David,

Thanks for sharing; not much of a paper.

The noise level seems to be pretty low and maybe on our side this time.

Wally,

FYI, Seralini republication manuscript attached. I'm not sure where this is being submitted, but I assume a fast turn-around non/pseudo-peer reviewed open access journal, like the OMICS group's Journal of Environmental & Analytical Toxicology. I hear that a media campaign is imminent and that some journalists may have received an information packet under an embargo until tomorrow...
