEP portal.
3. Lastly, don't forget to nominate a fantastic preceptor before March 2nd!

Hi Donna,

Yes, I will add this and the Culinary Institute of America's 6th Annual Leadership Summit to the President's calendar. The NC Selections meeting is set for November 8-9 in Chicago and a Doodle poll will be sent this week to select the dates for the summer planning meeting. Two other dates TBD are for the debriefing call (optional for you) and the orientation call. Molly Gee, our NC chair for next year, is the caregiver for her dad who is ill; she is in the process of looking at her calendar to schedule some dates and we hope to get some options out soon.

Looking forward to having you on NC!!

Hello to two of my favorite women and happy Friday!

Hope this finds you both well. As you know, ASAP is hosting the Healthy Eating in Practice conference this Aug. (in partnership with the Duke University World Food Policy Center and UNC Chapel Hill Center for Health Promotion and Disease Prevention) and we are lining up speakers and of course! your names came up.

We want to provide an exemplary school lunch (like one from Burke County, GA) for our participants and then provide info about typical school lunches and help them understand "how school food works" (basically how the funding works). We thought combining the wisdom of you both would make for a dynamic duo! What do you think? It will be Aug. 26-29 and we can follow up with more details if you're interested in presenting. And FYI...Dianne Ward, with GO NAPSACC, will be doing something similar the next day, as attendees will be served family-style, highlighting a best practice in early care and education.

Thanks for considering and hopefully we'll be able to add you to our list of speakers.

Best,

Subject: The Culinary Institute of America Menus of Change invitation

Donna,

The Culinary Institute of America's 6th Annual Leadership Summit, Menus of Change: The Business of Healthy, Sustainable, Delicious Food Choices, is June 19 – 21, 2018. I am writing you asking if you would be a panelist on June 21st.

A bit of background: I am chair of the CIA's Healthy Kids Collaborative (HKC), a national initiative to advance culinary-driven, healthy, flavorful foods for kids. Members of the HKC are school nutrition operators and influencers. You can find more information at <http://www.ciahealthykids.com/>

The Menus of Change Leadership Summit has invited the Healthy Kids Collaborative to lead a panel discussion with panelists who are transforming school nutrition. Of course, you were the first person I thought of for this exciting opportunity. I know that your schedule is extremely tight but am hoping that you can find time to be the school nutrition leader amongst leaders from other foodservice segments.

One of the four themes of the Menus of Change summit is "integrated organizational change" (more info on the website here.) We would like you to participate in a panel discussion that highlights operators who are innovators and segment leaders with discussion on how you are achieving results. The session is from 8:40-10 AM, but the first half is from segment leaders in healthcare, and the second half is segment leaders from K-12. Your portion is 40 minutes and is framed as: "K-12 Roundtable: Insights from Segment Leaders. Case studies of transformation in K-12 school food." We hope to have 3 panelists.

The CIA would cover your travel and you would be welcome to attend all 3 days of the conference.

Donna, you are doing so many wonderful things in your district and are a true leader in the transformation of school nutrition. It would be great for you to show other segments of the foodservice industry the wonderful things happening in schools. If you could let me know by next Friday, March 2, I would be grateful.

THANKS. Hope you are well. Please call if you would like to discuss.

Cathy

Malnutrition Fellowship Opportunities

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation is pleased to announce that it is now accepting applications for its PNPG Pediatric Malnutrition Fellowship and CDR Adult Malnutrition Fellowship.

These opportunities, available through generous donations to the Foundation by the Pediatric Nutrition Practice Group (PNPG) and the Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR), will fund two RDNs to participate full-time on a project in collaboration with the Academics Research, International, and Scientific Affairs (RISA) team to validate the Malnutrition Clinical Characteristics for pediatric and adult acute care inpatients and develop a gold standard for inpatient dietitian staffing.

Applications are due on Thursday, March 15, 2018 by 11:59 pm CT. These unique opportunities begin in late April 2018. For more details and application information, please click here for the PNPG Pediatric Malnutrition Fellowship and here for the CDR Adult Malnutrition Fellowship.

Dear NDEP Members,

The Informatics in Dietetics Education Webinar is this Thursday! Register today!

The NDEP Professional Development Committee is hosting a complimentary webinar titled: “Informatics in Dietetic Education: Fear not, help is on the way!” Webinar! Nutrition Informatics is embedded in every registered dietitian nutritionists’ job, but most educators do not realize what this phrase means. The reason: most students were not taught informatics as a course or maybe the terminology was not part of their educational experience. This Webinar will review the past, present and future of Nutrition Informatics as well help you identify new pathways for incorporating informatics into your educational programs including class assignments, research projects and more. Plus you will learn about what resources are available for educators to increase your own informatics knowledge and skills for the classroom.

Learning objectives for this webinar:

1. Review the past, present and future of informatics
2. Identify new pathways for incorporating informatics into their dietetics educational programs
3. Provide Academy and other resources for educators to help increase informatics knowledge and skills in their classroom.

Participants will receive 1 CEU. Registration is required to attend the webinar.

Date: Thursday, March 1, 2018 from 11:00 am – 12:00 pm CT.

To register, click here:

Jen, Thank you so much for reaching out to me about your efforts to form a global malnutrition group. As you know not only is going "global" one of our second century initiatives, but malnutrition is also something we are putting a good deal of emphasis on with our membership. I am copying Pat Babjak (Academy CEO) and Mary Beth Whalen (Academy COO and head of the Foundation) on this email as they would be the most appropriate ones for you to connect with. I would love to meet with you, but I think you could get the most bang for your buck meeting with the people who can move your initiatives forward. I certainly think you are on the right track and we would welcome your help and support with both these initiatives. I look forward to hearing what comes out of your passion.

Hi Donna -

My name is Jen Brewer, and I have been an active academy member for over two decades. I have loved what the academy has done for dietitians in many of the different areas of nutrition, and I thank you so much for your leadership of this great organization as we march into the second century.

I am writing to request a meeting with you, at your convenience. I have been working with Gene White, the founder and past president of the Global Child Nutrition Foundation (she spoke at FNCE last year) on some different issues related to international childhood malnutrition.

A growing group of us are in the process right now of forming a Member Interest Group to help dietitians who wish to become involved get connected with the vast opportunities that are all over the world. Our goal is to be a valuable resource to both the academy and it's members in linking opportunities to serve, educate, and conduct research, with dietitians who have a passion for this work, but don't currently know how to get involved.

As we work to form this group, we have been working with some of the academy staff who are over the international realm of the academy, Nickki Brown, Amy Biedenharn, and Carrie Kiley. They have been great help in getting the MIG formation and helping us with some of the logistics.

We would also like to reach out and meet with you to discuss a full partnership with the Academy and share our vision of this realm, and how we feel like we could be a great asset to the academy, perhaps as more than a member interest group.

Is there a time in the next couple of month that you would have a moment to meet with us? We are happy to come to Georgia or Chicago for this meeting, whichever would be the most convenient for you.

Thank you so much for your time and consideration in this matter. I hope you have a wonderful week ahead!

Hi, Donna: Thanks very much for talking a little while ago about your upcoming speeches and the blog post. We are getting started on them!

I mentioned that we developed a presentation on leadership, using Academy materials, that Lucille gave last year, and we also updated it for Michele Lites to give earlier this year -- that version of the presentation is attached. Please let us know if you would like to use any of this PPT for Idaho, and we will also check with Diane about similar information directly related to networking.

Thanks very much!

Hi, Donna: I'll call you in a few minutes. In advance of our call, we have been asked if you would like to be the guest author for a blog posting on Feeding America's site hungerandhealth.org. The email came to Nicci Brown, who forwarded it to us. Information on the request is below, and we would be glad to draft the text and send it to you for review. We can discuss further on the phone...?

Thank you!

Tom

Good morning! I hope this finds you well. My colleague Christine recommended I reach out to you.

March is National Nutrition Month—the perfect opportunity for us to educate Americans about how important good nutrition is for people facing hunger and those supporting them, and to reinforce the belief that good health starts with good food. To that end, we would like to invite you or a colleague from the Academy to author a blog post for Feeding America's hunger- and health-focused website.

The website's blog serves as a peer-sharing platform comprised of submissions from individuals and organizations engaged in addressing food insecurity while promoting health. For additional context on the website's mission and target audiences, I have provided details at the bottom of this email. Specific to this blog post invitation, I believe our audience would benefit from learning about nutrition strategies, including recipes, budgeting and/or other resources to promote healthy lifestyle choices. Knowing that the site has a wide target audience, this post could focus on the collective impact for sharing why nutrition is important for individuals and professionals alike.

If this is of interest, please let me know. We would look to publish the 500-word post on March 6, 2018 (or before if available) and I am happy to check-in the week prior to provide additional support. Here you can read through the online submission form.

I look forward to answering any questions that you may have,

Traci

2211. Nominate an Outstanding Preceptor Today! Nominations due Friday!

Subject: Nominate an Outstanding Preceptor Today! Nominations due Friday!
Attachment: unknown_name_e7nm4

Dear NDEP Members –

Do you know of a deserving preceptor that goes above and beyond your expectations with each student/intern they work with? Someone who somehow finds the time in their busy schedule to continually mentor new students/interns? Someone your students/interns continually praise for their exceptional talents? If so, perhaps you should consider nominating them for NDEP's annual Outstanding Preceptor Award for 2018.

The purpose of the Outstanding Preceptor Award (OPA) is to recognize the exceptional teaching, mentoring, and leadership activities of preceptors in ACEND-accredited dietetics education programs. Active NDEP Council members and previous OPA winners are not eligible for this award.

In addition to publishing the list of outstanding preceptors in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and NDEP-Line, each awardee will receive $1,000 to attend the 2018 Food and Nutrition Conference and Expo in Washington, DC (supported by the Academy's Foundation), one (1) year membership in NDEP (June 1, 2018-May 31, 2019), and a certificate and congratulatory letter from the Academy President. Awards will be presented during the member showcase and during an NDEP-sponsored event.

Criteria:

- Nominees must be a current member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, but are not required to be a NDEP member for consideration for this award.

- Preceptor in an ACEND-accredited supervised practice program (CP, DI, DT or ISPP).

Preceptors do NOT need to reside in the same Area as the Program Director and/or students/interns in order to be nominated.

Program Directors and educators are not eligible as there is a separate award for Outstanding Educators.

Submission and Selection Procedure:

Nominations will be accepted via this survey link:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/PreceptorAwardNomination>

Nominations will be collected using an online entry system (Survey Monkey), which will close at 5 pm CST on March 2, 2018.

Nomination applications should be submitted by the Program Director of the program the preceptor is a part of and consist of a completed online entry, which includes two separate focused statements of support (one from peers, program directors, or faculty AND one from students/interns). Incomplete applications and additional materials beyond the online entry will not be reviewed.

Nominations will be evaluated upon the exemplary accomplishments of preceptors above what would be considered core preceptor responsibilities based upon the following key areas:

- 1. Teaching, which should showcase innovative teaching skills and techniques to facilitate student/intern learning.
- 2. Mentoring, which should include those behaviors that elevate student learning and level of practice above routine preceptor responsibilities.
- 3. Excellence in Professional Practice, which should include participation beyond membership in local, state, or national organizations, community organizations, workplace committees, public policy, etc.

The NDEP Preceptor Director and Preceptor Committee will receive, review, and select the winner from the eligible nominations after the survey has been closed. The committee will select no more than one preceptor from each of the six regions. There is a maximum of six awards per year.

Questions about the submission process or selection procedure should be directed to NDEP at ndep@eatright.org. Attached is a sample of the survey monkey to be used for a nomination.

Hi Donna,

Hope you are doing well...hard to believe 2018 is moving along SO FAST!

I am writing to ask you to moderate my FNCE session this year, which I am co-presenting with Clancy Harrison about the TEDx speaking experience.

Our talk is titled: The Journey to TEDx: From Expert Speaker to Inspirational Thought Leader and we are scheduled on Tuesday morning at 8 am.

We thought you'd be an awesome moderator for us because you work with children, have been politically active, and are a thought leader yourself!

Clancy and I both believe that RDNs need to transition into thought leadership roles and speaking is a way to do just that. Getting on the TEDx stage is challenging as it combines expertise with inspirational story-telling, and an "idea worth spreading." We want to inspire more RDNs to think like thought leaders and spread their messages widely.

We hope you are free and able to moderate our session!

All the best,

Jill

Tom, Here is the information on the Idaho talk. I have started a presentation, but it could use some work. I am attaching it. Below is what they told me they wanted me to talk on. I am available Monday anytime after about 9 am to talk. Just give me a time.

We have you down from 9:00-10:00 as the opening session for Friday. We would love to hear about your career in school food service, and how you successfully built relationships over the years. How do you address the changing role of the Dietitian in today's marketplace and how do you believe relationship-building plays an integral role in where your career can take you? We would love for RDN's to be able to take away from your presentation tidbits/advice to help them advance in their own careers. Does this sound like a topic that you would be willing to cover? As we have mentioned before, we would love for presentations to be interactive, fun and focus on telling stories.

I can't stress enough that the planning committee expects you to offer more than a Power Point presentation. We want you to focus more on facilitating discussion and opportunities for interaction rather than lecturing to the audience. The conference theme is, "Building Bridges: Celebrating 70 Years of the Idaho Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics"--this year's event is a celebration! We're hopeful sessions will be lively and engaging.

Tom, Here is the information on the Idaho talk. I have started a presentation, but it could use some work. I am attaching it. Below is what they told me they wanted me to talk on. I am available Monday anytime after about 9 am to talk. Just give me a time.

We have you down from 9:00-10:00 as the opening session for Friday. We would love to hear about your career in school food service, and how you successfully built relationships over the years. How do you address the changing role of the Dietitian in today's marketplace and how do you believe relationship-building plays an integral role in where your career can take you? We would love for RDN's to be able to take away from your presentation tidbits/advice to help them advance in their own careers. Does this sound like a topic that you would be willing to cover? As we have mentioned before, we would love for presentations to be interactive, fun and focus on telling stories.

I can't stress enough that the planning committee expects you to offer more than a Power Point presentation. We want you to focus more on facilitating discussion and opportunities for interaction rather than lecturing to the audience. The conference theme is, "Building Bridges: Celebrating 70 Years of the Idaho Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics"--this year's event is a celebration! We're hopeful sessions will be lively and engaging.

Hi, Donna:

We will be glad to help with the presentations Joan refers to below. We're following up ask if you can provide us with some needed information, including the length of the presentations, contact information for the two meetings' organizers, and if there is anything regarding school nutrition you would especially like to address (in addition to the topics you mentioned to Joan). For the Idaho talk, are there aspects of networking that you would like to focus on?

Could you please let us know, either by email or if you have time on Monday for a brief phone conversation to discuss these talks? We would only need a few minutes of your time, thank you very much!

I spoke with Donna and she is good with her commencement speech for Emory and doesn't need assistance. However, she did ask for the Strategic Communications Team's help with a talk she is doing at the Idaho affiliate on networking (April 18-20) and another on school nutrition, e.g., our legislative efforts, school modernization project, alliance with SNA, Academy publications, DPG activities for a talk at the Alabama School Nutrition Association (March 14-17).

I would appreciate if you could please reach out to Donna.

First I want to say thank you for nice thoughts. Much appreciated.

When I agreed to serving on ANDPAC I had no idea of the policy of staff not able to serve for five years. I will say I felt bad since I had been a volunteer my whole career committed to our profession.

But my issue was broader. It is not about me but rather some of our wonderful younger staff who have left in good standing. I hate to lose their leadership for five years!

I declined a one year appointment out of respect for the existing policy. A few weeks later when the offer came for a three year appointment, I gave it serious consideration. However I realized it had been quite a roller coaster for me where I questioned my value to my profession. Also during this time Mark's cousin in Michigan passed away suddenly leaving him with a lot of work with the estate. I decided that it would be better to select another member for the appointment.

I appreciate each of you for your leadership to clearly clarify the policy. This would avoid any issue. Kudos and thank you!

I do remain committed to continue to promote our profession in my other volunteer work. And I remain a friend to you all.

I wish you the best for a great meeting this week. And if I can help in any way, let me know.

Thank you all again!

Mary Pat

Donna,

Thank you. I will update our state office, copied on this message, that you will not need a room.

The Alabama Dietetic Association intended to coordinate with the Alabama School Nutrition Association. Our intent was to have you present 2:15 pm-3:15 pm Friday, March 16, at the Birmingham Convention Center, with a closing general session to reflect on the future of the Academy. You would then present to School Nutrition the next morning, March 17. The dietitians, school nutrition, and dietary managers all meet the same week.

I've attached our working agenda. We will send you the final agenda with speakers' finalized session titles and credentials.

Best regards,
Suzanne Henson

Susan, You are correct that I did not need a hotel room. I will stay with my son. The issue was that I did not know when I was speaking or if I was really on the agenda. I am thrilled to speak and am looking forward to it. If you can just send me information on where the conference will be held, etc. Thanks.

Subject: Member participation concern

Donna and Pat,

I am sending this email as an Academy member and not on behalf of the ANDPAC Board.

I am extremely concerned over what transpired concerning the appointment and subsequent removal of Mary Pat Raimondi to the ANDPAC Board of Directors. This incident has been poorly handled by the "leadership", demonstrating a lack of transparency and absence of communication among organizational units.

Who created the policy that was "discovered"; when was it written and reviewed; what approval process vetted it? It is ludicrous that the Academy victimizes employees who leave Academy employment in good standing with a five year ban on their participation in Academy organizational units. What a loss to the Academy! Five years is plenty of time for them to find another organizational "home" with which to share their talents. These people are members who deserve the privileges of membership!!!!

I am also concerned that the "leadership" did not work with the PAC Board leadership when this policy became known. The Academy Board closed its ranks and made decisions behind closed doors with no communication with the ANDPAC Board until the Academy Board made its own decisions and "informed" the ANDPAC Board what had transpired and what was decided on the PAC Board's behalf. As usual, the Academy Board followed a knee-jerk reaction instead of being inclusive of the parties involved.

I request that the Academy Board of Directors seriously review this alleged policy very closely. I suspect you can come up with a lot of reasons for restricting former employees from participation as members of the Academy but I beseech you to think of the good of the Academy and all its members versus concern over "how does it look if past employees move to leadership positions in the organization?" What it would look like to me is that the Academy is maximizing the talents of members who were former employees who are an excellent source of leadership and knowledge about the Academy.

Let's learn from this debacle and move forward to strengthen the Academy.

Sincerely,

Trisha Fuhrman, Academy Member #706950

Hi, Donna:

We will be glad to help with the presentations Joan refers to below. We're following up ask if you can provide us with some needed information, including the length of the presentations, contact information for the two meetings' organizers, and if there is anything regarding school nutrition you would especially like to address (in addition to the topics you mentioned to Joan). For the Idaho talk, are there aspects of networking that you would like to focus on?

Could you please let us know, either by email or if you have time on Monday for a brief phone conversation to discuss these talks? We would only need a few minutes of your time, thank you very much!

I would appreciate if you could please reach out to Donna.

Joan,

I just received a call from Margaret Garner, and I believe there has been a misunderstanding regarding Donna Martin's March presentation to Alabama dietitians and school nutrition professionals, which I wanted to clarify.

The Alabama Dietetic Association intended to coordinate with the Alabama School Nutrition Association (Ashley Powell's organization, referenced below). Our intent was to have Ms. Martin present 2:15 pm-3:15 pm Friday, March 16, at the Birmingham Convention Center, with a closing general session to reflect on where the Academy is going. She would then present to School Nutrition the next morning, March 17.

As her son lives in Birmingham and she stays with him, our associations did not think she needed a hotel room, but we are certainly happy to provide a room if needed.

I apologize for any misunderstanding. We are grateful for Ms. Martin's time and will do whatever needed to make her time with us worthwhile and enjoyable.

Best regards,

Suzanne Henson

I will place the meeting on Donna Martin's calendar. Please know according to policy the expenses of Academy representatives asked to attend meetings and events at the invitation of other organizations will be reimbursed by that organization, whenever possible. Since Donna resides in Georgia the expenses should be minimal. Is this acceptable by your organization?

Executive Session

[Donna – Once in executive session, please ask for a motion to move into and out of executive session. Please record the time executive session began and ended.]

Board Meeting Starts

· Good morning everyone! I hope you enjoyed dinner last night.

At your seats you have a copy of the November/December issue of Association Forum, a publication for association professionals. The Academy is front center in an article on Civility on page 6, with an interview with Pat and our Creative Media Director Liz Spittler. I especially like the reference to our “forward looking” association in the first paragraph!

· Certainly professional civility is of utmost importance when it comes to GMOs, which we will now cover in our next agenda item 12.0.

Agenda Item 12.0 – GMO Task Force

· At our September meeting I shared with you that I received a memo from the GMO Task Force, made up of members from the Academy Positions Committee and the Evidenced Based Practice Committee. Kevin Sauer sits on this task force as part of the Evidence Based Practice Committee.

- I notified the chair, Lisa Maloney, that we would place the topic on our February Board meeting agenda to allow for face-to-face dialogue and meaningful discussion on this subject. I also asked that the task force share the recommendation with the Council on Research for review.
- The expected outcome on the agenda item summary should have stated the Board accepts the report submitted by the task force. You have a copy the definitions at your seats.
- As we all know, GMO continues to be a hotly debated issue.
- The Foundation conducted a survey with Academy members in 2014 to establish baseline data regarding members' perceptions / awareness of GMOs. The survey reveals that our members are equally divided on this issue.
- About three in ten of the respondents believe GM foods pose a significant health risk; a roughly equal number do not believe GM foods pose a health risk; and 40 percent are unsure or they just don't know.
- Among the most important statements related to GM foods, respondents showed the strongest agreement with "I would like to learn more about GM foods and the topics surrounding them," "It should be a priority for the Academy to research and report findings about GM foods to its members" and "The risks are not yet fully identified."
- I have asked Pat to again field the Foundation survey, specifically the GMO-related questions, so that we can gage where our members are today.
- In addition to the follow-up survey, we can also field a Member Engagement Zone question on the topic.
- Lucille, Mary and I propose that this may be a great opportunity for the House this Fall to have a well-designed presentation with a panel of experts to answer questions and talk about the current GMO research. The presentation will be educational and will not undermine the expert panel.

- We will open this up for Board discussion after we hear from Kevin and Lisa regarding the GMO task force report.
- Before we begin, do I hear any declarations of Conflict of Interest?
- Now, I will turn it over to Kevin and Lisa ...

[After GMO task force report]

- Thank you Kevin and Lisa, and a special thanks to the task force for their hard work.

[Action Item]: The Board accept the GMO Task Force/Council on Research report.]

[Open it up for Discussion]: Now, I will open up the discussion for any comments, ideas, and questions on developing a professional and productive GMO presentation to the HOD this Fall, fielding a follow up Foundation survey and also getting members feedback on the topic via the Member Engagement Zone.

Hi Donna,

Thanksgiving was great and a nice break! Hope yours was as well.

Thank you for checking in with me about this. We have you scheduled to speak from 1:30-2:30pm on Friday, April 6th right after lunch. We thought you'd be an energetic speaker for this time slot and I think this also works with your need to join the board meeting you mentioned that afternoon.

We always extend the invitation to Academy presidents to come in the night before the talk or stay the night following the talk (whichever works best for you). If you come in Thursday night (4/5), we'd love to take you to a nice dinner. If you come in Friday morning and stay through Friday night (4/6), we have our foundation fundraiser event that would be great to have you attend. That being said, it's up to you when you'd like to come in and what works best with your travel schedule.

We're very much looking forward to having you at our Annual Meeting! Please let me know how I can help coordinate your travel arrangements.

Thank you!

Hello Donna, Mary and Lucille,

I am reaching out today to ask for your judging assistance in the 2018 RDN Day Contest. We have narrowed it down to the top three entries from Academy members answering the question “How do you help your patients or clients go further with food?”

When you have time today, please read through the three finalists below and send me back your one favorite. I know you are all extremely busy, but if you can get this back to me by EOD Monday, February 26, I would really appreciate it. We're on the clock to pick a winner and get the photo shoot done in time for RDN Day on March 14. Thank you!

“How do you help your patients or clients go further with food?”

1. Every day in our cafeterias, we teach kids to respond to their own hunger cues by self-selecting their own school meals—food is offered vs. served and menued in right-sized portions to minimize food waste. Share tables are used to encourage whole fruits, unopened milks, and unopened packaged items to be shared with other students who may still be hungry. Lastly, food waste unsuitable for human consumption is put in animal waste recycling buckets and picked up by a local pig farmer to ensure that food waste entering landfills is minimized. Our students know how to go further with food!

2. As a Registered Dietitian Nutritionist for a school district, I help our students go further with food by laying the foundation for good nutrition. This foundation not only provides the fuel to grow, but to learn, as well. By making food fun through educational lessons, special menu days and eye-catching posters, we foster an appreciation for good, wholesome food. As children grow into young adults, my hope is that what we teach and provide our students will allow them to make informed decisions once they head out into the world on their own.

3. Eating is universal – it unites us. Regardless of ethnicity, religion, or social class, we can all agree that a delicious and rejuvenating meal brings the purest joy in life. My dedication to nutrition is rooted in my love for food. I am committed to making sustainable, health-supportive, and delicious food accessible to our global community. I encourage my clients to be adventurous and mindful eaters by teaching them how to shop for budget-friendly, seasonal foods and cook nutritious and zesty recipes. I create culturally-rich nutrition programs that empower communities to reduce food waste and improve global food security.

Sincerely,

Rhys Saunders

Academy Asks Congress: Fully Fund Food Insecurity and Nutrition Incentive Program

The Academy joined partner organizations in sending a letter to the chairs and ranking members of the U.S. House and Senate Agriculture Committees urging them to fully fund the Food Insecurity and Nutrition Incentive Program in the upcoming Farm Bill. Created in the 2014 Farm Bill, FINI provides financial incentives for families participating in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program to purchase fruits and vegetables, improving access and affordability of healthy food. The letter calls for renaming FINI after Gus Schumacher, the farm-to-market advocate who created the program, and also served on the Academy Foundation's Board of Directors. The letter aligns with the Academy's priorities to maintain funding for FINI in the 2018 Farm Bill; the president's Fiscal Year 2019 budget proposes eliminating FINI.

Academy Engages USDA: Food Crediting in Child Nutrition Programs

The Academy last week answered a series of questions the United States Department of Agriculture posed regarding how and whether to credit various foods in school meals and other child nutrition programs. The Academy's answers emphasize our support for strong standards, recognizing the importance of nutrition education and offering colorful, appealing and nutritious meals to children, and focusing on whole foods over macro and micronutrients. Answers were formulated from input provided by member experts and dietetic practice groups including School Nutrition Services, Public Health and Community Nutrition and Pediatric Nutrition.

Subject: RDN Day Contest - Judging Assistance Please

Hello Donna, Mary and Lucille,

I am reaching out today to ask for your judging assistance in the 2018 RDN Day Contest. We have narrowed it down to the top three entries from Academy members answering the question "How do you help your patients or clients go further with food?"

When you have time today, please read through the three finalists below and send me back your one favorite. I know you are all extremely busy, but if you can get this back to me by EOD Monday, February 26, I would really appreciate it. We're on the clock to pick a winner and get the photo shoot done in time for RDN Day on March 14. Thank you!

"How do you help your patients or clients go further with food?"

1. Every day in our cafeterias, we teach kids to respond to their own hunger cues by self-selecting their own school meals—food is offered vs. served and menued in right-sized portions to minimize food waste. Share tables are used to encourage whole fruits, unopened milks, and unopened packaged items to be shared with other students who may still be hungry. Lastly, food waste unsuitable for human consumption is put in animal waste recycling buckets and picked up by a local pig farmer to ensure that food waste entering landfills is minimized. Our students know how to go further with food!

2. As a Registered Dietitian Nutritionist for a school district, I help our students go further with food by laying the foundation for good nutrition. This foundation not only provides the fuel to grow, but to learn, as well. By making food fun through educational lessons, special menu days and eye-catching posters, we foster an appreciation for good, wholesome food. As children grow into young adults, my hope is that what we teach and provide our students will allow them to make informed decisions once they head out into the world on their own.

3. Eating is universal – it unites us. Regardless of ethnicity, religion, or social class, we can all agree that a delicious and rejuvenating meal brings the purest joy in life. My dedication to nutrition is rooted in my love for food. I am committed to making sustainable, health-supportive, and delicious food accessible to our global community. I encourage my clients to be adventurous and mindful eaters by teaching them how to shop for budget-friendly, seasonal foods and cook nutritious and zesty recipes. I create culturally-rich nutrition programs that empower communities to reduce food waste and improve global food security.

Sincerely,

Rhys Saunders

Donna,

I recently read, and thoroughly enjoyed your article on agriculture in the latest Journal issue.

My husband and I are cotton and grain farmers, and raise a small herd of Angus cattle. We are actively involved in promoting agriculture through Texas Farm Bureau, and I have been blessed to use my platform as a registered dietitian nutritionist to help educate others on where their food comes from and how we make it safe.

In your article you mentioned the Foundation's RD Farmer and Agriculture Committee of Experts group. I felt inclined to reach out to you for more information on this group. I would love to be involved in their effort to educate the public on the food to fork initiatives you wrote about, or at the minimum see if the educational materials that they have developed is available for use by members in our local areas. Are their resources available online, or is it appropriate for me to ask for Amy Miller's contact information?

I appreciate your time,

Amy

Subject: Licensure

Mail 2017-2018 HOD - Licensure View Post Message I am bringing up a potentially touchy subject. I have been a proponent of licensure, I believe the intent is perfect and have had long discussions with various leaders about the importance of licensure over the years. I still believe that the public, and for that matter many RDN's, let alone healthcare providers from other areas don't get licensure for the nutrition professional, meaning they either are knowledgeable of the RDN or don't know and don't care. Especially since there is such discrepancy between states. In Florida there are currently quite a few hits being thrown at the licensure laws. I believe in evidence based practice, and I recognize there are some areas that we don't have strong evidence. I bring these things up because at the WM DPG EC meeting, I was asked about any discussions since the recent very public giving up her license by a RDN in Minnesota. I didn't have a clue! I've since looked at Facebook Cassie.net and Cassie.net. I've listened to newscasters and read articles, as we all have, about other members who seem to bash our profession over the years, all while touting their RD status. I would love to have some conversations here. The Academy has made tremendous changes over the years, for example in sponsorship, that may better align with the members as a whole. We have DIFM- this was a taboo area a decade ago for many RD's! I know we're not going to please all people, but these types of events give credence to the same people who do want to take our practice and our profession without the degree or knowledge. How do we get the naysayers to the table? How do we hear their points, and help them hear ours, and come to some middle ground? I do not know the specifics about this Minnesota RDN, nothing I saw looked particularly harmful, not fully my beliefs though. She seems to have a knack for communication that the typical public likes as evidence by the plethora of "weight loss experts" out there! Perhaps some things have already happened, I just don't know.

Hi Jeanne,

Stef and I thought it would be a good idea to send a letter to House and Senate Appropriations chairs and ranking members regarding calling for proportional relief in the 302(b) allocation for FY 2019 that support the programs and agencies of HHS and USDA. I often hear from appropriators that they aren't able to provide increases for our programs because their subcommittee allocation was too small. Therefore it can be incredibly helpful to show them that we have been strong advocates for calling for more money for their subcommittee.

In terms of timing, appropriators are expected to divvy up the 302(b) allocations in the coming days for FY 2018, so I think sending our letter next week would be good timing as they will be turning their attention to FY 19 very soon.

Let us know your thoughts. Thanks!

Mail 2017-2018 HOD - Licensure View Post Message I am bringing up a potentially touchy subject. I have been a proponent of licensure, I believe the intent is perfect and have had long discussions with various leaders about the importance of licensure over the years. I still believe that the public, and for that matter many RDN's, let alone healthcare providers from other areas don't get licensure for the nutrition professional, meaning they either are knowledgeable of the RDN or don't know and don't care. Especially since there is such discrepancy between states. In Florida there are currently quite a few hits being thrown at the licensure laws. I believe in evidence based practice, and I recognize there are some areas that we don't have strong evidence. I bring these things up because at the WM DPG EC meeting, I was asked about any discussions since the recent very public giving up her license by a RDN in Minnesota. I didn't have a clue! I've since looked at Facebook Cassie.net and Cassie.net. I've listened to newscasters and read articles, as we all have, about other members who seem to bash our profession over the years, all while touting their RD status. I would love to have some conversations here. The Academy has made tremendous changes over the years, for example in sponsorship, that may better align with the members as a whole. We have DIFM- this was a taboo area a decade ago for many RD's! I know we're not going to please all people, but these types of events give credence to the same people who do want to take our practice and our profession without the degree or knowledge. How do we get the naysayers to the table? How do we hear their points, and help them hear ours, and come to some middle ground? I do not know the specifics about this Minnesota RDN, nothing I saw looked particularly harmful, not fully my beliefs though. She seems to have a knack for communication that the typical public likes as evidence by the plethora of "weight loss experts" out there! Perhaps some things have already happened, I just don't know.

Hi Jeanne,

Stef and I thought it would be a good idea to send a letter to House and Senate Appropriations chairs and ranking members regarding calling for proportional relief in the 302(b) allocation for FY 2019 that support the programs and agencies of HHS and USDA. I often hear from appropriators that they aren't able to provide increases for our programs because their subcommittee allocation was too small. Therefore it can be incredibly helpful to show them that we have been strong advocates for calling for more money for their subcommittee.

In terms of timing, appropriators are expected to divvy up the 302(b) allocations in the coming days for FY 2018, so I think sending our letter next week would be good timing as they will be turning their attention to FY 19 very soon.

Mail 2017-2018 HOD - Licensure View Post Message I am bringing up a potentially touchy subject. I have been a proponent of licensure, I believe the intent is perfect and have had long discussions with various leaders about the importance of licensure over the years. I still believe that the public, and for that matter many RDN's, let alone healthcare providers from other areas don't get licensure for the nutrition professional, meaning they either are knowledgeable of the RDN or don't know and don't care. Especially since there is such discrepancy between states. In Florida there are currently quite a few hits being thrown at the licensure laws. I believe in evidence based practice, and I recognize there are some areas that we don't have strong evidence. I bring these things up because at the WM DPG EC meeting, I was asked about any discussions since the recent very public giving up her license by a RDN in Minnesota. I didn't have a clue! I've since looked at Facebook Cassie.net and Cassie.net. I've listened to newscasters and read articles, as we all have, about other members who seem to bash our profession over the years, all while touting their RD status. I would love to have some conversations here. The Academy has made tremendous changes over the years, for example in sponsorship, that may better align with the members as a whole. We have DIFM- this was a taboo area a decade ago for many RD's! I know we're not going to please all people, but these types of events give credence to the same people who do want to take our practice and our profession without the degree or knowledge. How do we get the naysayers to the table? How do we hear their points, and help them hear ours, and come to some middle ground? I do not know the specifics about this Minnesota RDN, nothing I saw looked particularly harmful, not fully my beliefs though. She seems to have a knack for communication that the typical public likes as evidence by the plethora of "weight loss experts" out there! Perhaps some things have already happened, I just don't know.

Beth, Hope you are doing well. I look forward to seeing you in Chicago sometime over the next couple of days when I am there for the BOD meeting. It is that time of the year when spring madness hits and we start going to affiliate meetings. Could you get me the grant and scholarship information for the following states for me please?

1. Alaska
2. Georgia
3. Alabama
4. Indiana
5. Pennsylvania
6. Idaho
7. New York
8. Nevada
9. Washington
10. Delaware
11. California

I am exhausted just thinking about it! See you soon and thanks in advance for the help!

Mark,

If I am understanding correctly the proposal is to review the IRA review process to determine how effective it is? I don't see a problem with that. Donna may know more about this issue though.

Obesity Care Advocacy Day Webinar Recording Available Now

On February 27, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics in conjunction with the Obesity Care Advocacy Network (OCAN) will host its annual advocacy day to encourage support for the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act. Attendees will meet with Capitol Hill staff 9 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. The day will be capped off with a 4 – 6 p.m. ANDPAC and ObesityPAC reception to honor legislators who have championed efforts to better promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services.

If you missed the webinar on February 15, watch the recording (Note: you must have your member login to access the webinar recording on the COI). Additional briefing materials are expected to be emailed to registrants this week to prepare for the Capitol Hill meetings. For additional information, please contact Tenášha Ebrahimkhel.

Before We Hit the Hill, Let's Chat

The Hunger and Environmental Nutrition and the Weight Management Dietetic Practice Groups are hosting a Twitter chat on the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, in preparation for the upcoming advocacy day.

The #OCANchat Twitter chat will generate discussion about how TROA will improve care and outcomes, what it will do for RDNs, how much it will cost and what people can do to support the bill. We are hoping to engage the general public to improve their understanding of this bill and encourage advocacy for TROA. Please join in and promote this to your networks so we have a great conversation about the benefits of TROA!

Join the conversation with @HENDPG and @WtMgmtDPG by using the hashtag #OCANchat on February 21 at 3 p.m. (Eastern Time).

Join the Next Farm Bill Monthly Call, March 1

Want to be engaged with the farm bill? The Academy's PIA staff is hosting a monthly call to discuss the latest news from Capitol Hill and share how you can get involved with our advocacy efforts. The next call will be March 1 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time) – save the date! Please RSVP to Nicole Burda, director, legislative and government affairs, if you would like to join the call and stay informed.

Affiliate Training Webinars Available on the Community Network

The PIA team is in the process of updating the Affiliate training webinars. We recently uploaded three NEW webinar recordings to the COI—the Affiliate President, PPC and DPG PAL trainings are now available. We heard your concerns and listened to your recommendations on how to improve the trainings. The new webinars are shorter and more concise! Other affiliate training webinars will be available in the upcoming weeks. As a reminder, Public Policy Panel leaders are expected to review the training webinars for their positions. Take a moment to review the material today.

News from the Hill and Beyond

USDA Discontinues SuperTracker

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service announced it will be discontinuing its SuperTracker, a tool to allow users to track food and physical activity, on June 30. We have heard from many of our members who have shared how this change impacts their work and consumers. The Academy has been working diligently internally and with our colleagues at USDA to discuss solutions and a strategy for ensuring consumers have access to tools that allow them to adopt a healthy diet. We will share updates as they become available.

Vote to Help Influence NIH Research Topics

The Academy has the opportunity to help establish research topics for the National Institutes of Health's All of Us Research Program, which uses one of the largest and most diverse datasets on health conditions. Two coalitions that the Academy belongs to, the Food is Medicine Coalition and Defeat Malnutrition Today, each proposed research questions for the NIH to study. The Food is Medicine Coalition proposed NIH study the relationship between providing medically tailored meals and the reduction in hospital utilization for ill people, and Defeat Malnutrition Today proposed to study what social determinants and health/functional factors increase the risk of malnutrition for older adults living in the community. To increase the likelihood NIH will research these questions, the Academy encourages members to vote by the February 23 deadline.

Action Alert

Action Required Treat and Reduce Obesity Act

Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, H.R. 1953/ S.830 – According to IHS Markit's whitepaper, a newly validated microsimulation model predicts that increasing Medicare beneficiaries' utilization of these clinically effective obesity treatments could save Medicare $19 to $21 billion over the next 10 years. Also, the CDC has estimated that one-third of U.S. adults have obesity. These stunning statistics are another reminder of the importance of intervention and counseling from RDNs. There are several ways you can get involved.

The Academy encourages you to contact your Senators and Representative today and ask them to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, a bill which will help address the obesity epidemic by providing better treatment options from health professional such as RDNs.

UAND Held a Salt Lake Legislative Breakfast

The Utah Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics hosted a breakfast for the Utah State Legislature to create an opportunity to highlight registered dietitian nutritionists as Utah's nutrition experts. State senators and representatives spoke with RDNs and dietetic interns while enjoying healthy food before the general session and during breaks.

Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025, Call for Experts

Experts needed! The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee. Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

“Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma to learn more.

2018 National Anti-Hunger Policy Conference, February 25-27

The 2018 National Anti-Hunger Policy Conference is only five days away (Feb. 25 to 27) in Washington, DC. Join the more than 1,200 individuals who have registered to attend what is expected to be the largest anti-hunger conference. It's not too late to register today. Hi Jeanne,

Stef and I thought it would be a good idea to send a letter to House and Senate Appropriations chairs and ranking members regarding calling for proportional relief in the 302(b) allocation for FY 2019 that support the programs and agencies of HHS and USDA. I often hear from appropriators that they aren't able to provide increases for our programs because their subcommittee allocation was too small. Therefore it can be incredibly helpful to show them that we have been strong advocates for calling for more money for their subcommittee.

In terms of timing, appropriators are expected to divvy up the 302(b) allocations in the coming days for FY 2018, so I think sending our letter next week would be good timing as they will be turning their attention to FY 19 very soon.

Let us know your thoughts. Thanks!

Hi, Donna: We just received an email from a writer for Parade magazine, who is working on the magazine's annual (and popular) article on what people earn. They have asked if you would be interested in participating in this year's article, representing RDNs/nutritionists. If you are interested (and it is completely up to you if you want to take part), they are requesting the information by Wednesday the 21st.

Attached is a PDF of a release form that contains some of their questions; others are in the text of this email below (highlighted in yellow for ease of finding). If you would like to answer the questions below and fill out the PDF and send them back to us, we will be glad to return them to the writer (with your electronic signature) as well as the requested photo.

Here is a link to last year's article, if you're interested: <http://parade.com/what-people-earn/>

Thank you very much, and please let us know if you'd like to participate. Talk to you soon!

Hi Donna,

My name is Megan O'Neill, and I'm reaching out from Parade Magazine. I am currently gathering occupations to be included in our What People Earn issue. This issue, which has been our most popular since it began in 1983, highlights celebrities and everyday people along with their jobs and salaries. Here's a link to an online component of the issue: <http://parade.com/what-people-earn/>. I've also attached a PDF of last year's story.

In this issue, we'd like to include a dietitian or nutritionist. Are you interested in participating? Or do you know of anyone within the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics who is interested? If so, we will run your photo, occupation, 2017 income, age, state and what you love about your career.

If interested, please complete the attached form (be sure to sign it!) and send it back along with a hi-res (300 dpi) headshot.

Additionally, please answer the following:

Dear NDEP Members,

The NDEP Professional Development Committee is hosting a complimentary webinar titled: “Informatics in Dietetic Education: Fear not, help is on the way!” Webinar!

Nutrition Informatics is embedded in every registered dietitian nutritionists’ job, but most educators do not realize what this phrase means. The reason: most students were not taught informatics as a course or maybe the terminology was not part of their educational experience. This Webinar will review the past, present and future of Nutrition Informatics as well help you identify new pathways for incorporating informatics into your educational programs including class assignments, research projects and more. Plus you will learn about what resources are available for educators to increase your own informatics knowledge and skills for the classroom.

Learning objectives for this webinar:

1. Review the past, present and future of informatics
2. Identify new pathways for incorporating informatics into their dietetics educational programs
3. Provide Academy and other resources for educators to help increase informatics knowledge and skills in their classroom.

Participants will receive 1 CEU. Registration is required to attend the webinar.

Date: Thursday, March 1, 2018 from 11:00 am – 12:00 pm CT.

To register, click here:

https://eatright.webex.com/mw3100/mywebex/default.do?service=1&siteurl=eatright&nomenu=true&main_url=%2Fmc3100%2Fe.do%3Fsiteurl%3Deatright%26AT%3DMI%26EventID%3D646859262%26UID%3D0%26Host%3DQUhTSwAAAAQ8eRxJz9nv9H4_rQXs17l_1mRKdwHC28EuNRs-wmZ9TxYvvh4l65lIlgNpX5myQ5-vvYYd-0re9KV3kikDi9T0%26RG%3D1%26FrameSet%3D2%26RGID%3Dr28b84745eb7d7e69b2cd79b7af53eef7

If you are unable to attend the webinar during this time, it will be recorded and made available via an email blast as well as through the NDEP Portal library.

Tom, I do not feel at all comfortable about doing this Parade magazine article on what people earn. I am at the end of my career (so to speak) and so what I earn would not be a good representation of what RDN's around the country earn. I also don't think my employer would appreciate me doing this. Can you try and find another member who might be willing to do it please? Thanks Tom.

Hi, Donna: We just received an email from a writer for Parade magazine, who is working on the magazine's annual (and popular) article on what people earn. They have asked if you would be interested in participating in this year's article, representing RDNs/nutritionists. If you are interested (and it is completely up to you if you want to take part), they are requesting the information by Wednesday the 21st.

Attached is a PDF of a release form that contains some of their questions; others are in the text of this email below (highlighted in yellow for ease of finding). If you would like to answer the questions below and fill out the PDF and send them back to us, we will be glad to return them to the writer (with your electronic signature) as well as the requested photo.

Here is a link to last year's article, if you're interested: <http://parade.com/what-people-earn/>

Thank you very much, and please let us know if you'd like to participate. Talk to you soon!

Hi Donna,

My name is Megan O'Neill, and I'm reaching out from Parade Magazine. I am currently gathering occupations to be included in our What People Earn issue. This issue, which has been our most popular since it began in 1983, highlights celebrities and everyday people along with their jobs and salaries. Here's a link to an online component of the issue: <http://parade.com/what-people-earn/>. I've also attached a PDF of last year's story.

In this issue, we'd like to include a dietitian or nutritionist. Are you interested in participating? Or do you know of anyone within the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics who is interested? If so, we will run your photo, occupation, 2017 income, age, state and what you love about your career.

If interested, please complete the attached form (be sure to sign it!) and send it back along with a hi-res (300 dpi) headshot.

Additionally, please answer the following:

Name:

Age:

Date of Birth:

City, State:

Occupation:

Describe your job, and tell us a little bit about what you like about it:

2017 Salary (from your specific occupation):

Phone: (this information will not be published)

Email: (this information will not be published)

Please complete the items by Wednesday if interested. Thank you, and let me know if you have any questions!

Hi Donna,

We had a bit of a misstep last week with an action alert. This should have gone to you for review before it was sent. I have talked with the team and they are now up to speed on the protocol. I am sorry it went out under your name and you didn't get a chance to review or edit the email. Having said that, I did review and it looks fairly straight forward so hopefully no harm done!

We have a farm bill alert queuing up so will be sure you see that!

Hi Donna,

We had a bit of a misstep last week with an action alert. This should have gone to you for review before it was sent. I have talked with the team and they are now up to speed on the protocol. I am sorry it went out under your name and you didn't get a chance to review or edit the email. Having said that, I did review and it looks fairly straight forward so hopefully no harm done!

We have a farm bill alert queuing up so will be sure you see that!

Hello Donna, Mary and Lucille,

We truly appreciate your participation in the 2018 selection process for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics media spokespeople. The spokespeople selected this year will serve from June 1, 2018, until May 31, 2021. Please note, we will host a conference call to discuss the candidates and final selection from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. CST on Friday, March 9.

Please review the Academy's Media and Spokesperson Policy. The selection process allows for a rigorous evaluation of spokesperson candidates and their skill sets, as well as qualifications requirements for the volunteer position. To ensure a fair and impartial selection process and to protect the integrity of the process, all applications – including the identity of applicants and reviewers – are kept confidential. Please do not discuss your evaluations with anyone, and please maintain complete objectivity throughout the process. Results of personal and professional contacts or other relationships you may have with any candidate must not enter into your evaluation. Spokespeople are selected solely according to who best meets the qualifications and necessary skill sets, and all applicants meeting the criteria to be a spokesperson (see below) must be given equal consideration.

This year, we have four spokespeople applying for renewal (Angela Lemond, Kristi King, Kristen Gradney and Nancy Farrell). We have three vacant spots due to spokespeople resigning or deciding not to reapply this year.

Application Packets:

Please download the electronic binder at
<https://spaces.hightail.com/receive/8ivrVDTnY/cnNhdW5kZXJzQGVhdHJpZ2h0Lm9yZw>

Please click the “Download All” button to download the PDF file.

Each application contains the following:

- Completed application
- Applicant resume/CV
- Applicant photo
- Letters of recommendation
- Media clips

Please note that current Academy spokespeople who are reapplying are only required to submit an application and resume/CV.

Attached are the following PDF documents:

- Application process and timeline
- Summary sheet of all the applicants. This is a helpful cheat sheet for conducting the surveys and making your own notes.
- Applicants video listings for viewing online
- 2018 spokesperson selection surveys (evaluations). Please complete after reviewing all materials.

The deadline to complete the evaluations is Monday, March 5.

Minimum Criteria to be an Academy Spokesperson:

All spokesperson applicants must:

- Be an Academy member.
- Have been an RD/RDN for at least five years. Advanced degree is preferred. Specialty credentials are desirable, but not required.
- Have a minimum of two years experience in working with the news media (television, radio, print and/or electronic).
- Demonstrate strong communication skills and a positive demeanor.
- Be knowledgeable in food and nutrition science with two or three areas of expertise, current food and nutrition topics and Academy position papers.
- Be free of conflicts of interest.
- Have sufficient flexibility in their work schedule to permit media training, interviews (often on short notice), preparation time, occasional travel and other assignments.
- Promote, support and attend state, district or national Academy activities.
- Maintain an email address and Internet access.
- Be proficient in electronic and social media communications.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or need additional information. We look forward to working with you on this important project.

Thank you again so very much for your time in selecting the Academy's spokespeople for 2018-2021.

Kind Regards,
Rhys Saunders

Dear NDEP Members,

The 2018 NDEP Regional Meetings are quickly approaching. In an effort to provide more focus on discussions and working sessions, the Academy' Organizational Unit presentations are provided as videos in advance. Please view them in advance, and bring your questions to discuss with the representatives at the meeting. All panel presentation recordings and handouts are provided on the NDEP Regional Meeting website: <https://sites.psu.edu/ndep/> Click on the meeting you will be attending, then click "agenda and meeting handouts." The recordings are listed on that page.

For those of you who are unable to attend any of the regional meetings, please review these videos and don't hesitate to ask any questions that you might have, either through the portal or by contacting your Regional Directors.

NDEP Members can also find the recordings and handouts in the NDEP Portal Library at: <https://ndep.webauthor.com> NDEP Community >Library >NDEP 2018 Regional Meetings. For more information, visit the NDEP website - www.ndepnet.org

ACTION ALERT:

Urge Your Members of Congress to Co-Sponsor the Cost-Saving Treat and Reduce Obesity Act (TROA)

Dear member,

The bipartisan Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2017 (H.R. 1953; S. 830) would allow a registered dietitian nutritionist or other qualified nutrition professional to provide intensive behavioral counseling services for Medicare beneficiaries with obesity. TROA offers clinically- and cost-effective solutions to addressing the nations obesity crisis. Let your members of Congress know where you stand and urge them to support this bill to improve health care access and reduce health care costs!

Please let the Academys Policy Initiatives and Advocacy Team know if you have any questions. Thank you for supporting the Academys policy efforts.

TAKE ACTION TODAY!

As individuals and as an organization, we can make a difference but only with your help.

1. Even if you have sent Academy Action Alerts in the past, please take action today!
2. Make a contribution to ANDPAC. Relationships built through ANDPAC allow the Academy to actively voice our commitment to improving cost-effective and quality health care for all Americans.

In this video, listen to Academy President Donna Martin and Past President Lucille Beseler explain why they believe you should support ANDPAC.

Thank you in advance for taking action and making our profession the nations food and nutrition leaders.

Donna Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND
President, 2017-2018

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee is a separate segregated fund of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics used to support candidates and elected officials. Academy members are not required to contribute to ANDPAC and there is no reprisal for not contributing. Amounts recommended for contribution in Academy publications are merely suggestions and there is no minimum contribution level.

Speaker Message 18 Final Day to Vote and New Action Alert

Spring HOD Meeting

During the HLT's winter planning meeting, it was determined that we should hold the Evidence-based Practice Mega Issue for a future HOD meeting. This decision was partially related to work being completed by a current Academy task force. Also, as we approach the one year mark of the Academy's Strategic Plan, including our new vision and mission, it is the ideal time to evaluate how the House of Delegates can most effectively support the new strategic plan. We also have considered delegate feedback from HOD evaluations, and the virtual spring meeting format is conducive to beginning this conversation. We will be sharing details over the next few weeks.

Action Alert Treat and Reduce Obesity Act H.R. 1953/S.830

The Academy encourages you to contact your members of Congress today and ask them to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, a bill which will help address the obesity epidemic by providing better treatment options from health professionals such as RDNs. Complete the action alert. After taking action, share that you have taken action via social media (social media sharing options are available on the screen at the end of the action alert).

February 22 Nominations Deadline: Council on Future Practice

The Council on Future Practice (CFP) is now accepting RDN and NDTR nominations for 2 positions in the 2018-2019 program year. This includes one (1) committee member position with a 3-year term and one (1) young practitioner* position with a 2-year term. Consider nominating yourself or a colleague to serve on the CFP.

The CFP has identified the following practice gaps in its membership and is requesting experts in the following focus areas:

- Research / Outcomes Research
- Expertise in technology
- Public Health
- Clinical Management
- Global Health Perspective
- Cross Discipline Collaboration

*A young practitioner will be appointed by the HOD Leadership Team (HLT) to represent members in practice for 5-10 years and under the age of 35.

Please submit the name and email address of your Council on Future Practice nomination to hod@eatright.org. Self-nominations are accepted.

Nominations are accepted through February 22, 2018.

New Position Paper on Diabetes

Medical nutrition therapy provided by registered dietitian nutritionists is effective in improving medical outcomes and quality of life, and is cost-effective, according to a new position paper published by the Academy. The position paper notes MNT provided by RDNs is successful and essential to preventing progression of prediabetes and obesity to Type 2 diabetes; it is essential that MNT provided by RDNs be integrated into health care systems and public health programs and be adequately reimbursed. ANFP Invites You to the 2018 Annual Conference & Expo (ACE), June 1-4, Orlando, FL

The Association of Nutrition & Foodservice Professionals (ANFP) Annual Conference & Expo combines top-notch education and can't-miss networking opportunities. You can participate in workshops, attend special sessions, and network with colleagues. In addition, the Expo is a must-see event featuring more than 60 exhibitors showcasing the latest in nutrition and foodservice innovation.

ANFP is a Continuing Professional Education (CPE) Accredited Provider with the Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR). CDR Credentialed Practitioners will receive up to 20 continuing professional education units (CPEUs) for attending this conference!

Look Forward to These Events at ACE 2018!

Education Sessions: Session topics include a crash course in leadership, therapeutic diets, aging and the malnourished, sustainability, sanitation, fighting infection, disaster planning, a culinary chef demo, dining trends, IDDSI, culinary culture, CMS regulations, and more. View the full schedule of sessions HERE.

Keynote Speaker: After being struck by an 18-wheeler truck, Elisa Hays' life as a successful 20-year performer and entertainment company CEO was immediately transformed, and propelled her into her current position as a speaker, consultant, and executive coach empowering organizations, individuals, and audiences internationally.

With honesty, humor, and touching stories, Elisa reveals the simple but powerful truths she uncovered through her miraculous survival. She shares the character and decision-making required to save lives and rebuild her own after her near-fatal collision. By applying hard-won leadership lessons in leveraging adversity, you will grow star-performer communities and achieve extraordinary influence with your team. Learn more about Elisa and additional ACE speakers HERE.

Honors Gala: The Honors Gala will begin with a cash bar reception followed by a sit-down dinner and awards presentation. The evening will conclude with entertainment and dancing. The Nutrition & Foodservice Education Foundation (NFEF) will host the annual Silent Auction to raise money for the critical work of the Foundation.

Expo: See what's new in the foodservice industry at the ANFP Expo! The Exhibit Hall will be full of innovative products and services from more than 60 exhibitors. View the list of ACE exhibitors HERE.

Hi Donna,

I hope this email finds you well. I'm writing to ask a favor of you. The Emory University Hospital Dietetic Internship graduation ceremony is on May 18th at 2p. As part of the graduation, we have influential dietitians speak to our students as part of a keynote speech. I'm sure you know where I am going with this now, but I was hoping you would be able and willing to provide the speech to our group this year. I know you are incredibly busy, but I can't think of a better and more inspirational leader in our field to motivate our students to make goals to be leaders in the field.

So, would you consider speaking? If you can't, I completely understand, but thought I would ask. Thanks in advance for your consideration and response.

Best,

Michelle

Dear NDEP Members,

Today is your last day to vote!

Following is the slate of candidates on our 2018 NDEP Ballot for NDEP Council positions:

Vice-Chair

- Kendra Kattelman
- Dorothy Chen-Maynard (write-in candidate)

South Central Regional Director

- Linda Godfrey
- Jaimette McCulley

West Central Regional Director

- Lona Sandon
- Janelle Walter

South East Regional Director

- Phyllis McShane (unopposed)

NDEP House of Delegate Representative

- Malinda Cecil
- Laurie Kruzich

I'd like to share a few statistics with you regarding the number of NDEP members who participated in our own NDEP elections over the past few years:

2017: ~35%

It's great to see a trend for increasing numbers of members going to the polls to elect our NDEP leaders – let's keep that trend going!

Also, there are a number of our NDEP members who are candidates for Academy leadership positions:

- Catherine Christie (for Treasurer-Elect)
- Ellen Shanley (for Director-at-Large)
- Tamara Randall (for House of Delegates Speaker-elect)
- Jessie Pavlinac (for Nominating Committee National Leader)
- Kay Wolf (for Nominating Committee National Leader)
- Lisa (Elizabeth) Abbay (for Commission on Dietetic Registration Registered Dietitian Nutritionist)
- Mary Beth Ohlms (for Commission on Dietetic Registration Registered Dietitian Nutritionist)

Please don't forget that your vote is critical to the future of our profession as you select leaders who will represent and advocate for you, our educators and preceptors.

Visit www.eatrightpro.org/elections to cast your vote by today!

Thank you for all that you do to support our profession, in so many ways.

Hello Donna,

I just picked up my Journal and was delighted to read your President's Page. I completely understand the need for dietitians to know more about food and the supply chain in order for us to help our customers make the best decisions. I recently took a position at Kansas State after working in healthcare management for 25 years and 10 years in sales for a food manufacturer and distributor. I currently work with a team of veterinarians, ag economists and researchers with a focus on helping consumers interpret some of the why's so they can formulate informed decisions about how they want their food produced. The industry needs to learn how to connect with customer values. I believe we are all working towards the same end goal, and again it is refreshing to see my profession take such a major step as making it part of the Academy's Strategic Plan.

I also noticed that the standards for Sustainable, Resilient, and Healthy Food and Water Systems is due for review October 2018. If there is anything I can provide on the livestock side, please do not hesitate to reach out. I currently sit on the US Roundtable for Sustainable Beef as a civil service member, and continue to be inspired by the dedication of both producers and end customers to "do what's right" moving forward.

Sincerely,

Patti Dollarhide

I am working with Chris Reidy on a Final CDR Appeal committee. The policy for final appeals involves the Academy, whereas steps 1 and 2 of CDR appeals involve solely CDR.

That being said, you (ie, Academy President) appoint 1 of the 3 on the final appeals committee, the CDR Chair appoints 1, and you and the CDR Chair jointly appoint the 3rd person.

- For you, a “CDR credentialed Academy member who was not involved in the previous discussion/decision on the appeal”
- For you and the CDR chair jointly, a past public member not involved in the previous discussion/decision on the appeal.

Chris and I have met regarding this and were wondering if you would be ok with:

- Julie O’Sullivan Maillet for the first appointee
- Sandra Gill for the public member appointee

Let me know at your earliest convenience. I will reach out to both of them if they meet your approval.

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

President's Budget Proposal: Drastic Cuts to Food, Nutrition and Health Programs

President Trump released his proposed budget on February 13 for Fiscal Year 2019. While the budget reflects the president's vision, changes and adjustments to funding levels must ultimately be written and approved by Congress; therefore, the Academy urges Congress to continue to fund these vital programs. The Academy is encouraged by the bipartisan budget agreement that was passed February 9 by Congress. The Bipartisan Budget Act of 2018 is a two-year bill that raises the debt limit, provides two years of relief from cuts to discretionary funding and provides short-term funding through March 23. The budget deal raises defense and nondefense spending levels by nearly $300 billion for two years.

Budget Hearings on Capitol Hill

President Trump's budget request for Fiscal Year 2019 was released this week and congressional committees are holding hearings on proposals that affect federal health and nutrition services. Health and Human Services Secretary Alex Azar will testify February 14 on his agency's budget request before the House Ways and Means Committee and on February 15 before the Energy and Commerce Committee. The Academy is working with congressional supporters to submit questions to be considered during the hearings.

Academy Highlights FDA's Successes

In formal regulatory comments, the Academy praised the work of the Center for Food Safety and Nutrition at the U.S. Food and Drug Administration on issues ranging from food labeling to food safety to nutrition research, particularly CFSAN's process of engaging all stakeholders in advancing science to protect the public's health. The Academy highlighted the need to update regulations including health claims to reflect recommendations of the Dietary Guidelines for Americans.

During #AmericanHeartMonth: Make the Diabetes-Heart Connection

During February's American Heart Month, the Academy joins national organizations to continue raising awareness about the diabetes-heart connection. The Academy participated in the celebration of the first National Diabetes Heart Connection Day on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C.; legislative resolutions in many states officially recognizing awareness efforts; and notably a U.S. Senate resolution designating November 9 as National Diabetes Heart Health Awareness Day. The Academy's partners at the Partnership to Fight Chronic Disease have an updated resource page and advocacy toolkit that includes copy-and-paste social media content specifically for #AmericanHeartMonth.

ANDPAC Events Strengthen Advocacy Efforts

Through the support of the Academy's political action committee ANDPAC, the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy Team recently shared the Academy's priorities for funding federal nutrition programs with Reps. John Faso (N.Y.), Steny Hoyer (Md.), Bill Pascrell (N.J.) and Jackie Walorski (Ind.). The Academy encouraged a bipartisan approach for the budget deal, which includes maintaining or increasing funding for nutrition programs. Interest continues to grow for supporting nutrition programs in the Farm Bill, including SNAP-Ed and Food Insecurity Nutrition Incentive Grants.

