Tom – apparently you edited the earlier version, not the version I sent yesterday. I will take another look at your version.

Tom & Eric,

Here are a couple of paragraphs for your consideration.

Gary,

Is Dan out of the office? If not, please touch base with him. I would appreciate it if he or you take the lead on this urgent response. Please advise.

Tom- yes, I already forwarded to Dan. We should also engage Bruce Chassy, if available, to post a response to AgBioView and then Academics Review. I can share our statement via Chatter to spread the information.

I would like to post a "we are aware of" statement on .com asap, and in summary debunk any new allegations and reaffirm the history of safe use positioning for glyphosate. Key is getting this posted asap, ideally before Smith's piece hits Huff Po.

Eric, can your team take the lead on technical content? What I envision is a couple of paragraphs at most that state conclusions, along the lines of our such postings. Thanks, T.

Attached is the latest bog post from anti-GM/Monsanto activist Jeffrey Smith. It "reveals the devastating and unprecedented impact that Monsanto's Roundup herbicide is having on the health of our soil, plants, animals, and human population. On top of this perfect storm, the USDA now wants to approve Roundup Ready alfalfa, which will exacerbate this calamity."

Jeffrey has stated that this will be posted to Huffington Post soon – possibly this week.