Hi Donna,

I hope you are well. We have created some Tweets below on the president's Fiscal Year 2019 budget. Here is a short link for the Academy response: <http://sm.eatright.org/FY19budgetcuts>

Please let us know if you have any questions about the Tweets or the budget.

I urge Congress to fully fund vital food, #nutrition and #health programs and services that would face severe reductions in funding under President Trump's proposed budget for Fiscal Year 2019: <http://sm.eatright.org/FY19budgetcuts>

#eatrightPRO will continue to advocate for nutrition and public health programs where registered dietitian nutritionists are improving patient health.

The President's budget includes large funding cuts and changes to programs including #SNAP, which would harm the country's most vulnerable populations. Eliminating or underfunding #nutrition programs will risk people's access to nutritious food that helps treat chronic disease.

#eatrightPRO is encouraged by the bipartisan budget deal passed by Congress on Feb. 9. The deal has provisions of the CHRONIC Care Act, which expanded supplemental benefits in #Medicare Advantage to allow meal delivery for seniors with chronic conditions.

#SNAPEd programs empower people to develop skills to choose healthful diets and reduce the risks of developing chronic disease. #SNAPworks

Every $1 spent on nutrition education can save $10 in future #healthcare costs and $2 in future food costs. #SNAPworks #SNAP

Thank you,

Erin

2315. Nominate an Outstanding Preceptor Today! Nominations due by March 2nd!

Subject: Nominate an Outstanding Preceptor Today! Nominations due by March 2nd!
Attachment: unknown_name_pw2qu

Dear NDEP Members –

Do you know of a deserving preceptor that goes above and beyond your expectations with each student/intern they work with? Someone who somehow finds the time in their busy schedule to continually mentor new students/interns? Someone your students/interns continually praise for their exceptional talents? If so, perhaps you should consider nominating them for NDEP's annual Outstanding Preceptor Award for 2018.

The purpose of the Outstanding Preceptor Award (OPA) is to recognize the exceptional teaching, mentoring, and leadership activities of preceptors in ACEND-accredited dietetics education programs. Active NDEP Council members and previous OPA winners are not eligible for this award.

In addition to publishing the list of outstanding preceptors in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and NDEP-Line, each awardee will receive $1,000 to attend the 2018 Food and Nutrition Conference and Expo in Washington, DC (supported by the Academy's Foundation), one (1) year membership in NDEP (June 1, 2018-May 31, 2019), and a certificate and congratulatory letter from the Academy President. Awards will be presented during the member showcase and during an NDEP-sponsored event.

Criteria:

- Nominees must be a current member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, but are not required to be a NDEP member for consideration for this award.

- Preceptor in an ACEND-accredited supervised practice program (CP, DI, DT or ISPP).

Preceptors do NOT need to reside in the same Area as the Program Director and/or students/interns in order to be nominated.

Program Directors and educators are not eligible as there is a separate award for Outstanding Educators.

Submission and Selection Procedure:

Nominations will be accepted via this survey link:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/PreceptorAwardNomination>

Nominations will be collected using an online entry system (Survey Monkey), which will close at 5 pm CST on March 2, 2018.

Nomination applications should be submitted by the Program Director of the program the preceptor is a part of and consist of a completed online entry, which includes two separate focused statements of support (one from peers, program directors, or faculty AND one from students/interns). Incomplete applications and additional materials beyond the online entry will not be reviewed.

Nominations will be evaluated upon the exemplary accomplishments of preceptors above what would be considered core preceptor responsibilities based upon the following key areas:

- 1. Teaching, which should showcase innovative teaching skills and techniques to facilitate student/intern learning.
- 2. Mentoring, which should include those behaviors that elevate student learning and level of practice above routine preceptor responsibilities.
- 3. Excellence in Professional Practice, which should include participation beyond membership in local, state, or national organizations, community organizations, workplace committees, public policy, etc.

The NDEP Preceptor Director and Preceptor Committee will receive, review, and select the winner from the eligible nominations after the survey has been closed. The committee will select no more than one preceptor from each of the six regions. There is a maximum of six awards per year.

Questions about the submission process or selection procedure to should be directed to NDEP at ndep@eatright.org. Attached is a sample of the survey monkey to be used for a nomination.

Great idea!

For those who might be interested, I teach a graduate course in nutrition informatics at Rutgers. The course (NUTR 7310) is offered entirely online during the summer and would be a great way for educators to learn a little bit more about nutrition informatics and healthcare informatics in general!

Also, the American Medical Informatics Association (AMIA) has an education working group that has a lot of resources for educators. I've been a member of AMIA for almost 10 years and highly value the information they provide!

Nutrition Informatics is embedded in every registered dietitian nutritionists' job, but most educators do not realize what this phrase means. The reason: most students were not taught informatics as a course or maybe the terminology was not part of their educational experience. This Webinar will review the past, present and future of Nutrition Informatics as well help you identify new pathways for incorporating informatics into your educational programs including class assignments, research projects and more. Plus you will learn about what resources are available for educators to increase your own informatics knowledge and skills for the classroom.

Learning objectives for this webinar:

1. Review the past, present and future of informatics

Obesity Care Advocacy Day Webinar, Thursday

On February 27, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics in conjunction with the Obesity Care Advocacy Network (OCAN) will host an advocacy day to encourage support for the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act. Attendees will meet with Capitol Hill staff 9 a.m. - 3:30 p.m., with a lunch briefing for congressional staff at noon (attendees are invited to the lunch briefing). The day will be capped off with a 4 – 6 p.m. ANDPAC and ObesityPAC reception to honor legislators who have championed efforts to better promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services.

This Thursday, February 15 at 3 p.m. (Eastern Time) there will be an Obesity Care Advocacy Day webinar to prepare participants for the Capitol Hill meetings. Registrants will receive briefing materials highlighting TROA and better coverage of science-based obesity treatment services. Register for the webinar here.

We encourage all Academy members to attend the advocacy day so that we may have a broad representation of patients, researchers, advocates and health care professionals on Capitol Hill. It's not too late – there is still time to register for advocacy day. For additional information, please contact Tenásha Ebrahimkhel.

Polls are Open: Vote Today, Own Tomorrow

The Academy's national election will close on February 15. It's not too late to cast your ballot and receive a coupon for $5 off your next purchase from the eatrightSTORE. Vote today!

Invitation to Assist in Updating the Community Malnutrition Resource Hub

Volunteers are needed to assist in updating the Community Malnutrition Resource Hub. Please submit your name and expertise by completing this survey no later than February 21. Volunteers will be contacted by March 1 regarding logistics for participation. For questions, contact Judy R. Simon, MS, RD, LDN.

Nearly every community has programs that can help older adults get the nutrition they need. But many seniors or their caregivers — and even many doctors and hospitals — don't know about the programs or how to connect with them. A 2016 survey by NCOA found community-based organizations want and need materials to raise awareness about and address malnutrition among older adults. The Community Malnutrition Resource Hub is designed to help community-based organizations, public health leaders, health care professionals and other organizations interested in reducing malnutrition among older adults. It includes practical resources, tools and ideas to help you develop and implement a malnutrition plan.

- Engage and Enhance: We are recruiting a group of professional volunteers who can assist in reviewing and contributing to a small portion of the website that aligns with their field of expertise. We will ask for input on ease of use, design layout ideas, update of materials content and any other insights to enhance the Hub.
 - Malnutrition Expertise: We are looking for volunteers who are knowledgeable in the areas of clinical, research, policy/advocacy and community/education related to malnutrition, as well as food insecurity.
 - Timeline: This short term project will be conducted from March through July, allowing for sufficient time to launch the updated Hub by early September prior to Malnutrition Awareness Week 2018.
- Leading with Nutrition: Leveraging SNAP for Better Health

The U.S. is facing intertwined crises of poor nutrition, rising obesity rates and rising Medicare and Medicaid costs that threaten both the physical and fiscal health of the nation. As the largest federal food and nutrition program, the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program helps more than 40 million individuals annually afford food for themselves and their families. Despite its successes in reducing food insecurity among low-income individuals, the program could be strengthened to improve nutrition.

In advance of SNAP's reauthorization in the farm bill, the Bipartisan Policy Center convened the bipartisan SNAP Task Force — led by former Senate Majority Leader Dr. Bill Frist and former U.S. Department of Agriculture Secretaries Dan Glickman and Ann M. Veneman — to examine ways to promote better health through good nutrition using SNAP and related federal programs.

Join the BPC on March 12 from 9:30 -11 a.m. (Eastern Time) for the Leading with Nutrition: Leveraging SNAP for Better Health webcast as it releases the recommendations of this task force and discusses ways to improve nutrition in America, RSVP here. If you are able to attend in person, the BPC is located at 1225 Eye Street NW, Suite 1000, Washington, D.C. 20005.
Join the Farm Bill Monthly Call, March 1

Want to stay engaged with the farm bill? The Academy's PIA Team is hosting a monthly call to discuss the latest news from Capitol Hill and share how you can get involved with our advocacy efforts. The next call will be March 1 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time) – save the date! Please RSVP to Nicole Burda, director, legislative and government affairs, if you would like to join the call and stay informed.

New CDC Breast-feeding Resources Available

The Center for Disease Control and Prevention's Division of Nutrition, Physical Activity and Obesity released a new infographic, "CDC's Work to Support and Promote Breastfeeding in Hospitals, Worksites, and Communities." This resource highlights the public health problem associated with low breast-feeding rates, the benefits of breast-feeding for mothers and babies and the support needed for mothers to successfully breast-feed. It outlines CDC's efforts to promote breast-feeding and notes the increases in breast-feeding initiation rates and the percent of births in hospitals with recommended maternity care practices.

More information and resources are available at DNPAO's website. Here are two social media messages that you can share:

•#Breastfeeding provides benefits for mom and baby. It reduces the risks of asthma in babies, heart disease in moms, and type 2 diabetes in both! CDC supports breastfeeding –here's how: Share on Facebook | Retweet on Twitter.

- Just 1 in 4 infants are exclusively breastfed, as recommended, by the time they are 6 months old. Breastfeeding moms need support in hospitals and throughout the community –here’s how we do it. Share on Facebook | Retweet on Twitter.

Budget News from Congress and the Administration

President Trump released his proposed budget for Fiscal Year 2019 on February 13. The president’s budget reflects his vision. However, legislative changes and adjustments to funding levels must ultimately be written and approved by Congress, and therefore, the Academy urges Congress to continue to fund these vital programs.

The Academy is encouraged by the most recent bipartisan budget agreement passed by Congress on February 9. The Bipartisan Budget Act of 2018 is a two-year budget bill that raises the debt limit, provides two years of relief from cuts to discretionary funding and provides short-term funding through March 23. The budget deal raises defense and nondefense spending levels by nearly $300 billion for two years.

The Academy applauds the agreement, signed by the president, which contains increases to Academy-supported federal nutrition programs and public health, including emergency spending of $24 million for the Emergency Food Assistance Program and $14 million for WIC clinics in areas impacted by hurricanes. The agreement also has provisions of the Creating High-Quality Results and Outcomes Necessary to Improve Chronic (CHRONIC) Care Act, which expanded supplemental benefits in Medicare Advantage to allow meal delivery for seniors with diabetes, arthritis and other chronic conditions.

Action Alert

Action Required Treat and Reduce Obesity Act

Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, H.R. 1953/ S.830 – According to IHS Markit's whitepaper, a newly validated microsimulation model predicts that increasing Medicare beneficiaries’ utilization of these clinically effective obesity treatments could save Medicare $19 to $21 billion over the next 10 years. Also, the CDC has estimated that one-third of U.S. adults have obesity. These stunning statistics are another reminder of the importance of intervention and counseling from RDNs. There are several ways you can get involved.

The Academy encourages you to contact your member of Congress today and ask them to support the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, a bill which will help address the obesity epidemic by providing better treatment options from health professional such as RDNs.

Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025, Call for Experts

Experts needed! The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee (DGAC). Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

“Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma to learn more.

these articles about supermarkets are fine but you are pairing NNM "Go further w/ food" with the notion of farmers markets being the place to buy local products and saying that shopping there is a way of shopping sustainably.

"Food purchased at farmers markets often is more affordable and tastes better than at commercial grocery stores because it is locally grown and naturally ripened. Buying locally grown food also helps conserve natural resources and has a minimal effect on the environment" -

Taste is subjective. More affordable? What standards are you using for this? Why does locally grown necessarily conserve natural resources? Minimal effect on the environment? How is it that has anything to do with local? Where is the proof/citations for all of these statements?

There are only about 7,000 farmers markets in the U.S. There are over 2000 Kroger supermarkets alone. Supermarkets, including the one I shop at buy millions of pounds of local produce and local meats and thousands of gallons of milk from local dairy farmers. How many farmers markets do that? This does not even account for the local bread, sauces, trout, shrimp, beer, cider and wine that you wouldn't find at farmers markets.

You are also linking the notion of sustainability to farmers markets. How is this even relevant?

Farmers markets are seasonal, employ few people, don't have the wealth of products of supermarkets, don't pay taxes, and don't employ dietitians.

It is disappointing to see the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics promoting misinformation about food. I thought we were better than that.

Farmers markets are wonderful places for consumers to find some of their favorite foods such as tomatoes, berries, beets and herbs, It's also a good place for consumers to discover new foods as well, such as heirloom vegetables. In addition, they can talk with the farmer who grew it and also ask them for recommendations on preparing and serving the food.

The Academy is not endorsing farmers markets or calling them out. We are just letting consumers know there are options and as you say, both farmers markets and retailers do co-exist.

Thank you, again. Hope this helps provide some background.

I have been a retail dietitian for the past 17 years and for the past 6 years I have worked with local farmers and vendors that supply our stores.

Why would you endorse farmers markets or call them out? There is nothing wrong with farmers markets but:

1. They are a SEASONAL indulgence that are open typically very limited hours and have SEASONALLY available produce.
2. What is "local"? There is NO legal definition.
3. Why not encourage shopping for seasonal fruits vegetables at farmers markets AND supermarkets?
4. Farmers who sell to farmers markets are typically NOT GAP (Good Agricultural Practices) certified - this is often why they sell at farmers markets instead of supermarkets. We require certain food safety and traceability standards that farmers markets do not.
5. The volume of produce retailers buy farm exceeds anything sold at a farmers market.
6. Retailers support communities with taxes and employment that farmers markets do not.

Both farmers markets and retailers can co-exist - but why would you call out farmers markets?

Disappointing.

Michelle, The best part about being President is working with the amazing Academy staff. I feel so supported in every way. Thanks for your email. I do have one question though? As past president I will not be a member of all the practice groups this year? I knew I would start paying after my past President year, but assumed this coming up year I would still be a member of all the practice groups. Thanks for your help with this question.

Donna,

It has been a pleasure working with you, although indirectly, during your term as Academy president. I am reaching out to share information regarding your 2018-2019 Academy membership. When you receive your 2018-2019 membership renewal invoice in April, your membership category will be listed as Active Life with a $0 dues amount. To purchase any DPG, MIG or Academy Group memberships, or make donations to the Academy Foundation or ANDPAC, you may:

- Visit the Academy's online renewal application at www.eatrightPRO.org/renew. As President, you were enrolled in all DPGs, MIGs, and Academy Groups, and all groups are currently included on your membership invoice. You can deselect those you do not want to purchase through the online renewal process, or, if you prefer, provide a listing of only those you want to join for 2018-2019 and I can remove the remaining groups from your invoice.
- Submit the renewal form you receive in the mail
- Contact either myself or Laura Soto, Manager, Membership Operations, at 800/877-1600, ext. 4776 / lsoto@eatright.org
- Donations can also be submitted online by visiting the ANDF website and/or ANDPAC website

I am also including additional detailed information on membership renewal procedures for Academy Presidents below:

Academy dues renewal procedure for President, President-elect, Immediate Past President, and Former Presidents:

To clarify potential questions regarding why you receive a dues bill, the chart below summarizes the procedure for Academy dues bills (and “complimentary” dues) for Presidents (current, elect, past, and former). Dues bills are mailed to Academy Presidents so that they have the option to donate to the Academy Foundation or ANDPAC, or join DPGs, MIGs and/or Academy Groups (though DPGs, MIGs and Academy Groups are complimentary for the current President and President-elect).

Hi Donna,

I hope you are well. Stefanie, Nicole and I are crafting a response to the president's budget that was released yesterday. We will be happy to chat with you this afternoon about the budget (both the president's and the bipartisan budget deal passed last week by Congress) if you have any questions as well.

Thank you so much,

I received this invitation from Healthier Gen. As we have discussed, I am actually fine with the current "flexibilities" ... and do not want to push forward, especially on sodium.

I can decline this based on my schedule. However since I am the Academy representative on the VFHK Steering Committee, I wanted to run this by you.

Maybe another school RDN would be a better "match" ... ???

Dayle

Hi Dayle! Happy New Year to you! In March we are offering a short 3-part Google Hangout series that will be live streamed on our YouTube Channel that will feature special guests highlighting the success schools have had with whole grain and sodium standards. The dates we are looking at are March 13th-15th (each day would feature a different special guest). It is a small commitment, no powerpoint slides and only 10-15 minutes total of live streaming, so after welcome and overview we would probably be looking at you sharing ~5 minutes of school stories. We are hoping it's an opportunity through our Voices for Healthy Kids work and National Nutrition Month to lift up schools & strategies that have worked well for them. Please let me know if you have any interest and availability. Thanks!

Register now for the Academy's NFPE Hands-on Training Workshop!

CPE Opportunity in Your Region!

Registration is open for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics'

Nutrition Focused Physical Exam (NFPE) Hands-On Training Workshop
in Atlanta, GA

When: Tuesday, March 27, 2018

(if you are attending the annual GAND conference, consider attending the workshop before the conference begins!)

Where: Emory University Hospital in Atlanta, GA

Time: 7:30am – 4:30pm

CPE Information:

- Level: 1, 2
- Hours: 10

Pricing: (includes all workshop materials)

- Early Bird Registration Fee (increases by $50 after February 23, 2018):
- Member: $400
- Non-Member: $450

*Note this host facility does have requirements for RDN participants to participate in the patient rounds portion of the workshop. Please review on the NFPE website prior to registration to confirm you are able to complete.

To Register, visit:

*See attached flyer for more information for this date.

This hands-on NFPE training workshop provides registered dietitian nutritionists with the skills and knowledge necessary to perform NFPEs at their clinic, hospital or patient center to aid in the diagnosis of malnutrition.

After attending the NFPE Hands-On Training Workshop, the RDN workshop participant will be able to:

- Recognize the role of NFPE in identifying malnutrition
- Assess muscle wasting and fat loss
- Evaluate the presence of edema or fluid accumulation
- Identify clinical signs of micronutrient deficiencies and toxicities
- Measure functional status using hand grip strength dynamometer
- Demonstrate basic NFPE skills on actual patients

Attendees have the opportunity to perform NFPE on real patients during patient rounds with Academy trainers in small groups (6 participants and 1 trainer).

Attendees are also prepared to return to their facility and train facility RDN colleagues through a peer champion program, who are in turn eligible to earn 8 CEUs for a $75 fee. Ask your facility whether they will reimburse your costs!

Donna,

I apologize for the delay in responding. I shared your question with Pat and she felt that although we had not previously provided complimentary DPG/MIG/Academy Group memberships to the immediate past President, based on interaction between the immediate past President and the groups, it would be appropriate to change our process starting this year and moving forward. I will then make the changes to your membership early next week and will advise when your 2018-2019 memberships are finalized.

Thank you again and have a wonderful weekend.

Michelle, The best part about being President is working with the amazing Academy staff. I feel so supported in every way. Thanks for your email. I do have one question though? As past president I will not be a member of all the practice groups this year? I knew I would start paying after my past President year, but assumed this coming up year I would still be a member of all the practice groups. Thanks for your help with this question.

It has been a pleasure working with you, although indirectly, during your term as Academy president. I am reaching out to share information regarding your 2018-2019 Academy membership. When you receive your 2018-2019 membership renewal invoice in April, your membership category will be listed as Active Life with a $0 dues amount. To purchase any DPG, MIG or Academy Group memberships, or make donations to the Academy Foundation or ANDPAC, you may:

- Visit the Academy's online renewal application at www.eatrightPRO.org/renew. As President, you were enrolled in all DPGs, MIGs, and Academy Groups, and all groups are currently included on your membership invoice. You can deselect those you do not want to purchase through the online renewal process, or, if you prefer, provide a listing of only those you want to join for 2018-2019 and I can remove the remaining groups from your invoice.
- Submit the renewal form you receive in the mail
- Contact either myself or Laura Soto, Manager, Membership Operations, at 800/877-1600, ext. 4776 / lsoto@eatright.org
- Donations can also be submitted online by visiting the ANDF website and/or ANDPAC website

I am also including additional detailed information on membership renewal procedures for Academy Presidents below:

Academy dues renewal procedure for President, President-elect, Immediate Past President, and Former Presidents:

To clarify potential questions regarding why you receive a dues bill, the chart below summarizes the procedure for Academy dues bills (and “complimentary” dues) for Presidents (current, elect, past, and former). Dues bills are mailed to Academy Presidents so that they have the option to donate to the Academy Foundation or ANDPAC, or join DPGs, MIGs and/or Academy Groups (though DPGs, MIGs and Academy Groups are complimentary for the current President and President-elect).

Good afternoon,

I'm glad I was able to touch base with each of this week to discuss the situation with Mary Pat Raimondi declining the 1 year appointment to ANDPAC. I know we are all disappointed with her decision. We do need to move forward with making a new 3-year appointment to the committee. For the original appointments, you opted to use the top 3 recommendations provided by Jeanne and the ANDPAC leadership. If you wish to continue down that path, the next person on their rankings for consideration would be Patty Keane. Would you like to move forward with inviting Patty to serve on ANDPAC and have Dianne call her to extend that invitation?

If you'd like to review all of your options, I'm happy to resend that information later today. For some reason I'm having problems connecting to the Academy server in the meeting room this morning.

As always, thank you for your time addressing this appointment.

Diabetes in the African American Population: Improving Outcomes with Traditional Diets and Integrative Nutrition presented by Constance Brown-Riggs, MEd, RD, CDE, CDN

Diabetes not only affects African- American people in genetically or physiologically different ways, but African-Americans also cope with the disease within a particular cultural context. Their approach to diet and exercise, their eating habits, their relationships with caregivers, even their spirituality, behavior patterns and the type of complementary and alternative medicine (CAM) is unique—and all of that has an impact on how they approach their disease diagnosis and manage their health.

As the incidence of diabetes in the African American population continues to grow and data emerge to support medicinal benefits of traditional ethnic foods, it's important for dietitians to increase their knowledge of cultural foods and eating patterns.

Hi JoJo,

Thank you for running this opportunity by us. Since you will not be speaking on behalf of the Academy, it is fine for you to accept the media interviews as an expert endocrine source.

Doris reminds me that if you identify yourself as an RDN, we can highlight your media placements in Eat Right Weekly.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Dear Nutrition and Lifestyle Scientific Committee member:

The AACE Public and Media Relations team, with the approval of AACE President Dr. Jonathan Leffert, is instituting a new, more streamlined approach to media requests for expert endocrine sources.

Specifically, we are soliciting from the various AACE Scientific Committees subject matter experts in endocrine disease states who would be interested in being contacted by journalists as an expert resource for stories they are preparing. PLEASE NOTE: As a volunteer you will be speaking to the media as an endocrine expert ONLY and NOT on behalf of AACE.

AACE staff will facilitate communications and scheduling of all interviews between members of the media and the designated endocrine expert, based on availability.

If you are interested in participating, please respond to mgreen@aace.com. Also, please provide an updated Curriculum Vitae so that we may prepare a short bio for the media, as well as a head shot to be used in the event the media requests a picture.

Thank you in advance for your assistance with this request.

Diabetes in the African American Population: Improving Outcomes with Traditional Diets and Integrative Nutrition

presented by Constance Brown-Riggs, MSED, RD, CDE, CDN

Diabetes not only affects African- American people in genetically or physiologically different ways, but African-Americans also cope with the disease within a particular cultural context. Their approach to diet and exercise, their eating habits, their relationships with caregivers, even their spirituality, behavior patterns and the type of complementary and alternative medicine (CAM) is unique—and all of that has an impact on how they approach their disease diagnosis and manage their health.

As the incidence of diabetes in the African American population continues to grow and data emerge to support medicinal benefits of traditional ethnic foods, it's important for dietitians to increase their knowledge of cultural foods and eating patterns.

Objectives:

Recognize diabetes prevalence, trends, and risk in the African American population.

Identify the food choices, taste and preferences of people of African heritage – Africa, Caribbean and West Indies.

Understand the use of CAM in African Americans

Identify culturally appropriate strategies useful in helping to motivate behavior change in people of African heritage.

Thank you, Donna. Your input is invaluable! We will add the information and then send it to Mary and Lucille. On another note, Pat suggested we incorporate short video clips for PEDRO and the DC briefing and we are working on both. We will have an Academy Update with videos and one without in case the A/V doesn't have video capabilities.

Doris and Pat, I just reviewed the Academy update and I love it. It will be so fun to present and I think will provide great information to our members. Thanks for all your hard work on this. You incorporated so many of my ideas and I really appreciate it. One thing that would be helpful to me Doris, would be to have the list of what the name of the fellowship was for the RDN's we name in the presentation? Besides just naming them I would like to be able to say what some of their fellowships were for?

Please send it to Lucille and Mary to get their input also.

I would also like to include the statistics for each state that we go to on how their state has done with regard to political involvement. Teresa Nece gave me that information state by state last year, but I am not sure who can provide that this year? She gave me an AND PAC and Action Alert score for each state. If they are still doing that it would be very helpful. The first state I am going to is Alaska and that is March 1st. I have a call with Jeanne today so I will ask her about this.

Thanks again!

Hi Leah,

Thank you for your email. This is one of many National Nutrition Month press releases. As you may know, we cover shopping at supermarkets and supermarket RDNs quite often. Below are just a few of the stories.

<http://www.eatright.org/resource/food/planning-and-prep/smart-shopping/save-time-and-money-at-the-grocery-store>

<http://www.eatright.org/resources/food/planning-and-prep/smart-shopping>

<http://www.eatrightpro.org/resource/news-center/in-practice/dietetics-in-action/the-supermarket-rdn>

Farmers markets are wonderful places for consumers to find some of their favorite foods such as tomatoes, berries, beets and herbs, It's also a good place for consumers to discover new foods as well, such as heirloom vegetables. In addition, they can talk with the farmer who grew it and also ask them for recommendations on preparing and serving the food.

The Academy is not endorsing farmers markets or calling them out. We are just letting consumers know there are options and as you say, both farmers markets and retailers do co-exist.

Thank you, again. Hope this helps provide some background.

Best regards,

Doris

Shopping locally can be a great way to add healthful foods to your diet while conserving natural resources. That...

I have been a retail dietitian for the past 17 years and for the past 6 years I have worked with local farmers and vendors that supply our stores.

Why would you endorse farmers markets or call them out? There is nothing wrong with farmers markets but:

1. They are a SEASONAL indulgence that are open typically very limited hours and have SEASONALLY available produce.
2. What is "local"? There is NO legal definition.
3. Why not encourage shopping for seasonal fruits vegetables at farmers markets AND supermarkets?
4. Farmers who sell to farmers markets are typically NOT GAP (Good Agricultural Practices) certified - this is often why they sell at farmers markets instead of supermarkets. We require certain food safety and traceability standards that farmers markets do not.
5. The volume of produce retailers buy far exceeds anything sold at a farmers market.
6. Retailers support communities with taxes and employment that farmers markets do not.

Both farmers markets and retailers can co-exist - but why would you call out farmers markets?

Disappointing.

Dear NDEP Members,

The polls are open! Voting begins today, February 1st, and will continue through February 15th. Following is the slate of candidates on our 2018 NDEP Ballot for NDEP Council positions:

Vice-Chair

- Kendra Kattelman
- Dorothy Chen-Maynard (write-in candidate)

South Central Regional Director

- Linda Godfrey
- Jaimette McCulley

West Central Regional Director

- Lona Sandon
- Janelle Walter

South East Regional Director

- Phyllis McShane (unopposed)

NDEP House of Delegate Representative

- Malinda Cecil
- Laurie Kruzich

I'd like to share a few statistics with you regarding the number of NDEP members who participated in our own NDEP elections over the past few years:

2014: ~19%

2015: ~31%

2016: ~32%

2017: ~35%

It's great to see a trend for increasing numbers of members going to the polls to elect our NDEP leaders – let's keep that trend going!

Also, there are a number of our NDEP members who are candidates for Academy leadership positions:

- Catherine Christie (for Treasurer-Elect)
- Ellen Shanley (for Director-at-Large)
- Tamara Randall (for House of Delegates Speaker-elect)
- Jessie Pavlinac (for Nominating Committee National Leader)
- Kay Wolf (for Nominating Committee National Leader)
- Lisa (Elizabeth) Abbay (for Commission on Dietetic Registration Registered Dietitian Nutritionist)
- Mary Beth Ohlms (for Commission on Dietetic Registration Registered Dietitian Nutritionist)

Please don't forget that your vote is critical to the future of our profession as you select leaders who will represent and advocate for you, our educators and preceptors.

Visit www.eatrightpro.org/elections to cast your vote by February 15th!

Thank you for all that you do to support our profession, in so many ways.

Academy's Response to Wall Street Journal Op-Ed: RDNs Have Knowledge, Skills to Provide Science-Based Nutrition Services and Advice

In an article submitted to the Wall Street Journal in response to a February 1 op-ed questioning whether a college degree is needed to give diet advice, Academy President Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND, explains the "important distinctions between giving general dietary advice and providing potentially lifesaving services that require significant levels of education and training." The text of President Martin's article is posted on the Academy's website.

Senate Leadership Announces Bipartisan Budget Deal

Leaders of the U.S Senate announced a bipartisan budget deal February 7 to raise spending levels by nearly $300 billion for two years. The Academy applauds the agreement which, if enacted, would increase nondefense spending by $63 billion in Fiscal Year 2018 and $68 billion in Fiscal Year 2019. These increases would include critical nondefense discretionary funding for federal nutrition programs and public health. The Academy has urged Congress to allocate strong funding for health programs and to restore cuts and secure increases.

The Academy is a member of the SNAP-Ed Strategy Group, a national collaborative working to increase access to and demand for healthy foods and beverages in underserved communities. The briefing will be from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. Eastern time in room 2103 of the Rayburn House Office Building in Washington, D.C. Members wishing to attend are asked to RSVP to sdevito@nvgllc.com.

Academy Urges USDA: Keep Making Progress on School Nutrition

The Academy urged the U.S. Department of Agriculture to continue progress toward making school meals healthier and more appealing for children. The Academy's recommendations for strong nutrition standards related to whole grains, sodium and flavored low-fat milk reflect the input of multiple dietetic practice groups and member experts. The Academy recognizes the need for flexibility for product reformulation and additional technical assistance for some school food authorities, but insists that any additional flexibility or delays must not lead to a permanent failure of schools to meet improved nutrition standards.

Federal Budget Update

Congress has until midnight on February 8 to reach an agreement on funding the government for Fiscal Year 2018. Congress is expected to pass a short-term bill that would fund the government through March 23. The Trump administration is expected to release a budget proposal in February for Fiscal Year 2019, which begins October 1. Members of Congress are expected to draft budget proposals in the coming months, and the Academy will provide Academy members with updates and ways to engage with your members of Congress to protect investments in nutrition.

ANDPAC Funds Relationships, Not Lobbyists

It is a common myth that the Academy's political action committee ANDPAC primarily funds a lobbyist in Washington, D.C. In truth, when the Academy lobbies on members' behalf, we never use ANDPAC funds. Members' contributions to ANDPAC are used to develop and maintain relationships with congressional candidates who support the Academy's mission, vision and public policy priorities. Administrative fund donations cover operational costs such as supplies and software. Nor are ANDPAC funds used to pay wages or lobbying fees, as regulated by the Federal Election Commission.

2018 DCE Member Interest Survey

This survey is divided into 2 parts. You may complete either or both parts of the survey.

Part 1 is the Member Specialty. DCE Members have a wide range of talents. We would like to know what they are and here's why... frequently, DCE is asked to participate in various diabetes-related projects. We are interested in compiling a list of members who are available to work on specific projects as they arise. The amount of time spent would depend on the project. Please fill out the survey (even if you did last year) so we will have your information on file.

Part 2 is the Committee Interest. This is your opportunity to become involved in DCE as a member of one of our dynamic committees. DCE has various volunteer opportunities and the time commitment would be between 2-10 hours per month.

Please complete the survey (even if you did last year) so that we will have your information on file.

Thank you and we'll be in contact!

Subject: Informatics in Dietetic Education Webinar – Register Today!
Attachment:

Dear NDEP Members,

The NDEP Professional Development Committee is hosting a complimentary webinar titled: “Informatics in Dietetic Education: Fear not, help is on the way!” Webinar!

Nutrition Informatics is embedded in every registered dietitian nutritionists’ job, but most educators do not realize what this phrase means. The reason: most students were not taught informatics as a course or maybe the terminology was not part of their educational experience. This Webinar will review the past, present and future of Nutrition Informatics as well help you identify new pathways for incorporating informatics into your educational programs including class assignments, research projects and more. Plus you will learn about what resources are available for educators to increase your own informatics knowledge and skills for the classroom.

Learning objectives for this webinar:

1. Review the past, present and future of informatics
2. Identify new pathways for incorporating informatics into their dietetics educational programs
3. Provide Academy and other resources for educators to help increase informatics knowledge and skills in their classroom.

Participants will receive 1 CEU. Registration is required to attend the webinar.

Date: Thursday, March 1, 2018 from 11:00 am – 12:00 pm CT.

To register, click here:

https://eatright.webex.com/mw3100/mywebex/default.do?service=1&siteurl=eatright&nomenu=true&main_url=%2Fmc3100%2Fe.do%3Fsiteurl%3Deatright%26AT%3DMI%26EventID%3D646859262%26UID%3D0%26Host%3DQUhTSwAAAAQ8eRxJz9nv9H4_rQXs17l_1mRKdwHC28EuNRs-wmZ9TxYvvh4l65lIlgNpX5myQ5-vvYYd-0re9KV3kikDi9T0%26RG%3D1%26FrameSet%3D2%26RGID%3Dr28b84745eb7d7e69b2cd79b7af53eef7

If you are unable to attend the webinar during this time, it will be recorded and made available, with CEU credit, via an email blast as well as through the NDEP Portal library.

Academy Members to Participate in SNAP-Ed Briefing

Academy members Patty Keane, MS, RD, and Marcia Scott, PhD, will participate in a congressional briefing on the importance of SNAP-ED, which teaches families how to buy and prepare healthy food on a budget. The Academy is a member of the SNAP-Ed Strategy Group, a national collaborative working to increase access to and demand for healthy foods and beverages in underserved communities. The briefing will be held from 2-3 p.m. (Eastern Time) on February 8 in the Rayburn House Office Building, room 2103 in Washington, D.C.

Obesity Care Advocacy Day Webinar, February 15

On February 27, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics in conjunction with the Obesity Care Advocacy Network (OCAN) will host its annual advocacy day to encourage support for the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act (TROA). Attendees will meet with Capitol Hill staff 9 a.m. - 3:30 p.m., with a lunch briefing for congressional staff at noon (attendees are invited to the lunch briefing). The day will be capped off with a 4 – 6 p.m. ANDPAC and ObesityPAC reception to honor a legislators who have championed efforts to better promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services.

To prepare for the Capitol Hill meetings, registrants will receive briefing materials and be able to participate in the Obesity Care Advocacy Day webinar on February 15 at 3 p.m. (Eastern Time) highlighting TROA and better coverage of science-based obesity treatment services. Click here to register for the webinar. We encourage all Academy members to attend the advocacy day so that we may have a broad representation of patients, researchers, advocates and health care professionals on Capitol Hill. Its not too late – there is still time to register for advocacy day. For additional information, please contact Tenásha Ebrahimkhel.

Join the Farm Bill Monthly Call, March 1

Want to be engaged with the farm bill? The Academy's PIA staff is hosting a monthly call to discuss the latest news from Capitol Hill and share how you can get involved with our advocacy efforts. The next call will be March 1 at 2 p.m. (Eastern Time) – save the date! Please RSVP to Nicole Burda, director, legislative and government affairs, if you would like to join the call and stay informed.

Screen and Intervene: Addressing Food Insecurity Among Older Adults

The Food Research &Action Center and AARP Foundation have released a free online course, "Screen and Intervene: Addressing Food Insecurity Among Older Adults." In just 60 minutes, health care providers, community-based partners, students and interns can learn how to screen patients age 50+ for food insecurity and connect them to key nutrition resources like the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP). While the course focuses on adults 50+, many of the strategies are relevant across the lifespan. The course provides a number of free, downloadable resources, including posters and charts that are ready to use in clinical settings. The course is approved for 1.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ (MDs and DOs). In addition, dietitians can earn one CPEU for taking this course by printing out a certificate of completion and noting in their activity log that the course was approved by the ACCME. All other learners can download a certificate of participation upon completion of the course. The course can be accessed at: seniorhealthandhunger.org.

News from the Hill and Beyond

Groundhog saw its Shadow...and Congress Set to Vote Again to Avoid Shutdown

This may sound familiar...the U.S. House of Representatives released on Monday evening another short-term spending bill that will run the next six weeks through March 22. As a reminder, the current continuing resolution, CR, expires on February 8 at midnight, after the three-day government shutdown in late January. There could be a vote as early as Tuesday, as House Democrats are leaving for their legislative conference on Wednesday. H.J. Res 128 includes funding for Community Health Centers, the National Health Service Corps and the Special Diabetes Program, along with the CHRONIC Care Act (learn more about the Academy's involvement with the CHRONIC Care Act here). The bill also uses the Prevention and Public Health Fund as an offset for the health care program re-authorizations, which the Academy opposed in the December CR as well.

President's Budget Expected Next Week

As part of the federal budget process, President Trump is expected to release his proposed budget for Fiscal Year 2019 on February 12, which is a week later than originally planned due to the January government shutdown. The Academy will analyze the president's budget and will share the implications for federal nutrition and health programs in next week's Public Policy Weekly News. Learn more about the federal budget process here.

The Academy Opposes Changes to Menu Labeling Requirements

The Academy opposes changes to the menu labeling requirements that would make it more difficult for consumers to access and use information on menu labels when they purchase ready-to-eat foods away from home.

The Academy supports Americans' ability to know what is in their food so that they can make healthy choices at the point of purchase for themselves and their families. The Academy strongly supports the final rule promulgated by the Food and Drug Administration that was the result of a deliberate multi-year process that included input from a range of stakeholders across industry, government, and public health. The Common Sense Nutrition Disclosure Act of 2017 (H.R. 772/S. 261) would undo this consensus rule and further delay menu labeling for at least another two to three years and is rendered unnecessary as FDA's recent guidance addresses the bill's concerns. Notably, chain food service establishments have had years to prepare to comply with the requirements, and we note that many have already changed their menus in anticipation of the May 5, 2018 compliance deadline (which itself was the result of two previous delays from the original compliance deadline of December 1, 2016) and are entitled to the comforts of regulatory certainty.

Specifically, we urge Congress to maintain the following requirements as established in the 2014 final rule and subsequent guidance documents:

- Menu labeling should apply to ready-to-eat foods and beverages purchased at all chain food service establishments, including restaurants, supermarkets, and convenience stores, and closed-environments where one cannot bring their own food, such as movie theaters and stadiums.
- Calorie labeling should be required on all menus from which customers make food selections. This should include in-store, drive-through, printed takeout and delivery, and online menus.
- Calorie disclosures must be at the point of decision-making to be useful; the information should be located on or adjacent to the name of the food and price on a menu, menu board, or food label for self-service foods or foods on display and not in a separate location in the establishment.

Thumbs up

Kudos to DCE for Urging Congressional Funding of Special Diabetes Program

The Diabetes Care and Education DPG wrote to U.S. House of Representatives and Senate leadership, urging the inclusion of the Special Statutory Program for Type 1 Diabetes Research and the Special Diabetes Program for Indians in the continuing resolution that Congress will vote on by February 8. Thanks to DCE for advocating on behalf of this important federal investment in research and prevention programs!

Academy PIA Staff Visit DC's SNAP-Ed Program

Academy PIA staff spent the morning at a local Washington, D.C. elementary school seeing the great work that Academy member Sara Beckwith, MS, RDN, LDN, does as the program manager at the DC Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Education (SNAP-Ed). The Academy continues to advocate for SNAP-ED in our farm bill recommendations. Thank you Sara for being a great tour guide!

Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025, Call for Experts

Experts needed! The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee (DGAC). Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

“Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma to learn more.

Hi All:

I wanted you all to have the letter that I sent to everyone on the health care appropriations subcommittee. As you may know there is only one health care professional on the sub-com. Dr. Pigman from Sebring is an ER MD. There are a number of lawyers, and accountants! Good luck tomorrow. I will be there in spirit! Regards, Lucille

Natiional Nutrition Month® 2018

Having trouble viewing this e-mail? View it in your browser.

On Wednesday, March 14, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics celebrates Registered Dietitian Nutritionist Day! It's on this day that we honor and thank all RDNs committed to advancing the nutritional status of their patients and clients.

Now is the time to start planning ways to honor your RDNs on staff, including asking your mayor or state governor to declare Registered Dietitian Nutritionist Day. To get you started, the Academy has compiled a list of event ideas.

Perfect RDN Day Gifts!

Check out a number of RDN items now available through the NNM catalog.

Ndep Central Region
Spring Meeting
St. Louis, Missouri
Date: April 19th and 20th, 2018
Clayton Plaza Hotel
7750 Carondelet Avenue, Clayton, MO 63105

In addition to the ever popular NDEP updates and networking opportunities, this year's meeting has some very unique and relevant presentation topics:

- Allison Steiber, PhD, RDN, will present on "Simulation Opportunities in DPD/DI/ISPP Programs"
- Amy Knoblock-Hahn, PhD, RD will present on "Development of a Sustainable, Resilient, and Healthy Food and Water Systems for Dietetics Education"
- Dena French, EdD, RDN, LD will present on "Failure to Fail in Dietetics Education"

There will also be terrific Best Practice sessions on service learning experiences, using music and popular songs for learning, and Neehr Perfect, a web-based clinical simulation program.

To keep the meeting reasonably priced, the centrally-located Clayton Plaza hotel has double rooms at $125/night, free airport shuttle, free full hot breakfast for hotel guests, free WIFI in rooms and conference area, free gym and heated pool, and there is free garage parking to all conference attendees. Plus the metro station is a 4 block walk and there's lots of neighborhood restaurants and shopping!

Friendly reminders:

1. The early bird rate ends March 2nd, 2018. To register:
<https://ams.eatright.org/eweb/StartPage.aspx?Site=ACAD2014>
2. Videos for the CFP/ACEND/CDR and BOD will again be provided prior to the meeting. They will be posted to the NDEP and PSU websites and will also be posted to the NDEP portal.
3. Lastly, don't forget to nominate a fantastic preceptor before March 2nd!

Doris and Pat, I think this letter is much, much stronger. The only things I think could be added would be that we are regulated and operate under a code of ethics whereas these people practice without any oversight whatsoever. The other point relates to how much more complicated medical nutrition therapy has become and how much sicker patients are that we see. People without any formal credential could not possibly know how to counsel these patients. If we could try to incorporate those two points I think we would cover all the bases the P's talked about.

Doris and Pat, I think this letter is much, much stronger. The only things I think could be added would be that we are regulated and operate under a code of ethics whereas these people practice without any oversight whatsoever. The other point relates to how much more complicated medical nutrition therapy has become and how much sicker patients are that we see. People without any formal credential could not possibly know how to counsel these patients. If we could try to incorporate those two points I think we would cover all the bases the P's talked about.

Hi Mary,

Academy member Michelle Chynoweth forwarded Geeta's letter to the editor to us today. The low-carb diets are back in the news. A Ketogenic diet article was featured in the most recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, https://jamanetwork.com/journals/jama/fullarticle/2669724?utm_source=silverchair&utm_medium=email&utm_campaign=article_alert&utm_term=mostread&utm_content=olf-widget_02052018-2.

We will highlight Geeta's letter in this week's Eat Right Weekly. Please thank her for sharing the information with us. I also forwarded an email to Michelle letter her know we appreciate her forwarding Geeta's letter.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

What is the recommended response to a message such as this-a simple "thank you for keeping us informed"?

She definitely has credentials in the area of concern.

Hi Lucille and Mary

Hope you are doing well.

I want to share with you that an op ed piece was published on 1-28-18 in the LA Times by Gary Taubes and Nina Teicholz in support of low carb, higher saturated fat diets. It undermined evidence based diets such as DASH and Mediterranean dietary patterns.

My letter to LA Times in response to the Op Ed piece was published on Feb 2nd 2018.

Please see email thread below.

Cheers!

Ms. Sikand:

Your letter will be published online and in print tomorrow. Below is an edited copy.

Thank you for writing.

Sincerely,

Taubes' and Teicholz's fixation with discrediting evidence-based healthful dietary patterns such as the DASH and Mediterranean diets is misguided. These dietary patterns have been shown to protect against heart disease, diabetes and many cancers, including those of the colon, prostate, stomach and liver.

If total fat increases significantly while calorie intake is controlled to prevent weight gain, nutrient needs will not be met. Furthermore, diets higher in total fat also are higher in saturated fat, which raises cholesterol levels.

Thus, increasing fat intake excessively will make it hard to meet the recommended nutrient targets for health, well-being and disease prevention.

I wanted you all to have the letter that I sent to everyone on the health care appropriations subcommittee. As you may know there is only one health care professional on the sub-com. Dr. Pigman from Sebring is an ER MD. There are a number of lawyers, and accountants! Good luck tomorrow. I will be there in spirit! Regards, Lucille

Attachment:

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND[®]) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the February Standards Update is posted on the ACEND webpage: Monthly Standards Update. In this issue there is a description of Competency Based Education (CBE) under the Future Education Model. There is also a call for applications for the second cohort of demonstration programs.

The ACEND Board has updated the 2017 Accreditation Standards; those changes will become effective July 1, 2018. The revised standards are available at www.eatrightpro.org/2017Standards.

The monthly Virtual Town Hall meetings are held on the third Wednesday of the month at 3 PM Central Time. The town hall provides a time for ACEND to share updates on its standards work and for stakeholders to ask questions. Information on joining the town hall can be found at www.eatrightpro.org/FutureModel.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

Good evening,

While we are all sitting in cold temperatures, let's take a break and turn our thoughts toward spring (which will actually be here before we know it). As a reminder, in our work to support the Chairs of the Academy Committees, our plan includes 2 opportunities for them to "meet" with both of you in a structured, open forum space. These telephone forums are designed to strengthen communication amongst Academy leaders, provide an opportunity for them to ask you questions around specific topics, and offer a networking opportunity for these committee leaders. We conducted the first open forum in September and focused the conversation on the Academy's new Strategic Plan and "Helping One Another Succeed." Knowing everyone has busy lives, now would be a good time to start planning the second event.

Based on our previous conversations, you tossed out the idea of conducting a Doodle Poll to identify a good date/time for this forum rather than us just selecting one. I'm open to that plan and would just need from you some options so I can create and push out the Poll. Doing something in April or May might be good timing, recognizing we'll want to navigate around the HOD meeting and BOD meeting. We will also need to identify 1-2 topics for discussion. If you'd like, we could solicit input from the Committee Chairs. To get your wheels turning, last spring we provided an update on the Second Century Strategy and discussed potential implications for committee work/opportunities for collaboration (at that time the BOD had approved the vision/mission/principles). For the second topic we talked about effective communication between committees and the President/Speaker/BOD – what worked well and what could be improved.

So give it some thought and I look forward to your input on how you'd like to proceed. If you can let me know by January 29 I can get the ball rolling. I know both of you, as well as the Committee Chairs, enjoy the opportunity for interaction.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Doing something in April or May might be good timing, recognizing we'll want to navigate around the HOD meeting and BOD meeting. We will also need to identify 1-2 topics for discussion. If you'd like, we could solicit input from the Committee Chairs. To get your wheels turning, last spring we provided an update on the Second Century Strategy and discussed potential implications for committee work/opportunities for collaboration (at that time the BOD had approved the vision/mission/principles). For the second topic we talked about effective communication between committees and the President/Speaker/BOD – what worked well and what could be improved.

So give it some thought and I look forward to your input on how you'd like to proceed. If you can let me know by January 29 I can get the ball rolling. I know both of you, as well as the Committee Chairs, enjoy the opportunity for interaction.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Who Are Nutrition/Dietetics Practitioners?

Ninety-four percent of practitioners are female, similar to prior surveys. Median age of practitioners is 42, down from 49 in 2015; 26% are 55 or older, while 36% are under 35. This age profile is significantly younger than seen in the 2015 survey, and may reflect the long-expected turnover due to retirement of the baby boomers. Five percent indicated Hispanic heritage, and 10% indicated a race other than White (5% Asian, 3% Black/African American, and 2% other).

DRAFT RESPONSE TO WALL STREET JOURNAL

I am writing in regard to the op-ed in the February 1 Wall Street Journal headlined "Do you need a college degree to give diet advice?" It is important to keep in mind the difference in qualifications needed to give general non-medical nutrition advice and more complex nutrition advice and counseling for patients and clients to treat and manage disease and conditions.

The stance of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, the world's largest organization of food and nutrition professionals, acknowledges this difference in a way the op-ed does not. We hold that academic, experience and exam standards at the registered dietitian nutritionist level are the minimum qualifications necessary to be a safe, effective provider of nutrition services such as medical nutrition therapy.

Registered dietitian nutritionists represent a wide range of practice areas and interests, including hospitals, schools, public health clinics, nursing homes, fitness centers, food management, food industry, universities, research and private practice. RDNs are advocates for advancing the nutritional status of Americans and people around the world.

While the Academy is not involved in the Florida case mentioned in the article, we are monitoring it as it proceeds through the state system. The Academy works with our members, as well as legislators and other stakeholders, in every state to protect consumers and ensure high standards for nutrition and dietetics practice.

Manifesting the Academy's long support of the military and those who serve since our founding during World War I, we continue to work with states to enable service members and their spouses to obtain state dietetics licenses with greater ease and flexibility.

Hi all!

Yes, it's a great idea.

We could include it this year since we're already planning a session on food waste and could tie in blockchain technology there.

For the session, we discussed including a speaker on how changing expiration dates would reduce food waste. However, since I read that piece, the Grocery Manufacturers Association and the Food Marketing Institute have agreed to voluntarily change labels by 2020. If we crafted the food waste session on current changes (expiration date changes) and future changes (blockchain technology) to help reduce food waste, it could be really dynamic. Let me know what you think and I'll bring that idea up to Mindy and Amanda, who are helping develop the session.

Then next year we could build on it by having a solo blockchain session on food safety.

Hi all!

Yes, it's a great idea.

We could include it this year since we're already planning a session on food waste and could tie in blockchain technology there.

For the session, we discussed including a speaker on how changing expiration dates would reduce food waste. However, since I read that piece, the Grocery Manufacturers Association and the Food Marketing Institute have agreed to voluntarily change labels by 2020. If we crafted the food waste session on current changes (expiration date changes) and future changes (blockchain technology) to help reduce food waste, it could be really dynamic. Let me know what you think and I'll bring that idea up to Mindy and Amanda, who are helping develop the session.

Then next year we could build on it by having a solo blockchain session on food safety.

Hi all!

Yes, it's a great idea.

We could include it this year since we're already planning a session on food waste and could tie in blockchain technology there.

For the session, we discussed including a speaker on how changing expiration dates would reduce food waste. However, since I read that piece, the Grocery Manufacturers Association and the Food Marketing Institute have agreed to voluntarily change labels by 2020. If we crafted the food waste session on current changes (expiration date changes) and future changes (blockchain technology) to help reduce food waste, it could be really dynamic. Let me know what you think and I'll bring that idea up to Mindy and Amanda, who are helping develop the session.

Then next year we could build on it by having a solo blockchain session on food safety.

Good Friday-this is a fascinating concept and would be a terrific food safety presentation for FNCE if we found very lively presenters who could "de-geek" the topic.

The example of recalling mangoes that contained larvae was visual and impressive for me.

I will mention to Christine (chair) and Lori-they do have a significant list of LLL planned sessions and still this could be a backup. Definitely something to consider for FNCE 19.

On another topic, I spent a long time last night voting for Academy, DPG, MIG, and NDEP candidates. Since I belong to all the DPGs it was quite a process. What an impressive group of individuals on the ballot! I am amazed, proud, and awed by the variety of skills and expertise and thrilled by everyone's enthusiasm for our Second Century and Strategic Plan.
Happy Friday!!

Speaker Message 16 VOTE National Elections Open

Polls are Now Open: Vote Today, Own Tomorrow

- Participate in the Academy's national election through February 15. Cast your ballot and receive a coupon for $5 off your next purchase from the eatrightSTORE.
- Encourage constituents to vote as well!

Academy Resources and Communications

We thought it might be a good time to remind everyone of some of the communication channels and resources available for members.

•Eat Right Weekly

- Many Academy updates and resources are shared through this all-member email. Make sure to take time to read it weekly to help inform yourself and your constituents.

•Daily Nutrition and Dietetics SmartBrief

- Nutrition and Dietetics SmartBrief is now delivered daily to Academy members' email boxes, replacing the Nutrition News that was sent on Fridays by the Academy. Members are able to opt-out and non-member professionals are able to subscribe.
- The Academy will keep members informed about the news that matters most, from new nutrition research to breakthroughs in foodservice technology.
- The Academy's new Nutrition and Dietetics SmartBrief will provide daily news briefs with access to subscriber-only news sites.

•MNT Provider

- Free to Academy members, the monthly MNT Provider includes articles on topics such as billing, coding and coverage, practice and business management, health care reform, Medicare, Medicaid, and private insurance reimbursement.

- The latest issue highlights business growth opportunities with the Medicare Diabetes Prevention Program, the timeline for the new Medicare cards, and a free chronic care management services webinar.

- ACEND® Virtual Town Hall Meetings

- ACEND® hosts a conference call the third Wednesday of each month at 3 p.m. (Central Time) to answer your questions about their work. All stakeholders are invited to participate.

- Public Policy Weekly News (PPWN)

- Delegates receive this weekly communication because public policy is a core function of the HOD and you are a member of the Public Policy Panel. The new email format is user friendly, and if you happen to miss a message, we post a PDF of the message on the HOD platform.

- Jaimette McCulley

West Central Regional Director

- Lona Sandon
- Janelle Walter

South East Regional Director

- Phyllis McShane (unopposed)

NDEP House of Delegate Representative

- Malinda Cecil
- Laurie Kruzich

I'd like to share a few statistics with you regarding the number of NDEP members who participated in our own NDEP elections over the past few years:

2014: ~19%

2015: ~31%

2016: ~32%

2017: ~35%

It's great to see a trend for increasing numbers of members going to the polls to elect our NDEP leaders – let's keep that trend going!

Also, there are a number of our NDEP members who are candidates for Academy leadership positions:

- Catherine Christie (for Treasurer-Elect)
- Ellen Shanley (for Director-at-Large)
- Tamara Randall (for House of Delegates Speaker-elect)
- Jessie Pavlinac (for Nominating Committee National Leader)
- Kay Wolf (for Nominating Committee National Leader)
- Lisa (Elizabeth) Abbay (for Commission on Dietetic Registration Registered Dietitian Nutritionist)
- Mary Beth Ohlms (for Commission on Dietetic Registration Registered Dietitian Nutritionist)

Please don't forget that your vote is critical to the future of our profession as you select leaders who will represent and advocate for you, our educators and preceptors.

Visit www.eatrightpro.org/elections to cast your vote by February 15th!

Thank you for all that you do to support our profession, in so many ways.

Donna,

I'm writing to schedule a quick introductory call.

My name is John and I'm the President at Minding Your Business. Many associations are talking about reduced meeting attendance or declining membership numbers – you are not alone. But, there is a silver-lining – the help you need is emailing you directly today.

Simply put, we help you grow engagement, deepen loyalty, and ultimately increase your value within your industry by answering three key questions:

1. What are your top offerings that drive value to members?
2. What is important to your members and attendees that you are currently not delivering as a member benefit or at your Annual Meeting?
3. Is attendance a marketing issue or is it a misalignment of expectations?

By leveraging that data to inform your growth strategies, you will rise above the noise of the market and break away from the industry-wide plateau. If you'd like to lead the charge into the future, then I'd love to discuss more over a 15-minute phone call.

Are you available next Tuesday?

Thanks in advance,
John

Hi, Donna: The Academy's Membership Team has drafted the text below, to go over your name on a postcard to members who are celebrating five years of continuous membership. Could you please let us know if it looks OK to you, or if you have any edits, which we're glad to make. Thank you very much!

Tom

Dear <First_Name>,

Happy anniversary! I am happy to congratulate you on five years of membership with the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. To help you celebrate, we have included a special gift with this card.

Although I have been a member since 1976, I am still learning about all the ways I benefit from Academy membership, including being accepted as a Fellow of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (FAND).

I encourage you to not only maintain your membership, but to also continue to discover what the Academy has to offer. Are you involved with a DPG or your local affiliate? Be sure to check out our malnutrition resources, join the online reimbursement community, and even develop leadership skills by becoming a mentor or preceptor.

Thank you for your continued support of the Academy and our chosen profession. With your help, and that of our nutrition and dietetics colleagues throughout the world, we can continue our mission to accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through the transformative power of food and nutrition.

Sincerely,

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Academy Calls on Congress: Protect Investment in Nutrition Programs

The Academy joined more than 2,000 national organizations in urging Congress to ensure adequate funding for both defense and non-defense spending levels in a final Fiscal Year 2018 budget agreement. The organizations' letter highlighted the "Faces of Austerity 2.0" report, which focuses on federal programs that help ensure older people eat healthful, nutritious meals. Congress is expected to reach a final budget agreement before the short-term spending bill expires February 8.

HHS Secretary Confirmed

The U.S. Senate voted January 24 to confirm Alex Azar as the 24th U.S. Secretary of Health and Human Services. The Academy sent a letter of introduction to Secretary Azar and looks forward to working with him to improve the health and nutrition of all Americans.

Academy Supports "All of Us" Research Project, Encourages Members' Comments

The National Institutes of Health's "All of Us" research project aims to better define why diet and exercise influence people differently. The project's goal is to recruit 1 million or more people of diverse backgrounds, which will lead to high statistical reliability in studies of the impact of variability in genes, environment and lifestyles. In addition to participating in the Academy's formal comment process through dietetic practice groups, members are encouraged to comment individually by February 23.

USDA Secretary Unveils Farm Bill Blueprint, Academy Continues Advocacy

Agriculture Secretary Sonny Perdue recently unveiled the U.S. Department of Agriculture's blueprint for the 2018 Farm Bill. The goal of the USDA's legislative principles "is to be responsive to the American people and improve services while reducing regulatory burdens on USDA customers." The Academy will continue to advocate for a Farm Bill that improves health for everyone by ensuring a food supply that is nourishing, safe and affordable, and helps people most at risk for food insecurity, hunger and chronic illnesses.

ANDPAC Events Strengthen Advocacy Efforts

The Academy continues to strengthen our relationships with members of Congress through ANDPAC. In addition to regular Capitol Hill visits, the Policy Initiatives and Advocacy Team attended events using ANDPAC funds during January for U.S. Reps. Buddy Carter (Ga.), Rodney Davis (Ill.), Raul Ruiz (Calif.) and Rob Woodall (Ga.), and Sen. Cory Gardner (Colo.). Congress members were receptive to talks about the value of SNAP-Ed in the upcoming Farm Bill reauthorization, as well as the potential for the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act to save between $19 billion and $21 billion over the next 10 years, according to a new white paper. TROA has 133 cosponsors - and counting.

Member Announces Run for Congress

Academy member Felicia Stoler, DCN, MS, RDN, FACSM, FAND, recently announced her candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress in New Jersey's 4th District. The Academy looks forward to reporting more about her positions on issues as her platform develops.

Subject: Academy Comment re IFR on School Foods

Ladies,

Before I send this draft set of comments out for approval from the Legislative and Public Policy Cmte, I wanted to confirm you all were ok with the recommendations contained herein, as we try to balance the importance of school nutrition standards with other factors we have discussed. I have included as much of the model comment from our partners in the NANA coalition that made sense given what I understand to be the direction we are taking, which gives this additional length and heft. If at all possible, it would be helpful if you could please review at minimum the very short section A of these comments (pasted below, also) to ensure you are comfortable with the overview of recommendations by tomorrow, Sunday 1/28 at noon. I will be editing the comments tonight for clarity and copyediting, but wanted to get these to you asap.

-Pepin

A. Overview of Recommendations

1) Sodium

Nine out of ten children consume too much sodium,[1] increasing their risk of high blood pressure, heart disease, and stroke.[2] The Academy strongly supports reducing students' overconsumption of sodium in total, and particularly their consumption of sodium in their school meals. We are concerned that ongoing delays may lead to a final regulation that would lock in unsafe levels of sodium for children, or even result in an eventual, unacceptable roll-back of the sodium standards. However, the Academy recognizes the merits of the proposed three-year delay (from School Year 2017-2018 to School Year 2021-2022) of the second sodium reduction targets (Target 2) for school meals in that it would allow more time for industry to reformulate products and provide additional time for students' palates to adapt to changes.

2) Low Fat Flavored Milk

The Academy does not oppose providing schools with additional flexibility by allowing flavored low-fat (1 percent) milk for school meals and as a competitive food, and we note that reformulation of flavored milk and conscientious meal planning has enabled some schools to successfully include low fat flavored milk without exceeding the calorie maximum.

3) Whole Grains

The Academy recognizes the success of most schools in meeting the whole grain requirements and urges USDA to ensure that any additional flexibility provided to those not yet meeting the standards is temporary and robust, reflecting a commitment to uniform adoption and compliance as soon as practicable.

NOMINATIONS OPEN: MARY P. HUDDLESON AWARD 2017

Every year, the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics is proud to present its readers with a variety of revealing and insightful articles that expand the perimeters of nutrition science. While every article featured in this publication reflects a worthy contribution to the dietetics profession, each year there are a select number of articles whose research and content are so exceptional that they deserve to be recognized by the Academy and the Foundation.

The Huddleson Award, bestowed by the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation, is named for Mary Pascoe Huddleson, editor of the Journal from 1927 to 1946. The award, which recognizes a registered dietitian nutritionist who was the lead author of an article published in the Journal, carries an honorarium of up to $1,000.

We invite you to take a few moments to consider which research, practice, or review articles published in the Journal during the 2017 calendar year had the greatest impact on you.

A committee of judges will review nominations and make recommendations to the Foundation. The Foundation, after determining the winner of the Huddleson Award, will issue an official announcement. In order for an author to be eligible for the award, he or she should be:

- a member of the Academy;
- a registered dietitian nutritionist; and
- the lead author.

The deadline for nomination is March 1, 2018. To nominate an article, send the following information to journal@eatright.org with the subject line Huddleson Award Nomination:

- Author(s)
- Title
- Month, Volume, Page Number
- Reasons for nomination

Obesity Care Advocacy Day and Congressional Briefing on Capitol Hill, February 27

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics in conjunction with Obesity Care Advocacy Network (OCAN) leaders will host the second annual Obesity Care Network Advocacy Day on Feb. 27 in Washington, D.C. Participants will attend meetings with Capitol Hill offices between 9 a.m. – 3:30 p.m., and a lunch briefing at noon.

The day's events will conclude with an ANDPAC and ObesityPAC reception from 4:30– 6 p.m. to honor legislators who have championed efforts to promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services. Register today and join us! For additional information, please contact Tenásha Ebrahimkhel. Once you have registered, complete the following form.

A FNCE® First! Public Policy Workshop Will Be Included at FNCE® 2018!

Hosting FNCE® 2018 in Washington, D.C., allows us to also include the Public Policy Workshop (PPW) as a value-added event. Not only will FNCE® 2018 feature an advanced policy and advocacy educational sessions track, but attendees can participate in PPW on the afternoon of Tuesday, October 23 (after Closing Session) and benefit from face-to-face training on key issues affecting the dietetics profession. PPW attendees will then be well prepared to visit Capitol Hill on Wednesday, October 24 and speak to legislators about the importance of nutrition in regulation. Enhance your FNCE® experience and sign up to participate in PPW.

Note: When registering for FNCE®, please indicate that you will also be attending PPW and make sure to extend your hotel stay to Wednesday departure.

Academy Stays Busy with Regulatory Comments Submissions

With the substantial input of specialists in Dietetic Practice Groups and member experts to help develop well-planned, evidence-based comments, the Academy submitted a record 55 regulatory comments in 2017 to the U.S. Departments of Health and Human Services, Agriculture and Veterans Administration. From factors affecting outcomes in HIV care to cognitive impairment in older adults and payment systems in Medicare, the Academy demonstrated the commitment of its members to prevention and effective medical nutrition therapy.

The Academy applauds our expert members who participated in our regulatory comments. As these federal agencies develop and draft regulations, they are dependent upon the input of stakeholders, such as the Academy. And the Academy is dependent upon the input of our member experts. If you'd like more information about the Academy's regulatory process and how you can participate, please contact Mark Rifkin or Pepin Tuma.

Opportunities available with the CBCF Leader Institute for Public Service

The Congressional Black Caucus Foundation's (CBCF) Leadership Institute for Public Service has opportunities to help emerging leaders participate in policy development through their fellowship programs. The Leadership Institute's stated goal is to increase the number of black leaders in public service careers and public policy positions. The Leadership Institute offers many scholarships, fellowships and internships that will allow Academy members to be trained policy leaders and serve as a nutrition resource for members of Congress. National Organization of Blacks in Dietetics and Nutrition (NOBIDAN) members are encouraged to apply. Academy's 2018 Election Voting Begins This Week

Mark your calendars—the Academy's 2018 national election begins Feb. 1! Candidate biographies are available on the election website. A recorded webinar informing members how to be engaged in the election process by providing details and clarification regarding the National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines can be viewed here.

The draft agenda and additional information can be found on the conference website.

Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025, Call for Experts

Experts needed! The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee (DGAC). Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

“Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma to learn more.

USDA's Farm Bill Principles

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Sonny Perdue unveiled the U.S. Department of Agriculture's blueprint for the 2018 farm bill. The stated goal of the USDA's legislative principles “is to be responsive to the American people and improve services while reducing regulatory burdens on USDA customers.” The principles are more conceptual than specific. The section that gained the most media attention was the concept of work as a pathway to self-sufficiency for individuals and families participating in the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program. Academy staff will continue to advocate for a farm bill that improves health for everyone by ensuring a food supply that is nourishing, safe and affordable, and helps Americans most at risk for food insecurity, hunger and chronic illnesses.

State of the Union Address, January 30

The President will deliver his first State of the Union address January 30 at 9 p.m. ET. During the speech, the president will discuss his legislative agenda, including a $1 trillion infrastructure package and immigration reform. The infrastructure plan is expected to be released in the upcoming weeks.

Academy Supports Critical Health Programs in Letter to Congress

The Academy joined health professional organizations in a January 28 letter calling on congressional leadership to include reauthorization of, and funding for, expiring health programs in the next appropriations bill. In the letter, the Academy weighed-in on other safety net programs that the Academy supports but remain in limbo before the February 19 deadline.

The Academy has signed on to similar letters to congressional leaders in September and December 2017. Congress passed a 6-year extension of Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) in the latest short-term spending bill (Continuing Resolution, or CR), but has yet to pass full extensions of the other programs, including Community Health Centers, National Health Service Corp, Medicaid Disproportionate Share Hospital payments and the Maternal, Infant and Early Childhood Home Visiting program.

Alex Azar Sworn in as HHS Secretary

Alex Azar was sworn in as the 24th Secretary for the United States Health and Human Services on January 29. The Academy sent a letter of introduction to Secretary Azar, and we look forward to working with him to improve the health and nutrition of all Americans.

Academy Member Seeks Congressional Office

Academy member Dr. Felicia Stoler, DCN, MS, RDN, FACSM, FAND, announced her candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress in New Jersey's 4th District. She will be running in the Republican Primary on June 5. The Academy has been communicating with her and we look forward to learning more about her position on issues as her platform develops.

While I was getting my thoughts/ideas together I reread the statement Marsha sent. (see below) It says . . . for up to five years?? Wearing my attorney hat, I could certainly make an argument that up to 5 years gives us wiggle room.

OK I said my piece (to you guys only) and now I will let you both know if she accepts the one year appointment as soon as she lets me know.

Dianne needs to call Mary Pat Raimondi and explain that we learned there is a policy under the Nominating Committee that precludes former Academy employees from serving in appointed roles on the national level for up to 5 years after leaving employment

ACTION ALERT: HOLISTIC HEALTH

From: Council of Holistic Health Educators:

Tell your elected officials to support the amendment to H 1047, and it's companion S 1486. This bill will dramatically open up and increase the practice of holistic health in Florida, by removing monopolistic barriers for nutrition practitioners.

A hearing will be held on January 30th in the Senate Health Policy Committee to discuss the underlining legislation, and consider the amendment. This is a huge step forward for holistic health.

We must move quickly! Take action now by asking everyone you know in Florida to follow this link: <https://app.muster.com/take-action/aPPlo08ejn/>

Good morning,

I hope everyone is doing well. Before any more time passes I want to circle back and hopefully close the loop on this complex issue. Pat and I had a final discussion about Mary Pat's request to in this situation make an exception to the policy. We feel extending Mary Pat the offer to serve for 1 year is already an exception to the policy and no further exception will be made. As I worked with Pat and Joan on the history and rationale for the original policy, we identified the policy was put in place so as to ensure the general membership pool had sufficient opportunities to serve on national committees. It was also deemed important that appointments to committees not be perceived as a "good old boys" system controlled by staff or recent former staff. Finally, it was designed to ensure clear role delineation between committee staff partners and committee members, which could become blurred when a staff member who recently leaves employment shifts to a committee member role. We definitely value the knowledge, experience and connections of former Academy employees and have and will continue to tap into that resource pool in other ways. For example, in this particular situation Mary Pat can attend local events sponsored by ANDPAC and participate on the ANDPAC advisory group.

I have held off on sending Mary Pat an official committee appointment letter until this question was resolved. I am now prepared to do so but feel someone first needs to circle back to Mary Pat via phone. Dianne, since you originally reached out to her would you like to do so or does anyone feel that at this point it needs to come from staff?

Thanks and look forward to seeing everyone again soon at the upcoming BOD meeting.

My comment about Mary Pat being a "tad" upset was probably better reflected by Donna's comment about her being very upset.

Upon more reflection, do we know why the policy was established originally? Are there any notes or guidance about the intent of the policy? Would it be worth reviewing? I certainly can think of several reasons to possibly change it, but maybe there is something valid about keeping it as it is currently. More thoughts?

Good morning,

Thanks, to both of you, for weighing in on this situation. Pat and I just spoke about it as I feel since we are talking about implementation of an operational policy of the Academy, as CEO she should make the final decision. Pat continues to be comfortable, under the circumstances, to allow Mary Pat to serve on ANDPAC for 1 year (not a full 3-year appointment). She noted past precedence of putting people on committees for 1 year, so this action would be consistent with previous actions. Other committee appointments, including positions on ANDPAC, are for 1 year so this action should not lead to intense scrutiny. Moving forward we will definitely make the policy known so we can ensure strict adherence in the future.

On a personal level, I know none of us like to see our friends disappointed and the decision is certainly in no way a reflection of anyone's opinion of her commitment as a prior member leader or staff member. Dianne, I appreciate you bringing the question forward on Mary Pat's behalf.

Thanks and let me know if either of you has any questions about Pat's decision.

My comment about Mary Pat being a "tad" upset was probably better reflected by Donna's comment about her being very upset.

Upon more reflection, do we know why the policy was established originally? Are there any notes or guidance about the intent of the policy? Would it be worth reviewing? I certainly can think of several reasons to possibly change it, but maybe there is something valid about keeping it as it is currently. More thoughts?

Good morning,

Thanks, to both of you, for weighing in on this situation. Pat and I just spoke about it as I feel since we are talking about implementation of an operational policy of the Academy, as CEO she should make the final decision. Pat continues to be comfortable, under the circumstances, to allow Mary Pat to serve on ANDPAC for 1 year (not a full 3-year appointment). She noted past precedence of putting people on committees for 1 year, so this action would be consistent with previous actions. Other committee appointments, including positions on ANDPAC, are for 1 year so this action should not lead to intense scrutiny. Moving forward we will definitely make the policy known so we can ensure strict adherence in the future.

On a personal level, I know none of us like to see our friends disappointed and the decision is certainly in no way a reflection of anyone's opinion of her commitment as a prior member leader or staff member. Dianne, I appreciate you bringing the question forward on Mary Pat's behalf.

Thanks and let me know if either of you has any questions about Pat's decision.

Best,

Marsha

I am definitely in favor of making an exception for her since we did not know what the policy was when we appointed her. We will not make that mistake again. My vote is let her stay for 3 years.

2457. Nominate an Outstanding Preceptor! Nominations due by March 2nd!

Subject: Nominate an Outstanding Preceptor! Nominations due by March 2nd!
Attachment: unknown_name_tkeup

Dear NDEP Members –

Do you know of a deserving preceptor that goes above and beyond your expectations with each student/intern they work with? Someone who somehow finds the time in their busy schedule to continually mentor new students/interns? Someone your students/interns continually praise for their exceptional talents? If so, perhaps you should consider nominating them for NDEP's annual Outstanding Preceptor Award for 2018.

The purpose of the Outstanding Preceptor Award (OPA) is to recognize the exceptional teaching, mentoring, and leadership activities of preceptors in ACEND-accredited dietetics education programs. Active NDEP Council members and previous OPA winners are not eligible for this award.

In addition to publishing the list of outstanding preceptors in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and NDEP-Line, each awardee will receive $1,000 to attend the 2018 Food and Nutrition Conference and Expo in Washington, DC (supported by the Academy's Foundation), one (1) year membership in NDEP (June 1, 2018-May 31, 2019), and a certificate and congratulatory letter from the Academy President. Awards will be presented during the member showcase and during an NDEP-sponsored event.

Criteria:

- Nominees must be a current member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, but are not required to be a NDEP member for consideration for this award.

- Preceptor in an ACEND-accredited supervised practice program (CP, DI, DT or ISPP).

Preceptors do NOT need to reside in the same Area as the Program Director and/or students/interns in order to be nominated.

Program Directors and educators are not eligible as there is a separate award for Outstanding Educators.

Submission and Selection Procedure:

Nominations will be accepted via this survey link:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/PreceptorAwardNomination>

Nominations will be collected using an online entry system (Survey Monkey), which will close at 5 pm CST on March 2, 2018.

Nomination applications should be submitted by the Program Director of the program the preceptor is a part of and consist of a completed online entry, which includes two separate focused statements of support (one from peers, program directors, or faculty AND one from students/interns). Incomplete applications and additional materials beyond the online entry will not be reviewed.

Nominations will be evaluated upon the exemplary accomplishments of preceptors above what would be considered core preceptor responsibilities based upon the following key areas:

- 1. Teaching, which should showcase innovative teaching skills and techniques to facilitate student/intern learning.
- 2. Mentoring, which should include those behaviors that elevate student learning and level of practice above routine preceptor responsibilities.
- 3. Excellence in Professional Practice, which should include participation beyond membership in local, state, or national organizations, community organizations, workplace committees, public policy, etc.

The NDEP Preceptor Director and Preceptor Committee will receive, review, and select the winner from the eligible nominations after the survey has been closed. The committee will select no more than one preceptor from each of the six regions. There is a maximum of six awards per year.

Questions about the submission process or selection procedure should be directed to NDEP at ndep@eatright.org. Attached is a sample of the survey monkey to be used for a nomination.

Good morning,

I hope everyone is doing well. Before any more time passes I want to circle back and hopefully close the loop on this complex issue. Pat and I had a final discussion about Mary Pat's request to in this situation make an exception to the policy. We feel extending Mary Pat the offer to serve for 1 year is already an exception to the policy and no further exception will be made. As I worked with Pat and Joan on the history and rationale for the original policy, we identified the policy was put in place so as to ensure the general membership pool had sufficient opportunities to serve on national committees. It was also deemed important that appointments to committees not be perceived as a "good old boys" system controlled by staff or recent former staff. Finally, it was designed to ensure clear role delineation between committee staff partners and committee members, which could become blurred when a staff member who recently leaves employment shifts to a committee member role. We definitely value the knowledge, experience and connections of former Academy employees and have and will continue to tap into that resource pool in other ways. For example, in this particular situation Mary Pat can attend local events sponsored by ANDPAC and participate on the ANDPAC advisory group.

I have held off on sending Mary Pat an official committee appointment letter until this question was resolved. I am now prepared to do so but feel someone first needs to circle back to Mary Pat via phone. Dianne, since you originally reached out to her would you like to do so or does anyone feel that at this point it needs to come from staff?

Thanks and look forward to seeing everyone again soon at the upcoming BOD meeting.

Good morning,

Thanks, to both of you, for weighing in on this situation. Pat and I just spoke about it as I feel since we are talking about implementation of an operational policy of the Academy, as CEO she should make the final decision. Moving forward we will definitely make the policy known so we can ensure strict adherence in the future.

On a personal level, I know none of us like to see our friends disappointed and the decision is certainly in no way a reflection of anyone's opinion of her commitment as a prior member leader or staff member. Dianne, I appreciate you bringing the question forward on Mary Pat's behalf.

Thanks and let me know if either of you has any questions about Pat's decision.

Hi. Here is a brief ICDA Update

We had a Board conference call today and will have another in Feb. Basically we approved old minutes, reviewed the budget, discussed issues re: a few countries' due membership funds, one new application (from Sri Lanka), revisions to the application, education accreditation updates and a possible sustainability project to create a definition of such from ICDA. There may be a proposal for a presentation at the Asian Congress and the face-to-face meeting for the ICDA Board this year will likely be in Lisbon or Rome. Sandra Capra did one pilot accreditation site visit and it looks like ORDEM (org in Portugal) uses the Academy EAL and is looking for assistance with EBPG but that it is not ICDA's focus.

Ladies,

Before I send this draft set of comments out for approval from the Legislative and Public Policy Cmte, I wanted to confirm you all were ok with the recommendations contained herein, as we try to balance the importance of school nutrition standards with other factors we have discussed. I have included as much of the model comment from our partners in the NANA coalition that made sense given what I understand to be the direction we are taking, which gives this additional length and heft. If at all possible, it would be helpful if you could please review at minimum the very short section A of these comments (pasted below, also) to ensure you are comfortable with the overview of recommendations by tomorrow, Sunday 1/28 at noon. I will be editing the comments tonight for clarity and copyediting, but wanted to get these to you asap.

-Pepin

A. Overview of Recommendations

1) Sodium

Nine out of ten children consume too much sodium,[1] increasing their risk of high blood pressure, heart disease, and stroke.[2] The Academy strongly supports reducing students' overconsumption of sodium in total, and particularly their consumption of sodium in their school meals. We are concerned that ongoing delays may lead to a final regulation that would lock in unsafe levels of sodium for children, or even result in an eventual, unacceptable roll-back of the sodium standards. However, the Academy recognizes the merits of the proposed three-year delay (from School Year 2017-2018 to School Year 2021-2022) of the second sodium reduction targets (Target 2) for school meals in that it would allow more time for industry to reformulate products and provide additional time for students' palates to adapt to changes.

2) Low Fat Flavored Milk

The Academy does not oppose providing schools with additional flexibility by allowing flavored low-fat (1 percent) milk for school meals and as a competitive food, and we note that reformulation of flavored milk and conscientious meal planning has enabled some schools to successfully include low fat flavored milk without exceeding the calorie maximum.

3) Whole Grains

The Academy recognizes the success of most schools in meeting the whole grain requirements and urges USDA to ensure that any additional flexibility provided to those not yet meeting the standards is temporary and robust, reflecting a commitment to uniform adoption and compliance as soon as practicable.

Speaker Message 16 Motion Outcome

Today is the Final Day to Complete the HOD Mid-Year Evaluation

Thanks to delegates who have completed the Mid-Year HOD Evaluation. If you have not had a chance to do so yet, please complete it NOW!

Motion Voting Outcome

We have completed our first motion process of the 2017-18 year and the motion carried. Thank you to those who provided input during the discussion phase which was used to shape the final motion put forward for this vote. We also appreciate those of you who provided your thoughts during the deliberation phase of the motion.

We wanted to provide additional insights and respond to some of the concerns we heard.

- As you know a mega issue is one of strategic importance over the next 3-5 years. In order to achieve our envisioned future, the work on the motion outcomes will continue over that timeframe, and possibly even beyond, to advance leadership roles in public health. Some of the items may seem overwhelming, but when tackled over a number of years, and in phases, they are more achievable. This motion lays the groundwork for moving us towards that future.
- We sought input from various Academy staff working with organizational units as the motion was being drafted to ensure the requests were feasible. Additionally, we will share your comments, of course along with the dialogue workbooks, with the various groups for their consideration as they execute the motion.
- Regarding the motion items related to affiliates, DPGs and MIGs, we recognize that all groups may not focus specifically on public health nutrition. If a group does develop goals, alliances, projects, or resources linked to advancing roles of leadership in public health nutrition, they should be documented in the annual report submitted to the Academy to help track these initiatives. Otherwise, it is okay to not address this request in their usual reports.

- The House Leadership Team will be discussing how to help delegates support grassroots level initiatives. Again, the role and level of participation may vary, but as delegates, we look to you to keep our mega issues and resulting actions “alive” with your constituents. It is another way we can empower and track individuals or groups working to advance leadership roles in public health.

Motion #1 Championing Nutrition and Dietetics Practitioners in Roles of Leadership in Public Health

- 58 supported/28 opposed – motion carried.

86 of the 104 delegates eligible to vote did so. Two delegates (At-large: CDR and At-large: ACEND) declared their non-voting status as HOD members.

- The motion and voting record can be found in the Fall Meeting Motions folder. Now that the motion has carried, we look forward to you supporting the will of the House in moving forward to address this important mega issue.

Taking Points for Delegate Updates to Your Constituents

The House of Delegates (HOD) conducted a dialogue on October 20, 2017 to address the mega issue question: How can nutrition and dietetics practitioners secure influential public health positions in institutions, organizations, and government bodies? Based on the dialogue, a series of guiding principles were identified related to actions needed:

1. Public health nutrition is embedded in the Academy’s new strategic plan.
 2. Public health affects all areas of nutrition and dietetics practice.
 3. Individual members and the Academy need to work together to create and pursue opportunities that will help advance nutrition and dietetics practitioners to higher levels of public health leadership. In order to achieve our envisioned future, the work on the motion outcomes will continue over the next 3-5 years, and even beyond, to advance leadership roles in public health.
- This motion lays the groundwork for moving us towards that future and includes action items for individual members, leaders, and various Academy organizational units.

HOD Update PowerPoint Presentation

A PowerPoint presentation with HOD updates is being finalized and is expected to be released within the next two weeks.

Thanks so much Donna!!

I am at the ASPEN meeting and crazy busy with work commitments and also meeting some of our members and getting many opinions and thoughts.

Will be catching up with email as I can, for sure on my return home Saturday.

Hope you are doing well!

Mary

Thank you for your consideration, we in fact know Wahida quite well. She is an active member in the NLA. I would like to share with you some terrific news- CONFIDENTIAL- for now. I am on the 2018 NLA awards committee for the W. Virgil Brown Distinguished Clinician Award. This is the highest honor conferred by the NLA and this person is also provided a time on the NLA Scientific Sessions agenda to present a lecture.

This morning we unanimously chose our Penny Kris-Etherton over all the MDs and she was the only female on the list!

The responses are very interesting . This is when Leah McGrath shines since she gets at the core of why Cassie is really upset.

I've got a big announcement for 2018, one that might come as a shock but totally feels like it's in alignment with what I believe and what I stand for. I'M KISSING MY DIETITIAN LICENSE GOODBYE....

I gather this has more to do with her state's licensure rules than the Academy, but we are being pulled in. Some comments you see below are in defense of the Academy/RDNs. There also are screenshots at the bottom (one of which calls out being a member of DFPI, who will undoubtedly latch on to this) that are worth reading in context so I left them together. Finally, there's a comment from Leah regarding complaining about Cassie's ethics:

Alissa Lorchick Good for you! As a dietitian who aligns with reality and science, not what “big food” wants us to, I commend you! If only the organization would change their position...they poison our reputation, unfortunately.

Ellen Shay Wow! Thank you for sharing your story. Wellness is more than nutrition. Big Government can be problematic! I also hate the influence of big food industries. Consumers have the right to clear and fair health advice, not big food/pharm backed government guidelines. Wellness is more than nutrition. I am going to keep following you! Good luck and I love your confidence!

Megan Barriger This is why as a fellow registered dietitian I do not belong to AND and will never attend FNCE. Keep up your great work helping people meet their goals. <image001.png>

Krystal Scott This is the exact reason why I was hesitant to apply to an internship. I graduated top of my class in dietetics but decided to go for masters in occupational therapy instead. I started following you a couple years ago because your values and insight aligned with what I've learned and believe as far as nutrition goes. I'm still super passionate about nutrition but Seeing your post only makes me glad I didn't waste my time or money on an internship, going further in my education for something I didn't agree with.

Dietitian Cassie That's a fair question! But, no. My scope of practice does not actually require state licensure (and there are actually many people providing nutrition education who are not LD's.)

Andrew Hindmarch Good for you. 100% agree with your stance. It's not just USA though, it's also UK, Australia, New Zealand, Canada... the list goes on.

Andrew Hindmarch Would this be the same Minnesota Board of Dietetics and Nutrition that says you have to follow the guidelines of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics? I think the only surprise is that you stayed with them this long! <https://nutritionfacts.org/.../academy-of-nutrition-and.../>

Carol Ann McGlynn Well done & congratulations. The world needs more people like you who are not afraid to stand up for their values and what's best for people especially when these values fly in the face of the global big food companies who act in the best interests of their shareholders whilst pushing their heavily processed foods. Here's to breaking more rules!

Leslie Powell Schilling Lots of RDs feel this way - AND doesn't represent all of us... I agree it's pretty embarrassing.

Dietitian Cassie Overall, they did not think I should be talking about thyroid, hormones, supplements... or really anything other than just food. Problem is, you can't get results unless you look at the whole picture of health. That's how we get the results we have.

Overall, I have been very confused throughout this whole process, and I am still not entirely sure what dietitians are allowed to express, and what they are not, as those seemed to be moving goal posts throughout this litigation process.

Leah McGrath @Meg - translation.... many people complained about her ethics and the things she promoted. I know I did. e.g raw milk

Stephanie Scott Good for you Cassie, I'm so sorry to hear about how you were treated by AND. As a fellow RD seeing clients reap the benefits of ancestral nutrition I share so much of your frustration. I also remain confused about how the RD's running the Integrative and Functional Nutrition Academy are not also under fire. (I believe one or both of the founders is on the AND board? Could be mistaken...). Either way there are obviously a lot of fellow RD's and fans who are supporting your decision and I applaud you for remaining true to yourself in the face of so much controversy. I believe we will continue to see a paradigm shift in health care and those leading the revolution will receive the recognition they deserve in time. You're fighting a good fight.

Jennifer Scheinman Beautifully written and as a fellow RD I can certainly relate to much of what you said. I struggle each year that Academy dues are due as I hate putting money in Big Food's pocket. I know so many RD's who feel similarly...how do we unite to effect positive change and bridge the divide that runs within the profession?

Marlene Hillyer First off, I'm also completely appalled by the influence of big food on our profession. It's embarrassing and seriously needs addressing which you're helping it to get, so thank you! But it's the licensing board of your RD credential, not your LD, that accepts money and is heavily influenced by big food companies like Pepsi, McDonalds, Nestle, etc. Giving up your LD doesn't make a stand against your moral objection to the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. If that's the reason you're doing it, why then are you keeping your RD???

Hope all is well with you! First, thank you for all you do to lead our profession. It can be challenging, especially when people don't keep up with current information and make their own interpretations without having all the background details. I Wanted you to be aware of this. It is being shared on groups in FB. This was posted on Dietitians in virtual practice:

Some of you may have seen this announcement by Dietitian Cassie and I think her situation points to the potential of some big shifts and may be a foreshadowing of a growing divide in our profession over the next 5-10 years as the landscape of both telehealth and functional nutrition continues to grow and expand.

So here is my question to this group -

If you were running a thriving virtual practice and felt solid in your ethics in the information and services your were providing and you were challenged by your state or even CDR to change your business, would you be willing to drop your license on either state or even national level?

Knowing that if you bent to their decision that it would either

A. cost you your business or B- significantly impact your income and way of life.

And go!

P.S. - Let's NOT turn this conversation into a discussion about Cassie and her practice as she is not in this group and we do not know the full story.

From Dietitian Cassie:

I've got a big announcement for 2018, one that might come as a shock but totally feels like it's in alignment with what I believe and what I stand for.

I'M KISSING MY DIETITIAN LICENSE GOODBYE.

Here's the full story:

The day I earned my certification as a Licensed Dietitian was one of the most important days of my career. I was SO proud: I'd studied hard, followed the rules, and earned the esteemed "L.D." Becoming a dietitian took a lot of work. In my class, only 50% of the students passed their exams and got an internship to become a dietitian. I was one of them.

Which is why today is so important: I've made the decision to kiss that license goodbye.

Why? I'll tell you.

I've shared for a while how I learned the hard way that the old "rules" about food and weight loss—the very ones I was trained on as a dietitian—don't work. They're the rules that caused me to gain 20+ pounds in dietitian school. Those rules also did nothing to protect my father, who I thought was the picture of health, from emergency heart surgery. They've led our country to become the sickest and most overweight we've ever been. And those rules have been the source of so much pain for my clients, who come to me after being frustrated beyond measure that they can't lose weight, despite following every food and weight loss rule to a T.

Since hanging my shingle as a dietitian, my team and I have helped thousands of people lose weight and keep it off. The results speak for themselves, and each year my business grows by at least 30%.

Here's the thing though...

The approaches that have worked for all of these people fly in the face of traditional dietitian training. Yup—it's only when we bucked those outdated rules that their weight fell off, and their lives changed.

But, the Minnesota Board of Dietetics and Nutrition didn't like this. At all.

The board said that they don't agree with the principles and approach that I use. They don't think I should be talking about thyroid, hormones, supplements... or really anything other than food. Problem is, you can't get results unless you look at the whole picture of health. That's why we do it—and how we get the results we have.

So here's what happened:

The results I got for clients, in the end, didn't matter. They wanted me to stick to "the rules." And so I had a choice: I could change how and what I teach, or I could relinquish my license.

Now, this didn't happen overnight. I fought this battle with the board for a while—five long years, to be exact. We're talking lawyers (and lawyer fees), court dates, mediation, negotiation, interrogation... for five years! I fought because I've built my brand on the authority that I believed my dietitian license gave me. I worked hard for those credentials, and for a while I wanted to keep them.

But in this process, I did some soul searching. I asked myself if I was going to keep fighting, or simply let it go. The choice became clear. I've chosen the latter. Because in those still, quiet moments, when I thought of surrendering this license, I experienced a newfound sense of peace and lightness that warmed my heart and made me feel faithful, connected and authentic. This is where I want to live and everything I do, and every decision that I make, I want to flow from this space. The choice suddenly didn't even feel like a choice, but more of a welcomed step toward transcendence, and opening up to newer, greater opportunities.

Even though this was not an easy decision (I call myself "Dietitian Cassie" for crying out loud!), in the end, I had to ask myself, if that license stands for all of the things I don't agree with, why would I hang onto it? It's not aligned with what I believe or how I run my business. It's not aligned with what I know works.

When I told the board what I decided, they were shocked. They couldn't believe I would give up the credentials. They expected a longer battle. Nope.

I've always held myself to the highest standards of service and care, and I wouldn't want you to settle for anything less.

So here are the main reasons I've relinquished my license, and what I've learned in the process, since there are things you can take away from my experience as you search for answers in your own journey, too:

REASON #1: I'd rather get results than follow rules.

You know me—I hate rules for their own sake. Makes no sense to me. I believe more in results than in what someone is paid to believe, and while I certainly wouldn't be the professional I am without my education (since it essentially taught me what not to do), what this license represents doesn't jive with what I believe and have seen to be true.

Sure, it's impressive to have letters after your name, I get it—but if losing those little letters means that I'm able to provide the support, insight, and advice I know works—without being at war with an organization and dragged into court by my peers—so be it.

*REASON #2: I want to be free from any advice or education that's brought to you by Big Food influence. *

Imagine your doctor's license to practice medicine was paid for by McDonald's. Would you be surprised if you got a prescription for a Big Mac? And yet that is exactly what is happening in the world of nutrition. When I attended my first dietitian conference, I was shocked to see an entire tent set up by Pepsi, who was sponsoring a calorie-counting campaign.

I'm sorry, what?

It's true. As I've said many times before, the food industry does not have our best interests at heart. We know this. They're profit, not people, centered.

One thing that doesn't work in weight loss? Calorie counting. But have you ever wondered why this myth persists? Because if we treat all calories as created equal, then it doesn't actually matter what you eat—and that means you can pretend you're giving good, sound advice...while taking sponsorship dollars from companies whose products you can "safely" consume as long as it comes under your caloric limit (looking at you, Diet Pepsi).

If we all recognize that the type of calorie, and not the sheer number, mattered, then no one could possibly say that this snack or that soda "fits" into a healthy diet. And there goes that stream of income. Calorie blindness happens for a reason: Because it keeps some organizations in business.

Likewise, much of the education for nutritionists and dietitians is similarly flawed.

To this day, the very board that certifies dietitians is sponsored by Splenda, the Dairy Council, sugar producers, a milk company and more. Dietitians need to complete 75 hours of continuing education units (CEUs) every five years in order to maintain their credentials, and companies like Coca-Cola, General Mills, and McDonald's offer continuing education courses that are approved by the board! Nonsense.

REASON #3: I believe a certification is only worth keeping if it's aligned with your values.

Quite frankly, I'm relieved to finally get this weight off my shoulders. And the truth is I won't miss that license because I never really felt aligned with it to begin with. The rules behind it attempted to put me in the very box I've been telling you to break free from. I couldn't do it anymore.

And, just sharing this with you, letting this go, and beginning a new chapter is incredibly freeing. I feel more connected to myself, my heart and my calling than I ever have. The weight that's been lifted now allows me to put 100% of my time, focus, and energy into the practice that has proven results, rather than fighting the system that does not. It feels so good and SO right.

So, how does this affect you?

Honestly, it doesn't.

Apart from adjusting to the fact that I'll be changing the name (to my actual name!) and updating my social media handles and the website, this will not affect you.

I still hold my credentials with the national Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR). However, I have made the decision to let go of my state license with the Minnesota Board of Dietetics and Nutrition.

And, frankly, this is really more a matter of branding for me; nothing will change in the way I provide insight and support to you. None of our programs will change. Everything stays the same, except for some exciting new branding changes that you'll see happening moving forward. My proven methodology remains what it is—rooted in science that has been proven time and again to be transformational and super effective at helping thousands of people lose weight and keep it off.

The reason I even felt compelled to tell you is because it was a big decision and one you should know about since you've a loyal follower of mine!

I'm always telling you to question the old rules and to break any of them that don't serve you. Rules for rules' sake are a waste of time. I've asked you to take risks and a leap of faith and abandon old rules, old habits, old ways of doing, even when they were more comfy than effective (read: not effective at all!).

The way I see it, if I'm going to ask you to take that leap of faith, then I need to take one, too. I need to break with the rules that no longer serve me—along with the ruling bodies that never served me or you to begin with.

So, today marks the beginning of a new, exciting era! I appreciate you for growing with me up to this point, and am so excited to have you with me as we continue our growth together and take everything to the next level. While change can be hard, it can also be really, really good.

Here's to starting 2018 fresh and free. And thanks, as always, for being so receptive, open, and brave.

Let's go break some more rules while we're at it!

xo Cassie

I've asked you to take risks and a leap of faith and abandon old rules, old habits, old ways of doing, even when they were more comfy than effective (read: not effective at all!).

The way I see it, if I'm going to ask you to take that leap of faith, then I need to take one, too. I need to break with the rules that no longer serve me—along with the ruling bodies that never served me or you to begin with.

So, today marks the beginning of a new, exciting era! I appreciate you for growing with me up to this point, and am so excited to have you with me as we continue our growth together and take everything to the next level. While change can be hard, it can also be really, really good.

Here's to starting 2018 fresh and free. And thanks, as always, for being so receptive, open, and brave.

Let's go break some more rules while we're at it!

xo Cassie

Doris, Chris and I have discussed Becky's email. We all agree that a response from you other than "thank you for your feedback" isn't fitting since this individual, Cassie, was posting on a personal Facebook page to which you are not privy. We also are not aware of the circumstances related to the licensure board investigation. Any comments may be taken out of context and could potentially pit us against a licensure board investigation and action. The Academy supports public protection through CDR and licensure and yet Becky seems to sympathize with, if not support, Cassie's decision. See Doris' intel below.

I've got a big announcement for 2018, one that might come as a shock but totally feels like it's in alignment with what I believe and what I stand for. I'M KISSING MY DIETITIAN LICENSE GOODBYE....

I gather this has more to do with her state's licensure rules than the Academy, but we are being pulled in. Some comments you see below are in defense of the Academy/RDNs. There also are screenshots at the bottom (one of which calls out being a member of DFPI, who will undoubtedly latch on to this) that are worth reading in context so I left them together. Finally, there's a comment from Leah regarding complaining about Cassie's ethics:

Alissa Lorchick Good for you! As a dietitian who aligns with reality and science, not what "big food" wants us to, I commend you! If only the organization would change their position...they poison our reputation, unfortunately.

Ellen Shay Wow! Thank you for sharing your story. Wellness is more than nutrition. Big Government can be problematic! I also hate the influence of big food industries. Consumers have the right to clear and fair health advice, not big food/pharm backed government guidelines.

Wellness is more than nutrition. I am going to keep following you! Good luck and I love your confidence!

Megan Barriger This is why as a fellow registered dietitian I do not belong to AND and will never attend FNCE. Keep up your great work helping people meet their goals.

Krystal Scott This is the exact reason why I was hesitant to apply to an internship. I graduated top of my class in dietetics but decided to go for masters in occupational therapy instead. I started following you a couple years ago because your values and insight aligned with what I've learned and believe as far as nutrition goes. I'm still super passionate about nutrition but Seeing your post only makes me glad I didn't waste my time or money on an internship, going further in my education for something I didn't agree with.

Dietitian Cassie That's a fair question! But, no. My scope of practice does not actually require state licensure (and there are actually many people providing nutrition education who are not LD's.)

Andrew Hindmarch Good for you. 100% agree with your stance. It's not just USA though, it's also UK, Australia, New Zealand, Canada... the list goes on.

Andrew Hindmarch Would this be the same Minnesota Board of Dietetics and Nutrition that says you have to follow the guidelines of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics? I think the only surprise is that you stayed with them this long! <https://nutritionfacts.org/.../academy-of-nutrition-and.../>

Carol Ann McGlynn Well done & congratulations. The world needs more people like you who are not afraid to stand up for their values and what's best for people especially when these values fly in the face of the global big food companies who act in the best interests of their shareholders whilst pushing their heavily processed foods. Here's to breaking more rules!

Leslie Powell Schilling Lots of RDs feel this way - AND doesn't represent all of us... I agree it's pretty embarrassing.

Dietitian Cassie Overall, they did not think I should be talking about thyroid, hormones, supplements... or really anything other than just food. Problem is, you can't get results unless you look at the whole picture of health. That's how we get the results we have.

Overall, I have been very confused throughout this whole process, and I am still not entirely sure what dietitians are allowed to express, and what they are not, as those seemed to be moving goal posts throughout this litigation process.

Leah McGrath @Meg - translation.... many people complained about her ethics and the things she promoted. I know I did. e.g raw milk

Stephanie Scott Good for you Cassie, I'm so sorry to hear about how you were treated by AND. As a fellow RD seeing clients reap the benefits of ancestral nutrition I share so much of your frustration. I also remain confused about how the RD's running the Integrative and Functional Nutrition Academy are not also under fire. (I believe one or both of the founders is on the AND board? Could be mistaken...). Either way there are obviously a lot of fellow RD's and fans who are supporting your decision and I applaud you for remaining true to yourself in the face of so much controversy. I believe we will continue to see a paradigm shift in health care and those leading the revolution will receive the recognition they deserve in time. You're fighting a good fight.

Jennifer Scheinman Beautifully written and as a fellow RD I can certainly relate to much of what you said. I struggle each year that Academy dues are due as I hate putting money in Big Food's pocket. I know so many RD's who feel similarly...how do we unite to effect positive change and bridge the divide that runs within the profession?

Marlene Hillyer First off, I'm also completely appalled by the influence of big food on our profession. It's embarrassing and seriously needs addressing which you're helping it to get, so thank you! But it's the licensing board of your RD credential, not your LD, that accepts money and is heavily influenced by big food companies like Pepsi, McDonalds, Nestle, etc. Giving up your LD doesn't make a stand against your moral objection to the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. If that's the reason you're doing it, why then are you keeping your RD???

Hope all is well with you! First, thank you for all you do to lead our profession. It can be challenging, especially when people don't keep up with current information and make their own interpretations without having all the background details. I Wanted you to be aware of this. It is being shared on groups in FB. This was posted on Dietitians in virtual practice:

Some of you may have seen this announcement by Dietitian Cassie and I think her situation points to the potential of some big shifts and may be a foreshadowing of a growing divide in our profession over the next 5-10 years as the landscape of both telehealth and functional nutrition continues to grow and expand.

So here is my question to this group -

If you were running a thriving virtual practice and felt solid in your ethics in the information and services your were providing and you were challenged by your state or even CDR to change your business, would you be willing to drop your license on either state or even national level?

Knowing that if you bent to their decision that it would either

A. cost you your business or B- significantly impact your income and way of life.

And go!

P.S. - Let's NOT turn this conversation into a discussion about Cassie and her practice as she is not in this group and we do not know the full story.

From Dietitian Cassie:

I've got a big announcement for 2018, one that might come as a shock but totally feels like it's in alignment with what I believe and what I stand for.

I'M KISSING MY DIETITIAN LICENSE GOODBYE.

Here's the full story:

The day I earned my certification as a Licensed Dietitian was one of the most important days of my career. I was SO proud: I'd studied hard, followed the rules, and earned the esteemed "L.D." Becoming a dietitian took a lot of work. In my class, only 50% of the students passed their exams and got an internship to become a dietitian. I was one of them.

Which is why today is so important: I've made the decision to kiss that license goodbye.

Why? I'll tell you.

I've shared for a while how I learned the hard way that the old "rules" about food and weight loss—the very ones I was trained on as a dietitian—don't work. They're the rules that caused me to gain 20+ pounds in dietitian school. Those rules also did nothing to protect my father, who I thought was the picture of health, from emergency heart surgery. They've led our country to become the sickest and most overweight we've ever been. And those rules have been the source of so much pain for my clients, who come to me after being frustrated beyond measure that they can't lose weight, despite following every food and weight loss rule to a T.

Since hanging my shingle as a dietitian, my team and I have helped thousands of people lose weight and keep it off. The results speak for themselves, and each year my business grows by at least 30%.

Here's the thing though...

The approaches that have worked for all of these people fly in the face of traditional dietitian training. Yup—it's only when we bucked those outdated rules that their weight fell off, and their lives changed.

But, the Minnesota Board of Dietetics and Nutrition didn't like this. At all.

The board said that they don't agree with the principles and approach that I use. They don't think I should be talking about thyroid, hormones, supplements... or really anything other than food. Problem is, you can't get results unless you look at the whole picture of health. That's why we do it—and how we get the results we have.

So here's what happened:

The results I got for clients, in the end, didn't matter. They wanted me to stick to "the rules." And so I had a choice: I could change how and what I teach, or I could relinquish my license.

Now, this didn't happen overnight. I fought this battle with the board for a while—five long years, to be exact. We're talking lawyers (and lawyer fees), court dates, mediation, negotiation, interrogation... for five years! I fought because I've built my brand on the authority that I believed my dietitian license gave me. I worked hard for those credentials, and for a while I wanted to keep them.

But in this process, I did some soul searching. I asked myself if I was going to keep fighting, or simply let it go. The choice became clear. I've chosen the latter. Because in those still, quiet moments, when I thought of surrendering this license, I experienced a newfound sense of peace and lightness that warmed my heart and made me feel faithful, connected and authentic. This is where I want to live and everything I do, and every decision that I make, I want to flow from this space. The choice suddenly didn't even feel like a choice, but more of a welcomed step toward transcendence, and opening up to newer, greater opportunities.

Even though this was not an easy decision (I call myself "Dietitian Cassie" for crying out loud!), in the end, I had to ask myself, if that license stands for all of the things I don't agree with, why would I hang onto it? It's not aligned with what I believe or how I run my business. It's not aligned with what I know works.

When I told the board what I decided, they were shocked. They couldn't believe I would give up the credentials. They expected a longer battle. Nope.

I've always held myself to the highest standards of service and care, and I wouldn't want you to settle for anything less.

So here are the main reasons I've relinquished my license, and what I've learned in the process, since there are things you can take away from my experience as you search for answers in your own journey, too:

REASON #1: I'd rather get results than follow rules.

You know me—I hate rules for their own sake. Makes no sense to me. I believe more in results than in what someone is paid to believe, and while I certainly wouldn't be the professional I am without my education (since it essentially taught me what not to do), what this license represents doesn't jive with what I believe and have seen to be true.

Sure, it's impressive to have letters after your name, I get it—but if losing those little letters means that I'm able to provide the support, insight, and advice I know works—without being at war with an organization and dragged into court by my peers—so be it.

*REASON #2: I want to be free from any advice or education that's brought to you by Big Food influence. *

Imagine your doctor's license to practice medicine was paid for by McDonald's. Would you be surprised if you got a prescription for a Big Mac? And yet that is exactly what is happening in the world of nutrition. When I attended my first dietitian conference, I was shocked to see an entire tent set up by Pepsi, who was sponsoring a calorie-counting campaign.

I'm sorry, what?

It's true. As I've said many times before, the food industry does not have our best interests at heart. We know this. They're profit, not people, centered.

One thing that doesn't work in weight loss? Calorie counting. But have you ever wondered why this myth persists? Because if we treat all calories as created equal, then it doesn't actually matter what you eat—and that means you can pretend you're giving good, sound advice...while taking sponsorship dollars from companies whose products you can "safely" consume as long as it comes under your caloric limit (looking at you, Diet Pepsi).

If we all recognize that the type of calorie, and not the sheer number, mattered, then no one could possibly say that this snack or that soda "fits" into a healthy diet. And there goes that stream of income. Calorie blindness happens for a reason: Because it keeps some organizations in business.

Likewise, much of the education for nutritionists and dietitians is similarly flawed.

To this day, the very board that certifies dietitians is sponsored by Splenda, the Dairy Council, sugar producers, a milk company and more. Dietitians need to complete 75 hours of continuing education units (CEUs) every five years in order to maintain their credentials, and companies like Coca-Cola, General Mills, and McDonald's offer continuing education courses that are approved by the board! Nonsense.

REASON #3: I believe a certification is only worth keeping if it's aligned with your values.

Quite frankly, I'm relieved to finally get this weight off my shoulders. And the truth is I won't miss that license because I never really felt aligned with it to begin with. The rules behind it attempted to put me in the very box I've been telling you to break free from. I couldn't do it anymore.

And, just sharing this with you, letting this go, and beginning a new chapter is incredibly freeing. I feel more connected to myself, my heart and my calling than I ever have. The weight that's been lifted now allows me to put 100% of my time, focus, and energy into the practice that has proven results, rather than fighting the system that does not. It feels so good and SO right.

So, how does this affect you?

Honestly, it doesn't.

Apart from adjusting to the fact that I'll be changing the name (to my actual name!) and updating my social media handles and the website, this will not affect you.

I still hold my credentials with the national Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR). However, I have made the decision to let go of my state license with the Minnesota Board of Dietetics and Nutrition.

And, frankly, this is really more a matter of branding for me; nothing will change in the way I provide insight and support to you. None of our programs will change. Everything stays the same, except for some exciting new branding changes that you'll see happening moving forward. My proven methodology remains what it is—rooted in science that has been proven time and again to be transformational and super effective at helping thousands of people lose weight and keep it off.

The reason I even felt compelled to tell you is because it was a big decision and one you should know about since you've a loyal follower of mine!

I'm always telling you to question the old rules and to break any of them that don't serve you. Rules for rules' sake are a waste of time. I've asked you to take risks and a leap of faith and abandon old rules, old habits, old ways of doing, even when they were more comfy than effective (read: not effective at all!).

The way I see it, if I'm going to ask you to take that leap of faith, then I need to take one, too. I need to break with the rules that no longer serve me—along with the ruling bodies that never served me or you to begin with.

So, today marks the beginning of a new, exciting era! I appreciate you for growing with me up to this point, and am so excited to have you with me as we continue our growth together and take everything to the next level. While change can be hard, it can also be really, really good.

Here's to starting 2018 fresh and free. And thanks, as always, for being so receptive, open, and brave.

Let's go break some more rules while we're at it!

Apply to become an Advanced Practitioner in Clinical Nutrition (RD-AP).

Make 2018 the year you take the next step in your career and earn CDRs Advanced Practitioner Certification in Clinical Nutrition (RD-AP). While there are many benefits for your organization and your clients when you become an RD-AP, make this one personal and do it for yourself and your career. Need a bit more convincing? Here are three top reasons from practitioners just like you, who have taken that step to become an RD-AP and are glad they did:

- 1. VALIDATION. Validate your practice level and demonstrate your background, knowledge and experience to your interdisciplinary colleagues. The RD-AP credential is a way to encapsulate your clinical knowledge and leadership skills.

One of the benefits of being an RD-AP is that I feel validated in who I am as a dietitian and what I bring to the team.

Sara OBrien, MS, RDN-AP, LDN, CNSC

- 2. OPEN NEW DOORS. There are emerging opportunities for advanced practice dietitians to lead committees and training programs, lead departments, train physician residents, or work in new and emerging positions in a wide variety of settings.

Being an RD-AP has given me the opportunities to discuss the wide variety of roles available to a RD and what various certifications can potentially mean for ones career.

Amy Jones, MS, RDN-AP

- 3. CHALLENGE YOURSELF. Passing a rigorous exam can reignite your passion for learning and be the push you need to seek new challenging clinical positions. Knowing that the RD-AP will be hard earned, will provide a renewed sense of satisfaction and be that physical representation of the dedicated and devoted work that youve done throughout your career.

Receiving notice that I had passed the exam gave me a burst of professional energy and motivated me to take on new inter-professional projects.

Shannon Goff, MPH, RDN-AP, CSP, SNSC, CLC

If we all recognize that the type of calorie, and not the sheer number, mattered, then no one could possibly say that this snack or that soda "fits" into a healthy diet. And there goes that stream of income. Calorie blindness happens for a reason: Because it keeps some organizations in business.

Likewise, much of the education for nutritionists and dietitians is similarly flawed.

To this day, the very board that certifies dietitians is sponsored by Splenda, the Dairy Council, sugar producers, a milk company and more. Dietitians need to complete 75 hours of continuing education units (CEUs) every five years in order to maintain their credentials, and companies like Coca-Cola, General Mills, and McDonald's offer continuing education courses that are approved by the board! Nonsense.

REASON #3: I believe a certification is only worth keeping if it's aligned with your values.

Quite frankly, I'm relieved to finally get this weight off my shoulders. And the truth is I won't miss that license because I never really felt aligned with it to begin with. The rules behind it attempted to put me in the very box I've been telling you to break free from. I couldn't do it anymore.

And, just sharing this with you, letting this go, and beginning a new chapter is incredibly freeing. I feel more connected to myself, my heart and my calling than I ever have. The weight that's been lifted now allows me to put 100% of my time, focus, and energy into the practice that has proven results, rather than fighting the system that does not. It feels so good and SO right.

So, how does this affect you?

Honestly, it doesn't.

Apart from adjusting to the fact that I'll be changing the name (to my actual name!) and updating my social media handles and the website, this will not affect you.

I still hold my credentials with the national Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR). However, I have made the decision to let go of my state license with the Minnesota Board of Dietetics and Nutrition.

And, frankly, this is really more a matter of branding for me; nothing will change in the way I provide insight and support to you. None of our programs will change. Everything stays the same, except for some exciting new branding changes that you'll see happening moving forward. My proven methodology remains what it is—rooted in science that has been proven time and again to be transformational and super effective at helping thousands of people lose weight and keep it off.

The reason I even felt compelled to tell you is because it was a big decision and one you should know about since you've a loyal follower of mine!

I'm always telling you to question the old rules and to break any of them that don't serve you. Rules for rules' sake are a waste of time. I've asked you to take risks and a leap of faith and abandon old rules, old habits, old ways of doing, even when they were more comfy than effective (read: not effective at all!).

The way I see it, if I'm going to ask you to take that leap of faith, then I need to take one, too. I need to break with the rules that no longer serve me—along with the ruling bodies that never served me or you to begin with.

So, today marks the beginning of a new, exciting era! I appreciate you for growing with me up to this point, and am so excited to have you with me as we continue our growth together and take everything to the next level. While change can be hard, it can also be really, really good.

Here's to starting 2018 fresh and free. And thanks, as always, for being so receptive, open, and brave.

Let's go break some more rules while we're at it!

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Contact an RDN: Academy President's Letter to Nation's President

Following the announced results of President Trump's recent physical examination, Academy President Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND, wrote a letter to Trump and White House Physician Ronny Jackson, MD, encouraging the president to consult with a registered dietitian nutritionist. The letter said in part: "Through our education and training, RDNs specialize in translating nutrition science into practical advice. It is no understatement to say we help change people's lives for the better - especially a person with a life as complex as yours, and a job as stressful as that of President of the United States." The full letter is available on the Academy's website.

Federal Government Reopens Following Three-Day Shutdown

Congress reached an agreement January 22 to end the three-day federal government shutdown, and reauthorized the Children's Health Insurance Program for six years. The Academy was pleased with Congress' action, since continuation of the shutdown would have had a dramatic impact on members - from serving veterans in the VA system to helping vulnerable pregnant women through the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children. The Academy calls for the House and Senate to immediately find a bipartisan solution for the Fiscal Year 2018 budget before February 9 that protects the health and nutrition of Americans.

Food Is Medicine Working Group Started in House

Members of the U.S. House of Representatives Hunger Caucus launched a bipartisan Food Is Medicine Working Group January 17 with the first of many briefings that will coincide with the reauthorization of the Farm Bill. Reps. Lynn Jenkins (Kan.), Roger Marshall (Kan.), Jim McGovern (Mass.) and Chellie Pingree (Maine) are leading the group, which will focus on hunger as a health issue. The Academy will work with them to highlight the Academy's Farm Bill priorities.

HHS Nominee Passes Another Hurdle

The Senate Finance Committee voted January 17 to advance the nomination of Alexander Azar to be U.S. Secretary of Health and Human Services. The Academy submitted questions about the importance of investing in nutrition for the confirmation hearing, and will update members when a final vote is scheduled in the Senate.

Academy Urges Congress: Protect the Prevention Fund

The Academy joined more than 175 national health care advocacy groups in expressing disappointment to Congressional leadership on the $750 million cut to the Prevention and Public Health Fund that was included in the continuing resolution that Congress passed in December. The letter asks Congress to reject any additional cuts to the Prevention Fund and to restore funding to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

March 30 Application Deadline: Education and Food Security Program in Low-Income Countries

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced a funding opportunity in the Food Aid Information system, through the McGovern-Dole program, to support education, child development and food security in low-income, food-deficit countries. This program supports school feeding programs that strengthen food security, reduce the incidence of hunger, and improve literacy and nutrition, particularly with respect to girls. Applications are especially sought for programs in Burkina Faso, Cameroon, Egypt, Ethiopia, Guatemala, Malawi, Senegal, Sierra Leone, Sri Lanka and Timor Leste. The application deadline is March 30.

Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025, Call for Experts

Experts needed! The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee (DGAC). Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

“Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma to learn more.

News from the Hill and Beyond

Federal Government Shutdown Ends

The Academy is pleased that the U.S. Congress reached an agreement to end the federal government shutdown, as well as reauthorize the Child Health Insurance Program (CHIP) for six years. Continuation of the shutdown would have had a dramatic impact on Academy members – from serving veterans in the Veterans Administration hospital system to helping vulnerable pregnant women receive the nutrition they need through the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC). The Academy calls for the House and Senate to immediately find a bipartisan solution on the Fiscal Year 2018 budget before Feb. 9 that protects the health and nutrition of Americans.

The federal government was shut down for three days after the Senate failed to reach an agreement to fund the government on Jan. 19. The Senate and House held votes on Jan. 22 to extend the funding deadline through Feb. 8. The President signed the bill into law, officially ending the government shutdown.

Columbia University Releases New Reports on Nutrition Education

The Laurie M. Tisch Center for Food, Education & Policy at Teachers College, Columbia University has released two new reports that examine the landscape of nutrition education policy at the federal, New York state and New York City levels. The research shows that educators and community members need greater roles in designing and implementing nutrition education policy and that nutrition education initiatives in New York and New York City are vulnerable to state and federal budget cuts.

- Empowered Eaters: A Road Map for Stronger New York State Nutrition Education Policies and Programs
- Empowered Eaters: A Road Map for Stronger New York City Nutrition Education Policies and Programs

Veterans and the Farm Bill

A bipartisan group of U.S. House of Representative members recently hosted a discussion on programs in the Farm Bill that support job opportunities for veterans and reduce food insecurity for veterans and active military members.

Some active duty members and their families need food assistance to help make ends meet and put food on the table when they face financial hardship, but many military families are unable to access federal food assistance, such as Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), because of the way their income is calculated. The Academy supports eliminating the requirement that basic allowance for housing for our military members be included in their income calculations to receive SNAP benefits.

The Academy applauds Reps. Jodey Arrington (Texas), Mike Bost (Ill.), Rick Crawford (Ark.), Jeff Denham (Calif.), Al Lawson (Fla.), Jimmy Panetta (Calif.), Chellie Pingree (Maine), Glenn Thompson (Pa.), and Tim Walz (Minn.) for hosting the hearing which highlighted the issue of food insecurity for veterans and active duty members.

The Farm Bill, legislation that needs to be reauthorized every five years, serves as a vehicle for U.S. food and agriculture, and provides opportunities to support farmer veterans and reduce veterans' food insecurity. The Academy will continue to work with members of Congress to include its recommendations for the Farm Bill.

Contact an RDN: Academy President's Letter to Nation's President

Following the announced results of President Trump's recent physical examination, Academy President Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND, wrote a letter to Trump and White House Physician Ronny Jackson, MD, encouraging the president to consult with a registered dietitian nutritionist. The letter said in part: "Through our education and training, RDNs specialize in translating nutrition science into practical advice. It is no understatement to say we help change people's lives for the better - especially a person with a life as complex as yours, and a job as stressful as that of President of the United States." The full letter is available on the Academy's website.

Federal Government Reopens Following Three-Day Shutdown

Congress reached an agreement January 22 to end the three-day federal government shutdown, and reauthorized the Children's Health Insurance Program for six years. The Academy was pleased with Congress' action, since continuation of the shutdown would have had a dramatic impact on members - from serving veterans in the VA system to helping vulnerable pregnant women through the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children. The Academy calls for the House and Senate to immediately find a bipartisan solution for the Fiscal Year 2018 budget before February 9 that protects the health and nutrition of Americans.

Food Is Medicine Working Group Started in House

Members of the U.S. House of Representatives Hunger Caucus launched a bipartisan Food Is Medicine Working Group January 17 with the first of many briefings that will coincide with the reauthorization of the Farm Bill. Reps. Lynn Jenkins (Kan.), Roger Marshall (Kan.), Jim McGovern (Mass.) and Chellie Pingree (Maine) are leading the group, which will focus on hunger as a health issue. The Academy will work with them to highlight the Academy's Farm Bill priorities.

HHS Nominee Passes Another Hurdle

The Senate Finance Committee voted January 17 to advance the nomination of Alexander Azar to be U.S. Secretary of Health and Human Services. The Academy submitted questions about the importance of investing in nutrition for the confirmation hearing, and will update members when a final vote is scheduled in the Senate.

Academy Urges Congress: Protect the Prevention Fund

The Academy joined more than 175 national health care advocacy groups in expressing disappointment to Congressional leadership on the $750 million cut to the Prevention and Public Health Fund that was included in the continuing resolution that Congress passed in December. The letter asks Congress to reject any additional cuts to the Prevention Fund and to restore funding to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025, Call for Experts

Experts needed! The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee (DGAC). Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

“Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma to learn more.

National Child Nutrition Conference Scholarship, Application Deadline Tomorrow

The National Child Nutrition Conference will be held in San Antonio, Texas on April 19 to 21. If you need financial assistance in attending the conference, the Foundation is offering more than $20,000 in scholarships. Scholarships cover registration fees and lodging, with $300 funds for travel expenses. The scholarship application is tomorrow, Jan. 24.

Fight Bac! and Partnership for Food Safety Education's Resources Available

The day's events will conclude with an ANDPAC and ObesityPAC reception from 4:30– 6 p.m. to honor legislators who have championed efforts to promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services. Register today and join us! For additional information, please contact Tenášha Ebrahimkhel. Once you have registered, complete the following form.

News from the Hill and Beyond

Federal Government Shutdown Ends

The Academy is pleased that the U.S. Congress reached an agreement to end the federal government shutdown, as well as reauthorize the Child Health Insurance Program (CHIP) for six years. Continuation of the shutdown would have had a dramatic impact on Academy members – from serving veterans in the Veterans Administration hospital system to helping vulnerable pregnant women receive the nutrition they need through the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC). The Academy calls for the House and Senate to immediately find a bipartisan solution on the Fiscal Year 2018 budget before Feb. 9 that protects the health and nutrition of Americans.

The federal government was shut down for three days after the Senate failed to reach an agreement to fund the government on Jan. 19. The Senate and House held votes on Jan. 22 to extend the funding deadline through Feb. 8. The President signed the bill into law, officially ending the government shutdown.

Columbia University Releases New Reports on Nutrition Education

The Laurie M. Tisch Center for Food, Education & Policy at Teachers College, Columbia University has released two new reports that examine the landscape of nutrition education policy at the federal, New York state and New York City levels. The research shows that educators and community members need greater roles in designing and implementing nutrition education policy and that nutrition education initiatives in New York and New York City are vulnerable to state and federal budget cuts.

- Empowered Eaters: A Road Map for Stronger New York State Nutrition Education Policies and Programs
- Empowered Eaters: A Road Map for Stronger New York City Nutrition Education Policies and Programs

Veterans and the Farm Bill

A bipartisan group of U.S. House of Representative members recently hosted a discussion on programs in the Farm Bill that support job opportunities for veterans and reduce food insecurity for veterans and active military members.

Some active duty members and their families need food assistance to help make ends meet and put food on the table when they face financial hardship, but many military families are unable to access federal food assistance, such as Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), because of the way their income is calculated. The Academy supports eliminating the requirement that basic allowance for housing for our military members be included in their income calculations to receive SNAP benefits.

The Academy applauds Reps. Jodey Arrington (Texas), Mike Bost (Ill.), Rick Crawford (Ark.), Jeff Denham (Calif.), Al Lawson (Fla.), Jimmy Panetta (Calif.), Chellie Pingree (Maine), Glenn Thompson (Pa.), and Tim Walz (Minn.) for hosting the hearing which highlighted the issue of food insecurity for veterans and active duty members.

The Farm Bill, legislation that needs to be reauthorized every five years, serves as a vehicle for U.S. food and agriculture, and provides opportunities to support farmer veterans and reduce veterans' food insecurity. The Academy will continue to work with members of Congress to include its recommendations for the Farm Bill.

Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025, Call for Experts

Experts needed! The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee (DGAC). Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

“Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma to learn more.

Fight Bac! and Partnership for Food Safety Education's Resources Available

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration and the Department of Agriculture have developed a series of food safety booklets for people who are at greatest risk for foodborne illness, including older adults, cancer patients, pregnant women and people living with HIV/AIDS. These are made available through the Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition (CFSAN).

You can download documents and request for a limited number of hard copies of these booklets be mailed to you. Each booklet explains why food safety is critical for a specific at-risk population, as well as how to choose low-risk foods and handle food safely. You be able to learn about:

- Food Safety for Older Adults
- Food Safety for People with Cancer
- Food Safety for Pregnant Women
- Food Safety for People with HIV/AIDS

For more information, check out the Fight Bac! and Partnership for Food Safety Education's website.

obesity treatment services. Register today and join us! For additional information, please contact Tenášha Ebrahimkhel. Once you have registered, complete the following form.

News from the Hill and Beyond

Federal Government Shutdown Ends

The Academy is pleased that the U.S. Congress reached an agreement to end the federal government shutdown, as well as reauthorize the Child Health Insurance Program (CHIP) for six years. Continuation of the shutdown would have had a dramatic impact on Academy members – from serving veterans in the Veterans Administration hospital system to helping vulnerable pregnant women receive the nutrition they need through the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC). The Academy calls for the House and Senate to immediately find a bipartisan solution on the Fiscal Year 2018 budget before Feb. 9 that protects the health and nutrition of Americans.

The federal government was shut down for three days after the Senate failed to reach an agreement to fund the government on Jan. 19. The Senate and House held votes on Jan. 22 to extend the funding deadline through Feb. 8. The President signed the bill into law, officially ending the government shutdown.

Columbia University Releases New Reports on Nutrition Education

The Laurie M. Tisch Center for Food, Education & Policy at Teachers College, Columbia University has released two new reports that examine the landscape of nutrition education policy at the federal, New York state and New York City levels. The research shows that educators and community members need greater roles in designing and implementing nutrition education policy and that nutrition education initiatives in New York and New York City are vulnerable to state and federal budget cuts.

- Empowered Eaters: A Road Map for Stronger New York City Nutrition Education Policies and Programs

Veterans and the Farm Bill

A bipartisan group of U.S. House of Representative members recently hosted a discussion on programs in the Farm Bill that support job opportunities for veterans and reduce food insecurity for veterans and active military members.

Some active duty members and their families need food assistance to help make ends meet and put food on the table when they face financial hardship, but many military families are unable to access federal food assistance, such as Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), because of the way their income is calculated. The Academy supports eliminating the requirement that basic allowance for housing for our military members be included in their income calculations to receive SNAP benefits.

The Academy applauds Reps. Jodey Arrington (Texas), Mike Bost (Ill.), Rick Crawford (Ark.), Jeff Denham (Calif.), Al Lawson (Fla.), Jimmy Panetta (Calif.), Chellie Pingree (Maine), Glenn Thompson (Pa.), and Tim Walz (Minn.) for hosting the hearing which highlighted the issue of food insecurity for veterans and active duty members.

The Farm Bill, legislation that needs to be reauthorized every five years, serves as a vehicle for U.S. food and agriculture, and provides opportunities to support farmer veterans and reduce veterans' food insecurity. The Academy will continue to work with members of Congress to include its recommendations for the Farm Bill.

Agreed and watering down the language around nutrition counseling will make it more and more difficult for RDN's to be viewed as the nutrition expert/professional. The trickle down effect for education institutions, employers, etc. Why would we recommend students go into a field that is constantly being attacked by non educated individual? This is terrible.

Christine,

HB 1047 by Rep Pigman is the Department of Health legislative package. I just received word from the Department of Health that an amendment is forthcoming that will make changes to our practice act. I have not seen the language, but I am told it will remove certain restrictions around nutrition advice and counseling.

I am also told that the language is being pushed by the Speaker and is in response to the lawsuit.

The bill is going to be considered by the Health Policy Committee at 8:00 am tomorrow. You may consider attending the committee hearing if you're available.

I'll send you the language as soon as I have it.

Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025, Call for Experts

Experts needed! The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee (DGAC). Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

"Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma to learn more.

News from the Hill and Beyond

Federal Government Shutdown Ends

The Academy is pleased that the U.S. Congress reached an agreement to end the federal government shutdown, as well as reauthorize the Child Health Insurance Program (CHIP) for six years. Continuation of the shutdown would have had a dramatic impact on Academy members – from serving veterans in the Veterans Administration hospital system to helping vulnerable pregnant women receive the nutrition they need through the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC). The Academy calls for the House and Senate to immediately find a bipartisan solution on the Fiscal Year 2018 budget before Feb. 9 that protects the health and nutrition of Americans.

The federal government was shut down for three days after the Senate failed to reach an agreement to fund the government on Jan. 19. The Senate and House held votes on Jan. 22 to extend the funding deadline through Feb. 8. The President signed the bill into law, officially ending the government shutdown.

Columbia University Releases New Reports on Nutrition Education

The Laurie M. Tisch Center for Food, Education & Policy at Teachers College, Columbia University has released two new reports that examine the landscape of nutrition education policy at the federal, New York state and New York City levels. The research shows that educators and community members need greater roles in designing and implementing nutrition education policy and that nutrition education initiatives in New York and New York City are vulnerable to state and federal budget cuts.

Veterans and the Farm Bill

A bipartisan group of U.S. House of Representative members recently hosted a discussion on programs in the Farm Bill that support job opportunities for veterans and reduce food insecurity for veterans and active military members.

Some active duty members and their families need food assistance to help make ends meet and put food on the table when they face financial hardship, but many military families are unable to access federal food assistance, such as Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), because of the way their income is calculated. The Academy supports eliminating the requirement that basic allowance for housing for our military members be included in their income calculations to receive SNAP benefits.

The Academy applauds Reps. Jodey Arrington (Texas), Mike Bost (Ill.), Rick Crawford (Ark.), Jeff Denham (Calif.), Al Lawson (Fla.), Jimmy Panetta (Calif.), Chellie Pingree (Maine), Glenn Thompson (Pa.), and Tim Walz (Minn.) for hosting the hearing which highlighted the issue of food insecurity for veterans and active duty members.

The Farm Bill, legislation that needs to be reauthorized every five years, serves as a vehicle for U.S. food and agriculture, and provides opportunities to support farmer veterans and reduce veterans' food insecurity. The Academy will continue to work with members of Congress to include its recommendations for the Farm Bill.

Resolve to Reduce Food Waste

Its been estimated that Americans throw away 90 billion pounds of food each year, either at home or when eating out. Here are some tips you can pass along that will help everyone Go Further with Food:

- Plan meals based on the foods you have on hand.
- Get creative with leftovers by transforming meals into soups, salads or sandwiches by cutting up leftover meats and veggies.
- Be mindful of portion sizes. Choose smaller portions to stay within your calorie needs, as MyPlate recommends.
- Donate extra foods that are still safe to eat to a local food pantry or shelter.

Access Eat Right and Avoid Food Waste and other free nutrition education handouts.

Product Showcase: Plan Your Grocery Trip

One way to reduce food waste is to check out what foods you have on hand before heading out to the grocery store. Plan meals ahead of time and make lists as needed. Grocery shopping is made easy with products from the 2018 catalog.

Hi Judy,

Yes she is running and we have been in communication. She also spoke to the ANDPAC board last week. Nice to see her stepping up on this!

Hope you are doing well!

Donna,

Would you possibly have 15-30 minutes to talk this week at your convenience about tone and messaging around the interim final rule rolling back school nutrition standards for sodium, whole grains, and flavored 1% milk? We've spoken with our SNS, Public Health and Community Nutrition, and Pediatric Nutrition practice groups and plan to maintain our measured, middle ground policy of not opposing the regulatory change. I know you have been navigating the nuance around this issue for some time, and I'd love to just touch base in advance of me drafting our regulatory comments. Thank you in advance, and I hope to talk soon.

To: Foundation BOD

Last week the results of President Donald Trump's recent medical exam was covered in the media. Dr. Ronny Jackson, the Physician to the President, noted that he planned to consult a nutritionist as part of the President's ongoing health care plan. We seized this opportunity and forwarded a letter from Donna to the White House promoting the unequalled services of registered dietitian nutritionists.

We offered to arrange for an RDN to meet with Dr. Jackson and his team and discuss how an RDN – and the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics as a whole – could be of service to the President.

The letter will be shared with members in this week's Eat Right Weekly, posted to the website and highlighted in social media on Wednesday, January 24.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Pat

Dear Srishti,

Welcome to AIND MIG.

My high recommendations are to post this message on AIND's message board. Please go to www.aind.webauthor.com

This email was sent to ALL AIND members NOT only to AIND Calif members.

Emails get lost in people's email box many times.

In order to be effective and what you are looking for Please do some home work and reach out to several Internship Directors/ DPD dir of Indian origin or whereevr you wish to do internship directly . This is a challange to many folks like yourself all over the country.

I have no doubts you will be able to get what to want on your merrits.

Hope this helps.

May I request you not to use this mass email list to send messages please ! Sangeeta alreday mentioned that this list was used by mistake.

Thank you.

We appreciate your more involvement with AIND MIG. Can't wait to hear once you get into internship.

You can introduce yourself in 2-3 lines as AIND's new members for everybody to know about yourself.

Lots of Luck

Dear AIND Members,

My name is Srishti Tewari. I recently graduated with BS in Clinical Nutrition from University of California, Davis. I am currently enrolled into a distance DI program with Be Well Solutions, Ohio. As you all may know, as a part of DI program, I am required to complete 480 hours at a clinical site. Due to prior affiliation with regional DI programs, most of the facilities in California are not accepting interns from out of state DI programs. I am reaching out to all my Asian Indian RD members for their assistance to help me find a clinical site which might be accepting intern. I have found a site in NYC for my first 240 hours. I just need to finish rest of my 240 hours at a clinical site. I am trying to reach as many people as I can to secure sites for my DI. I'd highly appreciate any kind of help regarding this.

I'd prefer a site in Northern California or Washington State. However, I am willing to travel to almost anywhere in the country due to necessity of the time.

Please free to send any questions you may have.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Srishti Tewari,

Be Well Solutions Dietetic Intern

Donna,

Would you possibly have 15-30 minutes to talk this week at your convenience about tone and messaging around the interim final rule rolling back school nutrition standards for sodium, whole grains, and flavored 1% milk? We've spoken with our SNS, Public Health and Community Nutrition, and Pediatric Nutrition practice groups and plan to maintain our measured, middle ground policy of not opposing the regulatory change. I know you have been navigating the nuance around this issue for some time, and I'd love to just touch base in advance of me drafting our regulatory comments. Thank you in advance, and I hope to talk soon.

Amy, Janey Thornton emailed me to see if I knew when you all would reach out to her about the process for starting a new DPG? I told her I would check with you. I think Diane Enos probably sent you the information about her wanting to start an international DPG. Janey's email is janeythornton@gmail.com Thanks for helping her out with this.

Dear Pat and Donna,

I continue to work with the Global Child Nutrition Foundation (GCNF) and the Gene White Lifetime Achievement Award Planning Committee. The award, as you know, is given to acknowledge and celebrate outstanding champions of child nutrition. Now in its 15th year, the Gala has become a signature Washington event with high caliber honorees and speakers. This year's ceremony will take place at a luncheon on Wednesday, March 7, 2018 at the Hyatt Regency Capitol Hill in Washington, DC. at noon.

The annual event raises funds for GCNF's efforts to end childhood hunger by assisting countries to establish sustainable, nutritious school meals programs, sourced when possible from local farmers. At this moment, 368 million children – 1 in 5 – are fed daily when they are at school. An additional 1.5 billion children are not. School meal programs draw more children into school, provide them with the nutrition they need to concentrate, and build local jobs and economies that allow families to thrive.

Among other initiatives, your donation helps us to host an annual Forum that pulls together country leaders from developing countries to discuss, share and learn how they might best utilize their resources to cultivate a plan to ensure their children are fed. We've seen throughout the years that not only are these countries now feeding more children, we're hearing testimonies that more children are attending school not just to learn, but also to receive nourishing food.

The highlight of this year's luncheon will be the presentation of the 2018 Gene White Award to U.S. Senator Pat Roberts, R-Kan., Chairman of the U.S. Senate Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition, and Forestry. As Chairman of this Committee, Roberts has been a staunch supporter of child nutrition programs that ensure the next generation of Americans have access to nutritious food that allows them to learn and thrive in school. Chairman Roberts is dedicated to maintaining the bipartisan tradition that has been key to the success of national child nutrition programs in the United States.

I've attached documents that more thoroughly explain what your company's contribution actually does for the children of the world and the Global Business Network opportunities that are growing even as I send this email. You'll also find an explanation of benefits at each contribution level and ways GCNF can recognize your corporate commitment to ending childhood hunger. I hope you will join us in supporting GCNF efforts to ensure hunger is not a barrier to learning for any child.

Donna,

Mary was in the office today for the Committee for Lifelong Learning meeting and while we were talking this morning I learned of her expertise on lipids – she would be a great representative. She is available and very interested in attending. I'd very much appreciate if you would let them know that Mary, as our President-elect, will be the Academy's representative.

Thank you!

Good Afternoon,

Thank you for your consideration, we in fact know Wahida quite well. She is an active member in the NLA. While we know she would represent your organization well, we were hoping for a representative that was not as familiar a face within the NLA. Please let Wahida know that at this time we are going to move forward without the involvement of a representative from the Academy. If things change we will let you know.

Thank you again,

Allison, I am sorry it took awhile to get back to you, but there is absolutely someone who would be fantastic to represent the Academy at your meeting. Her name is Wahidy Karmalla and her email address is wk2@cumc.columbia.edu. Wahidy is a Clinical Lipid Specialist and a fellow of the NLA and a very active member of the Academy. She will represent us well. We have already reached out to her and she is available to attend the conference. Please contact her with further details. I hope your meeting goes well and I so appreciate your support of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. Please let me know if I can be of further assistance.

Allison, I would absolutely love to come to the National Lipid Association Meeting in Las Vegas. The speakers look amazing. The problem is that I agreed to do the Academy update for the Delaware Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics on Friday April 27th. If I came, I would not be able to get to the conference until Friday night of the 27th. I think what you are doing is great and so appreciate the invitation.

Dear AIND Members,

My name is Srishti Tewari. I recently graduated with BS in Clinical Nutrition from University of California, Davis. I am currently enrolled into a distance DI program with Be Well Solutions, Ohio. As you all may know, as a part of DI program, I am required to complete 480 hours at a clinical site. Due to prior affiliation with regional DI programs, most of the facilities in California are not accepting interns from out of state DI programs. I am reaching out to all my Asian Indian RD members for their assistance to help me find a clinical site which might be accepting intern. I have found a site in NYC for my first 240 hours. I just need to finish rest of my 240 hours at a clinical site. I am trying to reach as many people as I can to secure sites for my DI. I'd highly appreciate any kind of help regarding this.

I'd prefer a site in Northern California or Washington State. However, I am willing to travel to almost anywhere in the country due to necessity of the time.

Please free to send any questions you may have.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Srishti Tewari,

Be Well Solutions Dietetic Intern

Donna,

Mary was in the office today for the Committee for Lifelong Learning meeting and while we were talking this morning I learned of her expertise on lipids – she would be a great representative. She is available and very interested in attending. I'd very much appreciate if you would let them know that Mary, as our President-elect, will be the Academy's representative.

Thank you!

Pat

Good Afternoon,

Thank you for your consideration, we in fact know Wahida quite well. She is an active member in the NLA. While we know she would represent your organization well, we were hoping for a representative that was not as familiar a face within the NLA. Please let Wahida know that at this time we are going to move forward without the involvement of a representative from the Academy. If things change we will let you know.

Thank you again,

Allison, I am sorry it took awhile to get back to you, but there is absolutely someone who would be fantastic to represent the Academy at your meeting. Her name is Wahidy Karmalla and her email address is wk2@cumc.columbia.edu. Wahidy is a Clinical Lipid Specialist and a fellow of the NLA and a very active member of the Academy. She will represent us well. We have already reached out to her and she is available to attend the conference. Please contact her with further details. I hope your meeting goes well and I so appreciate your support of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. Please let me know if I can be of further assistance.

Allison, I am sorry it took awhile to get back to you, but there is absolutely someone who would be fantastic to represent the Academy at your meeting. Her name is Wahidy Karmalla and her email address is wk2@cumc.columbia.edu. Wahidy is a Clinical Lipid Specialist and a fellow of the NLA and a very active member of the Academy. She will represent us well. We have already reached out to her and she is available to attend the conference. Please contact her with further details. I hope your meeting goes well and I so appreciate your support of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. Please let me know if I can be of further assistance.

Jeanne and Doris, I like all of the letter with the exception of this paragraph. What I don't feel comfortable about is that it sounds like we are the best qualified not only in the area of nutrition, but also in the area of health too. Maybe we change it to be RDNs' expertise in nutrition and its impact on health is more extensive than any other....

Congress and federal health agencies like the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services have recognized that RDNs' expertise in nutrition and health is more extensive than any other health profession. I am certain that Dr. Jackson is aware of the role RDNs play in the health of those who serve in our government and military.

If you can make some change in this paragraph it would be good to go. Please let me know if you are seeing what I am seeing in this paragraph?

Thanks for doing this. I think it is brilliant!

Dear Pat,

I am so excited and honored to receive this invitation from you to represent the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics..Thank you so much. I am delighted to attend.

I would like to share with you some terrific news- CONFIDENTIAL- for now. I am on the 2018 NLA awards committee for the W. Virgil Brown Distinguished Clinician Award. This is the highest honor conferred by the NLA and this person is also provided a time on the NLA Scientific Sessions agenda to present a lecture.

This morning we unanimously chose our Penny Kris-Etherton over all the MDs and she was the only female on the list!

Warmest regards

Wahida

Subject: Spring Committee Chairs Open Forum - input needed by January 29

Good evening,

While we are all sitting in cold temperatures, let's take a break and turn our thoughts toward spring (which will actually be here before we know it). As a reminder, in our work to support the Chairs of the Academy Committees, our plan includes 2 opportunities for them to "meet" with both of you in a structured, open forum space. These telephone forums are designed to strengthen communication amongst Academy leaders, provide an opportunity for them to ask you questions around specific topics, and offer a networking opportunity for these committee leaders. We conducted the first open forum in September and focused the conversation on the Academy's new Strategic Plan and "Helping One Another Succeed." Knowing everyone has busy lives, now would be a good time to start planning the second event.

Based on our previous conversations, you tossed out the idea of conducting a Doodle Poll to identify a good date/time for this forum rather than us just selecting one. I'm open to that plan and would just need from you some options so I can create and push out the Poll. Doing something in April or May might be good timing, recognizing we'll want to navigate around the HOD meeting and BOD meeting. We will also need to identify 1-2 topics for discussion. If you'd like, we could solicit input from the Committee Chairs. To get your wheels turning, last spring we provided an update on the Second Century Strategy and discussed potential implications for committee work/opportunities for collaboration (at that time the BOD had approved the vision/mission/principles). For the second topic we talked about effective communication between committees and the President/Speaker/BOD – what worked well and what could be improved.

So give it some thought and I look forward to your input on how you'd like to proceed. If you can let me know by January 29 I can get the ball rolling. I know both of you, as well as the Committee Chairs, enjoy the opportunity for interaction.

Warm regards,

Did You Know?

Did you know that the revised 2017 Scope of Practice for the RDN and the revised 2017 Standards of Practice (SOP) in Nutrition Care, and Standards of Professional Performance (SOPP) for RDNs, are now available in the January Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics? In addition, the Revised 2017 Scope of Practice for the NDTR and the Revised 2017 SOP in Nutrition Care and SOPP for NDTRs are now available on the Journal website under Articles In Press, and will be available in the February Journal in print.

The RDN and NDTR documents reflect changes impacting practice such as:

- CMS regulation related to hospital ordering privileges for RDNs and delegated orders in long-term care for RDNs and NDTRs,
- Improving Medicare Post-Acute Care Transformation (IMPACT) Act of 2014, which addresses discharge planning and transitions of care,
- National efforts to address malnutrition, and,
- New Practice Areas outlined such as Coaching, Global Health, and Telehealth.

CDR News Highlights

Advanced Practitioner in Clinical Nutrition Certification

Because clinical nutrition is who you are not just what you do.

The perfect opportunity to advance your credential has arrived: CDR Advanced Practitioner Certification in Clinical Nutrition.

The Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR) is offering an advanced practitioner certification in clinical nutrition for registered dietitians (RD) with at least four years of clinical nutrition practice. Apply now for the April 2018 examination window!

Applications for April 2018 examination are due March 2, 2018.

<https://www.cdrnet.org/board-certification-in-advanced-practice>.

New CDR Specialist Certification

CDR recently made the decision to move forward with the development of a Board Certified Specialist in Pediatric Nutrition with a Critical Care emphasis addressing practice in critical care units for the pediatric population.

The designation for this new specialist certification will be CSPCC.

The first examination administration is scheduled for Fall 2018.

Continuing Professional Education Approval Criteria

CDR has revised the current continuing professional education approval criteria to require that all continuing professional education activity types (excluding academic coursework) addressing diet and nutrition topics, include an RD or DTR in program planning. This policy change is effective for continuing professional activities offered on or after June 1, 2018 and for CDR credentialed practitioners recertifying beginning a new recertification cycle on or after June 2, 2018.

Practice Competencies Initiative

The CDR Competency Assurance Panel collaborated with the Academys Quality Management Committee on the development of dietetics practice competencies and performance indicators. These competencies and performance indicators will replace the current learning need codes for the Professional Development Portfolio recertification system in 2015 beginning with new registrants whose registration begins on or after June 2, 2015 and current registrants beginning their June 1, 2016 recertification cycle. An article describing the development and validation of the practice competencies was published in the June 2015 Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics.

Informational webinars are scheduled for noon central time on each of the following dates:

January 24, 2018

February 8, 2018

March 15, 2018

To register for these webinars or for past webinar recordings and additional information go to <http://www.cdrnet.org/competencies>.

This page also includes several practitioner, educator and student resources. Recordings of webinar presentations made during 2016-2017 are available at the following link: <https://www.cdrnet.org/competencies/webinars>.

Board Certified Specialist In Obesity and Weight Management

The Commission on Dietetic Registration is pleased to announce the Interdisciplinary Specialist Certification in Obesity and Weight Management (CSOWM) credential. This credential will not only raise the standards in evidence-based practice benefiting clients and supporting CDR's mission of protecting the public, but it also emphasizes the importance of the healthcare team. Board Certification is granted in recognition of an applicant's documented practice experience and successful completion of an examination in the specialty area.

The CSOWM examination is administered annually in March and September. The content outline and eligibility requirements are available at the following link:

As you probably know by now, I like asking folks for their ideas, but if nothing is suggested then maybe something like: Update on what happening at the national level in regards to strategic plan projects, (maybe even an update on national wellness projects), industry relations, public policy activities. Another random brainstorm idea, let them volunteer to give the entire group an update on their most significant committee event/action so far this year. (time limit of course) OK, I will keep thinking.

Marsha and Donna,

In addition to the days and times you know about (HLT calls, meetings, BOD calls, meetings, LPPC) I am not available at on April 11-14, and April 18-19th. Most other days I could change things around. Time and day of week is up to you. My only other non changeable time would be April 16 and May 21 at 4:30 p.m. (My work board meetings.)

Subject: Spring Committee Chairs Open Forum - input needed by January 29

Good evening,

While we are all sitting in cold temperatures, let's take a break and turn our thoughts toward spring (which will actually be here before we know it). As a reminder, in our work to support the Chairs of the Academy Committees, our plan includes 2 opportunities for them to "meet" with both of you in a structured, open forum space. These telephone forums are designed to strengthen communication amongst Academy leaders, provide an opportunity for them to ask you questions around specific topics, and offer a networking opportunity for these committee leaders. We conducted the first open forum in September and focused the conversation on the Academy's new Strategic Plan and "Helping One Another Succeed." Knowing everyone has busy lives, now would be a good time to start planning the second event.

Based on our previous conversations, you tossed out the idea of conducting a Doodle Poll to identify a good date/time for this forum rather than us just selecting one. I'm open to that plan and would just need from you some options so I can create and push out the Poll. Doing something in April or May might be good timing, recognizing we'll want to navigate around the HOD meeting and BOD meeting. We will also need to identify 1-2 topics for discussion. If you'd like, we could solicit input from the Committee Chairs. To get your wheels turning, last spring we provided an update on the Second Century Strategy and discussed potential implications for committee work/opportunities for collaboration (at that time the BOD had approved the vision/mission/principles). For the second topic we talked about effective communication between committees and the President/Speaker/BOD – what worked well and what could be improved.

So give it some thought and I look forward to your input on how you'd like to proceed. If you can let me know by January 29 I can get the ball rolling. I know both of you, as well as the Committee Chairs, enjoy the opportunity for interaction.

Warm regards,

Marsha

After giving some thought to the travel day of October 31, we are projecting that we will lose individuals who chose not to attend the program to stay home and participate in Halloween festivities. A possible solution is to start the program on November 1 at 1:00 pm, and do two full days on Friday, November 2 and Saturday, November 3. I have drafted the attached agenda. We can juggle presentations, if you have a conflict at the time your presentation is scheduled on the draft agenda.

Please let me know by end of day Wednesday, January 17 if this option will work for you. The second option is to check with the hotel to see if they can schedule the program on Friday, November 2 through Sunday, November 4. Please let me know if this will work for you as well.

A CHES contacted us with concerns about getting her CE in time.

- She needed 75 CE
- The deadline was approaching
- She had a full-time job
- She had a toddler and baby at home.

Once we knew what she needed, we mapped out a plan so she could meet her professional goals, her CE requirements, the demands of her job, and her family life.

If we can do the same for you, we are happy to! Just reply to this email and ask.

Subject: Spring Committee Chairs Open Forum - input needed by January 29

Good evening,

While we are all sitting in cold temperatures, let's take a break and turn our thoughts toward spring (which will actually be here before we know it). As a reminder, in our work to support the Chairs of the Academy Committees, our plan includes 2 opportunities for them to "meet" with both of you in a structured, open forum space. These telephone forums are designed to strengthen communication amongst Academy leaders, provide an opportunity for them to ask you questions around specific topics, and offer a networking opportunity for these committee leaders. We conducted the first open forum in September and focused the conversation on the Academy's new Strategic Plan and "Helping One Another Succeed." Knowing everyone has busy lives, now would be a good time to start planning the second event.

Based on our previous conversations, you tossed out the idea of conducting a Doodle Poll to identify a good date/time for this forum rather than us just selecting one. I'm open to that plan and would just need from you some options so I can create and push out the Poll. Doing something in April or May might be good timing, recognizing we'll want to navigate around the HOD meeting and BOD meeting. We will also need to identify 1-2 topics for discussion. If you'd like, we could solicit input from the Committee Chairs. To get your wheels turning, last spring we provided an update on the Second Century Strategy and discussed potential implications for committee work/opportunities for collaboration (at that time the BOD had approved the vision/mission/principles). For the second topic we talked about effective communication between committees and the President/Speaker/BOD – what worked well and what could be improved.

So give it some thought and I look forward to your input on how you'd like to proceed. If you can let me know by January 29 I can get the ball rolling. I know both of you, as well as the Committee Chairs, enjoy the opportunity for interaction.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Marsha and Donna,

In addition to the days and times you know about (HLT calls, meetings, BOD calls, meetings, LPPC) I am not available at on April 11-14, and April 18-19th. Most other days I could change things around. Time and day of week is up to you. My only other non changeable time would be April 16 and May 21 at 4:30 p.m. (My work board meetings.)

Good evening,

While we are all sitting in cold temperatures, let's take a break and turn our thoughts toward spring (which will actually be here before we know it). As a reminder, in our work to support the Chairs of the Academy Committees, our plan includes 2 opportunities for them to "meet" with both of you in a structured, open forum space. These telephone forums are designed to strengthen communication amongst Academy leaders, provide an opportunity for them to ask you questions around specific topics, and offer a networking opportunity for these committee leaders. We conducted the first open forum in September and focused the conversation on the Academy's new Strategic Plan and "Helping One Another Succeed." Knowing everyone has busy lives, now would be a good time to start planning the second event.

Based on our previous conversations, you tossed out the idea of conducting a Doodle Poll to identify a good date/time for this forum rather than us just selecting one. I'm open to that plan and would just need from you some options so I can create and push out the Poll. Doing something in April or May might be good timing, recognizing we'll want to navigate around the HOD meeting and BOD meeting. We will also need to identify 1-2 topics for discussion. If you'd like, we could solicit input from the Committee Chairs. To get your wheels turning, last spring we provided an update on the Second Century Strategy and discussed potential implications for committee work/opportunities for collaboration (at that time the BOD had approved the vision/mission/principles). For the second topic we talked about effective communication between committees and the President/Speaker/BOD – what worked well and what could be improved.

So give it some thought and I look forward to your input on how you'd like to proceed. If you can let me know by January 29 I can get the ball rolling. I know both of you, as well as the Committee Chairs, enjoy the opportunity for interaction.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Subject: Re: Annual Meeting

Hi Donna,

Thanksgiving was great and a nice break! Hope yours was as well.

Thank you for checking in with me about this. We have you scheduled to speak from 1:30-2:30pm on Friday, April 6th right after lunch. We thought you'd be an energetic speaker for this time slot and I think this also works with your need to join the board meeting you mentioned that afternoon.

We always extend the invitation to Academy presidents to come in the night before the talk or stay the night following the talk (whichever works best for you). If you come in Thursday night (4/5), we'd love to take you to a nice dinner. If you come in Friday morning and stay through Friday night (4/6), we have our foundation fundraiser event that would be great to have you attend. That being said, it's up to you when you'd like to come in and what works best with your travel schedule.

We're very much looking forward to having you at our Annual Meeting! Please let me know how I can help coordinate your travel arrangements.

Thank you!

Dietary Guidelines for Americans 2020-2025, Call for Experts

Experts needed! The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee (DGAC). Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

"Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma for additional information.

Food Waste Knowledge Exchange

In case you missed it, Howard Seltzer, a national food safety education advisor at the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, joined food safety experts to discuss the relationship between food waste and food safety at the Partnership for Food Safety Education Knowledge Exchange. Food safety experts discussed how safe food handling practices at home connect with the desire of many consumers to reduce food waste. Find recordings of past events and upcoming webinars on the Partnership for Food Safety Education’s website.

National Child Nutrition Conference Scholarship, Application Deadline January 24

The National Child Nutrition Conference will be held in San Antonio, Texas April 19 to 21. If you need financial assistance in attending the conference, the Foundation is offering more than $20,000 in scholarships. Scholarships cover registration fees and lodging, with $300 funds for travel expenses. The scholarship application for the 2018 National Child Nutrition Conference is open through January 24.

Congressional Management Foundation Webinar, January 25

The Congressional Management Foundation (CMF) will host a webinar, Before, During and After Meetings with Congress, on January 25 at 1 p.m. ET. CMF's research shows that face-to-face meetings with policymakers is an effective advocacy tool. However, congressional staffers have stated that the typical constituent and advocate could be better prepared for meetings. The webinar will teach how to research the legislator before a visit, identify and map an "economic footprint" to demonstrate the impact in the community and create a personal story. Register today

Academy's National Election Starts February 1

Mark your calendars—the Academy's 2018 national election begins February 1! Candidate biographies are available on the election website and campaigning begins January 16. A recorded webinar informing members how to be engaged in the election process by providing details and clarification regarding the National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines can be viewed here.

Help shape the future of the Academy by exercising your member privilege to vote February 1 - 15. When you cast your ballot you will receive a coupon good for $5 off your next purchase from the eatrightSTORE!

2018 National Anti-Hunger Policy Conference, February 25-27

The 2018 National Anti-Hunger Policy Conference will be February 25-27 in Washington, DC. Join the more than 1,200 individuals who have registered to attend what is expected to be the largest anti-hunger conference. It's not too late to register today. The draft agenda and additional information can be found on the conference website.

Obesity Care Advocacy Day and Congressional Briefing on Capitol Hill, February 27

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics in conjunction with Obesity Care Advocacy Network (OCAN) leaders will host the second annual Obesity Care Network Advocacy Day on February 27 in Washington, DC. Participants will attend meetings with Capitol Hill offices between 9 a.m. – 3:30 p.m., and a lunch briefing at noon.

The day's events will conclude with an ANDPAC and ObesityPAC reception from 4:30– 6 p.m. to honor legislators who have championed efforts to promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services. Register today and join us! For additional information, please contact Tenáša Ebrahimkhel. Once you have registered, complete the following form.

Stay Informed with the Farm Bill Monthly Calls

It's not too late to join the monthly Farm Bill calls! The Academy's PIA staff will host a monthly call to discuss the latest Farm Bill news from Capitol Hill. The calls will be an opportunity for you to learn how to get involved with our advocacy efforts. RSVP to Nicole Burda if you would like to join the call and stay informed. The calls will begin next week.

News from the Hill

Government Shutdown still Uncertain

Last night, the House Appropriations Committee released the text of a Continuing Appropriations Act (H.J.Res 125), which would extend funding for the federal government through February 16 (past the current deadline of January 19). The bill includes the following provisions relevant to public health:

- Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP): Extends funding for the CHIP program through FY23.
- Childhood Obesity Demonstration Project: Extended through FY23.
- Pediatric Quality Measures: Extended through FY23.
- Outreach and Enrollment: Extended through FY23.

It is important to note that the Prevention and Public Health Fund is not used as an offset in this legislation, which is in line with the Academy's requests to Congress. The House of Representatives is expected to vote on the CR on Thursday, and the Senate will then consider the measure. The Academy will continue to monitor the legislation and keep Academy members informed of any breaking developments.

Senate HELP Committee Hearing on Public Health and Nation's Preparedness

The U.S. Senate Health, Education, Labor and Pensions (HELP) Committee held a hearing this morning on “ Facing 21st Century Public Health Threats: Our Nation's Preparedness and Response Capabilities, Part I.” View the broadcast and download the testimony here.

TROA has Potential to Save Billions of Dollars

According to a recent whitepaper, a newly validated microsimulation model predicts that increasing Medicare beneficiaries' utilization of clinically effective obesity treatments could save Medicare $19 to $21 billion over the next 10 years. The bipartisan Treat and Reduce Obesity Act (H.R. 1953/ S. 830) provides access to both RDN-provided intensive behavioral therapy and pharmacotherapy that produces an average combined 9.7 percent weight loss. Check out the Academy's key points here.

A Win for Wisconsin Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics

After months of advocacy and testimony by the Wisconsin Academy of Nutrition & Dietetics, Gov. Scott Walker signed SB 385 into state law November 30. The passage of this law means that doctors may now delegate diet order writing privileges to licensed or certified dietitians in Wisconsin long-term care facilities, in addition to hospital settings.

Pictured with Gov. Walker, bill authors Sen. Patrick Testin and Rep. Joan Ballweg and their aides and Annette Cruz, Leading Age Wisconsin lobbyist, were (left to right) Kate Gustman, RDN, CD, CSG, Shweta Iyer, MS, RDN, CD, Tracey Elmes, MS, RD, CD, Dietetic Intern Holly McKee, WAND Delegate Valerie Shurley, MBA, MS, RDN, CD, WAND Public Policy & Advocacy Chair Catherine Mussatti, RDN, CD, WAND President Christina Lemon, MS, RD, CD and WAND Lobbyist Dan Carpenter.

If you have been making strides in your community (attending ANDPAC events, meeting with policy makers, etc.)-- Let us spread the word! Send photos and a quick write-up about your recent policy accomplishments to Tenásha Ebrahimkhel. We would love to share your story and inspire others.

Health and Nutrition Priorities: Congress Faces Deadline

U.S. Rep. Greg Walden (Ore.), chairman of the House Energy and Commerce Subcommittee on Health, is planning to bring a six-year reauthorization of the Children's Health Insurance Program to the House floor. The reauthorization could be part of a broader short-term spending bill called a continuing resolution that Congress is expected to pass before the January 19 deadline. Walden also said the legislation would likely not include additional funding for other Medicare-related health care "extender" programs like Community Health Centers, National Health Service Corps, Teaching Health Center Graduate Medical Education and the Special Diabetes Program. The Academy remains opposed to using the Prevention and Public Health Fund to pay for these programs and continues to support a strong federal investment in nutrition services for prevention and treatment.

Academy Supports Final Menu Labeling Guidance, Awaits Compliance Date

The Academy expressed its support for the Food and Drug Administration's final menu labeling guidance to industry to help facilitate compliance before the May 7 deadline. The guidance clarifies the FDA's interpretation of issues requiring restaurants and grocery stores to provide calorie counts on menus and menu boards. The Academy strongly supports menu labeling as a tool for consumers to know what they are ordering. Registered dietitian nutritionists and nutrition and dietetics technicians, registered will help consumers, industry and the public more broadly use menu labels in the context of a healthful diet.

Would it be possible to send Ruth Brown a query to verify what Angie thinks?

I'm in Elizabeth's school relative to being worried about changes made w/o public knowledge or input. Lessening input on nutrition programs, as well as the DGA process, would be very relevant to the Academy.

Please let me know.

Dear Mark:

I would defer to Angie since she has much more experience and insight than I have about the clearance process for data collection at USDA. However, I am always looking at things through the lens of an anti-hunger advocate. I would love to confirm that this is a renewal of an existing data collection process and not a potential new way to collect information on programs that could fuel arguments for block grants or deferring federal control if a state approach seems to be more 'efficient'. After reading through the information in the link you sent, it sounds like programmatic changes can't be made based solely on information collected through this method but we should be mindful of the potential political impact of seemingly neutral data sets . I know this is a HUGE stretch, but SNAP and School Meals are under intense review. I just want to make sure that we are not complicit with making it easier to build a case that could impact AND members and the people we serve. I copied an article below that talks about potential approaches to the farm bill and 'welfare reform'.

Will you let us know what you learn from Ruth Brown?

Thanks for staying on top of regulatory issues for AND!

Best,

Liz

How will the SNAP debate evolve – farm bill or entitlement reform?

01/03/18 5:45 AM By Philip Brasher

The debate over changes to the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program is starting to take shape as Congress prepares to write the new farm bill.

The passage of the tax reform bill, which is projected to increase the deficit by $1.5 trillion over 10 years, has raised concerns that Republicans will use the increased red ink to justify slashing Medicare, Social Security and welfare programs, including SNAP.

Even before the bill was passed, House Speaker Paul Ryan, R-Wis., said that welfare reform would be a major priority for the House GOP in 2018.

But Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell quickly made clear that Senate Republicans had no interest in pursuing welfare reform. He said at a Dec. 21 Axios event that he "would not expect to see" welfare reform on the Senate GOP's 2018 agenda. "We have to have Democratic involvement. So things like infrastructure ... to do something in that area we're going to have to have Democratic participation," McConnell said.

The GOP will hold just 51 seats in the Senate after Wednesday, when Democrat Doug Jones replaces outgoing Sen. Luther Strange, R-Ala. The only chance of passing a highly partisan welfare bill would be to use the fiscal 2019 budget reconciliation, and McConnell clearly has no plans to do that.

That doesn't mean SNAP won't be the target of reforms. But Ryan's welfare reform effort will leave the SNAP debate to the House Agriculture Committee and the farm bill. And House Agriculture Chairman Mike Conaway, R-Texas, tells Agri-Pulse he's confident that he can get Democratic support for whatever changes are made in the farm bill.

Conaway, who hopes to move a farm bill before the Easter recess in late March, is keeping the wraps on his proposed SNAP reforms. But he says they will focus on strengthening work requirements for able-bodied adults and also seek to get case managers "more effectively involved in people's lives to get at those root causes" of poverty.

"Right now, we've worked really hard to not do things to automatically flush the Democrats," Conaway said. "We want to talk about policy. We're not going to be talking about dollars so much, we're going to be talking about policy. Is this policy right?"

If Conaway is going to maintain some Democratic support for the bill, that means that his SNAP reforms will have to be relatively modest. That would rule out anything close to the cuts proposed last year by leaders of the House Freedom Caucus.

Their bill would take several steps to remove able-bodied adults without dependents (ABAWDs) from SNAP rolls. One provision would reduce the time an ABAWD could be out of work and still receive SNAP benefits from three months in every three years to one month in every three years. Another provision would reduce the number of exemptions to the work requirement that states are allowed.

One idea that's likely to have bipartisan support – and generate savings that could be plowed back into nutrition programs – emerged just before Christmas in the House-passed bill. The bill included a provision that would expand a pilot program, called the National Accuracy Clearinghouse (NAC), for preventing duplicative SNAP benefits.

The NAC is used to cross-check SNAP participants to locate individuals applying for or receiving duplicate benefits in different states, according to LexisNexis Risk Solutions. The Congressional Budget Office estimates that the provision would save $576 million over 10 years, according to a Senate source.

The House bill would use savings from the provision to benefit dairy producers by lifting a funding cap on Livestock Gross Margin insurance. The ranking Democrat on the Senate Agriculture Committee, Debbie Stabenow of Michigan, objected to using the SNAP savings for LGM but she didn't rule out including it in the farm bill.

"Anything that we're going to be doing on SNAP needs to be thoughtfully looked at. There's no way that SNAP dollars should be used to offset any part" of the disaster bill, she said.

Stacy Dean, vice president for food assistance policy at the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, a progressive research and advocacy group, said "the concept of the NAC is a solid one" but that the savings should be kept within SNAP.

"We think this is a policy best debated – and improved – in the farm bill. As drafted, the provision has some problems that need to be addressed," she said.

Good Afternoon,

I believe this is a generic clearance process that is to cover the entire Department (USDA) and has to be "renewed" on a regular basis with OMB. It has applicability across all USDA agencies and not just for information collection from FNS (e.g., ag census, food security supplemental survey). Although the FRN doesn't specify this, being this is coming from the Office of the Chief Information Officer, it may be IT/technology based clearance request.

With that said, individual agencies/programs must submit a request for clearance to OMB when collecting specific information from others pertaining to their programs. I signed off on several FRNs during the development of the DGAs and renewals for existing CNPP initiatives.

I would recommend to contact Ruth.Brown@ocio.usda.gov for clarification, but I am interpreting this to be a renewal of a generic information collection clearance process and not something specific to the priorities of the Academy.

Hope this is helpful.

Happy New Year!

Mark, in reading the Federal Register notice, I don't know to what USDA activities this relates, what the problem is being addressed, or what 'qualitative' info this would be talking about. Might it be 'Guidance' to states for various programs like SNAP, SNAP-Ed, child nutrition or WIC? Comments on USDA docs like the DGA? Or other USDA actions like developing a Toolkit or reviewing submissions for USDA publications? Simply asking stakeholders for input?

Is this trying to limit USDA programs from seeking public input on agency decisions or program policies?

If I understood the relevance to nutrition programs, then I'd have a better idea how to reply.

Thanks for your insights.

Dear Donna, Susan, Liz, Angie and Kevin,

The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy office is specifically seeking your input on this comment opportunity. Each of you is a key Academy stakeholder on this topic. The deadline by which we seek input back to the Academy is Wednesday, January 24, 2018. Apologies for the short timeline.

Please find attached a template with questions and issues raised by the USDA in its proposal. If multiple questions are on the template, there is no need to answer them all; in fact, you may choose to focus on those of particular interest to you. Please use the template to record and submit your input.

In this proposal, the USDA seeks feedback on a planned survey which is intended to access information about how the agency can improve agency service, such as timeliness, appropriateness, accuracy of information, courtesy, efficiency of service delivery, and resolution of issues with service delivery.

The survey has not been made available, but we recommend basing your input on what such a survey might look like, and what it might include, etc.

If the deadline is too tight, I may be able to extend by a day or so, but I need sufficient time to finish drafting and getting the final product approved by the Legislative and Public Policy Committee.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to email me.

Thanks again for your interest and I look forward to hearing back from you.

Dear Mark:

I would defer to Angie since she has much more experience and insight than I have about the clearance process for data collection at USDA. However, I am always looking at things through the lens of an anti-hunger advocate. I would love to confirm that this is a renewal of an existing data collection process and not a potential new way to collect information on programs that could fuel arguments for block grants or deferring federal control if a state approach seems to be more 'efficient'. After reading through the information in the link you sent, it sounds like programmatic changes can't be made based solely on information collected through this method but we should be mindful of the potential political impact of seemingly neutral data sets. I know this is a HUGE stretch, but SNAP and School Meals are under intense review. I just want to make sure that we are not complicit with making it easier to build a case that could impact AND members and the people we serve. I copied an article below that talks about potential approaches to the farm bill and 'welfare reform'.

Will you let us know what you learn from Ruth Brown?

Thanks for staying on top of regulatory issues for AND!

Best,

Liz

How will the SNAP debate evolve – farm bill or entitlement reform?

01/03/18 5:45 AM By Philip Brasher

The debate over changes to the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program is starting to take shape as Congress prepares to write the new farm bill.

The passage of the tax reform bill, which is projected to increase the deficit by $1.5 trillion over 10 years, has raised concerns that Republicans will use the increased red ink to justify slashing Medicare, Social Security and welfare programs, including SNAP.

Even before the bill was passed, House Speaker Paul Ryan, R-Wis., said that welfare reform would be a major priority for the House GOP in 2018.

But Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell quickly made clear that Senate Republicans had no interest in pursuing welfare reform. He said at a Dec. 21 Axios event that he "would not expect to see" welfare reform on the Senate GOP's 2018 agenda. "We have to have Democratic involvement. So things like infrastructure ... to do something in that area we're going to have to have Democratic participation," McConnell said.

The GOP will hold just 51 seats in the Senate after Wednesday, when Democrat Doug Jones replaces outgoing Sen. Luther Strange, R-Ala. The only chance of passing a highly partisan welfare bill would be to use the fiscal 2019 budget reconciliation, and McConnell clearly has no plans to do that.

That doesn't mean SNAP won't be the target of reforms. But Ryan's welfare reform effort will leave the SNAP debate to the House Agriculture Committee and the farm bill. And House Agriculture Chairman Mike Conaway, R-Texas, tells Agri-Pulse he's confident that he can get Democratic support for whatever changes are made in the farm bill.

Conaway, who hopes to move a farm bill before the Easter recess in late March, is keeping the wraps on his proposed SNAP reforms. But he says they will focus on strengthening work requirements for able-bodied adults and also seek to get case managers “more effectively involved in people’s lives to get at those root causes” of poverty.

“Right now, we’ve worked really hard to not do things to automatically flush the Democrats,” Conaway said. “We want to talk about policy. We’re not going to be talking about dollars so much, we’re going to be talking about policy. Is this policy right?”

If Conaway is going to maintain some Democratic support for the bill, that means that his SNAP reforms will have to be relatively modest. That would rule out anything close to the cuts proposed last year by leaders of the House Freedom Caucus.

Their bill would take several steps to remove able-bodied adults without dependents (ABAWDs) from SNAP rolls. One provision would reduce the time an ABAWD could be out of work and still receive SNAP benefits from three months in every three years to one month in every three years. Another provision would reduce the number of exemptions to the work requirement that states are allowed.

One idea that’s likely to have bipartisan support – and generate savings that could be plowed back into nutrition programs – emerged just before Christmas in the House-passed bill. The bill included a provision that would expand a pilot program, called the National Accuracy Clearinghouse (NAC), for preventing duplicative SNAP benefits.

The NAC is used to cross-check SNAP participants to locate individuals applying for or receiving duplicate benefits in different states, according to LexisNexis Risk Solutions. The Congressional Budget Office estimates that the provision would save $576 million over 10 years, according to a Senate source.

The House bill would use savings from the provision to benefit dairy producers by lifting a funding cap on Livestock Gross Margin insurance. The ranking Democrat on the Senate Agriculture Committee, Debbie Stabenow of Michigan, objected to using the SNAP savings for LGM but she didn’t rule out including it in the farm bill.

“Anything that we’re going to be doing on SNAP needs to be thoughtfully looked at. There’s no way that SNAP dollars should be used to offset any part” of the disaster bill, she said.

Stacy Dean, vice president for food assistance policy at the Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, a progressive research and advocacy group, said “the concept of the NAC is a solid one” but that the savings should be kept within SNAP.

“We think this is a policy best debated – and improved – in the farm bill. As drafted, the provision has some problems that need to be addressed,” she said.

Good Afternoon,

I believe this is a generic clearance process that is to cover the entire Department (USDA) and has to be “renewed” on a regular basis with OMB. It has applicability across all USDA agencies and not just for information collection from FNS (e.g., ag census, food security supplemental survey). Although the FRN doesn't specify this, being this is coming from the Office of the Chief Information Officer, it may be IT/technology based clearance request.

With that said, individual agencies/programs must submit a request for clearance to OMB when collecting specific information from others pertaining to their programs. I signed off on several FRNs during the development of the DGAs and renewals for existing CNPP initiatives.

I would recommend to contact Ruth.Brown@ocio.usda.gov for clarification, but I am interpreting this to be a renewal of a generic information collection clearance process and not something specific to the priorities of the Academy.

Hope this is helpful.

Mark, in reading the Federal Register notice, I don't know to what USDA activities this relates, what the problem is being addressed, or what 'qualitative' info this would be talking about. Might it be 'Guidance' to states for various programs like SNAP, SNAP-Ed, child nutrition or WIC? Comments on USDA docs like the DGA? Or other USDA actions like developing a Toolkit or reviewing submissions for USDA publications? Simply asking stakeholders for input?

Is this trying to limit USDA programs from seeking public input on agency decisions or program policies?

If I understood the relevance to nutrition programs, then I'd have a better idea how to reply.

Thanks for your insights.

Dear Donna, Susan, Liz, Angie and Kevin,

The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy office is specifically seeking your input on this comment opportunity. Each of you is a key Academy stakeholder on this topic. The deadline by which we seek input back to the Academy is Wednesday, January 24, 2018. Apologies for the short timeline.

Please find attached a template with questions and issues raised by the USDA in its proposal. If multiple questions are on the template, there is no need to answer them all; in fact, you may choose to focus on those of particular interest to you. Please use the template to record and submit your input.

In this proposal, the USDA seeks feedback on a planned survey which is intended to access information about how the agency can improve agency service, such as timeliness, appropriateness, accuracy of information, courtesy, efficiency of service delivery, and resolution of issues with service delivery.

The survey has not been made available, but we recommend basing your input on what such a survey might look like, and what it might include, etc.

If the deadline is too tight, I may be able to extend by a day or so, but I need sufficient time to finish drafting and getting the final product approved by the Legislative and Public Policy Committee.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to email me.

Thanks again for your interest and I look forward to hearing back from you.

New Release:

Diabetes Guide to Enjoying Foods of the World

Your clients and patients with diabetes can use this convenient guide to help them enjoy all the flavors of the world while still following a healthy meal plan!

Whether learning to choose better options from familiar cuisines or branching out to try new dishes, this 72-page guide covers 11 popular cuisines, including Chinese, Cuban, French, Greek, Indian, Italian, Japanese, Mexican, Moroccan, Peruvian, and Thai. Includes a full-color photograph of a healthy dish from each cuisine.

Practical tips and guidance are offered for each of the 11 cuisines, including:

- Information on native foods and flavors
- Strategies for healthy eating
- Recommended healthy pleasures
- Dishes for special occasions (or smaller portions)
- Carbohydrate and calorie amounts for popular dishes

Help your clients learn to quickly identify the best choices for their meal plan, whether preparing foods at home, eating in restaurants, or traveling abroad!

So I investigated the person who is asking Donna the question and she is an accountant from Mexco with 200 followers.

The group she is asking about does not take industry money, they are asking for donations but their efforts are being bankrolled by Houston philanthropists, John and Laura Arnold. Teicholtz is a high fat, low carb supporter.

My opinion: Donna should not reply.

Hi Donna,

Thanksgiving was great and a nice break! Hope yours was as well.

Thank you for checking in with me about this. We have you scheduled to speak from 1:30-2:30pm on Friday, April 6th right after lunch. We thought you'd be an energetic speaker for this time slot and I think this also works with your need to join the board meeting you mentioned that afternoon.

We always extend the invitation to Academy presidents to come in the night before the talk or stay the night following the talk (whichever works best for you). If you come in Thursday night (4/5), we'd love to take you to a nice dinner. If you come in Friday morning and stay through Friday night (4/6), we have our foundation fundraiser event that would be great to have you attend. That being said, it's up to you when you'd like to come in and what works best with your travel schedule.

We're very much looking forward to having you at our Annual Meeting! Please let me know how I can help coordinate your travel arrangements.

Thank you!

After giving some thought to the travel day of October 31, we are projecting that we will lose individuals who chose not to attend the program to stay home and participate in Halloween festivities. A possible solution is to start the program on November 1 at 1:00 pm, and do two full days on Friday, November 2 and Saturday, November 3. I have drafted the attached agenda. We can juggle presentations, if you have a conflict at the time your presentation is scheduled on the draft agenda.

Please let me know by end of day Wednesday, January 17 if this option will work for you. The second option is to check with the hotel to see if they can schedule the program on Friday, November 2 through Sunday, November 4. Please let me know if this will work for you as well.

Thank you.

Thanks, Angie.

It may be useful for the Academy to inquire further of Ruth Brown as to how the following kinds of information collection would be affected, if at all:

- Dietary Guidelines for Americans – requests for scientific information or for public comment
- USDA's annual or intermittent 'Guidance' to states or other grantees for SNAP, SNAP-Ed, WIC, National School Lunch, Summer Meals, EFNEP and other USDA categorical programs.
- Public comments on new program initiatives, e.g., Enhanced Standards for SNAP Retailers, standards for SNAP (income eligibility, work requirements, benefit levels, state operations)
- Reporting and billing systems, e.g., FPRS, EARS, public reports, etc. for USDA categorical programs
- Technical assistance documents such as frameworks, toolkits, interpretive guides
- Submission forms, such as for posting on USDA websites like Farm to School or SNAP-Ed Connections

At present, OMB clearance adds months to approval times for various USDA work products. Would generic clearance increase, decrease or have no effect on those requirements?

Subject: Re: Regulatory Comment Request: Info Collection: Generic Clearance for the Collection of Qualitative Feedback on Agency Service Delivery---Revision and Extension

Good Afternoon,

I believe this is a generic clearance process that is to cover the entire Department (USDA) and has to be "renewed" on a regular basis with OMB. It has applicability across all USDA agencies and not just for information collection from FNS (e.g., ag census, food security supplemental survey). Although the FRN doesn't specify this, being this is coming from the Office of the Chief Information Officer, it may be IT/technology based clearance request.

With that said, individual agencies/programs must submit a request for clearance to OMB when collecting specific information from others pertaining to their programs. I signed off on several FRNs during the development of the DGAs and renewals for existing CNPP initiatives.

I would recommend to contact Ruth.Brown@ocio.usda.gov for clarification, but I am interpreting this to be a renewal of a generic information collection clearance process and not something specific to the priorities of the Academy.

Hope this is helpful.

Happy New Year!

Mark, have you any new information? I've asked around, and my other colleagues do not understand what this is about either.

One suggested that the document on which they're requesting 'generic clearance' might have been omitted. This did happen w/ other docs from USDA. After an inquiry, they went to program, posted the docs as 'supplemental info' but did not extend the comment period. Could you check further?

Otherwise, my questions are the same: what are examples of docs or issues that could be subject to 'generic clearance' from public comment that we should use in our comments?

Please advise; the 24rd is coming up. Thanks.

Mark, in reading the Federal Register notice, I don't know to what USDA activities this relates, what the problem is being addressed, or what 'qualitative' info this would be talking about. Might it be 'Guidance' to states for various programs like SNAP, SNAP-Ed, child nutrition or WIC? Comments on USDA docs like the DGA? Or other USDA actions like developing a Toolkit or reviewing submissions for USDA publications? Simply asking stakeholders for input?

Is this trying to limit USDA programs from seeking public input on agency decisions or program policies?

If I understood the relevance to nutrition programs, then I'd have a better idea how to reply.

Thanks for your insights.

Dear Donna, Susan, Liz, Angie and Kevin,

The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy office is specifically seeking your input on this comment opportunity. Each of you is a key Academy stakeholder on this topic. The deadline by which we seek input back to the Academy is Wednesday, January 24, 2018. Apologies for the short timeline.

Please find attached a template with questions and issues raised by the USDA in its proposal. If multiple questions are on the template, there is no need to answer them all; in fact, you may choose to focus on those of particular interest to you. Please use the template to record and submit your input.

In this proposal, the USDA seeks feedback on a planned survey which is intended to access information about how the agency can improve agency service, such as timeliness, appropriateness, accuracy of information, courtesy, efficiency of service delivery, and resolution of issues with service delivery.

The survey has not been made available, but we recommend basing your input on what such a survey might look like, and what it might include, etc.

If the deadline is too tight, I may be able to extend by a day or so, but I need sufficient time to finish drafting and getting the final product approved by the Legislative and Public Policy Committee.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to email me.

Thanks again for your interest and I look forward to hearing back from you.

Good afternoon, Donna, Mary and Lucille,

I hope January has been wonderful for you all thus far. We appreciate your participation in the review and selection of the 2018 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics media spokespeople. Below is the timeline and review criteria for this year's spokesperson selection process. The spokespeople selected will serve a three-year term from June 1, 2018, until May 31, 2021. Please note: We will schedule a conference call to discuss the candidates and final selection March 6 or March 7, so please let us know your availability.

Review Criteria

- To ensure fairness and impartiality in the selection process, all applications are kept confidential.
- All applicants are evaluated on career experience, professional accomplishments, news media experience, skills in print and broadcast interview situations and ability to conform to the Spokesperson Program's performance standards.
- Applicants are evaluated to determine whether existing business and professional interests, commitments, obligations and relationships would constitute a conflict of interest (or the appearance of one). Applicants must disclose all potential conflicts of interest.
- Spokespersons who apply for an additional term are evaluated by the Academy's Strategic Communications Team on their success during their term in meeting the Academy's performance standards.

Timeline

- October 2017 to January 2018: Application materials are posted to member-only website
 - o All open markets/areas of expertise/diversity for the three-year term are publicized in following outlets: Eat Right Weekly, Affiliate/DPG/MIG Listservs and letters to leaders, Food & Nutrition Magazine, Facebook, Twitter, Daily News, Nutrition and Dietetics SmartBrief, and via direct personal outreach
- January 15: Email to reviewers
- February 2: Application deadline

- February 16: Share process, criteria and guidelines with reviewers
- February 19 to March 5: Application review process
- March 5: Deadline for evaluation and comments (via Survey Monkey)
- March 6 or March 7: Conference call with reviewers to discuss candidates and confirm recommendations
- March 8: Members selected to join the Spokesperson Program are notified
- March 8: Applicants who are not selected are notified

If you have any questions or need additional information, please don't hesitate to reach out. We look forward to working with you in this process.

Good Afternoon,

I believe this is a generic clearance process that is to cover the entire Department (USDA) and has to be “renewed” on a regular basis with OMB. It has applicability across all USDA agencies and not just for information collection from FNS (e.g., ag census, food security supplemental survey). Although the FRN doesn’t specify this, being this is coming from the Office of the Chief Information Officer, it may be IT/technology based clearance request.

With that said, individual agencies/programs must submit a request for clearance to OMB when collecting specific information from others pertaining to their programs. I signed off on several FRNs during the development of the DGAs and renewals for existing CNPP initiatives.

I would recommend to contact Ruth.Brown@ocio.usda.gov for clarification, but I am interpreting this to be a renewal of a generic information collection clearance process and not something specific to the priorities of the Academy.

Hope this is helpful.

Happy New Year!

Mark, have you any new information? I've asked around, and my other colleagues do not understand what this is about either.

One suggested that the document on which they're requesting 'generic clearance' might have been omitted. This did happen w/ other docs from USDA. After an inquiry, they went to program, posted the docs as 'supplemental info' but did not extend the comment period. Could you check further?

Otherwise, my questions are the same: what are examples of docs or issues that could be subject to 'generic clearance' from public comment that we should use in our comments?

Please advise; the 24rd is coming up. Thanks.

Mark, in reading the Federal Register notice, I don't know to what USDA activities this relates, what the problem is being addressed, or what 'qualitative' info this would be talking about. Might it be 'Guidance' to states for various programs like SNAP, SNAP-Ed, child nutrition or WIC? Comments on USDA docs like the DGA? Or other USDA actions like developing a Toolkit or reviewing submissions for USDA publications? Simply asking stakeholders for input?

Is this trying to limit USDA programs from seeking public input on agency decisions or program policies?

If I understood the relevance to nutrition programs, then I'd have a better idea how to reply.

Thanks for your insights.

Dear Donna, Susan, Liz, Angie and Kevin,

The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy office is specifically seeking your input on this comment opportunity. Each of you is a key Academy stakeholder on this topic. The deadline by which we seek input back to the Academy is Wednesday, January 24, 2018. Apologies for the short timeline.

Please find attached a template with questions and issues raised by the USDA in its proposal. If multiple questions are on the template, there is no need to answer them all; in fact, you may choose to focus on those of particular interest to you. Please use the template to record and submit your input.

In this proposal, the USDA seeks feedback on a planned survey which is intended to access information about how the agency can improve agency service, such as timeliness, appropriateness, accuracy of information, courtesy, efficiency of service delivery, and resolution of issues with service delivery.

The survey has not been made available, but we recommend basing your input on what such a survey might look like, and what it might include, etc.

If the deadline is too tight, I may be able to extend by a day or so, but I need sufficient time to finish drafting and getting the final product approved by the Legislative and Public Policy Committee.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to email me.

Thanks again for your interest and I look forward to hearing back from you.

Hello everyone,

NDEP has extended their call for candidates for the public member position on the NDEP Council. The deadline is now January 22, 2018.

At our last NDEP Council meeting, we approved a description of the eligibility requirements and responsibilities of our NDEP Public Member, and also agreed that the NDEP Public Member would hold a voting role on NDEP Council. This position has been unfilled since the resignation of our last public member, Sandra Gill. When faced with replacing Sandra, I found that NDEP did not have an official position description for our public member, and thus Council members having been working on determining what the requirements and responsibilities should include.

Attached is the NDEP Public Member position description. Please take some time to review it, and then let me know if you have someone in mind that you would like us to consider as a candidate for our next NDEP Public Member for a two year term. I would like to be able to contact individuals who have been suggested by our NDEP members between now and the end of January so that we can determine their interest and eligibility.

Please contact me with the names and contact information of anyone that you have in mind as a candidate for this important position by January 22, 2018.

Don't hesitate to let me know if you have any questions at all, and thank you for your assistance in this process.

Best regards,
Pat

So I investigated the person who is asking Donna the question and she is an accountant from Mexco with 200 followers.

The group she is asking about does not take industry money, they are asking for donations but their efforts are being bankrolled by Houston philanthropists, John and Laura Arnold. Teicholtz is a high fat, low carb supporter.

My opinion: Donna should not reply.

Thanks for the information. The following questions come to mind.

Who is driving the change and why? Do organizations get a chance to input? Has Congress previously considered this change? I would think lack of funding would be an issue for accreditors who receive financial assistance from the parent organization. Donna,

If you want a Board representative, then Mary or Hope would be good. However, please consider Wahida Karmally since she has expertise as a Clinical Lipid Specialist and is a fellow of the NLA. Her bio is linked here:

<http://s19.a2zinc.net/clients/Academy/FNCE2017/Public/SpeakerDetails.aspx?nav=true&FromPage=Speakers.aspx&ContactID=4216>

If you are in agreement, I can reach out to Wahida to see if she is available.

Pat, I got this invite from the National Lipid Association for their meeting in April that will be help in Las Vegas. They are paying all expenses to come and you don't even have to speak, amazing. The bad news is that I will be in Delaware speaking at their state meeting. They asked if I could recommend someone else. I know Lucille loves Las Vegas, but she will be speaking in Maine on the same day I am speaking in Delaware. Do you think I ought to ask them to invite Mary?

Allison, I would absolutely love to come to the National Lipid Association Meeting in Las Vegas. The speakers look amazing. The problem is that I agreed to do the Academy update for the Delaware Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics on Friday April 27th. If I came, I would not be able to get to the conference until Friday night of the 27th. I think what you are doing is great and so appreciate the invitation.

Mark, have you any new information? I've asked around, and my other colleagues do not understand what this is about either.

One suggested that the document on which they're requesting 'generic clearance' might have been omitted. This did happen w/ other docs from USDA. After an inquiry, they went to program, posted the docs as 'supplemental info' but did not extend the comment period. Could you check further?

Otherwise, my questions are the same: what are examples of docs or issues that could be subject to 'generic clearance' from public comment that we should use in our comments?

Please advise; the 24rd is coming up. Thanks.

Mark, in reading the Federal Register notice, I don't know to what USDA activities this relates, what the problem is being addressed, or what 'qualitative' info this would be talking about. Might it be 'Guidance' to states for various programs like SNAP, SNAP-Ed, child nutrition or WIC? Comments on USDA docs like the DGA? Or other USDA actions like developing a Toolkit or reviewing submissions for USDA publications? Simply asking stakeholders for input?

Is this trying to limit USDA programs from seeking public input on agency decisions or program policies?

If I understood the relevance to nutrition programs, then I'd have a better idea how to reply.

Thanks for your insights.

Subject: FW: Regulatory Comment Request: Info Collection: Generic Clearance for the Collection of Qualitative Feedback on Agency Service Delivery---Revision and Extension

Dear Donna, Susan, Liz, Angie and Kevin,

The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy office is specifically seeking your input on this comment opportunity. Each of you is a key Academy stakeholder on this topic. The deadline by which we seek input back to the Academy is Wednesday, January 24, 2018. Apologies for the short timeline.

Please find attached a template with questions and issues raised by the USDA in its proposal. If multiple questions are on the template, there is no need to answer them all; in fact, you may choose to focus on those of particular interest to you. Please use the template to record and submit your input.

In this proposal, the USDA seeks feedback on a planned survey which is intended to access information about how the agency can improve agency service, such as timeliness, appropriateness, accuracy of information, courtesy, efficiency of service delivery, and resolution of issues with service delivery.

The survey has not been made available, but we recommend basing your input on what such a survey might look like, and what it might include, etc.

If the deadline is too tight, I may be able to extend by a day or so, but I need sufficient time to finish drafting and getting the final product approved by the Legislative and Public Policy Committee.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to email me.

Thanks again for your interest and I look forward to hearing back from you.

There are much greater firewalls and protection on my work email there would be possible on a personal account. Something to consider.

Pat,

In the interest of protecting sensitive Academy information this seems to be a reasonable request. It is a “best practice” to maintain separate personal and business/work email addresses for all citizens.

I would be very supportive of this policy.

Those of you who served on the Board may remember that in November 2015 we shared information with you regarding the Open Records Act. At that time, some of you made the choice to switch to a personal email address while others kept your federal, state, or institutional emails because it became difficult to keep up with monitoring work, personal and Academy emails. Some nonprofits now require Board members and committee members dealing with sensitive nonprofit business information via email to establish and exclusively use a personal email account and refrain from using employer email accounts.

A public record is defined as any writing that is prepared, owned, used, or retained by any state or local government agency, and which contains information that relates to the conduct of government, or the performance of any governmental or proprietary function. If you work at a public institution or government agency, you may be asked to disclose all of the documents shared between the Academy and you. Since the open records act may expose confidential Academy correspondence to public disclosure, we are looking to draft a policy requiring Board members and committee members working for a public institution to use a personal email address for all Academy correspondence.

Those of you who may be impacted are: Donna Martin, Hope Barkoukis, Margaret Garner, Michele Lites, Tammy Randall and Kevin Sauer. Steve Miranda switched to a gmail account and he recently received an open records request. His employer was able to simply respond that there is no correspondence between him and the Academy using the Federal Reserve Bank address or email.

Please let me your thoughts, comments, questions regarding implementing such a policy. We look forward to hearing back from you soon. Please let Joan know if you change to a personal email address. Thank you!

This list is purported to be for 2017 and yet quotes Evelyn as tho' she is the current president.

Is this something worth an "update" to the editor? Thanks for your thoughts.

Speaker Message 15 Motion Deliberation and Mid-Year Evaluation

Fall HOD Meeting Motion #1 Deliberation Phase

As noted in this discussion post, there were no substantive changes to the intent of the motion so we are now moving into the deliberation phase of conducting business electronically. Delegates should review the final motion. You now have the opportunity to speak for or against the motion, if you wish.

- The final deliberation phase starts today and ends January 15 at 12:00 pm CT.
- Please note this is not your official vote, but it is another chance to voice your thoughts in support of or against the motion if you would like to do so. Once the deliberation phase ends, a discussion post will be posted with voting instructions. Please be prepared to cast your official vote before Friday, January 19 at 12:00 pm CT.

Revised Timeline

The dates for Motion Deliberation and Voting are below. All phases end at noon (Central) on the last day listed.

- Deliberation Phase: Thursday January 11– Monday, January 15
- Voting Phase Monday, January 15 – Friday, January 19

Review the discussion post for additional information on the motion and process.

Complete Mid-Year HOD Evaluation by January 25

Please take 5-10 minutes time to complete the Mid-Year HOD Evaluation. Your input on the questions will help the HLT identify ways to enhance the experience of delegates. We hope it will also assist you in evaluating your own performance and contributions as a delegate during the first half of the 2017-2018 program year (from June 1st, 2017 to date).

Mark Your Calendars: HOD Office Hours January 22

Time: 5:30 pm - 6:30 pm CT

The topic for the next HOD Office Hours will be the mega issue process. Additional information and attachments are available in this discussion post.

Current Mega Issue Update

Draft Code of Ethics: Communication and Education Strategies (Fall 2017)

- Please see the memo from the Code of Ethics Task Force Chair, Lisa Dierks, discussing how the group plans to utilize the case studies created during the Fall HOD Meeting.

2018 Election News

Biographies for candidates on the Academy's 2018 national ballot are available on the election website. Campaigning for the national election can begin January 16. The National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines can be viewed by clicking here.

- Remember, delegates cannot support an individual candidate through print, electronic, or social media communications or advise friends and colleagues who to vote for (or not to vote for).
- However, as Academy members, leaders may show support for a candidate as long as they do not mention their leadership position. For example, "As a colleague of candidate X, expressing my personal opinion and not that of the House of Delegates, I support her candidacy for the office of X."
- More information about the guidelines can be viewed on the recorded National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines webinar which shows members how to be engaged in the election process by providing details and clarification regarding the guidelines.

Voting will take place February 1 to 15. When you cast your ballot, you will receive a coupon for $5 off your next purchase from the eatrightSTORE.

Public Policy Weekly News (PPWN)

Delegates receive this weekly communication because public policy is a core function of the HOD and you are a member of the Public Policy Panel. The new email format is user friendly, and if you happen to miss a message, we post a PDF of the message on the HOD platform.

Pat,

The Academy has always sent information and emails to both my Kaiser Permanente and personal email, I am happy to have the Academy only use my personal home email address if there is concern that sensitive Academy information may possibly be disclosed to the public. I have not had any problems in the past three years as our email system is quite secure and not accessible to the public, frankly I wonder if it is not easier to hack into private emails and ascertain information or pass on viruses? I am not a cyber expert, by any means so if the majority of the board would like to use private emails, I am happy to agree.

Subject: Open Records Request: Academy Policy Feedback

Caution: This email came from outside Kaiser Permanente. Do not open attachments or click on links if you do not recognize the sender.

Those of you who served on the Board may remember that in November 2015 we shared information with you regarding the Open Records Act. At that time, some of you made the choice to switch to a personal email address while others kept your federal, state, or institutional emails because it became difficult to keep up with monitoring work, personal and Academy emails. Some nonprofits now require Board members and committee members dealing with sensitive nonprofit business information via email to establish and exclusively use a personal email account and refrain from using employer email accounts.

A public record is defined as any writing that is prepared, owned, used, or retained by any state or local government agency, and which contains information that relates to the conduct of government, or the performance of any governmental or proprietary function. If you work at a public institution or government agency, you may be asked to disclose all of the documents shared between the Academy and you. Since the open records act may expose confidential Academy correspondence to public disclosure, we are looking to draft a policy requiring Board members and committee members working for a public institution to use a personal email address for all Academy correspondence.

Those of you who may be impacted are: Donna Martin, Hope Barkoukis, Margaret Garner, Michele Lites, Tammy Randall and Kevin Sauer. Steve Miranda switched to a gmail account and he recently received an open records request. His employer was able to simply respond that there is no correspondence between him and the Academy using the Federal Reserve Bank address or email.

Please let me your thoughts, comments, questions regarding implementing such a policy. We look forward to hearing back from you soon. Please let Joan know if you change to a personal email address. Thank you!

Best regards,

Pat

My comment about Mary Pat being a "tad" upset was probably better reflected by Donna's comment about her being very upset.

Upon more reflection, do we know why the policy was established originally? Are there any notes or guidance about the intent of the policy? Would it be worth reviewing? I certainly can think of several reasons to possibly change it, but maybe there is something valid about keeping it as it is currently. More thoughts?

Just so you both know, Mary Pat reached out to me and she is very upset by this. I think she has some valuable points that I have made in that we are losing valuable people on committees that we could use their knowledge and skills. For example, Jenn Folliard who moved to South Dakota because her husband had a job change and now we cannot use her expertise for 5 years.

Good morning,

Thanks, to both of you, for weighing in on this situation. Pat and I just spoke about it as I feel since we are talking about implementation of an operational policy of the Academy, as CEO she should make the final decision. Pat continues to be comfortable, under the circumstances, to allow Mary Pat to serve on ANDPAC for 1 year (not a full 3-year appointment). She noted past precedence of putting people on committees for 1 year, so this action would be consistent with previous actions. Other committee appointments, including positions on ANDPAC, are for 1 year so this action should not lead to intense scrutiny. Moving forward we will definitely make the policy known so we can ensure strict adherence in the future.

On a personal level, I know none of us like to see our friends disappointed and the decision is certainly in no way a reflection of anyone's opinion of her commitment as a prior member leader or staff member. Dianne, I appreciate you bringing the question forward on Mary Pat's behalf.

Thanks and let me know if either of you has any questions about Pat's decision.

Best,

Good morning,

I hope you both enjoyed your weekend and perhaps are experiencing a reprieve for the cold temperatures. We're at a balmy 33 degrees, but schools are closed yet again due to a wintry mix of precipitation (snow, ice). You just can't win!

I want to thank both of you for taking time on Friday to speak with me about the unexpected situations related to the appointments to ANDPAC, LPPC, and CPLS. I think Jeanne and I are now on the same page as to the composition of these committees. So we're ready to move forward with what I hope will be the final course corrections. Thank you, in advance, for making a few more calls. Here are your assignments:

1. ANDPAC: Dianne needs to call Mary Pat Raimondi and explain that we learned there is a policy under the Nominating Committee that precludes former Academy employees from serving in appointed roles on the national level for up to 5 years after leaving employment. Since she was already appointed to ANDPAC, we'd love for her to continue to serve but for a 1-year rather than a 3-year term.

Cell phone number: 202-604-1713

2. LPPC: Committee structure only includes a past-chair when an appointee begins their 3-year term as vice-chair. So Lorri Holzberg comes off the committee and needs to be replaced. You already identified Laura Purdue as a back-up. Donna needs to call Laura and offer her a 3-year position effective immediately.

Laura Perdue

(612) 834-4604

Minnesota

leperdue@gmail.com

1/1/18 – 12/31/20

3. CPLS: With the approval of an additional committee member, one more person needs to be offered a 3-year appointment effective immediately. Staff recommends Susan Adams, who completed the Opportunities to Serve survey (see attached). If you agree with offering the appointment to Susan, Dianne needs to call her.

Contact information: (484)919-0116; seadams@rcn.com

Once you each confirm these appointments, I will send new (or in the case of Mary Pat, a revised) appointment letters. I'm keeping my fingers crossed that this round marks the end of your duties on this front (hope I did not just jinx us).

Thank you and let me know if you have any questions or need additional information.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Mark, in reading the Federal Register notice, I don't know to what USDA activities this relates, what the problem is being addressed, or what 'qualitative' info this would be talking about. Might it be 'Guidance' to states for various programs like SNAP, SNAP-Ed, child nutrition or WIC? Comments on USDA docs like the DGA? Or other USDA actions like developing a Toolkit or reviewing submissions for USDA publications? Simply asking stakeholders for input?

Is this trying to limit USDA programs from seeking public input on agency decisions or program policies?

If I understood the relevance to nutrition programs, then I'd have a better idea how to reply.

Thanks for your insights.

Dear Donna, Susan, Liz, Angie and Kevin,

The Policy Initiatives and Advocacy office is specifically seeking your input on this comment opportunity. Each of you is a key Academy stakeholder on this topic. The deadline by which we seek input back to the Academy is Wednesday, January 24, 2018. Apologies for the short timeline.

Please find attached a template with questions and issues raised by the USDA in its proposal. If multiple questions are on the template, there is no need to answer them all; in fact, you may choose to focus on those of particular interest to you. Please use the template to record and submit your input.

In this proposal, the USDA seeks feedback on a planned survey which is intended to access information about how the agency can improve agency service, such as timeliness, appropriateness, accuracy of information, courtesy, efficiency of service delivery, and resolution of issues with service delivery.

The survey has not been made available, but we recommend basing your input on what such a survey might look like, and what it might include, etc.

If the deadline is too tight, I may be able to extend by a day or so, but I need sufficient time to finish drafting and getting the final product approved by the Legislative and Public Policy Committee.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to email me.

Thanks again for your interest and I look forward to hearing back from you.

Senate Finance Committee Holds Nomination Hearing for HHS Secretary

The U.S. Senate Finance Committee held a confirmation hearing January 9 for Alex Azar, President Trump's nominee to lead the Department of Health and Human Services. Questions focused on Medicare, Medicaid, the Affordable Care Act and drug pricing. The Academy submitted questions for the record that focused on ensuring that evidence-based nutrition interventions provided by qualified nutrition professionals will continue to be recognized as vital to HHS' mission and work. The full Senate will vote on Azar's confirmation in the coming weeks.

Congress returned to Capitol Hill to a host of legislative issues that were left unfinished at the holiday recess. Leaders have restarted negotiations to reach a new budget agreement to raise the spending caps before the latest continuing resolution expires on January 19, as well as to pass another spending bill to keep the government operating. Other issues that need to be addressed; these include disaster relief for hurricane and wildfire affected areas and extending funding for the Children's Health Insurance Program and other health "extenders" beyond March including Community Health Centers, the National Health Service Corps, Teaching Health Center Graduate Medical Education and the Special Diabetes Program. The Academy remains opposed to using the Prevention and Public Health Fund to pay for these programs and continues to support strong federal investment in nutrition services for prevention and treatment. The Academy will provide updates on legislation as it is introduced and debated.

New Senators Sworn In

Two U.S. Senators - Doug Jones (Ala.) and Tina Smith (Minn.) - were sworn in on January 3. The Senate now has 51 Republicans, 47 Democrats and two Independents. The Academy looks forward to working with these new Senators on important health and nutrition legislative issues in the coming year.

Farm Bill Up for Reauthorization

The Farm Bill, legislation that is authorized every five years and is up for reauthorization in 2018 (although no Farm Bill has been passed on time by Congress since 1990), funds many U.S. Department of Agriculture programs, including nutrition assistance, education and research programs. Rep. Mike Conaway (Texas), chair of the House Agriculture Committee, has expressed an interest in bringing the Farm Bill to the House floor by March. The Senate is moving slower and is behind schedule in drafting its version. A final 2018 spending bill likely will serve as the baseline for funding for programs in the Farm Bill negotiations. The Academy will work with Congress to advance a Farm Bill that maintains the integrity of nutrition assistance programs, ensures vital nutrition education and nutrition research and enhances access to healthful food.

Academy Asks CMS: Consider Needs of RDNs in Medicare Quality Payment Program Year 2

As part of its ongoing efforts to ensure fairness, equity, appropriate recognition, inclusion and payment to registered dietitian nutritionists under Medicare Part B, the Academy submitted comments to the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services regarding CMS' final rule with comment period for updates to the 2018 Medicare Quality Payment Program Year 2. These comments represent a second year of advocacy for the expanded role in this new and evolving Medicare payment system. The Academy continues to urge CMS to consider the needs of non-physician providers such as RDNs and to provide the same opportunities to earn value-based payments as physicians and other Medicare providers, given RDNs' contribution to better care, smarter spending and healthier people.

CPE CORNER

Nutrition-Focused Physical Exam Hands-On Training Workshops

The Academy has developed an interactive, hands-on training workshop to provide registered dietitian nutritionists with skills and knowledge to perform nutrition-focused physical exams in the workplace and aid in the nutrition diagnosis of malnutrition. A pediatric NFPE workshop will be held February 26 in Santa Rosa, Calif. Adult NFPE workshops will be held March 27 in Atlanta, Ga., and April 24 in Wilton, Conn. Ten CPEUs are available.

Good afternoon ladies-

We are working on finalizing our conference for March 2018 and we are so excited! I just wanted to include you with a few updates in our planning process.

- We have requested a visit from Sonny Perdue . I heard from USDA that they have noted it on their calendar but will not be able to confirm until a month out from the program. We are very hopeful! If that happens, we will add them into our morning session.
- The opening session will begin at 10am. We will have the introduction, pledge, teen choir from local high school, brunch and then a panel of students question hosted by Jessica Baeder (Miss Americas Most Outstanding Teen).
- After the panel, June Barrett, ALSDE state administrator, will introduce Donna and Lynn.
- Lynn will speak first and give updates for the school nutrition association, goals, hopes, etc to set the stage for SNA and the conference.
- After Lynn, Donna will speak to the membership with updates from the Dietetics world, etc
- Please add your special touch to any of the speaking portion as what you feel is appropriate. The theme is "Golden Opportunities in Nutrition." The conference is actually on St. Patricks day so we will use that as our underlying theme for the conference.
- We will close with another song from the high school group
- Our evening session will be at 5pm and will include awards and installation . We would like to request Lynn to complete the installation for us.

Please share this tentative agenda and schedule and let me know what updates, changes that will be helpful in the program planning. We are thrilled with the line up and will be sending over a finalize program shortly.

Thank you again-

Pat, on another (non-legal) note, sometimes these edu and business emails block normal email addresses. So when the BOD gets an email from you and we want to reply all, on occasion, we cannot send the message because the business/edu emails somehow don't allow it. I think dedicated personal email addresses may enhance BOD communications amongst ourselves. Also, I think having one good email address per person would be so much easier than having to enter 2-3 email addresses for some.

There are much greater firewalls and protection on my work email there would be possible on a personal account. Something to consider.

Pat,

In the interest of protecting sensitive Academy information this seems to be a reasonable request. It is a "best practice" to maintain separate personal and business/work email addresses for all citizens.

I would be very supportive of this policy.

Those of you who served on the Board may remember that in November 2015 we shared information with you regarding the Open Records Act. At that time, some of you made the choice to switch to a personal email address while others kept your federal, state, or institutional emails because it became difficult to keep up with monitoring work, personal and Academy emails. Some nonprofits now require Board members and committee members dealing with sensitive nonprofit business information via email to establish and exclusively use a personal email account and refrain from using employer email accounts.

A public record is defined as any writing that is prepared, owned, used, or retained by any state or local government agency, and which contains information that relates to the conduct of government, or the performance of any governmental or proprietary function. If you work at a public institution or government agency, you may be asked to disclose all of the documents shared between the Academy and you. Since the open records act may expose confidential Academy correspondence to public disclosure, we are looking to draft a policy requiring Board members and committee members working for a public institution to use a personal email address for all Academy correspondence.

Those of you who may be impacted are: Donna Martin, Hope Barkoukis, Margaret Garner, Michele Lites, Tammy Randall and Kevin Sauer. Steve Miranda switched to a gmail account and he recently received an open records request. His employer was able to simply respond that there is no correspondence between him and the Academy using the Federal Reserve Bank address or email.

Please let me your thoughts, comments, questions regarding implementing such a policy. We look forward to hearing back from you soon. Please let Joan know if you change to a personal email address. Thank you!

My comment about Mary Pat being a "tad" upset was probably better reflected by Donna's comment about her being very upset.

Upon more reflection, do we know why the policy was established originally? Are there any notes or guidance about the intent of the policy? Would it be worth reviewing? I certainly can think of several reasons to possibly change it, but maybe there is something valid about keeping it as it is currently. More thoughts?

Good morning,

Thanks, to both of you, for weighing in on this situation. Pat and I just spoke about it as I feel since we are talking about implementation of an operational policy of the Academy, as CEO she should make the final decision. Pat continues to be comfortable, under the circumstances, to allow Mary Pat to serve on ANDPAC for 1 year (not a full 3-year appointment). She noted past precedence of putting people on committees for 1 year, so this action would be consistent with previous actions. Other committee appointments, including positions on ANDPAC, are for 1 year so this action should not lead to intense scrutiny. Moving forward we will definitely make the policy known so we can ensure strict adherence in the future.

On a personal level, I know none of us like to see our friends disappointed and the decision is certainly in no way a reflection of anyone's opinion of her commitment as a prior member leader or staff member. Dianne, I appreciate you bringing the question forward on Mary Pat's behalf.

Thanks and let me know if either of you has any questions about Pat's decision.

Best,

I want to thank both of you for taking time on Friday to speak with me about the unexpected situations related to the appointments to ANDPAC, LPPC, and CPLS. I think Jeanne and I are now on the same page as to the composition of these committees. So we're ready to move forward with what I hope will be the final course corrections. Thank you, in advance, for making a few more calls. Here are your assignments:

1. ANDPAC: Dianne needs to call Mary Pat Raimondi and explain that we learned there is a policy under the Nominating Committee that precludes former Academy employees from serving in appointed roles on the national level for up to 5 years after leaving employment. Since she was already appointed to ANDPAC, we'd love for her to continue to serve but for a 1-year rather than a 3-year term.

Cell phone number: 202-604-1713

2. LPPC: Committee structure only includes a past-chair when an appointee begins their 3-year term as vice-chair. So Lorri Holzberg comes off the committee and needs to be replaced. You already identified Laura Purdue as a back-up. Donna needs to call Laura and offer her a 3-year position effective immediately.

3. CPLS: With the approval of an additional committee member, one more person needs to be offered a 3-year appointment effective immediately. Staff recommends Susan Adams, who completed the Opportunities to Serve survey (see attached). If you agree with offering the appointment to Susan, Dianne needs to call her.

Contact information: (484)919-0116; seadams@rcn.com

Once you each confirm these appointments, I will send new (or in the case of Mary Pat, a revised) appointment letters. I'm keeping my fingers crossed that this round marks the end of your duties on this front (hope I did not just jinx us).

Thank you and let me know if you have any questions or need additional information.

I was not privy to the November 2015 discussion, but I did a quick review in some of my legal journals about this issue. It appears that every state has a law, modeled on the federal Freedom of Information act, affirming the public's right to see documents, but they differ wildly. After this quick review, I would support Pat's recommendation as a prudent policy change.

On a personal note, I left a position where I had used my work email address for all my communications, and am still having problems with people unsuccessfully using that old address four years later. I now use my gmail account for all personal matters.

Those of you who served on the Board may remember that in November 2015 we shared information with you regarding the Open Records Act. At that time, some of you made the choice to switch to a personal email address while others kept your federal, state, or institutional emails because it became difficult to keep up with monitoring work, personal and Academy emails. Some nonprofits now require Board members and committee members dealing with sensitive nonprofit business information via email to establish and exclusively use a personal email account and refrain from using employer email accounts.

A public record is defined as any writing that is prepared, owned, used, or retained by any state or local government agency, and which contains information that relates to the conduct of government, or the performance of any governmental or proprietary function. If you work at a public institution or government agency, you may be asked to disclose all of the documents shared between the Academy and you. Since the open records act may expose confidential Academy correspondence to public disclosure, we are looking to draft a policy requiring Board members and committee members working for a public institution to use a personal email address for all Academy correspondence.

Those of you who may be impacted are: Donna Martin, Hope Barkoukis, Margaret Garner, Michele Lites, Tammy Randall and Kevin Sauer. Steve Miranda switched to a gmail account and he recently received an open records request. His employer was able to simply respond that there is no correspondence between him and the Academy using the Federal Reserve Bank address or email.

Please let me your thoughts, comments, questions regarding implementing such a policy. We look forward to hearing back from you soon. Please let Joan know if you change to a personal email address. Thank you!

In the interest of protecting sensitive Academy information this seems to be a reasonable request. It is a "best practice" to maintain separate personal and business/work email addresses for all citizens.

Member Updates

The Academy will be seeking input from Academy members and DPGs over the next two years as we make recommendations on the upcoming Dietary Guidelines 2020-2025.

Additionally, the Academy will select nominees to serve on the Dietary Guidelines Advisory Committee (DGAC). Nomination criteria for the most recent 2015 DGAC was detailed as:

“Prospective members of the DGAC should be knowledgeable of current scientific research in human nutrition and chronic disease and be respected and published experts in their fields. The prospective members also should be familiar with the purpose, communication, and application of the Guidelines and have demonstrated interest in the public's health and well-being through research and/or educational endeavors. Expertise will be sought in specific specialty areas that may include, but are not limited to, cardiovascular disease; type 2 diabetes, overweight and obesity; osteoporosis; cancer; pediatrics; gerontology; maternal/gestational nutrition; epidemiology; general medicine; energy balance, which includes physical activity; nutrient bioavailability; nutrition biochemistry and physiology; food processing science, safety and technology; public health; nutrition education and behavior change; and/or nutrition-related systematic review methodology.”

If you would like to nominate any qualified experts, including yourself, who meet the criteria for DGAC nominations, please submit their name(s), credentials and contact information to Nate Stritzinger. Contact Pepin Tuma for additional information.

National Child Nutrition Conference Scholarship, Application Deadline January 24

The National Child Nutrition Conference will be held in San Antonio, Texas April 19 to 21. If you need financial assistance in attending the conference, the Foundation is offering more than $20,000 in scholarships. Scholarships cover registration fees and lodging, with $300 funds for travel expenses. The scholarship application for the 2018 National Child Nutrition Conference is open through January 24.

Congressional Management Foundation Webinar, January 25

The Congressional Management Foundation (CMF) will host a webinar, Before, During and After Meetings with Congress, on January 25 at 1 p.m. ET. CMF's research shows that meeting face-to-face with policymakers is one of the most effective advocacy tools. However, congressional staffers have stated that the typical constituent and advocate could be better prepared for meetings. The webinar will teach how to 1) research the legislator before a visit 2) identify and map an "economic footprint" to demonstrate the impact in the community and 3) create a personal story. Register today.

2018 National Anti-Hunger Policy Conference, February 25-27

The 2018 National Anti-Hunger Policy Conference will be February 25-27 in Washington, DC. Join the more than 1,200 individuals who have registered to attend what is expected to be the largest anti-hunger conference. It's not too late to register today. The draft agenda and additional information can be found on the conference website.

Obesity Care Advocacy Day and Congressional Briefing on Capitol Hill, February 27

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics in conjunction with Obesity Care Advocacy Network (OCAN) leaders will host the second annual Obesity Care Network Advocacy Day on Tuesday, February 27 in Washington, DC. Participants will attend meetings with Capitol Hill offices between 9 a.m. – 3:30 p.m., and a lunch briefing at noon.

The day's events will conclude with an ANDPAC and ObesityPAC reception 4:30 – 6 p.m. to honor legislators who have championed efforts to promote patient access to, and coverage of, obesity treatment services. Register today and join us! For additional information, contact Tenášha Williams-Ebrahimkhel.

Stay Informed with the Farm Bill Monthly Calls

The Academy's PIA staff will host a monthly call to discuss the latest Farm Bill news from Capitol Hill. The calls will be an opportunity for you to learn how to get involved with our advocacy efforts. It's not too late to sign-up for the monthly calls! RSVP to Nicole Burda if you would like to join the call and stay informed.

News from the Hill

CHIP Day of Action Happening Tomorrow

This week marks 100 days since Congress failed to extend full funding for the bipartisan Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), which provides 9 million U.S. children and pregnant women with comprehensive and affordable health care coverage, including for nutrition services. Since CHIP funding expired on September 30, 2017, Congress has only enacted short-term funding patches, offering no comprehensive relief or stability to states. This created an emergency with real consequences for children, families and pregnant women, and for the states, which operate CHIP programs. States are already notifying families that they may not have a source of health coverage for their children, should Congress fail to enact a long-term extension of CHIP funding.

The Academy has sent several letters to Congress and worked with other children's health, medical and advocacy organizations to urge Congress to find a bipartisan legislative solution to reauthorize CHIP. Time is again of the essence, as Congress must vote by January 19 to avoid a government shutdown.

Here's how you can help:

- Join the nation's leading children's health, medical and advocacy organizations in a day of action on tomorrow to help #SaveCHIP
- Using this toolkit, share messages on social media using #SaveCHIP.
- Access state data, key messages and other resources to share, or develop your own!
- Tell your colleagues, neighbors and friends to join you! The more advocates speak out about the importance of CHIP on the same day at the same time, the more members of Congress will listen.

Ten Days Away from Looming Government Shutdown Deadline

Congress has until January 19 to raise spending caps that will fund the government for the remainder of the fiscal year (which ends on September 30) in order to avoid a government shutdown. The Academy continues to advocate for a strong investment in evidence-based nutrition programs. Stay tuned for action alerts in the coming weeks.

Congressional Committee Updates

The U.S. House of Representatives Republican Conference will vote tonight on the next chairman of the House Budget Committee, following Chairwoman Diane Black's announcement that she will step down to focus on the Tennessee gubernatorial election. Candidates for the chairmanship are Reps. Rob Woodall (GA), Steve Womack (AK) and Bill Johnson (OH). The incoming chair will be vital to steering the debates around the Fiscal Year 2019 budget and proposed entitlement reforms. The Academy looks forward to working with the new chair to ensure that any proposed legislation does not cut vital health and nutrition programs.

Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer (NY) announced the updated committee memberships for the second session of the 115th Congress. New members on the key Senate committees of interest to the Academy's legislative priorities are highlighted below:

- Senate Agriculture Committee:

- Senator Deb Fischer (NE)

- Sen. Tina Smith (MN)

- Senate Finance Committee:

- Senator Sheldon Whitehouse (RI)

- Senate Health, Education, Workforce and Pensions (HELP):

- Senator Doug Jones (AL)

- Senator Tina Smith (MN)

- Senate Aging:

- Senator Doug Jones (AL)

2632. Nominate an Outstanding Preceptor Today! Nominations due by March 2nd!

Attachment: unknown_name_06rh8

Dear NDEP Members –

Do you know of a deserving preceptor that goes above and beyond your expectations with each student/intern they work with? Someone who somehow finds the time in their busy schedule to continually mentor new students/interns? Someone your students/interns continually praise for their exceptional talents? If so, perhaps you should consider nominating them for NDEP's annual Outstanding Preceptor Award for 2018.

The purpose of the Outstanding Preceptor Award (OPA) is to recognize the exceptional teaching, mentoring, and leadership activities of preceptors in ACEND-accredited dietetics education programs. Active NDEP Council members and previous OPA winners are not eligible for this award.

In addition to publishing the list of outstanding preceptors in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and NDEP-Line, each awardee will receive $1,000 to attend the 2018 Food and Nutrition Conference and Expo in Washington, DC (supported by the Academy's Foundation), one (1) year membership in NDEP (June 1, 2018-May 31, 2019), and a certificate and congratulatory letter from the Academy President. Awards will be presented during the member showcase and during an NDEP-sponsored event.

Criteria:

- Nominees must be a current member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, but are not required to be a NDEP member for consideration for this award.

- Preceptor in an ACEND-accredited supervised practice program (CP, DI, DT or ISPP).

Preceptors do NOT need to reside in the same Area as the Program Director and/or students/interns in order to be nominated.

Program Directors and educators are not eligible as there is a separate award for Outstanding Educators.

Submission and Selection Procedure:

Nominations will be accepted via this survey link:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/PreceptorAwardNomination>

Nominations will be collected using an online entry system (Survey Monkey), which will close at 5 pm CST on March 2, 2018.

Nomination applications should be submitted by the Program Director of the program the preceptor is a part of and consist of a completed online entry, which includes two separate focused statements of support (one from peers, program directors, or faculty AND one from students/interns). Incomplete applications and additional materials beyond the online entry will not be reviewed.

Nominations will be evaluated upon the exemplary accomplishments of preceptors above what would be considered core preceptor responsibilities based upon the following key areas:

- 1. Teaching, which should showcase innovative teaching skills and techniques to facilitate student/intern learning.
- 2. Mentoring, which should include those behaviors that elevate student learning and level of practice above routine preceptor responsibilities.
- 3. Excellence in Professional Practice, which should include participation beyond membership in local, state, or national organizations, community organizations, workplace committees, public policy, etc.

The NDEP Preceptor Director and Preceptor Committee will receive, review, and select the winner from the eligible nominations after the survey has been closed. The committee will select no more than one preceptor from each of the six regions. There is a maximum of six awards per year.

Questions about the submission process or selection procedure should be directed to NDEP at ndep@eatright.org. Attached is a sample of the survey monkey to be used for a nomination.

Just so you both know, Mary Pat reached out to me and she is very upset by this. I think she has some valuable points that I have made in that we are losing valuable people on committees that we could use their knowledge and skills. For example, Jenn Folliard who moved to South Dakota because her husband had a job change and now we cannot use her expertise for 5 years.

Good morning,

Thanks, to both of you, for weighing in on this situation. Pat and I just spoke about it as I feel since we are talking about implementation of an operational policy of the Academy, as CEO she should make the final decision. Pat continues to be comfortable, under the circumstances, to allow Mary Pat to serve on ANDPAC for 1 year (not a full 3-year appointment). She noted past precedence of putting people on committees for 1 year, so this action would be consistent with previous actions. Other committee appointments, including positions on ANDPAC, are for 1 year so this action should not lead to intense scrutiny. Moving forward we will definitely make the policy known so we can ensure strict adherence in the future.

On a personal level, I know none of us like to see our friends disappointed and the decision is certainly in no way a reflection of anyone's opinion of her commitment as a prior member leader or staff member. Dianne, I appreciate you bringing the question forward on Mary Pat's behalf.

Thanks and let me know if either of you has any questions about Pat's decision.

Best,

Good morning,

I hope you both enjoyed your weekend and perhaps are experiencing a reprieve for the cold temperatures. We're at a balmy 33 degrees, but schools are closed yet again due to a wintry mix of precipitation (snow, ice). You just can't win!

I want to thank both of you for taking time on Friday to speak with me about the unexpected situations related to the appointments to ANDPAC, LPPC, and CPLS. I think Jeanne and I are now on the same page as to the composition of these committees. So we're ready to move forward with what I hope will be the final course corrections. Thank you, in advance, for making a few more calls. Here are your assignments:

1. ANDPAC: Dianne needs to call Mary Pat Raimondi and explain that we learned there is a policy under the Nominating Committee that precludes former Academy employees from serving in appointed roles on the national level for up to 5 years after leaving employment. Since she was already appointed to ANDPAC, we'd love for her to continue to serve but for a 1-year rather than a 3-year term.

Cell phone number: 202-604-1713

2. LPPC: Committee structure only includes a past-chair when an appointee begins their 3-year term as vice-chair. So Lorri Holzberg comes off the committee and needs to be replaced. You already identified Laura Purdue as a back-up. Donna needs to call Laura and offer her a 3-year position effective immediately.

Laura Purdue

(612) 834-4604

Minnesota

leperdue@gmail.com

1/1/18 – 12/31/20

3. CPLS: With the approval of an additional committee member, one more person needs to be offered a 3-year appointment effective immediately. Staff recommends Susan Adams, who completed the Opportunities to Serve survey (see attached). If you agree with offering the appointment to Susan, Dianne needs to call her.

Contact information: (484)919-0116; seadams@rcn.com

Once you each confirm these appointments, I will send new (or in the case of Mary Pat, a revised) appointment letters. I'm keeping my fingers crossed that this round marks the end of your duties on this front (hope I did not just jinx us).

Thank you and let me know if you have any questions or need additional information.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Good morning,

I hope you both enjoyed your weekend and perhaps are experiencing a reprieve for the cold temperatures. We're at a balmy 33 degrees, but schools are closed yet again due to a wintry mix of precipitation (snow, ice). You just can't win!

I want to thank both of you for taking time on Friday to speak with me about the unexpected situations related to the appointments to ANDPAC, LPPC, and CPLS. I think Jeanne and I are now on the same page as to the composition of these committees. So we're ready to move forward with what I hope will be the final course corrections. Thank you, in advance, for making a few more calls. Here are your assignments:

1. ANDPAC: Dianne needs to call Mary Pat Raimondi and explain that we learned there is a policy under the Nominating Committee that precludes former Academy employees from serving in appointed roles on the national level for up to 5 years after leaving employment. Since she was already appointed to ANDPAC, we'd love for her to continue to serve but for a 1-year rather than a 3-year term.

Cell phone number: 202-604-1713

2. LPPC: Committee structure only includes a past-chair when an appointee begins their 3-year term as vice-chair. So Lorri Holzberg comes off the committee and needs to be replaced. You already identified Laura Purdue as a back-up. Donna needs to call Laura and offer her a 3-year position effective immediately.

Laura Purdue

(612) 834-4604

Minnesota

leperdue@gmail.com

1/1/18 – 12/31/20

3. CPLS: With the approval of an additional committee member, one more person needs to be offered a 3-year appointment effective immediately. Staff recommends Susan Adams, who completed the Opportunities to Serve survey (see attached). If you agree with offering the appointment to Susan, Dianne needs to call her.

Contact information: (484)919-0116; seadams@rcn.com

Once you each confirm these appointments, I will send new (or in the case of Mary Pat, a revised) appointment letters. I'm keeping my fingers crossed that this round marks the end of your duties on this front (hope I did not just jinx us).

Thank you and let me know if you have any questions or need additional information.

Warm regards,

Marsha

Subject: Open Records Request: Academy Policy Feedback
Attachment:

Those of you who served on the Board may remember that in November 2015 we shared information with you regarding the Open Records Act. At that time, some of you made the choice to switch to a personal email address while others kept your federal, state, or institutional emails because it became difficult to keep up with monitoring work, personal and Academy emails. Some nonprofits now require Board members and committee members dealing with sensitive nonprofit business information via email to establish and exclusively use a personal email account and refrain from using employer email accounts.

A public record is defined as any writing that is prepared, owned, used, or retained by any state or local government agency, and which contains information that relates to the conduct of government, or the performance of any governmental or proprietary function. If you work at a public institution or government agency, you may be asked to disclose all of the documents shared between the Academy and you. Since the open records act may expose confidential Academy correspondence to public disclosure, we are looking to draft a policy requiring Board members and committee members working for a public institution to use a personal email address for all Academy correspondence.

Those of you who may be impacted are: Donna Martin, Hope Barkoukis, Margaret Garner, Michele Lites, Tammy Randall and Kevin Sauer. Steve Miranda switched to a gmail account and he recently received an open records request. His employer was able to simply respond that there is no correspondence between him and the Academy using the Federal Reserve Bank address or email.

Please let me your thoughts, comments, questions regarding implementing such a policy. We look forward to hearing back from you soon. Please let Joan know if you change to a personal email address. Thank you!

Good morning,

Thanks, to both of you, for weighing in on this situation. Pat and I just spoke about it as I feel since we are talking about implementation of an operational policy of the Academy, as CEO she should make the final decision. Pat continues to be comfortable, under the circumstances, to allow Mary Pat to serve on ANDPAC for 1 year (not a full 3-year appointment). She noted past precedence of putting people on committees for 1 year, so this action would be consistent with previous actions. Other committee appointments, including positions on ANDPAC, are for 1 year so this action should not lead to intense scrutiny. Moving forward we will definitely make the policy known so we can ensure strict adherence in the future.

On a personal level, I know none of us like to see our friends disappointed and the decision is certainly in no way a reflection of anyone's opinion of her commitment as a prior member leader or staff member. Dianne, I appreciate you bringing the question forward on Mary Pat's behalf.

Thanks and let me know if either of you has any questions about Pat's decision.

Best,

I am definitely in favor of making an exception for her since we did not know what the policy was when we appointed her. We will not make that mistake again. My vote is let her stay for 3 years.

I just spoke with Mary Pat and she is a tad disappointed. I explained that it was a policy and read it to her. She asked if it was a steadfast policy or could it be modified/changed? Could we make an exception? She said she has always been a loyal volunteer and employee. She was very respectful to me but as I said a little sad. I promised her I would find out if there could be an exception made. Thoughts?

3. CPLS: With the approval of an additional committee member, one more person needs to be offered a 3-year appointment effective immediately. Staff recommends Susan Adams, who completed the Opportunities to Serve survey (see attached). If you agree with offering the

I am definitely in favor of making an exception for her since we did not know what the policy was when we appointed her. We will not make that mistake again. My vote is let her stay for 3 years.

I want to thank both of you for taking time on Friday to speak with me about the unexpected situations related to the appointments to ANDPAC, LPPC, and CPLS. I think Jeanne and I are now on the same page as to the composition of these committees. So we're ready to move forward with what I hope will be the final course corrections. Thank you, in advance, for making a few more calls. Here are your assignments:

1. ANDPAC: Dianne needs to call Mary Pat Raimondi and explain that we learned there is a policy under the Nominating Committee that precludes former Academy employees from serving in appointed roles on the national level for up to 5 years after leaving employment. Since she was already appointed to ANDPAC, we'd love for her to continue to serve but for a 1-year rather than a 3-year term.

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND[®]) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the January Standards Update is posted on the ACEND webpage: Monthly Standards Update. In this issue there is an explanation of the Future Education Model Demonstration Program Research Logic Model and its purpose.

Beginning on January 17, 2018, the monthly Virtual Town Hall meetings will be held on the third Wednesday of the month at 3 PM Central Time. The town hall provides a time for ACEND to share updates on its standards work and for stakeholders to ask questions. Information on joining the town hall can be found at www.eatrightpro.org/FutureModel.

Please share this information with your colleagues. If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

Hi Donna,

Here is the information on the requestor:

USTRK is a legitimate group: anti-GMO, pro-organics, doesn't like Big Food (or Big Anything, it appears).

USRTK gets most of its money from the Organic Consumers Association, which ActivistFacts

<https://www.activistfacts.com/organizations/20-organic-consumers-association/> calls "another charter member of the organic-food-industry-funded smear campaign against genetically improved foods. OCA was founded by anti-technology zealot Jeremy Rifkin and originally bore the name

Pure Food Campaign."

The Genetic Literacy Project <https://geneticliteracyproject.org/2017/05/05/us-right-knows-gary-ruskin-linked-anti-science-russian-fake-news-site/> says USRTK and its founder, Gary Ruskin (one of the people who signed the letter to Donna) "despite opposition from America's best doctors and scientists insists on labeling foods containing GMOs as a way of scaring Americans about the safety of their food. The purpose is to get people to buy more organic." USRTK also apparently has ties to the Russian propaganda network RT.

Ruskin was behind California's anti-GMO Proposition 37.

USRTK approvingly quoted Andy & Friends in 2016...

<https://usrtk.org/food-related-diseases/more-coca-cola-ties-seen-inside-u-s-centers-for-disease-control/>

Please let me know if you need more information. Hope this helps.

Best regards,

Doris

Thanks, the Board is complying with the request. I know you all asked me to not use my work email, but I did not take your advise and did continue to use it. I am not worried at all about what they will find as I have not corresponded with any of those companies. They may have sent eblasts out to me, but I have not had any contact with them. I don't think there is anything sensitive in my Academy email that they will get excited about either.

Happy New Year, Ms. Donna

Hope you had a phenomenal holiday break with friends and family. I am sure your family was especially looking forward to having you "home" during the holidays. I'm sure you are hit with this cold spell as well. My friends in Atlanta sent me their snow pictures and they said "they were over it" already

I wanted to pass along our speaker form for your to complete. Also I wanted to follow up with you regarding travel arrangements. Will you be making your own or do you prefer for our organization to handle? What reimbursement will you/Academy be requesting? We had a conference budget conference call last night and I'm afraid I dropped the ball on following thru with the travel reimbursement questions.

Thanks in advance,

Donna

Pepin,

I spoke with Donna after our call and she is willing to participate on a conference call to discuss her stance on this issue. She did share with me that she has a similar stance to what I shared about maintaining the program gains from the HHFKA, but it might be beneficial to have a brief conference call. Would you be willing to coordinate those efforts by offering a few dates and times possibly next week that would work with your schedule and then Donna (and I) can select what works for us as well?

Happy New Year, Ms. Donna

Hope you had a phenomenal holiday break with friends and family. I am sure your family was especially looking forward to having you "home" during the holidays. I'm sure you are hit with this cold spell as well. My friends in Atlanta sent me their snow pictures and they said "they were over it" already

I wanted to pass along our speaker form for your to complete. Also I wanted to follow up with you regarding travel arrangements. Will you be making your own or do you prefer for our organization to handle? What reimbursement will you/Academy be requesting? We had a conference budget conference call last night and I'm afraid I dropped the ball on following thru with the travel reimbursement questions.

Thanks in advance,
Donna

Wow, FNCE 2017 was one for the record books!

Sorry I am late but I promised I would email you about holding a date for us in Delaware to provide the Academy Update. Our members are really excited about a return visit.

I am in the process of completing the Academy paperwork but I wanted to reach out to you personally so you could add it to your calendar!

You Rock!

Attachment: unknown_name_xlhgl
unknown_name_wx8i2
unknown_name_uxydg

Dear NDEP Members –

Nominations for the Outstanding Dietetics Educator Award (ODEA) are due next Friday! The purpose of the Outstanding Dietetics Educator Award (ODEA) is to recognize the teaching, mentoring, and leadership activities of faculty in ACEND-accredited dietetics education programs. One educator can be selected from each of the four program types in each geographic region (a maximum of four awardees from each of the six geographic regions for a total of 24).

In addition to publishing the list of outstanding educators in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and NDEP-line, each awardee will receive a certificate and congratulatory letter from the Academy President. Awards will be presented at the 2018 NDEP regional meetings.

Eligibility

- Nominees must be a current member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, but are not required to be an NDEP member for consideration for this award.
- Preceptors are not eligible for this award as there is a separate award given to Outstanding Preceptors.
- Active NDEP Council members are not eligible for this award. For a listing of the current NDEP Council members go to www.ndepnet.org.
- Previous ODEA winners cannot be nominated for the same program award again; however, they could be nominated for an award for a different program type, if applicable.

Criteria for Selection of Outstanding Educators

- Member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics
- Educator and/or Program Director in an ACEND-accredited dietetics education program:
 - Coordinated Program in Dietetics (CP)
 - Dietetic Internship (DI)
 - Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD)
 - Dietetic Technician Program (DT)
- Demonstrated innovative teaching skills and techniques.
- Demonstrated mentoring of students.
- Demonstrated leadership; e.g., national, state, or district dietetic association activities, community service, honors received, scientific and professional presentations, publications, etc.

Selection Procedure and Submission Dates

Nominations from peers and/or students will be sent to the Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) Regional Director in the corresponding geographic area by January 12, 2018. Each Regional Director will select no more than one educator for each type of dietetics education program (CP, DI, DPD, DT) in the region (maximum four).

Each nomination application will be a single PDF that includes the ODEA Data Sheet, curriculum vitae (or resume), and three reference letters. Nominations must be sent electronically. Jpeg documents or individual documents will not be accepted. Additional materials beyond the requested materials (data sheet, CV, letters) will not be reviewed.

Award Winners will be announced in March 2018!

For more information, please visit the NDEP website at www.ndepnet.org and refer to the attached documents for criteria and data sheets!

Hi, Donna: Happy New Year!

As we start planning for your April President's Page, we are reviewing the ideas you sent us below. We are wondering if it might be too soon to do a page on telehealth/informatics, since Lucille wrote about essentially the same topic in April 2017 (the text is attached. This page was developed with significant help from Marsha Schofield.)

Would you prefer that we proceed on a page about genomics, which does not appear to have been written about since Judy Gilbride's January 2007 page (also attached)?

Please let us know, or we can pursue a different topic altogether. Thank you very much, talk to you soon!

Would you prefer that we proceed on a page about genomics, which does not appear to have been written about since Judy Gilbride's January 2007 page (also attached)?

Learn about the changes in store for RDN Medicare Part B providers in 2018, including changes to Medicare telehealth billing, how National Diabetes Prevention Programs can become eligible for Medicare payments, new care coordination services and payment for Rural Health Clinics and Federally Qualified Health Centers and the impact of the Quality Payment Program year two. Please share this information with your committee leaders and members! Read the latest issue of the MNT Provider and check out previous editions of the newsletter.

National Farm to School Network Quarterly Webinar, January 9

The National Farm to School Network will be have its quarterly webinar, Placing Equity at the Center of Farm to Early Care Education, on January 9. Access to farm to ECE opportunities may be one approach to addressing health and education inequities by increasing access to healthy, local foods and high-quality education opportunities for children and communities. Register here.

National Child Nutrition Conference Scholarship, Application Deadline January 24

The National Child Nutrition Conference will be held April 19 to 21 in San Antonio, Texas. If you need financial assistance in attending the conference, the Foundation is offering more than $20,000 in scholarships. Scholarships cover registration fees and lodging, with $300 funds for travel expenses. The scholarship application for the 2018 National Child Nutrition Conference is open through January 24.

Obesity Care Advocacy Day, February 27

The Academy in conjunction with Obesity Care Advocacy Network (OCAN) leaders will be hosting an Obesity Care Advocacy Day and Capitol Hill briefing on February 27 in Washington, DC to highlight the importance of nutrition and bring awareness to the disease. The day's events will be open to all members and the public. Register now to attend.

Farm Bill Monthly Calls

Want to be engaged with the Farm Bill? The Academy's PIA staff will host a monthly call to discuss the latest news from Capitol Hill and share how you can get involved with our advocacy efforts. Please RSVP to Nicole Burda, director, legislative and government affairs, if you would like to join the call and stay informed. The Academy will host a Farm Bill advocacy day on April 24 in Washington, DC – save the date!

News from the Hill

Welcome back! Below are a few legislative challenges and opportunities coming down the pipeline in the new year that will impact the nutrition and dietetic community.

Deadline Looms for Government Shutdown

Congress has returned from the holiday recess with several legislative issues to tackle in their first week, including preventing a government shutdown. On December 21, 2017, Congress passed a bill to fund the government through January 19. Lawmakers will have to reach an agreement to raise the spending caps and vote on a bill that funds the government for the remainder of the fiscal year, which ends September 30. The Academy continues to advocate for a strong investment in evidence-based nutrition programs. Stay tuned for action alerts in the coming weeks.

CHIP Remains in Limbo

The Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), the shared federal-state funded program that provides healthcare coverage for over 9 million low-income kids, is in jeopardy. CHIP covers prescriptions, dental care and a host of other services, including nutrition services.

States have discretion in determining eligibility, and have the option to cover pregnant women. CHIP is funded at around $16 billion, and the federal government funds 90 percent of the program. However, states across the country are running out of money due to Congress' failure to reauthorize CHIP. Shortly before Christmas 2017, Congress passed short-term legislation that included $2.85 billion to help fund CHIP through March. As part of the 2018 legislative agenda, policymakers must finalize long-term funding for the program. The Academy continues to oppose using the Prevention and Public Health Fund as a way to pay for the program.

The Farm Bill in 2018

The Farm Bill, legislation that is authorized every five years and is up for reauthorization this year, funds many U.S. Department of Agriculture programs, including nutrition assistance, education and research programs. Representative Mike Conaway, the chair of the U.S. House of Representatives Agriculture Committee, has expressed an interest in bringing the Farm Bill to the House floor by March. The Senate is moving slower and is currently behind schedule in drafting their version of a Farm Bill. Congress has yet to complete a final 2018 spending bill, but the bill will likely serve as the baseline for funding for programs in the Farm Bill negotiations. No Farm Bill has passed on time since 1990. The Academy will closely monitor congressional action on the Farm Bill and work with Congress to advance a Farm Bill that maintains the integrity of nutrition assistance programs, ensures vital nutrition education and nutrition research and enhances access to healthy food.

Nevada Affiliate Successfully Obtains Medicaid Reimbursement

Thanks to the diligent work of leaders of the Nevada Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, Nevada's Medicaid program ended 2017 with a great leap forward for Nevada Licensed Dietitians and Medicaid recipients as Nevada's Medicaid office recently approved a new Medical Nutrition Therapy (MNT) policy for diabetes, obesity, heart disease and hypertension provided exclusively by RDs. The MNT policy also includes provider type, enrollment, billing and codes for Licensed Dietitians effective January 1. This is a huge win for Nevada! ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

January 19 Deadline for Congress to Reach Budget Deal

As Congress returns to work, the short-term continuing resolution to maintain existing federal funding expires January 19, and discussions on a long-term budget agreement will continue in the coming weeks. The Academy continues to urge Congress to pass reauthorizations for important health care programs, including $2.85 billion to extend the Children's Health Insurance Program through March 31 and short-term funding for Community Health Centers, the National Health Service Corps, Teaching Health Center Graduate Medical Education and the Special Diabetes Program. The Academy remains opposed to using the Prevention and Public Health Fund to help pay for these programs and continues to support strong investment in nutrition services for prevention and treatment.

ANDPAC Helps Enable Relationships with Policymakers

It is a common myth that the Academy does not need a political action committee to be successful in political venues. In fact, ANDPAC and the contributions it provides enable the Academy to get valuable "face time" with legislators and their staffs to share the Academy's information, research and stories about the impact of legislation and regulations on the health and nutritional status of Americans. PAC contributions open doors; it is up to all of us to develop and maintain relationships. Your involvement and contributions to ANDPAC are important in creating face-to-face opportunities with key decision makers in Congress. Work with your Public Policy Coordinator if you would like to attend an ANDPAC in-district event or host an event to support a federal candidate.

Start 2018 with a Monthly Recurring Donation

The Foundation is the only charitable organization exclusively devoted to nutrition and dietetics and does not receive a portion of any members' dues. The success and impact of our programs and services are attributed to the generous support of donors who have helped the Foundation become a catalyst for members and the profession to come together and improve the nutritional health of the public. Donate today by setting up a monthly recurring donation to provide year-round support for scholarships, awards, research grants and public education programs.

CDR Oncology Nutrition Job Analysis Survey

Please help us by completing this job analysis survey to identify tasks and knowledge reflective of the professional role of a Certified Specialist in Oncology Nutrition (CSO).

The results of this survey will help develop the specifications for the Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR) Certified Specialist in Oncology Nutrition (CSO) certification exam.

The survey will likely require 15 to 20 minutes to complete.

Your individual responses will be kept confidential and will be combined with those of other respondents.

The deadline to complete the survey is January 7, 2018.

This is a great way to contribute to the profession and ensure a high standard is maintained.

If you have any questions, please direct all inquiries to specialists@eatright.org.

Thank you very much.

Hi Donna,

Here is the information on the requestor:

USTRK is a legitimate group: anti-GMO, pro-organics, doesn't like Big Food (or Big Anything, it appears).

USRTK gets most of its money from the Organic Consumers Association, which ActivistFacts

<https://www.activistfacts.com/organizations/20-organic-consumers-association/> calls "another charter member of the organic-food-industry-funded smear campaign against genetically improved foods. OCA was founded by anti-technology zealot Jeremy Rifkin and originally bore the name Pure Food Campaign."

The Genetic Literacy Project <https://geneticliteracyproject.org/2017/05/05/us-right-knows-gary-ruskin-linked-anti-science-russian-fake-news-site/> says USRTK and its founder, Gary Ruskin (one of the people who signed the letter to Donna) "despite opposition from America's best doctors and scientists insists on labeling foods containing GMOs as a way of scaring Americans about the safety of their food. The purpose is to get people to buy more organic." USRTK also apparently has ties to the Russian propaganda network RT.

Ruskin was behind California's anti-GMO Proposition 37.

USRTK approvingly quoted Andy & Friends in 2016...

<https://usrtk.org/food-related-diseases/more-coca-cola-ties-seen-inside-u-s-centers-for-disease-control/>

Please let me know if you need more information. Hope this helps.
Best regards,

Doris

Thanks, the Board is complying with the request. I know you all asked me to not use my work email, but I did not take your advise and did continue to use it. I am not worried at all about what they will find as I have not corresponded with any of those companies. They may have sent eblasts out to me, but I have not had any contact with them. I don't think there is anything sensitive in my Academy email that they will get excited about either.

Did you see the article in Wall Street Journal on time. Will send. Thanks, Lucille

Hi Kathryn,

Congrats on getting the Smartbrief for dietitians account.

Is there any way you could cut back on the RDs as weight loss counselors kind of stories and increase the news regarding research supporting Health at Every Size/ Mindful Eating/ Intuitive Eating/ Eating Competence?

I would prefer research-based news about the above as well as the microbiome, benefits of positive health behaviors regardless of whether weight is lost, and problems with restrictive/fad diets (long term results = weight regain for most).

This kind of non-cookie cutter coverage would make Smart Brief a must-not-be-missed publication. Otherwise- I'm out.

Thanks,

Mary

Hi Donna,

Here is the information on the requestor:

USTRK is a legitimate group: anti-GMO, pro-organics, doesn't like Big Food (or Big Anything, it appears).

USRTK gets most of its money from the Organic Consumers Association, which ActivistFacts

<https://www.activistfacts.com/organizations/20-organic-consumers-association/> calls "another charter member of the organic-food-industry-funded smear campaign against genetically improved foods. OCA was founded by anti-technology zealot Jeremy Rifkin and originally bore the name Pure Food Campaign."

The Genetic Literacy Project <https://geneticliteracyproject.org/2017/05/05/us-right-knows-gary-ruskin-linked-anti-science-russian-fake-news-site/> says USRTK and its founder, Gary Ruskin (one of the people who signed the letter to Donna) "despite opposition from America's best doctors and scientists insists on labeling foods containing GMOs as a way of scaring Americans about the safety of their food. The purpose is to get people to buy more organic." USRTK also apparently has ties to the Russian propaganda network RT.

Ruskin was behind California's anti-GMO Proposition 37.

USTRK approvingly quoted Andy & Friends in 2016...

<https://usrtk.org/food-related-diseases/more-coca-cola-ties-seen-inside-u-s-centers-for-disease-control/>

Please let me know if you need more information. Hope this helps.
Best regards,

Doris

Didn't this come up when Kay was on the board? It was a FOIA request that came to her because of her role at Ohio State but since she was using her OSU address for the Academy all of that communication was searchable. It was after that that she suggested All board members use an alternative address.

I have not. Somewhere a while back, I think this came up. It was a long time ago. For the life of me, I can't recall with whom? It is one of the dangers of sending emails or correspondence to a "governmental organization" like a school or university. Anyone can make a "public records" request under the Freedom of information Act. I do think the rules are different in each state (but, don't quote me). I would expect that Donna is working with her institution to answer this correctly.

I will see if I can find anything from the last time. Even if I don't, I will forward onto Paula to make sure we get her take on it and provide guidance to our members, if we can.

Pat, Happy New Year. Just wanted to let you know that I got an open records request dating back to 2013. They specifically requested correspondence to or from me for the Academy, Splenda, Heartland Food Products, Tate and Lyle, Abbott, Ingredion AND, Pepsi, Cocoa Cola and the American Beverage Association. I should not have any correspondence with any of these companies with the exception of the Academy and possibly Abbott with Sue Finn. Not particularly worried about it, but wanted you to know. Did anyone else get one of these? Thanks!

Got it! I'll get Closing Sent to you via hightail today.

Yes, Rebecca will finish up the Flash Drive loading (I guess the hold up was a drive from IT big enough...I am remedying that today) so it will be out to you in the mail by end of day tomorrow!

Diane, I am glad things are going as planned. I would like closing as well, only because I want to watch what Michio said again. He was so inspiring and I was only able to half listen as I was a little preoccupied with relief! If you send the closing session I can put them all on a jump drive so I can take it to my Mom to watch. You are still the best!!!

Rebecca is the one who said she would send the pictures. Thanks for handling that too!!!

Hi Donna-

It is wonderful to hear from you! Thank you for the kind thoughts...the surgery recovery is going really well. It is beyond wonderful to have feeling back in my hands and not living with chronic headaches. Granted, I am still being driven around (like Ms. Daisy) by Tim and having to wear a cervical collar everywhere, but hoping to get a bit of clearance on January 15th. I just feel so blessed to know it was a success and that I have a great team of doctors and supporters rooting for a great outcome. J

I will definitely NOT let them know what I got...I LOVE my pans and use them almost daily!!!

I did just resend two emails to your work address directly from hightail to be able to download and view the videos. If you would also like them saved to a thumb drive and mailed to you, I can do that from my computer with no issue. Look for a Hightail email from CPD@eatright.org for both the Opening Session and Member Showcase. Let me know if you need Closing as well!

I bet the photos were from Rebecca. I'll follow up directly with her and let her know you need those sent to you asap.

Thanks!

Hope you had the best new years and what an exciting opportunity for your hubby and son!!!!

Best,

Diane

Diane, Happy New Year! I hope you are continuing to recover from you back surgery. Having had back surgery I get that the recovery is slow, but I did not have near the surgery you had. What you had was "comprehensive" to say the least!

My year started off great with my Georgia Bulldogs winning the Rose Bowl in stunning fashion. My husband and son got to go and see the unbelievable game.

I have sent some pans (1 large and 1 small) to Erin through Joan to thank her for all her help with me and my family at FNCE. They will probably not get to Chicago for a week or so as I am trying to mail them today. I also sent some to Joan, Doris, Mackenzie, and Tom. They each got 1 large and 1 small sheet pan. Please do not let them know you got 2 of each.

I have two questions.

1. When you have time (ha ha) would you check on the video from opening session for me? I would love for my Mom to be able to see it.
2. I had talked to someone about getting the pictures from FNCE and she said she would send me jump drive with all of them on it. I am not sure who I spoke to and I never got the jump drive. Any ideas on who that might have been?

I am sure we will talk soon. Thanks!

Hi Kathryn,

Congrats on getting the Smartbrief for dietitians account.

Is there any way you could cut back on the RDs as weight loss counselors kind of stories and increase the news regarding research supporting Health at Every Size/ Mindful Eating/ Intuitive Eating/ Eating Competence?

I would prefer research-based news about the above as well as the microbiome, benefits of positive health behaviors regardless of whether weight is lost, and problems with restrictive/fad diets (long term results = weight regain for most).

This kind of non-cookie cutter coverage would make Smart Brief a must-not-be-missed publication. Otherwise- I'm out.

Thanks,

Mary

Donna,

Hello, I hope you had a great holiday. We are working with SmartBrief to draft a press release announcing our new Nutrition and Dietetics SmartBrief.

We would like to use the quote below and attribute it to you. Do you have any edits or suggestions?

"Nutrition and Dietetics SmartBrief cuts through the clutter to provide up-to-date information about the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' emerging initiatives and is the go-to source for the latest in food and nutrition news," said registered dietitian nutritionist and the Academy's 2017-2018 President Donna S. Martin.

Thanks!

Hi Kathryn,
Congrats on getting the Smartbrief for dietitians account.

Is there any way you could cut back on the RDs as weight loss counselors kind of stories and increase the news regarding research supporting Health at Every Size/ Mindful Eating/ Intuitive Eating/ Eating Competence?

I would prefer research-based news about the above as well as the microbiome, benefits of positive health behaviors regardless of whether weight is lost, and problems with restrictive/fad diets (long term results = weight regain for most).

This kind of non-cookie cutter coverage would make Smart Brief a must-not-be-missed publication. Otherwise- I'm out.

Thanks,
Mary

Pat, Happy New Year. Just wanted to let you know that I got an open records request dating back to 2013. They specifically requested correspondence to or from me for the Academy, Splenda, Heartland Food Products, Tate and Lyle, Abbott, Ingredion AND, Pepsi, Cocoa Cola and the American Beverage Association. I should not have any correspondence with any of these companies with the exception of the Academy and possibly Abbott with Sue Finn. Not particularly worried about it, but wanted you to know. Did anyone else get one of these? Thanks!

All,

First off, I wish everyone a safe and joyous Holiday Season. If you will be on the roads, please drive carefully. Second, I want to provide you with the preliminary November financial information. I am attaching the preliminary November report. You will see some "timing issues" in November, most of which are FNCE based, across all of the business entities. However, the overall results are still fairly good across all of the organizations. Revenue is up; Expenses are down; investments are soaring. All three are great starting points as we start our holiday season.

I won't get into the detail, but, here are some of the overall highlights;

1. Foundation net assets have now exceeded $26 million. Expenses in October were higher than budget primarily due to the timing of Scholarships and Awards. However, both revenue and investment income exceeded expectations.
2. Academy revenue continues to exceed expectations. In November, the Academy revenue exceeded the budget by $59,682. On a year to date basis, the Academy is now $285,299 higher than budget. In addition, if you compare the year to date revenue to last year's revenue through November, the Academy is up $1,322,363.
3. Academy Non-dues revenue is up by $1,281,224 or 17.2%. You won't see this spelled out on the reports, but, I thought this was something to highlight. Non-Dues revenue is up over last year in just about every category.
4. Academy expenses in November were up $135,592. Most of this is due to the FNCE bills. The FNCE bills are trickling in and we have not received all of the final costs. So, we may continue to see additional FNCE adjustments into January.
5. Academy reserves ended November at $16,950,352 or 71.9% of budget.
6. CDR performed better than its budget in November with higher revenue and lower expenses.
7. ACEND/DPGS/MIGs had higher revenue, but, had higher expenses. Most of the expense over-runs were due to FNCE bills for the DPGS/MIGs. Year to date, expenses are still under budget for the most part.

I will stop there. Overall, the organization is performing very well financially. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Paul

Hi everyone from Judy Rodriguez. Happy holidays. Got an idea for AND and the public policy workshop or FNCE. How about some sessions on "how to run for public office and win"? There are some workshops for this already for women - but it doesn't have to be limited to such. Want me to try find out about that? Maybe I can also talk to Lauri and see if we have a doctoral student who could help with something like this as part of a public policy residency.

2723. How the New Tax Bill Affects the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation

Connect with the Foundation:

Dear Academy Member,

The new tax bill could have a major impact on non-profits nation-wide, including your Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation. The bill includes a higher standard deduction that eliminates the financial incentive for most families to itemize deductions, including charitable deductions. It is estimated that more than 28 million fewer Americans could itemize their deductions, possibly leading to a $13B drop in charitable donations.

As many of you know, the new tax bill will take effect January 1, 2018. Even though the tax changes are expected to be implemented by February, most Americans won't feel the effects of the tax reform until spring 2019, when they file taxes for 2018. If you are hoping to take advantage of itemizing your charitable deductions this year, there is still time to make a gift before December 31, 2017. We know the new tax bill will pose some challenges for us in 2018, but we also know Academy members will continue to support their Foundation because of the value we bring to the profession and impact we make annually.

Our success is directly attributable to the generosity of our donors. I can think of no better way to invest in the future of our profession and give back to help future generations. Your gift will help ensure that the Academy's Second Century is one where our new Vision—a world where all people thrive through the transformative power of nutrition—becomes a reality. Have a happy and successful new year!

Sincerely,

Martin M. Yadrack, MS, MBI, RDN, FAND

Although coming to this discussion a little late, I, too, am very impressed with this new project. I concur that it should help with our preceptor shortages. Perhaps even more importantly, I truly think it is stepping outside our comfort box and playing with the big boys/girls in the exciting technology and education world. Kudos Pat and staff for all your visionary support and work on this issue. Can't wait to see the demo.

I am thrilled to share the long anticipated news regarding the launch of the first in the series of online education simulations developed by the Academy to assist practitioners and students. In 2011 the Foundation received funding from the Commission on Dietetic Registration to support the development of this tool. The Academy, through the Research, International and Scientific Affairs team submitted an application and was approved to develop the model program. It is still in the pilot phase but I'm happy to inform you about the soft launch of this exciting new resource for practitioners and students. P.E.D.R.O., (Pactice, Experience, Diabetes, pediatRic, One) is a pilot simulation that consists of a 3D hospital and conversation simulator that users will be able to access online. We are considering a name change during this pilot phase.

In the simulation, users will meet Pedro, a 13 year-old boy, and his family as they learn of his diagnosis of Type 2 Diabetes and will complete the four steps of the Nutrition Care Process for an inpatient and follow-up outpatient visits with Pedro, contribute in an inter-professional team meeting, and learn about billing and coding. Simulations provide experience with professional practice resources: the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' Evidence Analysis Library (EAL) and Health Informatics Infrastructure (ANDHII) and the openEMR certified electronic health record.

With the aid of a preceptor to evaluate the results, P.E.D.R.O. is intended to assist with supervised practice and competency requirements. If successful, P.E.D.R.O. will serve as the first in a series of online simulations developed by the Academy as part of the eatrightPRO Practice Simulation Series. We are grateful for the support of CDR and the leadership of the Foundation to launch this initial prototype. We will share a demo with you during the next Academy and Foundation Board of Directors meetings. We also plan to demo the tool at the spring Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) regional meetings. We look forward to the feedback.

I hope you agree with me that the launch of this innovative program is another major step in addressing our supervised practice issue!

Best regards,

Pat

Thanks Sangeeta..... looking forward to it.

Rita I second you.....our Sangeeta is an energy ball.

It is no surprise that she has been selected to receive the Emerging Leader Award in Calif Academy of Nutrition &Dietetics.

We all are so proud of you Sangeeta!

Cheers!

Geeta

Subject: LAHIDAN Candidate Slate and Petition Announcement
Attachment:

Hello LAHIDAN Membership:

LAHIDAN is pleased to present the slate of candidates for office for the 2018-19 year:

Chair-elect: Janine Ricketts-Byrne, MA, RDN, LDN

Treasurer: Blanca Ximena Jimenez, M.S., RDN, LDN

Elizabeth-Jane Oatz, RD, CDE, CLT, RYT200

Nominating Committee Chair-elect: Aida Miles, MMSc, RDN, LMNT, FAND

Sophia Martinez Vasquez, MS, RD

According to Academy policy, a slate of candidates must be presented to LAHIDAN membership 30 days prior to the start of voting. Should you wish to petition that additional candidates be included on the slate, you must submit a petition to the DPG/MIG Nominating Committee by contacting Crystal Young, at crystal.rivero@gmail.com within the next 30 days by January 22, 2018.

You must also have the support with signatures of 5% or 18 LAHIDAN members. Petitions must include biographical information on the candidate and qualifications for the DPG/MIG leadership position. If deemed eligible for the DPG/MIG position by the Academy DPG/MIG Relations Team, the additional candidates will be added to a contested ballot prior to the start of online voting, beginning February 1, 2018.

Thank you,

All,

First off, I wish everyone a safe and joyous Holiday Season. If you will be on the roads, please drive carefully. Second, I want to provide you with the preliminary November financial information. I am attaching the preliminary November report. You will see some "timing issues" in November, most of which are FNCE based, across all of the business entities. However, the overall results are still fairly good across all of the organizations. Revenue is up; Expenses are down; investments are soaring. All three are great starting points as we start our holiday season.

I won't get into the detail, but, here are some of the overall highlights;

1. Foundation net assets have now exceeded $26 million. Expenses in October were higher than budget primarily due to the timing of Scholarships and Awards. However, both revenue and investment income exceeded expectations.
2. Academy revenue continues to exceed expectations. In November, the Academy revenue exceeded the budget by $59,682. On a year to date basis, the Academy is now $285,299 higher than budget. In addition, if you compare the year to date revenue to last year's revenue through November, the Academy is up $1,322,363.
3. Academy Non-dues revenue is up by $1,281,224 or 17.2%. You won't see this spelled out on the reports, but, I thought this was something to highlight. Non-Dues revenue is up over last year in just about every category.
4. Academy expenses in November were up $135,592. Most of this is due to the FNCE bills. The FNCE bills are trickling in and we have not received all of the final costs. So, we may continue to see additional FNCE adjustments into January.
5. Academy reserves ended November at $16,950,352 or 71.9% of budget.
6. CDR performed better than its budget in November with higher revenue and lower expenses.
7. ACEND/DPGS/MIGs had higher revenue, but, had higher expenses. Most of the expense over-runs were due to FNCE bills for the DPGS/MIGs. Year to date, expenses are still under budget for the most part.

I will stop there. Overall, the organization is performing very well financially. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Paul

Subject: Preliminary November financial results
Attachment: November 2017 preliminary.pdf

All,

First off, I wish everyone a safe and joyous Holiday Season. If you will be on the roads, please drive carefully. Second, I want to provide you with the preliminary November financial information. I am attaching the preliminary November report. You will see some “timing issues” in November, most of which are FNCE based, across all of the business entities. However, the overall results are still fairly good across all of the organizations. Revenue is up; Expenses are down; investments are soaring. All three are great starting points as we start our holiday season.

I won't get into the detail, but, here are some of the overall highlights;

1. Foundation net assets have now exceeded $26 million. Expenses in October were higher than budget primarily due to the timing of Scholarships and Awards. However, both revenue and investment income exceeded expectations.
2. Academy revenue continues to exceed expectations. In November, the Academy revenue exceeded the budget by $59,682. On a year to date basis, the Academy is now $285,299 higher than budget. In addition, if you compare the year to date revenue to last year's revenue through November, the Academy is up $1,322,363.

3. Academy Non-dues revenue is up by $1,281,224 or 17.2%. You won't see this spelled out on the reports, but, I thought this was something to highlight. Non-Dues revenue is up over last year in just about every category.
4. Academy expenses in November were up $135,592. Most of this is due to the FNCE bills. The FNCE bills are trickling in and we have not received all of the final costs. So, we may continue to see additional FNCE adjustments into January.
5. Academy reserves ended November at $16,950,352 or 71.9% of budget.
6. CDR performed better than its budget in November with higher revenue and lower expenses.
7. ACEND/DPGS/MIGs had higher revenue, but, had higher expenses. Most of the expense overruns were due to FNCE bills for the DPGS/MIGs. Year to date, expenses are still under budget for the most part.

I will stop there. Overall, the organization is performing very well financially. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Paul

Nutrition News

From the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Knowledge Center

PLEASE NOTE: The Academy offices will be closed from Monday, December 25 through Monday, January 1.

Nutrition News is an e-newsletter informing members of current news related to food, nutrition and health from major news outlets.

Please note that some publications may require registration or a subscription to online content

Coming in January: Nutrition and Dietetics SmartBrief

Beginning in January 2018, the Academy will be working with SmartBrief, "the leading digital media publisher of targeted business news and information by industry." SmartBrief curates news from major media outlets, regional newspapers, trade publications and blogs, providing Academy members with the most relevant news in food and nutrition. "Nutrition and Dietetics SmartBrief" will be delivered daily to members' email boxes, and will replace the Nutrition News email that is now sent to members on Fridays.

Hi Donna, Lucille and Mary,

I have another affiliate speaker grant request! This one is from the DC Metro Academy for their annual conference on April 20 in Washington DC. Prior to them filling out the form they asked me who was available on that date, and I told them that the three of you are already committed at other events so they completed the request knowing your schedules are already full for April 20. They are asking for Marcy, Manju, Hope or Tammy.

Let me know if you would like to approve the speaker grant pending the attached application.

Dear All ,

You are already invited to join the two hours summit to be held parallel to the 9th World Congress on Prevention of Diabetes and its Complications, Georgia World Congress Center , Room A406 , it should be on Saturday Dec 3rd 17.00 – 19.00 .

please find attached the first draft of the proposed statement to be discussed in our summit , kindly consider the following :

- this document is just a first draft subjected to changes and/or modifications , so please feel free to comment and suggest

- the statement should serve as an action plan , so we need to focus on the key factors , the specific actions and programs to prevent diabetes in a novel approach.
- you are more than welcome to send your comments in advance
- also those whom won't be able to attend , can still send their comments by e-mail , hopefully in advance

I am thrilled to share the long anticipated news regarding the launch of the first in the series of online education simulations developed by the Academy to assist practitioners and students. In 2011 the Foundation received funding from the Commission on Dietetic Registration to support the development of this tool. The Academy, through the Research, International and Scientific Affairs team submitted an application and was approved to develop the model program. It is still in the pilot phase but I'm happy to inform you about the soft launch of this exciting new resource for practitioners and students. P.E.D.R.O., (Pactice, Experience, Dietetics, pediatRic, One) is a pilot simulation that consists of a 3D hospital and conversation simulator that users will be able to access online. We are considering a name change during this pilot phase.

In the simulation, users will meet Pedro, a 13 year-old boy, and his family as they learn of his diagnosis of Type 2 Diabetes and will complete the four steps of the Nutrition Care Process for an inpatient and follow-up outpatient visits with Pedro, contribute in an inter-professional team meeting, and learn about billing and coding. Simulations provide experience with professional practice resources: the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' Evidence Analysis Library (EAL) and Health Informatics Infrastructure (ANDHII) and the openEMR certified electronic health record.

With the aid of a preceptor to evaluate the results, P.E.D.R.O. is intended to assist with supervised practice and competency requirements. If successful, P.E.D.R.O. will serve as the first in a series of online simulations developed by the Academy as part of the eatrightPRO Practice Simulation Series. We are grateful for the support of CDR and the leadership of the Foundation to launch this initial prototype. We will share a demo with you during the next Academy and Foundation Board of Directors meetings. We also plan to demo the tool at the spring Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) regional meetings. We look forward to the feedback.

I hope you agree with me that the launch of this innovative program is another major step in addressing our supervised practice issue!

Pat

Subject: Summit , Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action

Dear All ,

You are already invited to join the two hours summit to be held parallel to the 9th World Congress on Prevention of Diabetes and its Complications, Georgia World Congress Center , Room A406 , it should be on Saturday Dec 3rd 17.00 – 19.00 .

please find attached the first draft of the proposed statement to be discussed in our summit , kindly consider the following :

- this document is just a first draft subjected to changes and/or modifications , so please feel free to comment and suggest
- the statement should serve as an action plan , so we need to focus on the key factors , the specific actions and programs to prevent diabetes in a novel approach.
- you are more than welcome to send your comments in advance
- also those whom won't be able to attend , can still send their comments by e-mail , hopefully in advance

Best ,

Mahmoud Ibrahim , MD

I am thrilled to share the long anticipated news regarding the launch of the first in the series of online education simulations developed by the Academy to assist practitioners and students. In 2011 the Foundation received funding from the Commission on Dietetic Registration to support the development of this tool. The Academy, through the Research, International and Scientific Affairs team submitted an application and was approved to develop the model program. It is still in the pilot phase but I'm happy to inform you about the soft launch of this exciting new resource for practitioners and students. P.E.D.R.O., (Pactice, Experience, Diabetes, pediatRic, Online) is a pilot simulation that consists of a 3D hospital and conversation simulator that users will be able to access online. We are considering a name change during this pilot phase.

In the simulation, users will meet Pedro, a 13 year-old boy, and his family as they learn of his diagnosis of Type 2 Diabetes and will complete the four steps of the Nutrition Care Process for an inpatient and follow-up outpatient visits with Pedro, contribute in an inter-professional team meeting, and learn about billing and coding. Simulations provide experience with professional practice resources: the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' Evidence Analysis Library (EAL) and Health Informatics Infrastructure (ANDHII) and the openEMR certified electronic health record.

With the aid of a preceptor to evaluate the results, P.E.D.R.O. is intended to assist with supervised practice and competency requirements. If successful, P.E.D.R.O. will serve as the first in a series of online simulations developed by the Academy as part of the eatrightPRO Practice Simulation Series. We are grateful for the support of CDR and the leadership of the Foundation to launch this initial prototype. We will share a demo with you during the next Academy and Foundation Board of Directors meetings. We also plan to demo the tool at the spring Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) regional meetings. We look forward to the feedback.

I hope you agree with me that the launch of this innovative program is another major step in addressing our supervised practice issue!

Pat

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

Lucille forwarded me the final draft of the summit statement and asked that I respond on her behalf. Thank you for the opportunity to review the final draft summit statement “Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action.” At a minimum the Academy has two suggestions for the paper. It appears the information regarding the Academy’s diabetes guidelines has been removed, therefore we ask that brief statement be added about the three papers recently published in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics regarding a diabetes systematic review (1) and guideline (2). The references are included in a comment, please see page five on the attached document. Also, it is important for the authors to use patient centered language. Otherwise it is a “yes” with the understanding it will undergo copyediting prior to joint publication. If you can share the names of the organizations to which the statement is being submitted for publication, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Regarding the list of authors, in an earlier communication you mentioned that the list of the co-authors was based on the significant contribution and representation of the major organizations, and the full list of the group will be added in the footnotes. Please include Lucille, written as: Lucille Beseler, 2016-17 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President, on the co-author list and the list other Academy representatives in the footnotes written as follows.

Donna Martin, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President

Jo Jo Dantone, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Treasurer

Marcy Kyle, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Speaker-elect

Subject: FW: WCPD9: Workshop Presentation and Draft Summit Statement

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Lucille Beseler, thank you for the opportunity to review the draft summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. Although Lucille will be in attendance at the summit on Saturday, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics offers the following general comments for your consideration in advance of the meeting. We have also attached the Academy's Prevention of Type 2 Diabetes Evidence-based Nutrition Practice Guideline executive summary, which can be found on our Evidence Analysis Library <https://www.andeal.org/topic.cfm?menu=5344>. This document may provide additional insight for nutrition intervention.

We are aware there will be a second draft developed for review and we will be pleased to share more detailed comments at that time.

- Is the focus of the paper global or domestic? GLOBAL
- If it is a global statement perhaps it should address diabetes prevention in general, i.e., including other diabetes prevention strategies. YES
- Intervention is mentioned at the beginning of the paper, is this going to be addressed throughout? YES
- Who is the target audience, the general population, or those at increased risk for Type 2 Diabetes? Health care professionals , however there should be also an executive summary for the decision makers , media and lay people (general population)
- Under the Community design, built environment and food insecurity section, perhaps policy issues can be addressed here. YES , please provide your suggestions
- Has the initiative by the World Health Organization been considered? "The mission of the WHO Diabetes Programme is to prevent type 2 diabetes and to minimize complications and maximize quality of life for all people with diabetes. Our core functions are to set norms and standards, promote surveillance, encourage prevention, raise awareness and strengthen prevention and control." <http://www.who.int/diabetes/en/> , We are aware of it , I guess the draft matches with its main contents but it could be also considered as a reference

Thank you again for including the Academy in the development of this important statement paper. We will be pleased to submit the paper for consideration for co-publication in our Journal, along with others including Endocrine Practice, Diabetes Care and Diabetes and Metabolism. We look forward to continued collaboration. Sure , your journal is very important considering the huge number of members and potential readers .

Dear Dr. Ibrahim

Thank you so much for the opportunity to be represented at WCPD9. It was a wonderful conference. My colleagues and I enjoyed speaking and meeting individuals from all over the world. Marcy walked away from the Summit filled with gratitude that nutrition services by RDN's was a strong recommendation. We will review the statement and get back to you as soon as possible. I would like very much to offer my assistance as an advisor in the planning sessions for the next Congress and other initiatives. We agree we would like to collaborate further.

Subject: FW: WCPD9: Workshop Presentation and Draft Summit Statement

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Lucille Beseler, thank you for the opportunity to review the draft summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. Although Lucille will be in attendance at the summit on Saturday, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics offers the following general comments for your consideration in advance of the meeting. We have also attached the Academy's Prevention of Type 2 Diabetes Evidence-based Nutrition Practice Guideline executive summary, which can be found on our Evidence Analysis Library <https://www.andeal.org/topic.cfm?menu=5344>. This document may provide additional insight for nutrition intervention.

We are aware there will be a second draft developed for review and we will be pleased to share more detailed comments at that time.

- Is the focus of the paper global or domestic? GLOBAL
- If it is a global statement perhaps it should address diabetes prevention in general, i.e., including other diabetes prevention strategies. YES
- Intervention is mentioned at the beginning of the paper, is this going to be addressed throughout? YES
- Who is the target audience, the general population, or those at increased risk for Type 2 Diabetes? Health care professionals , however there should be also an executive summary for the decision makers , media and lay people (general population)
- Under the Community design, built environment and food insecurity section, perhaps policy issues can be addressed here. YES , please provide your suggestions
- Has the initiative by the World Health Organization been considered? "The mission of the WHO Diabetes Programme is to prevent type 2 diabetes and to minimize complications and maximize quality of life for all people with diabetes. Our core functions are to set norms and standards, promote surveillance, encourage prevention, raise awareness and strengthen prevention and control." <http://www.who.int/diabetes/en/> , We are aware of it , I guess the draft matches with its main contents but it could be also considered as a reference

Thank you again for including the Academy in the development of this important statement paper. We will be pleased to submit the paper for consideration for co-publication in our Journal, along with others including Endocrine Practice, Diabetes Care and Diabetes and Metabolism. We look forward to continued collaboration. Sure , your journal is very important considering the huge number of members and potential readers .

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

Lucille forwarded me the final draft of the summit statement and asked that I respond on her behalf. Thank you for the opportunity to review the final draft summit statement “Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action.” At a minimum the Academy has two suggestions for the paper. It appears the information regarding the Academy’s diabetes guidelines has been removed, therefore we ask that brief statement be added about the three papers recently published in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics regarding a diabetes systematic review (1) and guideline (2). The references are included in a comment, please see page five on the attached document. Also, it is important for the authors to use patient centered language. Otherwise it is a “yes” with the understanding it will undergo copyediting prior to joint publication. If you can share the names of the organizations to which the statement is being submitted for publication, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Regarding the list of authors, in an earlier communication you mentioned that the list of the co-authors was based on the significant contribution and representation of the major organizations, and the full list of the group will be added in the footnotes. Please include Lucille, written as: Lucille Beseler, 2016-17 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President, on the co-author list and the list other Academy representatives in the footnotes written as follows.

Donna Martin, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President

Jo Jo Dantone, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Treasurer

Marcy Kyle, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Speaker-elect

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thank you again for the opportunity to be part of this collaborative publication!

I am thrilled to share the long anticipated news regarding the launch of the first in the series of online education simulations developed by the Academy to assist practitioners and students. The Academy, through the Research, International and Scientific Affairs team submitted an application and was approved to develop the model program. It is still in the pilot phase but I'm happy to inform you about the soft launch of this exciting new resource for practitioners and students. P.E.D.R.O., (Pactice, Experience, Diabetes, pediatRic, One) is a pilot simulation that consists of a 3D hospital and conversation simulator that users will be able to access online. We are considering a name change during this pilot phase.

In the simulation, users will meet Pedro, a 13 year-old boy, and his family as they learn of his diagnosis of Type 2 Diabetes and will complete the four steps of the Nutrition Care Process for an inpatient and follow-up outpatient visits with Pedro, contribute in an inter-professional team meeting, and learn about billing and coding. Simulations provide experience with professional practice resources: the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' Evidence Analysis Library (EAL) and Health Informatics Infrastructure (ANDHII) and the openEMR certified electronic health record.

With the aid of a preceptor to evaluate the results, P.E.D.R.O. is intended to assist with supervised practice and competency requirements. If successful, P.E.D.R.O. will serve as the first in a series of online simulations developed by the Academy as part of the eatrightPRO Practice Simulation Series. We are grateful for the support of CDR and the leadership of the Foundation to launch this initial prototype. We will share a demo with you during the next Academy and Foundation Board of Directors meetings. We also plan to demo the tool at the spring Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) regional meetings. We look forward to the feedback.

I hope you agree with me that the launch of this innovative program is another major step in addressing our supervised practice issue!

With the aid of a preceptor to evaluate the results, P.E.D.R.O. is intended to assist with supervised practice and competency requirements. If successful, P.E.D.R.O. will serve as the first in a series of online simulations developed by the Academy as part of the eatrightPRO Practice Simulation

Series. We are grateful for the support of CDR and the leadership of the Foundation to launch this initial prototype. We will share a demo with you during the next Academy and Foundation Board of Directors meetings. We also plan to demo the tool at the spring Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) regional meetings. We look forward to the feedback.

I hope you agree with me that the launch of this innovative program is another major step in addressing our supervised practice issue!

To the Academy's and Foundation's Boards of Directors:

Just a reminder that the Academy offices will be closed for the holidays from Monday, December 25, through Monday, January 1. Our websites eatright.org, eatrightPRO.org and eatrightSTORE.org will be up and running. The office will reopen on Tuesday, January 2.

At the holiday luncheon, I thanked the Headquarters Team on behalf of the Boards for an incredible centennial year. As 2017 comes to a close, I am grateful to work with a staff that has the membership at heart and at the forefront of everything they do.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Regards,

Pat

Dear Kevin,

I'm glad we have a chance to discuss the upcoming NDEP meetings. In the past the Board liaison was the person designated to go to the regional meetings. We will of course find a replacement in the event you are not able to attend some of them. The intent of the pre-recorded video is to allow for the entire panel session time to be used for Q &A. You will receive logistical information from Lauren Bozich, staff for NDEP.

We have about 20 minutes for the Board video. Our communications for the coming year, including the Academy Update for affiliates and DPGs, are going to be revamped and focused to include topics that members will feel excited about. Our past reports addressed too many areas. I am meeting with Doris the first week in January. We will make sure the Board NDEP report is relevant and targeted to that audience - - for instance, the Board funded online simulation project for programs; the work with the Public Health Institute to fund and train dietitians interested in global employment; the opportunities for students attending PPW to obtain internship competencies; and our efforts with MQii to gather outcomes data. I'll be reaching out to you again in January with a draft for your review and feedback.

Best regards,
Pat

Importance: High

Hi Everyone,

First, Happy Holidays to some of my favorite Academy Colleagues. It seems like yesterday that we were in Chicago for FNCE!

Joan has already been included on this, but I wanted to gather some thoughts and include Donna and Pat too. Below is the formal request to engage in the area NDEP meetings this spring 2018. I've participated in these during prior years on behalf of CDR, so I am mostly familiar with the request.

I wanted to reach out to see if as the NDEP/BOD Liaison, it was appropriate to assume that I would also serve as the representative at the area meetings. I'm really more than happy to do so, and have the times blocked off on my calendar for now. But, I also wanted to open some dialog to make sure the Academy didn't intend to send another representative. Related, the pre-meeting video was a new concept last year I believe, as I was rotating off of CDR, and so I wasn't sure who provided that message on behalf of the BOD and/or how we facilitated that. Again, very happy to help with that part too.

I'm wishing you all the warmest of holiday wishes - Kevin

Dear Joan and Kevin:

I am writing to both of you to request another BOD video presentation for the Spring 2018 NDEP regional meetings which are listed below. These video presentations were very well received at last year's meetings, and provided important background information prompting more substantive discussion during the regional meetings. To insure the ability to have meeting participants view these videos before each meeting, we would like to make them available a month before the first meeting, so we would like them by February 7th, 2018.

2018 Spring Regional Meeting Dates and Locations

Western Region - March 8th-9th

Hotel Albuquerque at Old Town, 800 Rio Grande Boulevard Northwest, Albuquerque, NM

Central Region - April 19th-20th

Clayton Plaza Hotel, 7750 Carondelet Ave, Clayton, MO

Eastern Region - March 22nd - 23rd

Omni Hotel Charlotte, 132 E. Trade Street, Charlotte, NC

The NDEP Council is very appreciative of your guidance and support and willingness to consider this request. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

With warm regard,

Malinda Cecil

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

Lucille forwarded me the final draft of the summit statement and asked that I respond on her behalf. Thank you for the opportunity to review the final draft summit statement "Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action." At a minimum the Academy has two suggestions for the paper. It appears the information regarding the Academy's diabetes guidelines has been removed, therefore we ask that brief statement be added about the three papers recently published in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics regarding a diabetes systematic review (1) and guideline (2). The references are included in a comment, please see page five on the attached document. Also, it is important for the authors to use patient centered language. Otherwise it is a "yes" with the understanding it will undergo copyediting prior to joint publication. If you can share the names of the organizations to which the statement is being submitted for publication, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Regarding the list of authors, in an earlier communication you mentioned that the list of the co-authors was based on the significant contribution and representation of the major organizations, and the full list of the group will be added in the footnotes. Please include Lucille, written as: Lucille Beseler, 2016-17 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President, on the co-author list and the list other Academy representatives in the footnotes written as follows.

Donna Martin, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President

Jo Jo Dantone, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Treasurer

Marcy Kyle, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Speaker-elect

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thank you again for the opportunity to be part of this collaborative publication!

please find attached the almost final version of the statement , kindly consider the below :

- at this point , no major change(s) are allowed , it is almost a Yes or No version
- We will edit the IMAGE tables and rearrange the references in unified format
- should this version fails to meet the minimal expectations of the Nutrition Academy , we will still be interested in getting one of you (Lucille – Jo Jo or Donna) as a coauthor , the others may be included in the full list , kindly forward this email to Donna since I do not have her email
- the deadline for your response is November 30th , we expect the statement to be published beginning of 2018
- if you like we could meet for dinner Friday November 17th at Marriott Hotel for more discussion

Subject: FW: WCPD9: Workshop Presentation and Draft Summit Statement

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Lucille Beseler, thank you for the opportunity to review the draft summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. Although Lucille will be in attendance at the summit on Saturday, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics offers the following general comments for your consideration in advance of the meeting. We have also attached the Academy's Prevention of Type 2 Diabetes Evidence-based Nutrition Practice Guideline executive summary, which can be found on our Evidence Analysis Library <https://www.andeal.org/topic.cfm?menu=5344>. This document may provide additional insight for nutrition intervention.

We are aware there will be a second draft developed for review and we will be pleased to share more detailed comments at that time.

- Is the focus of the paper global or domestic? GLOBAL
- If it is a global statement perhaps it should address diabetes prevention in general, i.e., including other diabetes prevention strategies. YES
- Intervention is mentioned at the beginning of the paper, is this going to be addressed throughout? YES
- Who is the target audience, the general population, or those at increased risk for Type 2 Diabetes? Health care professionals , however there should be also an executive summary for the decision makers , media and lay people (general population)
- Under the Community design, built environment and food insecurity section, perhaps policy issues can be addressed here. YES , please provide your suggestions
- Has the initiative by the World Health Organization been considered? “The mission of the WHO Diabetes Programme is to prevent type 2 diabetes and to minimize complications and maximize quality of life for all people with diabetes. Our core functions are to set norms and standards, promote surveillance, encourage prevention, raise awareness and strengthen prevention and control.” <http://www.who.int/diabetes/en/> , We are aware of it , I guess the draft matches with its main contents but it could be also considered as a reference

Thank you again for including the Academy in the development of this important statement paper. We will be pleased to submit the paper for consideration for co-publication in our Journal, along with others including Endocrine Practice, Diabetes Care and Diabetes and Metabolism. We look forward to continued collaboration. Sure , your journal is very important considering the huge number of members and potential readers .

Importance: High

Hi Everyone,

First, Happy Holidays to some of my favorite Academy Colleagues. It seems like yesterday that we were in Chicago for FNCE!

Joan has already been included on this, but I wanted to gather some thoughts and include Donna and Pat too. Below is the formal request to engage in the area NDEP meetings this spring 2018. I've participated in these during prior years on behalf of CDR, so I am mostly familiar with the request.

I wanted to reach out to see if as the NDEP/BOD Liaison, it was appropriate to assume that I would also serve as the representative at the area meetings. I'm really more than happy to do so, and have the times blocked off on my calendar for now. But, I also wanted to open some dialog to make sure the Academy didn't intend to send another representative. Related, the pre-meeting video was a new concept last year I believe, as I was rotating off of CDR, and so I wasn't sure who provided that message on behalf of the BOD and/or how we facilitated that. Again, very happy to help with that part too.

I'm wishing you all the warmest of holiday wishes - Kevin

Dear Joan and Kevin:

I am writing to both of you to request another BOD video presentation for the Spring 2018 NDEP regional meetings which are listed below. These video presentations were very well received at last year's meetings, and provided important background information prompting more substantive discussion during the regional meetings. To insure the ability to have meeting participants view these videos before each meeting, we would like to make them available a month before the first meeting, so we would like them by February 7th, 2018.

2018 Spring Regional Meeting Dates and Locations

Western Region - March 8th-9th

Hotel Albuquerque at Old Town, 800 Rio Grande Boulevard Northwest, Albuquerque, NM

Central Region - April 19th-20th

Clayton Plaza Hotel, 7750 Carondelet Ave, Clayton, MO

Eastern Region - March 22nd- 23rd

Omni Hotel Charlotte, 132 E. Trade Street, Charlotte, NC

The NDEP Council is very appreciative of your guidance and support and willingness to consider this request. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Hi Everyone,

First, Happy Holidays to some of my favorite Academy Colleagues. It seems like yesterday that we were in Chicago for FNCE!

Joan has already been included on this, but I wanted to gather some thoughts and include Donna and Pat too. Below is the formal request to engage in the area NDEP meetings this spring 2018. I've participated in these during prior years on behalf of CDR, so I am mostly familiar with the request.

I wanted to reach out to see if as the NDEP/BOD Liaison, it was appropriate to assume that I would also serve as the representative at the area meetings. I'm really more than happy to do so, and have the times blocked off on my calendar for now. But, I also wanted to open some dialog to make sure the Academy didn't intend to send another representative. Related, the pre-meeting video was a new concept last year I believe, as I was rotating off of CDR, and so I wasn't sure who provided that message on behalf of the BOD and/or how we facilitated that. Again, very happy to help with that part too.

I'm wishing you all the warmest of holiday wishes - Kevin

Subject: RE: NDEP spring meeting video request for the BOD

Dear Joan and Kevin:

I am writing to both of you to request another BOD video presentation for the Spring 2018 NDEP regional meetings which are listed below. These video presentations were very well received at last year's meetings, and provided important background information prompting more substantive discussion during the regional meetings. To insure the ability to have meeting participants view these videos before each meeting, we would like to make them available a month before the first meeting, so we would like them by February 7th, 2018.

2018 Spring Regional Meeting Dates and Locations

Western Region - March 8th-9th

Hotel Albuquerque at Old Town, 800 Rio Grande Boulevard Northwest, Albuquerque, NM

Central Region - April 19th-20th

Clayton Plaza Hotel, 7750 Carondelet Ave, Clayton, MO

Eastern Region - March 22nd- 23rd

Omni Hotel Charlotte, 132 E. Trade Street, Charlotte, NC

The NDEP Council is very appreciative of your guidance and support and willingness to consider this request. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

With warm regard,

Malinda Cecil

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Tax Bill Passes

The U.S. Senate and House of Representatives have voted to pass the tax plan (H.R. 1). The Academy reiterated our concerns about the legislation in a letter to the tax bill conferees, asking Congress to work in a bipartisan manner to draft common-sense reforms that improve access to high-quality and affordable health care for all.

New Study: Treat and Reduce Obesity Act Could Save Billions

A newly published validated microsimulation model predicts that increasing Medicare beneficiaries' utilization of clinically effective obesity treatments could save Medicare $19 billion to $21 billion over the next 10 years. The Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, which now has 132 House cosponsors, provides access to registered dietitian nutritionist-provided intensive behavioral therapy and pharmacotherapy that produce an average combined 9.7 percent weight loss.

Academy Urges Congress: Protect Historic Investment in Prevention

The U.S. House of Representatives introduced H.J. Res. 124 to continue government funding through January 19, 2018. The bill includes the Championing Healthy Kids Act, which reauthorizes the Children's Health Insurance Program, among others, but would use the Prevention and Public Health Fund to pay for these programs. The Academy opposes this approach and joined numerous organizations in recommending that Congress find a bipartisan solution to fund these important programs before funding runs out at the end of the year. The Academy will continue to advocate for strong investment in prevention and treatment to improve people's health and nutrition.

Hi Donna,

Initially Doris, Mary Beth, Jeanne and I discussed if we should respond. We discovered however that the media reported misinformation. Doris can reply back to this member with this draft.

Draft response:

Thank you for your email. This was an erroneous report in the Washington Post. According to the CDC Director Dr. Brenda Fitzgerald, no words have been banned from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's lexicon.

On Monday, Dr. Fitzgerald pushed back against reports that the agency had prohibited use of the words ""evidence-based" and "science-based." She stated, "The CDC remains committed to our public health mission as a science- and evidence-based institution, providing for the common defense of the country against health threats. Science is and will remain the foundation of our work," Fitzgerald said. Here is a link to the story

AAFP Response to Administration's CDC Directive

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Saturday, Dec. 16, 2017

Statement attributable to:

Michael Munger, MD

President

American Academy of Family Physicians

The American Academy of Family Physicians, which represents 129,000 family physicians and medical students, is both surprised and concerned by the Administration's clear disregard for the importance of science and evidence-based medicine.

Recent public reports indicate that the Administration has shackled the CDC with inexplicable rules banning certain terms from the agency's budget requests. This action is an obvious attempt to politicize the most fundamental tenets of medicine and research, which will have a chilling effect on the CDC's ability to rely on science to justify the work it does to protect public health.

While we at the AAFP represent family physicians, our highest priority is improving the health of patients, families and communities. When the top public health agency in the country is -- in an unprecedented move by the Administration -- required to temper its reliance on evidence-based medicine, the health of the public is at risk. We urge the Administration to fully assess the broader implications of this purely political maneuver and reconsider its recent directive to the CDC.

Editor's Note: To arrange an interview with Dr. Munger, contact Leslie Champlin, (800) 274-2237, Ext. 5224, or lchampli@aafp.org(email.prnewswire.com).

Hi Donna,

Initially Doris, Mary Beth, Jeanne and I discussed if we should respond. We discovered however that the media reported misinformation. Doris can reply back to this member with this draft.

Draft response:

Thank you for your email. This was an erroneous report in the Washington Post. According to the CDC Director Dr. Brenda Fitzgerald, no words have been banned from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's lexicon.

On Monday, Dr. Fitzgerald pushed back against reports that the agency had prohibited use of the words "'evidence-based" and "science-based." She stated, "The CDC remains committed to our public health mission as a science- and evidence-based institution, providing for the common defense of the country against health threats. Science is and will remain the foundation of our work," Fitzgerald said. Here is a link to the story

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Saturday, Dec. 16, 2017

Statement attributable to:

Michael Munger, MD

President

American Academy of Family Physicians

The American Academy of Family Physicians, which represents 129,000 family physicians and medical students, is both surprised and concerned by the Administration's clear disregard for the importance of science and evidence-based medicine.

Recent public reports indicate that the Administration has shackled the CDC with inexplicable rules banning certain terms from the agency's budget requests. This action is an obvious attempt to politicize the most fundamental tenets of medicine and research, which will have a chilling effect on the CDC's ability to rely on science to justify the work it does to protect public health.

While we at the AAFP represent family physicians, our highest priority is improving the health of patients, families and communities. When the top public health agency in the country is -- in an unprecedented move by the Administration -- required to temper its reliance on evidence-based medicine, the health of the public is at risk. We urge the Administration to fully assess the broader implications of this purely political maneuver and reconsider its recent directive to the CDC.

Editor's Note: To arrange an interview with Dr. Munger, contact Leslie Champlin, (800) 274-2237, Ext. 5224, or lchampli@aafp.org(email.prnewswire.com).

Patti and Lynn, I talked to Pat Babjak and she said she would love to meet with the two of you. She suggested sometime at the beginning of February since we have a board meeting towards the end of February. I suggest that we meet in DC, since I would love to have our public policy representatives at some of the meeting also and they are in DC. Pat is always looking for excuses to visit our DC office, so I think this would work best. Give us some dates that work for you all in early February and we will work it out. The only date out for me is February 8th.

Donna,

Thank you for your call today. It was good to speak with you. I hope you have a safe trip and a very productive day of advocacy tomorrow.

I am not sure what transpired concerning the advocacy day to support funding for school nutrition equipment funds, but I am confident something may have been lost in translation. Let's plan a time in the near future for a meeting between the Academy and SNA; ideally Pat, Patti, you, and I can meet to discuss items of mutual agreement where we can collaborate to advocate for school nutrition programs.

If there is a time in February that you and Pat anticipate a trip to DC, we can schedule a time for a face-to-face meeting. After all, we have a lot to talk about and our "presidential clocks are ticking."

Best to you always,

Subject: Cash flow requirements

All,

We are fast approaching the time where we will need to take money out of reserves to manage our operations. I have reviewed the current cash needs for the business. At the moment, I am projecting that we will need to transfer $1,000,000 from investment reserves into our operating cash in order to meet our obligations. I anticipate the need for the transfer on January 2nd.

As I look at our cash, we are better this year than last year. Last year, in December, we had already moved $1,000,000 from reserves into operating cash. We have not had to do that yet this year. Currently, we have about $400,000 more in cash than we did one year ago. In addition, we paid $677,083 towards the loan we originated for the building move in December of 2016. So, if you take both of these items, we would be $1,000,000 higher in cash flow even without moving the money from reserves.

On the other side of the equation, we are paying some of the FNCE bills faster this year than last year. We have one vendor where we paid $300,000 in January and February of last year that has already been paid. In addition, since we pool the cash from all businesses how they spend money will impact our cash flow. For example, CDR, DPGS, MIGS and ACEND, have combined $618,563 less in income than last year at this time. All of this factors into the timing of the cash needs.

Overall, we are performing much better than we have in the past. However, since we have a payroll due on January 3rd and the offices are shut down next week, I am concerned we will not have enough money flowing into the business between now and January 3rd to meet our needs.

After the removal of the $1,000,000 from reserves, the Academy should still have $16,000,000 remaining. This is still well above the $15,200,000 FY18 year-ending projection we made in the budget process.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know either via e-mail or by phone at 800-877-1600, extension 4730.

Hi, Donna,

As you are aware, the Academy has partnered with SmartBrief to begin sending the new Nutrition and Dietetics SmartBrief on January 2, 2018. During that first week, Academy members will have the option to “opt-out” of the newsletter and credentialed non-member practitioners will have the option to “opt-in” to receiving it. To introduce this new benefit and newsletter, SmartBrief has prepared two sets of letters that will accompany your headshot and signature during the first five days of the launch.

Please confirm with us that you are OK with the attached picture/signature and the two sets of letters. If you have any questions, don't hesitate to ask.

Wishing you and your family all the best this holiday season!

Thank you!

School Foodservice Hill Briefing and Advocacy Day was a Success

On Wednesday, December 13, the Academy hosted an advocacy day and Hill briefing with partner organizations on Capitol Hill. Academy President, Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND joined Rodney Taylor, Tony Martino and Academy member Dayle Hayes, MS, RDN on a panel informing policymakers about the importance of retaining funding to expand schools' access to modern kitchen equipment. Following the briefing, Academy members, staff and partner organizations met with congressional offices to advocate for sustainable funding to be specifically allocated for school kitchen equipment. Special thanks to Academy President Donna Martin and members Liz Campbell, MA, RDN, Nancy Farrell, MS, RDN, FAND and Dayle Hayes for their contribution to and leadership of the event. Many thanks to everyone who participated!

Managed Medicaid Provider Enrollment Issue Resolved

Thank you to all of the affiliates that responded to our request for information about your states' Medicaid managed care plan and traditional Medicaid enrollment in your states. This request stemmed from a provision of the 21st Century Cures Act (Section 5005) that requires all Medicaid managed care providers to also enroll as providers in standard Medicaid irrespective of either their intent or ability to actually participate as such.

Thanks to your input, we determined that the potential negative impact of this provision was confined to one state (New York). Working with member leaders and the affiliate lobbyist, a solution was developed whereby CMS allowed the New York Department of Health to exempt from the enrollment mandate those managed care plan providers types (such as RDNs) who cannot enroll in fee-for-service Medicaid.

While we hope this issue does not raise its head in other states, please alert Marsha Schofield or Pepin Tuma to hopefully execute this solution in your state with similar success.

Save the Date - Obesity Care Advocacy Day, February 27, 2018

As we wrap up one advocacy day, we prepare for another. The Academy will be hosting an Obesity Care Advocacy Day and Capitol Hill briefing on February 27, 2018 in Washington, DC. The day's events will be open to all members and the public. For more information, stay tuned to the next issue of PPWN.

Public Policy Weekly News will Resume in 2018

This isn't goodbye, this is see you later. The next PPWN will be sent out the first week of 2018. But in the interim, the Academy's PIA Staff wishes you safe and happy holidays!

News from the Hill

House Introduces Emergency Disaster Aid Package

Last night, House Appropriations Chairman Rodney Frelinghuysen (NJ) introduced a bill (H.R. 4667) that would provide additional emergency funding of $81 billion to combat the recent hurricanes, wildfires and related agriculture losses. A total of $3.8 billion would go towards Department of Agriculture, and includes $24 million for The Emergency Food Assistance Program and $22 million for the Agriculture Research Service to fund buildings and facilities. The funds will allow programs to continue relief and recovery efforts in California, Florida, Louisiana, Texas, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands. In October, the Academy joined national public health organizations in supporting swift passage of an emergency funding bill that would support public health and other health and medical needs in the wake of the recent hurricanes and wildfires. The Academy will continue to monitor this legislation along with the continuing resolution to ensure nutrition services receive vital funding for those communities impacted by the recent natural disasters.

Government Shutdown Pending with Looming Friday Deadline

On December 7, Congress passed a continuing resolution to avoid a government shutdown until Friday (the unofficial deadline). The bill included a short-term solution for states to continue to operate the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) through this week. It allows the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) to redistribute leftover CHIP funds to states that run out of money, but does not allocate any additional funds. With the fast approaching deadline, Congress still needs to reauthorize CHIP and other health programs. Follow government shutdown developments, here.

Tax Reform Heads to Final Passage

Congress released the final version of the tax plan (H.R. 1) on Friday evening, which is a compromise bill between versions passed by the U.S. House and the Senate. Among other provisions, it would eliminate the Affordable Care Act's individual health insurance mandate (the tax penalty you pay if you do not have health insurance) that would increase the number of uninsured people by 4 million in 2019 and 13 million in 2027. The House and Senate are expected to vote today on the final tax reform bill, and send the bill to the President's desk to be signed by Christmas. The Academy sent a letter to leadership addressing our concerns with both bills. As always we will continue to update Academy members with any changes in the bill text that would impact Academy members. Learn the details of the tax bill, here. Choose a scenario to see how the tax plan could impact you, here.

Academy Supports Indian Health Services

The Academy signed on to a letter with partner organizations in support of the Indian Health Service (IHS) to receive full funding. The mission of IHS is to raise the physical, mental, social and spiritual health of American Indians and Alaska Natives to the highest level. Compared with the general population, American Indians and Alaska Natives face substantial health disparities and higher mortality and morbidity rates. Many American Indians and Alaska Natives rely on IHS for quality health care. As you may recall, the Academy's key tenets for health care include access to quality health care for all Americans, sufficient resources to be available to ensure optimal health, and stable, sufficient and reliable funding for our health care system. Increased resources are important to improve access to health care for American Indians and Alaska Natives.

The Academy Urges Congress to Protect Historic Investment in Prevention

The U.S. House introduced another short-term funding bill (H.J. Res. 124) to continue government funding through January 19, 2018. The bill will prevent a partial government shutdown that would otherwise occur when the existing continuing resolution expires. The bill also included the Championing Healthy Kids Act, which reauthorizes several federal health programs, including the Children's Health Insurance program, but would reallocate money from Prevention and Public Health Fund to pay for the cost of these programs. The Academy continues to oppose this approach, as the Prevention Fund provides critical support for interventions led by food and nutrition professionals to improve community health. The Academy has partnered with other organizations recommending that Congress find a bipartisan solution to fund these important programs before funding runs out. As always, we will continue to advocate for a strong investment in prevention and treatment to improve the nation's health and nutrition.

Thanks all for your responses. No motion or second is needed. This is information only. As Paul has so kindly provided, here is a portion of the procedure which explains how we handle these withdrawals. I, as Treasurer, have approved the withdrawal and Paul, as CFO, has met his obligation to inform us all. As Paul told me, he is a little short on the 30 day notification, but I am sure we will forgive him that!

· Since investment reserves are utilized to fund operations, it is expected that staff will be required to draw down reserves to meet short term financial obligations. As such, the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) has the authority to move funds using the following criteria;

1. Notify the Finance and Audit Committee, no less than 30 days in advance of the expected need
2. Receive approval from the Treasurer or Treasurer Elect
3. Notification to the Finance and Audit Committee after funds have been removed from the investment reserve

Wishing you all a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

Subject: Cash flow requirements

All,

We are fast approaching the time where we will need to take money out of reserves to manage our operations. I have reviewed the current cash needs for the business. At the moment, I am projecting that we will need to transfer $1,000,000 from investment reserves into our operating cash in order to meet our obligations. I anticipate the need for the transfer on January 2nd.

As I look at our cash, we are better this year than last year. Last year, in December, we had already moved $1,000,000 from reserves into operating cash. We have not had to do that yet this year. Currently, we have about $400,000 more in cash than we did one year ago. In addition, we paid $677,083 towards the loan we originated for the building move in December of 2016. So, if you take both of these items, we would be $1,000,000 higher in cash flow even without moving the money from reserves.

On the other side of the equation, we are paying some of the FNCE bills faster this year than last year. We have one vendor where we paid $300,000 in January and February of last year that has already been paid. In addition, since we pool the cash from all businesses how they spend money will impact our cash flow. For example, CDR, DPGS, MIGS and ACEND, have combined $618,563 less in income than last year at this time. All of this factors into the timing of the cash needs.

Overall, we are performing much better than we have in the past. However, since we have a payroll due on January 3rd and the offices are shut down next week, I am concerned we will not have enough money flowing into the business between now and January 3rd to meet our needs.

After the removal of the $1,000,000 from reserves, the Academy should still have $16,000,000 remaining. This is still well above the $15,200,000 FY18 year-ending projection we made in the budget process.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know either via e-mail or by phone at 800-877-1600, extension 4730.

Dear Joyce,

On behalf of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Foundation's Board of Directors, thank you for your 2017 donations. Your gifts of $500 to the Second Century Campaign and $250 to the Annual Fund, will enable the Foundation to continue to pursue its mission to accelerate improvements in global health and well-being through food and nutrition.

We value the long-standing relationship the Foundation has with the Fifty Plus in Nutrition and Dietetics MIG and appreciate your significant contributions. Thank you for trusting us to ensure that your support will make an impact on thousands of students, dietetic professionals and kids who will all benefit from the Academy Foundation's initiatives.

We look forward to providing you with more information on how your gift is making a difference throughout our profession and within your membership. In the coming weeks we will share a Second Century update and projects you may have an interest in supporting next fiscal year.

Happy holidays to you and all your loved ones!

Sincerely,

I'm not sure how you came up w/ that over the top description.and it shows a glaring lack of awareness for what has been going on on social media.

-Danielle Omar the Administrator of Dietitians on the Blog who in September allowed 300 comments harassing and slandering me personally to continue for almost a week until I had to have friends write to Facebook and petition Facebook daily for 4 days to have them pull down the post...all the while denying me access to the page. These comments included encouragement to write to my employer to get me to lose my job

-Elisa Zied who I've interviewed 2x on my radio program who nevertheless accused me of being a bully for no reason since I don't interact with her and when I tried to reach out to her privately blocked me on social media and would not return my emails.

I'm amazed you didn't add Andy Bellatti and Melinda Hemmelgarn to this list or maybe Rebecca Subbiah who I had to complain to the NC Academy about harassing me on social media and putting up a YouTube video with my name and photo in 2014.

I am so disappointed with the Academy. I thought this was a professional organization...not a sorority

Ha! I don't think I mentioned to the three Ps (will on the next call) that I requested to be on the 3 Speaker call when discussing the draft motion related to public health-- it was two pages long with tactics and had assignments for staff which is unacceptable. I explained that that kind of a motion opens the HLT to criticism. The final was not much better. I'm asking Joan to include the original and final motions on the next 4Ps agenda.

2017-2018 HOD - RE: Fall HOD Meeting Motion Review Phase 1 View Post Message Meg and Shari edits improve the wording of the motions, but my bigger concern echos Naomi's comment about the motions being vague. This motion seems like a tactical execution of some larger policy issue, but the larger policy issue is not articulated. If the HOD is going to vote on a motion, it should be a policy-level motion, not a tactical plan. So I propose scratching this draft and laddering up a policy or strategic level and re-drafting the motion, eliminating all the tactics. If the HOD can agree on the policy, the tactics can be worked out by execution teams, not micromanaged by the HOD. I don't think that it is correct use of the HOD as a deliberative body for the HOD to be miring in the weeds on tactical issues as detailed in this motion.

All,

We are fast approaching the time where we will need to take money out of reserves to manage our operations. I have reviewed the current cash needs for the business. At the moment, I am projecting that we will need to transfer $1,000,000 from investment reserves into our operating cash in order to meet our obligations. I anticipate the need for the transfer on January 2nd.

As I look at our cash, we are better this year than last year. Last year, in December, we had already moved $1,000,000 from reserves into operating cash. We have not had to do that yet this year. Currently, we have about $400,000 more in cash than we did one year ago. In addition, we paid $677,083 towards the loan we originated for the building move in December of 2016. So, if you take both of these items, we would be $1,000,000 higher in cash flow even without moving the money from reserves.

On the other side of the equation, we are paying some of the FNCE bills faster this year than last year. We have one vendor where we paid $300,000 in January and February of last year that has already been paid. In addition, since we pool the cash from all businesses how they spend money will impact our cash flow. For example, CDR, DPGS, MIGS and ACEND, have combined $618,563 less in income than last year at this time. All of this factors into the timing of the cash needs.

Overall, we are performing much better than we have in the past. However, since we have a payroll due on January 3rd and the offices are shut down next week, I am concerned we will not have enough money flowing into the business between now and January 3rd to meet our needs.

After the removal of the $1,000,000 from reserves, the Academy should still have $16,000,000 remaining. This is still well above the $15,200,000 FY18 year-ending projection we made in the budget process.

If you have any questions or concerns, please let me know either via e-mail or by phone at 800-877-1600, extension 4730.

Paul

Dear Donna,

On behalf of the Academys Political Action Committee, thank you for your generosity and support in 2017. As the year closes we reflect on our success and look forward to new opportunities in 2018.

Heres a short video that showcases the importance of ANDPAC in building relationships with members of Congress. Because of you, we have a seat at the table when decisions about food, nutrition and health are being made!

With Warm Wishes,
The 2017 ANDPAC Board of Directors

2017-2018 HOD - RE: Fall HOD Meeting Motion Review Phase 1 View Post Message Meg and Shari edits improve the wording of the motions, but my bigger concern echos Naomi's comment about the motions being vague. This motion seems like a tactical execution of some larger policy issue, but the larger policy issue is not articulated. If the HOD is going to vote on a motion, it should be a policy-level motion, not a tactical plan. So I propose scratching this draft and laddering up a policy or strategic level and re-drafting the motion, eliminating all the tactics. If the HOD can agree on the policy, the tactics can be worked out by execution teams, not micromanaged by the HOD. I don't think that it is correct use of the HOD as a deliberative body for the HOD to be miring in the weeds on tactical issues as detailed in this motion.

Dear NDEP Members –

NDEP is pleased to announce the 2018 Outstanding Dietetic Educator Award nominations are now being accepted! The purpose of the Outstanding Dietetics Educator Award (ODEA) is to recognize the teaching, mentoring, and leadership activities of faculty in ACEND-accredited dietetics education programs. One educator can be selected from each of the four program types in each geographic region (a maximum of four awardees from each of the six geographic regions for a total of 24).

In addition to publishing the list of outstanding educators in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and NDEP-line, each awardee will receive a certificate and congratulatory letter from the Academy President. Awards will be presented at the 2018 NDEP regional meetings.

Eligibility

-Nominees must be a current member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, but are not required to be an NDEP member for consideration for this award.

-Preceptors are not eligible for this award as there is a separate award given to Outstanding Preceptors.

-Active NDEP Council members are not eligible for this award. For a listing of the current NDEP Council members go to www.ndepnet.org.

-Previous ODEA winners cannot be nominated for the same program award again; however, they could be nominated for an award for a different program type, if applicable.

Criteria for Selection of Outstanding Educators

- Member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics
- Educator and/or Program Director in an ACEND-accredited dietetics education program:
 - Coordinated Program in Dietetics (CP)
 - Dietetic Internship (DI)
 - Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD)
 - Dietetic Technician Program (DT)
- Demonstrated innovative teaching skills and techniques.
- Demonstrated mentoring of students.
- Demonstrated leadership; e.g., national, state, or district dietetic association activities, community service, honors received, scientific and professional presentations, publications, etc.

Selection Procedure and Submission Dates

Nominations from peers and/or students will be sent to the Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) Regional Director in the corresponding geographic area by January 12, 2018. Each Regional Director will select no more than one educator for each type of dietetics education program (CP, DI, DPD, DT) in the region (maximum four).

Each nomination application will be a single PDF that includes the ODEA Data Sheet, curriculum vitae (or resume), and three reference letters. Nominations must be sent electronically. Jpeg documents or individual documents will not be accepted. Additional materials beyond the requested materials (data sheet, CV, letters) will not be reviewed.

Award Winners will be announced in March 2018!

For more information, please visit the NDEP website at www.ndepnet.org and refer to the attached documents for criteria and data sheets!

Hi Donna, Lucille and Mary,

I have another affiliate speaker grant request! This one is from the DC Metro Academy for their annual conference on April 20 in Washington DC. Prior to them filling out the form they asked me who was available on that date, and I told them that the three of you are already committed at other events so they completed the request knowing your schedules are already full for April 20. They are asking for Marcy, Manju, Hope or Tammy.

Let me know if you would like to approve the speaker grant pending the attached application.

Thanks!

Donna,

Thank you for your call today. It was good to speak with you. I hope you have a safe trip and a very productive day of advocacy tomorrow.

I am not sure what transpired concerning the advocacy day to support funding for school nutrition equipment funds, but I am confident something may have been lost in translation. Let's plan a time in the near future for a meeting between the Academy and SNA; ideally Pat, Patti, you, and I can meet to discuss items of mutual agreement where we can collaborate to advocate for school nutrition programs.

If there is a time in February that you and Pat anticipate a trip to DC, we can schedule a time for a face-to-face meeting. After all, we have a lot to talk about and our "presidential clocks are ticking."

Dietetic Technician, Registered (DTR)

Are you interested in helping your employees advance themselves professionally? Individuals who have successfully completed both a bachelors degree and an Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND) accredited Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD) are eligible to take the Registration Examination for Dietetic Technicians without meeting additional academic or supervised practice requirements. Once credentialed, these individuals would be required to comply with CDR professional development/recertification requirements and the Code of Ethics for the Profession of Dietetics and the Standards of Practice.

HOW TO TAKE THE REGISTRATION EXAMINATION FOR DIETETIC TECHNICIANS

If you have an employee who has met eligibility requirements, but is not yet eligible with CDR, they should contact the current program director from their ACEND accredited DPD to pursue the application process for submission to CDR. Candidates who are already eligible for the examination for dietetic technicians would have received an Authorization to Test email from CDRs testing vendor Pearson VUE. This email contains information on scheduling their examination.

Candidates approved for registration eligibility are authorized to test for one year at a time. The one-year authorization period is indicated in the Authorization to Test email. If the candidates one-year authorization period has expired, they should contact CDR for reauthorization. If the candidate has misplaced their Authorization to Test email or would like to schedule their examination by phone, they can contact Pearson VUE at 888-874-7651. For additional information, please visit: <https://www.cdrnet.org/three>.

If you have comments or questions about eligibility to take the registration examination for dietetic technicians, please call Peggy Anderson at 1-800-877-1600, Ext. 4764, panderson@eatright.org or Rebecca Beavers at 1-800-877-1600, Ext. 4781, rbeavers@eatright.org.

I have had a recent conversation with Lynn Harvey to talk about the fact they opted not to participate in our Equipment Modernization Grant Advocacy Day. They have lost so much credibility in the non-profit/hunger/food insecurity world. Janey Thornton called me this week with her concerns. I am working with Mary Pat Raimondi to try and get the SNS DPG to write letters in support of the Healthy Hunger Free Kids Act. Mary Pat keeps offering to help, and I told her today that if she could get the information together for me on who to write and where to write etc., I would get the DGP to get some letters out. Janey said this would help a lot.

I will update you more when we have a meeting date set.

Pat is always looking for excuses to visit our DC office, so I think this would work best. Give us some dates that work for you all in early February and we will work it out. Donna,

Thank you for your call today. It was good to speak with you. I hope you have a safe trip and a very productive day of advocacy tomorrow.

I am not sure what transpired concerning the advocacy day to support funding for school nutrition equipment funds, but I am confident something may have been lost in translation. Let's plan a time in the near future for a meeting between the Academy and SNA; ideally Pat, Patti, you, and I can meet to discuss items of mutual agreement where we can collaborate to advocate for school nutrition programs.

If there is a time in February that you and Pat anticipate a trip to DC, we can schedule a time for a face-to-face meeting. After all, we have a lot to talk about and our “presidential clocks are ticking.”

Best to you always,

Lynn

It is time once again for members to indicate their interest in volunteering on national committees and task forces. The "Opportunities to Serve" survey is now available online at:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/YFNYFMR>

Please note that a description of each committee is available via a link in the "Opportunities to Serve" survey. Members appointed to serve on an Academy committee or task force for 2018-2019 do not need to complete the Opportunities to Serve Survey. Instead, we ask that you share this information with colleagues who may be interested in volunteering on an Academy committee or task force.

The information you provide when completing this survey will be critical to Mary K. Russell, MS, RDN, LDN, FAND, President-elect, and Marcy Kyle, RDN, LD, CDE, FAND, Speaker-elect, as they make appointments for the various Academy committees and task forces throughout the 2018-2019 program year. Although we cannot ensure that everyone who completes the survey will be selected to serve, every effort will be made to consider your unique talents during the appointment process.

Please complete this survey by January 10, 2018. If you have any questions or concerns regarding the survey, please contact Charlene Rice (crice@eatright.org or 800/877-1600, ext. 4892).

Please accept our gratitude after you have completed this survey. Your willingness to serve the Academy is greatly appreciated!

Mary Pat, I did think of something you could help me with. Janey Thornton contacted me and asked if I would try and get the SNS DPG to write letters in support of the Healthy Hunger Free Kids Act? She said the letters need to be individualized and not just a standard letter everyone copies and pastes. Could you put something together for me on exactly what we would be asking the DPG members to do? I think there is a comment period out right now, but I don't have time to research it out and put something together to get to Cindy Culver with the DPG. This would be in response to SNA asking for more flexibilities for districts. See the latest thing below. I would need where to send letters and comments, etc. It takes a village now a days!!! Thanks in advance!

CDR Oncology Nutrition Job Analysis Survey

Please help us by completing this job analysis survey to identify tasks and knowledge reflective of the professional role of a Certified Specialist in Oncology Nutrition (CSO).

The results of this survey will help develop the specifications for the Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR) Certified Specialist in Oncology Nutrition (CSO) certification exam.

The survey will likely require 15 to 20 minutes to complete.

Your individual responses will be kept confidential and will be combined with those of other respondents.

The deadline to complete the survey is January 7, 2018.

This is a great way to contribute to the profession and ensure a high standard is maintained.

If you have any questions, please direct all inquiries to specialists@eatright.org.

Thank you very much.

Beth, This is a gift from my friend who came to FNCE and surprised me and then came to the Foundation Dinner. Is there anyway to find out how much his donation to the foundation was? I just wanted to thank him and was interested in how much he donated. If you can't tell me I totally understand. I will not tell him I knew what the amount was, I was just curious. Patti and Lynn, I talked to Pat Babjak and she said she would love to meet with the two of you. She suggested sometime at the beginning of February since we have a board meeting towards the end of February. I suggest that we meet in DC, since I would love to have our public policy representatives at some of the meeting also and they are in DC. Pat is always looking for excuses to visit our DC office, so I think this would work best. Give us some dates that work for you all in early February and we will work it out. The only date out for me is February 8th.

Donna,

Thank you for your call today. It was good to speak with you. I hope you have a safe trip and a very productive day of advocacy tomorrow.

I am not sure what transpired concerning the advocacy day to support funding for school nutrition equipment funds, but I am confident something may have been lost in translation. Let's plan a time in the near future for a meeting between the Academy and SNA; ideally Pat, Patti, you, and I can meet to discuss items of mutual agreement where we can collaborate to advocate for school nutrition programs.

If there is a time in February that you and Pat anticipate a trip to DC, we can schedule a time for a face-to-face meeting. After all, we have a lot to talk about and our “presidential clocks are ticking.”

Best to you always,

Tom, This is a most inspiring piece on what our members did during the many disasters. Thanks for pouring your heart and soul into this piece. It shows and it will be a powerful President's page. Good to go!

As we start down the home stretch I wanted to share with you some of my ideas for the last President's pages. I would be happy to discuss any of these with you. Have a wonderful holiday with your family.

Hi, Donna: Attached for your review is our draft of your March President's Page. We heard back from three members who were involved in disaster relief, and we quoted all three.

We also thanked each of them, not only for their hard work and dedication (and that of their colleagues) but also for their help with this article. Each of them sent much more information than we could include, and it was all very inspirational!

Please let us know if this text looks OK to you, and we will send it to the Journal. Of course we're glad to make any needed edits. Thank you very much, we'll talk to you soon!

This type of belittling and harassment has been going on for quite some time on Twitter and Facebook.

You would think that after the bullying, harassment and threats I was subject to by fellow dietitians on Dietitians on the Blog Facebook page in September that I would be the first one to sign on to the 'Civility Pledge' Professional Civility - Food & Nutrition Magazine introduced by F&N magazine during FNCE. On the surface it sounded good and in fact I have no issue with the "pledge" itself, but when I read the Guiding Principles more closely I had concerns:

1. Why was this a Food and Nutrition Magazine initiative and not something put forth by the Academy?
2. We have a Code of Ethics and a revised one in the works, why do we need a "pledge"?
3. Who reviewed this? Typically the Academy sends out these sorts of things for comments/responses/feedback before making them public - but they didn't do that with the pledge - at least as far as I know.
4. I won't sign a "pledge" that includes this "As a vehicle for engagement and connection, social media should not be used for disrupting fellow colleagues' engagement with their communities. Practitioners who feel compelled to question the content of a fellow colleague should do so in a private message, and to recognize that it is the recipient's choice whether to engage in further conversation" Here's the thing,

* once you post on Twitter your community is the world. Social media encompasses Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat, Instagram, LinkedIn, Pinterest...while there certainly are situations when you could have a restricted "community" on some of these formats, e.g. a closed group on Facebook (like the Dietitians on the Blog page that bullied and threatened me) this is certainly not the case with Twitter. Once you post on Twitter your community is the world.

*You cannot restrict someone's right to free speech

*How would I know if someone is "fellow colleague" if they, like many dietitians, don't identify themselves as such in their profile?

*If someone is posting something that is blatantly incorrect don't we have a responsibility to question this (in a civil, respected manner) so that others watching silently and part of the community are aware that this information may not be correct?

5. free speech

6. Once you "take the pledge" your name is included so now we have a vehicle to belittle those that have not signed it? Is this really productive or a positive way to handle this? Do people know that their names are going to be published?

I'm happy to draft something if you all feel a response is warranted, but I would keep it very short and sweet.

FYI, here was Leah's engagement over the weekend. She also wrote to F&N this morning and requested to be removed from the mailing list as she no longer wants to receive the magazine.

<image002.jpg>

She goes on with a subsequent Facebook update: "I really like being a dietitian but sometimes it is abundantly clear to me that there is WAY too much estrogen/pettiness/mean girlness in this profession. ..please encourage more men to become dietitians...we need them."

I'm happy to draft something if you all feel a response is warranted, but I would keep it very short and sweet.

FYI, here was Leah's engagement over the weekend. She also wrote to F&N this morning and requested to be removed from the mailing list as she no longer wants to receive the magazine.

<image002.jpg>

She goes on with a subsequent Facebook update: "I really like being a dietitian but sometimes it is abundantly clear to me that there is WAY too much estrogen/pettiness/mean girlness in this profession. ..please encourage more men to become dietitians...we need them."

I appreciate the intent of the Civility Pledge and clearly a discussion on this is needed given what some of our members, like Neva Cochran, Robyn Flipse, Sylvia Klinger and others have been subjected to by members of "Dietitians for Professional Integrity" as well as what vocal advocates of LEAP/MRT have said on-line about members like Milton Stokes and Sherry Coleman Collins.

This type of belittling and harassment has been going on for quite some time on Twitter and Facebook.

You would think that after the bullying, harassment and threats I was subject to by fellow dietitians on Dietitians on the Blog Facebook page in September that I would be the first one to sign on to the 'Civility Pledge' Professional Civility - Food & Nutrition Magazine introduced by F&N magazine during FNCE. On the surface it sounded good and in fact I have no issue with the "pledge" itself, but when I read the Guiding Principles more closely I had concerns:

1. Why was this a Food and Nutrition Magazine initiative and not something put forth by the Academy?
2. We have a Code of Ethics and a revised one in the works, why do we need a "pledge"?
3. Who reviewed this? Typically the Academy sends out these sorts of things for comments/responses/feedback before making them public - but they didn't do that with the pledge - at least as far as I know.
4. I won't sign a "pledge" that includes this "As a vehicle for engagement and connection, social media should not be used for disrupting fellow colleagues' engagement with their communities. Practitioners who feel compelled to question the content of a fellow colleague should do so in a private message, and to recognize that it is the recipient's choice whether to engage in further conversation" Here's the thing,

* once you post on Twitter your community is the world. Social media encompasses Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat, Instagram, LinkedIn, Pinterest...while there certainly are situations when you could have a restricted "community" on some of these formats, e.g. a closed group on Facebook (like the Dietitians on the Blog page that bullied and threatened me) this is certainly not the case with Twitter. Once you post on Twitter your community is the world.

*You cannot restrict someone's right to free speech

*How would I know if someone is "fellow colleague" if they, like many dietitians, don't identify themselves as such in their profile?

*If someone is posting something that is blatantly incorrect don't we have a responsibility to question this (in a civil, respected manner) so that others watching silently and part of the community are aware that this information may not be correct?

5. free speech

6. Once you "take the pledge" your name is included so now we have a vehicle to belittle those that have not signed it? Is this really productive or a positive way to handle this? Do people know that their names are going to be published?

Donna,

Are you getting cash back when paying your AP vendor bills? Concur helps small businesses turn their AP department into a revenue generating machine by paying invoices via the Concur Invoice payment manager.

Quick Facts:

Ø Clients get 1.5% cash back incentives on an average of 30% of their annual vendor spend.

- Example: $5M of Vendor Spend = $25,000 Rebate

Ø Concur Invoice has proven to increase productivity.

- Provides Mobile Approvals

- Eliminates Manual Data Entry

- Paperless (avoid duplicate invoices & late payments)

I'd love to learn more about your business and determine if Concur would make sense. Do you have 15 minutes this week or next for a quick introductory call?

Hi, Donna: Attached for your review is our draft of your March President's Page. We heard back from three members who were involved in disaster relief, and we quoted all three.

We also thanked each of them, not only for their hard work and dedication (and that of their colleagues) but also for their help with this article. Each of them sent much more information than we could include, and it was all very inspirational!

Please let us know if this text looks OK to you, and we will send it to the Journal. Of course we're glad to make any needed edits. Thank you very much, we'll talk to you soon!

Three options. I kind of like the longest one best because it indirectly demonstrates that Leah is happy to be recognized for causes she supports but doesn't want anyone to be recognized for causes she does not support; however, the shortest one gives her the least meat to chew on.

I'm happy to draft something if you all feel a response is warranted, but I would keep it very short and sweet.

FYI, here was Leah's engagement over the weekend. She also wrote to F&N this morning and requested to be removed from the mailing list as she no longer wants to receive the magazine.

She goes on with a subsequent Facebook update: "I really like being a dietitian but sometimes it is abundantly clear to me that there is WAY too much estrogen/pettiness/mean girlness in this profession. ..please encourage more men to become dietitians...we need them."

This type of belittling and harassment has been going on for quite some time on Twitter and Facebook.

You would think that after the bullying, harassment and threats I was subject to by fellow dietitians on Dietitians on the Blog Facebook page in September that I would be the first one to sign on to the 'Civility Pledge' Professional Civility - Food & Nutrition Magazine introduced by F&N magazine during FNCE. On the surface it sounded good and in fact I have no issue with the "pledge" itself, but when I read the Guiding Principles more closely I had concerns:

1. Why was this a Food and Nutrition Magazine initiative and not something put forth by the Academy?

2. We have a Code of Ethics and a revised one in the works, why do we need a "pledge"?

3. Who reviewed this? Typically the Academy sends out these sorts of things for comments/responses/feedback before making them public - but they didn't do that with the pledge - at least as far as I know.

4. I won't sign a "pledge" that includes this "As a vehicle for engagement and connection, social media should not be used for disrupting fellow colleagues' engagement with their communities. Practitioners who feel compelled to question the content of a fellow colleague should do so in a private message, and to recognize that it is the recipient's choice whether to engage in further conversation" Here's the thing,

* once you post on Twitter your community is the world. Social media encompasses Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat, Instagram, LinkedIn, Pinterest...while there certainly are situations when you could have a restricted "community" on some of these formats, e.g. a closed group on Facebook (like the Dietitians on the Blog page that bullied and threatened me) this is certainly not the case with Twitter. Once you post on Twitter your community is the world.

*You cannot restrict someone's right to free speech

*How would I know if someone is "fellow colleague" if they, like many dietitians, don't identify themselves as such in their profile?

*If someone is posting something that is blatantly incorrect don't we have a responsibility to question this (in a civil, respected manner) so that others watching silently and part of the community are aware that this information may not be correct?

5. free speech

6. Once you "take the pledge" your name is included so now we have a vehicle to belittle those that have not signed it? Is this really productive or a positive way to handle this? Do people know that their names are going to be published?

Hi Donna, Lucille and Mary,

I have another affiliate speaker grant request! This one is from the DC Metro Academy for their annual conference on April 20 in Washington DC. Prior to them filling out the form they asked me who was available on that date, and I told them that the three of you are already committed at other events so they completed the request knowing your schedules are already full for April 20. They are asking for Marcy, Manju, Hope or Tammy.

Let me know if you would like to approve the speaker grant pending the attached application.

Thanks!

I appreciate the intent of the Civility Pledge and clearly a discussion on this is needed given what some of our members, like Neva Cochran, Robyn Flipse, Sylvia Klinger and others have been subjected to by members of "Dietitians for Professional Integrity" as well as what vocal advocates of LEAP/MRT have said on-line about members like Milton Stokes and Sherry Coleman Collins.

This type of belittling and harassment has been going on for quite some time on Twitter and Facebook.

You would think that after the bullying, harassment and threats I was subject to by fellow dietitians on Dietitians on the Blog Facebook page in September that I would be the first one to sign on to the 'Civility Pledge' Professional Civility - Food & Nutrition Magazine introduced by F&N magazine during FNCE. On the surface it sounded good and in fact I have no issue with the "pledge" itself, but when I read the Guiding Principles more closely I had concerns:

1. Why was this a Food and Nutrition Magazine initiative and not something put forth by the Academy?
2. We have a Code of Ethics and a revised one in the works, why do we need a "pledge"?
3. Who reviewed this? Typically the Academy sends out these sorts of things for comments/responses/feedback before making them public - but they didn't do that with the pledge - at least as far as I know.
4. I won't sign a "pledge" that includes this "As a vehicle for engagement and connection, social media should not be used for disrupting fellow colleagues' engagement with their communities. Practitioners who feel compelled to question the content of a fellow colleague should do so in a private message, and to recognize that it is the recipient's choice whether to engage in further conversation" Here's the thing,

* once you post on Twitter your community is the world. Social media encompasses Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat, Instagram, LinkedIn, Pinterest...while there certainly are situations when you could have a restricted "community" on some of these formats, e.g. a closed group on Facebook (like the Dietitians on the Blog page that bullied and threatened me) this is certainly not the case with Twitter. Once you post on Twitter your community is the world.

*You cannot restrict someone's right to free speech

*How would I know if someone is "fellow colleague" if they, like many dietitians, don't identify themselves as such in their profile?

*If someone is posting something that is blatantly incorrect don't we have a responsibility to question this (in a civil, respected manner) so that others watching silently and part of the community are aware that this information may not be correct?

5. free speech

6. Once you "take the pledge" your name is included so now we have a vehicle to belittle those that have not signed it? Is this really productive or a positive way to handle this? Do people know that their names are going to be published?

I'm happy to draft something if you all feel a response is warranted, but I would keep it very short and sweet.

FYI, here was Leah's engagement over the weekend. She also wrote to F&N this morning and requested to be removed from the mailing list as she no longer wants to receive the magazine.

She goes on with a subsequent Facebook update: "I really like being a dietitian but sometimes it is abundantly clear to me that there is WAY too much estrogen/pettiness/mean girlness in this profession. ..please encourage more men to become dietitians...we need them."

Thanks, Donna! I'm very glad we are doing this, too!

One correction, I was thinking that Mary would be in South Carolina on the 20th, but that date was changed so, Mary, if you are interested in taking this one let us know. (With holiday schedules and travelling Joan and I can wait as needed until the new year before corresponding with the affiliate.)

Thanks,

Amy

Hi Donna, Lucille and Mary,

I have another affiliate speaker grant request! This one is from the DC Metro Academy for their annual conference on April 20 in Washington DC. Prior to them filling out the form they asked me who was available on that date, and I told them that the three of you are already committed at other events so they completed the request knowing your schedules are already full for April 20. They are asking for Marcy, Manju, Hope or Tammy.

Let me know if you would like to approve the speaker grant pending the attached application.

Thanks!

Hi Megan,

We haven't communicated about your 2018 spring meeting for awhile! And, unfortunately I realized that I needed to make other arrangements for you regarding this meeting.

My youngest daughter is pregnant and due very close to your meeting date. I realized that this would be too challenging to worry about her timing and me presenting at your meeting. So, I asked another Board member, Tammy Randall, if she would be so kind as to present at your meeting in my place.

She has kindly agreed to do this on behalf of the Board and Academy.

I am so sorry for this change. Obviously at the time I originally accepted I had no idea of this impending surprise.. I know however, that Tammy has done these previously and your meeting will be enhanced by her participation.

I have sent to Tammy the link you had sent to me but if you would now directly connect with her about this meeting and all the information you need, that would be great. I have included her on this email and her direct office phone number is 216-368-6630.

I wish you a happy holiday season and a healthy, productive 2018. Please do confirm receiving this email communication from me. Have a wonderful meeting and again my apologies. I am sorry to miss your meeting!

All my best,

Hope Barkoukis

Donna,

My records indicate you saw our media analysis previously. I wanted to reach to see if there might be any value in reconnecting to see our new features (PR Attribution, Pinpoint Contacts).

We recently hired a new SVP of Sales and Marketing who is set on making a push towards the end of the year. With that being said, I've seen some exceptional pricing coming through the door lately, and I think you'd be interested in see what we have to offer.

Do you have 20 minutes available this week to revisit the platform and see our newest features?

AAFP Response to Administration's CDC Directive

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Saturday, Dec. 16, 2017

Statement attributable to:

Michael Munger, MD

President

American Academy of Family Physicians

The American Academy of Family Physicians, which represents 129,000 family physicians and medical students, is both surprised and concerned by the Administration's clear disregard for the importance of science and evidence-based medicine.

Recent public reports indicate that the Administration has shackled the CDC with inexplicable rules banning certain terms from the agency's budget requests. This action is an obvious attempt to politicize the most fundamental tenets of medicine and research, which will have a chilling effect on the CDC's ability to rely on science to justify the work it does to protect public health.

While we at the AAFP represent family physicians, our highest priority is improving the health of patients, families and communities. When the top public health agency in the country is -- in an unprecedented move by the Administration -- required to temper its reliance on evidence-based medicine, the health of the public is at risk. We urge the Administration to fully assess the broader implications of this purely political maneuver and reconsider its recent directive to the CDC.

Editor's Note: To arrange an interview with Dr. Munger, contact Leslie Champlin, (800) 274-2237, Ext. 5224, or lchampli@aafp.org(email.prnewswire.com).

I appreciate the intent of the Civility Pledge and clearly a discussion on this is needed given what some of our members, like Neva Cochran, Robyn Flipse, Sylvia Klinger and others have been subjected to by members of "Dietitians for Professional Integrity" as well as what vocal advocates of LEAP/MRT have said on-line about members like Milton Stokes and Sherry Coleman Collins.

This type of belittling and harassment has been going on for quite some time on Twitter and Facebook.

You would think that after the bullying, harassment and threats I was subject to by fellow dietitians on Dietitians on the Blog Facebook page in September that I would be the first one to sign on to the 'Civility Pledge' Professional Civility - Food & Nutrition Magazine introduced by F&N magazine during FNCE. On the surface it sounded good and in fact I have no issue with the "pledge" itself, but when I read the Guiding Principles more closely I had concerns:

1. Why was this a Food and Nutrition Magazine initiative and not something put forth by the Academy?

2. We have a Code of Ethics and a revised one in the works, why do we need a "pledge"?
3. Who reviewed this? Typically the Academy sends out these sorts of things for comments/responses/feedback before making them public - but they didn't do that with the pledge - at least as far as I know.
4. I won't sign a "pledge" that includes this "As a vehicle for engagement and connection, social media should not be used for disrupting fellow colleagues' engagement with their communities. Practitioners who feel compelled to question the content of a fellow colleague should do so in a private message, and to recognize that it is the recipient's choice whether to engage in further conversation" Here's the thing,
 - * once you post on Twitter your community is the world. Social media encompasses Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat, Instagram, LinkedIn, Pinterest...while there certainly are situations when you could have a restricted "community" on some of these formats, e.g. a closed group on Facebook (like the Dietitians on the Blog page that bullied and threatened me) this is certainly not the case with Twitter. Once you post on Twitter your community is the world.
 - *You cannot restrict someone's right to free speech
 - *How would I know if someone is "fellow colleague" if they, like many dietitians, don't identify themselves as such in their profile?
 - *If someone is posting something that is blatantly incorrect don't we have a responsibility to question this (in a civil, respected manner) so that others watching silently and part of the community are aware that this information may not be correct?
5. free speech
6. Once you "take the pledge" your name is included so now we have a vehicle to belittle those that have not signed it? Is this really productive or a positive way to handle this? Do people know that their names are going to be published?

I kept it pretty quiet (found out while at FNCE). I had a bone spur removed at c5, disks removed at c5, c6 and c7, bone grafts where they disk the disk removals, and they put in three support cages at those spots. Am on house arrest for 4 weeks. :). Tim is doing awesome taking care of me, though!

Doing pretty good. Today is the first day I feel slightly human.

Dear School Nutrition Colleagues:

I wanted to update you about the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' School Foodservice Equipment Modernization Project. I participated in the Congressional Briefing and Senate visits on Wednesday, December 13.

First of all, thank you so much for sharing your stories and allowing me to spend time in your schools, kitchens and cafeterias during November and December. Please express my sincerest gratitude to all your staff, administrators and others who agreed to be interviewed on camera. I do understand how busy everyone is – and know that they had to take time out of their very busy days!

I was able to share short stories about equipment successes and needs during my ten minutes of the briefing. They were also a very important part of my three visits to the offices of Senators Susan Collins (ME), Tom Udall (AZ) and my own Jon Tester (MT). Really, I could not have represented school nutrition programs without your situations and real life conditions top of my mind.

Unfortunately, for multiple reasons, the footage from your schools did not make it into the 7-minute video that was shown at the briefing. None of the issues were your fault or responsibility. They included problems with sound quality and video format. For example, the producers were not even able to view the North Dakota footage before putting the draft together.

While I am very disappointed that your truly important stories not get shown in DC this week, I am happy to report that the video footage from California and North Dakota will still be used in the ongoing Academy work on this topic. Academy President Donna Martin and Jeanne Blankenship, Vice President, Policy Initiatives and Advocacy at the Academy. are looking into various possibilities including a longer documentary about school nutrition and a FNCE 2018 presentation next October in Washington DC.

I have attached a PDF of the briefing slides for your information. You can view the video footage used online at https://www.dropbox.com/s/u8feozh558ixkhd/Foodservice%20Equipment%20Modernization%20Final_1.mp4?dl=0. I want you to have access to the raw video so your use clips for your own public relations and communications as soon as possible. Stay tuned for specifics on how you can access the video footage.

Thanks again for your time, expertise and assistance in this important work. If there is ever anything that I can do for you or your program, please do not hesitate to contact me. Please feel free to text or phone me at 406-698-8868.

Best wishes for wonderful holidays with your family and friends. Please take time for plenty of well-deserved R-and-R!

Dayle

A very important story indeed, and you all did a fantastic job of making a compelling argument, though I'll admit I was already sold! Thanks, Jeanne for your help with this. And thank you, Donna for your offer to send along the list, I'll look forward to that.

Thanks, and have a great weekend!

Hi there!

I attended the congressional briefing on Wednesday and have a follow-up request. During Donna's presentation, she went through many pieces of foodservice equipment that are needed in school kitchens. I'd be interested in getting that list for some work that my organization, FoodCorps, is doing. Would it be possible for someone to send me that list?

Thank you!

Greetings everyone,

As I reflect on the spirit of the season, the joy of giving, the fellowship of family and friends, the blessings of health, an occupation and a warm and safe place to live.....it makes me pause and give thanks for all of you and what you do and give from the heart to the profession that we love and those whose lives you touch in countless ways.

Thanks for inspiring us collectively and other dietetic professionals to be the best we can be, individually and as a proactive and responsive organization.

May your holiday season be filled with smiles, hearty laughter, fellowship, rest and renewal for an exciting 2018 around the corner!

My best to each of you,

Subject: FW: WCPD9: Workshop Presentation and Draft Summit Statement

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

Lucille forwarded me the final draft of the summit statement and asked that I respond on her behalf. Thank you for the opportunity to review the final draft summit statement "Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action." At a minimum the Academy has two suggestions for the paper. It appears the information regarding the Academy's diabetes guidelines has been removed, therefore we ask that brief statement be added about the three papers recently published in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics regarding a diabetes systematic review (1) and guideline (2). The references are included in a comment, please see page five on the attached document. Also, it is important for the authors to use patient centered language. Otherwise it is a "yes" with the understanding it will undergo copyediting prior to joint publication. If you can share the names of the organizations to which the statement is being submitted for publication, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Regarding the list of authors, in an earlier communication you mentioned that the list of the co-authors was based on the significant contribution and representation of the major organizations, and the full list of the group will be added in the footnotes. Please include Lucille, written as: Lucille Beseler, 2016-17 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President, on the co-author list and the list other Academy representatives in the footnotes written as follows.

Donna Martin, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President

Jo Jo Dantone, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Treasurer

Marcy Kyle, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Speaker-elect

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thank you again for the opportunity to be part of this collaborative publication!

Joan

Dear Lucille and Jo Jo ,

please find attached the almost final version of the statement , kindly consider the below :

- at this point , no major change(s) are allowed , it is almost a Yes or No version
- We will edit the IMAGE tables and rearrange the references in unified format
- should this version fails to meet the minimal expectations of the Nutrition Academy , we will still be interested in getting one of you (Lucille – Jo Jo or Donna) as a coauthor , the others may be included in the full list , kindly forward this email to Donna since I do not have her email
- the deadline for your response is November 30th , we expect the statement to be published beginning of 2018
- if you like we could meet for dinner Friday November 17th at Marriott Hotel for more discussion

Dear Dr. Ibrahim

Thank you so much for the opportunity to be represented at WCPD9. It was a wonderful conference. My colleagues and I enjoyed speaking and meeting individuals from all over the world. Marcy walked away from the Summit filled with gratitude that nutrition services by RDN's was a strong recommendation. We will review the statement and get back to you as soon as possible. I would like very much to offer my assistance as an advisor in the planning sessions for the next Congress and other initiatives. We agree we would like to collaborate further.

Subject: FW: WCPD9: Workshop Presentation and Draft Summit Statement

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Lucille Beseler, thank you for the opportunity to review the draft summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. Although Lucille will be in attendance at the summit on Saturday, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics offers the following general comments for your consideration in advance of the meeting. We have also attached the Academy's Prevention of Type 2 Diabetes Evidence-based Nutrition Practice Guideline executive summary, which can be found on our Evidence Analysis Library <https://www.andeal.org/topic.cfm?menu=5344>. This document may provide additional insight for nutrition intervention.

We are aware there will be a second draft developed for review and we will be pleased to share more detailed comments at that time.

- Is the focus of the paper global or domestic? GLOBAL
- If it is a global statement perhaps it should address diabetes prevention in general, i.e., including other diabetes prevention strategies. YES
- Intervention is mentioned at the beginning of the paper, is this going to be addressed throughout? YES
- Who is the target audience, the general population, or those at increased risk for Type 2 Diabetes? Health care professionals , however there should be also an executive summary for the decision makers , media and lay people (general population)
- Under the Community design, built environment and food insecurity section, perhaps policy issues can be addressed here. YES , please provide your suggestions
- Has the initiative by the World Health Organization been considered? "The mission of the WHO Diabetes Programme is to prevent type 2 diabetes and to minimize complications and maximize quality of life for all people with diabetes. Our core functions are to set norms and standards, promote surveillance, encourage prevention, raise awareness and strengthen prevention and control." <http://www.who.int/diabetes/en/> , We are aware of it , I guess the draft matches with its main contents but it could be also considered as a reference

Thank you again for including the Academy in the development of this important statement paper. We will be pleased to submit the paper for consideration for co-publication in our Journal, along with others including Endocrine Practice, Diabetes Care and Diabetes and Metabolism. We look forward to continued collaboration. Sure , your journal is very important considering the huge number of members and potential readers .

I attended the congressional briefing on Wednesday and have a follow-up request. During Donna's presentation, she went through many pieces of foodservice equipment that are needed in school kitchens. I'd be interested in getting that list for some work that my organization, FoodCorps, is doing. Would it be possible for someone to send me that list?

Speaker Message 14 Draft Fall HOD Motion for Review

This is the last Speaker Message for 2017. We'll see you in 2018!

Please view the holiday message from the HLT.

Fall HOD Meeting Motion Process Begins

Thank you again for the rich dialogue at the fall meeting. The HLT spent much time reviewing the HOD workbooks and interviews, and drafted the HOD Electronic Motion #1 Championing Nutrition and Dietetics Practitioners in Roles of Leadership in Public Health for review and vote by delegates.

Current Action

As noted in today's discussion post, we are currently beginning the period that is considered the motion review phase of conducting business electronically.

- Delegates should review the motion and offer any suggested edits to clarify the motion on this discussion post.

- Delegates can also ask additional questions with the intent of clarifying the motion.

This period allows you, the delegates, to provide direct input to the final motions to be presented. Later in the process you'll have the opportunity to speak for or against the motions. Right now the goal is to ensure the language of the motion is clear. You do not need to indicate whether you support/don't support the motion or vote. Your opportunity to do so will come later, as noted in the timeline below.

Motion Timeline

•Review Phase: Thursday, December 14 – Tuesday, December 19

- 2nd Review Phase: Monday, January 8 – Thursday, January 11
- Deliberation Phase: Wednesday, January 17 – Friday, January 19
- Voting Phase: Friday, January 19 – Wednesday, January 24

All phases end at noon (CT) on the last day listed. Please make a note of all dates.

- Be prepared to engage in these activities from December 14 – January 24.
- If you are unable to participate, inform hod@eatright.org of your proxy.
- Also proxies who attended the fall meeting in place of delegates and were designated to vote should participate in this full process.

Mega Issue Updates

We heard your feedback and will continue to work to provide concise updates from the past mega issues. Today we begin by sharing a few updates on recent mega issues.

Wellness and Prevention (Fall 2016/Spring 2017)

- We are currently continuing to gather updates from the individuals working on Wellness and Prevention Pilot projects and look forward to sharing the information in the new year.
- Coming soon—a new online Assess and Learn module on The Role of Nutrition in Health Promotion and Prevention from CDR.

Future Practice (Spring 2017)

- We are finalizing a document that contains a snapshot of existing future practice resources categorized by each area (People, Personal, Workplace, and Applied Knowledge) identified in the All-Member Call to Action for Future Practice.
- Delegates should continue to discuss and share the All-Member Call to Action for Future Practice during your delegate updates.

Technological Innovations that Impact Food and Nutrition (Spring 2016)

- There is a new Certificate of Training Program: Informatics in Nutrition. The Academy's Center for Lifelong Learning, planned with the Nutrition Informatics Committee, the NIC Consumer Health Informatics Workgroup, and the Interoperability and Standards Committee, offers this program to ensure nutrition professionals stay up-to-date with the latest methods of processing and using data in all areas of the profession. Donna,

Thank you for your call today. It was good to speak with you. I hope you have a safe trip and a very productive day of advocacy tomorrow.

I am not sure what transpired concerning the advocacy day to support funding for school nutrition equipment funds, but I am confident something may have been lost in translation. Let's plan a time in the near future for a meeting between the Academy and SNA; ideally Pat, Patti, you, and I can meet to discuss items of mutual agreement where we can collaborate to advocate for school nutrition programs.

If there is a time in February that you and Pat anticipate a trip to DC, we can schedule a time for a face-to-face meeting. After all, we have a lot to talk about and our "presidential clocks are ticking."

Best to you always,

Lynn

Dear NDEP Members,

Do you have an innovative teaching approach, or teach an unusual topic in dietetics? Does your program have a unique design? Have you found a solution to problems other directors or preceptors struggle with? We have 4-5 opportunities for members to give a short presentation (20-30 minutes each) about their best practices at each Spring regional meeting. See information specifically for each of the three regional meetings below:

Western Region

Albuquerque, NM, March 8-9th, 2018

We are looking forward to seeing everyone at the 2018 Western Nutrition and Dietetic Educator and Preceptor (NDEP) meeting in New Mexico. Mark your calendars for March 8th – March 9th, 2018! To submit a "Best Practice," for the western region meeting, please fill out the Best Practices form and send it to peggy-turner@ouhsc.edu by January 19th. You will be notified if accepted by February 9th.

Eastern Region

Charlotte, NC, March 22nd-23rd, 2018

We are looking forward to seeing everyone at the 2018 Eastern Nutrition and Dietetic Educator and Preceptor (NDEP) meeting in Charlotte, NC. Mark your calendars for March 22nd-23rd, 2018! To submit a "Best Practice," for the eastern region, please fill out the Best Practices form and send it to michelle.sagrignano@compass-usa.com by February 5th. You will be notified if accepted by February 15th.

Central Region

Clayton, MO, April 19-20th, 2018

We are looking forward to seeing everyone at the 2018 Central Nutrition and Dietetic Educator and Preceptor (NDEP) meeting in Clayton, MO. Mark your calendars for April 19th – 20th, 2018! To submit a "Best Practice," please fill out the Best Practices form and send it to Kim.Matwiejow2@va.gov, by February 26th. You will be notified if accepted by March 19th.

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

Lucille forwarded me the final draft of the summit statement and asked that I respond on her behalf. Thank you for the opportunity to review the final draft summit statement "Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action." At a minimum the Academy has two suggestions for the paper. It appears the information regarding the Academy's diabetes guidelines has been removed, therefore we ask that brief statement be added about the three papers recently published in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics regarding a diabetes systematic review (1) and guideline (2). The references are included in a comment, please see page five on the attached document. Also, it is important for the authors to use patient centered language. Otherwise it is a "yes" with the understanding it will undergo copyediting prior to joint publication. If you can share the names of the organizations to which the statement is being submitted for publication, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Regarding the list of authors, in an earlier communication you mentioned that the list of the co-authors was based on the significant contribution and representation of the major organizations, and the full list of the group will be added in the footnotes. Please include Lucille, written as: Lucille Beseler, 2016-17 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President, on the co-author list and the list other Academy representatives in the footnotes written as follows.

Donna Martin, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President

Jo Jo Dantone, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Treasurer

Marcy Kyle, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Speaker-elect

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thank you again for the opportunity to be part of this collaborative publication!

Subject: FW: WCPD9: Workshop Presentation and Draft Summit Statement

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Lucille Beseler, thank you for the opportunity to review the draft summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. Although Lucille will be in attendance at the summit on Saturday, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics offers the following general comments for your consideration in advance of the meeting. We have also attached the Academy's Prevention of Type 2 Diabetes Evidence-based Nutrition Practice Guideline executive summary, which can be found on our Evidence Analysis Library <https://www.andeal.org/topic.cfm?menu=5344>. This document may provide additional insight for nutrition intervention.

We are aware there will be a second draft developed for review and we will be pleased to share more detailed comments at that time.

- Is the focus of the paper global or domestic? GLOBAL
- If it is a global statement perhaps it should address diabetes prevention in general, i.e., including other diabetes prevention strategies. YES
- Intervention is mentioned at the beginning of the paper, is this going to be addressed throughout? YES
- Who is the target audience, the general population, or those at increased risk for Type 2 Diabetes? Health care professionals , however there should be also an executive summary for the decision makers , media and lay people (general population)
- Under the Community design, built environment and food insecurity section, perhaps policy issues can be addressed here. YES , please provide your suggestions
- Has the initiative by the World Health Organization been considered? “The mission of the WHO Diabetes Programme is to prevent type 2 diabetes and to minimize complications and maximize quality of life for all people with diabetes. Our core functions are to set norms and standards, promote surveillance, encourage prevention, raise awareness and strengthen prevention and control.” <http://www.who.int/diabetes/en/> , We are aware of it , I guess the draft matches with its main contents but it could be also considered as a reference

Thank you again for including the Academy in the development of this important statement paper. We will be pleased to submit the paper for consideration for co-publication in our Journal, along with others including Endocrine Practice, Diabetes Care and Diabetes and Metabolism. We look forward to continued collaboration. Sure , your journal is very important considering the huge number of members and potential readers .

Subject: FW: WCPD9: Workshop Presentation and Draft Summit Statement

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

On behalf of Lucille Beseler, thank you for the opportunity to review the draft summit statement Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action. Although Lucille will be in attendance at the summit on Saturday, the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics offers the following general comments for your consideration in advance of the meeting. We have also attached the Academy's Prevention of Type 2 Diabetes Evidence-based Nutrition Practice Guideline executive summary, which can be found on our Evidence Analysis Library <https://www.andeanal.org/topic.cfm?menu=5344>. This document may provide additional insight for nutrition intervention.

We are aware there will be a second draft developed for review and we will be pleased to share more detailed comments at that time.

- Is the focus of the paper global or domestic? GLOBAL
- If it is a global statement perhaps it should address diabetes prevention in general, i.e., including other diabetes prevention strategies. YES
- Intervention is mentioned at the beginning of the paper, is this going to be addressed throughout? YES
- Who is the target audience, the general population, or those at increased risk for Type 2 Diabetes? Health care professionals , however there should be also an executive summary for the decision makers , media and lay people (general population)
- Under the Community design, built environment and food insecurity section, perhaps policy issues can be addressed here. YES , please provide your suggestions
- Has the initiative by the World Health Organization been considered? “The mission of the WHO Diabetes Programme is to prevent type 2 diabetes and to minimize complications and maximize quality of life for all people with diabetes. Our core functions are to set norms and standards, promote surveillance, encourage prevention, raise awareness and strengthen prevention and control.” <http://www.who.int/diabetes/en/> , We are aware of it , I guess the draft matches with its main contents but it could be also considered as a reference

Thank you again for including the Academy in the development of this important statement paper. We will be pleased to submit the paper for consideration for co-publication in our Journal, along with others including Endocrine Practice, Diabetes Care and Diabetes and Metabolism. We look forward to continued collaboration. Sure , your journal is very important considering the huge number of members and potential readers .

Joan

Dear All ,

You are already invited to join the two hours summit to be held parallel to the 9th World Congress on Prevention of Diabetes and its Complications, Georgia World Congress Center , Room A406 , it should be on Saturday Dec 3rd 17.00 – 19.00 .

please find attached the first draft of the proposed statement to be discussed in our summit , kindly consider the following :

- this document is just a first draft subjected to changes and/or modifications , so please feel free to comment and suggest
- the statement should serve as an action plan , so we need to focus on the key factors , the specific actions and programs to prevent diabetes in a novel approach.
- you are more than welcome to send your comments in advance
- also those whom won't be able to attend , can still send their comments by e-mail , hopefully in advance

Dear Dr. Ibrahim,

Lucille forwarded me the final draft of the summit statement and asked that I respond on her behalf. Thank you for the opportunity to review the final draft summit statement “Global Status of Diabetes Prevention and Prospects for Action.” At a minimum the Academy has two suggestions for the paper. It appears the information regarding the Academy’s diabetes guidelines has been removed, therefore we ask that brief statement be added about the three papers recently published in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics regarding a diabetes systematic review (1) and guideline (2). The references are included in a comment, please see page five on the attached document. Also, it is important for the authors to use patient centered language. Otherwise it is a “yes” with the understanding it will undergo copyediting prior to joint publication. If you can share the names of the organizations to which the statement is being submitted for publication, our editor can reach out to the other journal editors.

Regarding the list of authors, in an earlier communication you mentioned that the list of the co-authors was based on the significant contribution and representation of the major organizations, and the full list of the group will be added in the footnotes. Please include Lucille, written as: Lucille Beseler, 2016-17 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President, on the co-author list and the list other Academy representatives in the footnotes written as follows.

Donna Martin, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics President

Jo Jo Dantone, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Treasurer

Marcy Kyle, 2017-18 Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Speaker-elect

Please let me know if you have any questions. Thank you again for the opportunity to be part of this collaborative publication!

Dear Lucille and Jo Jo ,

please find attached the almost final version of the statement , kindly consider the below :

- at this point , no major change(s) are allowed , it is almost a Yes or No version
- We will edit the IMAGE tables and rearrange the references in unified format
- should this version fails to meet the minimal expectations of the Nutrition Academy , we will still be interested in getting one of you (Lucille – Jo Jo or Donna) as a coauthor , the others may be included in the full list , kindly forward this email to Donna since I do not have her email

- the deadline for your response is November 30th , we expect the statement to be published beginning of 2018
- if you like we could meet for dinner Friday November 17th at Marriott Hotel for more discussion

Subject: Medallion Award

Dear Wahida,

It was a pleasure speaking with you today! The overall Medallion point total is based on many factors that culminate in an overall score, as outlined below:

SCORING CRITERIA

1. Has contributed to the profession: (70 points total)
 - a. Academy National elected/appointed positions (15 points)
 - b. State/District and/or DPG/MIG elected/appointed positions (15 points)
 - c. Non-academy National elected/appointed positions (15 points)
 - d. Candidate was instrumental in moving the profession forward, on the cutting edge (15 points)
 - e. Broad sphere of influence and effect on dietetics as a whole (10 points)
2. Has demonstrated personal characteristics such as: (50 points total)
 - a. Dedication to high standards of the profession. (10 points)
 - b. Source of inspiration and outstanding role model. (10 points)
 - c. Promotion of the registered dietitian nutritionist and food and nutrition. (10 points)
 - d. Service to others in allied fields and the community. (10 points)
 - e. Unique experiences which are of unusual interest to the profession. (10 points)

The three to five letters of support should include a summary spanning your career, since the Medallion is a lifetime achievement award; you need not focus on the last 10 years for instance. Nominees generally review their packet before it is submitted, so be sure to ask to see it. In your case, in addition to spokesperson, research, and academia, please have the submitters include elected and/or appointed positions at the:

- National
- DPGs/MIGs
- State/district levels.

I have also attached wedding photos from Doris. I wish you and your family a wonderful Thanksgiving!

Best regards,

Pat

Dear Wahida,

It was a pleasure speaking with you today! The overall Medallion point total is based on many factors that culminate in an overall score, as outlined below:

SCORING CRITERIA

1. Has contributed to the profession: (70 points total)
 - a. Academy National elected/appointed positions (15 points)
 - b. State/District and/or DPG/MIG elected/appointed positions (15 points)
 - c. Non-academy National elected/appointed positions (15 points)
 - d. Candidate was instrumental in moving the profession forward, on the cutting edge (15 points)
 - e. Broad sphere of influence and effect on dietetics as a whole (10 points)
2. Has demonstrated personal characteristics such as: (50 points total)
 - a. Dedication to high standards of the profession. (10 points)

- b. Source of inspiration and outstanding role model. (10 points)
- c. Promotion of the registered dietitian nutritionist and food and nutrition. (10 points)
- d. Service to others in allied fields and the community. (10 points)
- e. Unique experiences which are of unusual interest to the profession. (10 points)

The three to five letters of support should include a summary spanning your career, since the Medallion is a lifetime achievement award; you need not focus on the last 10 years for instance. Nominees generally review their packet before it is submitted, so be sure to ask to see it. In your case, in addition to spokesperson, research, and academia, please have the submitters include elected and/or appointed positions at the:

- National
- DPGs/MIGs
- State/district levels.

I have also attached wedding photos from Doris. I wish you and your family a wonderful Thanksgiving!

Best regards,

Pat

The briefing was well organized and was effective in telling the story. Thank you for being flexible and stepping up to the plate to lead in areas without being asked and for working so well together as a team.

We look forward to speaking with you all on Friday's debriefing call.

In the mean time, stay warm and enjoy your grits

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

Academy Briefs Congress: School Foodservice Equipment Modernization

The Academy organized a December 13 congressional briefing on "School Foodservice Equipment Modernization," showcasing the need for improving equipment and infrastructure. The briefing highlighted the multi-state school cafeteria tour in recent weeks by President Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND; President-elect Mary Russell, MS, RDN, LDN, FAND; and Academy members Nancy Z. Farrell, MS, RDN, FAND, and Dayle Hayes, MS, RD. Martin and Hayes spoke at the briefing, which was followed by visits to congressional offices to seek support for school foodservice equipment modernization.

Congress Approves Continuing Resolution Averting Government Shutdown

Congress passed a two-week continuing resolution December 7 to fund the government at current levels through December 22. The short-term bill averts a government shutdown and allows time for Congress to agree on a bipartisan budget agreement to raise caps set by sequestration. The bill also included a short-term solution for states to continue to operate the Children's Health Insurance Program through December 22. The Academy asked Congress to ensure any bipartisan budget agreement allows for increased investment in nutrition and health programs.

Congress also still needs to reauthorize CHIP and other health programs. The Academy will continue to provide updates in the coming weeks.

Academy Supports Research to Improve Prevention Communication Tools

The Academy received positive feedback from the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion on recent comments on prevention communication formative research. The Academy highlighted the importance of collaboration with other agencies and with Academy members to reduce duplicative research. ODPHP agreed with the importance of focusing on communication that addresses diverse populations to reduce health disparities, and with testing products and plans with health professionals and consumer audiences. ODPHP appreciates its continued relationship with the Academy and looks forward to continuing to collaborate on these important initiatives.

Hi,

First, no need to panic when you read the subject line, as this email serves as an FYI, not a call to action. I was just informed that unfortunately Cindy Kanarek Culver resigned from APC due to her professional workload and other leadership responsibilities. In addition to serving on APC, she serves this year as chair of the School Nutrition Services DPG. Since APC is currently undergoing an evaluation, in speaking with the Academy staff partner we don't see a need to replace Cindy at this time. Her term was currently set to end May 31, 2018.

Date: December 13, 2017

Time: 9 a.m. -3:30 p.m. ET

Location: Capitol Hill, Washington, DC

Room: Dirksen Senate Building, Room SD-G50

Hi everyone,

The School Foodservice Equipment Modernization Hill Briefing and Advocacy Hill Day hosted by the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics kicks off tomorrow at 9 a.m. for those who are participating in the hill visits. If there has been changes to your schedule and you can no longer attend, please contact me, Tenásha Williams-Ebrahimkhel at your earliest convenience.

The schedule is as follows:

9 – 10 a.m. Meeting for those participating in Hill visits, Room SD-G50

10 – 11:30 a.m. Hill briefing and brunch, Room SD-G50

Noon – 3:30 p.m. Hill visits with targeted offices

Important Details:

1. Dress code: Capitol Hill is conservative, we recommend wearing business attire with sensible shoes — there will be lots of walking.
2. Tomorrow's weather is expected to reach 33 degrees.
3. Plan your transportation to the event. The U.S. Capitol is metro accessible. The closest stop to the Senate is Union Station (Red Line). The closest stop to the House is Capitol South (Orange/Blue/Silver). Parking is available at Union Station if you plan to drive. Note: there is limited street parking near the Capitol. Our event is located on the Senate side.
4. If you are attending the afternoon hill visits, you must attend the pre-hill meeting at 9 a.m. We will review logistics, key messaging and advocacy documents. Team leaders will receive a packet with a list of Hill visits and team assignments. Note: Individuals representing different advocacy experience levels will be on each team.
5. The hill briefing is 10 to 11:30 a.m. and will include brunch. We will hear remarks from education and food nutrition experts.
6. Hill visits are noon to 3:30 p.m. with targeted key committee members. You will likely be meeting with the House and Senate staff. We encourage you to follow up with your members of Congress in district if they are not part of the visits on Wednesday. The Academy has scheduled your hill visits and you will receive the information at the pre-hill meeting.

For your reference, attached you will find the issue brief about the School Foodservice Equipment Modernization project. If you have questions and/or concerns, please contact Jeanne Blankenship or Tenášha Williams-Ebrahimkhel.

I look forward to seeing you tomorrow!

School Foodservice Equipment Modernization Hill Briefing and Advocacy Day

Tomorrow, the Academy is hosting an advocacy day and hill briefing with partner organizations from 9 a.m. – 3:30 p.m. ET on Capitol Hill in Dirksen Senate Building, Room SD-G50. Academy President, Donna Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND will be moderating a panel of nutrition and education experts that will help inform policymakers about the importance of retained funding that will be used to expand schools' access to modern kitchen equipment. In the afternoon, we will be advocating for funding that currently has been included in current Congressional funding proposals. Want to stay updated on the hill briefing and advocacy day events? Check out PIA Staffer, @ErinMahn Twitter feed for more info (Erin Mahn Zumbrun is the Manager of Policy and Advocacy Communications).

FNCE 2018 - Save the Date

Everyone, get excited— FNCE 2018 date has been announced! FNCE 2018 will take place in Washington, DC on October 20 to 23. Public Policy Workshop (PPW) will follow FNCE on Wednesday, October 24! Stay up to date on all things FNCE, here.

National Farm to School Network Quarterly Webinar, January 9

The National Farm to School Network will be have its quarterly webinar, Placing Equity at the Center of Farm to Early Care Education, on January 9. Access to farm to ECE opportunities may be one approach to addressing health and education inequities by increasing access to healthy, local foods and high-quality education opportunities for children and communities while promoting ECE policies that address inequity. Register here.

National Child Nutrition Conference Scholarship, Application Deadline January 24

The National Child Nutrition Conference will be held in San Antonio, TX on April 19-21, 2018. If you need financial assistance in attending the conference, the Foundation is offering more than $20,000 in scholarship. Scholarships cover registration fees and lodging, with $300 funds for travel expenses. The scholarship application for the 2018 National Child Nutrition Conference is open through January 24, 2018.

Update on Training Materials

The Academy is revising the Grassroots Advocacy Guidebook and the Affiliate position training/orientation webinars in an effort to update the content and maximize the effectiveness. Several Academy members have reviewed and offered feedback on the guidebook and webinars. The updated material should be available in early 2018. Webinar trainings from previous years are available on the COI.

News from the Hill & Beyond

Government Shutdown Averted, for Now

Congress passed a continuing resolution on the evening of Thursday, December 7 to avoid a government shutdown until December 22 (the unofficial deadline). The bill also included a short-term solution for states to continue to operate the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) through December 22. It allows the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) to redistribute leftover CHIP funds to states that run out of money, but does not allocate any additional funds. Congress also still needs to reauthorize CHIP and other health programs. The Academy will continue to provide updates.

Tax Reform Still Ticking

It looks like the House will not vote this week on a final tax bill. However, negotiations are still being made in conference to reconcile differences between the House and Senate versions (read a comparison of the two bills, here). The tax conference committee will meet publicly for this first time tomorrow. The House will be working through the week of December 18th (despite the Congressional calendars stating they will be in recess) to help expedite the process. The Academy shared our concerns with the House and Senate tax bills. We will continue to update Academy members with any changes in the bill text.

Two-Year Spending Cap Increases Excepted to be Over $200 Billion

Members of Congress are in discussions on how much to raise discretionary spending caps in a two-year budget deal. As a reminder, sequestration was created by lawmakers as a way to reduce the nation's deficit by enacting the Budget Control Act of 2011 (BCA). The BCA put caps on discretionary spending, and cuts to these caps via "sequestration." Sequestration is a process of automatic, typically uniform spending reductions where budget resources are permanently cancelled. Sequestrations return in 2018 and will further cut public health programs by another $3 billion, unless an agreement is made to raise the spending levels. Challenges to reach a budget deal remain high as a bipartisan solution is needed to reach an agreement on how high to raise the caps. The Academy continues to urge Congress to come to an agreement that will allow investment in evidence-based nutrition programs to improve the health and well-being of Americans.

Academy Supports Research to Improve Prevention Communication Tools

The Academy received a positive response from the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (ODPHP) on recent comments submitted on prevention communication formative research. In the comments, the Academy highlighted the importance of collaboration with other agencies and with Academy members to reduce duplicative research. ODPHP also recognized the importance of focusing on communication that addresses diverse populations to reduce health disparities, and with testing products and plans with health professionals and consumer audiences. ODPHP expressed its appreciation and looks forward to continuing to collaborate on important initiatives.

Important Congressional Issues Require Your Action!

As a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, please urge your policymakers to support legislation that protects and values nutrition services in areas of prevention and treatment (including treatment and reduction of obesity and diabetes prevention) and in the role of nutrition education as highlighted in the Farm Bill. It is important for members of Congress to hear from their constituency. As vital decisions are made regarding health care in the upcoming weeks, the voice of every member is critical. Take action today!

Donna and I spent some time this morning walking through the ppt. slides and finessing the transitions. We have made a few changes:

1. Presenters: Donna will introduce all speakers at the beginning of the presentation. When it is your turn to present, please walk to the podium. You will advance your own slides from the computer.
2. Order of presentations: We moved Dayle's slides again. Dayle will introduce the video and then share her slide deck after the video. The order of presenters will be: Donna, Dayle, Mr. Falana, Tony, and Rodney.
3. Questions: We changed the flow of the questions. We will not have folks ask questions in between presenters. Donna will play it by ear, so may ask some follow up questions depending on audience engagement and time. At the end, Donna will facilitate Q&A. Presenters can stay seated when answering and I can walk around the room with a microphone for audience questions if needed. Tenesha confirmed that there is a podium mike, table mike, and wireless mike for audience questions.

4. PPT. Draft: I have attached another draft of the full presentation to this email including Dayle's edits. Please review and see if you have any additional changes. Please see that I have some notes embedded in the notes section. I also need the final video link, so I can include it in the ppt. deck.

Joan Schwaba, MS, RDN, LDN

Director, Strategic Management
Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

Greetings from ACEND,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND[®]) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the December Standards Update is posted on the ACEND webpage: Monthly Standards Update. In this issue there is a comparison between the 2017 and Future Education Model Accreditation Standards and a call for the second cohort of demonstration program applications is issued.

The monthly Virtual Town Hall meetings are held on the second Thursday of the month at 1 PM Central Time. The town hall provides a time for ACEND to share updates on its standards work and for stakeholders to ask questions. Information on joining the town hall can be found at www.eatrightpro.org/FutureModel. Starting on January 17, 2018, the virtual town halls will be held on the 3rd Wednesday of the month at 3:00 pm CT.

Please share this information with your constituents/colleagues. If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

Mary Gregoire, PhD, RD

ACEND Executive Director

Hey Donna,

So far we have about 12 hill visits confirmed for tomorrow and I know that you wanted us to hand out fresh grits you will be flying in with as a gift for congress members we meet with. I would say that we need no more than 20-25 packages of grits, given the number of appointments we have and people we want to give them away to. I also know they are heavy to lug around in a suitcase, so no need to bring too many!

Hi Nancy,

Thank you for your feedback. To clarify, the Strategic Communications team only received the link to the video rough cut this morning and we turned around comments as quickly as we could.

Regarding my feedback in particular, I want you first to know that I greatly appreciate the hard work that goes into video production and I would not devalue the effort on this particular project. However, when it comes to the objective evaluation of media that represents the Academy, our top priority is the optimal reflection of the organization. I am truly sorry that you are offended as that is not my intent, but all elements of Academy videos must be up to professional standards and I would be remiss if I did not flag appropriately.

Thank you, Jeanne, for ensuring the edits are made. Let me know if there is anything you or the video editor would like to talk through.

Hello all,

I am disappointed to just open and see these comments from Strategic Communications.

Liz, I did the VO and I am sorry you feel it is amateurish. The hired video team and I did the best job we could do in a limited school sound environment on a one day shoot with little time.

The Illinois based Videographer and I were put in a position to work very late into the nights, and this past weekend to produce a video in the past 5 days. There were plenty of obstacles in this project caused by numerous delays and lack of timely communication. If desired, I can address your other comments in an evaluation of this project.

This is not the final video, but unfortunately your edits, while much appreciated and noteworthy, come in very late in the process. This video was to be used tomorrow morning.

At this point, I think the Academy Leadership should determine the best course of action for its use tomorrow; and then please let me know.

Sincerely,

who is affordable and would be much, much better.

- Donna's chyron: The organization name is Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (never &)
- At 01:25 please ask the editor to cut around the "got milk?" bin (Academy videos should not include food brands or trademarked campaigns).
- Don't abbreviate titles and institutions in the chyrons. Spell out fully. (re: Rachel Murphy)

All,
I will work with the videographer to make the changes that were recommended. It is customary for Strategic Communications to review the final product, which was done as it was made available. And the proposed edits are reasonable.

I suggested that we use the video for the briefing and the five minutes it will take and then we can revisit the voice over after the briefing before we post the video anywhere. Likely, the sound quality can be improved by using more sophisticated equipment.

Hello all,

I am disappointed to just open and see these comments from Strategic Communications.

Liz, I did the VO and I am sorry you feel it is amateurish. The hired video team and I did the best job we could do in a limited school sound environment on a one day shoot with little time.

The Illinois based Videographer and I were put in a position to work very late into the nights, and this past weekend to produce a video in the past 5 days. There were plenty of obstacles in this project caused by numerous delays and lack of timely communication. If desired, I can address your other comments in an evaluation of this project.

This is not the final video, but unfortunately your edits, while much appreciated and noteworthy, come in very late in the process. This video was to be used tomorrow morning.

At this point, I think the Academy Leadership should determine the best course of action for it's use tomorrow; and then please let me know.

Sincerely,

Nancy Z. Farrell, MS, RDN, FAND

I will make the changes - and I think we will have to use the VO for the briefing and then we can revise before we send out, is that agreeable?

Hi Jeanne,

Overall pretty good, but a couple of concerns. My feedback below:

- Your video producer needs a better VO narrator. The current VO sounds very amateurish and doesn't stand up to the quality of the video. Do you need a professional VO? I can get you one who is affordable and would be much, much better.
- Donna's chyron: The organization name is Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics (never &)
- At 01:25 please ask the editor to cut around the "got milk?" bin (Academy videos should not include food brands or trademarked campaigns).
- Don't abbreviate titles and institutions in the chyrons. Spell out fully. (re: Rachel Murphy)
- Remove the production title on the final frame. Unless this was a pro bono project and the production title was a condition in the agreement, it very unprofessional and creates a terrible precedent. Please remove.

I'm here to talk through any questions!

Liz

The Association of Nutrition & Foodservice Professionals will celebrate Pride in Foodservice Week for the 27th consecutive year from February 5 - 9, 2018! This week of recognition applauds nutrition and foodservice professionals, as well as other dietary team members for their hard work and dedication to the industry and their jobs.

We hope that you will participate in Pride in Foodservice Week and celebrate your team's hard work! Here are a few ideas to help you and your team celebrate:

- Employee Spotlight (on a bulletin board, poster or other visual display)
- Conduct a nutrition or other food-related trivia contest
- Publish a webpage, eNewsletter, or social media post highlighting staffs favorite recipes or healthy eating tips

Once Pride in Foodservice Week is over, tell us how your staff was recognized! ANFP will review all submissions and the top three celebrations will receive credit ($100 1st Place, $75 2nd Place, $50 3rd Place) in the ANFP Marketplace!

To learn more about ANFP's Pride in Foodservice Week, visit www.ANFPonline.org/PIFSW. Share your pride using the hashtag #PIFSW18 to be featured on the official ANFP Twitter and Facebook pages!

Headed to the airport to go to DC for the Advocacy Day Briefing. I am taking two suitcases of local grits to give out on the hill visits. Hope security lets me through. I am also doing a video taping early tomorrow morning in DC for the Dairy Council on feeding children. Then Thursday night I am headed to Birmingham for an internship talk Friday morning. Dear Donna,

I am angry at the position paper just published on food insecurity. The opener states that adequate food is a fundamental right. This is not true. Since humans left the garden of Eden, mankind has had to work for its food. The failure of parents to feed their children is their failing...not society's failing. To call it a right is to politicize charity; to insist the government provide SNAP benefits for all.

I donate to our local food bank: I don't want anyone to starve. However, we are usurping power we do not have if we mandate meals. Should we be able to sue families who do not provide good food for their kids? After all, you are saying it is their "right" akin to the rights to a free publicly funded education. Parents who do not send their children to school are breaking the law. Would you penalize poor families who are depriving their kids of the "right" to dinner?

Dear Elizabeth,

On behalf of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, I would like to offer a heartfelt THANK YOU for your 15 years of continuous membership.

We value your exemplary loyalty and service to our organization, and your continued support allows the Academy to stay on the cutting-edge of the nutrition and dietetics profession. While you're well aware of what the Academy offers, here are some benefits we encourage you to consider:

- Member-preferred discounts on professional publications, FNCE® registration and life-long learning opportunities.
- Access to position and practice papers that critically study current facts, data and research literature to provide profession-wide standards.
- Specific practice area knowledge through dietetic practice group (DPG) memberships that cover specialty areas - over 20 DPG memberships available.
- Up to 54 free CPE opportunities annually via the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, including ethics article CPE (required by CDR).

Your continued membership with the Academy has not gone unnoticed. You are the backbone of our organization, and we would not be where we are without you.

Congratulations on this impressive achievement!

Thanks Pat for handling this. I thought her response was an unusual one.

Headed to the airport to go to DC for the Advocacy Day Briefing. I am taking two suitcases of local grits to give out on the hill visits. Hope security lets me through. I am also doing a video taping early tomorrow morning in DC for the Dairy Council on feeding children. Then Thursday night I am headed to Birmingham for an internship talk Friday morning. Never a dull moment.

Dear Donna,

I am angry at the position paper just published on food insecurity. The opener states that adequate food is a fundamental right. This is not true. Since humans left the garden of Eden, mankind has had to work for its food. The failure of parents to feed their children is their failing...not society's failing. To call it a right is to politicize charity; to insist the government provide SNAP benefits for all.

I donate to our local food bank: I don't want anyone to starve. However, we are usurping power we do not have if we mandate meals. Should we be able to sue families who do not provide good food for their kids? After all, you are saying it is their "right" akin to the rights to a free publicly funded education. Parents who do not send their children to school are breaking the law. Would you penalize poor families who are depriving their kids of the "right" to dinner?

Dear NDEP Members,

The Accreditation Council for Education in Nutrition and Dietetics (ACEND[®]) is writing to keep you informed of our standards development work. A copy of the December Standards Update is posted on the ACEND webpage: Monthly Standards Update In this issue there is a comparison between the 2017 and Future Education Model Accreditation Standards and a call for the second cohort of demonstration program applications is issued.

The monthly Virtual Town Hall meetings are held on the second Thursday of the month at 1 PM Central Time. The town hall provides a time for ACEND to share updates on its standards work and for stakeholders to ask questions. Information on joining the town hall can be found at www.eatrightpro.org/FutureModel. Starting on January 17, 2018, the virtual town halls will be held on the 3rd Wednesday of the month at 3:00 pm CT.

If you or they have questions, please send them to acend@eatright.org or call 312-899-4872, so we can respond to them. Future editions of the monthly update will include these questions and an ACEND response.

Thank you.

CDR Oncology Nutrition Job Analysis Survey

Please help us by completing this job analysis survey to identify tasks and knowledge reflective of the professional role of a Certified Specialist in Oncology Nutrition (CSO).

The results of this survey will help develop the specifications for the Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR) Certified Specialist in Oncology Nutrition (CSO) certification exam.

The survey will likely require 15 to 20 minutes to complete.

Your individual responses will be kept confidential and will be combined with those of other respondents.

The deadline to complete the survey is January 7, 2018.

This is a great way to contribute to the profession and ensure a high standard is maintained.

If you have any questions, please direct all inquiries to specialists@eatright.org.

Thank you very much.

Donna- I just saw that myself! And was about to text you - Burke County? Correct?

As for IL Sandy- I know it's long but we see many items in her piece- satellite delivery, combi oven, hamburgers assembled in cramped closet, and food rolled out onto gym. We need this voiceover to show the equipment inadequacy piece. Then she ends with need for continued dollars appropriated to school FS

Attachment:

As part of Advocacy Day on December 13 the Academy will host a congressional briefing with partner organizations on "School Foodservice Equipment Modernization." The briefing for congressional staff and the public, taking place in Washington, D.C., will address the need for improving school nutrition program equipment and infrastructure. Donna will be presenting at the briefing along with other RDNs representing the Academy and school foodservice experts.

Academy members have the opportunity to attend Advocacy Day to inform policymakers about the importance of foodservice modernization in schools and to advocate for the School Food Modernization Act (H.R. 3006/S. 1402).

A press release announcing the congressional briefing on school foodservice equipment modernization is posted on the Academy's website and can be viewed here

Dear All:

Here is a draft of the slides for Wednesday. I have written in the notes section of each of the slides. I thought we could review these tomorrow on our 9am ET call in order to figure out what else we need.

Looking forward to chatting. We are in the home stretch!

Dear All:

I watched the Syracuse footage that Kevin Dorsey (the videographer) uploaded to my dropbox account yesterday. I am not sure if it is too late to include clips from there, but here's what would be useful. Include where you see appropriate or not given your time limitations.

File: Corcoran DJI_mp4: If you need any more B-roll, this short clip gives an aerial shot from a drone camera of the high school, Corcoran, that is in desperate need of modernization.

File: Corcoran_12-7_001: This clip is the footage of the kitchen that needs renovation and new equipment. My understanding is that we may need more clips to illustrate the need. In particular, I think the clip of the Food Service Director, Rachel Murphy, talking from start time 9:41(ish) to stop time of 10:01 ish, could be good to include. You may also just want to look at the poor flooring shots and small 3-bay sinks to illustrate how outdated the equipment is.

File: Corcoran_12-7_005: This clip is of Rachel Murphy, RDN who is the School Nutrition Director of Syracuse City Schools. She has a great sound bite at start time 4:02 and stop time 4:09 where she says the success of Fowler High School is because of the equipment and infrastructure.

File: Corcoran_12-7_002: This clip is of Donna. You may want to consider these quotes: 2:16 to 3:15. 4:39 to 5:35 and 5:54 to 14:50.

File: Corcoran_12-7_003: This clip is of children from Corcoran. Consider clip 14:37 to 14:50 and 4:44 to 5:21. They were so wonderful.

Please let me know if you want or can use any of these clips, so I can communicate with the district to have all of the releases in hand by Wednesday.

Thanks,
Liz

Best advice I was given: Take the broadest first position that you can to give you the greatest variety of experiences possible, because you can specialize later when you truly realize your highest passion. Then, and delivered with as much passion, get involved early with your professional organization, volunteer on a committee as soon as possible and don't stop giving back---you will gain far more than you give from your experiences with other professional dietitians and health care professionals you work with. Decades later, I still believe these were good words of wisdom ---and I pass them along to our student interns who work with us..... I share what folks I have met through the years have meant to me and that I have been a better professional than would have been possible had I not been involved beyond my workplace.

I am working on a presentation to student dietetic interns. Would it be possible to ask Board members if they would share with me the most valuable professional advice they ever received? *
Note, not the advice they would give, but rather that which they received.

Thanks so much,

Join us on December 13 at 10am to learn about the need for modernized foodservice equipment in schools!

Dear Colleague,

As director of the Burke County, Ga., school nutrition program, I have seen firsthand how challenging it is to prepare healthy, appealing and economical meals when you don't have the equipment you need. I have heard from other school nutrition professionals across the country that the lack of proper equipment and outdated kitchens hinders schools' ability to adapt to the nutritional needs of the nation's students.

I invite you to join me Wednesday, December 13 in Washington, D.C., for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' advocacy day for the School Foodservice Modernization Equipment Project and congressional briefing.

Your participation will help inform policymakers about the importance of grants to expand schools' access to modern kitchen equipment and to advocate for funding that currently has been included in current Congressional funding proposals.

Schedule at a glance:

9 a.m. - 10 a.m.: Meeting for those participating in Hill visits, Dirksen Senate Building, Room SD-G50

10 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.: Congressional briefing, Dirksen Senate Building, Room SD-G50

Noon - 3:30 p.m.: Capitol Hill visits

The advocacy day and congressional briefing are open at no cost to all partners and allies in the field and friends of the nutrition and dietetics community. Register here for the event.

Please do not hesitate to contact Jeanne Blankenship with questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

Dear NDEP Members –

NDEP is pleased to announce the 2018 Outstanding Dietetic Educator Award nominations are now being accepted! The purpose of the Outstanding Dietetics Educator Award (ODEA) is to recognize the teaching, mentoring, and leadership activities of faculty in ACEND-accredited dietetics education programs. One educator can be selected from each of the four program types in each geographic region (a maximum of four awardees from each of the six geographic regions for a total of 24).

In addition to publishing the list of outstanding educators in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics and NDEP-line, each awardee will receive a certificate and congratulatory letter from the Academy President. Awards will be presented at the 2018 NDEP regional meetings.

Eligibility

- Nominees must be a current member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, but are not required to be an NDEP member for consideration for this award.
- Preceptors are not eligible for this award as there is a separate award given to Outstanding Preceptors.
- Active NDEP Council members are not eligible for this award. For a listing of the current NDEP Council members go to www.ndepnet.org.
- Previous ODEA winners cannot be nominated for the same program award again; however, they could be nominated for an award for a different program type, if applicable.

Criteria for Selection of Outstanding Educators

- Member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics
- Educator and/or Program Director in an ACEND-accredited dietetics education program:
- Coordinated Program in Dietetics (CP)

- Dietetic Internship (DI)
- Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD)
- Dietetic Technician Program (DT)
- Demonstrated innovative teaching skills and techniques.
- Demonstrated mentoring of students.
- Demonstrated leadership; e.g., national, state, or district dietetic association activities, community service, honors received, scientific and professional presentations, publications, etc.

Selection Procedure and Submission Dates

Nominations from peers and/or students will be sent to the Nutrition and Dietetic Educators and Preceptors (NDEP) Regional Director in the corresponding geographic area by January 12, 2018. Each Regional Director will select no more than one educator for each type of dietetics education program (CP, DI, DPD, DT) in the region (maximum four).

Each nomination application will be a single PDF that includes the ODEA Data Sheet, curriculum vitae (or resume), and three reference letters. Nominations must be sent electronically. Jpeg documents or individual documents will not be accepted. Additional materials beyond the requested materials (data sheet, CV, letters) will not be reviewed.

Award Winners will be announced in March 2018!

For more information, please visit the NDEP website at www.ndepnet.org and refer to the attached documents for criteria and data sheets!

I used first names to make it more conversational, but if you prefer to use Ms. Hayes, etc, I can make sure you have a revised bio. Just let me know!

And I just want to add that you have been a rock star in these interviews, Donna! Thank you!

Good morning,

Please see the bios for the Wednesday. I have cut them down so they are only 2-3 sentences.

We will have printed copies of the bios on site, but I wanted to share with you, Donna, so you are familiar with the bios since you will be introducing the panelists. They are listed in order of appearance.

Let me know if you have any questions. I look forward to seeing everyone on Wednesday!

Thank you,

Erin

Good morning,

Thanks, again, for your joint effort to appoint individual to serve on LPPC, ANDPAC, and CPLS. All individuals have received their official notifications and the staff partners have initiated communication with them. Charlene and I are now working on sending letters (emails) to those individuals from the Opportunities to Serve survey that were not chosen. In doing so, I decided to update our standard letter. Before sending it out, I want to give you both the opportunity to review the letter and provide any recommended changes.

Please share your revisions or approval by Monday and we'll send them out.

Hi Jeanne—the visit was amazingly great and I want to get you an update. We are out of the country on vacation and WiFi is limited but will try to get you the scoop over the next few days. Lots going on with shortages. We have worked hard as a company and with ASPEN. Probably not a whole lot we can do as Academy right away given the acutely issues—supply trumps discussion right now. However we do IMO need to work with AsPEN on advocacy in this area.

I hope that the meeting went well with the site visit! I really appreciate your willingness to go and hope you found it interesting. When you get a chance let me know!

Also, wondering if we want to do anything on the drug shortage? I know you have been talking to ASPEN and others.

Thank you again!

Patrick,

We are hosting a Congressional briefing and advocacy day next week to discuss school food service equipment modernization grants that are including in the budget and hopefully will be retained in the future.

We are hoping to briefly meet with you between 12 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Our president, Donna Martin, is a school foodservice director for Burke County Public Schools in Waynesboro, GA and will be attending the meeting with me along with Rudy Falana, Superintendent, Burke County Public Schools. Can you let me know if you can fit us in? I will send you some information in advance so that you can review.

Thanks, appreciate how busy you are and the challenges of the holiday season!

I would be delighted to attend this meeting--pending the date and details. I see that they asked for an additional presentation which is great--would need some notice as my decks on these topics would have to be updated.

I am OK with extending to 3rd tier if we have the funds to do so. Not so sure about 4th at this time given their status as noted in the tier classification.

Hi Donna, Mary and Lucille,

I'm writing to share an update regarding the Affiliate Speaker Grants.

- Grants we have already approved – Main, Vermont, North Dakota, Iowa and Alaska
- Affiliates who were offered a grant and have expressed an interest in submitting – DC, Massachusetts, Nebraska
- Our latest speaker grant application came in from Utah. The application is attached. Let me know if you would like to approve it.

When we initially launched the grants, I split the affiliates into tiers. During October and November I extended offers to the first and second tier. I have not extended to the third and fourth tier. (Indiana and Tennessee are in the fourth tier and did request a Board member to attend without knowing about the grants.). I will continue to follow up with those states who expressed an interest. I'd like to know from you if you'd like me to continue to extend the offer to beyond the first and second tier.

First Tier - combination of "last visit" more than 5 years & year ended surplus under $10,000 & reserves under $100,000

Patrick,

We are hosting a Congressional briefing and advocacy day next week to discuss school food service equipment modernization grants that are including in the budget and hopefully will be retained in the future.

We are hoping to briefly meet with you between 12 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Our president, Donna Martin, is a school foodservice director for Burke County Public Schools in Waynesboro, GA and will be attending the meeting with me along with Rudy Falana, Superintendent, Burke County Public Schools. Can you let me know if you can fit us in? I will send you some information in advance so that you can review.

Thanks, appreciate how busy you are and the challenges of the holiday season!

No worries Lucille! I am running around getting ready to head out on vacation and did not get a chance to read till now.

I would be delighted to attend this meeting--pending the date and details. I see that they asked for an additional presentation which is great--would need some notice as my decks on these topics would have to be updated.

I am OK with extending to 3rd tier if we have the funds to do so. Not so sure about 4th at this time given their status as noted in the tier classification.

Good morning,

Thanks, again, for your joint effort to appoint individual to serve on LPPC, ANDPAC, and CPLS. All individuals have received their official notifications and the staff partners have initiated communication with them. Charlene and I are now working on sending letters (emails) to those individuals from the Opportunities to Serve survey that were not chosen. In doing so, I decided to update our standard letter. Before sending it out, I want to give you both the opportunity to review the letter and provide any recommended changes.

Please share your revisions or approval by Monday and we'll send them out.

Thank you,

I would be delighted to attend this meeting--pending the date and details. I see that they asked for an additional presentation which is great--would need some notice as my decks on these topics would have to be updated.

I am OK with extending to 3rd tier if we have the funds to do so. Not so sure about 4th at this time given their status as noted in the tier classification.

Join us on December 13 at 10am to learn about the need for modernized foodservice equipment in schools!

Dear Colleague,

As director of the Burke County, Ga., school nutrition program, I have seen firsthand how challenging it is to prepare healthy, appealing and economical meals when you don't have the equipment you need. I have heard from other school nutrition professionals across the country that the lack of proper equipment and outdated kitchens hinders schools' ability to adapt to the nutritional needs of the nation's students.

I invite you to join me Wednesday, December 13 in Washington, D.C., for the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics' advocacy day for the School Foodservice Modernization Equipment Project and congressional briefing.

Your participation will help inform policymakers about the importance of grants to expand schools' access to modern kitchen equipment and to advocate for funding that currently has been included in current Congressional funding proposals.

Good day,

ATT: Academy of Nutrition &Dietetics

We, at Eastern Sun Events, are the official organisers of the ICD Congress, to be held in Cape Town, South Africa from 15-18 September 2020.

We would like to request if it would be possible for the attached save-the-date to be added to your website, and for it to be linked to the congress website www.icda2020.com.

This would be of great assistance to us in marketing this event, and we believe of great benefit to your members in the case that they may wish to attend this valuable, educational meeting for their profession.

Kindly revert back should you have any further queries regarding the congress or the request in this email.

Kind regards,

- Our latest speaker grant application came in from Utah. The application is attached. Let me know if you would like to approve it.

When we initially launched the grants, I split the affiliates into tiers. During October and November I extended offers to the first and second tier. I have not extended to the third and fourth tier. (Indiana and Tennessee are in the fourth tier and did request a Board member to attend without knowing about the grants.). I will continue to follow up with those states who expressed an interest. I'd like to know from you if you'd like me to continue to extend the offer to beyond the first and second tier.

We usually are told about when proposals are to be sent in. I don't know if there are exceptions to the process. Last year SES did not let us know when call for abstracts began and we scrambled to put a few sessions together after the dates ended. I would like us to put some proposals together and then I want to promote the dates in ERW and on the web so that other members have a chance too.

Hi Pat,

We have already started promoting it. Here is what appeared in today's Eat Right Weekly ...

ICDA 2020: Information Now Available

Every four years, the International Confederation of Dietetic Associations - of which the Academy is a member - holds the International Congress of Dietetics to give food and nutrition professionals the opportunity "to share knowledge and to learn with colleagues from around the world." ICD 2020 will be hosted by the Association for Dietetics in South Africa. Information on ICD 2020 is now available.

Doris and Liz,

For Granada we did very little promotion and did not hold up our end of the bargain. We also had very few attendees from the US and only a handful of presenters. Embarrassing but not our fault.

Please include the info on the web and in ERW. Thanks.

Date: December 13, 2017

Time: 9 a.m. -3:30 p.m. ET

Location: Capitol Hill, Washington, DC

Room: Dirksen Senate Building, Room SD-G50

Thank you for registering to attend the School Foodservice Equipment Modernization Hill Briefing and Advocacy Hill Day on Wednesday, December 13 hosted by the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. The Hill Briefing (brunch will be served) begins at 10 a.m. ET. Please confirm with me, Tenásha Williams-Ebrahimkhel, that you will be attending the hill visits.

The schedule is as follows:

9 – 10 a.m. Meeting for those participating in Hill visits, Room SD-G50

10 – 11:30 a.m. Hill briefing and brunch, Room SD-G50

Noon – 3:30 p.m. Hill visits with targeted offices

Important Details:

1. Dress code: Capitol Hill is conservative, we recommend wearing business attire with sensible shoes — there will be lots of walking.
2. Plan your transportation to the event. The U.S. Capitol is metro accessible. The closest stop to the Senate is Union Station (Red Line). The closest stop to the House is Capitol South (Orange/Blue/Silver). Parking is available at Union Station if you plan to drive. Please note: there is limited street parking near the Capitol.
3. Please attend the pre-hill meeting at 9 a.m. ET if you are attending the afternoon hill visits. We will review logistics, key messaging and advocacy documents. You will receive a packet with a list of Hill visits and team assignments.

Please note: Individuals representing different advocacy experience levels will be on each team.

4. The hill briefing is 10 to 11:30 a.m. ET and will include brunch. We will hear remarks from education and food nutrition experts.

5. Hill visits are noon to 3:30 p.m. with targeted key committee members. You will likely be meeting with the House and Senate staff. We encourage you to follow up with your members of Congress in district if they are not part of the visits on Wednesday. The Academy will be handling all scheduling.

For questions and concerns, please contact Jeanne Blankenship and/or Tenášha Williams-Ebrahimkhel.

No worries Lucille! I am running around getting ready to head out on vacation and did not get a chance to read till now.

I would be delighted to attend this meeting--pending the date and details. I see that they asked for an additional presentation which is great--would need some notice as my decks on these topics would have to be updated.

I am OK with extending to 3rd tier if we have the funds to do so. Not so sure about 4th at this time given their status as noted in the tier classification.

Hi Donna, Mary and Lucille,

I'm writing to share an update regarding the Affiliate Speaker Grants.

- Grants we have already approved – Main, Vermont, North Dakota, Iowa and Alaska
- Affiliates who were offered a grant and have expressed an interest in submitting – DC, Massachusetts, Nebraska
- Our latest speaker grant application came in from Utah. The application is attached. Let me know if you would like to approve it.

When we initially launched the grants, I split the affiliates into tiers. During October and November I extended offers to the first and second tier. I have not extended to the third and fourth tier. (Indiana and Tennessee are in the fourth tier an did request a Board member to attend without knowing about the grants.). I will continue to follow up with those states who expressed an interest. I'd like to know from you if you'd like me to continue to extend the offer to beyond the first and second tier.

Hello, everyone ...

At our last NDEP Council meeting, we approved a description of the eligibility requirements and responsibilities of our NDEP Public Member, and also agreed that the NDEP Public Member would hold a voting role on NDEP Council. This position has been unfilled since the resignation of our last public member, Sandra Gill. When faced with replacing Sandra, I found that NDEP did not have an official position description for our public member, and thus Council members having been working on determining what the requirements and responsibilities should include.

Attached is the NDEP Public Member position description. Please take some time to review it, and then let me know if you have someone in mind that you would like us to consider as a candidate for our next NDEP Public Member for a two year term. I would like to be able to contact individuals who have been suggested by our NDEP members between now and the end of January so that we can determine their interest and eligibility.

Please contact me with the names and contact information of anyone that you have in mind as a candidate for this important position by January 15, 2018. Don't hesitate to let me know if you have any questions at all, and thank you for your assistance in this process.

ON THE PULSE OF PUBLIC POLICY

December 13: Academy's Advocacy Day

The Academy will host an advocacy day and congressional briefing with partner organizations on December 13 in Washington, D.C. Members will have the opportunity to inform policymakers about the importance of foodservice modernization in schools and to advocate for the School Food Modernization Act (H.R. 3006/S. 1402). The event is open to all Academy members at no cost.

Academy Tour: Georgia Public School Foodservice

The Academy worked with President Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND, to capture videos and interviews that showcase the impact of school foodservice equipment modernization and upgrades on schools' ability to serve healthy meals. The site visit to Waynesboro, Ga., was conducted as part of a project that demonstrates the importance of Congressional funding for equipment upgrades and will be featured at the Academy's December 13 advocacy day.

Nutrition Standards in School Meals: USDA Releases Interim Final Rule

The U.S. Department of Agriculture released an interim final rule November 29 allowing school nutrition directors more flexibility to serve 1-percent flavored milk and refined grains instead of whole grains in school meals. The rule also revises sodium targets for school breakfasts and lunches. The Academy has been at the forefront of these issues during previous debates and negotiations on child nutrition reauthorization with constant input from member leaders and dietetic practice groups. The Academy continues to support school nutrition directors who to lead in planning and serving nutritious school meals.

Preventive Health Savings Act Introduced in Senate

U.S. Senators Ben Cardin (Md.), Mike Crapo (Idaho), and Angus King (Maine) introduced S. 2164, the Preventive Health Savings Act, which would allow policymakers to more accurately analyze cost savings from legislation that would prevent chronic disease. The Academy has supported this bill in past congressional sessions; it is critical to gaining support for legislation that would improve access to nutrition services provided by Academy members.

Public-Private Partnerships and the 2018 Farm Bill

The Academy attended a recent "Where it Works" Workshop, an event co-sponsored by the Governors' Food and Farm Partnership and Feeding America, addressing issues of food insecurity in America; the role of the next Farm Bill in supporting community food systems; and the work of state-based public-private partnerships. The Academy's recommendations for the 2018 Farm Bill support programs that directly affect many registered dietitian nutritionists, including those working in nutrition education and research. The Farm Bill provides support and incentives for agriculture and for the most nutritionally vulnerable populations.

Involvement in ANDPAC Doesn't Require Making a Large Donation

It's a common myth that the only way to get involved in the Academy's political action committee is to donate lots of money. In reality, all member contributions of any level can go directly into the ANDPAC fund for direct political contributions and there is no minimum donation. Your annual donation, no matter how big or small, is combined with thousands of fellow members, unified in support of ANDPAC. There are many ways to get involved that don't require a financial contribution to participate: Organize an ANDPAC booth at your affiliate, dietetic practice group, member interest group or local association meetings; speak about ANDPAC at a member meeting; or attend an ANDPAC-sponsored fundraiser for a federal congressional candidate in your hometown.

No worries Lucille! I am running around getting ready to head out on vacation and did not get a chance to read till now.

I would be delighted to attend this meeting--pending the date and details. I see that they asked for an additional presentation which is great--would need some notice as my decks on these topics would have to be updated.

I am OK with extending to 3rd tier if we have the funds to do so. Not so sure about 4th at this time given their status as noted in the tier classification.

Hi Donna, Mary and Lucille,

I'm writing to share an update regarding the Affiliate Speaker Grants.

- Grants we have already approved – Main, Vermont, North Dakota, Iowa and Alaska
- Affiliates who were offered a grant and have expressed an interest in submitting – DC, Massachusetts, Nebraska
- Our latest speaker grant application came in from Utah. The application is attached. Let me know if you would like to approve it.

When we initially launched the grants, I split the affiliates into tiers. During October and November I extended offers to the first and second tier. I have not extended to the third and fourth tier. (Indiana and Tennessee are in the fourth tier and did request a Board member to attend without knowing about the grants.). I will continue to follow up with those states who expressed an interest. I'd like to know from you if you'd like me to continue to extend the offer to beyond the first and second tier.

Dear Donna,

I'm writing on behalf of Wendy Reinhardt Kapsak and the Produce for Better Health Foundation. I'm working with Wendy and her team to plan a few spring meetings, including a National Fruit and Vegetable Alliance meeting in Scottsdale, Arizona, on Wednesday, April 4.

We know you will be incredibly busy with spring affiliate meetings, but we wanted to assess your interest in participating in this meeting. The goal is to explore multi-sector strategies and partnerships for increasing fruit and vegetable consumption. We know many in the produce industry know and love you, but we want to share your expertise with a broader group of public health, nutrition, produce industry, CPG, retail, and foodservice leaders.

Please let us know if you're interested and available to be in Arizona for a few days that week. Also, please let us know if you'd like us to work with Joan at the Academy to make a formal request for your time.

Happy Thanksgiving!

- Affiliates who were offered a grant and have expressed an interest in submitting – DC, Massachusetts, Nebraska
- Our latest speaker grant application came in from Utah. The application is attached. Let me know if you would like to approve it.

When we initially launched the grants, I split the affiliates into tiers. During October and November I extended offers to the first and second tier. I have not extended to the third and fourth tier. (Indiana and Tennessee are in the fourth tier and did request a Board member to attend without knowing about the grants.). I will continue to follow up with those states who expressed an interest. I'd like to know from you if you'd like me to continue to extend the offer to beyond the first and second tier.

First Tier - combination of "last visit" more than 5 years & year ended surplus under $10,000 & reserves under $100,000

The woman who cut my dad's hair for years and years said she had to tell me a story that will always stick with her. One day my dad was in, and she said she was going on and on about her yard work. She's the type who spends a lot of effort into making sure the grass is kept and trimmed. And tending to all of the bushes and trees. She said she was complaining about how much work and time it took for the up keep. After a while of what she called rambling, my dad looked at her and said, “ya know, it's just grass”. She said she took that to heart and ever since then stopped stressing about how the yard looks.

So if you ever find yourself in a situation that you need some perspective, remember the saying "It's just grass".

If you can take a look at your sites, I have taken the information from each of your site reports and tried to pull in the key elements and interviews. I do not have a site report from IL, I will add that as soon as I have it. Let me know if you have any changes or things you think are must do's or can be eliminated. I didn't necessarily include all that was on the original site reports. I will adjust the formatting again once it comes back, trying to keep the beginning of each site visit on the top of a page.

We, at Eastern Sun Events, are the official organisers of the ICD Congress, to be held in Cape Town, South Africa from 15-18 September 2020.

We would like to request if it would be possible for the attached save-the-date to be added to your website, and for it to be linked to the congress website www.icda2020.com.

This would be of great assistance to us in marketing this event, and we believe of great benefit to your members in the case that they may wish to attend this valuable, educational meeting for their profession.

Kindly revert back should you have any further queries regarding the congress or the request in this email.

I've attached a draft meeting agenda; see the top of page 3 for details. We'll certainly provide more detail after the first of the year, once we've confirmed the panelists from CDC and USDA.

Joan, I've attached a request form. I used an affiliate request form...from my files when I was president of the California Academy. If you need a different form completed, please let me know.

Dear Donna,

I'm writing on behalf of Wendy Reinhardt Kapsak and the Produce for Better Health Foundation. I'm working with Wendy and her team to plan a few spring meetings, including a National Fruit and Vegetable Alliance meeting in Scottsdale, Arizona, on Wednesday, April 4.

We know you will be incredibly busy with spring affiliate meetings, but we wanted to assess your interest in participating in this meeting. The goal is to explore multi-sector strategies and partnerships for increasing fruit and vegetable consumption. We know many in the produce industry know and love you, but we want to share your expertise with a broader group of public health, nutrition, produce industry, CPG, retail, and foodservice leaders.

Please let us know if you're interested and available to be in Arizona for a few days that week. Also, please let us know if you'd like us to work with Joan at the Academy to make a formal request for your time.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Wow. Thank you so very much for your kindness. The flowers you sent are a gorgeous arrangement. It means so much to have your thoughts and support.

My dad was a very inspiring person. I learned so, so much from him and will miss him every day. A parting story that will stick with me is one that a family friend told me at the funeral. The woman who cut my dad's hair for years and years said she had to tell me a story that will always stick with her. One day my dad was in, and she said she was going on and on about her yard work. She's the type who spends a lot of effort into making sure the grass is kept and trimmed. And tending to all of the bushes and trees. She said she was complaining about how much work and time it took for the up keep. After a while of what she called rambling, my dad looked at her and said, "ya know, it's just grass". She said she took that to heart and ever since then stopped stressing about how the yard looks.

So if you ever find yourself in a situation that you need some perspective, remember the saying "it's just grass".

You would think that after the bullying, harassment and threats I was subject to by fellow dietitians on Dietitians on the Blog Facebook page in September that I would be the first one to sign on to the 'Civility Pledge' Professional Civility - Food & Nutrition Magazine introduced by F&N magazine during FNCE. On the surface it sounded good and in fact I have no issue with the "pledge" itself, but when I read the Guiding Principles more closely I had concerns:

1. Why was this a Food and Nutrition Magazine initiative and not something put forth by the Academy?
2. We have a Code of Ethics and a revised one in the works, why do we need a "pledge"?
3. Who reviewed this? Typically the Academy sends out these sorts of things for comments/responses/feedback before making them public - but they didn't do that with the pledge - at least as far as I know.
4. I won't sign a "pledge" that includes this "As a vehicle for engagement and connection, social media should not be used for disrupting fellow colleagues' engagement with their communities. Register for the School Foodservice Equipment Modernization Advocacy Day and Hill Briefing held on December 13

The Academy is hosting an advocacy day and hill briefing with partner organizations in support of School Foodservice Equipment Modernization on December 13 from 9 a.m. – 3:30 p.m. ET on Capitol Hill in Dirksen Senate Building, Room SD-G50. Your participation will help inform policymakers about the importance of grants to expand schools' access to modern kitchen equipment and to advocate for funding that currently has been included in current Congressional funding proposals.

Schedule at a Glance:

9 – 10 a.m. Meeting for those participating in Hill visits, Room SD-G50

10 – 11:30 a.m. Hill briefing, Room SD-G50

Noon – 3:30 p.m. Hill visits

It's not too late to attend - register today. The event is free and open to all members, allies in the nutrition education space and guests.

Opportunities to Serve on ANDPAC, LPPC and CPLS

Are you interested in volunteering to serve on an Academy committee during the 2018-2019 program year and beyond? Here's your chance to take the survey and express your interest. The Leadership Directory has a list of current committee members, and you can learn more about the description of each committee, here. Please note: You must be logged on to www.eatrightpro.org to access this information.

National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines Webinar Recording Now Available

The Academy's Nominating Committee held a National Campaign and Social Media Guidelines webinar on December 4. The webinar provided details and clarification on the campaign guidelines and how you can take an active role in the election process. The recorded webinar is available on the elections website.

News from the Hill

Update on Federal Spending Debate and Children's Health Insurance Program

As a reminder, the current continuing resolution (CR) that provides funding for the federal government expires on December 8. The U.S. House Appropriations Committee introduced a short-term CR to continue current funding levels until December 22, and also includes a short-term solution for states that would run out of money for the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) by December 31.

This short-term measure allows time for Congress to agree on a bipartisan budget agreement to raise the caps set by sequestration. Last week's planned meeting on the budget is postponed until December 7. The Academy continues to work with more than 800 national, state and local organizations in urging Congress to ensure that any bipartisan budget agreement allows for increased investment in nutrition and health programs.

Tax Reform Update

The tax reform debate continues on Capitol Hill, with the U.S. Senate passing a revised version of their tax reform proposal on December 2. Due to differences with the U.S. House of Representatives' version of the bill, a conference committee will now be formed to reconcile the bills, and the final bill must be voted on again in both chambers of Congress. The Academy reiterated our concerns in a letter to the Senators before the vote. The House narrowly passed the motion to proceed to conference on Monday evening.

The Academy will continue to monitor the tax reform legislation as it moves through the conference committee process. We will send an updated letter to Congressional leadership urging Congress to work in a bipartisan manner to draft common-sense reforms that would improve access to quality and affordable health care for all Americans. To learn more about why tax reform must go to conference, check out this video.

Friday's Funding Deadline

Congress must pass a bill by Friday to keep the government open. As of last week, congressional leaders have not come to a consensus on developing a long-term deal. " There's not going to be a government shutdown," Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell said. A stopgap spending measure would extend government funding through December 22, but would need bipartisan support.

USDA Publishes New School Meals Rule

Formalizing plans revealed in May, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) published an interim final rule last Wednesday that makes changes to standards for meals, specifically on whole grains, flavored one-percent milk and sodium requirements, provided under USDA's National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs. USDA's Food and Nutrition Service administers 15 nutrition assistance programs which include the National School Lunch Program, School Breakfast Program, Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC), and the Summer Food Service Program. The Academy expects to provide comments to USDA on the rule by January 29, 2018, and members are encouraged to work through their DPG Policy Advocacy Leader to provide input for our submission.

Prevention Fund not set in Stone

At the end of October, there were talks of the Prevention and Public Health Fund (Prevention Fund) being used to pay for the Community Health Centers program, the National Health Service Corps and other health care programs. While the Academy supports these vital programs, redirecting $6.35 billion (a 57 percent cut) to the Prevention Fund over eight years (FY 2019 - FY 2026) will have harmful consequences on the lifesaving investments made in states. Last month, the Academy wrote a letter urging members of Congress to oppose the Prevention Fund as an offset and instead find a bipartisan solution to fund the programs. This week, it appears the prevention fund was not set in stone. The Academy and coalition allies are recirculating the sign-on letter expressing our concerns about the Prevention Fund as an offset and asking for meetings with members on the hill.

Update on Action Alerts

There's still time. We currently have three Action Alerts open. As we are nearing the end of this legislative session, we encourage you to take action on the following (if you have not already done so):

1. Preventing Diabetes in Medicare Act, (H.R. 3124/S. 1299) – National Diabetes month is ending in a few days but there is still time to take action.
2. Nutrition Education Programs in the Farm Bill
3. Treat and Reduce Obesity Act, H.R. 1953/S.830 – More co-sponsors have been added to the bill. It's not too late to contact your senator and representative and ask them for their support.

Cut and past the following message and post to your communication platforms. It is not too late to make a difference!

(PPCs/PALs, Please Post this Message to Your Communication Channels)

Important Congressional Issues Require Your Action!

As a member of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, please urge your policymakers to support legislation that protects and values nutrition services in areas of prevention and treatment (including treatment and reduction of obesity and diabetes prevention) and in the role of nutrition education as highlighted in the Farm Bill. It is important for members of Congress to hear from their constituency. As vital decisions are made regarding health care in the upcoming weeks, the voice of every member is critical. Take action today!

Hi, Donna. I know that you are attending the FUTP60 Gala in New York. Please give (former) President Clinton my regards :). I'm enjoying the trip down memory lane with the Monica Lewinsky story being revisited on HLN. Probably best not to go there if you get a chance to chat with him.

I'm actually reaching out to give you a heads up to let you know the Foundation and the Academy made a donation to FUTP60 in honor of former Agriculture Secretary Vilsack who will be honored that night. He should have received the notice of our contribution in his name and in case he mentioned it to you I didn't want you to be surprised.

Hope you have a wonderful time. I'm sure you look gorgeous! New York is so beautiful this time of year with all the lovely holiday decorations.

Hi, Donna. I know that you are attending the FUTP60 Gala in New York. Please give (former) President Clinton my regards :). I'm enjoying the trip down memory lane with the Monica Lewinsky story being revisited on HLN. Probably best not to go there if you get a chance to chat with him.

I'm actually reaching out to give you a heads up to let you know the Foundation and the Academy made a donation to FUTP60 in honor of former Agriculture Secretary Vilsack who will be honored that night. He should have received the notice of our contribution in his name and in case he mentioned it to you I didn't want you to be surprised.

Hope you have a wonderful time. I'm sure you look gorgeous! New York is so beautiful this time of year with all the lovely holiday decorations.

New WFP USA Report Highlights Hunger As A Driver of Instability

World Food Program USA (WFP USA) released a report today, "Winning the Peace: Hunger and Instability," that shows how food insecurity destabilizes economies, societies and governments, manifesting in various forms of social unrest.

There are three historical imperatives underpinning foreign assistance: moral, economic and national security. This report speaks to the third, demonstrating the role of extreme food insecurity, both as a driver and a consequence of instability, fragility and war. In the report foreword, former Senate Majority Leaders Bob Dole and Tom Daschle write, "Beyond the moral leadership and economic benefits ... international food assistance also protects our own national security interests by enhancing global stability. It was true after World War II and it holds just as true today."

Background

With the number of hungry people in the world on the rise, it is becoming increasingly clear that food insecurity is not just a consequence of war and conflict, but that food insecurity itself is driving instability in the world. The report is among the most in-depth reviews of research on the link between food insecurity and instability ever produced, drawing extensively on more than fifty recent peer-reviewed studies. "Winning the Peace" demonstrates that, beyond natural resource-based conflicts and food price riots, food insecurity has also played a role in the rise of violent extremism in the world.

Major conflicts today increasingly involve non-state actors seeking to undermine governments by attacking their legitimacy as well as their military power. Food insecurity has allowed rebels to capitalize on hunger to recruit members to their cause, incentivizes these groups to capture the means of food production to fuel their rebellion and can cause rebels to intentionally deny food to their opposition, turning food into a weapon of war.

Key Findings:

Approximately 95 percent of the over 50 peer-reviewed studies examined in the report are able to establish an empirical link between food insecurity and instability. Winning the Peace is among the most in-depth reviews of research on the link between food insecurity and instability ever produced. Approximately 75% of the studies included in the report were produced in the last five years.

The relationship between food insecurity and instability is complex and best understood as the sum of its many parts. The report surfaced at least 11 drivers of food insecurity examined by researchers—from land competition and food price spikes to rainfall variability—linked to 9 separate types of instability—ranging from peaceful protest to violent interstate conflict.

Food insecurity and state fragility are intimately linked. Roughly 80 percent of countries that were severely food insecure in 2016 were also considered ‘fragile’ or ‘extremely fragile’ (51 of 64 countries) and vice versa.

Money and food can be a strong motivator for recruitment into extremist movements. This is true of ISIS, al Shabaab, Boko Haram and others offering recruitment incentives to desperate people incapable of feeding their families.

While modern conflicts are almost never driven by a single cause, food insecurity is a key factor driving several modern conflicts. Development must be prioritized alongside defense and diplomacy in the U.S. national security toolkit and approaches to fighting global hunger must be comprehensive in order to meet the many manifestations of food-related instability.

“Winning the Peace: Hunger and Instability” is being issued at a critical moment. In 2016, 815 million people were undernourished, an increase of 38 million people from the year prior. The number of people who are in need of emergency food assistance rose from 80 million in 2016 to 108 million in 2017, a 35 percent increase in a single year. Over 65 million people are currently displaced worldwide because of violence, conflict and persecution, more than any other time since World War II. What is universally true about modern conflicts is that they do not respect borders. Improving our understanding of the feedback loop between food insecurity and instability—and identifying strategies to sever that link—is critical to global stability and U.S. national security.

Here is my bio. I will send you Rudy's as soon as I can write it!

Donna Martin is a Registered Dietitian Nutritionist. Donna began her nutrition studies at the University of Georgia and continued on to complete her dietetic internship at University of Alabama in Birmingham, as well as her Masters of Science in Clinical Nutrition. Donna has worked as a clinical dietitian, a wellness dietitian, and an internship director. She has spent 25 years of her career working in school nutrition programs and holds an Education Specialist Degree from Augusta State University. Currently, Donna is the Director of the School Nutrition Program for the Burke County Public Schools in the state of Georgia.

In 2016, Donna's work in the Burke County Public Schools nutrition program gained national attention when Michelle Obama and Al Roker visited Burke Middle School to help plant a school garden. Donna was also awarded the 2016 Golden Radish Award for the state of Georgia because of her efforts in the Farm to School Movement. Donna has been involved in numerous public policy initiatives including testifying before Congress about the new School Nutrition Standards and to the House of Representatives Staff on the Farm to School Bill. She has also served in various positions within the Augusta District Dietetic Association, the Georgia Dietetic Association, and The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics. In June, Donna became the 2017-2018 President of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, which is the world's largest organization of food and nutrition professionals.

DRAFT

Hello, Holly:

Thank you so much for your thoughts and perspectives on the Academy's 2017 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™, particularly our Member Showcase keynote speaker Kimbal Musk.

Our goal each year with all FNCE® speakers, and especially with major keynote presentations, is to bring speakers who will engage our members with thought-provoking insights that will help us look at ourselves and our profession in new and different ways. I strongly believe we accomplished this admittedly lofty goal with Kimbal Musk.

As you may know, I live and work in a rural area of Georgia and am in daily contact with farmers and members of the agriculture community in our area. I understand how strong a backbone farmers are to a safe, nutritious food supply. Plus, getting Academy members talking about agriculture and sustainability aligns perfectly with our new Strategic Plan. I hope you will read my upcoming February President's Page article in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, in which I will profile two farmers who are Academy members and further discuss the need for a close relationship between dietetics and agriculture. It was in that spirit of a close dietetics/agriculture relationship that we invited Kimbal Musk to speak at FNCE®.

I completely respect your reaction to portions of Kimbal's presentation, although I feel his talk was not unbalanced. Will every member agree with every statement made by a speaker, especially at a session so well-attended as our 2017 Member Showcase (5,000-plus attendees – the largest Member Showcase audience in our Academy's history)? Of course not, and I hope that will never happen. Ours is an independent-minded, free-thinking profession, and I expect that a keynote presentation would provoke a wide variety of responses among our members, including strong disagreements.

We have heard from other members, including from a segment of the Iowa affiliate, who said they enjoyed hearing Kimbal Musk and his ideas, and that they appreciated the opportunity to hear about differing viewpoints and opportunities for RDNs. This diversity of views is, to me, is a strength of our profession and of the speakers we ask to appear at FNCE®. We also received positive feedback from many members, including Iowa affiliate members, stating they enjoyed having a few vendors showcasing an assortment of non-related food services and items. We realize that some individuals will appreciate the access to these vendors and others may not be interested. It's all a matter of preference. As an organization serving all of our members, we do our best to provide a variety of options on the Expo floor.

Thank you again for your email and for your commitment to the success of our Academy and profession.

Sincerely,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND

Hello, Holly:

Thank you so much for your thoughts and perspectives on the Academy's 2017 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™, particularly our Member Showcase keynote speaker Kimbal Musk.

Our goal each year with all FNCE® speakers, and especially with major keynote presentations, is to bring speakers who will engage our members with thought-provoking insights that will help us look at ourselves and our profession in new and different ways. I strongly believe we accomplished this admittedly lofty goal with Kimbal Musk.

As you may know, I live and work in a rural area of Georgia and am in daily contact with farmers and members of the agriculture community in our area. I understand how strong a backbone farmers are to a safe, nutritious food supply. Plus, getting Academy members talking about agriculture and sustainability aligns perfectly with our new Strategic Plan. I hope you will read my upcoming February President's Page article in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, in which I will profile two farmers who are Academy members and further discuss the need for a close relationship between dietetics and agriculture. It was in that spirit of a close dietetics/agriculture relationship that we invited Kimbal Musk to speak at FNCE®.

I completely respect your reaction to portions of Kimbal's presentation, although I feel his talk was not unbalanced. Will every member agree with every statement made by a speaker, especially at a session so well-attended as our 2017 Member Showcase (5,000-plus attendees – the largest Member Showcase audience in our Academy's history)? Of course not, and I hope that will never happen. Ours is an independent-minded, free-thinking profession, and I expect that a keynote presentation would provoke a wide variety of responses among our members, including strong disagreements.

We have heard from other members, including from a segment of the Iowa affiliate, who said they enjoyed hearing Kimbal Musk and his ideas, and that they appreciated the opportunity to hear about differing viewpoints and opportunities for RDNs. This diversity of views is, to me, is a strength of our profession and of the speakers we ask to appear at FNCE®. We also received positive feedback from many members, including Iowa affiliate members, stating they enjoyed having a few vendors showcasing an assortment of non-related food services and items. We realize that some individuals will appreciate the access to these vendors and others may not be interested. It's all a matter of preference. As an organization serving all of our members, we do our best to provide a variety of options on the Expo floor.

Thank you again for your email and for your commitment to the success of our Academy and profession.

Sincerely,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND

Please let me know your thoughts. Thank you very much.

Regards,

Doris

DRAFT

Hello, Holly:

Thank you so much for your thoughts and perspectives on the Academy's 2017 Food & Nutrition Conference & Expo™, particularly our Member Showcase keynote speaker Kimbal Musk.

Our goal each year with all FNCE® speakers, and especially with major keynote presentations, is to bring speakers who will engage our members with thought-provoking insights that will help us look at ourselves and our profession in new and different ways. I strongly believe we accomplished this admittedly lofty goal with Kimbal Musk.

As you may know, I live and work in a rural area of Georgia and am in daily contact with farmers and members of the agriculture community in our area. I understand how strong a backbone farmers are to a safe, nutritious food supply. Plus, getting Academy members talking about agriculture and sustainability aligns perfectly with our new Strategic Plan. I hope you will read my upcoming February President's Page article in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, in which I will profile two farmers who are Academy members and further discuss the need for a close relationship between dietetics and agriculture. It was in that spirit of a close dietetics/agriculture relationship that we invited Kimbal Musk to speak at FNCE®.

I completely respect your reaction to portions of Kimbal's presentation, although I feel his talk was not unbalanced. Will every member agree with every statement made by a speaker, especially at a session so well-attended as our 2017 Member Showcase (5,000-plus attendees – the largest Member Showcase audience in our Academy's history)? Of course not, and I hope that will never happen. Ours is an independent-minded, free-thinking profession, and I expect that a keynote presentation would provoke a wide variety of responses among our members, including strong disagreements.

We have heard from other members, including from a segment of the Iowa affiliate, who said they enjoyed hearing Kimbal Musk and his ideas, and that they appreciated the opportunity to hear about differing viewpoints and opportunities for RDNs. This diversity of views is, to me, is a strength of our profession and of the speakers we ask to appear at FNCE®.

Thank you again for your email and for your commitment to the success of our Academy and profession.

Sincerely,

Donna S. Martin, EdS, RDN, LD, SNS, FAND

Good morning,

As national leaders, your responsibilities include helping to identify others within the association who possess leadership skills and talents that support the work of the association and help move our Strategic Plan forward. With that role in mind, it is time once again for members to indicate their interest in volunteering on national committees and task forces. The “Opportunities to Serve” survey is now available online at:

<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/YFNYFMR>

Individuals interested in volunteering to serve must complete this survey by January 10, 2018. A description of each committee is available via a link in the “Opportunities to Serve” survey. Members already appointed to serve on an Academy committee or task force for 2018-2019 do not need to complete the Opportunities to Serve Survey. Instead, we ask that you share this information with colleagues who may be interested in volunteering on an Academy committee or task force or that you would like to encourage to do so. Also, if you are completing your term of service on the Board of Directors and wish to be considered for one of these positions, please complete the survey.

The information provided when completing this survey will be critical to Mary and Marcy as they make appointments for the various Academy committees and task forces throughout the 2018-2019 program year. Although we cannot ensure that everyone who completes the survey will be selected to serve, every effort will be made to consider their unique talents during the appointment process.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding the survey, please contact me at mschofield@eatright.org or 1-800-877-1600 ext. 1762. Thank you for helping to identify individuals for consideration for these important appointments.

Best regards,

That is great news! Glad you are connected. Kudos to Lucille.

That reminded of a new funding source. I was invited to the Global Nutrition Report meeting last week and William Moore shared that Eleanor Crook Foundation is dedicating $100 million dollars to reduce global malnutrition. There was also discussion on the impact of chronic disease.

Carol Brunzell on the LPPC presented at this year's FNCE on her amazing work in Africa for treatment of diabetes in spite of malnutrition that she does every year. She has also built a program here in the US called Camp Needlepoint where she teaches young patients about living with diabetes. She always has students and interns with her which builds the workforce. Perhaps something like this in Africa that would build our international workforce to combat malnutrition.

Yesterday was Gus's memorial with a wonderful turnout of the food, Ag and nutrition communities. Mark came with me. At my retirement he and Gus realized they had a fun connection. Mark's band played at a club on Cape Cod summers long ago. Gus, growing up on the Cape, remembers the club and Mark's band!

The tributes were perfect. Dan Glickman, an Academy honorary member and former USDA Secretary , described a Gus we all could laugh about remembering the volume of Gus's emails.

Kevin's was a beautiful tribute to a colleague. Kevin also gave mention to their current work together with the Academy and how he will be missed. It made me proud of the commitment of our public members.

His last email to me was to ask if I would work with the World Bank on malnutrition. He was the great connector. He invited Jenn and I to lunch there before she left. It was an amazing time and I was moved that everyone knew Gus from the head of the Bank to the person checking IDs.

I would be glad to share his wife's email if that was not available to you.

I am glad we all worked with him. He will be missed.

Hope you all have a great week!

Donna, Wendy and I are delighted you can make this work. You won't need to do a formal presentation; we are inviting you to serve as a panelist. I've attached a draft meeting agenda; see the top of page 3 for details. We'll certainly provide more detail after the first of the year, once we've confirmed the panelists from CDC and USDA.

Joan, I've attached a request form. I used an affiliate request form...from my files when I was president of the California Academy. If you need a different form completed, please let me know.

Amy, I am incredibly honored that you asked me to participate in this extremely worthwhile endeavor. Both of you know how much I love and promote fruits and vegetables at every turn. I am scheduled to be in Pennsylvania for their state meeting on April 5th so I do not see a way I can make this work? If I came I would only be able to be there for a little while in the morning and have to leave to go to Pennsylvania. If you would like someone else to come from the BOD I could work with you on that? I am sorely disappointed to say the least, but flattered that you asked!

Dear Donna,

I'm writing on behalf of Wendy Reinhardt Kapsak and the Produce for Better Health Foundation. I'm working with Wendy and her team to plan a few spring meetings, including a National Fruit and Vegetable Alliance meeting in Scottsdale, Arizona, on Wednesday, April 4.

We know you will be incredibly busy with spring affiliate meetings, but we wanted to assess your interest in participating in this meeting. The goal is to explore multi-sector strategies and partnerships for increasing fruit and vegetable consumption. We know many in the produce industry know and love you, but we want to share your expertise with a broader group of public health, nutrition, produce industry, CPG, retail, and foodservice leaders.

Please let us know if you're interested and available to be in Arizona for a few days that week. Also, please let us know if you'd like us to work with Joan at the Academy to make a formal request for your time.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Hi All,

I played with the agenda/run of show a little after our call. I inserted Dayle right after Donna gives her opening remarks. I thought Dayle would do a great job describing what we did to gather stories to produce the video as well as describe her role in the process. Dayle can introduce the video and give Donna a break. I then inserted Dayle after Rodney speaks to moderate the questions for Rodney. I thought Dayle, as the moderator, could give some details about the information that she gathered on her site and her take on equipment necessities. Then she can ask Rodney the question about the ideal equipment scenario and how much that would cost.

I have attached the agenda here that I will use to pull together the ppt. slides with Erin. Hopefully, we will have a slide deck back to everyone by COB Monday. Then Dayle and Donna can edit/tailor it.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Liz

Dear Morton,

Thank you again for inviting Donna Martin to present the closing address at the Tenth World Salt Symposium to be held in June 2018. Unfortunately, due to a scheduling conflict, we must decline and apologize for any inconvenience. Please express our regrets to the program organizers. We wish you a successful meeting!

Sincerely,

Pat

Dear Ms. Babjack,

I am just following up on the invitation that we made for Donna Martin to be of our keynote speakers. As a matter of fact, after a meeting of the WSS 2018, it was decided that Donna Martin would be the closing keynote speaker on June 21. As this is a rather important speaking slot, I would like to make sure that we have it all arranged well ahead of time.

Would it be possible for you to let me have a status update on this?

Best regards,

Morton Satin

Subject: World Salt Symposium Keynote Address

Attn:

Ms. Patricia M. Babjak

CEO, Board of Directors

Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

Dear Ms. Babjack,

The Salt Institute is working with AND on the Sodium Project and your organization was kind enough to invite us to attend the Academy Foundation Donor Reception at The London House Hotel during the recent FNCE meeting in Chicago.

The Salt Institute is organizing the Tenth World Salt Symposium to be held in Park City, Utah, on June 19-21, 2018. It will be the latest in a series of international symposia, conducted since 1962, specifically dedicated to the subject of salt. The extended period between these conferences ensures a far-reaching and inclusive technical content. This is, without doubt, the most important international meeting focused on the subject of salt. All the information on the Salt Symposium can be found at the following website: <http://www.worldsaltsymposium.org/next-symposium/>

During the Academy Foundation Donor Reception, I had the opportunity to meet Donna Martin and asked her if she would accept the Salt Institute's invitation to be a keynote speaker at the World Salt Symposium in Park City next year. Donna responded positively and asked me to contact you so that we may start making arrangements for her participation. We will be pleased to cover all transportation and meeting expenses.

Within the framework of Salt and Health, we would be very pleased if her address might deal with the need to rigorously pursue sound science rather than accepting opinion (expert or institutional). Of course, this relates to the 100-year-old salt controversy, which has been characterized by far more heat than light, more dispute than resolution. Myth-information serves neither the cause of consumers, nor that of science.

The dates for the World Salt Symposium in Park City are June 19-21, 2018. I would very much like Donna to be one of the leading keynote speakers (25-30 minutes), so the June 19 opening date seems best for the address. Alternatively, the June 21 closing can be considered. The decision will be Donna's, depending upon her requirements.

Please let me have your comments and advise on how to proceed. I will immediately set things in motion with our meeting coordinator.

Thank you and very best regards,

Mort

Subject: Follow up on ANDHII Webinar

Dear Pam,

Your email with some concerns regarding ANDHII and the recent webinar on using ANDHII in clinical practice found its way to me. First of all, I am so glad you were able to be on the webinar and to express your concerns. We are hoping to continually get input and feedback from experts in informatics such as yourself.

The development and improvements to ANDHII have been and will continue to be ongoing as we try to balance ease of use with the best practice in informatics. Term selection in ANDHII has been designed to allow the user to search the complete NCP terminology including domains and classes. Search and matching logic is employed to present the user with all potential term matches. The term selection menus use the NCPT as well as its Nutrition Assessment and Nutrition Diagnosis Etiology matrices to choose the order of the terms. As I am sure you are aware, we have been leveraging our member experts for more than 10 years to develop the NCPT and thus to create those drop-downs.

There are certainly challenges in User Interface design that any terminology service function must consider. For instance, there are trade-offs in design in ANDHII that allow for reuse of a UI element structure and model to fit an evolving and extensible terminology without requiring new software modifications. As with any software tool, user familiarity and competency is key to entry of good data. Can you select the first choice in a drop-down every time? Sure. But in the case of ANDHII, based on the user input that terminology query may return slightly different matches, or the user can scroll down through the hierarchy to find the desired term. Just like in any professional service documentation software tool, the user needs to be both trained and engaged.

You of course know that in NCP we use a “Problem Statement” (which the NCPT states may be used interchangeably with “Diagnosis”), which is indeed selected from standardized terminology, with a “Nutrition Diagnosis”, which is, of course, described by the combination of nutrition problem, etiology, and signs and symptoms.

We are definitely aware and agree that we need to add more data validation checks into ANDHII to prevent and warn users who might mistakenly enter erroneous data. This might be an opportunity to partner with academics such as yourself who have expertise in informatics and would be interested in doing validation projects with graduate students. Please let me know if this is something you might be interested in.

Our new ANDHII project manager, Margret Dittloff, is a huge proponent of human-centered design methodologies and applying design thinking to evolve products, services and information. She and our team at the Academy’s Food and Nutrition Data Center are in a continuous quality improvement mode. We do have an ANDHII workgroup, which Margret staff’s, and with their input and that of real-world users like our webinar presenters and our participants in DPBRN projects, we have an opportunity to apply our own research analysis on the direct observation of those users. This is what will inform and help drive usability improvements and innovation. It’s also why we use an agile software development approach (“fail fast and often”). Users today are sophisticated and their expectations are high. We need to continue to evolve ANDHII to reach these target customers.

ANDHII is a tool to support the clinician and (hopefully) make it easier for them to document and keep track of the many inputs that go into making their diagnosis. One of the key aspects of enabling collection of outcome data from multiple sources (API to pull data from EHRs, read in C-CDA documents with both coded and narrative summaries) is that our “registry” becomes more representative of actual practice. Additionally, we have been working on a few research projects where we use expert members to develop NCP chains that reflect EBPG recommendations from the EAL and then compare the chains with real world practice data from ANDHII. These types of projects will allow us to see how our clinicians are actually practicing and allow for better understanding of their educational needs as it relates to ANDHII and the EBPGs.

I hope you will continue to engage with ANDHII and use it with your students. We would love to get your feedback as you trial our programing updates and feel free to reach out to Margret, Tina or I for any questions or concerns you may have.

Warm regards

Alison

Subject: Unsolicited Message from Pam Charney re ANDHII

See below and note who was included on the “to” list.

I know that Pam has had concerns for some time and do not know the history of her involvement with the project.

She, like others, has informatics training which I completely lack.

I have heard informatics people at places I have worked make the same comments about “drop downs”-but free text is not appropriate either as it is not “searchable”

Look forward to thoughts on how/if to reply.

Would think she would have written to Alison and will??

Mary

Subject: Question Again

Howdy!

Me again.

I'm sitting in on a webinar for the ANDHII thingie.

I have some serious concerns from an informatics standpoint. I raised these concerns when the thing was in draft format and it looks like nothing was done.

Problems begin when presenters say stuff like "We used lots of drop downs" and "Select your diagnosis".

There is a science to creating drop down menus. Did an expert consult with the Academy for that work? There is a known bias when using drop down menus.... folks choose the top items, especially when in a hurry.

Diagnosticians don't select a diagnosis. They diagnose a health problem. There's a huge difference.
